DOWN AND OUTS ARE ONLY ONES ENLISTING NOW

LONDON.—The anti-militarist sentiment left by the war in this country finds expression in many ways. Whenever the possibility is suggested that complications in the East may demand a fresh conflict the retort is always the same—the war office will get no men for any new campaign. The only recruits now being secured for the army are out-of-works, of whom the number is growing, but they only join the army as the last desperate resource.

During the war khaki ruled the roost and was a passport everywhere; now it is regarded critically if not with actual hostility. Consequently it is rarely seen, officers preferring to avail themselves of their peacetime privilege of wearing muffs except when in barracks or on duty.

The Waacs (women's auxiliary army corps), whose patriotism was so fervently extolled when they came forward to release men for the fighting line, are finding that having been in the army is proving an absolute bar to getting employment. Employers seemingly think that the sort of training they had makes them undesirable in ordinary business. Letters are constantly being written to the papers by Waacs who can find nothing to do when they mention that they were in the service during the war.

The plight of ex-officers is still worse and constitutes a public scandal. Thousands of them can find nothing to do, though special organizations have been started in their behalf.

Very significant, too, is the widespread protest raised against the war office scheme to re-clothe the army in the old, gaudy and unsuitable uniforms of pre-war days. This protest is not merely on the ground of waste but because one of the avowed purposes of the war office is to make the army more attractive to young men.

The war office is the most unpopular department in the country and everything it proposes is suspected. One of the most remarkable evidences of the distaste with which militarism and all its suits and trappings are regarded is afforded by the failure of the royal military tournament this year, though it is run in the interest of military charities.

Everything has been done to make it exceptionally attractive, the royal princes had been enlisted to appear in the arena, but all to no purpose. The public relish for military displays is gone and the vast seating space at Olympia showed painful gaps, such as had never been seen there before at this annual display.

An Englishwoman in India never carries her own parcels, or walks, or stands in a train.

Mrs. Arthur R. Payne of New York city is the only woman organ mechanic in the country and is an expert in voicing and tuning pipes.

When a beautiful, society woman, popular with the Newport set, mother of three children and lover of her home, starts into the business world you may be sure it is not "feminism," "new freedom," or a desire to be "different" or have a fad which makes her do it. So says Mrs. Natalie Schenck Laimbeer, who was all of those things and is now manager of the woman's department of the U. S. Mortgage Trust Company, New York city. "I went to work because I had to," she frankly states.

Lucey Page Gaston of North Dakota, the only woman entrant in the presidential race on the republican ticket, withdrew her name before the balloting was begun.

SILK METHODS IN CHINA ARE QUITE SIMPLE

TOKIO, May 24 (By mail).—Chinese methods of producing silk are so primitive that it will be a long time before China can offer satisfactory material to the American market, in the opinion of D. E. Douty, one of the American party who visited China to investigate the silk industry. He said:
 "The American silk dealers have often called the attention of the Chinese authorities to the importance of improving their silk industry, but much to our regret and surprise the Chinese authorities can never afford to listen to any suggestion on the subject. In consequence all considerations necessary for the development of sericultural industry in China are completely neglected."
 "It is a matter of regret that China should remain in such a condition of industrial torpor at this time, when there is a growing international demand for silk as a consequence of the growth of women workers' incomes throughout the world."
 An official of the Japan Silk Thread association says: Improvement of the Chinese silk industry will be beneficial not only to China and America but to Japan as well, because the limit of production of silk has been reached in Japan, as the crop of mulberry leaves cannot be increased, and Chinese cocoons are needed for the further development of the silk industry here. Close co-operation between China, Japan and America is necessary in order to offer products satisfactory to the silk trade in America.

JOHN-A-DREAMS

LL. WHEN SHINING EYES WATCH YOUR SLUMBER.

Dreams of most varied meaning are those in which a pair of eyes become the dominating subject. Remember what I have so often said to you—may no attention to the incident or episodes that seem to have only little to do with the vision itself, and in no other dreams is it so necessary to separate the important from the unimportant as in these. Just so soon as you recall that a pair of eyes seemed to be the focal point of the dream, just so soon must you discard all other impressions and concentrate upon the main object.

Eyes, which seem deep-set, no matter what color—

"Deep eyes, amid the gloom, Shining like jewels in a shroud," are messengers of death. If dry. If filled with tears, they are omens of illness. Dark brown or black eyes, tell of achievements of riches, of success . . .

