CITIZENS PARTY SUBMITS ISSUES TO VOTERS HERE

Non-Partisan Ticket Will Announce Platform at Meeting Tonight.

City politics is shaping itself for a hot campaign for the offices of mayor and city commissioners between the Citizens' ticket and that of the Non-Partisan party. With tonight set as the date upon which the latter ticket will hold a mass meeting at the Summer Garden to submit a platform to the voters, the Citizens' ticket comes out today with a statement of what its stands for in city government.

Four Main Planks.

1. To push to completion the effort to get the Texas & Pacific Railway company to build a new depot. This is practically assured, but it will require close supervision in order to bring it to a successful conclusion.

2. To immediately perfect existing plans for the building of the county hospital in Ranger, and to start work on the actual construction at the earliest possible date.

3. To assist the school board to dispose of the high school bonds so that work on the high school building may be commenced as quickly as possible.

4. To sell the city hall bonds and arrange for an adequate home for the city government and other civic organizations at the earliest practicable date.

They believe that these four ideas are of paramount importance and will bend their every effort to the end that they may be completed.

Other departments of the city government will be governed by the following policies:

Paving.—To push to completion all existing paving contracts, and in addition to the present paving system on a number of blocks with a cheaper priced paving to the end that both the city government and the property owners along such streets will have the use of such paving at a very much reduced cost. There are also two main alleys in the business district that should be out to grade and paved with concrete as soon as plans can be perfected.

Sidewalks.—It is believed that our sidewalk system should be connected up, and that at present out-of-town owners are the chief offenders in not building sidewalks in front of their property, and therefore that a compulsory sidewalk ordinance be passed, and that sidewalks be connected up so as to provide a safe and better system wherever possible, thereby benefiting the whole population in general, and particularly the school children. It is thought that encouragement along this line will bring many sidewalks not now even contemplated.

Street Cleaning.—To continue the present contract and plan for keeping the streets swept and clear of trash in the business district.

Sanitation.—To improve the sanitary condition of the city streets, alleys and yards, particularly in the residence district, so as to make the town not only healthier, but cleaner and better in appearance.

Lower Rates.—That the present trash hauling rates are too high, and the service not adequate, and a better system should be devised to handle this matter at a cheaper rate and in a more satisfactory manner.

Public Utilities.—That the existing rates on public utilities are at present too high, and should be adjusted downward on a fair and equitable basis.

AUSTIN, March 9.—First attempts at filibustering in the Thirty-seventh legislature began this morning in the senate against the Hertzberg medical practice act. U. S. ASKED TO OUST JAPANESE FROM SIBERIA Increased Activities of Troops Cause of Much Friction, It Is Said.

International News Service. WASHINGTON, March 9.—Japanese troops in Siberia have practically assumed the role of an army of occupation and are daily increasing their activities, according to reports in possession of the state department from its representatives there. The report submitted by some of these observers goes so far as to urge the United States to initiate immediate steps to get the Japanese out of the country.

The Japanese are interfering with the operation of the railroads, and in one instance refused to permit the distribution of railroad supplies purchased by the allies, according to one of these governmental reports received in the last days of the Wilson administration, and turned over to the new administration.

BERGDOLL'S TRAILERS TO BE RELEASED SOON, LEGION OFFICE HEARS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 9.—Release of Sergeant Frank Zimmers, of the American force in Germany, and Carl Neuf, former service man, both in jail at Werach, Germany, as a sequel to their frustrated attempt to arrest Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader, is expected soon, it was indicated in a cablegram received at national headquarters of the American Legion here from Major General Henry T. Allen, commanding the forces on the Rhine.

General Allen's message said the men had proceeded into unoccupied territory without orders of the proper authorities, and that they were arrested in territory over which neither the United States nor the allies have jurisdiction. The men are being treated well, and have good legal talent, the message said.

The Paris and Amarc posts of the legion have interceded in behalf of the men.

BONDED WAREHOUSES WILL BE OPENED.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Bonded warehouses containing whisky stocks which have been closed for some time will be opened within the next few days to permit whisky withdrawals by those authorized to do so, it was announced here today. The permitted class consists mainly of wholesale druggists.

STATE WILL NOT DEMAND DEATH FOR CLARA SMITH

Prosecution Will Try to Prove Hamon, Dying, Said Girl Shot Him as He Lay on Bed.

MRS. HAMON ARRIVES.

ARDMORE, Okla., March 9.—Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, widow of the oil millionaire and politician for whose alleged murder Clara Smith Hamon will go to trial in the Carter county district court, arrives here today. Mrs. Hamon has been subpoenaed as a witness for the state.

International News Service. ARDMORE, Okla., March 9.—The prosecution will not ask the death penalty if Clara Smith Hamon is convicted of the slaying of Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma oil king and Republican national committeeman, it was learned today.

It also became known that the state expects to prove that Hamon, while dying, said the girl had shot him while he lay on his bed in the rooms occupied by the couple in a hotel here. The defense, it was stated, will have at least one important witness connected neither with the girl nor the Hamon interests, who will testify that he also talked to the oil king on the day he died, and will deny that Hamon accused the girl as the prosecution

The dispatch also says the tenth congress of Russian communists opened in Moscow yesterday under difficult circumstances.

IRENE WHITE WILL TRY AND IDENTIFY MAN

An effort will be made today to arrange for little Irene White to see the man now held in Fort Worth, believed to be the man who kidnaped her several days ago near her home at Leary. The man was arrested yesterday by officers in Fort Worth on a description furnished them by state rangers.

Chief of Police Reynolds said this morning that he was trying to get in communication with the girl's father at Leary in order to arrange for his daughter to see the prisoner.

ADVISES YOUNG MEN ON JOYS OF MARRIED LIFE

BOSTON, March 8.—Dr. Charles W. Elliot, president emeritus of Harvard university, in an address on "An Enjoyable and Useful Life," delivered before 500 students at the school of engineering of Northwestern college, advised the young men to look forward to a married life as the most natural and most enjoyable form of life.

"Married life," he said, "is the source of the highest and most contented joys in this world. Govern your lives as if you were going to be married next month to a pure woman. That is a great safeguard in the life of a young man."

SENATE SPLIT ON COLUMBIAN TREATY AFFAIR

Borah and Kellogg Oppose Ratification, as Urged in Harding's Message.

International News Service. WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Harding will send a message to the Senate late today on the Colombian treaty. The communication probably will be short and is ordered to urge the immediate ratification of the treaty by the Senate.

Storm warnings are visible in the Senate over the disputed Colombian treaty. Opposition to its ratification by Senator Borah of Idaho, Senator Kellogg of Minnesota and other Republicans is developing rapidly.

