Constitution of the United States Proclaimed As the Supreme Law of the Land

RANGER LEGAL ADVISERS POINT TO GREAT WORK

Constitution Week Observance Marked by Rally Under Bar Association Direction.

In compliance with the request of the American Bar association that Constitution week be observed by the bar associations in all cities throughout the United States, members of the Ranger Bar association gave a program, both entertaining and instructive, Friday night in the high school auditorium.

Sam K. Wasaff, president of the Ranger bar, introduced the speakers and also discussed briefly the preamble to the constitution, taking each statement and commenting on it.

Discusses Preamble. "We, the people of the United States," he read, "all the people in order to form a more perfect union, a more perfect union demanding self-betterment and guidance for the common good, the individual not of his state but of the United States; 'establish justice,' securing to each the rights his fellows have ordained, the rule of reason over force, no respecter of persons, the thief and millionaire being equal before her bar; 'insure domestic tranquility,' group strife ceasing, no swapping of interests to defeat the true interests of all, no juggling to build up one district and hold back others, no fanatical laws nor laws defied by overbearing conduct of the self-righteous or brutal minded; 'provide for the common defense,' protection from internal violence and from external aggression, not militarism for its own sake, not war profiteers and their useless wars that destroy the youth and promise of the nation and burden future generations with crushing debt; 'promote the general welfare,' the good life of one and all, child labor ceasing, dangerous work made safe, toil to benefit the community, not to lame and corrupt it, education enlarged and freed; 'and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity,' freedom being civilization living within the law, liberty bounded by the lawful rights of our fellows, the blessings of liberty being progress, justice and law; 'do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States,' ordained and established, not embalmed; not perfect, but it works; the people fashioned it, the people can alter it, to be used in the spirit in which it was created, used to fulfill the high functions which the preamble proclaims, and thus meet the trust of America's mission among the nations of the earth."

Bill of Rights. Judge A. E. Firmin discussed the bill of rights, which he defined as "the declaration of the fundamental purposes of a written constitution, adopted as the basis of the government to be created."

He said that in its original form as adopted, the federal constitution contained no bill of rights, although it was urged by James Madison throughout the convention. Then: "Fifty-six delegates met to write the fundamental law which should form a more perfect union" than that under which the United Colonies

COUNTY TAX VALUATIONS

Grand Total This Year $42,929,120, Which Is Slightly Ahead of Last Year; Poll Tax Payments Increase.

EASTLAND, Sept. 22.—Eastland county tax valuations show a grand total of $42,838,120 for 1923. W. J. Herrington, county tax assessor, in his complete report to the county commissioners Saturday morning, declared, "Last year the total was $48,596,622, but there was a total error of $5,992,000 due to duplications, which left a balance of taxable values of $42,604,622, or less than this year's returns."

There were 12,175 poll taxes paid between January and last month as compared with 10,872 last year, an increase of 1,303. The county receives 25 cents for each poll tax and the state $1.50. The county's share was $3,043.75. The rate of taxation this year is 75 cents for the state and $1.50 for the county, a total of $2.25.

The residential tax roll is greater this year. It is $16,244,885 as compared with $14,996,339 last year. The non-resident roll decreased, it being $16,040,400 this year and $17,760,691 in 1922. The unrendered roll amounts to $706,540. The railroads and telegraph roll is $2,809,490 and the state and national banks $587,225. The supplemental back roll, which includes uncollected and overlooked in the past, amounts to $181,780.

The various funds will share in the collectable taxes as follows: State tax, $322,006.50; state revenue poll, $6,087.50; state school poll, $12,175; county tax, $643,472.61; county district school, $62,585.94; county poll taxes, $3,043.75. All of the commissioners were present.

President Opposes Regional System of Railroad Mergers

Special to the Times

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—While no authoritative statement has come from the White House, there appears to be no doubt among those in position to know that President Coolidge is opposed to the consolidation of the railroads of the country into regional systems, as was advocated by the late President Harding, and that further efforts to carry out this project on which the interstate commerce commission has been working for some time will be abandoned.

