OPERA HOUSE.

Vaudeville and "The Juggernauts."
 The Opera House has a good bill of vaudeville Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, and a picture drama based on the famous story, "The Juggernauts."
 With five acts, all good, it is difficult to pick a winner in the vaudeville. Frank Shields does stunts with a larrikin which surprise and delight the audience. Ronald and McCarly, trill comedians with a new line of jokes in the main, are favorites.
 Irene Trevette, "maid of the allies," does some good songs in French, English and other languages unknown to the reviewer. Her singing army songs, par French and part English, have a particular appeal for A. E. F. men, who know how hard it really is to sing French even partly.
 Patton, Yantis and Rooney, "three harmony girls," brighten the evening with song and dance. The Gell troupe said to be direct from Paris, are ever clever in an acrobatic way.

LONE STAR.

Elsie Ferguson in "His House in Order."
 Elsie Ferguson, in "His House in Order," at the Lone Star, presents the story of a bride, brought up from the humble position of housekeeper, to that of helpmeet to a member of parliament. Her husband finds disapproval of her youthful, harmless gaiety. She is confronted with the unbearable repetition of comparison with his first wife.
 Both have grounds for criticism, you say. Right. And the rift threatens to disrupt the home in which they were happy when she was governess to his little son. The son plays his part in the story's solution.
 "Reno—All Change" is a Christie comedy whose title tells all the story. Prizma nature pictures are pretty, and Burton Holmes, in "Belgium Smiles Again," is entertaining, as he always is. This picture takes the film far through cities that have known the mill of war, but these are not pitiful pictures of ruins, as the title would tell you.

HOREBACK RIDING RETURNS TO FAVOR

Horeback riding which has always been more or less popular among the idle rich, but which has been neglected of late years for the motor car, is coming back into favor and not only the wealthy but many of the middle class people are taking it up. Here is a natty riding habit for either the business girl or woman of leisure who would canter along country roads. The breeches are white and the coat is bright red.

HIPPODROME.

Bobbie Greer and Pioneer Girls and Boys.
 Bobbie Greer is a comedian that gets real laughs with his jokes which are both new and spicy. He is with the Pioneer Girls and Boys now playing at the Hippodrome. Yesterday, in the "Suffragettes," Greer easily was the headliner.
 While the play itself has seen some success, Greer's star was new.
 The action of the play based itself upon a suffragette convention in a hotel. Greer led all the ladies a love potion that made them think he was an Alonzo. He is getting himself in deep trouble with his own belligerent wife.
 The Pioneer girls show the usual lack of clothing and are above the average. The company contains some good singers as well as other lines that get over. Today's bill will be "Whose Baby Is It." It promises some laughable action pictures will also be shown.

LIBERTY.

"Afraid of a Mouse? Tush!" Says Actress.
 A woman not afraid of mice—that is what the company headed by William Barnum in William Fox's production, "A Tale of Two Cities," possesses. The young woman is Miss Olive White, who summed the part of Miss Pross in the actualization of Dickens' masterful story, which will be presented at the Liberty theater tomorrow.
 Miss White appeared in a setting of sand and glory and a bit more besides. In addition to the "atmosphere" mice in considerable numbers had been introduced into the scene with a view to adding a bit of realism to the action. Miss White was not informed of this in advance, for it was feared she might refuse to go on.
 In the midst of the scene a mouse scurried along the waiting set. Camera men and director held their breath, for they feared the scene might be ruined, but they had not reckoned on the courage of Miss White—who treated the mouse in the most matter-of-fact way—a manner that created an atmosphere which no rehearsal could have given. She type of role in "Young Mrs. Winthrop," the latest Ethel Clayton picture, which is coming to the Lone Star theater for two days, commencing tomorrow. It is his photoplay, which is a highly dramatic story of young marriage life. Mr. Dumont has a light comedy part. He is the divorced husband of a society flirt who is seeking to win back her affection. Another former husband is his rival, but a third party finally carries away the prize. Mr. Dumont is just as effective as a comedian as he was in the semi-heavy role of "The Dope."

 The main action of "Young Mrs. Winthrop" concerns the misunderstanding of a jazzed-up young wife and her equally young husband who is completely absorbed in business. A reconciliation effected after several intensely interesting episodes. Harrison Ford is the leading man. The picture is a Paramount General and was directed by Walter Edwards.

SYRIAN CONDITIONS ALMOST INTOLERABLE ACCORDING TO S. SALEH

Conditions are almost intolerable in Syria with thousands dying from famine and cold, according to Sam Saleh, former manager of the Leader store in Range. Mr. Saleh has returned from several months' visit to that country. In recounting his experiences he said that French troops were occupying Syria as a protection to the natives but that their presence was bitterly resented by the Turks and Arabs.
 Mr. Saleh stated that a few days after his arrival to his old home in the city of Jezzid-Mogran the Turks and Arab attacked the town. The French came in and a pitched battle resulted. Many of the inhabitants escaped to the hills and for many days were almost without food he said.
 Mr. Saleh appealed to the American consul for protection and was told to fly the American flag over his conveyance. This he did and was not molested. Mr. Saleh said the American flag was a passport to protection.

