RANGER PLANS TO STAY AWAKE TONIGHT

Poultry Industry Of Eastland County Has Greater Possibilities

Chicken Breeders and Fanciers Discuss Future of This Business In Ranger Territory at Chamber of Commerce Breakfast.

Every chicken breeder and fancier in Eastland county doubtless believes and will insist that the poultry industry will become the most important industry in the county within the next year or two years. It was fitting, therefore, that the Chamber of Commerce breakfast in the Gholson hotel this morning should have been under the direction of the chicken breeders and the talks relating solely to the chicken industry. Much enthusiasm was aroused.

Mayor R. H. Hodges, an enthusiastic chicken breeder and who has had considerable experience, presided and introduced the several speakers. Relative to Ranger's interest in poultry, Mayor Hodges declared that soil, climate and other conditions about Ranger are exactly fitted for the best production of poultry and there was every reason to believe Ranger would become one of the nation's centers in the poultry industry within the next few years.

Great Possibilities.

B. S. Dudley, speaking of "The Poultry Association," gave in a few words an idea of the great possibilities of the chicken industry if all the people in the county, and especially the farmers and others who are producing poultry and eggs, would unite in a marketing organization which would, by guaranteeing its products, be able to get top prices in the markets of the country.

"Your products should and will be going to the big markets and bringing back to Ranger and Eastland county some of the money you are sending out for automobiles, clothes, canned goods and other things you bring in," he declared. "Anyone might say 'we must produce oil and get better prices for the oil,' but saying so will get you nowhere. Raise poultry and produce eggs and you will be independent. You will continue to produce oil and gas, but your main dependence will not be placed in that or anything else you cannot control. By the proper marketing organization, you can control your poultry products, get top prices and be absolutely independent."

Mr. Dudley cited a community in California which has upwards of 6,000,000 chickens and receives a steady income from the eggs so that government statistics show it to be the richest agricultural community, per capita, in the United States. He said that California eggs will bring 25 cents more a dozen in New York markets than fresh eggs raised in New York, because they are graded and guaranteed and the merchants take no chances in handling them. He insisted the same prestige could be given to eggs shipped out of Ranger by proper organization.

Reward on Way.

Sydney C. Lackland discussed the "Pioneer Poultrymen," and while acknowledging the pioneers had suffered many hardships he said it was due partly to lack of experience and that the pioneers were soon to reap their reward.

"Poultry and the Home" was the subject discussed by Mrs. S. C. Clark and "Poultry and Business," by Mrs. I. L. Clark.

"The Interest of the Chamber of Commerce in Poultry," was the subject assigned to B. F. Bennett, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who cited Winters, in Runnels county, as a community that had become independent by diversified farming and principally from poultry.

"The Retail Merchants' Interest in Poultry," was discussed by Karl E. Jones, secretary of the Ranger Retail Merchants' association, who urged co-operative marketing that would insure the quality of poultry products. He said that retail merchants often hesitate to handle the eggs brought in by farmers, because they are not guaranteed and cannot be relied upon, and that this condition could be corrected by organization.

The committee obtaining memberships in the Eastland County Chicken Breeders' association was busy at and following the breakfast enrolling Ranger members.

BOXERS GETTING IN SHAPE FOR LIONS' SHOW

Rainey and Houghton Training for 10-Round Bout They Will Put On.

Purdle Rainey, who will meet J. B. Houghton in a ten-round bout Labor Day night in the Lions boxing show, had a nice workout last night. Rainey "stepped it up" against four men for a total of ten rounds and came through in nice shape. J. B. White, chairman of the Lions athletic committee, which is in charge of the show, said today.

Houghton is going through his stunts nightly on South Rusk street, hours of training as they can seize from their daily work.

There will be 100 ringside seats. White said today. These seats will sell for one dollar each. Other seats will sell for fifty cents each. The net proceeds from the show will be put in a fund to establish an athletic club in Ranger.

It has been found that all of the desirable heavyweights have been signed up for Labor Day and it is now doubtful if this class of fighters will figure on the Labor Day bill. White says his committee has not yet found two wrestlers of the same weight but this feature will be put on if the right men are available.

Anthracite Coal Strike Looming Up Just 10 Days Ahead

By United Press

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 22.—Miner leaders today made final arrangements for suspension of work on Sept. 1. Union leaders are rushing to completion all details incident to the walkout of 155,000 men.

"No further order is necessary; the suspension goes into effect automatically Sept. 1 unless called off," John L. Lewis, president of the miners, said. He added that the men would go out in a body as a protest against action of the operators in refusing to recognize the union, in refusing a 20 per cent wage increase and in refusing other terms asked.

John L. Lewis, head of the organized miners, has informed Daniel Warriner, head of the operators, that it is useless to attempt any further negotiations so long as the operators maintain their position. Warriner told Lewis the operators were adamant, and he could see no hope for the miners to succeed in their strike.

FORT WORTH.—Letters addressed to chambers of commerce and cotton growers in West Texas by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, offers assistance of the organization in the distribution of laborers. The chamber will co-operate with the federal labor bureau in the work. The state department also has offered aid.

POINCARÉ REPLIES WITH SOME SHOW OF SARCASM TO BRITISH NOTE ON REPARATIONS PROBLEM

By United Press

PARIS, Aug. 22.—France stands pat. The reply of Premier Poincaré to the British reparations note, made public today, inflexibly upholds the French policy towards Germany, refuses evacuation of the Ruhr until payment has been made and rejects any proposal for reduction of the German debt. The reply contained little of the conciliatory tone that had been forecast and in many passages was bitter and sarcastic.

