

Oil Workers On Job, But Only For Shut-Down

After Close-Down, More Pickets Due Throughout State

By The Associated Press
Much of Texas' oil industry was stopped Wednesday by a strange strike. There were few pickets and many workers reported for duty.

But their duty was the unassigned task of cooperating in the orderly close-down of the huge refining facilities, concentrated along the coast.

The three postponed strikes which will cut deeply into the refining capacity of the nation's biggest oil-producing state—began officially at one minute after midnight, local time.

But more than 12 thousand refinery employees streamed to work at Port Arthur, an oil industry concentration point, to help close down pipelines, boilers and stills in the big Gulf, Texas and Atlantic plants.

The first pickets appeared at the Port Arthur shipping terminal of the Texas Company, where the shutdown became immediately effective. The Texas Company's asphalt plant at nearby Port Neches also, was expected to be shut down by early Thursday.

But the big refineries, those in which the union carefully cooperated in orderly close-down procedures—take as much as 60 hours to cease operations without endangering facilities.

As the big refineries are safely shut down, the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) plans to set up picket lines.

About 15 thousand workers are affected in Jefferson County, which includes Beaumont, Port Arthur, Port Neches and Nederland. Port Arthur's Gulf refinery has about 5,200 employees, Port Arthur's Texaco refinery about 4,500, and Port Arthur's Atlantic refinery about 470. The Magnolia refinery at Beaumont has more than 3,000 employees, the Pure Oil refinery at Nederland about 1,000, and the asphalt plant of Texas Company at Port Neches about 600.

Stanley W. Wheeler, above left, took over duties of president of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce at the organization's first annual banquet Tuesday night. With Wheeler are R. B. Whitaker, retiring president, Mrs. Hila Weathers, who was re-elected manager, and Cecil Bridges, new vice-president. Below right, Wheeler presents Citizen Judge James V. McMorris with a special award for being selected Martin County's outstanding citizen of the year.

WHEELER IS PRESIDENT

Martin C-G Holds Its First Banquet

By WACIL McNAIR

STANTON—This thriving little West Texas city put the big pot in the little one Tuesday night to celebrate the amazing accomplishments of its young but vigorous Chamber of Commerce.

The occasion was the first annual banquet of the Martin County Chamber organization, and something over 200 persons, including visitors from several neighboring points, thronged the Stanton High School gymnasium to join in the event.

They heard Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Big Spring minister, urge renewal efforts "to build men to match our machines."

In its scientific and cultural achievements, but in its moral fiber, Dr. O'Brien declared.

"If we fail to develop men to match our atomic power, our airplanes and other scientific and mechanical developments, these machines will destroy us," he warned.

He urged full support of all character-building youth organizations. Dr. O'Brien also had words of praise for the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

"This organization is just one year old, but it's one of the healthiest yearlings I ever saw."

Stanley W. Wheeler, Stanton automobile dealer was introduced as the new president of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds R. B. Whitaker, who has served in that capacity since the Chamber of Commerce was organized last year.

In a brief message to the membership Whitaker expressed appreciation for "the cooperation of all other officers, the directors, management, committee chairmen and all members who worked diligently during the past year."

Wheeler pledged himself to an aggressive administration during the coming year, and called for continued cooperation of the members and officers.

Cecil Bridges was named vice president, a post held last year by Wheeler, while James Jones of Stanton succeeds J. H. Pinkston as treasurer.

Mrs. Hila Weathers was re-elected manager.

The new board of directors is composed of James H. Jones of Tarzan, S. J. Foreman of Lenora, Bridges, Jack Bentley of Stanton, Wheeler, James Jones of Stanton, Pinkston, and B. F. White of Stanton. Retiring directors are Joe Stewart of Courtney, Phillip White of Stanton and Dave Foreman of Stanton.

The Big Spring delegation was by far the largest visiting group to attend the banquet. Other visitors came from Midland, Colorado City, Lamesa, Monahans, Abilene and Dallas.

Wheeler presented two awards, a plaque to the outgoing president, R. B. Whitaker, and the "outstanding man of the year" award to County Judge James V. McMorris.

During the presentation McMorris' work for farm-to-market roads, efforts to conserve underground water resources of Martin County and other civic work were cited.

Dinner music was furnished by Dick Smith at the organ. He also accompanied Ross Graham, former radio network star who now lives in Midland, who sang several selections.

The invocation was by the Rev. J. E. Harrell, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Stanton, and the guest speaker was introduced by Phillip White. Ellmore Johnson was master of ceremonies.

The meal for the banquet was prepared and served by the girls homemaking class of the Stanton High School.

America's strength is not found

T. S. Currie Sr. Rites Thursday

Death closed the long and colorful career of one of the community's key personalities here Tuesday afternoon.

Temp S. Currie Sr., chairman of the State National Bank board and for a quarter of a century its chief executive officer, died on his 74th birthday. He had been hospitalized for three months.

Services will be held at 4:30 p.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church, of which he was an elder. Burial will be in the Masonic section of the City Cemetery.

One of his wishes was that friends invest funds given as tokens of esteem in charity or some enduring project rather than in flowers for his funeral.

The remains will lie in state at the Eberly Chapel until about 3:30 p.m. Thursday. Then it will be closed for private prayers for the family before it is taken to the church for final rites by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd. The casket will not be opened after it leaves the chapel.

Mr. Currie was born on April 29, 1878 in Columbia County near Lodi, Wisconsin. After one year in a bank there, working at $10 a month largely to obtain business experience, he purchased a ranch with his brother, John A. Currie, near Water Valley in southeastern Sterling County, Texas. He came to West Texas the following year, or in 1900, and three years later returned to be married in Wisconsin. He and Mrs. Currie moved here two years after that and engaged in the real estate business.

The history of the State National Bank is virtually the lengthened shadow of Mr. Currie. He was one of its incorporators and its first cashier. In more than four decades, he was closely identified with every major development of the bank.

The new bank (the First State Bank) was approved on Jan. 28, 1909 and when it opened for business on March 1, 1909, Mr. Currie was its cashier.

In fact, he and one other person, L. V. Read, assistant cashier, operated the bank. Capital stock then was $35,000 and the deposits were $27,047. Mr. Currie guided the institution to where at the end of last year the deposits exceeded $11 million.

He served as cashier until Jan. 1, 1924, working with several presidents and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce and was an elder in the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Currie worked closely with Wm. B. Currie, a cousin. See CURRIE, Pg. 7, Col. 8 when the later became president in 1924. On January 1 of that same year, the directors had named T. S. Currie as acting vice-president and cashier.

A decade later he became president and continued in that capacity until Jan. 8, 1932, when he turned the active administration of the bank over to his son, R. W. Currie, who had been vice president since 1922.

Mr. Currie had directed the nationalization of the bank on May 24, 1924. The following year he ordered extensive remodeling and modernization of the banking facilities in the quarters of the 200 block on Main.

The business was expanding so steadily that he knew that before long the bank would have to have more space. Accordingly, when the First National and the West Texas National banks combined in 1924, he acquired the former's building at 2nd and Main and reopened on March 3, 1924 on the 25th anniversary of the founding.

Although his bank was affected by the order of President Roosevelt in 1932, Mr. Currie maintained that there was no necessity for having closed his doors.

During his nearly 50 years in Big Spring, he was active in civic and other affairs. He served as vice president and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce and was an elder in the First Presbyterian Church.

Steel Strike Underway As Judge Orders Mills Back To The Industry

THREE DAYS LEFT

By The Associated Press
Only three more days... Until Texans vote in precinct conventions.

The purpose... The people can feel sure that the next President will be a man who most nearly represents the country, only if every individual member of each political party takes part in the choosing of his own party's candidate for President.

Full Shutdown Within Hours Is Expected

Walkout Orderly As Some Equipment Is Damaged By Speed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Grim CIO United Steelworkers clamped a coast-to-coast steel strike on the nation with breath-taking speed today. The great American steel industry headed for a quick and complete shutdown within hours.

The haste with which 650,000 unionists answered USW President Philip Murray's cease-work order caused scattered damage to costly steel-making equipment.

The walkout was peaceful and orderly. The work stoppage, third in steel since the end of World War II, began in Gary and South Chicago, Ind., within an hour after a federal judge nullified government seizure of the steel industry.

Like a chain of sputtering firecrackers stretched across the land, pickets popped up at plant gates everywhere. Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Buffalo and Baltimore were among the first to report workers walking out.

Most of the scuffers, rollers, heaters and other steel mill workers waited until their local union offices received Murray's cease-work order. But many of them dropped their tools and picked up their lunch boxes as soon as they heard of the court decision.

The USW's contract with practically all major steel producers expired Jan. 1. Union-industry negotiations produced no new pact. Federal mediators failed to break the deadlock on the union's demand for an 18 1/2-cent hourly wage boost, union shop and other objectives.

The WSB recommended a 17 1/2-cent hourly pay hike and a union shop, plus other benefits. USW accepted industry balked. President Truman averted a strike April 9 by seizing the steel industry. The companies successfully fought the action by getting a federal court injunction. An hour later they were strike-bound.

