Judge Davenport Opens New Court; Outlines Policy

By M. McCULLOUGH EASTLAND, Aug. 3.—Judge George L. Davenport called and organized the Ninety-first district court Monday morning. After organizing the court, it was announced that the appearance docket would be called Tuesday morning. In opening court, Judge Davenport in a modest way delivered a very forceful speech to the attorneys and court officers present. In part, he said: "I realize the crowded condition of the court dockets in Eastland county, and it will be necessary for this court to have the co-operation of all the attorneys practicing here. It will not be the disposition of this court to be dictatorial with the attorneys, but will expect to work pleasantly with all of them. The lawyers will readily see that to dispatch business it will require co-operative efforts by the court and lawyers and court officers. Heretofore, delays in the trials of cases have perhaps resulted because all parties concerned just assumed that the crowded condition of the docket made it almost impossible to try any case, and for that reason none of the cases were made ready for trial. This court will expect the attorneys and parties having cases pending to get ready for trial and I have no doubt that the attorneys will co-operate with me in this regard when it is made manifest that we are going to dispose of cases as they are set for trial. "For the first ten days of this term, I shall be here to dispose of any business that may, by agreement, be heard. Soon thereafter I shall arrange a setting of cases on the docket for the four weeks in September. I shall not attempt to override the resolution adopted by the attorneys, asking that July and August be made the vacation period. But when the cases are set the parties will be given proper notice, and the first three weeks of September will be jury weeks for the trial of civil cases. It may be that one week will be devoted to criminal cases, provided the transfer of the criminal cases indicates that one week should be given to that docket." The impression made by Judge Davenport was very favorable.

Siberian Policy of Japan Brings Varied Criticism

TOKYO, Aug. 3.—There is no indication that Japan will refrain from carrying out the military arrangements dealing with problems in Siberia. The government recently outlined to the world its policy regarding Siberia, and its forthcoming note to Washington will explain the purely temporary character of the Japanese occupation of points in the Sakhalin district. It is possible that misunderstandings abroad are apprehended because the city of Niko-laievsk was formerly under the jurisdiction of Russia as a maritime province.

PONCI IS SOLVENT, HE CLAIMS, THOUGH INVESTORS ANXIOUS

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—A line of anxious note holders in the "50 per cent in ninety-days" investment proposition in which Charles Ponzi claims he made millions in foreign exchange deals, began to form outside the offices of the Securities Exchange company long before daylight today, clamoring for the return of their money. Many people are in the line from other New England cities where the company maintained branch offices. Ponzi in a statement, again asserted that his business was solvent and that he was prepared to meet all demands. It is estimated that he has paid out $3,500,000 since the run began and he is said to have "millions left" after meeting all obligations, and is said to be still considering the offer of a New York broker to buy his business.

LOCKLEAR MAKING TEN THOUSAND FOOT DIVE WHEN KILLED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—Omer Locklear and Lieutenant Milton Elliott, aviators, were killed Monday night while engaged in performing a feat for a motion picture concern. Locklear failed to straighten out at the end of a 10,000-foot nose dive and both men were instantly killed. They were making a searchlight and rocket effect film. Five searchlights played upon the machine at the beginning of the stunt and Locklear's pilot dropped a rocket which he followed with the nose of his machine. Spectators said it appeared as if the machine were ignited by the rocket. Locklear was born in Como and leaves a widow residing in Fort Worth.

NATIONAL WOMAN'S PARTY LEADER ASKS FOR AID, TENN.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Another appeal for aid in securing ratification of the suffrage amendment in Tennessee was made to Governor Cox by Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, political chairman of the National Woman's party, today. She brought reports that unless efforts were increased the Tennessee legislature would refuse ratification and said that after weeks of work a careful canvass of Tennessee legislators made rejection of the amendment appear certain. She came to exchange information with Governor Cox and ask him to press suffrage more vigorously. She will call on Harding with a similar mission, she announced. Inspired by reports of "Cox luck," proverbial Ohio politics token of good luck are reaching Cox. He received two today including a pair of feather weight horse shoes worn by Lou Dillon when she established the world's trotting record mile in two minutes flat in 1903, and a rabbit's foot from Decca Lamar, West, Waco, Texas. She requested the governor to carry it in his pocket and said the rabbit was killed at midnight in a graveyard.

HUU THAT'S NOTHING; WHITEY DOES IT TO THE TIMES EACH DAY

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Harding is going to prove to the public that he is a real printer. Today he threw aside his coat, rolled up his sleeves and "made up" the first page of his paper while the motion picture machines clicked away. All work in the newspaper plant was suspended while the pictures were taken. The senator spread rapid fire conversation with the foreman while he worked.

OLDEN BOY HURT CRITICALLY; TRUCK PASSES OVER HIM

Elmer Piatt, 15 years old, was run over yesterday at Olden by a truck of the Eastland Wholesale Grocery company and badly injured internally. The James Cox ambulance was called and the boy was brought to the offices of Drs. Weir & Swan for medical aid. His condition this morning was considered serious by the physicians in charge. The boy was standing in front of his father's store at Olden when his father dropped something in the street in the rear of the truck. Young Piatt stooped to pick up the article dropped by his father, when the driver of the truck backed his machine over the boy. One wheel passed over his abdomen.

De La Huerta representatives and Cantu declined to make statements after the conference beyond saying that matters discussed will be referred to Mexico City. The conference is the first step which indicated army conflict might be averted and the fact that negotiations actually were held caused many people to think there would be a peaceful settlement. On the other hand, doubt is expressed as to whether either side had made concessions acceptable to the other.

REDS DRIVE TO TAKE WARSAW BEFORE PARLEY

Brest Litovsk Believed Fallen Before Tremendous Final Assault.

All advices indicate that the situation in Poland from the Polish-allied standpoint is approaching a crisis. The Polish delegation to Barnovitchi to negotiate the armistice not only failed to get the terms of the Russians, but have been sent back to Warsaw by the Soviet who demanded that the Soviet obtain a mandate before they take negotiations. This will delay negotiations until Wednesday at the earliest. Meanwhile the resistance of the Poles is again relaxed under the tremendous pressure of the Soviet.

WARSAW, Aug. 3.—Brest Litovsk, the last great fortress guarding Warsaw, has apparently fallen before the tremendous assault of Russian Bolsheviks. North of these Soviets have smashed forward and westward and are sixty miles west of Warsaw over a 120-mile front. The Poles are being pounded to pieces before the rush of Bolsheviks trying to capture Warsaw before the conclusion of the armistice conference. Reinforcements everywhere are being hurled to the front by the Russians to complete the defeat of the Poles before hostilities are halted.

SOVIETS ARE FORMING.

Julian Maakievsky is chairman of the body.

TOKIO, Aug. 3.—Japan's "indefinite handling of the Siberian problem" is causing suspicion among the powers, in the opinion of Maxim Shlegelov Okuma, one of the elder statesmen. Like Clemenceau in France, when out of office, Okuma has the reputation of fearlessly criticizing the men who are running the government. In an interview, Okuma said the reason for sending a Japanese army to Siberia does not seem to be clearly understood by the majority of the people. He added: "The object of the Sino-Japanese war and the Russo-Japanese war, as well as the war with Germany, were clearly understood by the nation, who worked to attain the ultimate goal with full and unanimous accord. As to the Siberian business, the Japanese people are as much in the dark as the troops who are fighting the Bolsheviks on the Siberian steppe."

