Block-Long Zone Is Flaming Ruin

By GEORGE CORNELL and GEORGE MILLER NEW YORK, April 5 (AP) — A low-flying cargo plane, loaded with Easter flowers, smashed into the heart of the residential Borough of Queens today, killing five persons and turning a block-long stretch of homes into flaming terror.

The twin-engine C-46 dived out of a heavy rain with a thunderous explosion. It was the fifth airplane accident of its kind in the metropolitan area in less than four months and brought the total toll of dead to 124.

Killed today were the plane's two crew members, a police inspector and two occupants of houses set afire.

Just as demands were made after three horrible crashes at Elizabeth, N. J., for the closing of sprawling Newark Airport, civic groups today called for the closing of nearby International (Idlewild) and La Guardia fields.

Today's accident occurred at 8:25 a.m. (EST) as the cargo plane was attempting to land at International Airport.

The plane tore through a two-story home, and then split apart. The blazing fragments hurtled into three other houses.

"I heard people shouting, 'Get out of the houses! Get out of the houses!'" said Mrs. John Hughes, a resident. "I ran."

Many leaped from windows, as gasoline-fed flames and blinding clouds of smoke rose over the block. Hospitals counted six seriously injured. Improvised first aid stations treated dozens of others.

At least 10 cars were wrecked on the street or in an adjacent parking lot by flying fragments and blasts. A truck blew up. One car was flipped on its top.

Four homes were destroyed. The plane narrowly missed an apartment house occupied by 250 people.

Next Moves In Ike Campaign Being Plotted

Paris Suburb Is Site Of Confabs Involving Lodge

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Powers in Europe, April 5 (AP) — The next moves in a campaign aimed at making Gen. Eisenhower the next President of the United States are being plotted this week end in a Paris suburb.

There is a widespread belief here that Eisenhower will send in his resignation as supreme commander next week with the effective date sometime late in May. This schedule would give him time to get the approval of the other 13 NATO nations for his departure and the probable elevation of his chief of staff, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, as his successor.

Involved in the week-end confabs are not only the technical details such as how many delegates from individual states can be cornered before the Republican convention July 7 but also such broad strategy lines as when Eisenhower should quit his military role and go civilian-garbed to the hustings.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., manager of the Eisenhower-for-President campaign, is spending the week end in Paris, most of it with Eisenhower. He had a six-hour conference with the general in supreme headquarters yesterday and tonight was reported visiting Eisenhower's home in nearby suburban Marles-La-Coquette.

Maryland's Gov. Theodore McKeldin and his wife are lunching with the general and Mrs. Eisenhower tomorrow in a conference arranged by Eisenhower-backer Sen. Thomas B. Dewey of New York.

Eisenhower's personal part in the campaign was expected to be under microscopic study most of the week end. There have been reports that Lodge is helping to draft a letter of resignation to send President Truman before the end of next week.

Officers at SHAPE, replying to questions about a possible letter of resignation, said today: "There will be no announcement of any kind out of here on the subject. Check the White House. If they won't tell you, your guess is as good as anybody else's."

UN Waits For Reds To Place Cards On Table

Stakes Are Two Of Three Issues Still In Dispute

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD MUNSAN, Sunday, April 6 (AP) — Allied negotiators waited today for the Communists to slap their bargaining cards on the armistice table. The stakes were two of the three remaining big issues blocking a Korean truce.

There was a possibility the Reds might show their hand in talks opening at 11 a.m. (9 p.m., EST, Saturday) at Panmunjom.

Communist correspondents spread unofficial reports again Saturday that the Reds want a big compromise on truce supervision problems. They said the Red delegates were hinting that they would withdraw nomination of Soviet Russia as a neutral truce observer if the Allies would drop their demand for a ban on airfield rebuilding.

Informed of the remarks, an Allied delegate retorted: "The Communists negotiators haven't said anything about it. I can't negotiate on the basis of hints or what is said on the road by Communist newsmen."

"The (Red delegates) have suggested no solution," the spokesman added. "They have advanced no new ideas."

The companion talks on prisoner exchange remained recessed indefinitely while staff officers in the opposing camps at Munsan and Kasong worked on "additional avenues for discussion of the remaining problems."

Observers speculated that the staff officers possibly were winding up the prisoner exchange problem. The talks were recessed Thursday after 10 off-the-record sessions. The Reds had insisted on forced repatriation of all prisoners of war.

Settlement of the prisoner exchange issue and a swap on the last two truce supervision problems would mean an end to the Korean War, "how in its 22nd month."

When the off-record sessions on prisoner exchange began March 25, the Allies frankly were seeking a compromise solution.

An Allied negotiator told the Reds Saturday: "Our objective is a reasonable and stable armistice which will facilitate a political solution of the problems of Korea."

HANGING IN A CELL

Man Found Dead In County Jail

Carlos Cecil Whitefield, age 33, was found dead Saturday afternoon in the Howard County jail.

Three other prisoners in the first floor of the jail said they found Whitefield hanging in a cell. They said Whitefield's neck was lashed to a metal rod with a belt.

Whitefield had been committed to the jail at about 11:30 a.m. by Sheriff J. B. Bruton and Deputy A. C. Abernathy on a charge of drunkenness. About two and a half hours later, officers rushed to the cell when the other prisoners sounded an alarm.

Willie Zuber, a Negro, said he discovered Whitefield hanging in the cell. Another prisoner, Elmer Lund, said he broke the leather belt and lowered Whitefield after Zuber cried out.

Highway patrolmen attempted artificial respiration and a doctor was called, but they were unable to revive Whitefield.

The doctor said Whitefield suffered a broken neck.

Zuber said he had been sitting near the northeast corner of the jail, and that the two other prisoners, Lund and Elmer Landis, were lounging in bunks near the north side of the jail. Whitefield was in a cell near the south side and out of view from the remainder of the jail.

Zuber said he walked to the south side to "look out the window," when he saw Whitefield hanging in the cell.

Officers said doors to the cells within the first floor of the jail were not locked, and that the four prisoners "had the run of the first floor."

Statements were taken from the other three prisoners, and Justice of the Peace W. O. Leonard said he would hold an inquest Monday.

In his statement Lund said Whitefield did not appear depressed when he entered the jail. He said Whitefield slept for a while but had awakened and asked for cigarettes sometime before Zuber found him hanging in the cell.

The belt was wrapped around a metal rod attached to the top of the cell. The rod is used as a hand rail adjacent to a top bunk.

Deputy Sheriff Fields Resigns

Chief Deputy W. A. Fields has submitted his resignation to Howard County Sheriff J. B. Bruton.

The resignation becomes effective April 15, Bruton said. Meanwhile, Fields said he was leaving the sheriff's office Saturday to take vacation time which he has remaining.

Fields said he had no comment to make concerning his resignation, and he hate to lose him," Bruton said.

Bruton said he had no immediate plans for naming a successor to Fields.

Four Named To School Posts

Voters in the Big Spring Independent School District and the Howard County Junior College District named one new member to each board of trustees Saturday.

John Dibrrell Jr., with an unofficial total of 491 votes, led the field of four in the Big Spring School election, while John A. Coffey with 493 votes topped three other candidates in the junior college race.

Dewey Martin and Dr. P. W. Malone, runners-up, were re-elected to posts on the city school board and HCJC board, respectively.

Dibrrell succeeds Justin Holmes, who did not seek reelection to the school board. Coffey will replace Otis Grava Sr. as a trustee for the HCJC board.

HCJC BOARD TABULATION

Big Spring 491, Dewey Martin 253, John A. Coffey 493, P. W. Malone 217, Justin Holmes 187, Doc Wilkinson 154.

Junior college, Grava was not a candidate for reelection. Mack Rodgers was third man in the city school election, with 187 votes, while Doc Wilkinson received 154 votes. The voting was completed at 7 p.m.

Read topped the field of five candidates, according to unofficial returns. He succeeds Bennett Hoover, who was not a candidate for reelection.

Robinson received 83 votes, while Lay was third with 68, M. E. Tindol fourth with 43, and K. G. Birkhead fifth with 35. Write-in votes gave five to Ed Carpenter, four to Burl Cramer, three to Hoover and one each to H. H. Tanner, Mrs. Mattie Miller and Frank Lovelace.

H. T. Hale received 98 votes for county trustee at large. B. F. Logan was named on one write-in vote for that post.

COLORADO CITY—R. E. (Lon) Strain, 63, and Thurston T. Smith, 28, were re-elected trustees and a two-part $300,000 bond issue was approved overwhelmingly in record balloting here Saturday.

The trustee race, with six candidates seeking two places, drew 963 votes.

Scurry County voters had turned down a proposal to legalize the sale of beer by a margin of nearly three to one last year.

A 'GOING CONCERN' AFB Launches Its Training Mission

Big Spring Air Force Base was a "going concern" Saturday. It had launched into its mission of training officers and pilots.

The formality was observed as cadets and student officers assembled to hear words of greeting from the Wing Commander, Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz Jr., and other officers. Monday, they slip into a rigorous training schedule.

Colonel Wackwitz greeted the first classmen as "pioneers" and told them they would be pointing the way in BSAFB training. The Base is not complete, the commander said, but it is prepared to fulfill its mission. He advised the students that there is real work ahead, and at the same time pledged assistance to all from the Wing staff.

Other remarks were made by Lt. Col. James Wilson, director of pilot training, and Capt. Frank Hesse acting flight surgeon. The former told of academic and flight work ahead, the latter stressed the importance of the students staying in good physical condition.

Much work is yet to be done at the Base, but developments under direction of Colonel Wackwitz have been regarded as amazing in the face of difficulties in supply and construction. He told the first classes that they would not have the facilities that later classes will have, but they were asked to make the best of the situation.

Students here make up classes 32-D and 32-F. The former group has had phase I of its training (in conventional aircraft) at Perrin Field, Sherman, is due to make transition into jet planes and complete training in three months. Class 32-F takes its complete program here, is due to remain six months. When the training schedule gets squared away, there will be class arrivals and graduations on a six-week schedule, with four classes in training at a time.

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

The weather must be getting better. We only had one full-fledged sandstorm last week. Amateur forecasters have been coming out of hiding. Some have predicted precipitation within a week; more seem to be centering around the last week in the month; and still more in the first part of May. Most have one thing in common—they think it will be a wet spring or early summer. Kyle Miller, who has seen many a drought come and go, has bracketed it correctly. He says it will rain here after it rains in Carlsbad, N. M. and Pecos.

City fathers, however, are taking the attitude that although it's gotta rain, it might not. They moved last week to bolster the daily well supply by about a million gallons. This could be handled through the south well field supply line easily enough.

Cadet training got underway here at the end of the week. Formal exercises Saturday morning furnished a pivot point, and, as if to signal the event, jets became more active. People here are still amazed at the uncanny speed these planes possess, and still a bit unused to the jet sound.

Jaycees gave $50 to the Easter Seal campaign last week and urged wider public support. Per-

PILOTED B-26 BOMBER

Van Fleet's Son Missing In Action After Korean Mission

EDITOR'S NOTE: Fred Waters, Associated Press photographer, saw Gen. James A. Van Fleet and his only son when the general and his son met for the last time and again today after Van Fleet learned that James Jr. is missing in action.

By FRED WATERS
SEOUL, Korea, April 5 (AP)—Lt. James A. Van Fleet Jr., 25-year-old only son of the U.S. Eighth Army commander, was listed by the Fifth Air Force today as missing in action on his third night bombing mission.

Young Van Fleet and his two-man crew failed to return Friday from a strike near Suncheon in Northwest Korea. With him were Lt. John A. McAllister of Portland, Ore., navigator—bomber; and Airman First Class Ralph L. Phelps of Bemidji, Minn., engineer.

Another Western commander, the late Marshal Jean de Latire de Tassigny of France, also lost a son fighting the Communists. The son, Lt. Bernard, 23, was killed in action south of Hanoi, May 30, 1951.

Young Van Fleet and his crew went out Thursday night, but radioed they were diverted from their target—a rail center—by fog and low clouds.

At 3:15 a.m. Friday Van Fleet reported his fuel supply was too low to permit a strike on a secondary target. It was the last message from the B-26 twin-engine bomber.

An Air Force spokesman said the bomber should have had enough fuel to last until 4:30 a.m.

Hundreds of planes searched Friday and Saturday, dumping bombs on Communist supply lines as they ranged over the target area. The search was called off Saturday night.

I took the last picture of Van Fleet and his son at their last reunion—the night of March 19, James Jr. has his arm around the general as Van Fleet, 60, cut his birthday cake.

Today, I saw the general again. The news that his son was missing in action failed to stop the towering soldier from fulfilling his role as commander of all Allied ground forces in Korea.

Gen. Van Fleet spoke this afternoon to hundreds of his men in a ceremony marking the formation of a new South Korean Air Corps.

The general showed no sign of grief as he talked to the crowd.

West Point Can Seek Athletes Who Are Smart

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The Army told an inquiring senator today the superintendent of West Point has been authorized to encourage promising high school athletes to enroll there if they have "the necessary scholastic attainments."

Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa.), who has been highly critical of Army and Navy methods of training officers at West Point and Annapolis—especially since last year's crib-blast scandal at West Point—made public the Army reply to his query about "recruiting of athletes."

"It was my understanding that sometime ago the Army put a stop to the recruiting of athletes," Kilgore wrote Secretary of the Army Pace on Feb. 27.

It took the Army more than a month to reply.

The 90 West Pointers dismissed last August for cheating included many who played on the Military Academy's recent topflight football teams.

DISCOURAGED FARMERS APPLY FOR POSITIONS IN OTHER FIELDS

Discouragement among Howard County farmers has reached a point where some of them have decided to abandon the land for this year at least, and have filed applications with the Texas Employment Commission for jobs in other fields.

This report was confirmed yesterday by Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the TEC. "There has been a decline in local employment," Kinney said, "and Big Spring merchants look for no upturn in hiring until it rains. Some farmers are applying for jobs because of the drought." Kinney also said that a number of cowboys have applied for other forms of employment, a situation he also describes as being due to lack of rainfall.

Bill Sauer, manager of the Big Spring office of the Farm Home Administration, says that some farmers who have discussed emergency loans with him have indicated they will probably seek other employment this year.

Taft, Stassen Drive For Ill. Primary Votes

By RUSSELL LANE
CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen today drove into their stretch sprint for votes in Tuesday's Illinois primary election.

They are the only major candidates officially entered in the presidential preference race on the state's Republican ballot. But a write-in campaign is under way for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Democratic politicians across the nation are watching write-in efforts on behalf of Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson to see whether a popularity contest will develop between Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Kefauver's name is the only one listed for presidential endorsement on the Democratic ballot. Stevenson has said he "cannot approve" the write-in move for him.

The pre-primary indications were that Illinois' uninstructed delegation to the Republican National Convention will be preponderantly for Taft, of 80 GOP delegate candidates in Tuesday's voting, 67 have announced they are for Taft. Ten favor Eisenhower, two say they will vote for Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.), one is for Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Ten have not expressed a choice.

Taft is assured of 30 delegates among the 50 to be elected in the primary. He probably will get most of another 10 to be picked at a state party convention April 25.

Virtually all of the 50 Democratic convention delegates to be elected Tuesday and the 10 to be named by convention are for Stevenson.

Stassen, with strong backing throughout the country for the presidential nomination, insists he cannot be a candidate for President while he is running for governor. He has not closed the door to a presidential candidacy, however.

In the Republican presidential preference race, Taft made three campaign visits to Illinois before his current downstate swing which ends with a breakfast meeting at Mount Vernon tomorrow.

Stassen has been on a speaking and handshaking tour of the state since Tuesday. He, too, has made earlier visits to the state.

Forecasts of the Illinois primary vote today varied from a light 1,625,000 to a fairly heavy 1,830,000, depending upon the weather and the extent to which television campaigning has whetted public interest, particularly in the Chicago area.

Turner Is Associated With Insurance Firm

E. W. (Lige) Turner, a veteran insurance underwriter, has become associated with the R. B. Reeder Agency here.

He has been in insurance work for the past 11 years at San Angelo where he was branch manager for the Insurers Indemnity Insurance Co. Prior to that, Turner had experience with the American Surety Company.

He is married and he and Mrs. Turner will make their home here as soon as they can acquire a house.

His rugged, handsome face was firm.
On March 19 young Jim, freshly arrived from the United States, flew into Seoul and rushed to Eighth Army headquarters to see his high-ranking father. The two shook hands wildly, and beamed at each other.
Looking proudly at his son standing tall and erect in his Air Force blue uniform, the general remarked softly.
"You know, I tried like the devil to bring Jim up with the doughboys. I wanted him to be a combat infantryman, but Jim said the Army is too slow for him."
That night I returned to Eighth Army headquarters. The general was going to cut a huge cake for his 60th birthday.
Father Jim sat at the head of the table, with James Jr. at his right.
Taking a large silver knife in his hand, the general jabbed it into the chocolate icing. Young Jim stood at his side with his left arm on his father's shoulder. Both were smiling broadly.
This scene was the last picture taken of father and son together.

Juliana Pays Visit To Roosevelt Home

HYDE PARK, N.Y., April 5 (AP)—School lawn to the Municipal Auditorium.
There the Queen received a bouquet of red roses from young Pamela Dale Dykstra, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Dean Dykstra and granddaughter of two Dutch-Americans who were made knights of Orange-Nassau by the Dutch government for "furthering the good will of Holland abroad."

