U. S. CITIZENS HELD BY REDS ARE RELEASED

American Relief Workers With Supplies Nearing Russian Border.

RIGA, Aug. 9.—Official word reached here today that six Americans who have been imprisoned in Russia are leaving that country. The men who now have their freedom are Captain Emmet Kilpatrick, William Flick, H. J. Lamaro, H. B. Kalamantiano and Dr. W. B. Estes.

RELEASE CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Americans who have been held prisoners in Soviet Russia are nearing Jamburg, near Narva Eschonia, on the Russian border, according to a cable made public today by the state department.

BEN LEONARD BREAKS THUMB; BOUT DELAYED

NEW YORK, July 9.—A left-hand smack at the sturdy skull of Young Jack Toland, broke Benny Leonard's thumb Monday afternoon and therefore the Leonard-Toland championship fight, dated for Friday night in Philadelphia, probably will be set back for several weeks or called off entirely. Leonard's fellow Celts clustered around him chattering excitedly as he dropped his left arm after flopping Toland, and Dr. Sol Rothenburg whipped out his X-Ray and shot several exposures of the complaining thumb. When the plates were developed the good doctor did not think Leonard could box Friday night.

Benny was training in a local gymnasium, within two pounds of the 135-pound figure which he was bound to make by 2 o'clock Friday afternoon to save his $5,000 weight forfeit. Toland is a Philadelphia whom the lightweight champion had engaged to absorb a few shocks for the remainder of the training period. Leonard lured Toland into a reckless lead, then stepped in with his left hand cocked and let fly with a punch that may prove to have cost from $40,000 to $50,000—such were Leonard's prospects in the Tender engagement.

Looked Like Sell Out. The Leonard-Toland fight had been carefully built up to great dimensions as a championship affair, even though it was to be an eight-rounder with no decision. Tender did his bit to make it appear to be a grudge engagement by signing in a high shrill key that he was going to knock Leonard back into his bathrobe in just four rounds, to the no small displeasure of the champion. Being a side-winder or right-hand-forward fighter, Tender is regarded as lucky to get a match with the champion at all, much less beat a clever fighter as Leonard, but his impudence had been getting on Leonard's nerves.

The occasion looked like a huge sell out in the Philadelphia National league ball park, if the weather favored, with a $10 top price, the gross was expected to be near $200,000, the boxers taking a percentage.

GENERAL UNDER DIAZ IS KILLED BY ENEMY

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Aug. 9.—Jose Alessio Robles, a general in the Mexican army under Porfirio Diaz, was shot and killed last night in Mexico City by General Jacinto B. Trexino, of the Mexican army, according to a telegram received here.

Alleged "bad blood" between the two almost led to a duel three months ago, according to friends of Robles, who was well known here.

DIRECT CAUSE ALASKA'S FATE UNDETERMINED

Coroner's Jury Shifts Placing of Responsibility to Others.

EUREKA, Cal., Aug. 9.—Responsibility for the wreck of the steamer Alaska Saturday night with the loss of forty-five lives, must be determined by others than the local authorities. A coroner's jury holding an inquest over one of seventeen bodies which have been recovered, returned the simple verdict: "Death by drowning and shipwreck."

The tale of the steamer striking Blunt's reef during a fog was re-told at the inquest, and charges were made of inefficiency in handling improperly equipped life boats, but little new was added to the details already known.

Most of the 106 survivors had left Eureka today. A few of the injured and more exhausted remained.

During the night watch fires were kept burning on the beach and Cape Mendocino, in hope that some of the human forms would come to shore.

SENATE PASSES BILL RAISING GUARANTY FUND

AUSTIN, Aug. 9.—The senate finally passed the bill originated in the senate increasing the state guaranty fund from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

The senate bill providing that the apportionment of the available school fund be made on a basis of actual attendance of children instead of the number of scholastics as at present was engrossed in the senate.

INSURANCE DEPOSIT BILL IS SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, Aug. 9.—Governor Neff today signed and filed with the secretary of state, the house bill by Brady of Galveston amending the statutes requiring fidelity and surety companies to deposit $50,000 with the state treasurer before doing business in Texas. Such deposits to be applied to the general protection of policy holders.

MAN BECOMES CRUSOE JUST BECAUSE WIFE PUT OUT SOUL KISSES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Orlema Rollins, pretty society favorite, may have kissed herself into grass-widowhood, if the contentions of her divorce complaint, just filed, are sustained by the Superior Court. For, according to the suit, Dean Rollins, wealthy transportation expert, did not want to be kissed, and his indifference has broken up the home, because it clashed with his wife's wishes.

ROMANCE OF HALF CENTURY CULMINATES IN UNIQUE WEDDING

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Aug. 9.—A half century romance was culminated today with the marriage of Daniel Frederick and Sarah Rust. They are residents of New Carlisle, this county, and each is 72 years old. They were lovers fifty years ago, but their parents objected to their marriage. Their paths separated at the time; she married later and so did he.

The bride has been a widow four years and Frederick lost his wife nine months ago. The old love was renewed quickly.

VANDALS ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP EARNEST BUILDING ON WALNUT

Police Are of Opinion "Fire Bug" Is Now Acting in New Role.

A bomb of some nature, with a roar which was heard in many portions of the city, was exploded last night in the burned Earnest building on Walnut street. The force of the explosion went outward and blew a hole through the thick brick wall through which the body of a man might pass. Several windows in the building were also shattered. The explosion occurred about 2 a. m.

The fire department was called and found a length of burned fuse. However, the nature of the explosive used could not be determined though several offered the theory that it was powder. But it is pointed out that powder would have had to be poured into a crevice to create such damage. The better theory, it is thought, is that the explosive used was nitro which was poured into the cracks of the mortar around the bricks and exploded. The bomb was placed just at the head of the stairway in the upper story.

The motive for the act has not been determined, though Deputy Sheriff John Barnes offers the belief that the vandals through a spirit of revenge are trying to injure Dr. T. J. Earnest, who owns the property. The officer said Dr. Earnest was not in sympathy with the users of dope and had, on occasions, caused a number of them trouble. This, he thinks, is back of the seeming determination to wreck the Earnest building.

Several nights ago the structure was found aflame and the fire department found enough traces of oil to convince them it had been saturated with the fluid and then fired. No one was in the building at the time of the fire or last night when the bomb was exploded.

SIMS STANDS PAT ON SINN FEIN SPEECH

BELFAST, Aug. 9.—A letter from Rear Admiral Sims, acknowledging receipt of congratulations from the Belfast comrades of the great war on his recent speech before the English speaking union in London, in which he criticized activities of Sinn Fein sympathizers in the United States has just been made public.

The letter, dated July 11, reads as follows: "I can assure you that it is a matter of great gratification to find that the loyal men of Ulster hold the same opinions as I do as to the English speaking peoples. It may interest you to know that practically all the reputable newspapers in the United States are now in thorough approval of our condemnation of the activities of Sinn Fein sympathizers in the United States."

"This has been brought about by a remarkable expression of opinion by the American people in the form of showers of letters and telegrams all concerned. It would almost seem as though the incident were about to be transferred into an issue. At all events, it will apparently have a considerable effect in the future. It is my hope that it will exercise a very considerable influence upon the relations between our two countries."

CELL IN JAIL HOUSE MAY BECOME CAPITAL OF ILLINOIS STATE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 9.—Administration of the affairs of state from a cell in the Sangamon county jail became a possibility today.