PRO LAW SHOT FULL OF HOLES BY NEW RULES

WASHINGTON, March 9.—A sweeping decision, which will liberalize interpretations of the Volstead dry law, was made public today by Revenue Commissioner Williams. The decision, which throws into the discard several existing regulations, was the last opinion drawn by A. Mitchell Palmer before retirement as attorney general.

The ruling held, among other things, that the government has no power under the prohibition law to limit the quantity of any kind of liquor manufactured or sold for non-beverage purposes. It was further declared that certain rules proposed to limit the number of permits for the production of such liquors would in effect be an amendment to the law itself and are invalid.

FRIENDS SAY RUSSELL WILL RETURN HOME

Special to the Times. EASTLAND, March 9.—Auditors working on the books of the county at Eastland have thus far refused to give out any statement as to their finding beyond the fact that a shortage is supposed to exist in the accounts of John A. Russell, former district clerk. The statement came from the offices of the county attorney this morning that the civil suit against Russell would be pushed.

While it cannot be verified, it is said here that the shortage in the accounts of Russell while district clerk, may be found to be much greater than that alleged in the petition of the county attorney's department.

Some of Russell's close friends here say that at the proper time he will appear and defend the suit filed against him, but even they deny any knowledge of his present whereabouts.

Shortly after the suit was filed in Eastland, Russell's department admitted his resignation to Governor Neff as state senator from this district.

DOCTORS TO DEMAND PLEDGE FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION ON HOSPITAL

Immediate work on building the city-county hospital at Ranger will be demanded by the Ranger Medical society. At a meeting held today noon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, the association appointed a committee whose mission it will be to wait on every candidate for mayor and city commissioner, and ask from him a pledge that this matter shall be put through immediately after election.

The society also appointed a committee to work with the Chamber of Commerce lower rent committee, to be named soon. The doctors will work for reduction of office rent where it is deemed excessive.

WOMAN WILL COMBAT JINX "13" IN DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, March 9.—In spite of the "13" jinx, which has followed her marital career, Mrs. Dorothy E. Adams will contest the divorce suit for desertion filed against her by Ray Arthur Adams.

Her husband was declared to have taken his bride to live at 2213 Dayton avenue, and then filed against her on Jan. 11 a suit, which has been set for trial in department 13 for Friday, May 13.

TEXAN, ORIGINAL HARDING MAN, TO GET G. O. P. JOB

R. B. Creager Slated for Post of U. S. Ambassador to Mexico.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—A Texan will land a G. O. P. plum, according to well-established rumors in White House circles. R. B. Creager of Brownsville will be United States ambassador to Mexico, it is said. Mr. Creager is vice-chairman of the state Republican committee and was one of the three original Harding men at the Chicago convention. The President and Mrs. Harding were guests of the Creagers during the vacation at Point Isabel and Brownsville.

It is said that Mr. Creager did not seek the place, but that the President regards him a leader as qualified to fill the post and direct details of negotiations between the new government of Mexico and the administration. He has resided on the border for some years and is familiar with conditions in Mexico.

Confidential Mission. It is thought that Mr. Creager will be utilized by the President in working out the arrangements preliminary to a more complete understanding between the governments, and in all probability sent on a confidential mission to lay the suggestions of the administration before President Obregon.

Information in administration circles is that the Mexican problem is to be approached from the basis laid down in the Fall report and more recently got out in a letter written by Secretary Fall of the Interior Department before he entered the Cabinet to an organization in New York. It can be said that one of the first matters to be insisted upon by this government will be a guarantee on the part of Mexico to respect the lives and property rights of American citizens. Nothing, it is understood, will be accepted short of that goal. With this laid down the administration leaders feel that other matters can quickly be arrived at.

WILSON SPENT $114,742,915.50

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Former President Wilson spent only $114,742,915.50 of the $150,000,000 allotted to him by Congress for war purposes, according to the accounting which he rendered to Congress and which was made public today. The following expenditures are shown in the report: Purchases of property from the North German Lloyd Dock Co. and the Hamburg-American line terminal, $6,262,631.26.

Supplies for the military commission "Russia in February, 1917," $1,000,000.

Purchase of Russian supplies in 1917, $5,000,000.

International Y. M. C. A., $3,000,000.

Intelligence work by the State Department, $293,229.

Entertainment for foreign missions, $150,000.

The expenses of Bernard M. Baruch, technical advisor to the American peace commission were $150,000, according to the accounting. The item was merely listed.

Expenses of Bernard M. Baruch, technical advisor to the American commission to negotiate peace, $150,000.

The President advanced a total of $20,994,523 to Russian sources, it was shown. Of this amount, however, a total of $400,000 was returned to the general fund through the war trade board.

'COIN' HARVEY SLATED FOR POST OF AMBASSADOR TO ENGLAND, REPORT HAS IT

International News Service. WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Harding probably will name an ambassador to Great Britain in a few days, it was learned here today.

No word has come from the White House as to the president's choice but indications point to the selection of George Harvey, editor and publisher of New York. It is reported that Harvey has been offered the post and has agreed to accept it.

President Harding is anxious to fill the post as soon as possible in view of the departure from England this week of Ambassador John W. Davis, whose resignation already has been received.

'CITIZEN OF WORLD' JAILED FOR LOOTING NEWS STAND

CHICAGO, March 9.—Jack Pitman, young and without a home, just a "citizen of the world," as he styled himself, was arrested for picking coins off newstands.

He had victimized several stands in the loop when Traffic Officer H. J. Dureen finally spied him. Pitman was placed in jail.

BURKETT WON'T SUBMIT ISSUE TO CONVENTION

EASTLAND, March 9.—Representative Joe Burkett, who has announced as a candidate for the state senate to succeed Hon. John A. Russell, resigned, has announced he will not accept the proposition of Rev. Arthur W. Jones to leave their candidacy to a precinct and county convention. Mr. Burkett's letter follows:

"Eastland, March 8, Rev. Arthur W. Jones, City.

Dear Sir: I have just received your letter declining to debate the question of my position before five impartial judges to be selected in the manner proposed by me and note you propose a convention system for the elimination of one of us.

"In reply, I wish to say that I do not believe five per cent of the people would participate in a convention and in the second place, conventions are never a real expression of public opinion, and I wish therefore, to decline to submit the matter as you suggest.

"In view of the fact that you have declined what I think is a fair proposition, there is nothing else that I care to say with reference to the matter. If you can beat me, of course you will be senator, provided you are not defeated by someone else, and you are at liberty, so far as I am concerned, to make the race in any manner you see fit.