After rearing on the withdrawal of American troops from Siberia, Okuma insisted that if Japan finds it necessary to maintain her troops there, the whole situation should be laid frankly before the powers. He went on: "What the government is doing is not clear and is apt to create the suspicion abroad that Japan is keeping her troops in Siberia for ulterior motives. Already blame is directed against us for the military policy alleged to be pursued by Japan in the Russian eastern province. "It would be better," he concluded, "for Japan to withdraw completely from Siberia. If, on the other hand, Japan is asked by the powers to fit out a punitive expedition against the Bolsheviks so that Eastern Siberia may be cleared of these undesirable elements, the task should be undertaken in real earnest."

YANK GUNNERS PUT STOP TO ACTIVITIES OF CHINK BRIGANDS

SHANGHAI, Aug. 3.—Brigands who have terrorized the upper reaches of the Yangtze river in recent months have found a sudden check put upon their activities when American and British gunboats were dispatched into the upper river from Shanghai, according to reports that have filtered back to Shanghai. The gunboats were sent up to Chinking after a band of outlaws took possession of the Robert Dollar II of the Robert Dollar company of Shanghai at Wanshen in Szechuan province, and were frightened away only by the timely appearance of the American gunboat Palos which came in response to a distress signal. The Robert Dollar II, on the maiden voyage of the new up-river service of the Dollar company is establishing, was fired upon from shore after the first encounter. Messages to Shanghai said that the bandits vanished into the hills on the appearance of the gunboats.

UNION LABOR FORMS OPPOSITION TO GOV. ALLEN IN KANSAS

TOPEKA, Kans., Aug. 3.—Gov. Henry J. Allen and U. S. Senator Charles Curtis are candidates for renomination in tomorrow's Kansas primaries. Opposition to Gov. Allen has been voiced by union labor because of the establishment of the Kansas industrial relations court. The single contender in the Republican primaries against the governor is the farm laborer, George B. Snow, who declares his only backing is his ambition to be governor. Against Senator Curtis, John A. Edwards, a prominent Greenwood county stockman, has been making an active campaign for Republican endorsement. The Democrats have on a four cornered contest for the nomination for governor. Those making this race are Jonathan M. Davis, Bronson, W. S. Hyatt, Parsons, Dempster O. Potts, Wichita; and O. T. Wood, U. S. Marshal, of Liberal. Roy Stanton of Mulberry, a coal mining district, is the Socialist nominee. There is a fight on in five of the eight congressional districts and in practically all of the forty state senatorial and 125 state representative districts. By a new law passed by the last legislature all voters residing in cities are required to register this year. Its purpose is to weed out all voters who have been on the registration books but who are not entitled to vote on account of alien citizenship.

(By International News Service.) NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—In an effort to prevent his dog from jumping from his automobile, Charles W. Higley, of Brooklyn, lost control of the machine and, mounting a park in the center of the street, ran down and injured five girls at play, the police say. The car swerved toward the small park in the center of the roadway.

PICKLED PIGS LEAD TO DISCOVERY OF STILL IN KENTUCKY

WHITESBURG, Ky., Aug. 3.—A drove of intoxicated hogs has given prohibition officers the clue that led to seizure of a giant still and arrest of two men in Letcher county, Ky. The officers, operating out here reported destruction of six stills. The hogs, according to one of the prohibition enforcers, were found on top of a mountain and were "cutting weird capers." A search and discovery of the still followed.

DRY ISSUE IN FRONT TODAY MO. PRIMARIES

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 3.—Missouri voters today will choose nominees for federal and state offices. The prohibition question has been made a direct issue in both the Republican and Democratic contests for nomination for United States senator and the League of Nations controversy has been injected into the primary in the Democratic senatorial race. Interest centers in the gubernatorial and senatorial races. Three Republicans and six Democrats are seeking the senatorial toga, and two Republicans and five Democrats are after the respective nominations for governor. The pre-convention presidential campaign fund disclosures are expected to play some part in the decisions of the voters, particularly in the Republican ranks. Disaffected Republicans have been demanding the resignations of Jacob L. Babler, their national committeeman, and of W. L. Cole, chairman of their state committee. "Clubs" have been organized by party members in their various parts of the state to defeat the Babler-Cole candidates. Prohibition and the League of Nations are outstanding features in the Democratic senatorial contest. Former Federal Judge Henry S. Priest is seeking the nomination of an anti-league and "wet" platform, while Charles M. Hay, who is a St. Louis lawyer, has made the race on a "dry" and pro-league platform. Breckenridge Long, former third assistant secretary of state, another Democratic candidate, is for the league as written at Versailles, and for law enforcement as to prohibition. In the Republican senatorial race, Dwight F. Davis, former lieutenant-colonel in the Thirty-fifth division, has announced he favors a liberal interpretation of the prohibition law, while Senator Selden P. Spencer voted for the Volstead enforcement act. Nominees for Congress in the sixteen districts in the state will also be chosen, as well as candidates for virtually every state office.

Breckenridge Adds $25 to Mother's Aid

A check for $25 came to The Times this morning from Breckenridge to apply to an operation for the mother of four little children. The letter states that the guests of the Travelers hotel of Breckenridge read of the mother's need in the Times and collected the money among themselves. The story was printed in The Times several days ago and stated that the mother of four was suffering from an ailment that only an operation would cure, and that her husband was not able to provide the necessary $100 for hospital expenses. Breckenridge readers contributed $65 to the cause and a local banker notified those in charge to send all unpaid bills to him. Yesterday morning the mother was operated upon by Dr. T. L. Lauderdale and is doing well. The $25 check from Breckenridge will be turned over to the patient.

WHOLESALE TRADING TO STAMPEDE PUBLIC INTO CLOTHES BUYING FED. AGT. FIGG.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Howard Figg, federal agent, today charged that manufacturers and jobbers of wearing apparel are attempting through propaganda to "stampede the retailers and the public into a renewed fictitious demand for clothing and therefore higher prices." In a formal statement, Figg charged that manufacturers and jobbers were circulating propaganda "similar to that used to mislead the public during the recent speculative market." He said this speculative market "toppled by its own weight last spring when the public refused to or could not buy at unconscionable prices asked for wearing apparel."

