ADMIRAL SIMS SUMS CHARGES AGAINST NAVY

"Responsibility for Failures" Rests on Department, He Says.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Admiral Sims today presented the senate investigating committee with thirteen specific counts of his indictment charging the navy department with mistakes and costly delays. He said the criticisms were not aimed at any individual but that "responsibility for the situation rests upon the navy department as an organization."

"Despite the fact that the war had been going on nearly three years and that our entry had been imminent since February, 1917, the vessels of the navy were not ready for war when the United States entered it," he stated.

He declared that he was not insensible to the "splendid work of the navy department" but his statements were directed almost entirely to the pointing out of defects in the administration of the navy department since the first few months of the war.

Sims charged that "the first few months after America entered the war were critical ones for the allied cause, due to enemy submarines, and that the critical condition was made clear to the navy department within a few days after the entry of the country in the war, and repeatedly afterwards by cable and letters, supported by independent advices from the American ambassador at London and Mr. Hoover."

WORLD LEADERS ON FLOOR WITH MAPS AT PEACE PARLEY

LONDON, March 18.—Paul Mantoux, who was official interpreter to the peace conference in Paris and who is now director of the political section of the secretariat of the League of Nations, has given the public a glimpse at the lighter side of the "Big Four" at work.

"Mr. Lloyd George," he said, "sat in a large comfortable arm chair by the fireside, and beside him was M. Clemenceau in another armchair. President Wilson sat on their left facing a window and I was at the other end of a long table with Signor Orlando at my elbow. Conversation was often very friendly and informal and sometimes when some unknown place was mentioned, a large map was brought in and, much to my delight, I had the privilege of seeing those four great men crawling upon the floor."

"We had our moments of relaxation," he continued, "and when the council was waiting for some document, the Big Four told stories. President Wilson was then brilliant, and had a fund of amusing anecdotes, which were always much enjoyed."

TO FLEE FROM REDS

NOVOROSSISK, Russia, March 18.—Fifty thousand refugees from all parts of southern Russia have been camping in the streets of Novorossisk for several weeks waiting for transportation to take them across the Black sea to a place of safety. Most of them are families of officers and leaders of the army of Denikin. All the resources of the American Red Cross mission to South Russia have been employed in extending relief to the refugees.

Every shelter of any description has been crowded with humanity. Idle factory buildings, grain elevators and rooms used as offices during the day have been filled with refugees at night.

Thousands have spent their days walking the streets and at nightfall have spread their blankets and scant covering upon the pavement to sleep. Hospitals have been filled to overflowing and medical supplies have run low while thousands of cases of typhus develop every day. Each morning found hundreds of dead in the streets.

TEXAS EGGS LARGER THAN EVER BEFORE

Special to The Times.
BRADY, March 18.—McCulloch has just shipped out its third car of eggs in thirty days. Eggs this year are one-third larger than for any previous year, according to egg dealers. The last car shipped out was the heaviest loaded of the three, containing 417 cases holding 30 dozen each, or in exact number, 1,512,000 eggs. Each of the two previous cars contained over 400 cases of eggs, or 12,000 dozen to the car, making a grand total of 450,000 eggs shipped from the county in the last thirty days. The eggs were all laid when they left here.

C. OF C. SPEEDS HIGHWAY NORTH TO RICH POOLS

Ranger's road north to the Stephens county line and the road linking up that highway to the system which Stephens county has under way, is the most important spoke in the wheel reaching out from Ranger, directors of the Chamber of Commerce agreed Wednesday, and the plans of the committee already assuring the underwriting of its immediate construction were approved.

Dr. R. H. Hodges, president of the chamber, and P. Learned, chairman of the Good Roads committee, have completed a reconnaissance of the territory and arranged for a meeting in Ranger of Stephens county officials to arrange for the simultaneous construction of the two ends of the highway.

Curtis Hancock, secretary of the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce; B. S. Walker, president of the First National bank; Cliff Caldwell, commissioner of the southeast district; Jack Witt, county highway engineer; County Judge J. W. Darden; C. O. Hamlin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and G. O. Bateman, attorney, will be guests of the Ranger chamber at an early date, to arrange for co-operation.

Mr. Learned reported that the county commission's attitude favored placing the roads to serve best the different localities and that hard and fast lines of the pre-election map are not binding.

The plan for the immediate construction of the road most needed, the commissioners to assure payment by county warrants, was suggested then. A survey of the feeling of those benefiting here brought unanimous endorsement. Four Ranger banks have agreed to underwrite the project, Manager Peters reported.

Stephens county officials have agreed to help push construction on their part of the road, which will be in to Necessity and by way of the Caddo highway, to Breckenridge.

Surveys for four roads are complete and the engineering forces of G. E. Ehrenborg are working on the Pleasant Grove road, Mr. Learned reported.

Engineers Echels and Witt will confer with the Stephens county officials coming to Ranger.

Finley Bros., who were recently awarded the contract for grubbing the county highway from Ranger east to the Thurber road, will begin work at once, it is reported here. Preliminary surveys have been made and grade surveys will soon be completed.

The road will follow the course of the Strawn road to the edge of Erwin Heights addition, and will then head east along the north edge of Erwin Heights. It will cross a deep canyon about two miles east of town and run on an air line to the Thurber road, a distance of five miles.

Work on the Thurber road was begun by the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company and the road put in good shape from Thurber to a point several miles this side of the Eastland county line. Bonds were voted by Eastland county about this time.

The T. P. company stopped work on the road, with the unwritten agreement that the road would be completed into Ranger by the county.

This work was never done and the amount of the bond issue was not expended. The money is now being used by the county to start work on the strip of road from here to the place where the T. P. company stopped work.

Finley Bros. were awarded the grubbing contract over three competitors, their bid being much below the nearest rival. They have operated extensively over Texas and make a specialty of grubbing work.

PRESIDENT OF POLAND ELECTED BY ASSEMBLY

WARSAW, March 18.—The president of the Polish republic is to be elected by the national assembly which is to consist of two houses. This was decided recently by the constitutional commission of the Polish diet which has in hand the task of framing the constitution of the new state. Under the present arrangement, which has been in effect about a year, the Polish assembly consists of but the one house—the diet having about 325 members. The two houses as provided under the constitution in the making are to be known as the diet and senate.

COLLECTOR E. A. RINGOLD GIVEN WATCH BY BOARD

As an appreciation of services rendered, the school board of the Ranger Independent School district, of which John M. Gholson is president, has presented to E. A. Ringold, city assessor and tax collector, a gold watch, handsomely engraved. Collecting school taxes is not a part of Mr. Ringold's duties, but he undertook to collect the tax for this district. On a ten million dollar valuation he has almost a 100 per cent collection.

TROOPS HUNT FOR BOMBS IN RUINS OF ULSTER BARRACKS

Armed and steel-helmeted troops are here seen searching in the ruins of the Pallytrain police barracks, County Monaghan, Ireland, for bombs. Many were found. More than 150 were taken and the Sinn Feiners attacked the police barracks at 2 a. m. and fought for three hours until the barracks and an adjoining grocery store had been blown up and the police had surrendered.

BUILDER FAN CHOSE NITRO FOR ITS PEP

Dales Mayes, carpenter in the employ of J. B. Moore & Co., now building the Baptist church, Thursday morning called at the Times office and collected the $25 fine him as winner of the title contest for best name for the Ranger baseball club. Mr. Mayes was the first to submit "Nitros," the winning handle.

Of course, Mr. Mayes like most of the others who sent in the 627 names which were considered by the judges, is a thorough fan. The chances are that he will be out among the enthusiasts who cheer the Nitros on to victory many times in the coming season.

"I thought if they wanted action, Nitro would give it to 'em," is his explanation of the hunch for the name. The judges concurred with him.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE LAW PROVES SUCCESS

AUSTIN, March 18.—Statistics upon the working of the Texas suspended sentence law, recently gathered by F. C. Weinert, candidate for senator and author of the bill creating the law, shows that only 1.9 per cent of those convicted and given suspended sentences have subsequently been convicted of another felony.

Mr. Weinert compares this percentage with 12.5 per cent of the men now in penitentiaries who, he says, had served previous terms.

In 98 counties, which do not include those containing large towns, and which failed to respond to Mr. Weinert's request for data, 1,555 sentences were suspended since the law became effective in 1911, he says. Of these, 38 have been rescinded and thirty have received a second sentence.

Figures furnished by R. M. Johnson, chairman of the state prison commission, Mr. Weinert says, shows that 330 of the 2,737 inmates of the penal institutions have served a previous term. Of these 330, one man is serving his sixth sentence, four their fifth terms, twenty their fourth, forty-nine their third and 256 are doing a second term.

From 1911 to the end of 1919, convicts sent for a second term are said to have numbered 1,083; for a third term, 189; fourth or fifth terms, forty-two. This makes a total of 1,314 who had not been reformed by serving time in prison, Mr. Weinert said.

HAGAMAN REFINING CO. ELECTS 1920 OFFICERS

The Hagaman Refining Company has elected officers and directors for the ensuing year. No changes were made, all past officers and directors being retained.

M. H. Hagaman is president; G. A. Clements, vice president and general manager, and R. D. Lavery, secretary.

In attendance at the meeting were D. H. Signs of Warren, Pa., and J. A. Wood of Augusta, Kan. Mr. Wood is connected with the Bridgeport Tool Works of Ranger. Both men are on the directorate of the Hagaman company.

TAG TO PAY FOR LEGION'S NEW QUARTERS

Ranger Legioners will meet Thursday night for the first time in their new quarters, above the Bachelor hotel on Austin street, hear the report from the tag day committee, and watch two likely youngsters—Tommy Fisher and Young Arnold—put on a snappy bout as an after-piece to the regular business meeting.

Fort Worth scrap fans need be told nothing of Fisher and Arnold, who are fast workers and have won themselves places in the approval of squared circle fans. Roy Hawes, who arranged the bout, will referee.

Members of the legion band will meet at the Legion hall at 6:30 p. m. from there to the T. & P. station, and will play on Main street in connection with the tag day work. The help of musicians who are not legion members is solicited.

W. T. Cunningham, secretary of the Legion bureau, is in charge of the tag day work and has for helpers A. R. Sansom, Max Lukon and J. I. Donahue. Mrs. R. H. Hansford is co-operating with Misses Mildred Burton and Jeanne Roberts.

Funds will be used in paying for the new Legion quarters.

Pink Boll Worm May Cause Embargo on Texas Cotton

By Associated Press.
AUSTIN, March 18.—Governor Hobby is considering calling a special session of the legislature to provide more adequate regulations to control the pink boll worm in Texas. The secretary of agriculture has written to state authorities that a government quarantine against the movement of cotton and cotton seed from Texas probably would be declared unless efforts were made to control the spread of the pest.

The department of agriculture has recommended that Texas establish non-cotton zones and provide compensation for the planters for net losses resulting. A tax on the product was suggested to raise the compensation money.

