

Yarborough Says:

Rangers Ordered Out Of Duval

WHARTON, Tex., Aug. 7 (AP)—Ralph Yarborough charged today Gov. Allan Shivers has ordered the Texas Rangers out of Duval County.

In Austin, Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety and boss of the Rangers, said this was not so.

Company D of the Rangers has been stationed in Duval County since 1952. Shivers sent the Rangers there at the request of citizens who said they needed protection while voting. The Rangers patrolled Duval voting boxes again in the Democratic primary July 24.

Yarborough said in a stump speech he had received word while in Corpus Christi yesterday that Shivers ordered the Rangers out of Duval County and they left under cover of darkness within the past 48 hours.

"Let him tell the people of Texas why and what kind of deal has been made," he said.

Garrison said in Austin the Rangers "have not been pulled out of Duval County. Neither has any request been made to pull them out."

He said any attempt to take them out would have to be made through him and he has had no such request from Shivers. "We've had no notification here of anything like that at all," he said.

The state has been investigating political boss George Parr and conditions in Duval County for more than a year. Atty. Gen. John Ben Shupperd started the investigation with Shivers' publicly expressed backing.

Yarborough also charged today that Shivers is "stirring up racial prejudice" throughout Texas.

Yarborough repeatedly attacked the Shivers administration while making his first stump speeches of his run-off campaign for the governorship with a Coastal Bend farming belt sweep that included stops at Edna, El Campo, Wharton, Bay City, Rosenberg, Richmond and Columbus.

He said Shivers has spread racial prejudice by changing his stand three times on the segregation issue. He denied a charge made last night by Shivers that Yarborough himself had misled Negro voters on the segregation question.

Yarborough also denied a charge by Shivers that he was being supported by the personal fortunes of prominent Houston bankers and oilmen.

"In order to cover up, the governor keeps on asking what promises or deals I have made with certain minority groups," Yarborough said. "I have told him before that I have made no private deals with any group. I haven't made any land deals with them or anybody else."

The trouble with Allan is that he has made so many deals himself he thinks everyone that is against him is a double dealer. He has so many deals he doesn't know what it is just to run with the people's help."

Yarborough said the "international banker, oil and sulphur barons" support charge was a change from the first primary when Shivers accused him of being a captive of the CIO-PAC and NAACP.

"Now I am a captive of big international bankers," he said.

"It's not the international bankers who are supporting me—it's the people's bankers."

The former Austin district judge repeated his charge that Shivers had a $2,000,000 slush fund for the first primary and added that the governor has one million dollars for the run-off.

"My own campaign is 50 thousand dollars in debt now," Yarborough said, adding that Shivers is pouring big money into radio, television and newspaper advertising.

Miss Gay, who resides at the Settles Hotel, said she did not know when the car was taken. She parked it Sunday and did not miss it until Friday. License number of her vehicle is CD 3691.

Gov. Shivers Says:

Another Time His Foe Off Base

SWEETWATER, Tex., Aug. 7 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today his opponent Ralph Yarborough "has caught himself in a revolving door with all his ridiculous promises and doesn't know which direction he's traveling."

Shivers made this comment in answer to a charge by Yarborough in Wharton today that the governor had ordered Texas Rangers to leave Duval County, stormy political area in South Texas.

"The fact that the Rangers are still in Duval County put the lie to that statement just as we could to all of his other statements," Shivers said.

The two men meet in a run-off election Aug. 28 for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Capt. Alfred Allee, boss of Co. D of the Texas Rangers which has been stationed in Duval County since 1952, said today at Carrizo Springs Yarborough's statement was "utterly untrue."

Ranger Walter Russell, one of the Rangers who has been stationed in Duval County, said, "We ain't been run out yet."

Allee said the Ranger headquarters in San Diego, county seat of Duval, was shut down a week ago to allow some Rangers from out of town to go home for a while. He said most had been there two years.

Shivers came here to meet with campaign workers after a similar meeting in Lubbock.

He was enthusiastic about the determination and spirit of his supporters.

"We're going to win if everybody gets out and works," he said.

"That's all it's going to take."

At Lubbock, the governor met about 300 West Texas and South Plains supporters.

He also spoke at the opening of a new South Plains headquarters there.

In his speeches at Lubbock, Shivers spoke again of his support for good roads and water programs that vitally affect West Texas and pointed to the number of persons from West Texas he had named to state offices.

Teaching on segregation in public schools again, the governor said:

"So help me God, you can't mix white and black children in the schools of Texas."

He also dwelled on the third term, an issue raised by his opponent.

Shivers, seeking a third elective term, said six or seven Democratic governors in the United States had served more than two terms.

He also said some great Texas had served more than two terms. He did not elaborate.

Shivers, who several times referred to Yarborough as a demagogue, said his opponent had labored the present administration in Austin as the most corrupt in the history of the state.

"When you brand decent and honest public officials with being crooked and corrupt, it's time for the voters of Texas to call his hand," Shivers said.

Shivers said he had given Texas a good type of service as governor in keeping with sound economy and would continue his fight to prevent a sales tax.

Texans Leaving Congress Plan New Activities

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Members of the 24-man Texas congressional delegation, who will go their separate ways after adjournment, are effusing good will and affection like college classmates at graduation time.

On every hand, and with considerable assistance from congressmen of other states, they have lauded the five of their own number not expected to be in the ranks for convening of the first session of the 84th Congress next January.

Three are retiring voluntarily: Reps. J. Frank Wilson, Dallas; Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., McAllen, and John E. Lyle, Corpus Christi.

Rep. Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth lost his fight for renomination. Rep. Ken Regan of Midland also was loser in the July 24 primary election, unless a recount reverses a close decision.

Here's what each of the departing legislators now intends to do, back in private life:

Wilson—Reside in Dallas and resume law practice there, but devote a lot of time and attention to his cotton farm of about a thousand acres, just north of Corsicana. He says crop control quotas will cut him down to about 400 acres. He'll grow some oats.

Bentsen—Plans to handle private business affairs. The Bentsens have land holdings in the fertile Rio Grande Valley. He also is an attorney.

Lyle—Looks forward to resuming his law practice in Corpus Christi, and living in new home on a bluff overlooking the blue Gulf of Mexico.

Lucas—Will resume private law practice in Fort Worth. He expects to specialize in federal cases.

Regan—Will devote more time to his oil business. It wasn't an entirely bleak day for him when they counted the votes and found him on the short end. He watched a new well come in on his property, reportedly flowing 125 barrels a day.

Most of the other Texas congressmen will spend the greater part of the remaining months this year back in Texas.

Rep. W. R. Poage is scheduled to attend the Interparliamentary Union in Vienna Aug. 25 to Sept. 16, as an American delegate.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa is going to divide the time between his Panhandle district and his home here. With five of his six children having to go back to school in September, his family will spend the fall back here.

Rep. Frank Icard of Wichita Falls is on a House government operations subcommittee which intends to hold some hearings this fall to see if savings can be effected in military expenditures.

Mother Of Webb Airman Dies Here

Remains of Mrs. Iva Mae Rogers, 47, mother of Andrew V. Rogers, who is stationed at Webb AFB, were to be returned today to Meridian, Miss.

Mrs. Rogers, who came here recently to be with her son, died Friday in a hospital here. She had been in ill health.

Arrangements were incomplete Saturday as the Eberly-River Funeral Home prepared to send her body home for last rites.

Among survivors are her mother, Mrs. Sallie Massengale, Meridian, Miss.; three sons, Andrew V. Rogers, Webb AFB, William E. Rogers, with the U. S. Army in Korea but said to be enroute home, and James B. Rogers, St. Louis, Mo.

Theft Of Two Cars Reported To Police

Two automobile thefts were reported to police here Friday and Saturday.

R. P. Hess, 905 E. 16th, said his black 1950 Plymouth was stolen while it was parked in the 200 block of East Third about 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The car had the keys clipped to the sun visor, he said. License number of the car is 1-143792, and the tags were issued in Florida.

Edith Gay, secretary at the Chamber of Commerce, was the other to report a car theft. She told police at 2:30 p.m. Friday that her 1948 Ford had been stolen while it was parked in the 400 block of Runnels.

Miss Gay, who resides at the Settles Hotel, said she did not know when the car was taken. She parked it Sunday and did not miss it until Friday. License number of her vehicle is CD 3691.

Two Businesses On Northside Entered

Two establishments located in the 600 block of Northeast Second were burglarized Friday night, police said.

Three silver dollars were taken from Casey Fuller Grocery, but nothing could be found missing from the Red Chain Feed Store, officers said.

The grocery store door was entered, and the feed store was broken into from the first establishment, officers said.

Suffers Knife Cuts; Affray Investigated

Joe Hinojos, 505 NW 7th, was treated at Big Spring Hospital about midnight Friday for knife cuts on his neck and arm.

Hospital attendants said he was released following first aid attention. The wounds apparently were not serious.

Hinojos reported to the hospital of his own accord following an affray in a Northwest Big Spring establishment. Saturday police were holding another Latin-American for investigation of assault in connection with the case.

Huge Welcome Awaiting Soap Box Champions

AKRON — The rubber capital of America shifted into high gear today with preparations to welcome the 151 champions who will race in the 17th All-American Soap Box Derby here Sunday, Aug. 15.

The contestants are scheduled to arrive by Thursday from all parts of the United States and from Alaska, Canada and Western Germany. They will roll into the city behind a police escort with sirens open. As they enter the May-

Charles Morris, Big Spring Soap Box champ, will be one of those sharing in the festivities at Akron this week. Charles, with his parents and younger sister, will leave by train Tuesday morning for arrival in Akron Wednesday night.

Flower Hotel Derby headquarters, they will be given a royal welcome. A brass band will play as each champion mounts a Golden Star, hears his name announced to the crowd and walks across a big red "Welcome" carpet to the lobby. Banners and signs greeting the champs will be displayed all over the city. Derbytown, the YMCA summer camp south of the city, will be decked out for the champs and serve as their home and play spot for the stay. Swimming, boating, baseball, water sports and other activities will be directed by trained counselors.

The champions largely will stay at Derbytown, leaving only Friday and Saturday before the race to make test runs at Derby Downs and do last-minute touch-ups on their cars.

National celebrities coming here to take part in the Derby will visit the camp and entertain contestants. The champions will be featured in scenes to be shot at the camp for the official 1955 Soap Box Derby movie, "Boys a-Building."

The Akron Chamber of Commerce will put on its traditional Saturday noon barbecue for the champions with business executives and community leaders donning caps and aprons to serve as hosts.

During the Saturday party at Derbytown, W. E. Fish, Chevrolet's general sales manager, will present champions with their Soap Box Derby wrist watches, awards for winning for their local races. Later, the Portage Lakes Motor Boating Association will hold a boating party for the contestants at Sandy Beach. A surprise after-dinner program at the camp will climax the day.

After attending churches of their choice Sunday, the champions will eat an early lunch and head for Derbytown to race for a share of the $15,000 in scholarship and other valuable prizes offered by Chevrolet. First heat of the 17th All-American Soap Box Derby will begin promptly at 2 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time (Akron time). It will be signalled by 17 aerial bombs, one for each year of the race.

Before the race, the colorful parade of Champions will be held at 1:15. It will be led by the United States Second Army Band and the champions, carrying new city flags. At 1:45, three celebrities at the wheels of specially built, out-sized Derby races will compete in the popular Oil Can Trophy Race. Semi-final championship final heats of the All-American will be broadcast over a national radio network of the Columbia Broadcasting System from 4 to 4:15 p.m.

The big weekend will close with the Banquet of Champions in Good-year Hall at 7 p.m. when awards will be made and each champion will take his bow.

Mrs. Jones, 67, Dies At Home

Mrs. Johnnie M. Jones, 67, died at her home at 305 Benton Street Saturday afternoon following a long illness.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Monday at the Eberley-River Chapel with the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, West Side Baptist pastor, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Dan Oglesby and interment will be in the Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Jones, wife of T. N. Jones, had been a resident of Big Spring for about 25 years.

Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Cecil E. Long, Rt. No. 1, Lomas. She also is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Jim Bailey, Springfield, Ore.; Mrs. L. Parson, Albuquerque, N. M.; and Mrs. Nannie Landers, Dallas; and four grandchildren.

Now They Ride

Time was when Clark W. Wisner, 77, hoofed it or rode a horse, but not now. Wisner built this motor scooter, powered by a washing machine engine. After testing it for five years, he built the trailer so Mrs. Wisner can go along. Without the trailer, Wisner says, "I can go up any hill in town (The Dalles, Ore.)—and there are some steep ones." GET GOOD PHOTOS

Youngsters Become Camera Hobbyists

By JIM CLARK

The one-time adult hobby of photography has just about been taken over by the youngsters, according to local dealers.

Simplification of work to be done by the shutter snapper and a decrease in the amount of expert knowledge necessary to get good results account for the new trend.

Another cause is the low-priced cameras now available.

"Although a large number of youngsters' knowledge of the subject is limited to that necessary for making the exposures, the quality turned out by some is surprising," one local dealer said.

Most persons are acquainted with photography through gifts, according to camera shop personnel. Such gifts vary endlessly in construction and quality as well as in price, but most of the youngsters begin with the common box camera.

As they better acquaint themselves with the camera's use they either buy or are given more expensive cameras. With the "camera bug" attack, they turn to photography magazines and iron out their problems through discussions with professional photographers.

Then the hobby becomes more expensive. The purchase of accessories begins. First accessories usually include an exposure meter and a K-2 filter. Some even set up their own photographic darkroom where they process their own prints.

But darkrooms can prove expensive ventures unless the amateur takes pictures on a large scale. The chemicals do not retain full strength for long periods and must be replaced with frequency. So most youngsters have their films developed at local photography shops or leave them with drug stores to be sent out of town.

Cap Rock Electric Show Draws Throng

STANTON (SC) — Attendance records topped here Friday at the 15th annual meeting of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative and the Electric Fair.

More than 1,500 turned out for the affair Friday, and the Thursday evening crowd was possibly larger. Arah Phillips, Big Spring, Glenn Cantrell, Center Point, and C. F. Gray, Stanton, were re-elected.

In his annual report to members, Manager O. B. Bryan listed assets at $2,418,735 for the system which serves 19 counties in this area. Cap Rock showed $234,900 in cash, another $50,000 in bonds plus $115,000 accounts receivable. Materials and supplies approximated $63,000 advance payments on insurance and supplies $21,000. Net value of the system was listed at $1,945,000.

Cap Rock owes REA $2,165,000 (it has repaid $302,000). Outstanding obligations including material, membership fees are about $53,000. During the past year, said

Bryan, operating income amounted to $363,000. Expenses included $97,000 for power, $76,000 for operation and maintenance, $72,000 for depreciation, $7,500 for taxes and insurance, $38,000 interest on REA loans, or a total operating expense of $232,000. This left a net income of $71,000. During the year the co-op paid $51,254 principal and $19,251 interest to REA.

The Nichols Sisters, Jan. 14, Linda, 11, and Dinah, 8, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elma Nichols, Rt. 1, Stanton, vocalized in close harmony to win first place in the Kelvinator talent contest. They were awarded a Stromberg-Carlson portable radio. Other entrants were Shirley Williams, Ackerly, Clemene Miller, Stanton, Frances Graves, Tarzan, E. J. Helwig, St. Lawrence.

In the Willie Wired Hand quiz contest, Mrs. Glenn Cantrell came out first and was awarded an electric ice cream freezer. Runners up who received charcoal broilers were M. C. Gibson, Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. W. T. Wells of Stanton, Mrs. M. E. Saunders, St. Lawrence.

Winnie Williams gave demonstrations of speed cooking and the Fairbanks-Morse demonstration on home water systems was well attended. Appliance and equipment dealers — seven from Stanton, six from Big Spring and four from Midland — had demonstrations and displays in two 100-foot tents. Bob Johnson, with his aerial balancing and juggling acts; Harland Stretz, with his feats of sleight of hand; and Bill Wimberly with his hillybilly band proved popular with the large audience under the big top. Martin County Home Demonstration Clubs and the 4-H Clubs were in charge of concessions.

During the meeting 15-year pens went to Miss Phillips, Cantrell, Gray and Mrs. Lee Castle, all of whom have been directors continuously since the cooperative was formed 15 years ago on Aug. 4.

21 Local Scouts Attend Encampment

Twenty-one Big Spring Scouts participated in the Buffalo Trail Council "Wilderness Camp" at Lake Sweetwater last week.

Seventeen Scouts from Troop No. 17, sponsored by the Elks Club, attended under the leadership of Charles Weatherall. There were four other boys from Troop No. 1 and No. 3. Friday evening Don Anderson, assistant scoutmaster of Troop No. 3, and Leon Kaylor, Explorer Post No. 18 advisor, were inducted into the Order of the Arrow.

The camp program consisted chiefly of swimming, boating, fishing, small bore marksmanship, archery and lifesaving. Scouts from Odessa, Fullerton, Sweetwater, Rotan, Midland, Highland, Fortson and Snyder attended. A total of 129 Scouts and Explorers and 15 adult leaders attended. Bill McTeer, Big Spring Scout executive, was director, and all camping was on a troop basis.

Epileptic Stroke Ruled Cause Of Quint Emilie Dionne Death

MONTREAL, Aug. 7 (AP)—An autopsy showed today an epileptic stroke caused the death of shy Emilie Dionne, one of the 20-year-old Dionne quintuplets.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine, Quebec medico-legal expert, announced the finding—the first official word that Emilie was subject to the chronic nervous disease—after an examination of the body with Dr. Paul Martin.

"The girl suffered a stroke and has suffered from epilepsy for some time," Dr. Fontaine said. "The pituitary gland was congested and enlarged, as well as the thyroid and adrenal glands. They were enlarged beyond normal size. So you see the cause of death was very natural. It is quite normal for a girl of Emilie's age to die of this illness."

He said there had been pulmonary congestion "caused by glandular disorders."

The autopsy was ordered because of the prominence of the quintuplets and because no doctor was present when she died yesterday. Death came at a Roman Catholic hostel in the mountains near St. Agathe, Que., where she was a postulant with the Oblate order of Mary Immaculate.

Emilie went to the hostel, conducted for aged persons and retired priests, about two months ago. She died alone, about 400 miles from her sisters.

The autopsy completed, the body was to be taken to Emilie's grieving parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, and her sisters and brothers at their home in Callander, Ont. Her sister Yvonne told a reporter there:

"Emilie was so good, so gay. She had not seemed ill. If we had only known . . ."

District Coroner Jean-Louis Tailon had refused in St. Agathe to sign a release for the body until the cause of death was definitely established.

The body was brought to Montreal for the autopsy.

Considered the most affectionate of the five identical quintuplets, Emilie was the second smallest of the sisters at the birth May 28, 1934. An elder sister, Mrs. Maurice Girouard, said yesterday Emilie had polio 17 years ago and since then had been afflicted with fainting spells.

At Callander, however, a parish priest who acted as spokesman for her father, said she had suffered a "weak spell" when she was six. "It was never diagnosed," he said, "but polio is out."

Sisters at the hostel said she had suffered from frequent "fainting spells" which they believed to be epilepsy.

The surviving quintuplets—Yvonne, Marie, Cecile and Annette—and the parents and seven other brothers and sisters were deeply shocked.

"She was very dear to us," the father said. "It is a terrible blow to us all."

Last Group Due At Baptist Camp

With a record of more than 1,000 attendance in a series of youth camps, the Baptist district encampment will receive its last scheduled group of youngsters for the season on Tuesday.

During the past week the annual encampment for Latin-American children was held with an attendance of 66. The previous week 79 boys who had had contacts with juvenile officers were at the camp, and prior to that 950 junior and intermediate children had spent nearly a week in four weeks of camping.

On Tuesday morning the Big Spring Baptist Association camp for Sunbeams, the tiny tots, will open. Plans call for a day of activity in camp, an overnight stay, and with departure set at 10:45 a.m. Wednesday.

The camp for Latin-American children drew good response, said the Rev. J. William Arnett, district missionary and camp pastor. In addition to professions of faith, there were also several consecrations for special Christian service. Assisting in the services were Silvano Lara, Midland, the missionary speaker and in charge of music; E. R. Hammack, Big Spring, stewardship speaker; Trinidad Cano, Big Spring, vesper speaker; D. C. Ancira, Seminole, in charge of the campfire programs; and Jose Lujan, Colorado City, the morning watch speaker. Sponsoring the camp was the district WNU.

Blockade And Bloodshed On Indian-Portuguese Border

By HAROLD K. MILKS

PANGIM, Portuguese India, Aug. 7 (AP)—A sari-clad woman argued tearfully with the Indian customs inspector over possession of a basket of vegetables. Then she boarded the train at the border town of Castle Rock and went into Portuguese India without them.

Multiplying that incident a thousand times and you have the situation on the frontier between India and Portugal's colonial territories on the west Indian coast—a frontier banded by a politically inspired economic blockade.

The ban on exports of foodstuffs to Portuguese territory—whether a herd of cattle or a basket of vegetables—is all part of India's cold war for ejection of colonial holdings on the Indian subcontinent.

Portuguese settlements in India date back to 1510. Goa, heart of the 1,600-square-mile possession, is the site of the shrine of St. Francis Xavier, Roman Catholic missionary who came there in 1542.

Today the young and lusty Republic of India says that Portugal's colonies—Goa, Diu and Damao—should be merged with India. Prime Minister Nehru has declared it is intolerable that what he calls "foreign pockets" should continue in the midst of Indian territory now that Britain has withdrawn.

France, which still holds Pondicherry and Karikal on the east Indian coast, has quietly abandoned two smaller colonies, Mahe and Yanam, as pro-Indian Nationalists moved into the areas in recent weeks. There are indications the French may give up Pondicherry and Karikal too.

But Portugal rejects the idea that India has any right to her areas simply because the blood of the people there is largely Indian. The Lisbon government says Portuguese India is as much Portuguese as the wineries of Oporto or the fishing villages along the Portuguese coast. Over this difference a tense battle is now developing.

Portuguese leaders here, obviously irritated at the current campaign of "liberation forces" from across the Indian frontier, say they will fight to retain their territory here.

Officials of India's Foreign Ministry have been firing almost daily diplomatic protests at Portugal. Most of these communications concern neither India nor Indians, but Portuguese Goa and the people who live there.

India, say these warnings, will hold Portugal responsible for the treatment of Goans—which in the eyes of Lisbon means the treatment of Portuguese nationals.

Half the 540,000 people of Portuguese India are Roman Catholics, clinging for the last 400 years to the religion of the Portuguese homeland.

Unused And Unclaimed Funds In Local Banks Exceed $179,000

By JIM CLARK
There are a million ways to lose your money, but forgetting you have it in a bank is one of the most painless ways. Over approximately half a century the two banks in Big Spring report $169,496.72 in accounts that just died on the vine. A substantial chunk of this may not be "lost" in the sense that the depositor will never claim the account, but that amount of money is wrapped up in the inactive account file. Most of the accounts involved, however, became inactive because the depositor completely forgot about them or assumed that funds had been depleted. In several cases when the depositor died his heirs or assigns did not know the deceased had an account. At the First National Bank, where the inactive accounts are kept separately, $19,496.72 has been left inactive by 1,200 depositors. That's an average of $16.16 by each person. Most of the deposits range under $5. The few cent variety is not uncommon and 860 inactive accounts is considered extremely large.

Trustees To Study Budget For Schools

Regular meeting of the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees is set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. In addition to routine matters, the board will give consideration to a tentative draft of the proposed budget for the 1954-55 fiscal year beginning Sept. 1. Also up for action will be late resignations and rejection of contracts by teachers and supervisors, and the election of replacements. The board is expected to set the school calendar for the year.

