

CHEF HARRIS GETS BLACKHAND NOTE

RAIL WAGES MUSTN'T BE CUT ARBITRARILY

Both Sides Must Be Heard, Is Ruling of United States Labor Board.

By United Press.
CHICAGO, April 7.—Warfare of common labor on the railroads of the country must not be arbitrarily slashed, the United States railroad labor board ruled today.

Both sides of the wage controversy must come before the board and present their case and a ruling of the board given before a wage cut can become effective, it was declared.

The decision was made on the application of the New York Central, which asked permission to cut wages of common labor 25 per cent, retroactive to April 1 without a hearing by the board.

Then, according to the proposal of the New York Central, if the board found a 25 per cent cut was not justifiable, the difference in pay would be made up.

Twenty-five other trunk lines, including the chief roads and largest employers of labor in the country, agreed that the New York Central should start this case and if successful, wages on these lines would likewise be reduced.

The board set April 18 as the date on which the hearing of the application of the New York Central and the other carriers to reduce wages of common labor, will be held.

HAMON LINE ASKS RATES BE ADJUSTED

Removal of certain differentials now applying to Breckenridge and other points along the line of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad company and other lines serving this territory, and which are prejudicial to Ranger, is requested in an application filed with the Texas state railroad commission by J. M. Strupper, general freight and passenger agent. A hearing on the application is set for April 12.

Mr. Strupper, in a letter he has written on the subject, a copy of which has been received by the Times, sets forth that his object in filing the application is to speed up action by the commission, so that authority for removal of discriminatory differentials may be had at the earliest possible date.

It is pointed out by Mr. Strupper that in the ordinary course of the commission's processes it would require perhaps six to nine months for favorable action on the matter, if the railroads fought the change, and it is Mr. Strupper's desire, for the benefit of both the railroad company and the territory served by it, to avoid a long-drawn-out controversy and accomplish the removal of the differentials with the minimum of delay.

Company interested.
"I wish to impress upon your citizenship," Mr. Strupper's letter reads in part, "that the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad company is as much interested in the growth of the territory served by its rails as any shipper along its lines. In other words, if the towns served by this railroad company do not prosper, then we see little chance for this road to prosper."

"We are as jealous of the territory served by this line as the merchants themselves, and you may rest assured that at any time we find there is any discrimination against any of the towns served by our line we will be among the first to take the initiative to have that discrimination removed."

The petition, if granted and approved by the interstate commerce commission, will mean a reduction of from 2 to 13 per cent to all points north of Ranger.

CRUTCHER IS UNDER BOND IN LIBEL CASE

EASTLAND, April 7.—Harry W. Crutcher, an insurance man of Dallas, arrested on charges of criminal libel, made bond in the county court in the sum of $400 and was released from custody. The charges grew out of an article appearing in the Ranger Times, in which it was alleged Crutcher gave out the story, concerning the theft of a Cole eight belonging to L. F. Lippold, which it is alleged John Harrell and two other men had stolen. The three parties are under indictment in this county and on bond, on a charge of stealing the car.

LOCKHART, April 7.—The eleven-month-old baby boy of Anton Honzolak, was drowned in a bucket of water at Dilworth Tuesday. While his mother was outside feeding the chickens, the lad sat on the side of the half-filled bucket playing in the water. When the mother returned she found the child head foremost in the bucket, dead.

MOVEMENT TO DIVIDE STATE IS DYING OUT

Speakers Assail Neff as "Secession" Sentiment Loses Its Punch.

BY W. HAMILTON WRIGHT, Times Correspondent.
SWEETWATER, Texas, April 7.—Division of the state of Texas will be sought only as a last resort by West Texas in its fight for justice. This was the tenor of the sentiment of West Texas representatives at last night's mass meeting of protest against Governor Neff's veto of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college bill and against the legislature or its refusal to pass a redistricting measure. The meeting was attended by more than a hundred visiting representatives. Resolution strongly condemning the present governor and legislature and the policy of the head of the Bryan institution were unanimously adopted.

West Texas Pays Big.
Representative Rosser of Snyder, reviewed efforts to put through the college bill and the rank injustice done the West. He said West Texas pays one of every three dollars put into the state treasury and receives back only one dollar out of every five dollars and ten cents. Economic and platform reasons of Neff for the veto were preposterous, the speaker declared, saying other measures uncalled for by the platform of the party and new appropriations had been passed by him without a good reason.

Too Long to Wait.
"They tell us to wait for awhile for our college. If we wait on that bunch, Gabriel will toot his horn before we realize our desires."

Among local speakers who reviewed the college situation and were vociferous in their protests were W. H. Jobe, M. C. Mamroe, Judge R. C. Crane, James L. Spiller, Representative Chitwood and others. Some of the out-of-town speakers were: Mrs. J. L. Landrum, Stamford; W. M. Woodall, Eastland; R. C. Thomas, Abilene; George McDaniel, Abilene; Hamilton Wright, Fort Worth Record; Silliman Evans, Fort Worth; Roscoe A. Dy, Fort Worth; Porter A. Whaley, Stamford; Curtis Keen, Lubbock; W. S. Cooper, Colorado, and A. J. Cole, Lorraine.

Fort Worth Representatives brought a message of sympathy and a pledge of co-operation for the West in all future fights.
Lorraine Has Succeeded.
Town representatives, while opposing state division if rights could otherwise be obtained, declared they were ready to secede as an alternative. One speaker declared that the "blood of the Alamo and San Jacinto could be forgotten" if necessary in order that the college might get its order. Quite a good deal of mirth was injected when a representative from Lorraine declared that Lorraine had already seceded from the state.

Mrs. Landrum Applauded.
The West Texas Chamber of Commerce through Manager Porter Whaley pledged continued support for the college and the selection of another committee to prosecute the work. Mrs. J. L. Landrum received hearty applause when she mentioned the fact that the home economist department now under the management of the Bryan institution should be placed under the management of the College of Industrial Arts, where, she said, it properly belongs. Many speakers in speaking of the veto declared they held no personal enmity toward Governor Neff, but they had been deeply disappointed. Some of them claiming to have been county campaign leaders for him in the gubernatorial race, declared they were now against him.

"Peanut Politician."
Preening of a West Texas man for gubernatorial honors in the next race was forecast by speakers. Bizzell came in for considerable exhortation. He was nominated as peanut politician, despot of state educational matters and a swayer of the governor.

Meeting similar to that held last night will be held in various parts of West Texas henceforth, according to a statement given out last night. The west Texas Chamber of Commerce will conduct the fight. Insofar as possible West Texas will divorce itself from co-operating with the present Agricultural and Mechanical college, it was intimated.