GERMAN WORK LOSING PURCHASING POWER ABROAD

By Associated Press.
BREMEN, Germany, March 18.—President Cramer of the Bremen cotton exchange, says he believes the time is not far distant when it will be utterly impossible for Germans to buy commodities abroad with German marks. In a conference with Berlin government officials he said: "Until recently we have been able to buy American cotton with American dollars that we picked up in nearby neutral countries at the best possible rate of exchange. We must not cease buying cotton so long as the means remains at our disposal, for the German cotton industry is at present operating to the extent of 30 per cent of its capacity. Of every two bales of cotton we import, only one must be used to clothe our people; the other must be converted into finished products, the sale of which abroad will provide us with means to pay for both bales."

REPRESENTATIVE'S SON SHOT IN TRIANGLE CASE

AUSTIN, March 18.—C. L. Reeves, son of representative L. C. Reeves, of nation, twelve superdeadnights, six Sherman, was shot through the shoulder great ball crusers, aggregating 655,400 in the home of Dr. Elton Perry, Reeves tons are under construction. They carry will recover, very is under $500 bond 152 sixteen-inch rifles and twenty-four on a charge of attempt to murder. Reeves fourteen-inch rifles with electric drive said that "family trouble" was the cause engines.

WATER EXPERT TO ADVISE ON CITY'S SUPPLY

Ranger's need for a water system that will be an adequate protection against long sieges of dry weather and will be an inducement to industries which cannot locate here unless water is assured them, was considered by the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting Wednesday and it was decided to call Mayor John B. Hawley into consultation as to the proper solution of the question.

Major Hawley, president of the General Construction Company, was consulting engineer in the Lake Worth project, conceded to be one of the best engineering solutions of a water question for a large city; he was consulting engineer for the Fort Worth & Denver railroad in water supply in dry territory. With the American army overseas, Major Hawley solved questions of water supply and sanitation for cantonments as large as Ranger.

Water wells, which would be the most attractive supply, from the jury standpoint, were considered and wells at present in use in the field were considered.

It was decided that the question was imperative and that the services of an expert were necessary to determine what method was best.

ALASKA'S TRADE LARGEST PER CAPITA POPULATION

By Associated Press.
JUNEAU, Alaska, March 18.—John W. Troy, territorial collector of customs, says that Alaska's trade with the United States and foreign countries in 1919 was, perhaps, the largest per capita of population than that of any other section of the world. The territory's imports and exports for the year amounted to $109,652,339, Mr. Troy reports. This was a decrease from $27,306,793 as compared with the previous year.

The balance of trade in favor of Alaska was $31,000,000 or about $1,000 for each white person in the territory. Decrease in the shipment of gold in Alaska was declared to be "the really distressing feature of the year's business." This was attributed to abnormally high cost of mining gold without corresponding increase in its value. The net loss in population during the previous two years was stopped and there was a net gain of 371.

BURIED UNDER TON OF CEMENT BLOCKS; LIVES

International News Service.
PONCA CITY, Okla.—Marvin H. Williams, a cement buyer, had a narrow escape from death here the other day when he was buried under a ton of concrete blocks when a derrick cable broke.

Williams' escape is believed to be due to the fact that he was standing under a beam which broke the fall of the big sixty-pound blocks.

He was considerably bruised, but suffered no broken bones.

UNITED STATES NAVY MORE NAVAL VESSELS THAN ANY OTHER NATION

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 18.—Experts say that the United States is building more warship tonnage than any other nation. Twelve superdeadnights, six Sherman, was shot through the shoulder great ball crusers, aggregating 655,400 in the home of Dr. Elton Perry, Reeves tons are under construction. They carry will recover, very is under $500 bond 152 sixteen-inch rifles and twenty-four on a charge of attempt to murder. Reeves fourteen-inch rifles with electric drive said that "family trouble" was the cause engines.

Czar's Sister Lives in Box Car, Works Among Refugees

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Grand Duchess Olga, sister of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, has been found by the Red Cross living in a box car near Novorossisk, in south Russia, it is announced. She is said to be one of three survivors of the house of Romanoff. She was found "trolling among the refugees from the territory recently conquered by the Bolsheviks, giving such assistance as she could, although in rags herself and grateful for what food and clothing she could find."

Allied Occupation of Constantinople Continues Quietly

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 18.—The second day of the inter-allied occupation of Constantinople passed quietly, the Turks co-operating in keeping order. Only small detachments of allied soldiers were visible on the streets and about the public buildings.

Pretty Girls Vow Not to Wed Until Fund is Raised

CHICAGO.—Six pretty young women, members of the Baptist church, have taken a solemn vow to remain single until the Chicago branch of the church raises its quota of the $100,000,000 fund the Baptists are campaigning for.

The vow taken by the girls was: "We will devote all our energy and attention to the work of raising the $100,000,000 fund, and will forego courtship, marriage and frivolity until the Northern Baptist convention raises the money."

SWEDISH PRINCE GOES TO HONDURAS TO STUDY

STOCKHOLM, March 18.—Prince William of Sweden, second son of the king, some time ago left Stockholm accompanied by four of his friends, for Honduras. He intends to spend about a year in studying its geography and ethnography.

Prince William is a very interesting personality. He was brought up on the sea, joining the Swedish navy as a cadet when only 12 years of age. His tutors had strict instructions that no consideration should be shown him because of his royal birth, that he should be made to work just as though he were a plain every day boy.

The sailor prince is a poet, a thorough sportsman and as a golfer has scarcely his equal in Sweden.

Forty Miles of Road Building in Scurry

SNYDER, March 18.—Forty miles of new highways are being built in Scurry county at a cost of over $100,000. W. T. Thompson has the contract for building twenty-two miles of it from Snyder to the southeast boundary. He is marshaling his forces now for the work. Saunders brothers have the contract for the highway from Snyder northeast. This is one of the most important stretches of highway now being built, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Garza county is contemplating building improved highways to connect with the Scurry county roads.

MINNESOTA SENDS STATE DELEGATES WITHOUT INSTRUCTIONS

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 18.—Returns from 84 of 60 Minnesota Republican party conventions, held Wednesday, show that fifty conventions will send instructed delegates to the district convention Friday and the state convention Saturday. Twenty-seven delegates will be instructed for Wood, five counties for owden and two delegates for Johnson.

STAMFORD HIGH SCHOOL FILLS TEACHERS' PLACES

STAMFORD, March 18.—Miss Lilla Penick has been elected to fill a vacancy in the high school faculty caused by the resignation of one of the teachers. Miss Penick will have charge of the department of mathematics in high school.

Mrs. Coy Upshaw has been elected to take charge of the fifth grade work for the remainder of the year.

CLOTHING MANUFACTURERS GIVE FIRST WAGE BOOST

LONDON, March 18.—An agreement has been signed by the Wholesale Clothing Manufacturers Federation of Great Britain and the trade union representatives by which minimum wages are increased by 25 per cent for men and 300 per cent for women operatives.

This agreement is the first of its kind in the clothing industry.

INCOME TAX REPORTS SHOW MANY CHICAGOANS IN MILLIONAIRE CLASS

CHICAGO, March 18.—Incomes of a million dollars or more for 1919 were reported by 731 individuals and corporations in the Chicago district, it is announced. Thirty-one Chicagoans are added to the ranks of those with million dollar incomes.

RADICAL RISE MAY FOLLOW KAPP REGIME

Both Factions Fear Communists May Attack Berlin.

Germany has cast off the Kapp regime, but advices indicate that she is facing the extreme peril of a wave of radicalism.

Armed forces are leaving Berlin and the presence of Gustav Noske, Ebert minister, seems to indicate that the constitutional government intends to resume control immediately.

Ebert's chief of staff has been named commander of the government forces in Berlin.

Both factions indicate that they fear a radical uprising.

Kap is said to have resigned to enable the country to fight Bolshevism.

The Ebert troops are not in full control and an attack on Berlin by the Reds is feared.

Casualties High.

LONDON, March 18.—Rumors are current in Berlin that Dr. Kapp has committed suicide, according to an Amsterdam Exchange Telegraph dispatch. The reports were received at Amsterdam by telephone from Berlin.

It is expected that the casualties resulting from the rise and fall of the Kapp regime will total many hundreds killed. Dortmund suffered the most, with over a hundred dead. Dresden lost fifty killed. Disorders at Dusseldorf and Halle also were serious.

The Dortmund dispatch says that the workmen strengthened their forces when additional regulars arrived yesterday and heavy fighting occurred. The workmen finally overcame the regulars, disarming them. There was no plundering and the town, after the skirmish, was quiet.

Americans Report.

BERLIN, March 18.—Americans here have informed Washington that the Kapp regime has failed and the whole danger now lies in a communist uprising. The communists are reported to be marching to Berlin and other cities, but it is said that if the next few hours pass quietly, the crisis may be avoided.

PARIS, March 18.—Official Berlin advices say that the streets were filled with crowds in an ugly humor Wednesday night. The military appeared panicky as to the disposition of many Baltic troops which are said to have joined the independent socialists and who are reported 12,000 strong.

Assembly in Session.

STUTTGART, March 18.—Two hundred and fifty members of the national assembly met today. The military stood guard in front of the building. No disorders occurred.

AMSTERDAM, March 18.

General von Luettwitz, troop commander supporting the Kapp regime, has left Berlin with his forces, according to Berlin telephone messages.

Ebert in Berlin.

LONDON, March 18.—President Ebert arrived in Berlin Wednesday night, according to a telephone message received from a newspaper correspondent in Amsterdam. He has ordered the imperial court to bring action against the leaders of the revolution—Dr. Kapp, General von Luettwitz, Gottlieb von Jagow, Admiral Trotha and Captain Erhardt—the correspondent says.

COBLENZ, March 18.

Americans attending the fair at Leipzig have telegraphed to help them flee, as they consider their lives in danger. A train has been sent to bring them away.

SPRIGHTLY ARE THE STYLES IN MEN'S CLOTHING FOR SPRING

Whether the designers of haberdashery are particularly prophetic or whether men will indulge with greater abandon in the still higher prices of haberdashery, is a question that this season will develop. Silk shirts at $18, $20 and $25 must be considered a luxury and the lavish use of these is problematical. For several years past, men have worn their silk shirts for business purposes as well as dress regardless of the fact that they do not stand the wear or the onslaught of the laundry with the same resistance as the less costly shirt fabrics. But will they continue the practice with shirts at $20, or thereabouts, a throw?

The shirt makers seem to be playing safe. They seem to feel a strong doubt that with men, "price is no object." The Mrs. knows no restraint in her penchant to dress up to the minute, but men think twice when the purse is strenuously invaded for their apparel outlay.

