PARDONED CONVICT GETS BACK IN JAIL

RAIN FALLS IN TORRENTS FOR LITTLE WHILE

Eastland County Farmers Are Thankful, But Would Welcome More.

Rain fell in torrents at Ranger shortly after noon today, continuing about 20 minutes. The precipitation amounted to about one-half inch. Dark clouds have been hovering about Eastland county for several days. It looked for a little while last night as though they might open for a thunder storm and rain, but they passed on and the hottest night of the present year in this part of the state followed, very little breeze stirring until toward morning.

Clouds began gathering again this morning. There was little breeze and the morning was intensely hot. But while the rain was falling the air cooled perceptibly and the afternoon was much cooler than the morning.

Following the rain, clouds again gathered in the north and northwest, changing from black to thunder heads and then to black again, and the indications for more rain looked good.

While the rainfall today was very welcome, to all the farmers especially, more rain would not be amiss. As it is the crops have had a splendid start this year and with a little more opportune rain, as during the last few months, the Eastland county crops this year should be record-breakers.

STATE RESTS IN TRIAL OF W. D. SHEPHERD

Dr. C. C. Faiman Is Last Witness, Corroborating Other Evidence.

By United Press.
CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, June 19.—The state rested its case in the Shepherd murder trial shortly afternoon today. Dr. Charles C. Faiman, head of a bacteriological school, was the last witness.

Faiman stubbornly held to his story that William D. Shepherd promised him $100,000 in the return for typhoid fever germs, which the state charges the prisoner gave to his ward, Billy McClintock.

Faiman, corroborating in part the testimony of John P. Marchand, a salesman for his medical school, told of receiving a letter from Shepherd and sending Marchand to interest him in the school. He told of Shepherd coming to his office and asking about courses in bacteriology and being shown the apparatus and bacteria cultures.

Later Shepherd telephoned him, he testified, that all was ready to prepare the typhoid cultures and put them in water. He told Shepherd, he said, that was the surest way of obtaining an infection and told him to administer laxatives in order to make the typhoid more serious. He said that Shepherd here came to his laboratory later and obtained from his files the letter he had written to him, giving him $50 for one letter, and at that time arranged to pay Faiman $100,000 when he obtained the money he expected to receive from his ward's estate.

CHICAGO, CRIMINAL COURT, June 19.—William D. Shepherd, on trial for the alleged murder of Billy McClintock, will take the witness stand next Monday, in his own defense, his attorneys announced today.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, announced his case complete, after advising the court he had four other witnesses, but had decided not to call them because he could not vouch for them.

AMUNDSEN SAYS FINDS NO LAND ON POLAR TRIP

Explorers Return From Arctic In One Airplane With Scant Supply of Gasoline.

OSLO, Norway, June 19.—Capt. Raouid Amundsen is convinced there is no land in the Norwegian sector of the polar region. He so wired the government today, the message reading: "Permit me to communicate that after flying over and observing an area of 160,000 square kilometers, we have not found land. Measurements of northernmost depths causes me to suppose with certainty there is no land in the Norwegian sector of the polar basin."

Arctic Explorers Leave One Plane Embedded In Ice

LONDON, June 19.—An Oslo message early today reported that the Amundsen-Ellsworth Arctic party were on their way there from King's bay on the Norwegian cruiser Heibul.

OSLO, June 19.—Oslo war decorated with flags today while the crowds in the street toasted Amundsen and his Norwegian pilot as national heroes. Advice received here described Amundsen, Ellsworth and others of the party as greatly fatigued.

The Arctic explorers arrived at King's bay on the fishing boat Sjoeliv, which had picked up the party at the northernmost tip of Spitzbergen island, where all had landed in a single airplane and with only a few gallons of gasoline remaining. One plane had been abandoned at a point in the far north, it was said, after it had become embedded in the ice.

It is rumored that the planes became separated at one time and the pilot and mechanic in one of the planes had narrowly escaped death by drowning, being rescued by Lincoln Ellsworth.

