Earthquake Rocks Southern California

SEVEN COUNTIES FEEL SHOCK OF EARTH TREMORS

San Bernardino Is Twice Shaken and Considerable Property Damage Reported.

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—All of Southern California from Santa Barbara to the Imperial Valley and the edge of the great American desert was shaken last night by the most severe earthquake in three years. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

Following the first shock at 11:28 p. m., practically all of the residents in the valley spent the remainder of the night outdoors, some in their nightgowns.

All of the oil operators at Santa Fe and Signal Hill fear the shocks may ruin some holes.

There was no outstanding crash which gave the successive shocks no "air of tragedy." Damage was confined to the crockery damage and the shattering of plate glass windows.

San Bernardino suffered the heaviest loss. The city hall building was badly shaken, rocks being torn from the wall. Damage estimated at $25,000 was suffered at Redlands, where the fire walls of two buildings were damaged. Pasadena reports shocks felt in parts of the city.

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—Seven counties in California were rocked by an earthquake of between 11 and 20 seconds duration last night, and San Bernardino, where the greatest damage was caused, felt the shock again at 1 o'clock this morning.

Roofs of a number of houses fell in and there was considerable property destruction, buildings on streets running east and west feeling the shock most.

Santa Barbara was the extreme northern point where the earthquake was felt and San Diego was the southernmost point. The shocks extended eastward nearly to the state line.

Three Points Of Reparations Note Being Considered

PARIS, July 23.—Premier Poincare today summoned the cabinet to an extra session, Tuesday, on the note to Germany on reparations, which will be discussed. France's premier has an agreement with Premier Baldwin that neither the contents of the note nor the tenor of the negotiations will be given out, and consequently little is known of the attitude of the two governments.

Unofficially it is said the negotiations will proceed on these three points:

An impartial commission to determine Germany's ability to pay.

France and Belgium to withdraw most of their troops from the Ruhr. Germany to cease its passive resistance and to get to work.

SCAPA FLOW HULK TO BE SALVAGED AND SOLD

LONDON, July 23.—The German fleet scuttled at Scapa Flow in June, 1919, is to be raised, cut up, and sold for junk. The admiralty has signed a contract with a private company which has purchased part of the sunken ships, and will start operations at once to raise them.

The company is said already to have found a market for the hulks. If the operations are successful, a contract will be signed for the remaining section, which includes the largest of the ships.

Building-Loan Association Now Being Organized

Legal papers are being prepared for the formation of the proposed Ranger building and loan association. Before a state charter can be secured in Texas, such a society must have half of its capital stock paid in, and the proper papers filed. It will be organized with a capital of $25,000, so one-half or $12,500 must be subscribed for before the incorporators apply at Austin for a charter.

Attempts to secure this amount will be made this week, J. W. Sanders, chairman of the building committee, said today.

W. C. T. U. TO CELEBRATE 50 YEARS OF ENDEAVOR

COLUMBUS, July 23.—All the surviving members of the crusaders of 1874 in the field of temperance, or their nearest relatives, will be present at the fiftieth annual convention of the National Women's Temperance Union here Sept. 4 to 14, and arrangements are already on foot to make the event one of historic interest.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico. (By mail to the United Press).—The National railway lines of Mexico will grant liberal rates as an inducement for Rotarians to hold their international convention in this city next year. Toronto and Mexico City are after the convention.

PITY FOR DRUG ADDICTS MUST AROUSE INTENSE HATRED FOR THOSE WHO PULL THEM DOWN

Major Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing prison, has spoken upon a problem of vital interest to every man, woman and child in America. He speaks out of long observation and wide experience. There is deep significance behind what he says, much deeper than is apparent from casual consideration. Here are his words:

"The number of drug addicts is increasing so rapidly that it has become one of the most serious problems we have to contend with. Shutting them up in prison does no good. I know a hundred cases where prisoners who used drugs before being committed to prison were released, and all of them went back to the use of drugs.

"I believe there is absolutely nothing being accomplished regarding the cure of drug addicts."

Just what does this mean, especially the last sentence? What constitutes a cure for the drug addict?

Must Lose Craving.
A cure can mean only one thing; that an addict is freed from all craving for the drug and never reverts to its use as long as he lives. It is undoubtedly true that there are some well authenticated cases of this kind; individuals who have retained enough mental courage, moral stamina, and physical strength to fight the long battle. Lacking any of these three qualities, defeat is almost inevitable. Sad to say, the victories have been few—pitifully few.

If all memory of the drug and its immediate effects could be blotted out of the mind of the victims, then we might hope for more cures. But a person once addicted knows all too well how quickly and easily a dose of his favorite drug would ease a passing pain or quiet his jumping nerves and his mind begins to dwell upon the thought. He lives under the constant shadow of a great temptation—to take just one dose and then let it alone. If he yields he is lost, and perhaps months and years of struggle are nullified in that one moment of weakness.

Many Slip Back.
Thousands of unhappy victims have slipped back into the clutches of the dreadful habit in this way. And with each slipping the victim sinks deeper and deeper; if he has the will and the courage to try again, each recurring battle is that much longer and harder. This is the sad, sordid history of an overwhelming majority of cases.

Some of the best scientific and medical brains in the world are being devoted to a study of the problem. But despite the loud claims of many so-called "cures," no specific

FOUKE AND POND INQUALIFYING ROUND OF GOLF

Representing Ranger in Golf Tournament Opening This Morning at Eastland.

W. H. Fouke and H. U. Pond entered the qualifying round of 18 holes of medal play of the second annual Eastland invitation golf tournament this morning. The players making the 16 best scores will be eligible to compete for the Oil Belt championship honors now held by Roy Morgan of Abilene.

There will be a dinner tonight at Eastland in honor of the visiting golfers.

Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock the first round of 18 holes, match play, is scheduled to start. In the afternoon there will be a putting contest for men and women, also a round of match play for consolation honors.

The semi-finals of 18 holes will be played, beginning Wednesday at 8 a. m. The finals will come Wednesday afternoon.