"As to the matter of law enforcement in Eastland county by the sheriff's department, will say that I am not advised as to such matters, having been away from the county nearly all the time for the past two months, but if you know of any dereliction of duty on the part of the sheriff for which you think he should be removed, I herewith tender my services in drawing up a complaint for you to sign and swear to in order that you might go into the district court and remove him from office, if you as a good citizen know of such facts and circumstances that would require his removal from office, you as a good citizen, should not hesitate to make the complaint against him, and if you do not know of any such wrongs on his part or official misconduct, you should be more anxious to say so. He is my half-brother, but if he is not enforcing the law insofar as possible under the conditions, he should resign, because I believe every officer should do his duty without fear or favor, and if you, or any of your friends, know of any willful failure or refusal on his part to enforce the law, it is your duty as good citizens to file the complaint as provided by law, in the district court, and have him removed from office, which complaint I will draw, if you will furnish me the facts, and then you and your friends can sign and swear to same, and present to the county attorney, who, I feel sure, will prosecute same properly in the district court.

"So far as I am concerned, this is the last I shall have to say with reference to this matter. Truly, Signed: 'JOE BURKETT'."

to the public utilities and to the people. In some instances there should be a reduction of as much as 50 per cent.

Police.—That the policing of the town should be improved so that law and order may at all times prevail and the police regulations in the town should be in accordance with modern city ideas of law and order.

Good Roads.—That it will be the duty of the city commission to assist the county officials in every way possible to push the county road building project to a successful conclusion, and that within the city no obstruction of the county's plans should be allowed to impede the progress of work.

Taxes.—That taxes should not be any higher than the surrounding cities, city government requires, and to the end that the tax rate may be reduced from the present rate, if possible, a board of equal division should be appointed whose duty it will be to see that all classes of property are taxed uniformly and without hardship to any individual, and if taxes are too high on some classes of property as compared with others, to reduce them

'EDUCATION AND POLITICS WON'T MIX'—CLAXTON

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Politics and education don't mix, P. P. Claxton, federal commissioner of education, contends. Their association in state school systems is bad for both, he finds and the sooner they are permanently divorced "the better it will be for education and all that is dependent on it."

"Our political parties do not differ in regard to educational principles or practices any more than they do in regard to the Ten Commandments and the moral code," the commissioner said in a statement arriving here today. "Wise and effective administration of a system of public schooling that has 'just grown up' like Topsy, but now involves an average expenditure of $25,000,000 a year by each state, requires ability and devotion, he said, and should be 'wholly separate from and independent of partisan politics.'"

To reach this end, the commission outlined a uniform system which might well be adopted, he said, in all states. This would include a non-partisan, non-professional elected or appointed state board of education, "made up of men and women of affairs" and representing fairly all sections of the state. The seven to nine members would serve seven or nine-year terms with one term expiring each year. No member to be eligible for reappointment in order to bring in new blood. Members would be non-removable except for cause and the board would elect its own chairman and its members receive "liberal" pay, instead of salary.

"Large salaries," Mr. Claxton said, "would attempt members to try and earn their salaries by meddling with executive details properly belonging to the school board," and he added, "would attract men and women of small ability to the jobs."

The board should exercise general control over all state educational institutions of every kind except, possibly, universities or colleges, the commissioner held. Its functions should be wholly legislative, however, and its members undertake executive work only in specific cases assigned by the board. An elected or appointed commissioner should be the executive officer and secretary of the board, his selection and appointment by the non-partisan board itself being desirable in Mr. Claxton's judgment. A well selected and adequate staff for the commissioner's office would also be required and the responsible department of education thus set up become the leader in all educational matters.

"It is not a safe nor good that the leader be weak or blind," Mr. Claxton said. "Where there is no vision, the people perish; where there is weakness in place; or strength, there can be only stagnation and death where there should be progress and life."

A film presenting the execution of Edith Cavell has been withdrawn from exhibition in Cuba as the result of a protest from the German minister.

During her visit to the United States, Miss Ida A. A. White, noted English fiction writer, travelled 7,000 miles over the deserts and mountains of California and through the big trees of the Yosemite in her own auto.

Accordingly, these points are believed to cover the duties of the city commission in a general way, but aside from this, all questions will be handled in a business-like manner, and judged and acted upon according to business methods, and if elected, this board of commissioners will take the public into their confidence, and act in every instance as the public indicates its wishes.

To these principles the undersigned candidates are pledged.

JOHN M. GHOLSON, M. R. NEWNHAM, A. DAVENPORT, ED MAHER, H. S. COLE.

Same Principle.

The Non-Partisan ticket has not given out its platform. However, in part at least, it is expected to follow lines similar to those of the opposition party. It is also thought that in addition to the constructive planks a political issue will be made.

With two such strong tickets in the field making the race on well defined issues, the belief prevails that the campaign will grow warm as the date of the election draws nearer.

STRIKE CLOUDS GATHER AS 400 PACKING HOUSE UNIONS CONVENE

OMAHA, March 9.—Strike clouds hung low over the conference of representatives of packing house employees throughout the United States as the gathering assembled here today. A labor dispute that may involve 200,000 employees in the packing industry may result from the two-day conference which opened today.

Union leaders made it clear at the outset that they will insist upon packers continuing to observe the arbitration agreement under which wage disputes have been adjusted for the past year. The packers recently withdrew this pact known as the Alschuler agreement.

Announcement in Chicago yesterday of wage cuts to be put into effect by the big packers on March 14, gave emphasis to strike talk. Approximately 400 unions are represented at the conference.

RETAIL MERCHANTS WILL HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING THURS. NIGHT

An important meeting of the Retail Merchants' association will be held tomorrow night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, and it is expected that almost the entire membership will be present.

A semi-annual report of the expenditures and receipts of the organization will be presented in detail. Secretary Burt announces.

Other business will include discussion of various civic moves which the association has undertaken or in which it has joined. These will be gone over, progress noted, and the future policy of the association determined.

GAINS TWENTY POUNDS IN WEIGHT SHE STATES

Little Rock Woman Says She's Feeling Just Grand Since Taking Tanlac and Can't Say Enough for It.

