

Joint Committee Will Adjust Back Rental Due Bank

A bill of $435 has been presented by the Farmers & Merchants State bank to the Chamber of Commerce for rental on office space which the chamber used jointly with the city commission from Aug. 15 to Dec. 15 of last year.

The offices in question are the director's room and an ante room in the bank. From the discussion in the commission meeting yesterday it developed that when the commission and the Chamber of Commerce moved into the rooms last year nothing was said concerning what the rental would be.

One adjustment was made at the meeting yesterday and a joint committee from the commission and Chamber of Commerce was appointed to confer with officials of the bank to try to make some adjustment of the matter.

The commission passed a motion allowing the owners of Bobo addition to the city to use city material to make a sewer extension through what is known as Bobo alley, provided they would pay for the labor of the extension themselves and dedicate the alley to the city.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Excited general selling brought a sensational smash in wheat prices today. The market opened eight to thirteen cents lower, December wheat selling 2.16 to 2.21 and March 2.21. Most of the selling is said to have resulted from country holders anxiety to turn wheat into cash.

Sections of reports to be presented at the convention have been received by members of the local arrangements committee. The reports treat of various subjects.

Your committee is of the opinion that the treaty, including the proposals for a League of Nations, should be ratified without amendment.

FRENCH IDOL STARRED IN SOCIETY DRAMA

Georges Carpentier, idol of France, whose notable record in the boxing ring has won him fame and fortune and whose fascinating personality has made him the idol of two continents, will be the chief attraction at the Opera House in "The Wonder Man," a Robertson-Cole special production, for a four day showing, beginning today.

The picture promises an entertainment unique in the realm of the cinema art. Unlike the previous champions of the prize ring before the public on the silver screen in the roles of daredevil heroes or in hair-raising serials Georges Carpentier is given as a vehicle an intriguing romance of American society, with himself in the role of a smart, well-dressed man about town.

The fact that his gentlemanly qualities and his record for valor in the world war has won the admiration of all classes makes the advent of this popular youth into the picture world as a matinee idol a commendable achievement. His popularity in America is best attested by the unprecedented amount of favorable publicity he has received throughout the country and by the great demand for his services.

"The Wonder Man" gives the public its first opportunity to really know this favorite son of France—in fact it gives the first opportunity for his many admirers to see him. The great demand to see Carpentier in the boxing ring was proved beyond a doubt by the crowd that flocked to see him when a great fight was staged. More than 2,000 persons braved the muddy roads of New Jersey to see him in his fighting togs for the first time in America.

Carpentier is supported by a notable cast in "The Wonder Man," including such prominent screen artists as Faire Binney as leading woman, and Floretne Billings.

THE CARPENTIER PICTURE

"The Wonder Man," the Robertson-Cole production starring Georges Carpentier, French war hero and challenger of Jack Dempsey for the world's heavy weight championship title, is a picture with a real plot—a fascinating story of American society life—a series of lavish settings and a star of international prominence.

JOHN-A-DREAMS

LXXXIII. DREAMS OF HORSE RACING

Have you ever dreamed of horse racing in any manner or form? Such visions have meanings that are well worth remembering. Both men and women are equally affected by them and the interpretations, barring the change of sex, remain the same. While men more frequently dream of this sport than do women, it must be borne in mind that what the husband's dreams may have bearing on the wife's fate, that what the maiden sees in her sleep may mean much to the man of her choice, and in both cases the other way around.

Merely to see a horse race with the flying hoofs of the kingly animals digging into the turf, the colors of the jockeys flashing and the multitude waving and shouting to those in the lead, is a sign of stirring days of spirited contests in business or love, of heart-breaking struggles and, best of all, of ultimate triumph. Still there is one exception. If you dream that you have made a bet on one of the horses, and he loses, then your striving will be in vain and you will have to be content to see the fruit of your labors reaped by other hands than yours.

It seems to you as though you saw only two horses, you and another of your sex will aspire to the same goal. It is a peculiarity of this dream that it permits of no conclusive interpretation. No matter how much you may try to study it out, you will never be able to learn whether you or the other will be winner or loser.

If, however, you dream that you are riding one of the horses, then the solution will be provided by the dream itself; and though you be but one inch behind your rival, complete victory or defeat as to the dream indication may be, will be your lot.

To dream that you have made bets on the horses is a very bad sign. It does not matter whether, in the vision you win, lose or remain in doubt about the outcome. Nor need your dream take you to the race track. The mere fact of having made such a bet is sufficient. The finger of fate has pointed you out as one of those, who, through lack of judgment, will risk your all needlessly and disastrously—that your course in life will lead downward, and unless you take the timely warning, your house will be built on sand and you will follow the will of the wisp of uncertainty.

