

UNIDENTIFIED BOY, FLEEING, SLAIN

YOUTH FOUND IN HOME ON CYPRESS STREET MEETS DEATH BY RIFLE BULLET

A round-faced boy, beardless and soft of cheek, lies at the morgue of the Milford Undertaking company, while thousands have passed and looked upon his face in a futile effort to identify him. The youth met instant death when a bullet from a .25-calibre high-powered rifle found its way to a vital spot as he fled from the home of Mrs. H. P. Earnest, 816 Cypress street, yesterday afternoon. In his pockets after he was slain were found various articles of jewelry and other trinkets, taken from Mrs. Earnest's home, and identified as her property. Following the shooting, which occurred about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, E. H. Kelley, 909 Cypress street, surrendered to Justice of the Peace McFatter, and was released on making bond in the sum of $1,000. The fatal shot was fired at a distance of approximately 150 yards, it was shown by testimony offered at an inquest conducted by Justice McFatter.

Opinions Differ.

Some of the former acquaintances of the dead boy, who is about 17 years old, told authorities that his name is J. Williams, and that his home is in Dallas. Others are equally positive that he is Ellis (Buster) Brown, and that he has lived and worked in Ranger and vicinity for the past two years or more. By three persons he is said to be a brother-in-law of J. T. Pinkard, a drifter of Breckenridge.

A woman is the throng viewing the body yesterday afternoon fainting when she caught sight of the dead face, thinking that it was her son. Kelley made no statement following the shooting other than to say that it was his intention when he fired to shoot the young man in the leg, and that he had no intention of killing him. Mr. Kelley is employed by the O'Neil Petroleum company. According to the testimony of Mrs. Earnest, it is an interest conducted by Justice McFatter, she had been visiting at Mr. Kelley's home, and about 4 o'clock Mr. Kelley, who had been out in the yard, came to the window and asked her if there was anyone at her home when she left. She replied that there was not.

Mr. Kelley then told her, she said, that he saw a man on her porch. She then accompanied Mr. Kelley, who carried with him a high-powered rifle to her home. Upon entering her back door they discovered that a screen on a rear window had been cut. They saw evidences of someone having disturbed the contents of drawers, and Mrs. Earnest noted that her pantry door, which she testified she always left open, was closed. Upon stepping to the door and opening it she screamed and jumped back when she saw a young man standing in the pantry.

The intruder bolted out the rear door and made for the alley. She heard Mr. Kelley call upon the fleeing youth to halt, she said, and presently heard a shot, although at this time she could not see the fugitive. Later she walked away from the house a few steps and saw a body lying in the alley in the next block. A search of the boy's pockets disclosed a watch, various small pieces of jewelry and a check from a local check stand.

This proved to have been issued on a black imitation leather grip containing wearing apparel, a "Texas Ranger" pistol and other articles. Initials on the collars of several shirts corresponded with those of a bill fold found in the boy's pockets, and which bore the name of "Bud" Gardner. In a telephone conversation with W. C. Gardner of Breckenridge it was developed that Mr. Gardner's grip, which he described as the one found at the check stand here, containing the articles which he also described in detail, had been stolen last night.

Neighbors in the vicinity of the Earnest home have been on the lookout for the past week for prowlers, several homes in that neighborhood having been entered in the last few days. It is thought that the victim of yesterday's shooting has relatives in Dallas, as he had told the proprietor of a rooming house here on several occasions that he came from that city. To some of his acquaintances, it was said, he was known as J. Williams of Dallas.

SIX SOLDIERS OF CROWN SLAIN

By Associated Press BELFAST, March 19.—In a great ambush by Irish republicans near Kinsdale, Cork county, today, six crown soldiers were killed and five wounded. It was reported the attackers suffered heavy casualties. The battle is still progressing. Great excitement among the populace prevails throughout the district as a result of the battles.

IS ANTI-TRUST ACT IN BAD IN HIGH PLACES?

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Encouragement by the government of permanent intimate combinations or associations in industry under federal supervision is recommended in the final report of the war industries board just completed by E. M. Baruch of New York, who was the board's chairman. The report holds that great public benefit in the way of prices and abundance of goods resulting from economies in production and distribution are capable of being effected through the mutual co-operation of members of industrial groups, as was done during the war, and that the present government policy of enforced isolation and costly competition is not conducive to the general welfare.

Pointing out that the same power born of association that makes for potential benefit may also make for potential injustices, the report recommends that there be created some sort of government agency which shall supervise these associations, both for the purpose of promoting their beneficial possibilities and limiting their opposite potentialities.