If both Governor Len Small and Sheriff Henry Mester, who holds warrants for Small's arrest on charges of misusing state funds during his term as state treasurer, maintain their present determination, the state executive may be forced to transact the business of the state from the county jail.

Governor Small insists he is not amenable to arrest. On the other hand, Sheriff Mester has told the governor he is going to serve the warrants on him if he has to use force.

PACKER CONTROL BILL GOES TO WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The Packer control bill, a subject of contention in congress for nearly a score of years, was passed finally by the house today without a record vote and sent to the White House for executive action.

The measure gives the secretary of agriculture broad powers to regulate the meat packing industry. So far there has been no intimation of the president's stand on the bill. Some claim that it conflicts with his campaign pledge and may be vetoed.

RELIEF FOR BILL

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—William F. Baker, president of the National League Philadelphia club announced today that "Wild Bill" Donovan would no longer act as manager of the team.

J. F. WALSTER IS KILLED BY FALL FROM CAR

Fatal Accident Occurred on Thurber Road, Near Ranger.

With the car in which he was riding traveling at a fairly fast rate of speed, J. F. Walster fell from it last night and died almost instantly from the fall. With a party of friends he was returning from Thurber. It is said he was sitting on the rear door of the machine and for some reason it flew open. The accident occurred at 10:30 o'clock about six miles from Ranger. Three wounds were in Walster's head, one in his back and one leg was broken by the fall. His friends picked up the body and brought it to the Ranger hospital but the man was dead when he was picked up.

The car was being driven by Ira Nourse. Walster had been sitting on the auxiliary seat but for some reason he arose and sat down on one of the rear doors. In making a turn, the door flew open and he fell to the ground.

The dead man was the superintendent of the American Glycerine company. He has a wife and one child who have been visiting in Kentucky. They have been notified of the tragedy.

LAND TAR HAD WIFE IN EVERY PRAIRIE PORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Several young women residing in the middle west will be interested to know that Paul Gross was arrested in Newton, Ohio, Thursday on a charge of bigamy. Gross is a deserter from the Great Lakes naval training station.

The charge was preferred by David Ferrill, a deputy game warden of Ohio. He says Gross married his daughter, Grace, more than a year ago without taking the trouble to obtain a divorce from the woman who then wore his wedding ring.

A jolly dry land tar was Gross, with a wife in every prairie port. He would roll up from the railroad station, his gait still rolling from a stormy passage aboard the Pullman car, and pick him out a bride.

He admitted to Prosecutor Joseph Woeste that Miss Ferris was his fourth wife, and at the time of a previous arrest he is said to have confessed marrying no fewer than eight young women in Illinois and nearby states.

Among these wives are Mrs. Anna Pannell Gross of Newport, Ky., Mrs. Catherine Cook Gross of Indianapolis and Mrs. Rose Welch Gross of Louisville.

At one time, according to the story, told by the deserter, he was sent by his relatives to an Indiana asylum in lieu of serving a prison sentence on a felony charge. His home is in Peru, Ind.

VOLIVA'S BILLBOARDS DENOUNCING HERETICS MYSTERIOUSLY BURNED

ZION CITY, Ill., Aug. 9.—Six incendiary fires have wiped out Wilbur Glen Voliva's flaunting bill-board denunciation of the "Monkey Heretics." The billboards, famous as Zion City's chief sightseeing spectacles, were fired by rags soaked in kerosene. The fire department was unable to save any.

Each board was erected opposite a non-Zionist church. One called members of the Grace Missionary church "religious bums, tramps and vagabonds with less honor than highway robbers."

12 OIL TANKS DITCHED AND BECOME IGNITED

One Fatality and $45,000 Damage Result From Freight Wreck.

HOUSTON, Aug. 9.—The body of a negro, burned beyond recognition, was found in the dying embers of the burned Gulf Coast line freight train, wrecked near DeQuincy, La., according to word received by A. E. Anderson, assistant to the president of the railroad from the scene of the wreck.

The report received by Anderson said it was the belief of officials at the wreck that no other fatalities occurred.

The dead man was not an employee of the road, it was said. The property damage to the railroad will amount to $45,000, according to the same report. Twelve tank cars of oil, one car each of gasoline, cotton and hay, and two cars of lumber were destroyed. Damage to the trestle over Clear Creek will be repaired by tomorrow night, according to Anderson.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED.

DEQUINCY, La., Aug. 9.—After destroying seventeen cars loaded with oil, gasoline and hay, the fire which broke out yesterday when the Gulf Coast freight train No. 32 left the track and went into Clear Creek, twenty miles from here, was extinguished early today, according to L. T. Huret, representative of the railroad.

'JELLY BEANS' AND COPS HAVE WAR IN DALLAS

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 9.—Three attacks on police officers last night resulted in the arrest of eleven young men, the beating of one police officer and the blocking of traffic by a crowd of more than 2000.

Police Chief Strait declared, after the disturbances, that he received two threatening letters recently, warning him not to molest young men on the streets. One of the letters, he said, was signed "Jelly Beans". The first attack occurred when Officer P. O. Davis attempted to make a crowd of young men on a downtown corner move on. A dozen of them jumped him, the officer said. Later two other officers were attacked near the same spot. The crowd, gathered to watch the disturbances, blocked traffic.

CROCODILES PESTER SOLDIERS BATHING IN POOL AT VERSAILLES

VERSAILLES, Aug. 9.—The beautiful marble swimming pool built by Louis XIV, between the Trianon Palace and the Neptune Basin, so that the pages of the king might enjoy a dip on hot days, is now used by private soldiers stationed in the barracks near by.

During one recent torrid spell, about fifty buck privates were recuperating in the pool from two hours' drill in the morning, before the noon-day meal.

Suddenly, with a terrified shriek, a soldier sprang out of the bath: "Crocodiles, lieutenant! There are crocodiles in the pool!"

"Put a blanket around this man and take him to the guardhouse. He is crazy with the heat," said the lieutenant.

Then with a concerted rush which equaled anything ever shown against the Germans, the other forty-nine bathers leaped out. "Crocodiles, crocodiles!" they shrieked.

'NUISANCE' TAXES ARE ROUGHLY HANDLED BY WAYS-MEANS MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Having agreed upon the elimination of soda fountain and ice cream taxes and the so-called luxury taxes on wearing apparel, and with a 50 per cent cut in the levy on sporting goods, the Republican members of the house ways and means committee returned today to the job of revenue revision, resolved to make further reductions in the total taxes.

Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, in the absence of Kitchin, came out flatly today for a full repeal of transportation taxes and the so-called nuisance taxes and against any new or increased taxes suggested by Secretary Mellon.

ROAD COMMITTEE PREPARES TO AUDIT BOOKS OF COUNTY

Fiscal Agent Will Be Employed to Supervise Future Expenditures; Actions Will Be Based on Resolutions Adopted at Saturday Meeting.

SUDDEN DEATH

AUSTIN, Aug. 9.—All House bills proposing taxation of any nature were killed outright by the House committee on revenue taxation today when the committee sitting with the full attendance of fifteen members postponed indefinitely any action on all bills before the committee.

TILT BETWEEN OFFICERS AND SMALL LOOMS

Governor Barricaded and Sheriff Is Determined to Take Him.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 9.—Barricaded in the executive offices behind a wall of twenty-inch thickness, Governor Len S. Small this afternoon awaited the arrival of Sheriff Henry Mester with warrants for his arrest.

With Police Chief Wilber Morris, two city policemen and a handful of deputies at his back, Sheriff Mester was to go to the statehouse with the avowed determination to "take the governor in any manner necessary."