Capitol Architect Asks Retirement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower today accepted the retirement application of David Lynn, veteran architect of the Capitol building, who has served Congress in various capacities for more than 53 years. As Capitol architect, Lynn has been responsible for many big and little renovations. One of the biggest was the multimillion dollar modernization of the Senate and House chambers three years ago.

Russians Accept U.S. Flood Aid As 'Friendly Gesture'

BERLIN (AP)—The East German press said today Soviet zone acceptance of American flood aid is in line with the Communist regime's "striving for friendly relations" with the American people.

Editorial comment in the controlled Red press represented a sharp turnabout. Only a week ago, the official party organ spurned President Eisenhower's offer of food for flood victims as a guise for American hiring of spies. The Communist press hinted that East German government may try to use its acceptance for a lever for recognition by the United States.

Easier Housing Terms Due To Bring Record Building In '55

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Under the easy payment terms of the housing act of 1954, officials believe the nation may add 1,300,000 to 1,400,000 new dwellings to its housing supply in 1955. If the higher figure is obtained, their all-time residential construction record of 1,396,880 new homes started, set in 1950.

Builders' organizations believe the liberalized terms for Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance—less cash down, smaller monthly payments, and mortgages stretching over 30 years—can bring home ownership within reach of millions of low-income families.

If so the housing boom—which surprised everybody by ignoring the business dip of the past year—may turn into an even bigger boom in 1955. Even before President Eisenhower signed the bulky bill this week, applications for mortgage insurance were piling up faster than FHA could process them. In June they arrived in record numbers; and immediately after the law went on the books FHA announced it would recruit 150 more inspectors and appraisers to keep abreast of its work load.

The president of the National Assn. of Homebuilders, R. G. Hughes, issued a statement describing the legislation as "the biggest housing opportunity for home builders in the past 20 years."

The law permits FHA to insure a bank's mortgage on a $9,000 home for a down payment of only $450, as against $950 under the old law. The monthly payment would be $46.83 to cover principal, interest, and the FHA insurance premium.

A $6,000 home—in any area where it might be found—will take a $300 down payment and a monthly charge of $31.22. A $12,000 home can be bought for $1,200 down and $59.15 a month. A $20,000 home can be yours for $3,200 down and $82.01 a month.

The FHA, in other words, will insure 95 per cent of the lender's risk on the first $9,000 of a new-home mortgage, and 75 per cent of the value in excess of $9,000.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Says He, Others Earned A Bonus

To the Editor:
In regard to the article in your paper of Aug. 6, 1954, pertaining to Yarborough's Soldier Bonus:

Now I am a Texan and proud of it. I am also a veteran of World War II, spent 28 months in the South Pacific fighting the Japanese. I hold the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star Medal. I would like very much to have a state bonus. I think I earned one and I know thousands of my Texas buddies did. And if you will check a little closer you will find out that the veterans organizations asked Yarborough to add the veterans bonus to his platform for governor of Texas. I am a supporter of Yarborough. I think it is time we should elect a man to be governor of Texas for all the people of Texas. We have had one too long for the rich and the big oil companies. We need a governor that will look out for the working people of this great state.

Back to the bonus, most of the other 47 states have already paid their sons and daughters bonus. If it is right to keep sending millions of dollars each year to foreign countries for free, I think it would be right to pay bonuses to the men and women that fought for their country.

Clean Whole Town, Not Just Streets

To the Editor:
The recent letter written to you stated that it would be a good idea to get together and see to it that the tourists are impressed with our city by a more cooperative effort to clean up our streets. One thing that wasn't mentioned is the fact that a lot of those tourists are relatives and friends who don't spend a week or so visiting "the streets" altogether. There are certain areas in our town like the canyon west of the Ball Park that would look nice were it cleaned up and a little effort put forth to beautify it. If the city would see to it that receptacles were set up for the Ball Park Association to put their used drinking cups, outdated score cards and stale hot dog buns (sometimes with wieners and relish intact) we wouldn't have to wait until the game is over to very conveniently catch up on the dope. In fact we quite often find some of the star players resting peacefully in Bermuda (grass). Instead of saying "it would be nice to clean up the streets," it would be more appropriate to say "Let's clean up the whole town and see that what Mother Nature doesn't put there, just won't be put there."

Commie Chairman Held For Treason

ESSEN, Germany (AP)—Josef Ledwohn, Communist party chairman in the Ruhr, has been arrested on charges of high treason, state authorities announced here today. Ledwohn was accused of distributing Soviet zone pamphlets calling for the overthrow of the Bonn government.

Three other West German Communists were convicted last Monday by the Federal Supreme Court in Karlsruhe on similar charges and were sentenced to from eight months to three years.

Farm Price Index Goes Up One Point

AUSTIN (AP)—The mid-July index of prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers rose one point from mid-June, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported today. Higher prices were received for wheat, cotton, some commercial vegetables, potatoes, sweet potatoes and poultry products. These were nearly offset by price declines for most feed grains, meat animals, wool and cottonseed.

DO IT YOURSELF Handsome Cabinet For Your Records

By BILL BAKER
If you are a music lover, today's column is for you.
You undoubtedly have a phonograph record storage problem — you know most music fans do. You have a lot of 10-inch records, some 12-inch discs, and you are now adding the new 7-inch 45's. And when you add your collection together you end up with a dilly of a storage problem.

Plenty Of Storage

But don't worry — your problem is about to be solved. And you are going to solve it yourself by building a handsome cabinet that will hold all of your records. You'll do this easy job of building with the help of Bill Baker's Extra-Simple Pattern Number 125.
Don't be alarmed if you've never done woodworking before. Don't let the "I know I can't do it" thought cheat you out of the pleasure this cabinet will give.
When you receive your pattern you'll find that a full instruction sheet is included. Read this first.

Here's how you can get your pattern — the first step that will start you on the way toward adding this item to your home: Send your name and address (clearly printed), together with one dollar ($1) in cash, check or money order to Bill Baker, BIG SPRING HERALD, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 33, California. Remember to ask for Pattern Number 125.

It will outline the project in easy to understand language and will ready you for the step-by-step method you'll follow.
Included will be a full and complete material list, telling you exactly what you have to order. Wood suggestions are included, along with suggestions for using either metal or wooden legs.

Lots of phonograph record storage space, but best of all you'll be able to say: "I built it myself." The newest Bill Baker design is shown above with lovely Hollywood actress Allene Coates.

Exact-size paper pattern pieces are also included in the pattern, so all you'll have to do is trace, cut and assemble. And, you'll find, only the very basic tool items are needed to turn pattern into finished cabinet.
And then the finished product will be ready to add beauty to your room.
Now discover how practical it is — four wide sections for your 10-inch records, three divisions for your 12-inches, and two compartments for your 45's.
Without a doubt, the finished phonograph record cabinet will be one of your most treasured pieces of furniture. You'll love it not only for the handy advantages it will give, but also because you can proudly say: "I made it myself."
On top of the cabinet, by the way, is ample room to stand your turntable, or if your player is in a special cabinet, then you've got some additional storage space.
Now get busy and add this piece of furniture to your home.

Insect-Drought Crises Affects All Of County

All sections of Howard County are in the same boat as concerns the weather and insect situation, County Agent Durward Lewter said Saturday morning after completing a survey in all communities.

Earlier he had pointed out that insects had joined with drought to bring the crop to a crisis in the communities he had checked. Friday he and James Wren, assistant agent, looked at more than a score of fields in the Gay Hill, Clanton Flats, Morris, Vincent, Vealmoor and R-Bar areas.

The situation there was the same — plenty of hollworm eggs beginning to hatch. Lewter said that the hatch would be unusually large considering the intensity of the heat and dry weather during the past three weeks.
Many farmers will begin poisoning on Monday and Tuesday, the agent reported. However, it would take a rain to make the application universal. Too many of the fields have burned to the point that the expense of putting out poison promises no returns unless it rains.
Nevertheless, there may be a few hundred operators who fire up their tractors and poisoning equipment this week on the chance that rain will come and pull prospects out of the fire.

Hoover Near 80, Practices His Preachment On Keeping Busy

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7 (AP)—If Herbert Hoover were to write an 80th birthday recipe for long life and good health it probably would read: keep busy.

Hoover will be 80 next Tuesday but on the eve of that anniversary he's still busily pursuing his only hobby—work. He works 12 to 14 hours a day. He works while others sleep. His secretary's desk is piled each morning when she reports for duty.

He's been doing it ever since he announced 30 years ago:
"I'm taking up seriously the business of enjoying myself."

Hoover likes to fish too, and has all his life. But he considers this a philosophic interlude, not a hobby.

Tribute will be paid to the ex-President by the state of Iowa on Tuesday, when his birthday celebration will bulge the town of West Branch, where he was born in a two-room cottage Aug. 10, 1874.

The guest of honor, carrying his years lightly, leaves for Iowa tomorrow by train after his annual vacation on the West Coast. The holiday didn't interfere with work on his birthday speech, written as always in longhand and repeatedly revised.

He fished at his favorite spots along Oregon's fast-flowing McKenzie River, where Giant evergreens reach up from the banks of the water. He worked on the speech high in the seclusion of a Nob Hill hotel, then entertained old friends at the exclusive resort of Bohemian Grove on the Russian River.

He declined to discuss his views on the current world scene, but promised: "I will say all I have to say at West Branch."

Hoover devotes most of his time now to the Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization and to a score of humanitarian, educational and welfare organizations. He accepts no pay.

The ruddy complexioned ex-President makes only an occasional speech these days—"when I have something to say." He turns down hundreds of requests.

Mass X-Ray Survey To Start Thursday

The annual mass chest X-ray survey opens Thursday for seven days.

The survey is being sponsored by the Howard County Tuberculosis Association and the City-County Health Unit, with equipment and technical personnel furnished by the State Health Department.

The annual survey is conducted for the purpose of locating any "hidden" tuberculosis infections so that treatment may be started in time for a cure. All local cafe workers and other persons associated with the preparation and serving of food in public places are required to have chest X-rays annually, and they are being advised that the examinations given during the tuberculosis survey fulfill the requirement.

American Priests Released By Reds

HONG KONG (AP)—Three American Roman Catholic priests, released by the Chinese Communists as a result of the Geneva conference, reached Hong Kong tonight from Yuanling, Hunan Province.

They were the Reverends Linus Lombard of Ipswich, Mass.; Earnest Hotz of Brooklyn; and Lawrence Mullin of Jersey City.

The priests, who were confined to Yuanling but never arrested, said there is much purging of Communist officials going on now.

"New officials show up every day. The old officials disappear but the word gets around later that they have been liquidated. Six were shot at one time recently, ostensibly for an offense involving a camera," said Lombard, but "from the looks of things it was a political killing."

George Knox, Midland Weds Mary Jo Gregory

COLORADO CITY — Mary Jo Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gregory Sr. of Colorado City, became the bride of George W. Knox of Midland in a candlelit ceremony Saturday evening at 7:30 in the First Methodist Church in Colorado City.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Knox of 311 Cuthbert Street, Midland.

The Rev. Jack Ellzey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read the single ring wedding vows.

The church was decorated with summer flowers; white calladium banked the altar railing and emerald foliage was background for baskets of white gladioli. Branched candelabra entwined with ivy completed the setting. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Maid of honor was Joe Sue Wilson of Quanah wearing a floor length ice-blue gown of nylon net over tulle, strapless and with matching shoulder, stole. She wore a band of white baby mums with matching net and carried a white laceon heart with feathered white carnations and clusters of white rosebuds, entwined with blue streamers.

Bridesmaids were Topsy Robertson of Neocoma and Nina Burnett of Tyler. They wore identical dresses of shrimp nylon net, fashioned like that of the maid of honor and wore bandeaus of white baby mums. They carried shrimp colored hearts with feathered white carnations and clusters of salmon pink rosebuds and white streamers.