"These associations as they stand," says the report, "are capable of carrying out purposes of the greatest public benefit. They can increase the amount of wealth available for the comfort of the people by inaugurating rules designed to eliminate wasteful practices attendant upon multiplicity in styles and types of articles in various trades. They can assist in cultivating the public taste for national types of commodities. By exchange of trade information, extravagant methods of production and distribution can be avoided and production will tend to be localized in places best suited for the various industries."

MEN WANT SECTION HOUSES RENT FREE

CHICAGO, March 19.—Employees of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway today brought their fight before the United States railway labor board for the abolishment of a rental of $5 a month charged by the company to occupants of its section houses. The employees contended that this charge was a violation of the national agreement.

CELINA, Texas, March 19.—W. C. Howard, a ranchman living near here, was probably fatally shot at his home early today, by W. P. Tate, who surrendered to McKinney officers. Tate is to have an examining trial and was released under $2,000 bond. Officers said domestic trouble led to the shooting.

NEW WHITE HOUSE POST.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The post of master of honours has been created. William X. Jackson, negro messenger at the executive mansion since President Roosevelt's time, deputized to the job. Laddie Boy, the President's air-dead, now constitutes the "pack," but an English bull pup is to join it as soon as it is old enough to begin its public career. The pup was born March 4, and also will be presented to Mr. Harding.

EXAMINER DECLARES RANGER BANKS IN SOLVENT CONDITION

"The banks of Ranger are solvent and are in a better condition than many other banks in other sections of the state. I am frankly surprised that any uneasiness should exist as to their condition, more especially since the people at large know that non-interest bearing deposits in state banks are protected against loss by a state guaranty fund."

This statement was made yesterday by Carl Carlson, state bank examiner, who is in Ranger to lend his assistance to the local institutions while the present "scare" concerning their solvency lasts. Mr. Carlson was interviewed at the Guaranty State bank and in regard to its condition he declared that only recently he had made an examination of its affairs and not only found it solvent but in a flourishing condition. "No depositor can possibly lose his money in state banks," he said, "and the rumors that are now going around are very detrimental to both the banks and the city. A weakened bank is a weakened city. With the credit structure paralyzed every industry, no matter how remote from the bank itself, also becomes paralyzed and the result is stagnation which is only overcome by a revival of the lending powers of the banks."

HARDING SAYS WHITE AWARD MUST STAND

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The decision of Chief Justice White in the Panama-Costa Rica boundary dispute, "must be the unalterable position of the United States government, President Harding declared today in replying to a personal appeal from President Porras of Panama.

Although he expressed regret that Panama should feel wounded by the White decision, described in Senator Porras' message as "painful and humiliating," Mr. Harding declined to consider any other basis of settlement and asserted that recent state department messages had his hearty approval.

The exchange between the two executives, made public textually tonight at the White House, was in the nature of an ad interim discussion while the state department awaited Panama's reply to the United States note insisting on the White award as a basis of negotiations. Costa Rica already has accepted the White award and a definite answer from Panama is expected within a short time.

In making his appeal, President Porras recalled the expressions of friendship for Panama given by Mr. Harding last November during his visit there as President-elect, and voiced a hope that the Panama people might not be disappointed in their faith in the new administration at Washington. To this President Harding replied, reiterating his avowals of cordiality but added that the exercise of friendly relations always must be tempered by justice.

The message from President Porras was received yesterday and before replying Mr. Harding held a long conference today with Secretary Hughes of the State Department. It is understood that they not only went over in detail the latest information regarding the differences between the two Central American republics but also discussed the broad questions of policy involved in a final determined insistence on the position taken by this government.

"CHOICY" BURGLAR MAKES BIG HAUL

A burglar entered the Woman's Exchange building on Rusk street Friday night and stole $1,200 worth of ladies' ready-to-wear apparel, the property of Mrs. R. M. Schmuck, who occupied a part of the exchange building with women's clothing.

The fact that the thief, with discrimination rarely found in a man, picked the articles of the more expensive kind and left the cheaper ones has led to the belief that a woman was either the thief or directed the operation. The merchandise consisted of spring suits of blue tinctine and silk and satin dresses.

On the opposite of the building the merchandise of the woman's exchange was not molested. The burglar broke the glass on a rear window and after releasing its catch, raised it and crawled through. Several months ago the leader store, which then occupied the building, was entered through the same window and by the same method.

CHECKS BEING MAILED TO ALL DEPOSITORS IN STATE BANK AT LEERAY

Checks to pay the depositors of the Leeray State bank, which suspended several weeks ago, are now being prepared, according to information received yesterday from the commissioner of banking at Austin by Carl Carlson, bank examiner, who is now in Ranger.

A telegram received by the examiner reads: "Please publish in today's paper that checks are now being prepared to pay Leeray Guaranty bank deposits in full, and will be mailed this week."

"E. D. HALL, Commissioner of Insurance and Banking."