"I regret that we cannot understand the British disappointment," says Poincaré's note, "but unfortunately we cannot see the effort that England says she has made towards the execution of peace. Our resolution,

Ranger Gives Very Cordial Welcome To Abilene Boosters

"We are glad you are here," M. H. Hagaman, chairman of the reception committee of the chamber of commerce, told the Abilene business and professional men, who gathered in the Gholson hotel lobby last night to meet Ranger business and professional men. "We can now tell you of our vast resources," he said in telling of the good that might result of the visit of the Abilene trade trippers, who are making a tour of West Texas to advertise the West Texas fair to be held in Abilene, beginning Sept. 24.

ors, consisting of five Pullmans, diner and baggage car, arrived in the Ranger railroad yards on time, get railroad yards promptly on line last night. The men, wearing red bands on their hats or coats, lined up at the railroad station for a parade up Main street to the Gholson hotel. B. F. Bennett, secretary of the chamber of commerce was at the station to greet the visitors. A cowboy band accompanying them furnished the music.

The trade trippers left early this morning via the Wichita Falls road for Dublin, for a westbound trip over the Frisco road. The special train will return to Abilene Friday night.

Hagaman after telling of the plentifulness of brick, rock, gasoline and gas in Eastland county, invited the Abilene men to buy these products from Ranger.

"Abilene is a progressive city and there is no town in West Texas that can possibly exceed her in the future unless it be our own little city of Ranger," he said amid applause and laughter.

Responses were made by several Abilene men, including Secretary G. W. Kinsolving of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce and Mayor C. H. Fulwiler. Mayor Fulwiler said that his city was "redoubling its energy to be an educational center."

Kinsolving said that he heard that the oil industry was in the throes of a severe depression, but that he couldn't see it, reflected in Ranger since coming in. "I see automobiles crowding the streets and everywhere a business-like air."

CITY COMMISSION LACKS QUORUM FOR MEETING THIS WEEK

Mayor R. H. Hodges was forced to call off the city commission meeting yesterday afternoon after he learned that Sanitary Commissioner Brasher was not in the city and Commissioner Brown was ill. Dr. C. O. Terrell is in the east and this left only the mayor and Raymond Teal ready for business. Three is required for a quorum.

M. H. Hagaman, owner of the Ranger waterworks was present to give his answer to the request of Mayor Hodges that he cut water rates to consumers and the city. Hagaman will return next week when the matter will be brought up again.

repeated 100 times, is not to remit one centime of reparations, which are sacred."

The note says the British have taken no heed of what France considers essential and that the British note is unconciliatory. "France does not need to be reminded of her duty," says Poincaré; "I regret our lack of concord with England, referring to the British claim that French occupation of the Ruhr is illegal. He dismissed reference of the dispute to the permanent court at the Hague with the statement, "We have the charge that French occupation of the Ruhr was a source of danger in Europe," Poincaré says: "We have destroyed nothing in the Ruhr and have increased its capacity for production."

Beautiful Ranger Girl Who Will Preside As Queen of Elks Jubilee

Miss Helen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Brown, of 414 Pine street, will be the queen of the festivities at the Elks Jubilee at the Community hall, which opens auspiciously tonight with an automobile parade. Miss Brown was chosen for this honor by a vote of the entertainment committee of the Elks lodge of Ranger.

Come one! Come all! On Wednesday night To the great fair grounds of purple and white. Please join us here in mirth and song To pass the happy hours along. We'll greet you with our broadest smile, Good music give you all the while. The latch string hangs outside the door, We'll dance and seek our youth once more. We welcome you from neighboring towns, With pretty girls and funny clowns. We have a joyous jubilee, Presented by B. P. O. E.

GAS WILL DECIDE WARS OF THE FUTURE, SO EXPERTS DECLARE

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Whole armies put to sleep and taken prisoner in gas warfare is by no means an impossibility 25 years hence, Col. Raymond F. Bacon, chief of the technical division of the chemical warfare service, A. E. F., says in a description of the possibilities of the future art of war made public by the American Chemical Society.

The $2,000,000 spent on the research organization did more toward winning the war, Col. Bacon asserts, than any other $200,000,000, spent in other ways. One of the greatest lessons of the war has so far gone almost unheeded, according to Col. Bacon, who continues:

Gas Means Program.

"To say the use of gas in warfare must be abolished is almost the same as saying that no progress must be made in the art of warfare toward making it more efficient or more humane. If one reads of the great battles of history, one will find that the victorious general conquered his enemy usually because of the fact that he so chose his position as to have his flank protected by river, mountain range or some naturally strong barrier.

"Much of the strategy of these battles consisted in maneuvering so as to obtain the advantage of position. With the use of gas it is possible to saturate a piece of ground so that no troops can cross it, and thus make an artificial barrier for the flank or protect the lines of communication. Moreover, these artificial barriers can be kept barriers for just as short a time as the strategy of the particular battle demands. These are but hints, but show the tremendous unexploited possibilities of gas in warfare.

Looking Backward.

"One can easily imagine the situation at the time the fighting was hand to hand with the spear or the sword, and gunpowder was first introduced, which in those days perhaps permitted the antagonists to fight at a range of 100 or 200 yards. There must have been a great outcry as to prohibiting the horrible new mode of warfare, and it must have been felt that it was very unfair to stand off 200 yards rather than meet in combat man to man.

"But no one looking back on that period would attempt to say that it was possible to have stayed the hand of progress and to have prevented by any legislation or agreement the use of gunpowder in warfare. Moreover, the consensus of opinion today would be that the hand to hand fighting with spear and sword was more cruel and inhumane than the fighting with the gun and the bullet. Similarly, at the present time we cannot effectually stay the progress of science, and to attempt to do so is not only unwise but is also preventing the possibilities of a really more humane type of war."

PRESIDENT FACES THE ANTHRACITE COAL CRISIS

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Coolidge today faced the first national crisis since he became the nation's chief executive, the impending strike in the anthracite coal fields. He appeared calm and self-possessed and acts like a man who knows what he is about and is determined to see it through.

Beyond the statement that the public will not suffer because of the strike, no hint has been given at the White House of the policy the president proposes to adopt.

Proclamation Of the Queen Of Elks Herd

The Royal Jester, P. G. T., Announces Her Wishes for All Loyal Subjects.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

Tonight, at the passing hour of seven, by her late Majesty's sun dial, the Queen-to-be and now Princess of the Antlered Herd of Elks of Ranger, shall, forsooth, and as the King wills, pass by the portals of the shops and cottages and hovels of her subjects in grand procession.

