

Immigrants as Before the War

NEW YORK, May 31.—Though the tide of immigration has begun to flow again into the United States from Europe so that incoming ships have their lower decks crowded with homeseekers from other lands, there is little prospect that relief is in sight for the American housewife who has been promising herself a brook or maid-of-all-service to be recruited from the newcomers. At the opinion of Superintendent P. H. ... of the United States Immigration and Customs Service, immigration has been increasing by "boundaries," Mr. Baker said, "and a hopeful sign that the aliens are ... this port during the last few ... exceeded the number going to their native lands by the thousands. Last week six times as many as in as qualified to leave the country."

"People who think the servant girl problem is going to be solved soon are disappointed if they are depending on the women immigrants from Ireland and the Scandinavian countries. Plenty of these are arriving on every boat, but they turn up their noses at the thought of menial labor. They have their minds set on getting work in the better factories, principally those manufacturing luxuries such as candy and women's finery. They want to get into places where employees are well treated and into localities where housing facilities are best so that they can live on the scale justified by the high wages paid them. If employers want to attract this class of women immigrants they had better look to the reputations of their factories for decent working conditions."

Many Russians Are in Turkey On Way to U. S.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31.—The foreign sections of Constantinople are crowded with Russians who want to go to America but cannot get the 40,000 visas which are required. They are going back, it is generally believed, because of homesickness and anxiety over the welfare of relatives in the war zones.

Many of them have relatives or friends in America, or at least say they have. But the doors of America are closed unless it is clearly proven the applicant is not a Bolshevik and will not become a public charge in the United States. All singers, dancers and artists want to go to New York. But applications for permission are denied unless the performers can show some actual contract with some reputable manager.

Serbia and Italy are the only two countries into which Russians gain admission with ease and even these are very cautious about admitting persons suspected of Bolshevik tendencies.

There are more Russians than other nationals in the foreign districts of the city. Russian commission shops have been opened where refugees offer their diamonds, lace and other finery for sale. Big Russians, little Russians, Laplanders, Siberians, Georgians and Cossacks of all the various tribes have been shuttled into Constantinople by the Red wave which swept them over the Black sea.

Hotels are filled with Russian barons, counts and princes, especially princes, for every third high class Russian in Turkey seems to be a prince, singer and dancer from the imperial theatres are in evidence everywhere. They are so conspicuous that they cannot be overlooked entirely, but their efforts to gain publicity are not highly successful. The cosmopolitan population of Constantinople has had so many thrills in the last six years that it is too jaded to respond to the bizarre manifestations of the artistic temperament. Pale-faced tenors wandering through hotel lobbies, fingering strands of lavender beads and evanescently gowned prima donnas loaded with jewels and Pomeranian poodles can't startle a public which has had so many years of war at its front door.

ROBBED AT POINT OF TOL BY BOY BANDITS

International News Service.
SEVIER, Mo., May 31.—Police officers here are searching for a gang of small but "bold bad" bandits. The search has been instituted on the complaint of Mrs. D. N. Evans, who says that the robbers entered her home, pointed pistols at her head and relieved her of a pocketbook containing $8.
According to Mrs. Evans, the oldest member of the gang didn't look to be over twelve years old.

CONGRESS HEARS OF IMPORTANCE OF ORIENT ROAD

SAN ANGELO, Tex., May 31.—Representatives from twenty-seven states gathered by the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad, which, according to statements made at a meeting in San Angelo, was losing $100,000 a month and will have to cease operations September 1 when the government guarantee period ends unless it receives aid, voted the road to be essential to the financial prosperity of the country it serves. Not only would millions of dollars worth of property in West Texas depreciate in value if this road should cease to operate the representatives declared, but the whole nation would suffer because it would be impossible to continue the cattle and sheep raising industry on its present scale.

For the first time in its history, said Houston Hart, editor of the San Angelo Standard, the Orient road was upon a paying basis when the Government took over the administration of railroads. "But," he added, "with the war came its disasters and under Federal control all the Orient's freight was diverted to other trains. Its lines used only to haul empty cars to the coast and its shops to rebuild locomotives of some competitor. When it was thrown back upon its own resources, its employees were scattered and its business in some one else's hands."

Mr. Harter continued, "The Orient railroad which serves a territory 800 miles from Wichita, Kansas, to Alamo, Texas, on the Mexican border, will have to close down unless the Interstate Commerce Commission comes to its assistance and gives this road aid from the three hundred million revolving fund made available by recent railroad legislation."

Bonus Bill is Liable to Die In Conference

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The soldiers' relief bill was before the senate today probably for conference. It will then go to committee which opponents of the measure said would be virtually "interment in legislative graveyard."

WOMEN MAY WEAR OLD CLOTHES AT CONVENTION MEET

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 31.—The wearing of old clothes by the delegates to the fifteenth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which opens here June 16 for a week's session is urged by Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, president of the federation.
"With more than four million men no longer available for many forms of labor," declares Mrs. Cowles in her appeal, "the shortage in production in all industrial fields is mounting. Wartime thrift must prevail if we are to help right conditions. There is no need for a denim or gingham dress rage which would simply make it harder for the women who really need such things. Move over what you have. Come to the convention with a story of thrift that will thrill other women into doing likewise."

