WASHINGTON, April 3.—By a curious coincidence, the two most interesting investigations of comunitor.

Two Montana Senators.

In manner and method, the two Montana senators are as different as possible. Senator Walsh, a slight man with greying hair and moustache and an eye like an eagle, has outwardly a gentle manner in examining witnesses, but there is a hardness under the surface and he is persistent and determined. His style of speech is somewhat ponder-ous and his most casual remarks witnessing a courtroom scene in an intensely exciting melodrama. No Broadway manager has ever cast a play as the one is cast throughout. For this courtroom scene was cast by the Creator.

Others In Cast. Senator Brookhart looks like an honest and successful farmer; his manner is quiet and he is evidently anxious to be just. Senator Jones of Washington, was at first apparently hostile to the investigation but soon came into line. Senator Moses was slower to come into line but as damaging evidence accumulated, seemed gradually to do so. He remained, for the most part silent, his lower lip pressed up outside his upper lip, his chin protruding, his expression that of a man with a piece of lemon in his mouth. Sartorially and tonsorially he is a more finished product than his colleagues—though one doubts that Senator Ashurst would agree to Senator Ashurst wears a braided cut-away, but it does not fit as well as that of Senator Moses, nor is it worn with so much nonhealance. His interjections are heavily humorous; an actor might suspect the senator of playing for laughs.

The star of the show was Roxid

Stinson, former wife of the late Jesse Smith, Mr. Daugherty's semi-official alter ego. She had an unusually precise memory and a dangerously active intuition. Her answers were swift and direct; she made a favorable impression. Old newspapermen, steeped in the habitual cynicism of their calling, believed her story. Gaston B. Means, former department of justice investigator, a much in-dicted gentleman, is arch type of the clever and relentles sleuth, whereas Captain Holdridge, another agent, is equally perfect in an utterly different way. Mr. Means suggests dictaphones, tapper wires and photostats made at dead of night, but Captain Holdridge is a Richard Harding Davis secret service man, the sort which the end of the second act whips an automatic and holds off a of murderous criminals.

style of speech is somewhat ponderous and his most casual remarks seem to be clothed with a curious importance. After many years of useful but inconspicious service, he has emerged at last into prominence, whereas Senator Wheeler, 42 years old, and only three months in Washington, has burst upon the public consciousness like an explosion.

Wheeler is tall and lean and, as prosecutor, both adroit and aggressive. His grey blue eyes are set back below an overhanging cliff of forehead and his thinning brown hair, somewhat tousled, is shorter than the customary senatorial man's. His New England background is reflected in Explosion Blows Hole in Roof of River Tunnell where They Are Working.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Twenty-five men working in the Vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river fled for their lives today when a compressed air explosion blew a hole in the tunnel roof and let in the river. All escaped and engineers commenced at once forcing the water out of the tunnel. Work cannot be resumed, however, for three days.

The explosion occurred about 300 feet from the New York end of the tunnel. Passengers on ferry boats saw a geyser about 50 feet in height spout out of the river and the geyser ike effect on the surface continued several minutes.

MYSTERY OF AURORA BOREALIS.

Since creation the aurora borealis has been a flashing mystery across the Arctic and Antarctic skies. Today it is claimed that this mystery is cleared up. For decades Norwegian natural scientists have devoted their time to the study of this phenomenon. Professor Lars Vegard of the University of Christiania, after many years of study and experimentation, now claims to have discovered the secret, not merely of the northern light, but the structure of the upper atmospheric layers.

His theory was that nitrogen is the chief component of the atmosphere to its utmost limits. Because of low temperature this nitrogen exists as little solid particles which are kept floating in the upper layers of the atmosphere by means of electric waves. This northern light comes into existence, his theory goes, when the sun rays bombard this crystalline nitrogen. The homogeneous green color of the northern light, which has been a constant puzzle to natural scientists, he believes to be characteristic of solid nitrogen and to flash when bombarded by the electric rays of the sun. A series of experiments recently completed, he claims, proves the correctness of his theory. Professor Vegard believes that, thanks to this great discovery, a series of cosmic problems can be explained. He believes that these crystalline dust particles are the chief cause of the blue color of the sky, and they explain why the fixed stars do and the planets do not twinkle. They offer a simple explanation of the zodiacal light of the tropics, that peculiar light after sunset which has the appearance of a cone. The dust atmosphere solves many atmospheric problems that meet us in radio telegraphy, among them why radio telegraphy is better at night than in the daytime. It also explains the "star mist," which has not as yet been adequately explained. Investigators in other countries, however, are not yet convinced that Professor Vegard's theories are in every respect correct.

Honor is due Alessandro Volta, the eminent Italian physicist, for his discovery of a powder which promises to revolutionize the treatment of Rheumatism. Already thousands of the most stubborn cases in this country have been relieved by this amazing new treatment. The old torturing pain has left these chronic sufferers with remarkable rapidity.

VOLTA powder, as this discovery has been named, is not an internal treatment. It is a fine powder which is shaken into the shoes, where it seems immediately to be absorbed into the blood, through the pores of the feet due no doubt to the fact that the feet contain over 10 times as many pores to the square inche as are found in any other part of the body.

So remarkable and rapid have been results from the use of Volta town the use of Volta town the use of Volta with an unqualified guarantee of relief from the use of the very first box or your money will be refunded.

If you suffer from rheumatic pains, sciatica, lumbago, gout, or neuralgia treatment. It is absolutely harmless and will not cost the feet due no doubt to the fact that the feet contain over 10 times as many pores to the square inche as are found in any other part of the body.