Princess Helen shall be escorted by many courtiers in wondrous garb and Her Royal Highness and the savants of her court shall ride luxuriously in new and terrifying conveyances propelled by a powerful elixir dubbed "gas-o-line" by the great conjurer, Squirmin, who hath invented both them and it.

Her Royal Highness shall remain unveiled, peradventure the populace may wish to gaze upon the sweet but powerful countenance of their future Queen. Numerous Dukes and Duchesses of the domain of Her Royal Highness have travelled many leagues from many cities of the province of Eastland to be present in this procession. These fair ladies shall be bedecked in their most precious finery, which shall forsooth be a sight that serfs, countrymen and those in trade have seldom the pleasure to behold.

Thence from the Main Drag, these courtiers of blood, well purpled, shall escort Her Royal Highness to her castle, which being meet and just at the present time hath been dubbed "Community Hall," where and in this magnificent edifice the coronation of the fairest lady of Elksdom in this province shall be accomplished as is written.

All of the loyal subjects of Her Royal Highness are hereby commanded to be present at this coronation fete. For four days and three days only, serfs shall walk among the populace as free men. The doors of the goal shall be opened wide and those in durance with exceptions of felons, thieves, pickpockets homicides and criminals of like nature, will be permitted to contaminate the sweet atmosphere of this celebration with their presence.

And to follow immediately this ceremony, there shall be four nights and three days of merry making, gaming, dancing and other revels too numerous to set down. These pleasures shall be had in the Queen's Castle dubbed "Community Hall."

The Queen of B. P. O. E. hath asked every one who can possibly come on this pilgrimage to arrive in time for the coronation and spend the balance of the week in frolic within the castle and castle grounds.

COMMUNITY HALL AND GROUNDS ATTRACTIVE

A riot of colors, blue and white, and electric bulbs, decorated booths and some of the late automobile models will greet the eyes of visitors to the community hall and adjoining grounds tonight. If the weather man is kind, there will be a great outpouring of people to see what the Elks have in store.

Sections have been roped off for the automobile display, back of the big poster boards that were erected on the lot adjoining the community hall. A dancing floor, polished so one can almost see his figure reflected thereon, has been built in front of the stage.

There will be plenty of booths and other places to please and entertain. All have been made attractive.

"The Red Dog Saloon," advertised as a reminder of days past, has one big corner of the lot to itself.

COOLIDGE SENDS MESSAGE TO TEXAS LEGION MEETING

By Associated Press

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—A message from President Coolidge in regard to the Texas legion convention next week here was received by Stephen McCarthy, commander of the Argentine post, No. 20.

"A reminder that the Texas state convention of the American Legion is to be held in Galveston, Aug. 28," says the president in his letter, "implies the desire that through you, my best wishes for the members of your organization be expressed and my hope that it will continue to work in the cause of Americanization."

Ranger Elks Must Be At Their Hall At 6:30 Tonight

Special to the Times

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—An article in Natural Gas magazine by William A. Moorhead discusses the extension of the Lone Star Gas company's mains into Eastland county as follows:

"A definite hearing on the future natural gas supply of Texas will doubtless be established by action of the Lone Star Gas company in beginning the construction of lines into Eastland county, in June. Fifty miles of 18-inch, 16-inch and 12-inch lines are being laid from the present end of the western system in Palo Pinto county, to be connected with gasolene absorption plants in Eastland and Ranger fields and deep wells in Desdemona.

"This promises an increased delivery from West Texas to around 50 million cubic feet per day. Gas deliveries will be greatly augmented by this flow as well as by the decrease of 100 miles or more in transmitting to markets. Three large compressor stations of five to 12 units each are to be established in the fields where the gas is to be compressed to 350-375 pounds.

"The work will be completed by October at a cost of well over one million dollars.

"Aside from the fact of increasing deliveries the attention of operators and the public has been attracted to the probable effect the action will have on the carbon black interests in Texas. Stephens county, adjacent to Eastland on the north, is using approximately 100 million cubic feet of gas per day in gasoline absorption plants. One carbon black plant is under construction in Stephens county, while action on other applications is pending before the railway commission. One carbon black plant was recently permitted entrance in Eastland county, while still other carbon black interests were negotiating with the gasoline plants in Ranger and Eastland prior to Lone Star closing transactions for the gas."

POISON FOR BOLL WEEVIL PRODUCED BY ELECTRICITY

Special to the Times

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—Calcium arsenate is now produced by electricity in an electro-chemical process that has just been perfected after extensive experiments by A. M. Kennedy of Alabama. It is claimed that that electro-chemical product comes up to the government requirements and that it can be produced at a cost 20 per cent lower than the prices now being paid for the poison.

One of the limiting factors in producing a cotton crop during the past few years has been the scarcity and high price of calcium arsenate. The new electrical process of making this poison promises to make the production of cotton less expensive and more certain.

EDUCATIONAL SURVEY.
The following statement has just been issued by Dr. W. S. Sutton, acting president of the University of Texas:

"In view of the fact that the thirty-eighth legislature made an appropriation of $50,000 for a comprehensive survey of the educational system of Texas, and that a public meeting will be held at Waco on Aug. 21 to consider ways and means whereby intelligent and patriotic citizens may assist the purposes of the survey, the board of regents of the University of Texas wishes to express its sincere gratitude to the legislature for making possible such a forward-looking investigation, and to offer its earnest co-operation to the citizens gathered at Waco on Aug. 21. Such a survey will amass a wealth of instructive information concerning the origin, growth and present operation of our system of public instruction, and facing the facts thereby disclosed candidly and impersonally, the survey commission will make constructive recommendations accordingly. The regents are of the opinion that one of the most valuable services which the Waco meeting can perform will be to make efficient provision for presenting forcefully to the public, in language easily understood, the findings and recommendations of the commission. It is an opportunity which will not be repeated in one generation to inform the people of the purpose, character and value of every phase of the state's educational system."

