GERMANY GOES UNDER LIMITED MARTIAL LAW

Action Follows Move in Bavaria Which Appears Like Revolt.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Sept. 27.—At a hurriedly called midnight session of the German cabinet last night immediate proclamation of a state of emergency throughout Germany was decided upon, and Minister of Defense Gessler was given executive authority to put into effect any military or police measures he might deem warranted.
This action was construed as virtually placing Germany in the hands of a military dictator.
The action by the German government was taken when news of the appointment of Dr. von Kahr as military dictator of Bavaria was received, and the proclamation was intended as an offset to the Bavarian manifesto.
The Bavarian action was construed here as censorial criticism of the decision of Germany to call off passive resistance in the Ruhr, notwithstanding assertions in Bavaria that the measure was prompted by the increasing activities of Adolf Hitler, the nationalist-socialist leader, and allied organizations. Official opinion is that Dr. von Kahr will be fully able to cope with the situation in Bavaria and that the outbreak there is unlikely to extend beyond the frontier.

By United Press.
BERLIN, Sept. 27.—Germany is under a limited state of siege, following the proclamation by President Ebert, which virtually gives the power of a dictator to Minister of Defense Gessler, counsels temporary laws restricting the freedom of the press and of assembly and makes more rigid existing laws against treason.
It is apparent the government is prepared to deal severely with the Bavarian opposition to the action taken yesterday in proclaiming the end of passive resistance in the Ruhr. While the words "martial law" are avoided in President Ebert's proclamation, to all intents limited military rule is in effect.

GLASS MANUFACTURER COMES TO RANGER IN INTEREST OF FACTORY

H. H. Howard of Cedar Grove, La., glass manufacturer, paid his second visit to Ranger in the interest of locating a glass factory in or near Ranger. He spent most of the morning inspecting possible factory locations in company with M. H. Hagaman.
Howard was the guest of the Lions club at noon today. At 2 o'clock this afternoon he met with the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce.
He came in this morning from Coffeyville, Kan., in response to a telegram from B. F. Bennett, secretary of the chamber, in which he was told his financial proposition was acceptable. He was here about three weeks ago following the sale of his interest in the Southern States Bottling company of Cedar Grove.

TEXAS LONGHORNS TO PLAY AUSTIN COLLEGE FRIDAY

By Associated Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—Although the Texas Longhorns are expected to win by a fairly decisive margin over the Austin College Kangaroos when the team from Sherman plays the Texas university eleven, Friday, on Clark field, thousands of Texas university supporters, both in Austin and out of this city are anticipating the outcome of Friday's struggle with mid-season anticipation. The big reason for this anticipation is, of course, the eagerness of varsity followers to secure some sort of line on the team which Coach "Doc" Stewart is fashioning at Texas.

Style Show, Ranger's Big Annual Event, Is Wonderful Success

Living Models Display Wealth of Beautiful Creations That Delight the Women's Hearts, and Brave Men Parade in Tailor-Made Clothes. Vaudeville Entertainment delights. Style Show and Vaudeville to Be Repeated at Liberty Theatre Tonight.

The band played at the entrance of the Liberty theatre Wednesday night to usher in the first night of the Style Show, created much enthusiasm, and should have been retained to play at the end, for enthusiasm lasted all the evening for one of the best shows of its kind ever put on.
The exhibition in beautiful clothes, in various scenes, vied with vaudeville stunts put on by practiced entertainers, and a capacity house showed its appreciation in close attention and hearty applause.
The beauty of the closing scene, in which evening gowns and dress suits were modeled, was enhanced by the graceful dancing of Florence Alice Palmer, whose grace of motion and delicate refined gestures, coupled with her ability as a real toe dancer, make her appearances greeted always with delight. She received extended applause and a curtain call.
Gus Colman and Clyde C. Craig gave a clever black-face comedy, which was thoroughly enjoyed, and gave a song review accompanied with clever dancing.

BAVARIA NAMES DICTATOR WITH FASCISTI TREND

By United Press.
MUNICH, Bavaria, Sept. 27.—Former Premier Gustav von Kahr has been appointed commissary of Bavaria, which is regarded equivalent to that of a dictator. He is said to have the full support of the Bavarian fascists.
His first act was to issue a proclamation requiring all Bavarians to be ready to use force against the traitors to the fatherland.
The appointment is regarded as the beginning of a fascist regime in Bavaria.

BAND OF BANDITS RAID DISTILLERY TO GET BOOZE

DANCING MASTERS ISSUE EDICT ON PROPER FORM

By United Press.
HOUSTON, Sept. 27.—"No more of that twitching and jumping and wriggling!"
"No more cheek-to-cheek dancing, no more slips and slides and wiggles!"
That's the edict of American Dancing Masters, according to J. L. McMillan, proprietor of a local dancing academy, who has just returned from a convention of dance teachers in Chicago.
"Dancing from now on is to be done with the feet and not with the body," McMillan said. "The body is to be held erect without the 'cave-man crouch.' The lady will not have to be an acrobat to be a first-class dancer."
The "Valentine tango," "Irene Castle one-step," and the "Trotzky trot" are the newest dances, he said.

RANGER SCENES TO BE FEATURED ON THE SCREEN

Photographers Taking Pictures to Be Used in Filming "Flowing Gold."

"Flowing Gold," the book by Rex Beach featuring scenes at Ranger during the height of the oil boom when Ranger was like one of the old-time western mining camps of '49 and the decade or two following after, is to be filmed for the movies. The film rights have been bought by Richard Walton Tully of Los Angeles, who expects soon to have a cast working on its production.
In order that the local color shall not be lacking, Mr. Tully is seeking views at and near Ranger. Two of his photographers, Philip V. Krohn and Ray Carpenter, were in Ranger today taking photographs of scenes here. They also went into the oil fields several miles out to take pictures of the derricks and tank farms. They are also seeking in Ranger pictures taken in Ranger in 1919 and 1920, when scenes were enacted that were never at any other time at any other place.

NORTHWEST ASKS FOR CONGRESS TO MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—A call for an extra session of congress was asked for by a delegation of Northwest bankers and business men, who today called on President Coolidge. They proposed two measures for assisting the wheat grower and agricultural interests.
The first measure would revive at the special session, the United States Grain corporation as a marketing agency for surplus grain.
The second proposal creates a board or commission to advise farmers as to what acreage can be planted profitably so as to keep down production to a level so that there will be no glutting the market with unsalable products.
Senator Borah proposed an amendment to the reclamation laws in which the farmer and homesteader would have 40 years instead of 20 years in which to pay.
Spokesmen for the bankers say they were not seeking a wheat guarantee. They said their full object was to save the farmer from being driven into other occupations. They asserted 3,000,000 farmers would seek other occupations during 1923 at the present rate.

WALTON SAYS FIGHT IS OVER EXCEPT IN COURTS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—"The fight is over so far as the house is concerned," Governor Walton said today. He indicated that when court action is begun by the legislators he probably would not appear or be represented.
In the chamber of the supreme court, the attorney general conferred today several hours with the sheriff at Tulsa on the quo warranto which the latter seeks to bring for removal of the military court. Meanwhile members of the lower house continued preparations to test the governor's authority by filing a petition, which would probably be ready late today, it was said.

