Whatman will also file a response, showing the charge upon which Collins is held in custody. He is spending five years in the penitentiary on automobile theft charges. After being pardoned by Gov. J. C. Walton, Collins was sent back to prison by Trapp. Habeas writ will show that undue influence was induced to get the Collins parole.

Ranger Radio Fans To Hear Game Reports

At least 15 radios in Ranger, it is said, will be kept tuned in on Fort Worth and Dallas respectively and a number of people will listen in on the games to be played in the playoff series between the Panthers and Steers.

It is improbable that the list below covers anything like all the places where they will have the opportunity of hearing the reports by plays as broadcast, and conceivably a few of them will not take the same interest the general public takes in this Cat and Steer meow and howling. However, the following can—and most of them no doubt will—hear the reports and get a taste of the thrills of the games:

Crawford pharmacy, Smoke House Cigar Store, Suits residence, Ochtree residence, Mc Lester residence, Gholson (John M.) residence, Moore (Charles) residence, Ralston residence, Tennyson residence, Barclay residence, Bowles (Mrs.) residence, Champion residence, Wiss residence, Dr. Wilson apartments, Coleman residence.

LAFOLLETTE'S SON'S FATE IN BALANCE TODAY

Wisconsin's Senatorial Primaries Now Being Held Will Show Political Trend

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 15.—The people of Wisconsin went to the polls today to determine upon the leadership of the republican party in the state.

With 10 candidates making a bid for the various party nominations to the United States senatorship left vacant by the death of Robert M. La Follette the result of today's primary will decide in a large measure whether Wisconsin is to return to the type of republicanism typified by President Coolidge or is to continue the spectacle of the militant progressivism of the late Senator La Follette, "Young Bob" La Follette, the progressive leader's son and campaign manager, is a candidate to succeed his father, while his principal opponent is Roy P. Wilcox, Eau Claire, representing the more conservative wing of the party.

With 10 candidates and more than that many issues the state has passed through its shortest and bitterest political battle of years.

The election becomes more or less of a free-for-all with the announcement from three of the candidates that they are not running in the primary but will have their names placed on the ballot sheets of the election proper. This affords the spectacle of a Wisconsin election with more names on the election ballot than on the primary ballot.

The procedure eliminates the possibility of these three candidates being ousted from the election through defeat in the primary.

The fight on issues during the stumping campaigns of the various candidates has centered itself around the Esch-Cummins railroad law; the Great Lakes waterways project; federal taxation; the Muscle Shoals problem; the League of Nations; the world court; and the breaking up of the so-called "Madison ring" alleged to consist of Gov. John J. Blaine, Attorney General Herman L. Ekern and Robert M. La Follette Jr.

Blaine and Ekern have been active in stumping the state in the interests of Robert M. La Follette's campaign. For this service, La Follette opponents assert, they will receive his endorsement and assistance next year when, it is said, Blaine will seek Senator Irvine L. Lenroot's seat and Ekern will become a candidate for governor.

WEST TEXAS FAIR OPENING DUE MONDAY

$40,000 Ground Improvements Bespeak Vastly Improved Exhibition.

ABILENE, Sept. 15.—Plans are maturing this week for opening the West Texas fair here on Monday, Sept. 21. It runs one week. Three new buildings have been erected and the grandstand enlarged, at a cost of $40,000. The entertainment features, the premiums to be paid, and the program as a whole approximate a cost of $50,000.

The high points of the program include a historical pageant, with all of the educational institutions of Abilene participating, on Monday night, Sept. 21. An estimate indicates an attendance of 25,000 school children on Public School day, Sept. 22. There will be two football games on that day. Abilene HI will play San Angelo HI, and Winters HI will play Anson HI. Wednesday and Friday, automobile racing days, will see three of the world's fastest drivers on the local track, with many others. There are none faster or more renowned than DePalma, Lockhart and Shafer. Friday is also Shrine day. All the nobles of West Texas are invited, and will be served with a barbecue on the grounds. A special train, bringing the Fort Worth nobles is already arranged for. In collegiate football, Abilene Christian college will play Howard Payne college of Brownwood on Thursday and Simmons university will play St. Edward's university of Austin on Saturday. Saturday is Traveling Men's day, and the "peddlers" who sell everybody in West Texas are headed for Abilene on that day. Some of the boys who went "over the top" "over there" will take part, in order to show just how it was done. The Red Hussar band will furnish music for the week. The regular grandstand program includes the best hippodrome acts available.

The agricultural show, the manufacturers' exhibit, the livestock exhibit, the dog show, and the women's departments are all overflowing, and thus promise to be the best ever seen in this section of the state.

SAY FRENCH DEBT MUST BE PAID IN FULL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The American debt funding commission today received with satisfaction, dispatches from Paris telling that Finance Minister Caillaux had received from the French cabinet full power to affect a full settlement of France's debt to the United States. This country, it was said, would require payment of the $3,000,000,000 in full, with payment of interest adjusted to the capacity of France to pay.

Any expectations of the French government of obtaining easier terms than these is unfounded, according to commission officials, although it is considered possible that the French cussess in obtaining a tentative 2 percent settlement with Great Britain may have led to such hope.

