

Perano Captured By Eighth Army

Nazi Tank And Infantry Attack Repelled By Reds

By JAMES M. LONG
LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 21 (AP)—Red army troops crumpled a massed German tank and infantry attack in bitter fighting east of Zhitomir yesterday, slaughtering 1,000 nazis, overran German defense positions to widen their newly-won bridgehead at Cherkasi, and gained in their drive toward the manganese center of Nikopol, Moscow announced early today.

The Russian midnight bulletin said a total of 4,000 Germans were killed in fighting which saw Soviet troops beat back German counter-attacks at two other main points and gain ground in the lower Pripet river area west of Chernigov, and to the north in the Rechitsa region west of almost-encircled Gomel. In the Rechitsa area alone 1,200 Germans were killed as the Russians went over to the attack after blasing nine consecutive nazi counter-attacks. Especially powerful nazi tank and infantry attacks were launched in the area of Korostyshev, 15 miles east of the strategic rail and highway junction of Zhitomir which the Germans won back yesterday, but these were repulsed with "considerable losses" to German manpower and equipment, the Soviet communique announced tonight.

The Germans, seeking to develop the recapture of Zhitomir, the greatest Russian setback of the 1943 campaign, obviously were throwing terrific strength into the effort, and the bulletin's reference to this fighting as being in "the area of Korostyshev" may indicate the nazis have re-won considerable territory east of Zhitomir.

In addition to the Zhitomir sector, the Germans unleashed counterattacks to the north in the Ovruch sector near the Pripet marshes and to the southeast in the Cherkasi region, the Soviet army newspaper Red Star disclosed in Moscow.

The daily bulletin, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said both the Zhitomir and Cherkasi thrusts were repulsed. Although the communique was silent on the Ovruch sector, Red Star said this nazi assault also was repelled.

The Red army's gains, as listed in the Moscow communique, were at Cherkasi, southwest of Dnepropetrovsk where the Russians are driving toward the manganese center of Nikopol; in the lower Pripet river area west of Chernigov, and to the north in the Rechitsa region west of almost-encircled Gomel.

Production Of Arms Reported Up In October

Aircraft Output Reaches Record Total Of 8,362

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Arms production in October scored its biggest gain since April, Donald M. Nelson reported today, with aircraft output reaching a record-smashing total of 8,362 planes. Measured by dollar value, October production advanced five per cent over September.

"Manpower, occasional shortages of material, and design changes gave less trouble than in recent months," the War Production Board chairman said in his 16th monthly report.

"Better Management, better effort by labor, better trained workers—in a word, 'know-how'—can be seen clearly in last month's performance."

While overall production showed substantial gains, there was only a one per cent rise in gun output, which is a stable program, and there was a decline in combat and motor vehicles which Nelson said is "according to plan."

The expanding programs—those getting the most pressure for reasons of military strategy—showed these production tallies:

Aircraft, up 10 per cent in number, nine per cent in weight and 10 per cent in value.

Ships, up five per cent (in terms of construction put in place).

Ammunition, up 11 per cent.

Communication equipment, including radar, up nine per cent.

The WPB munitions index gained 29 points over September's 30 points over March. The index, which takes arms production in the pre-Pearl Harbor month of November, 1941, as 100, now stands at 648. In other words, armament output is nearly 6 1/2 times as great as when the country went to war.

The index revealed that September production was better than was reported a month ago. Whereas the last report showed only a 1-point gain in September over August, figures revised on the basis of latter reports showed a 9-point climb.

Of the four major "bottleneck" items now worrying WPB—landing craft, trucks, electronics and heavy-duty tires—only two were mentioned in the index. The automotive vehicle and tractor program advanced 6 per cent, while "ground electronic equipment" and "airborne signal equipment" both moved ahead of September.

Landing craft production was not reported, presumably for reasons of military security.

Tanker deliveries jumped to 35, 13 more than in September, while cargo vessels gained six per cent and combat and other vessels four per cent. The Liberty ship schedule is being trimmed to make shipways available for the faster, bigger Victory ships.

Combat vehicles dropped off as planned, declining 11 per cent, with tanks down the most.

Gain Threatens Important Sector Of German Line

By NOLAND NORGAARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Breaking through German forward positions in the first heavy fighting on the Italian front in recent days, the British Eighth army lunged forward five miles to capture Perano, it was announced today, thereby threatening an important inland sector of the nazis' heavily fortified line behind the Sangro river.

The Fifth army also made some gains above Venafro along the northern sector of its front.

The capture of Perano put the troops of General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery within less than a mile of the only bridge crossing the Sangro river between the coastal road and a point ten miles from the Adriatic.

All gains were made against sharp opposition. Big guns on both sides kept the Fifth army front ablaze. Heavy rains, deep mud and swirling floods impeded all operations.

The storm of the past week washed out hopes of an Allied entry into Rome at any time in the near future, particularly in view of the time that has been given the Germans to deepen their defenses in the present winter line to such an extent that swift exploitation of a breakthrough at any point would be difficult if not impossible.

Air operations again were held to a minimum by bad weather, but there were a few good periods which gave fighters the opportunity to go after communications in Italy and Yugoslavia.

Near Cassino north of the Mignano front American A-36 Invaders bombed a bridge. German troops quartered in Barrea, northeast of Isernia, were strafed by Warhawks and Kittyhawks. American Warhawks destroyed four German vehicles near the Adriatic port of Spil and in the same area Spitfires damaged a locomotive and rolling stock.

On Thursday night Royal Air Force bombers bombed Lanciano, 20 miles south of Pescara on the Adriatic.

Three Allied planes failed to return and two enemy planes were destroyed.

Democrats To Open Campaign On January 22

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The democratic party will open its 1944 campaign here Jan. 22 with a meeting of its national committee to select a time and place for the presidential nominating convention and with one or more "Jackson Day" dinners at which party spokesmen are expected to provide "the answers to a lot of questions," said National Chairman Frank C. Walker in a formal announcement today.

But neither he nor any other party official would venture a prediction that an answer would be forthcoming to the question: "Will President Roosevelt be a fourth term candidate?"

Secretary George E. Allen has sent out notices for the national committee at the Mayflower hotel.

"The meeting," said the notice, "will be coordinated with the inauguration of the Jackson Day dinners which the national committeemen will attend, and in the speeches to be made on this occasion may be heard the answers to a lot of questions."

"To this extent, Jan. 22 may be taken as the opening of the 1944 campaign which, so far as the democrats are concerned, has been delayed to avoid the infusion of politics into the war situation."

Ambrose O'Connell, vice chairman of the committee, interpreted the answers-to-questions phrase as meaning the speakers will probably have something to say about an accumulation of republican charges and GOP expressions of confidence stemming from victories in off-year elections.

The republican national committee has called a meeting in Chicago Jan. 10-11 to pick a convention site and date.

The democrats are expected to pick a much later date than the republicans, especially if the President runs again. Most party spokesmen believe he will.

Mr. Roosevelt usually has been the chief speaker at Jackson Day dinners here.

Citizens Will Help In Salvation Army Drive For Funds

At least a half-hundred business men are scheduled to take the field Tuesday in a brief but extensive canvass of the city in behalf of the Salvation Army's annual fund appeal.

A preliminary breakfast session will be held at the Army Citadel, Fourth and Aylford streets, at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, and each of the members of the Army advisory council are to have four other volunteer canvassers with him. These groups will make up the force hoping to raise $2,500 within two days' time.

The Army, whose work in a religious field and in caring for the indigent is continuing at the same pace as ever, is asking for one of the smallest sums it has ever asked for in Big Spring. R. R. McEwen, who is heading up the fund campaign, expressed confidence that the money would be quickly forthcoming. He is joined on the advisory council by R. T. Piner, Cliff Wiley, G. H. Hayward, J. H. Greene, R. W. Whipkey, W. C. Blankenship, Ira Driver, J. L. LeBleu, Thos. J. Coffee, M. C. Grigsby and H. B. Reagan.

McEwen urged all of these to be present Tuesday morning, and to have their assistants (four each) with them.

GETS AIR MEDAL
SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific, has awarded the Air Medal to Capt. Willard A. Nichols, Ft. Bliss Station Hospital, Tex.

Australians Move Slowly Against Entrenched Japs

By WILLIAM F. BONI
SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Sunday, Nov. 21 (AP)—Tank-paced Australian soldiers are continuing to move slowly ahead against Japanese entrenched in hilly country around Sattelberg on the Huon peninsula of northeastern New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's spokesman said today.

(Tokyo had broadcast claims that the tank attack was repelled.)

Previously, the Aussies in their jungle drive northwest of Finshafen to Sattelberg, which overlooks the allies' positions because the Japanese are on a plateau, had been reported within a mile of their objective. The amounts of the latest gains were not specified.

In addition to the light tanks, the Australians drew support for the second straight day from bombing and strafing planes.

Mitchells and Marauders ranged north of Sattelberg along the coast, concentrating bombs and machinegun fire on enemy supply dumps. On Friday morning, attack planes swept the same sector as well as Japanese camp areas slightly southwest of Sattelberg village.

Slavs Battle For Islands

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Yugoslav partisans under Gen. Josip Broz (Tito) grappled desperately with the Germans tonight for the islands of Krk and Cres, which command the approaches to Fiume through which Hitler has been pouring reinforcements in the long, costly effort to beat down the ever-increasing menace to his southeastern Europe flank.

Nazi sea-borne troops gained initial lodgements on both islands and heavy but as yet indecisive fighting erupted.

This was the most important of half a dozen Yugoslav fighting fronts. In central Bosnia the partisans were pushed back slightly, but in the Croatian coastal area they threw back the nazis.

OPA May Lose Coal And Oil

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The administration's price control machinery collided with another challenge today—a threat to regulate coal and oil from OPA jurisdictions—as President Roosevelt's stalwarts waged an apparently losing battle to save the consumer subsidy program.

With the subsidy showdown due Monday in the house, a bloc of lawmakers from coal and oil producing states announced that 209 signatures—just nine short of the required 218—had been collected on a petition to force action on their proposal.

Turkish Cabinet In Secret Session

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Paris radio said tonight the Turkish cabinet "has met in secret session" but that no communique had been issued concerning the meeting.

The broadcast did not give the time of the meeting.

Mystery Explosion In London Causes Talk Of "Secret Weapon"

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A mystery explosion wrecked a five-story building in London's night club belt of Soho last night and for a while had Londoners discussing the possibility that the Germans had employed one of their off-theoretical "secret weapons."

During the day enough evidence was accumulated to dispel the supposition that a noiseless invisible projectile might have caused the blast, or that it was due to any kind of enemy action, but the exact cause nevertheless still was obscure tonight.

The explosion—London's third mysterious blast in a week—knocked out the walls of a building on a narrow street where the sales rooms of most major film companies are situated and shattered windows for a quarter of a mile around.

One report was that film had caught fire in the cutting room of a company which makes documentary movies for the ministry of information. Another was that the blast might have been caused by a faulty gas main—the reason which has been attributed unofficially for the two other recent explosions.

Until it developed that the explosion was probably due to some such cause as these, the barber-shop quartermasters of London's serial warfare league kicked around the idea that a high trajectory rocket shell whose propellant was exhausted might have dropped on Soho without warning eye or ear, or that a silent glider bomb did the damage.

Almen said even if a plane had been flying in the stratosphere over London it would have been picked up by radio locators.

Authorities made no announcement as to loss of life or injuries from the blast.

French Act On Lebanese Issue

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—French authorities in Algiers, faced with the possibility the British might have to take control of Lebanon, promised speedy settlement to-night of their conflict with the Lebanese over that little republic's independence.

The Morocco radio broadcast a communique in which the French Committee of Liberation said it now was able to define its position with a view to speedily settling the dispute arising from the arrest last week of Lebanese officials after the chamber of deputies had voted to throw off French control granted through a league of nations mandate.

Meanwhile, conflicting views on the gravity of the situation were expressed by British and French representatives at Cairo.

"The tension in Lebanon hasn't relaxed, a serious situation still exists," said Robert G. Casey, British minister to the Middle East, after a visit to the Lebanese capital of Beirut.

On the other hand, General Georges Catroux, French committee representative sent to intervene in the troubled Arab state, told correspondents in an interview: "You can see it is calm now. There has been much inexact news sent out of here about the revolt."

Heavy Bombers Blast German Gas Centers

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—British heavy bombers, striking for the third time in three nights at the sources of vast quantities of Germany's war chemicals and poison gases, last night pounded Leverkusen, an industrial suburb of Cologne, and today lighter Allied planes followed up with a daylight foray against other targets.

The principal goal for the RAF last night was a group of plants belonging to the great I. G. Farbenindustrie chemical trust, known to produce ingredients used in the production of poison gas although not the gas itself.

It was estimated unofficially that as much as 1,000 tons of bombs may have been dropped on this Rhineland town and other objectives in western Germany during the night's operations.

Unfavorable weather kept the crews of the big bombers from appraising the damage they wrought, but the red glow they saw on the clouds told a story of fires and havoc below.