The railroads have been opposing the proposed consolidation, and, according to some of the leading rail officials, want merely to be "let alone" to work out their own salvation. It is certain, however, they will not be granted this latter wish, for opponents of the Esch-Cummins law and the so-called LaFollette group in congress propose new laws that will come up for consideration within the next few months which may not meet with approval of the railroad chiefs.

ALABAMA GOVERNOR OBJECTS TO INQUIRY RELATIVE TO FLOGGING

By United Press

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 22.—Governor W. W. Brandon today won the first round of his fight to prevent an investigation of flogging and brutality against men working in the Banner mine, under the convict lease system.

Through L. A. Boyd, head of the Alabama convict board, he succeeded in getting a writ tonight from Judge A. L. Gordon of the state supreme court prohibiting Solicitor J. W. Davis from testifying before the Jefferson county grand jury.

KLAN ENTRANCE INTO WHITE HOUSE DENIED

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 22.—That the Ku Klux Klan held an initiation in the dining room of the White House was the statement made by the Rev. Italy Appears To Be Determined Upon Acquiring Fiume

By United Press

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Rumors of a possible Balkan war continued today as the long drawn out negotiations between Italy and Jugoslavia for settlement of the Fiume question failed of satisfactory settlement.

The Italian commander at Fiume, General Giardino, will go to Rome to report on the situation. The decree issued from the government palace shows that Italy is determined to remain in Fiume, which with the exception of Trieste, is the principal port on the eastern shore of the Adriatic.

The Balkan countries fear an effort to deprive them of their rights in allowing the claims of Italy. Dispatches from Rome, which cannot be accepted as wholly unbiased, continue to announce an alarming difference between Jugoslavia and Bulgaria.

FLOOD WATERS WASH AWAY LINES OF LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

By United Press

DALLAS, Sept. 22.—An 11-foot rise in the Red river, the highest in 10 years, reported today from the Byers, Texas, headquarters of the Lone Star Gas company, carried away three of the four overhead lines of the gas company and also washed away one of the emergency lines of the company on the bed of the river.

The flood was expected to reach Gainesville late today and efforts were being made to safeguard the safety of the 16-inch line across the river at that place.

William Moorehead, representative of the company, said that unless the line should be broken off, there will be no serious curtailment of gas to the 61 cities and towns in Texas supplied by the company.

Officials of the company were advised that the crest of the flood had been reached at Byers at 10 o'clock. The Lone Star company supplies gas from Oklahoma fields to Texas towns.

GERMANS WILL GIVE UP THE RUHR FIGHT

Allies Expected to Show Leniency When "Passive Resistance" Is Ended.

By United Press

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Germany today decided to give up "passive resistance" unconditionally. Allied representatives tonight indicated the offer would be accepted.

The struggle in the Ruhr that has cost hundreds of lives and millions of dollars is expected to end next week. Allied representatives who said they believed the proposal would be accepted said, too, that France and Belgium were disposed to return captives voluntarily, following Germany's complete surrender without conditions. With the Ruhr and Rhineland dispute ended, a discussion of reparations on a larger scale than heretofore was believed next in order.

The Berlin cabinet met with Chancellor Stresemann late today and decided that "passive resistance" must cease if the republic was to be saved. The offer heretofore made to the Belgian ambassador had two conditions: release of the Ruhr prisoners held by the French and the return of persons deported.

The new decision is for surrender with conditions. Besides accepting the German surrender and making certain concessions regarding the prisoners, the allies are understood to be prepared to withdraw part of the Ruhr troops. The only thing to complete fulfillment of the government's decision is a couple of meetings within the course of the coming week, when definite announcement will be published. The cabinet will meet again tomorrow.

KLAN GRAND DRAGON IN OKLAHOMA IS HELD ON RIOTING CHARGE

By United Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, was freed upon $1,000 bond today on charges of rioting preferred in a justice of the peace court. He pleaded not guilty.