So the shirt makers have gone a long way to meet the men who are more conservative in expenditure. To effect the real elegance of the silk shirt—its shimmering radiance, its soft richness and the impressive colorings that silk textures offer, there is launched for this spring an endless variety of novelty textures that evidence the glossiness of silk, very handsome pattern weaving and fabrics that are less costly and more durable.

Never before has such progress in the beautifying of fiber silks been offered as is evidenced in the spring lines. Many of these shirts are so handsome that it takes a close examination to distinguish them from the pure silks.

You'll see a lot of these fine fiber silk and mercerized weaves worn by mighty well dressed men, and you'll like them. Even such shirts will bring from $6 to $10 this spring.

Then there are many other novelty weaves that will appeal in beauty of patternings, richness of cloths, durability and price moderation. There are fine madras cords, chambrays, oxfords, chevots, polins and percales.

A very prominent note in men's shirt fashions for spring are the madras and percale shirts with stiff collars to match. Broadway has taken to these with unmistakable favor and they are exceedingly dressy.

Flannel shirts, too, are becoming more popular and the rich French and English cloths in these are considered very smart.

In the silk shirts, the baby broadcloths and the Jersey knit weaves are the finest, most costly and most popular, as men find the lighter thread silks, taffetas, pongees and Jap silks are too fragile to warrant an expenditure of the price they command.

In neckwear, prices, too, have taken a bound, but this is one item that men will indulge themselves with in order to get the richer and finer effects to be found in the more elegant silks. These ties are of imported silks and satins from Italy, Switzerland, France and England and the Far East.

The pattern effects in these are in heavily-woven cords, embroidered effects of printed floral and all-over designs.

Mogadors and grenadines are also very rich and tasty and present very smart pattern and color effects. Foulards in floral effects, conventional figures and polka dots are good and will find many adherents among those who want the more moderate priced scarfs. Knit and crocheted ties continue fashionable. These are in hand-framed effects with embroidered figures, cross bars or heather mixtures. Plain color knit ties are also very dressy in the darker tones of which plain black is considered exceedingly smart.

In hosiery there is not so much in the way of novelty revealed. Very smart dressers who formerly felt that their social position or reputation for good dressing confined them to silks now find that fine cashmere, camelshair and imported worsteds are highly fashionable and just as expensive as the silks. These are in small two-tones or heather mixture effects and solid colors.

There are not quite so many of the fine silk accordions and embroidered effects shown as in recent seasons, but socks of self or contrasting colors are still very smart.

In the plain silks and lies, but few new colors are launched. Some of the more recent shades still hold over; such as sand, mustard, oyster grey, Kelly and hunter's green, coco brown, cordovan and mahogany, champagne, burgundy and amethyst.

In gloves we still have the same popular finishes. Cape, Arabian-mocha, suede, buck and chamois in standard colors or off tones from these. Spear and embroidered backs are the only ornamentation, with pearl buttons slightly favored over the old-time clasps.

Paumias are still in plain or pattern effects of madras, percales, crepes, chambrays, soisette, fiber silks and pure silks in military models.

In stiff and soft collars, the new shades are but slight variations of the old, with adequate variety to meet your personal taste. Some self figured effects in white, stiff collars are noted.

Underwear, belts, handkerchiefs and walking sticks present no radical change for the season.

The increased importation of foreign hats since the war has a great influence in the more dashing styling of men's hats than ever before. Not that our American hats have not been adequate to all requirements of quality and impressiveness, but the introduction of foreign hats seems to have whetted the desire for richer effects and the American designers have been quick to respond.

The hats from France, Italy, England and other foreign makers assert their attractions more from a standpoint of fabric elegance rather than from any novelty note in the styling. The hats employed are rich in color tones, soft in textures and lustrous in their silky finishes. However, the novelty mixtures that are most popular are of our own domestic make and these have contributed much to the beautifying of men's hats.

There is not quite as much dash in the spring shapes as heretofore. The keynote is more toward sedate proportions. In the soft hats as well as in the derbies, it is noted that the brims are narrower and the crowns lower almost to a degree of squatness, because there is a decided "curl-up" to the brims that emphasizes this effect.

The broad army sombrero and cavalry effects are not as high in the vogue this season, but what the hats lack in dash is more than compensated for in the texture tones.

Rich, solid colors in soft hats dominate the styles and next to these are the two-tone scratch mixtures, silk finished and blended mixtures. Beavers and velours are primarily fall and winter hats so but few are noticed in the spring styles.

In the derbies, the shades are as described above and but few colored derbies are shown. Some grays and fans are noted in Homburg shapes for older men.

Wool hats in patterned fabrics of tweeds and cassimeres are shown to some degree. These are in small patternings and heather mixtures. For the present, they are more popular abroad than over here and the best effects are of English make.

In caps, there is nothing radically new. The soft styles are more popular than the full crown effects of a year ago.

MARSHAL HAIG SPECIAL ENVOY

By Associated Press

LONDON, March 18.—Field Marshal Earl Haig is spoken of as the prospective special envoy to represent King George at the coronation of Ferdinand I as King of greater Rumania, at Alba Julia in Transylvania, in the coming spring.

King Ferdinand is said to be the only living monarch to be twice crowned.

BRITISH CONTROL WORLD'S OIL SUPPLY, EXPERT SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Great Britain now has a strangle hold on the world's oil supply, the senate commerce committee was told by Judson C. Welliver, testifying as an oil authority. He declared that through the Royal Dutch company, England now controls oil developments and supply in Canada, Australia, South Russia, Mesopotamia, Mexico, South and Central America and the Philippines.

In answer to the perennial pessimist who says that the day of active growth of Ranger is passing, and who has said that for the last nine months, in the face of a growth that has centered the interest of the state and nation upon the city, are Rangers' bank statements, Ranger business, Ranger's income tax report, and the activities of sound business men who cannot be deterred by the whines of the feeble hearted.

When Romulus and Remus looked over the seven hills and decided that they had found the proper site for the city of Rome, doubtless there were those who viewed the first steps taken by the sons of the wolf and with shaking heads murmured, "It'll never make a town." Wherever men of courage and foresight step out into undeveloped places to make the commercial and industrial centers, there will be the timid and spiritless few, adding their minor complaints to the song of progress.

Ranger bank statements, in a period marked by decreases in almost every other leading city in the state, showed a gain of twelve percent in Texas' seventh city. Those bank statements, compared with the city's nearest competitor, show a leadership of nearly $3,000,000 in a total of around $9,000,000.

Ranger's income tax returns, now incomplete, promise to set the city apart from all others of the state in its per capita wealth.

One of the leading business men of the city in the shortest month of the year—twenty-nine days and five of them Sundays—found that his business in that time was the greatest of any month since its start, and his has been at the front in its line since the city was a city.

Another who a few days ago was singing the doleful refrain which has to do with grass growing in the streets and bats roosting wherever they may, recently remarked, "Ranger is getting better every day," and questioned as to what brought the change of heart, admitted that his pessimism was based on ignorance and that his change on talks with leaders in business here.

As long as new centers thrive and men are blessed with the pioneer spirit that sends them to barren places to make new developments, new homes and a new generation of city and nation builders, just that long will their efforts be depreciated by the fibreless camp followers.

But no city grows because of the mourners.

No country is stronger through them.

Progress scorns them.

The builders accomplish their ends, crystallize their dreams into cities and their plans into tangible permanency, despite the doleful noise of the congenial pessimist.

ITALIANS RAISE BARS AGAINST WOMEN OFFICIALS

By Associated Press

ROME, March 18.—Italian women have been barred from fifty positions, mostly in state employ, by an official announcement just issued by the government. This order excludes women from appointment to the diplomatic and consular service and from becoming members of the council of state or of several courts.

No reason is given for the declaration of this ban, but Italian observers point out that evidently the authorities believe it none too soon to raise a barrier against the possible aspirations of Italian women for public offices.

Professor Teresa Labriola, daughter of the distinguished professor of sociology, has lately obtained the right to practice law before the courts and, after a struggle of more than seven years, Dr. Adelina Pertici has secured permission to perform the functions of a notary. These innovations have alarmed Italians who hold conservative views on the appearance of women in public life, and to this is attributed in part the new bar against women set up by the government.

WORLD UNION TAILORS' PLAN IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 18.—The needle is mightier than the pen.

A tailor "league of nations" for the elimination of European "sweatshops" and the promulgation of child labor laws throughout the world, is now being formed, according to President Benjamin Schlesinger of the International Ladies Garment Workers union. He has just returned from a three months' tour of European capitals where he conferred with garment union leaders on the organization of a world-wide international.

"The 'league' will be formally organized at a conference at Copenhagen in June, to which tailors and garment makers of every civilized country will be invited," said President Schlesinger. "The convention at Amsterdam last month laid plans for the world union. Its efforts will be toward solving the financial difficulties of local unions in the nations which were devastated by the world war."

Modern machinery and large well-ventilated factories are practically unknown in the garment industry abroad, he said. "I found horrible sweatshops in Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Warsaw. Our 'league' will halt this menace to the worker," he continued. "The most expensive garments coming from Paris are made by children and old women, either in a tiny hovel of a home or in a garret or cellar factory."

Touching on the international political situation, he said Germany would be compelled to recognize the Soviet government of Russia in defiance of the allies if she wished to save herself from complete amputation. "Germany faces a total collapse unless she is permitted to trade with Russia," he continued. "Poland has the same situation on a lesser scale."

GOVERNMENT TROUBADORS

By Associated Press

HONOLULU, March 18.—Bands of Hawaiians with ukuleles and guitars soon may roam the streets of Honolulu, singing sweet serenades under hotel windows to tourists, according to the Honolulu Tourist bureau, which has adopted the idea of bands of strolling Hawaiian troubadors as one step toward the rehabilitation of Hawaiian music and customs.

RANGER GIRLS ACT AS MODELS FASHION SHOW

Plans which have been under way for the past week towards making the fashion show of Ranger one of the best in West Texas have been completed, and everything will be in readiness to receive the many visitors who will attend the opening Thursday evening, one of the leading stores has made arrangements to stage a style show at the Liberty theater in connection with the picture, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," which the management of the theater has secured for this occasion.

This store has secured the services of a number of Ranger's most popular young ladies for models. This feature is entirely new for Ranger and has created a great deal of feminine interest. All the gowns worn by the young women will be of spring and summer fashions of the very latest creations.

It is intimated that there will be several features in addition to the picture and fashion show that will be of interest to the men, but then—that is not to be known until Thursday evening.

All the merchants in Ranger are showing keen appreciation of the worth of the fashion show and are striving to make the 1920 show an event long to be remembered.

STUDENTS CLUB SURVEYS LABOR STATUS, AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 18.—Statistics concerning the labor condition in Austin are being compiled by the applied economics club, advanced students in economics and sociology and students of the home economics department of the University of Texas.

Questionnaires were prepared and filled out by the students concerning each institution in Austin. These included the nationality of the labor force, sex and age, conditions of work, number of employees who lost time through accidents, number of accidents resulting in deaths or permanent injury, sanitary conditions, employers' welfare work, and wages, according to whether the laborer is white, negro or Mexican.