'DEATH FARM' MAN SAYS HE IS INNOCENT

Will Explain Death of Eight Negroes Later, He Says.

By United Press.
COVINGTON, Ga., April 7.—John S. Williams, proprietor of the Jasper county "death farm," on trial for his life, took the witness stand today in his own defense.

In an unsworn statement to the jury he told of a visit of federal government agents to his place and their investigation of peonage conditions. "They told me they had found nothing wrong, that the worst thing they ever found was that one of the boys carried a revolver."

Williams made a sweeping denial of knowledge as to how the three negroes he was accused of slaying were killed.

"Before God I am innocent. As for the other eight men, killed in Jasper county, I will explain that satisfactorily at the proper time," he said.

"I have nothing to fear," Williams told the United States officers just before taking the witness stand.

"I still believe I will be acquitted. Aside from this statement, I have nothing to say."

Apparently unconcerned because of failure by counsel to confuse Clyde Manning, negro "executioner" on his plantation, in his story of how eleven negroes were put to death, Williams appeared to be the least worried man in Covington today.

Treated Manning Good.
Williams referred to Clyde Manning, who accused him of ordering the murder of the negroes, as a "negro who has been treated mighty good."

"They must have done something to force him to make the statement," said Williams. "I have helped that negro a thousand times. Once he was all shot up in a fight. He had no money and I paid his doctor bill."

"When the federal agents had left my place, Manning appeared to be mad because I did not uphold him in a lie he told them."

"He threatened then to 'do something' as he said the detectives had told him he, as boss, was guilty of working negroes under peonage conditions."

Arguments were started immediately after court reconvened this afternoon. The state expects to consume three hours and the defense five hours. The case will probably be in the hands of the jury tomorrow.

S.-W. OKLAHOMA STILL CUT OFF BY THE STORM

By United Press.
CLINTON, Okla., April 7.—Southwestern Oklahoma today was still isolated and without communication with the outside world as the result of the heavy rain and wind storms that visited this section of the state Monday and Tuesday. Telegraph and telephone authorities said it would be several days before the communication lines in the flooded area could be replaced.

The flooded district is Harmon, Tuscum, Washita, Kiowa and Greer counties. Roads and bridges in this district have been destroyed and farm buildings demolished. Authorities say the loss will reach $350,000. Railroad traffic in southwestern Oklahoma has been suspended since Monday. About seventy-five passengers on the Rock Island have been marooned at Sayre since Monday. They are being taken care of by residents of Sayre.

One woman is thought to have lost her life in the wind storm that preceded the rain. Several persons were reported to have been drowned in the Washita valley following the storm, but this report could not be verified.

TRINITY RAGING.

By United Press.
DALLAS, April 7.—Lowlands along the Trinity between Dallas and Trinidad, Texas, will be flooded by the river which will reach a peak of thirty-five to thirty-seven feet, as the result of the heavy rains the last forty-eight hours, the weather bureau predicted today. The river stood at 33.8 feet this morning, flooding flats and lowlands.

It was stated thus far a definite decision has been reached on only one question, namely, the repeal of the excess profits tax.

MAN INSISTS HE AND A PAL SLEW ELWELL

Volunteers Story of Killing of Millionaire "Whist King" Last June.

By United Press.
BUFFALO, N. Y., April 7.—Roy Harris, 22 years old, clung to his story today that he and a pal, Bill Dunkin, killed Joseph B. Elwell, millionaire club man and whist expert.

Harris' story, according to police, is that last June they murdered Elwell in his New York apartment, having been offered $5,000 by a "Mrs. Fairchild" to do the job.

The story as related to the police was that while sunning themselves before a New York hotel, Harris and Dunkin were found by a friendly chauffeur. The taxi driver told them a passenger in his cab would pay them well to undertake a "little job."

Entering the vehicle they found "Mrs. Fairchild," who quickly laid the plan before them. She wanted Elwell out of the way, they said, and offered $5,000 for the job. She paid $50 on account, Harris said.

The next morning the two entered Elwell's home on Seventieth street. Harris declared that Dunkin did the shooting. The prisoner admitted that he got only $450 after the murder and that his pal must have double-crossed him.

Police have established the fact that Harris was in New York at the time of the Elwell murder. A New York detective was said to be en route here to continue the severe questioning to which the prisoner has been subjected.

Harris connected himself with the Elwell case, police said, before he had attempted to question him.

British Miners Refuse To Return to Their Jobs

By Associated Press.
LONDON, April 7.—Leaders of the miners' union who conferred with Prime Minister Lloyd George today refused to order pump men and engineers in the mines affected by the coal strike to resume work pending negotiations with the mine owners, and the miners and employers will not meet today as a result of the refusal.

Leaders of the transport workers' federation, which already had decided to support the miners, met today, but adjourned until 4 o'clock this afternoon in order to learn the result of the conference of miners with the prime minister before deciding what form their support will take. The railway men's union also awaited the result of this conference. An official statement issued by the miners' representative said "negotiations are broken."

TEXAS' NEWEST RAILROAD IS IN OPERATION

By W. HAMILTON WRIGHT, Staff Correspondent of the Times.
UVALDE, April 7.—The newest Texas railroad to enter the carrier trade is the Uvalde & Northern, running from Uvalde to Camp Wood, a distance of thirty-seven miles. The first train ever operated over the system made its "maiden" trip two weeks ago.

The first train was made up of one day coach, a combination coach, four box and one flat cars and the locomotive.

The roadbed was rough, but it is understood that it will be thoroughly ballasted in the next few weeks. The first station is Kelly, sixteen miles out; the next Montell, twenty-six miles away. Some eighty miles of trackway into the cedar timber of that section will be built shortly so that these vast forests of "penicil" cedar may be brought to the attractive markets.

This line has not yet received sanction from the interstate commerce commission, but in spite of that restriction freight is being received for intrastate points. Interstate shipments are rebilled at Uvalde. Attorney C. M. Cureton of Texas is taking the side of the road in the matter of presenting its claims for recognition to the interstate commerce commission.

It is said that a number of business houses and other buildings being erected at Camp Wood. Deposits at the stations will be built shortly. Camp Wood is the newest of Texas' new towns.

CHICAGO GANG GETS MAIL LOOT OF $500,000

By United Press.
CHICAGO, April 7.—Postal authorities and police all over the West today were searching for the four bandits who made a raid on the United States mail, which will probably reach close to $500,000.

The robbery was staged in broad daylight in the Dearborn station, in full view of a dozen mail clerks, and scores of passersby.