Wheeling Steel Corp. was one of the few companies which reported damage to plant facilities as a result of the hasty leave-taking of workers.

Wheeling Steel issued a statement which said: "Extent of the damage to coke ovens, furnaces and other equipment from the Steubenville, O., plant could not be ascertained."

At Gary, Ind., a union spokesman indicated no effort was being made to safeguard the expensive iron and steel-making furnaces which must be cooled slowly over a period of 24 to 48 hours to prevent damage.

Orville Kincaid, head of USW Subdistrict 1, said at Gary that the union had made no arrangements with steel companies for banking furnaces. He added: "We'll let them worry about that."

Murray instructed his men to arrange for standby operation of steel plants and most of the workers were glad to obey. They knew that if furnaces were damaged, they would not have jobs to come back to for a long time after the strike ends.

Steel production sagged sharply. The industry has been producing at peak capacity, making about two million tons of ingots—raw steel—a week. Much of it was being used for defense and essential civilian purposes.

The steel strike of 1952—originally called for Jan. 1 but postponed four times—is in support of demands for the union's sixth post-war wage increase.

Some of the easiness with which the unionists piled out of the steel plants was ascribed to their impatience with slow-moving steel negotiations.

Their haste to stop work compounded confusion among their employers. A U.S. Steel spokesman was saying his company hoped the union would negotiate on how to set up standby crews at the very time the union apparently was designating its own standby crews and sending the other men home.

Govt Moves To Appeal Its Case

By ED CREAUGH

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Federal Judge David A. Pine formally ordered the government today to give the nation's steel mills back to their owners as a wildfire strike closed the billion dollar industry down tight.

Government lawyers immediately moved to appeal Pine's action and seek a higher court reversal of the judge's ruling that President Truman's April 8 seizure of the steel industry to head off a walkout—was illegal.

Across the nation, virtually all the 650,000 members of the CIO United Steelworkers of America were leaving their jobs in history's quickest shutdown of the vital industry.

Pine's formal order restraining the government from "continuing the seizure and possession" of the steel plants came less than 24 hours after he (1) Ruled the President's seizure action unconstitutional and (2) Denied what he called Truman's claim of "unlimited and unrestrained power."

Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldrige asked Pine, a Democratic appointee of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, to postpone the effective date of his give-back-the-mills order. Pine refused to do so. Pine's injunction was a temporary one, to remain in effect "pending a final hearing and determination of the case."

With the vast steel industry shutting down overnight, the government slapped an embargo on shipments of steel from warehouses to producers of civilian goods and to foreign countries.

The National Production Authority issued the order within two hours of Pine's decision in a move to conserve the supplies on hand until it is determined whether they will have to be diverted from civilian to military use.

Truman Can Invoke The Taft-Hartley Law

Outside of the courts, one further course was open to Truman: to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act.

Philip Murray, president of the United Steelworkers and the CIO, sought to nip such a move in advance, saying the union already has complied with Taft-Hartley provisions. Murray declared the strike would continue until the workers get a contract along the lines recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Judge Pine strongly indicated in yesterday's decision that the President should invoke Taft-Hartley, which requires an 80-day cooling-off period before a strike can start.

Truman has refused so far to use the Taft-Hartley Act on the ground that the union already—at his request—has postponed its strike well over 80 days.

But in the light of his declaration that all-out production of steel must be continued or the defense program will break down, he may have to use the law he opposes in the event Justice Department lawyers fail to suspend or upset Judge Pine's ruling.

The 60-year-old judge, after weighing opposing arguments since last Friday, declared in his 14-page decision:

Congress Can Protect U. S. Against Strike

"There is no express grant of power in the Constitution authorizing the President to direct this seizure. There is no grant of power from which it reasonably can be implied. There is no enactment of Congress authorizing it."

Pine said Congress could pass a law immediately to "protect the nation from this threatened disaster"—the steel strike.

But in the absence of such a law, the judge said: "I believe that the contemplated strike, if it came, with all its awful results, would be less injurious to the public than the injury which would flow from a timorous judicial recognition that here is some basis for his claim to unlimited and unrestrained executive power."

Truman, in directing Secretary of Commerce Sawyer to take over and operate the steel mills, had said he was acting "by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, and as Commander in Chief of the armed forces."

The Wage Stabilization Board has recommended wage increases and other benefits totaling 26 cents an hour, plus industrywide acceptance of the union shop.

Steel companies refused to grant the pay raise unless the government allowed compensating steel price increases. They said they would need up to $12 a ton more. The biggest increase allowed under existing price regulations would be $3 a ton on top of the present $110.

SOME PLEAD GUILTY

Present Testimony In Narcotics Case

The ninth of 14 individuals indicted on narcotics counts was up for trial this morning in 118th District Court.

A jury was hearing testimony in the trial of Alex Banks, the second of group to be tried on a plea of not guilty.

Officers testified that Banks handled the sale of some marijuana to a Federal agent last February.

The jury is composed of K. H. McGibbon, Carl H. Peterson, Robert C. Pinkerton, Elmo Phillips, J. C. McWhorter, E. J. Felty, B. C. Rhoton, J. H. Lloyd, Henry Park, W. A. Peeler, Herschell Mathies and Byron McCracken.

Banks is represented by A. Mack Rodgers.

In another jury trial completed Tuesday, Manuel Hernandez drew five years. The defendant's attorneys immediately gave notice of appeal.

Pleas of guilty from three individuals were accepted by the court this morning, and judgments were announced by Judge Charlie Sullivan.

Joe Baltzer drew two years in each of two cases, while Roberto Morales was assessed similar punishment on one count.

Jacinto Hilarlo was assessed five years in each of two cases.

GETS BIG DEMO VOTE

Top-Heavy Victory In Mass. For Ike

By RELMAN MORIN

BOSTON, April 30 (AP) — Eisenhower's popular vote total passed the 229,000 mark in the Massachusetts primary today, and a near-sweep of the delegate elections virtually closed the gap between him and Sen. Taft in their race for the Republican presidential nomination.

It was almost a shut-out by Eisenhower, his most convincing primary victory to date.

Eisenhower also got a big Democratic vote, big enough to put him in second place behind Sen. Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, the expected winner.

Massachusetts has 38 GOP convention votes, and Eisenhower today has 29 of them as a result of 27 victories and two previously allotted agreements. Taft won one delegate and also got two by agreement. The other six presumably will be uncommitted at the nomination convention in July.

Eisenhower's nation-wide delegate total moved up to 265 as a result of the added delegates. Three more for Taft put his tally at 267 although his managers are claiming 305.

The figures, compiled by The Associated Press, are based on delegates pledged, favorable, or publicly committed to the two leading Republican contenders for the nomination.

Eisenhower was running nearly 130,000 votes ahead of Taft, and he had nearly 69 per cent of the entire Republican vote.

Tabulations from 1,674 precincts out of 739 showed: Republicans: Eisenhower—229,000; Taft—99,469; MacArthur—2,120; Warren—1,396; Stassen—1,161. Democrats: Kefauver—27,629; Eisenhower—15,102; Truman—7,254; Taft—5,423; Dever—2,236; Stevenson—1,230; Russell—645. The total vote for both parties broke a Massachusetts primary record that had stood since 1932. It may have been the result of turnout of thousands of independent voters, swelling the Republican total beyond any previous mark.

Cleanup Crews On North Side

The five city trucks hauling away the trash gathered by citizens in observance of Fire Prevention and Clean-Up Week had covered 337 blocks of the city through yesterday and had carted off 169 big loads. It was announced at the City Hall this morning.

Today and tomorrow these truck crews will be on the North Side, where officials say the co-operation of the residents had been splendid. It will probably be necessary to make another brief final cleanup run over parts of the city, it was announced, in order to get trash that might have been missed on the first trip.

Seeks Insanity For Son To Get Blood For Him

SAN ANTONIO, April 30 (U.S.)—A desperate father was expected to have his seriously injured son declared temporarily insane today so doctors could give the 24-year-old man a blood transfusion against his will.

John Newhouse, 49, said he didn't think the transfusion would do much good, but "it is a last-ditch chance."

The son, Fred Newhouse, was injured in an automobile accident three weeks ago and has been bleeding internally since. He refused transfusions on religious grounds.

He is a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, who believe that taking blood into the body results in spiritual death.

Dist. Atty. Austin F. Anderson said last night a 90-day temporary commitment could be obtained quickly from lunacy court on an affidavit signed by two reputable physicians who consider the patient mentally ill.

Meanwhile, in Odessa, 20-year-old Grace Marie Olliff was reported "much improved" after her third blood transfusion. Officers had to arrest her father and two brothers before the young divorced mother could be given her first transfusion three days ago.

The relatives had guarded the girl's door for a week and refused permission to give transfusions. They claimed the girl, like themselves, was a member of the "Witnesses." She denied it.

The father is William Olliff, 51, Midland, Tex.; the brothers are Ben Olliff, 23, and John Olliff, 27, both of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Seeks To Ban Loans To Political Parties

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (U.S.)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) called today for legislation which would outlaw loans by individuals to political parties or committees.

George, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, told a reporter he believes such legislation should take either the form of an amendment to the tax laws or changes in the Corrupt Practices Act.

Sen. Williams (R-Del.), a member of George's committee, told the Senate yesterday three wealthy citizens were permitted to charge off their income taxes 90 per cent of loans totaling $410,000 made from 1940 through 1945 to the New York State Democratic Committee.

The Delaware senator named the three as Richard J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N.C., Marshall Field of Chicago and David A. Schulte of New York.

Williams produced records to show that the Internal Revenue Bureau had ruled that the three could accept offers by the New York committee to settle for 13 cents on the dollar and charge off the remainder as non-business bad debts.

Field said at Rarcho Santa Fe, Calif., where he is visiting, that he had never made use of an Internal Revenue Bureau ruling allowing him to deduct from his income tax an unpaid loan to the New York State Democratic Committee.

Attorneys for the estate of Schulte, who died in 1949, said in New York that Schulte had received no tax benefits whatever from a loan to the Democratic committee.

Reynolds, elder son of the founder of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, was reported in Europe. His attorney, Stratton Coyner, declined in Winston-Salem to comment.

Rep. Byrnes (R-Wis.), a member of the House tax scandal investigating committee, said he intended to demand a hearing of Williams' allegations, publicly. Williams demanded that the Internal Revenue rulings be reversed and gift taxes be assessed against the three.

"If the bureau doesn't act, then Congress must act," Williams told a reporter.

George said there might be some instances where such loans might be made by banks, but in this case losses would be charged off as regular business debts.

William Mylandos, publicist director for the Republican National Committee, said the GOP group had construed the Hatch "Clean Politics" Act as prohibiting it from borrowing more than $5,000 from any one individual. He added that the committee had not had to borrow.

Mylandos noted that the Hatch Act bars contributions of more than $5,000 by any individual in any calendar year. He cited a provision of the Corrupt Practices Act which defines a loan as a contribution, but said he doubted it applied to committees operating only in one state.

Williams described the $310,000 in loans made by Reynolds and the $50,000 loans each from Field and Schulte as "contributions."

Potato Harvest Due To Ease Shortage

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30 (U.S.)—Harvesting of the first major 1952 potato crop in the nation, in California's Kern County, is expected to ease somewhat the unusual potato shortage.

Home F. Potter, district director of the Office of Price Stabilization, said the first of an estimated 20,000 carloads of Kern Potatoes should reach grocers' empty bins late this week.

"bust up" those scarce raindrops and let them soak down the grass roots into the ground. He is convinced that resting pastures to maintain and improve the cover of grass is about the best way to beat the drought, and Mr. Miller has been fighting the drought a long, long time.

The supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District tell the Grub Line Rider that two new stock tanks will be constructed on the Wilson Brothers Ranch three miles north of Morris School. The construction of one tank will involve the moving of 75,000 cubic yards of dirt, while the other will be smaller, 8,000 cubic yards. The Wilsons plan to start construction as soon as earth-moving machinery is available. More good insurance toward having a drink for the cows when the cows are thirsty. This will be the best cattle country in the world again some day, and this is the sort of thing that will help make the change. In time the cattle will be moving from East Texas back into West Texas.

Contour lines have been completed on the Oliver place in the Luther Community which is being farmed by Van Owens-Owens, who fully realizes the need for holding the water where it falls on big land, is determined to do something besides just wishing it would stay there. He's fixing things up so it will have to stay.

There these 30 growers from the various communities in the county heard the approved and improved methods of production and harvesting discussed, and at the conclusion of the meeting County Agent Durward Lewter asked each of them to have a talk with not less than 20 other farmers, thus spreading the word.

The discussions covered cotton, ginning, insects and insecticides, economic outlook, and livestock spraying. # Govt. Fosters Boom To Acquire Uranium

By GORDON G. GAUSS

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (U.P.)—An atomic-inspired boom is sweeping the vast canyoned desert of the "four corners" country.

The setting is one of snow-capped mountains, searing sun and blowing sand. There are prehistoric Indian ruins and dinosaur bones. Helicopters, geiger counters and gamma ray machines play a part.

At stake is the ability of the United States to produce the stuff which goes into atom bombs and which someday may power an age of easier living.

In importance, the boom promises to dwarf the gold rushes of the last century, but the number of persons involved is small compared to the bonanza stampedes of other days. There probably aren't many more than a thousand men actually digging.

The goal is discovery and production of more uranium, the radio-active element which makes atomic fission possible.

The boom is government-born. It has been building up since 1948 when the Atomic Energy Commission decided to stimulate domestic uranium production to relieve dependence on imports. The government promised to buy all the ore; it set up incentive payments and put AEC and U.S. Geological Survey scientists to work hunting ore deposits.

The hunt centered from the start in the wild, almost-unknown Colorado Plateau region, which lies only partly in Colorado and is a plateau only in the broadest definition of the term. There have been reports of "blinds" in other areas but the most intense hunt is being waged the southern 200 miles of the Utah-Colorado border and in the Indian country of Northeast Arizona and Northwest New Mexico. It is in this region where actual production centers.

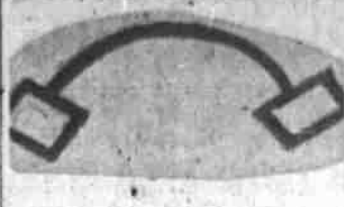

Grand Junction, a long-established city of some 15,000 located 250 miles west of Denver, is the capital of the uranium country. The Atomic Energy Commission has regional offices here. "So do most of the larger mining companies and allied industries such as equipment firms and truckers."

Men, and a few women, endure incredible hardships and loneliness to dig the ore. Some live in crude one-room shacks. A few were in tents. Some haul their drinking water 80 miles. Some drill in mine tunnels so low a man cannot stand erect.

There is little griping about living conditions, though. Some of the men work for as little as $1 an hour. Others, with their own claims or leases, reputedly clear something like $10,000 a year. The boom has made a couple of millionaires but most operators have plowed earnings back into new equipment.

Resource and production figures, of course, are locked in secrecy because of national security. But they aren't needed to show the industry is expanding.

TEXAS BRANDS

By JOHN M. HENDRICKS

The Saddlepockets brand had its beginning in Swisher County in 1894 and was the property of W. C. Hulsey. It was never a large outfit, but did have some cattle on open range country and it was necessary to have a good big brand that could be seen readily.

'Happy Negro' Goes To Death In The Chair

HUNTSVILLE, April 30 (U.P.)—Henry Savage was so happy he almost danced as he entered the death chamber to die for raping a Hearne white woman, an eyewitness said.

"He was a happy Negro," said Don Reid, Huntsville newsman, who witnessed the execution this morning.

Savage, Hearne laborer, was convicted and sentenced to death for raping a Hearne woman after entering her bedroom and carrying her to another room of the house.

He entered the death chamber at 12:02 a. m., received the first shock at 12:05, and was pronounced dead at 12:08 a. m.

As he was strapped into the chair, the Negro said, "I have nothing against anyone. I am saved, and I am going to make my home in Heaven."

Reid said although the Negro was outwardly calm and happy, he believed him very nervous. "His hands were very cold," the newsman said, "when I shook hands with him."

"Lord, it won't be much longer now," the Negro said with a broad smile as he was strapped into the chair. "I really feel the spirit of Jesus," he added.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed Savage's death sentence Nov. 22, 1950. Notice of appeal was given the U. S. Supreme Court, but the appeal was never completed.

The Negro was originally scheduled to die last Sunday, but Governor Allan Shivers issued a stay to prevent the execution from falling on a Sabbath.

Truce Meet In Few Days Seen

MUNSAN, Korea (U)—The Communists are expected to call for an armistice meeting in the next few days which may make or break Korean truce talks.

The outcome will depend on Communist reaction to a secret United Nations package offer.

Dispatches from Washington quoted Allied diplomats as saying the proposal handed Communist negotiators Sunday is "about the last offer we can make."

Valentino Kin File Suit Against Film

LOS ANGELES, April 30 (U)—The brother and sister of Riddolph Valentino have filed a half-million dollar suit against the maker and distributor of a film based on the life of the film idol of the '20s.

The suit, brought by Alberto Valentino and Mrs. Meria Strada, charges that their brother is depicted as a "dissolute and immoral person," constituting a fraud upon the general public and that the film portrays his personal life affairs and intimate personal relationships, which were not part of his public career.

Defendants are Edward Small Productions, Inc., and Columbia Pictures Corp.

Officials in Washington privately agreed the secret package offer was a three-point program keyed to the U.N. demand for "non-forcible repatriation" of prisoners of war, which the Reds repeatedly have called a "preposterous demand."

In a lengthy attack on the Allied prisoner proposal, Red China's official Peiping radio said Tuesday night: "It certainly cannot be considered by the Korean and Chinese side."

Washington dispatches indicated the Allied package deal would (1) allow Reds to rebuild North Korean military airfields during a truce if (2) the Communists accept the U.N. principle for prisoner exchange and (3) drop their domination of Russia as a "neutral nation" to help police an armistice.