KIDNAPED BABY SOUGHT BY MANY WITHOUT SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A house-to-house canvass for three-month-old Lillian McKenzie yielded no trace of the missing baby today. Police are just as baffled by the disappearance today as they were last Saturday. Nearly 200 operatives are working exclusively to find the baby. The mother is distracted. Little Lillian was born prematurely and was placed in an incubator after her birth and only removed a few days before her disappearance.

MAN HELD FOR ALLEGED KIDNAPING OF DAUGHTER

TULSA, Aug. 22.—W. T. Miller, Oklahoma City carpenter, arrested yesterday with Naomi, his 6-year-old daughter in his arms and lodged in the city jail, readily admitted to having kidnaped the little girl. He abducted the girl from the child's grandmother, Mrs. Ida Gibney, after a struggle with the aged woman. He also said that he abducted Naomi's sister, Louise from a Sunday school class last August. He claims he has as much right to the children as the mother. Miller has not been divorced from his wife.

PENITENTIARY REPORTS NO SUGAR STOLEN FROM BIN

AUSTIN, Aug. 22.—Ranger headquarters or the governor's office have not as yet received any reports of arrests at Huntsville, where it is reported that sugar has been stolen at the state prison. Governor Neff said that he had received no such report of the loss of sugar at the prison. Reports from San Antonio yesterday said that certain persons had been arrested in connection with the reported theft of sugar.

GOLDEN RAIL TO BE MEMORIAL TO HARDING

SALT LAKE, Utah, Aug. 22.—A golden rail will be set into a section of the track of the Union Pacific at Cedar City, Utah, as a memorial to the late President Harding, who presided at the official opening of the railroad to that point on June 27 last, it was announced here late yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Iowa, Aug. 22.—Senator Smith Brookhart of Iowa today renewed his demand for an immediate extra session of congress, telegraphing to President Coolidge that "only swift action can prevent widespread disaster."

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR RECEIVES MASS OF LETTERS

DALLAS, Aug. 2.—Thirty pounds of letters, all said to have been written to Fort Worth and Dallas oil companies, were received today from a citizen of Kane, Wyo., by Gilmer Johnson, postoffice inspector, along with a request that the government investigate the alleged misuse of the mails.

More than 1,000 letters were forwarded from Wyoming by H. B. Qnanston, Wyoming merchant, who declared that he had lost heavily in oil stock. The letters were written by Texas oil promoters. "This is just a part of the letters I have received," he wrote.

MAIL SERVICE BY AIR APPEARS QUITE POSSIBLE

Guided by great beacons of light, the United States air service planes today completed their trials that are expected to result in New York and San Francisco being connected in 24-hour mail service.

"Night flying has been a greater success than expected," Col. Paul Henderson, assistant postmaster told the United Press today.

CALIFORNIA GRAPE CROP IS SERIOUSLY DAMAGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Approximately 200,000 tons of the California estimated crop of 800,000 tons of grapes of all varieties have been destroyed by mildew, sunburn and windburn, it was announced today by A. Sheehan, president of the Grape Growers' exchange. The worst damage was in the Fresno and Lodi districts, with "stalled" conditions in a number of other localities, he said.

MUSKOGEE MAN DIES FROM INJURIES FOLLOWING CRASH

NICE, Aug. 22.—Alexander Sondheim, fur merchant of Muskogee, Okla., whose skull was fractured when a sightseeing motor bus in which he was riding with a score of others went over a precipice Monday, on a mountain road between Nice and Evian, died this morning, bringing the number of Americans killed in the crash to six. His wife was killed instantly in the 100-foot fall.

KIWANIS CLUB LEADERS TO MEET IN MINERAL WELLS

MINERAL WELLS, Aug. 22.—International leaders of the Kiwanis clubs will meet leaders of Texas and Oklahoma clubs who are scheduled to be here for the annual district convention, Sept. 3 and 4, according to announcement by C. R. Hooton, secretary of the Mineral Wells club, which will be host. More than 1,000 visitors are expected to be present. All of the 49 Kiwanis clubs in Oklahoma and Texas are expected to send at least three delegates and some clubs will come 100 per cent strong, according to reports to Secretary Hooton. Kiwanians also are expected to bring their wives.

INTOXICATED MAN ASKS POLICE TO PUT HIM IN JAIL

AUSTIN, Aug. 22.—This time it is trained drunkards. Austin, lagging behind some other Texas cities in respect to trained animals in zoos and parks, has gone them one better and has a trained drunkard.

Staggering into police headquarters recently, his reeking breath and flushed face additional evidence of his condition, a local resident pulled a whisky bottle from his shirt front and begged to be placed in jail. Investigation showed he had paid a taxi driver to drive him to the station.

HARD COAL IN STORAGE WILL LAST FOUR MONTHS

Royal Jester for the Elks Jubilee Loses His Red Slippers; Who Dances?

By P. G. T.

Last night at the dance given in honor of the Abilene "fairites", the jester of Queen Helen's court lost his red slippers. He didn't have them on his feet like they should have been but left them in his hat while he danced.

Incidentally this jester is no Cinderella. The dainty red morocco slippers are size 9.

A Rangerite says: Ranger giv a dance ta' the fellers what are boostin' the Abilene fair las' night at the leadin' hotel. Reminds me o' the time I giv the wife a box of segars fer Xmas. She wouldn't smoke 'em en I hadta. Abilene didn't seem ta care much 'bout dancin' neither.

A bird dropped into a cigar store the other day and said:

"Give me a little admiration, will yuh?"

The clerk thought he was goofy at first and then remembered.

FORD MOTOR LETS OUT SEVEN MILLION DOLLAR ADVERTISING CONTRACT

DETROIT, Aug. 22.—The Ford Motor company will soon begin to advertise in newspapers and publications throughout the country, after five years without advertising in the name of the company.

A contract for $7,000,000 advertising during the next year has been announced by the newly formed advertising department of the Ford company.