The four armed bandits drove up to the mail platform in a stolen automobile and forced the mail clerks to stick up their hands. Three pouches from one truck containing large sums in currency and negotiable securities were taken. Most of the valuables were consigned to Indianapolis banks.

HAMON LINE SUED IN SUM OF TEN THOUSAND

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, April 7.—Suit has been filed in the Ninety-first district court naming H. H. Knight as plaintiff and the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Ft. Worth Railroad company, as defendant, in which the plaintiff asks the sum of $10,000, being $7,500 actual and $2,500 exemplary damages.

Knight alleges that he was employed as a sub-contractor on the defendant road, doing work to the value of $7,500, for which he has never been paid. In addition to his petition for the recovery of this sum he also asks exemplary damages in the sum of $2,500.

THIEVES USE CHEWING GUM

BALTIMORE, April 7.—Reaching through the grating of the paying teller's window at the Calvert bank, Howard and Saratoga streets, in the heart of the shopping district today, three men succeeded in stealing $2,850 worth of Liberty bonds, using sticks to which were attached bits of chewing gum, to draw the bonds from the shelf behind the windows.

They then walked out and disappeared. The teller was not in the cage.

CAFE MAN TOLD TO LEAVE AND NEVER RETURN

Had Received Oral Threats Previously When He Refused to Sell.

THE THREAT.
"Chef's Cafe: Hereby we give order you leave town at once. Never come back again."
"THE BLACK HAND."

That was the message received yesterday afternoon by Chef Harris of Chef's cafe. It was contained in a plain stamped envelope and written on cardboard which apparently had been cut with a knife from some placard. The "order" was written in heavy pencil.

Harris immediately turned the card over to Deputy Sheriff Edmondson, who is looking for two men who threatened Harris Saturday night after he had refused to make an offer to sell his place. The federal officers also have been notified.

Had Offers to Buy.
During the last two weeks, Harris said this morning, he has been repeatedly approached by strange foreigners with offers to buy his restaurant. He named a price, he said, which he said they refused to accept.

Saturday, two large men, weighing probably 180 or 190 pounds each, one with a heavy black mustache, the other smooth shaven, stopped him on Austin street as he came out of the cafe. They also wanted to buy, and asked, "Will you sell at a reasonable price?"

Previous Threats.
"I had decided these offers were all bunk," Chef said, "and told them I would not name a price. Then they told me I had better sell or I would have trouble. I looked around for Sheriff Edmondson, but when we got back the men had disappeared and could not be found. All of these men who approached me were strangers."

"The next day I got the letter, which I turned over to Edmondson. I am not exactly scared, but have taken the precaution of putting on a watchman at night."

Edmondson is at work on the case, but is mum as to progress made.

NEGRO GOES UP FOR TEN YEARS FOR ASSAULT

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, April 7.—Ed Isley, negro, charged with assault with intent to rape, was convicted in the Eighty-eighth district court in this city today and given a term of ten years in the penitentiary. The complaint charged that Isley entered the home of an oil field worker named Emmons, asking first for the man of the house, and when informed that he "was out on the loose" at work, he took hold of Mrs. Emmons, placing his hands on her person, and that she broke loose from him, securing an automatic revolver and frightened him away. The revolver was, however, unloaded. Mrs. Emmons secured cartridges and fired several shots at the negro as he ran. Officers followed, making the arrest at Parks Camp, Stephens county, and returned the negro to this county for trial, the offense having been committed in Eastland county. Mrs. Emmons easily identified the negro as the one who had assaulted her, when he was brought into her presence with several other negroes.

Among the Movie Stars

Constance Talmadge and Herbert Marshall in "Lessons in Love"

Lessons in Love—Best Groomed Star of Silent Drama—Viola Dana in Sea Tale—Premier Screen Heavy—Keeps Wedding Secret—Typical American Boy!

"Lessons in Love," in which Constance Talmadge stars, is a story of hidden identity. Two old men attempt to pick a husband for their ward, a charming young girl. One of these old men tries to induce his nephew to come East and meet the girl. He refuses. The aged plotters then decide that the uncle shall play dead, leaving a will with provisions that the nephew shall inherit his fortune if he marries the girl. The report of the old man's death brings the young man East. The girl then decides to take a hand in her own affairs. She is not one to place herself on exhibition for a prospective husband to look over and reject, as may please him. She hides her identity behind a serving maid's uniform, and thus disguises plays fast and loose with him. Of course, he falls in love with her and she with him. There is a serious misunderstanding towards the end and a final reconciliation.

Alice Brady.
Alice Brady's plans for the spring spell good news to her many friends throughout the country. For a long time she has been dividing her time between a motion picture studio on Long Island and the Broadway stage. Naturally Miss Brady's pictures were missed, for it was impossible for her to keep up as severe a schedule as the fans wanted while she was working behind the footlights. But now everything has changed. "Anna Ascends," Miss Brady's last starring vehicle on the New York stage has been roguish in the stage production of "Madame X."

Warner Oland's career in serials is familiar to all those acquainted with withdrawn so that "the best groomed" star of the silent drama may devote her entire time to motion pictures until next fall. Next season, of course, Miss Brady will be seen in a new play, but before then she will have completed four new pictures.

"The Offshore Pirate."
This is a romance of youth in all its carefree joyousness. Dainty little Viola Dana is the star, and P. Scott Fitzgerald, author of the story. He is the brilliant young writer—still in his early twenties—whose fiction is now so prominent in the leading nation magazines. "The Offshore Pirate" is the tale of a modern Captain Kidd and of a girl who outwits him at his own game of high-handed buccaneering. Arditia Farnam, pampered and petted heiress to millions, has her own yacht, her motors and every other luxury that unlimited wealth can buy. Rescued from hold-up men one day by a debonair Russian, she falls desperately in love with him and declares she will marry him. Her uncle, however, learns that the Russian is an unprincipled fortune-hunter, and proposes Toby Moreland, a handsome young American, as a more fitting mate for Arditia. She has never seen Toby and flatly refuses to consider him as a suitor, when a series of adventures transpire in which her yacht is boarded by a dashing latter-day pirate and Arditia is borne away to sea a prisoner. How she extricates herself from bondage and turns the tables on her presumptuous captor is unfolded in a rattling good story of swift action and countless surprises.

Warner Oland.
Warner Oland richly deserves his title of "Premier Screen Heavy," as he has thrown fear into the heart of many a celebrated leading lady. Before his screen debut Mr. Oland contributed much to the American theatre. He is the greatest authority in this country of Ibsen and also is responsible for the Little theatre movement here. Besides having every Shakespearean role at his finger tips he won no small renown playing Shakespearean roles with Sothern and Marlowe, and with Viola Allen in "The Eternal City," "Twelfth Night" and "A Winter's Tale." He played the big successes of the last four years. He played heavy roles in "Patricia," with Mrs. Vernon Castle; "The Carmel Myers.