RACING CLASSIC HAS ENTRIES OF MANY COUNTRIES

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31.—Racing stars of four nations lined up today for the start in the 500-mile automobile motor racing. The race is a national event and nearly every state is represented among the license tags jammed around the course.

Ralph De Palma, who in 1919 won the 300-mile event with an average speed of 83.84 miles an hour, was a four to one favorite. His French machine made an average of 99.65 in a speed trial. He was awarded the coveted position at the pole for the get-away.

A total of $85,000 prizes are waiting. The winner gets $20,000 prize and the winner of each complete circuit is to receive a sum individual of the main prize money. Twenty-three drivers start in the race.
Boyer lead at 100 miles an hour in a Chassagne, Second is Gaston with a Chevrolet; third, Rene Thomas. The first smash in the first 100 miles put Art Klein out of the race. No one was injured.

Joe Boyer, and Louis Chevrolet also will start from the first row. While driving skill is an important factor in the race the supreme test comes in the engineering genius of France and America. How cars stand the terrific grind will reveal the respective merit of rival construction. Twelve cars in the race today are American the others are French. For the first time cars have a vision displacement of 183 inches or less.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31.—Boyer retained the lead at 200 miles, averaging 81.45 miles an hour; Rene Thomas, second; Ralph De Palma, third. Five cars were forced out by minor accidents and motor trouble.

BRITISH TO REVIVE BOARD

LONDON.—In view of the approaching conference at Spa it has been decided to revive the British Empire delegation. The four dominions, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa, have been asked to nominate a representative, who will discuss with the Imperial cabinet the various questions arising out of the war.

League Not to Launch Party Leaders State

LINCOLN, Neb., May 31.—The endeavor of the Nonpartisan League in Nebraska to elect in November several independent candidates outside of the major political parties does not indicate an intention to form a new political party, according to C. A. Sorenson, Mr. Sorenson is attorney for the league in this state. He says this is not a new procedure for the league, as it did the same thing in Minnesota two years ago after defeat in the primaries.

Candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general have been named. These were chosen after the defeat of the league's three congressional candidates and its choice for attorney general in the recent Nebraska primary.

The building is of reinforced concrete and the walls will finally be of three stories. The structure is well lighted by eighteen windows to the side. An alley on three sides assures plenty of light and air.

A special built-in vault has been installed to take care of valuable mail. A new sidewalk, fourteen feet wide, has been put down in front of the building and on Elm street.

The building belongs to McManus and Parton who have leased the main floor to the postoffice department at a rate of $12 a year for ten years. When completed it will be one of the best postoffice buildings in this section of the state.

New fixtures are expected here in the next sixty days. The department has granted the postoffice first-class rating, effective July 1.

FINAL SETTLEMENT FOR RE-ORGANIZATION MADE BY C. OF C.

Final settlement has been made by the Chamber of Commerce with the American city bureau for the work the bureau did in reorganizing the Chamber of Commerce. The terms of settlement were $270,000 cash and two notes for the same amount to mature in seven and thirteen months. A like sum is to be paid at the end of three years, provided the bureau carries out all the terms of its contract.

According to the agreement made with the directors of the chamber, the bureau would do the work of reorganization on a basis of 25 per cent of the amount pledged for membership for the first year in the chamber, in excess of $12,000. In addition, during the course of three years they will send men here from time to time to help carry the work forward. By the terms of the settlement no percentage is to be allowed on unpaid memberships.

OIL LAND INVOLVED IN MILLION DOLLAR SUIT

AUSTIN, May 31.—Recovery of 100 acres of valuable oil land in Stephens county is the object of a suit on trial in district court here today, with the state and P. K. Shuler of Waco, plaintiffs, and the Gulf Production company defendants. A million dollars damage for oil taken is asked by the plaintiffs.

WILL REMOVE POST OFFICE NEXT SUNDAY

The postoffice will be moved from its present quarters on Marston street to the new building on Elm street next Sunday, according to an announcement made this morning. The new building is not completed, but will be made ready for occupancy by the end of the week. Workmen were busy this morning finishing the concrete floor.

The building is of reinforced concrete and the walls will finally be of three stories. The structure is well lighted by eighteen windows to the side. An alley on three sides assures plenty of light and air.

A special built-in vault has been installed to take care of valuable mail. A new sidewalk, fourteen feet wide, has been put down in front of the building and on Elm street.

DEPOSITORS EASILY MAY FILE CLAIMS ON BANK OF RANGER

D. W. Girard, receiver appointed by the federal court for the defunct Bank of Ranger, is today checking up balances and other claims of creditors of the institution. Mr. Girard stated that he was not in a position yet to say just how far the assets left by the owners of the bank would go toward paying the liabilities.

He claims it was only necessary that they file a proof under a notary's seal with the federal court at Abilene. This may be done, he said, by mail to either the trustee in bankruptcy or to himself. Mrs. Girard will also accept proof of claims personally and file them with the court.

CAMP BANDITS GET $140 from FIVE WORKMEN

Two armed men held up the camp of Jack Barrs, a bridge gang foreman, and got $140 from five workmen who had retired for the night were awakened and forced to give up their money. The robbers took about $140.