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 9.—Sheriff Henry Mester of Sangamon county and Governor Len Small met face to face in the executive's office here Monday.

The Sheriff has a warrant for the arrest of the Governor, following an indictment voted on a charge that Governor Small was in conspiracy to misuse public funds while State Treasurer.

Governor Small arrived in Springfield early in the day for the first time since he was indicted. He has hurled a score of defis at Sheriff Mester to "come and get me."

Mester went to the executive offices without the warrant. He said he wanted to talk it over with the Governor.

Governor Small told Mester, according to the latter, that "if he persisted in his attempts to serve the warrants, he would be liable for any untoward act which would result."

Governor Small maintains that he can not be arrested, due to his position.

Mester declared that he had been ordered to serve the warrants by the court and that he would do so "in good time."

PASSENGERS OF SAN JOSE ARE TAKEN SAFELY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Passengers aboard the steamship San Jose, on the rocks off Asuncion Island, were removed today.

Sixty persons aboard the vessel were taken off in small boats and arrangements made to land them on the Lower California coast, according to radio advices here from the vessels.

DISABLED VETERANS' SERVICE REARRANGED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The Sweet bill, reorganizing the government service to veterans of the world war was signed today by President Harding. The President nominated Charles R. Forbes of Washington state, now director of the bureau of war risk insurance to be director of the new veterans' bureau.

MYSTERIOUS PROWLER. DALLAS, Aug. 9.—Clad in a light summer suit, barefooted, a mysterious prowler entered several homes here last night.

Mrs. T. J. Lewis awakened when the hands of the prowler touched her face. She screamed. Lewis grabbed a pistol and opened fire as the white clad figure dived through a screen door, and escaped. Evidence of his purpose was found on the floor, a bowie knife with a blade four inches long.

The commissioners' court, in a meeting with a committee of eight, appointed from the road conference held last Saturday, yesterday agreed to the resolutions drafted by that body. The Citizen's committee were also asked to sit in the meeting but it is said they refused.

The reply to the resolutions of Saturday, made by the Citizen's committee was read, as was the statement of the court. After hearing the replies in open meeting, the committee went into executive session. In the light of the meeting Saturday they reached the conclusion they were re-proposed to carry out the tenor of the resolution as drafted.

Tomorrow afternoon the committee will meet in Eastland to employ a certified public accountant to audit the county's highway department and they will also employ a fiscal agent to supervise future expenditure of road funds. Both will be paid by the county.

The committee of eight who will work in conjunction with the commissioners' court and who will employ both an accountant and a fiscal agent are: F. A. Harrell and J. M. Williamson of Cisco; Boggs and Schultz of Rising Star; Cockerell of Gorman; Spear of Carbon; Cyrus Frost of Eastland, and H. S. Cole of Ranger.

ANOTHER NEFF GRAFT CHARGE IS EXPLODED

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 9.—Dr. Mantion M. Carrick, appearing before the "graft committee" said in reference to the deposit in his account at the Austin National Bank of $1,823.02 by a mysterious man wearing a black hat, that, in his opinion, this man was former State Health Officer Dr. Oscar Davis. Cross-questioned, he added, however, that he was in possession of no evidence to show that Dr. Davis had ever wrongfully gotten a nickel from the State Treasury.

Testifying before the Appropriation Committee some weeks back, Dr. Carrick told of how Dr. Davis, on giving him the bank book showing the $1,823.02 deposited in his name, had said, when asked what should be done with the money:

"Oh, do anything you want with it. Buy yourself a suit of clothes."

Today he said in reference to this alleged remark by Dr. Davis: "From what I know now, I really think the man was jesting when he said this."

Questioned by Representative Lacey of Cuero as to his experience in the medical profession, Dr. Carrick said he was graduated from the medical department of Fort Worth University in 1901 and that he has practiced for about ten years, counting the time he was in public health work.

SENDING PHOTOS BY WIRELESS FROM U. S. TO FRANCE PERFECTED

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—Transmission of photographs and written documents in facsimile across the ocean by wireless has been accomplished. Two recent successful tests of this epoch-making invention have been made at the powerful naval radio station here, a photograph and a written message having been sent to Malmson, the French radio station.

Two French government engineers are now in Annapolis preparing for further tests which they believe will prove the invention a complete success within a very short time.

The first test of the invention was the sending of a photograph of the recent Dempsey-Carpentier championship fight from the Annapolis station to France for reproduction in Le Matin, Paris newspaper.

While the reproduction was said to have been fairly good, it was not as perfect as the engineers wished it to be. So Thursday another test was made.

The test was the sending of a facsimile written message from C. V. Van Anda, managing editor of the New York Times, to Le Matin, the Paris newspaper. Words came back that the message was reproduced almost perfectly.

ATHENS, Aug. 9.—Former Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria, has failed in a spectacular attempt to return from exile and resume his throne, it was learned here today. The attempt was made last Thursday. Ferdinand, despite the extensive plotting of his supporters in Bulgaria, was halted at the border, and compelled to leave the region.

HOME NEEDS FIRST.

Our own first; Russians afterward—this is the sentiment expressed in a Chicago movement to make American citizens and American homes safe against idleness and want before attempting further work at succoring Russia. With almost unanimous voice, men and women interviewed by the press of that city have declared that unemployment and want in this country exist in such measure as to demand active thought and effort at their reduction, even if there must be postponement of foreign relief undertakings.

While these opinions were expressed without reference to recent showings as to business operation in the country, the utterances came on the same day Washington officials announced the comparative industrial conditions of July and the preceding month. It was plainly shown that employment is not yet what is required to make the lot of the working man happy. Industries in every section of the land are proceeding so carefully, or maintaining such a degree of reduced operation, as to necessitate unemployment in vast volume. Improvement in the near future is seen, but humanity must live in the present.

Chicago men and women, prominent in business and social affairs, recognize this sober truth. "We should do no more for Russia until we have taken care of our own," declares George M. Reynolds, banker. "I wouldn't put a cent into Russia through the present government," Fred H. Rawson says; "we haven't done enough yet for our soldiers." And Mrs. Walter S. Brewster's sentiment seemed the thought of all: "It's a fine thing to be charitable to Russia, but it is a crime to neglect Americans."

There is no selfishness in providing first for the home. To do that is not bestowing charity—it is carrying out a duty. Russia, France, the Near Eastern countries, Belgium, Poland—all these have been fortunate in possessing energetic publicity bureaus. Their needs were thoroughly advertised. The whole world was told what those lands required, and what America should do in meeting the conditions.

It is not thus with America's unemployed and impecunious. No high-salaried writers detail in heart-rending language the anxiety and distress and want and suffering of this nation's idle people. Yet their plight is dire—and, unhappily, thousands of the victims of deprivation are ex-service men, or their dependents. "Relieve home needs first," is a good motto, therefore.—St. Louis Times.

Utah has prohibited high-heeled shoes for women, which doubtless means that the women of Utah are wearing them a little higher than usual.—New York Mail.

Trotzky has been made food minister to Russia, which probably explains why 10,000,000 Russians are so hungry.—News and Courier.

ARMAMENT GOES ON.

In authorizing the building of four new battlecruisers of the Hood type the House of Commons yielded to the argument that Great Britain must keep its navy up to the two-power standard. Until some agreement is reached with other nations for the limitation of armaments it cannot afford to omit the precaution of replacing obsolete warships with others of up-to-date construction.

It is only a few weeks since the same reasoning prevailed in congress. The administration was all for stronger armaments, though reluctantly admitting its readiness later to discuss disarmament with other world powers.