Mr. Carlson has explained that the reason the depositors had not been paid much sooner was mainly because the officers of the bank were making efforts to have it re-opened, and were delaying on that account. Another reason has been that some delay was occasioned by a new administration going in at Austin shortly after the suspension and it had to first get a line on things in general before any action could be taken.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS 17 BILLIONS IN NEXT 30 MONTHS

PITTSBURGH, March 19.—Something like $17,000,000,000 must be provided by the federal government within the next thirty months to meet the excess profits tax, debt-wrapping obligations, Secretary Weeks of the war department said tonight in an address before the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

"This," the secretary said, "is an infinitely greater task than was ever undertaken by any nation in the world in time of peace and there is no one, skilled in financial operations who does not view the prospect with more or less alarm. It would be folly to undertake new commitments if they can be avoided."

The war secretary discussed economy in government operations, recognition of principal activities in Washington and the tariff. He urged repeal of the excess profits tax, declaring that in a period of falling prices it was not an effective tax, as probably would be shown when the returns for this year are published.

RAILROADS SEEK TO SMASH UNIONS WALSH ASSERTS

Attorney Says Pennay and N. Y. C. Dominate Policies of Other Roads.

By Associated Press CHICAGO, March 19.—Charges that the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads dominated the policies of other roads in opposition to national agreements with the labor unions was made today before the railroad labor board by Frank Walsh, attorney for the unions. Walsh drew a statement from T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the association of railroad executives, that "the national board's adjustment means national agreement. He then called attention to copies of the association's correspondence showing that the association's labor committee twice adopted reports favoring national adjustment boards.

On the second day of his questioning of railroad officials Walsh charged that the railroads, knowing that the railroad labor board has no power to enforce its decrees, were trying to smash the unions through public opinion, and were attempting to influence through false paid publicity.

Despite the objections of Judge Barand, chairman of the board, Walsh renewed his reading of publicity matter and questioning of Cuyler concerning it.

LUCK BREAKS AGAINST TWO RANGER BOYS

Coincidence Thursday placed Clarence and Marion Heard in such a position that they spent one night in jail; had to go to Abilene and make appearance bonds and came near having a Federal charge of illicit distilling placed against them.

Their arrest, with that of Henry Clift, followed the discovery Thursday of a whisky still on the Cadizo road, seven miles north of Ranger by state rangers and J. W. Anderson, prohibition officer, after an all-night search had been made, and after a part of the outfit had been tossed over a bluff by Henry Clift and came near striking Ranger Koonsman, who was below. This act led to the arrest of the three men and the discovery of the outfit.

Clift, according to Anderson, has admitted the ownership of the illicit contraption and has absolved the Heard boys from any blame.

His story as told by the prohibition man is that he was just breaking up his camp and his still with the idea in mind of quitting the game and returning to his home in another state. He had not quite finished when he met the Heard boys coming out of the woods. They were walking and were on their way to Ranger from the Texas & Pacific camp at Lacassa. Upon their telling him, their destination he asked them to wait a short time and he would walk in with them. While they waited he returned to his camp and came back with a boiler of his still upon his shoulder and tossed it over the cliff, ignorant of the fact that an officer was anywhere in the neighborhood.

Anderson said the two men would be released after making an appearance bond, which was required by the government. He also said a charge of whisky making would be filed against Clift.

NEFF TELLS WHY HE SAVED NEGRO'S LIFE

AUSTIN, March 19.—Governor Neff today gave out a statement setting forth his reasons for commuting to life imprisonment back with sentence of Floyd Ray, negro, who was sentenced to hang at Wichita Falls for assaulting a white girl. The governor said that from the letters and evidence he had received from the people of Wichita Falls he was convinced that the negro was mentally unbalanced. The negro was to have been hanged yesterday.

A. G. Hervey Suicides After Killing Miss Kathleen Connally.

WAXAHACHIE, March 19.—Miss Kathleen Connally, who was shot last night by A. G. Hervey, died late today. After shooting Miss Connally, Hervey killed himself with the same revolver. Miss Connally was the daughter of former Tax collector R. N. Connally and was well known socially.

Miss Connally was 23 years old and Hervey was 30. No reason for the tragedy has been assigned, but officers said Hervey had been suffering from mental trouble. He was a clerk in a drug store and is survived by a wife and one child. His body was sent to Kerens tonight for burial tomorrow. Funeral arrangements for the body of Miss Connally have not been perfected.

EASTLAND FOLK ADVANCE MONEY FOR SCHOOL USE

Special to the Times. EASTLAND, March 19.—At a well attended meeting at the city hall auditorium Thursday night plans were presented and ways and means devised of continuing the city schools of Eastland for the entire nine months term, despite the $13,000 deficit now facing the board.