The highwaymen made no efforts to disguise themselves. According to the description given the police department, one of the men is young and rather tall, the other being shorter and of heavier build.

An arrest has been made in the case by the police.

George McQuaid Back to the News Managing Editor

George McQuaid, director of publicity and manager of townships for the Hanon & Kell interests, and for eight months closely identified with activities in the Ranger field, tomorrow returns to the Dallas News, as managing editor.

Jake L. Hanon, railroad builder and oil operator, regrets the severance of their connection, but understands that, as Mr. McQuaid says, "I am a newspaper man."

When Mr. Hanon secured Mr. McQuaid from the News last fall, he said, "I got the best newspaper man in Texas," and no one argued the matter.

Mr. McQuaid has been with the Dallas News and affiliated organizations for the better part of sixteen years. He began his work with them as a reporter in 1904 and after several years experience in Dallas, accepted the position of editor of the old Guthrie State Capital. He held that position five years, leaving it to take the managing editorship of the San Antonio Express. From San Antonio he returned to the News organization, as editor of the Galveston News.

His health necessitated a change and for three years he represented the Dallas News, in Oklahoma City. After his return, he acted as staff correspondent and later organized the oil desk for the paper.

Mr. McQuaid came to Ranger as publicity director for the Hanon interests in August.

His judgment of news values, ability as a writer and wide acquaintance in the state and throughout the Southwest made him immediately successful in this work. He later took over the work of manager of townships along the new Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railroad and directed the opening of the new townships of Jakhoman, Frankell, Ethoboy and Breckwaker.

LITTLE BUSINESS IS DONE BY STATE LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, May 31.—Only local bills were pending on the calendars of both branches of the Legislature scheduled for passage today. Proponents submitted a resolution to authorize the prison commission to select a site for the location of a branch penitentiary in Central Texas. It is expected that action will be taken in the House on it today.

The boll worm investigating committee is scheduled to make recommendations to Legislature today.

The governor recommended a bill exempting school and municipal improvement bonds from state taxation. Bill on the subject were introduced in both branches of the legislature.

Passage of the bill under the present consideration proposing the regulated zones in the pink boll worm area was exterminating the pests, declared Charles L. Marlett, chairman of the federal horticulture board, before the legislative investigating committee today. He pointed out that under the terms of the measure as drawn, the quickest time the field could be destroyed after the pest is found would be eighty-two days, and if contested in court 127 days. This would give the pest time to spread and make destroying the first field useless, he said.

VETERANS OF TWO WARS DECORATE SOLDIER GRAVES

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Heroes of earlier wars share today in the national Memorial day tribute with those who fell in the world war. In doing them honor, grizzled civil war veterans marched with khaki-clad young veterans to Arlington National cemetery, where for the first time the graves of those who fell in the Civil War were decorated. The memorial amphitheatre recently dedicated was used for the first time, General Pershing was the principal speaker.

SENATE WILL NOT ENDORSE MEXICO FULLY

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Recognition that full recognition of the Mexican government be withheld until an agreement to revise the constitution of 1917 is arrived at. The senate was in formal the treaty entered into is made by the senate or falls to the foreign relations committee, in a report from subcommittees which investigated Mexican conditions.

Should the Mexican government refuse to accede to the conditions suggested that the American government would renew notice to hold to a definite reckoning those in Mexico responsible for suffering and losses sustained by American citizens.

Failure of the Mexican government to restore order and peace in Mexico effectively to protect American citizens is held in a plan suggested by the subcommittee by dispatching an armed force into that country to open and maintain every line of communication between Mexico City and every export and border port of Mexico.

It was recommended that Governor De La Huerta, now president ad interim of Mexico, should not be recognized until the Senate is assured his selection is approved by the Mexican people and until it is shown his administration is of a stable character and disposed to comply with the rules of international comity and the obligation of treaties. The foreign relations committee directed Senator Falls to present the report to the senate, which he planned to do later today.

Convention to Be Biggest in Several Years

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—Major General W. H. Loomis and Brigadier General John B. Bunn, heads of the national uniform rank, Knights of Pythias, together with a general committee from all parts of the country, have completed plans here for what they regard as the latest convention of any secret order since pre-war days.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 delegates are expected to attend the national encampment in Cleveland, which will last one week beginning July 25. More than 1,000 tents have been contracted for, to be set up in Edgewater park where the uniform members will be housed according to strict military discipline. Each tent will house upwards of five men. Other delegates will stay at hotels.

Besides the encampment itself, a military parade of several miles in length, a military ball at one of the largest hotels and prize military drills will be features of the big meet. The event is the first national biennial convention of the order since 1914 and matters of international importance will be considered.

The camp at Edgewater park will be named Camp Minshull in honor of Thomas W. Minshull, brigadier general of the Ohio department, who has served as commander of the uniform rank of this state since 1898 with exception of one four year term.

His judgment of news values, ability as a writer and wide acquaintance in the state and throughout the Southwest made him immediately successful in this work. He later took over the work of manager of townships along the new Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railroad and directed the opening of the new townships of Jakhoman, Frankell, Ethoboy and Breckwaker.