Without listing specific targets, a British air ministry communique describing today's daylight attacks said:

"Fighter bombers escorted by fighters bombed military objectives in northern France. An armed tanker also was attacked off Gravelines (France) and blown up x x x."

Mosquito bombers ranging the channel shot down a JU-290 off Brittany, and Beaufighters shot down an FW-200 over the Bay of Biscay.

The daylight operations were made without loss.

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle

Another drive is just about gone. Saturday evening Pat Kenney, chairman, announced that the National War Fund quota for Howard county had been reached, but not until after he and other helpers had done some frantic last-minute telephoning to pull in those last few dollars. Kenney really staved at his job until success finally came. It could be, did he not insist otherwise, somewhat of a personal triumph for him—and for his top workers.

Knowing how hard leaders always have to work on these campaigns, we are at loss to see how any person can get mad when someone simply asks them for a gift.

A minor incident last week was the arrest of three youngsters in connection with loss of a car and some checking irregularities. We mention this to remind the public that our juvenile problem is still with us—that we have done precious little toward solving it—that someday it is going to break loose in our faces again, and we will profess to be surprised and shocked.

Incidentally, stress will be placed on the juvenile situation here this week when scores of peace officers from Dallas to El Paso congregate here for a one-day FBI

City Revival Starts Today

Today marks the beginning of the annual city-wide revival meeting with churches, whose ministers are members of the Big Spring Pastors association, cooperating in the two-weeks religious effort.

Emphasis will be on youth in the series of services with Dr. W. O. Vaught, Jr., Abilene, pastor of the University Baptist church adjacent to Hardin-Simmons, as the evangelist, and the Rev. Alsie Carlton, St. John's Methodist church, just off the Texas Tech campus at Lubbock, as director of music and young people's services.

There will be services daily at 8 p. m., all of them held at the First Baptist church. Announcements concerning day services will be made at the opening meeting this evening.

The Rev. James Moore, First Presbyterian pastor, will be in the pulpit for the first service since Dr. Vaught will not arrive until Monday evening. Combined choirs of the cooperating churches will furnish music for this and succeeding meetings.

Woodall Accepts School Board Post

Arthur Woodall, manager of the Burton-Lingo Lumber Company and a long-time resident of Big Spring, has accepted appointment to the board of trustees of the Big Spring independent school district, it was announced Saturday.

He was the unanimous choice of other trustees in naming a successor to Obie Bristow, who resigned after being transferred from here by the army.

Woodall has served the district on its equalization boards in former years. Others on the board are M. H. Bennett, R. L. Tollett, Ira Thurman, W. W. Inkman, George White, and J. Y. Robb.

Dramatic Story Of Defiance Against Nazis Told In 'Watch On The Rhine'

The 'magic touch' team of Lillian Hellman as author and Herman Shumlin as producer-director, responsible for the stage successes, "Children's Hour," "The Little Foxes" and "Watch on the Rhine," was brought to Hollywood by Warner Bros. for the screen production of Miss Hellman's greatest play, "Watch on the Rhine," featured attraction at the Ritz theatre today and Monday.

"Watch on the Rhine" arrived in Hollywood wearing medals, figuratively speaking. The New York Drama Critics Circle gave it its award as the best play of the season. President Roosevelt designated it for the annual "command performance" in Washington. Its star, Paul Lukas had won the award of the New York Drama League for the best performance of the season. So Warner Bros. could do no less than add the luster of its own two-time winner of the Motion Picture Academy Award. Miss Bette Davis, to co-star with Mr. Lukas in the film.

Stars, story and production are a triple guarantee of a superlative screen story in this intensely dramatic narrative of a family united in defiance of a ruthless, relentless enemy.

Bette Davis, as the American wife of Kurt Muller (Paul Lukas), a German who has made the fight against Fascism his life work, adds another vivid and distinctive portrayal to the varied dramatic roles which have distinguished her career. She plays the role of a devoted, courageous wife, in complete sympathy with the ideals of her husband and therefore prepared to accept with him the risks of a dangerous profession.

A top-flight supporting cast is headed by Geraldine Fitzgerald, Lucile Watson, Beulah Bondi and George Coulouris. Miss Watson and Mr. Coulouris re-enact their original Broadway roles. Dashiell Hammett wrote the script, with additional scenes and dialogue by Lillian Hellman.

Top Comics—Two of filmdom's most popular comics, Joe E. Brown and Judy Canova, are teamed again in "Chatterbox," a mirthful musical of songs and laughs in the program headliner at the Lyric theatre for today and Monday.

Against The Nazis—A stirring moment is presented above from the outstanding Warner Bros. picture, "Watch On The Rhine," which is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday with Bette Davis and Paul Lukas in the starring roles. A deeply-moving story of a campaign against the nazis, the picture was adapted from the famed stage success which was voted best of the year by the Drama Critics' Circle.

'Manila Calling' Is Stirring Story Of Guerilla Fighters

A story of violence and high adventure, "Manila Calling," the 27th Century-Fox film playing today and Monday at the State theatre, is geared for action and suspense. And it should provide both in abundance, judging from the nature of the tale it tells.

A lost battalion is the hero of this picture—a lost battalion of fierce fighting men stranded in a jungle clearing by the withdrawal from the Philippines of American armed forces and socking at the Japs whenever the opportunity arises. "Manila Calling" is the first film glorifying the missing guerrilla fighters.

Led by Lloyd Nolan, Cornel Wilde, James Gleason and a spirited young lady named Carole Landis, the guerrillas in this particular instance happen to be communications men, those anonymous stalwarts whose hazardous work lets the right hand of Uncle Sam's Army know what the left is doing. Their work is vital. They know it. But the Japs know it, too. As a result, though they stand alone, the Americans resort to guerrilla tactics, maintaining our communications and disrupting the Japs'. Sounds like the kind of picture calculated to heighten one's pride in American courage.

Because there is more serious work afoot, Lloyd Nolan and Carole Landis find it necessary to postpone romance for the time being. And James Gleason's temper is said to get the best of him again, which is equivalent to saying that there is some rollicking laughter ahead. Interesting, too, is the important role assigned to Cornel Wilde. This relative newcomer to the screen is from the Broadway stage and is known also as an ex-Olympic athlete.

Historic Drouth Of '17 Traced In 'Remarks' Of Volunteer Observer

Lay weather prophets, who not only claimed to have foreseen the drouth of the past year but anticipate a continuation of the condition during 1944, apparently base their contention upon a comparison between current conditions and those prior to and during the area's worst drouth in 1917-18.

Howard county suffered its worst in those years, and there perhaps is no more concise and colorful chronology of it than that contained in the "remarks" column of the monthly meteorological survey made then by B. Reagan, volunteer weather reporter for the county.

Instead of sticking to scientific observations, Reagan wrote some history into his monthly "remarks."

Both 1915 and 1916 had been good years and the country was in good condition when 1917 opened. January turned up only .38 of moisture, February none, March only .04 and April a mere .08 of an inch before Reagan was moved to report the first indications of a drouth.

"North part of county very dry," he wrote. "Rain more south of T. & P. tracks." When sprinkles in May, normally a wet month, totaled only .67, Reagan recorded that "showers too light to do any good. No grass and cattle dying. Country in hard shape."

June brought temperatures up to 109 degrees and only .88 of an inch of rain. Reagan wrote: "Cattle dying. But few farmers able to plant any on account of dry weather."

July continued dry with only .81 of an inch in the face of temperatures up to 107 degrees and the observer chronicled: "Cattle dying. Crops failure. August had only .03 and added that no crops except little in sand." Cattle were still dying for lack of grass.

On Sept. 26 an "awful sandstorm" raked the barren country. Local showers brought .83 of an inch moisture but they gave no relief at all. "No crops, no grass, cattle dying," came the refrain from the "remarks" column.

"Dust storms and sand storms are terrible," Reagan wrote in October which had .01 inch of rain and nine had dust storms. November had only .09 and brought an early frost on the second day of the month. December had no rain and half a dozen stinging and choking windstorms. "Driest year in the history of this county," summed up the weatherman. Indeed it was for the total had been only 4.68 inches.

Ten severe dust storms (three classed as "awful") fell in January and February with only 1.32 inches of rain. "Sandstorms are awful. No grass. Many farmers will leave if no rain falls in April," Reagan put down in his book alongside of a meagre .19 of an inch for the month. April contributed only .10 of an inch and the observer penned that "nothing planted. Farmers leaving the county." On the 18th of the month, perhaps one of the worst sandstorms of the entire drouth period churned in from the north at 2:45 p. m. and literally darkened the area.

Although the first relief in the form of 1.16 inches of rain came, Reagan wrote about "so much sand and the high winds to keep it moving. Practically all crops ruined by sand. No grass. Exceedingly poor prospects for crops this year. Many good roads made impassable by drifting sand." However, June brought 3.54 inches (mostly on successive days) and gave new hope. But the dry soil soaked in the moisture and Reagan observed that the country was "needing rain for crops and grass. Many farms not planted. Sandy land crops doing well."

Temperatures jumped up to 108 and cooked young crops and in July only .05 inches of moisture and temperatures up to 107 degrees caused worry. August continued with equally high temperatures, but on the 25th, a big rain fell south of town and overflowed Elbow creek to fill lakes west of town. September had 1.91 and 2.04 in October "filled lakes in north and west part of county. South (rains) also heavier than here. Hughes (T&P south of city) lake two-thirds full."

Snows brought .93 of an inch in November. One inch fluttered down on the 25th, three more the next day and another three on Nov. 29. December came across with 1.58 of moisture and Reagan summarized:

"The ground is very wet. Roads almost impassable. Confidence of people for next year's crop great."

The cycle had been completed."

Youth Freed Of Murder Charge

LAREDO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Convicted once of killing his father, but given a new trial, Eusebio Loya, Jr., has been set free by a 49th district court jury here.

The jury considered the case 26 minutes and returned its verdict of innocent last night after hearing Loya, the last witness, testify that officers forced him to make a statement incriminating himself in his father's death.

The death occurred in Willacy county in July of 1942 and Loya was sentenced to ten years in prison in a trial at Raymondville last January. The court of criminal appeals ordered the new trial and the case was transferred here.

Pyote Pastor, Ex-Service Man, Builds Club For Servicemen With Own Hands

PYOTE, Nov. 20—He's got himself a job, has Rev. Auburn Hayes, pastor of the Pyote Baptist church, but he's pitching into it with the determination and good nature that makes for success.

An old wood frame building across the tracks in Pyote will be a clean, painted, home-like service men's club by Thanksgiving, or it won't be for want of trying. Certainly the spot he has in mind will be a wholesome and welcome addition to the limited local off-the-base recreational facilities.

With sponsoring funds from the Baptist State Board of Texas and generous Pyote contributions, Rev. Hayes is remodeling the building—but doing a greater part of the job himself. Donating work clothes and enlisting the aid of two small boys who help him around his church on Saturdays, the pastor is scrubbing floors, building desks, fixing windows and partitions.

The building will have an office and supply room in back, and a game room with ping-pong and other tables. The lounge Rev. Hayes plans to make a replica of the typical small town living room, for writing, reading and just loafing. Sing-songs and other services occasionally will be held by the ex-soldier now determined to do his part for the men in the services.

The recreational program will be guided mainly by what Rev. Hayes finds the boys like, and he hopes to expand the center later.

The surrounding area is being graded down, and will be smoothed and packed for croquet and volleyball courts. The project is one of a number backed by the Southern Baptist State Convention of Texas, and under the supervision of Dr. C. W. Miller of Dallas, State director of military work for the church organization.

Sentences Given In Coupon Violations

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Two-year penitentiary sentences on charges of illegal possession and transfer of various types of gasoline mileage coupons and of making false statements to county ration boards were given John A. Bratcher of Fort Worth and Harry B. Byars of Breckenridge in federal court here.

Judge William H. Atwell set the sentences yesterday after the men pleaded guilty to a seven-count indictment.

Board Money Will Be Refunded Studes

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—University of Texas students will soon get some of their room-and-board money back.

H. R. Gipson, assistant dean of student life, announced that boarding house keepers have been instructed by the Office of Price Administration to put into effect the rate charged April 4-10.

House mothers affected by the roll-back must refund any prices charged in excess of the rate in effect during that period.

"HALF-WAY" DOESN'T PAY....

Half-way measures in any endeavor are usually costly and undesirable. But when it's a matter of Health, such measures may be dangerous. Not only that, but in these straining times, neither you nor the nation can afford the luxury of "half-way" health. You want to be—and need to be—completely well; ready to go all-out for the emergency. Better get professional counsel. Consult a competent physician, and do as he advises. THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day means a great deal to those Americans who are imbued with the ideals which were first defined by the New England colonists . . . traditions of freedom and democracy which are urging our boys on to greater victory. We at home, too, are fighting to retain those ideals through our preservation of the old-fashioned customs, loved and honored since the first settlers set foot on American shores.