By United Press.
GAINESVILLE, Sept. 27.—Not until Mrs. Arthur Teague reached El Paso did she learn that her sister, Mrs. Jack Kersey, was alive and well instead of dead as reported in message received by Mrs. Teague here.
When Mrs. Teague received the message notifying her of her sister's death she and her husband left immediately for El Paso.

HIGH PRICES STAPLE BRINGS HELP FARMERS

Between 400 and 500 Bales Ginned Here This Year and Much More Expected.

Spot cotton advanced this morning in Ranger. The top price was 27.85 as compared with a top price of 27.60 yesterday. The Moss cotton gin was offering 27.75 a pound at the weighing offices for good cotton early this morning. A downtown bidder offered 27.80 and Moss raised this bid five points to 27.85.
At 9:20 o'clock the gin started on the 420th bale. The number of bales coming into Ranger has surprised the owner of the gin, Mr. Moss, who it is said, did not expect more than several hundred bales of cotton to come in here this season. Now the predictions are that from 700 to 1,000 bales will be ginned and marketed in Ranger.
The bales have been nearly all weighing over 500 pounds. The early season price was 23 cents for spot cotton and the top price 23 cents. This makes an average of 26 cents, but the market price has been over 26 cents more than under. If the average be struck at 27 cents it means that the grower has averaged $125 a bale. For the number of bales ginned in Ranger, or 420 up to 9:30 o'clock this morning, the valuation of cotton marketed in Ranger has been $56,700.

One Farmer's Profit.

How a farmer made between $400 and $500, or will make it if he gets his cotton to town with the present prices prevailing, was told in the cotton yard at Rusk and Cypress streets this morning. John Lester came to Eastland county not much more than a month ago and bought a cotton crop acreage for $400. Today he brought in his third bale and he expects to bring in at least three and possibly five more bales. Saturday he got 29 cents for the first bale, yesterday 27.60 and today 27.85. This will average for the three days better than 28 cents and the three bales weighed more than 1,500 pounds, which will amount approximately to $420. If he gets $400 for the other three assured bales, he will have been paid more than $800, or $400 more than he paid for the crop.
Lester said he grew cotton in Collingsworth county this year, but after discouraging elements had entered into his business, he gave it up there and removed to this county. Lester formerly lived in this county.

That quantity is 1,041,000 bales less than the estimate of the department of commerce, issued Sept. 10.

DEPUTY SHERIFF CHAMPION DIES DOING HIS DUTY

Prisoner in Dallas Jail Awaiting Death Killed and Another Wounded.

By United Press.
DALLAS, Sept. 27.—Two men were dead and a third seriously wounded following a battle with prisoners in the county jail last night.
Charles E. Gaines, under sentence of death for complicity in the post-office robbery here three years ago, was instantly killed.
Walls Champion, deputy sheriff and assistant jailed, died at 10 o'clock from wounds received in the battle.
Pete Welk, a prisoner, was seriously wounded.
Champion had gone to the sixth floor of the jail with a prisoner, when Gaines and Welk covered him with guns and demanded that he surrender his keys. Champion refused and the prisoners opened fire. The officer fell, mortally wounded. Other officers, hearing the shooting, at once rushed to his assistance and in the battle that followed Gaines was killed and Welk wounded.
An investigation was started today to learn how the two prisoners obtained the revolvers with which they confronted the assistant jailer.

ACCOMPLICES OUTSIDE WITH CAR TO MAKE ESCAPE

By Associated Press.
DALLAS, Sept. 27.—Peace officers today were seeking in Dallas and adjacent counties for persons believed involved in an effort to release the prisoners last night.
An automobile, said to have been driven by a woman, was sought by officers who expressed the belief that it had held accomplices of Gaines and Welk. The car circled the jail several times while the gun battle was in progress inside and then sped away. Welk refused to talk this morning. He was recently sentenced to 40 years in the penitentiary for the fatal shooting of Deputy Sheriff Tom Wood during a raid on a whisky still. Gaines was under sentence of death for complicity in the Jackson street post-office robbery two years ago.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
THE OMNISCIENT GUIDE:—
The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord.—Psalm 37: 23.

"HE PLAYED THE GAME."
In a Chicago cemetery, on a modest shaft, one may read the following inscription: "He Played the Game."

It is to be found on the shaft erected in memory of "Pop" Anson, who will be remembered in Cincinnati and elsewhere throughout America as one of the greatest of all ball players.

"He played the game." That means much in America. We have a facility for expression in emotional philosophy that is unknown in other lands. Every American lad instantly understands what is meant when one says of another, "He played the game."

To say this of any man is to elevate him upon a pedestal of honorable and reverent distinction; it implies that one has measured up to all the best standards of life.

Adrian C. Anson endeared himself to the sport-loving public because he played the game of his vocation as it should be played, and more; he played the game of life as it should be played, played it so well that those left to mourn his memory fixed in imperishable phrase in enduring rock their appreciation of the fact that he consistently and honestly had lived up to this high standard.

There is inspiration here for all of us. No matter what our vocation may be, it is ours so to play the game of life that when he shall have answered the inevitable summons that comes to all men it may be said of us, in all fullness of appreciative remembrance, "He played the game."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Elks' Circus Will Be Old Fashioned With New Features

Asserting the old adage: "All circuses are like" is entirely wrong, and that the impending Elks' circus, which starts five night of exhibitions at the ball ground next Tuesday, is completely different from any past or present tented organization, Robert W. Thompson, personal representative of Bob Morton, owner of the exhibition of which the local Elks will take charge next week, is in the city, completing special plans for the event. Assistant Circus Director Waldrip has been in daily conference with Elks officials the last two weeks, and reports plans well advanced.

Dr. H. A. Logsdon, exalted ruler of the local antlered herd, is very enthusiastic, and made the following statement regarding the plans and purposes of the show:

"We are holding our circus next week for the purpose of increasing our charity fund, and we intend to make it the largest affair of the kind ever attempted in this part of Texas; we have engaged a complete circus company, intact from the stakes in the ground to the fluttering flags of the big top. We did this only after thorough investigation, and contracted with the Bob Morton people on recommendations of Elks and Shrine officials who have handled the show. We take possession when the show train enters the local railroad yards and we handle all the money and attend to all the business details. The circus people give the exhibition in the main tent, which is a regulation professional performance, and there are no amateurs or home talent inside the tents. Twenty high-class acts and 15 clowns give the show.

"We welcome and seat our patrons and we occupy all the booths; we orate on the merits of the shows, or 'bally-hoo,' and we will have no doll racks or merry-go-rounds or anything that savors of carnival nature. Instead of the usual cold-blooded methods in vogue around a circus lot, we will greet our 'customers' with hearty hand-claps and glad salutations."

AD IN RANGER TIMES GETS THE BUSINESS

AUTO DRIVERS RUN WILD IN RACES AT FAIR IN ABILENE

ABILENE, Sept. 27.—Before the largest crowd ever packed inside the West Texas Fair grounds 20 race drivers ran wild today in the most reckless and spectacular automobile races ever seen at the local track.

Three cars crashed during the afternoon, two of them burning up on the course, and another went through the fence, all without serious injury to any driver or mechanic.