A survey of the living conditions includes housing, fire insurance, house insurance, general environment, garbage disposal, service employed and bath room facilities. One class in home economics is preparing clothing budgets, also careful calculations of the kind of garments and the members of the family for which they are purchased. Health, church, club, society donations, education, recreation and savings are all considered.

APARTMENTS, 1, 2 or 3-rooms all new and modern. No. 414 Cherry.

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING rooms, $10 per week. No. 502 So. Marston, Ohio Rooms.

ONE TWO-ROOM furnished apartment for rent. No. 522 Strawn road.

Practically all of the large firms of Austin have been covered, and 120 families have been visited, 24 of which were Mexicans and 24 negroes. When the data have been gathered the results of the survey will be published in pamphlet form.

SILVER ORE FOUND NEAR SNYDER; TEST NOW BEING MADE

Special to The Times. SNYDER, March 18.—Surveyor W. L. Gross of this place believes he has found a valuable silver mine near Snyder. Specimens of the ore have been sent to El Paso for analysis. Information to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce says that the ore may assay from $10 to $20 a ton. According to this information the silver was found in an abandoned well near Snyder. Its location is unknown to anyone but Mr. Gross.

BRECKENRIDGE UNUSUAL IN HAVING WIRE STATION

Special to The Times. BRECKENRIDGE, March 18.—Breckenridge, though not on a railroad, enjoys the distinction of being a telegraph station of the Western Union. It is seldom that an inland town or city has telegraphic connection. The city also has electric lights, gas for lights and fuel, a telephone system and other public utilities.

SNYDER GINS HANDLE 10,470 BALES TO MARCH 10

Special to The Times. SNYDER, March 18.—Total ginnings here up to March 10 were 10,470 bales, and three days a week have been set for ginning for the remainder of the season. Snyder will get probably 600 bales more to fill out 11,000 for the season. According to a communication recently sent to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the average of cotton will be increased this year and Snyder may expect to gin 15,000 bales this fall.

Shoe Treatments Are Toned Down To Sedateness

They've simplified your selection in men's shoes for spring. A profusion of novelty such as we saw a season or so ago in vari-colored tops and tinted effects is conspicuous only by its absence. Whatever novelty is noted in this direction is seen in a few models of kid shoes that show black lovers with tan or dark brown uppers, but for the most part, one-tone shoes are the order of the day and of these tan leads by a big percentage.

These tan shoes are shown in many colors of the brown shade, ranging almost from saffron to a dark chocolate.

The most popular tones, however, are the coco-browns, mahogany, cordovan, russet and Havana shades.

In the black shoes, the gun metal finish leads and next to these the glossy kid and vic finishes.

Narrow English toes and medium ball shaped toes are more favored among young men than the broad toe effects that are demanded by older men who prefer to sacrifice some of the style element to secure more of comfort.

Wing tips are decidedly fashionable. The real distinctive departure of the season which started to assert itself to some slight degree the end of the winter, is the "rogus" style. This is a heavier appearing shoe that has been worn for spring in some time, but its heaviness in appearance is more of an impression than a fact.

This shoe is a full modelled last with considerable fancy detailing acquired by ornamentation of perforations on toe, vamp and counters.

The styles in oxfords follow the same general styles as prescribed for the high shoes.

Spats in tan, gray, fawn, brown and buck shades will be worn more this spring than in recent seasons.

By JACK VELOCK,

International News Sporting Editor.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Ed Barrow and his Red Sox are going to make a "Ruthless" attack when the curtain goes up on the American League pennant race in April. But just how far they will get is a question.

As this article is being written the Bostonese—stripped of most of the great stars who made baseball history in the Hub during the palmy days of Red Sox champions—present a perfectly formed question mark to the observer who attempts to peer into their chances.

The future of the Barrowites is just about as uncertain as the life of a bootlegger these days. Even the Boston experts admit that it is impossible at the present time to say just how far Barrow may line up his athletes at the opening game or what chance the Sox have of upholding Boston traditions.

Consensus of opinion among baseball experts at large is that Boston's prospects are dismal. Having disposed of such stars of other days as Ruth, Lewis, Shore, Leonard, Mays and Gardner, President Frazee has only a shadow of the once great Red Sox to put into the pennant race this spring. And according to Dame Rumor Frazee may not inject a club into the race at all. The Old Dame whispers that the club may be sold before April 1.

Manager Barrow's position as a

"Baseball Columbus" in search of Ruths and other popular species of players to plug up the thin places in the Boston line-up is certainly not enviable. And Frazee either can not or will not help out. Having cleaned up a handsome profit in the Ruth and Mays deals, Frazee, it appears, is content to let the Sox struggle along as best they can with a mediocre line-up. And even though he tried to bolster his team he would find the plucking difficult, for his brother magnates in both leagues are lion and hold a place there, unless clinging to all talent and turning deaf ears to pleas and offers for trades and sales.

The players who have assembled at Hot Springs, Ark., in answer to Manager Barrow's call will have to fight their way into the first division and hold a place there, unless present indications are dead wrong.

The Boston infield will probably be base; Eddie Foster, the veteran ex-Washington infielder at second; Oscar Vitt, good fielder but uncertain hitter, covering third, and Everett Scott, regular shortstop for several seasons, playing that position.

With Wally Schang threatening to retire the Hubbites are uncertain of just how much catching talent will be available. Schang is still a great catcher and he is badly needed in the Boston line-up. In addition the Sox have Walters, who was secured from the Yanks in the Mays deal.

The outfield will, in all probability, be made up of Harry Hooper, Bill Lamar and Mike Menosky, the latter secured from the Washington club. Hooper is going back, though still rated as a good player. Lamar is weak with the bludgeon and Menosky is a hitter of uncertain prospects.

The pitching staff isn't the worst in the league. Barrow has a good young prospect in Waite Hoyt, the Brooklyn phenom. He secured a capable southpaw when he got Harry Harper from Washington and with Joseph Joe Bush and Dumont to shoulder their share of the work in the box, Barrow should be able to get good pitching out of his staff.

The Red Sox of other days, depended on fast fielding and speed on the bases as much as anything else to put them across. They used to be a great little ball club at the art of playing for and making one run and then holding the opposition off. But the 1920 Sox haven't much hitting power and they will not be a marvelous fielding club by a long shot.

At this time the Sox look like a club that will be lucky to finish fourth in the American League race, with a generous accent on the word lucky.

The baseball fans will soon be able to get a better line on the Boston outfit. Barrow's athletes have a long schedule of exhibition games to play with the Giants, and though the New York club holds forth little promise as a gem for consistency this spring, fandom can read the reports, watch the box scores and size up the Sox pretty accurately before the curtain goes up. The Red Sox-Giant schedule is as follows:

March 20, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Fort Worth; March 21, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Dallas; March 22, Giants vs. Red Sox at Wichita Falls; March 23, Giants at Dallas, Red Sox at Fort Worth; March 24, Giants vs. Red Sox at Austin; March 25 and 26, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Houston; March 27 and 28, Giants vs. Red Sox, at New Orleans; March 29, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Mobile; March 30, Giants vs. Red Sox at Greenville, Miss.; March 31, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Jackson, Tenn.; April 2, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Nashville; April 3, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Knoxville; April 4, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Chattanooga; April 5, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Asheville, N. C.; April 6, Giants vs. Red Sox at Winston-Salem, N. C.; April 7, Giants vs. Rochester, at Goldsboro, N. C.; Red Sox vs. Buffalo at Raleigh, N. C.; April 8, Giants vs. Red Sox at Norfolk; April 9, Giants vs. Red Sox at Reading; April 10 and 11, Giants vs. Red Sox, at Polo Grounds.

ANHANDLE FARM LAND BRINGS $293.75 AN ACRE

HEREFORD, March 18.—Eighty acres of Panhandle land which was sold a few days ago brought $23,500, or $293.75 an acre, says figures furnished the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This is said to be the highest price ever paid for Panhandle lands. The land is an irrigated tract in the northeastern portion of Tereford, owned by D. L. McDonald. The purchaser, S. L. Harmon, came from Richmond, W. Va.

Identically the same land "back in the states" sells for $800 an acre, Mr. Harmon says. "A little publicity on these valuable shallow water lands will stimulate an enormous influx of settlers, he declares.

COTTON PICKER AVERAGES $11.55 PER DAY, DUBLIN

DUBLIN, March 18.—In 93 days Charles A. Jones of this place picked a total of 39,992 pounds of cotton for which he received $1,074.45, or an average daily picking wage of $11.55. The cotton was picked in McCulloch, Fisher and Stonewall counties. The record picking for a day was 905 pounds. In bales, he picked twenty-six. This is one of the few remarkable cotton picking records made in West Texas during 1919-20, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Jones began picking September 29 and finished March 14.

POLAND AGAIN WEDS THE SEA USING A RING

WARSAW, March 18.—Tossing of a wedding ring into the ocean marked ceremonies at Puck, or Putzig, to celebrate the reuniting of Poland to the sea, an event of which all of Poland had dreamed for many years. Polish troops in their northward march on their own soil, as provided under the Treaty of Versailles, had reached the coastline of the Baltic and begun to make themselves at home in the stretch of land, northwest of Danzig. This brought Poland to salt water again, after an absence of 148 years.

While Polish ships are to have use of wharves at Danzig, which is to be a free port under the League of Nations, the new republic is desirous of a port which it may call its very own, and it is with this end in view that the Polish government has settled upon Puck, as it is spelled in Polish, as a site for the port where in the future Poland may have absolutely free commercial access to the sea under the jurisdiction of its own officials.

It was at the sea-side near Puck where formal exercises marking Poland's reunion to the sea were celebrated the other day and it was a great event. Thousands from all over Poland assembled in holiday attire to commemorate the historical occurrence, and also the recovery of Polish land which went to Prussia after Poland's first dismemberment by the three conquerors, Prussia, Russia and Austria, in 1772.

General Haller, commander in chief of the Polish army in France during the great war and under whom thousands of Polish-Americans fought, headed the military expedition which entered Puck to reclaim in the name of President Pilsudski, Poland's gateway to the seven seas. The towns, and all the villages hereabouts, were decorated with thousands of flags and streamers of the Polish national colors, in white and scarlet, which were flying in these parts for the first time in a century and a half.

There was a race of the detachments of Polish soldiers to actually reach the coast and to be the first to dip a Polish flag into the waters of the Baltic.

Speaking at the exercises, General

Haller said that from that day henceforth the seas of the world were open to the Polish sailor and that the Polish seaman would be quick to make the best of it. Then, in accordance with an old Polish tradition, General Haller threw a gold ring into the ocean as a sign that Poland had been wedded to the sea, and forever.

Plans for a Polish navy are already under way.