The charge followed testimony given by Dr. A. A. Manpin, dentist and former klansman, before a military court here relative to the alleged seizure and flogging of E. R. Merriman, who was forced to leave the county in 1922.

Dr. Manpin, a part of whose testimony was given out by Governor Walton, testified that Jewett had told him that he had personally applied the lash to Merriman.

Additional announcement regarding his attitude on the proposed meeting of the legislature was promised by the governor to newspaper men with whom he conferred last night at his home. The governor asserted that 60 members of the Oklahoma lower house are members of the Klan and he declared that a meeting of the house next Wednesday would be an unlawful assembly.

Walton declared "there will be no session." Question as to his opinion regarding the success of his campaign against the Klan, the governor said: "The Klan is whipped. That is success, isn't it?"

BEAUTY TO BE ARRAYED IN FINEST RAIMENT AND PARADING UNDER BRILLIANT SPOTLIGHT

Fifty Living Models Will Appear on Stage. Vaudeville Entertainment By High-Class Performers To Be Added Feature Wednesday and Thursday Nights.

The one big event of the week will be the Ranger Style Show, Wednesday and Thursday nights, Sept. 26 and 27, at the Liberty theatre, under management of the Retail Merchants association of this city.

Beautiful gowns and clothes for women and children, and suits and coats of latest cut for men, will be shown on 50 living models in six magnificent scenes, which will be staged with every attention to beauty and fitness of surroundings.

The children—bless their hearts—will open the program and in their own cunning ways will display styles for children in dresses, coats, hats and accessories, more fetching than have ever been seen in Ranger before. The second scene is one of the most novel ever staged here, but is to remain a mystery until the opening night when the very keenest curiosity will await its unfolding. Something specially interesting to the ladies of Ranger will be shown in the second scene.

Shown on Living Models. Silk and woolen dresses, suits, coats, and evening gowns, as well as sport and business clothes, and evening dress for men will be displayed each evening in the various scenes arranged for this purpose. Stunning women and handsome men will model the different styles.

It is also rumored that a New York model is being brought here to show a certain evening gown that was so beautiful, as seen by a Ranger merchant in New York, that he decided to have it shown in the same way here.

A special showing of handsome furs, in large variety and many different styles is also promised for this occasion.

But while clothes of the most attractive and beautiful material and styles, and furs of great elegance and variety, will be on exhibition, there are many additional entertainment features prepared for this great event which will, in themselves alone, be a complete evening's entertainment.

The opening scene will be "The Tin-Pan Alley Review," full of singing and dancing and the latest song hits. This will be followed by a black-face comedy act, all men, whose jokes and merriment will furnish laughs for the crowd. A professional whistler and bird imitator from out of town will be a headline feature.

The leading entertainment number of the evening, however, will be the Hawaiian musical group of men and women, big time vaudeville artists who will appear both nights. This troupe of wonderful musicians, secured through a Dallas booking office, will present a novelty music act with dancing women in the troupe. They have appeared in better vaudeville circuits all over the country and were secured for this show at a great expense just before the regular season opens.

The Retail Merchants association has also secured one of the best Scotch comedians in the country, who is likewise available at this time before the regular opening of the big circuits. He will give a regular Harry Lauder program in native Scotch costume. Three other acts, all of which are new stuff and made up mostly of professional talent, will give Ranger the biggest vaudeville show ever produced under local auspices.

The ticket sale is going fast and it is expected that the entire first night will be sold out in advance by Monday evening. Tickets can be secured by going to Crawford's pharmacy or by phoning 422.

WALTON WANTS NEWSPAPER TO PRINT FACTS

Says Oklahoma Press Subsidized by Klan; Threatens to Call More Troops.

By United Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—In a written statement to the newspapers late tonight, Governor Walton appealed for financial aid to establish a newspaper here for the distribution of facts throughout the state. He attacked the newspapers over the state and declared they were subsidized from Atlanta, Ga.