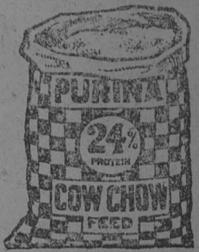

"I have actually gained twenty pounds in weight by taking Tanlac and I'm feeling better than I have in many years," said Mrs. Lizzie Bevels, of 1523 Center St., Little Rock, Ark. "I suffered from a complication of troubles for a long time and last July was forced to undergo an operation. After the operation I was in a very weak and nervous condition and wasn't able to regain my strength. I had no appetite, was just as weak as all, and I knew I had to have something right away to build me up. "It was a lucky day for me when I started taking Tanlac, for I began improving in leaps and bounds from the very first. My appetite became splendid and, as I said, I went right up twenty pounds in weight. I can't say enough in praise of Tanlac." Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros. and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

MOTHER'S FRIEND
Prospective Mothers who prepare carefully with Mother's Friend make Child-birth easier.
It is recorded of the primitive American Indian women that child-birth with them was entirely painless. Modern dress was unknown! Exacting social duties that wreck so many women of today were a minus quantity in their lives; and so it is small wonder that the weaker sex becomes a prey to misgivings when approaching maternity nears the crisis. But this should not be—because —the prospective mother can find comfort in MOTHER'S FRIEND. An external lubricant that spreads its influence over the skin; penetrates to the broad, flat-abdominal muscles, and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practical delivery. Many doctors and nurses recommend MOTHER'S FRIEND. Get a bottle from your druggist today. For valuable booklet—"MOTHERHOOD and The BABY"—free, fill in coupon below and mail direct to the makers of MOTHER'S FRIEND. WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

CENSUS SHOWS JAPS ARE LOSER ONE MILLION

International News Service Staff Correspondent. TOKIO, March 9.—Population figures that prove the population of the Japanese empire over 1,000,000 less than it was estimated in 1918, were given out by the bureau of national power investigation here recently. Practically every city shows a large decrease as compared with the incorrect figures of 1918, Tokio alone being 190,000 less than its semi-official figures indicated.

The population of the empire, according to these figures, which are the result of months of labor on the part of the bureau officials is 77,005,510; that of Japan proper, exclusive of Korea, Formosa and Saghalien, 55,961,140. Both of these figures are less by more than a million than the figures given in 1918. The population of the empire, then estimated from a compilation of old registers, was given at 78,261,856, or 1,255,346 more than the census of 1920 figures. The decrease for the Japanese empire, therefore is 1.6 per cent.

Thus Japan, by its first modern census, for the 1920 figures are the first made along modern lines of investigation, fails to bear out its story of ever-increasing population which is literally driving the nation to seek new lands in Asia and send its immigrants out into the far corners of the earth. Since the fall of the Tokugawa it has been customary to compile all census records from old registers and it has been known for some time that duplications were not only apt to creep in, but that they had come the customary thing.

According to the new figures there are 128,850 more males than females in Japan proper. The total number of families in Japan proper is 11,222,053.

Tokio, Osaka and Kobe rank the first three cities of the empire in the list of statistics.

WOMAN SAYS MURDER SUSPECT WAS NERVOUS AFTER KILLING AT K. C.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 9.—Testifying at a preliminary hearing of Denzel Chester, charged with the murder of Miss Florence Barton, a society girl, the night of Saturday, Oct. 2, last, Mrs. Blanche Ryan, at whose apartment Chester boarded, declared that on the Monday following the killing he told her she should say that he returned home at 11:30 p. m. and later went to a drug store for her. Chester also told her, she said, that she must never see him wearing a brown suit and a cap.

Miss Barton was shot to death on a lonely road by a supposed highwayman while driving in a motor car with Howard Winter, her fiancé. According to Winter, the man who did the shooting wore a brown suit and a cap, the visor of which was creased. Winter has identified Chester as the slayer.

Oct. 4, when Chester read her a newspaper account of the murder, Chester was nervous and sat in his chair staring at the paper, Mrs. Ryan said.

"I didn't know the girl was shot," she testified Chester said. "I said, 'Denzy, what are you talking about?' then he read aloud the story of the murder, with the description as given by Mr. Winter. When he finished I said: 'Why, Denzy, that sounds just like your description.' He turned the paper upside down and twisted it around in his hands. Finally he said: 'You must never tell that you saw me wearing a brown suit and a brown cap.'"

Meanest Man in World Is He Who Robbed a Methodist Preacher

CHICAGO, March 9.—"An individual who will rob a Methodist preacher or must be poor indeed," writes the Rev. John H. Williamson, of the Parkside Methodist church, to the unknown burglars who visited his home, taking $200 in cash and jewelry and valuable papers.

The clergyman doesn't mind the loss of the money, he declares; but he does want his valuable papers returned. So he has written to his unknown callers, through the medium of newspaper advertisement, as follows: "To my dear unknown friend who robbed my home on Tuesday between 12 noon and 10:30 p. m.—Will you be kind enough to return to me by mail the valuable papers you took, which are of no use to you. No questions will be asked, and I sincerely hope that the cash, jewelry and other valuables you stole will meet your necessities more adequate than my own. "An individual who will rob a Methodist preacher must be poor indeed."

REAL SCENERY.

The American tourist in Scotland was being shown around by a guide and was affecting supreme indifference to everything. "Loch Lomond? That puddle?" he exclaimed with scorn. "Why, we have lots better ponds than that in the United States, and those mountains are really called hills back home. Scenery? Poof!"

"Ah, but mon" retorted Sandy undisturbed. "D'ye see those three fine big buildings yon? They're distilleries, an' they're all working."—American Legion Weekly.

LAMB: During the filming of "Prisoners of Love," Betty Compson's first starring picture, which will be shown at the Lamb theatre today, Miss Compson announced that the first half dozen of her productions would be radically different, one from the other, both from the standpoint of the theme of the stories and her own stellar characterization.

The announcement was read by an eastern millionaire who has built up one of the finest private libraries in the country. He is a noted bibliophile and his literary collection is his principal hobby. In a letter which he writes to Miss Compson, he said: "It occurs to me that as you intend seeking such a wide variety of stories for your productions I might be able from time to time to recommend to you desirable fiction that is contained in my collection. Some of the screen productions of today lead me to believe that someone is overlooking a wealth of valuable material that is literally slumbering on the shelves of our private libraries."

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 9.—Night flying between Cheyenne and Chicago will be inaugurated about May 1, according to Superintendent A. R. Dunphy of the Omaha-Salt Lake division of the air mail service.

Mr. Dunphy said the practicability of such flights had been demonstrated by the recent daring feat of Jack Knight, who rode through a storm at night between Omaha and Chicago during a transcontinental race against time. As a consequence of the Knight feat, night flying is to become a regular feature, at least during the summer months, it was announced.

RANGER IS ITSELF.

There's magic in a name. Take Ranger, for instance. Who can see that word without it conjuring up visions of fearlessness, aggressiveness, vigor, of the great breezy outdoors of the West, of action, audacity and high enterprise.

And that's what Ranger is. A year ago new citizens, casting about for some place to embrace, dubbed Ranger "the Tulsa of Texas." Just as a small boy approaching adolescence casts his eyes about for some hero to worship, so do towns, as they climb from the level of villages, seek some shining example which it hopes to equal.

One seldom hears a regular citizen speak of Ranger now as the this or that of Texas. For Ranger has achieved an individuality of its own. So much so that ambitious oil towns now speak of themselves as "another Ranger."

This speaks a name. Here is proof that Ranger has set its mark upon the oil industry; in its own right and with no borrowed name.