LONE STAR.

Actor in "Too Much Johnson" Puts Over Hoax.
 Clarence Geldart who plays the role of "Johnson" in Bryant Washburn's new screen farce, "Too Much Johnson," at the Lone Star theater this week, also answers to the moniker of "Your Majesty." It all started with the visit of King Albert of the Belgians to the motion picture colony at Los Angeles during his recent tour, some practical jokers informed a prominent clubman of the city that he was to be the host at a private dinner for the king and that the monarch would arrive by airplane. Geldart made himself up as King Albert and flew to the scene of the banquet. The repast was duly served and so perfect was the make-up and acting of Geldart that not until the next morning did the host realize that he had been hoaxed. There is now a section of Los Angeles in which it is not safe for Clarence Geldart to venture.

HIPPODROME.

"Great Reno" Vaudeville Feature.
 The Hippodrome theater was filled to standing room last night to see Great Reno do his sensational coffin trick. The casket which had been secured from a leading undertaking firm here was used to perform the mysterious feat of black art. A committee from the audience was on the stage, who locked Reno in record time, which is a feat that a great many of us would like to be able to do sooner or later. Reno also performed several other interesting mysterious tricks which greatly amused the audience.
 Reno does not claim any supernatural power but does claim that everything is performed by mental means. However, his spiritual demonstrations are convincing. The "Great Reno" will be here all the rest of the week with the "Cheer-up Girls" musical comedy company, with a change nightly.

EAST SIDE

Select pictures offers "The Belle of New York," with Marion Davies, at the East Side theatre today. "The Belle of New York" is the story of Violet Gray, daughter of Amos Gray, the inventor, and of Jack Bronson, son of William Bronson, one of the richest men in the Middle West. Bronson steals an invention which Gray has spent his whole life perfecting and causes his death. Violet goes to the city, where she is employed as a singer in a cabaret. She is called the belle of New York. She later meets and falls in love with Jack, ignorant of the fact that he is the son of Bronson. When she is informed who her lover is she joins the Salvation Army. She again meets Jack and having pardoned his father she makes him happy by promising to be his wife.

LAMB.

Last Chance to See Farnum as Valjean.
 The last opportunity to see William Farnum's superb work in Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" will be today, as the Fox production so widely discussed will be shown at the Lamb theater for the last time. The appeal of the picture is tremendous, for it has a grandeur that touches the spectator in a way far beyond the reach of the average photoplay.
 Victor Hugo has been adjudged the greatest poet since Shakespeare. His genius was diverse, and among his works is every form of literary creation. "Les Miserables" is always placed at the head of his achievements. It is a classic in schools, and leading educators have recommended the use of the photodrama in conjunction with the classroom.
 An extension of the run here, though sought, is impossible because of other scheduled bookings.

American Shot By Disgruntled Mexican Worker

LAREDO, March 18.—Investigation of the death of Ray A. Corcoran, an American, who was shot and killed by a clerk in his office at the Santa Gertrudis mine at Pachuca, Mexico, of which he was superintendent, has been made by a representative of Excelsior, a Mexico City newspaper.
 The slayer, named Ibarra, was incensed because he had been discharged from the company's employ, the newspaper says, after he had taken a leave of absence in the face of instructions to continue at work.

 "Some fellow workmen sympathized with him," the newspaper continues, "and apparently gave him bad advice, for he returned to the office and shot Corcoran through the back."
 Ibarra was arrested and is held at the Pachuca jail. The Excelsior said there "is much indignation over the affair, and it is generally believed Ibarra should receive the extreme penalty as a warning against other noxious elements of society."
 Corcoran's wife was in Laredo at the time he was shot. The body later was brought here for interment.
 Mrs. Mary A. Sullivan, who has been connected with the police department in New York City, for the past nine years, is a shrewd detective and it has been her duty to run down faking fortune tellers which infest New York city.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS GATHER IN PITTSBURGH

International News Service.
 PITTSBURGH.—Prominent electrical engineers from all over the United States gathered here today to discuss important subjects relating to large use of electric power, particularly as applied to the operation of steam railroads. The question of generation and distribution of large blocks of electric power will be thoroughly discussed.
 The men were taken on an inspection trip this morning through the East Pittsburgh works of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, where the largest electric engine in the world, in the last stages of completion, was inspected.

"The Woman Thou Gavest Me" at the Liberty Today

The problems of love and marriage are world-old, but it is doubtless true that they have never been as acute as they are in this area. Modern civilization with its new fields for women, has doubtless contributed to this unrest, of which woman's entrance into politics is but one phase. In "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," Hall Caine presented a vivid picture, in which he attacked the sham of modern society.

FRANCE ORDERS TANKER.

CHESTER, Pa., March 18.—A shipbuilding company of this city has received a French order for an 8,000-ton tank steamship. This is believed to be the first order for a ship to be placed by France in this country since the signing of the armistice.

WHITTIER CLUB IN REALISTIC PRODUCTION OF 'SNOWBOUND'

CHICAGO.—The next time the Whittier club here essays to give a realistic production of the poet's pastoral, "Snowbound," it is going to do so in a nice work theatre, with "props" atop stage furnishing the snow and other realism.
 Twenty-five members of the club started for a picturesque spot several miles from Chicago to enact the pastoral. But half way there a regular Illinois blizzard hit their train and forced it to halt. The club members spent the rest of the day and the entire night huddled around the lone stove in the train. Two venturesome ones who started out to dig their way for relief were promptly lost and floundered about in the snowdrifts until dawn, when a rescue snowplow arrived and hauled everyone back to town.
 Post Whittier's reference to "melting in Christian charity" was not referred to by the adventurers on returning to food and warmth. All they said was: "Never again!"

ICE AGE SLOWLY RETURNING IS BELIEF OF GEOLOGIST

BAR HARBOR, Me.—That the ice age is slowly returning and that the temperate zone is again entering a period of frigid conditions is the belief expressed by Thomas Patton, a philosopher, geologist and student of prehistoric conditions.
 Mr. Patton points with concern to the past few winters in Maine. The gold of December and January in Maine has been unprecedented in official records. Excess precipitation has not been lacking with the heaviest rainfall for years, and the snowfall is of greater depth than ever before.

BRECKENRIDGE PLANS INCINERATING PLANT

BRECKENRIDGE, March 18.—Breckenridge contemplates at an early date the installation of a complete incinerating plant. Breckenridge sanitary conditions have been remarked as among the best to be found in oil field towns. Special committees have investigated conditions and everything to make the city an ideal place from a sanitary standpoint has been done.

PURCELL'S "FAERY QUEEN" REVIVED AT CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., March 18.—Purcell's opera, "The Faery Queen," has been revived at the New theater here with great success, after a lapse of more than two centuries.
 The first and only performance of this old English master's work was given in 1693. The score was afterwards lost, and in 1701 an advertisement appeared in the London Gazette offering a reward for its discovery, but without result. Exactly 200 years later it was found in a dusty cupboard at the Royal Academy of Music among a bundle of manuscripts bequeathed to that institution.

UNREST SOLVED BY EDUCATION SAYS COLLEGIAN

By Associated Press
 DALLAS, March 18.—Education is the solution of present industrial unrest, Dr. Ernest Martin Hopkins, president of Dartmouth university, told a Dallas audience recently.

The working man, who performs the smaller tasks in production, needs to be educated to know what becomes of his product, Dr. Hopkins declared; the worker contributes his labor day after day, all routine tasks, but cannot see that he is "doing anything or getting anywhere," and is restless.

"It is the function of our colleges to give men the ambition for production as well as the equipment," the speaker said. "We are gradually coming to have this attitude toward the work of educational institutions. Ten years ago only about 25 per cent of our graduates entered the business world. Now at least 75 per cent become business men.

"The president of a large concern in Boston told me recently that his company preferred technical men in staff positions where there was need to handle only technical matters, but demanded college men in administrative positions; preferring the man with a broader conception of the world's affairs to handle executive matters.

"Business men now believe what we could not get them to believe several years ago, that a course in business administration is not sufficient training for a man who wishes to make good in the financial world. They are coming to depend more and more on our college men."

Dr. Hopkins is said to be the first business man to be made president of Dartmouth university.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE YOU SHOULD HAVE THE BEST

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, and at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify, no other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overacting kidneys, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; you mention the Ranger Times. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Mrs. Daley Gains Seventeen Pounds Taking Tanlac—Thought Case Was Hopeless.

"They said I couldn't live more than six months longer, but I'm still here and feeling fine," said Mrs. Mary Daley, of 530 Oak St., San Francisco, Cal.

"I have actually gained seventeen pounds since I began taking Tanlac," she continued, "and to look at me one wouldn't think that for several months I was unable to do my housework. I suffered from gastritis all the time, would-loat terribly and always felt miserable. I had no appetite and felt nauseated all the time. I was so nervous the least little noise would startle me and it was almost impossible to get a good night's sleep. I had night sweats and was so run down and weak that the slightest exertion would almost exhaust me completely. I lost weight dreadfully and was told that I couldn't live six months at the rate I was then going down hill.

"Nothing helped me until I began taking Tanlac and I honestly believe it is the finest medicine in the world, for it has made me just like a new person. My appetite is splendid and I never have the slightest indigestion any more any I never enjoyed such fine and refreshing sleep in my life as I do now. My house has eight rooms and I do all the work with ease. Tanlac has been a god-send to me and I would be selfish not to tell others about it."

Mrs. A. J. Stasoy, who with her husband, has built up a million dollar music business in five years, will shortly invade Europe with a million copies of popular songs published by their own firm. This is probably the first time a woman has undertaken to stampede Europe with a deluge of popular American songs.

By Hall Caine Directed by Hugh Ford Scenario by Beulah Marie Dix

A PARAMOUNT-ARTCRAFT SPECIAL FEATURING

Katherine MacDonald

"THE WOMAN THOU GAVEST ME"

Bad as his own life had been, he considered he had a right to treat men in this way because he was a man and I was a woman.

I knew that what had long been predestined had happened, that the wondrous new birth, the joyous mystery which comes to every happy woman in the world, had come at last to me. I was in love. I was in love with Martin Conrad. Yet I was married, and to love another than my husband was sin.

"Mary... Mary... I love you!" I could hear no more. I could not think or pray or resist any longer. Before I knew what I was doing I was dropping my head on Martin's breast and he with a cry of joy was gathering me in his arms.

Oh, you good women, who are happy in the love that guards you, shields you, shelters you, wraps you round and keeps you pure and true—tread lightly over the prostrate soul of your sister in her hour of trial and fierce temptation.

Then came the great miracle. My child awoke and began to cry. It was a faint cry, oh! so thin and weak, but it went thundering and thundering through me. A mighty torrent of love swept over me. It was motherhood.

It seemed to me that, while God in his gracious mercy was giving me my child to comfort and console me, to make me a better woman than I had been before, man, with his false and cruel morality, was trying to use it as a whip to punish me.