Candlelighters were Mrs. Clyde R. Gregory of Colorado City, the bride's sister-in-law, and Joe Hart of Snyder. They wore identical floor length gowns, fashioned like that of the maid of honor and wore bandeaus of white baby mums with matching net and wristlets of white carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white nylon tulle over satin with four panels of accordion-pleated Chantilly lace. The strapless empire bodice was covered in lace and the matching jacket had a picture neckline pleated with nylon tulle. The sleeves tapered to petal points at her wrists. Her finger tip veil was of imported French illusion attached to a coronet of pearl-trimmed net. Her pearl necklace belonged to her mother.

Her flowers were white feathered carnations, carried in a cascading bouquet and centered with white gardenias and white laceon with streamers of white satin ribbon tied in lover's knots.

John Casselman of Midland served the bridegroom as best man. Richard E. Gregory Jr., of Colorado City, brother of the bride, and Jack Cox of Humble, were groomsmen. Ushers were Clyde Gregory of Colorado City, brother of the bride, John Larsh and Royce Higgs of Midland.

Mrs. W. C. Hooks played traditional music during the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Jesse C. Garrett, soloist.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Methodist Fellowship Hall. The bride's father and mother greeted guests at the door, and members of the wedding party were in the receiving line.

The bride's table was laid with a white ruffled organza cloth over white linen, centered with a formal arrangement of blue flowers. The cloth was caught at points with blue satin bows and white gardenias. The white three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The reception room was decorated with tall floor vases of white gladioli.

Cake was served by Mrs. Ray Hodnett of Sundown and Mrs. John Hawkins of Fluvanna, aunts of the bride.

Punch was served by Mrs. Ray Messimer of Westbrook, the bride's aunt and Mrs. Louis Greville of Midland.

Mrs. Robert H. Ratliff Jr. of Colorado City presided at the bride's book.

Following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N. M. and will return Aug. 12. The bride is a graduate of Colorado High School and Sul Ross College and attended the University of Texas. She was a member of Kappa Delta Phi and was National Intercollegiate Rodeo Champion cowgirl in 1951.

Knox, a Midland rancher, is a graduate of Midland High School and of New Mexico A&M College, where he was on the rodeo judging team.

After Aug. 12, the couple will be at home on the Knox Ranch near Midland.

On Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Knox of Midland were hosts at a rehearsal dinner at the Civic House in Colorado City.

A blue and silver centerpiece set the color scheme for decorations throughout the room.

The bride and bridegroom and their parents and all members of the wedding party were present.

Don't Let Your Child Have Too Much Sun

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D. AP News Service

Sunshine and fresh air are good for youngsters, but for goodness sake don't let your children get burned to a crisp.

Not long ago, I nearly lost a year-old baby with extensive second degree burns over his back and legs.

His mother was on the verge of a nervous collapse when she realized what she had done to her baby. It was a warm June day with a deep blue cloudless sky. She put the baby in the backyard for his noonday nap.

After an hour she picked him up to discover he was limp and clammy. She could hardly arouse him, and he had absolutely no interest in the lunch she had prepared. His entire back was bright red with a few large blisters forming.

She rushed over to my office and we put him in the hospital and started treatment immediately. He pulled through, but it was nip and tuck for a time.

The sun is strongest of all the year on June 21 at noon. This is the time of the spring equinox when the rays of the sun are most vertical and therefore pass through the least amount of air in reaching the earth.

Early in the morning and late in the afternoon the sun will not burn as quickly as at noon.

Some children have thicker skins than others, some have more natural pigment. The thicker the skin, the more natural protection. The thickness of the skin increases with age. A week-old baby should not have more than half a minute exposure to direct noon sun. At a year, about three minutes would be enough. Most people—babies, children and adults—develop pigment in the skin in response to exposure to the sun.

This pigment, (sun tan, we call it) is a device of the body to protect it against dangerous doses of sunshine. It develops slowly.

A short exposure the first day can be followed by slightly longer exposure each day thereafter. After enough tan in the skin so that long exposures will cause no harm.

It is almost always the first doses of sun that do the damage, before the tan has developed.

There are some unfortunate people who never tan. Their bodies simply lack the ability to form the protective pigment in the skin.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By FRANCES WALKER Dear Jayhawkers:

The week has been an eventful one for students and instructors alike. The summer session came to a close Friday, but the office and library will remain open throughout the summer.

With the end of school came a welcome vacation for many college instructors. Coach Davis is attending a coaching school in Dallas. Mr. McAllister is also in Dallas. Mr. Vagt and his family are spending the week end in Denton and Dallas visiting relatives. Dr. Hunt spent the weekend at the Methodist Laymen's Retreat at Ceta Canyon, and he will leave for Austin tomorrow. Mr. Bryant is hoping to do some deep sea fishing while on his vacation in Louisiana. Mrs. Johnson spent a restful week-end in Pecos.

Laughter, screams, and tones of "Really? Well, she told me that—etc." echoed through the SUB Tuesday night as the Lass-O Club staged their reunion slumber party.

The new freshmen in attendance were immediately taken into the club, and everyone had a wonderful time. The newcomers were Nancy Milford, Amarillo; Lela Fletcher, Forsan; Mary Johnson, Lamesa; Texia Wood, Uteca, N. Y.; Reba Taylor, Sweetwater; Mary Beth White, Stanton and Ellouise Carroll, Neil Glover, Gay Jones, Lynette Blum, Betty Ford and Rhama Latson, Big Spring. The annual staff has had two meetings this past week and will meet again next Thursday afternoon.

Coach Davis received a card from Tommy Patterson Wednesday.

His hero...do you really deserve it?

Of course you deserve to be your son's hero. Haven't you worked extra hard to provide for his physical needs, strained your memory for facts to feed his enormous curiosity, passed on to him the timeless spiritual truths treasured from your own childhood?

Still, you wonder at times if you can ever be equal to the image you see reflected in his eyes? You wonder if you can ever build enough security to justify the unqualified faith that lights his face now.

Eight million Americans just like yourself have discovered a plan that's helping them work toward goals like this, a plan that can provide financial security for your family and education for your children. It's the Payroll Savings Plan of investment in U. S. Savings Bonds—the Bonds that now pay an average 3% annual interest for as long as 19 years and 8 months.

Here's how it works. Just tell the people in your pay office how much you want to save. They'll put that amount aside for you each payday. When enough accumulates, they'll buy and turn over to you a Series E Bond which then adds its interest to your total. This way $3.75 a week, for example, becomes $1,025 in just 5 years.

The Payroll Savings Plan works even for people who have never been able to save before. It will work for you. Why not sign up today?

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds which pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.

Choose your own savings goal

	If you want approximately
	$5,000	$10,000	$25,000
Each week for 9 years and 8 months, save.....	$8.00	$16.75	$45.00
Each week for 19 years and 8 months, save.....	$3.75	$7.50	$18.75

This chart shows only a few typical examples of savings goals and how to reach them through Payroll Savings. Remember, you can save any sum you wish, from a couple of dollars a payday up to as much as you want. The important thing is, start your Plan today!

In the small communities, in the oil camps, on the farms, they're finding in The Herald a newspaper that publishes news of interest to them. West Texas oil, West Texas farming and ranching, West Texas sports, West Texas women's activities, West Texas happenings. That's the reason more and more people on these routes and in this area are saying "Leave us The Herald."

Where Advertising Pays

This daily delivery, right to area homes, is "money in the bank" for the merchant who uses Herald advertising. No other medium, of any kind, anywhere, can reach the same people who are looking for better values, who want a good place to shop, and who turn to The Herald for their shopping guide. This is real benefit to Big Spring merchants who have a sales story to tell to the people in this area. The rural daily delivery is, of course, in addition to the 49 city route carriers who put the Herald every day, right at the door of more than 5,500 Big Spring homes.

Broncs Decisioned By Carlsbad, 7-5

CARLSBAD, Aug. 7 (AP)—They finally got some runs for Dario Jimenez, and the diminutive righthander brought to an end his string of tough breaks as the Carlsbad Potashers rallied in the seventh inning and trounced Big Spring, 7-5.

GET YOUR THURSDAY DUCAT YET? TICKET SALES REPORTED BRISK

All check points report satisfactory progress toward the objective of 2,000 ticket sales for the Civic Club Night baseball game, which will be played here Thursday Between Big Spring and Artesia.

The campaign is being ramrodded by four local service organizations — the Kiwanis, Lions, American Business Club and Rotary in recognition of Manager Club Owner Pepper Martin's fine work in keeping professional baseball in Big Spring.

Grigger At Work

Wiley Wise, promising Big Spring High School football lineman, is shown here on the business end of a wheel-barrow. He's helping build a house. Since the job calls for a lot of hard work, Wiley probably won't have too much trouble attaining top condition once the Steers start working out on Aug. 27.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Do you doubt that it's better to play winning baseball in April and May than it is in July and August? ... During the month of July, the Big Spring Broncs performed at a warm if not torrid .594 clip, yet made no appreciable headway in the Longhorn League race ... Only one team did better ... That was Artesia, which won 23 games in 33 starts during the month for a .697 record ... Roswell won only 14 of 31 games ... Big Spring copped 19 games against 13 losses, a record equalled by Carlsbad ... Midland won 18 while dropping 15 ... Odessa's record was 13-20 ... San Angelo played .500 ball, winning 16 of 32 starts ... Sweetwater won only seven decisions, against 25 losses, during July ... Washington's Senators are probably enjoying a laugh at the expense of the Chicago White Sox, now that Mike Fornieles (the Big Spring ex) has been shipped to the minors ... They gave up Mike in a swap for Chuck Stobbs ... However, Mike is only 22 years of age, has plenty of time to come back ... Stobbs is 25 ... The deal Manager Pepper Martin of Big Spring made recently for Julio Delatorre was one of the toughest decisions he ever had to make in baseball ... Timing is important in dealing for players as well as in hitting ... If Martin had waited until after the end of the season, it is doubtful that he could have gotten over $250 for Julio, despite his great record, because Delatorre is a veteran and none too agile at third base ... This is important, too: Delatorre wanted the deal to be consummated, for he felt it offered the best arrangement for him in the long run ... Amarillo first refused to go as high as $1,000 for him but Pepper wouldn't even discuss the matter until the Sox upped the ante to $1,500 ... The cash Martin received will enable him to erase some of his deficit and start making plans for 1955.

Do Bucks Have Boy Better Than Dendy?

When Floyd Martin delivered that eighth inning home run which pulled Big Spring ahead of Odessa here last Sunday and returned to the Broncs dugout, Manager Pepper Martin told him "That is the longest punt I ever saw". Pepper had sent him to the plate with instructions to "Lay one down". The previous night, when Pepper himself hit a ninth inning homer that broke up the game between Big Spring and Odessa, the Oiler players froze on the diamond as if they hadn't believed what they saw ... As Pepper passed Second Sacker Jimmy Dan Pace, he woke him up by saying: "You can go home now, it's all over". The reply Pace made wasn't printable ... Huck Doe, the Big Spring catcher, called the shot on Don Newcombe, the Brooklyn pitcher whose star has gone into eclipse ... Doe, after putting in here, commented that Don has ballooned up after going into the service and didn't look nearly as sharp as he had for the Broncs ... The two played together at San Antonio ... Hugh Alexander, the Chicago White Sox scout who has been following the Broncs, says Ossie Alvarez, the former Big Spring pitcher now performing for Roswell, is already better "than half the short stops in the Texas League" ... Hillis Layne, the manager of the San Angelo Colts, says much of Roswell's attendance troubles at home can be blamed on the fact that "which isn't very interesting to watch" ... Reports from down Breckenridge way say the grid Buckies have a couple of boys who are going to make the fans forget all about Bill Dendy ... Those are big shoes he left ... Big Spring is about the only team he didn't score on his last two years in school.