STORES BURN AT PALESTINE

PALESTINE, Texas, July 23.—Eleven stores were destroyed by fire at Oakwood, 20 miles west of Palestine, last night. The loss has not yet been estimated.

Authority Sought To Build Line Of Railway In Texas

WASHINGTON, July 23.—A request for authority to construct an extensive new railroad system in Texas and New Mexico was filed today with the interstate commerce commission. It is proposed to build a line of railway extending between Tucumcari, N. M., and Dimmitt, Texas, a distance of 303 miles; to acquire the existing 100 miles of railway between Seymour and Salesville, both in Texas, now operated by the Gulf, Texas & Western company, and to construct a new line between Perrin, Texas, and Fort Worth, a distance of 57 miles.

JAPAN BUSINESS MEN FORM BLOC FOR POLITICS

TOKYO, July 23.—A "business men's bloc" has been formed in Japanese politics.

Backed by some of the most powerful commercial groups in the country, the Shoko (Merchants and Manufacturers party) proposes, in brief:

1. Less red tape and more business in government.
2. Less politics in business; more business in politics.
3. Make the Diet a real parliamentary body instead of an impotent joke.
4. Reduce taxes. Reduce government expenditures. Cut out government graft. Establish budget and audit system. Pay more attention to foreign commerce and less to foreign politics. Put the best men, not the men of the so-called "best families" in government jobs.
5. Reduce the army and navy. Prepare for trade, not for war. Build up the merchant marine; subsidize it more, if necessary, instead of building more war craft.
6. Increase the educational appropriations.

The Shoko-to is, frankly, a mosaic of some of the most advanced political platforms in America. Its leaders admit it. "And we'll sweep Japan with such a platform," they predict.

"This is the 'business age' of the world," said Sanji Muto, president of the Shoko-to or Business Men's bloc. "Japan is more interested in business than in war, or politics or anything else. Japan has 10 to 20 splendid business men to every soldier. But the world doesn't know that. What the Shoko-to is going to try to do is to elect a Business Men's government in Japan at the general elections in 1924."

NEW CAR ATTRACTS OFFICERS WHO WANT TO MAKE INQUIRIES

The story is told of a Ranger man, who does scout work for an oil firm, with headquarters in Eastland, who was accosted by two Ranger officers one day several weeks ago when he drove a new, high-priced automobile up to the Gholson hotel.

The officers espied the car and told the driver they wanted to look it over. The oil man protested, saying he represented a responsible oil firm. He offered to be identified.

"We were suspicious," said one of the officers and they walked away. "You have to ride in a Ford, if you don't want to be taken for a bootlegger," said a man who overheard the conversation.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, July 23.—One woman was killed and an aged man seriously injured in auto accidents over Sunday. Mrs. Josephine McAsee was killed when she was struck down by a truck. Will Donovan, negro, was arrested and charged with negligent homicide.

W. O. Mathews of the Confederate home at Austin was severely bruised and lacerated when he was run down by an auto.

PRESIDENT AND PARTY SAILING TOWARD HOME

Say Goodbye to Sitka; Will Stop Tuesday at Vancouver for Brief Visit.

ON BOARD NAVY TRANSPORT HENDERSON, July 23.—President and Mrs. Harding and their party were again on salt water today, moving southward, following a visit yesterday to Sitka where farewells were said and well wishes for the future of Alaska.

The next stop will be at Vancouver, Tuesday, for a brief visit.

WORLD PROBLEMS AGAIN ENGROSS THE PRESIDENT

ABOARD THE UNITED STATES TRANSPORT HENDERSON WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, EN ROUTE TO VANCOUVER, B. C., July 23.—President Harding today turned his attention to world problems as his Alaskan visit came to an end. In his scheduled speeches at San Francisco and Vancouver, he is expected to deal with world problems, including the world court and France's acceptance of the naval arms treaty.

Two Girls Create Consternation By Not Saying Goodby

Alma Taylor, of Tonkawa, Okla., came to visit at the home of a girl friend, Eva Owens, daughter of John W. Owens, living on the Caddo highway. When Alma made ready to go back to her home, Eva decided she would like to see Oklahoma and the two girls, both 15 years of age, left the Owens home quietly one night last week without saying anything.

Ranger police were notified, and Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Tonkawa authorities were given a description of the two girls and also instructions to hold them if apprehended.

Yesterday a telegram was received from the mother of Eva, Mrs. W. L. Taylor, that the girls were with her. The father of the runaway girl will send a railroad ticket for his daughter's return.

PROTESTANTS, CATHOLICS AND JEWS UNITE IN PROGRAM FOR COLLEGE RELIGIOUS TEACHING

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 23.—A school of religion supported by Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews, one of a number of similar institutions to be established at state universities where state laws do not permit religious instruction as part of the curriculum, will open at the University of Michigan next year.

This school was projected by the National Council of Schools of Religion and financed by volunteer contributions.

Alexis C. Angell of Detroit is temporary president of the Michigan school, whose executive committee in a statement covering the aims of the new institutions says:

"The plan has the sympathy and support of Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews. The plan is the result of a growing belief that there is a serious gap in our modern educational system. Our forefathers, who identified religion with sectarianism, wishing to insure freedom of conscience, placed a constitutional bar, perhaps not wisely, in nearly all the states, on the teaching of religion in tax-supported schools, colleges and universities. As a result the study of religion and ethics has been too much neglected; education has become increasingly utilitarian and materialistic. The graduates of our tax-supported institutions are more and more be-

Bricklayers Agree to Work for Wages of $18—8-Hours

NEWARK, N. J., July 23.—Bricklayers will get paid $18 for an eight-hour day's work in Essex county, New Jersey, the new pay scale which becomes effective today, provides, following its adoption by the contractors and union men.

At least 1,700 men throughout the county are affected by the new scale, S. George Webb, executive secretary of the Building Trades Employers' association of Essex county, said today.

The bricklayers said in their arguments that they were entitled to the same wages as New York bricklayers. The new scale was negotiated amicably.

THREE WORKMEN FIGHT VAINLY FOR FREEDOM

NEW YORK, July 23.—Locked in a hermetically sealed building, which was being fumigated with hydrocyanic gas to rid it of vermin, the bodies of three workmen were found today at a door, where they had battled vainly to reach wholesome air.