So the competition goes on continuously, and hundreds of millions are spent in preparations for war by Governments that still hesitate squarely to meet the real issue. It is an endless chain. The United States builds more warships, Great Britain builds more warships and Japan builds more warships. Then they begin all over again and repeat the same performance from sheer lack of will to call a halt on enormous expenditures that lead to ever-growing waste.

No one nation is the master of its own naval policy or its finance. Each follows blindly the lead of other nations that follow its lead, and they travel round and round the circle in one another's steps.

If ever there was a time for disarmament by international agreement it is now. If ever there was need for expenditures for preparations for war it is today. There is not a nation in the world that can afford to pour out hundreds of millions for building and maintaining larger fleets. There is not one that does not know that it is courting disaster through bankruptcy. Yet they all persist in their common folly and delude themselves with believing that the more they spend the better position they will be in when a disarmament conference meets.

SO COMMON, YOU KNOW.

A large part of the public unquestionably will be moved to pity, if not to tears, by the plight in which the women of the British aristocracy find themselves. As we gather it from the dispatches, these women, having gone in for pipe smoking as an exclusive pastime, now discover to their great horror and repugnance that a great many other people—and the most ordinary persons, too, don't you know—had either preceded them or have followed their example. So now, milady is faced by the alternatives of either giving up her pipe, to which she may be supposed to have become attached, or of being seen in a common vice. Certainly, it is not for the vice that is abhorrent, or being seen in it, for that matter, it is the dreadful thing of its being general.

Surely some way may be found out of this lamentable predicament without incurring such appalling hardships for her ladyship. May we suggest that parliament pass a law making it a felony for any person of lower rank than that of Marchioness to be found in possession of a pipe, briar or cob? That would maintain the desired state of exclusiveness. Or perhaps some novel form of petty vice, not known to the general public, can be dug up for the diversion of our titled cousins. Why not ask the bobbies from the slum precincts to suggest something.

Incompatibility is given as the cause of half of the divorces in Switzerland.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS

By GEORGE BINGHAM

The cat at the Rye Straw store has disappeared and until another one can be had the proprietor will work in her place by keeping his eye on the rat holes.

Slim Pickens has had his feelings hurt. While at Tickville Saturday he put a penny in a slot and stepped on the scales to weigh. But the hands didn't move, so he decided that he didn't amount to anything.

TOO MUCH LAW.

Law enforcement has become a live issue throughout this country.

People, but especially those acquainted with the situation, are startled at the growth of crime and the apparent inability of the authorities to cope with it.

Governors, judges, peace officers and investigators profess real alarm. Homicide increases at an amazing rate. So does thievery and embezzlement.

It is safe to say that, notwithstanding its comparative immunity from the demoralizing effects of war, the United States leads all civilized nations in crime.

More obviously, it leads them all in the failure to punish crime.

Quite possibly our law system of detection has much to do with this.

In the main, we depend on the uncorrelated efforts of city departments, county constables and sheriffs.

Each group of peace officers operates in a narrow, circumscribed sphere, and is quite naturally indifferent to what takes place on the outside.

Such co-operation as they enjoy has come about through voluntary methods.

Recognizing the impotence of our law-enforcing agencies, we seek to correct the evil by piling up laws.

Nothing has been more characteristic of legislation throughout this country than a veritable parade of organizations seeking to drag the government into all kinds of activities by statute.

We are forcing it to become parent, guardian, instructor, moralist, and nurse in the most intimate affairs.

We want it to determine how long bed sheets shall be, the style of dress the character of dance, the sporting code, etc.

Such pressure as has been exerted on law-making bodies during the last half century has been largely in the interest of multiplying statutes, of taking up piecemeal details, of ignoring the great and common problems.

With respect to such matters as censorship of moving pictures we are willing to be harsh and uncompromising, but the firebug, the burglar and the embezzler get the benefit of every doubt.

We have a thousand rules where we could get along with 100.

We have a complicated police system, where we need simplified co-operation.

There is a reign of theft while we fuss about ineffectual surveys of laws and backyards.—Houston Chronicle.

RELIEF SUBSTITUTES.

When the Republican administration came into power the people expected relief.

They expected relief, because they had been promised it, had been told that it could be brought about by certain economies.

These economies had been named and explained on the stump.

The civil list was to be greatly reduced, the government was to be divorced from the railroads, the shipping board was to be reorganized, etc., etc.

Mr. Wilson's regime was excoriated as incompetent. A great part of the government expense, as incurred by Democrats, was described as unnecessary.

The people were left to believe that, while the war naturally cost a great deal, the burden had been inexcusably enlarged because of mismanagement.

The impression was generously, and not unequivocally scattered around, that the lack of "business experience" accounted for many millions of dollars, and that Republicans could save the country a great deal of money without losing anything by way of efficiency.

As usual, the Republican campaign was described as one of education, but in reality it was one of polite and gentlemanly scandal.

Mr. Wilson and his associates were not called crooks, but the country was given to understand that they were, whether consciously or not.

Further than this, the country was given to understand that the reduction of taxes was a very simple problem and could be accomplished without the usefulness of any department.

Well, five months have brought considerable disillusionment, not only to the country, but to the Republicans.

Instead of relief, we are promised the most pernicious tariff bill ever enacted.

Instead of reduced taxes, we are likely to get three-cent postage and a levy on automobiles.

There is some hope for the millionaires and great corporations.

The Republican majority seems to feel deep sympathy for their plight, and there is a good probability that some of the surtaxes and excess profit taxes will be lopped off.

But the plain people have nothing to hope for but a little more pressure. Even with the soldiers' bonus postponed, there seems no chance for a reduction of taxes, while the general decline of prices and wages really tends to make them higher.

The flaw in the whole situation is compounded of bad premises.

No one will blame the Republicans for their inability to achieve the impossible, but they are justly censurable for promising to achieve it.—Houston Chronicle.

The North Pacific seal herd once contained 2,500,000 animals. Pelagic sealing almost wiped them out.

GIRL, 16, LOSES HER TWO HUSBANDS

FLORENCE COBLEIGH

Florence Cobleigh, sixteen-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., girl, had the distinction of possessing two husbands. She lost them both in the Brooklyn Supreme court recently, when Justice Squires annulled the marriages on application made by the girl's mother. Florence married Robert Brocklehurst in November, 1920, and on April 2 of this year married Otto Beringer. Beringer heard of his bride's previous marriage and had her arrested for bigamy. The charge was not pressed, because of the girl's youth.

MORE MODEST STYLE SEEKERS' HOPES DASHED

PARIS, Aug. 9.—The eagerly awaited opening of Jean Patou has clinched the fact that Fifth avenue predictions of longer and more modest skirts and robes are not justified.

Patou's collection, which was shown privately, exhibited three great innovations. These were tinted lambs' wool for collar trimmings, steel, platinum and silver embroideries, and a Cossack effect given by columnar great coats decorated with cartridge belts "a la Trotzky."

The features included green water-proof crepe de chine motor coats, known as "Rolls Royce" raincoats; a patent leather color "matinal" tailored suit with brightly colored blanket skirts; the "rose of the Ganges," a Chinese sack effect in chiseled platinum; the "queeny," a knitted robe ornamented with cut nail heads like a coat of mail; the "Tosca," a shimmering, greenish blue evening gown trimmed with sparse monkey fur, and a bodice suspended by a necklace of steel beads.