Ranger in time to come will be more and more a center of the oil activity, just as Tulsa is. That far it will be that center in its own right and its own name. It no longer is a diller's camp, merely that and little more, but as actual production moves on as ripples from a rock dropped into a pool, Ranger remains the center. And as the ripples upon the water, the circles of oil spread in practically every direction. To the northeast, and except for one segment to the east, the circle is complete.

And the center of a circle is the place nearest to all points of the circumference.

Not only is Ranger thus strategically located, but it has the transportation facilities, in railroads east and west and north and south, in highways building and to be built in every direction. It is within auto ride of all parts of the Central North Texas field. It has pipe lines connecting it with all of them. It is in direct railway connection with all the large cities of North Texas except Wichita Falls, and that connection will be made within the year. Furthermore, it has machine shops, the biggest in North Texas, capable of turning out every bit of machinery needed in the search for oil. It has supply houses, it has specialty companies. It has—see Chamber of Commerce folder.

And one more asset, it has, Mr. Citizen. It has the best system of hotels and office buildings within 100 miles of actual development. The eight larger hotels of Ranger have more than 800 rooms, without speaking of the smaller structures. It has office buildings, substantial, built to last, and equipped with every convenience. This here is the logical place for many headquarters, with both housing and business accommodations. These facilities are a tremendous asset.

They should be advertised. You take this. Tell your friends about them. Some of them will be glad to know. Your friends come here. Point these things out to them. Lack of knowledge may be the reason they are not citizens of Ranger, the magic city, oil the same as you.

Labor has abundantly demonstrated that it can boost wages, but it remains to be seen whether it can prevent general prices from advancing pari passu. Columbus Dispatch.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

A New Society. "Did you ever think," asked the girl they called Little Miss Gray, "how strange it is the way human beings are always forming clubs and societies because of some likeness they have to each other? Of course it is easy to understand why in foreign countries there will be American clubs. College alumni societies, too, are understandable. And of course, religious banding together is natural. But I've always felt a little superior because I was the only one. But after what happened to me just now, I can't make fun of anything. I've found out I'm just like everybody else."

She was talking of her coat and hat as she spoke and she pulled out a strand of hair, saying: "This year, really, even this, has proved to me how like every one else I am. It occurred to the woman that it was her hair which made her very unlike every one else. For little Miss Gray got that name because of her hair. Before she had finished high school her locks were gray. She is still well under 30 and despite her silvery hair, or perhaps because of it, she has one of the youngest faces ever seen on a grown woman.

"Oh," went on little Miss Gray, "I meant to tell you not to pour me any tea. I've had some—that's part of the story. It happened in an elevator in a department store. I looked at an unusually well-dressed woman as I got in the car. She looked at me and then leaned over smiling and asked me something. I didn't understand her at first, so she repeated: "How do you come by your gray hair?"

"I might have been sorry if I had not figured that she had gray hair, also. Then she went on to say: 'I was brought up gray, too, and, although I am old enough now to have snow white hair, I have never lost interest in my silvery hair.'"

Just then we reached the main floor, and it seemed to us both that talking about gray hair was such an interesting topic that we couldn't give it up. So when she suggested that I go to tea with her I went. And we had a lovely time. It seems we had each been terribly sensitive about our hair for a long time and not so much so as we grew older, when it might be an indication of age. And we prided ourselves that we'd never been foolish enough to try to 'restore' our locks. And we agreed that the most boring remark in the world is, 'Oh, your hair is lovely and you have such a young face that it really doesn't make you look a bit older.'"

"We're going to meet again soon, for we were both sorry when we had to part. Of course we had other things in common besides our hair, but for all that, we almost organized a Gray-Hair-When-Still-Young club yesterday."

Far From Home. A sudden decision to run over to the City of Brotherly Love for a weekend had left the woman no time to reserve a parlor car seat. So she found herself comfortably settled instead in the day coach of the 11 o'clock express. Across the aisle in two adjoining seats were four men, not specially striking as to clothes, but certainly swarther than the average citizen of this western world. Lunch for them began soon after the train left Manhattan transfer, and they ate with zest the fruit that was the mainstay of the meal.

Trenton was near when the meal was ended. Quietly crumple were gathered up and tucked neatly away in paper. Then with one accord the four men rose and facing toward the city they had left, they stood with eyes half closed and lips moving inaudibly. Not until then was the interested spectator across the aisle certain that she was neighbor to devout worshippers of Allah—Mohammedans, all, far from home but loyal to the creed and the practice of the religion that flouts the crescent.

The Point of View. Long ago the woman discovered that it all depends upon the point of view, but only the other day she became still more vividly aware of the truth of that discovery.

She had stopped at a little florist shop to purchase some flowers with which to cheer an under-the-weather friend. As she hesitated over her choice a spot of white caught her eyes. In the midst of the tulips and jonquils, violets and sweet peas, long familiar flower shop acquaintances, stood a tiny bunch of white candytuft. Instantly the woman recalled candytuft bordered flower beds in the garden she knew best, lines of white and rose and mauve over which loads of butterfly used to hover, and she wondered what now brought it into society in a florist's shiny refrigerator. Was it to reassure the world that in spite of the winter's heavy snowstorm summer was surely coming? Was it to provoke the city dwellers' half forgotten memories of dream gardens? Or was it—

But the old lady told her, "It's grand for fun—and I won't."

Not Too Doggone Religious. When the young newspaper man who had been out of college a couple of years confided to the woman that he was about to study for the ministry she was a bit surprised. Not that he hadn't always had a very keen interest in the welfare of his fellow men, but why for one that the youth's vocabulary was hardly what she had considered ministerial. However, all that might easily be altered, so it was with great interest that she greeted the youth on his first call after entering upon his studies. "How goes it?" she asked eagerly. "Bully," began the youth. Then pulling out a rather shabby hat from under his arm he went on: "See that. One of these doggone theologians stole my new one. Ten good plunks gone to—"

SPANISH DANCERS HERE WILL BECOME CITIZENS

Los Carles, premier Spanish dancers from the Royal Opera house, Madrid, who were brought to this country by Wagenhals and Kemper to appear in their production, "Spanish Love," at Maxine Elliott's theatre, New York, have decided to become American citizens. The lure of the country, plus the lure of the movies, are the cause.

"Tinker Bob" Stories by Carlisle H. Holcomb

ON THE HUNT FOR LADY DUCK

Now it seemed very strange that Tinker Bob and Silky, the Monkey, should think of the same thing. But Lady Duck had never said that she was going to live with the flock all the time, and someone would have to see her before there could be anything certain about such an arrangement.

"Do you really think you would like to live with me in the Great Forest of the North where there are creatures you have never seen?"

Silky was so excited that he could not think of the things he wanted to say first. "I, O King, would be glad to see those creatures of the North. They might be better friends than those of the Southland. O King, will you let me go with you to the land of the wonderful North?"