Mayor Oscar V. Neekirk welcomed the Queen "with something of the affection and pride that a son would have as he welcomes his mother to his household for the first time."

Prince Bernhard's reception at West Point also was altered by the rain.
He was to have attended a cadet review for Field Marshal Sir William J. Slim, commander in chief of the British imperial forces, but the review was postponed.

Instead the prince saw a documentary moving picture about the academy and an indoor Lacrosse game between West Point and the Maryland Lacrosse Club.

The Queen placed the wreath, and without further ceremony, they returned to the car, to drive to Mrs. Roosevelt's Val Kill cottage, on the estate.
The Queen's husband, Prince Bernhard, motored to Hyde Park to join her after a visit to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

At Kingston, Queen Juliana told the descendants of Dutch settlers: "We feel we belong to each other."

POW Formula May Bring On Korean Truce

By ROBERT EUNSON
TOKYO, Sunday, April 6 (AP)—The off-record negotiations on prisoner exchange at Panmunjom produced a formula which may lead to agreement on a Korean truce within the month.

United Nations observers who have viewed the talks with caution from the start now say an end could come with startling suddenness.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and most of his higher lieutenants are taking the attitude, "We'll believe it when we see it."

But others whose opinion must be reckoned with are showing real optimism for the first time.

Their reasons:
1. Agreement on the method for exchanging prisoners of war is in the works. This was revealed Friday in a United Nations announcement which said talks on POW exchange had been recessed "to develop additional avenues" for agreement. "Develop" is the key word. It wasn't "discover" but to "develop."

2. Once the prisoner exchange deal is completed and both sides are happy, a bargain could finish off the talks in a matter of hours. That bargain would be for the United Nations to withdraw its demanded ban on rebuilding Red airfields, providing the Communists gave in on the nomination of Soviet Russia as a neutral observer.

3. Settlement of the airfields and Russian issues would pave the way for a dramatic finish which would be right down the Red alley. It is believed that Russia's name was thrown into the lists for bargaining purposes anyway.

Indications that the Reds were ready to bargain on airfields and Russia were seen Friday in a Communist announcement at Panmunjom:

"... In order to make progress in these conferences, our side considers that your side must first withdraw the demand to interfere in our internal affairs."

Any attempt to restrict rebuilding of their military airfields would be interference with their internal affairs, the Reds maintain.

The United Nations already has told them they could build civilian airfields.

"It is believed the prisoner talks were recessed to allow the United Nations and Communists time to overhaul their prisoner lists."

The first machine for making wire nails from iron and brass was built over 100 years ago in New York City.

MEBBE WE SHOULD RE-ACTIVATE THE OLD TIME PONY EXPRESS?

In one way things around here yesterday were just like they were when the buffalo and antelope roamed the high points, and panthers screamed from the ruggedness of Sulphur Draw.

You couldn't send a telegram either time. A sign on the door at the Big Spring office of Western Union informed would-be patrons that the office was closed "temporarily" because of the strike, and there wasn't even anybody around to answer the telephone.

Likewise, there wasn't any local information available on when the thing might be ended, the wires opened and the machines started click-clacking again.

The strike became effective Thursday and struck Big Spring as soon as it did anywhere else. Grady Downing, local manager, indicated that activities here wouldn't likely be resumed until the matter was settled.

COMING UP MONDAY

Lone Star Steel Strike Vote Set

By The Associated Press
Union representatives of about 950 workers at the Lone Star Steel Co. plant at Daingerfield Saturday rejected an offer of an increase in pay and made plans to call a strike vote Monday.

The offer included an increase of 7 1/2 cents an hour across the board, retroactive to March 7, plus a 2 1/2 cent raise in six months and a similar raise six months later.

C. W. Thompson, Dallas, member of the Federal Mediation Service, reported the offer. He arranged for another meeting by W. R. Bond, Lone Star operations vice-president, and Paul Cross, CIO representative from Houston.

The steel workers asked the company to adopt a basic CIO steel wage contract.

Bond said the union is asking hikes that would make a total increase of about 60 cents an hour per worker.

Lorene Brantly, union representative, said the average worker makes about $1.35 an hour.

The plant, which has not yet gone into full production, began preparations to shut down a coke oven, blast furnace and a pipe foundry.

Union vice-president C. M. Richards of Dallas reported the commercial telegraphers union (AFL) was arranging to help members whose financial condition is impaired by the three-day-old strike.

Thousands of Texas Bell Telephone workers in Texas may be affected by a scheduled strike of Western Electric Co. installers. Officials of the telephone company employees' union said their members would not cross the installers' picket lines.

Officials of the Communications Workers of America (CIO) said a strike of installers would paralyze long distance phone service and affect about 1,000 telephone workers.

Actually only about 100 installers will work picket lines if the strike is called Monday.

Idaho Republicans To Support Taft

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, April 5 (AP)—Idaho Republicans Saturday directed their 14-delegate slate to the Republican National Convention to be "honor bound" to support Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination.

The state Republican convention said, however, that it was not instructing its delegation but that it was "the definite understanding that the delegation should be honor bound" to support Taft "to every reasonable extent."

The expression was in a resolution approved unanimously at the convention. The delegation was ordered to vote under the unit rule—meaning that individual delegates could not break away from the will of the majority.

Palm Sunday In Rome Attracting Lot Of Tourists

VATICAN CITY, April 5 (AP)—One of the largest crowds of pilgrims and tourists since the 1950 Holy Year filled Rome tonight for Palm Sunday, Holy Week and Easter.

Thousands have been coming into Rome the past several days from all parts of the world.

Rome's four great basilicas and hundreds of smaller churches are expected to be filled tomorrow as pilgrims and the city's faithful receive their Palm Sunday leaves and olive branches, that betoken Christ's entry into Jerusalem, and attend mass.

Many pilgrims and tourists will remain through the week, to be here for Easter Sunday.

On Easter Sunday (at 8 a.m., EST) the Pope will appear on the central balcony of St. Peter's Basilica and give his special blessing, urbi et orbi, to Rome and to the world.

Usually the square of St. Peter's is packed with hundreds of thousands for this Easter ceremony, after which the bells of St. Peter's ring out the celebration of the resurrection.

New PAL Fleet Is Being Set For Use

First five of the Pioneer Air Lines new fleet of nine 36-passenger airplanes have been delivered for modification, George K. Harris, operations manager, has announced. The remainder of the fleet of twin engine Martins with a 270-mile per hour rating will be delivered soon. Modification to Pioneer specifications is being done at Greenville and will include changes to meet Pioneer passenger and cargo needs. The exterior will be finished in Pioneer colors.

In progress for some time. In addition to being the oldest of the nation's 18 local service airlines, Pioneer is also the first to purchase postwar design planes for use on its system. At the present time Pioneer operates 11 DC-3 planes with an individual seating capacity of 24 passengers and a flying speed of 160 miles per hour. Investment in the new fleet is approximately four and a quarter million dollars, according to Robert J. Smith, president.

2 Bands Take Part In Kermit Festival

With competition in the junior high division completed, the Big Spring Senior High School took part in the regional (No. 8) band competition festival in Kermit Saturday. Marching contests late Saturday were to conclude the activities. Friday, J. W. King Jr. took the junior high band, consisting of 67 members, to the contests. The senior band, with 72 members, was aiming at first division in concert playing, sight reading and marching, said King. Special contestants included Guy Knowles, Harris Wood and Margaret Martin, French horn; Kennedy Briden, cornet; Julian Baird and Wylie Brown, trumpets; Daryl Sanders, cornet; Frankie Marstrand, base clarinet; Jimmy King and Margaret King, B flat clarinet; Kim Milling, Paul McGann, and Ray Shaw, bass horn. IN SCHOOL ELECTIONS Presidential Polls Over Texas Today

By The Associated Press
Presidential preferential polls cropped up again Saturday in school trustee elections over Texas. Lufkin, Midland, Amarillo, Happy, Dumas and Stratford arranged official straw ballots. In last Tuesday's municipal elections six other towns had given out unofficial ballots for the voters to mark their preferences among the presidential nominee candidates of both parties. The school board elections are traditionally held on the first Saturday in April, but not all cities hold them at that time. Only property-owning taxpayers vote in the school election. This means that a lot of citizens who paid their poll tax but own no property will not get their say in the straw votes conducted Saturday. The Lufkin straw vote was held in the City Independent School District, with 8,000 voters eligible to participate. The ballots were printed by Lufkin Daily News and carried the names of Barkley, Eisenhower, Kefauver, MacArthur, Rayburn, Russell, Stevenson and Taft. The Daily News arranged to do the counting. The League of Women Voters in Midland sponsored the balloting there. The names of all Democratic and Republican candidates were listed on a ballot and a space was left for write-in votes. The League of Women Voters in Amarillo also sponsored the straw vote there. The women arranged a special booth at each voting place to handle the ballots separately. Charles M. Rogers, superintendent of the Amarillo schools, pointed out that the straw balloting would be handled in a manner separated from the school election and added he was glad of the straw vote because it might help to get more voters out. Mayor Lynn Fore of Happy, a Panhandle community, announced that the straw vote would be conducted there. Dumas and Stratford, also in the Panhandle, arranged a similar vote. The school trustee elections were generally normal in most cities and towns. However, the Mt. Pleasant Independent District had its most hotly contested school trustee election in its history, the Mt. Pleasant Daily Times reported. Seven men were candidates for three places to be filled. The Daily Times said the high interest developed as a result of a local split on administrative and curricular policies reportedly brought into the school system at the beginning of the term last September. Last fall, a group calling themselves "Citizens Committee Opposed to Progressive Education" presented to the school board a petition asking varied changes in policies, many of which were made by the board, the paper said.

Export Restrictions Relaxed By The U. S.

DALLAS, April 5 (AP)—The federal government has relaxed restrictions on export of carbon black. About 70 per cent of the nation's carbon black is produced in Texas. Lifting of quota restrictions was announced here by Regional Director Ernest L. Tutt of the Commerce Department's Office of International Trade.

TOUGH CHARACTERS

Paratroopers Are Rough And Ready For Anything

By WILBUR MARTIN
FORT HOOD, April 5 (AP)—The men who wear the paratrooper's wings wrap themselves in a fierce pride that is a protective shield against fear. They laugh at danger, scoff fear, admit only "apprehension" when they tumble into space and wait the three long, long seconds for the "shock" of a billowing parachute. These men, youths and grandfathers, chant with fervor a gory song about "blood upon the risers," the saga of a man "who ain't gonna jump no more." It is almost their battle cry. For two weeks, hundreds of Texans have seen paratroopers fighting on the ground as aggressor troops in Exercise Long Horn, biggest military maneuver of its type in U. S. history. Some 40 thousand watched 2,500 jump before the maneuver started March 25. The big mock war being staged over 1,800 square miles of ranch land enters its last week Monday. When it ends Friday, the men of the 82nd Airborne and the 508 Regimental combat team—jumpers all go back to bases in North Carolina and Georgia. The best way to learn about these men is just to listen—as they drink, as they eat, as they remember. They're all types, like Cpl. Floyd E. King of Clarksville, Ark., who served two years in the Navy, then switched to the 82nd because "you make more money." Or like Maj. Chester B. McCold, of Middletown, Conn., 29, a soldier since he was 16. A fabulous fellow, this McCold, who just "hasn't found time" to spend a month in traction splints to get his back straightened. He's been walking at an angle—in biting pain—for months now. Why? He probably would have missed this maneuver and "you just don't quit." McCold's sidekick, Capt. Bruce Benedict, an OSS man in World War II and a reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle in civilian life, fills in the gaps in the major's story, the gaps McCold never bridges. "This character," Benedict says fondly, "got half his knee shot away while he was in a plane going to make a combat jump in Europe. So what does he do? He jumps with his men and then starts walking and fighting on the ground." Why did you jump then, McCold? His answer was simple to understand—if you're a paratrooper: "You jump if you're not a 'basket case.'" This feeling you must "jump" isn't just because the men like it; everybody is a little apprehensive when he climbs into the plane, even if he's a master parachutist with more than a hundred jumps. "You start getting 'chopped' up when you're in the air," McCold explained. "The excitement, the tension takes hold. Your feet start pounding. When it's time to go you're 'high' all over and all you think of it getting to the 'door' and getting out." The paratrooper, like the ones taking part in Long Horn, accepts broken bones and death in a casual manner. For it will never happen to the one you're talking to, only the "other guy," the one who gets a bad "body" position, or who "loses" his head. The spectacular feat of one paratrooper catching another after his chute failed to open, was awesome to civilian spectators watching the drop of 2,310 men on March 25. But it isn't an uncommon happening to the paratroopers. "It takes guts, though," McCold said. "The guy that does the grabbing is taking a chance on his own chute rupturing and collapsing." But, in training, it is done frequently, with no publicity. As those hundreds of Central Texans know, the paratroopers are a cocky, confident crew, with fierce pride in their division and themselves. They're a strange—and wonderful lot—these men who chant, to the tune of the Battle Hymn of Re-public: "The risers wrapped around his neck, connectors cracked his dome. "The lines were snarled and tied in knots around his skinny bones. "The canopy became his shroud, he hurtled toward the ground. "He ain't gonna jump no more." "The days he lived and loved and laughed kept running through his mind: "He thought about the girl back home, the one he left behind. "He thought about the medals and wondered what they'd find. "He ain't gonna jump no more." "Gory, gory! What a hell of a way to die."

MEET THE 'SENIORS' Of The COSDEN FAMILY

This is the 50th in a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued service of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

F. R. Cunningham Among the Cosden veterans in the fifteen years or more bracket is F. R. Cunningham. His association with the company dates back to June 18, 1935. Another of the many native Texans in the Cosden family, Cunningham was born, reared and schooled in Fannin County. After completing his school work, he farmed for a few years, then went to work for the Texas & Pacific Railway. From that job he joined Cosden. Cunningham started to work in the Maintenance Department and worked up to Salvage Repairman in 1948, the position he now holds. Cunningham was married to Miss Edna Hudgins of Granbury on April 29, 1930, and they have a son, Billy, and two grandsons, Jimmie, 3, and Dannie, 2 months. They own their home at 703 E. 14th St. Sports of all types are Cunningham's hobbies. At one time, he and his brothers, who are also avid followers of sports, formed a baseball team composed of "Cunninghams". Their team was well-known in this area. Cunningham is a member of the Church of Christ.

HOSPITAL, SICKNESS INSURANCE URGED

Extension Of Social Security To Armed Forces Is Proposed

By W. JOYNES MACFARLAN WASHINGTON, April 5 (U)— Extension of the Social Security System to cover members of the armed forces, and a nation-wide system of hospital and sickness insurance for the aged were proposed today by Commissioner Arthur J. Altmeyer of the Social Security Administration.

He also proposed that present social security benefits be increased. "The most important need for extending the protection of Old Age and Survivors Insurance is in the field of military service," Altmeyer said in his annual report to the President and Congress.

program's effectiveness," the report said, "is by making it more responsive to increases in wages and prices. If benefit amounts fail to adjust promptly to these factors, more people dependent on the benefits will become needy."

After two years, the state hospital said last week it had discovered Dr. R. W. Syler was inexperienced. That was certainly so when he took over and the board knew it; he said. Anyhow, the board thumbed him out.

One week hence, the traditional Easter Sunrise Services will be held here. This year for the first time the site is being changed. The Jet Theatre is being used as a location so that if weather is too crisp or inclement, there will be no problem involved.

Deadline for applications for 900 rental housing units in Big Spring passed last Thursday. The FHA sought to make some announcements about to whom they have been awarded this week. Then, in about two to three more weeks, maybe this sorely needed construction can be launched.

Sports fans get a change of pace Tuesday when the Broncs come back for the initial game in these parts. There's always speculation about what Pat Stacey will pull out of his bag in the way of playery and over how promising rookie stack up against the "Peaters" (Potato Pascual).

The week was one of violence. A rifle shot and a leather belt were instruments that left Lois Marie Childers and C. C. Whitefield dead.

Pickerel Comes Up The U. S. Submarine Pickerel appears to be leaping completely out of the water as it surfaces at a 48-degree angle off the Hawaiian island of Oahu. The Pickerel is coming up from a depth of 150 feet. This picture was made by a Navy photographer on an accompanying submarine, the Sabalo. The Pickerel was kept under sonar "observation" as it neared the surface, enabling the photographer to have his camera focused on the approximate spot of the surfacing before the Pickerel appeared. The fine choir of HCJC was honored again last week by appearing at the annual banquet meeting of the Texas Association of Junior College. These young musicians are doing a good job.

votes, a new record according to Jim Watson, board secretary. Only two less votes were cast in the bond election. Voters sanctioned the $100,000 slice for rebuilding of the Hutchison school, destroyed by fire last November (the board has $300,000 insurance money to go with it), and approved another $200,000 for a new Negro school.

NEWS OF FALA'S passing came in a simple statement from John Roosevelt, the late President's youngest son.

When Roosevelt took part in a parade, the black scotty usually was perched on the back of the car at the President's shoulder.

New Fuel Is Added To Illinois Primary

backers sought to prevent the delegation from being instructed for the Ohio senator. The political spotlight then shifted to Illinois, whose Tuesday primary, involving the largest number of delegates in any primary so far this year, highlights a busy week which sees Kansas, Arizona and Kentucky also naming delegates.