After the meeting had been called to order by W. B. Sutton president of the local school board, and the object of the meeting stated, it was turned over to Judge John D. McRae, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who in a few brief remarks, stated that that which was being done was going to be done, but how to do it.

The chairman called on P. S. Wolfe, chairman of the local clearing house, who outlined a plan of having the citizens of Eastland subscribe for $13,000 worth of school warrants, this being the amount needed to complete the year's work. These warrants would be payable in a year and bear 8 per cent interest and would be issued in denominations of $100 to $300, and would be issued directly to teachers, thus complying with the law and making it a valid obligation of the school district. The banks of the city, members of the clearing house, have agreed to carry these warrants for their customers where desired, the customer simply giving his note which is attached to the voucher or warrant.

A committee consisting of J. A. Beard, Clyde Garrett, T. L. Overby, O. F. Chastain and J. D. Hilton was appointed to canvass the city and solicit subscriptions to the plan and that committee is already at work. Judge E. A. Hill having been the first to voluntarily subscribe for $500 worth of the warrants and said he would make it $1,000 if necessary.

ARKANSAS GOVERNOR WONT SEND TROOPS TO PROTECT RAILROAD

LITTLE ROCK, March 19.—Governor McRae this afternoon refused to send Arkansas National guardsmen to protect property of the Missouri & North Arkansas railway.

The governor said his refusal is based upon the premise that the railroad is under the jurisdiction of the federal court. Sheriff Johnson of Boone county, who had been instructed by the governor to protect the railroad company, wired today that he could not find a sufficient number of men to deputize and repeated his request for troops. The sheriff also wired Captain J. Cone, commanding the Pine Bluff machine company detachment, to take his unit to Harrison, and sent a similar request to the office of the adjutant general here.

B. C. Jewell of Chicago, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, urgently asked Governor McRae not to send troops to protect the road's property and in the same message laid responsibility for the present suspension of the road upon Federal Manager Phelan.

"POISON PEN" RUNS DRY.

SHARON, Mass., March 19.—This town was all excitement today as it was expected that the second edition of the "Poison Pen" letters would be issued as stated in the original misive sent out about ten days ago. Townsfolk journeyed early to the post office to get their mail and were more than surprised that there was "nothing doing." It is believed now that the town election is over and a new board of selectmen is in power, that no more letters will get into the mail.

HUGE HEN HATCHES 10,000 EGGS AT ONE SITTING; 6,500 OFF TODAY

Six thousand five hundred baby chicks hatched at one sitting! And three thousand five hundred more come off in a few days! Ten thousand eggs under one hen! And every chick of 'em White Leghorn! That's only part of what's going on at the dog and poultry farm of Lackland Brothers at the edge of Ranger town just off the Tiffin highway.

Tomorrow the Lackland boys and Superintendent Murray will carefully deposit twenty-five hundred fluffy baby chicks in ventilated paper boxes and mail them, parcel post, to points in Kansas. Some four thousand others will be distributed to chicken fanciers throughout the southwest.

Visitors to the Lackland farm will find much of interest. Perhaps the most novel sight is the thousands of eggs, all of a uniform size and whiteness, their shells cracking and falling asunder, liberating the tiny, helpless chicks. But they are not helpless for long. A few moments of labored breathing, a few kicks and struggles, and the fragments which formed their prison are pushed aside and the youngsters drop to the floor of their comfortably-heated home, their downy coats dried by the warm air. Few of them die, for this mechanical mother never makes a mistake. She never leaves them at the wrong time to become a prey to cold air currents and marauding night prowlers.

An ingenious automatic heating system assures just the proper degree of heat at all times to hatch all the thousands of eggs uniformly and on the same day. To such a degree of perfection has the heating system been brought that when the thermometer registers the least bit too hot the fire goes out and when the temperature drops below what is required to carry on the hatching process it is automatically lighted again.

Although only four months have elapsed since the Lackland brothers began the establishment of a chicken farm on a large scale, they already have thousands of white fowls quartered in breeding pens and enclosed yards, to say nothing of scores of prize-winning Airedale terriers and an interesting display of Persian cats. An air of expectancy was manifest among the managers of the farm yesterday, and upon inquiry it was disclosed that close watch was being kept over the home of an Airedale bitch near the big chicken hatchery, and preparations were being made to welcome a number of additions to the Airedale family.

ALL PAGAN PRAYERS INSPIRED BY FEAR

To the pagan mind everything that moves without the agency of known force is supposed to have life, consciousness and autonomy. Every phenomenon that he doesn't understand is ascribed to mbuini (mystery) but not to a deity, supreme or supernatural.

No pagan prayer is inspired by love, reverence or gratitude nor addressed to a deity. No pagan asks for grace or blessings from any source. Fear alone inspires his prayers, and they are always addressed to the thing he fears.