FRENCH DEBT FUNDING POWER VESTED IN PREMIER CAILLAUX

Welfare Workers Seek Employment For Disabled Men

There is in Ranger a man who is trying to support a family but with whom the fates seem to have dealt harshly, according to welfare workers of the city who, for some time, have had this man under their watch care. His name is withheld but his condition is such as might appeal to charitable impulses did he permit it. However, according to those who have the matter in hand, no such appeal is made. Nor would he permit it.

This man lost his job with one of the large companies under circumstances which, technically do not give him the benefit of the pension plan allowed to disabled employees but, it is stated, these circumstances have been closely investigated and there is nothing in any manner derogatory in them. He has been long afflicted with rheumatic troubles and his wife also is suffering from similar afflictions, it is stated. They have two small children. The man is now able to do light work and is seeking some employment of the nature of light cleaning, looking after a chicken farm or something of the sort.

Anyone having such work to let out to what the welfare workers believe a thoroughly competent and worthy man, are asked to apply to Miss Joyce Connally, public health nurse, at her office in the High school building.

Ranger Boy Elected Members of Faculty Oklahoma University

The chair of assistant instructor in organic chemistry has been tendered to Darrel Althausen, who has for some time been employed by the Eureka Trench company. Mr. Althausen's lowest grade during the period of his undergraduate work was A-, a record attained by few students in any institution.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT AND LOSSES ARE TREMENDOUS

Red River Highest in 20 Years Spreads Desolation Among Thousands.

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 15.—Swollen from many heavy rains Red river was at its highest stage for 20 years today. The damage already done is estimate at $100,000,000, due to washing out two toll bridges and damage to crops in the lowlands. The rise continues. Fear is felt for the lowlands. The toll bridge at Burk Burnett was taken away Monday night, and another also went down. The Grandfield bridge was reported as ready to go and the Wichita Falls & Northwestern bridge near Burk Burnett was not expected to last many hours.

DEVOL, Okla., Sept. 15.—With more rains today in the tributary basin of the Red river, the river is near flood stage and a great deal of anxiety is felt for the bridges and crops. Twelve spans in the Devol bridge have been swept away and 18 have gone out of the bridge at Handlett, eight miles east of here. The city is without lights, due to flooded conditions at Wichita Falls. The Katy railroad bridge near here is said to be unsafe.

FREDERICK, Okla., Sept. 15.—Waters of the Red river, swollen to flood stage, were reported receding today. Travel over the Frisco railway bridge was stopped yesterday, owing to the washing out of two spans. A pile driver was at work today making repairs and the bridge will be in use within 24 hours.

Traffic over the Katy bridge at Dural and Burk Burnett was still held up today, although no part of the bridge has gone out.

Reports here indicate many thousands of acres of cotton have been ruined by water overflowing the lowlands.

CHINESE TONGS NABBED WHILE SIGNING PACT

Arrests and Deportations Follow Negotiations Between Rival Warring Factions

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—While Chinese leaders of the Lung Lee and Hip Sing tongs were signing a peace contract, federal officials swooped down and seized about 400 orientals. The treaty was signed after hours of conference and the following telegram was sent to various tongs throughout the country:

"Peace has been signed at Chinese general's office at midnight. Notify all members. Letters of confirmation will follow."

While the treaty was being signed Chinese on the river front and the Bowery were stopped and asked for their credentials. Others were taken before Commissioner Cotter for examination and others were deported.

BIBLE THOUGHT.

Love Masters Fear: There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear.—1 John 4:18.

Prayer: O God, Thou art Love; may Thy spirit live in us, and then we shall daily walk in confidence.

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY.

May I call the attention of your readers to the new emphasis placed on the Golden Rule as a guiding principle in international relations, by the action of the recent congress of nations in Stockholm, which appointed Dec. 6 for international observance as Golden Rule Sunday on behalf of the orphans of the Near East? So says C. V. Vickery, general secretary.

The Golden Rule is now recognized as the most universal proposition for human conduct ever offered for the attention of mankind. In the whole circumference of life, there is no point that it fails to touch. For every angle of experience it confronts conscience with a commanding law. For every question of duty it has an imperative answer, for every human relation a flawless solution. If men and women would all observe it, every clash and friction that sets up ill will would disappear.

The Golden Rule teaches all citizens to observe and preserve the supremacy of laws, government and justice, sincerely dedicated to common and equal rights for every class of the people. It teaches all statesmen to uphold fair dealing, irrevocable honor and the sympathies of unflinching human good will, alike in national and in international politics.

It teaches all nations to seek and find the way by which every people's aspirations of life, liberty and worthy development may be satisfied, without trenching on the rights of neighbors or sowing seeds of enmity in the field of the world's peace. It teaches the prosperous and happy everywhere to open hands of bounty to the poor, the miserable, deprived and hopeless throughout the globe.

Surely no observance can have a wider appeal or a greater potential usefulness than Golden Rule Sunday on Dec. 6.

SOUTHERN DEVELOPMENT.

The Florida "boom," instead of decreasing, has been gaining in momentum and signs of a weakening in real estate values are conspicuously missing.

But the public is discovering that the development of the south is not going to be confined to Florida, or North Carolina, or any other particular state. It is starting out on a scale that assures it will be south-wide. Nothing much has been said about it, but South Carolina is now well embarked on a state development that will keep it close to the head of enterprising southern states.

In the movement now started, North Carolina will come next to Florida, with prospect of taking the lead from that State within the next two years. The immediate overflow from Florida covers a section of Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama, while Texas is holding its own in industrial development. Recent reports show that these southern states now lead New England in textile production.