An unexpected innovation was Patou's striped pink trousers, which he wore with a Tuxedo. Patou, in an interview, decried the return of the corset, saying:

"Women insist upon robes to dance in. The corset is doomed as long as the modern dances persist. Men will not dance with women unless they are supple and lissome, which is impossible if they are corseted.

"In the same way the 'nude styles' are disappearing because they do not appeal to the male imagination."

One of the features of the fashion opening was the absolute famine of mannish, dressmakers offering fabulous salaries for well-shaped beauties. Blondes are entirely "out of the market."

LITTLE CUTIES CROWD STATELY VAMPS FROM BIG TOWN PLAYHOUSES

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Statuesque stage beauties, languidly waving a costly fan and moving as if they were on wheels, have had their day. Along with them passes the big theater ticket prices.

"Comes now smaller girls of the 'cute' variety and less money for the spectator. All of which is on the authority of Florenz Ziegfeld, widely known connoisseur of female pulchritude and creator of the "follies."

"A big reduction in the price of theater tickets is inevitable," said Mr. Ziegfeld, "and that means salary reductions. There must be a reduction of one-third on the salaries of actors, musicians and stage hands, and then the seat prices will be adjusted accordingly.

"I am paying seven people in my production $1,000 a week each. I'll have to keep on doing that as long as my contracts run, but after that—zowie!" and Ziegfeld smashed his hand upon the desk by way of emphasis. "And after that, no more such outrageous salaries.

"Speaking of girls, the day of the big girl is over. It is the small girl with brains and personality who is in demand. The statuesque Junos who can do nothing but parade across the stage in a lot of fancy clothes are out of luck. I find the small girl has more nerve, more charm and more intelligence than her bigger sister."

PINTO DEFIES KLAN'S ORDER; WANTS PROBE

FORT WORTH, Aug. 9.—"I'll go to work as soon as I am able. I do not intend to leave Fort Worth."

This was Benny Pinto's reply Monday when he was asked if he intends to leave the city as demanded by the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan who whipped him Saturday night and warned him to depart from the State within forty-eight hours.

According to Pinto, he intends to ask Tarrant County officials to investigate his whipping. He said that if he "couldn't get action here" he would "see what the Attorney General can do about it."

After being whipped Saturday night Pinto was left at a lonely spot off the Burleson road, south of the city. He had been taken there after he was "taken" from Main and Thirteenth streets, where he had run after he first was "grabbed" at Houston and Thirteenth.

While talking Monday Pinto was at his brother's store on Houston street. As he stood he leaned forward saying his back pained him. He wore only one shoe and limped. He said that the shoeless foot was cut when he had been whipped and was going toward the Burleson road. When the Klansmen were chasing Pinto Saturday night as he was caught, he lost one shoe.

It was Pinto's request that the organization responsible for his whipping be asked to publicly state "why I was treated this way."

Reports published after Pinto was tarred and feathered said that this was done because Pinto had been a law violator and because he was alleged to have boasted that "the law could not touch him." Pinto several years ago was charged with theft and burning of an automobile. He also according to court records, has a number of times been charged with misdemeanors.

WOMAN WEDS 'POOR MAN' AND DISCOVERS HE IS MILLIONAIRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Believing herself to have been wooed and won by a poor man, Miss Marion A. Povie—now Mrs. Thomas H. Wells Jr., awakened to find herself the bride of a millionaire.

It was all just like the old-fashioned story books. Miss Povie lived with her family in a modest flat on the top floor of a West Ninety-sixth street apartment.

Along came Thomas H. Wells Jr. of Hubbard, Ohio, who made no boasts of who he was or what he had. The girl and her parents liked him, but were under the impression that he was a struggling real estate dealer.

Only on the eve of the marriage did Wells let it be known that he was a rich man. The couple were married June 23 last, and are now in Pasadena on their honeymoon. The marriage was kept secret until Thursday because of the notoriety given Wells in his recent divorce from Mrs. Stacia W. Wells, on May 13, in Warren, Ohio. He accused his first wife of misconduct, and she retaliated with charges of cruelty. Her counter-charge was dismissed but she was awarded $300 a month alimony so long as she remained unmarried.

Wells' second romance started while he was stricken with a nervous breakdown in this city and was in a sanitarium. Miss Povie, at that time a canteen worker, met him and they fell in love.

OLE ALF TAYLOR WINS HONORS AS MARKSMAN

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 9.—Gov. Alf A. Taylor's coon and opossum hunting days in Happy Valley and among the surrounding hills stood him in good stead when he actually took the honors for marksmanship in a pistol match away from the Adjutant-General of Tennessee, a regular army officer Colonel, and the commanding officer of Camp John Sevier Gov. Taylor was matched with Adjutant-General Brummitt, Col. Heid of the regular army and Col. Candler in two pistol matches. The target in the first match was a silhouette of a kneeling man. The target in the second was a bull's eye.

In the first match five shots each were fired by Gov. Taylor and the three officers. The score of hits was as follows: Gov. Taylor, 4; Gen. Brummitt, 3; Col. Heid, 2, and Col. Candler, 2.

In the second match, in which 17 shots were fired by each, the score stood as follows: Gov. Taylor, 1 bull's eye; Gen. Brummitt, 4; Col. Heid, 2, and Col. Candler, 3. The bull's eye was eight inches in diameter.

"You may use both hands, Governor, if you desire," was the generous proposition the officer put before Gov. Taylor before the matches began.

WORLD'S LARGEST AIRSHIP TO CRUISE OVER UNITED STATES AFTER TRANS-ATLANTIC TRIP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Practically every large city in the United States will be given an opportunity to view the world's largest airship, the United States' navy's ZR-2, soon after her arrival from the cross-Atlantic flight which is due to start the 25th of this month, it was learned Sunday from the navy department.

To secure countrywide interest for the efforts of the navy to keep the United States in the van of the air offensive powers, which the acquisition of the mammoth airship now gives, cross-continent flights will be made both for training and propaganda purposes, it was stated.

Construction of the hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., to house the ZR-2 now affords for the first time an opportunity to build in this country airships superior to the British and German types, but appropriations are lacking.

Naval officers believe that with a practical demonstration of the tremendous potential power of the ZR-2 coming on the heels of the success of the air forces in the recent bombing tests, the country will be so awakened to the needs of the air fleet maintenance that congress will be forced to make generous appropriations for future building.

Larger Than Zeppelins. What a formidable factor the giant airship would be in any naval or land war was revealed when the official announcement of the navy department of facts connected with her construction.

Larger by 500,000 cubic feet than the Zeppelin L-71, which the Germans built to bomb New York City enabling her to carry the most powerful bomb known and possessing a cruising radius of 9,000 miles, the construction of the capital city of any world power could be accomplished by the ZR-2, if unopposed.

To afford a popular understanding of the tremendous size of the airship, the navy department gives the following comparisons:

"If the ZR-2 were placed in Times Square, New York city, it would almost completely fill it," the report states.

"There would be a few feet to spare at each end and the top of the

'COMMON SENSICAL' IS HARDING'S DONATION TO ENGLISH LANGUAGE

LANCASTER, N. H., Aug. 9.—A new phrase was coined by President Harding and the new bit of language, hurled from the mountain upon which the White House was located last week, promises to become as popular as "normalcy," the president's last creation.

The phrase which the president originated is "common sensical." Members of the presidential party rolled the phrase about on their tongues, becoming familiar with it and learning to use the new Harding talk gracefully and naturally.

The individual who is so highly honored as to be the first to be described by the President's new efferescence of the English language is Secretary John W. Weeks, Mr. Harding's host. Of the secretary the president said:

"New Hampshire never sent a better, more practical, more common sensical man into public service than John W. Weeks."