Communist negotiators have hinted they wanted to trade off Russia for the airfields. Allied negotiators said it was not a fair exchange.

The Communist insistence that all prisoners of war must be returned to their homes was reiterated by Peiping radio. The U.N. Command says only 70,000 of 173,000 prisoners of war and interned civilians want to be repatriated and it won't force anyone across the line.

Peiping radio, quoting an editorial from the official Peiping People's Daily, charged the Allies "have been trying to retain 100,000 prisoners by force. This horrible scheme of American aggressors has practically wrecked the basis of executive sessions."

Mother Awaits Verdict On Son's Release From Jail

AUSTIN, April 30 (U)—The mother of a 15-year-old Texas Prison inmate waited hopefully today for the State Pardons Board to decide if she can take her son back to their Iowa farm.

Mrs. Edna Fletcher of Onawa, Iowa, told the board yesterday her son, Herbert, has promised to stay home if released from a 10-year sentence that would never have been imposed if he had given officers his correct age.

Herbert was convicted as a 17-year-old for robbing three filling stations. At any lesser age, Texas law would have required his trial be for juvenile delinquency, maximum penalty being retention in a correction school.

Mrs. Fletcher has made restitution of the $117 her son took in the three holdups. She urged the board to act soon to permit her to return home to clean up the "flood mess" left by the Missouri's recent flood that inundated the Fletcher farm.

Meanwhile, Williamson County officials who participated in Herbert's conviction on one of the robbery counts, planned to confer with officials in Milam County where a charge against the boy still is pending.

Williamson County Attorney W. H. Davis told the Pardons Board yesterday he did not believe Herbert should remain in prison in view of his age but expressed doubt that he should be turned completely free in view of the seriousness of the offense.

Herbert might still be tried as a juvenile delinquent in Milam County and possibly committed to a school should he be released from his present sentence, Davis said.

He and his assistant, W. R. Stump, said they would make no recommendations to the pardon board pending further conferences.

Mrs. Fletcher and a friend of the family, N. C. Gray of Blencoe, Iowa, told the board Herbert was believed drowned in the Missouri that runs adjacent to the Fletcher farm. He disappeared last Oct. 14 and his bicycle was found later on the river banks. Not until a letter arrived a few weeks ago from a

Plane Attack Over Germany Causes Jitters

WASHINGTON (U)—United States officials pondering reasons for yesterday's Russian fighter-plane attack on a French airliner agree on one thing: It opened the 1952 season of spring jitters in Europe.

Four of the 17 persons aboard the Berlin-bound liner were wounded, one seriously. British, French and American high commissioners in Berlin immediately protested the "unwarranted attack," demanding investigation and compensation.

The Russians ignored the protests and sent a counter-protest instead. They charged the plane was not flying in the corridor permitted over the Soviet zone of Germany. When the French plane failed to follow a signal to land, the Russians said, the Soviet jets fired across its bow.

Officials here were considering two possible — and opposite — explanations:

1. That the Soviet deliberately staged the attack as a terror tactic, to spread fear and tension in Europe and thereby, perhaps, slow down the unification of Western Europe.

2. That the whole thing was unplanned, perhaps the result of overzealousness on the part of trigger-happy fighter pilots sent up to check on the airliner.

Of the 20 money-winning stables last year at Delaware Park, nine were owned by women, whose horses won $189,005.

'Methodists May Eliminate Pledge Of 'No Smoking'

By STEVEN V. DAVID
SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Elimination of the "no-smoking" pledge by ministerial candidates will be recommended to the Methodist General Conference, leaders of the committee on the ministry reported today.

Candidates now are required to promise not to use tobacco. The committee's majority report will recommend that the candidate be asked instead to promise to lead "an exemplary life free from all harmful practices" and "consecrate himself to purity of life in body, mind and spirit."

A minority report will urge retention of the pledge. The question will come before the conference Thursday when it debates a report of the commission to study the ministry.

The opening move in a campaign against the unofficial Methodist Federation for Social Action will be made late today when the committee on the state of the church begins debate on a resolution for submission of the federation are expected to press for a resolution calling on the federation to remove

Auto Mishap Near C-City Injures Two

COLORADO CITY — An auto crash, seven miles west of Colorado City at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday, sent two persons to the hospital, though neither believed to be seriously injured.

The power plane—named the Clipper Good Hope — had flown from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Rio de Janeiro on the first leg of its "El Presidente" flight to the United States. It took off shortly after dark Monday night for Port of Spain, Trinidad, its only other scheduled halt before reaching New York.

P-TA Units Entertain At Golden Anniversary Tea Tuesday Afternoon

Approximately 225 women attended the P-TA's Golden Anniversary high tea Tuesday afternoon in the new high school cafeteria honoring past presidents of local units. The event was one in a series of observances on the 50th anniversary of the Big Spring Independent School District.

Other appointments were silver. Seven-branch floor candelabra stood at each side of the stage, and other floral arrangements in white wrought iron stands featured yellow iris, daisies, roses, snapdragons, carnations and columbine. Background music during the tea hour was furnished by Mrs. J. A. Jolly and Mrs. C. A. Boyd, and a trio composed of Mrs. J. W. King Jr., Mrs. Don Newsom and Elizabeth Cope, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Griese, sang "Memories" and other numbers.

Following the tea hour a style show of fashions from 1904 to 1952 was presented by the following models: 1904-1914, Mrs. Della K. Agnell, Mrs. Chester Cathey, Mrs. Doug Orme, Mrs. J. E. Flynn and Mrs. Joe Pond, and Mrs. King sang "School Days" and Miss Cope "Bicycle Built For Two." Decade from 1914-1924, Mrs. W. E. McConaha, Mrs. E. P. DESIGNING WOMAN
New Tweed Upholstery Fabrics Are High Fashion
By ELIZABETH HILLYER
Tweed upholstery fabrics are an important new home furnishings fashion, and nothing suits the new furniture better. These textured mixtures of several types of yarn in several colors are sturdy, easy to color scheme and have the popular informal look. What kinds of upholstered furniture can wear them? Mrs. H. I. B. wants to know because she needs new chairs for a living room that combines 18th Century and contemporary furniture. "There's enough pattern in the room now," she writes, "and enough plain color. One of the new tweed textures would be a nice change if it is appropriate for the room." A tweedy cover will be appropriate to the style of the room if the chair is appropriate, Mrs. B. Nearly all styles of furniture wear tweeds today — you'll see the kinds of lounge and pull-up chairs that are best with 18th Century furniture, even wing chairs, and sofas, wearing them as well as contemporary and provincial upholstered furniture. The tweed textures vary — some are rougher, coarser and more patterned than others and suit more casual furniture better, while finer mixtures should be used on less informal designs. Your best choice is a tweed type that is not too rough or patterned because of the semi-formal style of the room.

Getting Hungry Is Expensive In Court

Not a single one of the persons charged with drunkenness in the Corporation Court this morning was from Big Spring, but then that isn't so unusual.

Today's delegation before the bench represented such points as East Texas, Snyder, San Antonio, El Paso and elsewhere.

And if one of them hadn't gotten hungry he wouldn't have gotten in jail, he explained. The man said he had a room in a Seurry Street hotel but that he got hungry and went out looking for food. That's when the police got him.

"If I hadn't gotten hungry," he said mournfully, "I would have stayed in my room and then I wouldn't be here."

The court asked what he was drinking.

"I drink anything," the defendant replied with a touch of pride in his ruggedness. "Anything to drink is in my line. Last night I had some whiskey, and wine and beer."

Getting hungry is costing him $15 in money or five days in jail—and he didn't get the eat he wanted out after, either.

As Sgt. Aaron led him back toward the #10 door he was still muttering: "If I just hadn't gotten hungry."

A tractor driver who said he

It made no water and 790.11 barrels of 38.2 gravity oil. Tubing pressure was 275, gas-oil ratio was 37.8, gas-oil ratio 460-1, elevation 2,624; top pay 7,070, total depth 7,198; the 7-in. casing at 7,070.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 2-B, C. C. Reynolds, 1,580 from east and 660 from south lines north half of section 7-37-4s, T&P, Driver field, pumped 24 hours after fracturing. It made 15.4 per cent water and 70 barrels of 37 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 895-1, elevation 2,754; top pay 7,250, total depth 8,215, the 5 1/2-in. at 8,200, perforated 7,250-7,310 and 8,116-8,166.

Annual Program Of PE Students Slated Friday

With several hundred girls participating, the annual physical education program of the Big Spring Junior and Senior high schools will be held at 8 p.m. Friday.

In years past crowds have far exceeded the availability of space. This year, however, the new high school gymnasium is being used and officials are hopeful that it will meet the seating needs of this popular event.

Directing the affair are Arah Phillips, head of the girls physical education program in the high school, and Anna Smith, head of the junior high physical education program for girls.

There will be 11 different numbers on the program, including a featured event which will emphasize the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Big Spring Independent School District.

In this, seven Big Spring women, members of teams of many years ago, will appear in the garb of their days in high school. These will be contrasted to the present costumes. There will be a contest between a representative of the two teams.

