PRESIDENT COOLIDGE INAUGURATED

Nation's Chief Executive Goes Out of Life Without Chance to Bid Goodbye

Warren G. Harding Thought Improving; Dies Very Suddenly

In the Gathering Dusk of Evening, While His Wife Is Reading to Him, Death Strikes. His Frame Shudders, His Eyes Film and His Spirit Leaves the Body as the Light of a Candle is Snuffed Out.

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—A nation today mourned the passing of her leader. The American people from coast to coast and gulf to gulf, bowed their heads in grief for the President was dead. In the early hours of the evening after a day which brought renewed hope for recovery, death came suddenly and Warren G. Harding had passed on. The physicians attending the chief executive said that death was due to a stroke of cerebral apoplexy.

The end came without a warning at 7:30 o'clock. There was no time to summon additional physicians, no time to call all the members of his official family, no time to apply medical skill to ward off death. It was all over in a twinkling of an eye.

Mrs. Harding, the constant companion of her distinguished husband, was faithfully with him until the end. She was reading to him when she noticed his frame shudder and his eyes move strangely and the one whom she loved and encouraged in adversity and praised in success was in a death struggle. Before she could rise from her chair to summon aid, a nurse rushed to the door and called for help.

Brigadier General Sawyer, of the staff of physicians who have been attending the chief executive was also in the room and with the two nurses did all they could. The President had fought and won over one ailment but lost the battle to a more insidious disease.

Mrs. Harding was standing the shock well today but whether she could stand up under the grief as the sad journey back to Washington begins, is another matter. Those who know her best say she will.

When dawn crept over the mountains and the Golden Gate (almost all of the arrangements for the trip—the saddest of all trans-continental trips in the history of the nation—had been made. The journey to Washington will begin at 7 o'clock tonight.

From that point definite arrangements have not been made, but it is expected that the body will lie in state in the rotunda of the capitol, where sorrowing throngs have, time and again, passed through to view the bodies of their Presidents and national heroes. Burial will be made at Marion, O., which city the President had made known around the world, because her son of poor and humble surroundings had climbed to the highest honor the nation can bestow on her sons.

President Harding was a man who loved the homefolks. And if he had had time to leave a parting word, it would have been that he be buried in his home town, where all of the people knew him as "Warren" and where he called everyone by the first name.

The trip will be made on the same train that carried across the continent a well and happy man.

Harding Stresses Need of More Real Religion in World

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—The last public utterance of President Harding was a prayer for more real religion in the world. He was intensely religious, his native and this found expression to a marked degree in the last few months, especially during his last tour when he was constantly urging the country to give more heed to religion.

This was the essence of the doctrine preached by him on many of his eastern tours. He said the world had less need for sectarianism, or denominationalism or fanaticism, but needed more of the true spirit of Christ and more reverence for God. He urged divine guidance in every speech made on the trip.

HARDING'S DEATH LOSS TO COUNTRY; SAYS KAHN

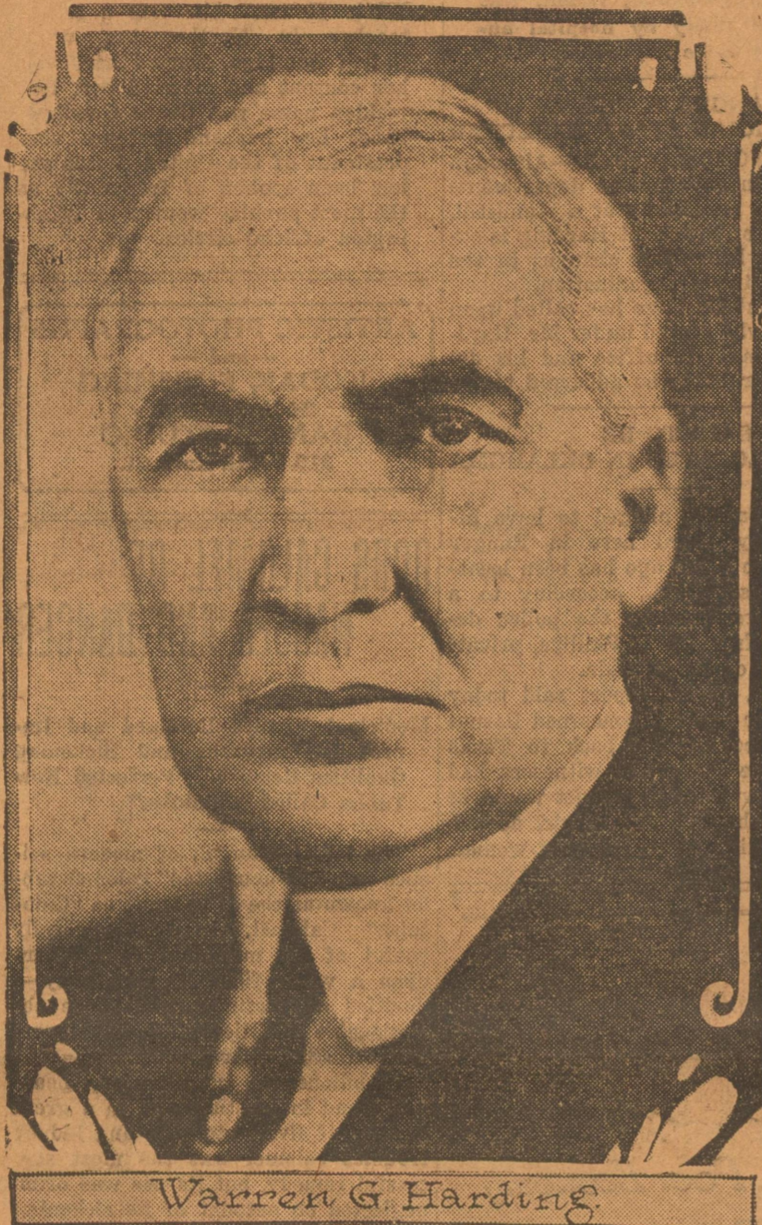

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Harding retired at 1 o'clock this morning and slept fitfully, according to announcement by her nurse. She was up early directing affairs of the party as usual, considering others rather than herself, as has been her custom.