"Black eyes, with wondrous, witching charm,
"Do bring us good, can work no harm."

Blue eyes are lights of love. If dark blue—

"Eyes that shame the violet
Or the dark drop that on the pansy lies," are mirrors of happy married life. Light blue.

"Eyes like spring, in whose serene
And silent waters heaven is seen,"

are flirtation's handmaidens. If tears are seen in blue eyes, then love will turn to sorrow and joy to regret.

Hazel eyes are friendship's heralds. If they seem to smile,

"Like topaz set in ivory band,
Like pearls found on sandy strand. . ."

you may count upon kindly deeds. If they are filled with tears; you will be betrayed by one whom you trusted.

Green eyes are signs of danger. So are the eyes of animals. To see the eyes of a child means innocent pleasure, but to see red-rimmed eyes, or small, unpleasant-looking eyes, or the eyes of the aged, or squinting eyes, is ever a bad omen, telling you that you had better be careful whom you trust lest you come to a point where others, knowing too much about you, have you in their power.

To see closed eyes means that you will be powerless against certain influences that surround you and upon which much of your worldly comfort and well-being depends. If they are suddenly opened, you will be able to win out in whatever contest you undertake. If they remain closed you will have to drift with the tide for fate has decreed that you shall be the plaything of others.

Eyes that seem to exude a malign light are proof that you harbor evil thoughts or designs. They are not the eyes of others—they are your own, real soul's eyes which look upon you and tell you the truth about yourself.

In my next chapter I will tell you of Dreams of the Theater.

MOSLEMS NOW PERMIT WOMEN TO BE ABOUT

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31 (By mail)—Turkish women are no longer the shy veiled creatures who passed their time in the seclusion of the harem and were never seen by foreign men. They still cling to the veil. But the streets in Constantinople and other larger Turkish cities are filled with women who have their veils thrown back from their faces. They are highly ornamental and becoming. Most Turkish women don't want to abandon them in favor of hats. But there are many sorts of veils and the smart, black silk veils which some of the women wear are very fetching when draped artistically over their hair.

In the railway and street cars there are special seats for women but the flimsy curtains which are supposed to screen them from the gaze of men are usually drawn back and it is not uncommon to see men standing in the compartments for women. Only very old men, however, are rash enough to sit down in the same seat with a Turkish woman. Turkish women seldom go to a theater where there are men. Special matinees and evening performances are arranged for women only.

The war has done much to break down the barrier between Turkish men and women. The women were needed so badly as nurses and relief workers that the government had to avail itself of their services. And now it is regarded as quite proper for men and women to be associated in all sorts of charitable and educational works. Consequently many women who were formerly forced to content themselves with seclusion in a home where fancy work and French novels were the only diversions are devoting their time to hospitals, orphanages and other philanthropic institutions.

Women who have been educated abroad or in the foreign schools in Turkey are the leaders in this movement for greater freedom for their sex. Their broad experience in war work has interested many women in politics and they have openly played a great part in the nationalist movement. In the Constantinople American Woman's college and Turkish girls take great interest in basketball and other athletic games and the effect upon women who have come under influence is making the old life of seclusion and inactivity unattractive to younger Turkish women.

TIED TOGETHER MAN AND WOMAN LEAP INTO SEA

HILO, Island of Hawaii, June 1.—(By mail)—Strapped together as they leaped into the sea to fulfill a double suicide pact, Uye Tafaburo, a Japanese of North Kohala and Makino Kikuyama, wife of another Japanese, partly failed in their endeavor. Tafaburo was drowned but the woman was pulled from the surf by W. Pinchaka, jailer of North Kohala.

Pinchaka saw the pair with ankles and bodies tied leap as one into the sea from the rocks below Havi on the North Kohala coast. He scrambled down to the woman back to shore, the bonds that tied her to her companion having broken.

Later Tafaburo's body was recovered by Hawaiian divers.

The woman's infant child, wrapped in her obi, or girdle, was found hanging in a tree not far from the spot where she had failed in her attempt at suicide.

Nearly all the leading women of the Communist party in Russia are devoted most of their time to educational, social or political work.

MIKE & IKE—THEY LOOK ALIKE

TEXAS WILL KEEP CHECK ON MONEY OF STATE TREAS.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 16.—As a result of the audit of the state treasury for a period covering the past twenty-one years which was conducted by a committee of the legislature, the committee has recommended that an auditor be employed by the state board of control to keep an accurate check upon the receipts, disbursements and daily balances of the treasury.

