TAPS SOUNDED FOR NATION'S LATE CHIEF

Hundreds Gathered in Ranger For The Memorial Services To Be Conducted This Afternoon

"OLD TIMERS" LET OFF STEAM TO GET COOL

Guns Barred, but Differences Settled in Cheerful Manner of Real Boys.

Two "old-timers" met on Main street late this morning and started in to settle their differences. Thirty minutes or so before they had their personal combat, one of the combatants told Chief of Police O. V. Davenport that he was "going to lick _____." He asserted that the other had been making "slandorous remarks about his family."

Shortly after this, the person who was being sought told an officer that he heard "so and so" was looking for him and was prepared. The officers tried to dissuade both men when they met them to forget their differences and go home.

However, they kept looking for one another and finally met in the 100 block of Main street. The clash was short-lived—Assistant Chief L. E. Davenport put an end to the hostilities. Quite a crowd had gathered. Both men have lived here all of their lives, it is said.

Houston Jury Finds Lawmaker Guilty Of Law-Breaking

HOUSTON, Aug. 10.—Virgil E. Arnold, state legislator from Harris county, late yesterday was found guilty by a jury of misdemeanor embezzlement and sentenced to 10 days in jail. The defendant was charged with embezzlement of $32 from Dorothy Robbins, a negro client. He was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail. His attorneys immediately filed a motion for a new trial and was released on bond.

Arnold recently was indicted by the Harris county grand jury on 16 misdemeanor complaints and one felony complaint in connection with compensation claims collected in connection with the death of Dorothy Robbins' husband, who was killed in an industrial accident at Pittsburgh, Pa.

LUBBOCK INVITES ALL TEXAS TO MEET WHERE TEXAS TECH WILL BUILD

LUBBOCK, Aug. 10.—Lubbock has issued a state-wide invitation to the people of Texas and more especially West Texas to join with them in a huge jollification of the fortune of this city in being chosen as the location of Texas Technological college.

The celebration will consist of demonstrations, parades, band concerts, programs and an old-fashioned barbecue for which more than 350 steers have been pledged if necessary. The members of the locating board, the governor of Texas, governors of adjoining states and prominent men of the Southwest are being personally invited.

The wild celebration that started Wednesday and continued until Thursday morning, broke out again yesterday afternoon when the stores closed and a huge street dance was held last night. The town is in high spirits.

SWITCH BOARDS BLAZE IN SYMPATHY WITH FIRE ALARM

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10.—Switch board operators at the central fire station dislike fire alarms almost as much as the owners of burning buildings. For instance, when weeds on a vacant lot caught fire, 15 persons called within five minutes to learn the location of the blaze. Dozens of calls of similar nature are received every time a fire alarm is sounded, according to the operators.

Exercises In Liberty Theatre Scheduled to Begin at 3 o'Clock and Continue One Hour, During Period of Funeral Services In Marion, Ohio, and Interment of Late Chief Executive of the Nation.

Hundreds of men, women and children had assembled in the Liberty theatre shortly before the start of the memorial services for the late president, Warren G. Harding, this afternoon. There were many others lingering on Rusk and Main streets waiting for the starting hour of the services, which are scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock.

The stage was all set this morning for the public tribute Ranger will pay to the late chief executive of the nation. A picture of the former executive, draped in black, rests on the front of the box office in the lobby of the theatre. Small American flags drop from positions on the walls of the lobby. Strips of black entwine the box office.

Inside the theatre the box seats on the raised floor are draped with the American colors. A large American flag is suspended from the top of the stage. A portrait of the late chief executive resting on an easel is at the right of the stage. The two loges in the theatre are draped in black.

This program will be as follows, J. F. Dreinhofer presiding:

Music by the orchestra.

Opening song, "America," in which all the people will join.

Invocation, Rev. W. H. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church, Mr. Harding belonging to that denomination. Mr. Johnson will also read the twenty-third psalm and Micah 6:8, and Revelations 22:1-5.

DALLAS GOLFER IS WINNER OF CHAMPIONSHIP

Wins State Professional Title Over Veteran Opponents at Galveston.

GALVESTON, Aug. 10.—Harry Cooper, 19-year-old professional golfer of Dallas, won the state professional golf championship at Galveston yesterday.

While Cooper has played a consistent game throughout, his victory came as a surprise to the golf fans. William McGuire, Houston professional, or Barnes Kenney of Galveston had been picked as winner. The youthful golfer did not really attract much attention until yesterday afternoon when he turned in a card of 35 for the first nine holes, or one less than par for the course.