Shell Thru Port Side Greets Landing Party Writes Murlan Smith

2nd Lieut. Murlan F. Smith, one of the three score Big Spring and Howard county men who went into the army under the banner of a local national guard company in November 1940, had to take considerable razing about his "gangplank" landing in Casablanca.

Since then the going has been about as rough as it gets to be even in war. The gangplank has been conspicuous by its absence and landings since have been in the face of enemy fire.

Lieut. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Smith, told of some of Could Cleopatra Drink a Pearl with Stomach Ulcer Pains?

An intriguing story of Cleopatra is the one where an admirer praised the beauty of two of her pearls, whereupon she dropped one into a glass of wine and drank it. She would hardly have done this had she suffered after-eating pains. Those who are distressed with stomach or ulcer pains, indigestion, gas pains, heartburn, burning sensation, bloating and other conditions caused by excess acid should try Udga. his experiences in a letter to Jones Lamar. His first assignment was with his present unit at Port Layanite, 80 miles east of Casablanca. Following intensive training, the outfit hurried to the front but was stopped. More training (rough but which paid off later) was ordered. Finally, the unit got up to the front in the final stages of the Tunisian campaign and learned a little something of the "Boche's tactics and his weapons."

There was some time to admire the towering mountains, deep valleys and beautiful trees before intensive training for the Sicilian invasion got underway. If there were pang at leaving the French population, relief in getting away from the Arabs compensated for it.

"Searchlights and fireworks lit the sky like a Fourth of July celebration," wrote Lieut. Smith. "We had a big welcome. The landing craft got a big shell through the port side. Several men were killed and wounded, but that did not discourage the boys. One was knocked from her mast once, too, but another was up almost by the time it hit the deck. That just gave us more courage."

Several men drowned and others were picked up. The medicos "worked fast and really did a wonderful job. Our regimental chaplain worked like a crazy man, administering first aid, rescuing the drowning and even unloading ammunition and equipment. He is really a swell person and one of the bravest men I've ever met." The navy did its part in laying offshore and shelling pillboxes, said Lieut. Smith. Although it was annoying, enemy air activity generally was ineffective. "Many were the times we would have to hit a fox-hole in a hurry to be safe from strafing," he said. "Invariably, it seemed to us that just after Jerry passed over, here would come a slew of Spitfires and P-51s—or just the reverse." A few days later his outfit captured a light tank and took many prisoners. Italians, he said, gave up easily but "that's not so with the Boche." His division, the Third, was the first to reach Palermo and Messina, he said. The country is picturesque, Lieut. Smith said, but that made it tough from a military point of view.

Proud indeed is this young officer of his men. "I'm proud to soldier with such a 'courageous group,'" he wrote. "Mine are a brave bunch. They do not fear man or beast now."

Ginners Figure 95 Per Cent Of Crop Harvested

Howard county's 1943 cotton harvest was around 95 per cent complete, according to ginner estimates Friday evening. Local gins reported a total of 10,058 bales through their stands during the season, which indicated ginnings of 22,250 in the county. The further implication was that the ultimate total would be around 24,000 bales.

An indication as to the rapid decline in the rate of harvest may be gathered from the fact that during the past week less than 1,000 bales were ginned during the past week.

Grade and staple went into a further decline as the tall end of the crop came in and 17 cents was about an average with everything heading under the loan. Seed held firm at $55 a ton.

Feed prices were strong to steady. Head maize rose sharply with choice offerings commanding $30 a ton, which was a $2 increase over previous best quotations. Threshed grain held to a ton of $1.80 cwt, and like head offerings, was on a turnover basis. Bundles, in the field, were worth five to seven cents.

Pickers were beginning a steady exodus from the county as only the cleanings remained in the fields. There was still lots of feed work left, but pickers are virtual specialists.

THE OLD American Virtue of Thrift STILL LIVES ON!

BACK in the days when Thanksgiving was new, thrift was the first law and the abiding rule.

The happiness and health of the earliest Americans—even their very existence—depended upon their frugal, saving ways.

And today, with millions of Americans putting big percentages of their incomes into War Bonds—the bonds upon which our country's independence and our own freedom depend—thrift has come into its own again in America!

We must all sacrifice and skimp and save to help win the war!

Please join in this pledge: "I will make the things I have last longer and go further. I won't buy anything I don't really need."

And for the things you simply can't get along without, come to Penney's! Penney's has always been a haven for careful shoppers and wise buyers—we have specialized in thrift and savings since our first store was founded over 40 years ago.

Penney's way of doing business eliminates waste and costly frills. It keeps its operating expenses very, very low. And the result is substantial savings for Penney's and for you, for these savings are passed along to all our customers in the form of lower prices and better values.

So, shopping at Penney's is doubly important in wartime—when dollars must be stretched further than you have ever stretched them before!

Hot Words Fly In House Over Food Subsidies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Words weren't spared when Texas Democratic Representative Wright Patman of Texarkana and Republican congressmen clashed over the airwaves and on the house floor in a tilt that grew out of opposite views on food subsidies.

It was the recent mention of Patman by Radio Commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., on his nightly Mutual Broadcasting System program that precipitated the verbal battle. Lewis referred to Patman's role as defender of the administration's subsidy program. Patman complained to the federal communications commission and asked that he be permitted to appear on Lewis' program. Lewis granted the request and Patman withdrew his complaint before the FCC.

Part of the Texas talk, Nov. 15, on Lewis' program was devoted to a discussion of subsidies, part to an attack on the republican party. He charged that they were making a political issue of subsidies.

Republicans were on hand in the house the following day, eagerly seeking the floor to join battle with the Texan.

Speaking on the radio hookup, Patman among other things had said "we are engaged in a desperate political fight, launched and led by the republican party," then added:

"Yes, that's the republican game unless President Roosevelt and his supporters can stop it. These political enemies of the president give a kind of lip service to his brilliant leadership in the world crisis. They applaud the magnificent diplomatic triumphs of that great statesman, Cordell Hull.

"Yet on the home front they stab our great commander-in-chief in the back in order to gain political advantage. It is a reckless and trifling policy that would thus gamble with the country's future. And mark you well, if the republicans have their way, we will have a spectacle of wages and prices chasing each other in a mad race to disaster. x x x

"Out of the chaos which follows inflation, these conspirators hope for the dissatisfaction which may lead to the election of a republican president in 1944. For this purpose, the republican conspirators are willing to toss to the wolves of inflation the farmers of America, the laboring people of America, and the soldiers of America, along with their wives, their mothers and their children who must live upon a few dollars a month while food prices and wages will soar."

The first republican to get the floor to answer Patman was Representative Walter E. Brehm of Ohio, who said: "Any man who can make such a plea for that vanishing race of new deal bureaucratic demagogues and stretch his imagination so far as to infer that he is discussing subsidies, is, indeed, a super-master in the technique of camouflage, and in this respect his (Patman's) talk was indeed unique."

Patman then asked permission to insert his radio talk in the Congressional Record. The republican house leader, Representative Joe Martin of Massachusetts, said: "I want to assure the gentleman from Texas that we want his speech in the Record because it was nothing but a political speech." Representative Gifford (R-Mass) declared: "It is the most helpful speech to the republicans we have heard for a long time. I want to say to the gentleman from Texas who has filled the Record lately so voluminously on the beauties of subsidies that he may begin to revise his own arguments pretty soon. His own Texas people testified yesterday against subsidies, and rightly named them as blackmail and bribery."

Pork Ration Points Will Be Reduced

A temporary reduction in the ratio: point value of all pork cuts effective Friday, was announced Saturday by the OPA.

All pork cuts listed on the current table of point values for meats and fats will be reduced two points. This will result in making a number of pork items point free. The higher valued cuts will be reduced at least 20 percent or from 10 points to eight points per pound. Over the list as a whole the average point reduction will be one third.

The OPA emphasized the fact that the reduction will be for a limited period only, and applies only to pork, and 100 percent pork sausage. This will not change the present value of lard, those sausages not made exclusively from pork, or any other products rationed under the meat-fat order. Canned meats, even though they are made from pork, remain unchanged.

Retailers are requested to change their official table of point values for pork immediately so the consumer will get the benefit of the reduced point values as quickly as possible.

County Dads Hold Saturday Session

County Commissioners were in session Saturday instead of Monday due to county court opening session at 10 a. m. Monday.

Only routine business was handled at the Saturday meeting, commissioners said.

A fairly light docket was scheduled for the November term of county court to begin Monday although several cases are scheduled to be tried.

Navy Announces Loss Of "McKean"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The navy announced today that a small vessel reported lost in a southwest Pacific communique last Thursday was the destroyer transport McKean.

The ship went down off Bougainville Nov. 17 (Solomons time) after an attack by Japanese planes.

Built in 1918, the McKean had a displacement of 1,060 tons. Converted to transport operations, she was equipped to carry landing barges and troops.

Search Continues For Wreck Victim

VICTORIA, Nov. 20 (AP)—Search for the body of Lieut. John D. Proctor, Jr., of Corpus Christi, killed Thursday in a plane collision, a mile offshore near Matagorda peninsula, was pressed today by a fleet of small water craft.

No trace of it had been found. Lieut. Edward F. Mayne, Jr., of Detroit, parachuted to safety when his plane and that of Proctor collided during a training mission. The Foster Field public relations office said the search would continue until all hope was gone.

Speculators See Psychological Bid For Nazi Surrender

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A psychological offensive to attract bomb-shaken Germany's surrender when Allied armies strike in the spring may be launched by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

In the absence of any confirmation yet of a tri-power conference of the three United Nations leaders, speculation in London has settled on the possibility of a declaration of principles for the treatment of defeated Germany which would indicate what the future holds for the German people after their war lords capitulate.

There have been fresh rumors of German peace feelers seeking a definition of what "unconditional surrender" would mean. One such rumor said German resistance on the home front was being bolstered by the uncertainty as to the country's probable fate.

Another rumor said German military leaders had Turkish Foreign Minister Numan Menemenclogu sound out British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden on the probable peace terms if they agreed to an armistice. Eden replied, according to this rumor, that the only term was "unconditional surrender."

The three Allied leaders also may decide the date for the great all-out assault on Hitler's European fortress from the west—promised for next spring—and possibly accompanied by an invasion through the Balkans.

Spanish-American Relations Better As Issue Is Closed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Spanish-American relations rolled back to an even keel today as both Washington and Madrid let it be known that the incident of the Spanish note of congratula-tion to the Japanese puppet regime in Manila is considered closed. The note, sent on October 18 to the Japanese sponsored Philippine government of Jose P. Laurel, conveyed "the most sincere sentiment" not only of Generalissimo Franco, "the government and the ministry of foreign affairs but also of the Spanish people."

MARY WHEATLY

Sometimes when you read statements from men in high public and private office, it makes you doubt the wisdom of freedom of speech. You might sail along for a long time thinking that Senator Flatbottoms is a smart man otherwise he wouldn't be in the senate. Then he gets quoted in the newspaper.

Sen. Flatbottoms (Democrat or Republican) says, "the war will be over in 15 days." Or maybe he is commenting on the home situation. "Nobody over 40 ought to have to pay income taxes." (His age being 45.)

Comments like these, regardless of stupidity rate the print because the man is supposed to be an important man. The constitution guarantees him the right to say what he thinks, but a seventh grader could give some of these high placed men elementary lessons in mathematics, economics, and plain horse sense.

In fact, a conscientious teacher would put the seventh grader back in the sixth grade and his parents would be astounded of him.

The right of freedom of thought is something that democracy is based on. But where the thoughtful part of some of the big-wigs comes in makes you raise your eyebrows and wonder.

If senators, representatives, government officials and big business men would confine their remarks to the weather unless they had something to say, the general public would never suspect the awful truth.

43 Nations Agree On Post-War Plan

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP)—First official agreement was reached here today by delegates of 43 nations, under terms of which member governments whose countries have not been invaded would be asked to contribute one per cent of their national incomes to post-war work of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

Assistant secretary of state Dean Acheson, chairman of the UNRRA Financial committee, told a press conference the vote was unanimous. The sum would be computed on the year ending June 30, 1943, and for the United States would be approximately $1,500,000,000.

Acheson said the "agreement here is merely a recommendation to the constitutional bodies of the member governments which must determine the amount and character of the contribution."

He said the original contributions from each country would be "set up in terms of currency," and that the amount to be spent by each member government for materials and supplies still was under discussion. Final committee draft will be presented to the full council for adoption next week.

FOOD FIGHTS For Freedom

FOOD Fights for Freedom on every front! On the home front, fresh fruits and fresh vegetables play a most important part. In addition to their superior nutrition and health qualities, fresh fruits and vegetables require little or no critical materials for their distribution. They are economical and are ration free.

Let's make "Food Fights for Freedom" more than a slogan, let's make it an actual reality in every day living. You can do this by conserving food—by eating the right foods, a balanced daily diet which includes each of the Basic 7 Foods—by eating enough, but not too much—by substituting plentiful foods for those that are scarce. You get full food value when you eat fruits and vegetables FRESH.