Leading citizens, after having heard the phrase, immediately began to struggle with proper definitions of the words. They agreed that "common sensical" in all probability was intended to describe a person as being gifted with common sense. The latter phrase has been defined by Webster as "good mental capacity," "correct judgment," "rational meaning," described by Pope as "the gift of heaven," and occasionally referred to as "plain horse sense."

ship would be just about on a level with the Astor roof."

Only twenty-five feet less in width than the capitol building in Washington, the airship, if stood on end, would be 150 feet higher than the Washington monument, and practically the same height as the Woolworth building, it is stated.

Skins of 600 Cows.

Some idea of the expensive materials entering into her construction can be gained, the department explains, by the fact that the skins which line the gas bag containing the hydrogen gas necessitated the slaughter of 600 cows. These skins are obtained from the outer covering of the intestine of a cow and there is but one such skin to each animal that is slaughtered.

Her motive power consists of six 350-horsepower Sunbeam Cossack motors, located in six power cars, giving her a speed of seventy-five miles an hour under full pressure, and fifty miles an hour at cruising speed.

She carries 10,400 gallons of gasoline.

On her trip across the Atlantic the ZR-2 will never be out of communication with the shore, for the radio set with which she is equipped has a radius of more than 1,500 miles. A wireless telephone and a radio direction finding set also is part of the electrical equipment.

The crew handles a captain, executive officer, navigator, engineer officer, radio operator, meteorological officer, three watch officers, sixteen mechanics and ten riggers.

The crew's quarters are located in the keelway. This keelway is a long corridor extending the length of the ship, about eight feet wide and seven feet high. There are two large spaces enclosed in this keelway with balloon fabric, which are used as quarters, one forward for the officers, and one aft for the men.

The quarters are equipped with comfortable chairs, tables, benches and a Victrola with a good assortment of records. Each bunk is equipped with a fur-lined sleeping bag, but in summer months these are not necessary.

The food for the crew is cooked by the hot exhaust flames from the motors, and the menus announced by the navy department for the Atlantic trip compare favorably with those of first class hotels.

REB RUSSELL NOW 'UP' AFTER UP AND DOWNS

By Associated Press. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 9.—A star pitcher in the "bush" leagues, then a world's series luminary, soon reversal and failure in the box, next a trial in the outfield at Minneapolis a year ago, and today head of the American association batters—such is the eventful career of Ewell A. "Reb" Russell, former White Sox pitcher and now stellar outfielder for the Millers.

The story of his rise to fame, with its subsequent loss and recovery, dates back to 1912.

Starting his professional career at Bonham, in northern Texas, that year, Russell's stay in the minors was brief to the utmost. Finishing the year with Fort Worth, the southpaw sensation was bought by the Chicago Americans. Comiskey offered him a three-year contract at the outset because of his belief in the left-hander's ability. He was then twenty-three years old.

Reb got into the limelight at once, pitching the White Sox to twenty-two victories, while losing but sixteen games in his first year. He continued with the Sox until 1919, the climax of his career coming during the 1917 world series between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants.

In 1918 he lost his effectiveness and in the following year was released outright.

After making an unavailing attempt to "come back" for the Indianapolis American association team at the beginning of the 1920 season, and after other minor league teams turned him down, Russell went to work in a garage in Indianapolis.

During the second road trip of the Minneapolis nines that year, Manager Joe Cantillon was in desperate straits when his team landed in Indianapolis. His dependable outfielder, Rondeau, had broken his leg. Friends of Cantillon suggested he "go around the corner" and ask Reb to try the outfield position.

In the first game with Minneapolis, Russell gave signs of promise, getting two hits, one of which helped win the game. He played in every one of the remaining eighty-five games of the season and finished with an average of .339, four points higher than the recognized league leader.

As one of the regulars this year, Russell leads the league in batting with an average between .375 and .385, and is running a neck-and-neck race with Brief of Kansas City for home run honors.

Russell was born March 12, 1889, at Albany, Miss. Although a big man, weighing more than 190 pounds, he is one of the fastest men in the league, which is responsible for stretching so many of his hits.

CARPENTIER NOT FIRST FRENCHMAN DEFEATED IN CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Carpentier was not the first Frenchman to have the honor of competing and of being defeated in a world's boxing championship match, French statisticians have discovered since the knockout administered to Georges by Dempsey.

On July 28, 1875, a Frenchman named Petit, weighing 260 pounds and standing six feet four met Jack Slack of England, then the undisputed champion of the world. The purse was $500.

Petit, a combination of wrestler and boxer, jumped in the center of the grass ring as soon as the word "go" was given and seizing Slack by the throat with his left hand, began placing his right with great force upon various parts of Slack's anatomy. History does not record why the Harry Ertle of the time did not immediately disqualify the Frenchman but goes on to relate that "Slack swung a mighty right into Petit, wung below the belt and that the Frenchman went down writing in pain."

When he could summon enough strength to regain his feet, he immediately used one of them to send a well directed kick into Slack's shin. The Briton then swung right and left to the chin and the Frenchman was out cold.

ZOOS HOT ON WILD ANIMAL TRAILS AGAIN

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Zoological gardens the world over, after letting the wild animals stay in the wilderness during the war, are emulating Noah again.

From 1914 to 1918 men were so engrossed in trying to capture one another that they quit stalking irrational animals. The zoos suffered. Many animals died, and there were no replacements.

The business of replenishing collections of plain and fancy beasts has been undertaken on a large scale this last year, however, and with great success. Some of the exhibits in the United States are more complete than before the war.

The New York Zoological Garden not only refilled its own cages and corrals but lent a helping hand to similar institutions in Europe. They even sent a shipment of animals to a zoo in Africa.

This seemed like carrying oil to Tuxpam, but Dr. W. T. Hornaday, the director explained that the collections sent to Africa included specimens unknown in the wilderness of that continent.

Non-combatants housed in the zoos of Antwerp, Paris and London suffered considerably in the lean war days. Lions and mice lay down together—and died. Elephants and mocking birds together faddled from their metropolitan environment.

And there was none to take their places, for the ships from Africa brought nothing wilder than Senegalese troopers, and carried only such by animate and inanimate things as would help the Allies carry on.

So when the war was over there was a shortage of caged animals. The Allies, having captured Germany's dog, now set about to acquire her other zoological possessions. Before the war Germans had almost monopolized the wild animal trade of the world.

German colonies in South Africa and elsewhere had yielded many of the birds and animals and reptiles to make a "sight" in zoos of cities and circuses. Most of these Germans are out of the business today, and their old collection grounds are not what they used to be.

JACK DEMPSEY HOPES TO RETIRE FROM RING WITHOUT LOSING TITLE

By CHARLES E. HUGHES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Enjoying himself hugely, Jack Dempsey, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, recently spent a season of recreation here and in the immediate vicinity. In an interview given to International News Service, the champion said:

"I journeyed West to escape the heat and crowds of the East. I like the mountains, also the sea, and do not know where one could get a better combination of both."

If Dempsey's identity were concealed and he should be thrown into a gathering of society leaders of any community it is probable that not one out of a hundred persons would consider that he makes his living in a prize ring. At least that is the opinion of quite a few of Dempsey's California admirers.

Dempsey has a few "pet ambitions," as he terms them. Will Not Fight Colored Man. First of all, he wants his mother to be as happy as money and his devotion can make her.