Pancho Perez Playing Ball In Mexico

A West Texas wrestling war may be shaping up ... Long the Iron Duke of area grappling circles, Dory Detton of Amarillo may have his rule challenged by other parties not sympathetic with his methods ... Denver of the Western League, which led all minor baseball years ago, expects to play to between 250,000 and 250,000 paid admissions this year ... John Singleton is a baseballer who has made the rounds this season ... With Carlsbad earlier this year, the veteran pitcher went first to Abilene, then to Temple and now has been shipped to Baton Rouge ... Pancho Perez, the good-looking Cuban who won 21 mound decisions for Big Spring as a rookie in 1948, is now playing with the Monterey Sultans in the Mexican League ... One of his teammates is the ancient Alex Carasquel, who used to manage Sweetwater ... Pat Lorenzo, never a shy guy as a hitter but who lost his job as an outfielder here because he couldn't field, is now on the picket line for the Montgomery club in the Class A South Atlantic League ... The Longhorn League may have a little trouble getting players to appear in its 1955 all-star game ... Those chosen this year will receive plaques when they wanted jackets ... Life Magazine has sent through a request for a picture of Big Spring's Pepper Martin, which it plans to run in an early edition of its new sports magazine, "Sports Illustrated," under its "Pat On the Back" department ... Speedy Moffett, the former Snyder High School coach, says Sweetwater, Breckenridge and Plainview should emerge as the top teams in District 1-AAA football this fall ... "Don't underestimate Big Spring, however," Moffett cautions.

Giants Downed By Milwaukee

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—A fluke single by Johnny Logan scored what was the winning run after homers by Bill Bruton and Ed Matthews, and Chet Nichols came through with some rally-killing ninth-inning relief pitching as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the league-leading New York Giants today, 4-3.

It was the second straight victory in as many days for the Braves over the Giants, who managed to maintain their four-game lead over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost their game with Cincinnati today, 5-4. The triumph boosted the third-place Braves to within 8 1/2 games of the leaders and to within 4 1/2 of the Dodgers.

Pale Hose Lose To Washington

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Washington rallied for two runs in the ninth inning today to defeat the White Sox, 4-3, and end the Chicagoans' winning streak at eight.

The Sox, who scored all their runs off Maury McDermott in the fourth, went into the final inning with a one-run lead but relief pitcher Morrie Martin couldn't hold it. With one out, Pete Runnels singled and Jim Busby walked. Roy Sievers singled to left scoring Runnels with the tying run and sending Busby to third. Sievers taking second when the throw to the plate got away from Matt Batts for an error.

Harry Dorish replaced Martin and gave an intentional pass to Clyde Vollmer, but pinch batter Tom Wright produced a sacrifice fly to center that permitted Busby to sprint home. McDermott then held the Sox through the home half to end a personal losing streak of seven games.

IPA Counsel Unworried By Iranian Oil

By CHARLES HASLET
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Return of Iranian oil to the world market will have little, if any, immediate impact on the domestic petroleum industry, in the opinion of industry and government representatives.

It is their view that settlement of the bitter dispute over Iran's rich oil fields, announced Thursday, doesn't mean that any Iranian oil will start coming into the United States.

For three years the fields have been virtually shut down as a result of Iran's nationalization of Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. properties. Under terms of the settlement, which still must be ratified by the Iranian Parliament, eight international companies have agreed to produce, refine and market Iranian oil. Five of the companies are American—Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, The Texas Co., Gulf Oil Co. and Socony-Vacuum.

"I don't believe they will bring any Iranian oil here," said Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America. "They already know the domestic oil situation. The effect would be so obviously destructive. I can't believe they would think of bringing it in here where the front door already is blocked with debris of what is happening to us already—the million barrels of (oil) imports daily we now are getting."

Hugh A. Stewart, head of the Interior Department's oil and gas division, expressed a similar view, saying he believed increasing demands in the Eastern Hemisphere would absorb the Iranian production.

Brown said that a year ago he would have been alarmed over the possible impact but because of increasing world demand, he now believes there will be no appreciable effect in this country.

He added that resumption of output from Iran would come slowly. But Brown still feels that oil imports to this country should be reduced another 200,000 barrels daily.

Stewart said much production in the Middle East has been pushed to the limit to meet demands and some fields have been "overproduced." Iranian oil, therefore, would help meet the increasing requirements of Eastern Hemisphere countries, he said. The demand in Europe, he added, has not merely increased, it has "sky-rocketed."

Stewart sees no effect on U.S. exports of oil, saying they already are small.

He expressed the opinion that oil imports to this country would average out the year slightly under last year's rate and that there is little indication now they will increase much, if any, next year.

In a statement released here, The Texas Co. said that as one of the companies participating in the negotiations with Iran, it felt return of Iranian oil to world markets in an orderly manner would be of great benefit to Iran and to the other oil producing countries in the Middle East as well as to the United States and the free world.

Can This Be West Texas?

Pumper Ray Stroder has a situation which adds up to a "believe it or not" for West Texas. He must use a boat in pumping five wells on a lease 25 miles north of here. Here he pulls away from the shore headed for one of the well mounds on the Shell Sterling lease in Lake J. B. Thomas. (Photo courtesy Shell Oil.)

NO LAND LUBBER

This Oil Well Pumper Rides To His Work In A Motor Boat

Here's a West Texas oil well pumper who rides to work in a boat.

He is Ray Stroder, pumper for Shell Oil Company in this area since 1936 and who now has the Sterling lease in Lake J. B. Thomas in his territory.

Colorado River and furnish fresh water to the cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder.

The article goes on to detail how the Colorado River Municipal Water District, anticipating the fill-up of the lake, had worked with oil companies by constructing mounds from which wells in the lake basin would be serviced.

"Until the basin floor was covered with water this spring, Ray Stroder and other workers could get to their wells by car or truck, driving up a ramp at one side of the mound to the well head. Today with the lake nearly full, most of the mounds are completely surrounded by water and servicing work must be by boat. When the water level reaches its maximum height—perhaps next year—only a few feet of each mound will protrude above the surface of the lake."

Core Due On Nearby Test

Operators were due to take a core today on the Callahan No. 1-A Creighton, north stepout in the northeast outpost area to the Moore pool.

Saturday morning the venture was drilling ahead below 2,700 feet with prospects of nearing the possible pay area within the next 300 feet. Location is 330 from the north and 1,215 from the east lines of the lease in section 28-33-in. T&P.

Approximately half a mile to the south and west, Woodson No. 1 Creighton, 330 from the south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 30-33-in. T&P, had set pipe at 2,975 and was due to run tests early in this week.

Still southwest by three-quarters of a mile the Callahan No. 1 Creighton, which made 83 barrels of new oil after sandfracing, was installing pump. Production tests on this venture, near U. S. 80 just northwest of Webb AFB, were due early in the week. Operator shut in the well Friday after storage was filled. This venture is about a mile and a half northeast of nearest production in the Moore pool.

Queen's Sand Discovery In North Andrews Completed

Humble Oil and Refining Company's No. 1-34 J. S. Means has been completed as a flowing discovery from the Queen's Sand in North Andrews County.

Location of the new producer is on the northwest side of the Means field, which produces from the San Andres.

Operator reported a daily potential of 380 barrels of oil. The test was taken through a half inch choke, and there was no water. Tubing pressure is 150 pounds, and gas-oil ratio is 497-1. Gravity of oil is 32.4 degrees.

The new well was originally drilled to 4,545 feet in 1932 and re-entered in 1933.

This year, operator drilled out to 4,100 feet and perforated casing from 4,024-36 and 4,044-66.

After operator washed the perforations with 500 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 3,000 gallons of sand oil, the well flowed.

There are more than 200 producing wells in the Means field which produces from the San Andres. Many of them tested in the Queen's Sand and indicated her commercial production. However, Humble No. 1-34 Means is the first actual producer from that formation.

Location is 1,981.54 from south and 1,968.28 from east lines, 2-A35-P survey. It is about seven miles north of Andrews.

DEMAND ROCKETS

West Coast Steps Up Search For Greater Supply Sources

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7 (AP)—There's a new look in the California petroleum picture. It includes pipelines from Rocky Mountain oil fields to the Pacific Northwest, explorations off the California coast far below the ocean floor, and searches for new oil sources in South America.

These measures, adopted by California oil companies only in the last few years, were fashioned from necessity and are likely to stay in vogue for many years.

The reason: The West's giant growth in population and industry has outstripped California's ability to supply the region's entire crude oil needs.

California fields traditionally have served Alaska, British Columbia, California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona, but the picture changed drastically in postwar years.

While daily oil production in California rose from 650,000 barrels in 1933 to 1,001,000 in 1949 and 1,999,000 in May, 1954, petroleum production consumption, or demand, in the five western states jumped from 467,000-barrels a day in 1933 to 780,000 in 1948 and 916,000 last May.

Not only has the demand increased and production decreased, but reserves are declining at a discouraging rate.

The publication, World Oil, reported that California had 3,829, 000,000 barrels in reserves last Jan. 1, compared with 3,945,000,000 four years ago.

California automobile registrations totaled 4,412,802 last year, making the state top in the nation. Gasoline consumption also exceeds all other states. Los Angeles County alone burns up more gasoline than any of 39 states in the union.

With dwindling reserves and spiraling demand, California's oil firms have searched for new oil sources at home and from Canada to Peru.

Standard of California now brings crude from Rangely, Colo., 154 miles to Salt Lake City where it is refined, then pumps 32,000 barrels a day to Spokane via Boise, Ida., and Pasco, Wash.

A new 540-mile Yellowstone line will deliver to Spokane 12,000 barrels a day, mined in Montana and the Williston Basin and refined at Billings.

And a 40,000-barrel daily crude supply which used to go from California to Canada has been halted with the construction of the new trans-mountain line from Alberta to Vancouver.

General Petroleum will start processing Canadian or Venezuelan oil at its new 25,000-barrel refinery at Ferndale, Wash., in December. Shell Oil will begin using its 50,000-barrel capacity refinery at Sumas, Wash., next year, also to process Canadian oil.

Union Oil of California is hunting new oil sources in the Gulf Coast, has holdings in Wyoming, is testing in the Williston Basin and Alberta, and drilled the first time in Peru's Secura Desert last winter.

Richfield and Cities Service have interests in more than two million acres in the upper Amazon Basin and Secura Desert. Richfield also has interests in Canada amounting to 600,000 acres, another 500,000 in Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and Montana, and is surveying the Middle East oil region.

Standard of California has brought into California crude oil from Sumatra and Arabia. Shell, California Standard, Signal Oil and Gas, Gulf Oil and others have bought acreage in Nevada and are in varying stages of development.

And while enabling legislation has not been enacted providing for drilling in California's tidelands, there is renewed activity in surveying offshore fields.

California firms have spent millions of dollars in secondary processing equipment to obtain greater use of California crude. General Petroleum, for example, claims the world's biggest coker, built eight years ago. It also has four catalytic crackers, a catalytic reformer and other equipment—all at its Torrance, Calif., refinery.

Meanwhile population and industry in the West continue to increase by leaps and bounds.

Two New Producers Loom For Moore Area, Third Near Pay

Preparations were being made this weekend to complete two Moore field ventures, and operator of a third was expecting to hit pay momentarily.

Duncan No. 2 Homan and J. B. Tubb No. 3 Wilcox are the two projects due to complete. Cecil Guthrie No. 4-A Hewitt is the venture nearing pay.

The No. 3 Wilcox had good shows on the core, and oil string was set at 3,172 feet. Operator is moving in a completion unit while waiting on cement to dry. Location is 501 from south and 207 from west lines, 29-33-1s, T&P survey.

The No. 2 Homan set pipe at 3,109 feet and took a 43-foot core which looks about like other cores in the area—indicating for production. Location is 1,909 from south and 847 from east lines, 6-33-1s, T&P survey.

Guthrie No. 4-A Hewitt drilled to 3,135 feet, with pay expected at any time. Drillsite is 330 from south and west lines, east half, northwest quarter 30-33-1s, T&P survey.

Duncan No. 2-A Wilkinson, 330 from south and 990 from west lines, 24-34-1n, T&P survey, set surface casing and is now drilling at 900 feet.