Congressman Julius Kahn called at 10 o'clock this morning. He was sobbing when he came out of the room. "President Harding was thoroughly loved by everyone with whom he came into contact," Kahn said, commenting on Mr. Harding's death. "It is a terrible loss to the country."

Ranger Times Scores Again With Its "Extra" Thursday Night That Told of the President's Death 9 Hours Ahead Any Other Paper

President Warren G. Harding died Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, western time, which would be about 9:30 o'clock central time. Within a half hour the Ranger Times had been notified by the United Press and Associated Press of the President's death, and by 11 o'clock was receiving by long distance phone the story that told how death had come suddenly, taking family, physicians and the country without warning, for the President had been thought convalescing. Just a few minutes before midnight the complete story was in type together with a story about Vice President Calvin Coolidge, who would succeed to the presidency, and at midnight the press started to print the Times "extra," telling the people of West Texas the startling news.

Newsboys were on the streets of Ranger a little after midnight this morning crying news of the President's death. Newsboys were on the streets of Eastland and Cisco a few minutes later selling the Ranger Times to the people of those two cities. Nevertheless early this morning carried the Times "extra" to Thurber, Strawn and Mingus. OVER 3,000 COPIES SOLD. The Times "extra" was the only newspaper in West Texas between Fort Worth and Abilene Thursday, that carried the story of the President's death. The Ranger Times was the only newspaper between Fort Worth and Abilene to issue an "extra." The people of Eastland county were told of the tragedy more than nine hours before the first "extras" published in Fort Worth reached here this morning and the Ranger Times carried a more complete story in its "extra" than published in the Fort Worth "extras" first reaching here. It was a "showdown" of the pre-dated edition of the city papers when the city editions first on the street this morning, all bearing date of Aug. 3, told nothing of the President's death but on the contrary told that he was convalescing, while the Ranger Times "extra" bearing date of Aug. 2, told of the President's death and how it occurred. The Ranger Times gives you the news first.

For hours he sat motionless. Later he began wringing his hands, mumbling to himself, "Boys, this is terrible; this is terrible; my Warren has gone."

U. S. WITHOUT VICE PRESIDENT FOR PRESENT

President Proteem of Congress Next in Line of Succession, So Must Wait Congress.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Political leaders here today were faced with the question of reassignment of government as a result of the death of President Harding, and the succession of Vice President Coolidge to the presidency.

It is claimed there will be no successor to Coolidge as vice president of the United States until the next regular session of congress, as the president proteem of the senate, who becomes the vice president, cannot be elected until congress meets again.

Senator Albert B. Cummins was president proteem of the last congress and may not stand for re-election. In that event Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip, may be the next president proteem of the senate, which will make him in effect the vice president of the United States.

There is no reason for a special session of congress unless President Coolidge wishes to name a new cabinet, in which event congress would have to be convened to confirm the appointments. It is customary for cabinet members to tender their resignations to the new President, and members of President Harding's cabinet probably will do so, but if the President does not accept the resignations, the cabinet may continue unchanged.

President Coolidge, when vice president, always attended the cabinet meetings, being the first vice president of the United States to be taken into the President's official family in that manner.

Preparations for Elks Big Jubilee Go Ahead Rapidly

Electricians, carpenters and laborers are transforming the Community hall and adjoining grounds into first class condition and appearance for its use during the Jubilee of the Ranger Elks here on Aug. 22-25.

The fence is being continued around the entire lot with the exception of the hall on the east side. Lights are being strung across the lot. Carpenters are working on the stage on which nightly programs will be given. The dance platform, 30x40, has been completed. Booths are being installed. The decorations have not been put into place yet but when ready, flags and bunting will entwine all of the posts of the big hall.

Republicans In Search of Office Seek New Vision

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Harding's death threw new complexities into the political situation within the Republican party and which will have a far-reaching reflection in the national convention of next year.

Members of the party who will be prominent in the contest for the presidential nomination will be the stalwart conservative forces lined up on one side and forces led by such leaders as Senator Hiram Johnson of California, Senator Borah of Idaho and Senator LaFollette on the other side.

Calvin Coolidge Twenty-Ninth President of United States

His Father, a Notary Public, Administers Oath of Office Which Serves as Inauguration, in Parlor of Old Farmhouse in Little Vermont Hamlet Where Nation's New Chief Executive Was Born.

By United Press.

PLYMOUTH, Vermont, Aug. 3.—Calvin Coolidge is President of the United States. He took the oath of office here early today.

The oath was taken in private, in the old farm house of his father here.

Coolidge was formally notified of the President's death in a joint telegram from Attorney General Daugherty, Secretaries Work, Wallace and Hoover. It was only a few minutes after receipt of this formal notification that the vice president retired to his father's home and took the oath. His father, 78, unshaven and wore no collar when he stepped before his son the historic ceremony. He donned his coat for the occasion.

The extraordinary ceremony was enacted in the parlor of the family home by the light of an oil lamp and the oath was taken on the old family Bible.

Witnesses were: Mrs. Coolidge, Congressman Porter H. Dale, Vermont; L. L. Lane, president of the Railway Mail association of New England and Joseph McInerney, chauffeur.

The inauguration of the twenty-ninth President of the United States took place at 2:47 o'clock Friday morning, eastern time, in the parlor of the Coolidge farm home, where Calvin Coolidge was born. It was within three hours after the vice president had received word of the President's death. The oath was administered by John Coolidge, the aged father of the new chief executive, who is a notary public.