Another Democratic presidential candidate, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, is reported to have indicated he would rather remain a senator than vice-president. The Richmond News Leader said he was asked in an interview to speculate on a Stevenson-Russell ticket, with Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois as top man.

Other political developments: A six-hour talk in Paris between Eisenhower and Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.), his campaign manager, shed no light on when or whether the general will return home to campaign in person. There was also dead silence on whether he was actually writing up his resignation, as has been rumored.

Solons Agree HST's Case For Foreign Aid Good One

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Two senators agreed today the administration had made out a good case for its $7,900,000,000 foreign aid program but both said cuts in the amount are certain.

Veteran Sen. George (D-Ga.) told a reporter the bill "certainly must be cut by at least a billion dollars."

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said in a separate interview he felt government witnesses supporting the measure "made an excellent case and did a fine job."

"But," he commented, "it would be unrealistic to suppose this will go through without any cuts."

Both senators are members of the Foreign Relations Committee which completed taking of testimony on the big bill yesterday afternoon after 17 days of hearings.

The measure carries funds designed to beef up the military programs and bolster the economic systems of American allies all over the world in the fiscal year starting July 1. The bulk of the money—all but about two billion dollars—would go to Western Europe.

Sparkman said he believed "reductions in the program would be much smaller now than the detailed case for it has been heard."

When President Truman first sent the bill to Capitol Hill, a few lawmakers demanded that it be cut in half.

But Sparkman said today "I doubt very seriously if there will be the urge for as deep cuts as there was before the testimony was presented."

"The administration presented a stronger case than last year," he said. "I think the committee members are pretty well satisfied any cuts will have to be made carefully and judiciously. There will be no slashing."

George said the supporters of the bill "made out a good case on the basis of what the countries need, but it's a question of what we can do in the light of our own domestic situation—how much aid we can afford to give."

It appeared likely the Senate might wait to see what reductions the House makes before writing its own version of the bill.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Foreign Relations Committee told a reporter he could not say when the committee would start to vote on the items in the bill. He had indicated earlier it might be a good idea to wait for the House to act first.

TEXAS BRANDS

By JOHN M. HENDRIX
The HHS was a brand started by Robert Masterson in 1845 in Williamson or Travis Counties. From 1869 to 1880 it was on approximately 10,000 cattle on open range in these counties along the Colorado River for fifty miles, or in as much territory as was needed to supply grass.

Mr. Masterson was the father of one of West Texas's most noted cattlemen, R. B. Masterson, who ranched for years in the Mobette and Fort Elliott section.

About the time "free grass" was being taken over by farmers, he acquired some 75,000 or 100,000 acres of land in Knox County in what is commonly termed "the country between the Wichitas" where he founded the JY ranch and operated it until his property was divided between his two sons. He also acquired a good portion of the LS ranch north of Amarillo on which natural gas in great quantities was discovered a few years ago and which forms the nucleus of the gas supply which provides Detroit and a number of other Eastern cities with its gas supply.

Management of the Masterson properties is under a son, R. B. Masterson Jr., and a son-in-law, Chanselor Weymouth. The Knox County ranch is the property of a grandson, Tom B. Masterson.

More Cities Have Service As WU Walk-Out Continues

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Western Union reported an upswing in service today in its first nationwide telegraphers' strike in 33 years.

But federal mediators saw little prospect of an early end to the three-day-old walkout.

The company said service was restored in nine more cities, raising the total to 57.

It named the cities as Albuquerque, N.M.; Austin, Tex.; Charlottesville, Va.; Eldorado, Ark.; Fort Bragg and Greensboro, N.C.; Frankfort, Ky.; Helena, Mont.; and Rapid City, S.D.

Western Union said the service was provided by supervisory personnel not returning to work.

The striking AFL Commercial Telegraphers' Union contended its ranks were holding firm and labeled company reports of back-to-work activities and restored service as "typical propaganda."

The union seeks a 16-cent-an-hour raise and a 40-hour week with pay for 48 hours. Present wages average between $1.53 and $1.63 an hour.

Federal Mediator J. L. Mandelbaum planned to confer here with company officials and return to Washington the middle of the week for further talks with union officials.

He said he could see little chance for success in joint meetings at present.

Feinsinger Seeks Settlement Of Steel Strike By Deadline

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Federal wage chief Nathan Feinsinger shuttled between industry and union officials today in search of a way to avert a strike of 700,000 steelworkers Wednesday.

He said the fact that both sides were willing to listen was "always encouraging" and that "we haven't lost any ground" in the impasse.

But in the smoking steel-producing areas, both the industry and the CIO United Steelworkers of America went ahead with preparations for a shutdown.

Union locals made arrangements for soup kitchens, and picket signs.

The huge U.S. Steel Corp. announced plans to start banking 36 blast furnaces tomorrow. Other steel firms were following suit.

Ohio steel plants began cooling down tonight. The strikers would affect 90,000 Ohio workers and millions of dollars in weekly payrolls in the state alone.

Across the nation, only two major producers appeared likely to be unaffected by a strike. They were Kaiser Steel, which has met the union demands, and Weirton Steel, which has a contract with an independent union.

Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board first conferred today with representatives of the "Big Six" steel firms.

Then he talked with Philip Murray, president of the CIO steelworkers union and of the parent CIO.

Feinsinger followed this up by talking again with the industry leaders.

"I am empowered to do anything which I regard as necessary or desirable to settle this dispute," Feinsinger told newsmen, but he added that he was not empowered to discuss prices.

The industry contends prices are a key factor on the ground they cannot meet the union demands without increased income.

Feinsinger said he had talked by telephone with Acting Defense Mobilization John R. Steelman in Washington.

Stelman's office there described the call as a "progress report."

An aide said Steelman flatly denied a report that he had decided on a $4-a-ton steel price increase.

The aide also declared Steelman had given "absolutely no consideration" to ousting Price Administrator Ellis Arnall. Arnall said Thursday the industry was entitled only to a $2 to $3 a ton price increase under the defense act and that price regulations would not be stretched to allow more.

Feinsinger flew here yesterday after a breakdown in industry and union negotiations with instructions to settle the dispute that threatens to idle the great steel mills, heart of the nation's rearmament program.

Murray sent out a formal strike notice to companies and union locals Thursday night after the union accepted and the industry rejected recommendations by Feinsinger's wage board.

The board, after lengthy hearings in Washington and New York, proposed a 17½-cent-an-hour wage increase, other benefits which industry estimated would raise its labor costs to 30 cents an hour, and a union shop.

Industry leaders said a $12-a-ton increase in the price of steel would be necessary to meet the costs of the WSB proposals. The government refused to relax price controls which would permit an increase of between $2 and $3 a ton.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcostrale. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if rotundness and lumps of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and thighs, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 45 POUNDS
"I want to tell you what Barcostrale did for me. I have lost 45 pounds taking it. It is just wonderful how it helped me to take off weight. I would not be without it, as it not only helped me to take off weight, but it has helped me in other ways." Mrs. Tracy Freeman, 4220 Dyer St., B & B Trailer Court, El Paso, Texas.

Car Licenses Past 11,200

Station vehicle registrations for 1952 here had moved past the 11,200 mark, according to tabulations Saturday at the tax collector's office.

"We still have plenty of car tag business," observed Tax Collector B. E. Freeman, as he looked toward two lines of customers at the service windows. However, the volume is expected to dwindle gradually during the next few days.

The Saturday calculations showed 8,385 passenger car tags, 1,450 commercial tags, 654 for farm vehicles, and 720 miscellaneous, such as trailers, motorcycles, etc.

Ellender Endorses Senator Russell

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Senator Ellender (D-La.) tonight endorsed Senator Russell (D-Ga.) as "head and shoulders" above other candidates who have announced for the presidency.

He said that although Russell is from the South "his outlook is devoid of sectionalism."

"He is an eminently fair man, a solid thinker, and above all, free from any socialistic taint which seems to characterize some of today's so-called leaders," Ellender said in an address for broadcast over radio station WWL, New Orleans.

"At the same time, Senator Russell is a liberal in the traditional sense of the word."

Airman Is Booked In Nevada Murder Case

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 5 (AP)—Joseph Marshall Lane, 29, private from March Air Force Base, Calif., was booked on suspicion of murder today after police said he admitted beating a woman to death.

Police Chief A. H. Kennedy said Lane, who gave his home town as Electra, Tex., called headquarters early today and said: "I just killed a woman."

Officers found him in a motel room with the bruised and bloody body of Ina Marie Peterson, 29, on the floor nearby. Officers quoted Lane as saying he met the woman in a bar last night and beat her after an argument.

Cafe Workers Are Sought By Local TEC Unit

There is currently a heavy demand for cafe and restaurant workers, according to Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission.

Kinney said he had about 20 openings listed yesterday.

Concurrently with Kinney's announcement, Lige Fox, city sanitation inspector, called attention to the fact that all such workers are required to have health cards authorizing them to engage in such employment, and that these cards are issued only after the applicant has passed the required health examination.

Fox warns that any person seeking such employment should first prepare themselves for employment by obtaining the required health card.

Kinney said there were 312 office visits to the TEC listed for the week; 31 new applications for jobs were made; 54 persons were referred to non-agricultural jobs, and 44 of these were placed in employment.

There were 26 claims, in part and continued, for unemployment compensation during the week. This does not mean 26 different persons however, Kinney points out, since each person must file a new claim each week.

SCS Appeals For Safe Use Of Blow Lands

FORT WORTH, April 5 (AP)—The Soil Conservation Service appealed today for "a return to safer use of Texas blow lands—and backed up its appeal with pictures of head-high drifts of soil in West Texas.

Soil drifts are making some farm roads impassable, a survey party reported to Louis Merrill, regional director of the SCS.

Merrill said field office reports to him showed hard March winds had added 470,000 acres to the total of West Texas acreage undergoing moderate to severe wind erosion damage.

"Wind of the last two weeks of the month put 249,000 more acres in the moderate to severely damaged category," said Merrill. "The total in lands which have been moderately or severely damaged this season is now 1,637,000 acres."

Anti-erosion measures suggested by SCS included:

1. A stop to cultivation of lands not suitable for cultivation because of its extreme susceptibility to blowing. "Three million acres too light or too shallow for crop production are now cultivated in the High Plains of Texas," said SCS.

2. Use of blue panicum, sand lovegrass, weeping lovegrass and other grasses to keep hazardous soils in place.

3. Emergency tillage—plowing deep enough to turn up protective clay subsoils. But this method is less effective, said the report, because there is now not enough moisture beneath.

They reported that grain sorghum stubble, if properly managed, also is effective in preventing land damage.

Even in the hardest hit areas, they said, some farmers had successfully combated the blow threat. Among those using grasses and wind-resisting feed crops successfully were listed Curtis White and Glennwood Stovall, both farming southeast of Lamesa, and George M. Norman, southeast of Seminole.

Measures effective in the Brownfield area included grass seedings, stubble mulch, grain sorghums and cotton in rotation, chiseling and deep plowing.

"A great portion of the lands in question are well suited to the production of grain sorghums, and properly managed sorghum stubble is as good an instrument as we know to prevent blowing on cropland," Merrill said.

"Cotton must be grown in narrow strips with grain sorghum if blowing on cotton land is to be prevented. In 1950—a year in which blowing was not so severe—large acreages of these lands now blowing were protected by sorghum stubble. That kind of protection could have prevented much of the damage we are seeing this year."

Mexico To Abolish School Home Work!

MEXICO CITY, April 5 (AP)—Don't let the children find it out, but Mexico is on the road to abolishing home work. First grade teachers have already eliminated it and it is being reduced to a minimum in other grades. Meanwhile, a technical commission is studying the possibility of cutting it out in all grades.

Since comparatively few Mexicans can afford schooling beyond the primary grades, school authorities have put on a heavy curriculum in those grades. This has meant very heavy home work assignments.

NOTES ON A CRUISE

Newspapers Are Plentiful In Cities Of Mediterranean Areas

By HOUSTON HARTE

AT SEA.—The newspaper situation in the Mediterranean cities follows the same pattern. There are from 15 to 35 newspapers in most of the large cities. Cairo with two and a quarter million people does not have a newspaper with as much as 75,000 circulation. Its 22 newspapers are divided into three groups—Arabic, English and French. There are two English newspapers, two French and the rest are Arabic. Newsprint is a problem and all circulation is street sales and newsstands.

Beirut has the most newspapers of any city in the Mediterranean area. It has 34—only one of which has a circulation of 20,000. The rest fall in groups of from 5 to 10,000. Istanbul has 20 dailies. They all represent parties or points of view and their circulation is ineffective. Most of them are subsidized.

Beirut is now the telephone center of the Near East. Tel Aviv had been the communication center until the creation of Israel. It grew rapidly from almost nothing and its equipment was modern. All telephone calls from Istanbul, Athens and Cairo and the area in between cleared through Tel Aviv. Now no telephone calls can be placed from the Arab world to Tel Aviv and the equipment in Tel Aviv is idle. Only recently new equipment was installed in Beirut and now all Near East calls clear through the Lebanon capital.

Since the riots of Jan. 20, Cairo and Alexandria have lost most of their air line business. The big overseas airways have shifted their Near East terminals to Beirut. The British Overseas Airways has a non-stop jet air liner that flies from London to Beirut in four hours.

Major James Jabara, our first jet pilot ace, the McKinney boy who made his record in Korea, is a second generation Lebanese. His father came from Merjayoun, a city of 10,000 back behind the Lebanese mountain range. After his tour of the States, Major Jabara, his wife and his parents came to Lebanon. It was the occasion of a great celebration of the Lebanese.

people to have this American come back to the old country.

The cedars of Lebanon are hard to find in Lebanon. The one on the west side of the front of the City Hall in San Angelo is larger than any you can see in the mountains of Lebanon. One conquerer that another robbed the country that gave the tree its name. Only a few have been preserved. But a nursery was set up with ECA funds and now thousands of seedlings are being transplanted in the hills of their native land.

The other evening at dusk the Independence whistle blasted four times and she came to an almost dead stop. A sailor had fallen overboard. The sailor was working near the prow on the starboard side. Fortunately he had on a life jacket. The sea was a little rough but you could hear him yell and see the phosphorus in his jacket flash in the water. It takes a good deal of doing to turn a 30,000-ton vessel going at 22 knots an hour. A life boat was lowered and the men made toward the spot where it was thought the man had been lost. A search light was flashed on the sea. The men in the boat would catch sight of the man and then lose him in the valley behind the next wave. It was 45 minutes before he was hauled aboard the lifeboat. By that time he was a nervous wreck. Hauled in at last he fought his rescuers and screamed at the top of his voice. In the hospital he was given a shot and quieted down, but the next day he was little better. At the last port he was flown to New York for further treatment. If he had not had on a life jacket, he would have been lost.

The late James Forrestal worried over the Near East until life did not seem worth living. He was persecuted by a number of people because he did not share the view that we could sit around and wait and see what would happen in the Middle East. Today our men out here are reading again his statements about the rising power of Arab Nationalism. It is now the reality which he predicted. Our people are trying to prevent its becoming the tragedy he forecast.

You meet a lot of people in strange places. William J. Lenahan, the executive vice-president of the Mediterranean Refining Co., came aboard at Beirut. He is building a new refinery there for the Standard of California. He is an old friend of John S. Suman, Humble's former production chief and now a vice-president of the Standard of New Jersey.

Our party of Texans enjoyed a group of neighbors from across the Rio Grande, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Azarraga and their daughter, Miss Eugenia Azarraga, and Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Gomez and their daughter, Miss Maria Ruth Gomez, all of Mexico City, are making their sixth trip together.

Mr. and Mrs. Ignacio Santos of Monterrey, friends of both the Mexico City families are making the trip. The Santos are frequent visitors to San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Two young men from Mexico City joined the cruise at Gibraltar. They are Placido Arango and Alberto Balleres. All of these people speak English and French and put us to shame with our single language.

While Egypt's budget has been balanced for years it has put nothing into capital investments for the public benefit. It has few hospitals, hardly any roads, few schools. It needs cheaper communications more than any one thing. The charge on transportation places a heavy burden on business and on consumer goods.

Allen is Named Office Manager For WTWD

Sam Allen, president of the Dawson County Farm Bureau, has been named office manager of the West Texas Weather Improvement District, the 11-county organization that has contracted with Krick's Water Resources Development Corporation for increased precipitation over this area.

Allen's appointment was made by the officers of the district, and he will take over his duties about May 1st, according to reports from Lamesa where the district office will be maintained.

Mrs. Ernestine Sellers, also of Lamesa, has been employed as Allen's secretary, the report said. When the original budget for the district was set up about $12,000 was set aside to cover expenses of the district office, including the salaries of office personnel. At the time of the organization of the weather district the Dawson County Farm Bureau offered space for a rainmaker's office at a nominal fee that was not immediately stipulated, but that was to be agreed upon later by Bureau officers and the officers of the then-proposed weather district.

Allen is the man credited with proposing the idea of the weather district. He was very active in its organization presiding at the initial meetings at which it was formed.

Currently the officers and directors are engaged in drafting a constitution and by-laws for the recently-formed non-profit organization.

Other counties expected to join the 11 already in the organization are Stoneham, Kent, Fisher and Garza. The contract for cloud-seeding activities has already been signed and an initial quarterly payment of $15,000 has been made to the Denver organization of which Dr. Irving P. Krick is organizer and president.