WOMEN CAST INITIAL VOTE OKLA. PRIMARY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 3.—Participation of women in an Oklahoma state election for the first time and close races for the principal nominations for U. S. Senator are features of the Oklahoma primary today. There is also a special election in the eighth congressional district to fill out the unexpired term of the late representative, Dick T. Morgan. Senator Thomas P. Gore is a candidate for reelection and he is opposed in the Democratic primaries by Congressman Scott Ferris of the sixth district. Ferris has made Senator Gore's war record the issue of his campaign. Both the senator and the congressman have covered almost every corner of the state. Fourteen Republicans are making the race for the Republican senatorial nomination, and in addition there are two independents and one socialist. Women vote today under an amendment to the state constitution passed in Nov. 1918. Several women candidates have announced themselves. They include one for the state senate, one for corporation commissioner, and several for the lower house of the legislature. Party leaders expect a large woman's vote to be polled. There are three complete tickets in the field—Democratic, Republican and Socialist. In addition, there is a list of independent candidates. It is in this latter column that the ten electors of the recently organized Farmer-Labor party are found. Filing papers were taken out for them by the Oklahoma member of the Committee of 48 and the ten filed the day before the time limit expired. The prohibition party is barred from the field by a state law which provides that a party ticket must poll at least 50 percent of the votes cast for the leading candidates at the preceding general election or twenty-five percent in three other states before being admitted to the ballot. The roll of candidates seeking the nomination for U. S. Senator is as follows: Democrats—Thomas P. Gore and Scott Ferris; Republicans—Sumner T. Bisbee, Ernest E. Blake, Albert A. Small, E. M. Clark, Cash M. Cade, Ed Perry, Ben Thompson, P. D. Linsey, James B. Cullison, N. D. Welty, Henry Powers, Charles I. McGuire, J. W. Harvill, Wm. T. Clark, Socialists—A. A. Bagwell, Independent—M. R. Turner and Thomas Pratt. The list of offices for which candidates are to be nominated is as follows: Ten presidential electors, one U. S. Senator, a congressman in each of the eight districts, twenty-two state senators, or half that a full house; three supreme court judges and a vacancy, one member of the criminal court of appeals; one corporation commissioner and the various county offices. The special election in the eighth con-

BRYANT WASHBURN SEEKS TEMPTATION AFTER SAINT'S LIFE

Bryant Washburn one of the most popular of the younger movie stars, plays the role of an absent-minded scientist in "The Sins of St. Anthony," which showed at the Lamb theatre yesterday and will be played again today.

As Anthony Osgood, a worker with the microscope, wrapped in his pet science and almost totally ignorant of the life which goes on around him in a California city, he is nevertheless engaged to a frivolous and shallow-minded young lady.

She has fallen in love with an army officer of the A. E. F., whom she has never seen. They keep up a correspondence and at last he comes home and writes from Chicago that he is planning to call on her.

"Hungry Hank, a confidence man," is standing near the passenger station one day when a suitcase falls from a heavily loaded truck, its contents spilling on the ground. He examines the effects and finds some army decorations and a bunch of letters written by the girl who is engaged to Anthony Osgood. He decides to impersonate the officer and proceeds accordingly. The girl seems fascinated by his attentions and she jilts Osgood in fine fashion.

A young widow, a friend of the scientist, advises him to "quit Galahading and go to gallivanting," and in carrying out this advice he calls on a dancer who is starring at a local theatre.

Then begins a period of indecision for Anthony. The dancer takes him in tow and persuades him to get a hair cut and buy some up-to-date clothes. She asks him to take lunch with her and he accepts the invitation.

The part of the dancer is skillful and one cannot help admiring the strength of her character. Incidentally she is one of the most beautiful women in movieland. The play is very fascinating and ends in a satisfactory manner.

TEMPLE

The name of George Walsh, the well-known Fox star is synonymous with virile action and dramatic intensity, and the motion picture public has learned to expect these qualities in every photo production in which his name is billed as the star. Those who see "The Dead Line," which will open at the Temple theatre tomorrow for a two day's run will not be disappointed.

The story is laid in the Cumberland mountains of Kentucky, which have afforded material for so many of the dramatic and romantic stories for plays and cinema productions. The title gets its name from the line which two families have established with the understanding that the first to cross will be made a victim of a feudist's bullet. Beautiful mountain scenery in the heart of the wilderness is one of the attractions of the picture.

The picture deals with the loves, hates, desires and joys of two families of mountaineers who have enjoyed a bitter enmity toward each other for years. Each year adds its toll to the number from each family who have paid the penalty of this ancient feud.

Clay Boone, played by George Walsh and Lem and Zuke Harlan are the leaders of the feudists after their respective fathers have been killed in clashes between the two families.

Thrilling battles in the mountain fastnesses, raids of night riders, court trials

FIREMAN WHO LOSES SHOE WANTS DICE TO DECIDE OWNERSHIP

"Plow Handles," the handsome young fireman who hangs gracefully from the rear of one of the fire engines when the department races to a fire, has lost a shoe. It appears that an alarm came in and "Plow Handles," in his haste failed to lace his shoes and one of them in some manner became separated from its owner. To a fireman, a new pair of shoes is a large matter, and this particular shoe is new with the name of a local merchant stamped inside. "Plow Handles" asks whomever has it please to give it back to him or else give him a chance. One shoe is no good to any one, he states, and if he cannot get his property back peacefully he will "shoot" the finder to see who has them both.

and daring rescues of prisoners from the hands of the sheriff are among the high lights of the picture, with a beautiful love story which runs through the entire story. The story was written by Paul H. Sloane. In the cast with Mr. Washburn are: Irene Boyle, Anita Lopez, Joseph Hanaway, Al Hart, Henry Pemberton, James Milady, Gus Weinberg, G. A. Stryker, Virginia Valli, James Birdson and John Hopkins.

BLOW WHICH FELL CHAMP HAS BEEN FILMED

Georges Carpentier, idol of France and heavyweight champion of Europe, enjoys the unique distinction of having attained world prominence while still a challenger for the world's title. Georges' distinguished record as an aviator during the war had something to do with the phenomenon but the thing that put him over big was the quick defeat of Joe Beckett, the English champion.

The sensational knockout of the burly Britisher in something less than a minute by his smaller and almost frail opponent was made possible by two factors, according to Carpentier, first, the working out of a plan of battle before he stepped into the ring, and second, the famous right hand punch to the jaw which put Beckett out so completely that when he recovered he wanted to know when the fight was to begin.

This famous punch has been written and talked about more or less inaccurately but never photographed until Carpentier came to these shores to star in "The Wonder Man," the Robertson Cole super-special, showing him as a fighter and a gentleman, which is at the Opera House tomorrow.

Carpentier and his crafty little manager, Descamps, figured wisely that a whirlwind attack at the very start would beat down the slower Briton. With the sound of the bell Carpentier quickly came in close to his bigger opponent and landed two stinging left hand jabs to the jaw before the surprised Englishman knew what had happened. And then the famous right hand landed and everything was over.

Leon Wilson, Carpentier's faithful trainer, says the sleep-producing wallop wasn't exactly a regulation punch. The Frenchman, seeing an opening, rose on his toes, and putting every ounce of his strength behind the effort cleaved a path through the air with his right hand. It was a high overhead swing and the gloved hand was curved sharply down to land on the left side of Beckett's jaw.

Probably Carpentier's most effective blows are short jabs that carry a tremendous kick. This style recalls the memories of Bob Fitzsimmons, who easily knocked out opponents with punches that hardly went six inches. For this reason the French flash relishes, instead of dislikes, as has been stated, rough infighting. At the Opera House tomorrow.

How Far May a Vaudevillian Undress Before a Vaudevillianess? And How Many Swear Words Can a Lady Employ?

Whether or not a lady who is in the show business may call a fellow worker by unchristian names without a breach of the peace; whether or not a gentleman vaudevillian singer may call the same lady a dirty—and-so-without committing the same offense, and whether or not removing one's underwear from the waist up tends to break the peace and dignity of the state, were deep questions upon which L. H. Flewelling, police court judge, passed this morning.

The judge was of the opinion that to fling unchristian names back and forth was both ungentlemanly and unladylike and was in violation of the statutes of the state, even if the flinging did go on in the dressing room of the Opera House and was not in a public place.