Second, he wants to be champion as long as he feels his physical condition and skill entitle him to that honor.

Third, he wants to retire undefeated. Fourth, he wants eventually to settle down to a business career where he "can be of useful service to mankind and reach out a helping hand to struggling fellows."

The champion emphasized that he wants to give the public the greatest consideration at all times and will fight any worthy aspirant, except a colored man, and will fight just as often as the public demands.

"I am not going to balk at meeting anyone Jack Kearns may choose for me to fight," said Dempsey. "Kearns won't send me against a black man. And Kearns is not going to send me against some fellow who would not give me a good battle. The public won't stand for matches with 'straw men.'"

"Judging from the present outlook I expect to be champion for years. But I am going to give the rising generation of boxers plenty of opportunities at the title. If any of them can beat me, well and good. But, believe me, if right living and an honest desire to be in fine condition at all times have anything to do with it, I am going to keep the old crown on my head for many a day."

"If the public should insist I would be willing to meet Carpentier again. But I do not feel it would be a good match from a box office standpoint. I regard Carpentier as a fine fellow, a good boxer and a game fighter. But down in his heart I believe he feels he could never beat me. In my own heart I know I can always defeat the Frenchman. If we ever meet again it will take no four rounds for me to put Georges out. And I believe the public shares this view, too."

"Confidence is a mighty and determining factor in winning a ring battle. On the day of my scrap with Carpentier I was as steady as a well-regulated time-piece. I was never in doubt from the time I arose that morning that I would have much trouble in putting the Frenchman out."

Tides in the Gulf of Mexico are inconsequential, ranging from 18 to 24 inches.

DIAMOND---RING

Floto—Denver Post.

"I've got a good ball club and I can't figure why we don't win the close ones." It was as yesterday when Connie Mack so expressed himself to the writer. In his voice was an intonation which told how keenly he was disappointed, but he brightened up in a moment and said: "We'll be up there yet for a bunch of good ball players like mine cannot be kept down in the cellar all the time."

We agree with Connie regarding his ball club, but he simply hasn't got the "breaks" of the game with him. A losing team never has—they always seem to cling around a winning aggregation, that makes us almost believe in the old adage, "a winning team makes its own breaks." However, he's got a lot of youngsters who will develop as they go along, and we look for him to finish in the first division in 1922.

Pat Moran may not be able to get his Zinnmadi Reds into a first division berth, but he certainly has slammed the aspirations of the Giants so far this season. Every time the McGraw clan gets ready to step into first place along come the Reds and there is an upset of some kind. Just to make it convincing the Giants were ready to step in first place last Sunday, but the Reds trimmed them in a doubleheader, which kissed their chances of passing Pittsburgh goodbye. The Giants' weakness seems to be in pitching. They are well fortified in all positions excepting on the mound, and that's the one place where strength is a requisite item at this stage of the race.

Folks are wondering what weight Benny Leonard is making for Lew Tندر. For two years the bout hung fire because Leonard refused to do better than 135 pounds at 2 o'clock on the day of the bout, the same weight at which he won the title from Welsh. But Tندر always objected and the boys could not be brought together. We are wondering whether Tندر finally decided to take a chance and let Benny weigh 135 at 2 o'clock. Perhaps, for all we know, they are fighting at catchweights. There is such a tremendous gate in sight the fighters can well afford to take any kind of chances. It should prove a great contest, for Leonard always contended that Tندر was made to order for him, while Tندر always said, "Just let me get Benny in the ring and a title will change hands."

Button, button, who's got the button? That about expresses the present situation in the Johnny Wilson-Bryan Downey controversy. If we take the vapors of the different boxing commissions seriously we'd be up in the air as well as they are. One day this commission announces it will recognize the ruling of the Cleveland commission and then the next day repudiates it. Truth of the matter is, and according to all rules for the last 200 years there is no decision that counts in the matter, only the one that Jimmy Gardner made in the ring. According to all accounts it was highway robbery of the highest order, but nevertheless, he was the recognized official of the occasion and his ruling is supreme in the premises.

There should be a way to overrule an occasion of this sort, but if you do that every "home" commission is apt to award a "home champion" a title whether he earned it or not, for they'd be prejudiced in favor of their own town laddie. See what a mix-up that would create? There would be champions Galore, two or three in every class. So we had better let things remain as they are and as they have been for a hundred years.

We believe the Wilson-Downey rumus has accomplished one thing. It will in the future do away with the hand-picked referee. It will stop these champions who seem to be afraid to take a chance on carrying around their own arbiter. That in itself would be worth all the controversy the thing brought in its wake. Wherever there is a boxing commission an outsider is not needed, but in towns where boxing is by suffrage, unless the chief of police has the situation well in hand, an outside referee might be advisable. Still, with very few exceptions, we have found most towns to have a man capable of judging a bout on its merits.

SENATE HEWS $160,000 OFF MILITIA FUND

General Pershing and Guardsmen Attacked in Senate Fight.

AUSTIN, Aug. 9.—The senate late Monday afternoon finally passed the bill making appropriations for the support and maintenance of state departments for the next two years.

The original totals of this bill were $2,896,153 for the first year and $2,789,593 for the second year. As finally passed in amended form, these totals are reduced about $100,000 per annum.

The most important amendment and the one affecting the totals of the bill was that by Senator Dorrough cutting the national guard appropriation from $260,000 per annum to $100,000 per annum.

The first amendment to the departmental budget came when Senator Dorrough moved to cut the appropriation of $260,000 per annum for the support of the national guard of Texas to $100,000. The senators were about evenly divided on the matter, and rather extended debate was indulged in. The most spectacular portion of the discussion came when Senator Doyle referred to General Pershing as the "head of the military aristocracy of the United States" and to the national guard as "tin soldiers."

Rising to his feet at this remark, Senator Page hotly defended Pershing and the guard. He said: "I am surprised and pained to hear the only ex-Confederate in the senate refer so disparagingly to the great leader of the American forces in the recent world war and to those hundreds of thousands of boys who went across the water to defend the rights of humanity against Prussianism. Over 500,000 boys from Texas threw themselves in the breach in France as national guardsmen and many of them lost their lives. It seems a poor recompense to these boys and a poor tribute to their bravery and self-sacrifice that this old ex-soldier should arise here in the senate of Texas to vilify their efforts and disparage their accomplishments."

BURKETT LOSES FIGHT TO CUT RANGER BUDGET

AUSTIN, Aug. 9.—When the ranger appropriation came up in the senate Monday afternoon, Senators Burkett and Bledsoe had their usual tilt at words over the matter. Burkett offered an amendment to cut the appropriation of $148,262 in half, changing improper expenditures on the part of rangers and improper conduct. He said the rangers had intruded themselves at Eastland and Ranger, had violated the laws themselves and had instituted a reign of terror. Rangers are not needed anywhere in the state but on the border, if there, Senator Burkett asserted.

The amendment was voted down decisively. Burkett then offered another amendment to require rangers to present receipts for all items in their expense accounts. This also lost out. Not discouraged, Burkett offered a third amendment proposing to cut off the ranger appropriation entirely. This also was defeated by a large vote.

As adopted, the ranger appropriation, instead of being cut, is slightly increased, Senator Bledsoe's amendment to increase ranger traveling expenses from $4,000 to $6,000 having carried.

LIBRARY WILL BE KEPT OPEN UNTIL EIGHT

The Business Women's club, working in connection with the Ranger Public Library, recently opened at 107-108 Marston building on the ground floor, has taken over the work of furnishing a complete rest room for the public.