Then it was that Tinker Bob told him that Lady Duck would have to be found and consulted as to her desire in the matter, for he could not take her and Silky to in the magic basket.

"We will first have to find Lady Duck and see if she is going back with me or not and if she is not then we can talk about your desire." When

He Fell Asleep in the Top of a Tree.

Tinker Bob was saying this he was hoping that Lady Duck was not expecting to go back to the Forest with him for he wanted so much to have Silky accompany him to the Kingdom of the North, and he felt that the Creatures of the Forest would like to have him about also, even if he was a great teaser.

"O King, I will find Lady Duck if it takes all of the strength I have for I must know what she has to say about this. I must go with you, O King, to the Great Land where you live, for I am unhappy here."

Without further announcement Silky went away and was soon lost in the thickest of the forest. Tinker Bob didn't know where Lady Duck had gone only that she had flown to find the flock, and that would be somewhere near one of the lakes or swamps where they would not be molested by creatures desiring to kill them. Tinker went to see if he could find Jerry the Jay while Silky was on his way.

From tree top to tree top Silky, the Monkey went chattering to himself and now and then calling to some bird. The birds were afraid of him for he teased them so much and now, when he wanted to be helped by them, they would not listen to him. At last, after a long journey he fell asleep in the top of a tall tree where he had

AMBITIOUS WIVES.

"I've seen some husbands wot with tears who might have been wot to sing one dance, had but their wives, the dumber dears, but given them a decent chance. I'm thinking now of Hiram Hick, who presses hard against the bars, and life's to him a guided brick because his wife has 'social aims.' She gives a party every week, or riot of some other kind, and Hiram sees his troubles clear, she makes his assets hard to find. A tea to honor Mrs. Hick may be the party thing to give, but Hiram sees a hundred bones, and wonders why such females live. His wife must have a costly gown to replace the kate, and Hiram smokes a tin can, at a cent. He makes good money every year, and if his wife would send her ways he well might lead his life clear to Easy Street and happy days. But she must trot with richer folks, and mingle with the Elite, and so poor Hiram's always broke and sighing for Jos. iron men. But in his grief he's not alone; a million husbands drudge and slave and toil along on wreny feet; and if their wives would help them save, they all might dwell in Easy Street.

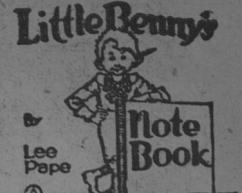

NEWSPAPER READ ALL OVER.

The answer to the ancient wheeze, "What's the difference between a war termion and a newspaper?" is that a war termion is read on the inside only and the newspaper is read all over. We always thought this should have some significance to the small business man who doesn't advertise, because he can't afford large space, and his article will advertise itself, would not attract attention. Every time attracts attention in the newspaper. To cite an extreme example: If the Record should print a single line in the smaller-sized type tomorrow morning reflecting the stability of the fundest bank in the city there would be a line of people at the paying teller's window at 10 o'clock in the morning waiting to withdraw their money.

Another instance of "the minutness" with which the columns of a good newspaper are scanned lies before us in the shape of a letter of complaint. It appears that the official report of the weather in a city 3,000 miles distant was omitted from the customary tabulation. Who can imagine an item of information less likely to be missed? And yet it was missed, and an aggrieved reader, who declares that he is only one of many people interested in the subject, makes emphatic protest. Philadelphia Record.

Take a Lesson from Big Business

Every person who has money to spend, much of little, can profit from this lesson.

Every large business concern has a purchasing agent or professional buyer. It is his job to buy to best advantage. He must keep posted on what the firm needs, he must know the values and prices and sources of supply. He is constantly gathering information to help him in his work and he reads carefully all the advertisements of manufacturers from whom he might purchase.

The whole secret of professional buying, you see, is information. The man with most information can buy to advantage.

Apply this to your own case. Whether you are purchasing manager of a family or simply buying for your own personal needs, you must have information. The place to get it is in newspaper advertising.

Read the advertisements regularly. They will tell you where and when to find the right thing for which you have been searching.

SEA MONSTER Baffles Scientists—Here is the skull, weighing three tons and measuring fifteen feet long and seven inches wide, of a sea monster towed into Miami. A few days before Elmer E. Garretson, of New York, reported that he saw about eighty feet of the monster, which was being destroyed by sharks. Scientists and deep water fishermen at Miami are puzzled over the "sea serpent." It apparently came up out of the deep waters of the Gulf Stream to die in shallow water. Assuming that the monster was more than eighty feet in length, it would be almost half as high as the height of the right wing of the Commodore Hotel, New York, as shown.

DEFEATS FRENCHMAN—Jole Ray, of the Illinois A. C., who defeated Josef Guillemot, French soldier and Olympic winner, in a special 3,000 metre race in New York City recently. Guillemot finished last in a field of four.

VILLARD MEETING BROKEN UP—Herbert Seal, prominent Cincinnati man, under arrest in the attempt by fifty men, said to be war veterans, to break up a meeting addressed by Oswald C. Villard, of New York, editor of The Nation.

MAGIS WORD "MAMMA" RESTORES HER SENSES—A cry of "Mamma!" the rush of a little form to implant a kiss on her lips, and the lost memory of Mrs. Estelle Fretsch, of South Bend, Ind., snapped back in a Chicago hospital. "What did you call me?" the mother cried. "Oh, I know! My boy, my little boy Vincent!"

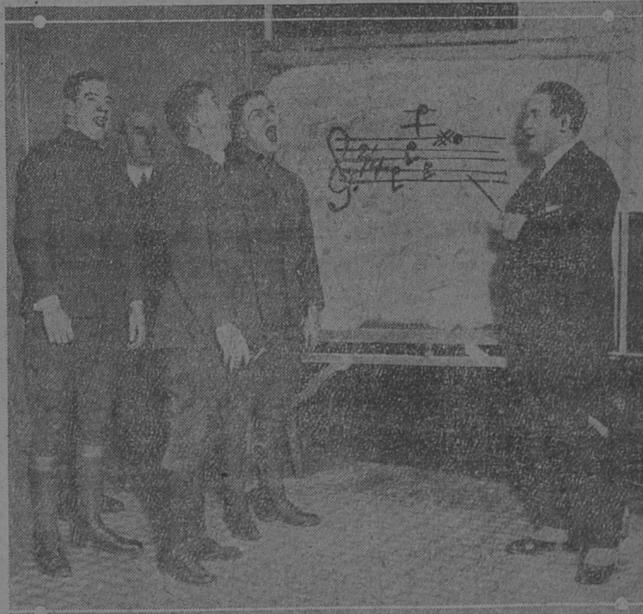

SENSATION AT PALM BEACH—Miss Phyllis Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Hull, of Mount Vernon, New York, attracted quite some attention when she appeared on the sands at Palm Beach attired in a very attractive bathing costume in which she is here shown.