Show Down in G. O. P. Contests Covered Today

CHICAGO, May 31.—Nearly a seventh of all delegates to the Republican convention to occupy their seats when convention opens a week from tomorrow were at stake today when the national committee opened the hearing over 137 contests.

"I am informed," said Senator Jones of New Mexico, "that the profits of the tanners increased during the war to three times the pre-war average, even after the deduction of war taxes."

"Yes," said Senator McNary, "that is borne out by the Federal Trade Commission's report."
Brand said that he had no data on profits.

The biggest state in the union is the unsettled state of the public mind.

Naval Vessel of Former Day is a Wreck Near N. Y.

EASTPORT, Me., May 30.—A mass of twisted metals and charred timbers lying on Coney Beach here is all that remains of the frigate Richmond, once the pride of the United States navy. The famous wooden warship, built in 1855, was used during three wars in capacities varying from admiral's flagship to receiving ship and finally was burned for the copper in her hull.

The Richmond was Admiral Farragut's flagship during the Civil War and was in several famous engagements in Southern waters and along the Mississippi River. It is said that the Richmond was one of the first American ships to be camouflaged. During the bombardment of New Orleans, Farragut ordered the iron-ore camouflaged and not having the necessary paint, the frigate was smeared with mud, partly obscuring her from the enemy's view.

A few years later the Richmond was retired but was put in commission again in 1898 for the Spanish-American war, when she was used as a receiving ship at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Then for almost twenty years she was held idle at the Norfolk Navy Yard but was put into use again in the World War as a receiving and training ship.

The once great warship's days of usefulness were over and a short time ago she was towed to Eastport. The torch was applied to her by Captain John E. Turner, of Newburyport, Mass., holder of the world's deep-sea diving record. After lighting several fires from how to stern Captain Turner hauled down the American flag from the frigate and jumped into Passamaquoddy Bay. He was picked up by part of the ship's crew in a dory for the noted diver cannot swim.

The wreck on which the Richmond was burned is the most Eastern point on the Maine coast and is where four other wooden frigates, the Franklin, Wabash, Minnesota and Vermont, were burned by junksmen in other years.

Tanners See Lower Shoe Prices in Year

WASHINGTON.—Prediction of drop in the prices of leather from the middle of next season. "From the McNair Shoe Co. Investigating Committee of the Senate, by Edward A. Brand of New York, Secretary of the Tanners' Council. The witness described this body as a co-operative organization representing 270 tanneries, three-fourths of the total number in the United States, controlling ninety-five per cent of the leather production."

Brand's forecast was based on the recent decline in the prices of domestic hides. His statistics showed that the average price of packer hides in May, 1919, was 34.5 cents a pound, and that since September, 1919, when the peak price of 43.25 was reached, there had been a drop back to 34.8, practically the same that obtained a year ago. Country hides averaged 26 cents a pound in May, 1919, and 24 cents in May, 1920.

Leather now entering the market, the witness explained, was made of hides bought at the peak prices. Consequently, he said, the downward trend would not be reflected in the finished product until shoes of low-priced hides, now in the "green" stage, began to come from the manufacturers. He believed that cheaper shoes would be on sale in the mid-winter of this year and the spring of 1921 unless something occurred to send prices up again.

Brand said that business was slow in the leather trade, partly because the foreign exchange situation had curtailed exports and partly because shoe retailers were buying "from hand to mouth." He said the tanners had on hand ample stocks of both medium-grade and high-grade leather.

Though he was unable to give the committee definite figures, Brand said the tanners had been "very prosperous" in the last few years. He declared the tanners were as anxious as the general public for lower prices, and that there was as much competition among them as in any industry he knew of.

Replying to questions, Brand said that the so-called packer hides formed about 90 per cent of the total production, and that a considerable proportion of this percentage was controlled by the "big five" packers. The packers, he said, had fulfilled their agreement with the Attorney-General to get out of the tanning business.

"I am informed," said Senator Jones of New Mexico, "that the profits of the tanners increased during the war to three times the pre-war average, even after the deduction of war taxes."

"Yes," said Senator McNary, "that is borne out by the Federal Trade Commission's report."
Brand said that he had no data on profits.

The biggest state in the union is the unsettled state of the public mind.

the ready sympathy of the down-and-out for another unfortunate.

"All of them!" answered the girl, deep dejection in her face. Her past was clouded—her present penniless—her future worse than uncertain.

Then the woman handed out a little of her own strange philosophy. "Everybody's got a past, my dear. Send anyone a mysterious warning—'gill is discovered. Beat it!'—and nine out of ten will shake in their boots."

And so in the girl's mind the Great Idea was born. And thereby hangs a tale of surpassing interest, told at the Lone-star today with surpassing skill by some of the most celebrated players of the screen.

A vividly dramatic story, it is presented with no suggestion of the melodramatic, and it holds its audience in rapt attention. While tragedy stalks in to the picture, the dominant note of "The Dangerous Talent" is that of romantic drama, so that you go away with a pleasant taste in your mouth and at peace with the world.

BRUTE FORCE IS THE ONLY LAW NORTH OF 53!

Surrounded by enemies of the most subtle and treacherous kind, David Raine faces a savage mortal in combat in order to protect a defenseless girl, who had braved more than this in order to defend all that she held dear.

