

COMMANDS ATLANTIC FLEET AIR SQUADRON

Lieutenant Commander H. B. Cecil, who was recently appointed commander of the fleet of eight seaplanes now attached to the Atlantic fleet with a base at Hampton Roads, Va. Commander Cecil is one of the navy's veteran flyers.

IRISH GIRL MAY BE QUEEN OF ENGLAND

Lady Joan Mulholland

Lady Joan Mulholland of an old Irish family, who it is rumored, may be England's next queen. Lady Joan is a daughter of the fifth Earl of Stratford. She was appointed lady in waiting to Princess Mary in 1918, and is a favorite in court circles. According to London rumors, the Prince of Wales is in love with Lady Joan, and, despite the fact that she is a commoner, insists he will marry her.

STATE OFFICIAL WHO FIGHTS LABOR UNIONS

Eugene C. Grace

Eugene C. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, photographed on the witness stand before the Lockwood committee investigating housing conditions in New York. Mr. Grace, under questioning by Samuel Untermyer, attorney for the committee, admitted that his corporation had refused to sell steel in Philadelphia and New York except to contractors who agreed not to use it in construction in which union men were engaged. Mr. Grace defended the policy of the Bethlehem corporation to sell to "open shops" only on the ground that it was "self protection."

SHOELACES USED TO CUT NECKTIE COST

HACKETTSTOWN, Md. Dec. 29.—Determined to beat the high cost of neckties, according to several, the students of the Hagerstown Male high school are wearing ordinary shoestrings for neckwear instead of the high priced silk ties. More than 100 youths, when they appeared in school the other day, had discarded silk ties and wore black, tan and white shoe laces around their necks, tied in four-in-hand and bow styles. Ordinary ties, hundreds of which can be purchased for a few cents were used instead of scarf pins. A number of the boys are also wearing paper collars that can be bought for a few cents each, turned over when soiled on one side and then thrown away. For less than 10 cents each boy has fully equipped himself with neckwear.

WEEKLY PICTORIAL NEWS

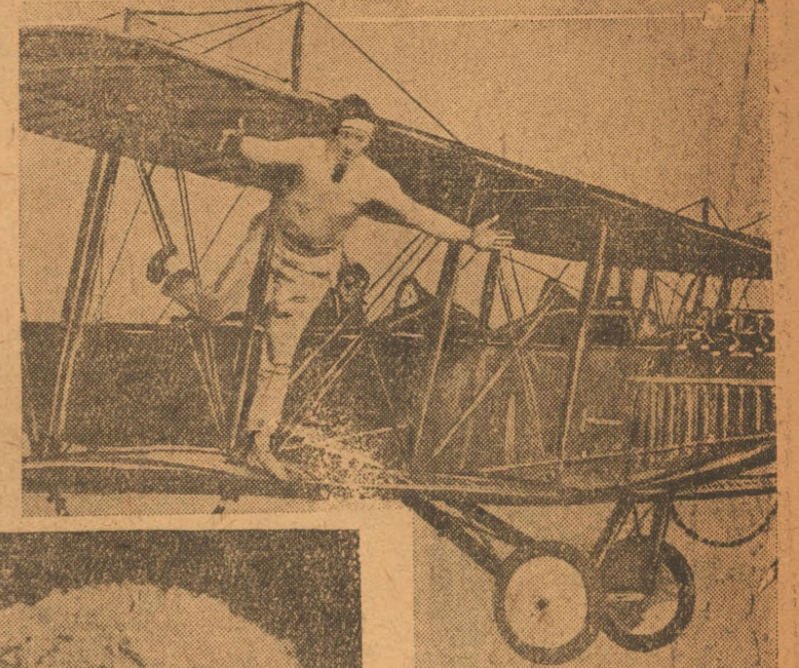

Photos by International News Service

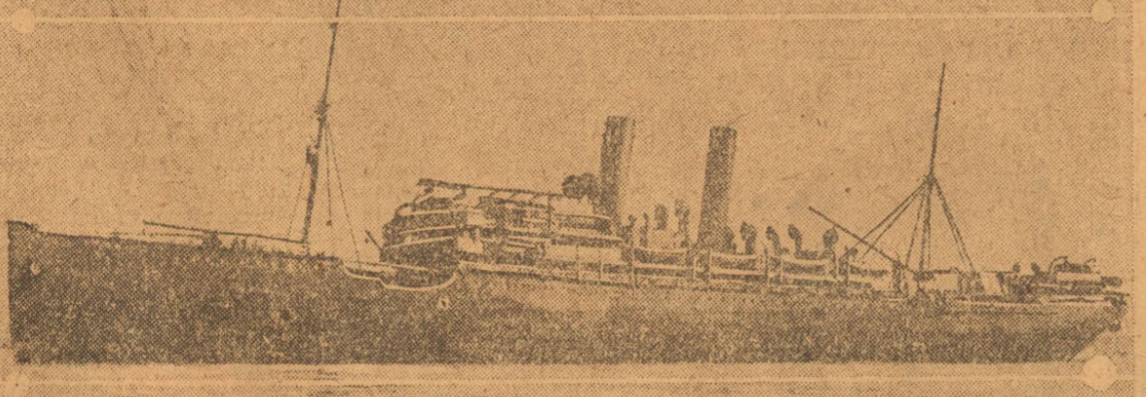

HEY, MIDS, LOOK HERE—How would you like to be dressed like these boys of Inishman, Galway Bay? According to an ancient superstition, bad fairies were partial to little boys, but would not carry off the little girls. So the boys of the little Irish island were disguised in dresses to fool the fairies and the custom has remained until this day. We fear they wouldn't last long in a hard game of one-old-cat or football.