The contract was let to the Brotherton advertising agency, New York, according to Morton T. Brotherton, advertising manager for the Ford company.

Until five years ago the Ford company was a regular user of newspaper space, but at that time the Ford advertising department was disorganized and advertising placed only by Ford agencies. The advertising department recently was reorganized.

H. R. THORP DIES.

H. R. Thorpe, 42, of Breckwalker, died at a local hospital yesterday afternoon. He had been an employe of the Gulf Pipe line for four years.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, J. J. and J. T. of Breckwalker. The body was placed on the Sunshine Special for Plantersville, Texas, today, where burial will be made. Funeral services will be held at the home of his mother. Local funeral arrangements were in charge of the Milford Funeral home.

CITY JAIL BEING MOVED INTO NEW CITY HALL

Who will be the first guest of the city in the new city hall building? Not that the city is operating a hotel in the big building at Austin and Pine streets but the two cell blocks that have imprisoned hundreds of men and women in the comparatively busy period of four years, were today removed from the one-story rough board building that has housed the cell blocks on South Pine street to the new city hall building.

Police are hoping that today and tonight will be a quiet one for the desk sergeant and his records will stay at the old police station today while the cell blocks are being removed and placed in position. The cell blocks will be placed in the southwest corner of the city hall building.

Races At State Fair Promise To Be Big Attractions

Good Purses Each Day Prove Strong Inducement for Horsemen.

Special to the Times

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—Carrying full details of the 42 events carded for the race meet this year, the State Fair of Texas speed program for the 37th annual fair, Oct. 13-23, is being mailed to horsemen throughout the country.

The 1923 state fair meet will be held for seven days, beginning Oct. 13, the opening day of the fair. Six races will be on the card each day, except for Sunday, Oct. 14, the meet closing Saturday, Oct. 20.

"The Cotton Stakes" is the big event of the meeting, scheduled for Dallas Day, Tuesday, Oct. 16, with $2,000 added by the Dallas Cotton Exchange; the distance 1 1-16 miles, for three-year-olds and upwards. It will be the fourth race of the day.

The "Palace Majestic Handicap" for the full course of seven furlongs, 150 feet, is carded as the fourth race on Thursday, Oct. 18, with $1,000 added by the Palace and Majestic theaters of Dallas. The race is for three-year-olds and upwards.

As the fourth race on closing day, Saturday, Oct. 20, the "Adolphus Hotel Handicap," with $1,000 added by that hotel, is listed for three-year-olds and upward, at one mile. Entries for all three of these events close on Oct. 1.

In addition there are named as feature events "The Jefferson Hotel Purse," on opening day; "The St. George Hotel Purse," on Monday, Oct. 15, the second day, and "The Waldorf Hotel Purse" on Wednesday, Oct. 17, the fourth day. Each of these events are carded as the fourth race of the day.

According to the program the rules of the Kentucky state racing commission will govern the state fair meeting, and entries for overnight events will close at 10 a. m.

The program carries entry blanks for the three handicaps, and it is expected a number of them will be returned, filled out, well before Oct. 1.

Division of purses gives $300 to first, $70 to second and $30 to third. The $300 purses are divided $225, $50 and $25.

Joseph A. Murphy will be racing judge at the state fair meeting, with Arthur McKnight as starter.

Four Years Ago In Ranger

Taken from the files of the Ranger Daily Times, Aug. 22, 1919:

Ranger's grade crossings, made more dangerous by the carelessness of watchmen and engineers, were the subject of a conference between Mayor M. H. Haggaman and J. W. Knightlinger, division superintendent of the Texas & Pacific railroad, with the result that an announcement by Supt. Knightlinger promises better protection of teamsters, drivers and pedestrians.

Eastland, Aug. 22.—The county commissioners today called an election to be held on Sept. 27 to vote on a $4,500,000 road bond issue for the building of good roads in Eastland county.

Ranger pay territory continues its march to connect with the Stephens county field. W. G. Poteet No. 4 of Elmer Hupp et al., located a mile northwest of the Perkins-Balentine-Turner territory pushes that corner of the field a mile further northwest. The new well, making around 800 barrels daily from the black lime at 3,365 feet is in a direct line with the G. T. Parrock of the States Oil corporation and the south end of the field below Bieckenridge.

Two new fire trucks for the Ranger fire station arrived Thursday and a crowd gathered to look them over. The trucks came from the American LaFrance company at Mineola, La. Y.

TARRANT COUNTY GETS REFUND OF DOUBLE CHARGE

FORT WORTH, Aug. 21.—A ten-year electricity over charge amounting to $2,073 has been paid to the county by the Fort Worth Power and Light company. Since 1913 the county has been paying for electricity that has been going through two meters.

An electrician inspecting the wiring in the courthouse discovered the two meters operated by the same current.

SANDERS-COLEGROVE HDW. CO. Main and Marston

3 Days 1 Day to Charge Your Battery!

We've just made the biggest improvement in battery service that has ever been offered to the car owners and radio fans of (name of city here).

It's a new and different kind of battery charging system, known as the constant potential system, which greatly reduces the time required for recharging and has various other important advantages.

We can now recharge your battery in from 8 to 24 hours, depending upon how badly it is run down.

This means at least two or three days' saving of time and two or three days' rental battery charges. Often, too, it means more time saved than that and avoiding much inconvenience.

Whatever the make of your battery, we can recharge it by this new system.

Texas has proved its taste!

I knew it would; I felt certain sure that when Texans realized they were not getting Kellogg's Corn Flakes—and realized what they were missing—that our sales would go steadily up and up.

And, they have! Once folks get the extra-flavor, extra-crispness and extra-substantial flakes that have made Kellogg's Corn Flakes the largest selling ready-to-eat cereal in the world, they KNOW that they never before knew how good corn flakes could be!

This is just the time to start eating Kellogg's Corn Flakes!

Texas also buys great quantities of our Kellogg's BRAN, cooked and krumbled, and Kellogg's Shredded Whole-Wheat KRUM-BLES.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Elks' Jubilee Auto Show

DODGE BROTHERS ANNOUNCES Important Improvements

Dodge Brothers have not simply brought out a complete new line of motor cars. They have done something infinitely wiser and better than that.