Guthrie No. 2-B Hewitt will move on location Monday. Cellar and pits have been dug (A. K. Turner will drill the well). This location is 3,634 from south and 1,654 from east lines, 25-34-1s, T&P survey.

Guthrie No. 3-A Thorp, 330 from south and 1,661 from east lines, 24-34-1s, T&P survey, set surface casing at 120 feet and started drilling plug Saturday morning. Last reported depth was 350 feet.

Turner No. 1 Cauble, 330 from north and east lines, 32-33-1s, T&P survey, has been plugged and abandoned at 3,275 feet. There were good shows of oil, but it was impossible to shut off the water. Similar trouble developed in other tests on that corner of the Moore pool.

Shatto No. 2 Guitar, two-mile north offset to the Moore area, was temporarily abandoned at 3,250 feet. There were good shows on core, but the section lacked porosity. Location is 330 from north and west lines, southwest quarter, 8-A—Bauer and Cockrell survey.

Luther South Test Has Oil

It was unofficially reported this weekend that Wilshire and Goldston No. 1-C Charlie Lawrence, south edge to the Luther Southeast field, unrolled 600 feet of free oil on a drillstem test.

According to some sources, operator started a core at 9,817 and picked up the top of the Siluro-Devonian in two feet. In all 22 feet of section established in coring. The interval of test was unreported but was possibly as far as 9,850. Gas surfaced in six minutes and when the tool was pulled 580 to 600 feet of free oil were recovered. Pipe is being run. Location is C NW SW 23-32-2n, T&P, a mile southwest of Luther. This prospect is half a mile east of the Lone Star No. 1 Merworth, a producer, and half a mile north of the Lone Star No. 1 Morton, also a producer.

Two Projects Are Slated In Dawson's Welch Pool

Two new projects were spotted in Dawson County this week end—both in the Welch field.

Western Drilling Company staked the two new ventures, their Nos. 1 and 2 Helen Roberts. They are about three miles west of Welch.

The No. 1 Roberts is 660 from south and west lines, northeast quarter, 86-M-EL&RR survey. The No. 2 is 660 from south and east lines of the northeast quarter. They are both on an 80-acre lease.

Seaboard No. 1 Vaughn, indicated discovery in East Dawson, was shut in this weekend prior to completion test. Acidizing operations are due today. This project is C NW NE, 39-34-5n, T&P survey, about 1 1/4 miles east of Midway.

Seaboard No. 2 Woodul, C SE SW, 34-34-5n, T&P survey, spudded to 400 feet, and operator is now waiting on cement for 10 1/4 inch surface casing set at 393.

Royal Finals Well In South Sector

Royal Oil and Gas Corporation No. 22 Dora Roberts, a Howard-Glasscock well, was completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 30.16 barrels of oil. There was no water.

Gas-oil ratio was too small to measure, and the completion was natural. Perforations are between 1,376 and 1,396 feet. The pay top is 1,376, the 5 1/2-inch casing is bottomed at 1,417, and total depth is 1,417.

Location is 990 from north and east lines, 126-29-W&NW survey.

Edger To Oceanic Field Bores Ahead

Cosden No. 4 Jackson, east edge to the Oceanic field, was reportedly making hole Saturday below 3,500 feet. Located about a half mile southeast of Vealmoor, the No. 4 Jackson has drillsite of C SE NW, 30-32-3n, T&P survey.

Wildcat Is Staked

Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 1-B Sol Mayer has been spotted in Schleicher County as a wildcat prospect. It will test the Ellengruber.

Location is about 16 miles southwest of Eldorado, and drill site is 1,980 from west and 960 from north lines, 1-A-GCSF survey. Projected drilling depth is 9,500 feet.

Meet The 'Seniors' Of The COSDEN FAMILY

This is the first in a new series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the company 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

EARL J. SMITH

Earl J. Smith, a 26-year Cosden employe, has lasted longer with Cosden than did the lease on which he started as pumper. It was April 21, 1928, that he was first employed by the company, to work on the Wagner E lease. When that was sold, he was transferred to the Wagner B lease, as pumper and gauger. He became farm boss in 1940, remained as such until this lease was sold. In 1950 Smith was transferred to the Reinecke lease in Borden County as pumper and gauger, the position he now holds. Vincent is his mailing address.

Before joining Cosden, Smith worked for different drilling rigs in Burkburnett, Electra and Earlsboro, Okla.

Native of Gorman, Smith was married to Miss Jessie Thelma Pierce at Electra January 7, 1924. They have two children, Odis M. Smith and Mrs. Doris Jean Clifton. The Smiths are members of the Pentecostal Church. Smith lists hunting and fishing as his principal hobbies.

Riding THE GRUB LINE
With Franklin Reynolds

In its 100 years of history, Coryell County has never had but one legal hanging, and Mr. Cal Pruet of Garden City, then a good sized boy at Gateville, remembers the occasion quite well.

People gathered in from all over that country, Mr. Pruet recalls, to witness the event, which was held in the yard of the jail, a spot that is now the heart of Gateville's business district. The affair was open to the public, backed in the days when people believed in setting good examples for others who might be inclined to stray off the path of propriety.

The sheriff who conducted the hanging was one J. W. Hammack, a son of W. W. "Pop" Hammack, who had moved to Coryell County in 1853 and who had served as sheriff here in 1860 and again in 1865.

This hanging that Mr. Pruet witnessed was held on Sept. 29, 1881, almost 63 years ago, but it made an impression on the Garden City man that he has never forgotten.

It all started on Dec. 17, 1880, when a group of farmers from Union Valley Community, near Pickett, loaded their year's cotton crop on their wagons and hauled it to the Gateville market. They had been holding the crop since the September harvest to get a better price.

The three farmers were J. T. Mathis, W. H. H. Harvey and W. K. Bates.

Mr. Pruet says that by mid-afternoon these men had finished their business in town and had started on the return trip to their homes, a little more than 10 miles southwest of Gateville on what was known as the Lampassas road.

By dusk the party had covered nearly 10 miles and was nearing a creek called Riley's Branch.

Mathis was driving mules and Harvey was driving oxen.

Along about this creek, the two outlaws, Jim Leeper, about 20 years old and a Texan, and Ed Powell, about 21, and a native of Tennessee, undertook to hold up the farmers.

They shot both Mathis and Harvey. The former died in his home about 36 hours later, while Harvey managed to live and make the state's best witness when the cases came to trial.

The crime was investigated, Mr. Pruet remembers, by J. M. Latham, who was sheriff at the time. Latham and his deputies arrested Leeper and Powell and put them in jail.

The accused men were identified as having been out on that road that afternoon by several witnesses, and they were also identified as the men who did the shooting. Other proof was introduced showing that they knew the farmers were carrying large sums of money when they saw Bates pull out a large roll of bills to pay for a jug of whiskey in the saloon where Leeper and Powell had spent most of the day.

The court may have said something about the hanging taking place in a spot as private as possible, because Mr. Pruet has a copy of the return Sheriff Hammack made on the death warrant, and in this return the sheriff has noted that the within death warrant was duly executed:

"At a place as private as I could conveniently find, to-wit: In the jailyard near the jail... I did not execute said warrant within the walls of the county jail because the jail is not so constructed that a gallows could have been erected there. After the said execution, I caused the bodies of Jim Leeper and Ed Powell to be delivered to their friends."

Five good citizens were offered to sit on the gallows platform as official witnesses of the fact that the mandate of the warrant was carried out.

No doubt Sheriff Hammack was a fine man, but he was also a public official probably with another term in mind. He couldn't afford to deprive too many of the voters of the spectacle so many of them had traveled so many miles to see. Likely he found it "convenient" to find the jailyard "convenient" for the hanging.

And apparently neither did the District Court overlook "the convenience" of the public in the matter since the warrant directed that the execution take place, again according to the return on it, "after 11 o'clock and before sunset."

One of that "two minutes after midnight in private" stuff for those stalwart old-timers who brought a weight of law and order to Texas that their descendants and the others who have come in since haven't been able to preserve.

The families of Leeper and Powell, who went to their deaths with denials of their guilt, hired three of the best lawyers in Texas to present the defense. The convictions were appealed all the way to the Supreme Court of the United States, but all the way up and down the line the verdict of the jury was upheld. There wasn't any foolishness about it.

However, there must have been some people around Gateville who had some doubt about these men being guilty. Mr. Pruet says a man can still raise an occasional argument about that way about whether or not Leeper and Powell were the pair who killed Mathis and shot Harvey.

'Burger, With 'Everything,' Still The Solid Favorite

By JOE PICKLE

In the good old days you may remember when you were really livin' if you had a hamburger and a bottle of country red soda pop. If so, you'll be pleased to know that the hamburger is still the solid favorite it was then—only more so. It is so far out in front as a piece de resistance for the multitudes that there's no use figuring a second choice.

Every day in Big Spring something like 9,000 to 10,000 of the succulent sandwiches come off the griddle and move across the counter. The number of places making hamburgers is almost equal to the total number of eating places. There are at least two dozen establishments which major in the production of this popular item. Sales at single establishments will run 500 or better per day with the output still higher on certain days.

These figures are estimates based on information from suppliers of meat and buns, and from the operators themselves. Yet from any angle you check it, the answer is pretty much the same.

A generous portion of the trade wants "everything" on the hamburger. This means a liberal helping of pickles and onions, salt and pepper, a slap or two of mustard, a slice or so of tomato, topped by chopped lettuce. This is a fair meal within itself, when consumed with a bottle of pop or cup of coffee. Some places guild the lily with French fries on the side, and a few even toss potato chips and a couple of green olives for deluxe embellishment.

A number of reasons contribute to the hamburger's popularity. The ingredients cited above are proof of a balanced, vest-pocket meal. Another is that the hamburger, in the hands of an artist, is a delicious morsel. It is quickly prepared and is served warm or is easily sacked "to go." Many a harassed housewife, stumped for meal or wanting to avoid a hot kitchen, has called her husband to "pick up some hamburgers on the way home."

Added to all these is the comforting knowledge that the humble hamburger is the bargain food buy. Standard price for the larger variety is 25 cents. Some of the super-sized ones—in the 5-in. and 6-in. dimensions—move at slightly higher prices.

Dean of hamburger-makers in these parts is probably Birt Stevens, who has been fashioning 'burgers for more than 30 years. He's made far over a million of them, likely a couple of million in the time. Birt started out in 1922 when he built a lunch wagon on Main Street, just north of the Record Shop.

Later, when the building and fire codes banned temporary structures downtown, he replaced it with a stucco building and kept right on turning out hamburgers. Over the years he's taken a few brief hitchhikes at other things and has changed locations but most of that time Stevens has been rolling balls of meat on a marble slab and whamming them expertly with a heavy spatula into exactly the right size for a hamburger patty. Some latter day artisans have resorted to the hamburger press, but not old timers like Birt.

During the war years he had a standing order for 1,000 buns a day and on Saturday he drew 1,200. On Saturdays during cotton picking season he could have sold more but just couldn't make them. His daily run included great numbers for men on troop trains. Back in the old days he always fed the Farmers Union when it had its meeting. On a single night he would supply 400.

Many of the veteran hamburger cooks insist on custom made grills. They generally specify holler plate, machined to a fine surface, and with a rim spot welded to the top. Each night after the day's work, the griddle is cleaned and worked over briskly with a griddle rock, a sort of carborundum stone. The

Ike Planning Visit To His Boyhood Home

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower is considering a visit to his boyhood home in Abilene, Kan., but probably in the fall.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the statement in commenting on a report that the President, on the same trip, would make a major address around or on his birthday, Oct. 14, in Kansas City, Mo. Hagerty said he had no information about the speech.

Air Force To Make Tests Of 'Space Ship'

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Air Force said today it has acquired its first imitation space ship—a nonflying sealed cabin for the study of human factors in passage through outer space.

The cabin, which looks more like a house furnace than a scientific device, has been delivered to the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at San Antonio, Tex.