The program is free and Miss Phillips and Miss Smith are anxious to have a large crowd view the colorful affair, which is gaily costumed and features mass exhibitions.

Veterans Hospital To Observe 'Day' With Open House

Hospital Day—May 12—will be observed at the Veterans Administration Hospital here.

Dr. L. B. Andrew, manager of the hospital, said that open house would be observed from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on that date.

"The entire community is invited to visit the hospital and see for itself just how VA provides medical care, second to none, for the ill and disabled veterans," he said.

Visitors are asked to gather in the hospital lobby and will be escorted through a sufficient portion of the plant to give typical idea of the services. Staff members will serve as guides to the various parties.

Dr. Andrews announced the plans now so that prospective visitors could make their plans accordingly.

Phillips Income Is Up During First Quarter

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., April 30 (AP)—Phillips Petroleum Company's net income for the first quarter of 1952 amounted to $19,772,140, an average of $1.37 per share.

This is a 24 per cent rise from $15,882,271 for the same period last year, stockholders were told at their annual meeting yesterday.

Mrs. R. L. Lowe, Sterling Pioneer, Succumbs Tuesday

STERLING CITY—Mrs. R. L. Lowe, 75, member of a pioneer Sterling County family, died in a hospital here at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Lowe was the mother of Roland Lowe, who is a mortician and a hardware dealer here.

Funeral rites have been set for 3 p.m. Thursday in the Sterling City Methodist Church, with the Rev. Loveless and the Rev. Weimer officiating.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. C. H. Richardson of Colorado City, Mrs. K. H. Parker of Dallas and Mrs. E. D. Criddle of Corsicana; and one son, Roland Lowe of Sterling City.

Eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Farm Skill Team In Garden City Today

R. E. Baumhardt, vocational agriculture teacher in the Big Spring High School, and his farm skill demonstration team composed of Calvin Daniels, Elbert Long and Jim Dameron are in Garden City today as guests of the Garden City FFA Chapter.

While there the Big Springers will have dinner with the Garden City group and will present a demonstration.

Tyler Man Nominated

FORT WORTH, April 30 (AP)—Dr. Bruce Wilkinson, 46, of Tyler, has been nominated for president-elect of the Texas State Dental Society.

OHIOANS INVADE WEST TEXAS

The "davyankes" invaded West Texas by air this morning and Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, police radio operator, was having plenty to say about both the invasion and the invaders.

Due to a freak atmospheric condition police radios in this area just had to be tuned down whenever "the operator of the Cleveland, Ohio, police" radio had anything to say, and apparently he was a very, very loquacious man this morning. His calls were being received here in Big Spring with such volume that conversations with local cars and other stations in the West Texas area were drowned completely out.

Mrs. LeFevre hopes the Ohioans will call the invasion off and confine their calls to their area.

Mrs. W. R. Settles, Area Pioneer, 84

Wednesday was happy birthday for Mrs. W. R. Settles, pioneer woman of the Big Spring area.

Mrs. Settles was born 84 years ago today in Kentucky. At the age of 26, soon after her marriage in Kentucky to the late W. R. Settles, she came to Texas and settled south of Big Spring. They made their home there until after the oil boom of 1925-26, when they moved to town. Subsequently they lost most of their holdings, but not before they had applied it to many civic undertakings, among them the Settles Hotel. In recent years, Mrs. Settles has sponsored a series of lectureships at the Presbyterian seminary at Austin. She has maintained an interest in community affairs and is still quite active physically.

Students Take Tour On Pioneer Airlines

Ten pupils from West Ward school made an educational tour via Pioneer Air Lines on Tuesday. Under the supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Mafy Alice Isaacks, the youngsters took the early morning flight to Sweetwater and returned on the next flight.

Two or three other such flights are scheduled so far, and others may be arranged by contacting the PAL agent.

Calamities, famines, floods, pestilence and earthquakes have marched with wars to afflict humanity yet population grows and wealth and culture increase. In spite of backward eddies the stream of God's purpose goes forward. "Woe unto us, for there hath been such a thing heretofore." — 1 Samuel 4:7.

Ridgway's Experience Qualifies Him For His NATO Assignment

No man was ever chosen with greater care than General Matthew B. Ridgway was picked as successor of General Dwight D. Eisenhower as supreme commander of NATO forces. First, President Truman asked the eleven other powers in NATO to express their preference. The Europeans decided 1. That an American should hold the post, because (a) of age-old rivalries among nations of the continent and (b) because America is putting up most of the money; 2. That General Ridgway or General Al Gruenther, Eisenhower's chief of staff, would be acceptable to them.

The selection of General Mark W. Clark as Ridgway's successor in the Far East probably was a good one, despite the fact that many Texans hold Clark responsible for terrific losses sustained by the Texas 36th Division at the Rapido. The Far East command is almost as much diplomatic as military, and Clark is an old hand in military diplomacy. Ridgway is a colorful character, as Eisenhower is; and at least a part of the NATO job is showmanship, or to use a softer term, a job calling for an expert on public relationship. A "selling job," if you want to put it that way—the job of persuading Europe to bend all its energies to the cooperative task of building a dike against Communist aggression.

Japanese Nation Reborn Without Any Midwifing From The Russians

It took a costly war to convince Hirohito, emperor of Japan, and his 80,000,000 subjects that he was not a god but a man. Today, seven years after that grand disillusionment, Hirohito is back in business as emperor again, and Japan once more becomes a sovereign nation. The final round of ceremonial restoration of Hirohito as boss of his own national household began Saturday. For the thirtieth time in seven years the studious little man called at the headquarters of the commander in chief of occupying forces to pay his respects, but the twelve preceding calls were informal, off the record, and "incognito."

The formal occupation ended Monday, April 28, when the peace treaty went into effect. One effect will be to leave the large Russian mission in Tokyo out in the cold, since Russia has not accepted the peace treaty and is still technically at war with the emperor's country. Rather than lose this foothold in Japan, the Kremlin is expected to work out an independent treaty with the Japanese, or tacitly accept the treaty already ratified by most of the nations which warred against Japan. The U.S. and its Western allies are now working out a contractual agreement with West Germany which will restore to the Bonn government practically full sovereignty.

Nicaragua's Dictator, Somoza, Invites Himself To Washington

WASHINGTON — For the first time since Queen Marie of Romania visited the United States uninvited during the Hoover administration, Washington will welcome an uninvited chief-of-state this week. He is Gen. Anastasio Somoza, the president-and-dictator-of Nicaragua. President Somoza was not invited to visit the U.S.A., but he's coming anyway. He has to go to the Leaky Clinic in Boston for an operation and sent word that since he would have to be in the United States, he would not think of neglecting to pay a return visit to the man who as "Senator Harry Truman" had paid him a visit while investigating the Pan American Highway as chairman of the War Investigating Committee.

Under these circumstances there wasn't much the White House could do about it, so President Somoza, arriving tomorrow, will be given a quiet luncheon by President Truman. Reason neither the State Department nor the White House particularly relishes an official visit from the chief of state of Nicaragua is first, because our official policy is to ignore and discourage dictators; second, because President Somoza has consistently upset democratic elections held under the guidance of the United States.

During the Coolidge administration, Henry L. Stimson, later secretary of state, was sent to Nicaragua to smooth out a nasty revolution and arrange to evacuate U. S. Marines. He organized a Nicaraguan national guard, trained by the Marines; also held elections under American supervision. General Somoza did so well under the U. S. Marines that he became head of the national guard. However, after the United States staged its free and fair election, supervised by Harold Dodds, now president of Princeton, General Somoza, trained by the United States, waited for his Marines to evacuate, then threw out the duly elected president—his uncle—and became president himself.

After careful consideration—prior to the Lorain Journal decision—it was decided not to move against the Gannett newspapers in Rochester because that city is located in the northwest part of New York state and not close enough to the Pennsylvania border to have any appreciable interstate circulation. Such circulation was considered important to show that the paper was engaged in interstate commerce. Instead of Rochester, it was tentatively decided to proceed against the Kansas City Star and Times which, located on the Missouri River, have a heavy circulation in both Kansas and Missouri; also against the Omaha World-Herald, which circulates substantially in both Iowa and Nebraska.

Finally the new president started to cast another Somoza son-in-law, Bill Seville-Sacasa, as ambassador to the United States. Somoza's daughter, Lillian, however, enjoys the bright life of Washington, so such a move would not be tolerated. Whereupon Somoza's supposedly puppet president found himself thrown out of the palace with General Somoza once again assuming the role of dictator. NOTE—President Roosevelt, less worried about dictators than Harry Truman, officially invited President Somoza to Washington twice. "He may be an S.O.B.," said FDR, "but he's our S.O.B."

Newspaper publishers probably didn't know it, but President Truman's off-the-cuff remark about power to seize the press may have blocked certain anti-monopoly moves by the Justice Department against certain newspapers. For some time the Justice Department has been considering broad anti-trust prosecution of newspapers having a near monopoly of news in their areas. Two such moves already have been made, on a limited scale. One against the New Orleans Times-Picayune was on the basis of unfair advertising practices, while a second and more sweeping case against the Lorain Ohio Journal resulted in a Supreme Court decision that any newspaper receiving service news across state lines was engaged in interstate commerce.