The men were found by rescue workmen, who entered the building wearing gas masks, when the men did not return from work.

STATE MAY HAVE TO PAY EXCESS MILLION FOR NEW TEXT-BOOKS

AUSTIN, July 23.—Action by the state department of education in certifying new text-books, as ordered by the state board of education, will await directions from State Superintendent Marrs, Assistant Superintendent Rogers said today. Marrs is with the Texas Technological locating board and was officially notified yesterday.

It is estimated that the new contracts will cost the state $1,500,000 more than the old books.

MITCHELL WATCHES AS HIS SCAFFOLD IS BEING BUILT

WACO, July 23.—Erection of the scaffold on which Roy Mitchell, negro murderer, is sentenced to be hanged next Monday, was begun this morning only a few feet from the cell in which Mitchell is confined. He can see and hear every movement of the saw and hammer.

Mitchell is to hang for the murder of Mrs. Ethel Denecamp, for which he was given the death penalty along with five other murders of which he was convicted.

TWENTY-FIVE CONVICTS BREAK FROM BULLPEN

Use Knives on Guards at Illinois Institution to Effect Their Escape.

CHESTER, Ill., July 23.—Twenty-five desperate mad men were at large in southern Illinois today following a riot and jail delivery at the Southern Illinois State Hospital for the Criminal Insane last night. Official announcement that 11 were recaptured was made but these figures were found to be incorrect.

Those recaptured were found hiding in barns and on hills after they had stabbed and fought the guards off. It was said that hundreds of guards, deputy sheriffs, and private citizens were scouring the country today for those missing. Business in Chester is suspended, which is a city of 4000 people. Children and women are staying behind locked doors, while men are standing watch with arms.

The convicts, some of whom are murderers, escaped from the bullpen while they were being given an airing. At a signal a half dozen inmates drew knives from their bosoms and attacked the guards. In a moment 75 men were in an uproar. About 30 stabbed their way to freedom.

Dr. Frank Stubblefield, superintendent of the hospital, was knocked down and cut while leading his men against the mad criminals. He suffered a fractured arm.

The countryside was thrown into a frenzied fear when it became known that madmen were at liberty. Many homes were barricaded against the men.

The convict killed was William Jackson of Chicago, sent up for murder.

The coup had apparently been planned for several days.

Convicts Kill One Of Own Number In Making Get-Away

CHESTER, Ill., July 23.—Fifteen of the 41 insane convicts who escaped from the state hospital for the criminal insane had been recaptured this morning. They effected their escape by attacking the guards and battering down a section of the steel wire fence after killing one of their own number, William Jackson, negro, who had been convicted of murder.

James Denny, one of the guards was so seriously wounded that little hope is held out for his recovery. Ralph Dilday, another guard, was severely cut about the head.

Some of the escaped convicts are said to be possessed of homicidal mania. Others are looked upon as harmless.

JOHNSON WILL OPPOSE BOTH WORLD COURT AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS

NEW YORK, July 23.—Hiram Johnson, senator from California and candidate for presidential nomination at the last Republican convention, intends to tour this country in a virtual campaign against the world court and the League of Nations. Johnson returned today from a four months' investigation of affairs in Europe and made this informal announcement when he landed from the liner Leviathan.

Senator Johnson had nothing to say relative to his presidential ambitions.

YEGGMEN BLOW TWO SAFES AT CLEBURNE

CLEBURNE, July 23.—Safe blowers escaped with $175 in currency from the Moon and Battles store and $155 from the Gulf Refining company office here last night. No arrests in connection with the robbery have been made.

ALBERT E. PRATER DROPS DEAD AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, July 23.—Albert E. Prater, assistant business manager for the past 10 years of the University of Texas, dropped dead here early today at the age of 47. Deceased was a familiar campus figure at all athletic games here. Heart trouble was attributed as causing his death.

SONS OF GOD:—Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God.—1 John 3:1.

HOW TO STAY WELL.

Thirty is the magical age in the health development of the ordinary person's life. At 30 he is supposed more nearly to approach normal. Under 30 he may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for in the height, weight and age tables, but after 30 the longest life span prevails among those whose weights are uniformly below the average.