The feature of the afternoon was the battle between Deck Calhoun of Oklahoma and Red Shafer of Fort Worth. Calhoun beat in the first event, and was leading in the second race when he threw a front wheel and went through the fence.

He was unhurt and will be back in the race again Friday afternoon when the second day's program of the week will be staged. The Texas & Pacific railway company has announced a special excursion to the West Texas fair for Saturday only, the round trip being only three-fourths of the usual one-way fare.

COMPARE
The Maximum of Proved vs. Many Extravagant Claims
Intrinsic Value of Superiority

So many announcements of new model cars contain extravagant claims for the same superlatives that it is puzzling to the buyer to know which value is real and which is only a claim. This year the issue has been confused by the introduction of mechanical changes, some of which have been rushed into production while still in the experimental stage—and then immediately given wide publicity. Important considerations have been overlooked and great stress placed upon unimportant details. But the man who intends to buy a motor car need not let this confusion or this glamour of publicity lead him to make a mistake or risk satisfaction in his purchase. The automobiles themselves are available for comparison. See and be convinced. Riding is believing. As an aid to intelligent buying we offer the following suggestions:

Place the 1924 model Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car at $995 alongside any car you may select as belonging in the same class. Every car looks well in the pictures—most cars make a good impression in their own show windows. The Studebaker Light-Six looks a winner alongside the best-looking competitor you can find. And it's larger, more substantial, roomier, more comfortable looking—and is more comfortable. Compare the top. Look inside and out. The Studebaker top is sturdily built. Has four stout cross bows. Top material is same as is so satisfactorily used in the Big-Six. Notice the fit, feel the quality. The rear curtain is one-piece—has no seams—with a large rectangular window bound by an enameled moulding. Compare the body. Studebaker has a roomy, substantial, carefully made body—all-steel even to its framework, which permits a finish in baked enamel. A depressed belt line runs around the body and through the hood and radiator, adding to its distinctive appearance. Compare the one-piece, rain-proof windshield, with built-in cowl lamps, with the ordinary two-piece windshield with rubber strip.

that leaks in every rain and always obstructs the driver's vision. Notice the large oval ventilator that is quickly operated by merely moving the regulator backward or forward. Compare the Studebaker door trimmings and fittings with the door fittings of other cars. Notice that the door pocket flaps have weights to hold them in position. Man-sized door handles and latches, positive-action door locks that catch with a snap and stay closed. Heavy hinges properly located and proportioned. Highest grade trimming material instead of painted cardboard. Fastening nails concealed. Compare the aluminum-bound linoleum that is neatly fitted and fastened to the floor boards of this $995 Studebaker Light-Six with the rubber mats that cover the cheap, loosely-fitted floor boards in many other cars. These comparisons are of features that can be seen. There are many more down under the surface that could be mentioned, such as the machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods of the Light-Six motor. This is largely responsible for the practical absence of vibration in the Studebaker Light-Six. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars at this price. If competition is so far inferior in its visible parts, it is a certainty that the hidden parts which really determine the satisfaction of a car will be equally inferior. The Studebaker chassis is as far superior to any other motor car chassis in its price field as Studebaker upholstery is to other upholstery, as the Studebaker body is to any other motor car body in its price field. Come in and see the Light-Six. Test its performance and comfort yourself. Again—Riding is believing.

Memories of the Opening Night at the Style Show and What He Himself Did to Make It Success.

By P. G. T.

The models were all that could be expected of models any place. The writer overheard one man "panning" the show in the restaurant between acts.

On being questioned this guy admitted that he had been sitting so long in the theatre and that he was not interested in styles anyhow. To pacify his audience he declared he had seen a style show in Fort Worth that was just the same. This bird was just style-showed to death, that's all.

One bird tried to "come" the overcoat act by turning up his coat collar and pretending it was cold on his exit. He thought it would go over and it did. He realized afterward that he should have been hissed instead of very mildly applauded, but the audience were ladies and gentlemen and had mercy.

Sanders, the hardware man, told us a tale about Abe Davis' young son doing some advertising for the store at school. We think we've heard it before in connection with something else, but if you haven't heard it, it's good.

Teacher had been explaining to the pupils all kinds of things about Lincoln, Washington and some other great man, and then asked the class who were the three greatest men in history.

"I know, teacher," said Sonny Davis.

"Who are they?" asked the teacher.

"Hart, Schaffner and Marx," answered Sonny proudly.

And they were great men, both to him and to Abe and to others.

Of course all "Main Drag" patrons expect this column to be full of style show stuff and we've got to try to give them what they want here or they won't take it. You can't force it down their throats like castor oil or wrap it up in a sack like a bunch of stale candy and kid 'em into believing they are getting fresh stuff.

The audience saw all the show from the front and as near as we could figure out everybody who had four bits to spend for something besides breakfast were there. Fact of the matter is, we didn't think there were that many four biters in Ranger, but Karl Jones said there would be just as many Thursday night.

Strange to relate everything went over smoothly. There were none of those waits that make the audience titter and the amateurs nervous. None of these "Go on, go on" whippers that sometimes float out over an empty stage and that can be heard by the ushers in the back of the house. Nobody seemed to know quite when they appeared and some of the models baked and sweated in overcoats and winter suits and furs and nervousness until it was their turn. In truth they only waited a few minutes but it seemed like hours.

'Too Modern Wives' Are Not Wanted By Some German Men

By Associated Press.

FRANKFORT - ON - THE - MAIN, Germany, Sept. 27.—Germans do not want their wives too modern. That is quite clear from the advertisements for wives appearing in the best German newspapers.

A German wholesaler who has a flourishing business in Portugal, wants a wife between 18 and 22 who is able to adopt herself readily to the different conditions of life she will find in Portugal, but who is "not too modern" in her ideas. She must not have bobbed hair, must be companionable, beautiful, good-natured and "thoroughly domestic" in her tastes.

Many of the advertisements for wives are in the name of relatives of the prospective bridegroom. They frequently say that the negotiations are being conducted without the knowledge of the man in the case, and will be completed between the two families before the principals are presented to each other.

TRAITORS SHOWN NO MERCY IN GERMANY

By Associated Press.

LEIPSIG, Sept. 27.—Germany's highest court shows little mercy for men arraigned before it for treason in the great war.

Gerhard Strey was recently given a life sentence for having betrayed the command in March, 1916. The evidence showed that he deserted the German army and went over to the French. A short time later concentrated French artillery fire against the entrenchments where Strey had been serving showed that he had revealed all details of the position to the enemy.

Strey returned to Germany in 1920, and was arrested at his home in Magdeburg and charged with high treason, which he admitted. His defense was that he was badly treated by superiors, and could not endure further military service.

CITY HALL BRIEFS

Roy Trower took up his work today as assistant to City Secretary Clarence Love.

E. A. Ringold, former city secretary, has been out of the city for more than 10 days engaged in collecting taxes due on Ranger property. He is visiting Wichita Falls, Weatherford, Fort Worth, Dallas and a number of other towns while away.

City Engineer H. E. Seward was reported yesterday by Mayor Hodges to be improving at his former Waco home, where he is under the care of his physician.

DENTON.—Denton county claims to have one of the largest pecan groves in the state. The W. T. Evers grove contains 1,700 trees of improved variety which are just coming into bearing. The grove produced $1 per pound nuts last year.