After about 12 years of ruling Nicaragua, General Somoza got bored, installed a puppet, Dr. Leonardo Arguello, as president. President Arguello, however, had the nerve to demote Somoza's son-in-law as head of the public health department, relieved Somoza's elder son as inspector general of the national guard, and relieved another Somoza son as commander of the presidential guard.

Confidential fact is, that a grand jury was virtually called to consider the case against the Kansas City Star. But when the matter came to the attention of the White House, President Truman put his foot down, on the ground that any prosecution of a newspaper critical of him would be boomerang. Those moves were prior to the Supreme Court decision in the Lorain Journal case, which ruled that a paper using a press service and receiving news across state lines was in interstate commerce. After this, it was no longer necessary for the Justice Department to confine its monopoly prosecutions to newspapers located on state borders, such as the Kansas City Star. Thus, the entire news-monopoly picture was re-examined with a view to other and wider suits.

Truman Didn't Have To Stick Out His Neck, Could Have Used T-H Measure

WASHINGTON — President Truman stuck his neck out in the steel dispute. He didn't have to. If he had handled it another way, he might have put his critics' necks on the block. He could have used the Taft-Hartley Act. The result might have been the same, a strike. But he would have avoided a rain of criticism and yesterday's historic rebuke from Federal Judge David A. Pine.

What is what he did, might have done, and still may have to do: What he did — The steelworkers, whose contract ended Dec. 31, began negotiations last November with the mill owners for higher pay. Getting nowhere, they threatened to strike New Year's Day.

Truman stepped in and asked both sides to let the Wage Stabilization Board examine the case. The board heard both sides, used a lot of time, and finally recommended a substantial pay raise for the workers. The owners refused to grant it unless the government let them raise prices. The government said no.

Again getting nowhere, the workers threatened once more to strike. Truman stepped in again and seized the mills. Since the government, in charge, might give them the raise they wanted, the workers worked. Also, it's against the law to strike against the government. No law and nothing in the Constitution said Truman in peacetime had power to seize private property. But he argued the Constitution contained invisible but built-in powers in Congress, denounced the seizure and said he should have used Taft-Hartley. Twice, under this battering, Truman asked Congress for a solution. Instead, Congress talked impeachment.

The mill owners appealed to Judge Pine to throw the government out of their property, arguing the President exceeded his powers. Yesterday the judge With some 35 million telephones now ringing more or less steadily, Garfield thinks it is high time individuals should realize that the proper use of these little gadgets can help them win or lose social or business success. He also believes corporations fail to appreciate how poor telephone techniques by their employees cost them millions of dollars in terms of lost sales or good will.

Suppose you use the newest toothpaste, smoke a smart cigaret, employ the correct deodorant, wear the right clothes, avoid "five o'clock shadow," and keep your mind razor keen by reading only the best books? If you pick up a telephone and bark into it, "hi, ya, kid!"—well, all is ruined. You've gone to a lot of self-improvement for nothing. "The telephone projects your personality, and people judge you by it," Garfield remarked severely. He has founded what he hopes is a new science—tele-technology—to remedy the situation. What is tele-technology? Garfield defines it this way: "It is the study of the economic and social aspects of the telephone and its use by individuals and companies as a business and social tool."

This Day In Texas

The Houston Board of Education on this day in 1934 took steps to increase the educational facilities of the city. They voted to establish the University of Houston by changing the seven-year-old Houston Junior College into a full-fledged senior institution. The new university started in its first year 1,500 students were enrolled. While their own campus was being planned and built they attended classes in a high school building. First buildings completed for the university were the Roy Gustav Cullen Memorial Building and the Science Building. The new institution received its Class A university rating at the end of one academic year. For the benefit of working people who desire to attend, the university conducts many classes in the late afternoon and early evening hours. It also offers special courses for those who do not have the prerequisites for regular college work. In the 1948-49 session the University of Houston had an enrollment of nearly 11,000 students and a faculty of 374. The University of Houston has undoubtedly added a great deal to the fame of Houston as an educational and medical center. Also located there are Rice Institute, Texas State University for Negroes, Baylor Medical College, and the University of Texas School of Dentistry.

Good Times Rough On Med Students

BALTIMORE — Good times are creating a hardship on medical students, according to a dean of Johns Hopkins. "Fewer and fewer people have to be charity hospital patients, Dr. Alan M. Chesney last night told the Medical and Chiropractical Faculty of Maryland, which he heads. As a result, American medical education is "in real jeopardy at the moment," said the dean of the School of Medicine at Johns Hopkins. Medical students and residents in training are taught in the public wards and dispensaries of hospitals.

Pennies Can Serve As Pieces For Game

There was a time when a penny had fairly high value. A century ago, it had the buying power of a present-day dime, or even more. Even in the present century, I can remember looking on a penny with pleasure. As a boy I could buy a stick of peppermint candy six or eight inches long for a cent. Now and then a storekeeper would add a small ring (made of tin or pewter, I believe) for good measure, so I would be sure to get my penny's worth. Those times are gone. Even an eight-year-old child will fail to be "happy all day" if he is given a penny. Pennies, however, can be useful even now. We can use them in paying sales taxes or, if we save enough of them, they will make nickels, dimes or quarters. One day, while I was on an ocean liner, I decided to play a magic trick with a penny. I told a six-year-old boy that if he would hand me his penny, I would show him how to turn it into a dime. The trick worked up to the point where I showed a dime in my palm instead of a penny, but then, by accident, I dropped the dime. The little fellow saw the dime rolling on the deck and grabbed it up. He said that it was his penny which had been turned into a dime, so the dime belonged to him. I let him have his way. If you happen to have eight pennies around, you can use them in playing a game which is something like checkers and something like tic-tac-toe. One player

Times Change, My Man, And So Does The Simple Game Of Jacks

There I was on my sevens, double bounce. "Nyab-eh-eh!" said my middle son. "Ya can't take the top and get the seven." Now this wasn't particularly disturbing, but some of the other changes which have come to the game of jacks since I used to play it surreptitiously as a youngster were downright disconcerting. For instance: He tossed out the jacks (and I can't say much for the quality of this particular lot as compared with the sturdier variety of the good old days) for his "ones." Instinctively, he sensed a bad situation, which he averted, anon, by crying to the four winds: "Doubles!" "What's this?" I said. "Double what?" "Double throw," of course, he replied, willing me with a look that deplored such abysmal ignorance. Well, I thought, just let him have doubles. I'll show him a thing or two. Anyhow, I'll produce the antidote for this next time around. So when I passed the jacks next time, I was on guard.

I mean, really, is that you can't get 'doubles.' "Why?" "Confound it! I yelled 'vents' I tell you. That's kind of like King's X, only it works the other way around." "What about King's X?" "The younger generation has arrived at a critical state of affairs when the fundamental preventative of a King's X is not both clear and available to it. I am surprised and shocked that you are not aware that 'vents' puts a reverse King's X on your claim to a second chance, and therefore my call has put a whammy on your 'doubles.'" "Oh," he said. "I see." With that, he tossed the jacks out carelessly. They splattered very well, that except two that interlocked as though they were welded. Not a very encouraging development for 'ones.' "Overs," he said matter of factly. "Overs?" "Yes overs, don't you know anything? I guess you at least don't know much about how to play jacks. I think I'll go read my comic book." And there I still was on my sevens, double bounce. —JOE PICKLE

Gallup Poll

Demo Chairmen Say Truman's Exit Helps Party's '52 Chances

(This is one of a series of reports by the Gallup Poll on political sentiment throughout the country today.)

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Apr. 30—A decisive majority of Democratic county chairmen whose views have been obtained in a nationwide poll think Democratic chances for victory in November have been helped by Truman's bowing out of the race. Democratic chairmen in the South are particularly convinced of this, voting 7-to-1 that the President's withdrawal as a candidate strengthens the party's chances. The chairmen cite three chief reasons, first that it will help remove some of the stigma of corruption and graft from the Democratic party; second, that it will unify the party, and third, that it will help hold the South in line.

disadvantage and 6 per cent expressed no opinion. Last winter when Democratic chairmen were polled in a similar study, those in the Southern states turned thumbs down on Truman as a candidate, and named Sen. Harry F. Byrd as their top choice.

Using a list of 2,970 county chairmen obtained from official Democratic sources, the Institute sent each one a confidential ballot asking a number of questions about candidates and the political situation now that Truman has bowed out. Returns have been received to date from 1,230 of the Democratic chairmen.