Judge Flewelling ruled that removing underwear from the waist up was not an outrage of justice, even if that act did lead to a family row among the vaudevillian members now playing at the theatre, and brought four of the number into police court charged with abusive language.

It all came about Sunday night. Mr. Thomas is a dancer and after coming off the stage he removed his clothing from the waist up and was sitting in the wings cooling off. Ray Ferguson—the singer, and like all true artists temperamental—he objected to Mr. Thomas removing his shirt before his Ferguson's wife. As Mrs. Thomas so eloquently said later, "Can you imagine that?"

According to the witnesses at the trial, the story got rather hazy at this point because of six men and women all trying to talk at the same time. Out of the haze it developed that Ferguson called Miss Edith Fredrick, sister of Mrs. Thomas, a name and was offering to shut Mrs. Thomas' mouth with a right to the jaw. Miss Fredrick admitted that she returned the invective directed at her with compound interest. She pleaded guilty to using abusive language and paid a fine of $11.70. Mrs. Thomas admitted nothing and like Portia of old she went into court as an attorney.

Very ably she confused the witness when she told the judge that she, Mrs. Thomas, had been seen around the dressing room without any clothes on at all. "Can you imagine THAT?" No one could.

At this point the judge stated that the testimony was all very interesting but it was irrelevant to the case on trial. The testimony was about equally divided on the point of Mrs. Thomas using abusive language, such as was an outrage to justice, and on the recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Dudley, the judge assessed a fine of $10 and costs against Mrs. Thomas, which totaled $20.70.

The case of Thomas followed, which he defended himself on the grounds that it was the ethics of the profession to remove one's underwear from the waist up when they came from the stage. He was released.

The building on Austin street, formerly used as the Lone Star theater is being remodeled and will be used as a banquet hall and a private dining room for dinner parties and other events of like nature by Cole's cafeteria, which is in the adjoining building.

The concrete floor of the building which is built on a slant, is being covered with earth until it will be level. On this will be built a dancing floor of edged pine timber. Entrances will be cut in the partition walls to allow ingress and egress from the cafeteria proper. All the equipment necessary to a banquet hall will be installed.

It is the intention of the management of the cafeteria to provide a place where almost any social event may be held. By present plans, the improvement will be in operation about Aug. 15.

Italy Turns to Volcanic Heat as Industrial Fuel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Industrial Italy, forced by the enormous prices for imported coal, is turning attention toward the utilization of the latent power of the country's volcanic area, according to advices received by the Italian embassy.

This idea of exploiting the natural heat emitted from the soil in the volcanic regions seemed a dream at first thought, but already it has been developed to considerable importance. Successful experiments have been conducted in the past and today at Larderello in Tuscany a heating plant of 16,000 horsepower is operating without interruption and distributing electric current to Florence, Livorno and Grosseto. Its capacity, it is planned, will be increased.

First experiments with volcanic power were made some years before the war by Prince Ginori-Conti at Larderello, near the salt mines of Volterra, a region extensively covered with volcanic vents emitting powerful jets of hot steam containing boric salts and various gases used in the extraction of boric acid.

Instead of limiting the use of these steam jets to extracting the salts contained in the exhalations of these natural vapor vents, the ejection of the steam is simulated by boring holes. In this way it has been possible to obtain jets at a pressure of thirty to forty-five pounds a square inch and in some instances as high as seventy-five pounds a square inch, the temperature varying from 150 to 165 degrees centigrade.

In 1905, Prince Ginori-Conti applied this natural steam to a forty-horsepower engine, using only a small section of the Neneffa fissure, the ejected steam from which has a pressure of seventy-five pounds per square inch. Seven years later another experiment was successful with a 300-horsepower turbine-alternator, and later the Larderello heating plant was started with three turbine-alternators of 3,000 kilowatts each, these being fed by boilers at low pressure heated by the natural steam, superheated to 165 degrees centigrade.

The natural steam has been used thus far only for heating because it contains substances, among them sulphuric acid, which corrodes metals, particularly iron.

American Share of German Fleet in Jutland Scrap

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Four of the five German warships allocated to the United States for experimental purposes were in the thick of the fighting at the battle of Jutland, according to naval intelligence records here. The vessels are due at New York from Brest, France, this week and under a clause of the peace treaty they must be destroyed within one year after their arrival.

The light cruiser Frankfurt, now a wreck in machinery and being towed to the United States by the transport Hancock, was the first ship in the German battle line when it collided with the British grand fleet, while the 22,000-ton dreadnaught Ostfriesland was the ninth ship in the line, immediately in the rear of the flagship of the German commander-in-chief, Admiral Scheer.

Of the three destroyers, all of which are being towed over as a result of their submersion with the German fleet at Scapa Flow, the G-102 and the V-43 were in the forefront of the fighting throughout the Jutland engagement.

Leading a division of four scout cruisers that bore the brunt of the British fire at the opening of the engagement, the Frankfurt, flagship of Rear Admiral Brodieker, was hit four times, but with a small calibre shell in each instance and stayed in the fight to the finish. The third cruiser behind her was sunk at the opening of the engagement. The Frankfurt, which has a speed of 28 knots, is believed to have participated also in raids on the British coast.

County Sending No Pro-Bailey Men to State Convention

The Eastland County Democratic Convention sent a solid Neff delegation to the state convention in Fort Worth which convenes Aug. 7, and refused to send three pro-Bailey men: i. e., H. P. Brelsford, C. U. Connelley and O. F. Chastain, whose names had been added to the list of delegates by motion of Joe Burckett, D. E. Jones, objecting to same, and in defending his motion to table a motion of Mr. Burckett said: "There is nothing personal in my motion, but I object because I remember conventions in other days when these self same men refused to let an anti-Bailey man go as a delegate to the convention, and I object now too, because I want to send delegates to Fort Worth that I know are in sympathy with men who favor and are for the national and state administration, and not men who are supporting a man who refused to endorse the acts of Woodrow Wilson." Mr. Jones motion prevailed and the motion of Mr. Burckett was tabled.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" --- Filling Out the Party

Attorneys' Co-operation Asked by District Judge

The formal opening and organization of the new Ninety-first district court, created by act of the last special session of the legislature, took place at Eastland yesterday morning. Judge G. L. Davenport of this city, who was appointed judge of the ninety-first judicial district by Governor Hobby, delivered an address. Judge Davenport began calling the appearance docket at 10 o'clock this morning.

The court will hold four sessions a year, in August, November, February and May, and will have concurrent jurisdiction with the 88th district court of Eastland county. The room on the main floor of the court house formerly occupied by the abstract office will be used as a courtroom.

Judge Davenport's address follows: To the attorneys of the Ninety-first judicial district of Texas:

"In assuming the active duties of judge of the Ninety-first district I am not unmindful of the responsibilities necessarily connected with the position, and realizing, as I do, this responsibility, I desire in the very outset to solicit of the entire bar of this court, a most hearty co-operation."

"In many of the courts of this state which I have had occasion to observe there has been little or no co-operation between the court and the attorneys, and where such conditions exist the most favorable results in the dispatch of business cannot be expected. You are each officers of this court, and a part of it, and as such you are entitled to a fair and patient hearing in such matters in which you may be interested, and so long as I occupy this position such courtesies will be extended you; at the same time you cannot expect such consideration from the court without a willingness on your part of extending to the court and officers your most earnest efforts in the administration of its business, and to respect, encourage and uphold the dignity of this court."