The magnitude of southern development has amazed the country, but the movement is really only in its infancy, for behind it are many of the most progressive capitalists of the nation.

The government proposes to deport aliens and naturalized citizens convicted of defying the liquor laws. The native-born citizen is no less a criminal—in fact, it is because of his apathy or indirect connivance that the alien is made the goat.

In spite of the number who will stay "to hum" there will be quite an exodus of young folks to various schools during the next ten days. C. I. A., at Denton, seems to be the favorite for the girls and will enroll Miss Lucile Buchanan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. G. Buchanan, Elizabeth and Marie Barrett, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Barrett; Miss Gladys Maddocks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maddocks; Miss Edna Brashier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Col. The guild will meet next Monday with Mrs. Coy Austin, and the auxiliary will meet at the clubrooms.

Mrs. Barney Carter is spending today in Dallas.
 Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sweeney and son will leave right away for their new home in Amarillo. They have sold their lovely home on Main street to Barney Carter, who will move his family there at an early date. Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney have been in Ranger some eight years and naturally feel that in leaving Ranger they are leaving home. A host of good wishes from the friends they have made here during that time will follow them into their new home.

SATURDAY MAY BE LAST TIME HARVEY PLAYS

'Somewhere in Eastland' Somebody Is Trying to Disqualify Quarterback

Coach Cherry is back from Austin, where he went armed with all sorts of affidavits, showing that Quarterback Harvey never has played in professional or semi-professional baseball or any other sort of professional or semi-professional sport. And Coach Cherry has full faith in the ultimate action of the higher-ups sitting in conference at the state capital, which he believes will clear the snappy signal shooter of all such charges. That Harvey played amateur baseball on a local team, is not denied. But the team itself was in no sense, professional or semi-professional, it is said, and Harvey never got a dime for his playing.

One thing has developed in the premises which proclaims football courts unlike almost any other sort of court. The accused is not permitted, at least in this case, to face his accusers. All that could be gotten out of the council was that the charges originated "somewhere in Eastland." Few, if any, Ranger players believe it came from any member of the Eastland team. What they do believe is that it is based on such a flimsy foundation, it is said, as to make it seem preposterous to suppose the charge will stand up. Whoever did it, evidently intended to sow some propaganda which would embarrass the game little quarter-back. Pictures and cartoons are said to have plastered parts of Eastland caricaturing Harvey.

There is the bare possibility that it may, and football fans who delight in seeing Harvey fool the enemy and put things over on the other camp, will be interested all the more in Saturday's game with Stephenville, it is said, in which he will certainly participate.

The reason for this is apparent. Stephenville is not in the Class A conference and there is no bar to any member of the team's playing. That the decision of the men who hold Harvey's fate in the hollow of their hands will not be forthcoming for some time was indicated. However, it will come in ample time for the regular games and until it does, the team will claim Harvey as one of their number and give him all the practice other players have, pending the final decree.

Incidentally, if the signs of the times pretend anything at all, there is going to be one of the all-freest, snappiest, scrappiest games here Saturday seen for a good time on the Ranger gridiron. The Stephenville bunch claims to have something up their sleeves and their very ambition to take one from the majors (to borrow a baseball term) is enough to set them on edge and make them go out for blood. Nor are the Ranger fellows ignoring that fact. They are practicing for all that's in it these days—getting their line-up perfectly—doing scrimmage work. They sum it all up by saying: "There'll be a hot time in the old town next Saturday."

All kinds of buttons made for your new dress. Mail orders filled promptly. Mrs. Howell, The Novelty Store, Eastland.

"DUSTY" COMING TO TOWN.

Dust will visit Ranger this week. He is a young buffalo from Miller Bros. 101 ranch and though "Dusty" has been away from the herd a short time he has tamed down considerably.

"Dusty" will be parked out in front of the Liberty theatre where he will be on display next Thursday. He will be brought here in a special built car to help advertise the new 101 ranch picture, "Trail Dust," which was filmed at the ranch this summer.

The Buffalo still shows flashes of wildness and occasionally kicks and butts at onlookers though they are safe from his attacks because he is in a strong iron-bound cage.

"Dusty" tells the world he sure likes apples and sugar and usually makes up with the persons who feed him. His keeper is the only human being he really loves and that is because his keeper knows animals and conquers their wild ways with kindness and an occasional lamp of sugar.

School children are especially invited to come down and view this perfect specimen of a fast disappearing animal that formerly roamed the western plains in thousands.

Three Dramatic Clubs Will Give Ranger Thrills

Ranger will have three dramatic clubs during the coming season, it is announced. Two of these will be confined to the schools and be in charge of Miss Marie Flahie of the high school department of fine arts. The third will be the long established Little Theatre club, in charge of Mrs. Marion Peters.

The school clubs will be styled the Little Play House association, and the High School Dramatic club, respectively. The Little Play House association will be confined to pupils below high school grades.

The Little Theatre officials will hold a meeting tonight to formulate plans for the season. That Ranger will see some highly entertaining plays exceeding in interest, any heretofore rendered, is stated by those in charge. This movement in no way crosses the work of the school players, which is confined to students solely, it is said.

The principal officers of the Little Theatre movement are Mrs. V. V. Cooper, Jr., president, Miss Mabel Knight, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Marion Peters, director.