Reasons Why It Helps Party

Each county chairman was asked to give his reason for believing that the party would be either helped or hurt by Truman's recent decision. Here are some typical comments: "It gets rid of the palace guard and all the Washington hangers-on that the public is tired of." (Illinois) "It removes some of the heat about national graft." (Alabama) "Now the present investigations cannot be linked to the campaign." (Kansas) "The Democrats will be unified and the Republicans will have to find something new to harp on." (Indiana) "The Democrats were simply unwilling to support Truman any longer in this area." (Nebraska) "Without Truman the Democrats will carry all the Southern states." (Connecticut) "He knocked the props out from under a group of Southerners who were rabidly anti-Truman." (Alabama) "Many good Democrats would not have voted for Truman. Now they will vote for someone else." (North Carolina)

Here are the figures for the 603 county chairmen in the South:

Outside the South, 77 per cent said Truman's bowing out would be an advantage to the party, while 17 per cent saw it as a

Reasons Why It Hurts Party

Those chairmen who expressed the view that Truman's action will hurt the party cited chiefly his skill and ability as a campaigner. For instance: "Truman was a scrapper and a lot of people admired him for that. I fear the strength of the party will now be diffused." (Nebraska) "Truman with all his faults was still the strongest Democratic candidate" (Ohio) "I think Harry Truman is the greatest living American." (Illinois)

Uncle Ray's Corner

uses four pennies with the heads up; the other four four with the tail side up. With a pencil or pen draw a square, measuring four inches by four inches, on a sheet of paper or piece of cardboard. Divide this into 16 squares. You may blacken the alternate squares if you wish. This may be called the Four-In-A-Row game. First one player puts down a penny, then another, on any vacant square. The object is to get your four pennies in a row across, up and down, or in a diagonal direction. You seldom, if ever, will win that game by setting down the four coins. Your opponent can block you easily. After all coins are on the board, you can move one of yours in any direction to a vacant square. No jumping is allowed. The person who first gets his four pennies in a row is the winner. For GENERAL INTEREST section of your scrapbook. Tomorrow! Party Games. # Audie Malone Gains Third Win Behind Dusters, 4-3

Walk Forces In Winning Tally

Diminutive Leon English worked Off Guerra for a walk with the bases jammed in the ninth inning to force the Vernon Dusters with a 4-3 victory over the Big Spring Broncos before some 1,000 fans here Tuesday night.

English's free ticket to first base forced in Ernie Klein from third base.

The loss was a heart-breaker for Guerra, who had limited the visitors to one hit, a pop-fly double that fell between Regal Corrales and Al Costa for a blow back in the third frame.

In the eighth, the Dusters ganged up on Guerra for three tallies on two hits and three bases on balls but Gil rode out the storm.

English drew a free pass with the sacks populated in that stanza, too, to account for the first of two RBI's the easy way.

Pat Stasey put Big Spring out in front in the first frame when he hit a long fly to center to plate Al Costa. Witty Quintana hit home runs in the third and seventh innings to pad the Big Spring lead.

Costa gave the Steers a chance to tie the count when he hit a single to lead off the ninth. He was sacrificed to second but was caught attempting to leg it to third when Quintana hit directly to Ernie Klein. Klein then tossed to John Reimold for the final out.

The win was the third in a row for Audie Malone, Vernon Hurier, who had but one triumph to his credit throughout 1951.

ROUNDING THE SACKS—The game was rife with 148, second straight time that a contest had been played in less than two hours.

Comedian Johnny Jones was the big attraction and kept the fans entertained for an hour or more with his assortment of tricks.

Umpire-in-Chief Steve Sadowski made his first appearance of the season in the Big Spring park and called balls and strikes behind the plate. Quintana's two homers was the fourth and fifth of the season for Big Spring and their first since opening day.

A Big Night

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP)—When Al Rosen, Cleveland's hard-hitting third baseman, walloped three home runs against the Philadelphia Athletics last night it was the first time he had accomplished that feat. Al led the American League in homers with 37 in 1950 and hit 24 last year.

By JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission may spell out before year's end just how far it believes radio and television stations can go in giving out race track information.

Until recently the FCC, mindful of the constitutional ban on censorship as such, has left it to the discretion of individual stations. Now it has scheduled hearings which all involved hope will produce a general policy.

The commission got in touch last February with nearly a score of radio and television stations whose licenses were up for renewal. The FCC noted these stations regularly broadcast racing news while the races—and off-track bookmaking—were in progress. It said it felt public hearings would be necessary to determine whether the stations would be permitted to continue on the air.

The commission said it was concerned that such regular broadcasts "may be of aid to illegal gambling activities." It also questioned whether this type of program "may preclude a well-rounded service which broadcasting license holders are obliged to provide.

About half of those cited for hearing on the subject promptly notified FCC that they were curtailing or abandoning regular afternoon racing broadcasts.

Since the license renewing hearings were announced, the Thoroughbred Racing Association headed by Alfred G. Vanderbilt, has adopted resolutions asserting opposition to dissemination of race information to aid book-making.

However, the association said any suppression of racing news, particularly of live broadcasts, and telecasts of feature races, would involve a form of censorship violating traditional press freedom.

The commission has declined comment on the resolution. But it has made pretty clear, in the several piece-meal cases in which racing broadcasts have been dealt with, that it does not regard racing programs illegal in themselves, and that it does not intend to interfere with the occasional spot broadcasting or televising of feature races.

Cold and rain continued to paralyze baseball in the East and a strike threatened to black out a park in the West but followers of the Philadelphia Phillies could find no gloom anywhere today—Curt Simmons is back and he's in the groove.

Simmons Shines In First Start

The hard-throwing, 22-year-old lefthander, three weeks out of the Army, made his first major league start in 19 months yesterday and proceeded to tame the Chicago Cubs with a smooth seven-inning performance.

Manager Eddie Sawyer couldn't hide his pleasure. He said Simmons was able to find his own pace after the Phils treated him to a 4-1 lead.

In the season's first held-on collision of East and West the favored Brooklyn Dodgers strengthened their grip on the National League lead by turning back the St. Louis Cardinals on the masterful clutch pitching of Preacher Roe, 41.

The Dodgers thus increased their lead to a full game and a half over Chicago, beaten by the Phils, and the Cincinnati Reds who fell victim to the New York Giants at Cincinnati, 2-1.

Maglie, a 23-game winner for the senior league champions in 1951, limited the Reds to three hits in outdueling Cincinnati's gangling Ewell Blackwell, and he also singled Arvin Dark home in the ninth. Blackwell pitched a good four-hitter.

In the other National League game, Warren Spahn, the Boston

Trills and chills of the forty-second annual state championship track and field meet in the University of Texas Memorial Stadium at Austin will be aired from 2 until 4:30 p.m. Saturday, May 3, over Radio Station KBST and 18 other Texas State Network stations.

At the time describing the actual events as they unfold in the historic stadium will be a pair of veteran network sports announcers, Charlie Jordan of Fort Worth and Bill Michaels of San Antonio. They will give word pictures of events where state championships are decided, and also a portion of the presentation ceremonies for the victors.

Spliced between reports of the track and field meet will be periodic announcements of results in the state curricular and fine arts contests.

The annual broadcast, a public service feature of the Texas State Network has been carried the past four years. The broadcast of the top Texas high school track and field meet is made with the cooperation of the University of Texas Radio House.

Rupp Is Rapped By NY Jurist After Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Three former University of Kentucky basketball stars accused of fixing games were free on probation today, but Coach Adolph Rupp—the famed Baron of the Bluegrass—felt the full impact of the college court scandal.

General Sessions Judge Saul S. Street castigated Rupp and the University of Kentucky officials as having to share the responsibility for corrupting and demoralizing the three ex-players.

On the recommendation of the district attorney, Street suspended sentences for Alex Gross, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable, all former Olympic performers, but placed them on indefinite probation.

In a withering attack on Kentucky, Rupp and college athletics in general, Street said of the coach who has led Kentucky court teams since 1930:

"The undisputed facts are that he aided and abetted in the immoral subsidization of the players. With his knowledge, the charges in his care were openly exploited, their physical welfare was neglected, and he utterly failed to build their characters or instill any morals—indeed if he did not impair them."

"In view of his conduct, Mr. Rupp's sanctimonious attitude before me becomes ludicrous and comical."

Rupp did not answer the charges immediately. Nor would any officials at the university comment.

Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, University vice president, said he felt the university should have at least a few days to study its position.

Street also accused the college and Rupp of getting the players "tips" after they played well. Beard testified he got $5 or $10 from Rupp if the coach thought he played well. Barnstable said that if the players performed well, they usually received from $10 to $20 each.

Street said the players frequently were lavished with gift certificates amounting to as much as $100, fat bonuses before trips and $50 tips from Rupp and team well wishers after important games.

"I found that intercollegiate basketball and football at the University of Kentucky have been highly systematized and commercialized enterprises; covert subsidization of players, ruthless exploitation of athletes, cribbing at exams, illegal recruiting, a reckless disregard for their physical welfare, matriculation of unqualified students, demoralization of the athletes by the coach, alumni and townspeople and the most flagrant abuse of the 'athletic scholarship' as the judge said.

"The present athletic scandal at Kentucky and the plight of these defendants can be traced directly to the inordinate desire by the trustees and alumni of Kentucky University for prestige and profit from sports."

Fem Fans Will Get Brooches
Artesia's Drillers move into town tonight for their first engagement with the Big Spring Broncos, and a much improved Artesia team it is.

The Drillers, revamped completely from the team that finished in the Longhorn League cellar a year ago, are battling for first place in the circuit standings.