The Norwegian press hail the feat of Amundsen and his associates as the greatest in history.

ALLEGED WIFE SLAYER DENIES HE IS GUILTY

Says He Does Not Remember Making Confession and Probably Has Been Crazy

LOS ANGELES, June 19.—Professing insanity and prepared to repudiate his confession and to plead "not guilty," Dr. Thomas W. Young was arraigned in superior court today for the poison gas murder of his wife, Grace Young.

Before he was led from the county jail to the courtroom, the "scientific" killer revealed his latest defense by which he hoped to save himself from hanging. "I don't remember making any confession," he said. "They claim I was crazy long ago. I guess it was about true. Anyhow, I was pretty drunk the night my wife died."

LOS ANGELES, June 19.—Dr. Thomas W. Young, pleaded not guilty today when arraigned in superior court on an indictment accusing him of slaying his wife, Grace, with poison gas.

Judge Edwin S. Hahn refused a motion of Young's attorneys to quash the indictment, and fixed Aug. 17 as the date for his trial.

The courtroom was jammed with murder fans when the little pale-faced dentist made his plea. "Not guilty," he pleaded, almost in a whisper.

Orient Railway Is Planning to Through Service Into Mexico

KANSAS CITY, June 19.—Through service on the Orient railway between Kansas City and principal cities in Mexico was seen today by W. T. Kemper, president of the road, who has just returned from a 12-day visit in Mexico.

The railroad head views with optimism the exchange of notes between the United States and Mexico: "Some thought the state department's note uncalled for, but there are many who believe the intention of the American government is good and will be productive of much good in the end," Kemper said.

Officials of various railroads have been approached, Kemper admitted, in regard to the routing of Orient trains over the lines from Kansas City to Wichita, the northern terminus of the road.

TEXAS PIONEER STATE IN BUILDING TEACHERS' HOME

AUSTIN, June 19.—The biennial report of the state department of education just issued gives interesting facts concerning the money spent by Texas for homes for school teachers.

Texas is the pioneer state in erecting homes for teachers and has spent more money for the purpose than any other single state. There are now 742 teachers' homes, of which 648 are in common or rural school districts. The total amount spent for the homes is given as $975,706. And since most of them were built with donated labor, and lumber and other material bought at very low cost, the conservative value of the buildings is well above $1,000,000.

SPECIAL EXAMINATIONS TO GET COLLEGE CREDITS

AUSTIN, June 19.—Students in unaccredited high schools in Texas do not have to face the handicap any longer of working for a diploma and then having it not to mean anything. Students from unaccredited schools until a few years ago were required to do preparatory work before entering college after finishing their high school course, but a new system that the state department of education has devised makes it much easier for the youth bent on a college education.

Six years ago, the department of education began giving examinations in May in special subjects which can be presented as college entrance credits, and students who successfully pass the examinations can be admitted to any of the higher educational institutions in the state. The number each year taking the examinations has mounted rapidly. Three thousand five hundred took the examinations this year.

TWO DEATHS TOLL OF WILD NIGHT PARTIES

Highwaymen Infest Roads About San Antonio; Have Battles With Officers.

SAN ANTONIO, June 19.—Two men were killed in a battle with officers; officers fought a battle with two other groups of highwaymen and none are believed to have been wounded; an attempt was made to assassinate a doctor returning from a professional call; a police decoying party of one man and a woman was held up and robbed, and one man was arrested. Such was the record in one of San Antonio's wildest nights on highways near the city.

The physician returned the fire of his five assailants and some of them may have been wounded. The doctor's auto was struck by bullets but he was uninjured.

The dead are: Aniceto Hernandez, about 55; Cornelio Hernandez, about 21, said to be a son of Aniceto.

The man held in jail is a former convict who was pardoned about six months ago while serving a five-year sentence for murder. He was sent up from Bexar county in 1920. Friday morning the Bexar county grand jury was to begin an investigation of the shooting affray that resulted in the two deaths. The officers were in hiding near the spot which has been the scene of numerous holdups recently.