COLLEGE MEN LIKE EASE IN CLOTHES

Copyright 1923 Hart Schaffner & Marx

"The college men are wearing old men's clothes, and the old men are wearing young men's styles" said a clothing merchant in one of the big eastern college towns recently.

He had observed the recent changes in style tendencies; he had found that both college men and the middle-aged men were demanding clothes very different from what they were wearing a few seasons ago, but he was wrong in two important particulars.

First, the college men aren't wearing "old men's clothes," and

Second, there aren't any "old men's clothes" any more, because elderly men have broken away from tradition and now dare to wear the clothes they like best; that best set off their good points.

The clothes many college men are choosing for fall are easy fitting models with coats easily draped, buttons spaced wide apart, and wide, straight-hanging trousers. The three button models, as shown above, seem to have the call, but there are indications that the two-button style will have a big vogue, and that the four-button coat has had its day.

But these college clothes, though they have drifted far from the trim, body-tracing lines young men almost universally wore for so long, are just as far from the stiff, loose coats that elderly men used to wear.

They are new; something evolved to meet the college man's demand for originality.

LONG WORKING HOURS DOES NOT STOP SMILE OF ASSISTANT CHIEF

Sixteen hours a day in giving the city protection against plain law violators and enemies of society hasn't driven away the smile of Leonard Davenport, assistant chief of police.

Since the critical illness and death of Mrs. H. C. Hamilton, mother of C. C. Hamilton, night desk sergeant, he has been up on Main street giving friendly advice on left hand turns throughout most of the day and staying in the desk sergeant's office until almost midnight.

Davenport then hurries out to his home at 613 Spring road, snatches a few hours of sleep, makes quick disposition of his breakfast and gets downtown to take up his duties where the night officers left off.

THE CORA WILLIAMS INST. TUTE, Berkeley, Calif., is now being heated electrically and a considerable saving of money is resulting. Fourteen heaters, varying from two and one-half to six kilowatts each, constitute the electrical heating equipment. When coal was used for heating it cost on an average of $100 a month throughout the year in addition to the wages of the furnace man. Electrical heating for December and January last, the coldest months of the year, required an expenditure of only $106 and $110 respectively, while the heating current bills decreased materially as milder weather came along.

Dirt and grime accumulating on the outside of an electric bulb may absorb as much as 50 per cent of the illumination produced. A 75-watt bulb removed from a sign after two years' service was tested, cleaned and upon being retested, it was found that the accumulation of dirt and grime had been absorbing 44.5 per cent of the light.

"BLIND AS A BAT"

That's the impression so many people give you who still go day after day as if "under a cloud," because they feel that there is no hope for them to get rid of the disfiguring blemishes on their skin.

If they would just notice or ask their dealer, they would find that thousands of people who once were in the same shape they are in, are now free from those distressing pimples, blotches, bumps, tetter, rash, eczema, ringworm, "breaking out," etc., and the secret of it is that they have learned that the one sure way to do it is by using the wonderful Black and White Ointment.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in liberal size packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—Advertisement.

Child-birth

WHEN the little one arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes. Use 'Mother's Friend' as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford Regulator Co., B.A. 75, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. New Sedan

Changes featured in the new Ford Sedan make it a better looking, roomier car.

A higher radiator with a trim apron at its base lends dignity befitting a closed car. The higher hood and enlarged cowl curving gracefully to the dash give a stylish sweep to its body lines, and afford additional leg room for occupants of the front seat.

All body fittings—window regulators, door grips, door latch levers, door lock, dome light—are finished in nickel. The upholstery carries a fine dark line on a soft brown background that does not easily show dust or dirt. Silk window curtains to harmonize for the three rear windows enhance the style of the car and add to the comfort of its passengers. See the new Sedan and other new Ford body styles at our showroom.

These cars can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

CATS SHUT OUT BY PELICANS, 3-0

FORT WORTH, Sept. 27.—Rube Robinson, a left-handed pitcher of long ago with the Fort Worth club shut out the Fort Worth Cats yesterday and the Pelicans evened up the series by winning 3 to 0.

Robinson allowed but four hits. He was opposed by Joe Pate, another left-hander. Pate pitched good ball except for one inning, in the fifth, when he walked one man, allowed three hits, two singles and one double and also gave a sacrifice fly. This proved to be Pate's downfall.

The temporary bleachers in left center field were not more than half filled. The attendance was estimated to be about 1,000 less than on the opening day.

The two clubs go to New Orleans this evening, leaving at 5 o'clock. Games will be played there Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The winning team must take four games.

THREE ABILENE STARS MAKING BID FOR PLACE ON SIMMONS ELEVEN

By Associated Press.

ABILENE, Sept. 27.—Coach A. B. Hays, of Simmons college, is this week putting his squad of 50 football aspirants through a stiff scheme of scrimmage in preparation for what is expected to be one of the outstanding games of the Cowboy season. Saturday on Parramore Field the Simmons aggregation will meet the 1922 champions of the Southwestern conference, the Baylor University Bears of Waco.

The Simmons squad includes six letter men of last year's team, half a dozen members of last year's squad and a large collection of high school and junior college stars. Three stars of last year's Abilene high eleven which was second in the running for the state interscholastic title, are making strong bids for berths on the first string eleven. These three former high school stellar performers are Bob Estes, back; Wright and Maggart, forwards; Mobley, former John Tarleton, end; Buell Cardwell, Big Springs; Woods, Texas Military college; Marshall, Floydada; Collins, Coleman; Daniels, Brownfield; Link, Guyman, Okla.; Harvey and Morris, of Seymour; and Heath, former Wayland college star, are other like-ly prospects.

Letter men who are on the 1923 Simmons roster are, John Camp, half-back of Breckenridge; V. Adams, Paluxi, fullback; L. Johnson, Portales, N. M., fullback; Frank Kimbrough, Haskell, quarterback; Joe Gibbons, Paducah, end; and V. Cook, Abilene, guard. Among the members of the first squad of 1922 who failed to make their letter last season, but who are making a determined fight to win an "S" this year are, M. McCasland, Winters; Harrison, Guion; Sam Morris, of Abilene, Nye-fler, Abilen, F. Haynes, Abilene; and Ferguson, of Rule.

PARKS CAMP CANCELS GAME WITH THURBER

Texaco Stars have cancelled the deciding game of the series with Thurber, according to word from that town. Thurber must quit the season with tie series against two clubs of the oil fields, Ranger Snappers and Stars of Parks camp.

Thurber will play the All-Stars of Stephenville today, tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. The Sunday game will be the only one played at Thurber. The Stephenville games will be in connection with the Erath county fair.

INJURY TO A. & M. FOOTBALL CAPTAIN FORCES RETIREMENT

By Associated Press.

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 27.—The Texas Aggies lost one of their best football stars when T. L. Miller resigned as captain of the 1923 team, coaches declare. After a brilliant record throughout the 1922 season, Miller was selected to lead this year's team.

An old injury received in practice last spring forced the Aggie leader to resign his post. Throughout the spring and summer months, Miller nursed an injured leg with the hope of being able to resume his post with the squad this fall. After entering practice early in September, however, he found that the injury would not permit him to carry out his duties.