Earl Perry, former WT-NM League standout, is masterminding the Drillers and, from all reports, is doing a good job of it.

Jim Ackers, who tried out for the Steeds last year, is playing centerfield for the Artesia team. He hit a home run against Odessa last night.

Chances are Manager Pat Stasey will see his new hurler, Bert Estrada, to the mound. Estrada started against Vernon last Sunday but was enticed to the Drillers.

If Estrada doesn't hurt, it will probably be Arnis Arancibia, who will be out after his second win.

Juan Vistaur, an outfielder, is due to join the Broncos, probably tomorrow.

Tonight is Scatter-Pin Night at Steer Park, another in the list of promotions planned by the management this season.

Lady fans entering the park will be given brooch pins depicting their favorite players. Two similar nights are planned for the near future.

The brooches are gold-plated and set with rhinestones and other imported stones. Stockings of the depicted players are colored in choice, red, green, black and white. Each pin has a safety clasp.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Doyle White, an automobile dealer in Stephenville by profession whose hobby is baseball, says Buddy Grimes will more than repay the investment in man-hours and money Manager Pat Stasey has made in the youngster, in time.

White probably knows more than any one what Grimes can do in a baseball way. Buddy played Brazos (semi-pro) League ball under White for two seasons.

Buddy was a shortstop at Stephenville. Since that position here is being adequately taken care of by Al Costa, Stasey saw fit to move Grimes into the outer patrol. Buddy had trouble rendezvousing with fly balls his first night. Since that time, he's performed adequately, if not heroically, on the picket line.

In one of the toughest semi-pro leagues in Texas, Grimes hit over 400 in 1950. He slumped to 384 last year, if you care to call a drop that figure a slump.

The Brazos League has as other members Mineral Wells, Weatherford, Dublin, Grand Prairie and, I think, Carswell Army Air Base, Fort Worth.

Stephenville played the title two years ago but Mineral Wells beat White's team out of a game last year. Each of the league's teams play about 75 games a year, so it gets to be work in the latter part of the season there, as in pro ball.

Stasey wants very much for Grimes to stick. He'll help the gate, for one thing. He hails from Pat's old stomping grounds, for another. And, for another, Buddy seems to be a clean-cut young man who wants to go places in his chosen profession.

White is the fellow who almost went in the baseball business, with Pat, and MacAden and others at Sherman-Denison last year. The group bought the Sherman-Denison club in the Big State League.

White found tending to club affairs interfered too much with his work back in Stephenville, though, so he checked out.

CORPUS CHRISTI OFF TO POOR START
George Schepps, who aspired to put his Corpus Christi baseball entry in the Texas League, may not feel that way now.

Gulf Coast League opening this spring drew 1,561 paid admissions. The next night, the turnout dwindled to 439 paid.

The turnout at the Big Spring-San Angelo opening game here was estimated by this writer at 1,500 but Stasey says it was better than 1,800, which beat last year's gate by nearly 500.

I didn't miss it as far as did Al Aton, the ex-president of the club, though. Al, now a resident of Wichita Falls, dropped in for a couple of innings and, true to habit, looked over the turnout.

He allowed as how there was only about 1,200 present. "Well, maybe 1,300 at the most," he added.

As a result, the gates were not so good during the winter tearing-out the grandstand boxes to provide more seating space for the fans.

Hawk Tracksters Looking For Action Within Zone
The Howard County Junior College track and field team is looking for new worlds to conquer, after a trip to Denton last weekend that saw them win fifth place in the Texas Junior College Conference meet.

Navarro wound up first in the show but, for a team that had never before seen competition this year, the Hawks did alright for themselves. They got 14½ points.

There has been talk the Western Zone meet would be run off in Amarillo but nothing has come of it. The Hawks put Amarillo and other Zone teams in the shade at Denton.

Robert Cobb had a fifth in the quarter-mile. McElreath qualified in that event but did not run it. The Hawks' last point was picked up in the mile relay. The Big Springers' combination of Sawyer Kay, Jimmy Jennings, Howard Jones and McElreath placed fourth in that event.

Steers Beaten By Westerner Nine, 17-8
The Lubbock Westerners, the Southern Half baseball title of District 1 already tucked away, scored in every inning but one to defeat the Big Spring Steers, 17-8, here Tuesday afternoon.

Frank Long went all the way on the mound for Big Spring. He gave up a dozen hits, including home runs to Lingle and Standifer.

The Steers shelled Lingle from the mound with a five-run outburst in the sixth but Farris came in to put out the fire in a hurry, causing Calvert Shortes to hit into a double play.

Jimmy Montgomery, Raymond Gilstrap, James Hollis, Ted Scott and Shortes all had two hits for Big Spring.

"The Best Remedy for Spring" Fever Doesn't Come In A Bottle

It came with four wheels, a smooth running engine and a bright shiny paint job. Here is a selection of "sure cures" for your case of Spring Fever. Priced so low they'll amaze you.

1951 STUDEBAKER Land Cruiser. 4-door sedan. Radio, heater, automatic transmission and only 10,000 miles. V-8 motor.

1949 CHEVROLET 2-door sedan. We're putting a brand new motor in this one. A nice car, but it threw a sucker rod. Will be perfect. Radio and heater.

1948 PLYMOUTH 4-door sedan. Not the best in town, but certainly not the highest. Runs good and priced right.

1950 BUICK Super 4-door sedan. Fully equipped. This car will make you feel young again. Stop moaning and start driving. See the country in the spring.

1950 PLYMOUTH Club coupe. It's in the air, spring fever and fishing and romancing. This car will take you where you want to go.

1950 BUICK Special Sedanette. Ride with the comfort that only a BUICK can give. Glide away on that vacation trip without a worry or care.

1947 FORD 4-door sedan. A Georgia peach. Has lived in Georgia until the Air Force caught its owner. Cleanest car of the model in West Texas.

1939 DODGE 2-door sedan. Radio and heater. Will make a really good second car.

Japan Looks To India To Get Trade In Place Of Red China

By SELIG S. HAKRISON
NEW DELHI (AP)—Japan is planning high hopes on economic cooperation with India as the way to counterbalance the taboo on trade with Red China.

Fifteen Tokyo industrialists now finishing an Indian tour under official Japanese auspices will return with glowing reports of raw material and market opportunities here.

Privately, they find plenty of room for improvement in the Indian government's reception to their plans. Most feel Indian officials will eventually modify present policies.

Improvement of rail and port facilities to make way for large-scale exports of Indian iron ore and other resources stands at the top of Japan's demands. Relaxation of import restrictions on Japanese goods comes next.

"Frankly, we wish we could trade with Communist China," mission leader Takashi Izaka told a Delhi press conference. "But it's pretty difficult politically these days. That is why we are here."

India pleads that the country can't afford the 200 billion rupee (42 million dollar) outlay needed to lay new railroad tracks and enlarge harbors.

"Nor can Japan make the investment at this time, Seki said. So both India and Japan are looking hopefully in the direction of the United States Embassy in Delhi for help. Embassy officials view an Export-Import Bank loan as the sole likely foreign backing.

After a century of virtually unchallenged sway over the Indian market, British interests in India have watched the Japanese drive with growing concern. British influence has traditionally been great with the shapers of India's import policies.

Spain Mission To Arabs States Back

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Spain's goodwill mission to sound out the Arab states on a possible Mediterranean route returned last night after a 25-day tour.

The mission headed by Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Artajo officially brought home only cultural accords with Egypt and Syria, but hints in the controlled Spanish press have left no doubt that the mission's lengthy conferences with rulers and officials in each Arab capital were aimed at bigger game.

Editorials in the local press have depicted Spain as the logical "bridgehead" between the Western and Moslem worlds because of the Moors' 8th century occupation of the Iberian Peninsula and because both peoples are "guided by religious ideals and anti-communism."

Two Children Dead

HONG KONG (AP)—Two children died early today in a fire that destroyed 2,000 squatters' huts in Kowloon, mainland section of the Hong Kong colony. Authorities said 8,000 Chinese were left homeless.

"50,000 Miles No Wear" Service!

We Conoco Mileage Merchants are now trained and ready to give your car exactly the same service that helped keep test engines new in the spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous test, six brand-new cars were each driven 50,000 killing miles, to prove the wear-fighting ability of Conoco Super Motor Oil.

Thanks to Conoco's 3-point "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, those engines showed no wear of any consequence, in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

Now you can get Conoco's great "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service to help your engine last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil!

- I'll Drain Out Grit and Sludge While The Engine Is Hot! "Hot-oil" drains every 1,000 miles flush out dirt, acid and contamination before they can do harm, leave the working parts of the engine sparkling clean!
- I'll Recondition All Air and Oil Filters! I clean filter elements ... replace worn-out cartridges ... and record the mileage. I check mileage every time hood is lifted, to make sure these important filters are protecting your engine against dust and grit.
- I'll Fill the Crankcase With Conoco Super Motor Oil! Conoco Super is fortified with additives that curb the dangerous accumulation of dirt and contamination—protect metal surfaces from corrosive combustion acids—fight rust—and OIL-PLATE a film of lubricant right to metal surfaces.