The Northwest Texas District Medical association, in session today at Weatherford, will be invited to hold its next meeting, which will be in November, by Drs. J. H. Caton and R. C. Ferguson of Eastland who are attending the meeting. Dr. Caton is counsellor for the district and is attending the meeting in an official capacity, while Dr. Ferguson is on the program for a discussion of the subject of "Malnutrition of Infants and Children."

Insurance executive says Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is "Conqueror of Constipation"

Former addict to pills and drugs says ALL-BRAN restored youthful vim.

Here is a most remarkable tribute to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN:

For more than one-third of a century, I was an addict to all kinds of pills, drugs and nostrums to alleviate the tortures resulting from constipation. They brought only temporary relief. Then I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and as a result I have a new birth of freedom from the terrible foe of the race. I am again in the pink of condition. The perspiration even of youthful vigor in my advancing years. Truly, Mr. W. K. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the conqueror of constipation.

Gratefully yours,
 (Signed) A. M. SWENNEY,
 The Federal Reserve Life Insurance Co.

Let Kellogg's ALL-BRAN conquer constipation forever for you. Doctors recommend it. It is what they call a bulk food, that sweeps the intestine clean, stimulating digestion and normal, healthy action. Something habit-forming pills and drugs can never do.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, relief is guaranteed or your grocer returns the purchase price. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made in Battle Creek, Mich. Served in leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton ©1925 NEAT SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY SO FAR:
GLORIA GORDON, beautiful flapper, marries DICK GREGORY, a struggling lawyer. Her idea of marriage is fun and fine clothes . . . but no work or children. She refuses pointblank to do her own housework, and hires a maid. But Dick has to let the maid go, because he can't afford her wages. Gloria had swamped him with debts for her clothes and a new automobile. She becomes infatuated with an out-of-work actor, STANLEY WAYBURN. When he leaves town to go to New York, she follows him. But he spurns her. Then she tries to find a job as a chorus girl and fails. It is then that Gloria begins to realize how lonely she is for Dick. But she is afraid to go home. At last, however, she does go. Dick takes her back, but not as his wife. Gloria begins to wonder if he is in love with his secretary, Susan Briggs. While Dick is out late one night, the house is robbed. Gloria is sure that Dick spent the evening with Miss Briggs. But next morning she learns that he was at the home of Dr. John Seymour, who had killed himself because of his wife's love affairs with Jim Carewe. The breach between Gloria and Dick widens. She learns that Miss Briggs is in love with Dick and begs him to discharge her. He refuses. Finally Gloria decides to leave Dick. She tells him she's done her best to win him back to her, but is now "through."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
The minute Gloria told Dick she was through with him she was sorry. She was not through with him! She was just beginning to be interested in him as she had never been before in all her life. Hoping that he wouldn't take her at her word, she found herself breathlessly waiting for his answer. It came. "All right, Gloria," he said. "And this time, it's for good. Remember! No coming back!" Gloria couldn't speak. With her little head held high, she marched past him, into the kitchen.

The steak was burning in the frying pan. Gloria took it from the stove, and put it away in the ice-box, steaming hot as it was. She tossed the bread-tray with the bread on it, back into its box. The asparagus and salad went into the garbage can. "If I can't be his wife, I won't be his cook—that's a cinch!" she thought to herself. She stood at the screen door looking out into the yard. There was a strong smell of boiling fruit in the air. Mrs. Donberg, next door, must be responsible—it was the season for preserving. Suddenly Gloria saw the beauty of the common lot—of a woman working for a man, and him for her. Of their children. And their little homes and backyard gardens—it was a precious thing, the every day kind of love that Dick had once offered her. And that she hadn't had the wit to accept. Tears scalded her eyes, and ran down her cheeks. Blinded by them, she felt her way upstairs and into her own room. She packed her over-night bag.

Dick was waiting for her in the hall when she came downstairs. She looked up at him with red-rimmed, swollen eyes. "I'll come back tomorrow to pack my trunks," she said. "I'm going home to Mother's now." "No," he objected. "We'll do this thing decently. I'm not going to let you run crying down the street to-night. We won't give the neighbors any more to gossip about than we have to! You go upstairs to bed, now. And we'll talk things over tomorrow morning." "Talk what over?" Gloria asked. "You want me to go—and I'm going. What is there to jabber about? I'm sick of all this talk, talk!" She drew a long sobbing breath. "There are a good many things we've got to discuss," Dick said. "Selling the house, and the furniture—things of that kind." Selling the house! And the furniture, too!—Ah, Dick must mean business then! He really must be through with her—eager to rid himself of her.

She looked around her at the bright, cheerful house with its cream-colored walls, its blue rugs, and the yellow curtains that looked as if sunshine were always pouring through them. "I—I don't want to go away from my house!" she said in a whisper. She couldn't trust her treacherous voice. "Oh, rats!" Dick exclaimed. "You have never stayed in this house long enough to care for it. Six months from now you'll have forgotten you ever lived in it—with me!" Gloria had no answer to that. She went back up the stairs with lagging steps. She locked herself in her room and went to sleep. When Dick knocked on her door in the morning, she did not get up. "There's no use in our talking to each other," she called wearily. "We'll only have another row—Good-bye."

To Gloria's disappointment, Dick went without saying another word. She lay listening tensely to his retreating footsteps. Her nerves shook to the sound of the front door closing behind him to the purr of the little car rolling out of the yard. And when it had died away in the distance, she got up and dressed, slowly and uncertainly.