An unusual agreement which kept a wedding secret to more than one and a half years is revealed in the marriage of Carmel Myers, motion picture star, to Isidor B. Kornblum, composer of "Blue Eyes" and several other Broadway successes. Miss Myers will continue to appear in pictures—her next feature will be "The Dangerous Moment."

"Edgar's Country Cousin."
The story opens with Edgar (Johnny Jones) arriving from the city at the small country town where his cousin resides. He is met at the station by his cousin Willie (Edward Trebaal) and the hired man. After Edgar has been warmly welcomed by Aunt Ellen, the two boys start out to find some excitement. Both are barefooted and Edgar has his bow and arrows. The hired man is the first target.

Some country boys come along and a ball game is started. Edgar is pitched on the strength of his being from the city and the game breaks up when the first batter hits him in the eye with a batted ball.

Other adventures follow in quick order. Johnny Jones is twelve years old. He began his stage career at the tender age of six months.

Another member of the ever popular film "colliers."

LAMB.
There is a veritable screen triumph at the Lamb theatre today and at the opening performance yesterday a large audience was held spellbound. This quite unusual attraction is Lionel Barrymore in "The Master Mind," a photodramatic production which far exceeds nine out of every ten pictures shown. In fact, it can be called super-extraordinary without straining the truth in the least. Never before has Mr. Barrymore been seen in any role to such distinct advantage and he gives a character interpretation which impresses itself indelibly upon every mind. The play which has been provided for him is in many ways masterly in construction and the manner in which it has been arranged to maintain an unbroken suspense from beginning to end offers further proof that the men who are preparing the screen material of today are making rapid strides towards the goal of real literature of the sort which appeals to all classes without offending the intellect of anyone.

The supporting cast with which Mr. Whitman Bennett has surrounded his distinguished star is worthy of a paragraph, too. Gypsy O'Brien, in the leading feminine part, excites admiration and she builds up her character in such a way as to have the whole sympathy throughout. Ralph Kellard, as the mired district attorney upon whom the "master mind" seeks to heap his vengeance, is most convincing and gives a performance which marks him as a finished artist. Bradley Barker, Charles Brandt, Marie Shotwell, Bernard Randall and Charles Edwards in the lesser roles are all happily cast. The direction is excellent, credit for this being due Kenneth Webb. The photography is something of a revelation in the possibilities of the screen.

TEMPLE.
The story of a snobbish young woman who ultimately comes to her true self and discovers that diamonds in the rough are sometimes more valuable than polished stones is told in the latest Lois Weber production, "What's Worth While," a Paramount release which will be the feature attraction at the Temple theatre, for two days starting today.

The story is well told and Lois Weber has painted her characters with a delicate brush. The leading role is played by Claire Windsor, a late "find," who has already proven herself, and others in the cast are Lisa, Louis Calhern and Edwin lost something of his charm and when she suspects him of intrigue with her enticing cousin, she decides the only solution to get him back to his own self is to have him return to his original environment in the West. By feigning ill health, she persuades him to do so and the subsequent developments out in the broad expanses of the West gives a good finish to the picture.

'BRAVE' BURGLAR TAKES BOYS' PENNIES WHILE HOLDING PISTOL ON HIM

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 7.—Police tonight are hunting a masked man who late today entered the home of J. D. He had obtained 96 pennies through the slot in the top of the bank when a noise caused him to flee, leaving $2 still safe.

SOME DELAY NECESSARY.

The election is over; the race has been to the swift. The men who are elected have promised an era of building activity. They have promised the high school building, the new depot, the city hall and the county-city hospital. They have promised these things and their promises will be carried out. However, the people cannot expect projects to begin to take form over night. In connection with them all there is much red tape that has to be unwound.

For example, nothing can be done toward the new depot until after the charter election that will be held some time next month to empower the commission to donate fifteen feet of Commerce street to the Texas & Pacific railroad. After that action it may again be necessary to convince the railroad that Ranger is not quibbling in its determination to have a new depot. It may contend that it has not the money with which to build the new structure. First and last, it may be six months before the structure is under way.

Construction of the new school depends upon the sale of bonds. They have been voted and approved, but thus far have not been sold, and a state law says that they must bring par, and until they are sold there will be no funds for the work. It is expected that the state will take them, but that is not certain. This project, however, is not in the hands of the commission, but in those of the school board. But the commission has promised to lend every effort to assist the board.

The same difficulty probably will block the immediate construction of the city hall. The bonds have not been sold and until they are, the work cannot be done.

The county and city hospital will have to be financed in Ranger for half its cost. The county has offered to furnish half the money, but the city will have to sell warrants for its half before construction can begin.

Thus it can be seen that immediate construction cannot be started on these buildings as quickly as could be desired. But those men who have been elected as the board of commissioners are all well versed in caring for affairs of this nature and it can be truthfully forecast that they will unwind the red tape with as much speed as is possible and get the projects under way. Their promises will be carried out as fast as is humanly possible.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Father Lends a Hand.

The day evening in the suburban houses of where the Woman is a frequent visitor wears a different aspect from that of any other in the seven, for is it not dedicated to that special form of torture devised by the board of regents—the weekly composition? In Barbara's school weekly compositions are due on Friday, and were intended to the luckless wig it whose meaning-fold pages are not for mourning. So the Woman, arriving late after a Thursday matinee and wading up from the station through the spring dusk, smiled as she pictured behind each softly lighted pane a child bent over her task of committing the voluble thoughts of youth to the prim phrasing demanded by custom and the English department. Later, when dinner was over, she studied Barbara's attempts to put off the evil hour until Mother lined with a glance at the clock, "Hain't you better begin? You know how long it usually takes."

"What is it this week?" the Woman inquired sympathetically. "The poetry of Burns. Ugh!" and Barbara gave vent to a groan. "The poetry of Burns," Father came out from behind his newspaper with a jerk. "Why, you couldn't have a more inspiring subject than that." And with the enthusiasm born of a long line of Highland forebears reared on scones and oatmeal and the Longer Catechism, Father entered into an ardent discussion of the genius of the Ploughman Poet. From his own well-thumbed volume he read scraps of quotation, interlarded with eulogistic comments, until Mother and the Woman dropped their desultory consideration of spring fashions to listen.