Cooper will represent Texas at the National Professional Golf tournament to be held in New York, Sept. 19 to 24.

LIGHT OVER HARDING'S EDITORIAL DESK STILL IS BURNING BRIGHTLY

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The light over the editorial desk of Warren G. Harding in the editorial rooms of the Marion Star was still burning brightly today as it has been since word of his death first was received.

Nearly all members of the Fourth Estate visiting Marion in connection with the funeral of Mr. Harding have sought the privilege of sitting in the editorial chair formerly used by Mr. Harding and at the desk where he formerly worked.

FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF COTTON IN WACO WAREHOUSE

NICKLE COUNTS IN NEW YORK

Some Things in Metropolis Bring Big Prices, but Five Cents Goes as Far or Farther There as in Any Place in the Country.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—There's one place in New York where a nickle looks as big as a dollar.

It is in the subway stations. As you drop your nickle into the slot and shove your way through the gate, the coin drops into a case covered with a magnifying glass. It is conveniently arranged on every turnstile so that the guards can see and comprehend anyone using slugs instead of the only legal tender in the subway—a real nickle.

Most people have the idea that in New York a dollar shrinks to the size of a nickle in the purchase of commodities. That is not true.

A subway ride is about the biggest nickle's worth that can be purchased any place in America—and lasts as long as an All-day Sucker.

As a matter of fact, the nickle is the real legal tender of New York. It requires one nickle—Buffalo or otherwise—to awaken the central from a stuffy telephone booth to make the most important call of your life. A roll of thousand dollar bills are useless—it must be a nickle. The jitney gets you central—then try and get your number. But it's the nickle that counts.

It is estimated that 6,000,000 nickles change hands on the subway and surface lines in New York daily. Then add the telephone calls and you have a turn over of jitneys that pulls the mythical Wall street "book" millions into insignificance.

New York is just as expensive as you care to make it. Much enjoyment can be derived from a small roll. There are a million and one things to see that don't cost a single penny. But one must possess a sense of ap-

Reichsbank in Berlin Closes When Mark Declines to 1,800,000 to the Dollar and 7,000,000 to the Pound Sterling.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—The Reichsbank closed this afternoon. It was unable to make further payments.

The dollar was quoted at 1,800,000 marks and the pound sterling at 7,000,000 marks. A spirit of panic prevails. Holders of foreign securities are desperate.

First Bale of 1923 Cotton Ginned In Ranger to Bring Big Premium

For the first 500-pound bale of cotton ginned and marketed in Ranger, there will be at least 20 merchants who will make competitive bids, which will guarantee to the growers a "very nice premium." Charles Bobo, chairman of the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce, announced today following a meeting of the committee.

A bonus of $5 will be given to each grower for the next 50 bales of cotton marketed in Ranger, to be paid by the Ranger chamber of commerce.

HORSE RACING TO BE REVIVED AT COTTON PALACE

WACO, Aug. 10.—Horse racing will be revived at the Waco Cotton Palace this year, according to Ralph McLendon, chairman of the racing committee who has announced that negotiations are under way for some of the fastest horses in this part of the country.

Both automobile and horse racing will be featured at the exposition this year, the racing committee has decided. Some of the best automobile racers in the United States are scheduled to take part in the dirt track classics, which will be staged at the Cotton Palace.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10.—Because his wife played bridge and bid no-trumps, friend husband and left home. Now wife is suing for a divorce.

She said in her petition for legal separation, that a no-trump bid by her acted on her husband like a red flag on a bull, and after the game he would quarrel and nag her more than if he had been her partner.

NEGRO HIT IN TENDER SPOT

Mortal Remains of Warren G. Harding Carried To His Final Resting Place In Native Town

COOLIDGE ON WAY TO FUNERAL IN MARION, OHIO

President of Nation Honors Memory of the Late Chief Executive.

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 10.—President Coolidge's special train en route to Marion to attend the funeral of the late President Warren G. Harding stopped here for a few minutes shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

Nations Stays Its Activities While The People Mourn

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The nation today paid a tribute of silence to Warren G. Harding as his body was being entombed at Marion, Ohio. From post to post, from border to border, every government department, every government agency stood still. Theatres were closed all over the land, baseball games were postponed and other events scheduled for today deferred to a later date.