It is designed to give researchers at the Randolph Field institution most of the sensations they would experience on a flight of several hours or days in space.

Actually it is related to the low-pressure chambers in which Air Force specialists for some years have studied human reactions to the thin air in the stratosphere and beyond it.

But low-pressure or "altitude" chambers reproduce conditions in the air outside the craft. They tell the physiologist what happens when things go wrong and a pressurized plane loses its pressure.

The sealed cabin is designed to show what goes on inside the space ship, where a careful balance of atmospheric conditions must be artificially maintained.

Above 80,000 feet there is so little air that conventional pressurized cabins cannot be used—because present-day compressors cannot pump in enough air to prevent altitude sickness.

Furthermore, the air above 80,000 feet contains dangerous amounts of ozone, a gas harmful in high concentrations. Several test pilots in experimental rocket aircraft—William Bridgeman, Marine Lt. Col. Marion E. Carl, Air Force Maj. Charles E. Yeager—already have flown for brief intervals in this aeromedical twilight area.

HCJC Operation For Year Is $30,000 Above Estimate

The state, county and general funds, for Howard County Junior College were running more than $30,000 above the budget estimates for both receipts and disbursements by July 31, monthly financial statement of the institution shows.

Revenues totaling $202,907 for the first 11 months of the fiscal year were $31,503 above the budget estimate. Expenditures amounting to $172,404 were $30,282 over the estimate.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president, explained to trustees Thursday that higher full-time enrollment than expected during the past school year accounted for the difference.

The figures for the 11-month period were included in the monthly financial statement prepared for the board by Earl Bryant, business manager.

For the month of July, the statement showed general fund receipts amounting to $64,800. Disbursements amounted to $12,919.41. Aside from regular expenses, teacher and administrative salaries, the expenditures included $4,636.50 for furniture and other equipment and $1,822.44 for improvements to grounds.

The general fund had a cash balance of $9,380.95 at the end of the month.

Receipts for the interest and sinking fund amounted to $73.90 for the month. There were no disbursements. For the year thus far, interest and sinking revenues totaled $28,833.35 which expenditures have amounted to $28,538. The fund wound up July with a $10,106.54 balance.

BIRT STEVENS

day's fare of meat is kept from sticking by liberal doses of vegetable oil.

Perhaps in a majority of cases some binder is used to hold the meat together. There's no set rule on this, for cracker crumbs, day-old bread, bread crust and even potatoes are used. In isolated cases some operators use this as padding rather than binder. A few places ignore the binder and use 100 per cent meat, as much as a quarter of a pound per 'burger. By and large, the average is 2 1/2 ounces of meat.

Five major outlets for ground meat pump approximately 1,500 pounds per day of ground meat into the hamburger trade. At least a third more goes into market channels for home consumption. Those supplying the bulk of hamburger buns put out approximately 12,000 per day on the local market. Of course, some of these are used for other sandwiches or for other purposes. Upward of three-fourths of the volume is marked for the commercial hamburger clientele.

This is not the end of the hamburger story, for the other buns are absorbed at the rate of a thousand or two a day for home skillets or backyard grills. The honorable hamburger is a prime favorite any way you take it.

Six Pleas Heard In County Court

Pleas were heard in six criminal cases in County Court Saturday morning.

Four of the cases involved charges of driving while intoxicated and the other two concerned charges of aggravated assault.

Edgar Aloma Lawhon, Viola Vera Beaver, R. O. Edminston and Jeff Henry Dowell pleaded guilty to DWI charges. Edminston was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in the county jail. County Attorney Harvey Hooser said his car was involved in an accident.

Dowell and Lawhon were fined $75 each. Miss Beaver was assessed a fine of $50.

Pleading guilty to charges of aggravated assault was Robert Jones. He was fined $150. Costs of court also were assessed against the defendants.

Juan Lares entered a plea of not guilty to aggravated assault charges. Judge R. H. Weaver set his bond at $500.

Jones was charged with assaulting Leslie Mae Wesley. Charges against Lares resulted from an altercation at Cosboma approximately a month ago. The defendant pleaded guilty to another charge of assault, growing out of the same incident, on July 11 and was fined $75 and received a 30-day jail sentence.

Washington, North Ward Additions Nearly Finished

It's going to be a nip-and-tuck race with the calendar to get additional classrooms ready for opening of schools here.

Most likely to make the deadline, assuming that schools open at the end of this month, is the six-room wing at Washington Place. That project is getting into the short rows. Virtually all brick work is finished, with the roof in place and the plumbing and electric work roughed in.

Brick work is practically complete on the North Ward six-room addition, but other details of the project are not so far advanced there as at Washington Place.

Considerably off the pace of these two additions is the new Airport School. Toward the end of the week lumber for heavy ceiling beams had not been sighted. Indications are that it may be many weeks after start of school before this new plant may be occupied.

The Lakeview school in northwest Big Spring, which will include high school and gymnasium facilities, is beginning to come out of the ground. The floor slab has been poured and some brick work is due to get under way here this week. Completion on this project necessarily is several months away.

The three can well smile, too, as the new Country Club pool is a most attractive and popular place for beating the heat.

She is the daughter of M-Sgt. and Mrs. George E. Norris of 1513-A Wood. They just arrived in Big Spring in April from a tour of duty in England.

OOPS, A DIRECT HIT! There's no cooler way to work off excess energy (if you are lucky enough to have some these days) than a good ol' hose fight. David (with spray in upper right photo) and Michael, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bennett, 1104 Johnson, heartily approve of this mode of combat, when the temperature is soaring over 100 degrees.

Bates-Reinhardt Vows Read At First Baptist

In an informal ceremony Saturday at 5 p.m. in the parlor of the First Baptist Church, Billie Bates became the bride of Alvin C. Reinhardt of Levelland and LaSalle, Mich.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bates of Big Spring. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reinhardt of LaSalle.

Dr. F. D. O'Brien read the double ring ceremony before a basket of pink and white gladioli and an arch of candles framed by side-palms.

Frances Murray of San Saba, pianist, played the wedding music.

Wearing a white linen sheath with waltz-length, full net overskirt, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The neckline of her dress was designed with scoop neckline and her shoulder-length veil was attached to a bandeau of white flowers. She carried an orchid arranged on a white satin Bible.

The maid of honor was Mary Hannaford of Roby, cousin of the bride. Her dress was of petal pink tulle with full net overskirt of waltz length. Her bouquet was of pink vanda orchids.

The bridegroom's best man was B. F. Humphries of Levelland. Ushers were Don E. Hoover of Big Spring and Leon Clark of Midland.

Mildred Hannaford of Roby lighted the candles. A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth and crystal appointments were used.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Don Hoover, Mrs. Leon Clark of Midland, Allene Finley of Levelland, Mrs. Ray Dunlap, who was in charge of the register, Mrs. James W. Johnson and Mrs. S. M. Winham.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hannaford of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hannaford of Clyde and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Hannaford of Roby.

For a wedding trip to Mexico City, the bride traveled in a charcoal cotton tweed dress styled with empire waistline and full skirt. Her accessories were black velvet and her corsage was an orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Hardin Simmons University. She has been a teacher in the Levelland Public Schools for the past three years.

Mr. Reinhardt is a graduate of Monroe, Mich., High School and Michigan State College where he was a member of Sigma Gamma Epsilon fraternity. He served with U. S. Naval Air Force from 1944-1946. He is a geophysicist for the Texas Company.

The couple will make their home in Lovington, N. M.

NCO Wives Make Plans For Social

A social for Aug. 16 at the NCO Club was planned by members of the NCO Wives' Club at a recent meeting. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Five new members present were Mrs. James Neal, Mrs. Andrew Iglinski, Mrs. Richard Nozher, Mrs. Leon Karen and Mrs. William Cech. Others present totaled 15.

It was announced that the base nursery is closed temporarily and when it is reopened the 25-cent family rate will be in effect.

Under a new policy of serving coffee and cake to patients in the Webb Air Force Base Hospital each week, it was announced that Mrs. Curtis Chaffin, Mrs. Francis Mount and Mrs. Kenneth Embry had served since Aug. 4.

Guests at the meeting were M-Sgt. and Mrs. Clarence Ruggs.

Guy Eiland, Stanton, Weds Arkansas Girl

Shirley Jean Burks and Guy Merwyn Eiland, were united in marriage Saturday at 5 p.m. in First Baptist Church of Pine Bluff, Ark. with Dr. Wilson Benton Tatum reading the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lee Burks of Pine Bluff, Ark., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Eiland of Stanton.

A pink and white theme was used in the decorations of the altar where lighted pink tapers were placed against the background of greenery. On each side of the altar were large baskets of shell pink mums.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Joe Walters, organist, and Joe Walters, soloist.

Candlelighters were Sadler Bridges and Ray Simpson of Stanton.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a floor-length gown of blush nylon tulle over satin. The very full skirt of her gown, which fell into a chapel length train, was gathered onto the basque bodice and scattered about the blouse and skirt were Alencon lace appliques with schiffli embroidery. The bustline of the dress was draped with handing of the appliques joining the full-length lace sleeves at the shoulder. Her small half headpiece with fingertip veil of illusion, was made of the identical blush tulle and lace, with tiny seed pearls outlining the lace. She carried a blush pink orchid surrounded with shell pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Wilbur Reed Noel, of Kalamazoo, Mich., matron of honor, wore a ballerina length dress of shell pink satin. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of deep pink Fuji mums, and pothos leaves tied with American Beauty ribbon. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Lindley and Martha Lynn Ruggs. Junior maid was Cynthia Simms, and flower girl was Georgiana Snider, cousin of the bridegroom. All attendants wore dresses identical to that of the matron of honor and carried bouquets of Fuji mums.

Guy E. Eiland served his son as best man. Groomsman were Paige Eiland, brother of the groom, and Murray Johnson of Austin. Ushers were Nick Overby, of Bartlett, and Jack Walker of Pine Bluff.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the parlors of the church. The bride's table was laid with a floor-length cloth of pink organdy with swags of American Beauty tulle caught at the center with a large arrangement of pink mums, pink and red roses. Silver candelabra tied with malline and bella, held the lighted pink candles. The bride's bouquet and tapers, centered the small table where the bride's book was kept by Dorothy Tatum and Mrs. Donald Geis, of Texarkana, Texas.

Serving at the reception were Polly Sanders, Martha Sue Melineaux, Mrs. James McFall and Beverly Simpson. Mrs. Charles Price of Tyler and Elaine Hazelwood of Stanton, passed the rice bags.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Eiland, left for a motor trip through Colorado, and after September 15th, will be at home in Waco, where both will re-enter Baylor University for their senior year. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece tweed linen suit of white and navy. Her small cloche hat was of navy polished velour, and her other accessories were in navy. A pale pink orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clements of Franklin, Mrs. Crate Snider of Ropesville, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. White of Stanton, Mrs. J. E. Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Eiland of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolford and Joe of Tyler, Mrs. Carter Hartsell of Little Rock, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bumgardner of Fordyce, Ark., Mrs. Carl Memphis, Tenn.

Miss Stephens Is Bride Of New Jersey Airman

In a double ring ceremony in the home of her parents, Bobby Jean Stephens became the bride of Frank Elizardo Jr., at 8 p.m. July 31. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stephens, 610 N. E. 11th and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elizardo of New Jersey.

The Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church read the vows. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white linen dress with a Peter Pan collar. Rhinestones, decorated the waist. She carried a white Bible topped with red roses.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Sonny Shroyer, wore a pale green dress with a yellow corsage.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a ruffled white organdy cloth, caught at various points with yellow ribbon bows. Yellow chrysanthemums made the table arrangement.

The three-tiered cake with a small bride and bridegroom on it, was served by Mrs. Neil Fryar, Mert Jones and Anilee Jones served punch. Presiding at the register were Beverly Giam and Charlene Eudy. About 50 guests registered.