Iran Willing To Pay Back The British

TEHRAN, Iran, April 5 (AP)—The Iranian government reaffirmed today its willingness to negotiate on ways of compensating Britain for Iran's seizure of the vast Anglo-Iranian Oil Company installations here.

This was disclosed in an exchange of notes between the two countries leading up to hearings on the dispute in the International Court of Justice at The Hague. The court is tentatively scheduled to sit May 8 to take up Britain's charges that Iran broke her treaty commitments by nationalizing the British-owned oil industry.

Britain, in a note of March 19, repeated her stand that the nationalization issue is not merely an internal matter—as Iran claims—but is an "international matter on which the court is competent to adjudicate." Iran claims the court has no authority to judge the case. The British note, released today after Iran made her note public, reiterated Britain's willingness to negotiate a settlement of the whole oil dispute, which has virtually shut off the flow of oil from Iranian wells and refineries.

Mexico To Probe Officer's Actions

MEXICO CITY, April 5 (AP)—The Defense Ministry said it had ordered an investigation of actions of an opposition political leader and army officer who apparently failed to obey orders.

The ministry said Gen. Octavio Velazquez, president of the leftist Popular party, had been ordered to establish military court in Tampico March 30. It said Velazquez, a member of the adjutant general's office, had not obeyed but had attended a political dinner in Mexico City that day. Velazquez, whose party backs the Communist candidate for President, was previously ordered to duty in Ixtapiec but the orders were later canceled.

Building Jobs In Tax Take A Dive

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP)—Texas building jobs slumped more than 2 million dollars last week.

Total of contracts let for the week was $16,326,749 compared with $18,787,258 the week before. The cumulative total for the year is now $254,552,369.

These reports were issued by the Texas Contractor, construction trade journal, on the basis of actual contracts let.

Non-residential construction led all classifications with contracts awarded amounting to $7,477,956, the magazine said.

Smith Resigns Post With SCD Supervisors

The resignation of Ocie Smith as a member of the Board of Supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, was accepted at a meeting of the board at Stanton Friday afternoon.

Smith, who formerly lived near Tarzan, resigned because he has bought a stock farm near Vinita, Oklahoma, and has moved there. W. H. Yater, who now lives five miles west of Stanton on an irrigated farm, but who formerly lived near Fairview, was selected to succeed Smith on the board. A few years ago Yater was named as the outstanding conservation farmer in the Martin-Howard district. He is well known to Big Spring and Howard County people.

Other board members present at the meeting were Morris Patterson, B. O. Brown and Edgar Phillips. At the Friday conference the board approved 29 conservation plans covering an additional 38,642 acres. One of these was on a ranch of 29,580 acres; another was on a 3,000-acre ranch; a third was on a 640-acre stock farm, and the others included smaller farms.

The supervisors approved the purchase of a manure spreader to be used principally in the Elbow community, and a combination fertilizer-drill to be used mainly in putting in permanent pastures in the Stanton and Midland irrigated areas.

Round-Up Plans Of Scouts Progressing

Plans for the annual Buffalo Trails Boy Scout Round Up, April 17-19, are progressing satisfactorily, the district committee learned Friday evening.

Wesley Deats, camping and activities chairman, reported that various subcommittee chairmen were moving rapidly for the event which has been held here for more than a quarter of a century. This affair is expected to draw more than 800 boys and leaders here for a campout and continuing competition in Scout skills. A highlight will be the traditional barbecue at noon on April 19 just before the Scouts break camp.

At the district leader parley headed by Gil Jones, Lone Star district chairman, detail reports on progress of units were given by Bill Sheppard, district commissioner. In turn, institutional representatives were asked to enlarge upon Sheppard's observations of their unit's status. On the whole, the reports reflected definite rapid progress in activities and membership.

Camping showed a good gain with 171 boys taking part last month, and 116 of these camping out overnight.

One new Cub pack—No. 11 sponsored by East Ward P-T-A—was reported and four others were re-registered. Although one of these showed a net loss of 63 boys in re-registering, it was explained that many of these graduated into Scouting.

Charles Watson, advancement chairman, called for more complete reports so that the base of advancement could be broadened. Jones called attention to the Senior Bivouac at Poyote on May 2-4. He also emphasized the need for summer camping promotion. Sixteen committee members attended the parley at the Wagon Wheel.

Spraberry Still Leads Area In Completions

Drilling tempo, declined slightly in the first quarter of 1952 in this immediate seven-county area, but 105 wells were completed for an aggregate daily potential of 31,231 barrels.

There were 31 abandonments for the same period.

The vast bulk of the total potential—and about half of the wells—were in the Spraberry area, mostly Glasscock.

There were several discoveries, but most of them were small and not much significance was attached to them.

PAD PLAN BLOCKED

Munitions Board Rejects Elk Hills Pool Increase

By CHARLES HASLET
WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The Munitions Board has rejected a suggestion that more crude oil be produced temporarily from the Elk Hills Naval Reserve, a government official disclosed.

The proposal was made by the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) as one method of increasing West Coast crude production. This would permit California refineries to turn out more residual oil, aviation gasoline and other products which the Defense Department would like to obtain in that area.

PAD said refining capacity in California is adequate to take care of the military's West Coast demand, but there is not sufficient crude being produced there for processing.

Transportation problems and higher cost would weigh heavily if residual oil or other products were purchased in Midwest fields or the Gulf Coast area.

PAD said there are several possible solutions.

One would be completion of the trans-mountain Canadian pipeline to British Columbia, now expected about the end of 1953.

Another possibility would be a pipeline from the West Texas oil fields to California. Two such proposals are pending—by Pacific Progress Pipeline and West Pipeline. Thus far neither has received approval for priorities assistance, and time would be needed to complete them.

PAD advocated increasing production from the Elk Hills Naval Reserve from 7,000 barrels a day to 100,000 as possibly the best temporary answer to the shortage problem.

PAD emphasized that it would be a temporary measure until the Canadian pipeline was completed.

When the Canadian line is in operation some California oil now being shipped north by tanker can be made available for refineries in that state.

The munitions board rejected the idea, the official said, on the ground that there was no overall national shortage of crude.

PAD agrees there is no nationwide oil shortage to meet defense demands but it added that Defense Department is not too anxious to get its needed West Coast products from the Gulf Coast or Midwest because of the higher cost involved.

"If the shortage of products to meet military demands continues on the West Coast, it may become an acute one," the official commented.

The controversial legislation giving states instead of the federal government clear title to oil rich lands in their coastal areas still faces an uncertain fate.

The Senate this week passed a bill somewhat similar to one adopted earlier by the House, which now has acted to send the bill to a conference committee for ironing out the differences.

Some Congressmen expressed the belief this would not be too difficult.

But if and when the bill goes to the White House it may face a presidential veto. President Truman vetoed a similar measure in 1948.

Senators and House members have expressed conflicting opinions on whether the legislation could be passed in Congress by the two-thirds majority required in event of a veto.

Scurry Canyon Test Has Gas

Gas-cut mud was found on a drillstem test in the Canyon reef in a Kelly-Snyder northeast outpost in Central Scurry County.

Texas No. 202 Fuller, which is located about a mile north of Cisco production and a mile east of Canyon pay in the Kelly-Snyder pool, took a drillstem test from 6,945-6,965 in the Canyon reef. The tool was open 90 minutes and recovery was 40 feet of gas-cut mud with no shows of oil. A previous drillstem test from 6,944-6,955 with the tool open 90 minutes returned 10 feet of drilling mud, 90 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, and 90 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud.

WEEK'S REVIEW

Five Counties Have Place In Oil News

By JOHN B. BREWER
SAN ANGELO, April 5.—Five counties shared the major news of West Texas oil activity this week. Upton, Reagan, Midland, Glasscock and Andrews copping the headlines.

An Ellenburger discovery in southwestern Andrews County Phillips No. 1-EE University found the water table after going through 120 feet of pay section from 10,665-785 feet. The strike, which indicated a five-eighths mile southwest extension to Devonian production in the Block 12 multiple well, will run casing and plug off water for Ellenburger completion.

A drifstem test Thursday, 10-785-820 feet, recovered 2,070 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut water about 200 feet of free oil, 110 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 900 feet of gas-cut sulphur water. The strike earlier flowed oil on several drillstem tests higher in the hole. Location is near the C NE SW 10-12-U, 22 miles southwest of Andrews.

Additional Wolfcamp pay was logged at the week's close in Anderson-Prichard and Greenbrier No. 1 R. S. Windham, West-Central Upton County prospect. The test flowed 8 hours from perforations at 9,038-070 feet, averaging 12 barrels hourly through a 26-64-inch choke. It then averaged 10 barrels of oil hourly for eight hours through a 24-64-inch choke and flowed eight hours through a half-inch choke for an average of eight barrels of oil hourly.

Earlier, No. 1 Windham flowed at the rate of 11 1/2 barrels of oil hourly for 24 hours from perforations between 9,094-116 feet. It is C SW SW 10-12-U, 22 miles southwest of Andrews.

A late-week wildcat in Upton, Wilshire and Lone Star No. 1 Gantt, C NE SE 41-C-CSD&RGNG, will test to 13,500 feet in the Ellenburger. Located in Central Upton County, it is seven miles east of No. 1 Windham, the Wolfcamp prospect.

Pennsylvanian pay in the Midland County section of the Pegasus (multiple field) was extended 1 1/2 miles northeast with completion of Sinclair No. 7 June Tippet for a daily flow of 145 barrels of oil from perforations between 10,395-455 feet. The extension is located 660 feet from south, 1,980 feet from west lines of section 8-40-46-T&P, 1/2 mile north of Ellenburger production.

A 1/4-mile south outpost to Parks (Pennsylvanian) field production was staked as Magnolia No. 9 Roy Parks. It will drill to 10,700 feet and will be 660 feet from south, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 10. Mat Daugherty survey, abstract 885, on a 2,988-acre lease.

An Ellenburger link producer for the Sweetie Peck field of Midland, Sinclair No. 10 Sanders, completed for a daily flow of 1,590 barrels of oil from open hole at 13,190-218 feet. Location is 660 feet from north, 1,980 feet from west lines of section 16-41-4s-T&P.

Assured an outlet, the Delaware Basin's deep dry gas discovery, M. A. Grisham No. 1 M. A. Grisham in East Central Culberson County will be completed without deepening from 9,054 feet. The pipe was cemented at 9,030 feet, picked

ELLENBURGER TEST SLATED FOR FISHER

A wildcat test to the Ellenburger has been announced for Fisher County.

It will be the Rowan & Hope of San Antonio, No. 1 R. 31, Bomber, et al. Location will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 13-2-H&T, two miles northeast of the Claytonville Canyon reef pool. Projected depth is 7,000 feet.

MITCHELL REEF TO TEST HIGHER

Union Sulphur & Oil No. 1 E. E. Erwin, C SE NW 1-25, H&T, prospective Northwest Mitchell discovery in the Strawn, planned to perforate and try from completion up the hole.

Current total depth is 7,584. Operator could not get mud cleaned from the formation in testing extensively from 7,570-80. Only mud has been produced from these bores. Operator planned to plug back to 7,570 and then perforate above that point.

The section from 7,530-65, in the top of the Strawn flowed 43 gravity oil at the estimated rate of 19 to 15 barrels per hour. When the hole was deepened, mud was absorbed into the lower formation and sealed it off.

COURT DECISION GIVES RISE TO HOST OF GAS CYCLING PLANTS

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN, April 5 (AP)—A stranger riding through Texas oil producing territory at night five years ago might have thought half the countryside was on fire.

The flaring of gas incident to production of oil was so widespread the skies glowed almost constantly with the reflection of burning gas.

It isn't that way now.

A State Supreme Court decision Feb. 16, 1948, extinguished most of the flames by upholding the right of the Texas Railroad Commission to prohibit wasteful flaring of gas used to bring oil out of the ground.

Strengthened by that important Seeligson case decision, the commission has been cracking down on gas flaring ever since.

Even so, natural gas presently is being flared in Texas at the rate of more than 7 billion cubic feet per month.

Two billion of that total is being vented into the air at gasoline recycling plants, while 5.6 billion is being flared from oil wells for which there is no pipeline connection to take care of the casinghead gas, the commission reported.

This two-billion-cubic-foot loss is the one that bothers the Railroad Commission most because the regulatory agency thinks this is avoidable waste.

Bulk of the 2 billion has been flared at gasoline plants in West Texas. Phillips Petroleum Company's Goldsmith Plant alone flared 940,122,000 cubic feet of gas in February, the commission reported.

Irked by failure of the industry to solve the West Texas flaring problem on its own initiative, the commission got tough at last

GLASSCOCK AND MIDLAND ADD SEVERAL SPRABERRY WELLS

Completions in the Spraberry areas of the Tex Harvey, Driver and Germania areas of Glasscock and Midland Counties continued at the end of the week.

Glasscock had four to final. American Republics No. 10-10 Bigby, 680 from south and 979 from west lines section 10-36-5s, T&P, flowed 24 hours through 20-64 choke after 4,500 gallons fracture. It made 1.2 per cent water and 194.42 barrels of 38.7 gravity oil. Tubing pressure was 75-150, gas-oil ratio 582-1, elevation 2,701; top pay 6,670, total depth 6,780; 7-in. 6,580.

Atlantic No. 2-27 W. J. Lane, 1,989 north and 660 west section 37-37-4s, T&P, Driver pool, flowed 24 hours through 24-64 choke after 2,200 fracture. It made 1.4 per cent water 123.9 barrels 39 gravity oil. Tubing pressure was 120, gas-oil ratio 703-1, elevation 2,731; top pay 6,957, total plugged back depth 8,543; 5 1/2-in. 8,542. Perforations 6-957-7,002 fractured, 7,802-50 natural.

Tex Harvey No. 1 Stephens, 661 south 662 east lease section 4-36-5s, T&P, Driver pool, flowed 24 hours 24-64 choke after 6,000 fracture. It made no water 207.70 barrels 38 gravity oil. Tubing pressure was 190-175, gas-oil ratio 596-1, elevation 2,721; top pay 6,778, total depth 1,685; 7 1/2-in. 6,710.

Lomax Bros. Prod. No. 1 K. S. Boone, 660 north and east section 19-36-5s, T&P, Tex Harvey pool, flowed 24 hours through half inch choke after 3,000 fracture. It made

DAWSON PENNSYLVANIAN OFFSET SCHEDULED TO DRILLSTEM TEST

Pacific Western Oil Corp. No. 1 P. W. Belew, C SW SW 133-M, EL&RR, planned to take a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian Saturday.

The venture, which is an offset to the discovery Greenbrier No. 1 Lindsey, was bottomed at 10,974. It planned to go to 10,980 and then take a drillstem test.

If no production is developed at that level, the operator will plug back and test above 9,850 where some good shows of oil and gas were found.

Location is about 14 miles west of Lamesa. The Greenbrier No. 1 Lindsey, C SE SE 132-M, EL&RR, was completed on Oct. 13, 1951 for 402.96 barrels of 45.2 gravity oil per day. Top of pay in that well was 10,948 and bottom of hole was 10,970.

MARTIN OUTPOST TO GERMANIA POOL WILL TEST

Union Sulphur & Oil No. 1 Snyder and Arnett, north outpost to the Germania pool and formerly completed as a small producer with considerable salt water, was preparing for a series of tests in the Spraberry.

The well was bottomed at 8,100 in lower Spraberry and 5-in. liner was run to bottom. Operator tested through perforations from 7,896 to bottom and made some oil and some water.

A bridging plug is being set at 7,986 and then operator will perforate and test from 7,934-86. That zone will be fractured. Then plans are to continue testing through perforations all the way up to the top of the Spraberry on zones which have shown some signs of oil.

Location is C NW SE 30-36-1s, T&P, which is about four miles north of the Germania field in Midland County and is about four miles southwest of Stanton. The well originally was completed for 35.58 barrels of 24.4 gravity oil and 75 per cent water in July of 1951 from the Spraberry top.

Humble No. 1 Blocker, C NW NW 10-37-1s, T&P, seven miles west of Stanton, was drilling at 12,000 in an unidentified dolomite Saturday. This exploration is projected to 12,500.

North Dakota Well Biggest Splash In Last Year's Play

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—The oil industry drilled 45,000 wells in the U. S. last year. But the one that made the greatest splash—in and out of Wall Street—was a wildcat on a farm near Tioga, N. D., just a year ago tomorrow.

It flows 330 barrels of crude daily—a insignificant drop in the 5 1/2 million barrels the nation pumps in a day.

But in its first year that wildcat has turned the eyes of stock traders toward shares of a railroad, a match company, an electric utility, investment firms, and other seemingly unlikely companies, as well as a large number of oil companies, some who already have and some who haven't yet struck oil in the area but have paid out $50 million to lease land there.

Stock traders here and in Toronto are interested because the successful wildcat showed—after 30 years of vain and costly search—that there is oil in the vast Williston Basin, lying to the east of the Rockies and stretching from South Dakota into Canada.

And every corporation that owns land in that basin, or owns stock in companies that do control land, suddenly looks good to Wall Street.

Farmers in that one-time dust-bowl have been happily and profitably leasing oil rights to their lands. Some farmers who offered during the dust storms of the thirties to sell their land for as little as 50 cents an acre, now sell oil leases for as much as $1,500 an acre.