"There. Surely you can find something to write about after I've told you all that," said Father, coming to the end of his resources. Barbara nodded, and for a time the scratch of her fountain pen made a gentle accompaniment to the good-natured wrangling over the meaning of certain Scotch phrases which Father's adventure in tutoring had led them into. They were arguing the exact composition of haggis, which Mother stoutly believed to be a form of "home brew," when Barbara laid down her pad, kissed them a dutiful good night, and went off to bed.

"Well, now, let's see how much the child made out of it all," said Father, and unfolding the carefully paragraphed pages he began to read: "The poetry of Burns is very beautiful. He loved to write about simple things. He wrote a poem 'to a Daisy,' another 'To a Field Mouse,' another 'To a Louse,' because he wanted to be on more intimate terms with them."

Long-Suffering.

The Woman is a great friend of Joe, the colored elevator man in her apartment house. And the other day an incident occurred which increased her admiration for his patience and good nature.

A stranger, a fat, pompous man, entered the elevator and stood where he was most in everybody's way. All the other occupants of the car lived in the house, so Joe knew where to let them off, but the stranger's destination puzzled him, and as they passed stop after stop without a move on the part of the fat man, Joe suggested, tactfully: "Floo's, please; call yo' floo's."

Still the stranger acted as if he were in a trance. As they neared the eighth floor he woke—woke with a bang. "I wanted 'off' at the sixth floor!" he yelled.

Without a word Joe went down again and let the man off. Then he turned to the Woman, who by this time was the only passenger, and remarked serenely: "It do 'pear to me, ma'am, like some folks must think an elevator man is equipped with an ouija board inside his head."

A Juvenile "Roberts."

Presidents may come and Presidents may go, covenants may be made and revised, but the Mid-Victorian Lady thinks that for a certain magnificent simplicity and regard for principles of justice the rules of a social club for young gentlemen, founded by her 9-year-old nephew, will stand unchallenged.

They follow, verbatim and literally: I. No fighting allowed 2 cents fine for beginner and 1 cent fine for the one who hits him back. II. No cursing allowed 2 cents fine. III. No funny work allowed one cent fine. IV. The fines must be paid within five days, unless are imitating mation pictures.

COPPER SHUTDOWN WILL LAST LONG TIME, SAYS ARIZONA MAN

W. E. SoRelle of Miami, Arizona, is here with his nephew, Lyston S. Black. Mr. SoRelle left the copper country last week, and brings verification of a complete shutdown for an indefinite period. Within a week, says Mr. SoRelle, every mine, mill and smelter in the copper district will be closed down. In his section about 4,000 men will be thrown out of employment. Most of them have some money, though, as they have been working steadily for several years, at good wages. The shutdown is directly brought about by the demoralized condition of the foreign markets, and will last until they are stabilized and trade reopened, in the Arizona man's opinion, as no exports are being made, and there is enough copper on hand to care for America's consumption for more than a year.

Tinker Bob Stories by Carlyle H. Holcomb

GREETING RED ROBIN

"Red Robin is here! Red Robin is here!" cried Chief Porky as he ran through the forest. Snoopy was so startled to think that it might be possible for the King of the Forest to appear at any moment that he did not know what to do. I guess he had reason to be afraid for some of the things the saucy Bob Cat did while Tinker Bob was away were terrible. Mr. Chuck heard the cry as Chief Porky tumbled by his door and he came out to see if it was really true. "Gingor!" said he, "if that is true it's time for me to be out looking for a place to live this summer. I don't want any place like I had last summer for every time it rained the water ran into my house and I thought I was living in the home of Johnny Musk Rat. But I'll have to see Red Robin first before I will believe she has come to stay. It may be that Jay Bird trying to make the forest dwellers think he is Mrs. Robin. But I don't know. I'm pretty sleepy, I wish she hadn't come along just at this time."

"Red Robin is here!" came the cry from Chief Porky.

Robin heard the cry herself, and went at once to see the Chief of the Forest. "Chirp, Chirp, Chirp," called Mrs. Robin. "It is I—don't be afraid. I have come from the Great Land of the South to tell the Dwellers of the Forest that the King will be here soon and will have someone with him whom everyone in the forest will learn to love." The joy of this meeting was such that the whole forest soon heard the message and even Snoopy the Bob Cat was glad that the King would soon be home again. "Come on, come all to greet the Red Robin of Spring for she brings me a message from the King that Spring is here to stay." Now Chief Porky was not much of a speech maker but he climbed upon a stump to make this announcement, for he was so happy he could not stay on the ground. Tomorrow—Away to Make Ready for the King.

POLICE RAID PARTY AS DANCER STRIPS OFF 6 OF HER 7 VELS

CHICAGO, April 7.—Claims are made that when she began to dance at the stag party given in a dance hall above Paul Swieska's saloon, a shapely young woman was attired in seven veils. When the police raided the place she had discarded six of them and the remaining one was nothing to write home about. Two hundred men and six women were taken in the raid. Lieutenant Malone and fifteen policemen surrounded the building shortly before midnight. Many of the men and some of the women engaged in a wild scramble for the cordons of armed police. A prize fight ring had been roped off in the center of the hall and a number of bouts were on the program, but the veiled dancer made such a tremendous hit that other numbers of the bill were being delayed.

FISH WHICH REGARD MOSQUITOS AS FINEST MEAL, SENT TO ITALY

By Science Service. EDENTON, N. C., April 7.—Mosquitoes of Italy will be combated by American fish, which the local Bureau of Fisheries station here recently shipped to that country. Gambusia, or "top minnows," consider mosquito larvae their greatest delicacy, and swimming close to the top of the water they soon clear the rivers of these insects that spread malaria. A school of 250 of these fish are on their way across the ocean, consigned to the League of Red Cross societies, and the progeny of this brood stock will be distributed in mosquito infested waters throughout Italy. These fish that will enter the Italian public health service are being given special attention as they travel in water across the water. Officials of the New York aquarium received and cared for them in that city until their sailing date. Modern science has told us that malaria germs are carried only by certain species of mosquitoes, and that when these are killed off by fish or otherwise the disease disappears.