President Coolidge started early this morning from his birthplace farm to Washington to take up his new duties. He left the little hamlet early this morning bound for the national capital.

Coolidge had no plans for the summer other than to spend the vacation period with the home folks and help get in the hay. He loved to work on the farm and swap yarns with the boys. Today he is President. An automobile carried him before the sun was up over the rough roads between his home town and Rutland, where he boarded the train for Washington.

By Associated Press.

Calvin Coolidge, now President of the United States, was born July 4, 1872.

Calvin Coolidge, although by profession a lawyer, entered the public service almost immediately upon leaving college.

First elected a member of the city council of Northampton, Mass., the city which had been his home since he became a voter, he progressed steadily upward through the offices of city solicitor, mayor, membership in the house of representatives and of the senate of Massachusetts, serving as president of the latter body, and then as a lieutenant-governor until elected governor and in 1920 vice president of the United States.

In the more than 20 years he gave to those duties his time was almost exclusively devoted to the problems of public affairs. Only incidentally did he turn to the law, although he always maintained an office with an associate at Northampton.

He was born in the village of Plymouth, Vt., on July 4, 1872, of Puritan ancestors who came to this country and settled in Watertown, Mass., in 1630.

He left the farm in 1891 for Amherst college and graduated with honors in 1895. Immediately upon leaving college he went to Northampton to study law and finally settled there.

It was Mr. Coolidge's common sense, his insight into legislative tactics and his mentality which first attracted to him the attention of political leaders. The late Senator W. Murray Crane, who was a resident of Coolidge's congressional district, was among the first to note these qualities, and he resolved to utilize the first opportunity to project Mr. Coolidge into the national political arena.

By hard work and steady progress Mr. Coolidge continued his rise until he could be considered for high state office and then it was that Senator Crane and other leaders exerted their powers to have him nominated for the lieutenant governorship. He was elected in the first campaign won by the Republicans in Massachusetts for several years, due to the Progressive party split. Thereafter it was but logical for him to succeed to the governorship, an office which he held for two terms and which he left for the vice presidency.

It was from a telegraphic communication from Washington that the vice president obtained the exact form of the oath of office for a President to take in assuming office. Mrs. Coolidge, congressman Porter Dale and a little party of friends and acquaintances witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Coolidge went quietly through the simple ceremony. His father read by a table on which burned an oil lamp. The oath he took follows:

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and I will try, with all of my ability to preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States."

Mr. Coolidge calmly and quietly repeated the words, to which he added, "So God help me."

The committee on Masonic service and education, which is making a tour of the state in the interests of Free Masonry and its principles, arrived in Ranger at 12 o'clock today from Cisco, where it conducted programs yesterday.

A program for Masons and their families is being given this afternoon by the committee and tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock the committee will present a program for Masons only.

The dramatic events of the Boston police strike, in which the governor took a firm and unyielding stand for law and order, focused upon him in 1919 national attention and made of him almost overnight a national figure. For a while he was talked of prominently as a presidential possibility.

As vice president he became a regular attendant at the President's cabinet meetings, a custom established for the first time in his case.

Mr. Coolidge married Miss Grace Goodhue, whom he first met in Northampton as a teacher, in 1905 and they have two sons.

COOLIDGE WIRES MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY TO MRS. HARDING

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 3.—Vice President Coolidge became President at 2:42 a. m. when he took the oath of office in the living room of the farmhouse, where he was born. Three hours earlier he had been notified of President Harding's death and he expressed his regrets at the passing of his "chief and friend," and declared his intention of carrying out the policies "which he began in the service of the American people."

A messenger who had hastened from Bridgewater, the nearest telegraph station, brought word of the President's death. The following telegram was sent to Mrs. Harding, signed by Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge: "We offer you our deepest sympathy. May God bless you and keep you."

It was from a telegraphic communication from Washington that the vice president obtained the exact form of the oath of office for a President to take in assuming office. Mrs. Coolidge, congressman Porter Dale and a little party of friends and acquaintances witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Coolidge went quietly through the simple ceremony. His father read by a table on which burned an oil lamp. The oath he took follows:

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and I will try, with all of my ability to preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States."

Mr. Coolidge calmly and quietly repeated the words, to which he added, "So God help me."

BIBLE THOUGHT. HE REDEEMS AND CROWNS. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits; who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies. —Psalms 103:1, 4.

THE NATION MOURNS. Warren G. Harding, twenty-eighth president of the United States, is dead. He was the sixth president to die in office. He was comparatively young, being only a little more than 56 years of age, was apparently in the best of health and vigorous, being devoted to outdoor exercise, possessing a calm temperament and having a vision of a long life. At least it appeared so to those who knew him best.

But where death roves men will fall and President Harding got in the way of death's scythe. The nation mourns the passing of its chief executive and of a distinguished and honored citizen, the people mourn the loss of one who was a friend of humanity, his personal friends mourn the death of one who was dear to them, and members of his family, who more than all others knew how to appreciate his true worth, have a sorrow that only time will heal.

President Harding was essentially a man of the people. As a boy he had to make his own way and triumph over exceptional difficulties and discouragements to attain a modest success. But as he progressed he acquired greater strength, and so he moved up step by step. Entering political life, he was chosen to represent his state in the senate of the United States and finally was elected by the people to administer the office that has been honored in other years by Washington, by Jefferson, by Lincoln, by Roosevelt, and by Wilson.

It may be said with truth that President Harding had fewer enemies than any man ever chosen to be the chief executive of this nation. This does not imply that he lacked force, for time and again he demonstrated that he was a leader who could not be coerced, over-riden or influenced against his better judgment. But he had the faculty of presenting his arguments in a manner that, whether right or wrong, did not alienate those who might differ with him.