After the reception, the couple left for Houston. The bride chose for her traveling costume a suit in deep orange with brown accessories. They will make their home here where the bridegroom is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. Elizardo was formerly a student in Big Spring High School, where she was on the volleyball team. Her husband has been in the service for three years, two of which have been spent overseas.

Previous to the wedding, a group of her school friends gave Miss Stephens a surprise personal shower in the home of her parents. About 25 attended the party.

Shoe Magazine Recognizes Mrs. Gilbert's Success Here

A young woman who made adjustments in the wake of personal tragedy, and who has labored to make a success in retailing gets attention in a trade magazine this month.

She is Patti Gilbert, operator of Gilbert's Shoes in Big Spring, who recently won a "store of the month" designation from the Wohl Shoe Company, a firm with which she has a working affiliation. This brought her a write-up in the "Spectator," Wohl's company publication, in its August issue. The article pays tribute to Mrs. Gilbert's progress with a store she took over after the unexpected death of her husband, Al Gilbert, who was killed in a highway mishap in 1930.

Patti, a former school teacher, was married to Gilbert in 1945. He was a shoe salesman, and with his knowledge of the trade, opened a store in Midland. In 1930 the Gilberts decided Big Spring was the place for their sales effort. But Patti had decided upon the role of housewife and mother rather than businesswoman. Al's unexpected death, in an accident occurring while he was enroute home from market, changed that. Mrs. Gilbert found herself with a store.

She decided to concentrate on the shoe line, and in June of 1933 had made progress enough to move into a new location, in the Wasson Building on Third Street. There she has shown that courage and determination can be pay-off factors in the individual enterprise of retailing today.

Chat About Exercise

In London, England, Lydia Lane, right, talks to Anna Neagle on the "Lilacs in the Spring" set. Film will co-star Errol Flynn. Miss Neagle talks about her exercise routine and also stresses the importance of relaxation and the release of nervous tension.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Proper Exercise And Diet Vital To Health

By LYDIA LANE
LONDON, Eng. — Anna Neagle and Errol Flynn are starring in "Lilacs in the Spring" which is being filmed at Elstree Studios. After a lovely forty-minute drive from Berkeley Square in a studio car, I arrived at the studio in time to find Miss Neagle (it rhymes with Eagle) and Flynn playing a scene in a bower of fresh lilacs, the scent of which perfumed the whole set.

After they finished shooting the scene, Anna had to go to her dressing room for a costume change and invited me to join her. As she slipped off her dress I admired her flat tummy.

"We don't think much about those things over here as you do in America," she said. "But I do feel that dancing has been a tremendous help in keeping me in shape. I know when I'm not in a musical it makes a difference. In 'Queen Victoria', for example, I felt heavy until I started doing exercises every morning. I found if I worked only for ten or fifteen minutes a day it kept me in shape."

Miss Anne obligingly lay on the carpeted floor to show me her method for keeping a flat stomach. "It may be difficult for a beginner, but it does give you a workout where it can do the most good," Anna explained.

I must admit the exercise looked quite simple. You lie flat on your back and without lifting your legs or your arms or your heels, raise up from the waist as if the strength of your stomach muscles was acting as leverage.

"This establishes a tremendous pull and should be done sparingly at first," Miss Neagle cautioned.

"I believe in doing exercises in pairs, and the one which goes with this is to stand erect, toes pointing out, and to fall rag-doll fashion

NO NERVOUS TENSION
Anna is right when she stresses the importance of relaxation. Get a copy of leaflet M-38 if this is one of your problems. Here you'll find tips on bathing, breathing and exercising for relaxation. Special exercises for releasing tension of the eyes are also included. Get your copy of "Routine for Releasing Nervous Tension" by sending 5 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald. Be sure to ask for leaflet M-38.

from the waist, trying to touch your toes," she continued. "As you come up, feel your torso pulling out of your pelvic girdle. All dancers are taught this and it helps to give good posture."

"I am a great believer in right food," Miss Neagle confided. "I do think the people here are a bit lax about this. Every day I try to eat whole wheat bread, plenty of green vegetables and fruit, and drink orange juice. But for so long we had to go without eggs, meat, oranges and lemons. And we only had a pint and a half of milk a week. People got careless about a balanced diet."

"Too many, it seems, take better care of a motor than they do their bodies," she continued. "They know that a car, unless it is correctly treated, will seize up. But they go without breakfast and are careless about the foods which matter. When you don't eat nourishing foods your blood is not good, and the condition of your body depends on your blood.

Whenever I see young people being careless of their health and their attractive firm bodies, I hate to think how they will feel when their bad habits catch up with them, when their glands don't function properly and their muscles have lost tone.

"I think when you take care of your health, your good looks take care of itself," she added. "I don't mean that you shouldn't keep your hair clean and brush it well, but your hair, your nails and your complexion are nourished by your blood stream."

I agreed that food and exercise were important to health and beauty. "But what about nervous tension?" I asked.

"Oh, yes," Miss Neagle said with enthusiasm. "You have to be relaxed to be healthy and this was something I thought I would never learn. But I worked on it. Even though I was very tense inside, I was determined to give the impression of being calm and I discovered that by beginning on the surface, somehow it works in. If you have trouble really relaxing, pretend and little by little you'll be able to let down."

"Balance is so important," Anna murmured. "In everything, I find going away for weekends, resting at our little place in Brighton, which is near the sea, is a very helpful contrast to working on the set all week. It's an entirely different life and so restful. I've learned you can't enjoy anything or do anything well when you are over-tired."

"When I'm working I always take a short walk with my husband before going to bed," Miss Neagle continued. "We breathe deeply and even in town where the air is not too fresh, it helps to release the tension of a day on the set."

HI--TALK

By PEGGY HOGAN

Last Sunday afternoon several car loads of Baptist young people went to Prairie View for a meeting of the Life Service Band of the Big Spring Association. One of our own boys, Jimmy Smith, served as the speaker. Robert Morehead led the singing and Sharon McRee played the piano.

Last night an association-wide Youth Rally was held at the First Baptist Church. The Life Service Band from Midland was in charge of the program.

There appears to be quite a number of travelers this week among the Steers and Secretaries of BSHS. Glenna Coffey visited friends and relatives last Sunday at Jal, N. M.

Joan Lambert has gone to Sanderson for about two weeks. She is visiting kinfolks.

Denver, Colo., is the city where Judy Douglas will spend the next several days. She plans to shop a little while vacationing.

Tommy and Bobby McAdams left Tuesday for Lake City, Colo. where they plan to get in some of that big time fishing. The boys and their parents will be joined on Saturday by Frosty and Jean Robinson and their parents.

Sandra Flowers and Janelle Neel climbed aboard a California-bound bus last Sunday. Sandra is going to visit her grandmother in Los Angeles and Janelle plans to visit her grandmother who lives in Long Beach. The girls will return to Big Spring the last of August.

Last weekend five boys went fishing at Abilene—so they tell me. The two-day trip taken by Lefty Reynolds, Brick Johnson, Bobby Fuller, Blanton Dees, and Glen Jenkins, proved disastrous to Bobby as he suffered a painful foot injury.

This morning at 7:00 four excited girls started to Austin to attend the State Student Council Summer Workshop. The girls will spend six days at the conference which is to be held at Texas University. Those making the trip are Beth Anderson, Nita Hedleston, Peggy Hogan, and sponsor Betty Ratliff. Glenn Rogers is going for two days to at-

Overtime Work

After a day at the bank, Sue Nelson likes to get in the kitchen and help her mother with the cooking and dishwashing. Especially welcome to Mrs. Nelson is the assistance she gets with "those dishes." This after-a-meal session gives good opportunity for some chat between the two, also.

Clubs Name Incorrect If Sue Is Typical Member

For a member of a club named No Rate Data (yes, you pronounced it correctly), Sue Nelson is a mighty attractive young lady. She insists that the name has nothing to do with the club since it really is a study club. She doesn't say what they study, though!

The club was organized when "we were just kids" in 1934 in Sterling City, where Miss Nelson lived until she came to Big Spring a short time ago. She and her mother, Mrs. W. S. Nelson, stayed with her sister, Mrs. Rogers Hefley, until they found an apartment at 1805 1/2 Nolan.

For eight years Miss Nelson served as assistant cashier in the bank at Sterling City. Now, she is a teller in the State National Bank here.

Besides her work in a study club, Miss Nelson is an Eastern Star and is a member of the Methodist Church, as is her mother. Sue is fond of square dancing.

Mrs. Nelson enjoys housework—all but the dish-washing—and she does quite a bit of sewing. She likes to make dresses and tailored suits for her lucky daughter.

Time To Reconsider Possibility Of A Southeast Loop For City

Gathering dust somewhere in the city engineering files is a sketch which projected a road from off Birdwell Lane southward to intersect with U. S. 87 south of the city. This was part of a long range planning program, and it was sent practically underground when many interpreted it as a threat to the business district.

WASHINGTON — As a result of the most painstaking detective work, those in the best position to judge have reached a tentative conclusion in the case of Dr. Otto John. Flattery For All Found In This New Fall Dress

The new Ceil Chapman look is here to stay, for her recent collections of day dresses have been absolute sell-outs. This success is not surprising for Mrs. Chapman continues to invest her superlative knowledge of beautiful-body-building in all her designs. This dress, whose body lends itself to sizes up to 20 (the V neck is part of this), but is equally good for size 17's, was one of the biggest sellers in a recent collection. The envelope-fold pockets on bodice and skirt do a marvelous and wondrous trick of minimizing the tummy while emphasizing the bosom which, from a style viewpoint, is necessary this season in all sizes. Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
By Harold R. Foster

Our Story: PRINCE VALIANT HAS LED HIS PARTY ACROSS THE JORDAN RIVER TO ESCAPE THE ARABS. BUT NOW SIR GAWAIN OBJECTS. THEY HAD VOWED TO FOLLOW THE PILGRIM TRAIL FROM NAZARETH TO BETHLEHEM, HE FOR ONE WILL DO JUST THAT DESPITE THE ARABS!

THEN SILENTLY THEY ALL CLASP HANDS AND REAFFIRM THEIR PLEDGE TO COMPLETE THE PILGRIMAGE OR PERISH IN THE ATTEMPT.

WITHDRAWING FROM THE FERRY LANDING, THEY CLIMB TO A VANTAGE POINT AND WAIT UNTIL SURE THEIR ENEMIES HAVE FOUND A CROSSING.

SWIFTLY NOW THEY DESCEND AND RE-CROSS THE RIVER. HALFWAY OVER, ARROWS ARE SHOT AT THEM BY A PARTY OF ARABS LEFT TO GUARD THE LANDING.

ONCE MORE VAL BENDS HIS GREAT BOW AND DRIVES THE ENEMY BACK OUT OF RANGE.

THEY NOW HAVE FRESH MOUNTS TO CHANGE TO, A GOOD START AHEAD OF THEIR FOES. IT SEEMS AS IF THEY MIGHT FINISH THEIR JOURNEY AT A GALLOP.

IN JERUSALEM A RIDER BRINGS NEWS TO BEN EL RASCH. "PRINCE VALIANT IS TRAPPED ON THE ROAD ABOVE JERICHO." SMILING GRIMLY THE DESERT CHIEFTAIN PREPARES TO LEAVE THAT HE MAY BE A WITNESS TO HIS REVENGE.

AND A CERTAIN SYRIAN SEES HIS RIDE AWAY WITH BUT A HANDFUL OF FOLLOWERS, AND HE TOO PLANS A REVENGE.

NEXT WEEK—The Daughter of Ben el Rasch.

AN ARTICLE THAT SAID ALL HUMAN PROGRESS IS DUE TO MAN'S LAZINESS.

IT SAID IF MAN LIKED TO WORK, HE WOULD NEVER HAVE INVENTED MACHINES TO DO IT FOR HIM.

IF HE HADN'T BEEN TOO LAZY TO WALK, HE'D NEVER HAVE INVENTED WAYS TO RIDE. IF LAZY PEOPLE HADN'T FIGURED OUT WAYS TO GO ON BEING LAZY---