LINER FOR JEWS—The S.S. Dekalb, former army transport, is the first to be put into service especially to bring Jewish immigrants. It is expected 250,000 Jews will come to this country in the next year.

DARE-DEVIL OF THE AIR—"Jersey" Ringel, of Newark, assuming the first position he takes when he stands on the upper wing of the plane while it goes through a loop-the-loop. He is said to be the only man to attempt this feat.

FOR THE WINTER GIRL—A charming combination set of turban, muff and scarf. The Russian turban carries an Egyptian ornament set with various colored stones. The muff is adorned with a ruching of box-pleated coral duvelyn, and the scarf is faced with the same material.

PRIMITIVE PLOWING—This method is still being employed in Northern Africa. But it's a long way round to make a bullock work when two Arabs have to pull the stubborn animal to make him pull the plow.

PIPE BITE YOUR TONGUE?—Get one with a long stem. Julius Frizen, of Boston, Mass., smokes one that has been in service for over two hundred years and has never caused a sore tongue yet.

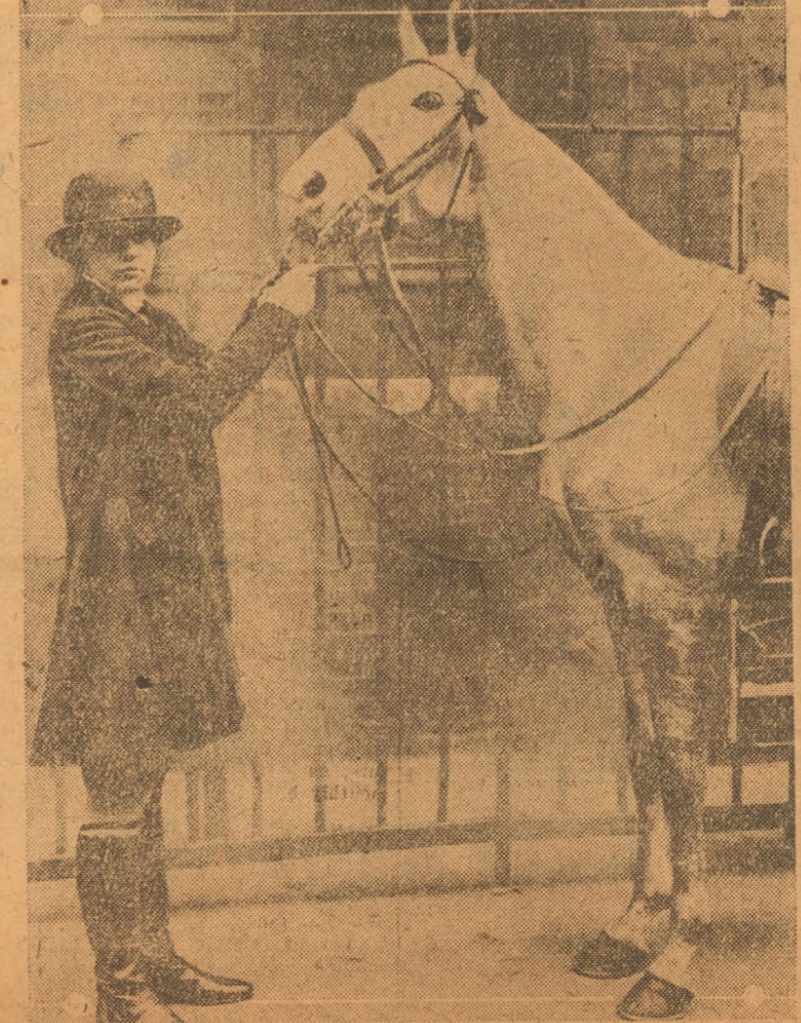

SHE KNOWS HER JOB—Miss Irene McAuliffe, of Weston, Mass., the latest appointee to the Washington, D. C. squad of policewomen, has had much experience in police work. She is the daughter of the Chief of Police of Weston, and for more than a year has been acting head of the town's police force. She was sworn in as a special officer of the Western department several years ago, is an expert horsewoman, and a devotee of all forms of athletics. It won't be well for the mashers she arrests.

OUTWITTING THE TSETSE FLY—There is only one safe way to take an animal through the Union of South Africa, through the tsetse fly country into Northern Rhodesia.

EDINBURGH UNIVERSITY STUDENTS IN BATTLE—A remarkable photograph of the fight which resulted in the removal of six of the combatants to the hospital. The election at the university, which resulted in a victory for Premier Lloyd George, was the occasion for the battle between Liberal and Coalition students. And it was no sham affair, either, as may be noted—everything went as weapons. Yes, it was a gentle battle—it was not. One was liable to be struck with vegetables, rotten eggs, flour, ashes, bag-sticks and stones which filled the air. Why enlist in the army?

THREE-TIME WINNER—Miss Becky Lanier with "Mary Rose." She eclipsed all amateur records when she rode in a single class at the Madison Square Horse Show, N. Y., recently, three winners. The young girl is considered one of the cleverest juvenile riders in the country. This feat has never before been accomplished by an amateur rider.

LOS ANGELES GETS A THRILL—This California beauty, walked right up the Angel City Broadway with her legs hennaed and wearing sandals secured by narrow silk ribbons, just like this.

LECTURES ON PSYCHOLOGY—Here is California's contribution to the year's fast-growing list of infant prodigies. John Hamilton, six years old, of Berkeley, Cal., who can give convincing lectures in public on the topic of psychology.