Politics must be forgotten when the President dies. He is elected to office as the representative of the dominant party. The minority may find fault with his policies, but at all times he is the President over all the nation, the chosen chief of all the people and he is esteemed and respected not only for the office he occupies but also for those personal attributes and that power of leadership that made him the people's choice for the presidency.

President Harding had political opponents even in his own party, but even while opposing him politically these were glad to be counted among his friends. He was an advocate of world peace and sought in a manner that astonished the world to place all nations in the attitude of opposing all future wars. Such a project could hardly succeed in a day or a year or in a decade, but it is certain that his efforts started the world along a path that is in the direction of world peace, and when war is finally abolished President Harding will be remembered as one of the first to take definite steps looking to this end.

The nation does not sorrow for President Harding. He accomplished a great work well and passed to his reward in the very zenith of his success. He triumphed to the moment of his last breath. But the nation mourns because a great executive has been taken away, the people sorrow for the devoted wife and the beloved members of his family, who will miss him more than any outside their circle can ever know. The nation honors President Harding and his memory always will be cherished. He carried on well at all times, and the example he gave of a pure, upright and consecrated life and steady devotion to duty may well be kept before the generations growing up and to come as worthy of emulation.

INVALID WHO BECOMES NURSE NOW MOURNS FOR THE DEVOTED HUSBAND CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. Warren G. Harding

Mrs. Harding Persuades Husband To Give Up Panama Trip In Hope of Postponing the Yet Longer Journey

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding left the White House in Washington more than a month ago to accompany the President on a 15,000-mile trip to Alaska and return by the Panama canal and Porto Rico. She insisted upon making the tour with her husband, notwithstanding the fact that she had recovered only recently from a serious illness, and was judged by a number as being in a condition that might make the hardships of the road disastrous, resulting possibly in a recurrence of the illness from which she had suffered.

The journey across the continent was completed. Mrs. Harding sailed from Tacoma the merriest and most vivacious member of the President's party, and it was not until she reached Fairbanks, Alaska, almost within the Arctic circle, that she heeded the rigors of travel and strenuous life along the Northern trails. Those who had worried about her condition from the time the western journey began feared she had overtaxed her strength. Two days of rest, however, dissipated the fatigue, and soon Mrs. Harding had regained her strength and went cheerfully on, receiving visitors and taking the "first lady's" role in a vigorous way wherever the chief executive stopped.

Mrs. Harding assumed cheerfully the burdens of the sick room, smiling in the face of adverse fortune, displaying a courage that won for her the admiration of every member of the presidential party, and lending an effective hand in the business office where secretaries and clerks labored with the work of cancelling arrangements, acknowledging hundreds of messages of solicitude and responding to continuous telephone calls from anxious friends everywhere in the country. It was Mrs. Harding who finally persuaded the President to give up hopes of continuing the journey as it was planned. Pleadings on the part of the chief executive's party, including the admonitions of Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, the President's physician and friend, it was learned, had failed to convince him that he had to surrender to sickness the pleasures of meeting the citizens along the line of travel, and let them know of his ailment.

During the time these discussions were in progress, from Saturday to Sunday morning, none of the President's party suspected his illness would be complicated or become more serious. It was believed generally that the slight attack of ptomaine poisoning would be overcome by a day or two of rest in San Francisco and the President would have recovered sufficiently by Tuesday to go through the arrangements in San Francisco that day and Wednesday and continue to Los Angeles, San Diego and home by way of Panama and Porto Rico.

Developments during the first day in San Francisco, however, made this plan impossible of execution. The President failed to respond to the physicians' treatment in the manner expected. Contrary to expectations of every one in the party, new complications arose, then it was said that Mrs. Harding, in conference with Dr. Sawyer, Secretary George B. Christian Jr., and Dr. Work, finally, with the President's assent, caused the publication of the statement canceling the entire program and leaving the future to be determined by the progress the President made in his fight for renewed health and strength.

Mrs. Barbara Hill Gives Unfortunate Family Nice Check

The sorrow felt by a Ranger woman, who drove her automobile to the Evergreen cemetery yesterday morning with the car full of little children to attend the burial services of 14-year-old Bessie May Robinson, for the little girl's unfortunate family was transformed into a check for $100, according to an eye-witness. The samaritan is Mrs. Barbara Hill, a resident of Ranger heights, the Times was told today. Bessie died Wednesday morning in a local hospital.

The check was taken to a local bank and the immediate wants of the Robinson family were taken care of. The Robinsons, while riding from Louisiana to a point north of Abilene, Texas, in a covered wagon were forced to stop off in Ranger because of a serious disease that struck two of the parents' girls. The youngest one, Helen, was reported today by hospital authorities to be improving.

FEW CHANGES IN THE OFFICIAL STAFF EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Although all work in government departments today was practically at a standstill, the death of President Harding is expected to bring few changes in the administration's organization. President Coolidge has called upon all those who served under Mr. Harding to remain in office and his desire will probably be adhered to.

Chief O. V. Davenport said today that as far as he is concerned Barnes will not be brought back to Texas to face the charge, as witnesses had left and evidence to convict would be hard to obtain. The affair, according to police, started over a woman.

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, whose husband early today took the oath of office as President of the United States, now is the recognized "first lady of the land," and soon is to take up her residence in the White House. Since her husband became vice president of the United States she has been spoken of frequently as the most popular woman in Washington official circles.

ROYAL COFFIN ALWAYS CARRIED ON STEAMER FOR FORMER KAISER

BREMEN, Aug. 3.—Back in the old days when William Hohenzollern, now living quietly in Holland, used to enjoy travelling about Europe, as the German emperor, the steamer Bremen often saw him installed in the imperial suite, built gaudily for his personal use.

It now appears this story was true. The Bremen is today the Constantinople, running between Sandy Hook and the Golden Horn.