W. D. Johnson, veteran guard and one of the deciding factors in the Thanksgiving game last year when the Aggies trimmed the Longhorns, is the new captain for the Farmers.

INJURY TO A. & M. FOOTBALL CAPTAIN FORCES RETIREMENT

By Associated Press.

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 27.—The Texas Aggies lost one of their best football stars when T. L. Miller resigned as captain of the 1923 team, coaches declare. After a brilliant record throughout the 1922 season, Miller was selected to lead this year's team.

An old injury received in practice last spring forced the Aggie leader to resign his post. Throughout the spring and summer months, Miller nursed an injured leg with the hope of being able to resume his post with the squad this fall. After entering practice early in September, however, he found that the injury would not permit him to carry out his duties.

W. D. Johnson, veteran guard and one of the deciding factors in the Thanksgiving game last year when the Aggies trimmed the Longhorns, is the new captain for the Farmers.

DEMPSEY MORE POPULAR SINCE FIRPO BATTLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Jack Dempsey once remarked during a general discussion of his business that the life of a heavyweight champion was anything but rosy, because he could have so few friends upon whom he could depend.

"The tough thing about this business is that you have to lose to find out who really are your friends," said Dempsey. "The real test comes when you are defeated and you call the roll of alleged friends and find out how many of them have not gone to the winner's dressing room."

The champion's theory was proved at least partially during the fight with Luis Firpo. He didn't lose, but came nearer to defeat than any fighter could and escape with victory.

Dempsey had to be knocked clear out of the ring, punched to his knees twice and pounded all over the ring to attain the position as a real popular champion.

Perhaps the most pleasing experience Dempsey brought out of that hectic evening came when he heard the pack yelling wildly: "Come on Jack!" as he was pulling himself into the ring and when he realized that at last he had some big part of the public back of him.

Sitting in the front row of the ring-side seats, back of the press pit, was a boxing manager, who had been Dempsey's most bitter critic, a man who had gone out of his way to express his bitter contempt of the champion as a personality and a fighter. He said when he came to the ringside before the fight that he had paid his way into a fight for the

NIGHT GOLFING SAID NOW TO BE POSSIBLE

MINERAL WELLS, Sept. 27.—Golfers here are very enthusiastic over the invention of Dr. E. A. Davis, local physician which, it is believed will make golf playing at night a popular sport.

Dr. Davis has perfected a substance which when applied to golf balls makes them glow brightly on the darkest night.

A number of night golf games have been played at the local club with balls treated by him. In addition to the balls the substance is applied to the rims of cups, green markers and hole flags, all of which shine brightly after the treatment and are easily visible at night. The balls when driven make a parabola of light and are easily seen when they land. Many golfers here declare that the game is even more fascinating at night than in the daytime and the hazard of lost balls is greatly decreased.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Mayor Hodges will issue a proclamation designating the week of Oct. 7 as Fire Prevention week. Fire Chief Chapman is planning for the observance of the week by clubs, school children and civic organizations. He will seek to enlist the support of the Lions and Rotary clubs.

A mass meeting at which several men, who are capable of talking upon the subject of fire prevention, has been suggested by the fire chief and he will make an effort this week to make arrangements for it.

Chief Chapman told the city commissioners Tuesday that he is intensely interested in the work of preserving life and property from fires and asked for the support of the commissioners.

HOWARD PAYNE WILL TRY FOR ANOTHER WIN FROM TEXAS AGGIES

By Associated Press.

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 27.—The Howard Payne Yellow Jackets of Brownwood will tomorrow attempt to repeat their feat of last year in defeating the Texas A. & M. college grid eleven on the College Station field. The victory of last season was one of the outstanding football upsets of the southwestern season, and brought much fame to the local team.

Everything was set today for the opening of the 1923 Howard Payne schedule, which is considered one of the stiffest in recent years. Three southwestern conference teams, Baylor, T. C. U. and the Texas Aggies, are included on the list of opponents. Coach Arnold Kirkpatrick, former with bindings of coral red crepe de chine, the girdle of same being fastened with loops at either side of the front. White lace bands, collar and cuffs of white Swiss cut work outlined the front, neck and sleeves.

Cordie May McFarland, spokesman for the children, wore a smocked dress of dark blue canton, and a smocked hat of blue velvet in same shade with trimmings and side ornament of pink. Black and tan high top shoes completed this charming little costume.

J. C. Smith—Boys' Suits.

Boys were represented in various ages, in play and in society. A camp fire scene gave an opportunity to display two handsome Indian suits such as would appeal to the heart of any boy who loves outdoor life, and what real boy does not love it? These suits were worn by Woodrow and Wilson Bennett.

Little Stephen W. Blount Jr. was "too cute for words" in his Kaynee suit of satin in gray and blue, with ruffled collar and cuffs and big buttons, which was a perfect fit for his small figure. His overcoat of softest wool, made with double breast and straight back fitted just like a man's and the little hat of tan felt and leather completed a cunning picture.

For older boys, of 12 or thereabouts, a handsome tweed model of tan was worn by J. T. Smith with coat of brown and tan check. Tan English walking shoes and cap matched the coat and added just the right note of completeness to this handsome suit for boys.

Children's Styles From Joseph's. Styles for children in ages from 2 to 16 years, were shown by a number of boys and girls of varying ages. Thelma Marguerite Fife appeared in a cunning knit spit for three-year-olds of red and gray worked with two tasseled cap to match. Mary Jane slippers in two tones of black and tan completed this juvenile costume.

Virginia Douglas showed an adorable style coat for six-year-olds, the material being broadcloth and the color the new wallflower shade. It was made with loose back and smocked at yoke both front and back. A small tight button moleskin collar added a finishing touch and the hat of same color with plumes of wallflower and dark brown gave just the right touch of elegance to this beautiful little costume with which shoes of black patent leather with white tops were worn. A gold mesh bag was also carried.

Dixie Neal, who modeled the 11-year-old sizes, wore a handsome flaring blue Canton crepe made in knife plaits with rosebuds at the belt line. With this was worn a hat of velvet in same shade with a pink ornament in the front of the round turn-up rim. Blue socks of same color and black and white shoes completed the costume. A silver mesh bag was carried.

Ernestine Davis, who modeled the 13-year-old styles, wore a black silk velvet paneled at the side with beaded pattern at the waist line, and small black hat in poke shape with colored ornaments. She carried a vanity case of red, which matched the lining in her flare sleeves, and wore a gray platinum fox fur, black hose and shoes of black suede.

Florence Alice Palmer with the chic model for the 16-year-old style, wearing a fashionable combination dress of brown velvet skirt and henna crepe waist made in plain style with side ties of brown velvet. The plain neck was covered with a handsome brown fox fur, and hat of duvetyne, made in poke style, embroidered in brown, with side ribbon trimmings. Shoes and sox of black and a henna vanity case completed this fetching costume.

Billy Terrell modeled a Norfolk suit on gray tweed mixed goods with cap to match, and with this wore Red Crose walking shoes and brown sox.

Scene Two—Silk Dresses.

Scene two was indeed a surprise, for the huge hand-box in black and gold tied with a red ribbon and marked "Modiste," which stood on the left side of the stage bore no suggestion of what it contained. It might have been hats, but instead was living models, which came forth into the living room pictured on the stage, and were met by the "hostess," Mrs. Sandford Terrell.