As recommended in the proclamation issued by President Coolidge, the day was set apart as a day of mourning and prayer. Thousands upon thousands gathered in their places of worship for services and bells tolled everywhere as the beloved chieftain was laid away for his last rest.

Memorial services were not confined to America. At sea, on the great passenger liners and other vessels flying the American flag, prayers were said, and memorial services were held in all the hospitals and many other leading cities of the world.

AUSTIN, Aug. 12.—Carl Carlson, one of the oldest in point of service of the state bank examiners, died here today after an operation. He had served as a bank examiner under several bank commissioners.

PASSING OLD WORKSHOP

Former Associates of Warren G. Harding in Composing and Press Rooms Watch With Flowing Eyes When His Body Is Carried By.

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—As the funeral cortege of the late President Harding yesterday passed the office of the Marion Star, where the chief executive spent the best years of his life building a newspaper on kindness and consideration of "folks" and where he was known only as "W. G.," there was one man above all others who had a heavy heart.

This man has been with Mr. Harding for 37 years, entering his employ shortly after he purchased the "Pebble," a tiny newspaper and the first newspaper enterprise of the late executive. This man—Lewis Miller—had helped Mr. Harding set type, wash the rollers of the presses, sometimes collect a bad debt—for there were many in the early days of the Pebble.

Mr. Miller related how many times "W. G." had called him into the dingy office on the second floor of a small building still standing at the corner of Center and State streets, and say:

"Lew, I haven't enough money to get the paper for this week's issue out of the office (it always came C. O. D. in those days), can you loan me your week's salary?"

Mr. Miller always was ready to forego his week's pay check in order to help out the "boss."

After the Pebble was merged into the Star, Mr. Miller continued in Mr. Harding's employ and today is still working on the Star, although now more than 70 years old.

It was Mr. Miller who, the night

This was officially announced after President Coolidge had received a telegram aboard the train from George Christian at Marion.

MOTOR CAR AND AUTO COLLIDE, THREE INJURED

WORLD MOURNS THE PASSING OF MR. HARDING

Memorial Services in Big Capitals of Europe Attended by Rulers and Diplomats.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The people of France today joined with Americans here in tribute to Warren G. Harding. The audience stood with faces turned towards Marion while "taps" were sounded. Official services were held at the American embassy with representatives of France and several South American republics attending. American business today was halted throughout the continent.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Impressive services for Warren G. Harding were held in Westminster Abbey today. The Duke and Duchess of York represented the king and queen, who were not in town. All other members of the royal family were present. Hundreds of persons attended the services. The yacht races scheduled for today were cancelled in respect to the memory of President Harding.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—President Ebert, American Ambassador A. B. Houghton, members of the diplomatic corps and other notables attended services here in memory of President Harding.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 10.—Memorial services for President Harding were held here today in the American embassy. A large number of diplomats and many Americans attended.

Nation Suspends Its Activities In Harding's Memory

In token of mourning, the people of the United States will stand with bowed heads for a brief moment simultaneously this afternoon in every city and town and hamlet in the land. The bustle of business and various activities will be still while for three minutes men, women and children will stand in silent attention.

By proclamation of President Coolidge, all public buildings, including postoffices, were closed today; in many cities both business houses and banks closed all day, in others for one-half the day the New York Stock exchange did not open its doors at all today; theatres and amusement places closed their doors tight; street car service was suspended in Detroit for one hour, in many other cities for shorter periods, usually from three to five minutes; nearly all railroads in the country halted for one minute. No evening newspaper was issued in New York City and the afternoon editions were suspended in many other cities.

Perhaps the most outstanding tribute was paid by the Jockey club, which ordered the Saratoga race track closed for the day. Instances have been few and far between in the past when the race track closed for any reason. No baseball was played in the land this afternoon, Commissioner Landis having ordered all parks closed. Golf players and tennis players were asked by the heads of the national associations to lay aside their clubs and rackets until after the funeral. No boxing bouts were to be permitted in New York state today or tonight. Bathing pools were kept open, but all exhibits at them were closed.

FLORAL TOKENS POURING INTO HARDING HOME

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Floral tokens kept pouring into the Harding home today until it became necessary to remove many flowers that had arrived early and were beginning to fade to make room for the new flowers.

THE WAY OF ESCAPE—It shall come to pass in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from thy hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve.—Isaiah 14:3.