Will Dempsey Ever Come Into Public Favor, Writer Asks

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor.) NEW YORK, August 3.—Jack McAuliffe, the genial lightweight and only champion who ever retired undefeated from the ring, has an idea that Jack Dempsey may yet come into the popularity that up to the time of the present champion has always come as a heritage to heavy-weight title holders.

Dempsey, as is well known, is not a hero in the public eye, for reasons that are hard to explain. It might be going too far to say that Dempsey is the most unpopular champion on the long list, because Jack Johnson held even a lower place in the estimation of the public.

Johnson brought himself into disfavor by his conduct after he had won the championship from Jim Jeffries, but Dempsey has done nothing since he won the title from Jess Willard to bring discredit upon himself, or on the game that has been so good to him.

Dempsey's war record got him in bad with the public and while most everyone has forgotten there was such a thing as a big war, the impression still lingers that he didn't do something when he had the chance. Friends of the champion and those who are broad-minded enough to go back to the days leading up to the war, know that Dempsey was largely the victim of circumstances and poor advice.

McAuliffe believes that a fight with Luis Firpo, the South American giant, will do much to win for Dempsey the public esteem that he deserves. Until the time that Dempsey is accredited as a national representative against a foreigner, he will not have an opportunity to get himself back into favor, McAuliffe believes.

Carpentier was the first foreign fighter to be cheered over an American and that can be explained, McAuliffe says. The war records of the two fighters was staged at a time when the hardships of the war was rather a fresh memory in the eyes of the public.

John L. Sullivan gained his greatest popularity when he fought Mitchell, the sentiment being "our champion against a foreigner." When Dempsey meets Firpo, unless the animosity against Dempsey is too deep rooted to be pulled out, the American public will rally the same way behind the champion.

Indications of this were shown in the Firpo-Willard fight when the crowd arose spontaneously and yelled for Willard to win when he rallied and seemed to have a chance. The sentiment there was clearly for an American against a foreigner, because Willard during his regime as champion, was hardly more popular than Dempsey.

Through all his trials and troubles, Dempsey has been such a good sport that some time sentiment is bound to change in his favor. He never has grumbled or complained. He has never made answer to accusations that were manifestly unfair and untrue and he has never shown malice towards the crowds that practically razed him on his last two appearances in the ring.

PLANTS THAT LIVE ON A MEAT DIET NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—In the marshes of New Jersey are found plants whose regular diet consists largely of insects. Because such localities are poor in nitrogen, these plants have formed the habit of catching their nitrogen in the form of living prey. The sundew is the name of the plant.

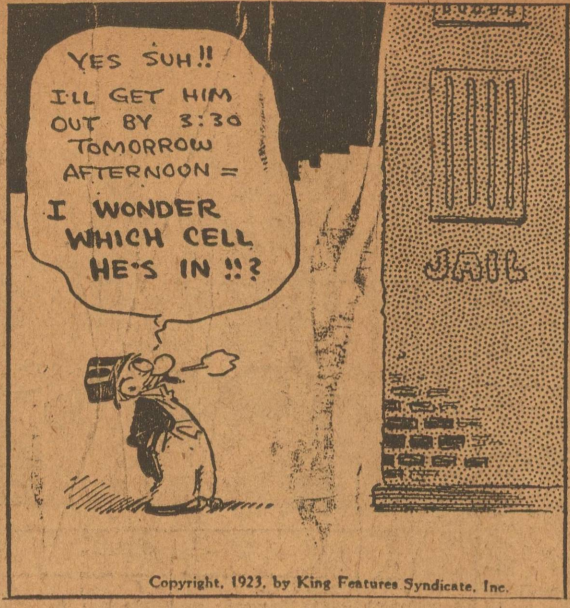

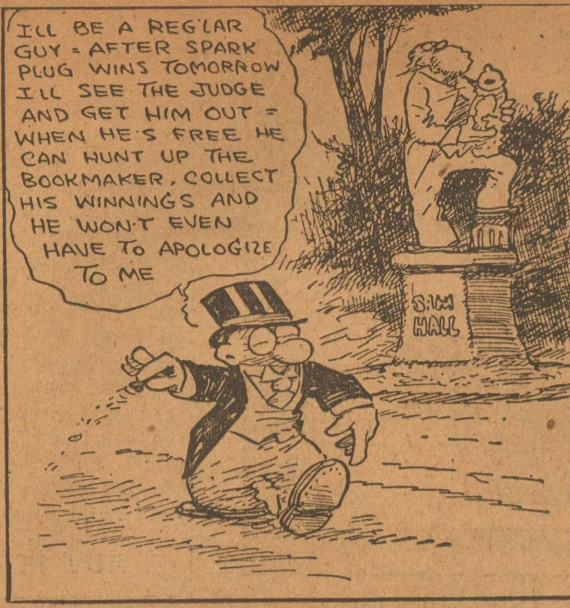

Its leaves are covered with tentacles. When a fly happens to touch one or more of them, it is arrested by a sticky liquid that brings it in contact with other tentacles. These at once begin to curve inward until the living food thus captured has been digested and its nutritious juices absorbed to feed the plant, says May Tevis in the Mentor for August.

ENGLAND WON'T TRY TO KEEP HER ART TREASURES By Associated Press. LONDON, Aug. 3.—It is not intended to take any legislative measures to keep works of art, famous books and pictures in this country, Sir W. Joynson Hicks, financial secretary to the treasury, told a questioner in the house of commons recently.

The questioner referred to measures he thought should be introduced whereby such treasures, which might otherwise be sold to America, might come instead to national or municipal collections at a fair valuation. The secretary said the question had been considered by the trustees of the National gallery, who advised the government against any such legislation.

TEARS AMISS IN BUSINESS. NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Women to succeed in business must learn to dress comfortably without losing the charm of their sex, and to take correction from the boss without weeping, according to Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall, New York business woman.