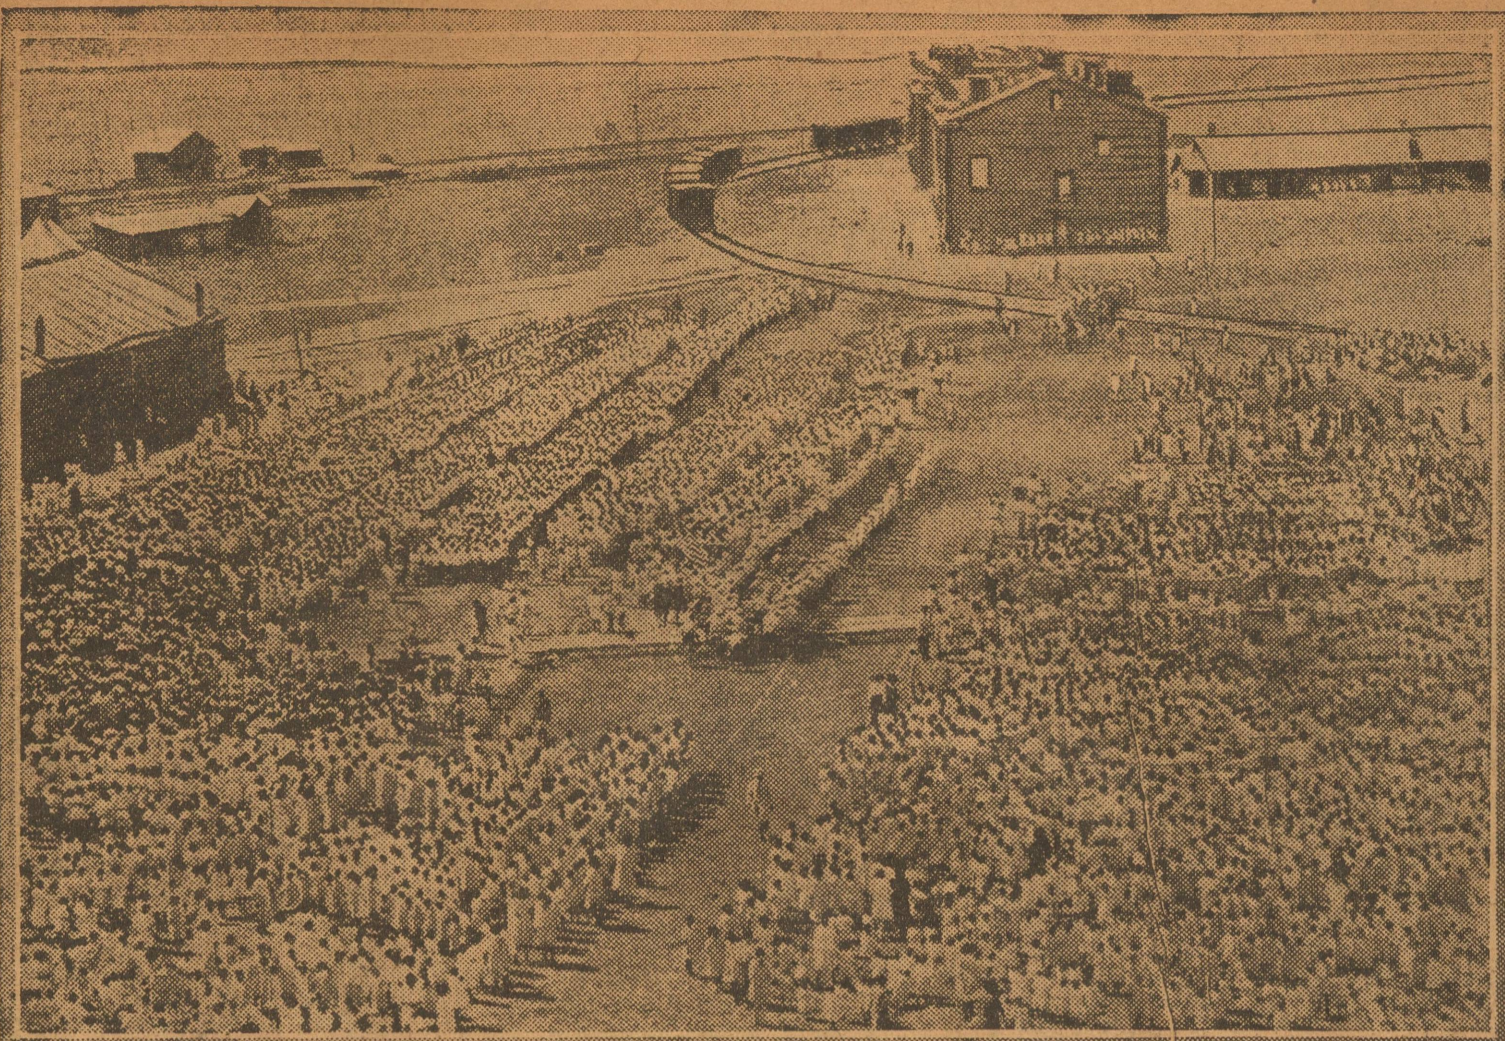

These are facts compiled by Dr. Louis I. Dublin, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company for the New York state department of health. They are timely in that they come at a stage in the nation's health history when health organizations are awakening the country's citizens to take annual account of their health. The National Health council asks everybody to have himself or herself weighed regularly on his or her birthday, and in addition to undergo a general health examination. The American Child Health association, of which Herbert Hoover is president, has given over its whole support to the movement, in particular as it applies to children.

Dr. Dublin's remarks: "After 30, people who weigh less than the average have a better chance for long life. The records of the insurance companies show very clearly that what people weigh has a very important bearing on their health and on the length of their life. It has been popularly supposed that it is dangerous to be slight or underweight and that it is an advantage to be heavy. As a matter of fact, this is true only for young people. After 30, it is a decided advantage to be slight and a serious handicap to gain materially in weight; provided, of course, that the light weight is not the result of a sudden loss in weight which may be the result of organic disease.

"Everybody is familiar with the weight tables used by the insurance companies. They are posted everywhere on public scales. They show the average weights of people according to their height. These tables are useful but must not be taken too literally as a guide to what one should weigh. Young persons may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for by the tables. An excess of 10 pounds is associated with the most favorable conditions among people between 20 and 25 years old. At 30, it is best for people to weigh about the average shown by the tables. After 50, the longest life span prevails among those whose weights are uniformly below the average. The amount below the average should increase as people grow older and, at 50, persons seem to be at their best when they weigh as much as 30 or 40 pounds below the average. Persons who weigh 20 per cent more than the average have a mortality rate one-third greater than the average and those who weigh 40 per cent more are likely to die about twice as fast as the average.

"A little thought will show why this is so. The weight of the body throws much work on the various vital organs and especially on the heart and kidneys. This is especially true as we grow older and our kidneys begin to weaken. Every added pound of weight means more work in moving about. What makes matters worse is that, as we grow older, we become more indulgent. We like more food, especially meats and starchy foods and, at the same time, we are less inclined to exercise and burn up the excess of food we have partaken. This results in storing up much fat around the tissues and in requiring the organs of elimination to get rid of additional waste products. All of this has a tendency to put more and more of a strain upon the vital organs and to hasten their break-down.

A CITY OF CHILDREN

Here are a few of the 18,000 children housed in the world's largest orphanage. The orphanage is located at Alexandropol in the Russian Caucasus and is conducted by the Near East Relief for the benefit of the thousands of children whose parents and all known relatives perished by massacre, famine, or disease.