Mrs. Gordon was washing the breakfast dishes when Gloria opened the screen door that led into the clean, sunlit kitchen from the back porch. "Well, forevermore! Where are you going, bag and baggage?" She looked down dubiously at the over-night bag Gloria carried. "I'm not going anywhere. I've arrived," Gloria answered. "I've come home." Her mother scalded the silverware. "Speaking of arrivals," she said, "your cousin, Lulu's baby is here at last! It was born last night at the hospital—My goodness! After a while all the 'famous birthplaces' of presidents and authors will be hospitals, I suppose!—I've always said I'd love to see the place where George Washington was born. Or did he just live at Mount Vernon?—No, I guess he was born there, wasn't he?" Gloria sat her bag down on the well-scrubbed floor. "Mother!" she cried. "I've come home! I've left Dick!" Her mother laid her dish towel down on the drain board. "Tell me," she said, "did you leave Dick when you went to New York a few weeks ago? Everybody said you did. I couldn't believe it. I was sure you'd have told me if you were separating. But then, girls don't tell their mothers things the way they used to when I was young. I suppose I'd be the last one to hear it if you ever did leave him." Gloria shook her head with exasperation. "I'm telling you right now that I have left him!" she said. "I'm never going back to him! I've come home to stay here with you and Dad, if you'll let me."

Mrs. Gordon took off her glasses. "I can't see a thing with those things on," she said. "You go into the living room and lie down. I'm going to make you some tea. You look peaked." Gloria took her bag upstairs to the little room that had been hers for so many years of her life. It was beautifully clean, but depressing in its shabbiness. She thought of her room at home with its soft, brilliant cushions, its chaise lounge and the taffeta that draped the bed and windows. With a heart like lead, she went downstairs. On the living room table stood a tea tray.

Mrs. Gordon came in from the kitchen with a plate of hot toast in her hands. "You eat some of this toast that I've made for you, too," she said. "And then tell me how you happened to leave Dick." "There isn't much to tell. He said he was through with me. So what could I do but pack my bag and get out?" Gloria said. Mrs. Gordon sat down in her old armchair. "Now, Glory, that's not the truth," she said bluntly. "I know Dick too well to believe that tale. You probably told him you were through with him. Didn't you?" Gloria thought, for a moment. "Yes, I believe I did," she said. The whole affair was blurred in her mind by her own unhappiness. "Well, then," her mother went on, "you've got to go back to Dick. Marriage isn't like a hat that you can wear for a whole, and then throw away for a new one."

"I don't want a new one," Gloria answered miserably. "I don't ever want to see a man again!" She slipped to the floor and laid her head on her mother's knee. "Nonsense!" Mrs. Gordon said. "You and Dick have just had some sort of a little spat or other. You know, you're not an easy person to live with, Gloria. You fly up at nothing. I often say to your Dad, 'Gloria isn't like either of us. She must take after old Aunt Fanny!'" "I had a tongue if ever a woman did."

"I knew you'd say it was my fault if Dick and I ever had a bust-up," Gloria answered resentfully. "Everybody thinks Dick's perfect." "No, he's not perfect. But he's the sort of man I should have liked to have had for a son—if the good Lord had seen fit to send me one," her mother went. "Dick's a pretty fine young fellow, Gloria. And you're going to regret it if you leave him!" Gloria shook her head. But she knew that her mother was right. She was regretting it, already. "What you ought to do is to go straight back home, and settle down to make Dick some sort of a wife!" Mrs. Gordon said suddenly. "I suppose it's partly my fault that you don't know how to cook or take care of a house—that you have to have a maid. I should have made you go into the kitchen and work right along with me, when you were engaged to Dick."

"I haven't any maid. Dick let Ranghild go," Gloria answered. "I've been doing my own housework since I came back from New York." "Ah, hah! So that's it! I knew there was a nigger in the woodpile somewhere!" her mother exclaimed. "You don't like to do housework, and you've been quarreling with Dick about it!" "I have not!" Gloria jumped up from the floor. "He's in love with his stenographer, if you want to know. And he treats me as if I were his old maid aunt!"

Placidly Mrs. Gordon picked up the tray of dishes and went out into the kitchen with it. "Oh, I guess it's not as bad as all that," she said comfortably. "A man doesn't wait till he's 30 to marry the wrong woman." She laid her hands on Gloria's graceful shoulders. "And even if he were in love with his stenographer," she said solemnly, "your job would be to win him back. For 'better, for worse,' Gloria. That's marriage. It's no bed of roses."

Gloria stood as silent as a statue. In her ears she could hear her own voice repeating the words after the minister, as she had stood in that very room on her wedding-day. "For better, for worse, for richer, for poorer—till death do us part." Ah, there were other things that parted two people who had once loved each other—misunderstandings, pettiness. "All right, I'll go home!" Gloria said suddenly. "By jinks, I'll make things turn out the way I want them to! If it kills me!" Her mother laughed at her fierceness. "It won't kill you," she said. "I'll be the saving of you, Baby. You haven't been a real wife yet, to Dick. You've just been playing at it."

YIELD OF LINT BEST FACTOR IN COTTON VARIETY

Yield of lint per acre is much more important than percentage of lint or gin turn-out, according to conclusions reached in bulletin 221 of the Texas agricultural experiment station, which discusses variety tests at the main station, College Station, Texas with about 150 varieties or strains of upland cotton during the 11 years from 1912 to 1922. Length of lint is not as important as yield of lint but it is more important than percentage of lint provided the staple is longer than seven-eighths inch, and the farmer selecting a variety to plant should consider first its productive power as regards pounds of lint per acre; second, length of staple, quality of lint, and fourth, percentage of lint.