Mrs. MacDougall, who predicted recently that within a century women will be "doing all the business," said that the observance of a few simple rules would hasten the time when they would take over such control. Other suggestions were: "Discuss abstract questions without making personal application of everything that is said. "Stick to agreements without squirming if you are getting the worst of it. "Say 'no' at the right time."

AMERICAN WOMEN GING IN FOR RACING

Above: Mrs. W.K. Vanderbilt II, Mrs. Payne Whitney & Mrs. Cary Grayson. Below: Mrs. Henry C. Phipps and Mrs. George W. Lott

Women are becoming important factors on the American turf, especially so since legalized betting on races has been prohibited and the "Sport of Kings" has been placed on a higher basis. Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, II, has just begun the purchase of a large stable of racers to carry her colors, as has Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phillips. Mrs. Payne Whitney, of New York, is already owner of one of the best strings on the American turf, while Mrs. George W. Lott, woman deputy police commissioner of New York, wife of the millionaire candy manufacturer, has several fast horses herself, as has Mrs. Cary Grayson, wife of Admiral Grayson, President Wilson's physician.

Good Highways to Thurber; Local Fans Will Back Snappers

Ranger baseball fans will trek to Thurber tomorrow and Sunday for the games between the Snappers and Thurber. There are good highways all the way to Thurber. The Bankhead is used for about 10 miles. Motorists must leave the macadam at the foot of the hill, the highest one east of Ranger in this county on which the Bankhead passes over. There is a right hand turn to go to Thurber while the Bankhead continues on to Strawn. The directions are indicated by signs. It is five miles from this point to Thurber. Riddings and Strey will probably get the call to battle.

90 CRASHES OF AIRPLANES IN SIX MONTHS OF 1923

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Gathering his figures from all over the world, E. R. Calthorp declares there were 90 crashes of airplanes during the six months ended June 30. One hundred and six persons were killed in these accidents, and 64 were injured. Mr. Calthorp says it is only by the introduction of parachutes, and the capable use of them, that fatalities can be materially reduced.

TEA DISPLACING BEER.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Prohibition is responsible for a considerable increase in the quantity of tea consumed through the world, according to Mincing Lane experts. Britishers now consume tea at the rate of eight and one-half pounds a head, compared with six and one-half pounds a few years ago. Some of this increase is due to the high price of beer, which forces the British workman to "let off steam" on pints of tea instead of beer.

WOULD EXPEL FOREIGNERS BECAUSE OF HOUSE SHORTAGE

BUCHAREST, Aug. 3.—A fascist party, after the model of the Italian fascists, has been organized in Roumania. Its motto is "Justice to the just, death to the evil; fascism never forgets." In its program the new party declares that Roumania needs, first of all, a dictatorship for the restoration of order, security, and honest dealing. It calls also for the expulsion of foreigners, whose presence to the extent of 2,000,000 persons gravely complicates the housing problem.

LOCAL MEDICAL MAN DISCUSSES CAUSE OF DEATH

Dr. Jackson Says President's High Blood Pressure May Have Brought on Apoplexy.

Rupture of blood vessels in the brain may occur in any of the centers such as respiratory, heart, lung or any of the senses, according to Dr. Walter L. Jackson of the Ranger Medical and Surgical clinic. "The vessel breaks suddenly," Dr. Jackson told a Times representative. "High blood pressure invariably brings it on. President Harding's blood pressure may have gradually risen day by day, although I read nothing in the official bulletins of his physicians regarding his blood pressure."

In discussing the causes and symptoms of apoplexy which literally means a "stroke," Dr. Jackson said it can be brought on by a great number of causes as a blow on the head, arterial diseases, heredity, excessive muscular strain, great mental excitement and various other causes.

Referring to a book by Stevens on the "Practice of Medicine," the author declares that intracranial hemorrhage, that does not originate from a blow on the head, is almost invariably dependent upon the changes of a degenerative or inflammatory character in the smaller cerebral blood vessels.

"The predisposing causes of cerebral hemorrhage," says Stevens, "are those that favor occurrence of arterial disease. Age is an important factor. Although no period of life is exempt, the period between 40 and 60 is the one in which the large majority of cases occur. Men, owing to their greater tendency to arterial diseases, are more frequently affected than women. Heredity is not without influence, a disposition to arterio sclerosis being especially marked in certain families. Prolonged muscular strain must be included among the etiologic factors."

"Finally cerebral hemorrhage may result from the breaking down of a vascular tumor of the brain or from the opening of an abscess into a blood vessel of the brain."

"The attack usually occurs without any obvious exciting cause. It may be precipitated, however, by excessive muscular exertion or great mental excitement."

Death Penalty Is Abolished; Crime Increases Notably

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 3.—Argentina abolished the death penalty from the penal code about a year ago, and since then there has been a noticeable increase in crimes of violence in this city. The question of restoring the death penalty has arisen and a bill to this end has been introduced in congress.

Large numbers of emigrants from Europe, many of them belonging to the criminal classes, have come to Argentina recently, and the present crime wave is attributed to this undesirable element.

FRENCH FRANC FALLS
WHEN POLITICS RULES

PARIS, Aug. 3.—In anticipation of something definite with Great Britain over German reparations, as a result of Premier Baldwin's statement in the house of commons this morning, the French franc today took a tumble to the lowest level it has touched in a long time. The British pound opened at 79.7. Quoted in the standard of the American dollar it was 17.77, a new record. The franc was weak even in comparison with the Italian lire.

VARSITY CO-EDS
'TEXAS TURTLE'

AUSTIN, Aug. 3.—How the Turtle club developed from the day dreams of three University of Texas co-eds into what is recognized as one of the foremost girls' swimming organizations in the South is given in reminiscence by Miss Anna Hiss, one of the founders of the club and at present director of women's athletics in the university.