It is not all snow and ice "north of 53." It was in a beautiful Indian summer that David Raine found Marge O'Doone and won her.

Marge O'Doone, surrounded by brutal men and evil women, made a pet of a grizzly bear. And Tara, the bear, saved her life.

David Raine buried himself in the snow and wilderness of the great Canadian Northwest, seeking forgetfulness, but he found a wife.

A grizzly bear and a wolf-dog were the pets of Marge O'Doone and David Raine. And when the time came the animals saved their lives.

Ranger Teachers' Pay.

In the matter of teachers' pay, as in the support of its Chamber of Commerce, Ranger is blazing the way for the state. Better pay for teachers as a cry over Texas, as over the whole United States. From many cities of the state come reports of abandoned schools, shortened terms and prospects of crippled teaching staffs next fall on account of insufficient salaries.

Ranger, just completing a year which has seen an increase of fifty per cent in the scholastic census and the sale of school bonds to permit the furtherance of the program of expansion of equipment and re-election of a school board whose efforts for the betterment of the district's educational machinery are undoubted, has taken a further step in the lead in education by increases on teachers' pay, ranging from ten to twenty per cent.

The school state, Ranger, has a salary to teachers of $1,300, $800 near the top of the list as regards pay for teachers. Its position was comparable to that of Dallas. The increases which will be effective with the start of the 1920-21 term make the average of grade teachers $1,100 a year and high school teachers $1,600 a year. As long as increases in teachers' pay do no more than keep pace with the rapid trend of price advances, they certainly will not be overpaid. The money spent in the added salaries is invested in the youth of the city and could not be better expended.

In addition to its better salaries, Ranger maintains a teachers' fund for its instructors where board and room are furnished on a cost-plus-expense-of-operation basis. Figures for the past year show that the average cost has been around $40 a month, which is extremely reasonable when present day living costs are computed. This represents a saving of

HAD NERVOUS BREAK-DOWN

Health Restored to Texas Lady, Who Is Well and Strong, Able to Do All Her Housework and More.

Rosebud, Texas. — Mrs. Annie Lange, of R. F. D. No. 4, this place, writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous break-down of some kind. . . I was very weak, and so nervous. It all seemed to come from . . . trouble, for at . . . I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, trembly, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly.

"I began the use of Cardui, to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by its use. I felt better. . . I soon saw a great improvement, so kept it up.

"I used seven bottles of Cardui, and can say the money was well spent, for I grew well and strong. Now able to do all my housework and a great deal of work besides."

If you are run-down, weak, nervous, and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you, in the way it has helped thousands of others during the past 40 years.

Cardui, the woman's tonic.

from $20 to $35 a month. Ranger churches and Ranger schools are as active an advertisement of the city's spirit as its material advances in business buildings and utilities. The city can have no better advertisement than the assertion to the world that it stands at the fore in the payment of its teachers.

QUICK THINKING SAVES WOMAN CAUGHT IN MACHINE

International News Service. GREENLEAF, Kan., May 31.—A hammer saved the life of Mrs. George Robertson, wife of a farmer living here, recently. While preparing to do the family washing, the clothing of Mrs. Robertson became entangled in the fly wheel of a motor attached to her washing machine. Jerked to her knees by the rapidly-revolving machine, Mrs. Robertson's hand came in contact with the hammer. Realizing her danger, she brought the hammer down on the motor's spark plug, smashing the porcelain and "killing" the engine.

Scene. The same.

Worms wife. Wat in the world are you doing, getting in all those funny shapes? If you got roomatism wy done you say so?

Worm. Roomatism nothing. Im practicing giving a imitation of a worm on a fish hook, so in case I fall in the fish will be afraid to eat me.

His wife. Good nite!

ACK 3.

Scene. The same.

Worm. Help! Im falling in the river. Well, heers ware I give my imitation.

Fish. Gee, heer comes a funny shape worm. Herry!

Worms wife. Look at that fish eating my husband. It must of bin too dum to know wat the imitation was supposed to be.

"Tinker Bob" Stories

by Carlyle H. Holcomb

CALLING THE GREAT CREATURE.

When Tinker Bob saw Mrs. Sparrow Hawk lifting Jerry the Jay from the spruce gum, he could not help laughing to himself. I know it did hurt Jerry some to be lifted by the top-knot, but really he had no business getting into the spruce gum. And the funny part about all of it was that Mrs. Sparrow Hawk let Jerry go and he came down in the tree, there was so much spruce gum on his feet that he stuck fast to the limb.

The King thought it was time for him to show himself before the situation became alarming. For if Mrs. Hawk tried to lift Jerry from the limb again, he might lose all of his top-knot feathers. So Tinker Bob stepped into view, to the surprise of all, as that was the least of their thoughts.

"What's all the trouble about," asked the King. "Jerry seems to be having just as much trouble as he did before he got his new feathers."

Everyone seemed to be dumb all at once, for they were not expecting to see the King so soon. Eyon Jerry did not know what to say. Finally Major Pole Cat ventured to speak.

"We are all so surprised to see you that no one knows what to do first. You see, Jerry is in trouble, and Sammy Squirrel and I have been trying to help him out. He got into the spruce gum that belonged to Mrs. Sparrow Hawk, and then he couldn't get loose. We helped him out once, but I don't know what to do now." Major Pole Cat sat on his hind feet and looked up into the King's face.