Seizing him by the white stock at his throat, Martin thrashed him as he would have thrashed a vicious ape. Thrashed him while he fumed and foamed, and cursed and swore. Thrashed him while he cried for help, and then yelled with pain and whined for mercy. Then he flung him to the ground, bruised in every bone.

Wife in Name Only

"THE WOMAN THOU GAVEST ME"

Think what marriage means to a woman—a young girl especially. It means the beginning of a new life, the setting out into an unknown world on a voyage from which there can be no return.

Do you know that the man to whom you are going to marry your daughter is a profligate and a reprobate? If you do know this, you are deliberately selling her, body and soul, to gratify your rotten aspirations.

Thus in my youth, my helplessness, my ignorance and my inexperience, I became engaged to the man who had found and courted me. Love had not spoken to me, sex was still asleep in me, and my marriage was arranged before my deeper nature knew what was being done.

A married widow! The worst condition in the world for a woman, especially if she is young and attractive and subject to temptations.

Something held me to the spot on which I stood. I caught the sound of rustling skirts and found myself listening to voices in my husband's bedroom. There were two voices, one a man's, loud and reckless, the other a woman's, soft and cautious. No need to tell myself whose voices they were!

When a woman has been forced into a loveless marriage, and it is crushing the very soul out of her, and the iron law will not permit her to escape from it, what crime does she commit if she flees to a man to whom she is married in her heart?

Once in a hundred years there comes a great passion—Dante and Beatrice, Petrarch and Laura. The woman meets the right man too late. What a tragedy! What a daily and hourly crucifixion! Unless she is prepared to renounce the law, reject society, and live her own life with the man of her heart.

Married! The record signed. The words at the altar spoken: The world informed that this man and this woman were one till their lives should end. And it was all a ghastly lie! He, a wastrel, traded his name for a wife, and money to spend on his paramour. She, a sweet and innocent girl, was sold like a slave to feed her father's lust for power. Sold to a man she loathed! Yet she was glowing with youth, thirsting for love and life. Then came the inevitable—another man, finer, nobler than any she had known. Was she wrong? See "The Woman Thou Gavest Me." See Hall Caine's startling romance of a woman's soul. As a novel, it stirred two continents and has been translated into every civilized tongue. As a picture, it is Hugh Ford's masterpiece of direction—a stupendous Paramount-Artcraft Special; pulsing with emotion; vivid with action; filled with sensational scenes in England, India, Africa and the Polar regions of the South. Played by a brilliant cast, including Katherine MacDonald, Theodore Roberts, Milton Sills, Fritz Brunette and Jack Holt. If you have read the book you'll surely see the picture. If you haven't read the book—you must see the picture. Come!

Department Heads to Make Survey of Sanitary Condition

A thorough clean-up of the city of Ranger has been decided on by department heads of the city. Chief of Police Parrish, Sanitary Inspector Stowe and Fire Chief Ed Smith will detail men from their departments to aid in the work. Chief Parrish stated Thursday a sanitary survey of the city will be made by the three departments, in order to ascertain just what is to be done, and vigorous measures instituted to see that instructions are carried out.

Chief Smith, who has reconsidered his resignation, will help in the work. All persons having trash on their premises will be asked to have it hauled off in private wagons, if the sanitary company's wagons cannot get around, and the trash will be taken to the city incinerator.

The co-operation of the public is asked in the undertaking to improve sanitary conditions.

CONFERENCE HELD ON REMOVAL MAIN ST. OBSTRUCTIONS

A committee from the Ranger Business and Workingmen's club will discuss with Mayor Hagaman Thursday afternoon the question of removing obstructions from Main street. At a meeting of the club Tuesday night, the body went on record as favoring the removal of construction houses, and a petition to the mayor was drawn up.

Mr. Walsh, of Walsh & Burney, contractors for two buildings under construction on Main street, stated Wednesday that his firm would be glad to remove their construction houses from the street as soon as the cement stored there is used up and the flooring of the ground floor completed.

J. C. WALLACE BUILDS STRAWN WAGON YARD

J. C. Wallace, a property owner and teaming contractor of this city, is building a wagon yard on the Strawn road in Young addition. The yard will be finished in about thirty days, and will accommodate a large number of teams. A feed house will be built in connection, and feed and water furnished for teams.

Plans include separate stables for sick animals, corrals for the use of persons buying and selling livestock, sheds for the protection of vehicles, a bunkhouse for men, and all features of the most modern wagon yards.

A number of corrals have already been built and horses are stabled in the yard.

Mr. Wallace has lived in Eastland county thirteen years and is well known here. His wagon yard will be the first one operated at Ranger in a long time.

Stolen Automobile Recovered Quickly Thru Police Force

Dr. T. J. Ernest had a seven-passenger Buick automobile stolen from the streets of Ranger Tuesday night. According to the local police department the chief of police of Fort Worth notified local officers Wednesday that the car was found there in possession of Roger McCormick and J. C. Ingram, and the men were placed under arrest. Dr. Ernest and Desk Sergeant Reynolds of the Ranger force are in Fort Worth investigating the matter.

Mrs. Anette A. Adams, United States district attorney at San Francisco, will have charge of the prosecution of heavy-weight champion Jack Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, both of whom are charged with evasion of the selective draft service law.

Red Cross Report for Quarter Shows Work in Ranger

The American Red Cross held its regular meeting in room 209, Marston building, Wednesday afternoon. Only matters of routine business came up for discussion. A resolution was passed asking that the report of the Ranger branch for January be published. The report follows:

Twenty-three cases brought forward from December; 10 class A allotment cases handled, 6 closed; 1 class B allotment case handled, 1 closed; 7 class B allotment cases handled, 5 closed; 18 vocational cases handled, 2 closed; 15 government compensation cases handled, none closed; 2 cases of lost discharge handled, 2 closed; 2 bonus cases handled, 2 closed; 2 Second Liberty bond cases handled, none closed; 1 Third Liberty bond case handled, none closed; 4 family cases handled, 3 closed; 3 insurance cases handled, none closed; 1 case of tracing check deposited with Y. M. C. A., 1 closed; 8 information cases; 3 cases of tracing missing men, none found; 101 cases on books, Feb. 1; 78 cases for month of January alone; 38 cases handled in Ranger office; 40 cases handled through mails; 123 letters written on Ranger cases.

The explanation is made by Mrs. Philip Pettit, executive secretary of this district, that insurance, compensation, vocational and allotment cases require from six to twelve weeks to get through government hands. This explains the high percentage of these classes of cases remaining unclosed.

Mrs. L. M. Watson of Hayden, Col., created quite a sensation in Chicago recently by taking with her on her shopping trips a pet coyote.

New Vaudeville Bill Submitted for Approval of City

Big time vaudeville has practically been assured for Ranger through the management of the Opera House. Last Thursday and Friday the Opera House was filled for every performance to the limit and many people were turned away unable to obtain seats. This demand for better vaudeville led the management to proceed with plans whereby Ranger will have high amusement every day instead of two days a week as contracted for first. It is expected that arrangements will be completed by next Monday which will assure at least two complete changes each week of big time vaudeville.

For today and tomorrow five acts of high class entertainment with the usual picture program will be staged, afternoon and evening. Among the most notable acts which will be here are "Kaufman and Lillian," in songs of yesterday and today, and pretty "Duhls Pearl" in new songs and stories. Good vaudeville is surely a treat for the people here and the attendance today and tomorrow will prove whether or not it is an assured thing.

COMPANY WILL USE OCHRE DEPOSITS OF CALF CREEK COUNTRY

STAMFORD, March 18.—Organization of a $250,000 stock company for the exploitation of the ochre deposits of the Calf Creek territory near Menard is rapidly being consummated, according to information received by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

It is the purpose of the company to erect a number of buildings for a manufacturing and activities leading up to the use of the ochre for paint making. For many years he experimented with the strange deposits. A few years ago the fine ochre was used in the making of an improvised paint with which a number of houses in McCulloch county were painted. These houses appear in the pristine beauty though the ravages of weather have been extraordinary.

C. W. Tucker, whose death occurred a few weeks ago, gets credit for the discovery and activities leading up to the use of the ochre for paint making. For many years he experimented with the strange deposits. A few years ago the fine ochre was used in the making of an improvised paint with which a number of houses in McCulloch county were painted. These houses appear in the pristine beauty though the ravages of weather have been extraordinary.

STREET GULLIES TO BE FILLED IN BY GAS AND WATER COS.

The Sammies Gas Corporation and the Ranger Waterworks Company, in their rush to keep ahead of the grading on Ranger streets, have left some of the roads filled with cross gullies which make travel over them difficult. Both companies have been reached through Manager Peters of the Chamber of Commerce, at the suggestion of Harry Maddren, general superintendent of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, and both will take steps to follow the immediate filling of the trenches with grading to leave the streets as smooth as they found them.

Manly Models Are Prominent In Boys Wear

59 SUP 20

There is less difference between boys' suit models and young men's models than in previous seasons. This is due to the fact that the young men's models have become more youthful and in the effort to put spirit into the garments, the designers have encroached upon many of the style details that in the past were characteristic of boys' suits.

Yoke backs, panels, knife pleats and novelty pockets are shown with equal prominence in both boys and young men's styles and now that young men have for the time being discarded the belted coats, we see less of them in the boys' models.

Another meeting point between the boys' and young men's styles is in the fact that boys' models are more manly. The lad of today, with his physical training, athletic propensities, and even military practices, in school, is developing more prematurely the athletic figure. Accordingly, alert designers are making their models more chesty, the waist lines more accentuated and the shoulders more erect. Hence what you see in young men's models are pretty apt to find their parallels in the boys' styles.

School boys have never been so much addicted to two coats or even raincoats, but the leather coats have sounded a new note in styling and the lighter weights in these will be worn considerably this spring by both the boys and girls.

In the little fellows' styles, the ages from two and one-half to eight years, much in the way of novelty modeling is introduced, both in the wool suits and in the wash suits the military influence is being eclipsed by other models. Officers' styles and aviator models are not shown with any prominence.

The middie models alone remain, and these are more of the French middie effect than our own "Jackie" styles. Russian, Eton and Oliver Twist styles are very popular, as are also the regulation Norfolks. Many of the models have the waists and the trousers of contrasting materials; wash waists with cloth, corduroy or belt trousers of the button-on sort are shown in the very dressy styles.

These little fellows are wearing plainer hats than before. Bowl shapes, "rah rah" and middie styles are the most in vogue, with hardly any trimming.

For the older boys, the Fedora and telescope crush hats come next to the caps which lead all other styles for school boys. Wool pattern hats are also popular.

In shoes, shirts and neckwear, no marked innovations appear of sufficient consequence to justify special detailing here.

TEXAS U. S. REVENUE OVER $62,000,000

By Associated Press
DALLAS, March 18.—The internal revenue department in Texas collected in 1919 $62,000,000 for taxes. Forty millions of the total was from incomes.