"If the spirit of unity can be established and maintained it will, in my judgment, assist very materially in the administration of the affairs of this court and with the dispatch of business. The court sitting as referee in the many perplexing questions that will arise from time to time cannot agree with the position of each litigant, or his counsel, but when you have been given that careful consideration to which you and the cause which you represent may be entitled and the court has given you an honest, but possibly an erroneous decision, you should be content to bear such disappointments and secure your relief in the appellate court. This court cannot, of course, always be correct in its rulings and decisions but I can and do promise an honest effort to administer justice and equity without regard to friend or foe."

"There is now pending in the Eighty-eighth district more than 1,500 cases, civil and criminal, of which number approximately one-half will be by the judge of that court transferred to the Ninety-first—this justifies me in concluding that this will be for years to come a busy court. It is therefore to your interest and to the interest of the clients which you represent to do your part as an officer of this court; that means when any case in which you may be interested has been assigned for trial that you are going to put forth your best efforts in preparation of your case and, if possible, be ready on the date assigned. This should apply to the attorneys representing both plaintiff and defendant."

"I am not unmindful of the fact that as attorneys we frequently imagine that it might be to the interest of the party which we represent to procure postponement or continuance from time to time, but I trust that no attorney practicing before this court will find it necessary to resort to such methods; let's be honest and frank with each other and with the court and in that way materially assist in the dispatch of business."

"It has been my observation, since the congested condition of the docket in the old district, that there has been among the attorneys, in many instances, a spirit of unconcern, so far as the trial of cases is concerned. This condition, if true, has doubtless been brought about from the fact that the courts were hopelessly behind and but little chance of a trial of cases, but with the establishment of the new court, and with the co-operation of the attorneys, I trust that you may be able to find some encouragement that will justify you in putting forth greater efforts in the preparation for trial and thus assist the court in rapidly disposing of the accumulated cases."

Among the good wells expected in near Breckenridge in the next two or three days is the Rogers No. 1 of the Sinclair Oil & Gas company, offsetting the Prairie company's Ackers which came in several days ago for heavy production.

The Rogers well is drilling at a depth of 2,900 and should strike the top of the one at about 3,030. No. 2 Rogers is a location.

The P. P. company's Riehe No. 1, four miles north of Strawn, has shown no abatement in gas pressure. The pressure is so heavy that it is impossible to lower the tools in the hole and no attempt will be made to drill deeper at this time. The well will be shut in. An oil sand was found at 3,730 feet, underlying the black lime.

The well which has marked the Ranger Eastland district for the past week continues, nothing of interest being reported. Many wells in Stephens county are working below 2,500 feet and numerous completions will be made soon.

Nitros Win, 6 to 1, Passing Cisco; Neat One Round Fight

It was advertised as a baseball game—the match yesterday between One-Round Griesbeck and Kid King. It had a baseball flavor, it is true. But the event of the day, as the fans whoopingly conceded, was the set of fisticuffs to which the 6-1 victory chalked up to Clet Boyer of Ranger was a pleasing side-show.

No Prelims. Five innings or so of fair to middling baseball were played as a preliminary, contrary to usual procedure. The bout also was without the usual prelims, semi-windups and introductions to the effect that "Batting Bazo," a hundred and thirty-free ponies, will take on the winner of dis go next Tuesday.

It was a different sort of match, altogether. It came rather as a surprise to the file fans, who developed enthusiasm on the spot and cheered the exponents of the manly art of their best efforts. One-Round Griesbeck, who catches, between fights, for the Cisco Baseball association, was a base-runner for the time being, having knocked out a one-base hit and purloined second. Kid King, also posing as a base-runner, was on third, by means of a two-base hit and that single that One-Round had hit. No batsmen or base-runners had been retired when Thrash took his place at bat. He hit sharply to Manager Jim Galloway of the Ranger baseball club, who found One-Round Griesbeck with his guard down and applied the baseball to him.

One-Round was counted out as a base-runner. As a boxer, he was just warming up. Kid King, wisely, had stayed in his corner when the baseball was hit to Manager Galloway. This fact, taken in conjunction with One-Round's easy demise, aroused One-Round's fighting blood. Up to now he had been merely fooling.

He came to Kid King's corner, formerly known as third base with a bad look in his eye.

The two followers of the far-famed manius eyed each other for a moment. A few dirty words were exchanged, in too low a tone to be caught by the anxious ears of the fans.

It was plain that action was afoot. The fans watched the pair closely as they feinted conversationally.

Kid King took a step from the base, out of his corner, that is, One-Round opened with a right cross to the jaw. They clinched.

Ringside fans, those on the front row of the stand, rose to their feet with howls of appreciation. Some of the more ardent left their seats to run nearer to the mixers.

Closely locked, there was little chance for the eye in this first and only round were slated for disappointment. One-Round twisted his mitt, lost and got in some nasty in-fighting, sending choppy blows to the body.

They stung the Kid, who held on gamely, hoping for a chance to get over his right. He was able to use it but once, when he half broke the clinch and sent over a hook to the ear.

It was plain that the in-fighting would lead to no decisive outcome. Both men were strong enough to stand up under this indefinitely. Unless the referee demanded open fighting and more to do to work, neither could gain advantage.

It was a draw, when Referee Tom Carson, manager of the Cisco baseball club, between fighters, separated the pair.

Police Stop Bout. The police—in the person of Jim Hunt—stepped in at this point and put a stop to the go, claiming that several blows had been struck outside the foul line. He even went so far as to intimate that fines might be assessed against the principals, to the amount of $11.70, if the police judge saw fit.

The manly art is fairly poorly these days. Tim Griesbeck, formerly the One-Round wonder, made his way to the water keg and then to the visitors dug-out and the entertainment assumed the tamer and more conventional aspect of the national pastime. Ole John King, who was Kid King, scored a nooner later from third base with the only Cisco tally of the day.

Ranger, winning easily the baseball game which was played before and after the bout, passed Cisco in the West Texas standings, going to third place. Johnson, who flung for Cisco, was a cinch to our boys, who hit him almost at will, for seventeen snappers, for twenty-two bases, while Boyer, with flashy support when Summary. it was needed, had the opposition well in hand.

Fuller reached first on a walk, sacrifice and Mooney's muff in the first inning, but died in a double steal, in a chase between Pepper Pemberton and Jody Tate.

In the third, Flagg's single down the third base line, Jack York's muff and a hit to deep short filled the bases after two were down. Thrash, who batted viciously Sunday, was up. He drove to Clopp, who took it after a short run.

King's double, Griesbeck's single and steal put two on in the sixth. But Tim was chased out by Galloway, as mentioned, on Thrash's grounder. John scored when Beard poled a fly to Clopp. Anderson popped up to Galloway.

In the eighth and ninth, two hits each from a walk in the eighth, put Smoke Boyer in the hole and his support pulled him out.

York Again Active. Jack York had the honor of leading the first batting rally against his former club and of scoring the first run. He singled after Clopp drove out to center to start the Nitro first round. Hamilton tripled him home. Galloway singled Ham over. He took second when Tate rolled briskly out to Anderson and scored on Lovelace's drive through short to center.