All this time little Sammy Squirrel was rejoicing to himself that to think that Jerry was getting his pay for being saucy. He knew in his own heart that he was to blame for the spruce gum being on the limb and for Jerry getting into it, but he said nothing about it to the King. Of course, he did not need to say anything about it for the King knew all about it anyway—but he didn't know that.

"Well," said Tinker. "I will send Jerry out of his trouble, but he must not be afraid, and he will have to be quiet and stay there a long time before his feet will be free."

Everyone wondered who would be the great creature that would come to help Jerry.

"Now," said the King, "be quiet 'til I call this great creature to the rescue."

Who do you suppose the great creature was? I know you will like him.

Tomorrow—The Great Creature Comes to Help Jerry.

FIRST TWINS ORDAINED TO EPISCOPAL MINISTRY

International News Service. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 31.—The first record of twins being ordained to the ministry of the Episcopal church occurred when J. Reginald and C. Russell Moody, students in the Episcopal Theological school, were admitted to the order of the deaconate.

They are the sons of Joseph R. Moody of Morristown, N. J., and in their native state are well known in amateur athletics.

The lever law has up to this time manifested no Archimedean tendencies.

Bank Service

The greatest work in the banking business is Service. Banking is more than a mere money-making business. The banker is as much a public servant as the Mayor of a City, or the Governor of a State, and he owes a duty to the public exactly as any regularly elected official.

We shall be glad to render our patrons every possible service and to assist them to the full limit of legitimate banking.

The Woman Who Saw

Good Company.

A survey of the shop told the Woman that her favorite manufacturer was not present and the young girl who came forward instead led her to an unaccustomed place in the center of the room. "You are not very near the other girls," ventured the Woman, looking up at the other tables on the balcony.

"No, I asked madame to let me have my table down here," was the quick response. "If I ever see that we all talk when there is nothing doing, but down here I can read."

Unobtrusively the Woman glanced at a book, open, face down, on the end of the table, but its brownish red binding proclaimed nothing except its public library origin.

"I am reading an awfully funny book now. I don't suppose you ever heard of it. It's named 'Tom Sawyer.'" She looked up at the Woman's face. "You have read it?" she asked incredulously.

"When you were in your perambulator I was reading that book."

"I suppose you don't remember anything about it?"

"Every word," boasted the Woman. "Try me!"

"...ing the fence?" The girl chuckled.

"And stealing the boat—"

"And the cave!"

For the next few minutes, while the girl's fingers moved busily, the two enthusiasts explored that cave with Tom and Huck and lived again "the immortal adventures in that little Missouri town."

"I didn't know it was so famous," volunteered the girl as she began putting away her tools. "But my brother said it was funny. He has been at me to read it ever since he came back. He read it in camp over in Back. He says there's another one about Huck Finn. A lot of books he read in camp I'm going to read."

"Score one for the much maligned war," was the Woman's mental comment. For of all the gifts a fairy godmother can bestow the love of reading leads all the rest.

Ministerial License.

They found seats across the aisle from the Woman at Tohyanna Station; lumbermen, she judged, and she could not help hearing their conversation as their good out-of-doors voices boomed forth remarks on topics of local interest—how Jim Thorpe's wife had the flu and the Rowes' new baby—"ten an' a half pounds, I heard." They touched on presidential possibilities, and finally reached religion. Bert was about 60 and Jed was possibly ten years his junior. Bert hadn't "joined the church," but Jed's deep voice thrilled with emotions, and stamped him as one of the elect, as he entreated Bert to "Give himself to Jesus."

Bert listened while Jed cited various instances of narrow escapes from horrible death of those whose "jinnin" was the next act after the click of the Grim Reaper's scythe was out of their ears. Jed grew moiré and more personal, and finally he crooned Bert's chest with a snowy forefinger and fairly shouted, "Look at yer! Nearly 60; on the edge of the grave, so to speak, and not jined yet! Ain't yer afeared to take such chances on the hereafter?"

Bert shifted his toothpick meditatively. "Gee, Jed, you ought to 'a' been a minister; you've got that holy boldness that lets you talk right out about ANYBODY'S business."

Migrating.

She got on the train at Scranton; work-worn, frayed by time, her gray hair straggling in an uneven fringe beneath the unkind severity of the leatherette suit case and a battered cheap black bonnet. A huge yellow brown telescope bag strained the cords of the lean old arms and bent the weary shoulders a little lower.

The Woman helped her into a place beside her as she thought: "When a face of sixty years wears its wrinkles so plainly there is likely to be a store of wisdom reaped from the harvesting of experience." They chatted impersonally at first—of the pleasantly greening hills, the budding trees, and laughed together at the gay little fling of his hind legs which a sudden rabbit gave as he scampered into a nearby wood. "The country is so lovely," said the Woman.

"Yes, it is that," agreed the old lady, "an' I think I'll find it a bit lovelier than ever this spring—I'm going home—to Sussex! It's fifty years since I first come 'ere—just a wee bit of a girl. An' I've been 'appy, I've 'ad my shop—Miss 'Awkes (that's me), meat pies, buns, an' scones—an' I've liked it fine! But now I'm goin' back to old England—to Sussex, just like a 'oming pigeon, his journey done."