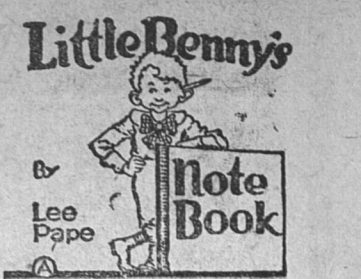

BARRETT AND OWENS INSPECT NEW GAS LINE, IVAN TO SOUTH BEND

President A. P. Barrett and Manager J. B. Owens of the Ranger Gas company, left today for an inspection of the line which the company is laying from Ivan to South Bend. This line, seven miles in length, will be finished Saturday, and will supply gas for fuel to a territory in which there are expected to be hundreds of drilling wells within a short time. It is expected to be a lucrative section of the company's properties in this territory.

groan or cough or sneeze, you're marked down by some thread disease. And if you sweat when you are warm, there's some punk ailment in your form. And if you dream when you're in bed, it argues that you'll soon be dead, unless you flee o'er vales and hills and buy three quarts of Dingbat's pills. The more you read the more you find that you're diseased in frame and mind; and to the drugstore by the dump you're always going, on the jump to buy good five-dollar bills for Dr. Dingbat's Dinty Pills. It shows how reading soils the mind, unless your book's the proper kind. If you read volumes of despair you'll cave around and paw the air. If you read morbid tales of crime you'll slay your grandma for a dime. If you read slush concerning sex you'll line up with the moral wrecks. The world is full of helpful tomes containing stories, essays, pomes, and so it's folly to inspect the books that jar the intellect.

WORLD'S HEAVIEST BABY—Terra Bella, California, lays claim to the world's heaviest baby in Robert Embry, Jr., who was born March 2, and who tipped the beam at eighteen pounds when he came into the world.

vessel is equipped. Captain G. N. Boesch, U. S. N., had the party in charge. In the party are, left to right, Captain K. Goto, Captain Boesch and Lieutenant-Commander Tatsuio Furnichi, of the Japanese Imperial Navy.

COMMISSIONED A BRIGADIER-GENERAL—Dr. Charles E. Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician, photographed while wearing for the first time his uniform as a brigadier-general of the U. S. Army.

RUSSIAN COUNTESS HERE—Among the recent arrivals in this country are Major Harold Werner, part owner of the famous Kimberley mines, and his bride, the beautiful Lady Anastasia.

PRESIDENT RENEWS PLEDGES—President and Mrs. Harding recently paid a Sunday visit to the Walter Reed Hospital at Washington. The President, in an informal address to the crippled veterans, said the "Government will take care of them as they took care of the Government." The Nation's Chief and his wife shook hands with many of the patients, speaking words of cheer to the unfortunates.

POWERFUL WARSHIP CHRISTENED—At the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Company, in Camden, N. J., recently, the super-dreadnought Colorado, the latest of Uncle Sam's fighting machines, was launched. Mrs. Max Melville, of Denver, Colo., a daughter of United States Senator Nicholson, of that State, broke the bottle of mineral water over the bow of the monster hull as it slid from the ways. Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, stood alongside the sponsor of the ceremony and made an address.

SOLDIERS STORM WHITE HOUSE—Headed by George H. Gillin, of New York, national commander of the Disabled Soldiers' League, a delegation of crippled veterans called on President Harding to urge him to issue a proclamation, setting aside a "Disabled Soldiers' Week" to be observed throughout the country. President Harding shook hands with each member of the delegation, and promised to give the question his early attention. Every one of the visitors was impressed with the cordial greeting extended by the Nation's Chief.

ODD GUEST ARRIVES—When the old North State landed at her dock in New York recently, among her passengers was John Daniels, the only tame gorilla in the world. The visitor was purchased at a cost of $20,000. He is four years old and weighs 184 pounds, being nearly six feet tall, while his arms are fifty-six inches long.

NATURE FAKING AGAIN—Nature was evidently in a hurry when arranging things for this tabby. The cat's head, body, forelegs and tail are just like those of any other cat, but when it came to arranging the hind legs, nature hinged them on the wrong way, so they bend inwardly instead of outwardly. The freak cat, a pet of a Cincinnati family, finds it difficult to move about.

WEST STEPHENS ROADS FAVORED OVER EAST SIDE

O. D. Nelson of the Butler Manufacturing company, Kansas City, is here this week looking over the oil fields. In company with L. Rector of the Ranger Boiler Works, he has visited the territory from South Bend to Rising Star, and including Breckenridge, Cisco and Ranger. He and Rector agree that the roads could be better in the eastern part of Stephens county. Stephens county, they said, has graded the Cisco-Breckenridge highway, installed new bridges and made a very passable road of it. The road from Breckenridge to Ivan also is in fine condition, but there has been no work done in the eastern part of Stephens county. Ivan, for instance, is only about twenty-five miles from Ranger by air line, but to cover this distance one must go through Breckenridge, making it nearly twice as far. The Caddo road continues almost impassable and the Ranger-Breckenridge road through Necessity is very bad, except for a few miles which Eastland county was recently persuaded to grade.

NATURE PRESERVES FAITHFUL RECORD OF ANIMALS AND PLANTS

(By Science Service.)
CREED—April 7.—A museum of nature's building, where she pressed plants, insects, and other forms of life into mud and preserved them for the scientists of today to discover and use in puzzling out the world's past has been discovered near here. This fossil storehouse is 20 miles long and five miles wide, and many hundreds of feet thick, according to Dr. F. H. Knowlton of the United States National museum. These ancient lake beds were filled up and finally extinguished by volcanic ashes and muds many ages ago, but now they produce thin paper shales in which the plants and animals are preserved with the greatest fidelity. Although the newly discovered lake beds have not been thoroughly explored, they have yielded beautifully preserved plants, a few insects, and many isolated bird feathers," says Dr. Knowlton. Among the plants found were branches and cones of pine and fir, similar to and probably ancestors of trees of the region today. For fifty years those who have made pictures of the past out of these fossils left in rocks have believed that the Tertiary lake beds at Florissant, Colo., one of the most highly fossiliferous deposits in the world, were unique. But when more intensive geologic investigations were made in the Rocky Mountain region, similar deposits, nearly five times as large, were found in the valley of the Grand river, near here.

NITROS POUND ALBANY BOXMEN, TAKE 10-2 GAME

Special to the Times.
ALBANY, April 7.—The Nitros went on a batting jamboree yesterday, stacking up ten runs on the Albany independents while Keck was holding the home team virtually helpless. The Missouri boy went all the way through and was rapped for eight safeties, but he fanned eight and this with fast support left many of the home boys stranded on the bases.

Meanwhile the Nitros were pounding out twenty-two safeties. Allen, Lovelace and Kavanaugh led with four each. Singleton and Elz were runners-up with three apiece and Harper and Murphy collected two. Singleton's baserunning and the fielding of York and Murphy also were features.