The committee also recommended that the bank guaranty fund should no longer be kept on deposit in the treasury vaults, but should be placed at interest in state depositories, would bring to the guaranty fund approximately $25,000 per annum, and if this fund had been so loaned since first created, the interest would have partly taken care of the amounts which have been drawn from the guaranty fund by reason of bank failures.

PARIS SUBWAY IS CONGESTED AT ALL HOURS

PARIS, June 16.—(By Mail)—So bad have the traveling conditions become on the tubes here that the women workers, including the midwives and modistes of the fashionable shops have demanded that a special carriage on each train be reserved for women.

They protest indignantly against the jostling to which they are subjected. "The traditional gallantry of France is a dead letter," said one typical business girl. "Traveling on the metro at certain hours of the day has become nothing more or less than a battle in which the weak have no chance against the strong."

ENGLISH LEARN WOOL SHORTAGE IS A NEW DANGER

MANCHESTER, Eng., June 1.—(By Mail)—Professor J. A. Todd, secretary of the Empire Cotton Growing Committee of the Board of Trade, has just delivered to the Textile Institution a warning of the prospective world scarcity of cotton in the near future and emphasized the need for developing new sources of supply as well as experimenting with cotton substitutes.

After dealing exhaustively with the labor position in the United States cotton growing areas, bad weather and ravages by boll weevil as well as the acreage position, the professor said, "It is obvious that we were not going to get 10,000,000 bales of cotton this year." At home it seemed to him the consumers had not yet felt the full weight of the high cost of the raw material. Even in America he did not see much sign of the consumer's intention of doing without cotton fabrics.

The statistics for America's domestic consumption for the first three months of this year were on a basis uncomfortably near to 7,000,000 bales a year. British consumption before the war was nearly 4,000,000 bales and the total American crop last year was only 11,000,000. What was going to happen when the rest of the world—and particularly the continental countries—woke up and began to demand more cotton?

By next year, he said, the continental mills probably would be more active than now and the demand increased and the Oriental demand would also be much higher. So long as the workers and producers of the world were making so much more money than they ever did before, he did not see how the demand for cotton goods was even going to be substantially reduced. The world was not producing sufficient cotton to meet this demand and was not likely to do so unless some way was devised of making use of even the lowest grades.

It was only a question of time, he asserted, when the world would face a scarcity of cotton and it was high time, therefore, that something was done to develop a new source of supply, for even when they were found they would not be able to afford substantial relief for five or ten years. He was not sure that the time has not come for them to look around for an efficient cotton substitute, for the world was full of textile fibres which had never been exploited.

BUNS PLENTY IN LONDON; NOT ENOUGH ICE CREAM

LONDON.—Confectionery was a memory during the blockade era but now many shop windows are packed with chocolates, cakes and buns of all sorts.

London also is the "wettest" place in the Anglo-Saxon world today.

But there is a strange lack of ice cream. In the last five years the new places providing it that have appeared in the West End can be counted on the fingers of one hand.

"IT SET ME RIGHT WHEN EVERYTHING ELSE FAILED" SAYS TOLEDO RESIDENT

Employe of the Willys-Overland Automobile Company Is Relieved of Troubles by Taking Tanlac.

UNABLE AT TIMES TO STAND ON FEET After Hot Springs Failed to Help Him He Takes Tanlac and Makes Gains of 40 Pounds.

"Yes, sir, I can testify to Tanlac being good for stomach trouble and rheumatism," said William O. Huff, 312 Garden street, Toledo, Ohio, a well known employe of the Willys-Overland Automobile company. "For the medicine set me right more than two years ago and I am still feeling fine.

"My trouble started about ten years ago with loss of appetite," he continued. "Soon after this I commenced to suffer from indigestion and sour stomach and it wasn't long until inflammatory rheumatism got into my feet and legs. For months I was unable to stand on my feet and suffered intense pain most of the time. My feet and legs would swell up to twice their normal size, and if a red hot iron had been run into my flesh I don't think it could have hurt worse. Now and then I felt a little better, but the trouble would soon come back worse than ever, and something more than two years ago I got in such a bad fix that I was advised to go to Hot Springs.

