It was tough for 4-year-old Stephen Mayeux, Houston, Tex., oldest of three children, to watch his brother and sister run and play. Stephen's legs have been crippled since he was stricken by polio. Eight months ago Stephen started trying to learn to walk on his hands. Stephen's best distance to date traveling on his hands has been 15 feet, his father, Ernie Mayeux, reports. (AP Wirephoto).

French EDC Crisis Looms

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (U)—President Rene Coty hustled back from a vacation today to preside over a full dress Cabinet meeting just 24 hours before the French National Assembly takes up ratification of the European Defense Community treaty. The deputies themselves, facing the showdown on EDC they had put off for 27 months, were in a turmoil of political intrigue that could end in the downfall of the two-month-old regime of Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

These were among the day's top developments: 1. The Assembly of the French Union, the top consultative body for France and her overseas territories recommended by a vote of 100-45 that France reject the six-nation European army plan envisaged under EDC. While this had no legal weight, the vote was another indication that EDC will have tough going in the National Assembly.

2. A group of pro-European army ministers who had been under heavy pressure to resign immediately decided to stay on a while longer, at least until after the EDC vote. They feared the pro-EDC elements in the Assembly would have no voice if the ministers resigned now.

3. The Foreign Office announced Communist Poland had offered France an alliance against Germany. A spokesman said the proposal—obviously timed to affect the EDC debate—would be rejected. Russia and her satellites have been working desperately to defeat EDC in New York, the Times and Herald-Tribune, in Washington dispatches, said that an eight-power conference probably will be held early in October if the French National Assembly rejects the EDC treaty.

Participants in the conference would be the United States, Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. (U.S. officials and foreign diplomats said the meeting was held last night, but no final decisions were made. More buzzing back and forth was certain today.)

Three anti-EDC ministers, all followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, resigned two weeks ago after Mendes-France drew up his revised version of EDC which the five other European army nations later turned down at their Brussels conference.

The ultra-Nationalist De Gaulle resented their Premier leaving anything to do with EDC in any version. The pro-EDC ministers involved in the latest resignation maneuver include Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, industry and commerce; Emile Hughes, justice; Guy la Chambre, associated states (Indochina); and Guerin de Beaumont, secretary of state for foreign af-

Record School Budget Okayed For Big Spring

A record budget anticipating new revenues of $1,115,522 and expenditures of $1,164,632 was approved Thursday evening by the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District.

Only two former trustees, Marvin Miller and H. W. Smith, attended the public hearing on the proposed fiscal guide in addition to the board members. The budget anticipates $23,500 in federal funds, $638,168 in state funds, and $433,000 in local funds. As a further cushion, since expenditures are pegged slightly in excess of anticipated current revenue, the district is figuring on a cash carry-over of around $136,000.

Highlights on the disbursements include: Administration $49,350; instruction $528,179; other school services $22,097; operation of plant $84,650; maintenance of plant $29,750; fixed charges $9,560; community services $4,250; capital outlay $22,658; debt service $112,879; total $1,164,632.

At the meeting it was announced that Big Spring Motor Company this year will furnish the car (Ford) for the drivers education course at Junior High School.

It also was announced that the total scholastics of the district, counting net transfers, is 4,331, an increase of 118 over the previous year.

Rains Hit City, Skip Area Farms

Those "scattered late afternoon and evening thundershowers" dampened most of Big Spring Thursday but brought limited relief to farm areas.

Southwest Big Spring received from .5 to .75 of an inch while the eastern part of town had only about a half an inch. Reports of showers other than sprinkles reaching the Herald Friday morning included a four or five farm area in the Lomax community. The Lawrence Adkins farm was in about the center of the downpour which amounted to an inch. This amount held good to the south on Grady Cross place.

There were sprinkles around Elbow and Lam against Big Spring on the south and the west there was only a light sprinkle while heavy showers fell only a short distance away.

The gauge at the Howard County Junior College in southeast Big Spring had .33 of an inch and another in the general area showed more than half. East of town the Texas Electric Service switching station measured .34 of an inch, the only precipitation gauged on the system in this region.

Dick Stevens, who farms eight miles northeast on the Snyder highway, said that he received a third of an inch on the south side. In his immediate vicinity the moisture situation was described as pretty good.

The U. S. Experiment Station north of town measured .41 of an inch Thursday evening. The Herald measured .21.

There was a possibility of more scattered showers Friday evening.

Eight Airmen Die In California Crash

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U)—Eight airmen were killed when their twin-engine B25 hit a mountain in rugged northern Napa County yesterday.

The bodies were found last night. The bomber had left nearby Mather Air Force Base Wednesday evening on a routine training flight.

The cause of the crash has not been determined.

Pretty Housewife On Hunger Strike Over Lawyer's Fee

AKRON, Ohio (U)—A pretty young housewife, who changed her mind about getting divorced, started the third day of a hunger strike in the Akron Police Station lobby today. She vowed she would stay there until she got back $124 her husband paid a lawyer.

Mrs. Alice Mortimer, refusing even parts of the lunch bill dinners the cops brought with them, says her husband raided a teapot for her cache of funds to pay the lawyer after they decided to get divorced.

George Mortimer, a state conservation man, gave the unnamed attorney the money last month and at first the lawyer refused to return it after they changed their minds.

Police say now he is willing to return the money, but only if both George and his 23-year-old wife are present. Mortimer has been working nights.

Ousted Brazilian War Minister Says Generals Betrayed Vargas

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (U)—Gen. Zenobio Da Costa, minister of war in the government of President Getulio Vargas, charged today, his fellow generals betrayed the Brazilian strong man. Vargas committed suicide Tuesday after army and air officers forced him to step down as President.

In a bitter statement submitted to the new war minister, Gen. Henrique Baptista Teixeira, Da Costa also accused the new President, Joao Cafe Filho, of backtracking on an offer to keep Da Costa as head of the War Ministry.

The statement said the army generals had pledged to work to uphold the constitution, but then circulated a manifesto "aimed at changing the commitment of honor they had undertaken."

vice president since 1951, took over as chief executive. Da Costa said Cafe asked him, soon after Vargas agreed to take a leave of absence, to remain as war minister.

"But then I knew the same men who had betrayed their commitment of honor in the meeting of generals had taken hold of Cafe (the presidential palace) and were again maneuvering against me," Da Costa said.

Gen. Teixeira's appointment as war minister was announced Wednesday night. Cafe today appointed army Col. Geral Meneses Cortes police chief for the federal district of Rio de Janeiro.

Eugenio Godin, head of the Brazilian Institute of Economics, was sworn in last night as Brazil's new finance minister to steer the nation through its serious economic crisis. # Shivers And Yarborough Make Last-Minute Bids

Heavy Vote Is Expected Here

Stirred by a bitterly contested gubernatorial campaign, Howard County voters are expected to turn out Saturday in unusually large numbers for a run-off primary.

Polls will open at 8 a. m. for the second Democratic primary at 10 voting boxes. They close at 7 p. m. At stake, in addition to the governorship, will be five local races along with two other state office decisions.

Absentee voting reached new run-off proportions here before deadline Tuesday, reaching 723. This was 170 more than for the first primary. Normally, absentee voting reflects about 10 per cent of the actual total, but seasoned observers believe that the absentee record reflects a better job of getting out that vote rather than presaging a record turnout Saturday.

While the heat of the gubernatorial campaign has obscured other races, Howard County will be selecting nominees Saturday for sheriff, for three county commissioners, and constable of Justice Precinct No. 1.

The ballot line-up for these are: Sheriff—Jess Slaughter and J. B. (Jake) Bruton. Commissioner Precinct No. 2—G. E. (Red) Gilliam and Pete Thomas. Commissioner Precinct No. 3—Murch Thorp and Arthur Stallings. Commissioner Precinct No. 4—Fred Polacek and Earl Hull. Constable Precinct No. 1—A. F. Hill and W. O. (Orlon) Leonard.

During the day, banks will be closed. Establishments may not sell beer or liquors until one hour after the polls close.

In Big Spring, voting places are: Precinct No. 1, North Ward School; Precinct No. 2, Washington Place School; Precinct No. 3, Main Street Fire Station; Precinct No. 4, City Hall Fire Station; Precinct No. 5, West Ward School; Precinct No. 16, Park Hill School.

At Coahoma voting will be at the City Hall, in box No. 15 (Soash) at the Armstrong tenant house; and in other precincts at the school houses or churches.

Any person who has paid a poll tax or secured an exemption certificate (exemptions not required outside the corporate limits), who has lived in the state a year and the county six months, is eligible to vote. Servicemen who meet residential requirements in state and county are entitled to vote by presenting proper identifications to the election judges.

Party officials reminded once again that the area immediately surrounding the polls is restricted against electioneering. They also warned anew that it is contrary to law to use any marked ballot or similar device as a guide to voting.

Hobbs Schools Set To End Racial Bars

HOBBBS, N.M. (U)—Negro and white children of this southeast New Mexico oil town were to register for school together today—finally breaking down traditional segregation bars.

They trudged off for a new school year amidst a cloud of apprehension lest warnings of violence come true. City and state police and deputies from the Lea County sheriff's office kept close watch.

There were others, too, who watched—an anti-segregation group headed by a Baptist preacher, William Carter, who has warned that violence might result.

But representatives of his group were warned yesterday by the district attorney's office that violence would not be tolerated.

FREE RIDES TO POLLS OFFERED

If you don't have a way to the polls Saturday, you can get a ride simply by calling the Chamber of Commerce, 4-4641.

Through courtesy of Paul S. Lner, Yellow Cabs are being made available to voters, through the C.C. There is no charge for a trip to the ballot box and return, and the service is offered simply to enable everyone to vote.

Polio Total Last Week Highest Yet This Year

AUSTIN (U)—Polio struck a surprising, late-summer blow, the highest of the year, in Texas last week. Health officials reported 199 new cases, 36 more than the previous peak reached on July 31.

A spokesman for the State Health Department said it was one of the highest weeks in Texas polio history.

Heaviest incidence of new cases the week ending Aug. 21 was in Hidalgo and Nueces counties, in the Rio Grande Valley and Gulf-coast areas, respectively. Hidalgo County reported 24 new polio patients; Nueces County 20.

Harris County (Houston), which has suffered more cases than any other area of the state, recorded 15 the past week.

"This is a little late to have such a high incidence," said L. E. Bracy, director of health education for the State Health Department.

The experience curve on Texas polio indicates the peak for the year usually can be expected in late July.

Following the previous high of 183 or the week ending July 31, case totals had run 152 and 180 prior to the big jump last week.

A check of the records indicated the 199 cases the past week was the highest or any week except during 1952, which was the worst polio year this state has ever had. The all-time high is 266, set during the second week of July, 1952. There were six other weeks that year that exceeded last week's mark.

Fifty-one of the 199 cases were diagnosed as paralytic. Other counties reporting heavy incidence were the following: Lubbock, 12; Tarrant (Fort Worth), 10; Dallas, 8; Bexar (San Antonio), 8; Hale (Pinalview), and McLennan (Waco), 7 each.

Klebert County reported 5 cases; Grayson, Potter, and Wheeler, 4 each; Deaf Smith, El Paso, Hutchinson, and Jefferson, 3 each; Bosque, Delta, Harrison, Howard, Jones, Lamb, Lee, Medina, Morris, Orange, Shackelford, Smith, Tarrant, Travis, Van Zandt, and Wichita, 2 each; Angelina, Bailey, Bee, Brazoria, Brazos, Childress, Cooke, Crane, Crosby, Ector, Edwards, Fisher, Gonzales, Gregg, Hall, Jim Wells, Johnson, McCulloch, Matagorda, Montgomery, Moore, Nolan, Ochiltree, Scurry and Tom Green, 1 each. The armed forces reported two cases, not identified as to location.

The health department's weekly report also called attention to a migration problem which has arisen in connection with polio vaccine field trials being conducted

Thirty-Three More Texas Counties Put On Drought Aid List

WASHINGTON (U)—Thirty-three additional Texas counties, making 75 in all, have been designated drought disaster areas by the Department of Agriculture.

The Texas counties, named by the USDA late yesterday, were: Anderson, Angelina, Burleson, Caldwell, Cherokee, Ellis, Falls, Fayette, Freestone, Gonzales, Hill, Hood, Johnson, Kerr, Lavaca, Leon, Limestone, McLennan, Madison, Milam, Nacogdoches, Navarro, Palo Pinto, Parker, Rains, Robertson, Rock, Somervell, Smith, Tarrant, Washington, Wise, and Wood.

Earlier yesterday 30 Kansas counties and one additional county in Colorado had been placed on the list.

The day's actions brought to 316 the number of counties in eight states now designated as drought disaster areas. Included are 76 counties in Missouri, 75 in Texas, 37 each in Oklahoma and Arkansas, 30 in Kansas, 24 each in New Mexico and Colorado and 13 in Wyoming.

The Nationalist stronghold lies 100 miles across the Formosa Strait, guarded by the U. S. 7th Fleet and an American-equipped army.

For several weeks Peiping has been broadcasting almost daily threats to "liberate" Formosa and wipe out the Nationalist regime of Chiang Kai-shek.

In advance of any invasion, the Reds would be expected to seize a chain of Nationalist-held offshore islands, running from Quemoy north to the Tachens, some 200 miles northwest of Formosa.

However, U.S. military experts have discounted the possibility of a Red attack on Formosa and have pointed out that there has been no large-scale Red troop

Voters To Decide Race On Saturday

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Eleventh-hour appeal for support, along with last-minute charges and counter charges, poured Friday from the headquarters of Gov. Allan Shivers and his opponent, Ralph Yarborough.

The two candidates spent the eve of election day—the Democratic run-off primary—in Texas' most vote-heavy communities. Shivers was in Houston, Yarborough was in Dallas.

The only other statewide run-off election pits Alfred M. Scott, 58-year-old Austin attorney, against Associate Justice Fawcett Brewer, 65, of the State Supreme Court who seeks re-election. Brewer led in the first primary.

The Supreme Court race has been almost totally overshadowed by the Shivers-Yarborough brawl. As the bitter campaign neared its end, the first reported heckling of the governor occurred at Henderson where he addressed a crowd estimated by police at around 4,000.