SUPPLIES OF GASOLINE ARE SOMEWHAT LESS

June Output of Gas and Fuel Oils Shows Marked Increase.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Gasoline on hand at refineries, July 1, amounted to 1,263,583,128 gallons, constituting 60 days supply at the June rate of consumption, according to figures compiled by the department of the interior through the bureau of mines. The figure represents a substantial decrease in stocks from June 1, when 65 days supply was reported. Supplies of gasoline available July 1 of last year were sufficient for 49 days' demands. Notwithstanding the existence of large gasoline stocks at this time, supplies are relatively only 22 per cent greater than on the same date in 1922, when the factor of greatly increased demand is considered.

Production in June.
Gasoline production in June was 636,734,217 gallons, and was almost equal to the domestic demand, which amounted to 633,504,550 gallons. Exports were 75,314,994 gallons. Both the export and domestic demand for gasoline during June show a substantial increase, the total being at the daily rate of 23,627,319 gallons. The total demand exceeded the new supply by 64,950,119 gallons, this amount being withdrawn from stocks. The new supply produced and imported in June this year was 22 per cent greater than for June last year, while the demand was 26 per cent greater.

A continued slight decrease in the number of operating refineries is noted in June, the number reporting to the bureau of mines for that month being 286. Their aggregate daily indicated crude oil capacity increased, however, to 2,045,547 barrels. This increase is due mostly to the installation of additional stills which have just been reported to the bureau. These plans were operating during June at 77.9 per cent of their capacity, running to stills a daily average of 1,593,466 barrels of crude oil.

Kerosene production in June was 179,073,758 gallons, a slight decrease for May figures of 12,000,000 gallons. Exports were 64,752,813 gallons, an increase of 10,000,000 gallons over May exports. The total demand was thus about 8,000,000 gallons in excess of the new supply, which stocks decreased by this amount to 264,301,002 gallons.

Gas and Fuel Oils.
June output of gas and fuel oils increased nearly 5,000,000 gallons over May production, amounting to 970,869,873 gallons. Imports were 51,245,318 gallons, an increase of about 6,000,000 gallons as compared with May imports. The total demand was exceeded by the new supply by about 77,000,000 gallons, increasing stocks by this amount during the month, the quantity in storage June 30 having been 1,924,025,107 gallons. Domestic demand was 822,409,120 gallons, a decrease of almost 100,000,000 gallons from the May figures. Exports were increased about 7,000,000 gallons over May shipments, amounting to 122,350,144 gallons in June.

The production of lubricants in June was 85,726,103 gallons, about 100,000,000 gallons below the May output. Domestic requirements were 57,764,943 gallons, as compared with 71,000,000 gallons in May. Exports were 39,363,408 gallons, showing also a slight decrease from the preceding month. Stocks decreased about 1,000,000 gallons during the month, amounting on June 30 to 225,137,230 gallons.

Harding Rejoins Boyhood Friends Who Went Before

MARION, O., Aug. 10.—Warren Harding rejoined today, in the white cemetery just over the way from the place of his youth and manhood, his boyhood friends who had gone before.

The stone vault shut softly after he passed within. He was alone at last with memories of his triumphs and sorrows and from sea to sea as the nation halted in its rush in a moment of reverence they seemed to say in a message:

"Well done thou good and faithful servant."
In life he was president, and in death, Warren Harding of Marion, plain and upright American gentleman. And he was entombed with simple services, the wish he had expressed to the loving woman, who now takes up the things of life he no longer can.

LOTS OPPOSITE THE RANGER CITY HALL IS BEING IMPROVED

The vacant lots at Austin and Pine streets, owned by E. A. Ringold, are being cleaned up of the remains of a disastrous fire that occurred early in the year when the Nash hotel was burned to the ground.

Ringold recently bought the lots from the different claimants to the Pine street properties and when recently the offices of city secretary were removed to the new city hall on the opposite corner, he decided the view from the city hall must be more attractive looking across the street. There have been rumors that a garage might be erected on one of the properties, but so far it hasn't passed the rumor stage.

OVERWORK KILLED ONE PRESIDENT. WRECKED ANOTHER

Here is an exclusive photograph of ex-President Wilson, wrecked in health by overwork while president of the United States, as he arrived at the White House in his automobile, where he left his card and offered his condolence and sympathy over the death of President Warren G. Harding, his successor, himself a martyr to overwork in his arduous position.