"After taking the treatment there for nearly six months I seemed to be somewhat improved, but a few months later the old trouble started up again. Then a friend suggested Tanlac and the first two bottles brought about such good results, giving me a fine appetite and making me feel much better that I just kept taking it and improving. Well, after finishing my ninth bottle I felt perfectly sound and well and had the surprise of my life when I got on the scales and found I had actually picked up forty pounds in weight, and had held it too, and felt fine ever since. I have the best reasons in the world for praising Tanlac and don't hesitate to recommend it, for it set me right when everything else failed. I am now enjoying better health than I have in fifteen years and can hold my own with the best of them. Tanlac built me up until I neither look or feel like the same man."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros. and in Eastland by Butler Drug Company. Adv.

OFFICIAL LAXITY.

Practices of local and county officers, as well as the indifference of citizens who claim to be law-abiding and who make little effort to assist in law enforcement, are hit in the report of the grand jury, which adjourned last week. An especially valuable suggestion is made in the report, in these words:

"The grand jury recommends that the practice which is so prevalent with officers, known as 'Paying Off,' i. e., finding parties who are violating our laws and saying to them, 'You can pay off and go on,' the officer taking his fine, and seldom ever getting his or her name, turning the fine over to the proper authorities and the offender's name never shown on the docket. And we suggest that these offenders, when found, be taken immediately before the proper authorities, their correct name entered on the docket, a complaint made, warrant issued, plea entered and their fine paid to the proper officer."

Further than the grand jury indicates, the practice is an unwholesome one, besides being in every respect irregular and contrary to the American idea of justice. It sets the officer up as a court and permits him to pass upon the guilt of the offender, a prerogative never intended to be his; it encourages clandestine settlement of fines, in defiance of the court plan by which justice is administered in the open and not behind the door; it encourages dishonesty in officers and offers abundant opportunity to them to collect irregular fines.

The suggestion that such practices be stopped immediately is the most valuable note struck in the report of the last grand jury.

Another irregularity which has been a constant source of trouble is considered by the grand jury:

"We recommend that the county attorney put forth every effort possible to enforce the collection of all official bonds which have been forfeited or that may hereafter be forfeited and that the county attorney make close examination of each and every bail bond filed, in order that he may be absolutely sure there have been made in drawing said bonds which could in any way prevent the state from enforcing the collection of the same; and we further recommend that officers whose duty it is to approve bonds be more careful in determining that the sureties on such bonds are absolutely good for the amount of the bonds."

There has been laxity in the matter of bonds, and bonds of accused as well as those of important witnesses have been forfeited. Many have not been collected. The fault lies with the official who determines the validity of bondsmen's signatures. Forfeiture of bond means nothing when the bondsmen are not responsible.

CAR REDUCTION BRINGS PROTEST FROM COAL MEN

AUSTIN, Texas, June 17.—The Texas Railroad commission has protested to the Interstate Commerce commission against the reduction of the number of cars allotted to lignite mines located near Austin in Bastrop county.

In filing its protest, the railroad commission pointed out that lignite is a low grade of coal and will not bear exposure to the air for a considerable length of time without disintegrating.

"It must be loaded on cars at the time it is mined," said the message, "and this usually requires not more than twenty-four hours from the time of spotting the cars before it is ready to move. It must then move promptly to the point of consumption in a way that the consumer can rely upon its steady receipt, for he can not store this fuel, and in the conduct of his business knows in advance the amount of fuel needed so that from the point of production to final consumption it is what you might call a 'going concern,' and if any link in the chain weakens, the whole structure falls down."

"THAT LITTLE GAME" === They Loved (?) Him So!

Col. Harry W. Walker.

Col. Harry W. Walker of New York, a close friend of William Jennings Bryan and formerly Bryan's eastern manager, has been subpoenaed to appear before a senate committee in Washington. It is reported, Colonel Walker believes he will be asked to tell what he knows about the so-called "$28,000,000 fund" of the Anti-Saloon league.

Telephone Co. May Be Ousted From Eastland

EASTLAND, June 17.—At a meeting of the Eastland chamber of commerce last night, a resolution was drawn requesting that a meeting of the city commissioners be held for the purpose of taking steps to cancel the franchise of the Southwestern Telephone company.

Several weeks ago the city commissioners met with a representative of the telephone company who promised that conditions would be improved, a new manager was sent here but the promised relief has not resulted. W. M. Woodall, secretary manager of the chamber of commerce, made the following statement: "We have tolerated this service during the expansion days of the city, but as we see no relief in the near future, it is foolish for the people of the city to pay for something they don't get. There is no recourse for the public. The only thing that I see to do is to cancel the franchise of the Southwestern Telephone company, and run them out of town. Then we may be able to secure a local company that will give reasonable service."