INTERESTING TALKS HEARD AT MEETING OF MOTHERS' CLUB

Between sixty and seventy persons attended the meeting of the Mothers' club of the Young school at the residence of Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, president of the club, last night.
 Mr. Barnes, community service man made an address on the origin and history of the community service movement. His talk was listened to with great attention.
 Mr. Terrell of the firm of Terrell and Harkrider made an interesting talk on Mrs. Terrell delighted the crowd with a recitation.
 A solo by Lytton R. Taylor and recitations by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Finney, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Maddocks completed the musical program.
 Refreshments were served and social pastimes provided.
 A meeting will be held Thursday night under the auspices of the Mothers' club of the Young school and the community service experts here in connection with the Chamber of Commerce drive. The meeting will be held at the schoolhouse and all residents of the neighborhood are urged to attend. Mr. Barnes will give a talk and other speakers will be provided.

Nitro Candidates Summering Down as Season Draws Nigh

Just one more pre-season tussle to be disposed of before the Nitros straighten out in the West Texas league race and Jim Galloway and his boys, now a much smaller aggregation and much smoother in action, are making the most of the days that are left. The last game before the season opens will be with Cisco, next Sunday, at Cisco.

Here's how the squad looks now, after much paring. For catchers, there are Browning, who is just getting back after suffering a wrenched knee a few days ago, Jerry Jones, from Beaumont, who is expected in today, who played with the Navaho independents last year and who can throw like Billy Beckett; Shaw, who worked in Saturday's game and looked snappy, and Freddie Hayes. Jack Shires looks good for first base and he brought a boy with him, Charles Clopp, a tall outfielder who is fast and can hit. Anderson is more at home each day around second, and Smith looks sweet at short. Of course, Jim plays that third base in Class A style. For the outfield, Dude Mooney looks pretty and there's a newcomer in London Rouch, a tall boy who was a football and baseball star with Baylor a couple of years. He is a good hitter and fast on his feet. McDougal and Lovelace also are out in the gardens.

Joe Tate will fit in somewhere, but will have a battle, when it comes to the paring down. That leaves pitchers to be settled. Red Hill from Wills Point and Crow from Devol, Okla., are two right handers who have not yet appeared before the fans. And there's McGown, Mungler, Holland and Mathis.

Let's see, that makes twenty. Jim will start the season with sixteen and then reduce to fourteen, his play for as manager giving him an extra man. He will be better off than most managers in this respect and if he finds the right utility man, who can fill in behind the bat, he can carry five pitchers. And the Nitros will have as manager, the star third sacker of the league, or all predictions are wrong. The boys are working morning and afternoon these days and getting nearer each day to the smooth teamwork and inside ball that makes a team. The infield now is well lined up and Anderson and Smith are getting together around the keystone sack. The corners are well cared for. There is no lack of catchers, in the outfield, it's a case of picking the best out of five good entries. Every morning from 10:30 to noon and from 2:30 on for a couple of hours finds the squad at work. Just ten days left!

VIENNA CHILDREN GIVEN "VACATION" TO SAVE THEIR LIVES

Trainload of the starving children leaving Vienna station.

As a last resort in fighting the famine in Vienna and other parts of Austria, which is costing the lives of thousands of children, parents are sending their little ones to friends, institutions and schools outside of Austria, mostly to Switzerland and Holland. The children will remain there until food conditions are better at home.

To the BICs tells the story of a great thing a real vacation. Many of these are the groups to realize that they are escaping death in this country.

DELAY EVERYWHERE IN BUILDING TO END HOUSING SHORTAGE

NEW YORK, April 20.—Delay in relieving the housing shortage all over the country is greater than in any other form of building construction, according to a review of contracts issued today by the F. W. Dodge company. Public works, industrial buildings and public utilities are being constructed much faster than residences and are less affected by high prices, high wages and shortage of material. Contracts awarded for residential buildings in the first three months of the year vary from 14 to 20 per cent of total building contracts in different sections of the country. Normally residences account for about 30 per cent of the contracts, and in view of existing needs, the review says, residences should represent about 40 per cent of the total construction. In New York state and northern New Jersey 14 per cent of the contracts in the first quarter of the year represented residential buildings, "a matter of serious concern," says the review, "as it is probable that the housing shortage is more acute in this territory than anywhere else." In the territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river, residential construction was 19 per cent of the total, in New England 20 per cent, in the district of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington 28 per cent, the Pittsburgh district 19 per cent, in Central West 18 per cent, and in the Northwest 20 per cent. Ten per cent of the women in department stores in New York city earn less than $2 per week, while 85 per cent of women in factories and the same per cent in mercantile establishments earn less than $14 per week.