Build war-time menus around fresh fruits and fresh vegetables—some raw and others quick-cooked. Never overcook fresh fruits and vegetables as it destroys vitamins and minerals. For health and greatest eating enjoyment, demand quality fresh fruits and fresh vegetables...

Juvenile Delinquency Increases In Wartime

Friendly counsel is best...

Written Exclusively for (P) Features

By ANNA W. M. WOLF
Author and Lecturer on Child Care

Half-grown boys and girls are likely to be neglected in wartime, and with neglect comes a rise in youthful misconduct. Many communities are reporting an alarming rise in so-called juvenile delinquency especially among girls, in whom sex-offenses are sharply on the increase.

In the first place, we should stop the false economies that curtail school budgets, recreation centers and social services of all kinds. Young people are more in need today than ever before of wholesome activities and chances to meet each other under decent conditions, families sorely need the help of experienced counselors in meeting emergencies of other reason why they should think twice before taking a job which would remove them, too, from their homes.

There is no perfect formula for keeping young people chaste. It has never existed and never will exist even in peacetime, let alone in war. But there are certain reasonable measures for safeguarding our youth, for which every home and every individual in it should feel deeply responsible.

With the father of the family overseas a way from home much more than usual, this is another worry that mothers may have to face alone and it is an

There is no perfect formula for keeping young people chaste. It has never existed and never will exist even in peacetime, let alone in war. But there are certain reasonable measures for safeguarding our youth, for which every home and every individual in it should feel deeply responsible.

all kinds. They need doctors, teachers, social workers, public health nurses, churches, recreation leaders and welfare groups of all kinds. England in wartime has learned this lesson and, far from curtailing its youth-building agencies, has vastly increased them at public expense. In doing so, delinquency has been reduced.

Every parent should remind himself that in wartime, as always, a good home is the best insurance against temptations and special excitements like uniforms.

The more young people can enjoy their homes and want to bring their friends there, the more they are likely to honor the standards of this home when they are not in it.

Parents who know present-day life at first hand and discuss it as it is today instead of harping back to "when I was young," or "what's proper," will be more respected by their children and can therefore be of more help to them.

We cannot keep our youngsters cooped up because danger is abroad. This proves to be nearly as true of our girls at home as of our boys who must go out and fight. We can see clearly, however, how the influences with which boys and girls grew up, serve them in time of emergency.

Women Of Vealmoor Community Attend HD Achievement Day Demonstration

Local Girl Elected To Alpha Chi Society

DENTON, Nov. 20 — Miss Helen Hurl of Big Spring is one of 20 new members elected recently to Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic society, at Texas State College for Women.

Object of the society is the stimulation, development, and recognition of scholarship and those elements of character which make scholarship effective, and requirements for admission are a B average and junior or senior standing.

Program for the year includes a Christmas breakfast, a formal dinner in the spring, and monthly meetings devoted to the theme, "Things Worth Striving For," with topics on arts, religion, economics, and government.

Miss Hurl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hurl, 500 Scurry Street Big Spring, is a senior majoring in secretarial studies.

Oratory Cooled Off By Drenching

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP) — Bill Miller, son of the late Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, was orating with gestures to a jury hearing a contested divorce case in Judge Sarah Hughes' court. Judge Hughes, noting that Lawyer Miller's voice was showing signs of cracking, signaled a court clerk to bring him a glass of water.

Miller did not notice the clerk as she extended the glass and in a sudden, whirling gesture with his arm hit the glass, causing the water to give him a drenching.

"Well, I guess that cooled me off, gentlemen of the jury," Miller laughed. His client was granted the divorce.

Rheba Merle Boyles Gives Suggestions For Christmas

Women of the Vealmoor community took part in the annual achievement day tour which was held Friday in the H. M. Zant home.

Mrs. Zant, as home food supply demonstrator, remodeled her pantry and filled it with 304 containers of 21 different varieties of food. During the past year she has sold $744 in eggs; $205 in cream; and $51 culled hen and 28 fryers.

She still has 300 hens in the yard for next year's use and also reported a good meat supply for the coming year.

During a business session new officers for 1944 were elected and Mrs. H. N. Zant was re-elected club president. Other officers include Mrs. J. T. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. Bob Creswell, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. J. A. Iden, reporter; Mrs. Porter Hanks, program chairman; Mrs. Bert Massengile, council delegate, and Mrs. O. C. Owens, recreational leader.

Mrs. R. D. Anderson was introduced as a new member, and refreshments were served by the hostess.

It was announced that a chair seating demonstration would be held in January, and members were invited to attend a Christmas party which will be held in the Edwin Simpson home on December 17. Everyone is urged to bring home-made gifts.

Miss Rheba Merle Boyles, home demonstration agent for Howard county, attended the meeting and gave a demonstration on Christmas gifts, wrapping, etc.

During the afternoon she showed members how to make hand made purses, bedroom slippers, Christmas tags (from Christmas greeting cards), a powder mitt to be hung in the bathroom and necklaces made of rickrack braid.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. J. A. Iden, Mrs. Bert Massengile, Miss Edwin Simpson, Mrs. H. N. Zant, Mrs. W. A. Jackson, Mrs. O. C. Owen, Mrs. Bob Creswell, Mrs. R. D. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson and Rheba Merle Boyles.

Also outstanding in achievement for the year is the record of Mrs. Bert Massengile. She raised okra on her land, and during the summer sold okra amounting to $97. She gave away six bushels and frost killed at least two bushes.

Leaders Appeal To Local Women For Scout Workers

Members of the Big Spring Girl Scout Council, troop leaders and other members of the organization, have spoken at various P-T, A. meetings over town the past week in an effort to interest more women in becoming leaders of troops which could be organized if leaders were provided.

Girl Scouting is praised as a patriotic contribution to country's youth by Mrs. William A. Hastings, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in a communication received Saturday by Mrs. Dan Conley, commissioner of the Big Spring Girl Scout Council.

"The National Congress of Parents and Teachers has always stressed cooperation with the Scouts and other character building agencies," Mrs. Hastings says. "We urge our members to give leadership in this work, so that its benefits may be extended to more and more young people who are now denied them."

Mrs. Hastings feels that the most important task of each generation is to bear, rear, educate and protect that one that follows. "With all the demands war work makes on our times, we may forget the importance of those youth activities we engaged in during days of peace. We may forget the importance of the oncoming generation in our desire to serve those now in the armed forces, but there is work on the home front that presents a greater challenge than that of preserving at home—those very values for which our men are fighting all over the world. It is our responsibility to preserve our heritage, to protect the young, and to fight the many enemies that attack the home front."

Thanksgiving football games mean excitement, cheering, hoped-for touchdowns, and a gala mood for the majority of the fans. But the cheer leaders, majorettes, and band queen who add to the color and fan fare of the holiday game know that this will be their last game of the year. There's a kind of mixed up feeling of sadness along with the fun. Next year somebody else will be prancing along with the band, keeping step to the music, and receiving the applause of the crowd. There's an extra special feeling about this holiday game that these girls will tell you puts a special twirl in their batons, a little more swagger in their walk. For after the game Thanksgiving Day, they'll just be spectators and not part of the team as they rightly feel they are.

Pictured at left are the yell leaders who were elected by the student body of the Big Spring High school. From left to right the group includes Wynelle Wilkinson, Pat Cochran, Helen Blount, Gloria Strom, Joanne Rice and Celia Westerman. In a contest held recently, Marilyn Keaton, (center photo) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Keaton, was chosen as queen of the high school band. She was introduced at a football game on the evening of October 22 and was presented with a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums by Dan Conley, band director. Drum majorettes, pictured right, include Marjha Childers, Dauphine Reese, Gypsie Smallwood and Bobbie Sanders.

Dorothy Frances Belcher And Cadet Temple Marry

Fall Flowers In Decorations Of Post Chapel

Before an altar banked with fern and ornamented with baskets of white chrysanthemum and other autumn flowers, Miss Dorothy Frances Belcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Belcher of San Antonio, and Cadet Robert Temple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Temple of Elkhart, Ind., were married Saturday evening in the post chapel at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

The single ring wedding vows were repeated at 8 o'clock and Chaplain James L. Patterson officiated.

Sgt. Ola Franklin, who sang "I Love You Truly," also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was attired in a teal blue two piece suit, and with it she wore brown accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

The couple was attended by Cadet and Mrs. William Congleton.

Mrs. Orlando Belcher, mother of the bride, and Billy Bob Belcher, the bride's brother of San Antonio were here for the wedding.

The bride attended Sacramento Junior college, Sacramento, Calif., and was a member of the Sigma Phi Cappa and the Phi Beta Cappa sororities.

The bridegroom attended Purdue University, and is now stationed at the Big Spring Bombardier school as a student in cadet class 43-17.

A wedding dinner was held at the Settles hotel following the ceremony.

Jewell Barton, president of the B & PW club, will be in charge of the barbecue for the meal and will be assisted in arrangements by Mrs. L. A. Eubanks. Others assisting in the planning and preparation are Mrs. Winston Harper and Betty Cantrell.

A cordial invitation is extended to both WACs and soldiers.

There's a note to soldiers who have recently been transferred to the local post. One of the major services rendered by the local USO is the alteration service which is carried on by the women of the Church of Christ. Missing buttons are replaced, chevrons and insignia are sewed on and the free service is available to every soldier.

When the USO first opened, hostesses and officials did everything possible to interest soldiers in the square dance class which was organized.

Only a few boys came down on Thursday evening for the event, but the rhythmic chant of the caller and the old time music was contagious, for the class grew until now this is one of the most popular activities. Last Thursday evening over 200 soldiers visited the USO for the special activity of square dancing class. A string band from the post plays music for the dancing and hostesses serve as partners.

Starting the week after Thanksgiving, USO hostesses are estab-

"Government Girl"

RKO presents Olivia de Havilland & Sonny Tufts in a romantic comedy with Anne Shirley, Jess Barker, Jas. Dunn.

In crowded Washington, Olivia can't find a ride, thus she accepts Sonny's offer who is driving to the same office she is working at.

To her surprise Olivia finds that Sonny is her new boss. He is a greenhorn; Olivia teaches him the ropes; and makes many enemies.

At a party Sonny meets Barker, Olivia's fiancée. Sonny makes an enemy in the hostess, thus influencing Barker to investigate him.

Things really look dark for Sonny as Barker gets the senate to investigate him. Olivia plays a trump, throws Barker over for Sonny.

Meet the Stars

With Luis Rosado

Ray Milland today is perched at the top of the Hollywood ladder. His seat on the upper rung is unusually secure for a resident of the movie town where fame and fortune always have been notoriously perishable products.

Milland's success story reached a climactic chapter during the filming of his latest picture, "Ministry of Fear," when Paramount signed him to a new contract, to run for seven years straight without the usual optional provisions. This is the best that Hollywood can offer because seven years is the legal limit for which an acting contract can be drawn.

His rise to the professional heights has been from an unbroken accent. Milland made six brave starts upward before he finally hit the stride which carried him to the top. The handsome Welsh-born player first came to Hollywood in 1931 from a London stage revue, in which an American film scout had spotted him. His arrival was heralded by the roll of publicity drums and the fanfare of attention which is standard equipment that goes with the entrance of a British actor on the Hollywood scene. He appeared opposite Constance Bennett in "Bought" at Warners.

But Hollywood wasn't greatly impressed by the newcomer and after filling a few subsequent minor roles, Milland packed up and sailed back to England. Then began a series of trans-Atlantic commuting trips which brought Milland five more times to the Hollywood land of promise where each time he discovered that promises make very poor eating. Milland was not particularly patient about the state of affairs he found himself in when 1934 came around, but he was persevering and this time he determined to stick it out in Hollywood and gave up boat rides to England.

He was living in a furnished room and charging his meals at the corner drug store soda fountain when his luck took a sudden change for the better and he found himself a firm foothold on the ladder he had been so unsuccessfully trying to scale. Out of a clear sky he was handed a good role in Paramount's "Bolero," and his first contract with that studio.

That initial contract began an association with Paramount which has continued interrupted for nine years. The sixteen-year continuous term is quite a record to hold with one studio.

Probably, the picture which brought Milland to full recognition from the fans was "Three Smart Girls." He displayed such a knack for comedy that they refused to see him in any other type of characterization. From that time on, he has been successfully starred in sophisticated comedies, which always seem to catch so well at the box-office.

The climb upward has been marked by such evidence of personal achievement as Claudette Colbert's refusal to do "Arise My Love," unless Milland was her leading man; C. B. DeMille's selection of him for "Rean the Wild Wind," over four other players with bigger names and reputations and his studio's choice of him for the masculine star with Ginger Rogers in the lavish Technicolor production of "Lady in the Dark," one of Paramount's most important pictures in years. Thus does success breed success in pictures as in all endeavors.

For Milland it was a long pull to reach the stellar stratosphere, but it's a very pleasant and profitable destination to reach—and he is now ensconced to enjoy it for at least seven more years.