Castleton Eggs—Fry 1/2 small onion minced, 1/2 green pepper chopped finely, and 1 tablespoon shredded parsley in 1 1/2 tablespoons of butter or drippings. When tender, add 1 cup strained tomato pulp, salt to season and a dash of paprika. Let simmer for 5 minutes and thicken with 1 tablespoon of flour mixed to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Stir until this sauce boils, then remove from fire and strain. Place a layer of sliced hard-boiled eggs in the bottom of a baking dish (use 4 eggs), add a layer of the strained sauce, then a layer of the strained cheese. Alternate the three kinds of layers until the sliced eggs are used up; finish with a layer of the sauce, dust thickly with dried buttered bread crumbs and bake in a good oven for ten minutes.

Baked Stuffed Eggs—Cut 6 hard-boiled eggs in halves, remove yolks and mash them with 6 sardines (or with 1/4 cup minced ham or minced tongue or with 1/4 cup of grated cheese); add 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1/2 tablespoon lemon juice, and salt and pepper to season. Fill the whites of the eggs with this mixture and place the halved whites closely together in a shallow baking dish. Pour around them a cream sauce, sprinkle buttered crumbs over all generously and bake until the crumbs are brown.

"Invalid." Answer—I think your idea of having a "supply chest" in your room is an excellent one, other invalids who may happen to read this column may take advantage of this suggestion.

If I were you I would have the chest painted in harmony with your other pieces of furniture, and would divide the three drawers into a playthings drawer, a working supply drawer and a first aid drawer. That is, in the playthings drawer I would have scraps of bright colored paper, chalks, a tracing slate, picture puzzles, etcetera, to amuse the children on rainy days; in the working supply drawer I would keep scissors, string, pencils, glue, needles, etcetera; and in the first aid drawer I would have cotton, court plaster, peroxide gauze bandaging, etcetera, so that you can save your daughter's time by bandaging up your grandchildren's little wounds instead of her doing it.

By having a supply chest of this sort you will find the little tots rushing to you with their wants, instead of to their mother, and thus you can help do quite a good deal to help your daughter and allow her to do her housework unhindered—besides deriving a lot of enjoyment from seeing more of your grandchildren. Your scheme not only popularizes an invalid, but makes her extremely useful as well.

West Virginia Gets Cars for Her Coal Mines

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—After nearly eight weeks of an extreme shortage of cars growing out of the switchmen's strike, production during the second week in June began to increase in West Virginia mining fields.

At any rate the shortage of coal cars in West Virginia, speaking generally, was less pronounced than it had been since the middle of April, though the supply of open top cars was still not equal to more than 50 per cent of the requirements of mines.

Leeray Expecting Healthy Growth and Good Wells

LEERAY, June 17.—At Wednesday's meeting of the Leeray Chamber of Commerce, Milton Fraser, of El Paso, was appointed secretary and publicity man for the new organization. It was decided to demarcate the territory within a radius of six miles of Leeray as the Leeray oil field, in respect to the publication of maps and other publicity matter and endeavors, in every honorable manner to hasten the rebuilding of the new but promising center of oil development.

As an indicator of the future of the Leeray field, it is stated by Judge J. J. Betts of Cisco that President E. C. Larkin of the Texas company recently declared that "it will be five or six years before the territory now held by our company in this field is drilled out." Already, within sight of Leeray are more than fifty rigs, and more are being erected each day. Contracts are now being let by companies leasing in the neighborhood for fifty more, at this writing.

May's records of freight received at Leeray depot of the Cisco-Northeastern railroad include over 200 carloads of lumber and other oil field material; and the receipt of less than carload shipments only began June 14, from which date a regular freight and passenger service superseded the accommodation construction train which ran tri-weekly. This road, to its terminus at Breckenridge, will be completed by August 1.

The first building activity at Leeray began in April and today there are more than 100 business structures. With the possibility of getting freight daily assured, this town is doubling previous records, supply being a long way behind demand. The fact that all tests so far drilled within a radius of six miles of this camp have resulted in production assures the growth of Leeray and accounts for its steady upbuilding. William Reagan, one of the promoters of the C. & N.E. R. R., says "it will be two years before the extent of the Leeray field is determined." If this prediction is anything like realized, Leeray will have become one of the flourishing cities of the North Central Texas oil field.