They have brought new beauty, new riding ease and new mechanical perfection to the product on which their reputation as builders has been founded.

They have built a better and a more desirable line of motor cars—yet basically and fundamentally the identity of their product remains the same.

The same sturdy engine is under the hood; the same dependable chassis, improved in numberless details, underlies the body.

But the rear springs—now underslung—have been materially lengthened. The wheelbase, too, is longer, and the combined result is a notable improvement in riding qualities.

Bodies of all types have been designed to give improved appearance, and greater comfort. Lower, longer, with deeper seats and more leg room, the lines of these new cars are low-swung and graceful—the interiors are comfortable and roomy.

New head lamps and fenders, especially designed by Dodge Brothers to conform with the general lines of the car—a long straight hood and cowl effect—longer and wider running boards—unusually wide doors—combination stop signal and tail lamp—and instruments attractively grouped on raised panel—are a few of the numerous body innovations common to all types.

Combining these features with important mechanical improvements too numerous and technical to enumerate here, it is not extravagant to predict a reception for these cars unprecedented in automotive annals.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected New Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known by the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—Advertisement.

BASEBALL SWAPS MAKE SOME MEN FEEL FOOLISH

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—After having guessed good and wrong, several major league managers are prepared to argue that there are no brains, science or judgment in trading and it is just a question of luck in getting the good break on a swap.

The only consolation in discarding a worn-out king that fills a straight in another man's hand is that others have done it before, and the old baseball alibi covers the offense: "How can you beat it?"

The most outstanding example of a good trade that went wrong happened in the case of Ty Cobb and the failure of a deal to turn out as expected, blew what was generally regarded as a good chance for Detroit to win the pennant or be way up there.

Howard Ehmke wasn't doing much good with the Tigers. Cobb didn't like him, and the Detroit fans figured that the club could get along without him.

Cobb made then what looked like a slick move when he traded Ehmke and Hollings to the Boston Red Sox for Del Pratt and Rip Collins.

In return for what was regarded as excess baggage, Cobb got a good second baseman, whom he expected to fill a big hole and make the Tiger infield. And in Rip Collins he acquired a pitcher of ability, who looked to be just about ready for stardom.

As Detroit figured that Cobb had secured all the best of the deal, so the Boston fans thought that they had received the worst of it, and Harry Frazee was censured for the last overt act in breaking up a great ball club just to fatten his pocket-book.

It wasn't long until the whole color changed. Pratt fell down at second base and Collins was a terrible "bust" as a pitcher. The Tigers collapsed and fell out of the running.

On the other hand, Ehmke pulled a sensational reversal of form with the Red Sox and turned into one of the best pitchers of the season.

Then there was the case of the Cleveland Indians, who turned "Stuffy" Melnis loose because he was thought not worth the big salary called for in his contract. Speaker had Guisto ready to step on first base and he was judged to be worth more in "Stuffy's" place than in a seat on the bench. Guisto was given the regular assignment and he proved a "bust." His health went bad and Speaker had to shift Brower, an outfielder, to first.

McLinnis also was instrumental in making the management of the St. Louis Browns look guilty of bad judgment. The Brown bosses knew that George Sisler was not going to be able to play and that they would need an experienced first baseman. They made out a sound while "Stuffy" was around looking for a job, and when he was grabbed by the Boston Braves, the Brown management had to take a castoff rookie from Brooklyn to fill the Sizzler's place.

BARNEY GOOGLE—Barney's Chances Looked Fine for a While.

strong, in which he states that the writer is a giant in physique and that it took four officers of the law to finally subdue my fury, the statements made by him in the above paragraph are false.

"I wish to take exceptions in a polite way to above. Mr. Seale and I were standing face to face when the fight started and Mr. Seale will admit that he offered the first blow when in my effort to tell him he made a bum decision a word was called that was ungentlemanly and regretted on my part. And that at no time did I have but one hand around his shoulder. And I ask that you talk with Mr. Seale or the players of the Ranger club or any honest fan who saw the game and if I am due a correction I ask that same be made. The affair is regrettable to the writer and I offer my apologies for my conduct, and did so personally to the umpire and they were accepted.

"Again I offer my apologies for the misconduct on my part to the umpires and the fans who witnessed the game, but deny that I jumped on the umpire's back, that I am a giant in physique or that it took four officers to subdue me and the fury that the writer for your paper mentioned."

MORE CARE IN PERMITTING MARRIAGES IS URGED.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 21.—Regulation of marriage to eliminate dependants is favored by county Judge E. Moore, who advocates publication of the names of contracting parties for 50 days prior to the wedding date. Health certificates also should be required, he said.

"During the war I saw marriage licenses issued here to soldiers who had to turn around and ask the girl what her full name was," said Judge Moore. "In marriages of that kind you can always expect dependants."

RANGER OUTHITS BRADY AND WINS 8 TO 6; TEAMS PLAY AGAIN TODAY

By HOWARD BARMAN. Brady tied the score yesterday in the fourth inning of the game with the Ranger Snappers and forged ahead in the fifth but she failed to hold her advantage against the hard-hitting Snappers. The 8-6 score tells the tale of some slugging. The Snappers, as is getting to be the custom, outhit their opponents, getting 12 hits to Brady's eight. This won the game for them. They meet again this afternoon.

John O'Keefe led with the stick-work, knocking out two home runs and a single out of four times at the bat. Neely and McElreath got two clean blows each. Shell was the particular bright star of the visitors at the bat, he rapping out three hits, including one two-bagger.

Wild Pitch Scores McKay. Ranger made a score in the first inning. Lory went out, White to Hale. McKay tripled and came home while Green was pitching to Neely on a wild pitch. Neely was out, White to Hale. Dinsmore struck out.

Two more tallies were made in the next frame by the Snappers. McElreath got hit by a pitched ball and took first, much to his grief, but O'Keefe gave him a chance to trip home when he slammed the ball to left center field. The ball rolled on to the fence and O'Keefe made the entire circuit.