LEGLESS MAN FACES EJECTMENT—Proceedings have been instituted in Brooklyn to dispossess Morris Horowitz and his wife and five children from their home. Horowitz, who has lost both legs, conducts a candy store and the family live in the rear.

KEEPING THE TYPHUS OUT—Dr. Richard Powers, of the New York Health Department, injecting blood from a typhus suspect into a guinea pig to thoroughly ascertain if the detained immigrant is infected with the dread disease. Several deaths from the typhus have occurred in New York.

WAR VETERANS WOULD BE SONGBIRDS—Titta Rufo, famous baritone, conducting a singing class of the Knights of Columbus free night school for ex-service men, in New York. Other well-known artists have joined faculties of the K. of C. schools to teach ambitious doughboys and gobs the vocal arts. Rufo gives the lessons in Spanish because of an insufficient knowledge of English. But the teaching of Spanish is a part of the same school. There are 1,200 in attendance at this school.

WOMAN WOOL BROKER—Miss Theresa Gilroy, of Boston, has the distinction of being the only woman wool broker in the world, so far as known. She has been very successful in her chosen profession, being an expert in her line.

ZIPPY ZEPHYR SPOILS MORNING FOR COLUMBUS

Ball Tossers Had First Game Yesterday; Go to Cisco Friday.

A nice zippy zephyr from the general direction of Amarillo and beyond, blew in last night, unheralded and unwelcome, at least to Clarence Rowland and his hopefuls. It was one of the most startling reversals of form that the temperature has sustained since way back there.

Rowland didn't care to risk any crippled wings by exertion in the chill. So this morning ones hung neatly on the hanger, or draped themselves in the corner, according to the temperament of the athlete, while the gang took a long, hard stroll around the hills. The walk did one good thing. It applied the limbering liniment of motion to ligaments strained in the fairly strenuous pastime of yesterday, and offered no chance of further soreness.

Yesterday the visitors engaged in a five-inning setto among themselves. Martin the vet, and Farley the West Virginian, built tall so he can look over the hills in the vicinity of his native heath, did duty on the mound. Both batters and pitchers were effective in streaks. The score was 5 to 7 or something like that, in favor on one side or the other. Burrus garnered a three-ply blow to left but couldn't top the wall. That was left to Swetonic, third sacker, who took another shot at the pastebard mansions on the right flank. De Pato, shortstop, on his first day out, showed scintillating fielding possibilities.

Three Players Due. Three players are yet to come—Thompson, Brainard and High. Rowland expects them in any time. That will complete the roster, and with the series with the Reds out of the way, Rowland will begin the work of putting his nine together for keeps. "The Happy Family," is his idea of a ball nine, and that's what the Senators are going to be this year—not a one-man team, or two or three-men team, but a nine-man aggregation, all working together. That was the system which gave the White Sox such

ONE TEXAN DOESN'T CARE FOR MAJOR JOB

Special to the Times. DALLAS, March 9.—There's at least one Texas league star who isn't crazy about a big league berth, according to Ziggy Sears of Fort Worth, who was here yesterday. That bird is Pate, who souped up his way to league leadership last year with Fort Worth. To date, Sears says, Pate has rejected all overtures of the Boston Red Sox, which purchased him conditionally last year.

Sears says that Pate turned back the first Boston contract tendered and then sent back another that included a $100 raise. Boston offered to pay his expenses to Hot Springs for a conference. Pate replied that Fort Worth was easily accessible for the Boston manager.

Pate is a native son and apparently wants to stay where he is. As his purchase was conditional, the left-hander, who made the most consistent record of any hurler in the circuit last year, will unquestionably return to bolster Paul La Grave's team.

Few governors in the entire country ever had a woman secretary, but Warren T. McCray, chief executive in Indiana, announces that Miss Adah E. Bush, who has been his private secretary for twenty years, will be continued in that capacity during his term of office as governor.

success under him. Pitchers, judging from the lineup of the squad, are the main problem. There are six men trying for outfield berths, three for the catchers' jobs and four or five for the outfield. The remainder are twirlers, with a large sprinkling of left-handers. Possibly Rowland likes the southpaws. He could well be that way after looking over what Dicky Kerr and Williams; when he was "right," did for Comiskey's men.

If the crimp expires under the beneficent rays of today's sunshine, there will be another setto this afternoon. The boys want to be in shape for the Cincinnati series. They propose to show the Reds just who is a major league. The Senators will leave here Friday afternoon for Cisco and will remain over there Friday night. Both teams then move over here for a four-game series, starting Sunday. The Reds may move over to enjoy the Gholson for a spell, but if they wish, can come every afternoon and go back on the Sunshine after the game.

WEST TEXAN TO HANDLE 3B. JOB ON DALLAS TEAM

Special to the Times. DALLAS, March 9.—West Texas leaguers will find it hard to break into a regular berth this year. Present indications are that the new boss will rely on the regulars of last season, though there is a possibility that two new men will land jobs. The way the infield lines up at this stage of the training a West Texan will play third base. Galloway has Pete Adams at first, Palmer, last year's pepper box, at second, and Smith at short, all regarded as fixtures, unless Boshkoff of Mineral Wells can pry Pete away from the first base job. That leaves Galloway himself, Segrist of Abilene and Jody Tate of Ranger to fight among themselves for the hot corner. Segrist is coaching a college team at Abilene and will not report until March 25. Tate is playing a nice game and may stick as utility man or be given a spot in the outfield. The Marines want his stickwork if he can be fitted in. Payne, with last year's Judges, was never considered seriously as an outfield candidate, but the youngster from Eastland, who is a quiet sort of a fellow, is making an impression. His fall-away slide to the plate in Sunday's game against Schepp's Bakery—a play that supplied a run badly needed at the time and put through in spite of Erwin's throw to Williamson beating him to the platter—was as pretty a stunt of the kind as has been seen this year.

PARNELL MADE ACTIVE HEAD OF OIL OPERATORS

Lyston S. Black and J. L. Thompson have returned from Fort Worth, where on Monday they attended a meeting of the executive board of the Independent Oil Operators' association formed a few weeks ago. Principal business of the association was the decision to tender President Parnell the appointment as the association's counsel, with power to act in any emergency. Since the formation of the association, Mr. Parnell has been at Austin, engaged with legislative matters affecting the interests of the oil fraternity. This will be one of the association's principal activities.

The association will launch an immediate campaign for members, to be conducted through the mail and by meetings in the various districts. One such meeting was held last night at Breckenridge. The association has a potential membership of between 600 and 1,000, it is estimated.