The shortlived heckling started when Shivers mentioned the "Port Arthur story" so-called by his foe. The governor asked the heckler to repeat his question but was greeted by silence. There was no more interruptions except for applause.

Yarborough appeared Thursday night before a crowd estimated by followers at around 6,000 at the portals of the historic Alamo mission in San Antonio.

Yarborough interrupted 15 times by the enthusiastic crowd's applause, said Texans who voted for him in the first primary have been "insulted" by Shivers.

The Austin attorney said Shivers tried to portray himself as a "hero of the Alamo" and to picture "my 645,000 supporters in the first primary as an alien army of outsiders."

"That was cheap," said Yarborough. "That was in bad taste. That was arrogant."

From the Henderson bell park, Shivers stood on a platform over home plate and asked: "Will Texas Democrats stand by a governor who puts principle above politics when the interests of Texas demand that choice?"

"This is the showdown," Shivers declared pointing to Saturday's election. He predicted a "glorious victory" if the people get out and vote.

Shivers whistle-stopped through an East Texas area that showed much friendliness for Yarborough in the first primary. At Mexia, he told his audience "a big switch" was going on among Yarborough's supporters "because the people are afraid of a man who won't tell the truth x x x."

The Port Arthur strike situation, meanwhile, got more and more attention as the governor's race approached the Saturday climax.

Yarborough told his San Antonio audience that television showed that the strike has been going on 10 months and Shivers had not chosen to stop it. He promised to bring about a settlement "fair and square to all within 30 days after becoming governor."

Shivers told his East Texas audiences that "of course my opponent can end the Port Arthur strike by surrendering to Local 1514 of the CIO."

"That Port Arthur people can end it that way themselves," Shivers said. See CAMPAIGN, Page 4, Col. 2

No Further Gas Price Cuts Made

For the time being, gasoline retail prices had stabilized on an irregular front here Friday.

At noon, only two companies had posted cuts at the retail level. Thursday Gulf and Shell had announced reductions approximating three cents per gallon on regular and premium grades.

There was a possibility, barring adjustments, that one or two other majors might meet the cuts by Saturday.

These sources said the Reds are trying to show conference participants that the United States will go to war over Formosa and the signers of any defense pact would be giving up any initiative in the matter.

FOR 12 AGENCIES

Campaign Goal Of UF To Be $82,151

Campaign goal of $82,151 was set by the executive committee of the United Fund this week.

The directors accepted a figure that was recommended by the budget committee, after that group had given considerable study to financial requests of various participating agencies.

The UF this year will accommodate a full dozen welfare and youth - guidance groups, three more than last year. No other similar welfare activities will be made during the year except that of the March of Dimes, since the Polio Foundation does not agree to join coordinated fund drives.

The $82,151 total compares with $74,144 of last year. That goal was exceeded, but some shrinkage is existing because of non-payment of some pledges. United Fund directors still are hopeful that most of the current pledges will be paid.

The new budget includes cost of conducting the campaign, which occurs in October, sets up an anticipated shrinkage for non-collections and provides for the following year's operational expense. These items are in addition to allocations set up for agencies.

"Not in every instance were we able to grant the various agencies the full amount they requested," said Budget Chairman Ira L. Thurman. "In fact, we trimmed nearly all of them, but as sparingly as possible. We are anxious that all worthwhile charities and civic enterprises have sufficient money to accomplish their programs effectively, but we also are aware that there is a reasonable ceiling on the amount the community should be called upon to contribute. We have tried to best we know to strike the medium."

Jimmy Tusher, campaign chairman for this year who already is lining up his corps of workers, said he felt confident that Big Spring and Howard County will respond quickly and adequately to the United Fund appeal. "We did so wonderfully well last year that there is no question but that we can accomplish our goal this year," he said.

New agencies under the UF banner this year are the Heart Association, the Summer Recreational Program, and the Area Youth Park. The others are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, YMCA, Red Cross, Servicemen's Center, Milk and Ice Fund, Cancer Society and West Side Youth Center.

SHIVERS A HYPOCRITE TO TEXAS and REAL TEXANS

The record of Gov. Shivers - Lt. Gov. Shivers - Senator Shivers, and Allan Shivers, is more confusing than the fictional character of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Shivers has, in the above rated capacities, been for and against the workers of Texas whether union or non-union, but in every instance the position taken was that WHICH BENEFITED ALLAN SHIVERS MOST. A half-page ad in the Big Spring Herald of Aug. 22 is a clear indication of how Shivers clearly refuses to answer a direct question but regularly gives an evasive answer and always one to promote the interests of Allan Shivers which in this instance was to get Shivers Votes.

Mr. P. A. Ratliff, known as a Republican by us who work with him, wrote Gov. Shivers a letter asking the views of THE GOVERNOR toward labor. THE GOVERNOR replied by referring to his record AS SENATOR SHIVERS. Now as SENATOR SHIVERS it was necessary to get the votes of organized labor from the Port Arthur-Orange areas for him to be elected (both CIO and AF of L). AS SENATOR SHIVERS he constantly made love to these groups and wooed them and their votes intensely and Senator Allan Shivers maintained a respectable voting record in behalf of Texas workers BECAUSE HE COULD NOT BE ELECTED SENATOR IN THAT AREA WITHOUT LABOR'S SUPPORT. Shivers now condemns Ralph Yarborough because the people in that area found out that as GOV. SHIVERS, THE SENATOR ALLAN SHIVERS BECAME A TURNCOAT in every respect and they voted for Ralph Yarborough to restore decency and integrity to the governor's office NOT ONLY BECAUSE SHIVERS BETRAYED THE DEMOCRATS (which pleased Republican P. A. Ratliff) BUT BECAUSE HE HAS CONSISTENTLY BETRAYED THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS. SHIVERS HAS BECOME RICH AT THE EXPENSE OF THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS.

LOOK AT THESE FACTS ABOUT TURNCOAT ALLAN SHIVERS

★ The records of U. S. Naturalization and Immigration Service show that Gov. Shivers, as owner and operator of Sharyland, has been a regular violator of Federal law as an employer of the illegal wetbacks at the illegal wage of 25 cents per hour. On Aug. 6, 1954, U. S. Commissioner of Immigration, Mr. Joe Swing, stated that Mr. Weldon Hart of the Texas Employment Commission, had informed him that 15,000 JOBS FORMERLY HELD BY WETBACKS, illegal aliens, are now held by U. S. citizens. Mr. Swing also stated that one small merchant in the Rio Grande Valley told him that since removal of the wetbacks, his Saturday business increased from $500 to $1,500. Swing said "business people in the Lower Rio Grande Valley are going to learn THAT WORKING WETBACKS IS HARMFUL TO THE ENTIRE ECONOMY." Here you see it required intervention by U. S. Federal agents in order to FORCE GOV. SHIVERS TO OBEY THE FEDERAL LAW, TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT FOR TEXANS, U. S. CITIZENS AND IMPROVE BUSINESS OF TEXANS. In California, unemployment claims dropped 15% after the removal of wetbacks, a saving of as much as $325,000 in one week on unemployment claims. We do not know how much Gov. Shivers has cost Texans in unemployment or in payment of unemployment claims as a result of these shameful acts.

★ Why has there been no investigation of the fixers and influence peddlers in connection with the insurance scandals of Gov. Shivers and his political parasites? Perhaps this letter to a certain honest Texan and printed in the El Paso Herald is the answer:

The State Of Texas
Office Of The Attorney General
Austin, Texas, July 8, 1954
Dear _____:

Thanks very much for your nice and informative letter. I feel quite sure that after the election, we are going to begin a widespread investigation of the insurance department and at that time, we would like for you to come down.

Cordially,
John Ben Shepperd

Here you see the power of the Shivers' machine in action as this Shivers Protege denies Texans their right to the truth before the election. Why? The investigation could not hurt Ralph Yarborough but it could hurt Shivers' chance to win. John Ben can not take the chance of hurting his political boss. Here is what the El Paso Herald said about his infamous act: "Let thousands of Texans who have been gypped be forgotten, do not give protection to other thousands who may be gypped. Let the inept and inefficient Shivers appointees remain uninvestigated. But above all, SAVE THE VOTE FOR SHIVERS !!!" That is the motto of the Shivers' machine.

★ Why have the newspapers in our area refused to print the whole truth about the Shivers' corruption? Maybe it was partially revealed by Drew Pearson, the noted columnist recently, when he quoted Joe T. Cook, a partner of Gov. Shivers. On July 12, 1954, Joe Cook wrote to all weekly newspapers of Texas stating that Gov. Shivers WAS ACTIVE in the Times Publishing Co. Cook further said, "Allan, with whom I am associated in the publication of the Times, IS ONE OF OUR GROUP. He is an active member of the Texas Press Association. ALLAN SHIVERS SPEAKS OUR LANGUAGE BECAUSE HE IS IN THE PUBLISHING BUSINESS." AND HOW !!! Gov. Shivers has been a partner of this firm since 1936, owning 7,000 shares. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Shary, owns 8,000 shares and Joe T. Cook 5,000 shares.

The Texas Constitution, Article 16, Section 21, states: "No member of or officer of any department of the government shall be in any way interested in such contracts (for printing) and all such contracts shall be subject to the approval of the governor..." IN FLAGRANT VIOLATION of this provision of the Texas Constitution, which Allan Shivers swore to uphold, the files of the State Board of Control in Austin show that in 1953 a contract was awarded Gov. Shivers' firm, Times Publishing Co., for ALL PRINTING for the following institutions: College of Agriculture and Industry, Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists, Architectural Examiners, Agriculture Department, Firemen's Pension Fund, Labor Department, General Land Office, Lamar State College, T. E. A., Texas Southern University, and other departments inside and outside of Austin. THIS CONTRACT WAS SIGNED BY MARY O'BRIEN SHARY. (GOV. SHIVERS' MOTHER-IN-LAW) FOR TIMES PUBLISHING CO. AND APPROVED BY GOV. SHIVERS FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS.

★ In addition to these before mentioned infamous acts of hypocrite Shivers, we think it is time Gov. Turncoat Shivers tells what that $425,000 HE RECEIVED WAS REALLY FOR. He sold no land, the record shows that his option to buy the land had expired, he had no legal interest in the land firm who paid him nor were they under any legal obligation to Shivers. For what was Shivers paid $425,000? Such a huge and strange conditions under which a holder of public office receives such huge sums of money should be explained to the voters.

This ad sponsored and paid for by employes of Cosden Refinery who believe in the right of every individual to make a free choice on all issues and who further believe candidates should always answer direct questions with direct answers, not evasive ones. We feel that Gov. Shivers has constantly avoided the issues in the campaign and that the local newspapers have been equally evasive. We further believe that if the people of Texas are given the whole truth and not half truths, they will choose wisely. They will elect Ralph Yarborough and eliminate the corrupt Shivers' machine. We believe that what is good for Texas is good for Texas workers, SHIVERS IS A SHAME on the office of Governor of Texas. In order that the public be not confused, we, the Cosden Refinery employes sponsoring this ad have paid for it out of our own pockets; we are of the opinion that Mr. P. A. Ratliff did not pay for the ad carrying his letters to and from Gov. Shivers. It is our opinion that the cost was paid for by special interest groups, probably Republican brothers of his. Yarborough will carry Cosden Refinery by 350 to 20. We do not seek any special interest or privilege. We wonder as to the motive of Mr. Ratliff? It appears to be typically Shiverscrat.

Some Controversial Side Issues May Pop Up At Censure Session

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Some controversial side issues, including a new effort to tighten investigation rules, may pop up in the Senate when it returns to Washington sometime this fall to vote on the matter of censuring Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

A resolution to tighten the rules was left on the calendar when the Senate quit a week ago today, along with six other Senate resolutions and 29 House-passed bills, most of them minor, which the Senate could still send to the White House.

A pending resolution which could plunge the Senate into controversy has been introduced by Sen. Mundt (R-SD). It would reimburse the Government Operations Committee, which is headed by McCarthy, for $24,005.67 of its funds spent by the Senate Investigations subcommittee to inquire into the McCarthy-Army controversy.

The subcommittee, headed usually by McCarthy but temporarily under Mundt's command for the inquiry, will make public next week its reports on McCarthy's battle with Secretary of the Army

Stevens. That report will be before the Senate, along with the report of the special censure committee, when members return to Washington.

Sen. Hayden (D-Aris.) has proposed an amendment to the Mundt resolution under which the McCarthy subcommittee would have to comply with certain new rules before it could obtain funds for its investigations.

These rules would require advance approval of the full Government Operations Committee — on which there are seven Republicans and six Democrats — before any new investigation is started. Formal notice in writing to the vice president would be required before the new inquiry was begun and the subcommittee chairman — in this case McCarthy — would have to certify that these conditions had been carried out.

In another controversial investigation resolution that might be called up, Sen. McCarthy (D-Mev.) has proposed that a Senate Judiciary subcommittee be given $27,500 to finance an investigation of alleged monopolies.

When the Senate didn't act on this before it quit, Chairman Lanier (R-ND) of the Judiciary Committee announced he was going to take on four private law cases to raise money to finance such an investigation personally.

The Senate has two treaties on its calendar and could take up any others sent to it by the President. However, opposition to the two now officially before it, involving agreements with Japan to eliminate double taxation, may delay any action until next year.

The Senate might get around to confirming some of the 702 nominations it left pending when it adjourned last week, some of which were in dispute.

Among controversial House bills still technically alive is a measure to raise from 8 to 12 years the period in which distillers can hold whisky in warehouses before payment of federal taxes.

Another would authorize the issuance of certificates of public convenience to 14 local service airlines and three all-cargo air carriers.

One House-approved bill would declare as a congressional policy that the government "should not engage in business-type operations that are in competition with private enterprise," authorizing the President to terminate such federal activities.

James Masons Ask Million Dollars For Alleged Libel Claim

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A million dollars damages is asked by James Mason, British movie actor, and his wife Pamela because, they said, published articles declared their marriage was shaky.