Mooney sent a hot single to third after Lovelace was down in the fourth. Pemberton two-based to center, Dude holding up at third. Boyer was too eager and breezed, but Clopp tripled just inside the left foul line and Mooney and Pemberton rode home.

Hamilton thieved another tally in the seventh, starting with a single past short, stealing second and continuing his career of crime by a theft of third, a pretty devious steal, on which Griesbeck thought to catch him leading off second and found that his throw to the keystone was just what Ham needed to give him time to get to third. Galloway brought him home with a sacrifice fly to right.

In two other innings, the Nitros got three blows each time, but didn't shove over any counters.

Pepper Pemberton won more approval by his snappy work behind the bat. He took two difficult chances on high fouls: one off the wire on Fuller in the third and a second near the visitors' dugout, on Flagg in the fifth. He also batted a thousand, with a single, a double and two sacrifices. He's in the game every minute.

Hamilton had a hitting, scoring day with three hits, for five bases, and two runs. He also handed eight chances cleanly. His triple in the first, scoring York, was the first extra base blow of the day and his base running in the seventh, when he stole second and third and scored on a long fly to right, was pretty to watch.

Manager Jim robbed Kotzelnick in the fourth, with two down. He went behind second to take Sneeze's roller and threw him out by about a foot. It was hi-jackin' without the gun.

Two zippy double plays were made by the home boys. In the eighth Flagg led off with an infield hit to deep second, King singled past short, Griesbeck hit to the box and second was not covered, so Smoke threw him out at first. Thrash walked. Beard hit close to second and Jim tossed out Thrash and Ham threw out Beard.

In the ninth, Kotzelnick and Appleton, pinch batsman, singled after one was down. Fuller drove to Tate, who robbed him with a one-hand stab and doubled

SCOUTS—THEN ABILENE.

With a half game advantage over the Scouts by yesterday's victory, the Nitros go out today to hold it, and Nick Carter will have the job.

His last game was the first of the double-header which the club lost, at Eastland. The club must win again today to keep the half game edge.

Wednesday Abilene, who still is a few points ahead of the Nitros, though the same number of games from the lead, comes to Ranger for a three-game series. Adkins or Hudson, both with three days' rest, will be the choice, if the Eagles are showing the same proneness to hit left-handed pitching, Frank probably will go out.

Appleton before he could recover from his surprise and return to second. It was a grand play to end a game.

Appleton, former pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, is a recent acquisition for Cisco. Tom Carson signed him since the Ranger series started. He played with Fort Worth before going to the big time, stayed up a while, pitched a twenty-nine game in his first year in the majors and during the misunderstanding with Germany, was a star flogger for the Panthers. He was recently with the Wichita Falls Spudders.

He got in the game as a pinch batter and got his hit by bouncing one off the shin of Adams, who was umpiring bases. According to the rule, every time you hit the umps you get a base hit. Sort of award, you might say.

Cisco's double play came through a funny one in the sixth. Dude had singled and Pemberton bunted neatly toward first. Anderson took it and waited for Pepper. Pepper slowed up and waved for Dude to keep on going. But Dude was watching the play at first, after rounding second. Then he started again, Anderson threw to Fuller, to retire Pemberton, who threw Dude out going into third. He hesitated at second a second or two too long.

Jim was caught at the plate on what looked like a squeeze gone wrong, in the fifth. He sent a hot single at first and took third when Flagg threw it away on an attempted double play on Tate. Fuller to Flagg to the weeds behind first. Loyce was at bat and let the ball go by, though it was perfect for a bunt, waist high and close in. Jim was caught in a chase, Griesbeck to Beard.

JUDGES ARE AFTER RECORD FOR GAMES WITH SINGLE RUN

Special to The Times. EASTLAND, Aug. 2.—Mineral Wells smothered Eastland here today, 9 to 0, making twenty-six consecutive scoreless innings for Eastland. Cheeves was hit almost at will, thirteen base hits being gotten off him. Eastland was able to hit Johnson, but not at the proper times, only one man reaching third base, that coming in the ninth when Hartwick singled with two men out. The features of the game were a catch and throw by Gross, a catch by Bratcher and the slugging of Hartwick.

Special to The Times. ABILENE, Aug. 2.—The old pill was hit all over the lot and twice out of it in the first game of the transferred series here this afternoon. The breaks were with the Abilene Eagles and they annexed the matinee from the Gorman Buddies in the first of the three transferred games by a total count of 8 to 6. The teams play a double-header here tomorrow. Milan's circuit clout in the fifth came with two on and Taylor poled a homer in the same frame, tying the count. The score:

SWIMMING EVENTS AT OLYMPIAD CONTAIN RACES FOR WOMEN AND POLO MATCHES TO WIND UP DAY

ANTWERP, Aug. 2.—The complete program of the swimming events of the sixteenth Olympiad to be held at the big new swimming stadium now under construction here, provides for both day and night events running through eight days. Water polo matches are to conclude each day's program.

So many nations are expected to send teams to compete, that the Olympic committees have arranged that the preliminaries in most of the events shall be conducted in a system of series, perhaps half of the swimmers competing one day and the other half later in the week.

The swimming program, which is one of the few in which women can compete, is expected to draw competitors from most of the famous swimmers of Sweden, Australia and the United States.

For women there are the 100-meter and 300-meter free swimming races, two classes of diving events and a 400-meter relay.

The various events have been assigned as follows: Sunday, August 22—400-meter free swimming race; preliminaries; dives, 5 and 10 meters, first and second series; 400-meter side stroke; first round series, one, two, three and four; 100-meter free swimming for women; 100-meter swimming on back; water polo.

CITY LEAGUE OPENS CLUB ROSTERS TO ANY LOCAL PLAYERS

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the City League it was voted to throw open the doors of the players list and permit the managers of teams to sign any and all players who would come under the rulings as specified:

1. No professional players (making particular reference to men of the West Texas League) were to be signed by any club, nor any ball player earning his livelihood at the present time through baseball alone.

2. Newly acquired players shall have worked for their respective firms at least ninety days before signing up.

3. Teams are permitted to go outside of their immediate bounds to get players; i. e., a player need not work for the company or division which his team represents.

SHOPS AND TOBACCO IN TWO GAMES THIS WEEK; ONE TONIGHT

The Shops team is out for a victory with the Nicotines this week when they meet in a dual attraction as the result of a regularly scheduled game on Thursday evening and a postponement of several weeks hence.

The Sinclair team held the Shops team even all the way Sunday and really played better defensive ball, since they went through the game errorless, but Wagner struck out eleven of the opposition while McGowan fanned but half that number.

HOW FAIR SCORING ENCOURAGES FAST PLAY—"LONG CHANCES"
take a chance, risking an error accredited him by a untutored or unthinking scorer.

"A base hit is scored when a fair hit ball is partially or wholly stopped by a fielder in motion, but such player cannot recover himself in time to field the ball to first or before the striker reaches that base or to force out another base-runner.

"A base hit is scored when the ball is hit with such force to an infielder or pitcher that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman or force out a base-runner. In case of doubt over this class of hits, a base hit should be scored and the fielder exempted from the charge of an error."

In this connection, it may be pointed out that a pitcher seldom, if ever, has a chance to field a hard hit ball to the box. He is off balance at the end of his delivery and he is lucky, in case of a smash, to get out of its way.