It is, on the other hand, a very good sign, to get a race horse. If the jockey is on his back at the time, so much better for the owner. It means that you and another will be loyal to each other through all of life's trials, that nothing will ever come between you, that you will trust each other, and have every reason to do so, until the end of your days. The act of mounting a race horse is a sign of embarking upon new ventures. To fall from its back is not exactly a bad sign, though it indicates that you will do better to strive with great caution and not to reach out either too high or too far. At no time, by the way, does dreaming of races and race horses mean anything actually connected with the turf.

In the next chapter I will tell you of Dreams of Error.

For more than a year, Miss Gwendoline Farrar, who inherited a fortune of several million dollars from her father, the late Sir George Farrar, the Rand millionaire, has been appearing on the stage and only recently was her identity discovered by accident.

'NUT' MEASURE TO REGULATE BATHING

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 4.—Women must bathe in the Atlantic, men must bathe in the Pacific, children must bathe in the Mississippi and the Gulf of Mexico, according to a bill which will be introduced in the senate by Senator George G. Glenn as a substitute for men and women using the same pools together. Senator Glenn avows that his bill will insure segregation.

"A bill to be entitled an act to actually encourage bathing, manicuring, hair cutting, shaving, washing, cleanliness and even foot washing in this state" is to be the caption of the Glenn substitute. Senator Glenn announces that he is hard at work upon the preparation of his substitute, having engaged the help of a competent corps of ten stenographers for the purpose—and that he has sent a wire to Neptune notifying him of the coming invasion of the Pacific by the men and has instructed this ruler of the sea to remove all mermaids from the Western ocean.

Senator Glenn's substitute will suggest that all persons, whether non-compos mentis or otherwise, be required to take a bath annually, whether they thing they need it or not; that they occasionally wash their faces; semi-annually cut their hair on a grindstone or an emory wheel; manicure their finger nails and toe nails; cut their undergarments or bathing suits with a circular saw and, if necessary, use any kind of remedies to increase circulation; that all men bathe in the Pacific, all females in the Atlantic and all children in the Mississippi or Gulf of Mexico in order to absolutely insure segregation.

That all women wear hoop skirts, with weight attachments, and that all men wear Mother Hubbards, without cord attachments, and that all kiddies simply be clad in sunshine and robed as only Nature created them, to increase growth, etc. That all parks, ponds, rivers or oceans where females bathe be surrounded by and have placed around the same ground glass or spikes, or electrically charged wires to insure the non-presence of males, and that all females be disfranchised who spy upon men.

Seamen Leary of Wooden Craft, War-Time Built

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Disposal of more than 1,500,000 tons of wooden shipping—406 vessels of various types—built as a part of the government's war time merchant marine program, is one of the most difficult problems facing the shipping board. Twenty-one of the craft, aggregating 82,000 deadweight tons, were offered recently, but no buyers were found.

Only 194 of these craft are now in operation. Seventy-three are tied up in various ports under managing caretakers and 133 are in storage yards. One hundred and seven of those in "storage" are finished hulls while 82 are converted barges. Officials of the board say that when the serviceability of the wooden fleet has been demonstrated little difficulty will be experienced in turning it over to private ownership at about $90 a ton. These vessels were built in an emergency, many of green timber, and some of them made poor showings a year and two years ago, but now that they have "seasoned" officers of the board consider them practicable cargo carriers.

Because of the bad record of some of the vessels, operators have contended them all, officials declare, whereas, the records of those now in operation show very creditable performances. One wooden ship out of six round trips across the Atlantic, at sea 500 days and in port an equal number, was laid up for repairs only twenty-two days.

To date 532 wooden and composite ships, aggregating 1,948,250 deadweight tons, consisting of 322 cargo ships, one tanker, 115 finished hulls, ten sailing craft, 59 hulls converted into barges and 20 standard barges, have been delivered to the board. A total of 114 of these vessels, aggregating 397,285 deadweight tons, has been sold and 12 totaling 44,546 tons have been lost at sea.

The total cost of construction of this fleet, estimated by the board at $170 a deadweight ton, was approximately $233,000,000. Sale of the 1,500,000 tons now held by the board at $90 a ton would yield $135,000,000. Those already sold brought about $28,000,000, so that if the 406 remaining in the government's possession are disposed of to private owners the total loss through the wooden ship venture would be something like $170,000,000.

BOULEVARDIERS

(By International News Service.) HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 4.—The young people of Huntington are singing the praises of Judge L. D. Newman. Says the judge: "People can love each other as much as they want in Ritter Park or on the boulevards, and no officer has the right to prevent an automobile from stopping along the boulevards if it is clear of the traffic unless the occupants are disorderly." The policemen no longer take notice of the spouters and an open season for lovers is on.

The women of Pitcairn Island are not only graceful, but noted for their vigor. It is a common sight to see the young women of the island go up and down the steep, rocky shores, carrying barrels of water or other heavy burdens on their shoulders, apparently with as much ease as the young men do.