They said they have been happily married for 15 years and have no intention of separating.

They alleged "false and libelous statements" were printed in the Motion Picture and Television Magazine, a monthly publication, and the Daily News, a Los Angeles newspaper.

They asked $250,000 damages against Erskine Johnson, identified as the writer of the articles, and the Fawcett Publications, publisher of the magazine and $250,000 punitive damages against Johnson alone.

In another suit they asked $250,000 from the Daily News and $250,000 from Johnson.

Supt. C. W. Tarter said a social hour will be held following the teachers' meeting.

Enrollment of students for the fall term will start at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Supt. Tarter said. All first grade students and pupils new to the Lamesa schools are to be registered between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Tuesday.

All new students and youngsters starting to school this year should have birth certificates. Smallpox vaccinations are required for all pupils. Total enrollment is expected to be 2,500.

First full day of school will be on Wednesday.

The school board will consider the request and transfers probably will be granted in cases where overcrowding won't result. Parents of the student requesting transfer will be notified of the school board's decision.

In addition to the superintendent, the school staff will include D. N. Peterson, director of school services; Ralph Ranson, director of instruction; Abe Holder, principal.

Two More British Delegations To Go Into Commie Lands

LONDON (AP) — Two more British Laborite delegations will visit Communist countries soon, it was reported today.

The Polish Embassy said between 6 and 10 Laborite legislators will travel to Poland for a two-week visit next month. It said they are seeking "first-hand knowledge of economic and cultural life in Poland, especially in the western territories."

The Communist Daily Worker reported a Laborite delegation including two members of Parliament will travel to East Germany next month.

A delegation of Laborites led by former Prime Minister Clement Attlee is now in Communist China.

Russian Roulette Game Has Error

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — An Army sergeant last night demonstrated the hit-or-miss game of Russian roulette to patrons in a cafe.

The .38 revolver fired. Sgt. Phillip Wilhelm, 40-year-old ROTC instructor at a Memphis high school, was reported in "remarkably good condition" at a hospital where he was taken after the bullet crashed into his right temple and emerged at the top of his head.

Wilhelm blamed his bad luck on the strange gun, the cylinder of which rotates counterclockwise instead of the usual clockwise.

"I couldn't tell where the bullet was," the sergeant told hospital attendants.

Caffery U. S. Envoy Longer Than Others

By ROBERT HEWETT
CAIRO (AP)—At 67, Jefferson Caffery has been representing the United States in the world's capitals longer than any other ambassador. Impeccably groomed, soft-spoken with the drawl of his native Louisiana, the U.S. ambassador to Egypt looks like a movie version of a diplomat.

His patient, old-style diplomacy paid off again last month when British and Egyptian leaders signed an agreement that promises to end 70 years of strife over British occupation of Egyptian soil.

Britons and Egyptians, who rarely see eye to eye, agree Caffery played an important role as a middle man in the delicate negotiations which will take British troops from the Suez Canal zone in 20 or so months.

State Department policy makers hope settlement of the British-Egyptian feud will open the way for eventual cooperation between the West and the unstable Middle East in resisting Communist encroachment in this strategic, oil-rich area.

That happens, Caffery will have capped his 43 years as diplomat with one of the most difficult assignments a U.S. envoy ever had.

No one man, of course, was responsible for getting the British and Egyptians together. But in the best traditions of diplomacy, Caffery acted as the moderating influence that overcame mutual distrust.

It was the kind of diplomatic assignment for which he was well equipped by his long career.

Son of a Lafayette, La., landowner and lawyer, he was 24 when he became a diplomat—during the days of William Howard Taft. His first post was as a foreign secretary in Venezuela in 1911. He worked his way up through increasingly important posts in 14 capitals, including Paris.

He combined charm and native American intelligence in representing U.S. interests abroad. Now he is talking of retiring.

But the thought of retirement comes hard to an amateur archaeologist who still climbs the Great Pyramid at Giza on his day off.

"I thought I would have a chance to take it easy and really get down to studying archaeology," is the way he describes the appointment to Cairo five years ago.

He did dig around the ruins of ancient Egypt. He probably knows more Egyptology than many professionals.

But he had plenty to do in the diplomatic field. He was a confidant, if not a friend, of high-living King Farouk; then he became the foreign diplomat most respected by the young military clique who threw out Farouk in 1952.

Officials In Port Arthur Disagree

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—The mayor and four commissioners of Port Arthur today said the strike there is "very serious" and "not insignificant," as stated by one city commissioner.

This was in reply to a statement released in Austin yesterday by headquarters of Shivers' opponent in the race for governor, Ralph W. Yarborough.

In the statement, Port Arthur Commissioner W. T. Walker said the "so-called Port Arthur strike is a gross misrepresentation, wholly unfounded and untrue."

Members of Port Arthur residents have been going to cities around the state to tell what they call "the Port Arthur story." It is their story of the strike against 20 retail firms in Port Arthur.

Shivers and Yarborough have made the strike a major campaign issue.

Shivers has said the strike, which was started last November by the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers of America, was Communist inspired. The DPOWA, which was found by the State Industrial Commission to be Communist dominated, has been disbanded in Port Arthur and the strike has been taken over by the CIO.

Mayor Roy Gillman and Commissioners Dick Eisler, Tom Dennis, O. D. James and M. J. Babin wired Shivers today. The complete text of their telegram was:

"The city commission of Port Arthur states that the strike situation in Port Arthur is very serious and not insignificant as stated by one city commissioner in a telegram to Ralph Yarborough."

The remaining member of the commission, B. N. Kutcher, has not announced his view of the situation.

Students Urged To Pre-Register At City Schools

Urgent reminders for pre-registration were issued Friday by school authorities with school opening only a week away.

At junior high school a total of 772 pupils had been pre-registered but there were indications that more than 200 others need to contact Principal Truett Johnson and staff Saturday morning or early next week to secure schedules.

At senior high Principal Roy Worley again appealed for those who did not pre-register last spring or who will be new to the Big Spring system in entering high school this year to contact his office as soon as possible.

He also pointed out that it is not necessary for those who pre-registered last spring (all students in high school were registered before end of the semester) to contact the office before opening of school. Except in unusual cases it may not be possible to change schedules at this late date. Changing from one class section to another is becoming increasingly difficult if not impossible because most class sections are filled and closed.

Schedules and home room assignments will be made at general assembly at 9 a.m. on Sept. 7, he said.

Johnson said that there had been 245 ninth graders, 239 eighth graders, and 270 seventh graders to obtain schedules at junior high. Based on enrollments of the corresponding sections last year, there are 228 more due to register. So far there have been about 50 new pupils to enroll.

At senior high Worley said there were 33 new students, with a third of them from out of state. They came from New York, Minnesota, Arkansas, New Mexico, and Montana.

Yarborough Rally Speaker Attacks 'Ruthless Machine'

About 200 enthusiastic backers of Ralph Yarborough last night heard Warren Burnett, Odessa, 70th District attorney, style the Allan Shivers organization as "a vicious, absolutely ruthless political machine."

Burnett said "the Port Arthur Story" has been Shivers' "only answer to the insurance, land deal and printing contract scandals."

He said the governor "seeks to brand Yarborough with his failure to end the Port Arthur strike which has been going on for 10 1/2 months and which Shivers says is 'Communist inspired.'"

Burnett was the principal speaker at a Yarborough rally held in the 300 block of Main. Alfred Goodson, Big Spring, also spoke briefly. Charlie Butts, Howard County campaign manager for Yarborough, presided. Music preceding the rally was provided by a string quartet consisting of T. J. Castle, T. J. Godwin, A. B. Craswell and Ronnie Burke.

Pat Bullock of Colorado City, former state senator, was scheduled to speak but he was wired that he was unable to attend because of another engagement.

Goodson, a city commissioner, pointed out that Yarborough has spoken favorably of the League of Texas Municipalities proposal for transfer of a portion of the state gasoline taxes to municipal governments.

He said also that Yarborough favors a change in automobile registration procedures so that a part of the fees would be transferred to cities. Goodson, member of the state executive board for the AFL, accused Shivers of "binging all things to all people." He said the governor has the endorsement of the Women's Christian Temperance Union as well as the blessings of Texas brewers and liquor distributors.

Burnett said that affidavits of ownership filed with the Post Office Department show that Shivers and members of his family held interests in the Mission Publishing Company when that firm received "thousands of dollars of printing contracts" from the state. He charged that Shivers has not denied this.

The Odessa attorney also declared that 17 insurance firms have "gone broke in Texas and even the attorney general is so under the influence of the governor that he won't investigate the insurance business until after the election Saturday."

Burnett charged that "the big gas pipeline companies which are taking millions of dollars of natural gas from Texas and pay only a negligible tax" are supporting Shivers in the governor's race.

Local candidates were invited to speak at the rally. Only one, G. E. (Red) Gilliam, was present and he declined to speak because, he said, he thought it would be "un-sporting" as his opponent was absent.

Brown pleaded guilty to the driver's license charge and was fined $50 and costs in County Court. She waived preliminary hearing in Justice Court and bail was set at $1,000.

Police said Mrs. Brown was driver of a car which collided with vehicles operated by Verl E. Sanderson, Midland, and Johnnie Derrall Hickson, Big Spring, at the Ray's Drive-In about 12:30 a.m.

She and Jackie Hedreth, a passenger in her car, were treated at Malone & Hogan Hospital for lacerations and other minor injuries.

Hero Winner In His Spat

PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—Credit ex-Air Force hero Clarence (Red) Mosley, who lost both hands and feet in Korea, with winning another battle—purely personal.

Red, 23, waded in yesterday and straightened out a little misunderstanding that almost put an end to his Sept. 25 wedding to Ruth Shaw.

"The wedding has been called off by mutual agreement," announced his future mother-in-law early in the day.

This came as a shock to Red, who denied his wedding was canceled but admitted he had a "little fight" with his 22-year-old fiancée the night before.

Red tried vainly for several hours to reach Ruth. He finally managed to see her and talked things out.

Ruth and her mother, Mrs. John Shaw, smilingly agreed with Red when he announced triumphantly: "Everything's going to be all right now."

Presidio Bridge Now Re-Opened

PRESIDIO, Tex. (AP)—The Rio Grande was back in its banks here today after downpours in mountains in the Mexican side of the border had sent floodwaters surging over lowland farm land earlier this week.

Damages, mostly to crops in low-lying river-bank farms unprotected by dikes, has been estimated at $75,000 to $100,000.

The international bridge connecting Presidio with Ojinaga, Mexico, was re-opened yesterday as the flood abated.

Polio Unit To Aid Crippled Children

Directors of the Howard-Glasscock Chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis agreed yesterday to assist the Society for Crippled Children by paying for braces and shoes needed by children in the two-county area.

The society's funds, allocated by the State Legislature, have been depleted and additional funds probably will not be given the society until the first of the year.

The directors voted to assist the society only until the society received new funds. Physicians at Texas polio centers have agreed to give free of charge their services to the patients. New victims and growth make necessary the purchase of new shoes and braces, however.

Payment of several outstanding bills also was approved at the Thursday meeting.

Present were Ira Thurman, Red Ware, Mrs. Morse Sawtelle, Jewel Barton, Mrs. W. O. Underwood and Edith Gay.

Spore Is Stolen

Frank of a Ford tire wheel and inner was reported in city police by Alvin Hambrick, 304 Gregg, Wednesday. The tire wheel and inner were a spare for his pickup, he said.

"This is an unmitigated lie," Shivers said he had been told his opponents have Communist members. This is false and most unjust and only causes more hatred and strife to the citizens of Port Arthur.

Walker said the state attorney general had investigated Port Arthur and found no Communists.

"It is an insult to the integrity of our city to even insinuate that any Communist influence is being used anywhere in Port Arthur," he said.

Burned Car Is Found In Lake

A badly-damaged 1951 Ford sedan, said to be in Midland last night, was pulled out of the old T&P Lake just southwest of Big Spring today.

Deputy Sheriff Miller Harris said the car apparently had been set afire and pushed into the lake sometime last night. It stood in about three feet of water when discovered this morning near the northwest shore of the old lake.

Harris reported interior of the car was gutted by flames. Spare tire and the casing on one rear wheel still were burning. Tracks of a barefoot person were followed from the water's edge to a point on the bank where shoe footprints started a trail toward Big Spring.

The car is owned by Glen H. Womack of Midland, Harris said. Womack reported theft of the vehicle last night. Local authorities had been on lookout for the stolen car, as well as for an older-model Ford used in a holdup getaway at Odessa last night.

World Christian Leaders Study Evangelism At Today's Session

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Christian leaders today turned to a discussion of their great, centuries-old, unfinished task — carrying the Gospel to millions of non-Christians.

Delegates to the Assembly of the World Council of Churches gathered to hear a report by the Committee on Evangelism.

Drafters of the report have heard many suggestions for increasing the number of Christians, who still are a minority in the world as a whole.

Among the ideas placed before them were these: Messages and methods should be directed more to workers, particularly in Asia and other areas where the Communists are trying to recruit them.

Laymen, including writers of widely circulated copy, should play a larger part in spreading the faith.

Effective use should be made of the media of mass communication — movies, radio, television, newspapers, magazines, books — in this era of competition for access to the minds of men.

The delegates realize Christian evangelists face a challenging task. They have been told that, despite their gains, the earth's total population is growing faster than the Christian population.

Evangelism is one of the sub-themes of the meeting of representatives of 158 denominations from 48 countries.

The main theme is "Christ—the Hope of the World."

A 51-page report on that subject was presented to the delegates Wednesday by a coordinating committee headed by Lutheran Bishop Hanns Lilje of Hannover, Germany.

It was accompanied by a statement from the committee. Debate, revolving principally about the statement, continued through the Wednesday night session without a decision.

A revised statement — subject to further revision — was scheduled to be placed before the delegates late today.

The report denounced communism as the road to "totalitarian dictatorship" and found some fault with democracies too.

IT HAPPENED

Genuine Joy Rider

MARLBORO, Mass. (AP)—Someone is driving a stolen car around the country without having much worry about buying gasoline.