The bulletin presents a table showing the yields in pounds of lint per acre of each variety for each year for all varieties grown in the test during the period from 1912 to 1922. An average for the 11 years shows Lone Star, Mebane and Rowden leading in the order named. A seven-year average shows Truitt, Rowden, Lone Star, Durango, and Mebane leading in the order named. A six-year average shows Lone Star, Rowden, Mebane, Durango and Snowflake leading in the order named. Another group of six years shows Acala, Lone Star, Rowden, Durango, Mebane and Kasch leading in the order named. A four-year average from 1919 to 1922 inclusive shows Belton, Acala, Lone Star, Rowden, Durango, Kasch, Mebane, and Bennett leading in the order named.

A group of tables is presented showing the yield and rank of the 10 high varieties each year of this test.

A copy of this bulletin may be had free by writing B. Youngblood, Director, Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

ANGLERS CATCH GOLD FISH.
By United Press.
DALLAS, Sept. 15.—Two Dallas fishermen pulled a six-inch goldfish out of Lake Cliff, popular Oak Cliff watering place, and rubbed their eyes dubiously. They were fishing for perch, but it didn't look like a perch. Goldfish are not very populous outside goldfish bowl circles, and to find one in a lake stimulates the imagination. An investigation revealed that several goldfish escaped during a water-sport last year from a goldfish bowl in a back yard, near the lake, and were carried into the pool.

Don't Be Misled

No "many purpose" soap can accomplish Palmolive results. Palmolive is made for just one purpose . . . to foster good complexions

MILLIONS of women know that Palmolive has brought them new beauty, new charm. In France, the home of cosmetics, Palmolive Soap is one of the two largest selling toilet soaps. French women find it their ideal of a soap. French soaps are being supplanted by Palmolive.

The reason is this: Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. It is a scientific soap, made for ONE thing only. To foster good complexions.

In old days, women were told "use no soap on your faces." Soaps were too harsh. Then came Palmolive, a soap made of rare cosmetic oils . . . olive and palm oils, famous since the days of Cleopatra as beautifiers of the skin. And combined in secret blend. A soap to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

Women tried it. And were amazed. Palmolive became the leading toilet soap of the world. It is made in five countries to supply the universal demand. It has brought to millions a beauty no soap had ever brought before.

Don't expect Palmolive results from ordinary soaps. Don't expect them from medicated soaps. Even genuine castile failed in bringing them. Certainly no ordinary soap can. Protect your skin's beauty by using a soap made for that purpose alone.

Palmolive is not intended for laundry work, or for household cleansing. To make it good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And good complexions are too precious to be endangered thus.

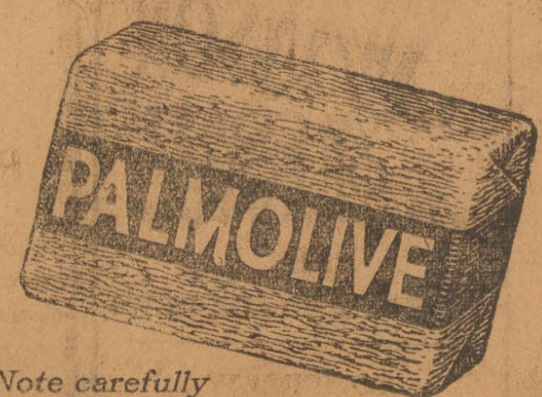

There are soaps at 25 cents and over that approach Palmolive in complexion results. We know of two. But Palmolive sells at 10 cents . . . no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

The fact that one woman in every two today has a clear, fresh skin proves Palmolive results. Would you go back to ordinary soaps and perhaps imperil yours?

Wash, cleanse, launder with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care: Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

FRENCH WOMEN
Largely Vote "No" on French Soaps

In France, women smile at the age-old beauty bubble of "French soaps." Palmolive is today one of the two greatest selling toilet soaps in France. Parisian beauties are glad to pay almost twice as much for a cake of Palmolive as American women pay. And, in many cases, three times as much as for their own "French" soaps. Remember this when tempted by costly French soaps, or by "French" claims for soaps.

Note carefully the name and wrapper. Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

RIVAL LIONS WILL PLAY AT 4 P. M. TODAY

Eastland Diamond to Be Scene of Carnage When the Fur Will Fly.

"There was war two cats o' Killenny; Each thought there wuz wan cat too many. So they split an' they fit And they fit an' they split Till, exceptin' their nails And the tips o' their tails, Insid o' two cats there wa'n't any."

Bobby Bates vows and swears by the great horned load, there will be the worst cleaning up of Ranger fur after the game at Eastland at 4 p. m. today, that ever was seen on any battlefield or around any lair. Doc Logsdon says it's all over but the shouting. The only regret he expresses is that there won't be any more boasts of the Eastland lair, on baseball bent, able even to scratch a ball with their quivering, bleeding claws once the day is over. All in all, it is safe to say that many-times-and-oft postponed game will be brim full of something—it might be difficult to predict what they play today in Eastland. Who shall say what will eventuate before the end of a perfect day like this?