THOUSANDS SEE LATE CHIEF IN HIS COFFIN

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—At 1:30 o'clock, 15 minutes before the hour set for the ceremonies at the Dr. Harding home, the line passing the body of Warren G. Harding was stopped. Thousands had lined the sidewalks. They had stood in line early today taking the opportunity to get a glance at their former leader and now their last chance to see his face had gone. Other thousands passed the casket.

The crowd shifted to positions along the line of the funeral procession to the cemetery.

Main Drag Stuff

Great American Question; Easy to Quit Smoking; Events on the Main Drag; Men's Rights.

By P. G. T.

Years ago some sarcastic English journalist made the statement that the great American question was: "What kind o' pie ya' got?"

Adapting this Britisher's joke to the present day, the great American question seems to be: "Where can I get a drink?" The great American invitation: "Have a drink." The great American statement: "I've just had a drink."

It seems that at any time or place where ordinary men congregate these expressions are in general use. Perhaps no one is sincere in making these statements, but it has been a habit to talk of drinks in cautious tones. They are all like bad boys; what they are told not to say or do are the things they say and do.

Needless to say these drinks cannot be bought at a soda fountain. If bootleg liquor was used as much as it is talked about, the hospitals would be filled with men suffering acute agony from the dangerously poisonous stuff known as bootleg.

One bird we know takes great pleasure in asking: "Do you want a drink?" He puts the question in the favorite stealthy tone and his friends believe he is the possessor of some illegal booze. When he gets an affirmative answer, he replies, "So do I, where can we get one?"

We were talking to a guy the other day who was about three sheets over.

"Yes," he assured us, "I get a perscription f'm the doctor ever five days. Ain't sposed to, bu' I ush my own name and a consumed name."

His evident joy drew a small crowd and he glanced disdainfully around: "Shay, thish is the most publikest town I wash ever in."

McKinley, manager of the Buick agency, says he is going to quit smoking cigars. We quit about 10 or 12 times a day. It is impossible to make one cigar last 10 or 12 hours. The hardest thing to do is to keep from starting again.

HEALTH SERVICE OFFERS REMEDIES FOR POISON IVY AND POISON OAK

Vacationists who carried their radio receiving sets with them on their jaunts this summer are not suffering from the want of advice on health. Thirty broadcasting stations in addition to NAA naval radio station, Arlington, have been releasing health hints for vacationists furnished by the bureau of the United States public health service at Washington. The most recent of these broadcasts on the subject of poison ivy is especially timely since every summer brings its toll of suffering from this cause.

The poison ivy is perhaps the plant most frequently encountered by the unsuspecting city visitor to the country, says the public health service. Yet it may be easily distinguished from other creepers by its three divided leaves. The harmless creepers have five leaves. This one distinguishing mark if borne in mind will protect the vacationist from poison ivy. Poison oak is a shrub or small tree with broad leaves very much resembling the leaves of the oak tree.

The part of these plants to be feared is the resinous sap. When a plant is injured this sticky sap exudes. It comes in contact with the skin and sets up an irritation which is distinguished by its acute character. This irritation frequently begins between the fingers.

The symptoms of ivy poisoning are comparatively easy to recognize. A more or less mild attack may be ushered in by a burning or itching of the skin. Within 24 hours after the skin is exposed to the poison of the plant, a red rash appears. This is followed by more or less swelling and itching, then small blisters filled with serum make their appearance. The parts of the body affected may swell to enormous proportions.

At one time it was believed that many persons who had suffered from attacks of ivy poisoning would experience a recurrence of the attack if they passed through a wood or came into proximity with the plant even though the ivy itself was not touched. It now appears certain however that contact is necessary in order to produce ivy poisoning.

Ivy poisoning says the public health service, may sometimes be averted even after these plants have been handled provided the parts exposed are washed thoroughly with soap, water, and alcohol. This washing must, however, be thorough, otherwise it will only tend to spread the irritating poison.

The treatment of ivy poisoning is simple and easily administered. One of the best treatments is bathing with salt water. Sea water is best if it is available. Another good application consists of one teaspoonful of boric acid in a quart of hot water. The affected parts should be bathed with warm water every day or every two days and carefully dried without rubbing. Bathing should be followed by another application of boric acid. The attacks may subside in from four to six days. The best advice to vacationists is, study the poison oak, the poison ivy and the poison sumac that you may distinguish these plants from their neighbors. Once you are able to recognize them you can scrupulously avoid them. Avoid the creeper with the three divided leaves. Avoid the small shrub with the broad leaves like the oak. Give the sumac that grows in swampy places a wide berth. Persons who have suffered from plant poisoning do not soon forget the experience.