To Extend Martial Law. Extension of absolute martial law unless local authorities in several counties clear up the conditions of lawlessness in their several districts was threatened by Governor Walton tonight, accompanied by the statement that additional national guardsmen would be mobilized. He gave no indication as to the counties he threatened nor did he name the number of additional guardsmen to be called out.

The governor reiterated his declaration that members of the lower house would not be allowed to assemble at the scheduled meeting place in the capital on Wednesday. However, he refused to say what action would be taken, referring inquiries to Adjutant General Markham, who refused to make a statement.

Klan in Legislature. "Adjutant General Markham will be in command of the troops in Oklahoma City on the date scheduled by the insurgent Klan representatives to meet and Markham will have charge of the situation," the governor asserted. "There will be no meeting of the legislature," he declared. "The scheduled meeting Wednesday is one of the Klan and not of the legislature. They shall not meet. I cannot allow klansmen of the legislature to assemble and call themselves the legislature of the state and proceed to act as such. If I allowed such action, it would be turning the state over to super-government, which has its headquarters in Atlanta, Ga."

Questioned as to the probability of klansmen being in the national guard, the governor again referred to Markham. "I cannot say if there are klansmen in the guard, but I am assured the guardsmen will obey orders at all times," he said.

The curfew ruling under martial law continued tonight without modification. "I can testify as to the effectiveness of the restriction," said the governor. "Last night I was halted four times as I drove to the telegraph office after midnight."

EVERY OFFICIAL IN SHAWNEE DECLARED MEMBER OF KLAN

SHAWNEE, Okla., Sept. 22.—That every city official of Shawnee is a member of the Ku Klux Klan, from the mayor to patrolmen, was the charge of Claude Hendon, county attorney, who is investigating the activities of flogging in Pottawatomie county.

Ray Evans, police judge and a captain in the national guard, testified that he was a member of the Klan. Hendon stated there would be arrests made as soon as persons implicated could be located.

Legislature Shall Not Meet Says Walton

Threatens to Make Martial Law More Rigid. Claims Klan Has Terrorized Oklahoma For Two Years and Now Seeking His Removal Because He Has Exposed Its Crimes.

By United Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—Governor Walton will close the Oklahoma State fair and place this city under more rigid martial law unless members of the legislature abandon their effort to convene the lower house of the legislature, according to a statement issued today by the executive, in which he says:

"The Ku Klux Klan that for more than two years has spread terror throughout the state to races and religions against whom its organized efforts are directed, and has dragged its victims from their homes and beds and, without trial or mercy, has tied them, both men and women, like beasts and beaten them brutally, cannot remain in this state.

"The leaders of the Klan are now using all their efforts to defeat the law and defy the constitution and they have denounced me as a war lord because I have uncovered their crimes and have exposed their offenses.

"When I first began to investigate the crimes committed by the Ku Klux Klan, I learned that where they operated with the greatest boldness the local officers of the law were klansmen. If charges were brought against any person in those places a Klan sheriff would make the arrest, a Klan prosecuting attorney would prosecute the defendant in a court presided over by a klansman before a Klan jury drawn by Klan commissioners. Facing such conditions and after my warnings had gone unheeded, I declared martial law. It was necessary, for only under the protection of the bayonets could the whipped and cowed victims be induced to testify against the monster that had mauled them until death would be a happy release."

The governor said that from the Klan's open defiance of lawful authority, it was evident they would try to accomplish their purpose even though they had to ride through blood up to the bridge, and that any who opposed them would be led as through a slaughter house into an open grave.

"But by virtue of the power vested in me as governor of this state, no mob shall rule Oklahoma so long as I am above ground and in that high office," declared the governor. "This lawless element contemplates starting its session under the guise of a legislative assembly and would remove from its path any officer who dares to oppose the unlawful act. The only thing that surprises me is that they have not convened their legislature at night in an open pasture, then in full regalia, and, in the presence of their dragons, cyclops and wizards they could impeach me in the midst of Nature's temple that has so often resounded with the cries of their victims."

MRS. WALTON FINDS JACK'S FIGURE IMPROVED BY POLITICS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Jack Walton has postponed her vacation trip to Maryland and will stand by her husband in his plans to destroy the Ku Klux Klan.