He prays to the approaching storm, but not to the power that rules the storm; he prays to the wind that threatens to wreck his house; to the waves that threaten to capsize his canoe; to the thunder that he hears and believes to be the means of destruction; he prays to a snake or a crocodile as the price of his safety; but all these acts are done in the same manner and spirit as he would deal with other men.

sea, of battles against tremendous odds and of toying with human lives will welcome the production with open arms.
 The plot of "Dead Men Tell No Tales" is dramatic in the extreme, with suspense, counterplot and love interest. It would be melodramatic if not for the fact that such things did actually happen when all the world was seized with the gold madness.

LAMB.

"Pink Tights" is to be shown at the Lamb theatre Sunday and patrons of that playhouse may expect to laugh heartily as well as to enjoy some exciting drama.
 It is the romance of the big show, in which Gladys Walton and Jack Perrin are co-featured in the respective roles of the circus performer and the parson. It is essentially a drama of thrills and action, yet the author has provided an abundance of comedy relief, and the casting director at Universal City has seen to it that the principal comedy roles are in able hands.

The chief comedy roles are those of Mrs. Shamfeller, the leader of the Ladies' Aid society, who heads the movement to keep the circus out of town; Mrs. Bump, another scandal monger of puritanical cast, and Smiley Dold, the village undertaker who can see virtue in nothing that does not send business in his direction.

To portray these roles the director was fortunate enough to have the services of Rosa Gore, Dorothea Wolbert and Dan Crimmins, a trio of character funmakers who can always be depended upon for hilarious results. Each of these three comedy experts has had years of experience on the legitimate stage as well as on the screen, although this is the first time all three of them have had an opportunity to combine their skill of producing laughter.

MAJESTIC.
 The days of the gold rush—to California, to Alaska, to Australia—with their losing of human passions and weaknesses, their return to the primitive ways of living and fighting, form one of the most absorbing and dramatic periods in recent history. For most of the present generation only a word picture of that era is vouchsafed.
 The real spirit of adventure and hectic atmosphere of the gold days is to be brought back, however, in all their original colors, with all the glamor which surrounded them. "Dead Men Tell No Tales," a Vitaphone-Tom Terriss Special Production of the famous novel by E. W. Hornung, is to resurrect these thrilling times for the screen. The production, with an all-star cast, is to be shown at the Majestic theatre Sunday and Monday.
 Besides its historical interest, the picture is by far the most vivid, most fascinating tale of adventure which has made its appearance on the screen for some time. Those who respond with quickened pulses—and who does not?—to swashbuckling stories of the current feature at the Temple beginning today. The Temple has secured for its patrons one of the big photo-productions of the year—"Neptune's Bride," written and produced by Captain Leslie T. Peacock, who is also responsible for "Neptune's Daughter," in which Annette Kellerman made herself famous on the screen.

 "Neptune's Bride" features "Pluvia," the most perfectly formed girl in the world. With her will be seen several hundred beautiful and shapely maidens who portray mermaids and wood nymphs. The entire production was filmed on the shores of the Pacific ocean and the underwater scenes are said to be unequalled by anything ever presented along that line.

The theme of the story deals with "Pluvia," Queen of Neptune, who desires to see how mortals live and love. How she escapes from the depths of the sea, reaches dry land, and how she camouflages her golden fish tail with modern clothing, seeks adventure among the guests of a fashionable seaside resort, and how she finally meets the mortal of her heart, and arranges to remain ashore with him, furnishes one of the most entertaining and novel features shown in a long, long time.

DENISON MAN ENLISTS AID OF LOCAL POLICE TO AVOID BLOODSHED

A young man over in Denison, Texas, believes in preparedness. Some rude man in Ranger, it seems, has been threatening to take his life's blood.
 Taking no chances on the threat being made good the man on the other side of the state telephoned the local police station last night to keep an eye on the Ranger man and when he started toward Denison just to let him know. He did not say whether he would be in Denison when the Ranger man arrived.

FORGET THE FILTH.

The past few days have witnessed another debauch of lurid reporting of the sordid details of the waywardness of a woman and the weakness of a man.

Let us hope we have seen the last of this disgusting slush, for a time, at least.

In the great state of Texas there is an abundance of sunshine and wholesome fresh air; there is much to furnish healthy stimulation to the most jaded appetite if one will but look for it.

The thrill that comes from the reading of such maunderings as have burdened the press of the country the past ten days is not a healthy one. It leaves a bad taste in the mouth, contrast it with the sight of "cattle upon a thousand hills," only a few short miles from Ranger.

Compare it with the thrill that comes with a glimpse of the blue-green waters of the Gulf of Mexico, curving away to the horizon, a sea-way for ships from other lands bringing their stores of wealth in exchange for the products of Texas' broad acres.