On the Sets

With Irwin Allen

Daily recipe for making moviest Hollywood is a place where even beggars have stooges and life is a series of masquerades. Social stations are no longer determined by the number of "yes" men in your employ because now even stooges have stooges. Laughing at Fate while mumbling "Kismet" in your beard is either a sign that you are a very wise man or an awful dope. And knocking guys off just for the sake of laughs is strictly old hat. Shake well, pour slowly. Result? One technicolor epic and a sock full of green cabbage. Sound a little nutty? Don't let it bother you even one little bit. You have to be a little nutty to be a genius. And Hollywood has nothing but geniuses.

Turbin totin' eutthroats and harem hula dolls have invaded Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer on no small scale. The towel-topped terrors and their tootsies are, however, there by invitation. The current costumed masquerade is part of a new super-production entitled "Kismet." Ronald Colman, Marlene Dietrich, Edward Arnold and James Craig play the leading roles in this fantasy on Fate. The story is not a new one but the gilding of this old lily is one that calls for protection against eye-blinding brilliance.

East Indian architecture nestled against a sky that came out of a paint pot sets the scene for action. Whiskered Casanova's garbed in what looks like near-relations to your bed sheets and the living room drapes escorting dolls in Petty-few veils are sprinkled heavily throughout for atmosphere. And for the sake of the blood pressure of the bald-headed men in the first row, Marlene Dietrich does a dance to end all dances. Her legs, not incidentally, are painted gold. This seems to have very little basis of fact. It's more Hollywood's version of what the old days must have been like. Fiction or fact, those gold plated shanks are guaranteed to give palpitations of the heart in less than one easy lesson.

The story itself is most confusing and will take a couple of hours to unravel itself on the silver screen. Colman is a beggar whose business is booming. Things get so good that he hires a couple of stooges and starts leading a double life. Sort of a Robin Hood-Prince Valiant combination. He gets a yen for Dietrich. The only trouble is that Dietrich belongs to Ed Arnold who is a grand Vizier with the nasty habit of chopping the hands off of guys that he doesn't like. From there in, it's a marathon of gaudy hysterics.

Olson and Johnson, whose antics have delighted theatergoers for years, once more come through with some crazy doings. They are a couple of producers who invade Hollywood to make a picture, however, they encounter difficulties galore in their attempt. But the two boys will not be downed by the obstacles, and they finish the picture which is stolen the night of the preview. Once more they resort to a crazy idea, which goes over with the audience.

Martha O'Driscoll and Pat Knowles carry the romance. They are a couple of amateurs who find themselves famous by working in the stolen picture. Cass Daley, playing a dual role is sensational. Her comedy delivery registers solidly. Percy Kilbride, plays the role of the man who finances their venture, which later is revealed as a sad experience.

Others in the cast who go all out for laughs are Billy Gilbert, Richard Lane, Franklin Pangborn and Chester Clute. Once more we warn you, this Universal picture is strictly for laughs—on the crazy side. If that's what you want, that's what you'll get.

Underground pictures are usually on the routine side, but Twentieth's "Paris After Dark," is an exciting piece of celluloid that will please all melodrama lovers. The sincerity with which the actors enact their roles give the picture added importance. Many of the incidents in the picture will seem familiar, and at the same time, they are brought forth with greater strength.

George Sanders is a doctor who urges the resistance of the invader. He gives a performance of merit. Phillip Dorn is exceptionally good as a soldier returned from a German concentration camp. Brenda Marshall plays his wife and she gives a performance which will bring hurrahs from the public everywhere. Others who shine are Raymond Roe, Jean Del Val, Ann Codee, Madeline Le Beau, Marcel Dalio, Henry Rowland and Robert Lewis.

Universal presents Olson & Johnson in a goofy comedy with Cass Daley, Martha O'Driscoll, Patric Knowles & fine cast.

A little laughter these days can go a long way, so you can imagine how a lot of laughter will be welcomed by audiences everywhere. Of course, the plot of "Crazy House," is not meant to be taken seriously—it's just designed for laughs and that is accomplished rather neatly.

Speaking of Glamour

By Frances Scully

AROUND TOWN

Mary Livingstone is all set to start a new fad in Hollywood, thanks to Jack Benny who came home from his European trek bearing gifts for the little woman from practical every country he visited.

I visited with Mary and Jack before their radio show last Sunday and Frances Scully listened to Mrs. B. rave about the Turkish boleros Jack had brought her. One is in gold colored velvet with gold brocade trimming and the other is fashioned in a peacock blue velvet with brightly colored braid. Mary plans on wearing her new boleros with black velvet slacks and is having long sleeved satin blouses made in gold and peacock blue.

Jack also included in his presents for Mary, jingle bracelets worn by the native girls. Turkish shoes with upturned toes, and the surprise package of all was an entire python skin which Mary is planning on converting into shoes with matching accessories. Of course, little Joanie was in for her share of gifts from Daddy too . . . but in typical Benny fashion the comedian forgot to bring anything for himself, but knowing Benny that's not unusual, because Jack always thinks of everyone else before himself . . . no wonder he's one of our favorite stars.

JEAN'S VESTS

Jean Parker, the feminine lead in the Pine & Thomas picture "The Navy Way," has a great idea for brightening up last year's suit or basic dark dress. Jean suggests wearing interchangeable vests, which she designs herself. One is a wine and purple tweed stripe with which she adds a wine velvetteen calot and gauntlet gloves. Another vest is forest green wool with peasant multi-colored embroidery around the edges. The third is a gold lame for her black dressmaker suit. It's halter-neck bare in back effect. Jean wears a gold sequin mood with it for a dramatic touch.

Lum 'n' Abner

Lum 'n' Abner would be willing to play young roles on the screen if they weren't afraid of alienating their legion of air fans who want them as old codgers. That's the real reason there'll be no testing at RKO. . . . Hear that Ida Lupino is balking at doing "Blind Man's House" at 20th—because she really means it when she says she wants a comedy for herself. . . . Lieut. Pat Di Cicco headed for overseas duty. . . . Ask Carole Landis what was the strangest (to say the least!) autographing request she had while she was in North Africa. Very funny. . . . Carry Moore is selling his Connecticut farm and buying a house in Beverly, come what may. . . . Patry Kelly and Phil Eredolove, a dancer, have each other in a spin. . . . Years ago Marlon Davies presented the Warner lot with rows of olive trees. She should see them now. They're dripping with olives—and a crew is being organized to pick them. . . . Alex d'Arcy with Frances Gladwin, Troceng Sunday night. Ditto Monte Proser with Peggy McCann. Capella and Patricia, the dance-tann at that spot, impressed us more than any pair since the first time we saw Rene and Tony de Marco go floating through the air. Kept thinking they must have a lot besides ballroom dancing behind such grace and precision. . . . Adolphe Menjou is returning with the longest "short snorter" bill in captivity. And no wonder. He really covered territory.

Quiz Box

With Dale Drum

Q: Allegra Richardson, Ivanhoe, Texas—By the majority, who is considered to be the most beautiful actress and the most handsome actor?

A: There has never been a poll to decide that question, but Hedda Hopper, one of Hollywood's leading columnists says that the most beautiful actress is Hedy Lamarr and the most handsome actor is Bob Taylor. This is only one person's judgment and it would be interesting to get the opinion of all our fans.

Q: Rubyjo Wilbanks, Spearman, Texas—When writing to the stars overseas does one send extra postage and are the fan letters forwarded to the actors?

A: When the star is overseas the letters are not usually forwarded to them but when he is in the service in this country the letters are sometimes sent on. No extra postage is necessary.

Q: Dorothy Breeding, San Rafael, Calif.—Please give me a short biography of Bette Davis.

A: Bette Davis, twice winner of the Academy Award, won her success after many ups and downs. Born in Lowell, Mass., on April 5, 1908, she first got the idea of becoming an actress at Cushing Academy where she went in 1925. Her first "break" was in the play "Broken Dishes." After that she played in "The Solid South" which won her a contract with Universal Studios. A year at Universal and her contract was allowed to lapse after which she was about to leave for New York when she got a part in the picture, "The Man Who Played God," with George Arliss. She has been at Warner Bros. Studios ever since. Her second husband, Arthur Farnsworth, was killed in a mysterious accident recently in Hollywood. She is president of the Tallwager Foundation and co-organizer of the now famous Hollywood Canteen. She is five feet, three and a golden blond. Her eyes are blue and she weighs 118 pounds.

Inside Hollywood

With Edith Gwynn

Niles Trammell and John Royal, top men of NBC, are now in London. They are there preparing the way with BBC and other Allied Nations stations for an international hook-up for post-war purposes. The idea is to create an international code for radio with the power to do good instead of evil. . . . Ted Le Berthon, the ex-L. A. News columnist, is probably the town's jumpingstitcher. He's past fifty but won't dance with anyone over eighteen. Says nobody older than that can keep up with him! . . . Eddie Goulding back making things brighter around town. . . . Thomas Mitchell must be a generous soul. Just presented Tallulah Bankhead with an original Dégas. . . . Paul Flato may soon be very much back in business again despite all the trials and tribulations. . . . Paramount had an awful time finding a child to play Texas Guinan as a kid. The youngster had to be able to ride, be "tough" and be able to fire a gun. But six-year-old Patricia Frost just got the job. . . . That radio commentator who has been buying black-market meat as a favor to that comedian and his frau (he's been "serving" the comic for a long time, anyway) isn't getting away with nearly as much as he might imagine. . . . Ballerina Alicia Markova has suffered an injury which will make it impossible for her to dance for several months we hear. . . . Add useless information—or is it? If you were thinking about having your glands re-youthed, you'll have to wait. There's a monkey shortage. . . . Ava Gardner and Howard Hughes give Wesley Howard a case of blues. . . . Hughes, we hear, is loosening up on Jane Russell and she will move over to Warners for a picture with the purchase of a yarn that Howard owns as part of the deal.

Didn't Leatrice Joy Gilbert quietly get a Mexican divorce and marry a Marine there recently? People are wondering if she'll show up in court here for her local abrogation suit. . . . When Ann Sheridan got off the choo-choo in Chicago en route here, there was a fire engine, with the city's fire chief on board, at the station to greet her. The chief explained that he was representing Steve Hannagan and had been hired to put out the torch that Steve is carrying! Ann was with host Jack Warner, Bette Davis, Alexis Smith, Joan Crawford (Phil Terry was limping like anything from an injury he says he got doing housework!), Angela Greene and other studio belles who helped make Saturday night at the Masquers still another memorable one. . . . All the acts in the show deserve a plug, for which there isn't space here. But every time we hear that routine of Wally Brown's we die with laughter. . . . Lionel Stander's wife, Alice, has gone to work at Walt Disney's emporium as an animator. . . . That "Wall of Fame" which was unveiled at the Hollywood Canteen Oct. 31, let the world (via the thousands of boys who see it and then spread all over the globe) know not only the fact that over six thousand Hollywood citizens are doing their part in the war, but what they are doing, and which ones have covered themselves with glory. Thirty-five percent of this industry's manpower is already represented on the wall. And so, in still another way, the Canteen brings credit and good-will to Hollywood and all its people. . . . Judy Garland with Lieut. Vaughn Paul, a duet that put people in a dither at Mocambo. . . . Forget who said it—but so true—so true: "An executive committee is a body that keeps minutes and wastes hours."

Lum 'n' Abner would be willing to play young roles on the screen if they weren't afraid of alienating their legion of air fans who want them as old codgers. That's the real reason there'll be no testing at RKO. . . . Hear that Ida Lupino is balking at doing "Blind Man's House" at 20th—because she really means it when she says she wants a comedy for herself. . . . Lieut. Pat Di Cicco headed for overseas duty. . . . Ask Carole Landis what was the strangest (to say the least!) autographing request she had while she was in North Africa. Very funny. . . . Carry Moore is selling his Connecticut farm and buying a house in Beverly, come what may. . . . Patry Kelly and Phil Eredolove, a dancer, have each other in a spin. . . . Years ago Marlon Davies presented the Warner lot with rows of olive trees. She should see them now. They're dripping with olives—and a crew is being organized to pick them. . . . Alex d'Arcy with Frances Gladwin, Troceng Sunday night. Ditto Monte Proser with Peggy McCann. Capella and Patricia, the dance-tann at that spot, impressed us more than any pair since the first time we saw Rene and Tony de Marco go floating through the air. Kept thinking they must have a lot besides ballroom dancing behind such grace and precision. . . . Adolphe Menjou is returning with the longest "short snorter" bill in captivity. And no wonder. He really covered territory.

selected men at headquarters, there also are special gestapo and infantry units stationed within a radius of five or more miles.

Anyone being received by Hitler, whether a German minister or party leader, must always check all weapons before entering.

Hitler in a typical day at headquarters arises at 6 a. m. and confers with his generals two hours later. His relations with the generals have become rather cool and during these meetings, which may last more than two hours, Hitler's excited, impassioned voice often can be heard outside.

After the military conference, he turns to state affairs and receives the reports of his ministers. Even at the front he is interested in the most trivial affairs and fusses with details.