As far away as the St. Paul, Minneapolis and the Duluth-Superior areas men are talking of the chance of these places becoming important oil refining centers. If Williston Basin develops into the oil field some expect, and attains Alberta's 1950 production level, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis says "about $10 billion dollars would be paid annually in royalties" alone, not to mention additional money spent by the oil companies and workers.

Yet, oilmen caution that, prom-

Stanolind To Make Test

Stanolind No. 1-D TXL, wildcat four miles southeast of Big Spring, was still attempting to gain circulation Saturday preparatory to further testing.

A week ago it had a drillstem test in the lower Ellenburger from 9,925-10,013 with recovery of 9,940 feet of salt water during the 90-minute test.

Subsequently, but not reported until now, a test was taken in the upper Ellenburger from 9,815-9,923 with the tool open 45 minutes. Recovery was 500 feet of drilling mud and no shows.

The plugged back depth was 8,234 instead of 8,171 as previously reported. This venture had some promising shows in the Wolfcamp below 7,200. Presumably the zone to be tested when circulation is restored is the Pennsylvanian. Location is C NE NW 23-32-1s, T&P.

Haskell Well Finals In Canyon Reef Zone

Youngblood & Foree No. 2 Kleiner Estate has been completed in Haskell County. The venture pumped 24 hours for a potential of 162 barrels of 39.6 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 373-1. Production was from open hole from 3,340-3,347. Location is in the R. Langham survey.

Glasscock gained a wildcat location when Sinclair staked its No. 1 G. T. Hall, contracted to 10,900 feet. It will be 1,980 feet from north, 660 feet from west lines of section 6-24-2n-T&P, 2 miles south of Lomax.

Garza Well Tops Strawn

Huskey No. 1 Nance, an outpost in Southeast Garza County, has topped the Strawn reef.

The formation was picked at 7,500 on an elevation of 2,411. Operator took a drillstem test from 7,595-7,625 with the tool open an hour and a half. Recovery was 600 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud. Saturday the venture was curing heads. Location is approximately five miles southwest of Justiceburg.

Forsan Buffs Are Favored In 91-B Track And Field Meet

Carnival Set For Tuesday

The District 91-B Track and Field Meet will be conducted at Steer Stadium here starting at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Six teams will send boys into action on the 14-event program. They are Coahoma, Forsan, Knott, Sterling City, Garden City and Stanton.

Stanton won the meet last year by scoring 57 1/2 points, with Forsan second with 34, Sterling City third with 24 1/2, Coahoma fourth with 11 and Garden City fifth with 3.

A junior meet will be run in conjunction with the big show. Those placing 1-2-3 in senior events will be eligible to compete in the Regional Meet at Odessa on April 18. Winners there go to the State Meet.

Forsan is favored to cop the team championship Tuesday. Coahoma and Stanton could give the Buffs trouble, however.

Of the schools competing, only Coahoma, Forsan, Stanton and Garden City have entries in every event.

Here are the senior entries from each school:

COAHOOMA — Owens, Spears, Hodnett, Hoover, Leonard, Woodson, Baker, Robinson, Reed, DeWitty, Cramer, Hooper, Knight, Williams, Wilson, Justice, Bales, Snyder, Robinson, Turner and Sprinkle.

FORSAN — Overton, Leonard, Bronson, Oglesby, Hicks, Jones, Foster, Park, Martin, Shortes, Baum and Camp.

GARDEN CITY — Harris, Rich, Calverley, Fritsch, Hendrix, Hester, K. O. B. White and Overton.

Return To Action Tuesday

OUTFIELD QUESTIONABLE

Bronc Infield Is Tops Says Manager Stasey

Pat Stasey, manager of the Big Spring Broncs, has stated he thinks the infield he is bringing to town is the best ever to represent this or any other city in the history of the Longhorn League.

The 1952 Bronc infield will have Witty Quintana at third base, Al Costa at shortstop, Ossie Alvarez at second base and Enrique Gonzales at first.

Quintana is a limited-service player, having broken into baseball here in 1951. Costa is a classman, the other two are rookies.

Stasey said he was also satisfied with his catcher, Frank Valdes (no relation to the ex-Bronc, Al Valdes) but added his outfield needed more punch.

As for his mound staff, the locals are expecting help from the Havana club. It's apparently now that Mike Fornieles will open the season with Havana. Havana does not know yet who it will keep because the Washington Senators, the parent club, has not indicated who will be farmed out to the Cubs.

The Broncs play a game in Greenville, Miss., today and are due home on Monday. They open their exhibition season here Tuesday night against Lamesa.

The Broncs achieved their first victory of the exhibition season on Thursday, when they defeated Key West, Fla., in Key West, 7-4.

Gil Guerra, the star of the 1950 playoffs for Big Spring, was on the mound for Big Spring. He will accompany the Broncs here. Al Val-des did the catching. He, too, will be with Big Spring.

Starting lineup of the House of David team that will oppose Big Spring here Thursday night has been announced.

Any one of six hurlers will see action. They are Charles Liska, Claire Westphal, Lefty Floyd, Manny Madrigal, Homer Garner or Frank Nickerson.

Northwood Will Not Be An Easy Mark, Says Pro

DALLAS, April 5 (AP)—What do the nation's great golfers face at Northwood Club here June 12-14 in the National Open?

Will the field find par impossible to equal over the 72-hole championship route? The so-called "regulation figures" proved too much in 1951 at Oakland Hills Country Club, Birmingham, Mich.

There was much talk then that par was tough. After all, the winner, little Ben Hogan, fired 287 on the par 70 course. That was seven strokes above regulation figures.

What about this year's course? The man that should know is Northwood Professional Raymond Gafford, a veteran of USGA open play. He says Northwood won't be as tough.

"Northwood will be a bit easier for the field to handle," said Gafford, who finished 19th in the 1951 open. "Our par of 35-35-70 will be fair, and the course will furnish a true championship test."

Gafford admits Northwood is easier than Oakland Hills. But he doesn't think his home course is a soft touch.

"It's at least as tough as the Merion Golf Club at Ardmore, Pa., where the 1950 open was held," Gafford said.

Northwood is a long, rolling course, measuring 6,811 yards. It usually is swept by brisk Texas winds.

"Some of them talk of reviving, even this year," said Trautman. "It's possible but decided not to operate; there were three or four clubs anxious to continue. You just can't start a year with only four Trautman isn't sure what the radio-television picture will be this year. For the past two seasons, the minors have been screaming that big league broadcasts in their territory saturated the area with too much baseball.

Some big league clubs agreed to curtail their broadcasting programs but major league games will continue to be heard in the minors.

"We don't have any idea how we will be affected until we know

Dibrell's Regains Tie For Top Spot

Dibrell's moved back into a tie for the top spot in Women's Bowling League Standings by defeating Lone Star Chevrolet in three straight games last week.

Chiropractic Arts, which previously had an exclusive hold on first place, edged by Texas Club, 2-1. Each team has now won 24 and lost 12 games. Lone Star and Texas Club are tied for third with a won-lost mark of 12-24.

Dibrell's paced team scoring with a 758-2077, followed by Lone Star with 690-1864.

Mary Ruth Robertson of Texas Club led individual point-getting with 186-535. Jim Dozier of D-I-B's had second highest aggregate with 496.

SIX LEAGUES DISBANDED

Despite Attendance Loss, Minors Set For Big Year

By JACK HAND

COLUMBUS, O., April 5 (AP)—Despite a 20 per cent attendance dip and abandonment of six leagues, the minor baseball leagues head into the '52 season with guarded optimism.

"There is nothing to be disturbed about," said George Trautman, president of the national association, after a tour of training camps. "We lost six leagues but we still have 43 as compared to the all-time high of 59 in '49."

"Nobody is yelling uncle. We dropped off but we're not crying over spilt milk. Everybody seems to be enthusiastic about the new season. Losing six leagues isn't too bad when you figure we have 1,700 men in service."

The leagues that threw in the sponge since last season are the Central, Virginia, Canadian-American, Georgia-Alabama, Ohio-Indiana and Far West.

"Some of them talk of reviving, even this year," said Trautman. "It's possible but decided not to operate; there were three or four clubs anxious to continue. You just can't start a year with only four Trautman isn't sure what the radio-television picture will be this year. For the past two seasons, the minors have been screaming that big league broadcasts in their territory saturated the area with too much baseball.

Some big league clubs agreed to curtail their broadcasting programs but major league games will continue to be heard in the minors.

"We don't have any idea how we will be affected until we know how extensive the broadcasts will be," said Trautman. "Nobody knows that for sure."

Trautman was impressed by the rookie crop in his swing around the Florida camps.

"I'd say this is the best crop since the war," he said. "It is the first chance many of these fellows ever had to get up there.

The majors should be encouraged by this good rookie turnout to be more active in helping us solve our problems."

The Pacific Coast League, first of the minors to get under way, started Tuesday. The Florida Inn, by the first week in May all 43 leagues will be in operation.

BALOMA HEADS FIELD IN TEXAS FUTURITY

San Angelo's Fair Grounds, once one of Texas' finest racing ovals, but more recently the scene of rodeo, car races and stock shows, will again resume to the pitter of horse hoofs next month.

Preparations to rebuild the track for use of the "Texas Futurity" in May are now well underway. Selection of San Angelo as the site of the state association sponsored event followed a conference with officers of the Texas Horse Breeders Association and San Angelo Board of City Development officials in February, when use of the Fair Ground plant was granted.

The "Texas Futurity" sponsored by the non-profit association will bring a class of racing to San Angelo not possible in the state since the 1937 ban on pari-mutuels. Nominated for the event which has three divisions are 71 two-year olds who will be vying for purses totaling more than $14,000. Among the nominees are some of the nation's best rated thoroughbred youngsters as well as the cream of the juvenile quarter horses.

Association Vice President E. H. Lane, Odessa, has Baloma nominated for both the 300-yard as well as the quarter-mile distance. The speedy filly, daughter of the immortal "Miss Princess" of quarter racing fame, is currently the nation's leading two-year-old. Winner in two stakes, her only starts, the King Ranch bred filly is currently campaigning in Kentucky but is expected to appear in the Texas race. Owner Lane is reputed to have had a $50,000 offer for her.

Work on re-surfacing the track is well underway and rallying stands and other repairs have been completed. The track, depleted of much of its topsoil, is requiring extensive rebuilding to bring it to shape for the May event.

Elimination trials for the "Texas Futurity" will be held May 10.

A full card of races on May 16, and the final stakes in the three divisions on May 17.

Advance sale of box seats for the three day meet have begun and orders will be accepted at the Big Spring headquarters, Box 48, Futurity headquarters will be opened in the St. Angelus Hotel in San Angelo in the latter part of April.

Besides the two-year-old event, races for older horses will also be on each day's program. A feature each day will be a mile race, or once around the official one mile Fair Grounds track.

Two Jobs Open With Dusters

VERNON—John Reimold, Pop-eye Carreras and Leon English appear to have won regular spots in the Vernon infield. Reimold is a first baseman, Carreras a shortstop and English a third baseman.

Lou Ehlinger and Ernie Klein loom as probably starters in the Duster outfield while Bill Herring is gaining respect as a catcher.

The left field and second base jobs are still wide open on the Vernon club, along with several pitching jobs. Manager Chet Fowler continues to look over seven chumpers.

Lloyd Walls, a limited-service pitcher, is the only left-handed pitcher in camp. Al Richardson is the only veteran.

Art Neal, Armando Hernandez and Don Weir are battling it out for the second base job.

The Dusters play the House of David here Sunday and Abilene here Tuesday.

WT-NM Umps Are Named

ABILENE, April 5 (AP)—Umpires in the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league for this season were announced today by League President Ray Winkler.

The four veterans are: Jim Tongate, Waco, formerly of the Southern Association, Big State League and Texas League; Thomas Williamson, Jacksonville, Fla.; formerly of the Florida State League; Ed Bisner, Hollywood, Fla. formerly of the Sooner State League.

The four rookies are: Mel Ross, Oklahoma City, formerly an SMU football player and a graduate of the Bill McGowan school for umpires; Jack Carr, Elmhurst, N. Y., a graduate of the Art Passarella school for umpires; Bill Richardson, Hillsboro, N. C., from the Passarella school; and Ed Castellano, Brakely, from the McGowan school.

Tongate and Richardson will be at Abilene on the league's opening day April 23 for the Amarillo-Abilene game. Bisner and Ross will be at Lubbock for the Clovis-Lubbock game. Williamson and Carr will be at Pampa for the Borger-Pampa clash and Morrell and Castellano will be at Lamesa for the Albuquerque-Lamesa game.

The Lamesa game will start at 3 p.m. The others will start at 8 p.m.

Eagles Still In First Place

Friday afternoon's Little League workouts saw 37 more boys sign up for tryouts, bringing to about 100 the number who will seek positions on the circuit's teams.

Full scale workouts will begin at 5 p.m. Monday on the City Memorial Park diamond and will continue throughout the week.

Harold Ross has been lined up to manage Hack Wright's team. Tommy Elliott and Howard Jones will serve as co-managers of Dr. M. H. Bennett's nine, which will be known as the Gold Sox. Red Harrison will mastermind the Cosden Refinery outfit, while D. R. Gartman will head Obie Bristow's team to be known as the Red Sox.

If the Eagles Club fields a team, and indications are it will, Mance Kinman will probably serve as pitcher.

Forsan and Coahoma expressed interest in the league and each may put a team on the field. They face problems, since all players must be played in a pool so that managers can bid on them. However, those problems can be ironed out, it is believed.

Uniforms have been ordered for most of the players. It will cost about $220 to outfit each team completely.

Other kids who wish to try out for berths on the teams can report for workouts Monday. They are eligible if they are 12 years of age or less, any time after last Thursday.

Teal, Irish Gelding, Wins Grand National Top Money

AINTREE, England, April 5 (AP)—Teal, an Irish gelding named for a duck and wearing No. 13, won the almost invisible Grand National Steeplechase today. Thirty-seven of the 47 starters fell during the mist-shrouded event, with five jockeys winding up in the hospital and one horse destroyed.

So thick was the mist that the 250,000 spectators saw less than half the race. Despite the moisture the turf was rated firm.

Among the thoroughbreds who failed to finish the punishing four-mile, 856-yard triangular course, was Freebooter, the 10 to 1 favorite, and the two horses owned by Americans.

St. Kathleen II, owned by Sam Small of Garrison, Md., was felled at the very first jump by a riderless horse. Possible, owned and ridden by 18-year-old Gene Weymouth of Greenville, Del., toppled at the 15th barrier. The 4-foot, 3-inch youth, who will be inducted into the U. S. Army Wednesday, was unhurt.

In Line Marks Shaded In Texas Relays

Holding Jumps 6 Ft., 9 In.

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP)—Nine records fell and two others were tied in the Texas Relays ending today with a 6-foot-9 high jump by Charles Holding of East Texas State, a 54-foot-2 1/2-inch shot put by Darrow Hooper of Texas A&M and some terrific relay running by Kansas, Texas A&M, Oklahoma and Texas standing out in the big track carnival.

Charles Thomas of Texas, who won the 200 meters in 20.3 seconds—a tenth of a second over the world's record—and anchored a record-setting 440-yard relay team and a record-equalling 880-yard relay team, were picked as the outstanding competitors.

Disaster Loans Are Available From FHA

Disaster loans for the payment of home operating expenses, and for the purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, insecticides, and other purposes including fuel for tractors, are available from the Farm Home Administration, according to a reminder from Bill Sauer, who is in charge of the Big Spring FHA office located in the basement of the Postoffice.

A number of farmers who are eligible for these loans have made application and have received them, Sauer said.

The purpose of the program, he explains, is the extension of credit to farmers and stockmen who have suffered substantial damage as a result of production disaster, and who are unable to obtain credit from commercial lending agencies, such as banks, to carry on their farming and livestock operations and household expenses during this tough period.

These loans, Sauer says, will bear interest from the date the money is advanced at the rate of three per cent per annum on the unpaid balance.

In making these loans the FHA will take a first lien on crops growing or to be grown and the best lien obtainable on livestock, farm machinery and farm equipment of security value owned by the applicant. When a loan is made to purchase feed for livestock for market or productive livestock other than that used for subsistence purposes, a first lien will be taken on that livestock. And for the protection of the farmer, before a disaster loan is closed the FHA will require that the farmer obtain a non-disturbance agreement from creditors holding liens on equipment essential to the farming operations to be financed with the proceeds from the loans.

Sauer says these loans are not as difficult to obtain as the farmer may think from reading the requirements and that he will be glad to discuss the matter with any farmer who may be interested in continuing his agricultural operations, but who may not be able to do so without some financial assistance.

The Big Spring FHA office is open every day except Saturday.

AT SETTLES HOTEL

Two C-C Meetings Scheduled Monday

Two important Big Spring Chamber of Commerce meetings are scheduled for tomorrow, according to J. H. Greene, manager.

The first of these will be the coffee-and doughnuts breakfast meeting of the Cleanup and Fire Prevention Committee of which Sam McComb is chairman. It will be held at 7:15 tomorrow morning in the Chamber of Commerce conference room (Room 2) at the Settles Hotel, to complete plans for the city-wide cleanup campaign which opens April 21st.

At the noon-the directors will meet, also at the Settles, to discuss several matters of business that will be brought before them by President Truman Jones.