The handsome gowns shown were as follows:

Boston Store—Silks.

Beautiful and rich costume of velvety broche, with background of dark blue radium chiffon on which are brocaded oakwood chenille designs in all-over style. The blouse effect in front is altered in the back with a panel of dark blue satin canton, the entire skirt being of same material in somewhat full effect but with straight lines. The wide girdle is held in place with two handsome ornaments of blending colors with pendants of gold and contrasting colors. There is a wide Japanese bow at the back of the waist line, and bands of brown fox fur add to the chic appearance of this handsome gown, worn by Pauline Dutton.

Joseph's Dry Goods Store.

From Joseph's came an extremely fashionable gown of log cabin brown panne velvet shirred at the waist line with slight puffs over hip, and no sleeves. The divided back disclosed an accordion plaited Crepe Faille underskirt, and button trimmings on the waist. The neck was untrimmed and armholes and hem were bordered with soft fur bands. Hat and accessories matched and toned in with the costume, as worn by Evelyn West.

Joseph Silk Dresses.

One of the loveliest dresses of the evening was the silk gown from Joseph's, modeled by Mrs. Harry Reed, which was of the lovely new shade of Polican gray satin, with blouse and sleeves of Cleopatra blue. Bands of the satin girdle of the same were heavily embroidered with blue beads of same color as waist. A large blue pattern hat of same shade trimmed with burnt goose feather, and embroidery and a large gray wolf choker were worn with this gown. Black shoes and a fancy beaded bag were the accessories.

Another silk dress from Joseph's of great beauty was modeled by Mrs. Pratt, and was of black Canton crepe, very heavy grade, deeply embroidered with beads in two colors, citrine and Cleopatra blue. A wide wing flare of knife plaiting was at each side of the skirt, sleeves were of flare style and bodice plain with embroidery. A velvet hat of black with Ostrich plumes same tone as red fox fur worn, fancy strap patent slippers with patent tip were the accessories for this charming costume.

J. M. White—Silk Dresses.

Beautiful dress in combination of brown chenille and crepe back satin, the waist in blouse effect, and upper part of sleeves being of the chenille while the loose, full skirt is of the satin. The drape effect is carried out with a side panel on the left of the satin bordered with chenille, fastened with a handsome ornament of gold cloth embroidered with colored beads. The small panel on the right as well as the larger left-side panel, is lined with tan georgette. Worn by Mrs. James Mann.

Black flat crepe, in accordion pleated model, with wide girdle, has a bright color tone from linings of girdle, side drape and flowing sleeves, in two shades of blue and red. The lines are long and slender, and the beautiful lace Bertha which circles the neck, is also accordion pleated to match the style of the dress. Worn by Miss Blanche Niver.

Silks From J. C. Smith's.

Three striking silk dresses from the J. C. Smith store were styles to be remembered. Miss Valine Coffman wore a midnight blue crepe brocaded in beads of various colors with sleeves made in latest style of long puff and tight wrist cuff, embroidered. The girdle was of chenille, in wide style, and the hat a navy blue velvet, hand-embroidered, with velvet flowers in bright colors laid flat on the crown.

A black flat crepe, worn by Miss Bobo had three flounces in front of skirt, each one trimmed with narrow gold braid and narrow bands of marmot fur. A modish Ellzee hat in poke shape with trimmings of uncurled ostrich feathers and black satin shoes were worn with this attractive costume.

Miss Sealy modeled a distinctive and unusual silk gown of the new log cabin brown canton crepe. It is a Vogue model and was recently shown at a large eastern style show. The entire dress was tucked in pin tucks which formed inch wide checks. Tassels trimmed the side closing at the front. The handsome hat worn with this model had a crown of brocaded lace with henna brim and pom-pom feather of tan and red. Log cabin brown ooze shoes completed the costume.

Scene Three.

Again the band box opened and forth came living models in woolen dresses while men's suits were also displayed, many additional models for both men and women being shown in scene five.

Wool Dresses.

A handsome Poiret twill coat dress, made with wide flare sleeves and side closing showed a vest of lace in white, wide lapels and heavy Russian embroidery done in varied colors of ploid and beads. The hat was a small black pattern hat and the fur a Baum Marten choker. Red earrings and long black kid gloves completed the costume. Worn by Mrs. Pratt.

Another handsome Poiret twill from Joseph's was modeled by Mrs. Harry Reed. The shade was midnight blue and the style a one-piece with three-strap belt and side closing with three buckles. The heavy Bulgarian embroidery was done in shades of rose, green and blue with touches of yellow. Long red beads and earrings, a double Fitch choker and tooled leather bag were accessories. A Samuel Ache pattern hat of black velvet with burnt goose trimmings and long black kid gloves added the finishing touch.

"Jeune Fille."

It is altogether adorable in its quaint simplicity, this little frock of twill with its spiral bands of dark blue soutache on a dark blue ground. Knots of blue taffeta plisse ribbon adorn each shoulder and fall, as well, from the large rosette at the left side. The open bell cuff of the sleeve and the graceful circular flounce of the skirt bespeak the last word of Dame Fashion. Any lady shows her usual discrimination in selecting it for daytime uses. Modeled by Miss Mabel Baker for the Boston store.

From the J. C. Smith store came two handsome one-piece wool dresses of navy blue Poiret twill. The one modeled by Miss Sealy was made with wide rippled flounce and side closing. The flare sleeves were lined with jade green silk. Miss Valine Coffman wore a handsome Poiret twill gown of dark blue with double flounces and side closing fastened with ornamental black and silver button. The braided collar tied with strings of the cloth tipped with silver ornaments. The hat of royal blue was trimmed with a band of beaded feathers laid on the crown. Black satin shoes were worn with both costumes.

Suits Displayed.

Three-piece Marleen in black with skirt of wrapped around effect, blouse of handsome black chenille crepe and long coat trimmed with wide bands of gray fox fur, and fastened with handsome ornaments. Collar and cuffs of same fur add to beauty of suit. Worn by Miss Dorothy Potter of New York.

Black two-piece suit of Marleen with skirt of wrapped effect and coat in short jacquet effect, the bottom of coat being a band of cut work through which shows a background of gray duvetyne. Finished with fetching collar of gray squirrel. Modeled by Miss Helen Brady.

Two-piece suit of Marleen in black, the coat of jacquet style being set off with handsome embroideries in black, red and gold. Two bands of beaver fur at bottom of coat, edging embroidery, and collar and cuffs of same. Skirt of popular wrapped around effect.

Boston Store—Suits.

House of Youth suit in pheasant shade, with several rows of narrow brown velvet in trimming. Flared hip effect in coat with corresponding flounce at cuff. Straight wrap around style of skirt and brown fur collar of viatica squirrel. Button trimmings set off the entire suit, worn by Miss Smith.

Joseph's Suits.

A suit in the new shade of sandal wood duvetyne was a Joseph model shown by Mrs. Harry Reed. The skirt was in wrap-around style with large tuck at the side and the coat was made in loose style with loose panel at back pointed on each side. Fancy buttons and brown fox fur collar tied at the neck were the trimmings. A turban shaped modish hat built in front, tooled leather purse, black gloves and shoes completed the costume.

