SPORTSMATTER

BY FRANK GETTY
UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Just when it seemed that baseball would have to come into its own without the artificial stimulus of scandal, the New York Giants up and traded Rogers Hornsby to the Boston Braves for a couple of second raters.

Francis Hogan and Jimmy Welch may deserve more honorable mention than that, but the fact remains that Hornsby—judged by local standards—was worth a dozen of each.

John McGraw long has had his eye on Hogan, whom he regards as one of the ablest young backstops in the major leagues. The Giants were badly in need of a left fielder, and Welch may fill the bill.

But consider the man whose place this pair from the Hub is expected to fill. Hornsby was a ball player who was believed to be destined for greater things.

Already he had managed the St. Louis Cardinals when that ball club won its first pennant and world's championship. Following that success, Rogers came to New York in exchange for Frankie Frisch and Jimmy Ring.

Ostensibly the purpose in bringing Hornsby to New York was that he might some day become manager of the Giants.

As second baseman of McGraw's club in 1927, Hornsby played magnificent baseball. He led his club in that all-important factor of "runs driven in", and easily earned the salary of $40,000 which the Giants were reported to be paying him.

It will be recalled that when Rogers joined the Giants a year ago, he signed a two-year contract. Consequently, Judge Fuchs has had to take over "The Rajah" at the latter's own terms.

This is no great hardship upon the eminent Hub Jurist. There are at least six other National league magnates who would be glad to do the same.

While planning to build a pennant winner for 1928, McGraw does not include Hornsby in his scheme of things. Hogan—yes. A most able young catcher still less than 21 years of age. Welch, an outfielder, who may, under Giant tutelage, find a regular berth.

The transfer of Hornsby to the Braves is a source of infinite satisfaction to Judge Fuchs. With Dr. Eddie Farrell at shortstop and Hornsby at second, the Boston Braves will have one of the best keystone combinations in baseball.

As for the Giants, the departure of Hornsby presents an opportunity for Andy Cohen, the Jewish infielder, to show what he can do at second base. Cohen was one of the best batsmen in the International league last season, and returns for his second try with the Giants in 1928.

Frank Hogan, a hitter as well as a brainy young catcher, may strengthen the Giants just where they need it most.

But the fact remains that the transfer of Hornsby remains one of the most interesting and strangest incidents of modern baseball.

The Ranger city grader is today taking advantage of the rain and is leveling the lower part of Elm street, in front of the postoffice.

The unpaved portion of Elm has been in a bad condition for some time but the lack of a good rain has made it impossible to condition.

Make Plans For Summer School At A. & M. College

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 18.—The 1928 summer school of the A. & M. College of Texas, which will open June 11, the Monday following commencement of the regular college year, is now being organized, Dean C. H. Winkler, of the school of vocational teaching and chairman of the summer school committee, has announced.

The summer session will again continue for 12 weeks with two terms of six weeks each. Enrollment in the college division of the summer school last summer was the largest in the history of the school and Dean Winkler predicts an even larger enrollment for the coming summer.

In addition to the regular college division, which includes the graduate school, a number of short courses will be given, such as the summer school of cotton, six weeks; course for vocational teachers, three weeks; course for public utility men, for graduate veterinarians, cotton breeding course, county superintendents' conference, and the "big farmers' short course, each of the latter five calling for one week's duration.

Matter of Money.

Before the baseball boys get going south there will be some space available in the public prints for a little official information about the heavy-weight box fighting situation, if there is any.

Tex Rickard, in his well known way, will discover some sort of a situation and he will attend efficiently to the process of getting the aforementioned situation in form for public consumption.

Outside of the Sharkey, Heeney, Dempsey and what have you angles, there is a real situation facing Rickard on Feb. 1, when, by the terms of the contract that Gene Tunney declares has no equity, Rickard must lay $100,000 on the line to assure the champion for the second time that he is not fooling. His first act to prove his sincerity cost him another $100,000.

You would think that a contract which would bring in $200,000 months and months before the date set for the fighter or even before the other fighter or the place had been named would have been highly pleasing to the young financier holding the title.

But Tunney complains that the contract has him tied up so that he can't refuse to play ball with Rickard while, on the other hand, if Rickard wants to crawl out the contract permits him to do so and Tunney will have to pay back the advance dough.

Tunney Really Sore.

Perhaps that contract lacks the equity that civil courts have been known to demand when two parties enter into an agreement. If this is so, it may turn out to be too bad that Gene didn't know it or realize it when he signed the contract.