Few Co-Eds Could Swim. Miss Hiss states that two students, Vernis Hadden of Houston, and Kathleen Molesworth of Austin, and herself were one day deploring the fact that so few co-eds were able to swim, when someone proposed organizing a swimming club. The suggestion was adopted and a group of seven members were enrolled. Membership was open to any girl in the university, but it was decided that only the best 20 candidates would be received into membership. The girls adopted as their emblem a black turtle with an orange T on its back.

Requirements More Rigid. This first organization took place in 1919. The requirements for entrance were not so rigid as they now are. They were chiefly five strokes, three dives and a 25-foot underwater swim. For 1921-22 12 strokes, 25-knee dives, and a 25 to 75-foot swim under water, together with 10 "stunts," such as disrobing and swimming 100 yards, were required. Life saving practice has been part of the club's work since organization.

A chart is kept showing the record made by each member, listing strokes, dives and stunts. This record is the basis for the awarding of the gold turtle each year to the girls having the highest number of points on the chart, together with the points gained during the swimming meet. The five girls ranking next highest receive silver turtles. Since its organization in 1919 the Texas Turtle club has been growing in activity, efficiency and popularity, and the goal of every ambitious co-ed swimmer is to be a "Texas Turtle."

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable
Condition, But Says She Found
Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said: "I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up. "I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling. "I would get depressed and out of heart. "I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse. "I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results. "I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. "Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it." Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others. GREAT DANES TEAR BOY TO DEATH

Great Dane Murderers.

Nine-year-old Joseph Genatt, Jr., of West Hoboken, N. J., with his brother and another lad, threw stones at these two huge Great Danes, belonging to Otto Bentz, who owns Floral Park, a picnic ground, at North Bergen, N. J. With terrible swiftness the dogs bore down on Joseph and tore him to death, a hundred terror-stricken eye-witnesses being unable to drive them away. Bentz, shown here with his dogs, was arrested on a manslaughter charge, but says he will not kill the dogs unless the authorities force him to do so.

EVERYTHING FROM JAIL TO MOVE HOUSE WILL BE IN NEW UNION STATION

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Everything from jail to movie theatre is provided for in plans for the main building of the new union station here, construction of which already is underway.

The miniature jail has been designed for the safe keeping of prisoners being transported from one city to another for trial. In the basement, the plans show, will be a laundry for the use of immigrant women. In another section of the building plans have been made for the installation of a morgue.

A dispensary and hospital to care for either railway employees or for travelers will be located in another section.

Among the other features planned for the station will be dry goods and wearing apparel stores, florists' shops and the latest devices for announcing the arrival and departure of trains. The total cost of the main building will be $10,000,000 and the construction work will take 18 months.

How to build up your Weight

To be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. will build them. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

LATEST IMPROVEMENT IN RADIO ELIMINATES INTERFERENCE AND GREATLY REDUCES THE COST

LONDON, Aug. 3.—An instrument which, it is claimed, marks the most important advance in wireless telegraphy yet made, is described by its inventor, a Frenchman named Yves Marrec, as eliminating jamming and interference and reducing the cost of wireless messages at least one third.

The new device receives and prints wireless messages on a tape, something which, it is claimed, has never before been accomplished. M. Marrec employs a supplementary apparatus consisting of a series of low-frequency valves, which eliminates all obtruding sounds one by one, with the result that the message comes out as clearly as though there were only one operating station in the world. Besides suppressing "parasitic" noises, the apparatus completely eliminates every interfering message sent out from other transmitting stations.

In an official test for the British government recently, the French inventor submitted his machine to the most severe conditions. He received messages from the powerful station near Port Jefferson, Long Island, free of all interference or jamming. He chose for the test an ordinary office in one of the noisiest parts of London, with electric trains and motor traffic running all around and under it. Moreover he had no outside aerial. The "purified" messages were received so distinctly that the sounds could be heard several yards from the earpieces.

In messages from the United States, M. Marrec explained, each letter has now to be repeated three times and each word twice, after which they still require to be deciphered by a keen expert. Under the new system, according to the inventor, a message need be sent only once, and it is recorded in ink on paper. Transmitting stations of immense power and great cost, such as the American and British governments propose erecting, could be replaced, he said, by a series of lower power stations transmitting automatically.

AUSTIN, Aug. 3.—Two applications for permission to manufacture carbon black from residue of casing head gasoline were received today by the railroad commission. One request seeks authority to manufacture carbon black at Pioneer in Eastland county. The application was set for hearing on Aug. 14.

COTTON IN CENTRAL TEXAS NEEDS RAIN BADLY

ABILENE, Aug. 3.—Rain is badly needed in West Texas as a whole and the general drought has not been relieved by occasional showers. Cotton in Central Texas needs rain badly.

The Wisconsin educators who say that every man, woman and child needs to sing more frequently probably never worked at a desk next to that of the man who sang from morning to night.

Hot Biscuits that melt in your mouth!

TRY making hot biscuits with Mrs. Tucker's Shortening. You will like them! They are so light and flaky and tender. That is because Mrs. Tucker's is a pure vegetable shortening which is neither heavy nor greasy. It is more easily digested than lard.

You need only to try Mrs. Tucker's Shortening once to notice the improvement in your baking. It lends the richness of butter to good things to eat, yet is much more economical. And another thing you will appreciate about Mrs. Tucker's is that it comes to you always fresh, for it is made right here in the South.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SOCIETIES HAVE JOINT MEETING

The ladies of the Cheerful Workers and Missionary society of the Christian tabernacle had a delightful meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Siegler on McCleskey avenue. The devotion was led by Mrs. H. B. Johnson, and the missionary program led by Mrs. E. C. Shipp, president. The study subject was "The Kingdom of God." A paper on "Prayer That Can Be Answered," was given by Mrs. R. O. Payton; "How states and provinces are builded," Mrs. B. F. Benne; "Our own development," Mrs. C. F. Davis; "A leper colony," Mrs. H. E. Clewell. The session of the Cheerful Workers was presided over by Mrs. W. H. Dyer, president.