The directors will hear reports from Douglas Orme and G. H. Hayward, Big Spring members of the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, on the WTCC's directors recent meeting at Abilene; and a report from McComb on the plans that will be made at the earlier meeting tomorrow.

Marvin Miller will report on the activities of the National Affairs Committee, and plans will be made to prevail upon all voters, of whatever party affiliation, to attend the precinct conventions on May 3rd.

A program for the co-operation of all the directors and members in an effort to interest new members in Chamber of Commerce activities will be presented by A. Swartz.

Committee membership appointments will also be announced at the director's meeting, and the matter of water conservation will probably be discussed, Greene said.

At the same time the manager announced that William J. Bird, assistant manager of the Southwestern Division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, whose office is in Dallas, will visit Big Spring for a noon meeting, April 16th. At this time, Greene said, Bird will meet with the directors, members of the National Affairs Committee, and others who wish to attend. Bird has written Greene that there are some specific issues facing congressional action that are vital concern to West Texas and that he wishes an opportunity to present and discuss these matters.

The meeting with Bird will also be held at the Settles.

Secretaries Perform Vital Tasks; Keep Churches Running Smoothly

The woman behind the scenes in the city's largest churches is the church secretary. She's a busy woman indeed, and often has one or more assistants to help with the vast amount of work for which her office is responsible.

She keeps the financial records, answers the telephone, handles the correspondence, runs off the weekly church bulletin, makes appointments for the pastor, keeps the church and Sunday School records, balances the books, manages the library and on occasion, must cope with emergency problems that arise.

Quite often the secretary is sought for counsel and advice and one recently was called upon to persuade an itinerant visitor not to take his own life.

Such incidents make a secretary's job far from dull. And most of them like their work so well that they wouldn't even consider doing anything else.

BUSY MORNING—Answering the telephone is one of the many duties of Mrs. Dick Davis, secretary at East Fourth Baptist.

BOOKKEEPER—Mrs. Ruby Martin of First Methodist presently has the additional task of keeping books on the building project.

CHURCH NEWS—Every Friday Mrs. Inez Lewis, who has been secretary at First Baptist since 1937, runs off the church bulletin.

CORRESPONDENCE—Mrs. Russell Lawrence of First Presbyterian takes a letter from the dictaphone.

KEEPING THE RECORDS—Mrs. Vern Lawson of First Christian finds keeping the church records pleasant but time-consuming.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES H. SPROUSE AND LARRY

Retires After Sending Husband To College

In the good old days before the wars, Poppa worked hard and put Junior through college. But in recent years, times have changed to such an extent that it has been the "little woman" aiding the government in footing the bills for her veteran husband's education.

Mrs. James H. Sprouse, 600 Lancaster, is a good example. While her husband was busy learning civil engineering at the university, she was pounding a typewriter in an insurance and real estate office in Albuquerque, N. M.

"Now he can't get used to the idea of me not working," grinned the dark-haired newcomer.

Moving here from Amarillo, the Sprouses and son, Larry, 8, have been residents of Big Spring only about three weeks.

"We've always called Amarillo home," Mrs. Sprouse commented. "And our friends in Albuquerque kidded me constantly by saying that the sand in New Mexico came from Amarillo," she added.

Listing woodworking as her husband's hobby, she explained that the most ambitious project he has in mind is a complete dining room suite. But so far he has progressed only to the bookcase, and small table stage.

Mrs. Sprouse likes to sew and proves it by making most of her clothes. "You can have so many more that way," she remarked.

Mr. Sprouse is employed as an engineer with Southwestern Testing Laboratories and Larry is in the first grade at West Ward School.

Ablene where it will sing at the annual convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs in session from April 16-18.

The glee club will sing for the TFMC Friday night.

On the Big Spring program is a list of 10 numbers, which, Elliott, stated, would vary, if the occasion demanded.

"O Bone Jesus," Palestrina; "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach; "The Creation," Richter; "The Anvil Chorus," Verdi-Parks; "Winter Song," arrangement by Lewis; "One Alone," Romberg; "I Got Plenty O'Nuthin'," Gerahwin; "John Peel," Andrews; "Soon Ah Will Be Done," Bartholemew; "King Jesus Is A-Listenin'," Dawson.

Joyce Ruther Carthel, Lockney student at Tech, is the glee club accompanist.

Acuff-Hamrick Vows Exchanged In Lamesa

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hamrick are at home in Sherman following their marriage March 23.

The bride is the former, Rosemary Acuff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Acuff of Lamesa. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lucille Hamrick, 408 W. 8th, and John B. Hamrick of San Saba.

S. A. Ribble of Wellman, minister of the Church of Christ, performed the double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The couple stood before a fireplace decorated with fan shaped arrangements of jade trees and palms. Baskets of orchid and pink gladioli were on either side of the mantel and arched canopies with white tapers flanked the scene.

As the candles were being lighted, the pianist, Mrs. A. G. Barnard of Lamesa played "Indian Love Call." She also accompanied Royce Acuff who sang "Because" and Don Finto who sang "I Love You Truly." During the ceremony she played "Clair de Lune."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white linen lace ballerina length dress. It was fashioned with a fitted basque, Peter Pan collar, and a bouffant skirt over tulle. Her hair was styled in a lariat of net and rhinestones. She carried an orchid on a white ribbon.

Kay Sharon Acuff, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in an orchid organza dress designed similar to that of the bride. Her hair was styled in a lariat of net and rhinestones.

Larry O'Rear, a student at Abilene Christian College, served as best man. Royce Acuff, the bride's brother, was an usher, and Ronny Acuff, another brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore a white and white checked nylon gabardine suit with a short fitted jacket. Her accessories were black and white and she wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hamrick is a graduate of Coahoma High School and attended Abilene Christian College. Her husband is a graduate of Big Spring High School. He attended Howard County Junior College and Texas A&M and received his degree from Abilene Christian College. He is now in the Air Force stationed in Sherman.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Jan Masters

Everybody had a wonderful time at the hayride on Friday night. Faculty sponsors for the hayride were Mr. Clements and Mr. Matthews. The group went to the city lake.

Everytime you looked around Saturday night, somebody would hit the floor. Among those we saw at the skating party held on Saturday night were Bill Thompson and Anita Forrest, Russell Green and Gayle Price, Pat Lloyd and Ray Adams, Billy Wayne King and Lou Ann Nall, Beverly Jones, Mary Sue White, Judy Lawson, Marie Petty, Jamie Walker and Wayne Bartlett, Tommy Porter, Harold Rosson, Charlie Wright, Casey Jones, Richard Gilmore, Jimmie Jennings, Jackie Jennings, Cecil Hoggard, Donnie Barnes, Jo Nell West, Jan Masters and Bobby Wheeler, Virginia Brown, Mary Felts, Jo Ann Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson and James Bruce Frazier, who were sponsors for the group.

A slumber party was held in the home of Darlene Sneed Saturday night. Some of those who had a slumberlike night were Jo Nell West, Mary Sue White, Beverly Jones, Judy Lawson, Charlotte Anderson, Marie Petty, Jan Masters, Pat Lloyd and Darlene.

The last kangaroo court was held Monday morning with Judge Marshall Box presiding over the courtroom. That is, until two members of the Big Spring police came out and issued a summons for Judge Box's arrest. He was carried away by the policemen.

Seen hiking back to town after a three-mile hike Monday morning were Darlene Sneed, Mary Sue White, Betty McAdams, Beverly Jones, Jan Masters, Mary Felts, Pat Lloyd, Dorothy Christian, Marilyn Carpenter. Also, Mr. Keese, Mr. Baker, and Mr. Thompson were enjoying a walk.

You might say these students were "taken for a ride."

Several of the couples enjoying the Ranch Week dance Monday night were Jeannette Petty and Richard Gilmore, Russell Green and Gayle Price, Pat Lloyd and Ray Adams, Jimmie Jennings and Judy Lawson, Tommy Porter and Jo Nell West, Mary Sue White and Doyle Mason, Lou Ann Nall and Billy Wayne King, Anita Forrest and Bill Thompson, Dallas Williams and Pat Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Smith, Mrs. Ruby Blankenship, W. C. Blankenship and Mary Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson, Elliott Williams and Darlene Montgomery were awarded a prize for being the best-dressed couple. Joe Jabor was presented a prize for having the best beard.

James Bruce Frazier of the Science Department spoke at the Boy Scout Court of Honor on the subject of zoology and insects of Howard County. Frazier is a merit badge counselor on these and other merit badges of biological science.

There is considerable work being done to help interest Scouts in advanced phases of Scouting. Several of the faculty members are merit badge counselors.

At least ten students have already indicated that they plan to take the summer field course in biology. Two family groups of husband and wife are planning to make the trip and at present, plans are underway on the details of the course which will include two weeks in classroom study and preparation, a two weeks' field expedition to Mesa Verde National Park, then two weeks of laboratory study back here. Six hours credit will be given for this course in biology.

The two couples plan to use this course as their summer vacation. Others who are interested should contact Mr. Frazier, as only a limited number of students can make the trip.

The H.C.J.C. choir presented the program to be given in Dallas to the students and faculty Tuesday morning in assembly.

The choir sang a selection including "Cindy," "Skip To My Lou," "Homing," "Soon Ah Will Be Done," "Were You There," "There Is a Balm in Gilead," "Almighty God of Our Fathers," "Buffalo Gals" and "Dry Bones." The sextette will also sing.

The choir returned Friday after having sung for the Junior College Association meetings in Dallas. The group was accompanied to Dallas by Miss Cope, Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, B. M. Keese, and President E. C. Dodd.

The choir sang for the Lions Club Wednesday and for the Hyperion Club Wednesday afternoon.

Several new books received in the library are "The Story of the Gems" by Herbert F. Whitlock; "American Foreign Policy in The Making" by Charles A. Beard; "Porsyete Saga" by John Galsworthy; "Earth's Adventures," by Carroll Lane Fenton; "Literary Opinion in America," Morton D. Zabel; "Creative Broadcasting" by Skarina Lee and Fred A. Brewer.

"Strategic Minerals," John B. DeMille; Smith's "Introductory College Chemistry" by William F. Ehret; Britannica Encyclopedia (1951 publication); "Never Dies the Dream," Margaret Landon; and "Peace Can Be Won" by Paul G. Hoffman.

Quite a number of prospective students are making inquiries requesting courses in foreign languages, especially Latin and Spanish, for the coming sessions, summer and fall.

Recent visitors: Cpl. Fred L. Pickett Jr. of the Big Spring Air Base, formerly of Kansas City, Mo.; Sgt. Kenney Bates of the Big Spring Air Base, formerly of Indiana; Charles Moorhouse of Seymour and his daughter, Mrs. Vernon Brewer Sr. of Brownfield, guest of Mrs. Taylor, librarian; Thomas Scalaro of Temple; Mrs. Winston Sherwood of Austin and Colorado City, area supervisor in State Welfare, also a guest of Mrs. Taylor; Doris Jean Moorhead of Big Spring, home economics instructor at Garden City.

Visitors in the Library Monday night for an orientation lesson on the use of library and reference books were the students of Mr. Dell McComb's Speech Class of the high school.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES B. EVERETT

Twila Jo Rhea Exchanges Vows With James B. Everett

COLORADO CITY—Mr. and Mrs. James B. Everett are making their home at 445 Oak St. following their recent marriage in the home of the bride's mother.

Mrs. Everett is the former Twila Jo Rhea, daughter of Mrs. Odie Rhea of Colorado City. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Everett of Midland.

The single ring wedding vows were read by the Rev. Odie Moseley, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

The bride wore a dress of aqua nylon crepe with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Sue Carpenter, maid of honor, wore pink linen and a carnation corsage. Bobby Rhea, brother of the bride, served as best man.

At the reception following the ceremony the table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride attended Colorado City High School. Her husband is employed by an oil company at Silver.

DECEPTIVE

Simple Yet Sophisticated Is This New Jacket Dress

Gay deceiver! Claire McCardell's dress with a jacket is strictly that. From the sketch one would think this was the most demure little number walking.

It is—with the jacket on. With the jacket off, it has the impact of an A-bomb that is jet propelled. Of course, you know Miss McCardell is one of America's most famous designers. Well, she didn't get there for nothing.

Rather, she has gained international recognition for just such designing adeptness as is shown in this dress: complete simplicity that carries an innuendo of sophistication!

For her newest creation, Pattern 1082, she has designed the strapless dress on straight princess lines. The skirt is full, with casual pockets seemingly striped right into the seams. You'll note the doll-like effect of the waist, with the restrained fullness of the skirt released at the back by a huge pleat. The jacket is a simple bolero, with small rounded collar and three-quarter sleeves.

That's the deception of this marvelous thing: With the jacket on, it's an outfit that conforms to the best in good taste. With the jacket off, well, the sky is the limit—and don't blame Miss McCardell. Originally this two-piece ensemble was fashioned of brown men's wear worsted, but you might prefer to make yours in shantung, linen, or any one of the silk-like cottons.

Size 12 requires 4 7-8 yds. of 39-inch fabric for the dress and jacket, with 1-1/4 yds. of 39-inch fabric required for the jacket's lining. Patterns is available in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18.

To order Pattern 1082, send $1 to Spadea Fashions, Inc., Dept. 164, Box 238, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N. Y. For air mail handling, enclose 25 cents. To order our new pattern booklet, send 15 cents.

Waist Nippers

Perfect little waist cinchers are now available to help make a tiny waist a miniature of itself. Often made of rayon satin, waist cinchers hook or lace about the waist to ease away the inches gently but firmly. A daily dunking in mild suds keeps it fresh and firm for continued wearing.

Linen Is Tops

White linen promises to play an important role this spring, especially in dusters to wear with bright spring and summer dresses.

Mrs. Harwood Keith Speaks To Jr. Forum

Mrs. Harwood Keith, president of District 8, spoke on "Why Federate?" at the Friday meeting of the Junior Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. Walker Stoutenberg. Mrs. Joe Pickle was co-hostess. In her talk, Mrs. Keith discussed club work and told members that a club would gain strength by federating. A constitution and by-laws held a club together, she added. Mrs. Jack Y. Smith discussed "Do You Know Your Neighbor?" dealing with the racial problem. Mrs. Cecil McDonald's topic, "Sex Education Is Not Enough," dealt with harmony in the home. During the business meeting, Mrs. J. D. Elliott, president, announced that the club had won first place with its Art Week observance at the district Federation convention in El Paso. She announced further that the club had been awarded second place in the score card division and first for having 100 per cent subscription to the "Clubwoman" magazine. Mrs. R. H. Wardell, safety chairman, discussed the traffic problem around the high school on 11th Place.

Mrs. Gufford Jones announced that a Boy Scout cub pack had been organized at East Ward School and the organization had secured ten mothers.

Mrs. Smith, project chairman, announced that Mrs. Tracy Smith would give the next review at the Thursday Review Club.

Plans were told for the Federation Day Tea that will be held April 18 at the home of Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. Those planning to invite special guests are being asked to call either Mrs. O. R. Cole or Mrs. Elliott by April 11. Members of all the Federated clubs in Big Spring are being invited to the affair.

Members approved the constitution and by-laws of the City Federation and Mrs. Charles Tompkins was elected as representative to the board. Refreshments were served to 17.

SS Class Has Party At Hut; Mrs. McDaniel Entertains

GARDEN CITY (Sp)—The Intermediate Sunday School Class of the Garden City Baptist Church entertained with a party Tuesday evening at the Scout Hut. Mrs. Roscoe Newell directed the indoor games.

Refreshments of sandwiches and cold drinks were served to Margie Self, Helen Cunningham, Sandra Wilkerson, Jimmy McCorquada, Tommy Rich, Truett and Buddy Newell, Bobby Lee, Jerry Jones, Keith Arp and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Newell.

The Glasscock County Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Bannell McDaniel Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Jim Elland gave a demonstration of the cleaning and adjusting of the sewing machine. She stressed the care of the machine for best results in sewing. She told of the differences in the various makes.

The next meeting will be at the Courthouse on April 16 at 2:30 p.m. at which time the study of fabric painting will be taken up.

The Garden City P-TA will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 in the school auditorium.

HI-TALK

By Margie McDougle

A date has finally been set for the highlight of the year. The Student Council has announced that Ranch Week will be April 17, 18 and 21. The year's event is planned to be the biggest and best BSHS has ever known. An all-school picnic has been planned; we will have the usual kazaroo court and then to wind it up Monday morning we will have Hoyle Nix here for assembly and top it off with a Hoyle Nix dance that night. A lot of fun has been planned for everyone.

The Junior play brought in a full house both nights, and the juniors are expected to clear $700. This money will be used to stage the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Shorthand Club gave a very successful dance Tuesday night. The cafeteria was decorated in a "Garden of Friendship" theme. Over the door a trellis was covered with flowers, and in the center was a wishing well. A wheelbarrow filled with flowers was on the stage, and rock wall crepe paper covered the wall. The potato dance was won by Shirley Burnett and Dale Chandler, and the pie eating contest was taken by Junior Suter. Some of the couples seen dancing that night were Sandy Swartz, Richard Prahm, Joyce Gound, David Young, Rosemary Lawson, "Punkin" McGehee, Betty Wright, Ray Todd, Mary Smith, Casey Jones, Patsy Wilson, Jim Farmer, Shirley Burnett, Dale Chandler, Kay Richborough, Robert Merworth, Mary Lou Lepard, James Phillips, Joyce Burkett, Freddy Blalack, Jan Brooks, Speck Franklin, Jimmy Cole, Shirley McGinnis, Joy Williams, Ronald Farquhar, Gerald Scott, Diane Laughman, Gayle Price, Russell Green, Diana Farquhar, Melvin Byers, Jody Miller, Don Anderson, Libby Jones, John Lawrence, Alma Crittendon, Wayne Medlin, Dot Crittendon, J. C. Armistead, Doris Brown, Charles Wright, Janice Anderson, Bobby Hayes, Lynelle Martin, J. L. Claxton.