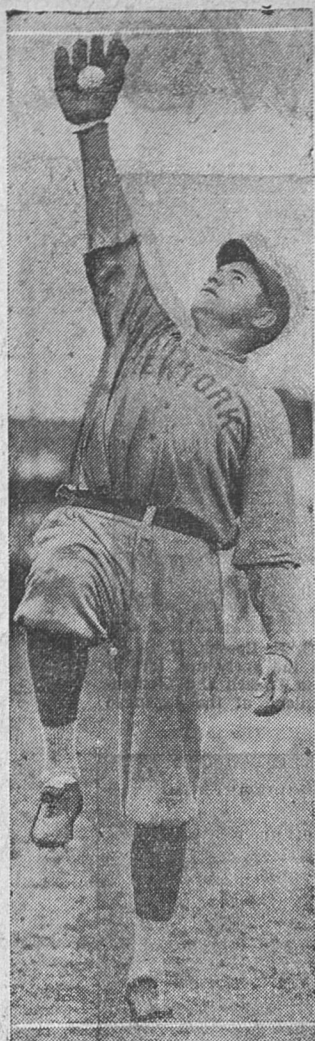

The Nitros play here again today and will be back home Friday morning.

The Breckenridge Hi baseball team will play Ranger Hi at Nitro park Friday evening at 4 o'clock.

Breckenridge claims a fast team and expects to beat Ranger on Friday, then to invade Eastland Hi's camp Saturday.

The Ranger boys think they have undertaken some proposition as they are very determined to get rid of their "fix" and win.

BABE CAN PULL 'EM DOWN

Besides being a good hitter and runner, Babe Ruth, home-run king, knows how to grab 'em out of the air. The photo shows Ruth pulling down a high one at the New York Yankees' training camp, at Shreveport, La. "Babe" appears to have very little weight to lose.

Nitro Notes

With Charley Clopp and Teet Tolar here, the Nitros are getting along toward the formation of a regular ball club and early next week after the return from Albany and Breckenridge, Sled Allen will be able to line up his team practically as it will start the season.

It would appear that the Nitros will be strong in the outfield; can't help being as strong as last year, with all three gardeners back. And a place must be found for Honest John Singleton, the cheerful kidder with a bat full of dynamite.

It is hard to judge an infield until the ground is upholstered with sod. Big leaguers and all looked hard on it, so it is not to be wondered at that Nitro rookies are not setting the world on fire. That will be remedied by the time the squad gets back from the trip. Dirt already has been placed on about half the diamond, and more is being hauled today. Murphy at third looks like a ball player and Harper is a hard-hitting infielder with an arm of steel. First base will be well cared for, leaving second and possibly short to fill. Tommy Harding is a willing worker and a good infielder, though, and will fit in unless Allen wants him for mound duty.

The pitching staff will be all right. There are enough vets to balance it and several of the rookies are showing good stuff. With Sled in there to furnish the "experience" for them, there will be no question of battery performance.

The key to the situation is short and second. With these holes plugged, Ranger will have a first class team when opening day rolls around.

Tommy Harding got to talking about queer plays last night (Tommy was left here because of a sore arm). He tried one that was in the Sporting News some weeks ago, but perhaps everyone hasn't heard it. Here it is: How can a team have three men on, nobody out; but be retired without making a run or the other team getting a putout or an assist? Can you figure it?

No, the umpire doesn't call the game. Here he has the fourth batter hit an infield fly. That made him out. The ball hit the ground, bounced bad and hit the runner at first. That put him out. It glanced off him toward the runner at second. The play had made him so mad that he picked the ball up and threw it out of the park. The ump called him out for interference.

That's impossible, of course. But then it could happen—if the ball was lively enough.

It's really about as possible as the very old one about how many hits can a team make in an inning and not score a run? The answer is six. You'll find five of them are easy.

Charley Clopp is back and glad to be here. It's a fine place to play ball, in his opinion, because of the attitude of the fans. Charley has played around some and all the teams over North Carolina way wanted him to stay there this year, if they could get his release, but the West Texas suits him. Out here, he says, when a fellow has a bad day—fans in a pinch or drops two or three, or something like that—he can go around town just the same and everybody is just as friendly as if he had hit a homer and cut off a bunch of safeties. They give a fellow credit for doing his best, he says, and that makes a player anxious to really do his best. There are leagues, and some towns in other leagues, which are not that way. Over at Dallas, he said, a man may play brilliant ball for three months; then let him be off for one day, and drop a game, and he'll almost be murdered. For that reason, he doesn't expect Jim to win any pennants this year. The fans take the heart out of the players,

BLACK RANCH WELL STILL ON FIRE AT NOON

The Texas company's well on the Black Brothers' ranch, which has been burning for several days, was still on fire at noon today, but company officials expected to have it extinguished before night. Fifteen boilers have been brought up to fight the blaze.

Officials here say the loss will exceed $50,000. The greater part of this is in burned oil. The well is making around 3,000 barrels of "good" oil with a quantity of water, and this alone means more than $30,000, aside from the heavy expense of concentrating the boilers and the loss of the drilling equipment.

YAP ISLAND A QUESTION FOR ALL ALLIES

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The question of the island of Yap is not an issue between the United States and Japan, it was declared in a statement given the United Press by the Japanese embassy here today.

The statement follows:
The question of Yap is not a question between the United States and Japan. It is a question to be disposed of among all the allied and associated powers. The note of Secretary of State Hughes yesterday is addressed to the British government. So this embassy or the Japanese government is not in a position to express their views independently about this note.

COAL SHORTAGE IN TEXAS IS PREDICTED

Special to the Times.
DALLAS, April 7.—Coal production in Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado coal mines is now at lower ebb than at any time during the past six or eight years, according to information gathered by the research department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Both coal mine operators and coal dealers state that the market is very dull and that there will be great danger of a repetition of the coal shortage of the autumn of 1919 unless buying and production are speeded up within a short time. Mines claim that they have more coal on hand in most instances than they can sell; wholesalers and retailers in turn claim that they find a poor market.

An exceptionally mild winter has been partly the cause of the slow market, say mine operators and dealers, but freight rates, high wages and the tendency of consumers to wait for lower prices are hampering the movement of coal for storage purposes.

The situation in the Southwest seems to affect the whole country. The average monthly consumption of coal in the United States during the past four years has been 10,000,000 tons, though at present it is only 7,300,000, according to a statement issued recently by an Oklahoma coal mine.

VERNON, Texas, April 7.—A free camping park for automobile tourists is being established at Vernon with a concrete swimming pool, cooking furnaces, wood, running water, camp tables, shade trees, garbage cans, sanitary toilets, telephone and quick tire and repair service, as the result of the efforts of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce.

BRUTE, DECEIVER! GREEN POLL PARROT INSULTS YOUNG LADY

NEW YORK, April 7.—Tableau—beautiful damsel walking along Hanson place; loud whistle; beautiful damsel rushes to policeman.