He takes a hasty lunch at 1:30. He has acquired a taste for tea-British brand.

In the afternoon he again receives ministers and high-ranking Nazi leaders who are summoned often for prolonged sessions. Afterward he again confers with his military staff and then has dinner—which is usually two dishes with tea.

He receives another brief report on developments at the front about midnight and retires about 2 a. m.

He apparently requires little sleep and except for a recurrent throat ailment has not been seriously ill in several months.

However, his humor is bad and he gives the impression of being constantly tired from the strain of so many conferences, at which he always speaks at length.

Religious Films To Be Shown At AAFBS

The first in a series of religious films will be shown in the west chapel at the Big Spring Bombardier School Sunday evening.

According to announcement by Chaplain James L. Patterson, the film "Barabbas" will be shown at 8 p. m. Sunday in connection with a "back home" singing program.

Service men, their families, WACs and all army personnel are cordially invited to attend.

Paying For Church—The East Fourth Street Baptist church is making a two-in-one campaign, to pay off $9,000 indebtedness on the church building, and to buy enough war bonds to purchase one PT Fairchild trainer plane. W. R. Puckett, church treasurer, announced this past week that more than $6,000 has been paid in; and with only about $2,000 unsubscribed, he hopes to get within sight of the goal today. Mr. Puckett is chairman of the special committee and is shown above receiving bonds for the building fund. Plans are to dedicate the building debt-free on December 5.

Wildcat Pumps 13 Barrels

Reacting to a 2,000-gallon acid treatment, the J. B. Hawley, Jr. No. 1 J. W. Cook, western Howard county wildcat, pumped 13 barrels of oil daily at the end of the week.

The test, seven miles west and slightly north of Big Spring, canceled out Monday and held steady on the pump through Friday. It was shut down Saturday while tools were moved to the Hawley No. 1 H. H. Wilkinson, a mile and a quarter to the southeast. Before the acidization, the No. 1 Cook has dropped to as low as five barrels on some days. Originally it was given 750-quart shot. Bottom of hole is 3,281. Location is 1980 feet from the north and west lines of section 23-34-1n, T&P.

J. B. Hawley No. 1 H. Cowden, 330 feet from the east and 2,310 feet from the north lines of section 18-33-1s, T&P, a northeastern outpost to the Harding pool seven miles southwest of Big Spring, was cleaning out at 3,240 feet with 1,800 feet of fluid in the hole. It was shot with 500 quarts from 3,180-3,300 feet. Surface string was set at 185 feet in redbeds for the No. 2 Cowden, across a 40' from the No. 1 well. Hawley No. 1 Wilkinson was preparing to drill plugs Tuesday after topping the San Andres section at 3,062 and setting seven-inch OD casing.

In the eastern end of the county, Cosden No. 2 W. R. Read was completed during the week, pumping 149 barrels of oil and 74 barrels of water on a 14-hour run. Location is in section 48-30-1s, T&P. In the same section, materials were being moved in for the Cosden No. 1-B Read. The newly completed test will carry a 60-barrel allowable for 18 months as one of the first five completions in a new field area.

The Cosden and Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Etta M. Conrad, southeastern Borden county wildcat, was swabbing down water column which was run-in order to facilitate cleaning out operations. Tubing has been re-run and a test is due this week. Location is in section 79-20, LaVaca.

To the south in the Vincent area, the Cosden and Coffield & Guthrie No. 2 Allen, a northwest diagonal offset to the No. 1 Allen, only producer in the area, drilled below 4,800 feet in soft gray lime with no shows and no water. Location is in section 57-20, LaVaca. Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Guy Guffey, in the southwest corner of section 58-20, LaVaca, and a direct offset to the No. 1 Allen, was waiting on equipment at 3,785 feet.

Bond O' Co. and L. C. Harrison No. 1 Texas Land and Mortgage, southeast outpost to the Latane-East Howard pool in section 9-30-1s, T&P, lowered 10-inch casing to bottom of hole at 908 feet.

War Fund Drive Meets Quota

Howard county, almost by sheer efforts of workers, Saturday night had kept its war record clean by reaching at $17,980 National War Fund quota.

Pat Kenney, general chairman, announced Saturday evening that the drive officially was over the top although part of it was covered in pledges, many of them made in a last minute telephone appeal to business men and other civic minded individuals.

As returns piled in from the Lions club team, which went out Wednesday to help clean up the drive, and from the rural districts, Kenney and his aides checked to within $1,266 of the quota. Then civilian workers at the Big Spring Bombardier School came through with another big donation that put the drive within a few hundred dollars of its goal.

The chairman and others immediately pushed the campaign to conclusion, contacting 32 donors over the phone.

To scotch against the possibility of miscalculation and any pledge shrinkage, Kenney urged those who have not yet been contacted to make an effort to get their gifts in by Monday.

Happy that the drive, which was launched in mid-October, was at last successfully to its objective, Kenney issued thanks to "all who gave and especially to those who gave the added service of collecting these gifts." He lauded C. J. Staples, who directed the employe canvass in the business district, Walker Bailey, who headed up the rural subscription, the Lions club for furnishing workers for the home-stretch drive, to other organizers for earlier workers, and to all who had a part.

In addition to reports from several rural communities, which showed Vincent, R-Bar, Morris, Lomax and Hartwells over the top on their quotas, the drive was quickened Saturday by reports from the T. & P. roundhouse, cashed and clerical workers.

Immediately upon completion of the job Saturday, Kenney wired George Butler, Houston, state chairman, that Howard county had come through on its assignment.

These included Jack Raburn Flinn and Lewis C. Bramlett.

S/Sgt. Edmond H. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, has had another honor added to the list of those bestowed upon him since he was burned and taken prisoner in the Ploesti, Rumania raid. The Hall of State at Dallas has written Mr. and Mrs. Smith asking that biographical and other information concerning him be furnished the institution for a place in the archives. Sgt. Smith recently was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for his part in the historic air attack on the vital Axis oilwell and refinery center.

Officers had out calls all over the state Saturday for a 1942 Ford coach reported stolen from D. W. Rankin of this city.

Lieut. Cora Lee Morrow left Saturday evening for Dallas to be at the side of her father, who is reported gravely ill in a hospital there. During her emergency furlough, Sgt. Paula Edwards will be in charge of the WAC recruiting sub-station in the postoffice basement.

Pilar Galan is being held by police for questioning in connection with a theft case.

Firemen hurried to 405 E. 2nd street Saturday in response to an alarm. However, the blaze resulted from a gas jet being left open and Clarence Todd, occupant of the house, coolly turned off the gas—and that was the end of the fire.

Here 'n There

Trustees of the Big Spring independent school district have accepted the resignation of Mrs. Cornell Smith as secretary to John Coffey, high school principal. She is to give up the post on December 1.

A loud speaker system from the post chapel at the Big Spring Bombardier School broadcasts sacred music for the soldiers and WAC during lunch hour at the post. All the army personnel seem to enjoy music while going to mess halls.

Two transfers to the local Howard county Selective Service office were shipped to Fort Sill, Okla., Reception Center Saturday.

peace officers school. Laymen might like to hear some of this.

If anyone knows how to work a quick miracle, the city is anxious to make use of such talents. The water supply is being tapped at an average of 1,500,000 gallons daily. Engineers say the safe pumping rate is 450,000 gallons daily. At this rate, city officials frankly fear the available supply won't hold out until late spring when supplemental production is anticipated.

Our football team has played in pretty bad luck all season, yet the inexperienced youngsters have never stopped fighting for a second. No better tribute to this fine spirit could be paid than turning out for the Sweetwater game here Thursday afternoon.

To a lot of people, all the hullabaloo about killing rats in the rural districts and in the city may have seemed foolish. However, the statement by a high state health official that Howard county had made more progress during the past year in combatting typhus fever than any other county in the state ought to convince skeptics that there is sense to all this.

Notre Dame Stages Uphill Battle To Shade Seahawks 14-13

Forsan To Meet Van Horn For Bi-Dist. Title

Forsan, champions of district No. 5, will meet Van Horn, champions of district No. 6, for the bi-district six-man football title.

Although Van Horn had previously sacked up its crown, Forsan had to mow down Water Valley at Water Valley in a hard fought game Friday, 19-6, to win the championship of this district. Time of the bi-district clash has not been fixed but likely will be here Dec. 3 or 4.

Water Valley rocked the visiting Buffaloes back in the first quarter when Teel, halfback, circled right end from the 10-yard line to score. The try for point was no good.

Midway in the second quarter, the Buffs rallied and pushed to the Water Valley three-yard stripe. J. B. McDonald promptly circled left end for the count and Harley Grant ran across for the extra point.

Things were tighter than a bargain shirt after a rain until the middle of the fourth quarter when Grant passed to McDonald, who shook three tacklers and streaked 40 yards to pay dirt. Desperately trying to get back into the ball game, Water Valley failed to kick on the fourth down and Forsan took over on the enemy's 25-yard line. Quickly the Buffs worked it to the 15 and Grant took over from there to circle left end for the last count of the game.

The win was the seventh for Forsan out of eight starts and ran the team's total to 251 points against 87 for the opposition. Only defeat handed Forsan was a 20-18 spanking at Courtney.

Staunch Service Team Holds Irish To Low Yardage

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 20 (AP)—Little Fred Earley, an 18-year-old Navy V-12 trainee, today place-kicked two vital extra points after a pair of last half touchdowns to give Notre Dame a 14-13 victory over the pro-powered Iowa Seahawks.

A crowd of 45,000 went wild as Notre Dame climaxed a terrific uphill struggle to win its ninth straight game after spotting the Seahawks seven points in the first period.

The Irish, with Great Lakes next Saturday standing between them and their first undefeated-untied season since 1930, today were stamped as one of the best, if not the best, team in the school's lush football history.

Only four yards short of a touchdown, the halftime whistle ended Notre Dame's chances of tying the score. But the Irish forgot that heartbreaking incident and rolled 64 yards to a touchdown in the first four minutes of the fourth quarter, gave another marker to the Seahawks at the outset of the fourth, and then paraded 55 more yards into the end zone.

The Seahawks, going down to their first defeat in nine starts used their five former pros the greater part of the game. Dick Todd of Texas Aggies and a Washington Redskins star for four years provided the most power, carrying the ball 13 times for 78 yards and completing two passes for 40 yards. He was carried from the field suffering a broken jaw in the last period during Notre Dame's touchdown drive.

The Seahawks great line, holding the Irish terrors of the T to 187 yards by rushing—the lowest amount of the season for them—did not permit Notre Dame to advance beyond the midfield stripe in the first quarter. Todd's remarkable punts, two going out of bounds on the four and two-yard lines, never gave the Irish a foothold from which to start.

As time was running out in the opening period, Jimmy Smith, formerly of Illinois, and Todd collaborated for a Seahawk push which carried from the 38 to 8.

Barney McGarry of Utah, and the Cleveland Rams, kicked the point and the pre-flighters went into a 7-0 lead which they protected until the half.

Notre Dame's T began showing power at the outset of the third period with Jim Mello, Creighton Miller and Johnny Lujack's passing burning up yardage. Sub Bow McGarry's try for extra point failed, the ball bouncing off one of the uprights.

After the ensuing Seahawk kickoff, Notre Dame sprung Miller and Mello from its deceptive T on a 55-yard drive. Miller crashed over from the six and Earley's placekick clinched the victory.

Purdue Winds Up Perfect Season In Edging Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 20 (AP)—For 52 years Indiana and Purdue have been playing football against each other, but the oldest greybeard had to scratch his head to find an equal in thrills today as the Bollermakers from Purdue completed their first perfect season since 1929, with a 7 to 0 victory over their Hoosier rivals.

The triumph not only assured Purdue of a high spot in national ratings, but gave the service-bolstered Bollermakers a tie with Michigan for the Big Ten championship.

The 15,000 fans were in a frenzy throughout the entire last quarter as Indiana drove inside the Purdue five yard line three times. On the last occasion the stalwart Bollermaker line held for four downs within 25 two yard line and took the ball on its one just seven seconds before the final gun.

Randolph Team Rallies To Put Down NTAC

RANDOLPH FIELD, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Randolph Field Ramblers, with their unblemished record for the season fading fast as they went into the last period down 13 to 0 to North Texas Aggies, let loose an attack that netted three fourth period touchdowns and won 20 to 13. The Ramblers, with Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa on the pitching mound, felled 15 passes in that last period, two of them for touchdowns, and Dobbs completed 29 out of 46 for the afternoon.

NTAC scored both its touchdowns in the first period. Donald Hughes got off a 64-yard quick kick in the opening minutes of play and the ball got away from safety man Tex Aulds, North Texas recovering on the Ramblers' 21 yard line. J. B. Batchelor passed to Concelo Kegons to the four and then tossed one to Sam Weatherford for a touchdown. Batchelor kicked the point from placement.

Several minutes later, toward the close of the period, a fourth down punt by Dobbs was blocked and caught in mid-air by Kegons, who ran 59 yards for a touchdown. The kick was no good and the Ags led, 13 to 0, at the half.