HONORING MRS. MARVIN ECHOLS.

Mrs. John W. Thurman, of West Cherry street, entertained members of the Thursday Bridge club and several other friends yesterday afternoon with a bridge-luncheon, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Marvin Echols, of Nacogdoches, thus affording her friends a charming opportunity to meet the honor guest, Gladioli, harkspurs, sweet peas and great sheaves of wild flowers were predominant in the adornment of the living and dining room, where the tables were arranged for bridge and luncheon. Guests assembled at 1:30 and found their places at the beautifully appointed luncheon tables, by dainty place cards, which were cleverly arranged for a two-fold purpose, as they later served as tally cards. Crystal glass baskets, with handles topped with pink tulle bows, and filled with sweet peas and tiny roses, formed the centerpiece of each table. Beautiful napery, silver and china provided the other exquisite appointments. Tea was served a delicious and a distinctively different two-course luncheon, consisting of chicken mousse, frozen fruit salad, cottage cheese balls, preserved figs stuffed with nuts, hot buttered biscuits, iced tea, ice cream topped with whipped cream, and date and black walnut cake.

After the luncheon, tables were arranged for bridge and the high club prize, a beautiful handwoven pillow, went to Mrs. Howard Gholson, the high guest prize, a dainty boudoir pillow to Mrs. W. D. Conway, and the low score prize, a captivating set of candle-holders, to Mrs. R. W. Thomas, and as a pretty remembrance of the occasion, Mrs. Thurman presented the honor guest with a luncheon set, in Italian cut work, the handwork of the hostess. Places were marked at the luncheon tables for the following club members and guests. Mmes. R. W. Thomas, Howard Gholson, Saunders Gregg, Frank Brown, Frank Brachany, H. B. Wilson, M. L. Holland, E. E. Crawford, A. N. Harlinder, Walter Burden, Frank Champion, E. L. McMillen, W. R. Bowden, Harry Logsdon, M. K. Collie, Beverly Dudley, Roy Jameson, W. D. Conway, Garvin Chastain, Charles Conley, Marvin Echols, R. B. Campbell.

BIBLE THOUGHT

And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.—II Thessalonians 3:5.

CHILD MARRIAGES.

The report of the Russell Sage foundation on child marriage should wake us all up to the danger that confronts us, for it is a peril that menaces every household in which there are boys and girls. In a number of the states the marriageable age for girls is set at 12 years, and 14 for boys. And in 14 states it is legally possible for a girl to marry at an earlier age than that at which she is permitted to become a wage-earner.

No boy of 16 or 17 is permitted to handle his own property or mortgage a house and lot, but he can take his whole future, his happiness, his success or failure, his ambitions and gamble with them in the matrimonial lottery. No girl of 15 is thought to have enough judgment to pick out her own clothes, but she can pick out a husband. It is a shame and a disgrace that any civilized country should tolerate child marriage and permit its boys and girls to wreck their lives by entering into unions for which they are totally unfit in either mind, or body, or character.

THE SUICIDE MONTH.

Few branches of sociological investigation present a greater number of speculative questions than that dealing with the inexplicable phenomena of suicide.

Suicide among civilized people is largely due to morbid introspection and long brooding over real or imaginary trouble; and anything that takes a man's mind away from his own unhappiness, and gives him a keen interest in things or events about him, weakens his suicidal impulse.

It is found that the clear, dry days show the greatest number of suicides, and the yet, partly cloudy days great to be attributed to accident or chance. In fact, as a rule, the tendency to suicide throughout the civilized world is greatest in the pleasant season of the year.

When investigators began to study the subject in the light of accurate statistics, when they grouped suicides by months and compared one month with another, they were surprised to find that the tendency to suicide was greatest, not in the gloomy and depressing months of November and December, but in the bright and cheerful month of June. From the point of view of science, it is perfectly reasonable and absolutely accurate to say on a beautiful, sunny day in early June, "this is regular suicide weather."

PENSIONS AND LIQUOR BILLS.