FUTURE IN FARMING BRIGHT FOR THOSE WHO USE RIGHT METHODS

I am inclined to be optimistic over the future of American agriculture, despite the troubles which the business to me that the opportunity for a better home life is one of the great advantages of the countries. years. Conditions are improving, home are more likely to be wholesom slowly, but surely. We are far enough slowly, but surely. We are far enough along in the readjustment period so we can see the sunrise of economic hope faintly in the east. By this time next year the rays should be much brighter.

If a man has an ambition to live in the country, a big thing to consider is the need for caution in location.

duction in line with what the markets of the world demand. They are operating in several ways. For one thing, the number of producers is being reduced. About 650,000 folks left the farms in 1923, probably half million in 1922 and it is believed that a half million more will go in 1924.

more for type of production especially adapted to the locality in which they live. Especially has there been a growth of diversified farming in the one-crop regions. Producers are getting away from the old plan of putting all of their eggs in one bas-et." In the great wheat growing regions of Central Kansas, for example, I found last summer a most encouraging interest in dairying, poultry and livestock farming in general. In some sections, along the Arkansas river, for instance, farmers are turning their attention more and more to truck farming, which has been fairly profitable in many communities. All this is an indication of the effort producers are making to bring their production in line with the requirements of the city trade. Along with this is the same intelligent effort to adopt selling methods which are modern, and more satis-factory than the old "dumping" plans of the past. The growth of co-operaive commodity marketing is one of the most encouraging items in the economic progress of American agriculture. Producers are working together to handle their products in a way they have never done before, esnecially in tobacco, cotton, wool and with California fruits. I think the effort which is now being made to organize the wheat farmers is a movement that has much promise of success, and that it will in time get the production of our great bread crop on a profitable basis. I mention these things to show that the producers are trying to place their house in order. Other factors have helped, including congress, which has passed some legislation, especially along rural credit and marketing lines, which will aid greatly in the first toward presenting.

other thing that will help will be the growth of a powerful industrial life in America, which will increase the home demands for food. I am very primitive and the increase the increase the state of the increase th optimistic over the future of the in-lustrial life of this country. I be-lieve it will continue to develop, aidod by intelligence and the ambition of the working men and the extra-ordinary use of machinery, into a prosperity we have never known before. This is of vast importance to armers, for the city workers who neve money can always be depended on to buy an ample supply of ood of good quality. The main thing for a man who s thinking of taking up agriculture as a vocation to consider is the should ange view of the business. He should nter it with a knowledge of the tenlencies of the times, especially those of intelligent production, adapted to the section in which one lives, and co-operative commodity marketing. The man or woman who likes the life of the open fields, and who goes into he business of farming with his mind full of hope and a vision of what the coming days will bring is likely to succeed. And he probably will live

Formula Rubs Out Rheumatic Pains

Remarkable Discovery Promises Relief to Rheumatic Sufferers.

German chemistry that has given to the world the boon of Aspirin for the relief of heachache pain, and Novocaine for painless dentistry, has now come forward with another scientific discovery that promises to make rheumatic pain a thing of the past for thousands who have suffered terrible tortures.

make rheunatic pain a thing of the past for thousands who have suffered terrible tortures.

A new combination of certain-oils has been discovered, which produces a clear amber discovered, which produces a clear amber liquid that affords immediate relief from pain in many instances. It is so penetrating that it disappears within a few seconds, so that it must be entirely absorbed by the body dissue. Even in the most advanced and stubborn cases the use of this remarkable oil has shown astonishing improvement, at once in many cases. Tired muscles regain life, creating joints with the pain all gone become supple, and the annoying twinges cease.

Rheunatism, in many cases, is due to internal abscesses, such as a blind pus pocket in a tooth, which gives off poisons. These poisons are carried by the blood to the muscles and joints and this new oil is designed to neutralize these pain-causing poisons.

So astonishing have been the results from the use of this oil that the American distributors have sauthorized local druggists to dispense it to rheumatic sufferers in this city, with a positive written guerannee, signed by themselves to return the full purchase price of the first bottle if the rheumatic pains are not wonderfully relieved. All who suffer from rheumatic pains should take advantage of this liberal offer. Unless you get relief from the very first bottle, your druggist will return your money. It is called Bubler Oil, and can be had at most good druggists, such as:

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Eastland
County, Greeting: County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon tuan Carvojal by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day cessive weeks previous to the return deverof, in some newspaper published in your County and Eighty-eighth Judicial District to appear at the next regular term of the Eighty-eighth District Court of Eastland County, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Eastland, Texas, on the first Monday in May, A. D., 1924, the same being the 5th iay of May, A. D., 1924, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 30th day of November, A. D., 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 10,560, wherein Jesusita Carvojal is plaintiff, and Juan Carvojal is defendant.

The plaintiff alleges and pleads that she and defendant were lawfully married in Ranger, Texas, April 23, 1921, and that they continued to live together until on or about he 37d day of May, 1921.

The grounds for this cause of action are based on the following facts which plaintiff alleges: That the defendant has become unmindful of his marital obligations toward plaintiff and that within about one month after their matriage deserted and left this plaintiff and took with him plaintiffs nice. Rosa Sanches, and plaintiff and defendant co-habited together one child was born of said marriage by the name of Juan Jose about the age of two years and plaintiff said marriage by the name of Juan Jose about the age of two years and plaintiff said marriage by the name of Juan Jose about the age of two years and plaintiff says she is fully able and capuble of taking care of said child.

Wherefore, premises considered, this plaintiff prays this court for judgment against the defendant and for the care, custody and control of their said minor child, and for such other and further relief, special and general in law and in equity to which she may be justly entitled to.

Herein fail not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