What You Don't Know.

The Lexington Avenue car bumped slowly on its way to Forty-second street, and the Woman, in haste to make a train, chafed a bit at the delay. Then she saw something that a restaurant in the late Forties a made her forget all about time. At great delivery wagon, filled to the gunnels with bags of crusty rolls, such as thousands of New Yorkers engulf at lunch time and dinner, had stopped to deliver a load.

The driver had lifted out one bag, when a sudden lurch sent its contents broadcast over the street. Not one roll, but two score, dotted the dusty highway. "What a waste!" groaned the Woman, whose bete noir is carelessness in food. But she reckoned without her host. That driver was doubtless held responsible for the delivery of so many rolls. For as the car started once again, after a halt in traffic, he was retrieving said rolls from under trucks, horses' feet and passing automobiles, while a crowd of idlers across the street jested at his expense.

How many who ate those rolls that day dreamed of the vicissitudes of their progress from bakery to table. And how fortunate for them that they could not know. For "What you don't know, won't hurt you," it is said.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED DAY AFTER IT WAS CONDEMNED

International News Service.

EVERETT, Wash.—Within twenty-four hours after condemnation and closing by the City Commissioners, an old wooden bridge, forming a street intersection over a sixty foot ravine, collapsed with a crash of splintering timbers. No one was injured, due to the timely interference of the law. The only damage done was the breaking of the city pipe line, the fumes from which nearly overcame a gas employe.

AMATEUR ACTORS POISONED BY COLORING IN PUNCH

International News Service.

CONCORDIA, Kan.—Ten amateur actors were poisoned by an overdose of paint coloring in imitation punch used in a local school playlet here recently.

Three young girls of the class were taken to their homes in such a serious condition that physicians had to be summoned. Two remained unconscious for several hours.

"sample" of the coloring was sent to a chemist to be analyzed.

HOT AND DUSTY RANGER INVADES SHAMROCK PARK

Hot and dusty Ranger flocked to Shamrock beach Sunday afternoon and during the day and evening between 300 and 400 enjoyed the cool swimming in Shamrock lake. Though the bathhouse is not completed and many things remain to be done to the beach and bathing equipment, the lake is much improved over its condition last summer. In addition to the bathers, hundreds of spectators watched the sport from the banks or from automobiles parked at the lakeside.

The opening of the park has been postponed from Tuesday to Thursday, according to announcement today by Duff Clancy, manager of the park. This additional time is taken to put the dance floor at Shamrock pavilion in first-class condition. Kirkland's jazzers will play for the opening dance and every evening thereafter.

A band concert, from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m., will be given by the American Legion band. Soft drink stands will be opened that evening. It is expected that shower baths will be installed in the bathhouses by that time.

L. B. C. WOULD WOO AND WIN THROUGH THE NEWS COLUMNS

L. B. C. is in a marrying way. He reached that decision in the seclusion of his bachelor quarters and came to the Times office today to make it known to the world—particularly to the feminine half making its headquarters in and about Ranger.

There are points to recommend L. B. C. even though he and Don Juan might choose different ways about wooing.

With the Women of Today

If you should happen into some of the crowded tenement sections of Boston and see a young American woman standing on a broken doorstep with one or two little foreign urchins standing wide-eyed and open-mouthed drinking in every word she will not be scolding them for some misdemeanor; indeed not, she is probably telling them of the thrilling ride of Paul Revere or the dangerous trip of Washington crossing the Delaware.

Story telling to children in the streets of the crowded tenement districts is becoming quite the rage in Boston, and a number of young women students of schools of expression are interesting themselves in the work. The movement started in the North end of the city and has spread all over the crowded tenements and drifted into Chinatown where little uneducated youngsters group themselves and become interested listeners to the stories told them by these women. The Women's Municipal league which is cooperating with the Massachusetts University extension, is also interested in the work.

It was found that this means of reaching the children stimulates their Americanism and is a valuable aid to tired mothers as well as proving a means of keeping the children from playing in the streets where they are in danger of being run down.

Story telling in Boston has been conducted in Boston under the auspices of the public library department, and the woman in charge moves about from one library station to another. This work is entirely apart from the street story telling which is started shortly after six o'clock. Every evening a leader heads a corps of story tellers which has opened up something new in the lives of the children of that district.

U. S. Women Off to Geneva.
Thirty American women, headed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, sailed recently for England on the steamship Royal George. They are delegates to the eighth congress of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance to open June 6 in Geneva. Mrs. Catt is president of the organization. The party will return in July.

There will be a discussion of the future of women in national and world politics by the congress. That will be its chief business. Twenty-eight nations will be represented.

"I hope the congress will determine on two purposes: To further woman suffrage throughout the civilized world, and to keep alive the principles of self-government until they are thoroughly established throughout the world," said Mrs. Catt. "The congress will take up plans to push suffrage work in South

Henry VIII might have chosen the news columns through which to plead his case to the sex at large, but then, Henry lived in the day before newspapers. Perhaps had he chosen one of his spouse that way, in and she might have hit it off better as sharers of the throne and of the joys and sorrows of the royal household.