That's indicated by gasoline bills received from 15 states by John L. Whelpley. His credit card, along with three blank checks, was stolen a month ago.

The car used by the thief was reported stolen July 28 in Putnam, Conn., from Emile P. Marquis of Webster, Mass.

The three checks, forged, were used to buy shoes, lodgings in a Framingham hotel and a bottle of liquor.

Opportunity Knocks

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—As Maurice Selvin, a Myrtle Beach lifeguard, raced to aid a swimmer, he dropped his wallet in the sand.

Who he returned for it, spectators told him they had seen a woman pick it up and run.

Watch Tale-Bearer

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Warden Alvin Wanger of Newark Street Jail admired the expensive gold wristwatch worn by one of his prisoners, 44-year-old Aole Carter. He asked for a look.

The inscription on the watch case read: "Presented to William Livett for a quarter-century service at Celanese Corporation—1931."

Carter admitted "a man named

Jimmie sold the watch to me for $40."

Police found that the watch belonged to Livett, a Newark man, who said he was mugged by three men Dec. 27, 1952.

Carter, jailed for arraignment on a morals charge, now faces an additional charge, that of receiving stolen property.

No Fear Of The Law

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Jack Rombough went into the police station to pay a traffic fine. While he was there, a thief stole a new pair of trousers from his parked car.

Close Legal Shave

BALTIMORE (AP)—Durned if those fellers down there in Washington didn't nearly have Maryland's young cowpokes rising up in arms.

They went and passed a law making it a federal crime to ship fireworks into Maryland.

Maryland's cowpunchers nervously fingered their cap pistols. Did it mean them?

No, sub, said Charles Mathias, an assistant attorney general. Whipping out his law books, he ruled that caps are illegal because they explode and are fireworks. But pistols don't explode and aren't.

"It was a close shave," confessed Mathias.

Korean Censorship Dies In Committee

SEOUL (AP)—A government-proposed bill to restrict foreign news agencies operating in South Korea has failed to reach the floor of the National Assembly.

The Assembly's Education Committee said it has decided not to even discuss the passage of the bill "in view of freedom of the press."

Mississippi Plans New Race Barrier

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. Hugh White has revealed another plank in the program to keep racial segregation in Mississippi schools.

He said yesterday he would ask the special session of the Legislature opening Sept. 7 to consider a bill forbidding anyone from stirring up race trouble by filing law suits.

The law would prohibit anyone except relatives of children attending schools from filing suits against school districts. It apparently means to strike at the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People and its efforts to desegregate schools.

Mouse's Nest Found Made Of U. S. Money

WILSON, Ohio (AP)—Workmen, remodeling Hollings' Inn, found a mouse's nest yesterday behind a wall board. It was made of $10 and $20 bills, torn into small pieces.

Mrs. Mary Kober, part owner of the inn, estimated the cash nest's value at $100.

Christianity Stays Home From World, Council Told

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Christianity has been staying home from work.

So said leaders of the faith today as they mapped means for putting their religion on a seven-day week.

Too long, said Dr. Athleen Biles of Kent, England, has Christianity got up and around only on Sundays and kept to the house the rest of the time.

The church, she said, "must also see daily work" — in business, industry and professions — "as a field of service to God."

Dr. Biles, of the Church of England, is chairman of a 100-member committee of the World Council of Churches Assembly which presents its report on Christian obligations of laymen today.

She said that the church in modern times has emphasized home and family life, but not men's occupations, as its realm of activity.

"This is probably why there are more women than men in the average congregation," she said. "There has been no application of Christianity to work a man does five days a week."

Col. Francis P. Miller, a Presbyterian layman of Charlottesville, Va., said that what the church needs is "not Sunday Christians, but Christians who find in every honorable profession a place where God is calling them."

"One of the most important factors bearing on the future of Christianity in this and other lands," he said, "is whether laymen and laywomen recognize their precious responsibility of carrying their faith into their jobs."

THE ENDLESS EASE

he likes hard work... as long as he doesn't have to do any!

The ENDLESS EASE is an advertising man who likes an ad program that "runs itself" — no matter what direction it runs in.

• He won't climb a sales peak... rather flow down hill.

He won't make a quick move... rather take a slow loss.

Fortunately he's a rare creature — almost extinct in today's tough market.

Most ad men today are probing deep. They're carefully weighing one market against the other — for product sales possibilities... for competitive opportunities. And they're finding sales plums they never knew existed.

And they're concentrating their advertising locally in the markets that show the most promise.

Naturally they're turning to newspapers to cover those markets fast and fully. Because just about all the people in each market read the newspaper every day.

Retailers know this, too. That's why they feature so strongly the products of manufacturers who advertise in the local newspaper.

It's a partnership that moves merchandise in volume — and in a hurry! That's why national advertisers upped their investment in newspapers 14.3% last year!

All business is local... and so are all newspapers!

In Howard County Politics ONE THING IS CERTAIN!

It is certain that the dope peddlers, the prostitutes, the white slavers, and the numberless criminals of all types, who have come here from all over the United States, and who are comfortably holed up here in Big Spring, will not vote for Jake Bruton for sheriff!

They are doing all they can to defeat him. Word has gone out among them that Jake Bruton must never be allowed to become Sheriff of Howard County again.

Immediately after December 31, 1952 (the day Jake Bruton left the sheriff's office after serving one term) known narcotics handlers and known white slavers moved into Big Spring and set up in business and have been prospering here since and expanding their illegal operations.

The coming of these known pimps, prostitutes, dope peddlers, procurers and white slave masters to Big Spring created a situation over in the "Flats" where two rival gangs sought the monopoly of dope peddling and prostitution. Up until the time Jake Bruton announced as a candidate for sheriff, a few months ago, these two gangs had not been able to agree on anything. And while they may still be in disagreement on most things, there is one thing on which they do agree — they have agreed that Jake Bruton must not be elected sheriff of Howard County again!

In the July 24th Primary election, these prostitutes, their pimps and masters to whom they pay cash royalties, these procurers and dope peddlers, and all the criminal horde, voted as a unit against Jake Bruton!

In this run-off primary they will again vote as a unit against him!

This declaration by the criminal element that is operating openly and without fear in Big Spring today, is a challenge and an open-handed slap at our churches, our schools, and at all decent, clean and respectable people in this community — especially to the fathers and mothers of Howard County boys and girls.

In proportion to population, Big Spring is now harboring more known criminals with records, than any other city in Texas — probably more than any other city its size in the nation. And, this is a condition that has developed in the past 18 months and since Jake Bruton left the sheriff's office, after serving only one term. Known criminals, both men and women, and of all types (sexual and otherwise) have flocked to Big Spring because the word has gone out through the underworld nation-wide, that: "You won't be bothered in Big Spring, Texas," and they haven't been bothered.

Organized prostitution with its inherent threat of disease and corruption of morals, is an accomplished fact in Big Spring today, with its women being brought in and taken out of here on a regular schedule between other Texas points where the same white slave ring maintains stations. This situation has developed in the last 18 months.

There is an answer to the question of why these things aren't reported to the federal narcotics agents and other enforcement agencies. It is because federal narcotics agents have found it impossible to work in Big Spring because they cannot get the official assistance and cooperation they must have to successfully complete an investigation and develop a case to that point where a conviction can be gotten. One of these federal agents, who came here to do "undercover" work (within the last 18 months), without first notifying local authorities of his presence, was even exposed, and his life endangered, and he was officially threatened, simply because he had not let certain people know in advance that he would be here. He couldn't afford to notify them of his presence because he had good reason to believe, and in good faith did believe, he would be exposed to the dope peddlers he was trying to catch.

Other federal and state investigative officers have experienced the same thing in Big Spring and Howard County. For example:

Several months ago (and within the past 12 months) one of the best undercover narcotics agents in the service of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and a man who has "made" many other cases elsewhere, came here on an investigation of the marihuana and heroin traffic, and also other opiate and barbiturate dope violations. He worked about one month here in Big Spring and made one case. And that one case was on one marihuana cigarette that was given to him and not sold to him. And there was a reason for his failure. It was this: Before this state agent came here (with the knowledge of a certain law enforcement officer) certain of the dope peddlers knew he was coming; they knew about when he would arrive; they knew where he would be, and some particular ones of them even had a good description of him! They were alerted to be on the lookout for him and not to get caught, and yet, his coming here was supposed to have been an official secret known to but one local law enforcement officer!

He was brought here, exposed, double-crossed and his work sabotaged, for two reasons:

The first of these reasons was purely political.

The second of these reasons was that certain "opposition" peddlers were to be thrown in his path, so as to remove that much competition from a certain North Side kingpin of the dope and prostitution rackets.

The man who leaked out this "official" secret did his job too well. Almost everybody over there in the Flats, who was concerned, got the word, and some who weren't supposed to get it, got it anyway.

Federal narcotics records show there are more known dope peddlers in Big Spring (most of them operating from one North Side address) than in any other city its size in the whole Southwest, and possibly in the United States. The organization (and organizations) operating in here have direct connections with, and are a part of, the dope and white slave rackets in San Antonio, Houston, the George Parr Dukedom, and other points in Texas and neighboring states, and have direct connections with rings operating in Kansas City, and even as far away as New York City, and other industrial centers in the North and East.

Big Spring has become an important link in the national marihuana chain. It is one of the main distribution points for the "weed" in this country. Narcotics officers believe thousands of pounds of the stuff have passed through Big Spring in the last 18 months.

There has not been a real, an honest, a sincere marihuana or opiate or white slave investigation, major arrest or raid made in Howard County since Jake Bruton left the sheriff's office, some 19 months ago. The first 18 months Jake Bruton was in the sheriff's office, for his one term, his good work netted 30 good narcotic indictments, on marihuana valued at retail at $40,000, as against only seven such indictments for all the officers in this city and county during the past 19 months, and these seven indictments represent but a few cigarettes, and most of these were seized by city police in the course of their routine work.

Don't let anybody try to tell you that no narcotic investigations, or raids or arrests are being made simply because the town has been cleaned up and there aren't any narcotics here. That is not true. There are more narcotics being peddled in Big Spring today than ever before, and more openly and with greater impunity.

There is narcotic peddling going on here simply because there ARE NOT being any investigations, raids or arrests made in this a healthy situation in which we expect our boys and girls to grow up?

It is because of the type of law enforcement in which Jake Bruton believes, and which he practices, that certain people have decided that Jake Bruton must never be sheriff of this county again.

Recent grand juries have not been able to make full investigations of the true conditions here because their efforts have been officially resented and hampered. Wanted witnesses have gotten the word in advance and have thus been able to evade giving testimony before grand juries. Grand jury suggestions and recommendations concerning law enforcement have been officially defied or ignored.

This is no time to pussy-foot, pull punches or speak softly. The situation is too serious and dangerous. Your life, your property, the welfare of your children and other loved ones is at stake.

It is a situation, however, that can be corrected with the election of one man. There is no point in the good people of Howard County waiting for the Attorney General of Texas and the federal officers to come in and clean up this mess that many of our best citizens are wholly unaware of. We can, and we must, do this cleaning up ourselves, and we can do it ourselves by putting Jake Bruton back in the sheriff's office, and by doing this by such a majority in this run-off election that there will be no threat of a back-door, secretive write-in candidate in November, such as Bruton had to overcome in November of 1950, when his twice defeated opponent came back and got 743 votes.

Ask your pastor what he knows about conditions in Big Spring. Ask your pastor what he knows about Jake Bruton.

Know the truth before you cast your ballot in the sheriff's race. We didn't have conditions like these when Jake Bruton was sheriff before. We have never before had conditions so bad in Howard County!

Yes, know the truth before you cast your ballot in the sheriff's race, and as the good citizen you are, don't vote with the prostitutes, the thugs, the pimps, the dope peddlers, the white slavers, but vote for Jake Bruton.

Vote to restore Howard County to that condition in which the federal narcotics agents, the state narcotics agents, the Texas Rangers, and other investigative officers can come in here and be genuinely welcomed and given the cooperation and assistance that they should receive from other law enforcement agencies everywhere, as they do their part in keeping communities clean of vice dens and criminal nests. Let's give our elected prosecutors and our grand juries the assistance and cooperation they must have to effectively carry on.

Let's clean these diseased prostitutes, white slavers, dope peddlers and pimps out of Big Spring.

Let's vote for the man that the criminal element will vote against.

Let's elect J. E. "JAKE" BRUTON sheriff of Howard County for his second term.

Yankees Sew Up City LL Title

The Yankees still reign supreme in City Little League baseball play.

D. R. Gartman's National League titlists blanked the American League, 7-0, behind the three-hit hurling of Jay LeFevre Thursday night to clinch the city crown without loss of a game.

The Yanks cut loose with a 10-hit attack off Mike Zubiate and Ronnie Carlson, scoring one in the first, three in the third and three in the sixth inning.

Kenny Kesterson, Jay LeFevre, and August Joe Lueddecke each collected two hits for the winners while Jimmy Tucker, Jay LeFevre and Rufus Rowland collected one each.

Jay LeFevre delivered a third inning double that drove in three runs for the winners.

The Yanks have captured the City crown the past three seasons, all under the management of Gartman.

Detroit Awaits 'Skin Invasion'

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions, poised and proven, make their first home start of the 1954 season tonight in an exhibition game with the Washington Redskins, making their first start under a new coach.

Joe Kuharich, former Notre Dame star lineman, has had charge of the Washington club only since Sunday, when the veteran Curly Lambeau was fired as head coach.

The National Football League champion Lions, on the other hand, go into the charity contest fresh from a 31-6 swamping of the College All-Stars and a 17-14 exhibition victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Washington was considered a leading contender for the NFL's Eastern division honors in some pre-season ratings. But the "skins" took two straight pastings last week on the West Coast—27-7 by the Los Angeles Rams and 30-7 by the San Francisco 49ers.

In 21 starts for the year, the Yankees won 17 decisions. The four decisions they lost were in National League competition.

San Angelo Opposes Broncs Here Tonight

Stopped by wet grounds last night, the Big Spring Broncs return to action here this evening, at which time they meet Hillis Layne's San Angelo Colts. Game time is 8:15 p.m.