"The public should realize these simple facts and accommodate their habits of diet and exercise to them. In America, we eat too much and too well. Strangers who come here for the first time are amazed at the amount of food we consume. The oriental coolie and the European peasant do an enormous amount of physical work on a most meagre diet. No one advocates a return to primitive conditions or to lower standards of living. But, it would be well for us to keep in mind a little more than we do the exact requirements of the adult body. We should recognize that when we have grown up, we no longer need food for growth and that for replacement of burned up tissues, we need only about 2,500 calories a day. This is equivalent to two very light meals and one hearty meal a day. Let me illustrate with a menu for an entire day for an active adult which will contain the required 2,500 calories. For breakfast, he may have a small average serving of cooked fruit or an apple or an orange, a serving of cereal, a slice of bread or one muffin or roll with butter, a cup of coffee with sugar and cream. This will contain about 600 calories. The luncheon may consist of a salad, bread and butter, a choice of coffee, tea or cocoa, with sugar and cream and a dessert. This will account for 650 calories. The important meal of the day, or dinner, may consist of a soup, an average serving of meat, potato, two green vegetables, bread and butter and a dessert. If average portions are served, a total of about 1,200 calories will be included. This would make the total for the day approximately 2,500 calories.

"If more people checked their diet to the reasonable limit of their body requirements, there would be a great improvement in the general health of the nation. Fewer people at 40 would complain of weak hearts and show signs of impaired kidneys. There is no longer any doubt in the minds of skilled physicians that a restriction in diet and the encouragement of exercise will help adults to avoid breakdown and improve their ability to do a good day's work. There are altogether too many persons who ought to be in their prime who are suffering from discomfort and even from lingering illness which has been brought about by their neglect of personal hygiene. The first word in personal hygiene is to observe moderation and to keep the weight of the body down."

Tourists From the United States Give Germany Wide Berth

By GUS M. OEHM,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NICE (By mail to United Press).—"I'll say I'm not going to Germany." This may not be the king's English, but it is just about what nine out of every 10 American, English and most every other kind of tourist answers when questioned about his or their prospective itineraries.

"Isn't it dangerous traveling there? Goodness, one reads so much about high taxes, troubles with police and passport officials, high hotel prices, profiteering and gouging, crowded trains and possible uprisings that—well—I'd rather not take a chance. Anyhow, we were advised not to go into Germany, unless we had to—that the Germans didn't want us and were doing everything they could to keep us out. Why should we go there when we aren't wanted. Not me. There's plenty of this old world left to travel in without seeking trouble."

This is a composite answer which just about tells the psychological reaction of tourists to German efforts to keep their country free from visitors. Tourists declare their friends in Germany, press reports and warnings from all sides, are sufficient to keep them from seeking entrance into Germany. They have heard so much about piches (revolts), about Ruhr troubles, pass regulations and the like that they have an idea that Germany is a good place to avoid.

Evidently the efforts of the German government last fall and winter to keep pleasure seekers and sight seeing foreigners from Germany have borne fruit. And all efforts in the meantime to alleviate conditions and get a few visitors to come around and leave a few dollars or pounds are coming too late to do any good.

BRITISH LABOR LEADER
WANTS CONFERENCE ON LIMITING ARMAMENTS

LONDON, July 23.—Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, today moved a resolution deprecating the increasing expenditures in military preparations. He asked the government to take steps to call an international conference for the limitation of armaments.

MOTOR GLIDERS INDICATE
NEW ERA IN AVIATION

LONDON, July 23.—A new era in air flying, that of cheap, safe, popular airplaning, is foreshadowed by the remarkable success attained by tiny British airplanes called motor gliders. One of these, a small monoplane fitted with a three horsepower engine, recently reached a speed of 53 miles an hour during tests near London. It climbed to 2,350 feet, and although in the air for an hour and 20 minutes, consumed less than a gallon of petrol.

DALLAS, July 23.—Miss Sarah Ticeat, 26, of Shreveport, was in a critical condition in a local hospital this morning as a result of a collision of two automobiles last night. Miss Sibel Ticeat, 30, of Shreveport, and Dewey Williams, 23, of Dallas, were also seriously hurt. L. S. Ticeat, a brother of the two women, also is in the hospital, but was less severely hurt.

ENNIS, Texas, July 2.—Eight persons were injured, one critically, when two automobiles collided near this city late yesterday. Fred Sanford is in a critical condition and five others are being treated at a local hospital.

TWO MEN ARRESTED
BY RANGER POLICE
ON THEFT CHARGES

Charges of theft and possibly burglary may be filed against two young Ranger men, following their arrest yesterday and their statement alleged to have been made to the police that they entered the residence of R. L. Page last Wednesday night and removed a phonograph and also about $10 in cash. The men were taken to Eastland yesterday by a deputy sheriff and formal charges will be made by the county attorney's department.

One of the men may be freed, Chief Davenport said, of the charge of stealing the machine. He denies carrying the machine from the house. Both admit that they first divided the money. But this story was afterwards changed—it is said.

The music machine was found in a furniture store in Ranger, the police said.

Lost in Ranger by Visiting Woman

A leather purse containing a string of pearls was lost in Ranger Saturday according to a telegram received here by the police department. The message was sent by Curtis A. Keen, who said his wife believed she left the purse, also containing a vanity case and a five dollar bill, in either a Main street cafe or a millinery store. He wired from Abilene. He didn't state the value of the pearls. Police said today the leather purse was not found by any of those connected with the two places mentioned in the telegram.

REQUISITION FOR CHILD
DESERTION HONORED

AUSTIN, July 23.—A requisition upon the governor of Missouri was issued today by Governor Neff for the return of H. L. Woody to this state. He is charged at Childress with felony and arson. A requisition was honored by the governor for the return to that state of T. S. Turner, wanted for child desertion.

Regardless of the amount of resources a bank has, its strength depends mostly upon the ability to protect its depositors. Most people know that banks, like other businesses, are operated for profit, and though it is the duty of a bank to first protect its owners—stockholders, it could not profit without giving its customers a strong, helpful and friendly service.

SPORTS
BRECKENRIDGE
GATE GUARANTEE

Breckenridge Dynamars are playing to the largest baseball crowds of any city or town in North Central Texas. Carl Snapp, playing manager of the Ranger Snappers, was over to Breckenridge Saturday to see the Snyder game, and while there he had a chat with Judge Saunders, the big mogul of the Dynamars.