Winston Churchill has introduced in the British house of commons, as part of the budget, an old age pension that will add 900,000 beneficiaries to the tax list, and will affect two-thirds of the population. While pensions and insurance may not be defined as socialism, Britain has certainly determined the disposition of the fruits of industry, both capital and wages, on a scale which suggests an end to private enterprise. While Americans are closely watching the results of this effort to cut costs of living, England is closely scrutinizing our efforts to put an end to the liquor business. It is estimated that the 100,000 saloons in Great Britain entail a waste of $4 per week for each of the 15,000,000 families—or about $3,000,000,000 a year—and the day is not far distant when it will have to be prohibited as an economic necessity.

oons and receptions, but perhaps one of the prettiest affairs that has named her as honor guest was a dinner given by four P. T. A.'s of Abilene Mrs. Maddocks addressed a mass meeting called by the Abilene clubs and this dinner was attended by about 70 guests. The long tables were decorated with large bowls of violets and slender vases held wealth of these fragrant flowers. Mrs. Henry Bass presided as toastmistress and introduced each number in an original clever talk. R. D. Green, superintendent of schools gave the welcoming address to Mrs. Maddocks, who responded in an unassuming and charming manner. The program was a most informal and helpful one, each of the four presidents speaking of her individual problems and asking questions that the answering of would help to a solution. Beautiful and appropriate music added charm to the occasion. The program closed with a talk by the student counselor on "Why We Should Have a P. T. A. in the high school." The gist of her address was that such an organization was very helpful. On Friday the honor guest, Mrs. Maddocks, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas. Mrs. Maddocks states that the whole stay in Abilene was most enjoyable.

WEATHERFORD FAMILY STARTS ON TRIP TO THE HOLY LAND

WEATHERFORD, June 19.—Judge R. B. Hood and wife and daughter, Cornelia, of this city, left Thursday for New York city, from which place they will sail for an extended trip to the Holy Land, points in Egypt and Europe. En route to New York city, they will spend three days in Washington.

The telephone is fifty years old. On June 2 it celebrated its birthday. Although it was in March, 1876, that Dr. Alexander Graham Bell uttered his famous sentence, "Mr. Watson, come here; I want you;" it was on June 2, 1875, that Dr. Bell first succeeded in transmitting sound by means of his new apparatus, the telephone.

In addition to the 12,750,000 homes in the United States which use electricity for lighting and other purposes, there are about 2,000,000 stores and office buildings which utilize electricity for illuminating and power purposes as well as approximately half a million industrial establishments where electricity is employed to provide light and operate machinery.

DYNAMOS DUE IN RANGER TO PLAY SUNDAY

Magnolias Expect Fast Contest With Brave Nine From Breckenridge

The Breckenridge Dynamos are headed for Ranger where they will be the guests of the Ranger Magnolias, Sunday afternoon at Nitro park. Each club has a win to its credit over the other and by the same token each club has lost one to the other. That tie is due to broken Sunday afternoon.

"Pop" McArdle, Breckenridge shortstop and field captain, who was playing a whale of a game of ball when Tris Speaker was in knickers, says that the Dynamos with Koch up are sure winners and Pop knows his okra when it comes to baseball.

The Dynamos have signed "Boston" Campbell, Cisco slugger, and Henson, Cisco curve ball artist. Campbell will be in the outfield Sunday. McArdle prates of another outfielder that he has signed but refuses to divulge the player's identity. Wilson White, who skips the Ranger crew, has also seen lots of baseball service and he declares his club is stronger in the box and in the field than the Dynamos, with the possible exception of shortstop where McArdle's experience gives him the call. Furthermore he points out that the Dynamos have no array of baseball "murderers" such as Ranger can strut when Robinson, Rainey, Jarrett and White parade panward.

So it goes. But this argument will be settled in Nitro park Sunday afternoon, June 21. The debate will begin at 3:30 p. m. Breck fans have accused Rangerites of being bashful and have arranged a goat-getting exhibition for this game. Fire Chief Murphy will marshal the Ranger leather-lunged into action and promises that if any goat is gotten it won't be Ranger's.