"Death Takes a Holiday" has been announced by Dell McComb to be this year's Senior play. The play will be given May 8 and 9. The cast has been selected as follows: Death in the image of a human being is played by Bud Whitney; Gratia, the mortal girl he falls in love with, is played by Joy Williams; Corroda, the man in love with Gratia, is played by Jimmy Conley; Alda, a woman of 28 and very beautiful, is Gayle Price; the Duke, a hearty man, is played by Tommy Thigpen; Stephanie, a dark mysterious woman, Barbara Smith; the Princess, a fair sweet woman, Evelyn Wilson; the Baron, a gay old blade, Jeff Hanna; a Major of the U.S., Bobby Hayes; Fedele, the butler, Jimmie Lowe; and the maid, Maren Tinkham. One other character has not yet been cast.

The Student Council reports that the convention held in Corpus Christi last week end was a huge success. A general assembly Friday morning, two discussion group sessions Friday afternoon, and a business meeting Saturday morning made up the main activities. A style show at Licentia's Department Store, dance, and an Air show at Cabiness Naval Base made up part of the entertainment. With the exception of four members the entire Student Council attended.

Six of the soloists who went to Odessa last Saturday came away with first place honors, and the other soloist received second and third ratings. The first place winners are Jody Miller, Nancy Conway, Angela Fausel, Evelyn Wilson, Barbara Parker and Carrie Lawson.

It seems that some students have found a haunted house. Some of the kids seen there Thursday night were Rosemary Lawson, "Punkin" McGehee, Jody Miller, Jackie Milam, Frances McClain, Diane Laughman, Margie McDougle, Freddy Blalack, Junior Suter, Glen Hancock, Shirley Wheat and Doyle Mason.

The Seniors are sponsoring a talent show in the Senior High auditorium Wednesday at 11 a. m. Admission will be 10 cents. Both Seniors and Juniors are invited.

DESIGNING WOMAN

Popular Cotton Rugs Can Be Made Fire Resistant

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Now that cotton rugs are so popular for every room in the house, questions arise about their flammability. Is there a way to make sure a dropped match causes little damage? Should the small rug in front of the fireplace be fire-proofed? It's true, of course, that a loosely woven fluffy rug will burn more readily than a closely woven short-napped one. But many of the new cotton rugs are tight woven and many shags have tight twisted loops, and the spark that ignites them is more damaging than dangerous. Even the damage is seldom great, but if there are small rugs at your house which you'd like to protect against ignition by matches, cigarettes and sparks, here is the National Safety Council's recommendation for a fire retardant treatment: After washing the rug and drying it, immerse it in a solution of ammonium sulfamate and water, one pound of the chemical to one gallon of water. Or, if the ammonium sulfamate is not readily available, use a solution of 9 ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid to one-gallon of water. The treatment must be renewed every time the article is washed, and is effective on other cotton fabrics such as curtain fabrics.

Congratulations

Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz Jr., Commanding Officer of Big Spring Air Force Base, congratulates Master Sergeant Roy S. Black on his re-enlistment for six more years. Sgt. Black is a veteran of 25 years of military service.

Sergeant Re-Enlists For Six Years To Reach 30-Year Term

This is no recruiting story, but it easily could be. Fact is, Master Sergeant Roy S. Black, hospital sergeant-major at Big Spring Air Force Base, is a good example of what the service can do for a youngster of 19. But that's beside the story; what's important is that Sgt. Black has served in the military since he was 19, and that was some 25 years ago. Today, he is re-enlisting for six more years to reach 30 years of active duty with plans then to retire. In congratulating the sergeant on his re-enlistment, Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz Jr., commanding officer of Big Spring Air Force Base, cited Sgt. Black's past record of service in the medical branch of the Air Force. In recalling the past quarter century of military service Sgt. Black delivered through many and varied experiences at numerous Air Force stations to describe one of the most interesting assignments. During the war years, Sgt. Black served as a captain in the Army of the United States and was stationed at Ft. George Wright Hospital, Spokane, Wash. Here he worked with returned combat veterans in convalescent wards. As he describes his work, "It was one of the most rewarding things I've ever done. To help those men re-adjust themselves through such therapy as leather and wood-working, and see them progressively recuperate, was truly a great opportunity." It was at Ft. George Wright Hospital that Sgt. Black developed his hobby of leather-making, which has proved not only an interesting but profitable pastime. During the past years, Sgt. Black has made leather goods for more than a hundred of his service friends. Before assuming duties here with the 3560th Pilot Training Wing Sgt. Black served at many Air Force bases, including overseas duty with the South Atlantic Wing of the Air Transport Command. When asked the all-important question, "Would you do it all over again?" Sgt. Black quickly replied, "Yes I would. Even with the ups and downs, I'd do it over again the same way... it's been a good 25 years." "Something I'd like to add," Sgt. Black volunteered, "In 25 years of living in many different towns, I've never found a community so friendly as Big Spring... their friendliness even offsets the dust we've experienced since arriving." A native of Sacramento, California, Sgt. Black is married to the former Arline Collier of Salem, N. J. The Blacks and their daughter, Carol Diane, 6, live at 902 Aylford. Pilot Escapes From Emergency Landing Without Injuries A transient pilot from Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D.C., escaped injury when his F-51 Mustang fighter nosed over in the course of an emergency landing at Big Spring Air Force Base shortly before noon Friday. The pilot, 1st Lt. L. W. Berger, had alerted base emergency equipment by radio, citing a possibility of brake failure. Damage to the aircraft was limited to propeller, engine, and landing gear. The U.S. citizen uses "more steel than any other commodity except water," says the American Geographical Society.

VARIETY OF GROUNDS

Easy To Get Texas Divorce; Take Gander At Local Docket

Reno, Nevada, has the dubious honor of being the divorce capital of the United States, but, in some respects its easier to get a divorce in Texas than it is in Nevada. The civil docket of the District Court in Big Spring always has a substantial list of divorce suits, but it can't compare to that of Reno, possibly because of residence requirements. Actually, it probably is just as easy to establish grounds for divorce under Texas law as it is under Nevada law, but in Texas as the parties involved in a divorce suit must have resided in the state for a period of 12 months and in the county where the case is filed for six months before divorce proceedings can be instituted. A stay of six weeks is a mere visit under the Texas law. Judges who preside at divorce suits in Texas insist that jurisdiction be proved in each divorce case. If the person seeking the divorce cannot prove residence in the state for 12 months and in the county for six months, then the whole deal is off. However, the Texas law recognizes a variety of grounds for divorce. A vast majority of the divorce petitions filed in the District Court of Howard County simply allege "treatment of such cruel and harsh nature as to render their living together insupportable," or words to that effect. However, most judges prefer that something more specific be "proved up" when the case is heard, and many judges require a considerable amount of testimony, even in uncontested cases. Another cause for divorce recognized under Texas law is adultery. But it is seldom cited in petitions, because, most any experienced lawyer will tell you that adultery is one of the most difficult offenses to prove when the case gets into the courtroom. Abandonment for a period of three years also is grounds for divorce under Texas law, as well as lack of cohabitation for a period of 10 years. If your mate is convicted of a felony, that is grounds for divorce but only if the defendant is confined to the penitentiary, and even then you must wait a year to file suit. And, if one party to a marriage is incurably insane and confined to an asylum, the other party may file for divorce, but only after a five-year waiting period. In comparison to other states, Texas could be classified on the lenient side concerning grounds for divorce, but those matters which this state recognizes as "grounds" are not made available to transients.

Jimmy Jones Picked Third VP of ABClub

Jimmy Jones was elected third vice president of the American Business Club Friday to fill a vacant post. Plans for attending the District No. 8 convention April 10-12 in Dallas were discussed at the club's luncheon meeting. The club voted to pay registration fees for all local delegates who attend the event. R. E. McKinney, J. W. Purser and Vic Alexander were named to head teams in a contest to recruit delegates. Guests at the Friday luncheon were Gustave Blancet of El Paso and Mrs. Leatrice Lilly of New Orleans. Mrs. Lilly is a former sweetheart of the club. CARD OF THANKS In appreciation to our many friends for the beautiful flowers and food during the loss of our loved one. In Picture At Jet Patricia Neal and Van Heflin provide a romantic interlude in the picture, "Week End With Father." The comedy romance in which they are co-starred is the featured attraction at the Jet Drive-in Theatre today and Monday.

They Saw Something

Patricia Neal and Michael Rennie in a pleasant sort of a scene from the picture, "The Day the Earth Stood Still." This is at the Ritz Tuesday and Wednesday, is a futuristic drama which furnishes some strange things — things these people see.

Lone Star Style

George Montgomery makes love, Texas style, to Gale Storm. They're the principals in "The Texas Rangers," an action drama of the famed Lone Star law-enforcing outfit offered at the Terrace Drive-in Theatre's feature for today and Monday. The picture is in color.

In Award-Winning Film

Kim Hunter and Marlon Brando in one of the suspense scenes of the outstanding drama of the season, "A Streetcar Named Desire." This picture, whose principals took three Academy Awards, and which won — as a stage play — the Pulitzer and Critics' laurels, is at the Ritz today and Monday. Vivien Leigh is another of the stars.

Prize-Winning 'Streetcar' Opening At Ritz Today

The drama that has snared a full share of public interest has come into Big Spring for showings today and Monday at the Ritz theatre. That would be "A Streetcar Named Desire," the Tennessee Williams opus. As a play, it won the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Drama Critics' Award. And, more recently, as a picture, it garnered three Academy Awards for its players—Vivien Leigh, Kim Hunter and Karl Malden.

Starring Vivien Leigh, who created the lead role in London, and Marlon Brando, star of the New York version, the picture boasts the entire prize-winning New York cast. In addition, Ella Kazan, the talented Broadway and Hollywood director who staged the original, also handled the picture version. Thus, the film boasts all the elements of an outstanding contribution to the drama. Tennessee Williams penned a powerful work in the story, which deals with a southern "gentlewoman" whose life takes a downward direction as the family estate falls off to nothing, it tells how she flees her hometown to come and live with her sister in New Orleans. The sister, a normal young woman who has thrown off the dreamy memories of the past, is married to a muscular young man, who though beneath her former station perhaps, gives her happiness, nonetheless. But Blanche, attempting to hold onto her unreal earlier days, provokes her brother-in-law into searching out and revealing her more immediate past, leading to the climax. Vivien Leigh, who created the role of Scarlett in the fabulous "Gone With the Wind," played the role of Blanche in the London production for nine months. As one of England's outstanding actresses, her reputation assured producers of a top performance. In Marlon Brando, creator of the Broadway role of the brutish Stanley Kowalski, was another assurance. Kim Hunter as Stella, the sister, Karl Malden as Mitch, the suitor, Rudy Bond, Nick Dennis, Peg Hillias and Richard Garrick also repeat their original roles.

Tony Martin Heads Cast For Tuneful B'Way Comedy

One of the nation's singing favorites, Tony Martin, heads the cast of a Howard Hughes production, "Two Tickets to Broadway," playing Thursday and Friday at the Ritz Theatre. It's a gay Technicolor musical of

Stanwyck Stars In Gypsy's Story Of Burlesque

Remember Gypsy Rose Lee's story, "The G-Siring Murders?" Well, the picture from that opus is back again as screen fare. The result is "Lady of Burlesque," which plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the State Theatre, with Barbara Stanwyck in the stellar role. Barbara appears as Dixie Daisy, star of a midwest circuit whose New York debut is spoiled by the discovery of one of the girls in the show, strangled by her own G-string. Suspicion falls on nearly everyone in the show, lingering longest on Michael O'Shea, as Biff Brannigan, the burlesque comedian.

It all comes out all right, but there's some suspense, action, and romance with angles to precede the climax. The cast includes J. Edward Bromberg, Gloria Dickson, Victoria Faust, Janis Carter, Frank Conway and Pinky Lee.

derover activities through talking in his sleep. It is developed that he was being "covered" by a tape recorder while he slept, and he has a close call in escaping suspicion from Communists. Dana Andrews has the role of the real-life Cvetlic, who made great personal sacrifices in apparently going over to the Communist party.

Standout Pictures Booked For Spring

Easter being one of the key dates in show business, it marks the beginning, as far as Big Spring is concerned, of a Spring season of top-notch films. Theatre men are calling it a "Spring festival of better movies," and are calling attention to bookings that rank high in quality. The season really has gotten under way here with such standouts as "Viva Zapata!" (just concluded) and "A Streetcar Named Desire" (current at the Ritz). Bookings during the next few weeks will include such productions as these: "With A Song In My Heart," a heart-warming story of the courageous career of songwriter Jorie Froman. It was previewed here last week, won warm acclaim from a local audience. "Pride Of St. Louis," the story of Dizzy Dean, with Dan Dailey in the title role. "Jack and the Beanstalk," "San Francisco Story," "Singing In The Rain," a new super musical;

"Skirts Ahoy," a story of the WAVES; "Maru Maru"; "Bells on Their Toes," a Clifton Webb comedy piece to match the first Belvedere stories; "Belle of New York," a Fred Astaire dance opus. Also, "African Queen," the picture which got Humphrey Bogart his Academy Award; "The Quiet Man," a John Wayne starrer; "Deadline U.S.A.," a drama with two Academy Award winners, Bogart and Kim Hunter; a return showing of the spectacle, "David and Bathsheba," an MGM production, "When In Rome," and a suspense drama starring James Mason, "Five Fingers." The special pictures during the theatres' Spring Festival will carry a special stamp of approval. The program frankly is a program to supply evidence in support of the contention, "there's nothing wrong with show business that good pictures won't cure." Manager J. X. Robb of the Big Spring Theatres, in announcing the forthcoming features said, "Frankly, we have never been able to book a finer array of top quality films than the list of features we have for our Spring festival."

Errol Flynn Returns As Captain Blood

A fast-moving tale of piracy on the high seas, "Captain Blood," makes a return showing here, at the State today and Monday. That great swashbuckler, Errol Flynn, plays the intrepid captain. The story is set during the period of rebellion against the empire of King James II. Because he gives aid to a rebel leader, Blood is enslaved, but he escapes, commands an enemy ship and after many exciting encounters with treasure-laden vessels, becomes one of the most feared rogues of the Spanish Main. However, it is his love for a beautiful Englishwoman, played by Olivia de Havilland which causes Blood to offer his services to England, at war with France. Basil Rathbone, Guy Kibbee and J. Carroll Nash have featured roles in "Captain Blood," directed by Michael Curtiz for Warners.

AF Takes Wraps Off Catalogue On Blood

BALTIMORE, April 5 (AP) — The Air Force today took the wraps off a super-scientific report cataloging just about everything man has learned about blood. The 129-page document is the fruit of labor by more than 600 leading medical authorities throughout the world. It includes more than 100 tables describing practically every known property of blood in living things — from mouse to man. Among other things, it deals with more than 300 chemical compounds found in blood, ranging from complex hormones to such simple metallic elements as iron, copper and zinc. "The report," said the Air Force, "promises to fill a long-felt need in the medical profession."

STRONGER SEATS URGED FOR LADS

LONDON, April 5 (AP) — What this country needs, a member of Parliament said today, are stronger seats in the pants of growing boys. Laborite Norman Dodds served notice he will take this up with the President of the Board of Trade on May 1, after the House of Commons Easter recess. Dodds said he understands a new nylon-wool material developed in Britain "Ensures that the seats of boys' pants last much longer." He wants the Board of Trade to see that the wonder cloth "is made available to the public as soon as possible."

We Have Responsibility And An Opportunity To Be A Good Host

Now that training has begun at the Big Spring Air Force Base, the time is ripe to remind ourselves that we have a heavy responsibility in friendship and good neighborhood to military personnel stationed here. Perhaps it is too vain a hope, but we hope nevertheless that we will be spared the torture of hearing someone, with nothing better to say, introducing one of the base personnel as a "Yankee." That did handle it about as clever as a right sharp "oh, yeah" or a quickly turned "see you."

Sunday Talk: Astronomy

A friendly letter from Mr. William R. Krummel contains this paragraph: "In my young days, many years ago, I attended lectures by widely known astronomers. These lectures drew large crowds. The astronomers spoke of what people would have to be like—their height, weight and so on—in order to exist on different planets, and on what they would be able to do that we cannot, because of difference in gravity."

to believe that anyone will have a true picture in advance. No one, at the present time, has clear proof that there are people or animals on any planet except the earth. There MIGHT be people on Mars or Venus, but it hardly seems likely that they would be like people of the earth. Perhaps those people (if there are any) have four eyes instead of two! Who knows? It is true that planets differ in gravity. After careful work, astronomers have reached figures on the gravity of most of the main planets in our solar system, also on some of the asteroids.