FARMER'S WIFE'S DAILY TASKS SHOULD EARN HER $4,000 A YEAR

OMAHA, March 9.—If Nebraska farmers had to pay their wives "living" wages for their work, most of them would have to go out of business, if figures just made public by the home economics department of the Nebraska State university have as much fact as fancy in them. According to these figures every farm wife earns $4,000 a year. Many farmers do not make that much over and above expenses. The home economics department of the university has just completed a survey of the farm situation as applied to women and has issued a special bulletin giving the results of the investigation.

According to the report, the farm wife is first a cook, then a washerwoman, next a seamstress, a charwoman, a nurse, an assistant farm director and a whole lot of other things. The home economics department, in making up its survey of the farm, too all their different occupations into consideration and fixed the value of the farm wife's theoretical salary upon the work she is called upon to do.

"If a farm woman's time was considered and she was paid on the basis of the hired help she saves her husband from having to employ, she would receive a salary of $4,000 a year," said Miss Fedde, referee, chairman of the survey.

Cooking and Laundering. "First, all the cooking on the farm falls upon the housewife. She prepares three meals a day. She has no afternoon 'out.' Sometimes she gets an automobile ride Sunday afternoon, but more often she remains at home and washes dishes while the other members of the family go out for a spin.

"So much of that kind is worth at least $10 a week," says Miss Fedde. "Try to hire a cook and you will discover that $10 a week, the amount credited to the farmer's wife for cooking, is a small wage—really too small. You really can't get a cook to go to the country for that figure."

Next, the farm wife does the washing and ironing. Few farmers have washing machines. It takes the farm wife all day to do the washing. Another full day is required to do the ironing.

"The regular wages of a laundress in the country are $2.50 per day," says Miss Fedde. "In the city the wages are higher, but the farmer's wife should be credited with at least the sum which would have to be paid to an outsider to do the same work. For the washing and ironing, therefore, she should be credited with $5 per week."

Service to the Sick. A recent health survey of farms and farmers showed that there is an average of nineteen days of sickness to a year on each farm. And when there is sickness on a farm, the farm wife turns to nursing. She it is to whom the sick man turns for help. So, for nineteen days each year the farm wife is a trained nurse.

"The wages of a trained nurse on the farm are $25 a week," says Miss Fedde. "On this score the farm wife gets in nearly $75 a year in wages as a nurse."

When Mrs. Farmer does the family sewing—and she does all the sewing that is done on the farm—she should be credited with the wages of a seamstress. The average sewing requires two days a week. The farm wife usually does this in the evening. The regular wages of a seamstress are $3 per day. Credit Mrs. Farmer $6 per week for sewing.

The wages of a woman to do cleaning, scrubbing, etc., are $2.50 per day. For two days each week the farm wife does this kind of work. Her pay check, according to the home economics department's survey, should be increased by $6 per week.

day to give advice. The rate of pay of farm assistants in Nebraska is $20 a week. The farmer's wife should be credited with $20 a week because of her good advice, the bulletin states.

"Total all these charges and it will be found that the Nebraska farm wife earns at least $4,000 every year—with her board and room thrown in," says the bulletin.

NEW ROAD WILL OPEN CEDAR TIMBER SUPPLY

SAN ANTONIO, March 9.—Eighty thousand cords of cedar timber will be placed on the market when trains begin operation over the Uvalde & Northwestern railway, a new line extending forty miles north of the town of Uvalde, west of San Antonio, according to an application for a certificate of public convenience which the railroad has filed with the interstate commerce commission.
 Although construction work on the railroad has nearly been completed and a new town established at Camp Wood, in the heart of the cedar forest, the officials of the line are only now applying for the permit from the commission. In addition to opening the large forest, 30,000 acres of tillable and irrigable lands adjacent to the railroad will be made serviceable, it was announced.

HYPNOTIZES SCHOOL MATE. THEN CAN'T WAKE HIM UP

BUCHYRUS, Ohio, March 9.—Harold Stebbins was much interested in an exhibition given here by a traveling hypnotist. He made friends with the "professor" and had quite a conversation with him on the subject.
 At the high school Stebbins tried out some of the information given him by the professor on Luther Winemiller, causing Winemiller to become hypnotized, creating a disturbance, which was difficult to quiet.
 When the attempt was made to relieve Winemiller from the hypnotic influence it was found that Stebbins had forgotten that part of his instructions. It was some time before Winemiller could regain normalcy.

MANY DOMESTIC TRAGEDIES ARE HIDDEN IN OIL FIELDS

The hungry maw of the oil fields swallows many a tragedy of domestic life. And many an absorbing movie scenario, with the scenes laid in all quarters of the world, might be worked around the facts which are brought to light from time to time.
 "I do not know what your name is, but I will write you, as I want to know if you can tell me if there is a fellow working anywhere around there by the name of Charles 'L. Conn' is the beginning of a pathetic letter addressed to 'the postmaster,' at Ranger, by Mrs. Clara Conn of Neblestown, Pa.
 The letter tells a story of four children needing not only the care of a father but the necessities of life. A grandmother, too old and feeble to devote much attention to the children, and a widowed stepmother of the missing man are mentioned in the letter.
 "His father-in-law is dead," writes Mrs. Conn, "and the grandmother is not able to care for them. Will you please to let me know if he is anywhere around there, and if he is, tell him to write to me, for I am very much concerned about the matter. It's a shame to leave those children in want, and I am a widow with my own family to care for."
 "Will you please to answer this letter? Perhaps you may see some of the head men of those oil companies that know him or where he is. He is thirty years old and tall."
 One woman can make a home happy but two of 'em can't.—Syracuse

 GUARANTY BANK BUILDING
 RANGER, TEXAS

March 5, 1921.

Mr. Scott Reed, Collector of Internal Revenue,
 Dallas, Texas.
 Dear Sir:

I have had numerous inquiries regarding an extension of time for the filing of income tax returns, and whether or not you would grant such an extension. I was personally of the opinion that such an extension would not be granted, and that March fifteenth would close the period for all filings without penalties. This of course would not include reports based on a fiscal year.

If you would kindly give a statement at this time regarding the above, I am sure it would clear up the matter in the minds of the tax payers of this locality, who may have been misinformed, and are anxious to comply with all rulings in the matter of their income tax rendition. Thanking you in advance for all courtesies extended, I am,

Very truly yours,

 Sirs:

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of March 5th in which you inquire if a general extension of time has been granted taxpayers for filing income tax returns for the year 1920.

This office is in receipt of no instructions from the Commissioner, authorizing such an extension.

Extensions are made in individual cases where it can be shown that the inability to file returns by such taxpayers is occasioned by the sickness or absence of the taxpayer. These are the only grounds upon which a Collector can grant an extension.

It is suggested that you take the matter up with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., if your requests cannot be based upon either of the above reasons.

Respectfully,

SCOTT REED,
 Collector.