Better Roads Aid to Farmers, Biggest Users of Trucks

(By E. A. WILLIAMS, Jr.) Because American farmers operate more motor trucks than any other class of industry, they are entitled to the benefits of a more vigorous Federal campaign for a definite system of national highways.

Our farmers in this country are the most progressive and far-sighted of any in the world. They seize more new, progressive ideas and practise more up-to-date methods in conducting their business than the average business man.

Ruralists have been more alert than any other class of men to the possibilities in motor haulers. Contrary to the common conception that their motor equipment is confined exclusively to tractors and motor driven cultivators and ploughs is the fact that farmers own and operate 70,000 trucks. An estimate recently compiled by the Department of Agriculture shows that in the twelve southern states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, where a large part of the farming industry of the country is carried on, there were on Jan. 1, 1920, 12,150 trucks actually in use on farms.

You only have to sell the farmer once in a time and labor-saving device. The average farmer who once uses or sees in use a motor truck on a farm adopts it as a staple piece of equipment. He recognizes that the truck is an economic investment. The farmer believes that what is good for him is good for his neighbor and the conservative agriculturist soon will be converted by the present truck used on the farm. One of the most vital needs of an opportunity to avail himself of national highways that will furnish the farmer the fullest use of a motor transport scheme and at the same time throw the roads open to commercial trucking needs, thereby relieving the inadequate railroad system of the burden of short-haul freight shipments.—New York World.

ROOSTER HOBO BEATS WAY THROUGH INDIANA

International News Service. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Aug. 4.—The ridden'est rooster in the United States has completed his last jaunt. When the Mono's night Louisville express arrived here from Chicago at 3:58 the other morning a lusty chanticleer's crow emanated from beneath the bumpers of the express car. Rober Gray, an expressman, slipped up on the bird and captured him. The train crew explained that the rooster, a Rhode Island red, had escaped from a coop in the Dearborn station and had gone to roost beneath the train. At every stop the bird was heard to crow, but he couldn't be located until he was captured here, none the worse for his wild 225-mile ride. Gray took the rooster home for eating purposes.

POWER OF GRANGE INCREASES UNDER HIS LEADERSHIP

Sherman J. Lowell. Under the leadership of Sherman J. Lowell, master of the National Grange, that great organization of farmers has grown in power and influence. Lowell, who hails from Fredonia, N. Y., has promised co-operation with the Farmers' National Congress, to be held in Columbus, O., in November.

Wheels Blocked When Stopping on Hill, Advised

F. C. HORNER, Transportation Engineer. The truck driver who stops his truck, loaded or unloaded, on a hill and fails to block the rear wheels before leaving his machine is sooner or later sure to have an accident. Such negligence may result in serious damage to life, to the truck and to public property.

The driver who doesn't think will often put his emergency brake on and go off, forgetting that some little boys may let his brakes off or that perhaps some hard wind may give the truck a start, sending the truck off with no driver at the wheel. Therefore, the safest way to leave a truck on a hill, or on any incline steep enough to cause it to move, is to block both rear wheels securely.

It is only necessary to think at the right time. Obtain two good blocks that may be carried on the truck all the time to be used when needed. They may prevent a bad accident that would probably cost the driver his job and the owner untold expense.

WOMEN WANT TO KNOW EVERYTHING, DON'T THEY?

(By International News Service.) TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 4.—There's not much "joy" in a woman voting if she is forced to give her "true age" to be enabled to do so, in the opinion of Mrs. Margaret M. McCarter, of this city. Appearing at the city hall to register, Mrs. McCarter gave her age as "over twenty-one." Then the clerk in charge quietly but firmly informed her that, under a new ruling, women must give their correct age or forego registering. Mrs. McCarter refused to register. Mrs. McCarter spoke before the Chicago Republican convention, thereby gaining the distinction of being the first woman to address a national convention of that party.

EDINBURGH U. CO-EDS WANT THEIR LATCH-KEYS

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Aug. 3.—Young women students of the University of Edinburgh have revolted against what they regard as "childish" restrictions in the use of latch-keys after the regulation hour for closing the hall in which they live.

Thirty-three students of Masson hall one of the numerous hostels in which women students reside, have gone on record as refusing to obey instructions regarding the use of night keys. The girl asset that they are being treated as children rather than as young women well able to take care of themselves.

The protest resulted in a petition to the university requesting a change in the warden of the hall. The view of the management is that too much liberty was given the girls under the previous regime and that unless they alter their petition the girls must leave the hall at the end of the session.

The Pall Mall Gazette of London is commenting on the incident says:

"With the merits of the particular case we are not concerned but there is a principal involved which sooner or later will have to be decided. When women won their right to complete with men in the professions they practically won all the rights that appertain to the acquirement and practice of these professions. Those who imagine that young women will submit to the exercise of authority which would not be tolerated by their brothers, make a great mistake a mistake which, if it is persisted in, will do an immense amount of harm, for opposition to liberty is the surest fosterer of license."