Navy blue Poiret twill made with plain skirt having side pocket and coat made in box style with scalloped bottom. With this was worn a small black satin slipper. Mrs. Anna Pratt was the model, and the suit from Joseph's.

Attractive gowns and suits of several different styles were modeled by Miss Evelyn West. A natty brown Poiret twill with coat laid in pin tucks and fastening of the side variety, closed with satin tie quite took the eye of the onlookers. The skirt of this model was of the wrap around style, and the fetching Samuel Ache hat of brown duvetyne worn with it completed a truly lovely costume. Still further glimpses of this pretty hat disclosed that it was a combination of brown and tan with a grape design in cut work and a fan like ornament of same material at the left side. A brown fox choker, brown kid gloves and brown sating shoes, with a tooled leather hand bag completed the accessories for this costume.

A handsome, straight line model of Poiret twill in navy blue showed the popular draped effect with a blouse at waist, the side closing being finished with long, black tassels. Long, tight sleeves with bell cuffs emphasized the effect of length and slenderness and embroidery and button trimming set off the model. A Samuel Ache pattern hat of black velvet in poke shape with colored trimmings and side attached veil, added much of smartness, while black satin shoes and Baum Marten choker completed the outfit.

J. C. Smith's Suits.

An unusual suit, both as to color and style, was that of terra cotta brown cloth modeled by Miss Douschka Bobo. It is a Paris Pyle model, set off with panels of black Soutache braid embroidery in back and front of jacket which fastens with narrow tie at side. Medallions of self-shade embroidery relieved the monotony of the black braid and lightens up the trimmings. Pointed dips at front and back of the coat make it distinctive, and bands of caracul fur and collar of same set it off attractively. The skirt is a straight tailored model. With this was worn black satin shoes and black turban of velvet with chenille embroidery and side, ring decorations.

J. C. Smith—Coats.

Magnificent new model in black Marleen with slightly blouse waist embroidered in two-inch bands of various colors and wide circular skirt with V-shaped insets of fur on either side. The sleeves in puff effect, made with wide bands of inset fur, have narrow turn-back cuffs also embroidered in colors. The fur used on this model is of the gray Siberian squirrel, and the lining is a handsome soft brown crepe with satin stripes. It is truly one of the most elegant models ever seen here, especially suited to stout figures, and was worn by Miss Sealy. The hat worn with this coat was a handsome model of blue and gray with silver ornament, and shoes of black suede with dull kid trimmings.

The Globe.

As much change in styles for men was noted as in those for women and children. So often it has been said that styles for men never change, and always there remain the regulation styles which seem to remain almost the same, yet there is a different cut to the bottom of the vest, a different roll to the collar or a change in the set up of the trousers.

Fashions for different occasions were shown in the Society Brand by the Globe, and modeled by Wofford D. Jones. A double-breasted York-shire model in a three-button suit of mixed goods in the latest shade of blue showed an invisible check of contrasting color and was made in regulation English style. With it was worn a Schoble feature hat of soft brown Scotch texture with a band of darker shade. English walking shoes completed the set-up.

A college model, called the Cambridge, was of the popular blue pin stripe with three-button sack coat and stub vest, the latest thing in vests. The trousers had the pleated front, though the leg hung straight in the 18 inches from the knee to the hem. A two-inch cuff at the bottom finished the style. With this suit was worn a light gray smooth finish Stetson in newest shade.

Two handsome overcoats from this house deserve description. One was the Bombo style with Raglan shoulder, a loose fitting model with belt. The goods were light tan chinchilla. The other coat was a handsome gray plaid Scotch tweed, made in form-fitting style with belt.

Joseph's Coats.

A fur coat of gray crushed plush in Trapeze color with large rolled collar and flare sleeve was an unusual model from Joseph's, worn by Mrs. Reed. With it was worn a hat of crushed berry velvet in poke shape with fancy ornament of silver and same shade, and black shoes.

Mrs. Pratt of Joseph's wore a stunning coat of fancy black Alberta cloth with long waist line and straight black caracul collar. Wide bands of soutache braid embroidered sleeves and panel at back. A satin striped canton lining was shown. With it was worn a small black hat with weather high in front.

A strikingly beautiful coat of genuine Caracul, with moleskin collar, cut in hip length and lined with a two-toned satin striped crepe, was shown by Joseph Dry Goods store. With this Miss West, who modeled the coat, wore a gray pattern hat by Ache, black satin dress in simple lines, black satin shoes, and carried a gray mesh bag. It was one of the newest and most handsome models shown.

J. M. White—Coats.

Elegant model in latest style blouse effect, with narrow hip lines and side fastening, material Promosa. Sleeves of dolman style, trimmings of narrow black braid, with collar and cuffs of black Caracul and lining of brocaded canton crepe. Worn by Miss Helen Brady.

Strikingly beautiful coat of Lustrosa in black with deep hem embroidered pattern in black and grey conventional designs. Narrower embroidery of same style on sleeves which are in flare effect. Beautiful wide fur collar of black fox. Modeled by Mrs. James Mann.

Elegant model in straight, slender lines of black Lustrosa, with a few well placed tucks in goods, and gray canton crepe lining. Handsome collar and cuffs of platinum gray fox set off this beautiful coat worn by Miss Dorothy Potter.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected New Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known by the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—Advertisement.

with it a French hat of black velvet in poke shape with feather trimming, and black French short vamp shoes of satin. This was truly a strikingly beautiful model.

An unusually beautiful coat of crushed velvet in soft medium shade of gray was made in the popular dolman style, the points of the sleeves carrying a long, self-toned silk tassel. The sleeves made smaller at the hand were finished with a wide turn-back cuff and the side opening fastened with a handsome gray ornament. The gorgeous lining of jade green satin brocaded with silver figures, made a wonderful contrast to this exterior, and the hat worn with it toned in beautifully with the coat. It was of taupe velvet, shirred, the turn-back brim being embroidered with gold thread, and the side-feather being a wonderful combination of log cabin brown and green with touches of black. The shoes were of two shades of log cabin brown, the vamp being of suede in the lighter shade, and the top of kid in lattice work being a dark, contrasting shade.

Evening Gowns and Suits. The closing scene was arranged as a house party in which beautiful gowns for women and handsome suits for men were shown.

Boston Store—Evening Gown. "Joyeuse" Gilda Gray's taste is completely satisfied by a full length coat of kit fox Youthora cloth having the very modern circular flounce at the border and deep bands of Kit Fox fur at throat and wrist. This beautiful wrap gains a strikingly sumptuous air from the broad strappings of gray and sapphire embroidery on the sleeves and at the head of the bell-shaped flounce as well as from the clasp buckle and swinging silk tassels at the side. Modeled by Miss Oreta Smith.

A lovely dress of moon glow chiffon trimmed with gold bands and edgings, the waist being made with no sleeves and with Dolly Varden vest edged with the gold lace. It is made in bouffant effect with bands of silk lace flowers effectively placed. Worn by Miss Pauline Dutton.