A Cincinnati woman was complimented by the court for killing her husband. However, acquittal in most such cases is sufficient incentive to others.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BOXING COMMISSIONS ARE PROMOTING BEST INTERESTS OF FIGHTING

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor.
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Assuming a rather dictatorial rule over boxing, the New York state commission has done much to promote the interests of the sports and the benefits derived have not been confined to the territory under its immediate jurisdiction.

While many rules have been made that seemed absurd and overstepping the bounds of the commission's authority when they were first passed, some of them prove to have been based on farsighted judgment.

If the commission did nothing else, its most radical step in declaring forfeited the titles of champions who refused to fight worthy challengers brought the flyweight, featherweight and the middleweight titles out of hock and put them back into competition.

The right of the commission to rule out Johnny Kilbane, Johnny Wilson, Mickey Walker and Joe Lynch as champions was scoffed at when the commission acted, but the fact remains that there are new flyweight and featherweight champions, and Wilson, Walker and Lynch have been forced into the defense of their titles.

While their judgment was sometimes questioned, the sincerity and honesty of the commissioners never has been doubted and they have been right as many times as wrong.

There remains much yet to be accomplished and the commission might well devote a little attention to the "class jumping" champions.

It has become the popular custom for a new champion to seek competition in a heavier class no sooner than he has reached the top of the boxers at his own weight.