In making this announcement here recently, A. S. Walker of Austin, collector of internal revenue, said he expected the total, when collections are complete, will equal the figures for 1918, notwithstanding reductions in tax rates for the year ending last Dec. 31. The tax reductions, he said, "would be offset by reason of the increased volume of business, larger profits and greater incomes to individuals."

We welcome criticism and suggestions. We want to make the Times

SMALL FACTORIES ENCOURAGED, MEXICO

By Associated Press
GALVESTON, March 18.—All small factories and young industries operating in the federal district of Mexico have been exempted from taxation, according to advice received by Mead Fierro, Mexican consul at Galveston. The industrial laboratory conducted by the Mexican government will be enlarged to care for the increased work expected this year, Consul Fierro also was advised.

OIL STORAGE STARTED

GALVESTON, March 18.—Work of driving in for the foundation of the Mexican Petroleum corporation's huge storage tanks here is under way. Four tanks, having a combined capacity of 220,000 barrels, will be erected to care for cargoes of tankers plying between this port and the Tampico oil fields.

FATHER-SON BANQUET HELD AT EL PASO

EL PASO, March 18.—What is said to have been the first annual Mexican father-and-son banquet ever held in the United States was recently staged here. The speeches were in Spanish, but the cuisine was entirely in American, including two kinds of pie.

Mexican speakers urged emulation of the American spirit of comradeship between father and son.

The "Eagle," the new Curtiss ten-passenger bi-motored airplane, is to be exhibited as the first flying machine built mainly by women. Practically all of the work on this airplane was done by the hands of women.

Boudoir Fantasies
By Dorothy Durant

What young woman person could resist the lovely lingerie, and the other million and one dainty boudoir novelties shown her this spring in the shops. You, who are planning for that one big event of a lifetime, that necessitates the complete trousseau, how beautifully simple the creator of lovely things has made your task! One glimpse is quite enough to convince you that this season was made a delightfully unusual one for you. Whether the "big event" is planned for tomorrow or for a time far distant, with the extensive selections before you, your problem fast begins to dwindle and before you realize it has been solved, and all is in readiness for the moment. In all garments the exquisite hand needlework, the exceptionally fine quality of the fabrics, dainty laces and hemstitched motifs contribute to their charm. The wisest shrews are paying special attention to the bride. They leave her nothing to wish for after choosing her bridal sets, so exquisitely dainty and so complete in every way.

To the average feminine mind, perhaps the silk lingerie in the delicate shades will always be the most interesting. The elaborately trimmed silk undergarments have given way to the desire for the more tailored ideas, which are made to fit the figure as though to special measurement. In the more tailored designs are pussy willow either trimmed with real Irish lace or insets in unusual patterns of fillet lace, and the Japanese satin, very new, very soft and very washable, feather stitched and made entirely by hand. This satin is lighter than the domestic variety, but has been found of excellent wearing quality. For the more frivolous taste, georgette crepe is favored. There is a particularly fairylike airiness in the blue georgette chemise, one of a three-piece set, hemstitched and simply but strikingly trimmed with French bow-knots of two-toned American Beauty and purple moire ribbon.

Even the more conservative stop to gasp at the displays of black and henna colored georgette underthings. Those with fastidious tastes will add immediately at least one piece of this fascinating new lingerie to their spring wardrobes. One set specially proves that black and daintiness can be synonymous. Every stitch is made by hand with silver thread. Black Valenciennes lace is combined with black georgette between which are rows of net puffings. Two-toned rose and lavender moire ribbon is run in and out through the garments and caught delightfully with the wee French flowers. Another unusual note in color is henna. A bridal set in that shade is particularly lovely and consists of chemise, night robe and negligee. The chemise and night robe are simply made by hand with a silver thread stitch, the only trimming being a grape design in henna velvet applique. The foundation of the negligee is velvet brocade on silver cloth, over which is a coat effect of georgette and on this steel beads are worked in elaborate design. The fish tail is beaded with a long steel-beaded tassel.

There are many who prefer the Philippine handmade lingerie, the new handkerchief linen underthings or the innumerable dainty cotton materials. The patient fingers of the Oriental needle-woman alone can produce the sheer loveliness of the Philippine hand-made lingerie. They have chosen the finest nainsook, and using this foundation, have wrought designs representing the traditions of generations, in the most delicately embroidered garments. What clever use the experienced needle-woman would have for handkerchief linen! The tailored styles are smartest in this material, with touches of the finest handwork, with just something about their simplicity that makes them altogether distinctive. A new soft cotton fabric in silk mull dimity in a cross bar drawn work design. This is used in the less expensive lingerie and can be easily laundered.

Like a comfortable friend is the dressing gown which awaits the return of its wearer after dinner, the opera or ball. This spring it is a dream of color and beauty. The return of frills, bows and furbelows is noticeable. Nowhere are they lovelier, nowhere are they more appropriate than on the diaphanous dressing gowns, breakfast coats and dainty negligees of the spring season. An extremely simple negligee is one of soft net over a slip of creamy satin, trimmed with areas of fine lace. All can you imagine anything more satisfying than a dainty breakfast coat of old rose in that new silk Amure Rousseau, similar to a taffeta but more durable? The coat is cut away on either side of the front and is trimmed around the bottom and the elbow sleeves with puffed ruffles of georgette. A double band of georgette forms the surplus collar, caught at the left side with a cluster of silk fruit, under which is run a sash of georgette, tassel trimmed.

What adorable bits of ribbon and lace are the garters worn now! What an intimate, personal sort of gift a pair of these will be for the bride of the season and how easily made—a yard of ribbon-covered elastic, a frill of chantilly lace caught with a few French flowers, and they are ready for the trousseau of that particular friend. Then, there are the becoming trimmed boudoir hats so much in vogue now—fantasies of satin, lace and flowers—and the exquisitely dainty hair bands of Marigo lace, trimmed with two-toned moire ribbon and dainty French flowers. To match the negligee or robe are the boudoir slippers or mules in every conceivable color. Some of them are satin, in the softest of shades, two-toned or plain, and on the tips very often are applied the two-toned mule with an unusually black combination, there is the fashionably new gold or silver brocade on a black background.

"BILLY" NO LONGER PECKS AT SLIM SILK ANKLES

TOPEKA, Kansas, March 18.—No longer will "Billy," a game rooster belonging to a resident of North Topeka, engage in the pastime of pecking holes in the stockings of passersby.

After a number of complaints had been made about "the impudent bird," the police ordered the owner to keep him confined.

"Ladies complained that the rooster picked holes in their stockings," said the investigating officer. "As stockings are not very thick, but mighty high priced, the inference was that the complainants had suffered physical as well as financial injury."

The officer ascertained that "Billy" frequented the sidewalk and attacked pedestrians with spur and beak. Several women and children reported damaged garments.

Dr. Anna Weld of Rockford, Ill., and Prof. Leila Andrews of the University of Oklahoma, recently admitted to membership in the American College of Physicians, are the first women to be so honored by that body.

10,000-Acre Ranch in Castro County, Texas

Fine body of agricultural land situated 12 miles west of Happy, Texas, with good farms all around. Fenced and watered by five wells with reservoirs and drinking tubs. Good ranch house, granary, sheds and outhouses. Two small pastures. 75 acres sown in wheat. Two schools conveniently located.

Alfalfa Farm of 352 Acres in Randall County

Situated less than one mile south of the West Texas State Normal at Canyon, Texas. Has farm house, large barn and all necessary improvements. This will pay for itself in one good crop year.

10,000-Acre Paloduro Ranch in Randall County

Lies just west of Canyon and north of Umbarger, one of the most valuable and desirable little ranches on the Plains. It is subdivided into ten pastures. Three sets of good improvements. New $6,000 stucco dwelling in center of ranch; 200 acres in alfalfa and 400 to 600 acres best alfalfa land; 200 acres sown in wheat; 80 to 90 per cent of land can be cultivated. Palo Duro creek, a beautiful, never failing stream, runs six miles through this ranch with sufficient water to supply Amarillo to which it could be run by gravity flow. It is abundantly stocked with black bass and other fish. Its banks are dotted with shade trees.

40,000-Acre Ranch in Potter County

Situated 12 miles west of Amarillo, between the Rock Island and Fort Worth & D. C. Railways; 17,000 acres owned, balance leased; has well improved ranch headquarters; two other sets improvements on owned land and one on leased land; 1,000 acres in farms; 60 to 75 per cent of the land can be profitably cultivated; running streams and spring branches run all through ranch; near headquarters is a very fine reservoir of clear water covering about five acres; has cement dam 1,100 feet long, can draw off eight feet of water; is fed by spring water run in irrigating ditch through orchard and cement troughs in lots; abundantly stocked with Black Bass and Perch; fine boating as well as duck shooting.

30,000-Acre Ranch in Moore County

Situated 30 miles east of Channing, 50 miles north of Amarillo and 2 miles southeast of Dumas, the county seat; about 12 miles from the largest gas well in the world; already contracts to drill have been let much nearer; this is one of the prettiest and best improved ranches in the whole Panhandle; 23,680 acres owned, balance leased; abundant growth of Black Gramma grass and other grasses; beautiful running streams bordered by hay meadows at intervals; it will bear inspection and will please the eye of the most fastidious.

38,325 Acres in Donley and Hall County

Situated 6 miles southeast of Clarendon; 90 acres in alfalfa, and 30 to 40 per cent of ranch can be profitably cultivated; it is divided into 13 different pastures; two good headquarters with large barns, sliding doors, cement floors; good ranch house, spring house, and fish pond; good grass; fine shelter, well watered by running streams, wells and spring branches; it is conceded by those who know, that this is one of the best and best improved ranch properties in the Panhandle.

Several test wells are being drilled near all my holdings listed above and I have not sold the Oil and Gas rights on same.

MOTHER OF 27 RETAINS YOUTH WITH FAMILY

By International News Service.
BERLIN.—The old woman of nursery fame who lived in a shoe must look to her laurels. She has a rival. Frau Navoczny is her name. She lives in a three-room apartment in the east end of Berlin with no fewer than twenty-one children.

Frau Navoczny, who is of Polish origin, is a young looking woman of thirty-eight.

"Yes," she said, when I called on her, "I am the mother of Berlin's largest family. I don't look it? Well, I think being always surrounded by children keeps one young. You see, my eldest is only sixteen."

"Are you," said I, not understanding me.

"Triplets," replied the lady. "My family comprises three sets of triplets and four of twins. Then I have four others alive, but I have, unfortunately, lost six. Otherwise my family would number twenty-seven. Come and see how we live."

She led me to two adjoining rooms which are arranged as dormitories. In one of them six beds with scarlet coverlets are ranged along the walls. Three children sleep in each. The last twins, lusty infants of two years, have a cot in the parents' room, where the Benjamin of the family, aged four, also lies in a cradle.