Look upon the towering spires of industry in Texas' great manufacturing centers; the rolling fields where toil the sons of earth whose sturdy backs, like Atlas, lighten the burdens of all mankind.

Regale yourself with the thrill that comes with the pungent smell of Texas oil, the vital fluid of the world's commerce.

Think on these things; fill your lungs with the invigorating ozone of the big outdoors.

Bathe yourself in the energizing flood of sunshine in the land where Texas skies are smiling and purge your brain of the nauseating floating in the wake of humanity's perverted derelicts.

Forget it!

THAT'S NO WAY TO USE IT.

A Denver merchant had a pint of whisky in his safe and the burglar took that and left untouched $2,000 in money. Doesn't this suggest a useful function for whisky? A protector of money?—Houston Post.

A STRANGER IN RANGER

The old cowman bumps into some stuff in regard to the ways of "wimmin" and the world that's new to him.

We found the Kansas cowman yesterday afternoon taking his ease in the spacious lobby of the Gholson hotel. In deference to a snappy looking woman he was talking to when he hove in sight he had discarded his jaw-full of fine cut. When she rose and shook his knotty hand and left him he made a dive for his pistol pocket.

"I shore appreciates listenin' to one of these here modern wimmin onces in a while," he volunteered as we took the chair the woman had vacated, "but my mouth was gittin' dry as a steer's gullet at brandin' time. That there woman now—"

He interrupted himself long enough to tile his head back and deposit a generous wad of fine cut in the south side of his face.

"That there woman's a keen one. She's some kind of special investigator or other. Some sort of a high-brow society pays her for galavatin' around over the country to round up ideas as to what's back of the general unrest and what they call this here unimrest wave stuff. She's some detective too and, is uncommon wise to the ways of white-slavers and girls—as strays from the straight and narrow and all that kind of business.

"She detected a feller once that was wanted for misleadin' a girl just by droppin' somethin' in his lap. Right funny, wasn't it?"

"But this here feller was pirutin' around in wimmin's clo'es, and she visits him at his boardin' house one evenin'."

"He was puttin' up to be a preacher. Pears like she chewed the rag with him a few minutes and when she gets him just right she tosses him a book, at the same time tellin' him it's somethin' he might like to read.

"Well, sir, she had him figured out all right. That feller, 'stead of spreadin' his knees apart so's his skirt'd ketch the durned thing, claps 'em together. So she calls the police and has the gentleman hog-tied purty as you please in a pair of minutes. That there's a new one on me.

"An' she's picked up a passel o' ideas about what's the matter with folks in general. Affairs liek this here Hamon case, f'rinstance.

"She says wimmin's as much to blame as men, an' if a girl with ordinary brains don't use 'em any better than to try an' put over the same thing wimmin's been failin' at since the days of Adam it ain't because the proposition ain't had plenty of advertisin'. An' she says the men's got the idea, too, that the other feller might get caught up with but they'll get by some way.

"This woman tells me that it ain't money that's the root of all evil these days, but that the world's turned back

FT. WORTH HERE TODAY FOR GAME WITH COLUMBUS

Today at 3 o'clock the Columbus Senators hook up with the Fort Worth Panthers in what should prove to be a mighty interesting battle. The Panthers, chesty champions of Dixie, have been worsted in their pre-season games to date, but they made a good fight against the Reds over at Cisco Thursday and Friday, and they are emphatic in the declaration that they intend to win a ball game. Several of last year's wrecking crew are in the Fort Worth lineup.

Columbus will be somewhat handicapped through the absence of DeFate, the flashy shortfielder, who was hurt in practice Friday, but Buck Herzog is expected to break into the fray for the first time, and Rowland probably will start his pitching ace, Danforth and Sherman, onto the mound. That means the Cats will have to step if they make good their intention to cop the combat.

The grounds should be in fine condition after yesterday's downpour and a day of rest.

HOT ONE PUTS DEFEAT IN BED FOR FEW DAYS

Tony Defate, the fast shortstop of the Senators, will be out of the exhibition games for several days as the result of an injury received Friday in the game at Abilene. He is now in the Clinical hospital under a physician's care.

During the game at Abilene Defate was struck by a batted ball, which missed his hands. Today inflammation set up and he was placed in the hospital where it is thought he will be confined for several days.

Rowland does not know yet who will work at short, however, it will probably be Boll, since Herzog will be filling the second base position.

REDS WIN OVER SOX IN BIG PITCHERS' BATTLE

FORT WORTH, March 19.—Using two veteran pitchers while the Sox depended upon recruits for the box work, the Cincinnati Reds won the first of a two-game series at Panther park Saturday afternoon 7 to 3. Rixey and Lange held the Sox batters to six scattered hits. McSweeney and Fenner were touched for nine safeties, including six doubles and a mighty circuit slam by Bressler.