"Score to encourage the cleanest, fastest and most aggressive play. Then you'll be helping the game, son."

Mrs. Petit Takes Red Cross Work; Nurse on Leave

Mrs. Grace Harrington, Red Cross welfare nurse, with her husband, C. F. Harrington, left yesterday for a month's vacation to be spent touring the state by automobile.

Mrs. Pettit stated yesterday that the Red Cross wanted the fact stressed that its organization was making a special effort to get compensation and vocational training for all ex-soldiers, and it wanted the ex-service men to understand that such compensation and vocational training was at the expense of the government and without charge of any kind to the applicant.

All details of the applications would be attended by the Red Cross, Mrs. Pettit said, if ex-service men would apply to any one of its branches.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION IN NEED OF NEW PEP
By Associated Press
OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 3.—J. A. Calder, minister of immigration and colonization, soon will go to Europe to reorganize Canadian immigration agencies there. It was recently announced here.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION IN NEED OF NEW PEP
Except for inspection of British war veterans for land settlement and the bringing in of domestics, little has been done to procure new settlers from Europe since the war began. Immigrants now must have $250 or procure proof that they are going to work before being admitted. Under the reorganization plan special effort will be made to obtain farm and domestic help, it was said.

MEXICAN SOLDIERY ACT ON SLOGAN OF "FROM GUN TO PLOW"

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3.—More than 5,000 officers and privates in the Mexican army retired from military service in the first week of July, according to the El Dorado.

This general withdrawal from the army is the result of a campaign recently launched by the government to induce a large part of the soldiers of Mexico to abandon the rifle for the plow, as the Mexican press is fond of phrasing it.

The government's campaign for a smaller army is due to the realization that vast tracts of valuable agricultural land are in urgent need of development and that many factories in Mexico are short of help. It is pointed out that the present military situation is such as to require the services of not more than 50,000 men, thus permitting the other thousands of men under arms to devote themselves to the task of economically rehabilitating the country.

The recent uprisings of Generals Carlos Ochoa and Jesus H. Guajardo have not altered the government's determination to reduce the personnel of the army. According to General Antonio I. Villarreal, Secretary of Agriculture and Development, these two movements do not "present a military problem."

BRITISH DOCTORS TO KEEP THEIR PATIENTS' SECRETS

(By International News Service.) LONDON, Aug. 3.—After two days' debate the British Medical Association has decreed that doctors shall stick by tradition and not reveal patients' secrets, even though revelations of those secrets might be just the evidence required by a court of law to sentence a person to prison or death.

Thus doctors will remain in the same category with priests and lawyers, respecting the confidence of their clientele. This decision was arrived at after one physician stated he knew of a case where another doctor poisoned his wife without arousing the suspicion of public authorities.

Practically all British medical authorities support the decision, which they say, if not taken, likely would result in such domestic unpopularity and great personal misery to priests.

DISPERSAL SALE MARKS PASSING OF HISTORIC POLLED HEREFORD HERD

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 3.—The livestock dispersal sale at the Mossom Boyd farm in central Saskatchewan marked the passing of a historic herd of polled Hereford cattle which was one of the original sources of that breed in America.

Mr. Boyd, who died recently, shared with B. O. Gammon, of Des Moines, Iowa, the distinction of having originated this breed. Both were students of the Mendelian theory of heredity and began in 1898 a co-operative effort to breed a variety of hornless Herefords. In 1902 Mr. Gammon made a canvass of 2,400 Hereford breeders and discovered four bulls which by freak of nature had been born hornless.

Mr. Gammon bought two of these bulls and Mr. Boyd the other two and these four animals became the progenitors of all the polled Herefords in the world. They were bred to horned Hereford cows and a part of their offspring was hornless. By mating these hornless cattle the breed was gradually evolved. At the time of his death, Mr. Boyd had a herd of 500 on his farm on the Canadian National Railways near Prince Albert.

JAPAN STEEL WORKS BAND TO GAIN POWER

TOKIO, Aug. 3.—Amalgamation of all the steel works in Japan, in order to tide over the present trade conditions, is reported under consideration by the Japanese government, the authorities of which are said to be investigating the possibilities of a nationwide merger.

The iron market continues weak, owing to the slump in quotations and the decrease in demand, although the amount of iron imported from the United States aggregates nearly 2,000 tons a month in accordance with the contracts signed last year.

In these circumstances, pessimistic views are being now entertained by some of the iron dealers, and a number of the steel works have been obliged to close. The output for the first half of the current year, therefore, is expected to result in a decrease of nearly 30 per cent, with even worse prospects for the latter half of the year.

JOHN-A-DREAMS

LXXXII. DREAMS OF PLAYING GAMES AND SPORTS

Dreams of games, either of the purely entertaining sort or those which are commonly included in the term "sports" are minor in character but of good and cheerful meaning. Of course, there must be dominion at stake (see the chapter on gambling), for if there is, the significance of the vision changes vastly. I here refer only to most innocent of indulgences, cards being included, however.

The best way to approach this subject is by means of a tabulation. Naturally the incidents accompanying the game or your part in it, would change the interpretation. Two meanings given below refer only to dreams in which you are engaged in a game or see one, without any special evils or becoming predominant and gaining significance of its own. Of these I shall speak later.

The most commonly accepted meanings are these:

- Cards—Small money losses.
- Football—Arguments.
- Bowling—A small gathering of congenial spirits.
- Cricket—A short trip.
- Kissing Games—A flirtation with unpleasant consequences.
- La Crosse—A disappointment and in all likelihood an insult.
- Parlor Games—A slight illness.
- Outdoor Games (such as puss-in-the-corner, etc.)—A stay in the country.
- Running and Jumping Games—Pleasant surprises.
- Tennis—A trifling love affair.
- Polo—An invitation.
- Games in the Water—Helpful friends.
- Children's Games—Nursing the sick.

There are many other games but you will be able to fit them into one of the classes given here without much trouble. The only sport which must not be included is horse racing. Of this I shall tell you specially in the next chapter.

Now, if in the course of any of the games enumerated above you grow fatigued, you will find that, for some reason or other, coldness will spring up between you and a friend. If you dream that you are falling while engaged in sport, you will wear or otherwise damage a valuable garment. If you have the sensation of the game being suddenly interrupted, the next few days will bring you face to face with Dame Care.

An argument of an unpleasant character begun in a dream-game means a kiss and much laughter, while if you are being kissed in your dream while playing a matter of the heart, which you are taking seriously, will turn out to be but a pastime to the other party.

To win a game, and to be congratulated on your skill or good luck, is not a good sign. It means envy and jealousy. If the person or persons you are playing with are well known to you, then you may count on making a purchase which will more than please you. But if they are strangers, you will be cheated in some small matter, probably by buying something that will turn out to have been misrepresented.

In the next chapter I shall tell of Horse Racing.

SIXTY BARRELS BOOZE SPELL START IN LIFE FOR CLEVELAND BABY

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Sixty barrels of whiskey spell education and start in life for Sherman Goodfriend, age two years. The whiskey was willed to him in trust by his uncle, Adolph Goodfriend, a former wholesale liquor dealer who died recently. The will asks the whiskey be sold and the money held in trust until the boy is 21 years of age.

Federal authorities say the liquor can be sold legally for medicinal purposes. They figure that there are 3,000 gallons in the sixty barrels. At $10 a gallon, the price registered druggists pay, it would be worth $3,000.