CHINA, WITHOUT A HEAD, SPLIT INTO MILITARY FACTIONS

Foreigners Must Protect Themselves, As All Natives Would Be Glad to See Them Ousted; Even Christian General Uninterested.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The writer of this very timely view of internal conditions in China, Ray G. Marshall, has just returned to New York after three years spent in the Orient, as manager of the United Press in Peking. He traveled much in China and Japan, and is thoroughly familiar with the peculiar Chinese situation.—THE UNITED PRESS, New York.)

By RAY G. MARSHALL, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, June 13.—Thirty thousand foreign residents of Shanghai are compelled to call on the military forces of their home governments and to organize volunteer corps to protect their lives for two primary reasons. The first is that China is naturally opposed to the foreigner and has always been so.

The second is that there is no government in China either central or provincial that is free enough from political entanglements and strong enough militarily to prevent or quell such an uprising as that of the students and strikes in Shanghai.

Tuan Chi-Jui, provisional chief executive, hasn't a single regiment that he can send anywhere to put down an anti-foreign disturbance, no matter what pressure is brought by the foreign powers that have given him and his colleagues de facto recognition.

The expression "political situation in China," is a misnomer. There isn't any. The country today is in possession of groups of militarists, analogous to desert tribes. These groups have grown up since the republic was established. One militarist obtained sufficient strength to seize a province or maybe more. With this control he naturally intimidated the central government in Peking, but his power there was offset by other militarists.

Periods of Peace. For short periods these militarists would agree, work together and there would be peace. When one thought he was strong enough he warred on the others to get rid of their areas.

That has gone on constantly since 1911. Frequently a retreating general would be forced into a supposedly weak province. In some cases he was strong enough to take it over and in others he was defeated, thus bringing a new and almost unheard of contender to the front.

This nomadic program continues. If one man thinks the other has a better and richer territory he will try to take it.

The three strongest men that appeared in recent years were Chang

Washrag Enters The Beauty Lists

cold-cream is advisable to keep the skin supple, women have found that when cold-creams are used to take the place of soap and water in cleaning the face the pores of the skin have a tendency to enlarge as they become oily and stuffed with the powder and dirt which adheres to the oil. This means a constant invitation to blackheads and frequently to disorders of the skin.

"To keep it clean, the face needs at least one good washing daily with soap and water and a washcloth or soft flesh brush," says Dr. William Allen Pusey, Professor of Dermatology of the University of Illinois.

Even the few persons with very thin, too-dry skin, who feel it advisable to use a little cold-cream or white vaseline, should also wash with pure white soap and water to cleanse the skin thoroughly and to tone up muscles which otherwise have a tendency to sag. Soap and water are an ideal astringent and were in vogue in centuries when feminine beauty was quite as exquisite as it is today.

In make-up the present idea is to look as natural as possible. No longer is the dead-white powder selected, unless the skin is actually colorless and an exotic effort is desired. In general one now tries to match the powder exactly to the skin, if necessary mixing several powders to obtain the desired shade. In fact, if anything, the tendency is toward a rosy shade which give an impression of health and outdoor activity.

Rouge now is used sparingly—and often not at all, when a certain type of smartness is the aim. With only a light coat of powder and a faint bit of rouge, or no rouge at all, many women are discovering that they have skins more delicate in texture and more transparent than they had been aware of underneath the old ill-matching powder and too generously used rouge.

Readers of this newspaper may obtain free information regarding "The Care of the Normal Skin," by Dr. William Allen Pusey. Write for it to Health Cleanliness Service, 89 East 11th Street, New York City.

A LARMISTS tell us that we have departed very far from the fresh beauty of the period of our great-grandmothers—so far that we can never recapture it.