HE SOUGHT TO LAND A THIEF AND FINDS HIMSELF IN LIMBO

C. H. Alexander is in the city jail. While he came to the police station voluntarily, he did not come to go to jail. Indeed, no! He came to tell a weird tale of how his room at the Cinger rooming house had been entered and some clothing stolen. But even as he told the tale the watchful eye of another was on him and when he had finished, the other man insisted that he be searched. He was. Several things are said to have been found in his possession that he could not account for having, among them being the guard from a watch chain of his accuser. Another was a gold knife which a woman also in the police station at the time claimed as her property.

It is the theory of the police that Alexander wanted to get out of town without suspicion attaching to him in any way and he framed up the story of being robbed. In it he included the belief that the man he thought had stolen his stuff had gone to Amarillo, and said that he believed that he would get out a warrant and go after him.

He was just on the eve of swearing out a warrant before a justice of the peace for the man supposed to be in the West Texas city. It was at this stage that his hand was called by the other man.

This theory is strengthened by the fact, police say, that when he went to the police station to tell his tale he asked the landlady of the Cinger rooms to accompany him, which she did.

MANUFACTURING RIFLES.

Nine hundred and ninety-seven cutting tools alone are required in manufacturing a rifle. The twist drill is one of the busiest of these. To supply 1,000,000 rifles 94,000,000 holes must be drilled.

We Are Getting Ready for a Real Summer

Have overhauled our ice machine completely, and next in line comes our coolers. This is to assure the people of Ranger fresh, clean and sweet meats this summer in spite of Old King Sol returning to his mighty throne.

Do You Know— And Now—that yesterday and day before— days that the thermometer stood 90 degrees in the shade, humid and sultry, that our coolers held a flat temperature 34 and 30 degrees respectively? That's why our meats are always good. That's why you are never worried about tainted meats when you buy from us. And the thorough chilling of our meats is what makes them so tender—is why they hold their wholesome juiciness.

We carry a complete line of fresh vegetables, shipped direct from the truck gardens of South Texas, and you may put them on your table as fresh as if the morning dew were still on them.

This complete equipment, together with our known quality goods and our unexcelled service, is why we are gaining in popularity each day.

"The Place Where You Will Eventually Trade"

500 CLUB ENTERTAINS.
Mrs. F. W. Hawley entertained at Mrs. J. B. Haden's yesterday, the 500 club and a number of outside guests. Three large rooms were thrown together and two tables placed in each room. Potted plants were arranged throughout the rooms, wrapped in Ireland green, tied with white. The centerpiece on the dining table was a flower pot with a plant formed of a large Irish flag with several small flags surrounding it.

The table was further decorated with shamrock leaves and a frieze of green and white paper with Irish designs. Each window boasted a shamrock, as well as the guest chamber, bed and the side board.

The score cards carried out the color scheme of white with groups of shamrocks, tied to which was a green punch.

The guests enjoyed two hours of play, when the gifts were awarded. The prizes were wrapped in green tied with white or white tied with green. The first prize for the club was awarded to Mrs. Parr; the consolation prize to Mrs. Langston. The visitors' first prize went to Mrs. Kendrick, the consolation to Mrs. Streif. The grand prize of the month went to Mrs. Bishop.

The refreshments were as delicious as the sight of them would indicate. On each plate reposed a liberal helping of brick ice cream, a large slice of angel food cake, a white cup tied with green ribbon filled with salted almonds. A little flag of Ireland floated from the cake. This flag, with a larger flag, a shamrock and the tiny cup made dainty souvenirs. Not even the delicious coffee was able to make one forget the remembrances.

Those present as visitors were: Mesdames M. O. Burt, Virgil Williams, H. J. Hill, W. P. Strawbridge, H. K. Pantan, B. B. Liles, H. J. Streif, Robert Kendrick, J. Gibson, E. M. Munnell, E. M. Humes and J. M. Stucki. Members present were Mesdames W. A. Peltrey, B. E. Langston, H. E. Munnell, D. K. Lener, J. A. Martin, Ira Nourse, Leo Parr, H. D. Durst, Harold Whitbeck, S. W. Bobo, H. D. Bishop, P. F. Davis with Mesdames Haden and Hawley.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY HOSTESSES
Mrs. S. A. Conway and Mrs. Leo Parr were hostesses to many friends at St. Patrick's day at Mrs. Parr's home. The guests arrived between the hours of 2:30 and 2:45. After a few minutes of making new acquaintances the score cards were passed. The cards were dainty with a picture of an Irish castle with a group of shamrock leaves beneath, with green pencils tied with a white bow to a buttonhole bouquet of sweet peas and freesias. To those who do not play bridge the flowers were given.