Randolph kept knocking away, but just couldn't click until the fourth quarter got underway. Weatherford for a touchdown. Batchelor kicked the point from placement.

Northwestern Runs Over Illini, 53-6

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP)—Illinois and Northwestern closed their football season today as the Wildcats rolled up a 53 to 6 margin to take third place behind Michigan and Purdue in the Big Ten race. The Illini made their lone score in spectacular fashion as little Eddie Bray romped 90 yards on a kickoff return in the third period.

Owls Turn Back Christians, 13 to 6; Tech Defeats Ponies By Single Point Game Marked By Long Runs

FORT WORTH, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Rice Owls blazed in the last half today to humble Texas Christian 13-6 in a game that produced the longest runs of this dying Southwest conference football campaign. A crowd of 3,500 thrilled at the mighty gallops and at some of the greatest kicking of the season.

Bucky Sheffield carried the boys in blue out of the doldrums with a passing attack that produced a touchdown in the third period and a running exhibition that hung up the winning score midway of the last period.

Jim Lucas, the Pecos Peach, raced 83 yards on a punt return in the second quarter to give TCU a 6-0 lead.

Rice tied the score with a 61-yard surge after Bib Smith had intercepted a Lucas pass on the Owl 39. Sheffield passed to George Grininger for eleven, to Dick Isaacs for eleven more, to Bruce Bradbeer for six and to Bradbeer again to carry to the Christian five-yard stripe. Sheffield circled right end for four and Bill Scruggs smashed over for the touchdown.

Early in the fourth quarter Scruggs, the 154-pound mite of the Owl backfield, intercepted another Lucas pass and sprinted 73 yards before big Clyde Flowers brought him down on the Frog ten-yard line. TCU halted this threat when on fourth down Scruggs lacked two yards of reaching the goal line, but the Owls were pounding at the Frog goal line soon afterward and this time it paid off. Lucas had kicked out to midfield but Davis Parrish ran to the TCU 30. Then the giant Sheffield swung into action again. He whirled around right end for 17 yards, Joe Kucera contributed three at left tackle, and in two more tries Sheffield cracked to a first down on the Frog three. Sheffield then lumbered over right tackle for the touchdown. Frank Lawrence kicked the extra point.

Michigan Grabs A Share In Title By Trouncing Buckeyes

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 20 (AP)—Michigan's navy-marine studied Wolverines trounced the "baby Buckeyes" of Ohio State, 43-7, to clinch a share of the Western conference football championship with Purdue in a season finale witnessed by 45,000 here today.

The victory, with its second largest point total in a feud started in 1897, gave Michigan its first title claim since 1933. The Wolverines and the Bollermakers each finished undefeated in six league starts, while over the season Michigan was beaten only by Notre Dame.

Great A&M Star, Derace Moser, Paid Hero's Honor After Death In Crash

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 20 (AP)—With its ceremony of silver taps Texas A. and M. paid respects tonight to an Aggie football great—Second Lieut. Derace Moser, 24, who died in the crash of a Flying Fortress near Tampa, Fla., yesterday.

Moser and his great passing led the Aggies to the Southwest conference football championship in 1941, but his record as a star began when he made the Aggie team in 1939 as a sophomore wingback who then was known for his blocking.

He was co-pilot of a fortress which crashed after collision with a similar ship and one of at least eight men who died, the McDill Field public relations office reported. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Moser of Stephenville, Tex., were informed of his death today.

On a powerful Aggie team of 1939 Moser shared scat-back honors with William Conatser of Denison. High point of its performance was a Sugar Bowl defeat of Tulane on New Year's Day, 1940. Then Moser's blocking enabled little Herbie Smith of San Angelo to snare a pass from Waleman Price of Newcastle and later to John Kimbrough of Haskell who went for the touchdown that tied the score. Price kicked the point and the Aggies won 14-13.

Herbie Smith, Army Air Corps lieutenant, also was killed in a plane crash, a little more than a year before Moser's death.

"Derace was a great boy, a great athlete, a great leader. I have always classed him as one of the best athletes I ever coached," Coach Homer Norton of the Aggies said today.

"The shock of Moser's death is as great as was the news of Herbie Smith's death. There were two fine men who were stars of football, and who also were stars in the Army Air Corps. Both of them have gone in similar accidents. Both were willing always to pay the price for victory on the gridiron or in the armed service."

Baugh To Match Passing Talents With Luckman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Two prime football questions were under debate on the street corners and in the taverns along historic Pennsylvania avenue tonight: Can Baugh out-pass Luckman? And, can Washington's line repulse the smashing Bear running attack?

A capacity crowd of about 38,000 fans will get some sort of answer to those puzzles tomorrow when Slingin' Sammy Baugh, idol of fandom in this football-mad capital, leads the world champion Washington Redskins against the potent Chicago Bears with Sid Luckman starring.

It promises to be the top game of the year and a sure-fire preview of the National league championship playoff.

Both teams are undefeated in league competition, although each has played a tie game. The Redskins, who trounced the Chicagoans for the world title last December, are tops in the eastern division of the circuit while the Bears are the class of the west.

As early as last August, tomorrow's game was billed as the sports attraction of the year in war-jammed Washington.

Washington handicappers are quoting the Bears as 5-2 favorites.

FT. RILEY ON TOP

ROCKFORD, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Centaurs of Fort Riley, Kas., captured the midwest army football championship today by out-pointing Camp Grant 10 to 6. Earlier in the season these two elevens battled to a 13 to 13 tie.

Both Tallies Made By Air

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Texas Tech Red Raiders defeated the Southern Methodist Mustangs of the Southwest conference, 7 to 6, today before a crowd of 3,000, Freddie Brown's point conversion bringing the victory.

Both teams, light and composed mostly of freshmen, scored through the air.

Near the end of the second period, Dave Redman shot a pass over Texas Tech's defense to Milton McClintock, who raced to Tech's 23. Then Bob Stewart faded way back and lofted a high aerial to the goal line. L. B. Cox was there and so was Tech's safety man, Buster Melton, but Cox leaped high and fell across for the score. C. D. Allen's kick was blocked—a kick which might have meant a tie for SMU.

Both teams began unleashing desperate passes and Tech finally made one pay off in the first part of the fourth. Tech got the ball on its 35 after a punt exchange and moved from there. Melton passed to Bob Brewer on the SMU 49 and then shot a 20-yard one to Hubert Bechtol, who took it on the run and continued across the goal line.

Then Brown put his perfect kick through the uprights.

3-AA Season To Close Out On Thanksgiving

WEEK'S RESULTS
 San Angelo 13, Sweetwater 7
 Abilene 33, Big Spring 20
 Midland 51, Lamesa 13

DISTRICT STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
San Angelo	5	0	1.000
Sweetwater	4	1	.800
Odessa	3	2	.600
Midland	3	2	.600
Abilene	2	3	.400
Big Spring	1	4	.200
Lamesa	0	6	.000

Thanksgiving brings the close-out of the district 3-AA warfare, but games scheduled for Thursday are likely to be in the anti-climax category.

The big noise was this past week, when San Angelo's Bobcats settled the Sweetwater hash to the tune of 13-7 to remain undefeated. The Bobcats go to Abilene Thursday, but an Eagle victory would be something like Moss Creek and Powell lakes running over the spillway overnight. In other words, a miracle.

Sweetwater, now relegated to second place, comes to Big Spring, and it would take another miracle for the Ponies to lose that one. The other Turkey Day set pits Midland against Odessa at Odessa, and on paper the Bronchos should win.

The Bronchos were idle this past week while Midland was cleaning up on Lamesa, 51-13. This game closed out the season for the light and inexperienced Lamesa boys, who were unable to annex a single win.

Army Puts The Blitz To Brown, 59 To 0

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—It is an OPA regulation that no red ration points are required for bear steak—so Army's footballers had their biggest banquet in 24 years today.

Apparently operating on the theory of feasting while the feasting is good, the well-drilled Cadets warmed up for next week's Navy brawl by eating their fill of the battered Brown bruin for a 59 to 0 triumph—the biggest score any Army team has rolled up since the 1919 outfit nosed out Villanova 62-0.

Army Coach Earl Blakk had his bench cleaned off at the finish, and even the fourth stringers scored.

The Big Spring Steers took it on the chin again Friday, going down before the onslaught of the bulky Abilene Eagles 33-20, but not until they had put up the game scrap of the year.

It was a case of just too much playing at home, chased over three touchdowns in the first and two in the second before settling back to fend off the invaders.

The game was packed with excitement and action, for no sooner had Gene Spires capitalized on a Steer fumble by circling end to score from the 25-yard line than Bobby Barron returned the Eagle kickoff 100 yards—the entire length of the field—for a touchdown. Bobby cut down the left sideline, did a little sidestepping while his blockers formed for him. The last 65 yards he just plain outran the opposition. Spires had kicked his point but Dewie Stevenson missed the try for Big Spring.

This touched off a scoring spree by the Eagles who promptly drove 65 yards to count with Spires going over from the 10. He missed his conversion try. Just before the end of the quarter, Dub Duff wormed through the Steer line, shook a couple of tacklers and suddenly broke into the open to hurry 87 yards for a score. Spires shoed the ball through the goal posts.

The Eagles' fourth touchdown was scored by Jim Harrison around right end for 36 yards with Spires adding the point. Hardly had things settled down again than Harrison rifled a pass to Bill Murphy, who ran 40 yards to the double stripe but a clipping penalty ruined the play. Harrison then passed to McGlothlin for 24 yards and the final score for the feathered tribe.

In the third, Abilene stormed to the Steer five yard line but Stevenson, who played his usual superlative game for the Steers with heady defensive tactics and keeping his mates fired up on the offense, bolted in to intercept a pass inot the flat and ran 95 yards for a touchdown. No one came near heading the fleet-footed Dewey.

Before the quarter ended, the Eagles fumbled on their own 19-yard line and the Steers recovered. Using the same play on which he scored an 85-yard touchdown against Angelo the week before, Stevenson knifed through center nicely for 14 yards. On the first play of the last quarter he circled end for the score.

Perhaps the outstanding defensive man on the field was little Felix Hudgins, who saw filling in at right end for Gene Smith, victim of a car mishap Nov. 11. Hudgins played like a mad man, riding out three and four blockers and occasionally still managing to get the tackle.

Barkley Wood, Steer center, played his rugged game, too, either getting or being in on 90 per cent of the tackles.

The axis now have a female department of the Gestapo to watch German women. Its leader is known as "Frau Himmler."

S'water Next And Last On Grid Schedule

Scrimmage will be out but there will be an abundance of hard work Monday and Tuesday as the Big Spring Steers prepare for their traditional game with the Sweetwater Mustangs here Thursday at 2:30 p. m.

The tilt, traditionally one of the high spots on the year's grid menu here, will be the final game of the season for both teams and the only day game booked here during the season.

Reserved seat tickets will go on sale at the chamber of commerce and at the school tax office Monday.

Proud of the scrappy game his youngsters turned in against Abilene, Coach John Dibrell said that he would be ready to make a fight of it with the Mustangs, who are regarded as heavy favorites. Although several were bruised, none of the Steers were hurt in the Abilene encounter and Dibrell said the boys were determined mentally on edge for the final game.

Tulane Has An Easy Time With LSU, 27-0

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP)—An inspired Tulane Green Wave struck with lightning suddenness for three touchdowns in the third quarter here today to whip Louisiana State 27 to 0 before an estimated 40,000 fans. It was the first Greenie victory over the Tigers in four years.

The Greenies were superior in every phase of play and had to exert themselves only twice during the warm afternoon to halt LSU threats.

SECOND FOR DUKE

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 20 (AP)—Duke's Blue Devils won their second victory of the season over the North Carolina Tar Heels, 27 to 6 here today. The Tar Heels were held scoreless until the final quarter. More than 26,000 spectators watched the contest. Duke defeated Carolina 14 to 7 in October.

BASEBALL REVIVAL

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, predicted today that baseball would flourish in 1944 and there would be more instead of fewer leagues in operation.

Southwestern In Line For A Bowl With 7-0 Win

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Southwestern Pirates of Georgetown, Tex., moved a step closer to a bowl game bid here today when they defeated Monticello, Ark. A&M Bollweevils, 7 to 0 before a crowd of about 5,000.

The contest featured two strong defensive clubs with the Pirates having a slight advantage due to the brilliant punting of Bill Hearn, wingman, former Texas Christian University player, whose long boots kept the Bollweevils well back in their own territory.

The Pirates won the ball game in the first two minutes of play, after recovering a Monticello fumble on the second running play of the game.

Jim Mitchell, fullback, formerly of Oklahoma University, drove 33 yards off right tackle and fell on the one-yard line. On the next play he hit center for a touchdown. "Spot" Collins, former Texas University back, who was brilliant throughout, kicked the extra point.