Be it said for L. B. C., by L. B. C., that he is thirty years old, and is a man of good habits. He is tired of bacheling, he admits in a neat advertisement he drew up, and he has a good job in the oil fields. He would like to hear from the lady who chooses to write him and his object is one usually associated with a young man's thoughts in spring, the general practices of the month of June and the question of whether one may live as cheaply as two—used to.

Five Shots Needed To Put Out Flames at Tidewell No. 1

Special to The Times.
DESEMONA, May 31.—Five separate attempts to put out the gas fire which started in the electrical storm at the Tidewell No. 1 were made and the last was successful. Twelve flames were put out by shot of gelatin exploded at the top of the well and twice the gas caught fire again from the hot earth around the well, the first time after an interval of eighteen seconds and the second time after two hours and twenty minutes had elapsed.

The shots varied in strength, the first being seven quarts and the last and successful one, twenty quarts. One other of twenty-five and one of seven were used.

K. T. Kenley and his associates, of the Western Torpedo company of Ranger, handled the gelatin and extinguished the flames.

The supper at Central grammar school, Tuesday, June 1, at 8 p. m. Everyone welcome. Girls bring pies. Benefit of Epworth League.—Adv.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A Kirkman

TWO ECONOMICAL DINNERS.

Now that potatoes and sugar are so high in price, the economical housewife uses rice or macaroni in place of potatoes, and substitutes maple syrup, corn syrup or molasses for sugar in her desserts—in some of her meals at least. The following dinners are economical yet delicious. I have given recipes for "dressed up" macaroni and rice rather than the plain boiled variety because many persons do not care for these two vegetables unless they are combined with cheese or some other vegetable in some such way as the following:

Macaroni Seville.—Place a layer of cooked macaroni in a buttered baking dish and cover this with a layer of stewed and seasoned tomatoes, well drained, then add a light sprinkling of finely-chopped onion and dots of butter; repeat this process until the dish is full—putting in first the macaroni and then the tomato with onion and butter. Cover the top with buttered cracker crumbs and bake for twenty minutes in a good oven.

Date Pudding.—One cup bread crumbs, 1 cup nuts chopped finely, 1 cup corn syrup, 1 pound seeded raisins, 1 teaspoonful baking powder, 1-2 teaspoonful vanilla, 3 eggs. Mix together all the ingredients except the eggs. Separate the whites from the yolks and add the yolks to the other ingredients, beating the whites stiff and adding them last. Pour this mixture into a buttered casserole and bake for one hour in a slow oven. Allow to cool, then serve with hot honey sauce.

Honey Sauce.—Melt 2 tablespoons butter and blend with 1 tablespoon cornstarch and 1-2 cup of water and 1-2 cup of honey and cook till thick. Serve hot.

Celery Soup.
Spanish Omelet
Lettuce, French Dressing
Cheesed Rice
Sugarless Lemon Jelly
Chested Rice.—Boil 1 cup of rice in 2 quarts boiling salted water until soft, adding a little more water if necessary. Drain and cover the bottom of a buttered baking dish with a layer of this, dot over with butter, add a thin layer of grated cheese, continuing to alternate these layers until the dish is full. Finish with a layer of buttered cracker crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs are brown.

Sugarless Lemon Jelly.—Two cups boiling water, 1 cup honey or 1 1/2 cups corn sirup, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 2 table-spoons plain gelatin in the cold water, dissolve it in the boiling water, strain and add to it the sweetening and the lemon juice. Turn into mold and chill.

Ten Graduates of 1920 Ranger Class From Other Cities

Graduating exercises for the eleven members of the senior class of Ranger high school who finished their school work this year will be held at the First Methodist church at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The program:
Violin solo, Miss Marjorie Goodman.
Address, The Rev. W. B. Johnson.
Solo, Miss Marvis Douglas.
Presentation of Diplomas, Superintendent P. E. McDonald.
Benediction.

Of the eleven graduates, only one has attended school in Ranger prior to this school year. Lyle DeFebach has been a student in Ranger schools practically all of his school life. Every other member of the graduating class is a newcomer.

The graduates are: the Misses Rhea Sworth, Ethel Hill, Edna Parker, Ruth Thomas and Geneva Armer and Vernon Hill, Paul Wolfe, Addie Williams, Cleo Hubbard and Albert Smith.

MEMORIAL DAY WAS CELEBRATED IN RANGER.

All banks were closed today in observance of Memorial Day. Churches and American Legion posts throughout the country held special services yesterday.

The Carl Barnes post of the American Legion postponed its service until next Sunday to prevent a conflicting date with the commencement sermon of the Ranger High school, which was delivered yesterday morning at the Opera House by Rev. C. M. Collins.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

It Has Come to the Attention of the Owners of that solicitors posing as their representatives have been charging for "express" on laundry deliveries in the city. This is absolutely unjustified and will not be tolerated by us. Any solicitor in Ranger who poses as our representative and charges for delivery of laundry here will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

The Ranger Steam Laundry is a local concern and operated by Cheney Brothers of this city. It has always been the policy since installing this big, modern plant here to give the people of Ranger the best service at the cheapest cost. This plant is installed with the very latest machinery and is one of the best in the State of Texas.