Had a guest present been prone to have forgotten the day, they would have, on entering the home, exclaimed "Ah, St. Patrick's day!" The three rooms opening into each other were tastefully decorated with green and white. From the chandelier near the ceiling ran streamers to each corner and center of each wall, alternating in color. The tapestries were appliqued with shamrock; on the bed of the guest chamber, one could see a large shamrock beneath the lace spread; there was a similar arrangement at the dining room table, covered with a battenburg bench cloth. The potted plants were wrapped in green, sealed with small shamrocks and tied with white ribbon.

The guests on finding partners and tables saw the daintiest dollops of green and white, holding the table markers of green.

For two hours the players were busy. At the close of that time the first prize was given to Mrs. E. J. Maher, and the consolation prize to Mrs. R. G. Stockman.

Every guest felt she had drawn a prize when the refreshments were served. The ice cream of green and white was on a layer of delicious cake, on the brick cream was a mound of whipped cream, tipped with green, served with coffee. Then came the favors: "St. Patrick's" for partners, an Irish lassie with golden lyres for opponents at each table. These favors contained nuts and candy. The mints of white and green proved to be as pleasing to the taste as the other delicacies. Each guest extended sympathy to Mrs. Burden. Because her train was so late, she failed to get there also to Mrs. Burt, who was out of town, as well as to Mrs. M. O. Burt and Mrs. Phillips who did not come.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality were: Mesdames Hagaman, E. Munnell, J. S. Hamilton, Roy Smith, G. C. Barclay, E. J. Maher, J. T. Gullihar, A. N. Harkrider, G. W. Bohning, R. G. Stockman, C. H. Moffitt, J. B. Haden, V. Wakefield, J. M. Stucki, T. L. Lauderdale, F. W. Hawley, A. E. Ernest, F. T. Branney, D. M. Steele, Karl Jones, Chas. Conley, E. B. Reid, C. O. Terrell, H. B. Gholson, E. J. Barnes, N. M. French, F. F. Liles, H. E. Munnell, A. H. Kinard, M. K. Collier, C. J. Deitrieth, C. C. Craig, L. R. Lay, S. D. Terrell, R. C. McCoy, J. B. Stockable, W. H. Smith and Mrs. Hewitt, the mother of Mrs. Conway.

Christian Church Completed Tomorrow.
The Christian church, which is being built on West Main near the intersection of Marston street, will be completed tomorrow and the first services will be held next Sunday, which is Easter. A piano, song books, benches and other necessary equipment have already been received. This announcement was made yesterday by J. G. Winsett, state evangelist, who is here helping to get the church started in its new building.

The first service will be preached by J. B. Holmes, superintendent of state missions.

In addition to both morning and evening services the regular Sunday program of the church will be carried out, which includes Sunday school at 10 a. m.

SPOKANE ASPIRES TO BE CAPITAL OF NEW STATE

By Associated Press
 SPOKANE, Wash., March 19.—Northern Idaho residents who are sponsoring the formation of the new state of "Lincoln," which would comprise ten counties in the north of Idaho, and part of western Montana and eastern Washington, are to raise a fund which will be used in furthering the plan, it was stated here today by leaders of the movement. The campaign will be started in a few weeks and will be carried on two years in the state.

The Idaho legislature recently passed favorably on a scheme to form a new state with Spokane as the capital.

An Illinois man recently lost a fine Holstein heifer and offered as a reward for its return one good drink of whisky. The next day twelve heifers were brought in.—Colorado paper.

OVER TWO HUNDRED MILES COUNTY ROAD READY FOR HARD SURFACING NOW

County roads to the extent of 208 miles are now ready for the hard surface, according to W. R. Fleming, who last night returned from a three-day inspection trip over the entire system. The road inspected extends from Desdemona to Olden by the way of Carbon, Gorman, Romney and Cisco. These highways, Mr. Fleming said, are now ready for the hard surface which he will start applying next week. At that time, he said, five rock crushers would be running on sites which he selected on the trip.

These crushers are already secured. stretch is also ready for the crushed stone, which will be applied in a short time. In discussing the road work he asserted that he is working 2,000 men in fourteen camps and is making steady progress towards good roads in Eastland county.

Bigger Broilers and Better Pullets

PLUMP, tender, juicy broilers and vigorous, well developed pullets are profit earners. Thin, poorly feathered birds are not.

Profitable development cannot be made with improper feed. Put your pullets and cockrels in the profit column by using which supply a perfectly balanced ration for making blood, nerves, bones, feathers and flesh. Per pound of gain Purina Chows are cheapest.

Purina Hen Chow and Purina Chicken Chowder