This contract and the arguments over it have caused some pictures to be painted of Tunney and the boss from the big house on Eighth avenue making faces at each other.

Some of the boys claim this picture to be a phoney drawn for the purpose of that very necessary old ballyhoo.

But we have the best of reasons for saying that Tunney is very serious in his differences with Rickard and if he can get out of that contract he will do it. He doesn't come naturally into the ballyhoo stuff as Kearns and Dempsey did.

Rickard has made a date to play some golf with Tunney in Florida and it's a cinch that they won't spend their time on the course framing up a story to tell the newspaper boys. Rickard knows that Tunney is ready to talk turkey on Feb. 1 and he wants to have at least a preliminary conversation before they start firing.

Gene's Idea Rules.

It is rather significant that Rickard had to alter plans he had made to provide space on the summer calendar for two big shots. He has insisted for years that one year was big enough for only one shot and no fighter ever forced him to change his plans before.

It would seem apparent then that Tunney can't be handled like the other fighters and that he has very set ways and his own ideas as to how his personal business is to be conducted.

When Tunney announced that he would have two fights this summer, even if it became necessary to hire out with another promoter, Rickard gave him the laugh and said he was just talking for the papers.

Tunney said he was talking for Tunney and that no heavyweight championship fight could be held without the champion. In some way Rickard learned that he was dealing with a serious young man who had been talking to some high-priced and very competent lawyers and he at least had to get his plans ready to be changed.

Something will be announced soon from Florida and unless we miss our guess the announcement will indicate that Tunney has not backed down much.

Moving Pictures Of New Ford Will Show at Liberty

Ed Maher, of the Leveille-Maher Motor company, Ranger, announces that a motion picture, showing the manufacturing and assembling of the new Ford, will be shown at the Liberty theatre, Thursday, Jan. 19.

The picture, for the most part, shows the actual making of the various parts of the car and the precision with which each moving part is measured before being passed by the inspector.

The picture was taken at the main Ford plant and was taken for the purpose of giving the public an insight into the work attached to manufacturing a motor car.

The picture will be shown in addition to the regular program at the Liberty and will be shown in Ranger only one day, at both afternoon and night shows.

GERMAN COMPOSER INJURED BY JAZZ

By United Press.

FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN.—Passion for jazz melodies may be responsible for the professional downfall of the German composer, Bernhard Sekles, director of the Hoch conservatory of music in Frankfurt.

Sekles, after declaring that recent decades had witnessed a neglect of rhythm in music, established a special course in "jazz tunes" at the distinguished Frankfurt conservatory. The departure caused an uproar among German highbrows.

Now that the Frankfurt conservatory is to be transformed from a private to a state institution, it is reported that Sekles will be discharged from his function as director.

Ohio executed a mental defective of 17 and found the millionaire bootlegger George Remus was just a little crazy when he killed his wife, that's all. Now we're beginning to understand the state the "Ohio gang" came from.

Hopeful.

Few Chinese are big league ball players. In fact, William "Buck" Lal, pictured here, is the only one in the big leagues. He will try to fill Rogers Hornsby's old job with the New York Giants next year.

Had You Ever Looked At Advertising In This Light?

SOME PEOPLE think ADVERTISING IS simply SPENDING MONEY. BUT THE wise man knows IT'S THE surest way to make more. THE ONLY problem is WHAT MEDIUM to use. CIRCULARS AND hand bills COST A LOT of money BUT YOU give them away, SO NOBODY wants them ON THEIR front porches NOR IN their morning mail. SUBSCRIBERS to the TIMES AND TELEGRAM PAY REAL MONEY FOR THEIR PAPER AND THAT'S WHY they value it, MORE HIGHLY THAN A CIRCULAR. HE BRINGS his paper home SO THAT every member OF THE family CAN READ and enjoy its BREEZY up-to-the-minute news

AND PROFIT by heeding THE HOME-TOWN merchants' BID FOR their business, AND THAT'S a good reason FOR ADVERTISING in these papers. AND NOT ONLY that BUT THE MERCHANTS using hand bills AND CIRCULARS hopes FOR TEN readers to the 100 bills, IF WILLIE delivers the 100, WHEREAS THE merchant advertising IN THE TIMES and TELEGRAM IS SURE of at least 4 readers TO EVERY COPY of the paper. AND THEY all read and heed HIS ADS. AND THAT'S WHY more money IS SPENT IN NEWSPAPER advertising THAN IN all other mediums combined. OUR SERVICE DEPARTMENT WILL HELP YOU WITH YOUR ADVERTISING PROBLEMS, PHONE 224.