Mrs. Fenlaw is president of the Business Women's club and was also appointed by that organization as representative to co-operate with the library board, the 1920 club and the music club in promoting this project. The rest room will be complete in a few days and it is the girls' desire that every woman and child in Ranger, out of Ranger and who may come to Ranger to shop or visit, to visit this rest room and thereby encourage those who are trying to push forward this work for the benefit of the town.

As the work of keeping the library open is dependent upon the donation of time, it has been decided to change the hours for the benefit of those who work until seven o'clock. It is planned to open from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning and 4:00 to 8:00 p. m. excepting Wednesday nights when the library will close at seven o'clock. If these arrangements prove to be insufficient to accommodate all concerned the time will be changed after the first of October.

DAD NOW WARNS SON

TO SIDE-STEP JAKE, JAZZ AND JAMES—THE OLD DEVIL.

In the good old days, "Dad," who had forgotten his youth or was an old man with young ideas trying to pose as a paragon, would on occasion call his son in and say, "Son, Wine, women and song is the ruin of young men." The son, if he had something on "Dad," would probably answer, "Very well, father, I will cut out the singing."

But in this ultra-modern day, "Dad" who steps along with the crowd has changed the prescription to Jake, James and Jazz, of which he duly warns his son and then steps forth to a toddle party.

DRIVERLESS FLIVVER CONTROLLED BY RADIO MAKES EYES POP OUT

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 9.—A radio controlled automobile startled pedestrians on the uptown streets today when it proceeded past traffic officers without observing rules, tooted its own horn, turned around, backed up and speeded forward, without a driver at the wheel. The machine threaded its way through Main street traffic without accident, a practical demonstration of the success of the "wireless wagon" which was perfected at McCook Field experiment station after months of tireless work.

Captain R. E. Vaughn, chief of the radio section, guided the car by wireless, installed in an automobile which followed the radio car at a distance of 50 feet. Crowds thronged the streets to watch the progress of the experiment and were amazed at the performance.

The radio car is shaped like a cigar, is about eight feet long and has three wheels equipped with pneumatic tires. The test showed the possibilities of radio control in times of war, McCook officers stated. It is claimed that radio control now can be applied to any device or apparatus that moves, whether in the air, on terra firma, on the water or beneath the surface.

Huge land tanks, it is pointed out, may be filled with T. N. T. and be made to approach the enemy's lines where the explosives may be fired by radio.

It is declared to be probable that a radio controlled airplane will be built and tested at the local field in the near future.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE COUNSEL DEMAND STARNES' RESIGNATION

That Contract With Fleming and Stitzer Be Abandoned Is Also Demanded in Answer to Resolution Adopted at County Meet.

The unconditional resignation of County Judge Starnes is demanded by the Citizens' committee in an answer drawn by the attorneys of the committee, to the set of resolutions adopted last Saturday at a conference of county delegates called to consider the road situation.

In the preamble of their answer, the attorneys state their action is indorsed by 1,200 citizens who met yesterday in mass meeting. In demanding the resignation of Judge Starnes they also insist the contract with Fleming & Stitzer be unconditionally abandoned.

The first three of the resolutions adopted by the conference Saturday are indorsed in the answer. They were for carrying on an investigation, selling road bonds and letting the road work continue.

The fourth resolution, however, was rejected with emphasis as was the fifth one. The fourth stated the conference was not in favor of any attempt to remove any county official at this time.

TEXT OF ANSWER.

EASTLAND, Aug. 8.—Acting with the consent and support of more than 1,200 citizens of Eastland county, assembled here today and in response to the resolutions adopted by their convention Aug. 6, we beg leave to submit the following reply:

To the first section we answer that we agree that the bonds should be sold at the earliest possible date. To the second section of your resolutions, we answer: that we are anxious to avoid litigation. To the third section of your resolution we answer that we do not object to any audit of the county books being made by any person interested in the same but as tax payers of Eastland county, we insist that we are entitled to examine the public records of Eastland county, either in person or by an employe of our selection and in this connection we state that we have an employe, who has previously served the state of Texas as a bank examiner and whose services we will continue to retain and through whose efforts we believe that we will learn something of the county records and in this connection we will further state that in the event of civil litigation we will undertake to ascertain the true facts.

As to Section 4. To section 4 of your resolutions we unequivocally dissent and we unconditionally insist that C. R. Starnes should resign as county judge of Eastland county, Texas, and that the purported contract between Eastland county and the Fleming & Stitzer Road Building company, be unconditionally abandoned. In this connection we state that we have not been able to make a complete investigation of the records of Eastland county but from the best information we can obtain it is apparent that more than $250,000 of the public school funds of Eastland county, was placed in the Security State Bank & Trust company of Eastland, which latter institution has been closed by authority of the State of Texas. We believe that these funds of Eastland county are not adequately protected by any solvent bond and we believe that at least a quarter of a million dollars are lost.

If this state of facts exists we need a county judge of Eastland county for two purposes. One purpose is to recover such funds as might be recovered and the other is to legally and judicially expend such funds as lawfully come under the control of the commissioners' court of Eastland county and if C. R. Starnes has failed to protect our rights in the past, we are not willing to entrust him with the expenditure of our money in the future. We do not think that the appointment of a fiscal agent or any committee which might be appointed could safeguard the rights of Eastland county and we do not want a county judge who requires a guardian or committee of citizens to oversee his official work.

Sec. 5 Objected to. To the fifth section of your resolution we state that we know of no law which authorizes the appointment of a committee of eight to supervise the official acts of any officer or to act in conjunction with any officer and we think there is no law which authorizes the publication of such a committee out of public funds.

In conclusion we respectfully submit that we sincerely regret that work on public roads should cease and we believe that if C. R. Starnes will resign as county judge and the purported contract between Eastland county and Fleming & Stitzer be set aside without litigation that road bonds can be sold and public work resume.

We desire to further say with the greatest of deference to your committee that we entertain the opinion that if you were in possession of the facts in reference to the manner in which the county's affairs have been conducted that you would not insist that C. R. Starnes remain county judge of Eastland county and that the purported contract made with Fleming & Stitzer Road Building company by the county should be carried out.

Respectfully submitted,
 W. V. DUNNAM

 Attorneys for Citizens' Committee.

SOLDIERS FIND 'KICK' SMOKING MARIHUANA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Army surgeons are investigating a report that American soldiers stationed along the Mexican border have taken to smoking marihuana, a herb, which is said to produce a dream kick.

With kicks growing scarce in spots, the troops along the border apparently have been introduced to the marihuana variety by Mexicans and other lovers of the weed. How general the marihuana habit may have become is not known at the office of Surgeon General Ireland.

TIFFIN PLANT TO AGAIN BE OPENED SOON

The Tiffin plant of the bankrupt Ranger Refining and Pipe Line company has been leased to the Hagaman Refining corporation and will be put into operation soon according to a statement made this morning by D. W. Girard one of the Texas receivers for the Pipe Line company.

Work of repairing the Rust Spur plant of the bankrupt company south of the city will start soon, Mr. Girard said, and it will be put into operation under the supervision of the receivers.

The Tiffin plant was sold to the Ranger Refining and Pipe Line company by M. H. Hagaman and his associates a few months before the concern were adjudged bankrupt. The corporation which has taken it over is now operating the Odessa plant in the same section.

In addition to this company's refineries, it has a string of filling stations through this section among which is the Ranger Gasoline company, of Ranger. It has stations at Cisco, Eastland and Breckenridge.

Everything for QUALITY —nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making T CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.