WILL PROVIDES A DINNER AMOUNT WOULD PAY TIP.

International News Service. NICE, France, Aug. 4.—When Peter van Steendyck, a wealthy Hollander who died after a residence of half a century in this city, left his entire fortune to the city of Nice, he overlooked an eventuality which is now causing perturbation in the City Council. Meynheer van Steendyck executed the will in 1904. One of its stipulations was that on the acceptance of the bequest, which is considerably more than a million francs, the municipal councillors should repair in a body to a certain hotel in Nice and there partake of a banquet in his honor. He fixed the price at fifteen francs a plate.

Fifteen francs a plate was a reasonable price for a meal, even in Nice, in 1904, but in this year of grace 1920, with the cost of living soaring between meals, and in the particular restaurant picked by the testator, fifteen francs is just about what the waiter who serves the meal expects.

Whereupon the City Councillors are perturbed. They are wondering whether they can accept the bequest unless the precise terms of the will are carried out, point whether a plate of sardines and a glass of white wine—coffee of course extra—can be considered a "banquet."

JEWISH INDUSTRIAL ARMY RECRUITING TEN THOUSAND MEN

JERUSALEM, Aug. 4.—Ten thousand volunteers, chosen from veterans of the world war, the Jewish Legion and skilled workmen, to enlist at once for 18 months service in a Jewish industrial army in Palestine, are necessary for the basic reconstruction work of the Jewish National Homeland, according to Bernard A. Rosenblatt, president of the American Zion Commonwealth, who is now in Palestine in the interests of "Balfouria," the colony of the American Zion Commonwealth.

Mr. Rosenblatt recommends a regular army organization with a general staff which, as a Jewish Industrial Commission will supervise the work of the Jewish labor army in rebuilding the Holy Land.

"Our biggest task, once the call is issued for volunteers, will be in sifting out the applicants and determining upon the 10,000 to go," he said. "They could all be occupied in the one task of building houses for future immigrants. The army should work only on land belonging to the Jewish nation, lands secured from the Palestine government, from the Jewish National Fund, the American Zion Commonwealth or other agencies of the Zionist organization."

In addition to the construction of houses he points out that such an army would be busy in preparing land for immediate settlement, irrigation, afforestation, sanitation and engineering works necessary for the development of industry and commerce.

"The nucleus for such an industrial army is already in Palestine in the co-operative groups, working on the lands of the Jewish National Fund and in the group that is developing 'Balfouria,' the first colony of the American Zion Commonwealth," he concluded. "I am convinced after two visits to Palestine that only through such a large disciplined Jewish labor army will we be able to reconquer the land of our forefathers."

THREE TALE OF YOUNG GIRL AND FIRST PARTY

(By International News Service.) ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 4.—Every eye was turned on her as she entered a recent favored of motor parties. For she was very young and very vivacious, and the coquettish way in which she wore her big summery straw hat showed it was her first "big" party.

Even the waiter smiled in a spirit of comradeship as she stood by to take her order. She was laughing gaily with her three men companions and the other girl in the party. She was the center of their attentions.

The order came—framped and seductive. At other tables there was fear and alarm as the merry-makers saw how she went to the stuff. There were admonitory glances even from her companions. "Better lay off that red junk," advised one of them, a fellow old enough to be her father.

"No, no," she answered pettishly. Her vivacity grew. There was a note of laughter in her voice. Her eyes sparkled with unearthly brilliance.

"You shant have any more tonight," declared the elder girl.

"I will," the other almost cried.

But soon her eyelids drooped. Her whole being relaxed and when the party arose she had to be literally carried to the waiting limousine by one of the men of the party.

And some of the onlookers sighed and some of them laughed.

For the young lady was five and frightfully full—of watermelon.

MAKING WAR ON RUM IN ITS NATIVE HOME

By Associated Press. KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 4.—War against John Barleycorn has been started in the home of Jamaica rum. Two American missionaries, the vanguard of a prohibition crusade, have just aided in the organization of the Jamaica league against alcoholism, which it is said, is to affiliate with the world's league against alcoholism, headed by the Rt. Honorable Leif Jones, and the Rt. Sr.

Donald McLean, M. P., and Lord Rowallan, vice president. One of the American missionaries urged the mass meeting to follow the lead of "Pussyfoot" Johnson. One of the chief obstacles to making Jamaica dry is the manufacture of rum, an industry which is said to net the government fully $1,000,000 in revenue annually.

The county conventions of Archer, Eastland and Tom Green counties have passed resolutions favoring a West Texas agricultural and mechanical college and a platform of the state convention, many other counties are believed to have taken like action, and reports from them will shortly be received.