D. 1925, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1925, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court, No. 11685, wherein C. L. Horn is plaintiff and Joe Shackelford, E. F. Dodge, F. W. Parry, Rumbaugh Drilling Company, a partnership composed of D. A. Rumbaugh and D. W. Rumbaugh, James Tierney, Henry Brown, J. S. Said defendants agreed and bound themselves to pay plaintiff for his services, at said rates. ## EASTLAND COUNTY COOKING SCHOOL IMPORTANT EVENT

A long looked for event is almost here, when the housewives of Eastland and surrounding territory will have the opportunity of attending the free cooking school to be conducted under the auspices of this paper. The school starts Monday, Sept. 21 at 2 o'clock and will be held at the American Legion building. Long experience, coupled with scientific knowledge and a pleasing personality which enables her to impart her lectures with a minimum of words and movements combine to make Mrs. Chitwood a most efficient lecturer on home economic subjects. She has the scientific knowledge gained in laboratory work as well as practical experience in her own kitchen of foods, but her lectures are not the dry discussions of calories, proteins and carbohydrates. She knows what a balanced ration should be, but she also knows that foods should be appetizingly prepared and daintily served in order to be eaten with relish. Her appeal is to the eye and the palate as of prime importance as well as those phases of a dietetics with individual metabolism.

There are many women who have often expressed regrets that they did not have the opportunity provided for school girls of today by the economic departments in schools. Housewives appreciate the benefit and value of instruction along these lines and would grasp the opportunity of taking a course in household arts if such a thing were practical. By reason of their duties and responsibilities as well as school regulations, they cannot attend the public schools, but out of the needs that present themselves along this line, have arisen various sources through which the housewife can acquire as practical instructions in home economics as is given in the schools.

One of these sources is through the series of lectures and practical demonstrations given by Mrs. Chitwood under the auspices of this paper. Mrs. Chitwood works along entirely original lines. Her lectures will be found especially helpful to the young housewife and the matron who is desirous of serving better meals at less cost. She seeks to encourage better health through better foods. It is not necessary to remain at home every day in order that good nourishing meals may be served in the home. Neither is it necessary for matrons to hurry the family to a cafe after an afternoon at the club or some other social affair. Mrs. Chitwood is going to give suggestions for preparing meals at less cost in time and money, but at the same time, meals that will be appetizing and healthful.

The lectures begin promptly at 2 p. m. Monday and continue with the demonstration for about two hours.

There will be ample opportunity for questions and opinions exchanged amongst those present. This phase of the class is expected to bring out a great many new ideas. The questions asked by ladies in attendance and answered by Mrs. Chitwood are very helpful, one question frequently leading to several others along the same line.

No one attending will be under any obligation. But every woman is asked to go every day and bring her friends along. Take a pencil and notebook. Come prepared to learn something and be highly entertained at the same time. These are the only requirements and those complying with them can be assured of ideas and incentives for better home making.

CHANGE BRECKENRIDGE DAY.

The date for Breckenridge day at the Central West Texas fair to be held at Eastland Sept. 24, 25 and 26, has been changed from Saturday, the last day of the fair, to Friday, the second day. This was done at the request of Breckenridge citizens who stated that they could attend in larger numbers on Friday.

PEOPLE AVOID YOU IF YOU ARE PIMPLY

A boy or girl may have ever so perfect a face, neck and pose, but if even one little pimple, blotch, bump or red spot shows, it ruins their whole appearance. You know how true this is, because you just naturally avoid people whose appearance is not pleasing.

These things are no longer to be endured, however, because thousands of people are getting rid of the worst and most stubborn cases of such skin diseases easily and quickly by using Black and White Ointment, and Soap. It seems like magic to eczema, ring-worm, itch, "breaking out," etc.

Dealers everywhere are recommending Black and White Ointment, and Soap, now. They are economically priced in liberal sized packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size.—Advertisement.

When you admire the handsome appearance of U.S. Royal Balloons—remember also they are True Low-Pressure Balloons

If you are one of the thousands of car owners who have been attracted by the handsome appearance of the all black U. S. Royal Balloons, it will please you to know this—

These tires hold their good looks during the full period of their long service life. They do not show finger marks, mud or grease stains.

The beauty of U. S. Royal Balloons is in addition to those characteristics which have made these tires famous. They are distinctive in being true Low-Pressure balloons.

Their construction and design positively avoid the necessity of over-inflating the tires to insure long service. You can run them at genuine low air pressures and get the comfort that balloon tires are intended to give.

Their "Low-Pressure Tread" is flat. It provides much greater area of road contact than a round tread, thereby distributing the weight evenly to every tread block. That is why the tread wears slowly and evenly.

The continuous flexing of a balloon tire on the road calls for great strength and flexibility of construction. Latex-treated Web Cord, the patented process developed and patented by the United States Rubber Company, meets this flexing perfectly and accounts for the exceptional mileage of U. S. Royal Balloons.

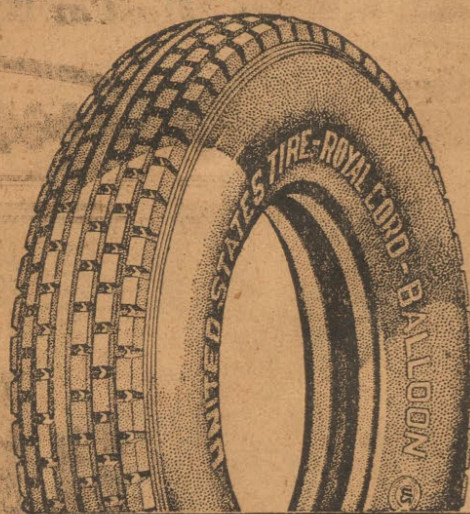

So U. S. Royal Balloons make a real contribution to the beauty and the comfort of the modern car. Start now enjoying the advantages of true Low-Pressure balloons.