The Dynamars, Saunders frankly told Snapp, only care to play where the club will draw a gate equivalent to the size of those at home. The Breckies easily get a $600 to $700 crowd on Saturdays and Sundays.

The Breckenridge team is the most expensive club in this part of the country and anything less than a $300 crowd would mean a financial loss. The Dynamars are being run on a pure business basis.

The Dynamars had a scout at the Snyder game here Wednesday as the Snyder club was scheduled for Saturday and Sunday games. The scout didn't take back a favorable report of the attendance at the Wednesday game and this led the Dynamars to make an unusual offer as regards gate receipts. The Snappers were given two propositions with the option of choosing any one of the two. One is that each club guarantee the other $300 for each game and the second is that the home club take all of the gate receipts. There would be a series in both towns.

The Breckenridge-Ranger games will probably be rearranged. Instead of two straight games in both Ranger and Breckenridge, the latter will play here for example on Saturday and the former in Breckenridge on Sunday. This will keep up the interest of the home fans. A club isn't away from home then for two straight weeks.

Fighters Likely To Draw Purses
Near True Worth

(United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, July 23.—A fighter should fight for what he is worth, and that is what he draws at the gate. These are the words of Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker of the Polo Grounds Athletic club. They mean something, because O'Rourke has joined with Tex Rickard to drop the box office price of tickets to the big bouts in and around New York.

O'Rourke says $10 is enough for anyone to pay to see any champion, and so he has set that as the top price for the Eugene Crippi-Johnny Dundee bout—this week at that mark.

He sounds a sensible new note in the matter of promotion. He sees just as every other promoter in the country now sees—as a result of the Shelby financial farce—that very few people are going to pay $50 for ringside seats to see a couple of prize fighters slam each other.

The Jeffries-Sharkey fight at Coney Island, away back in the old days, drew exactly $70,000, and the prices were from $2 to $10, with the exception of some $25 boxes clustered around the ring. The ten-buck seats were 15 feet from the ring.

Sharkey and Fitzsimmons fought for a $10 top. Terry McGovern mixed it with Frank Erne for that amount.

This marks a strong return to normalcy. Even some fights, where no championship has been involved, have had $17 top prices around here. The only ones who would pay that are the gamblers. They are about the only ones that can afford it, with a few Broadway stars.

Here is another reason why the pari-mutuel system of betting should be installed at all race tracks in the United States:

A check-up shows that the purses being given at Kentucky and Maryland tracks are far higher than in communities where pari-mutuels are not allowed.

Ten years ago the Preakness was worth $1,670 to Prince Eugene when he won it. This year it was worth $52,000 to Vigil. That's in Maryland.

The Withers Stake was worth $2,325 to Rock View in 1913. It paid Zev $18,360 this year. That in New York.

It is the same story in Kentucky. The Derby value increased more than $45,000 in 10 years, while the Belmont stakes increased about $35,000. The tracks in Kentucky and Maryland can offer bigger purses because they derive revenue from the betting transacted. Big purses get better horses into the field and better horses make better races.

ROTAN.—Rejuvenation of the highway project from Waco to Roswell, N. M., was considered recently. It is proposed to have the highway run through Hico, Cisco, Dublin, Stamford, Rotan, Hamlin and Snyder.

Increase in the growth of the number of yearly incomes from $3,000 to $5,000 has been 750 per cent.

FILIPINO SPRINTER, ONCE HUMILIATED, IS NOW HERO

MANILA, July 23.—By winning the 100 and 220-yard runs at the recent Far Eastern Olympiad at Osaka, Japan, Fortunato Catalan, Filipino sprinter, won the honor of representing the Philippines at the Olympic games to be held in Paris in 1924. Catalan has covered the century in 9 4/5 seconds, within one-fifth of a second of the world's record held by Charles W. Paddock, H. P. Drew, and D. J. Kelly.

Catalan who is a farmer boy from the interior of the Island of Leyte in the Philippine archipelago, failed in his first attempt to make a school track team, and was relegated to the kitchen as a cook's helper in order to defray his expenses. His failure was in 1915 during the East Visayan athletic meet held in the province of Cebu.

AGE SCORES IN ROUND WITH YOUNG SPOUSE

DALLAS, July 23.—Age scored a complete knockout against youth when a 30-year-old woman applied for treatment for severe bruises at the Emergency hospital.

She claimed she raised the "ire" of her 76-year-old spouse and he promptly set about to "cave" her. She was given first aid treatment, some advice and then sent home.

When children of Mrs. Newman's broke up a partridge nest of 25 eggs and realized that the mother partridge would not return they gathered up the eggs and took them home where they were hatched by the bantam hen.

SNAPPERS ABLE TO SCORE RUNS WITHOUT HITTING; WIN EASILY

By HOWARD BARMAN. An exhibition of sand lot baseball was furnished Ranger fans at the city ball park yesterday in the second inning of the game between the Snappers and a team representing the Snowdens & McSweeney Gasoline company of Breckenridge. The game degenerated into a burlesque in that inning and there were grave doubts in the minds of some fans whether the visitors didn't lose heart and let the game go to the bow boys. The final score, 17 to 0, doesn't mean that the Snappers mauled the ball to all corners of the lot.

Visitors Go to Pieces. The morale of the visitors seemed to go to pieces and a more ragged exhibition can hardly be imagined unless it were in a game between the Rotarians and Lions of Ranger baseball teams. Gus Coleman, manager of the erstwhile Rotarian club, denied vehemently to the writer the insinuation that it might be the Rotarians masquerading under the uniform of Snowdens & McSweeney. With two exceptions, the visitors lined up the same as they did when here last month and at which time the Snappers had to extend themselves to get a 5 to 2 win. The same story happens with smart clubs and big league teams.

There were no scores in the first inning. But the second inning was a slaughter. When Cope finally ended the misery by flying out to Shear, nine men had crossed the platter.