"I'll stick by him to the finish," the first lady of Oklahoma said tonight. "I had planned to visit relatives in Maryland but this will have to wait. I couldn't think of quitting John at this time."

While newspapermen, officials, officers and parole seekers were swarming about the executive mansion, Mrs. Walton was quietly going about her household. She was disturbed by the shuffle of many callers and the tramp, tramp of soldiers.

"This house is nothing more than an annex to the capital," she said. Despite the excitement, she was performing her duties as a model housewife. She is also devoting much time to caring for her husband's health.

ROBIN HOOD IS PICTURE LONG TO BE REMEMBERED

Every one of us, at one time or another, has allowed his thoughts to drift back "to the days of old when knights were bold," and has let the imagination run riot in seeking to picture those olden times. And always in our dreams there was the picture of a castle, where the bold knights and their ladies lived and breathed a life of romance.

That dream castle is made a reality in watching the production "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," which was shown yesterday at the Liberty theatre and will be shown again today and tomorrow. It is a tremendous picture. It is hard to describe because it is so immense. Illustrated with the special music, the picture becomes very real and one seems to be living again in the medieval days of Robin Hood and Richard the Lion Hearted. It must be seen to be appreciated.

Douglas Fairbanks takes the part of Robin Hood and he has a splendid cast throughout.

BOY SCOUTS DO DUTY AS TRAFFIC OFFICERS

The Ranger Boy Scouts did duty as traffic officers along Main street yesterday afternoon and last night. Two of them were stationed at several street intersections and kept traffic moving in approved style.

in their struggle for liberty of life, limb, property and happiness had existed. In 87 days the constitution, as originally adopted, was prepared, presented to the convention and adopted by the unanimous consent of the states present on the seventeenth day of September, 1787, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth. It was largely the work of three towering intellects, George Washington, Alexander Hamilton and Benjamin Franklin. But it was imperfect in that it did not sufficiently limit the power of the federal government created by it, so that the states should reserve their proper sovereignty in matters not intended to be delegated to the general government and that the rights of the individual citizen should be duly recognized and respected, and on Sept. 25, 1789, 10 amendments were submitted to the states for their adoption and 10 states adopted them. They cover 10 subjects vital to a nation of freemen, and of supreme importance in creating a government "of the people, for the people and by the people." These amendments were largely the work of the immortal Jefferson, in which he was harmoniously assisted by a great majority of his fellow patriots, including James Madison.

Judge Firmin pointed out how the "freedom of religion, of speech and of peaceable assembly" and individual rights of various character were provided in these 10 amendments and discussed each briefly. "The recognition of the 10 eternal principles of a republic by the fathers and constituting our bill of rights," he said, "is the cornerstone of the national edifice, upon which our life as a free people has been built, for which our soldiers and sailors have paid high sacrifice and to which we must ever turn our thoughts and bend our energies if we preserve the liberties vouchsafed to us by the blood of the martyrs of 1776."

Constitution Watchwords.

Lytton R. Taylor spoke of the "Watchwords of the Constitution; A Government of Laws and Not of Men; Liberty Under the Laws; Equal Opportunity to All Citizens." His address was full of optimism for the future and he insisted that the world is getting better all the time.

He urged that the children be taught the constitution with greater care and especially what it stands for, and expressed the belief that the children of the future would be as keen to uphold the high ideals of the constitution and of the nation as were the men and women of 1776. Living the Constitution.

Mrs. M. H. Hagan gave a forceful talk on upholding the constitution in daily life, and stressed the need of teaching every day in the home and in the school the necessity of respecting rights, the rights of others, and the upholding of freedom within the law. She urged that every child and grown person should become familiar with the preamble of the constitution and that it should be made plain to all by teachers of every description that liberty meant freedom only when it did not encroach on the rights of others, and that following the Golden Rule would keep one safe within the law.

Land's Supreme Law.