How true is this? Miss Lotus Robb is about as modern a young woman as one finds. Yet with a change in her mode of hair-dressing, and a donning of a quaint costume, she at once assumes the demure vivaciousness of the Victorian age. She is appearing on four with Mrs. Fluke in "The Rivals" and her transformation seems to prove that the chief difference between the generations is due to changing styles in make-up, coiffure and dress.

Of late, too, there have been numerous indications that the pendulum is swinging back to a more natural type of beauty. The washrag is coming into its own again. While a moderate use of a good Tso-Lin, Wu Pei-Fu and Feng Yu-Hsiang. By the fortunes of war Wu Pei-Fu was put out of the running and now the principal contenders for power are Chang and Feng. Each was afraid of the other last October after Feng took Peking and they agreed upon the present provisional government while they looked each other over.

Each having taken a good look, they are now reported to be ready for another fray and so the war goes on. Neither of them can be expected to interest himself in the welfare of foreigners in Shanghai. Each has his own troubles. Neither of them control anybody definitely south of Peking though Lu Yung-Hsiang in Nanking was put there by Chang Tso-Lin.

It would be genuine solacing satisfaction to any of the militarists if the Shanghai and other foreign settlements should suddenly be wiped out and foreigners would no longer live in China. Foreigners are a nuisance even to Feng, Christian general, member of the Methodist church and the best disciplinarian in China. Even he will not lead an army to rescue them and his closest foreign associates admit it. Neither he nor Chang will attack foreigners, but to expect help from them under present conditions is considered the height of optimism.

No Political Parties. There are no political parties in China as they are known elsewhere and there is not a single group larger than a dinner club that has for its policy Chinese and foreign friendly co-operation. Any such organization would meet instant military opposition.

The strongest non-military group is the radical or Kuomintang, the people's party, organized by Sun Yat-

Sen. It is not organized as political parties generally are. It is a loose-jointed group that opposes militarism with military force when it can get it, with strikes, riots, parades and general agitation when military force is unobtainable. In this group are the students, the unions, the small merchants, fishermen and in general the unlucky who possess little and are not beneficiaries of the militarists.

It is a section of this group that attacked the foreigners in Shanghai. The militarists are admittedly afraid it may suddenly organize and become a contender. Safety for the Truchuns lies in the disorganization and their activity is limited to preventing successful organization.

The Kuomintang points to soviet Russia as the ideal foreign nation. The soviets have no special privileges in China, no extra territoriality, no hold on the customs and no debts coming from China. Russia likewise has practically no vested interest in China and has few residents to be protected other than embassy and consular officials.

There is no evidence that the soviets finance any of the disorder, but they openly and proudly point out when such disturbances take place, that the soviets are innocent to the charges hurled at the other foreigners.

ASTONISHING THINGS TOLD ABOUT MEDICINE WOMEN ARE USING

Facts About It Are Openly and Freely Discussed Wherever Girls And Women Come Together.

When so much talk about the remarkable and almost miraculous things which the medicine known as St. Joseph's G. F. P. is doing began to sweep all over this part of the country, many leading women took it on themselves to find out if this medicine is really doing the things which have been reported about it.

The result of these tests and a thorough sifting out of the facts regarding the theories of the discoverers of St. Joseph's G. F. P. seems to be overwhelmingly in favor of this wonderful medicine, judging by the many public statements which are being made by these women every day in the press.

The quick and easy way in which G. F. P. relieves their suffering and pain, restores their energy and vitality, and builds up their weight and strength, raises their enthusiasm to the point where they cannot any longer keep back the words of praise

"I suffered for years from nervousness, and pains in the back and sides," says a mother of five, "until I began using St. Joseph's G. F. P. From the very first I began picking up and now I never feel a single ache or pain in my body and my friends tell me that I look like a different woman." Another lady says, "I was weak and thin and suffered such pains in my periods that I was desperate. I tried everything without any luck until I began using G. F. P. I am now on my third bottle, and look ten years younger." These examples, from among thousands of public endorsements concerning this great medicine, serve to show the things which can be expected by women who use G. F. P.

Women Now Depend on St. Joseph's G.F.P. To Restore Their Vitality