J. M. White—Evening Gown.
 Stunning design of pigeon blood red satin brocaded with metallic gold design, in all over. Made in slender wrap effect, with bodice of silver cloth. The narrow girdle of silver ribbon is studded with several rows of brilliants the ornaments on the end of the streamer being a handsome mount of brilliants and pearls with long strands of lustrous and pearl beads, pendant. The side drape is fastened with a gorgeous shell ornament in fan shape set with red brilliants and outlined in white. The wrap that goes with it is a gorgeous affair in red panne velvet, the same shade, and lined with brocaded silk like the evening gown. It is made with circular flounce at bottom and ruffled collar trimmed with mankey fur. One of the really stunning models of the evening. Modeled by Miss Dorothy Potter of New York.

Joseph's.
 An evening dress of black, heavily embroidered with gold, modeled by Mrs. Pratt of Joseph's, made a fine offset for the other evening gowns of lighter shades.

Evening Suits.
 A Tuxedo model had a form-fitting, straight front coat with black satin collar and vest, the trousers being straight. With this was worn a very light gray modish Stetson of smooth felt, and Bostonian Oxford dancing pumps of patent leather, worn by Wafford D. Jones of the Globe.

A handsome Tuxedo suit, the latest word for evening wear, was shown by Guy Randolph. It was the regulation form-fitted style with satin collar braided turn back cuff and brocaded vest of black satin. The trousers were semi-bell style. Suit was from E. H. & A. Davis.

Jones & Cox
 Furniture for the settings came from the house of Jones & Cox and included an attractive Ivory living room set of reed upholstered in tapestry with Chinese design in various colors, blue predominating. It included a settee, long table and two chairs. The rug was a handsome Axminster of latest pattern.

A second living-room set of Mahogany with cane back was beautifully upholstered with velour in tan with dark blue figures. This contained a long settee and two chairs, and a floor lamp the shade of which was rose pink with blue embroidered panels.

Juliana Shop Coats
 An elegant model of black velona cloth with silver embroidery and wide embroidered collar and cuffs, side closed with ornamental buckle and lining of striped gray satin, worn by

Mrs. Garrett Bohning of Eastland.
 A wonderful brown velona cloth coat in Dolman style, heavily embroidered with flare bottom and collar and cuffs of Siberia squirrel and lining of brocade in same shade, was worn by Mrs. W. L. McGinley. Both these wonderful coats were from the Juliana Shop.

Suits.
 A decidedly new style in two-piece suits was shown by the Juliana Shop. One of black velona cloth with beaver collar and cuffs, showed a one-piece dress with straight lines of black embroidery, a loose sack coat with puffed sleeves. With it was worn a brown tailored hat, the model being Mrs. Bohning. A striking tailored suit of blue Poiret twill with Rudolph Valentino sailor hat tied under the chin, was the fetching style modeled by Mrs. McGinley.

Evening Gowns.
 No lovelier evening gowns could be found than those shown by the Juliana Shop, in rich materials and elegant models. A delicate pink called "Coolidge rose" chiffon, embroidered with blue and silver beads, was a slender pattern with side drape and no sleeves. A silver hair ornament added to its beauty, as worn by Mrs. McGinley. A beautiful white gown with bodice of satin and skirt a wide flounce of gold embroidered lace edged with white fur, was worn most effectively by Mrs. Garrett Bohning, who had a gold ornament in her hair.

Silk Dresses.
 From the Juliana Shop, modeled by Mrs. McGinley, was shown a black satin with wide lace flounce, big bow at the back, and hat of black and gold with embroidery.

Mrs. Bohning wore a black crepe with girdle of applique in various colors side drape, and large white beads outlining neck and sleeves. The black velvet hat worn with this dress had a turn-up brim and silver band with ostrich plume of gray.

Wool Dresses.
 Wool dresses from the Juliana Shop were most unusual. A Mandarin dress of blue twill being heavily embroidered over the entire length of the long coat with various colors and figures. With this gorgeous gown Mrs. Bohning wore a hat of gold color with ornaments.

Mrs. McGinley wore a heavily embroidered straight line style of one-piece dress from the Juliana Shop, the embroidery being in panel style and done in silver threads and colors. A stunning black velvet hat with all-over embroidery and odd-shaped ornament across the crown, completed one of the handsomest models shown.

Cosmetics used were from Crawford's pharmacy and O. L. Phillips Drug store.

PARCEL POST BUSINESS SHOWS AMAZING GROWTH

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The parcel post in the first ten years of its existence has brought into the post office department revenues totalling about $1,100,000.

In 1921 alone, department records show, 1,071,000,000 packages weighing from a few ounces to 70 pounds were carried in the mails as parcel post. In the first year, 1913 parcel post revenues amounted to $40,038,163, and in 1921 had climbed to $139,605,717. Figures for the fiscal year of 1922, are not yet complete, but it is estimated the revenue will approximate $169,000,000.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Henderson has been engaged for six months in an investigation to determine the full scope of the parcels service, but the task is so great that conclusive figures are not yet available.

TOWNSITE BUILDINGS AND ALL MOVED TO NEW SITE

ORANGE, Sept. 27.—A whole townsite was moved here recently when the Orange Maritime company decided to move from the east side of the Sabine river to Port Neches. Although the town had never been given a name there were 28 houses, including an eight-room two-story structure, moved Louisiana to Texas a distance of 50 miles.

PRESIDENT AMERICAN BANKERS ASSOCIATION

Walter William Head, who advances from vice president of the American Bankers association to president, was born in Adrian, Ill., Dec. 18, 1877. He is president of the Omaha National bank, Omaha, Neb.

Mr. Head, who received a normal school and business college education, was for several years a country school teacher, later being principal of public schools in DeKalb, Mo., from 1901 to 1903. In the latter year he gave up a salary of $75 a month and entered banking at $40 a month. He became cashier of the DeKalb State bank, serving in that capacity until 1906. From 1906 to 1908 he was state and national bank examiner and in 1908 he became cashier of the American National bank of St. Joseph, Mo., remaining there until 1917. In that year he was elected vice president of the Omaha National bank and became its president in 1920. He is also president of the Omaha Safe Deposit company and the Omaha Trust company and vice president of the American National bank of St. Joseph and of the St. Joseph Life Insurance company.

His diversity of interest in civic activity is shown by the fact that he is a member of the Nebraska State Capitol commission, having charge of the erection of the new $5,000,000 state capitol. He was major, Omaha battalion, Nebraska home guard during the war. He is a member of the board of directors of the international committee, Y. M. C. A., and is president, Omaha council, Boy Scouts of America and vice president of the national organization. In the American Bankers association he was president of the national bank division, 1919-20; second vice president of the general organization, 1921-22, and first vice president 1922-23.

For many years Mr. Head has taught a man's Sunday school class in the First Presbyterian church of Omaha, with from 50 to 60 regular attendants. It is, with one exception, the largest men's Bible class in Omaha.

The further diversity of interest of the new head of the American Bankers association is also shown by his activities as a practical farmer. He has a 2,200-acre farm near St. Joseph, Mo., that he personally directs, and the technical methods pursued under his supervision are credited with remarkable results. He raises as specialties Hereford cattle and fine Poland China hogs that are frequently prize winners at the livestock fairs. His practical farming experience has won him the soubriquet of "Granger President of the American Bankers association," and, it is declared, has particularly fitted him to aid in bringing about continued improvement in the relations between agriculture and finance.

Mr. Head married Della Thompson of St. Joseph, Mo., and they have one daughter. His home is Omaha, Neb.