Brady made two tallies in her half of the third. U. Lane got a walk, Bunger a double and Hampton sacrificed Lane home. Shell's double brought Bunger home. McElreath Surprises Fans. McElreath pulled the biggest surprise the backers of the Snappers have seen him do this season since coming to Ranger, when he dropped a fly ball off of White's bat. This busted McElreath's splendid fielding record with the Snappers for the clever fielder has put up a 1,000 per cent fielding average. Hale doubled and U. Lane scored both White and Hale. Bunger ended the inning by fanning.

O'Keefe connected up with the ball in the fourth for a homer over the Ranger cafe sign. Hampton for Brady in the fifth sailed the ball over second, the ball dropping abruptly 20 feet or so beyond the second sack and spinning around. It was the prettiest kind of a safe hit.

Pitcher Green hoisted the ball over the Ranger cafe sign and brought Hampton in ahead of him.

Ball Spins Slowly. In Ranger's half of the fifth Neely laid a ball down in the direction of third that simply did a spinning stunt on the way. Dinsmore brought McKay, who got on base by a single, home when he binged to left field. McElreath followed suit with a single. O'Keefe was out on a fly to Hole. Adams grounded to White, who threw a low one to Hale, the latter, dropping the ball and Adams was safe. Neely scored on the play. Avery flew out to B. Lane.

Ranger made one tally in the sixth and a final one in the eighth. Lory got a base on balls. McKay flew out to Maddox. Neely brought Lory home with a pretty single.

Fine throwing cut two Ranger runners down at the plate in the seventh. McElreath and O'Keefe singled and Adams rolled the ball along the third base line. Maddox threw McElreath out at the plate. Nugent dropped a nice one back of third and Leftfielder Hampton pagged O'Keefe out at home.

In the final frame McKay singled to left field, who took second on Green's wild throw to first and third on a bad throw by Shell and came home on Dinsmore's sacrifice hit.

BANKER HEADS MOVEMENT TO ENTERTAIN CHILDREN AT MOVIES IN MEMORY OF THOMAS JEFFERSON

It Will Be Included in Campaign to Raise Million Dollars to Buy Monticello as a Memorial; Miss Loeb Pleads for the Poor Child Without Pleasures.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—"Do you know there are thousands of children in New York City that have never been to a movie?"

"Can you know the longing of little Johnny Doe as he looks into the doors of a moving picture house, and the agony he feels when he knows he can't get in only because he hasn't the money? For Mrs. Doe is so busy stretching the dollar to make ends meet and to keep the wolf from the door that moving pictures are a problem and not a pleasure to her."

"I have seen such a child many, many times and I have heard him ask the adult passerby, 'Take me in, please, mister, take me in.' And there are thousands and thousands of Johnny Does suffering for the want of a bit of joy."

These are the words uttered recently at a luncheon given by the officials of the French line on their palatial steamship France. They came from the lips of the only woman head of a department of the government of New York City. She is Miss Sophie Irene Loeb, president of the board of child welfare of New York City. She is sometimes termed the "little mother of 30,000," as that is the number of poor children her board is caring for with an annual appropriation of $4,000,000.

National Memorial.
United States Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, who is in charge of the campaign in New York state to raise a fund of $1,000,000 for the purchase and maintenance of a national memorial of Monticello, Jefferson's home in Virginia, had been explaining to a group of bankers, lawyers and merchants seated in the main dining saloon of the France, just how the governors of the foundation planned to raise this fund throughout the country. He told of the plan to hold a "spiritual rally of the nation" at Monticello on April 13, next, the anniversary of Jefferson's birth, and of the "spiritual pilgrimage to Monticello" designed to make possible the participation in this imposing national tribute to Jefferson's memory of all who cannot actually be present in person at the home of the author of the Declaration of Independence. Under this plan "spiritual mileage to Monticello" will be sold at a penny a mile. The "mileage" thus sold will go to make up the fund needed for the Jefferson memorial.

Then Senator Copeland told of the generosity of the moving picture theatre owners of New York City, who have pledged themselves to redeem every cent of this "mileage" in tickets for a special performance of historic achievement in the moving picture field at a date to be announced later. Senator Copeland said he had just had word that the moving picture theatre owners of Richmond and Roanoke, in Virginia, Jefferson's own state, had followed the example of the moving picture men in New York and added that he was confident the theatre owners throughout the country would do likewise.

Miss Loeb, who led the campaign in New York state for the widow's pension law, and who is credited with putting through more welfare legislation than any other woman in the United States, told Senator Copeland and his fellow guests that a better and more democratic means of securing funds for the purchase of Monticello could not have been devised.

"For Jefferson's memory alone, for the part he played in the making of the nation, every patriotic heart should be responsive," she said. "But think, too, of the joy you can bring into the hearts of countless children, actually starving for pleasure, by joining in this movement. Think of it! Every dollar given to this fund will not only send children to the moving picture houses and make them happy, but it will also go toward buying the home of the great Democrat. As Jefferson ticket presented by a child will be honored at theatres everywhere in this city and I hope all over the country. On this ticket will be a brief history of Thomas Jefferson and description of his beautiful home, Monticello. And there will be no question of the quality, of the cleanliness, the patriotic and educational value of the performance these happy children will be privileged to attend."

"As I see it, anybody who contributes to this fund to acquire Monticello—anybody who buys of this 'spiritual mileage' as Senator Copeland calls it, really receives double value in giving. He has the satisfaction of knowing he is helping to create a memorial to the author of our Declaration of Independence—the best and most logical form of memorial to Jefferson, to my mind—but he is actually getting material and spiritual return for whatever he gives. He gives to the Monticello fund, and at the same time he acquires the rights to tickets for a fine moving picture show."