OIL OPERATOR ELECTS EIGHT-HOUR SHIFTS

Innovation Made for Sake of Efficiency and Safety It Is Stated

R. H. Lightfoot is the first independent operator in the Ranger district to start working eight hour shifts. Three eight hour shifts to be run instead of two twelve hour shifts.

Mr. Lightfoot recently announced that in the future he would work three eight hour shifts on all of his drilling wells instead of two twelve hour shifts, which has been the customary working time in the past on all drilling wells in this district and all other fields in Texas.

When asked why he made the change, his reply was that he had been checking up and studying very closely the logs and drilling reports on all of his wells that had been drilled in the past and he has found that the majority of holes that are drilled are made during the first six hours on tower and that nine accidents out of ten happen during the last two hours on tower.

He also stated that it would be more expensive to run three eight hour shifts than to run two twelve hour shifts but he believed that he could avoid a lot of trouble on his future wells that he has encountered in his wells during the past and if this is the case, he will be amply rewarded for making the change.

The only added cost to make this change will be the extra amount of fuel that will be used and also the wear and tear on the cordage for naturally three men will do more work than two men, therefore, the material and equipment will receive rougher treatment and will be put to task a great deal more than if it was being used by only two men.

Several of the major operating companies as well as a few of the independent operators throughout Pennsylvania, Kansas and Oklahoma have charge over the eight hour shifts but up to the present time Lightfoot is the only operator in this district to adopt the new working plan.

WAR LORD'S SON WINS JAZZ PRIZE

By United Press. TIEN-TSIN, China, Sept. 15.—Chang Hsueh-liang, 26-year-old son of the famous "Mokden war lord," Tso-Lin, has added another laurel to his crown.

In addition to being a proved military commander, air force chief and general No. 1 man to his noted father, young Chang is now known as a champion dancer.

At a recent jazz festival here, the junior Chang and his fair Chinese partner carried off the first prize.

Childless Homes Often Caused By Effect of Catarrh

Hundreds of Women Rid Themselves of Imperfections and Make Child-birth as Easy as the Stork's Flight by Using G. F. P.

The thought of childbirth, which was so sweet to the women of yesterday, is like a nightmare to many of the weak, thin and undernourished women of today. But woman is to blame only, for not assisting Nature to repair the damage caused by overdoing herself; and Nature seldom fails to punish such neglect. So-called barrenness, shattered nerves, weakened muscles and even kidney, liver and bladder troubles are the invariable results of long continued failure to heed her warnings.

Nature sends headaches, backaches, pains in the sides, back and legs, nausea, cramps, dizziness and that awful feeling of depression and weariness, to tell women that they should take some steps to revive their failing energy and vitality and restore exhausted nerve force and tissue before it is too late.

The undisputed superiority of St. Joseph's G. F. P. as a means of overcoming and stamping out Catarrh of the Generative Organs; and as a means of restoring health and vitality, with an abundance of youthful buoyancy has been justly earned. The thousands of women who were formerly sick, and were pain-racked wrecks, but are now glowing with health, energy and vitality, beaming with happiness and filled with enthusiasm and praise for the merits of this wonderful medicine, are the best proof that G. F. P. can be depended on to safeguard the health of women from the attacks of this terrible and unseen enemy.

Surveys For New Line Busy at Post

By United Press. POST, Texas, Sept. 15.—Several Santa Fe engineers are busy here making a survey for a proposed line to connect Post with the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, Oklahoma to Galveston, and it is considered likely that the Santa Fe will shortly ask the interstate commerce commission for permission to construct a new branch.

Such a line would connect with the New Mexico-Temple cut-off at Post, and provide a shorter route into Fort Worth and Dallas via Santa Fe. It would traverse a section of Texas which is without a railroad.

CHINESE FLOODS STILL RAGING

By United Press. PEKIN, China, Sept. 15.—The flood section of the Yellow river is suffering from famine. The floods were caused by the breaking of dykes at Limpin and Shih, but advances do not confirm the report of former casualties. Reports gave about 3,000 dead.

Firestone

will ALWAYS give Most Miles per Dollar

No matter where crude rubber prices may go—Firestone advantages in securing raw material, in manufacturing and distribution are always active to make good the pledge of Most Miles per Dollar.

Racing drivers—hill-climbing and endurance record holders—taxicab, motor truck and bus operators—and hundreds of thousands of car owners—are daily emphasizing the unheard-of mileage and service delivered by Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords.

Gum-Dipping is one of the biggest factors in tire performance and long mileage, making Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords the most economical tires ever offered motorists.

The cord from the fabric mills is first delivered to a separate plant where it is treated in a solution of gum, which insulates every fiber of every cord. This protects against internal friction and heat, giving the sidewalls greater flexibility and additional strength.

Prove Firestone's many superiorities for yourself. If you have never had the safety, comfort and economy of these serviceable, long-mileage tires—go to the nearest Firestone Dealer—for Firestone only builds Gum-Dipped Cords.