SECRETARY MAILLS BIRTH ORDINANCE TO CITY DOCTORS

Copies of the city ordinance requiring the registering of births and deaths in the city's offices by attending physicians and mid-wives, are being sent out to all physicians in the city by George Hemmingson, city secretary, in an effort to get the physicians to comply with the law without having to resort to drastic action.

According to Mr. Hemmingson, very few doctors in the city are complying with the law.

The ordinance provides that all births and deaths be registered with the city secretary and provides a penalty for violators of its terms.

SHE ONLY WEIGHED NINETY POUNDS

Takes Tanlac and Now Weighs Exactly One Hundred and Fifteen Pounds.

"When I first began taking Tanlac I only weighed ninety pounds, but I now weigh one hundred and fifteen," said Mrs. E. J. Straw, of 710 Crocker street, Des Moines, Iowa.

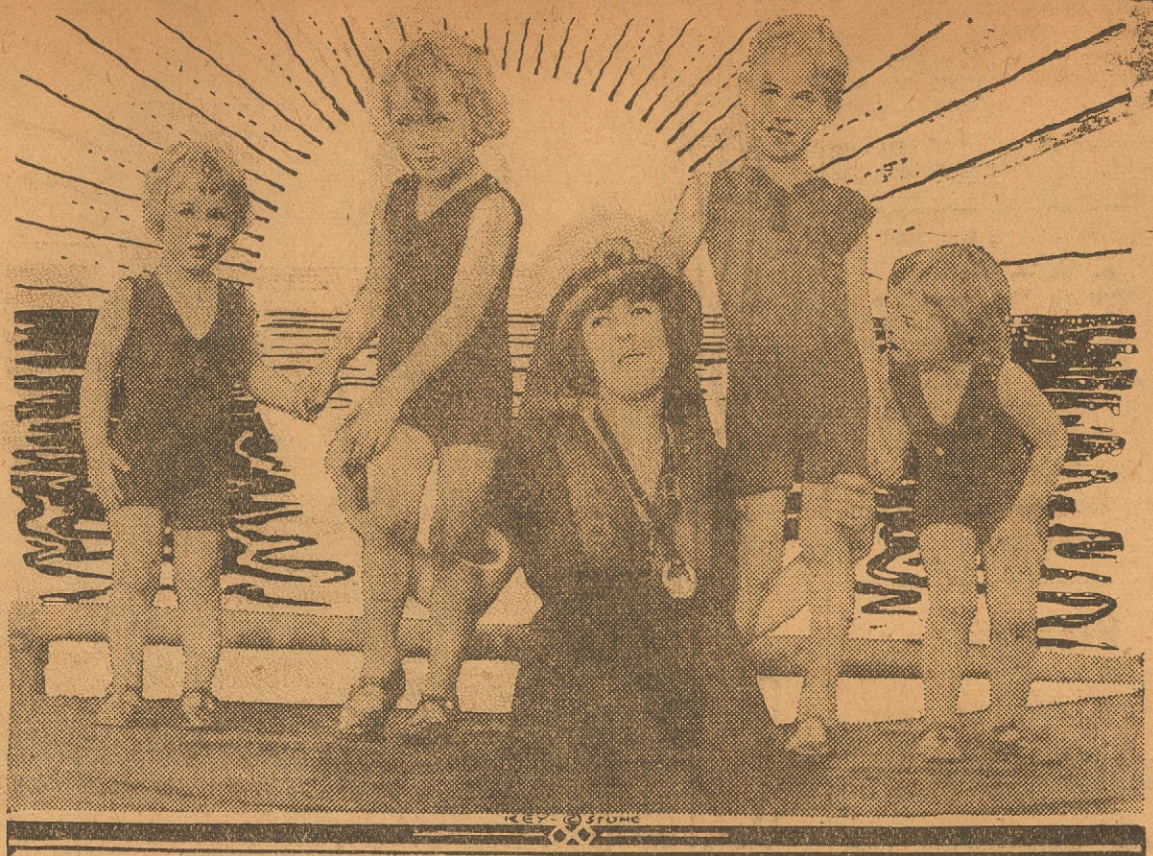

"I really thought I was not going to ever get well," she continued, "so my wonderful recovery has made me one of the happiest women in Iowa and I believe Tanlac saved my life."

"A year ago I had influenza which left my kidneys all out of order and my stomach in such bad condition I could not eat without suffering terribly afterwards. I also had neuritis so bad in my right shoulder that I had not been able to comb my hair for six months. I tried everything to get built up again but got worse all the time and to add to my troubles my nerves gave way; I could not do any of my housework and had to spend most of the time in bed."

"When I began taking Tanlac I had been in bed three weeks, but before I finished the first bottle I was up and about. Now I have taken seven bottles and every one has been worth its weight in gold to me. The stomach trouble, neuritis and nervousness are entirely gone and I am so strong I do all the housework without the least trouble. In fact, I am enjoying the best of health and can't praise Tanlac enough."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros. and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

SUN BATHS, ALL DAY LONG, MAKE CHILDREN STRONG

Mme. Laforgue and her children on their arrival in New York.

Mme. Paul Laforgue of Paris has just arrived in America with her four children. The kiddies attracted much attention on the way over, for they wore only bathing suits and sandals. Mme. Laforgue is a former Denver girl who seven years ago married a Paris banker. Her two oldest children were delicate, but the exposure to the sun has made them strong and well.

Sinn Fein Influence Paralyzes British Use of Irish Railways TRAINMEN QUIT WHEN TROOPS CLIMB ABOARD

(By Associated Press.) DUBLIN, Aug. 3.—The Irish railway situation apparently has resolved itself into a contest between the government and Sinn Fein, and all the moves on each side are calculated from that point of view.

If there is to be a general stoppage of all traffic each side is determined to make the other responsible for it, and there will be an argument as to whether it is a strike or a lockout. The government has been accumulating transport, and has no difficulty in conveying any quantity of guns and munitions to any part of Ireland. It has therefore not chosen to force the pace of tendering munitions for the Irish goods trains, which on the refusal of the railway men to handle them would have meant depriving Ireland of many of the necessities of life.

The trouble which has occurred has been solely on the passenger trains and has been mainly concerned with the carriage of small parties of policemen or of troops who are being used as supplementary to the police. At first when the railwaymen refused to carry them the soldiers or police took it calmly and returned to their barracks. Later on the government issued an order that the soldiers or police should sit tight in the railway carriages and insist on being carried. They were also directed to present themselves at the next train starting for their destination.

Hence a series of spasmodic hold ups of trains all over the country which cannot be relieved till the police decide to withdraw. Wherever the police insist on being carried the trains cease to run beyond that station and the railwaymen responsible are dismissed. But the passenger trains which do not stop at that station are unaffected, and run through as usual. On the Midland line this has meant that trains from Dublin cannot get past Athlone and Castleren, while trains up to Dublin still run.

RECORD SUGAR BEET CROP.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Sugar production from sugar beets this year is forecast at 2,007,000,000 pounds by the department of agriculture basing its estimate on the conditions of the crop July 1. It will be a record crop. Last year 1,453,000,000 pounds were produced from sugar beets and the average production for the five years, 1914-18, was 1,577,200,000 pounds.