How Runs Were Piled Up. McElrath singled. McKay sacrificed. Robertson to Baldwin. Gibson raised the ball to Tomberlin, who muffed it. Stevens binged to right field fence, scoring McElrath and Gibson. Cope slammed the ball to left field, scoring Stevens. Nugent was safe on a wobble by Peck. O'Keefe was safe on Baldwin's wobble. Copeland walked. Adams binged and Nugent came home. O'Keefe, fleet footed as ever, was only a short distance behind Nugent. Morgan allowed O'Keefe to run several feet behind him. The center fielder missed the plate but Morgan his eye on Copeland on second, ignored O'Keefe and the latter after steering himself around came back and touched the plate. McElrath and McKay got hits in succession and Copeland and Adams tallied. Gibson rolled to Peck, who seemed to peck at the ball but not able to pick it up in time. Stevens sacrificed and Gibson was out on fielder's choice at second. Cope was accorded the gratitude of the visitors by lifting a fly to Shear.

Nugent Gets a Run. Nugent was working in fine form. His float ball was responsible for the greater part of the 12 strikeouts to his credit. Copeland backed him up nicely. The big boy behind the bat is a worker. He backs up first and third as few catchers do.

Ranger made two more tallies in the third. Nugent binged. O'Keefe made first on Richardson's dropping of a fly ball. He was thrown out at second later by Morgan. Copeland laid down a safe bunt. Adams was safe on Shear's muff. Copeland was out, Fletcher to Baldwin. McElrath singled, scoring Adams. McKay was out, Fletcher to Baldwin.

Gibson made a score in the fourth. He made second safely on Fletcher's misplay. Stevens was safe on Baldwin's error, allowing Gibson to score. Sacrifice hits and errors were responsible for three more runs in the fifth. O'Keefe, Copeland and Adams tallied in this inning.

McKay, who made the sole run in the seventh, cwe it solely to errors. He made first on a muff ball by Baldwin. He stole second and Morgan's throw missed the mark, he went on to third. Centerfielder Richardson gathered the ball up and hurled it to Robertson. The latter stopped for the throw but it went on by and McKay came on home. It was such playing as this that sent some of the fans home before the seventh inning was over.

O'Keefe scored his third and the only run made in the eighth. His was the only hit, too, but making runs without hitting was easily accomplished Sunday.

Main Drag Stuff

BY P. G. T.

The Main Drag was quite an exciting place for a few minutes Saturday night. A little girl was bit by a bug between the Lamb theatre and the Fountain. She gave an extensive exhibit of a child in tears, which drew a crowd.

She had no sooner passed on to the doctor when a woman fainted in the Fountain. She narrowly missed drowning by falling into a bucket of candy. Luckily one of our city parks borders the Fountain and she was carried out to a bench, which was in the park.

Immediately cries of advice came from the crowd, "Soak 'er head, rub 'er hands, rub 'er arms, rub 'er neck," etc. There were plenty there to rub her neck but no one volunteered further efforts to resuscitation until Doc McGinnis, the little guy who nominates presidents, hove in sight.

Despite the fact that there was nothing the matter with the lady's teeth the doc brought her around in short order.

He is some little guy; politician, D. D. S., and now M. D. First thing you know he'll be giving stump speeches and become a D. D. or displace some legal talent and we'll call him "Judge."

Fred Dreinhofner took his family to the picture show yesterday. One of the children went to sleep and it was necessary to stay through three programs. Fred says he was rather glad because the picture was very good.

A party of Ranger business men Sundayed in Thurber. They arrived home safely at an early hour this morning.

We thought we had had a shot at all the get-rich-quick something-for-nothing schemes, such as investing a dollar with the Ketchum and Skinnem Oil syndicate and so forth, but the latest and best graft is the Wholesale Sample Tooth Paste and Shaving Soap business. The capital necessary to star this highly prolific adventure is 36 cents for each commodity. Thirty-five cents for the tooth paste or shaving soap and one cent for a stamp. The method is as follows:

With each and every tube of a certain kind of tooth paste or shaving soap you receive a card asking for names of six friends who would like to receive, free of charge, a sample of so and so's tooth paste or shaving cream.

The next step is to procure a mail box at the postoffice. Direct the postmaster that all mail addressed to several non-existent firms shall be put in the box. Then send the card to the company manufacturing these commodities with six faked names addressed to the six non-existent business houses.

When the tooth paste and shaving soap arrive there will be one card with each sample requesting the names of six other tooth paste or shaving soap users. You repeat the first performance, only this time you can have three or four samples come to each non-existent business house. There, your work has been cut out for you, the endless chain has started.

It should be possible to put a man on the road selling the samples in a few weeks and it will probably be necessary to hire six or eight stenographers to take names and business houses and order supplies.

At the end of a year you will probably be taking the whole output of all the samples of the tooth paste and shaving soap companies in the country.

Finally when they have all gone into bankruptcy, due to the overproduction of samples and lack of sales of standard size goods you will have the tooth paste and shaving soap business where the hair is short. You try it. I've almost been to jail once.

This is a wonderfully productive country, and the indications now are that within ten years we shall have 110,000,000 laws.—Cleveland Commercial.

GUARD CHICAGO WOMAN UNDER DEATH SENTENCE

Crudelle and Mrs. S. N. Crudelle.

Mrs. Sabelle Nitti Crudelle, the first woman ever sentenced to die on the gallows in Chicago, is shown here with her second husband, Peter Crudelle, under a similar sentence. Mrs. Crudelle already has tried to kill herself and is under constant guard. The two were convicted of murdering Mrs. Crudelle's first husband, Frank Nitti, a farmer, near Stickney, Ill., on July 22, 1922. The conviction promises to cause trouble in some Chicago families, the wife of one of the jurors already having declared she will leave him if the woman is hanged. The jury which found Mrs. Crudelle guilty was composed, back row, left to right, of T. C. Murtough, Charles A. Ludwig, W. Frank Gamble, Martin Jacobs, Fred Burnette and C. K. Barnhisel. Front row, left to right: Harry Haser, William J. Fenwell, Henry Ludwig, R. J. Gould, P. Howard and Henry Hetzke.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School Is the Family," Says Freebel; Issued by National Kindergarten Association, 8 West 40th Street, New York City; Use the Mirror as an Object Lesson.