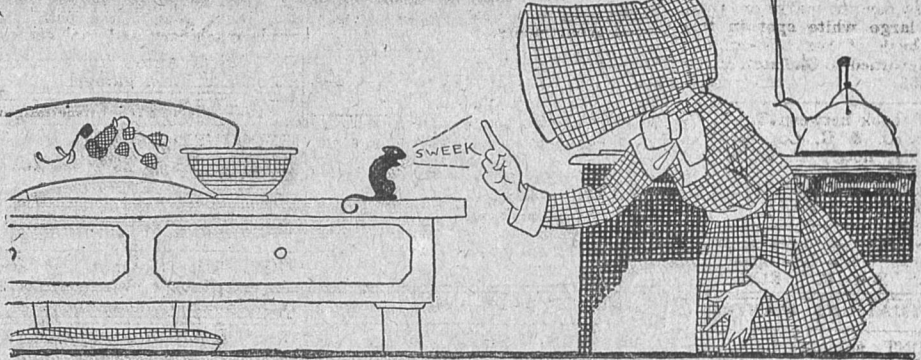

This episode has been repeated so often on Hanson place recently that the little street has attained a certain notoriety as the habitat of some particularly obnoxious male flirt. On some occasions the indignant women have hastened their steps to escape from the unwelcome attentions of the mysterious whistler; on other occasions they have just walked along, heads high in the air, maintaining an attitude of aloofness. One woman rushed up to a policeman to complain.

"For five minutes that man behind me has been whistling in an attempt to attract my attention," she said heatedly.

The policeman laughed. The woman grew more indignant. Then the policeman pointed to a window across the street.

Prohibition Officer Anderson and local police yesterday arrested C. H. Smith at 412 Cherry street, on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. Charges have been filed with the federal commissioner at Abilene.

THE MERRY JOURNEYS OF MARY JANE

"Why can't you behave yourself?" Mary Jane asked Tommy Tippetoe

Mary Jane and Tommy Tippetoe—the Mouse

TOMMY TIPPETOE was a little brown mouse that lived behind the wall of the kitchen cupboard in Mary Jane's house. Mary Jane's mother scolded Tommy Tippetoe often, especially when he would eat a big piece out of the cake, or nibble the cheese. But he always kept coming around. One day Mary Jane's mother said to Tommie Tippetoe; "Now, listen to me. You and I are going to be very bad friends if you don't turn over a new leaf, and quit bothering folks. Why can't you behave yourself?" Tommy got pretty red in the face, and he curled his tail up. But finally he said, "I'll tell you what I'll do. You give me a can of that delicious Mary Jane Syrup, all for myself, and I'll take it away out in the woods, and won't ever bother you again." And Mary Jane's Mother did, and he went away. So everybody is happy now. And they have Mary Jane Syrup with their waffles, pancakes and corn bread and bread and butter every day. And sometimes Mary Jane and the girls have the greatest fun making taffy, and the most delicious candy you ever tasted with Mary Jane Syrup.

BANJO WIZARD PLAYS HERE AT GUN CLUB BALL

The Singer-Smith orchestra of Fort Worth will furnish the music tomorrow night at the Gun club ball in the Gholson lobby. This announcement alone signifies to dance lovers that this will be a brilliant affair, for these colored boys have raised melody to the nth power. One of them especially is noted as a banjo wizard. This orchestra has for several years furnished the music for the Tee Pee company's annual ball at Thurber.

Other arrangements insure the ball being the most brilliant social function Ranger has yet seen.

RANGER GOING AFTER HOTEL MEN'S MEETING NOW ON AT GALVESTON

Having obtained the Texas Hotel Clerks' convention for Ranger next year, F. D. McClure of the Gholson and Manager Peters of the Chamber of Commerce, today moved on to Galveston, where they will attempt to corral the Southern Hotel Keepers' association.

To McClure goes the credit for landing the "greeters" in our midst in 1922. He was under the impression that the selection of the next meeting place was made on Wednesday. It came on Tuesday, so Peters was a day late, but McClure plunged in and landed it by himself. If they land the Hotel Keepers also, it will mean that Ranger will be thronged with visitors for five days.

The "greeters" will be the third big convention for Ranger, the first being the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the second the State Trap Tournament in June of this year.

ANOTHER BIG WELL IS IN AT CRYSTAL FALLS

Special to the Times. CRYSTAL FALLS, April 7.—Another large producer has been added to the Crystal Falls pool with the drilling in today of the Ball No. 2 well of the Roxana company, three and one-half miles south of this city, striking the pay at 3,355 feet. This being the same sand as the big Guaranty Oil & Gas company's No. 1 gusher of which it is an offset.

The sand has been drilled a depth of nine feet and is now making 700 barrels by the gauge. Indications are that it will rival the big Guaranty when completed.

DRILLING IS ACTIVE NEAR CRYSTAL FALLS

Special to the Times. CRYSTAL FALLS, April 7.—As a result of the bringing in of the Brown & Co., Inc., No. 1 well on the R. Brown tract, four miles east of Crystal Falls, an active drilling campaign in this section is now under way. This well, the first to reach the pay in a race with nine others, is now reported as a 200-barrel producer with indications of an increase.

Watched with great interest by oil men, due to the fact the location lays north of the Clear Fork of the Brazos, which has heretofore been looked upon as a break, the well bore out the expectations of the Brown company, who have great confidence in this field.

Others drilling on the lease are the Harry Taylor organization of Breck- enridge, 110 acres at a depth of 2,600 feet, the Breck-Brazos syndicate, seventy acres with a depth of 900 feet, the Eliasville Pool syndicate, thirty acres, spudding in, and Walton & Dodson syndicate, thirty acres, spudding in. There are a number of other leases in this vicinity, held by Breckenridge interests, and all of which will be spudded in shortly.

U. S. SAVINGS BIGGEST BUT SMALL PER CENT OF SAVERS AMERICANS

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 7.—Despite the fact that 28.9 per cent of the world's savings are in this country and that the average depositor in the United States has a greater sum to his credit than his European neighbor, only 8 per cent of the total number of the world's savers are Americans.

Authority for this statement is the Savings Banks association of the state of New York which has made an extensive investigation of savings banks throughout the world. In proportion to population, said a statement issued today, a number of foreign countries exceed the United States in numbers of depositors.

"European people, through centuries of struggle for mere existence," said Dr. H. H. Wheaton, executive manager of the association, "have been trained to the most rigid economy, while Americans have found life a comparatively easy matter. The average American family, until quite recently, made its expenditures on the plan: 'pay expenses first and save what's left'—if there is anything."

Dr. Wheaton said that in France one out of every five inhabitants has a savings account. In his opinion, the economy of the French people has been their protection against the "death throsts of centuries."