Following the program, delicious apricot ice and angel food cake was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held Aug. 15 with Mrs. Reavis.

CENTRAL ALATHEAN "TACKY" PARTY GREAT SUCCESS

The crowd that attended the "tacky party" given by the Alathean class of the Central Baptist church Thursday evening was estimated at 700, there being a scarcity of room on either side of the street for the large number of cars.

The opening number of the program convulsed the audience. The teacher of the old school, Mrs. T. K. Taylor, announcing the numbers. The drill, including 50 of this class, was a march and with the costumes worn, it was a scream. The opening "Kintati" was "Mister please give me just one penny." Mrs. Leake was heartily encored for the solo, "Be Not a Feared, Hit Is I." Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. Bellinger, as mother and daughter, sang a "quartette" that was much enjoyed.

The following numbers deserve special mention:

Reading, Mr. Sandeford.
Medley on the French harp by T. K. Taylor.

Reading, Mrs. Dollins.
Recitation by Mr. Garber.

Suffragette speech, "Down With Men," by Mrs. T. K. Taylor.

"Tea-Little Moon Beams with 14 Women," led by Mrs. Wagoner, was one of the most amusing numbers, each woman reciting in a sing-song manner a verse. Mrs. Cole was very original in her manner of reading, as were all the others.

Space forbids the mention of all these good characters. Every number on the program was heartily applauded.

The 10 booths consisting of: Two fat babies, for men only, fish pond, fortune teller, popcorn and balloons, soda pop and ice cream cones brought a handsome sum to this enterprising class of young women. Nothing over 5 cents was charged and yet about $50 dollars was cleared. Literally hundreds were present and the class wishes to thank everyone for their liberal patronage.

"Serving a Nation" is the title of an attractive booklet just issued by Henry L. Doherty & Co. of 60 Wall street, New York, describing the diversified interests and activities of Cities Service company and its subsidiaries, and showing the advantage of a unified management of operations which extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts and from southern Canada into Mexico.

The booklet traces the amazing advance of Cities Service company to the front rank of American industry, over a period of less than 13 years, during which time gross earnings have increased from a very modest beginning to $100,000,000 a year.

It shows that the subsidiary properties of Cities Service company sell yearly 38,500,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas and 6,000,000,000 cubic feet of manufactured gas, serving a population of 2,750,000; more than 850,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy—the latter being distributed to a population in excess of 1,450,000 in 225 cities and towns in the United States; more than 90,000,000 passengers are carried annually by the company's street railways; 30,000 barrels of crude petroleum are produced each day; 900 miles of oil pipe lines and 5,500 miles of gas pipe lines, and eight petroleum refineries are operated and over 800 service tank and barrel stations are maintained, through which more than 1,700 cities, towns and villages in this country are supplied with petroleum and its products. These products are also distributed through branches in Canada, Mexico and Europe, and through marketing agencies in Australia, South America and the Far East.

More than 100,000 individuals, corporations and organizations own the securities of Cities Service company.

A pictorial map of the extensive and diversified interests of Cities Service company is reproduced in the booklet, the different subsidiary companies being drawn in perspective in their geographical locations on a tilted map of the United States.

MANNA IN THE WILDERNESS.

The food that miraculously appeared in the desert to save the Children of Israel, famishing on their wanderings from Egypt to Canaan, has been discovered anew by a party of British explorers in the wilderness of Sinai. Scientists are interested in this account of the miraculous food as being the edible pellets from the tamarisk tree, which "in the morning when the dew that lay was gone up, upon the face of the wilderness lay, a small round thing, as small as the hoar frosts upon the ground." The sickness and delirium which followed the eating of the manna by the Israelites was duplicated in the experiences of two of the explorer's party, who made the tamarisk pellets their diet for several days.

SECRETARY BAKER'S BROTHER HELD IN RUM CASE

Julian D. Baker & the Modesty.

When the fashionable Tamaqua Yacht club of Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., got ready for its annual shirtwaist dance, Julian D. Baker, brother of former Secretary of War Baker thought it would be a fine and fancy idea to take his cruiser yacht Modesty out to the rum fleet and get a few cases of "likker" for his fellow club members. The Coast Guard cutter Manhattan thought otherwise and seized the craft, confiscated six cases of wet goods and arrested Baker. Since the arrest was made outside of the 12-mile limit, Baker was released when he sold his story, but the "likker" was seized, and he had to give bond of $600 to get his boat back. The shirtwaist dance was a remarkably dry affair.

ALCOHOL MIXED WITH GASOLINE APPROVED FUEL

French Adopt "National Fuel" to Obtain Release from Foreign Petroleum Domination.

By Associated Press

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Alcohol and gasoline, mixed in equal quantities, will be put on the market as the French "national fuel" in October.

Long tests and a multitude of scientific sessions finally evolved this mixture as better than straight gasoline and a great step in "freeing France from foreign petroleum domination," a phase often used in parliament.

France produces much alcohol, used largely in poor country homes for their limited cooking, and in industry. This production, it is held, can be increased many fold, so the country need no longer be dependent upon the heavy importations of petroleum that became a serious problem during the war and is blamed now for helping to keep down the franc.

Scientific commissions have decided half alcohol and half gasoline will not injure an automobile motor, will not increase the consumption, and will give greater flexibility with some increase in power. The cost of the new fuel is a matter of controversy. It is contended by its friends that competition will settle the question of price satisfactorily.

Many other combinations of alcohol, gasoline, kerosene and crude oil have been tried. A test made by a government car recently gave good results with 70 per cent alcohol and 30 per cent kerosene.

Gasoline, however, will remain the fuel for army airplanes for the present. The government hopes eventually to find a suitable fuel for its big air force, but the aviation service prefers to watch the work of the new fuel on dry land before running any new risk of stalled motors in the clouds.