The two teams clash again here Saturday night, after which the Steeds hit the road for five days.

Despite an afternoon shower Thursday, it appeared for a long time that the Broncs and Odessa were going to get to play. Manager Pepper Martin of the Broncs burned gasoline to dry up the skinned part of the infield, only to have light showers around 7 p.m. spoil his efforts.

The Broncs wanted to play that one, since it was Odessa's final trip in here and the cancellation means that it has been lost for good.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Floyd Martin, who never before hit with such authority as he has this season, has taken it out on the Midland Indians.

Nine of his home runs were rapped off Midland hurling.

The Big Spring outfielder has hit a home run in every Longhorn League Park this season save the one at Roswell.

Big Spring fans who motor to Andrews Sept. 10 for the Steers-Mustang football imbroglio may be surprised that the Andrews grid facilities are better than the ones here.

Quite obviously, the Andrews school system has ample money and knows how to use it.

Its football stadium will seat 4,000 persons. Most of the permanent seats are on the west side of the field. New dressing rooms are being built for the Mustangs.

The Mustangs now have a fine practice field, which means the playing field should be in perfect shape when the host team takes the field against the Steers a week from Friday night.

It wouldn't be surprising to see a crowd upwards to 5,000 flock to the game. The Steers played to few bigger crowds in 1953.

The Stanton Buffaloes should field as powerful a first 11 as there is in Class A ball in West Texas. The Bison bench is questionable, however.

Lack of reserves could hurt the Bisons. As long as Coach Melvin Robertson can keep his first team healthy, he'll do alright. If the hospital toll mounts, then trouble may rear its ugly head.

In a Longhorn League meeting held Thursday in Odessa, loop directors agreed on a minimum of $20 a club can charge for season tickets.

San Angelo sold its ducats for $10 each this year and Bob Martin, the local manager, had thought of doing the same in 1955.

When Martin made public his plans several weeks ago, he said he could not do it if the Broncs occupied the same park next year, however. There would be no use, he pointed out, of selling 3,000 or 4,000 season tickets for a park that seated no more than 2,000 at the most.

Now the league directors have taken the problem off his hands.

If the $20 ducat is sold, however, it will be respected in any park in the league and not simply in the home stadium. In other words, the ducat will be good for 132 and not 69 games, as would have been the case under the previous plan.

Fans will be able to drive to Midland, Odessa or San Angelo—or make the longer trips to New Mexico if they prefer—and not have to cough up money for tickets.

It sounds like a good idea. In all instances, home clubs will keep all the money they derive from the sale of season tickets.

At Greenville, Sports Writer Jere Cox is predicting that Sherman will win the District 3-AAA grid title and Gainesville—which met Big Spring in the playoffs in 1953—will finish no higher than fourth.

CRUCIAL DAYS AWAIT TEAMS

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The next five days will tell the story of the 1954 National League pennant race.

The front-running New York Giants open a two-game series against Charlie Grimm's Milwaukee Braves, the league's hottest team, tonight, with the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers moving in for four starting with a Sunday double-header.

The Braves, boasting 30 victories and only 10 losses since the All-Star break July 13, will throw long Gene Conley (13-6) and veteran Warren Spahn (15-10) against the Giants in their determined drive for the flag. Sal (The Barber) Maglie and Ruben Gomez were the likely New York choices.

The Giants, who held a commanding 1 1/2-game lead when the Braves opened up their drive, were down to only 6 1/2 when they moved in for the vital series. The Braves have beaten the league leaders in their last six meetings, sweeping three-game series both here and at New York.

"If we're gonna win it, we gotta win it here," Grimm repeated again yesterday after the Braves had won their fourth in a row, beating Philadelphia, 3-2.

Sinton Wins First Start In Tourney At Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The Wichita Boeing Bombers, strong contenders for the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament title, play their second game of the double-elimination meet tonight against the Columbus, Ohio Beulah Park Jockeys.

Each team has won one game and lost none. The Wichita club, runnerup last year, beat Nellis, Nev., Air Force Base, 4-0, on the opening night of the tournament a week ago. Ken Hemphill pitched a no-hitter for Wichita.

The Columbus club, trounced New Orleans, La., Holsum Sunbeams, 10-2, in its first game last Wednesday.

In the feature contest last night, the Sinton, Tex., Oilers beat the Smithfield, N.C., Leafs, 4-2. Cherokee, Okla., walloped the Virgin

Pickens Records 19th Hill Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Groundskeepers started the game with a bonfire and Frank Pickens kept the blaze going in his own way at Midland Thursday night, hurling the Indians to a 2-1 victory over Roswell in the Longhorn League.

Pickens won his 19th game with a five-hitter that included Joe Bauman's 62nd home run of the year.

Other league action included Carlsbad's 11-6 victory over Sweetwater and San Angelo's 3-1 triumph over Artesia. Odessa and Big Spring were washed out.

Midland got only three hits off Steve Nunez and Mario Casilo, but made them count along with six walks. Pickens walked eight.

Bauman's homer, a fourth-inning blast, left him seven home runs away from the all-time record for organized baseball.

Soviet Tracksters Lack Real Depth

By MILT MARMOR

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Just how far have the Russians come since Helsinki in their calculated drive to build a track and field team that can rival America in Olympic competition?

They have made marked progress, it's true, as results in two days of competition in the European Track and Field Championships here have shown.

But they still lack depth once you get past their outstanding stars.

And you need those seconds and thirds in world class competition. The Soviets also don't appear to have a well-rounded squad when they face the outside world.

Here yesterday at Neufeld Stadium they failed to place a man in the 100-meter final.

Winner Heinz Furrer of Germany had a time of 10.5 and he was the only finalist who could measure up against America's crack sprinters.

Such top Russian men as hop, step and jump world record holder Leonid Scherbakov and 400-meter hurdles world beater Yryj Lituev appear able to hold their places as No. 1 in their specialties. Ardalon Ignatjev ran 400 meters almost coasting in 47 flat in the semifinal and looks capable of battling anyone for first place.

But there's no one too outstanding in the 800 or 1,500 meters. Eugenij Bulanchik, held 110-meter hurdler, may win the European title here for he's not in the class of American hurdlers.

Most titles still are to be decided but Russia has entered nobody of importance in the high or broad jumps.

They boast world class men in the javelin and hammer and athletes of substance in the shot and discus.

Russia still has two more years before the Melbourne Olympics in 1956. They have come along well since 1952 and the next years of competition against the outside world should bear results.

Giants And Braves Renew NL Rivalry

Bobby Thomson Is In Lineup

By The Associated Press
The Bobby Thomson-Johnny Antonelli winter trade between New York and Milwaukee is shaping up more and more as the key to the 1954 National League pennant.

It's been almost all in the Giants' favor so far. Thomson broke his ankle during a spring training and has been benched as a regular until this week. But tonight and tomorrow the Braves get their chances to reap a few dividends.

Milwaukee has beaten New York six in a row and when the Giants invade County Stadium for this two-game series, they'll find Thomson fit and ready for the first time.

The Scots-born outfielder, a hustler with a natural flair for inspiring his mates, personally accounted for the first victory in the Braves' string over the Giants when he drove in the winning run as a pinch hitter in Milwaukee July 23.

In his second game in the starting lineup he drilled two doubles and a single yesterday as the Braves edged Philadelphia, 3-2, and crept within 6½ games of the Giants.

Antonelli, the Giants' prize in the deal, won't show against his former mates. He worked yesterday, winning his 19th game by shading the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in the second half of a double-header. The Cubs snapped a seven-game New York winning spurge with a 4-3 verdict in the opener.

Second-place Brooklyn, 3½ behind New York, was idle yesterday but opens a four-game series in St. Louis tonight.

The Cardinals held on to fourth place last night although they lost, 2-1, to Pittsburgh. Jerry Lynch drove in both runs and bonus rookie Laurin Pepper recorded his first major league victory.

In the American League, Cleveland edged Washington, 2-1, New York thumped Detroit, 11-2, Chicago split with the Philadelphia Athletics, winning, 8-1, but losing, 4-1, and Baltimore broke its 14-game losing streak, defeating Boston, 5-3.

The Indians, who lead the Yankees by 4½ games, needed an eighth-inning homer by Al Smith to down the Senators although Early Wynn gave up just two hits in registering his 18th triumph.

Irv Noren, American League batting leader, slammed four hits in New York's runaway against the Tigers. Bob Grim gave up eight hits in winning his 17th game, tops on the Yankee staff, and was backed by a 17-hit attack.

Sandy Consuegra won No. 16 for Chicago in the opener at Philadelphia but the White Sox fell nine games behind Cleveland when Bill Renna hit a two-run homer and Joe DeMaestri a two-run triple in the second game.

The Orioles pounded eight doubles and four singles in breaking out of their losing streak at Boston. Bob Turley blanked the Red Sox until the eighth, when Ted Williams homered into the right field stands. The blast was the 24th of the season for Williams and the 36th of his career, putting him in a tie with Joe DiMaggio for fifth in the all-time list.

Milwaukee's victory came in the last of the ninth inning when Danny O'Connell slashed a bases-loaded single with two out off loser Herm Wehmer.

Willie Mays had four hits in four times up in the first game, including his 38th home run. Ralph Kiner singled home the winning Chicago run in the eighth. The deciding tally in the second game also was scored in the eighth when Dusty Rhodes doubled home Don Mueller.

Decker's Mark Is In Danger

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Base-stealing isn't a lost art as far as Osmond Walker, 29-year-old Cuban is concerned.

Walker, playing with Abilene of the West Texas-New Mexico League, has blazed around the base paths for 60 pilfered sacks this season and is hot on the trail of the league record of 87 set in 1928 by Bob Decker of Big Spring. He has more than 20 games left in which to do it.

Osmond's efforts compare quite favorably with the men of 30 years ago who thought nothing of swiping 75 bases in a season.

But for a shoulder injury, Osmond might already be over the league record and sipping at the immortal Ty Cobb at Detroit in 1915.

OVER EL PASO

Longhorn Issues WT-NM Challenge

MIDLAND, (SC) — Longhorn League Club owners gathered to iron-out playoff details at Odessa Thursday—but wound up hurling a challenge at the West Texas-New Mexico League.

No names were mentioned in the official statement issued by Pres. Harry James, but his declaration obviously referred to the WT-NM's action Wednesday in admitting El Paso to its fold for 1955.

Most owners regarded the move as an invasion of their territory and the Longhorn League was determined to woo El Paso away from the WT-NM.

James' statement follows: "The Longhorn League at a continuous five hour meeting accomplished a great deal in finishing up its business and the League was confident it had carried out its baseball program as promised. In the spring, namely one offering fast, honest baseball.

"The League's objective through the coming winter and

Last Friday Night Races In Offing

After tonight, stock car races at the Big Spring Speedway will be held on Tuesday evening of each week rather than on Friday, Track Owner N. L. (Pat) Patterson has announced.

The change is being made to avoid conflict with the schoolboy football program, Patterson stated.

Tonight's races begin at 8 o'clock and 12 or 15 cars are due to race, including several from Midland.

In last week's program here, Raymond Hamby, driving Car 88, emerged as leading money winner. Tommy Ratliff, in Car 411, was second and Woody Woodard, in 44, was third.

Car 13, entered out of Midland, was damaged in an accident but the driver escaped unhurt.

Stewart Is Named Alice Grid Coach

ALICE, (AP) — Appointment of Charles Stewart as football coach at Alice Junior High School was announced here yesterday.

Sweeny Reaches Semi-Finals

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. DETROIT (AP)—The least noticed, and possibly the best, of the prominent golfers in the 1954 National Amateur Championship is Robert Sweeny, who moves in the best social, financial and golfing circles of Long Island, Palm Beach and London.

He's a tall, debonair man with a touch of gray in his hair at the temples and a touch of Oxford in his accent. He's an American citizen, born in Pasadena, Calif., 43 years ago, but he divides his time between this country and England and Europe. He has played in the British Amateur Championship many more times than in the American.

Going into today's 36-hole semi-finals, he was the only "same" player left in the tournament and his name was one that had been half-forgotten by everyone but his opponents until he came through yesterday with a sharp 4 and 3 victory over Dale Morey, last year's runner-up.

The other survivors were Arnold Palmer, a 24-year-old former Coast Guardsman and Wake Forest College player who is rated top among the rising young amateur stars; 26-year-old Eddie Meister, who may have won more matches in this tournament than anyone around; and Dr. Ted Lenczyk, 23-year-old Newton, Conn., dentist whose golf reputation has been obscured by that of his sister Grace.

The semifinal matches sent the two Clevelanders, Palmer and Meister, against one another, and Sweeny against Lenczyk. Meister has played in 13 U.S. Amateur championships, going as far as the fifth round in 1935 and again in 1952.

Palmer was knocked out of his first amateur by Frank Stranahan in the first round in 1930. He gained ample revenge yesterday by eliminating the eager Stranahan 3 and 1 and then going on to beat Don Cherry 1-up, after a tense, erratic struggle.

For Sweeny, this is the fourth American championship since he went to the quarter-finals at Baltusrol in 1946. He's exempt from qualifying, as a former British Amateur champion, but he came here only because a business deal in Texas fell through and he had some time on his hands.

Saturday Noon Is Deadline For Ducat Option Renewals

Persons who held season tickets for 1953 home football games of the Big Spring Steers have only until Saturday noon to renew their options for the same locations for this year's games.

The School Tax Office, which is accepting orders for the ducats, will remain open until 12 noon tomorrow for that purpose.

These tickets not renewed will be placed on the open market and be made available to the general public on a "first come, first serve" basis.

At 10 a.m. today, 475 tickets — priced at $6 each and good for five home games — had been sold.

In addition, 150 applicants for ducats are on file at the Tax Office and will be made available Monday morning. The Tax Office personnel are accepting applications for new locations but cannot fill them until the deadline for 1953 ticket holders is passed.

Last year, an estimated 900 season tickets were sold and school officials expressed hope that that figure would be exceeded this year.

18 Boys Training At Garden City

GARDEN CITY, (SC) — Eighteen boys reported to Coach Targe Lindsay this week for opening six-man football workouts at Garden City High School.