Blue Jackets Crush Marquette, 25 To 6

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Great Lakes Bluejackets warmed up for their finale with Notre Dame next week by trouncing a hard-fighting Marquette team today 25 to 6.

It was the Sailors' ninth victory of the season against two defeats, and the second of the year over the Hilltoppers who succumbed to them earlier in the year, 41 to 7.

Great Lakes took the lead early in the first period and was never headed, putting touchdowns across in each quarter and piling up 432 yards from scrimmage to Marquette's 293.

Aggie-Longhorn Rivalry Moves Into Second Half-Century On Thursday

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 20 (AP)—Texas vs. Texas A. and M.—the oldest, deepest and most colorful football rivalry in the Southwest.

Whether the teams are wallowing in the cellar or fighting for the title, whether there is war or peace—Texas vs. Texas A. and M. is the big show for a day.

Fifty times have they met and next Thursday here they'll start on the second fifty.

This time the game is the most important for the year both from a tradition standpoint and from the championship angle—because the Southwest conference title will be riding on the result.

There will be a sell-out crowd as usual although this time the number will be limited by A. and M. college. Only the regular seats will be available—33,000 of them. There will be no bleachers erected, no boxes provided. This is a war year and materials are scarce.

But the game will lack nothing in pageantry and color and fierce battle of the 50 gone on before.

The Aggies are far behind in the victory parade—they've taken only 16 games of the half-hundred played. Texas has won 30 and there have been four ties.

Game Nets $25,000 For Navy Relief

HOUSTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A check for more than $25,000 will be presented to Admiral Joseph Richardson for naval relief between halves of the Rice-Southwestern game on Saturday, Nov. 27.

The check is the net proceeds of the football game played by Southwestern and Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Rice Stadium in October.

Dr. J. N. R. Score, president of Southwestern, and Joel L. Fletcher, president of Southwestern Louisiana Institute, are expected to attend the presentation or send representatives.

Besides the navy relief share, checks of $1,000 have been sent to the war chests of Georgetown and Lafayette, La., and a sizeable amount was relayed through program sales by the Navy Mothers club of Houston.

Big Mountain Lion Bagged In Hidalgo

MCCOOK, Tex., Nov. 20 (AP)—Successful deer hunts were on the scarce side as the new season opened in Hidalgo county this week, but two hunters came into the McCook settlement with an eight-foot mountain lion, one of the biggest seen in this area in recent years. The men estimated the animal weighed 160 pounds.

One of the hunters, in a deer stand in a tree, spotted the animal and broke its back with the first shot.

GAME CANCELLED
 SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20 (AP)—The College of the Pacific-University of San Francisco football contest scheduled for here today was cancelled by mutual agreement between Coach A. A. Stagg and Athletic Director James Needles of the local school. Heavy rain turned Kezar Stadium field into a quagmire.

Conference Titles Settled, While Notre Dame Hangs On To Top Spot

By ORLO ROBERTSON
 NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Notre Dame moved within one game of its first perfect season since 1930 in today's outstanding football tilt but while the Irish were nosing out the Iowa Seawawks, 14-13, in their closest call of the year a few other important arguments were settled on the nation's gridirons.

Michigan's Wolverines, beaten only by Notre Dame in a non-conference tilt, and Purdue's Bollweevils wound up in a tie for the Western conference title with the latter accounting for their ninth successive victory in their first unbeaten year since 1929. Michigan rolled over Ohio State, 45-7, and Purdue beat back a gallant Hoosier eleven from Indiana to win 7-0. Each winner won six league games.

Kansas, with just a so-so season, came to the aid of the idle Oklahoma Sooners in the Big Six title scramble by scoring a surprise 7-6 triumph over Missouri. Missouri's defeat, the Tigers' second in the conference, assured the Sooners of the crown regardless of what they do against Nebraska next week.

Colorado College, boasting of its greatest team since the days of Dutch Clark, won unofficial recognition as the top eleven of the Rocky Mountain area by turning back Colorado, 6-0.

But the Irish-Seawawks game, witnessed by 45,000 fans, was the No. 1 game of the day, involving two unbeaten teams, ranked one-two in the Associated Press weekly poll. It also was as close as the score indicated, with the accurate toe of Fred Early, 18-year-old Navy V-12 trainee, deciding the issue after the collegians had twice come from behind.

Even then the sailors had a chance to win in the final minutes but a 16-yard field goal attempt went astray.

Northwestern's Wildcats, turned back by Notre Dame and Michigan, completed their most successful campaign in several years by downing Illinois 53-6, with Eddie Bray galloping 90 yards for the Illini's only score and the day's longest run.

For the number of long runs, however, Army topped the field while whipping Brown 59-0. Jack Minor went 88 yards for one touchdown, Carl Anderson 83 yards for another and Bob Dobbs 81 for one. The game was little more than a warm-up for the Cadets who meet the Navy at West Point next Saturday.

After a scoreless first quarter Duke started rolling and went on to whip North Carolina, 27-6, in the outstanding Southern conference Game. Georgia Tech stepped out of the Southeastern conference competition to whip Clemson, 41-6, while Tulane turned in an upset triumph over Louisiana State, winning 27-0 on the strength of a three-touchdown spurge in the third quarter. Southwestern of Texas downed Arkansas A. and M. 7-0 on a neutral field at Shreveport.

Great Lakes' Sailors, whose chance to stop Notre Dame comes next Saturday, worked out against Marquette, 25-6. Wisconsin finally managed to score but not enough, bowing to Minnesota, 25-13. Iowa, trampled on all season, found a team it could beat in winning over Nebraska, 33-13. Iowa State trampled Kansas State, 48-0, and Ft. Riley won the mid-west soldiers' championship by defeating Camp Grant, 10-6.

In the east, Columbia and Princeton took their usual beatings. The former lost to Colgate, 41-0; the latter dropped a 42-13 decision to Dartmouth. Penn State had too much power for Pittsburgh, winning, 14-0. Villanova beat Temple, 34-7; Lafayette Naval Training Station easily defeated Muhlenberg, 29-7, while Boston College and Harvard ended up in a 6-6 deadlock.

Down in the Southwest the alorans had their innings while Texas and Texas A. M. rested for their Thanksgiving Day title clash. Rice nosed out Texas Christian,

State And Federal Power

Prefatory to his address to be made before the Farm Bureau folks in Dallas Tuesday night, Attorney General Mann gave an Austin correspondent an outline of his political philosophy, which included the statement that there must be a modern conception of states rights, in keeping with the modern order of things that give the Federal government greater power in control of state affairs.

Only a confirmed stand-patter will deny that time brings changes, though not all these are for the best. These changes should and must be recognized and accepted. It is to be hoped that the Attorney General, potential candidate for an important state office, will make clear his philosophy of how this acceptance is to be brought about.

Herald Receives Copy Of Ancient Newspaper

An account of a lawsuit which resulted in the granting to Livingston and Fulton the exclusive right of navigating the waters of this state with steam-boats, is one of the now-curious items appearing in a newspaper nearly 110 years old.

The issue, the May 1, 1824 edition of the New York American, belongs to J. R. Marriott, who found it in an old house in Claverack, N. Y., in which his father lived. It was a house, incidentally, that was built in 1680. Marriott is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. R. S.

Printed in exceptionally fine type, with no display headlines, the American devoted considerable space to politics in Rhode Island, to marine arrivals and departures. Recognition of another American city is paid in a dispatch as follows: "It would appear almost incredible, but yet it is stated that on the 6th ultimo there were in the port of New Orleans, 67 ships 123 brigs, 52 schooners, 11 sloops and 16 steamboats, and with but few exceptions they were all busily engaged in either loading or discharging." Congressional proceedings had to do with the formation of federal circuit courts. There was the report of a stage robbery between the cities of Albany and Schenectady, and an account of a trial for piracy. Medical advertisements bore endorsements of physicians; and there was the advertisement of J. T. Jacobs & Co., merchant tailors, which said: "in addition to their former stock, are daily receiving from auction superfine blue, black, olive and fancy colored cloths x x x and a great variety of fancy Vestings x x x"

And the paid message of one Edward Henry, who guaranteed to cure Smoky Chimnies: "From his long experience in the line of his

Expert Truss and Belt Fitting
Also Elastic Stockings
Cunningham & Philips

business, he can confidently assert, that if there is a possibility of curing a smoky chimney, even of the worst sort, he can certainly effect it; and if, upon examination, he should deem it incurable, he will not undertake it."

Alarming Figures Seen In Local Water Report

Interesting, arresting and even alarming figures and opinions are contained in the statement upon which Freese and Nichols, hydraulic engineers, have summed up their findings on the Big Spring water situation in a report to the Federal Works Agency.

The report also contains suggested remedies.

Among the more pertinent facts developed is one that the city's water wells are being pumped at almost four times the rate of safe production fixed by engineers at 450,000 gallons per day. Average production is now 1,600,000 GPD. Although the wells could produce up to 2,000,000 gallons daily, this could be maintained but a short time before supplies are depleted, according to the report.

With both lakes dry due to prolonged drought, additional underground supplies were suggested as the only possible source of immediate relief to meet an average demand of 2,601,000 GPD in 1944 with some days calling for as much as 4,349,000 GPD.

The city has storage for 3,420,000, leaving production and transmission the chief problems. The report indicated that the Trinity sands southeast of Big Spring offered the best promise of speedy relief.

The engineers suggested a series of wells in an area south of present heavy production in section 33-32-1s, T&P to develop indicated depressions in the Trinity sands, and of more wells in two northern Glasscock county territories. One of these is on the Wm. B. Currie ranch in sections 213, 215 and 219-29, W&NW, and the other on the Foster ranch in sections 27, 29, 30 and 39, Block 33-2s, T&P. Sinclines or "underground bowls" are indicated in the water sands in this area, according to US Geological Survey reports and state board of water engineers.

Development of these areas would entail the running of 135,000 feet of pipe. According to plans, there would be needed 38,000 feet of 17-inch reinforced concrete and 20,000 feet of 16-inch cast iron line from Lancaster street south through the city park and angle to the southeast.

Then the line would straighten southward. There would be 50,000 feet of 20-inch reinforced concrete pipe and another 27,000 feet of 18-inch cast iron pipe. The line would then be within 17 miles of a possible dam site which might be developed for additional surface supply on the North Concho some day.

Spurs from the main line would collect water from the proposed production areas and deposit their output in collection basins for pumping. This would mean an additional five or six miles of pipe. In all, 22 new wells are proposed to give a yield of 1,875,000 GPD.

The reports are based largely upon the findings of Penn Livingston and Robert Bennett with the USGS in an underground water survey here in 1933.

It necessarily involves professional opinion which still has to be proven or disproven. One thing is certain now. Since the city started pumping its wells in September with water tables at an all-time high, the levels have been pulled so rapidly that they were down to a point equal to Dec. 19, 1941 at the end of October. And they are still dropping at about 11 inches a week. As they sink, the rate of loss will become faster. Thus, the report's reference to pumping wells four times in excess of the safe margin begins to make sense and give cause for alarm.

Lou Costello Gets Draft Change Notice

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20 (AP)—Comedian Lou Costello had a date with his draft board at Paterson, N. J., but sent his regrets.

He received notice that his classification had been changed from 3-A to 1-A, with instructions that he report there for a preliminary blood test.

Costello wired a request that his case be transferred to a local draft board and resumed his recuperation from an attack of rheumatic fever that kept him bedfast for several months recently.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: JACK WILLIAM CASSIDAY, GREETING: You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 20th day of December, A. D., 1943, at or before 10 o'clock A. M., before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, at the Court House in Big Spring, Texas. Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 29th day of Sept., 1943. The file number of said suit being No. 4920.

The names of the parties in said suit are: Almedia Cassiday as Plaintiff, and Jack William Cassiday as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: Plaintiff suing defendant for a divorce and custody of a minor child to be born of said marriage between herself and the defendant. The grounds for a divorce being alleged to be that of cruelty by the defendant toward plaintiff of such a nature as to render the further living together insupportable. Plaintiff and defendant were married October 17, 1942, and separated on the 27th day of March, 1943.

Issued this 5th day of November, 1943.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this 5th day of November A. D., 1943.

GEO. C. CHOATE, Clerk
District Court Howard County, Texas.

We have much to be Thankful for

There was a pioneer Thanksgiving, when men and women rejoiced that the land was fruitful, the harvest was good.

There was a Civil War Thanksgiving, when a President first asked this nation to pause and count its blessings.

There was a Thanksgiving in 1918, when the whole world rejoiced at the ending of bitterness and bloodshed.

There was even a Thanksgiving in 1942 when the news, at long last, was good, and our own troops were sweeping the enemy before them.

This year we have more reason to be thankful!

Thankful that in a half-slave world, we are wholly free—in mind, in spirit, in deed.

Thankful that in a famished world, our land is still fruitful, our harvests are good.

Thankful that in a world of dictatorships, ours is still a government of, by and for the people.

Thankful that we can look back on a long string of successes—and look forward to the final victory we shall inevitably win.

Thankful, above all, that we are Americans!

Albert M. Fisher Co.