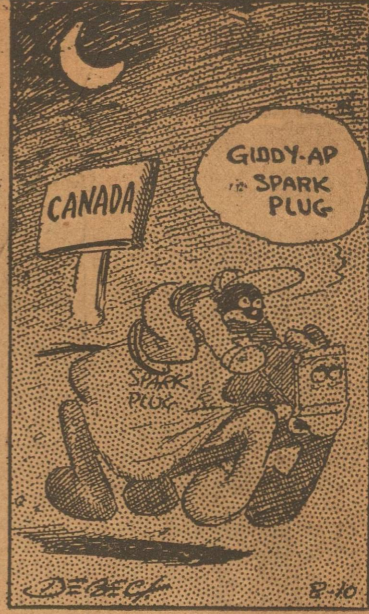

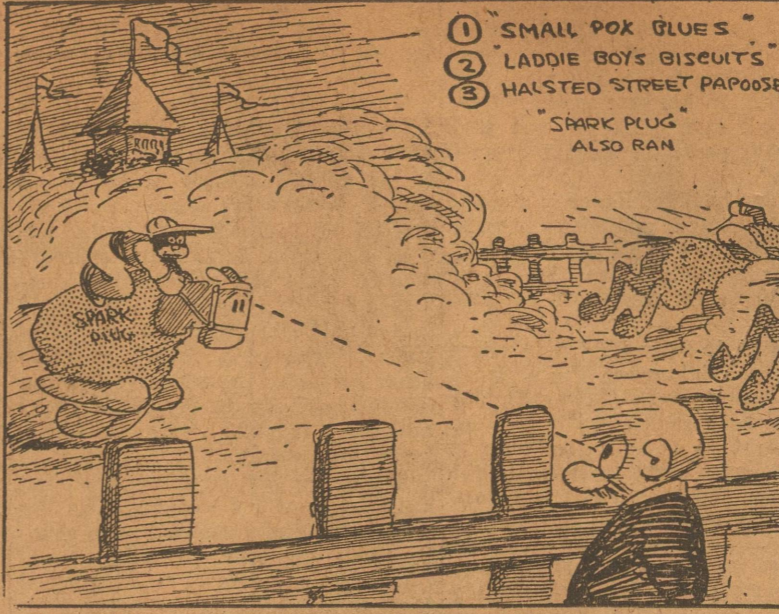

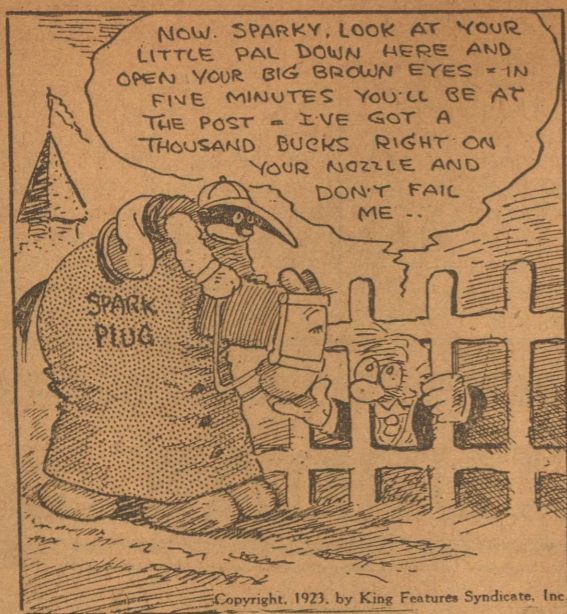

Pancho Villa won the world's flyweight championship and then started campaigning among the bantamweights and announced himself as ready to fight Joe Lynch. Lynch ignores the challenge and seeks works among the featherweights. Benny Leonard, although he may be excused because of the wide margin by which he outclassed all lightweights, wants to fight Mickey Walker for the welterweight championship. Walker, although he would be in danger with several welterweights seeking matches with him, has expressed his willingness to fight Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, and Harry Greb, former light-heavyweight champion. Greb ducks matches at his own weight and shouts his desire to fight Jack Dempsey.

DUB LEARNING GOLF

Those Who Doubt May Be Convinced by Visit to Ranger Country Club Links Almost Any Morning.

By A DUB.
"Keep that arm rigid, I tell you," said the instructor of the ancient and royal game of Scotland to a dub as he swung his club. "Keep in mind that your left arm and the club are all one and that you swing from the shoulder."

The dub listened carefully and grunted a reply that he understood. He took his stance, addressed and imaginary ball and swung.

"Don't keep that right arm of yours so stiff," said the instructor, taking the club out of the dub's hands and wielding it gracefully and correctly. "Can't you do the same thing? Those two arms of yours are not to work in sympathy. Now try it again."

"What do you mean facing the rough?" he said caustically. "Isn't the green in front of you? And say, don't you know how to dig. I've told you before you don't scoop the ball up, you dig it up. Let me see you dig."

"Below the shoulders," was the meek reply.

By this time a deep hole had been dug out and the dub moved to another spot.

"Don't raise your feet off the ground," he protested. "Keep them glued. Do I move on my toes?"

"Don't look at me, the ball is supposed to be on the ground," was the next enlightenment.

"Yes, yes of course it is," was the only explanation but the fact is the dub looked at his teacher for a glance of approval after making a swing that looked "correct."

"Keep doing that while I throw out some balls," and with this statement the dub began to think he was really making progress, for all the time he had just been practicing strokes minus the little white balls.

"There you go, as soon as a ball is put down before you, you forget everything," said the instructor with hearty disapproval. "Now practice without the ball." Again the dub was back where he started. When he had again conquered his faults he was allowed a ball.

"What do you mean facing the rough?" he said caustically. "Isn't the green in front of you? And say, don't you know how to dig. I've told you before you don't scoop the ball up, you dig it up. Let me see you dig."

Charley Koch and 'Peaches' Riddings Will Face Thurber

Charley Koch will be on the firing line in the Thurber series for the Snappers. Upon him and "Peaches" Riddings will be pitching brunt fall in the Saturday and Sunday games.

Koch will be remembered as the pitcher who almost blanked the Snappers when Brady was here two weeks ago. He let the Snappers down with six hits. The score was 3 to 1. Koch quit the Brady team and he came to Ranger. Carl Strepy who has made two starts for the Snappers, is having trouble with his pitching arm, and can't get it in shape. With the important Thurber and Breckenridge Dynamis series in the offing, the Snapper management was compelled to look about for another pitcher.

Negotiations are proceeding for the appearance of the Cisco team here next Wednesday. If the team is secured, announcement will be made Sunday, John Shannon, business manager, said today.

SALVATION ARMY CALLS FOR CLOTHING SUITABLE TO BE PASSED ALONG

Have you any castoff clothing, shoes and hats laying around the house? The Salvation Army has calls for these articles and can put them to good use. This season of unemployment here and there has caused worthy folks to call upon the army for assistance.

Army workers will call for the clothing if the post is notified, by phoning 318, or the articles can be left at the post at 325 South Austin street.

Nineteen twenty-three will be remarkable for politics and other pests, candidates and tent caterpillars, and the tariff and seventeen-year locusts. —Louisville Courier-Journal.