Lindsay said several more would probably suit on when school gets under way next week.

The Bearcats launch their season here Sept. 10 with Flower Grove.

Lee Elder Is Links Leader

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas' Lee Elder led professional division golfers into the second round of the United Golf Assn.'s Negro National Championship Tournament here today after firing a one-under-par 78 in yesterday's opening round.

Nineteen pros are competing for the meet's $1,200 prize money.

Three players are bracketed for second place with 72. They are defending champion Charlie Sifford of Philadelphia, Bill Spiller of Los Angeles and Booker Blair of Chicago.

Next in line with 73 are Lonnie Newhouse of Fort Worth and Bob Horton of Chicago.

Defending amateur titleholder Willard Nash of Dallas and Joe Roach of St. Louis moved into the third round of their division. Nash beat Grady Rayson of Dallas 3 and 2 and Roach ousted Douglas Smith of Dallas 4 and 3 in second round matches yesterday.

In the women's amateur division, medalist Eolene Thornton of Los Angeles was still rated the top contender as the field narrowed to four players, all former champions or runners-up. Miss Thornton beat Amelia Lucas 3 and 2 yesterday.

State Department To Shun Campaign

By JOHN A. SCALI
 WASHINGTON 18 — Top State Department officials, including security-inspection chief E. W. Scott McLeod, reportedly have decided to make no campaign speeches this fall in an effort to keep foreign policy from becoming a political football.

All 17 officials who hold the politically appointed rank of assistant secretary or higher are reported taking their cues from Secretary Dulles, who has firmly ruled out any role for himself in partisan Republican speechmaking prior to the November congressional elections.

While Dulles has issued no written instructions, officials said his "no politics" view has been made known throughout the department in clear terms.

Dulles gave an indication of his feelings on this point at his press conference Tuesday when he spoke glowingly of foreign policy bipartisanship efforts since 1944. Recalling that he first acted as a GOP foreign policy consultant during that campaign year, he said bipartisanship since has led to a stable, continuous policy "such as is needed in these dangerous times."

Whether foreign policy will actually be kept out of the political arena this year remains to be seen. A number of candidates have said it may become a major issue. McLeod, whose Lincoln Day speechmaking in the Midwest last February prompted a storm of Democratic criticism, is reported to have "no plans whatever" for taking the political stump over the next two months.

Dulles has scheduled two foreign policy speeches during the next few weeks before what are described as "nonpartisan" audiences in Kansas City and Minneapolis. Aides emphasized the talks will be in the nature of foreign policy reviews and will avoid anything which might smack of campaign oratory.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Several good names might be given to the present age. One of these is the Age of Steel and Electricity. Another could be the Age of Speed.

Think of the changes in the past few centuries! Two hundred years ago, the best overland speeds were made by running or riding. An athlete could run a mile in four and a half or five minutes, but that was less than 14 miles an hour. (During recent months, two men have run the mile in less than four minutes, but even their speed was less than 16 miles an hour.)

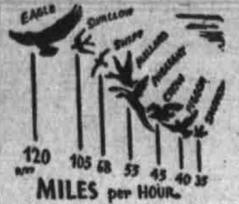

For a short distance, a man on horseback may travel at the rate of 20 miles an hour, but this pace can be kept up for hardly two minutes. A rider of 200 years ago did well if he covered 100 miles in an entire day with changes of mounts.

At the same time that men were going slowly, birds must have made good speeds. No reason exists to suggest that birds have changed their flying speeds during the past two centuries. We can figure their past speed from the present.

The birds called finches travel rather slowly. They make only about 18 miles an hour. The woodcock is even slower, with a rate of 12 miles an hour.

Gulls and sparrows are faster, making hourly speeds of 20 to 25 miles. A mallard may travel 35 miles in an hour.

Near the top of the list is the golden eagle, which has been clocked at 120 miles an hour. The peregrine falcon seems to be the fastest bird, with reported speeds of two and a half miles a minute, or a bit more.

Balloons and airplanes made it possible for men to fly, in a sense of the word. The airplane, or heavier-than-air flying machine, has become a success only during the present century.

Early airplane pilots made speeds of less than a mile a minute. Later came planes which startled people by going three or four miles a minute. During the past year men in rocket planes have traveled twice as fast as sound waves, or about two-fifths of a mile a second. Tomorrow: Letters About Bioriot.

DATE DATA

If You Have To Ditch Him, Do It Tactfully

Dear Miss Brandon:
 I have a dilly of a problem and need a dilly of an answer to solve it. I have been going pretty regularly with a certain boy, and though I like him, I don't like him enough to spend all my time with him. Though I date other boys, he refuses to date other girls. Now a dance has come up in which the girls are supposed to ask the boys, and I am sure he expects me to ask him. I would just as soon not go if he must be my date, yet I don't want to hurt his feelings. Cathy

Poor boy. He has made the mistake so many boys do. He has been painfully and pitifully obvious about his feelings too soon. When a boy lets a girl know how much he cares before he has reason to feel that she may return his feeling, he is placing himself in a very vulnerable position. Girls seldom want what is too easily won, and the reward for his ardor is heartbreak. Cathy can't be blamed for wanting to play the field when he has not won her heart, either. In fact, she deserves three rousing cheers of applause for being so honest and trying to encourage him to do the same instead of leading him on.

By all means, she should ask another boy to the dance, provided he is one she has dated at some time before. She needs to offer no apology or explanation to Old Faithful. They are not going steady, and hers, therefore, is a free choice.

Old Faithful may get his feelings hurt, but it may also shock him into reality. Cathy could continue dating him occasionally if she likes, but she should be extra careful to avoid letting the relationship reach a personal basis.

Michigan Fugitive Surrenders, Seeks To Settle Counts

DETROIT (AP) — Irving Goldfarb, a 32-year-old fugitive from Southern Michigan Prison, surrendered to Detroit police yesterday, saying, "We want the chance to start over again—with the record clean."

At his side was his wife Shirley. "Shirley and I talked it over," Goldfarb told police. "We figured the best thing for all of us would be for me to give myself up and when I do get out, we can start clean. We've got a 3-year-old daughter. We're thinking of her, too."

Goldfarb escaped from a prison farm six weeks ago. He still has a minimum of five years to serve. He was originally sentenced in 1944 to a 7½ to 15-year term. Paroled in 1948, he was arrested in 1950 and sentenced to one to four years for burglary.

Miss Universe, When 10, Used To Cry Because She Was 'Ugly'

By DEL BOOTH
WINNSBORO, S. C., Aug. 27 (AP)—Miriam Stevenson used to sit in front of her mirror and cry, because she thought she was ugly. But that was when she was 10. Now, at 21, this self-styled ugly duckling is acclaimed the most beautiful girl in the world. The freckles which made her tearful at 10 turned into an asset which helped win her the title of Miss U.S.A., as the most wholesome American Beauty, and led to her selection as Miss Universe. How does one grow an American Beauty?

That was the question put to Miriam's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stevenson. The recipe seems to be: take a normal little girl, give her a happy rural childhood and lots of buttermilk, healthy portions of fun and family love and let nature take its course. Locating the prosperous Stevenson farm with its one-story frame house is no problem at all to a stranger—everyone in these parts knows the Stevensons.

If you tried to classify Miriam, you'd probably put her down as an outdoor girl.

"She always wanted to be outside," her mother says, "and it always was hard to get her to wear much except rough clothes, like blue jeans."

Yet even before she began school she had learned to sew and cook, and she had designed and made nearly all her own clothes since she was half way through grammar school. En route to the Miss Universe contest in California, her luggage was lost in transit. So the dress she wore in the preliminaries was one she had designed and made herself.

Her prizes include a movie contract at Universal-International for six weeks at $250 weekly. For this she will postpone her senior year in college. And the studio says she also will give up her Southern accent.

"Now that will be something," mused her 58-year-old father, "unless Miriam is willing. She's always been right determined about things."

Hollywood will be her first real professional acting experience. She appeared in a couple of pageants at Lebanon Presbyterian Church, up the road from the Stevenson farm. Last year she had a short turn at summer stock in the North Carolina mountains too. As might be expected from proud parents, the Stevensons think Miriam is just about as good as daughters come.

"She was always willing," says her mother, "always helpful, never making any trouble."

Miriam's childhood social life hinged on the three centers of the American way of living—home, church and school.

She was five weeks old when she was first taken to church and was a gold star winner for attendance at Sunday school all during her school days. At college she has been active as a Sunday school teacher and in leadership of various church organizations.

Like most farm boys and girls, Miriam was active in 4-H Club work. She copies her father by specializing in raising Guernsey dairy cattle. One heifer she had in her high school days won the county Guernsey show first prize. At times she's had as many as a dozen, some of which she sold to help pay her way through college.

"Of course we help her, but she likes to make her own way," her father put in. "Always has, as a matter of fact."

Other than playing the clarinet in the high school band, Miriam's interest in the arts has been confined to dress designing.

Her first beauty contest was at the age of 9 or 10, in a county contest for grammar school girls. She lost.

Not until she was in college did the beauty contest road really open up for her, and it did so with a bang.

The start was selection as the freshman bride in the Lander College annual junior-freshmen pageant, given at the close of the school year.

She was Miss Lander College the next year, and then Miss Greenwood, the South Carolina city in which the four-year women's college is located.

As Miss Greenwood in 1952-53, she won the title of Miss South Carolina and a crack at last year's Miss America contest, where she was among the 10 finalists.

Sandwiched in were appearances at the Charleston Azalea Festival, the Sumter Iris Festival and other celebrations in this and neighboring states.

"There were so many I can't recall them all," her mother said. "But it seemed as though she was on the go all the time."

So much so that she had to drop a work scholarship at Lander, where she waited on tables for $100 a year. Lander officials gave her an honor scholarship in the same amount, so she didn't lose.

The time taken up by all those contests and public appearances didn't hurt her studies—she was an A and B student all through school. A popular one too.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson might be referred to by some people as "modern" parents—that is, they let Miriam grow up doing what she wanted to do, with plenty of guidance but without much interference "as long as what she did was right."

In perfect health all her life, Miriam's only dietary quirk is a great love for buttermilk. She'll drink two or three glasses of buttermilk with every meal, and that much at sittings between meals, if it's handy.

Many Writers Wealthy In Russia, Due To Prizes

MOSCOW (AP)—This may be news to many people in the capitalist West, but a writer can get to be a millionaire in Communist Russia—and a number do.

One way to wealth is for an author to win a rich Stalin Prize for his novel, play, poetry or essay.

Now there appear complaints that Stalin Prizes are awarded too frequently, and sometimes for unworthy products, giving wealth and fame to the wrong people.

There has been much activity in the Soviet literary world these last few months as the writers prepare for the second All-Union Congress of Soviet Writers this fall.

Preliminaries to the congress have included the expulsion of a number of prominent writers from the union on charges ranging from drunkenness and embezzlement to ideological backsliding and immoral conduct.

And then came Valentin Ovechkin, Soviet author best known for his 1947 novel "Greetings From the Front," to charge that too much money is a root of evil in Soviet literary life. Ovechkin made his complaint in a three-column article in Literary Gazette.

"Some of our writers have become very rich men," he wrote.

"Every year a large number of books are submitted to the judging committees for Stalin Prizes. But this has not always served the development of our literature but actually often led to a decline in the quality of work."

"Many authors hurriedly to compete in the annual judging, nor was the judging always good. Sometimes a novel would be awarded a Stalin Prize although the reading public has ignored it or found it unworthy."

Ovechkin suggested it might be better to award Stalin Prizes every three or five years instead of annually to make the competition keener and improve the judging.

There are three Stalin Prizes given annually for novels, poetry, plays and essays. First prize in each category is 100,000 rubles, second 50,000 and third 25,000. (The ruble is officially rated at four to the American dollar.)

Sectarian Strife Is Threat To Lebanon

by WILTON WYNN
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Sectarian strife threatened Lebanon when rioting Moslems closed down Beirut in a three-day protest strike recently.

The strike was called ostensibly to protest publication of a pamphlet allegedly insulting the prophet Mohammed. But Moslem groups used the issue to press for a new deal in their relations with the nation's dominant Christian element.

This country of 1,200,000 population has a nominal Christian majority. A traditional land of minorities, Lebanon has a delicate system of balances among religious sects to preserve the rights of each.

Lebanon's Parliament is elected on the basis of proportional representation of religious sects. Maronite (Roman Catholic) Christians have the largest bloc of seats, with Sunni Moslems next. This works on down to the Armenians, who have two seats. Protestants, Jews, Bahais, and Jehovah's Witnesses are represented by one seat, chosen for minorities.

The President of the republic always is a Maronite Christian, while the prime minister is a Sunni Moslem. The speaker of the Chamber of Deputies is a Shiite Moslem. The deputy speaker is Greek Orthodox.

Almost every Cabinet formed offers a balance among religious groups. Some ministries by tradition have become the property of specific sects. The minister of defense, for example, almost always is a Druze, while the foreign minister normally is a Maronite.

Some Moslems are becoming impatient with the system. There is a strong suspicion here that Moslems, with a higher birthrate, now are in the majority. This has stimulated recent Moslem demands for either a new census (which they believe will prove they are the dominant power), or abolition of the sectarian system in government. In case of the latter course, they believe their claimed numerical majority will guarantee Moslem political domination.

The Moslem National Front recently presented this demand to the government and declared a new strike would be called if the government didn't agree.

Among many compromise proposals was one recently offered by Socialist-minded Deputy Abdullah Halil, who proposed abolition of the present sectarian system and division of Lebanon into cantons along the lines of the Swiss federation.

Millionaires Given Free Shoe Shines

HOUSTON (AP)—Ten millionaires gathered in the offices of Jesse H. Jones yesterday to have their shoes shined.

Jones decided to make the job easy for Floyd Jackson, 43-year-old Los Angeles man who came here to fulfill a mission as a contestant on a TV show.

Jackson had been promised $100 for each shine if he would come to Houston and shine the shoes of 10 millionaires.