"Did you ever stop to think how many tickets to a moving picture show you can buy for $100? Just think of the number of children the man who buys $100 worth of 'spiritual mileage to Monticello' can make happy. He'll get his actual material return in the $100 worth of tickets—but you can't estimate in dollars through whose contribution to the Jefferson Memorial fund 60,000 poor children of New York city will have a treat—for them a rare one—of seeing a moving picture show.

the spiritual return he'll get by disseminating happiness among our little folks.

"Remember there are thousands thousands of children in this city—and I know it is true of other cities—who never get to a moving picture show from one year's end to another."

Never See Movies.
Miss Loeb's plea for the thousands of poor youngsters in the great city who never get a chance to go to the movies stirred her hearers to wonderment, for with the constant multiplication of the moving picture theatres and the small price of admission charged by many of them, it came as a shock that even this comparatively cheap form of pleasure was too expensive for great numbers of poor children.

Arthur Hofheimer, a well known banker, said that if a thousand dollars would give as great pleasure to a large number of destitute children as Miss Loeb had said, he would be very glad to put it within her power to send 6,000 of the children of widows under her supervision to a picture show. August Heckscher, the banker and philanthropist, and creator of the Heckscher foundation, also indicated that he would make it possible to send another 6,000 youngsters "to the pictures." The head of another stock exchange house said he would send a check with the same purpose in view.

"My Rheumatism is gone—"

"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S. S. S. Today I have the strength I used to have years ago! I don't use my crutches any more." S. S. S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. Start S. S. S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

DO YOU WONDER?

Asks This Lady, "That I'm a Believer in Cardui?"—Had Been So Weak She Had to Go to Bed.

Osawatomie, Kans.—Mrs. E. E. Keast, formerly of Illinois, residing here, says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while; and then some year or so ago I had a bad sick spell. . . .

"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed. I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicines, and everything; had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up. I lay for three months, not able to do anything."

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day there came to be a Ladies Birthday Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui. . . .

"I quit all other medicines and took it (Cardui) faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months. I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman."

"Do you wonder that I am a believer in Cardui? I certainly am. And I am sure there is no better tonic made for women than Cardui." NC-151

Miss Loeb's expressed hope that every one of the 30,000 children in New York City under her supervision would get a chance to go to a movie is quite certain of fulfillment. Not only that, but hundreds of thousands of other children throughout the five boroughs of Greater New York, will have the opportunity of attending the treat planned by the Jefferson foundation in co-operation with moving picture theatre owners. As Miss Loeb pointed out, every giver toward the purchase of Monticello can indicate just what asylum or institution or school is to be the recipient of the tickets to which his purchase of "mileage to Monticello" will entitle him.

Manny Strauss, the assistant national ticket agent for the "spiritual pilgrimage to Monticello,"—they are using only railroad titles and terminology in connection with this unique journey—stated that 60,000 children in New York City will go to the Jefferson movies as the guests of Felix M. Warburg, member of the banking firm of Loeb & Co., of New York City. Mr. Warburg has long been identified with many philanthropies not only in New York but throughout the country. The appeal for the children of the poor, as so effectively put forth by Miss Loeb, coupled with the educational features pertaining to the author of the Declaration of Independence planned for the moving picture show, could not be resisted, and William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry company, has matched Mr. Warburg's donation to provide for another 60,000 children.

MRS. COOLIDGE RECALLS WHITE HOUSE INCIDENT EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO

SHE STOPPED TO ADMIRE PIANO AND POLICEMAN ORDERED HER TO "STEP ON."

"Please step on," said a policeman to Miss Grace Goodhue of Vermont, eighteen years ago, when she paused to examine the gold grand piano in the East Room of the White House at Washington.

She has "stepped on." She has gone to the White House again, not as a visitor, but as mistress of the mansion and the gold piano.

The first visit of the present Mrs. Calvin Coolidge was made as a tourist in Washington on an Easter trip with several other young school teachers in New England. They were "doing" the White House like hundreds of other visitors. It was in the Roosevelt administration, when policemen were numerous about the White House and loitering within or without the mansion was discouraged.

The gold piano was new, a gift to the White House, not to any person. It was made to order by Steinway & Sons, with the shield of each State in colored enamel, forming a high relief all about the gold case. The American eagle is conventionalized to form the legs, which are in two tones of gold.

The young woman from Vermont had never seen anything like it and naturally she wanted to see it closer. Her friends had passed into the hall as she lingered to study the instrument, and then the guardian of the room issued his polite command to step on.

On returning to Washington on March 4, 1921, as the wife of the vice president, the former Miss Goodhue made her second visit to the White House, where the piano of her youthful memories still held a place of honor in the East Room. Mrs. Coolidge then told the story of her former visit and her infringement on the rules.

TWO WOMEN HACKED TO DEATH AND PUT IN BOXES

Packing Cases, Nunie G. Tsekos, Mrs. Catherine Adams & Mrs. Natalie Tsekos

Following a family quarrel, Nunie George Tsekos, an Albanian paper mill hand, of Franklin, N. H., killed his 28-year-old wife, Natalie, and her 70-year old mother, Mrs. Catherine Adams, hacked their bodies to pieces and placed them in two packing cases. He hired an automobile to carry the boxes to Medford, N. H., where he threw them into a vacant lot. The suspicions of the chauffeur were aroused and he notified the police, who found the bodies and arrested Tsekos.

BRADY DISPLEASED OVER TEXAS TECH LOCATION

CISCO, Aug. 22.—Brady is taking issue with the statement that the location of the Texas Technological college at Lubbock was "unanimous," according to a letter received from William D. Cargill, secretary of the Brady Chamber of Commerce by G. C. Richardson, secretary of the local chamber.

"In reference to our conversation today, I wish to state that our organization here is dissatisfied over the location of the tech school," Cargill said in his letter, "and feel that we nor the other towns in the district had a ghost of a chance from the very start."

Saying that his town can be "game losers" if the game is played fair, "we are opposed to a frame-up and we are going to fight the matter to the finish," he declared.

Cargill said in his letter he believed that most of the towns below the plains would join Brady in the proposed fight to keep the college from going to Lubbock and suggested that a meeting of protest be called.