The Texas company's section No. 1, which came in without a shot, on Sunday, at 3,176 feet, in Section 453, was drilled four feet into the black lime and has increased its flow to 1,200 barrels by gauge. It will be drilled farther into the line when a flow of 1,500 barrels a day is expected. This is the best natural well so far brought in, in the Leeray field. Tomlinson No. 1 is within a mile and a half of the town.

CLERKS OF RANGER REQUEST MERCHANTS FOR RECOGNITION

A contract is being presented by the Retail Clerks' union of Ranger to local merchants asking that the merchants agree to lease a union card from the clerks' union; employ only clerks who are members of the union or who will become members in thirty days; close their places of business on July 4, Thanksgiving day, Labor day and Christmas day. In addition, they ask that the merchants agree to close their places of business at 7:30 p. m. The contract is to run for three months.

Four merchants had signed the agreement this morning but several refusals had been met. The Retail Clerks' union was formed several weeks ago. It has since received its charter and has become affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Thousands Go to Canada to Take Up Land

WINNIPEG.—With the object of getting enough settlers—the great majority of them from the United States—to people 20,000,000 acres of land, now vacant and lying idle within twenty miles of existing railways, a Western Canada Colonization Association is being organized in this country.

Packed officially by the governments of the three prairie provinces and by more than fifty leading Canadian financiers, each of whom has contributed from $5,000 to $25,000 to the movement, the organizers are raising a fund of $1,500,000 with which to start the work. That the provincial governments and the business men are confident of the success of the project is indicated by the fact that more than $250,000 has been subscribed and paid into the fund, although the campaign has been under way only a few days. Before the end of this month the organizers expect to have reached their money objective and to have begun the actual work of bringing settlers into the west.

Biggest Move of Kind. This plan differs from other colonization projects in that it is the biggest single undertaking of the kind ever launched in this country and that it is not a land-selling scheme. It is separate and distinct from the colonization efforts of scores of private land companies of the Dominion and other provincial governments, of the Hudson's Bay company and of the railway companies which own millions of acres of vacant land and are striving to settle them.

The prairie land that the Western Canada Colonization Association proposes to settle is owned by countless private individuals who, for one reason or another, are not farming their holdings, and in most instances are non-residents. Because the land is privately owned the governments cannot spend money in settling them. They have their own lands of which to dispose, as have the railways and the other corporations engaged in colonization work.

To settle the 20,000,000 acres and transform them from vacant prairie into wealth-producing farms, the association proposes to take from the United States about 50,000 families and from European countries about 20,000. This number, 70,000 families, with an average of five persons to a family, is required, the association calculates, to till that amount of soil.

Two Good Wells Total Over 4,500 Near Breckenridge

The Breckenridge pool, focus of interest for the last several weeks, has added a couple of good producers in the Louisiana Wrage No. 2, of the Breckenridge Oil & Gas company, on the edge of the townsite, and the Belle Carter No. 1 of the Ibox Oil company. Wrage No. 2, in section 9, L. A. L. survey, struck the top of the black lime at 3,100 feet and drilled to 3,147 feet. The initial flow was 1,600 barrels natural. The well is not regarded as a completion yet, it is reported, and may be deepened.

The Carter well hit the black lime at 3,113 feet and drilled to 3,148 feet. Initial production was 3,000 barrels.

The Wrage No. 1, companion well of the Breckenridge Oil & Gas company's new producer, was completed for 1,200 barrels initial several weeks ago.

Lusk Well No. 3 Is Getting 200 Eastland Says

EASTLAND, June 17.—According to reliable reports received here the Atlantic Lusk No. 3 near Sipe Springs is making 200 barrels at a depth of 2,581 feet.

A prominent Eastland geologist gave out the following interview pertaining to this well and others in that district:

"This well is four and a half miles north of Sipe Springs. The fact that it is showing so good for oil at 2,581 feet proves that the most productive fields of the Sipe Springs district are yet to be discovered.

"It, with the White well near Carbon, proves in the minds of many operators that the oil pool between Sipe Springs and Carbon on the north and between Gorman on the east and the village of Bethel on the west will be developed.

"There are several structures in this area that have not been tested at all that will be tested within the next six months of a year by the larger producers.

"The Panhandle Refining company's test in section 46, block 2, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey is one which operators announce will be drilled to a depth of 4,500 feet unless oil in paying quantities is found at a lesser depth. This test is one and a half miles southwest of Carbon.

"The Denton Eastland test on the Moor farm is down better than 2,200 feet. This is an absolute wildcat, which may be productive."