BY ZARAH E. PREBLE

Little Robert came tramping into the room where his mother and I were talking. She took one look at the messy little figure, and exclaimed angrily: "Robert! You are a naughty, bad, dirty child! I told you not to get dirty, and now look at you. I don't love you any more."

The child looked down at himself, and his mouth quivered at his mother's words and tone. "I'm not dirty, muvver—jes my hands, see! He held out two grimy little paws. He was honestly sincere in his denial, but his mother was too upset to see that fact.

"Don't lie about it," she said grimly. He looked at her piteously, and tears came into his eyes. "I'm not dirty, muvver," he repeated. "Jes my hands and I can wash 'em."

His mother glared. I felt that punishment—unjust punishment, for the child was not aware of his own condition—was in the air. I could not help interfering.

"Robert," I said gently, taking one of the dirty little hands in mine, and leading him over to the mirror, "stand up on this chair and let's play a game. You look in the glass and then tell me quite truthfully what you think about that little boy in there."

He looked, half fearfully, but my smile reassured him. "Is he clean or dirty?" I asked. "His face is dirty," he replied, "and his hands are dirty."

"How about his rompers and his knees?" I suggested. "They're dirty, too," he admitted. "All right, now who's the boy? What's his name?"

He smiled shamefacedly up at my image in the mirror. "Robert."

I nodded. "All right. You see you just didn't know you were so dirty, did you? Not until you saw yourself. But mother could see you, and she knew that you were dirty, and that was why she thought you were not telling the truth. Now you know the truth, so you can go and tell her that you are a dirty boy, but that you are sorry."

He nodded, and started to climb down from the chair, when he glanced once more into the mirror. "You have a lot of powder on your face," he said.

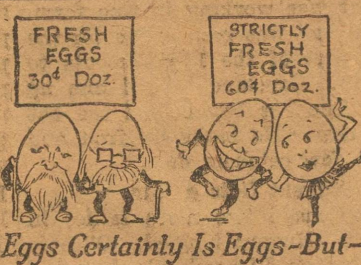

I laughed. "I guess I ought to have looked at myself. Thank you, Robert, I'll take some of it off."

His mother smiled quizzically at me. "YOUR LESSON IS THREE—WASH," she said. "I didn't stop to think that he couldn't see anything but his hands. I'm sorry, son, that I said you were lying to me. Now go and wash yourself, and put on a clean pair of rompers."

"You will find the mirror better than punishing, I said. "And don't call the children vain, and make them self-conscious, when they look in it to see if you are all right. Just teach them to criticize that image, and try to improve upon it."

"The biggest problem that America has to solve is that of equalizing the opportunities of life through giving every child a chance to grow in power as he ought while personal powers are still flexible. To attend thoughtfully to education is to attack the American problem at the roots instead of at the branches and leaves."

In the kindergarten right habits of thought and action are formed. If there is no kindergarten in your school, write to the National Kindergarten association, 8 West 40th street, New York, N. Y.

Eggs Certainly Is Eggs-But—

A BAD egg is worth less than nothing. Even if it's just a little "off" you don't want it around.

That's exactly the way with valve cups. A valve cup that isn't going to last and isn't going to pump the oil, ought never to be put in your well. If you had it given to you wrapped in a twenty dollar bill, that wouldn't make up for what you lose in wages and well being while you pull out for re-cupping.

Tell your dealer you must have Darcova, and that substitutes, even if they're not very bad, are worse than no good.

BIG BUSINESS GOING IN FOR MORE SPORTS

By PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, July 23.—Big business is beginning to realize the worth of sports.

A few years ago employers in the major factories and business houses looked upon sport merely as recreation and took no hand. Now it is considered a part of the business.

Baseball grounds, athletic tracks, football fields and tennis courts are being constructed by nearly every big plant, in the realization that such recreation may take the place of the old corner saloon. It increases the efficiency of the workers and holds them to their jobs.

Perhaps the largest undertaking of this kind has been launched by the Westinghouse Electric company, which has organized what is known as "The Westinghouse Athletic association." The company employs more than 30,000 persons and its monthly payroll averages over $4,250,000.

The organization pays for itself from admissions, which are carefully handled by a board of directors.

Girls' activities are under a separate association. They play baseball, tennis and basketball. At present they have one baseball team, two basketball teams and have arranged for a tennis tournament.

Seven men baseball teams are formed into an intership league where prizes are offered to the pennant winner and team finishing in second place.

The success of the scheme indicates clearly that industrial athletics have come to stay.

INJUNCTION TO RESTRAIN TAX COLLECTION DENIED

By United Press
AUSTIN, Texas, July 21.—A temporary restraining order asked by the American Refining company of Wilmington, Del., against Secretary of State Staples, who had threatened to cancel the company's permit to do business in Texas unless it paid a franchise tax on its gross assets rather than on the net, was denied today by District Judge George Calhoun.

The American Refining company, which has assets in Texas aggregating about $2,000,000, paid a franchise tax of its net assets. It was informed it would have to pay upon its gross assets. Refusal to do so would necessitate cancellation of the company's permit, it was stated.

REASONS FOR USING COUPONS

- FIRST—You save money.
 - SECOND—They save your time in making change and in hunting the place over for your purse.
 - THIRD—You are safe in leaving them out when you are away from home. They are not good for ice except for you, while money is not safe left laying around.
 - FOURTH—They protect our wagon salesmen. If you leave a dollar in the box to take his 40 cents out, and the change is not there when you go for it, you just know the ice man got it. He has to pay—is this fair to him.
 - FIFTH—They help the wagon salesman. He keeps no books. When he leaves you a piece of ice without getting a coupon or money, it is purely one of his many courtesies—he stands good for it, and often pays for it. If you say you did not get the ice or that you paid him for it, he has no recourse, he just pays it for you. Is this fair to him?
 - SIXTH—They help the service generally. If one of our smiling salesmen waits two minutes for you to find your purse that is two minutes he is late at the next house and it only takes ten waits to make him 20 minutes late.
 - SEVENTH—They give you an absolutely correct check on your ice bill. A 1,000-pound book has forty 25-pound coupons in it, and where is a better method of keeping up with your ice bill?
- They help you help us keep our men smiling and help us help you smile.