"I'd shined Mr. Jones' shoes when I used to live in Houston," Jackson said, "and I figured I'd start with him."

Jones, wartime head of the RFC and former secretary of commerce called nine other millionaires and asked them to come to his office.

They included: R. E. (Bo) Smith, oilman; W. A. (Bill) Smith, oilman; J. M. Rockwell, lumber executive; Ralph Johnston, oilman; George Brown, oilman and contractor; Harmon Whittington, president of Anderson, Clayton & Co.; John Jones, president of the Houston Chronicle; Oscar Holcombe, former Houston mayor, and Curtis Japhet, cotton executive.

Jackson completed the job in about 20 minutes.

Growth Through Christian Service

TRUE FAITH IS ALWAYS ACCOMPANIED BY GOOD WORKS

Scripture—Acts 2:42; Galatians 2:1-2; James 1:22, 24-27; 2:14-17; 1 John 2:16-18.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

WE MAY begin this lesson by remembering the story, told in Acts about the Roman officer of the Italian band, stationed in Caesarea, who was visited by an angel who told him to find Peter at Joppa and he would tell Cornelius what to do. Cornelius was an extremely devout man whose prayers and good works were acceptable to God. He sent servants to Joppa, found Peter, as the angel had directed him, and brought him to his house.

Peter reminded Cornelius that after the baptism of Jesus by John the Baptist, "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power; so that he went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil, for God was with him."

occasionally indulges in gossip? Don't we give way to temper when things go wrong? Aren't we even guilty at times of slandering, unkind types of well at other people's expense? Also, we sometimes make unkind remarks to others. Few indeed are there who profess to be Christians who can plead entirely innocent of these sort of things. James said:

"If any man among you seem to be religious, and brideth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father, is this: To visit the fatherless and widows and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Our commentators and editor quotes these words from John Adams: "The person who speaks uncharitably, maliciously, slanderously, who gives utterance, free circulation to calumnies, suspicious insinuations—who propagates false charges, or irate ones in a bitter, envious, or malignant spirit—he assuredly bridges not his tongue."

The reviler, backbiter, the whisperer, the reckless, abusive person, the inventor and publisher of false charges, or irate ones in a bitter, envious, or malignant spirit—he assuredly bridges not his tongue.

"To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction," and not them only, but all who are in trouble—friends who are ill and not able to get out; friends and neighbors who have lost loved ones—all those who need sympathy or help; when we do our very best to lighten their sorrows or sufferings, we are treading in the footsteps of the Master.

How to keep ourselves unspotted from the world seems to me to mean to keep our own deeply religious life, not letting the worldliness of others influence us. James also said: "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?"

For instance, he writes, if a sister or brother is destitute and you tell them to go in peace, but you do not relieve their suffering, does that make you a follower of Christ? First help them to the best of your ability, then tell them to "go in peace." "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ," as Paul told the Galatians.

"Heretofore we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren." How many noble martyrs have done just that!

"But whose hath this world's goods, and seeth his brother hath need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth."

Now in the matter of bridling the tongue, as James says in his gospel. In this most of us are guilty. Don't most of us at least

MEMORY VERSE

"Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ."—Galatians 2:1.

If we have all the faith in the world, but we use it to pray only for ourselves, are we not selfish? It is when we pray also for others and strive in every way to help them, that we are true followers of our Lord.

"Judge not that ye be not judged: but as ye would be judged, so judge others; as ye have mercy, ye shall have mercy."—Matthew 7:1-2.

Do we not often find ourselves judging each other harshly when they are in fault? Should we not always remember that we too might sin if we were faced with the same temptation?

That would be a good point to discuss with younger children. They too are sometimes shocked with their friends and playmates' actions that do not meet their moral ideas. They may be reminded that they too have their faults and might be tempted and often do things that do not meet their own ideals of conduct.

Jesus forgave the woman who had sinned, you remember, saying he would not condemn her and advising her to go and sin no more.

Now in the matter of bridling the tongue, as James says in his gospel. In this most of us are guilty. Don't most of us at least

President To Fish Today

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower is taking today off from government chores to get in the first trout fishing of his work-and-play vacation.

The President arranged for an early start on a 40-mile drive to Pine, Colo., southwest of Denver. The stream there is a South Platte through the Rocky Mountain ranch of an Eisenhower friend, Bal F. Swan.

The Chief Executive fished three times at Swan's place during his Colorado vacation last summer. He also used to try his luck there occasionally when he was in the Army.

If last year was any pattern, the stream will have been well stocked with trout in advance of the President's arrival today. And the likelihood was that Eisenhower again would serve as chief chef in charge of cooking fresh-caught fish over an outdoor fire on the river bank.

Next week, starting Tuesday, there will be more trout fishing with former President Hoover as his guest. They will fish in St. Louis Creek at Fraser, Colo., 70 miles northwest of here on the western side of the Continental Divide.

In preparation for today's trip to Pine, the President spent part of yesterday clearing his Summer White House desk of a pile of business. He signed into law 71 bills, including a measure authorizing $3,592,868,000 in foreign aid for the fiscal year which started July 1.

CHILDREN OF GOD

Three things mar the beauty of this picture. DIRT . . . POVERTY . . . and NEGLECT. Dirt can be scrubbed away in ten minutes. Poverty cannot destroy human character. It has bred some of our greatest men and women. But neglect—for it there is neither cure nor consolation. It is the shadow of evil days to come. Delinquency, immorality and crime can nearly always be traced to neglect. And not simply to the physical neglect so evident in this picture. Evil lives stem from the neglect of our children's spiritual needs. There are youngsters with clean faces and fine clothes who are being brought up in the soul-stifling atmosphere of a church-less home. Our children are children of God. It is their sacred right to learn of their Father, and to see Him honored daily in their homes. Parents, where will your children be on Sunday morning?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest locus on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ike Directs Appeal To Younger Voters

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says he'd like to see millions of newly eligible voters take an active part in politics—and get on the Republican team as well.

The President directed his appeal at five million young American men and women who have come of voting age since the 1952 election.

"In the vigor of the enthusiastic dedication of citizens such as those constituting the Young Republican (national) Federation rests the fu-

Lauchlin Currie, FDR Aide, May Stay In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Lauchlin Currie, one-time administrative assistant to President Roosevelt and whose name has been mentioned in Washington investigations of Soviet spy rings, said today he might consider applying for Colombian citizenship.

He said any positive action would depend on a decision to live in this country permanently. A former adviser to Colombia's economic planning council, Currie presently is engaged in farming and cattle raising not far from Bogota. His four-year contract as adviser expired last February.

A news story published in the United States said Currie was reported considering renouncing his American citizenship if his passport, which has expired, is not renewed.

Questioned about this, Currie said: "I am perfectly satisfied as I am." He added that the question of the passport is of no consideration at the moment and he had not discussed the matter.

Korean Vets Number Nearly Three Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans Administration statistics indicated today more than three million servicemen have returned to civilian life since the outbreak of the Korean War.

As of July 31, a monthly VA summary showed, there were 2,620,000 discharged veterans of service since June 27, 1950.

Altogether, VA officials estimate there are now about 20,950,000 former service men.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Calls For Everybody To Vote Saturday

To the Editor:

As Judge Yarborough's campaign manager for Howard County, I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all those good folks who supported him in the July primary election, and urge them to "turn out" and vote on Saturday! Not only must we vote ourselves, but we must get our friends, neighbors and relatives to vote as well!

I also wish to thank the local managers and supporters of Gov. Shivers' candidacy for their gentlemanly conduct throughout the entire campaign. Anything said or done on either side here locally, I am sure, was only in the heat and enthusiasm of trying to get our own respective candidates elected; and certainly should not be and is not taken by myself as any sort of official sanction on the part of Gov. Shivers' local supporters. If anything has been said or done that reflects on the personal good faith or integrity of any of our fine local citizens by anyone supporting Judge Yarborough, as his local manager, I wish to make this public apology.

As I have previously told you, it is my belief that local personalities should be kept out of a political campaign—this I have endeavored to do to the very best of my ability.

Although I have lived in Big Spring less than a year, I feel as though it has been my lifetime home; I have made friends on both sides of the "fence" in this campaign—as a matter of fact, I didn't even know many of Gov. Shivers' active supporters until this campaign started. Now, I am pleased to say, that I consider them my personal friends. My own next-door neighbor in the Permian Building has a Shivers sign on his door and I, of course, have a Yarborough sign on mine! Such is the spirit of good sportsmanship and fellowship that I sincerely believe should prevail here in our fine city.

In closing, may I urge all qualified voters to "turn out" in Saturday's election and vote for the candidate of his or her choice, regardless of that choice, in order that the true Democratic, the true American, way of life may forever be preserved. Then, after the election, let us all remember that we live more closely together here in Big Spring than as State citizens, and "put our shoulders to the wheel" in the spirit of good fellowship, forgetting our own personal feelings in the Governor's race, with the goal in mind of making our town a better, finer, more wholesome place in which to live and raise our children.

Opposes Third Term For Governor Shivers

To the Editor:

Why I am for Judge Yarborough for Governor of Texas. First let us consider whether Governor Allen Shivers has a just cause for asking and appealing to the citizens of Texas for a third term.

As I understand the political history of Texas, those who became Governor of our great State did not deem it necessary to ask the people for a third term, considering two terms as sufficient to serve—having in mind the potential danger to the people of becoming dictatorial in office.

Only one man has served longer than Governor Shivers will have when his term ends next January—that man was Elisha M. Pease who was twice elected in 1853 and 1855 plus his appointment for another two years and two months.

Governor Shivers will have served five years and six months at the end of his present term; another term will give him better than seven and one half years as governor of Texas. I think that is too long. Does he want to monopolize the governorship? Why doesn't he get out of the way and let some one else be elected, or does he think he is indispensable? I would ask him where is the necessity and all important circumstance and condition existing in Texas today that prompts him to ask the people of Texas to give him an unprecedented third term— I think there is none—or am I to suppose that the only circumstance existing is his wish to remain governor longer than two terms; is to be in power to use his influence for the re-election of his Republican Party in 1956?

As No. 1 man of the state of Texas I think he should set the example to his people of obeying the principles and laws of his State and Nation. Governor Shivers violated the pledge required of all citizens participating in the Democratic primaries to support the nominees of the Party, instead he voted Republican after the Democrats put him in the governor's office. I am a Democrat and I resent his misleading, at that time his Democratic friends and his party. If he had stayed with his pledge Judge Yarborough would perhaps be our Governor today. I for one was hoping Governor Shivers would not run again as he has served long enough and there was no circumstance for his doing so.

Governor Shivers has allied himself with the Republican Party which has always been the party of the privileged few and against the masses and for that I am against him.

Again he has failed to do something about the wetback problem on the Sharyland and other farms down on the border where illegal labor is hired at less than the National law required of $1.00 per hour—where they are paying around 25 cents per hour for 10 to 12 hours for a day's work, in violation of the National law on two counts: that of hiring illegal labor and paying less than the National law specifies for common labor.

Reading accounts of the A.F. of L. Texas State Convention at Corpus Christi some few weeks ago the Federation said: "The State Federation has always been interested in the wetback problem, not only because it affects union members but also because it affects all the people of Texas. In giving out the low wages paid and its effect on the economic status of Texas and the nation which is a threat to the security and standard of living and unhealthy conditions under which the wetbacks labor, as poor housing, diseases and crime; let the Governor tell us why something hasn't been done under his administration to correct and cure this socio-economic problem.

I for one cannot see where Governor Shivers has done too much for Texas and its people as he claims. Has he done anything for the old people? "Most of the New Deal-type legislation now on the Texas statutes, old age pensions, child welfare, unemployment assistance, etc., was enacted during the administration of Gov. James Alfred, 1935 to 1939 — he was a towering giant compared to those who followed him." (Refer to Hart Stillwell's "Texas")

Allan Shivers was Lieutenant Governor during the administration of Gov. Beauford Jester—he became Governor (1949) at the death of Governor Jester. (Hart Stillwell's "Texas") "Shivers was 41 years old. He is acutely ambitious, ultraconservative, and aggressive." As presiding officer of the State Senate in the last two Legislatures, "Shivers' record is one to give Texans much food for thought. Among other things, he showed himself a smooth and agile operator who was aiming for the Governorship as a steppingstone to the United States Senate. Even before Jester's death, Shivers was already a leading candidate for Governor."

"His appointments in the Senate were uniformly located on the side of vested interest." To me that sounds like a Republican's party of big business and the special few—it's been that way with the Republican administrations ever since I can remember and I was born in the year of 1884. I haven't seen a successful Republican administration for the people. There are still some of us who can recall back to those old days and there are many now who remember the Harding - Coolidge - Hoover days and children tramped the streets, roads—and old and young rode the tops of railroad trains looking for work and whole families rode in boxcars and the railroad boys taking up money among themselves to buy food for the older folks and

In soliciting your vote in tomorrow's Democratic primary, I do so with the pledge to continue my best efforts for the progress of Howard County.

I believe my record as a County Commissioner will show that I have worked for, and cooperated with other officials, in programs and projects that the people wanted, and that have helped our county.

The construction of our new courthouse and improvement of the square is one example of our recent progress. The development of the Highway 80 freeway and the improvement of many miles of rural roads are others.

I have helped with these projects, and I have helped to keep Howard County in a sound financial condition. I believe my experience in the administrative affairs of the County will enable me to accomplish further projects that you people want and are entitled to.

I feel that I know the office well, and can do the job you want done. I know that I am happy to listen to the people at any time on matters pertaining to the county welfare.