Spotlighting A Week Of News

News Came Fast And Furiously As Everyone Sought To Get In The Act

By FRED GREENE The Spotlight worked overtime this week trying to keep up with the fast and furious pace of top news breaks. Consider these developments within a week's time: 1. President Truman jolts the country with news that he will not be a candidate for President this year. Nor will he allow himself to be drafted at convention time.

PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN

Not his requests were constructive. Obviously, nearly eight years in the White House is plenty and Mr. Truman feels a new Democratic President could at least have a chance to get along with Congress. Mr. Truman is reported to be stringing along with Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, though he denies this. Stevenson has said he will not be a candidate, but has not said he will decline a convention draft. Ostensibly, then, Stevenson drops the nod should the convention select him.

About Wet Paint And Politics, Texas Pride And Women's Words

A square's approach to some round problems: People are ornery, aren't they? I saw some in a car the other evening deliberately run around the barricades that close off Tenth Street, where a paving project is underway. When they got to the other end, it made no difference that the car had to be driven across the Christian Church lawn to get out of the blockade. Just being defiant against barricades, I suppose.

Grand Ole Opry Stars To Be In Program Today

Under the auspices of the VFW Auxiliary, several stars from the Grand Ole Opry will present a program today at 2:30 p.m. at the City Auditorium.

Johnny Wright and Jack Anglin, whose voices and a guitar formed a combination that brought them wide popularity, will head the cast. They will sing several of their popular ballads.

In addition, there will be Cousin Nimrod, the "old maid's heart-throb"; Shot Jackson and his steel guitar; Paul Warren, champion old-time fiddler; and Lester Wilburn, master of the bass fiddle and Hillbilly Maracas. An added attraction is Leon Payne, a Capitol recording star and composer.

The VFW Auxiliary shares in the proceeds and will apply the funds to its general relief activities as well as to crippled children and veteran hospital work. Tickets are on sale at the box office.

Remains Of Ancient Man May Be Near

SALZGITTER, Germany (AP)—German scientists here believe they are close to what may be the remains of a 200,000-year-old resident of this Central German town.

For several weeks they have been excavating almost in the shadows of the big Salzgitter steel plants.

Early finds were a mammoth's teeth and reindeer horns.

Then recently, they uncovered some primitive stone tools.

This led them to believe they may be near the first major new archaeological find in Germany in nearly half a century.

If human remains are found, it would be the first such discovery in Germany since 1907, when the Heidelberg Man was discovered.

In 1856 the Neanderthal Man was excavated in Neander Valley near Dusseldorf on the Rhine River, some 200 miles west of here. He is said to have lived somewhere between 20,000 and 40,000 B.C.

The Heidelberg Man, believed to be his senior by several thousand years, was found at the village of Mauer, also in the Rhine

IT COULD BE LOT SIMPLER TO SAY SAME

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—A doctor who kept his name secret described in the medical magazine Lancet today how to perform a certain emergency operation:

"The operator should lie in the Trendelenburg position. An E.N.T. surgeon's headlamp is an advantage. The blade of a kitchen knife is most generally suitable. This is maneuvered after the fashion of a Leucotomy knife. The impulse to reach for a Lithotrite or Eraniolast must be sternly resisted. A small magnet can be safely used to remove small ferruginous bodies which so often precipitate an acute retention."

The operation: "Sneaking coins out of the kids' piggy bank."

THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

Last Sunday, Patricia McCormick, Big Spring's lady bullfighter, so pleased the critical fans at Nuevo Laredo's Plaza de Toros, that they gave her the ears and tails of two bulls.

She killed the bulls in the ring with only one sword thrust needed for each. In her first fight at Juarez, January 20th, she received only the ears.

Miss McCormick had several close calls during the Nuevo Laredo fight. One she tripped and fell in front of a charging bull, but she scrambled to her feet and eluded the animal. Fully half the spectators were Americans.

G. R. White of Brady is sending 900 cows to Kansas grass. They are all young cows and will be pastured near Virgil. Shipment will be made late this month. White says his country is far too dry to undertake to carry these cows at home.

Did you wonder who she was when you saw her picture on page 8 of Field and Range Wednesday without any name under it? Of course you did. The young lady was Mrs. May Wolf of the Howard County Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Wolf and Mrs. Jean Burnam, secretary to County Agent Lewter, work in the same office and help each other out when the going gets fast. The pictures of these young ladies were used to illustrate the story on the agricultural library that is to be found at the office.

Two recent grass fires swept over about 24 sections of rangeland. One of these fires covered about four sections of the Matador Headquarters Ranch west of Matador, and the other burned 15 sections of the range of the Swenson Land and Cattle Co., near Haskell, and five sections of other ranches before being brought under control by 100 men and fire-fighting equipment from Throckmorton, Haskell, Woodson, Seymour and Olney. This fire was blamed on lightning but it might have also come from a cigarette butt or a burning match stump.

A 955-pound Aberdeen-Angus steer, owned by a 4-H clubber from Hale Center, was declared grand champion of the 17th annual Plainview Fat Stock Show.

Dean W. L. Stangel of Texas Tech who judged the show said it was the first time he had ever placed a drylot steer over a milked animal for a grand championship. A milked Hereford was made reserve grand champion.

Col. Joe Dornblaser, who formerly commanded the Army Remount Service Depot at San Angelo, and who is now retired from the old Army Veterinary Corps, lives near Fort Worth.

Following his retirement Col. Dornblaser represented the Greek Embassy in its mule buying program, and later trained hunters. Deciding he didn't care to take any more green horses over the jumps, he is gradually working into the cattle business. "More money and less work," he explains.

But he is still using a full-blooded Thoroughbred for a cow horse and says he'd feel dismouted with a cold blood under him.

Purebred Hereford breeders over the nation scored their greatest registration increase on record during the first six months of the current fiscal year.

Registration certificates were issued for a new record total of 292,372 Whitefaced calves during the six months, an increase of 30,000 over the total recorded during the first six months of the last fiscal year. The increase was 13,484 above the 1951 increase over the previous period in 1950.

As an indication of the progress and growth of the Hereford breed an all-time record of 2,377 registrations were issued each working day of the six-month period.

Insect Sprays Can Be Helpful During Summer

By OVID A. MARTIN Associated Press Farm Reporter WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't throw away your DDT or other insect sprays if you expect to be bothered by mosquitoes or flies at home or on that outdoor vacation trip this summer.

These insecticides still can be helpful even though such pests appear to be developing resistance to them.

The Agriculture Department cautions the public against complete dependence on insecticides to control mosquitoes and flies. It says tests conducted last year in heavy mosquito-breeding areas of Florida and California showed the insects to be definitely resistant to DDT but not noticeably resistant to newer insecticides such as lindane, chlordane and BHC.

However, the department said it is possible the insects will develop resistance to the newer chemicals. DDT and other insecticides appear to be more effective against adult mosquitoes than against larvae. When large-scale outdoor control campaigns are directed against the insect pests resistant mosquitoes make up a high percentage of those surviving.

As a consequence the best method for the long pull, the department said, is to eliminate breeding places. This does not mean, however, that once the pests reach adulthood insecticides will be useless. For this purpose, scientists will have to keep trying to develop new chemical combinations, as insects develop immunity to older ones.

Hale Is Cited For Scout Contributions

JAMES O. HALE

Noting the resurgence of Boy Scout activity within the Lone Star district, the district committee has cited James O. Hale, field executive, for his contribution to the program.

Hale has been serving here as a professional Scouter since March 1948. Last December the district closed with a membership of 625, which was a second high water mark in its history.

More significant, perhaps, has been the organization of a wide-spread program of activities. As Gil Jones, district chairman pointed out, advancement in one field where the record reflects an increased activity. In January there were 25 boys advancing 44 ranks. This is second to only one other district in the entire council, and when 66 boys making advancement in March is figured in, the district will be right at or near the top.

One of the most successful Scout leader training courses in years is being completed. While in this, as in other fields, volunteer committeemen took the initiative, Jones pointed out that the executive is of tremendous help.

Hale has been spending considerable time in servicing units so that, although the membership now is down to 535, prospects are that there will be a rapid increase as tapered units are brought back. One reason is that there are already two new packs and a new troop to the district's credit and for the first time in a long time there are no dropped units.

In recognizing Hale for his contribution, the committee noted that it is "the opinion of this committee that his professional and civic work has been of such high caliber as to merit public recognition."

A native of Kentucky, Hale moved to Wichita Falls in 1919. He was a Boy Scout there and in 1942 became an assistant scoutmaster and scoutmaster a year later. In 1945 he entered Scouting professionally and served in the Northwest Texas council out of Wichita Falls as a field executive before coming here.

He was married in 1928 and he and Mrs. Hale have one son, James Nathan. Hale has found time to be active in civic and church affairs. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and is vice chairman of his church's (First Christian) general board and assistant Sunday School superintendent, and helped organize its Men's Fellowship. Before coming here he was chairman of the board of elders in his church at Wichita Falls.

Underwood States Candidacy For Co. Sheriff's Office

Johnnie Underwood announced Saturday that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination as sheriff of Howard County.

In making his announcement, Underwood had only one short pledge to make—"to fulfill my duties in a friendly, honest and efficient manner if elected."

He is a native of Itasca in Hill County, where he was born Oct. 18, 1904. His father moved to Runnels County in 1916 and he was reared there. In 1936 he moved to Big Spring and has made his home here continuously since.

Underwood has been engaged in the roofing business all of that time except for a period during World War II when he operated a private flying service and established the field which now serves as the city's airport. He also was engaged in farming.

"For those who do not know me personally," said Underwood, "I earnestly ask that they check my record."

TENTH PRINTING OF 'BIG SPRING' OFF THE PRESS

A new printing—the 10th—of Shine Phillips' book, "The Casual Biography of a Prairie Town," is off the press, and shipments have been received here.

The new edition, like all previous ones, is from the press of Prentice-Hall, New York. "Big Spring," by last fall, had just about gotten out of circulation, and arrangements were made for the new printing. It follows the same format of previous issues.

Copies will be available at several sources in the city.

The white, pink and blue stucco houses on the Azores today give the islands a Mediterranean atmosphere.

Portrait Making For Personality Contest Continues

Making of portraits for the "Personality Child" photo contest goes into the final week Monday.

Culver Studio, 910 Runnels, will make pictures of children in the age group of 4 years through 6 years. Hours will be from 9 to 12 and 1 to 4, Monday through Saturday. Parents were urged to bring their children early in the week to avoid late rushes.

Culver has completed a large number of children in younger age groups.

Cash awards totaling $200 will be awarded in the "Personality" contest, and pictures of all entrants are to appear in a special Baby Annual section of The Herald to be issued April 27. First prize will be $50, and there are $25, $15 and $10 for winners in three different age classifications. Judging will be by an out-of-town board of photographers.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR

by Harold R. Foster

Synopsis: WITH PRINCE VALIANT'S RETURN, PEACE SETTLES ONCE AGAIN OVER VIKINGS' HOLM. ALET returns to his books, ALETA to the care of her brood, happy to have her adventurous husband once again at her apron strings.

ONE DAY VAL GOES IN SEARCH OF ALETA TO REASSURE HIMSELF THAT SHE IS REALLY AS LOVELY AS HE THINKS SHE IS, AND SEES HER TRAINING A NEW HAWK.

LIKE ANY OTHER HUSBAND, VAL LIKES TO TEASE HIS WIFE. "WHAT HAVE YOU THERE, MY PET?" HE ASKS IN MOCK INNOCENCE. "IS IT A THRUSH WITH WHICH TO CATCH BUTTERFLIES?"

"NO, MY DEAR LORD AND MASTER," SHE ANSWERS DEMURELY AND VAL SHUDDERS, FOR WHENEVER ALETA USES THAT TONE OF DEEP HUMILITY HE USUALLY GETS THE WORST OF IT. "IT IS A MERLIN I CAUGHT, GENTLED AND TRAINED. WOULD YOU WAGER YOU CAN DO BETTER?"

"I COERT! WAGER WHAT YOU PLEASE, BUT WAIT..." THEN HE STOPS AS HE SEES THE IMPISH GLEAM IN ALETA'S EYES. TOO LATE HE REMEMBERS THAT THIS IS A POOR TIME OF YEAR FOR CATCHING HAWKS. BUT NEXT MORNING HE IS OUT BY THE MARSHES SCANNING THE BLUE FOR HIS PRIZE. AT LAST! A PAIR OF GYRFALCONS!

HE SETS HIS GOSSAMER NET ON TWO SLENDER POLES, STAKES OUT THE BAIT, AND WAITS. THE GREAT HAWKS MAKE SEVERAL PASSES AT THE BAIT, THEN THE FEMALE, LARGER AND FIERCER OF THE TWO, DIVES STRAIGHT INTO THE NET!

FIRM BUT GENTLE HANDS ADJUST THE HOOD, ATTACH THE JESSES ON THE LEGS, TIE ON THE SWIVEL AND LEASH. VAL LOOKS SADLY AT HIS PRIZE. DEEP IN SUMMER MOULT, PROBABLY STILL NESTING, A POOR PUPIL TO TEACH.

"OH, VAL, DEAR! WHAT HAVE YOU THERE? IS IT SOMETHING THE DOGS HAVE WORRIED OR DO YOU PLAN TO HAVE IT FOR SUPPER?"

NEXT WEEK - The Austringers.

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

WHEN THEY HAD REACHED A HIDDEN CAVE, THE LEADER GRINNED. "MY NAME IS JORGE DURANA. MY BUSINESS, SENOR, IS A SECRET... BUT THAT CREATURE IN THE SNOW-- HA!"

"HAVE YOU HEARD OF SUSPENDED ANIMATION? IT IS A THEORY WHEREBY THE VITAL FUNCTIONS CAN BE STOPPED, BUT KEPT INTACT-- FREEZING, FOR EXAMPLE."

"THAT BEAST YOU SAW IS A WOOLLY MAMMOTH," CONTINUED THE SPANIARD. "PREHISTORIC ANCESTOR TO THE ELEPHANT. BY A STRANGE PHENOMENON IT WAS FROZEN DURING THE ICE AGE AND PRESERVED."

"BUT HOW--" ASKED TARZAN. "AHA!" CRIED JORGE. "MT. LUYA, DORMANT FOR CENTURIES, HAS RECENTLY ERUPTED. DURING ONE EXPLOSIVE MOMENT THE BRUTE THAWED!"

"NOW IT MUST EAT, SO IT DESCENDS TO THE FERTILE SLOPES OF THE ZUNCA VILLAGE. THE INDIANS ARE TERRIFIED-- AND WHEN THEY ARE FINALLY SCARED AWAY, MY PLANS CAN BE REALIZED!"

JORGE SMILED CRUELY. "NOR WILL YOU INTERFERE, SENOR-- CONSEQUENTLY, SINCE IT IS SO FASCINATING, YOU WILL MEET IT-- UNARMED!"

GET THE HORSES READY, WE'LL FOLLOW THE BACK TRAIL 'TIL WE FIND WHERE THIS REDSKIN STOLE THE LONE RANGER'S GEAR AND HORSE!
RIGHT!

TORO, D'YA THINK ONE OF US SHOULD GUARD 'THOSE TWO'?
NO, IF WE FIND THE LONE RANGER IT MAY TAKE ALL THREE OF US TO BEAT HIM!

TORO WAS LYING IN WAIT FOR ME, TONTO. WHEN THEY SAW ME IN THIS DISGUISE, THEY THOUGHT I WAS AN INDIAN WHO HAD ROBBED THE LONE RANGER.

THEM POOLED PLENTY! BUT WHY YOU WEAR DISGUISE?

THE WOODS ARE FULL OF SEARCHING PARTIES, ONE OF THEM CAPTURED ME. BECAUSE OF MY MASK, THEY THOUGHT I WAS A PAL OF TORO'S.
HOW YOU GET AWAY?

THE SHERIFF CAME IN TIME TO SAY THAT I WAS ON HIS SIDE. AFTER THAT I REPLACED MY MASK WITH THIS DISGUISE, SO I'D NOT BE CAPTURED AGAIN.

MAYBE LAWMEN IN WOODS CATCH TORO.

SMALL CHANCE OF THAT. HE'LL KEEP OUT OF SIGHT, ALSO, HE WILL SOON LEARN HE'S BEEN TRICKED!

THEN HE WILL RETURN, AND IF WE'RE STILL HERE, HE WILL KILL US!

A SWEETER WASH IS A CLEANER WASH

Surf guarantees you a sweeter wash than any soap, any other detergent

Prove it to yourself— in your own linen closet

Try a wash with Surf—then compare the sweet smell of cleanness in your Surf wash with anything in your linen closet that was washed with the product you have been using. You'll be delighted with the new, sweet, clean difference.

There's a good reason why we can make this guarantee so confidently. A Surf wash smells sweeter because it's so clean. Surf not only gets out the dirt and grime you can see in clothes—it also reaches deep into the fabric and gets out the soap scum and odor that other wash-day products leave in.

No matter what product you have been using—you'll discover, when you compare your Surf wash with anything in your linen closet, that you get a sweeter wash with Surf. Today, or weeks away, your Surf-washed clothes will smell as clean as they look and look as clean as they smell. That's your proof that they're clean clear through.

Unconditional guarantee

The makers of Surf—Lever Brothers Company—guarantee you the sweetest wash you've ever had—regardless of the product you are now using, with or without rinsing—or your money refunded.