"But how on earth do you manage to exist?" I asked.

"My husband has good work and allows me 200 marks a week ($50 at pre-war rates); five of the children also work and are able to contribute something, while quite a number of people who are interested in my little family are very kind in sending me useful things.

"Thank heaven, my children are healthy. I must admit that it is sometimes hard to feed the whole circle. Very often my husband can eat the week's ration of potatoes at one meal, and that means buying a lot at fancy prices. Meat? We have a nice stew on Sundays, regularly."

I remarked how pleasant it must be to see the whole family sitting down to its Sunday meal. Frau Navoczny laughed. "Don't you picture us all sitting around the table," she said.

"No; we eat in three parties. We used to take some of all areas in every party, but we found that a mischievous triplet or twin would sometimes secure two dinners at the expense of his brothers or sisters, so we now sit down by ages. But they eat a lot."

The rooms were spotlessly clean, and the nine children whom I saw during my visit looked well kept.

"Some people," said Frau Navoczny, as I took my leave, "express sympathy with me. They simply don't understand. I love my children and would not be without a single one of them. They are all good children, and I love them all alike, from the oldest to the youngest."

and a close fitting hat with a turned up brim.

For the younger set, turned up brims are the very thing, preferably ribbon hats faced with hump in sports colors. For dress-up affairs, a shade hat of georgette and straw with a poke bonnet effect charmingly frames a youthful face, and is made of gros-grain ribbon and trimmed with wook-en ba's. Where a floppy brimmed hat is becoming, a rough straw with a big bow atop and facing of georgette fulfills a promise of spring.

For party dresses and graduation, there are charming frocks of organly net, lace and chiffon. Wide lace flouncing makes up in pretty styles. Ruffles and sashes continue to be popular, the fluffier, the smarter the costume is. A sub-deb will enjoy a little printed voile, with organly collar and cuffs and a velvet ribbon sash.

Among the markedly unusual combinations, was a challis smock with a scalloped hem worn over taffeta-bloomers, this for a four-year-old. For an older sister, a lavender chambray school frock had its pockets and cuffs button-holed with khaki yarn and, oldest of all, a knitted khaki belt to match.

TEXAS COTTON EXPECTED TO BE 4,500,000 BALES

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, March 18.—With favorable climatic conditions and little interference from pests, the 1920 crop in Texas will approximate a yield of 4,500,000 bales, according to S. S. Fraser, secretary of the Texas Cotton Ginners' association. His estimate represents an increase of about thirty percent over the yield in 1919.

"The month of February has been a boon to Texas farmers," Mr. Fraser said, "and it is altogether due to their enterprise and industry that the land had been prepared in such a short time after the rainy season passed. Lots of oats were sown last month, but little corn was planted. However, many acres of corn are now being put into the ground."

"The corn and oat crops will be about ten days or two weeks late this year. In January it looked as though these crops would be delayed at least a month by the rainy weather."

Only in extreme West Texas are farmers still offering cotton to the ginners, according to Mr. Fraser.

SMART WEAR FOR WOMEN

Every garment we are showing carries a message of Spring. The fashions of the season show a desire for the beautiful, the youthful and the gaily expressed creations of joyful design to which the makers of this Spring's garments have responded with lavish use of dainty decorative handwork and delightful beauty in colorings and rich materials.

Our stock is new throughout and it will be our pleasure to show you these models of Spring Ready-to-Wear.

A Specialty Shop for Women 107 South Marston Street

One wonders why they say "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," as if the young man were the only one who felt thusly. There is with it an implication that he turns to thoughts of the young woman's fancy usually turns in the same direction, whether she be at ripe old age of four years or has acquired the stately dignity of ten.

And to fit her every mood and tense the spring fashions are offering her new costumes for every occasion—for play, for school, for parties, and all times between. Some prefer to express simplicity, others individuality, and still others are only interested in that which is practical.

For the attention of the latter are extremely smart new ideas in sailor blouses, with their crisp pleated skirts, for the school girl. An attractive dress in a tailored effect is a white blouse costume with a tucked front and a frill of pleats on its collar and cuffs. Its skirt is a dark plaid serge in pleats with a flat girle of the same material.

Where one especially wishes to express individuality, there are Jersey and Jap crepe smocks. These lend themselves well to hand embroidery in collars, and are widely varied in decoration. In fact, this season shows hand embroidery on crash, poplin and even on dotted swiss dresses.

If you are a "sub-deb" you will be much interested in a flesh-tinted voile smock, with embroidered sleeves, sashed with moire ribbon. Its little high neck is open and tied with cord.

What shows of the skirt is mainly an embroidered panel.

So much depends on the function you are about to attend when it comes to selecting a costume these days. A really appropriate toilette for the Young Ladies' Annual Spring Jump Rope and Skipping Contest is a serge school dress, covered by a practical and yet quaintly decorated pinafore showing a pink goose and a black cat rampant. On the other hand, if you want to feel correct at the semi-weekly tea party of your Kewpie dolls, you will naturally wear a net and lace pinafore, especially if it has a bunch of cherries on one shoulder and is tied with black velvet ribbons.

Gingham dresses are popular for year round wear. The combination of plaid and plain materials continues, with variations in their use. For the girls from four to six years, a happy thought for spring is a belted dress with a pleated frill for collar and cuffs. The yoke and sleeves are white with the skirt of gingham. Its narrow belt is run through the front of the skirt and knitted in the back. This young lady may enjoy wearing a sand colored coat of taffeta over it.

An air of grace in suits cut modishly to greet the Spring—

The appeal of the new suits for Spring days is irresistible to the feminine world, for this year finds new lines, and ideas that give style and charm to the fortunate wearers.

Twills, Tricotines and Jerseys are cut in dressy or on service tailored lines with flaring cuffs, rolling reverses or Tuxedo collars.

And the trimming is infinitely pleasing in its braided or embroidered patterns.

We urge you to see our exhibit, because it is one of the occasions when we aim to place before our customers authentic styles for the coming season.

A fascinating array of lovely undergarments and silk wear greet you at our special showing of the new modes for Spring and Summer wear. In fact we believe we are justified in saying we have the most complete line of silk wear in the city. Everything will be on display during the Fashion Show. We know they will please you.

A vanguard of Frocks that set the Mode for street wear—

Navy blue leads the frock colors, especially in street dresses of Tricotine or rustling Taffeta. Among the modes are youthful Etons in modified styles and tailored frocks with fly-away draperies at the hips.

Many models show the harem gathers at the hem and nearly all show the shorter lengths in sleeves.

Fine pleatings and embroidery complete the trimmings.

Never before have our stocks been more complete than this season finds them. We are going to show you beautiful creations from such leading tailors as Zirslep Lustig, Gold, Elize-Shuloff and many others. Special showing starts this evening.

Hats Seen in the Shops

-by Dorothy Durant-

What would spring mean without the one most important spring bonnet? Those who have not shopped early had best make hurried plans for a jaunty or two through the shops, before the final selection is made. For it will need great discrimination to make a choice from the fascinating array of riotous color.

Of course, one always says, "I want only a bit of toque, or something large and floppy—just awfully sarkling and unusual."

But whoever stops to think, when saying this, how much more time is spent in dressing one's head than in choosing a becoming frock or selecting shoes. Hats seem to be somewhat human, do they not? The average woman starts in her search determined to find among the shops that one dashing little hat—that seems somehow a part of her. However, her task will be far easier this season, for there are innumerable artistically made hats, unusually becoming, having just that touch of something which makes them altogether individual and desirable.

Perhaps the most striking note of the season is shown in the mysterious influence of the East. It seems that all the charm and mystery of Egypt has been embodied in the millinery, and this is evidenced by a drooping at the sides of small hats. This droop is accentuated by an ornament, a flower or feather, placed so that it hangs downward a bit and gives the effect of an ornament, such as is worn in the Egyptian headdress. This new type of hat is worn decidedly low on the forehead and far down over the ears showing very little of the hair, this making an attractive frame for the face. Such a hat is enticing in its simplicity.

Apparently all sorts of things are used for trimmings these days. For instance, a little imported model called the "Sphinx" is trimmed with three celluloid mummies of the smartest blue. Then what could be more unique than a Spanish comb as a head ornament? The shape on which it is used is quite small and soft in its Spanish effect, made of henna color draped maline, with a tiny roll brim the underside of which has an inch fringe of imitation tortoise shell straw, the straw facing the brim, with black being used in contrast on many of the colored felts, or delightful novelties of cellopham made in ears of corn, tiny roses or other flowers. Another unusual trimming for these models is raffa in the smartest sort of embroideries.

It is interesting to know that all sorts of hatpins are again being used, especially the long stick effects of jet and the arrow pin of the past season, which has not lost its prestige. Always connected with these are the new French veils—for what wonders can be done with an attractive pin stuck at just the right angle and a wonderfully chic veil!

The navy blue and tete de negre are perhaps the most favored shades and the chic length embroidered and dotted veils continue to take precedence over the somewhat newer floating lace effect. In the face veils the note of the season is chenille, not in the geometrically arranged dot only, but also in dots in scrolly designs and irregular patterns. Other veils combine two colors in embroidery, such as white stitching on black, and all patterns are all-over in effect. An enticing French veil is quite long and shallow, describing a partial semicircle, which is deeper at the center, going into points at the ends. This is worn so that it falls just below the mouth, with the ends drawn up on each side of the brim of the hat in a little rosette and the ends left hanging. This way of wearing a veil is interesting because the veil does not cover the back part of the brim or crown and merely acts as a drapery for the face.

HER GRANDMOTHER AND GRANDDAUGHTER ARE BOTH LIVING

Mrs. Reddington is the only woman in New York as far as is known, whose grandmother and granddaughter are both living. The former is eighty-seven and lives in Brooklyn; the latter is only a few days old.

A TEXAS FAMILY'S EXPERIENCE

Galveston, Texas:—"After the flood in 1900, all my family became rundown, due to exposure of being in the water, loss of sleep, etc. They were all feeling miserable and the only medicine they took was Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the use of this they were all restored to health and strength. "I always keep the 'Pleasant Pellets' in my home. They are an excellent regulator of the stomach, liver and bowels, or for bilious attacks. I can speak in the highest terms of all of Dr. Pierce's Medicines."—Mrs. J. W. Moss, 3013 Ave. K, Houston, Texas:—"All my life my liver has given me considerable trouble. I have suffered with sick-headaches and have had yellow blotches appear all over my body. At one time I was so bad with it that I lost all ambition to do my housework and was really 'all in' when 'Golden Medical Discovery' was recommended to me by a friend. I took six bottles of it, which made me feel like a different woman. I consider Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery the very best liver medicine I have ever known and have no hesitancy in recommending it to those afflicted with chronic liver ailments."—Mrs. C. A. Finn, 2214 Washington Ave. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of any of his medicines.