A DOWNTOWN CHURCH PREACHING CHRIST

A Bible Thought For Today—

Campaign Nears Climax; Be Sure You Have Part In Final Decision

The gubernatorial campaign comes to a close. No campaign in recent Texas history has brought more talk, more speeches, more arguments, more charges and countercharges, more general interest and more widespread activity than the contest between Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough. The campaigning will go on to the last minute, but it is likely that most people have made up their minds. They are now ready to express themselves. An encouraging signal is that Saturday's vote will be heavy indeed—maybe for a record, very probably for several thousands more than the July primary produced. This would be a reversal of the usual run of elections, when balloting falls off in the second primary. It is to be hoped that a record vote is east. A full expression of the people is desirable at all times, and especially so in a close, hard-fought campaign like this one has been. All able-bodied voters in the state should place themselves on record tomorrow, so that whoever wins will have the satisfaction of knowing that the results express the full sentiments of the qualified voters of Texas. The polls will be open at 8 a.m. Saturday and close at 7 p.m. The way is wide open for every person with the franchise to express his personal, individual and unchallengeable preference. His vote is strictly his own, and he can do with it what he pleases. The way to settle a spirited campaign such as this one has been is to leave it up to a majority of the sovereign voters, whose sole right it is to pass final judgment. Let not the claim be made that indifference of the people was a result of the election. Apparently there are fewer indifferent voters than for many, many years. This is good. The final decision is now where it belongs—at the ballot boxes, in the hands of the people.

Britons' Parley With China Red Leader Is Poor Gesture To U.S.

A correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph with the group of British Labor Party leaders now touring Communist China declares that Mao Tse-tung, the Chinese dictator, has made an appeal to ex-Prime Minister Clement Attlee "for help in bringing about a sweeping reversal of United States foreign policy." Attlee and the seven Laborite leaders with him spent three hours with Mao this week. The correspondent lists the subjects which he had heard were discussed by Mao and his principal chiefs on one side and Attlee and his followers on the other. The Chinese leaders proposed that the U. S. 7th Fleet be withdrawn from the straits between Formosa and the mainland, that armament of Japan and Germany should cease, and that Britain should try to persuade America to take a more "reasonable" attitude toward Communist China. A formal statement issued after this meeting by Morgan Phillips, Labor Party secretary, read as follows: "The discussions ranged over a variety of subjects of mutual interest, including trade. The discussions were frank, throughout and the meeting ended in an atmosphere of cordiality and expressions of good will." The inevitable impression created by this comment, plus the correspondent's report of at least three other subjects beside trade discussed, is that high-placed, responsible members of the British government—in this case the Queen's loyal opposition—had sat down with the mortal enemies of the United States and given ear and encouragement to Communist China's—and Russia's—ambition to destroy a friend and ally of Britain's. No wonder many outspoken Britons in and out of Parliament are speaking in bitterest terms of Clement Attlee's imitation of Chamberlain's excursion to Munich in 1938. Communist propaganda organs are making the most of the Laborites' Alice-in-Wonderland adventure in Sovietland. The Attlee party is not so dumb as not to know they are ill-serving the West in giving Mao the prestige of their presence, and affording him an opportunity to hold up the U. S. as the enemy of world peace.

Matter Of Fact — Joseph And Stewart Also Ike Sets Keynote For Campaign On 'Peace And Prosperity' Theme

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's political curtain-raiser at the Illinois State Fair is the tip-off of the kind of campaign the Republican high command is planning for this crucial Congressional election. Peace and prosperity—"normalcy" in short—will provide the grand theme of the symphony. Speakers representing the national Administration, and particularly the President himself, will stick to this theme pretty closely. The charge that the Democrats have fostered Communism in government will be a local variation on the grand theme to be played by the Congressional and Senatorial candidates themselves as they may think best. However, the White House is more than ever discouraging party candidates from asking Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy to help them sound the anti-Communist note. And even the Republicans who sympathize with McCarthy are now shying away from the Wisconsin Senator because he has become a vote-loser as well as a vote-getter. Finally, a touch of drama will probably be conferred on the campaign's grand finale by surprise indictments of important Democratic office holders. This campaign plan is toughly professional. It does not play into the hands of the President's enemies in his own party. By the same token, it strongly plays up what the voters undoubtedly regard as the Eisenhower administration's most important achievement. It is fallible, of course, like any other campaign plan—"peace and prosperity" theme can go sour, for instance, if there are any dramatically unfavorable developments abroad. The Republican high command starts with one big advantage, moreover. The Senate is the real prize being fought for. Because of the usual off-year reactions, the Administration's prestige will not be greatly damaged if the Democrats win the narrowly divided House by a small margin. In fact it will be a resounding triumph.

POTOMAC FEVER

WASHINGTON — The signs a new law banning the Communist party. This is all due to the Democrats who spent 20 years wondering what it was they hated so much—and suddenly decided it must have been Communism. Secretary of State Dulles praises Democrats for supporting Ike's foreign policy. Attorney General Brownell may indict Dulles under the government secrets act—that kind of stuff is classified until after the election. The U. S. pleads with France to ratify the European army program. It's a race now to see whether the European army can be established in time to start drawing its old-age pensions. Democrats blast Ike's veto of a government pay raise. They say it's dirty politics for a President to be courageous in an election year. The Watkins Committee lists five charges on which Joe McCarthy will be "tried." The No. 1 unwritten indictment is that Joe is guilty of letting his popularity drop. He will dedicate the first peace-time atomic power plant next month. Republicans are thankful for the atom. It's one thing that makes a bigger noise than the Republican party when splitting apart.

"Everybody Right On Schedule"

The World Today — James Marlow Tompkins, Administration's Prosecutor Of Reds, Must Puzzle Over New Ban

WASHINGTON (U)—Things were pretty tidy when William F. Tompkins came to Washington last July. He seemed fairly well cut out for him. The Eisenhower administration had just made him an assistant attorney general and put him in charge of a brand new section in the Justice Department: the Division of Internal Security. His new job was to prosecute Communists and subversives in general. He is 41 and not a novice as a prosecutor. He's tall, with a lean and friendly face, and an unassuming manner. When the new Republican administration took over here in 1953 it picked Tompkins—he had been a member of the New Jersey Assembly—to be U. S. attorney for all of New Jersey. With a great deal of energy he recruited a staff to work against racketeers and so impressed the administration it tapped him for bigger things. Atty. Gen. Brownell brought him here. The President nominated him in May and he took office July 9. The reason his work seemed fairly well cut out for him was this: There were then just two main laws on the books for the government to use against Communists. It seemed, when Tompkins took over, that all he had to do so far as laws went, was to master those two well enough to give the Communists an even greater dose of the miseries. After all, the government had been using them for years. One was the Smith Act, passed in 1940. Through this one squad of Communist leaders had been tried, convicted and sent to the penitentiary. The other was the McCarran Internal Security Act of 1950. The government has been using in an effort to make Communists register. The Communists are fighting it in the courts. The Supreme Court won't give a final verdict in its constitutionality before next spring. The Eisenhower administration through Brownell, long before Tompkins got here, had asked Congress for a few more laws. Not blockbusters. Just a few laws to tighten up on Communism. The one thing the administration didn't want, at least now, was a new act outlawing the Communist party or making membership in it a crime. Not that the administration wouldn't have welcomed it some other time. But right now it might wreck prosecutions being planned under the Smith Act and the four years' work already put in on the McCarran Act. When Tompkins took office there was no reason to feel Congress might pass an outlaw bill this year. Talk of it had died down in Congress. On the afternoon of Aug. 12, as Congress rushed toward adjournment, a reporter and Tompkins sat in Tompkins' office discussing the administration's reasons for not wanting a law flatly banning the Communist party now. Just as the reporter returned to his own office a bulletin came in from the Capitol. It said the Senate had just voted to outlaw the party. The astonished newsmen phoned Tompkins to tell him the news. Tompkins was astonished, too. Neither Tompkins nor the administration had dreamed that afternoon of what was cooking. Senate Republicans were pushing a measure to hobble Communist-infiltrated unions when the Democrats suddenly said in effect: "Let's go all the way and outlaw the party." The Republicans, not unimpressed that this is an election year, apparently thought they had no place to go except along with the Democrats. The Justice Department and the administration spent the next week trying to get Congress to tone down the Senate bill which, if it became law in the form first passed by the Senate, might make hash of the Smith and McCarran acts. Congress finally passed, and Eisenhower signed into law, an act which doesn't say the Communist Party must cease to exist and which doesn't say it's a crime to be a Communist. Right there is where the comparatively tidy world Tompkins walked into on July 9 suddenly became untidily complicated. He and his staff are still trying to figure out just what this new law means and how they can use it against Communists.

Notebook — Hal Boyle San Francisco Has Charm Unlike Any Other Big City

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Leaves at the same time. It enjoys the present heartily. But at the same time it holds one hand fondly back to its fabulous past, it stretches another ahead to welcome the future. It does a wonderful job of balancing history and progress. Swept by a postwar boom, San Francisco has spread its tentacles of growth outward, but it has changed at its heart more slowly. One returning here after many years will find that the old San Francisco has avoided being swallowed by the new. What is the magic of San Francisco? One way for an outsider to learn the secret of a city is to ask the people in it why they choose to live there. I asked that question of a number of residents here. The answers rather surprised me. Not one mentioned specifically the things that San Francisco is most famous for—the unmatched splendor of its setting, its historic past, its variety of food, its cosmopolitan air. Here are a few replies: "Everybody is an individual out here. People still respect each other. A pedestrian even has equal rights with a motorist. Folks have more tolerance. They don't quibble over small matters." "San Francisco has a sense of vitality and the unexpected. You don't have the feeling that everything is over and done with. Anything can happen." "Most cities have only two climates. And the climate doesn't change by the week or the month. Many days here you can drive a mile and go through at least three different climates. That gives an excitement to living." A lady who moved here several years ago from New York said positively, "San Francisco is a man's town." Asked if she liked this, she demanded, "what lady would want to live in a woman's town?" To me the magic of San Francisco lies in the fact that it is able to look backward and forward

Detroit Campaign To Halt Young Rowdyism Effective

By FELIX B. WOLD
 DETROIT (AP)—Young rowdyism is on the downgrade in Detroit. Authorities have their fingers crossed. But there is definite evidence in the police record that boy gangs aren't the critical problem they were just a month ago. The police youth bureau estimates this kind of juvenile trouble has fallen off 25 per cent. The cure—if it is a cure—has probably been in part a derivative of the old "spare the rod and spoil the child" rule. The courts have adopted a "get tough" policy. Teen-age offenders have been packed off to jail. Herebefore they got off with a reprimand, as a rule. Adult groups also set out to do something about it, offering aid to civic authorities. Earlier this summer the Motor City was alarmed over recurrent outbreaks of kid gang violence. Rival gangs, often armed, met in actual combat. Boys got badly hurt. Sometimes they were killed. There were neighborhood depredations too. Vandalism was frequent. School buildings were particular victims of plunder and destruction. Inspector Ralph Baker, head of the police youth bureau, said the decrease in juvenile rowdyism stems from the courts' "stern attitude" and an aroused citizenry. "People have begun to step forward and ask what can be done," Baker said. Baker distinguished between "rowdyism" and actual juvenile crime. In the latter, he said, there has been no decrease.

Florida Industrialist To Attempt Montgomery Ward Power Coup

NEW YORK (AP)—The forces of Florida industrialist Louis E. Wolfson squared away today for a pitched financial battle to oust the conservative management of Sewell L. Avery from giant Montgomery Ward & Co. "We believe we now hold the largest block of shares in the company," the 43-year-old Wolfson told a news conference here yesterday. "Our continuing investment in Montgomery Ward stock candidly has been with the intention to strengthen our position in the company with a view to superseding the present management." Avery, the 50-year-old chairman of the board of the 700-million-dollar mail order and retail empire, declined immediate comment in Chicago. Wolfson's interest in Montgomery Ward became known publicly only a week ago. Until the news conference he had refused to state why he and his associates had accumulated large holdings of stock. Wolfson, a slim, tanned man with black, curly hair, said: "I don't want to disclose the type attack we will use. We haven't crystallized any definite plans on how to approach the situation except to do everything necessary to go into a proxy fight. It will be dignified."

Wolfson's first opportunity to take a hand in management will come at the company's annual meeting next April. However, there is a problem there: Only three directors will be chosen for the nine-man board. One of those up for re-election, however, will be Avery. Wolfson and his associates, whom he did not name, bought most of their stock this year, he disclosed. Avery holds 64,336 shares of the outstanding 6,700,000 voting shares. Wolfson based his attack on Avery on the chairman's conservative policies. Believing a recession was due, Avery built up the firm's liquid assets after World War II, accumulating 300 million dollars at the expense of expansion. Meanwhile, sales of his chief

Soviet Officials To Move From Famed Kremlin

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times in a dispatch from Moscow said today that Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and other top officials of the Soviet government are planning to move their offices out of the Kremlin. The Kremlin is the tightly guarded, high-walled citadel of historic churches, museums and government buildings facing Moscow's Red Square. Stalin and other top officials lived and had their offices there. The Times dispatch said: "The Kremlin will be reopened to sightseers, as it was during Czarist times. Confirmation of this, rumored in Moscow for 18 months, was given to former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his Labor party delegation during their recent visit here by Communist Party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev. Malenkov and Khrushchev already have moved from the Kremlin to private residences. Since Stalin's death, more and more government business has been transacted at offices elsewhere in the city. It is believed the Soviets still will hold such formal functions as the presentation of credentials by diplomats and of medals and awards in the Kremlin. Just how soon the area will be open to the public is not known. But in the past year public activities held there have included a series of New Year's parties for young people, university graduation dances and various conferences.

Rumored Romance Denied In England

LONDON (AP)—The Evening Standard quoted Colin Tennant today as denying there's a romance between him and Princess Margaret. The romantic rumors blossomed recently when the press noticed the 27-year-old son of Lord and Lady Glenconner was a frequent escort of the blue-eyed princess. Princess Margaret "has friends all over the world and deserves every one of them," the Standard quoted Tennant as saying when asked about the rumors. "What more can I say?"

Government Reduces Use Of Leased Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has reduced the space it leases in Washington to the lowest total in 28 years, the General Services Administration said today. As of now, GSA said, the government is leasing 1,579,916 square feet in the District of Columbia. This compares with 7,068,506 square feet under lease on June 30, 1945—the peak during the nearly three decades in which such records have been kept.

Strike Total Lower Than Usual In July

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strikes were on the increase last month but the total was lower than usual, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. The bureau estimated 575 strikes were in effect during July, including 375 new work stoppages and 200 carried over from June, when the total was 550.