"The Services of John Marshall in Making Our Constitution the Supreme Law of the Land" was discussed by Ove Overson, who in beginning his address quoted William E. Gladstone as saying, "The American constitution is, so far as I can see, the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of men."

He quoted also the Marquis of Salisbury as saying, "I confess I do not often envy the United States, but there is one feature in their institution which appears to me the subject of the greatest envy, their magnificent institution of the supreme court."

Judge Overson traced the government of people from the rule of tribal chiefs through kings and empires, first absolute and later with an ever increasing measure of control by the people, until the first constitution by a republic was written for the United States. He pointed out how lawgivers, which also were rulers, were at one time raised up by God, and pointed to the Book of Judges in the Bible as an example of this. Coming to the time of the constitution and the institution of the supreme court to interpret it for the people of the nation, he dwelt with emphasis on the service of Chief Justice John Marshall of that court, who enunciated the doctrine which has never been successfully challenged that "the constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land."

RANGER PROPERTY IS SOLD BY J. L. IRWIN TO HIS SON, IKE IRWIN

One of the biggest real estate transactions in Ranger in many months was recorded at the city hall last week when 178 lots, including 23 houses, in the Lackland addition and eight acres in the Blundell survey and 18 acres in the W. J. Smith survey were bought by Ike Erwin of Ranger from his father, J. L. Erwin. The amount of cash involved was not given out.

Farmers Will Be Canvassed For Automobile Sales

"We are going after the farmers intensively," Robert Carton, sales manager of the Leveille-Maher motor company, said recently when asked if the improvement in cotton growing acreage and prices in this section is favorable to increased automobile and tractor sales. "We are going to stage demonstrations of cars and tractors on their farms. Farmers will enter the farming industry more seriously next year than this season. Next year they will hit into it hard after a recess, due to oil production."

Leveille-Maher have two salesmen who will work among the farmers more regularly than in the past as the result of "things looking up," for the cotton grower.

Carton said he and his associates are taking hold of the situation through correspondence and literature. Automobile dealers are hoping that a market will be found among farmers to offset the losses sustained in the oil industry as the result of over-production, lower crude oil prices and prorating of pipe line runs and the consequent laying off of hundreds of men in the Eastland county fields.

CITY-COUNTY HOSPITAL GIVES COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' COURT MATERIAL FOR DISCUSSIONS

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, Sept. 22.—Who discounted the $30,000 county hospital warrants? W. I. Allison, retiring county auditor, who was asked by the Eastland county commissioners to see how far they have lived up to the agreement with the city commissioners of Ranger to finance the idle City-County hospital in Ranger, today told a Times writer that he isn't sure who did.

Allison declares the county commissioners turned $30,000 over to the hospital board and that thus the county commissioners had lived up to their agreement to go fifty-fifty in building the hospital.

"I was at that table," he said pointing to a flat table in the auditor's office in the courthouse, "when the commissioners and contractor met. When the contractor came to collect his warrants, he said he didn't know that the warrants were to be discounted and that he couldn't do it."

"There was a representative from Ranger, who said he would see that it was handled all right. I don't know who he was." Quisile-Andrews, contracting firm, built the hospital.

Allison said he didn't know for a certainty whether the hospital board discounted the $30,000 warrants, which were sold at a discount of 7 1/2 per cent. This left a balance of $27,750 and this difference of $2,250 is almost entirely responsible for the hospital standing idle, conferences between the Eastland county and city of Ranger commissioners indicate.

"Legally the county commissioners have done their part," Allison said. "The city of Ranger and Eastland county commissioners entered a joint agreement to issue $30,000 bonds for the hospital."

He called attention to the fact that the hospital cost more than the bonds issued would take care of, but said that this should not keep the building closed.

"The commissioners can help a little more," he said. "That is, if they want to."

The commissioners' court met Saturday morning to examine the tax receipt roll of W. J. Herrington, county tax assessor, but there was no indication that the board intended to take the "bull by the horns," and open the hospital. E. S. Pritchard, judge of the board, said that only the tax-roll, completed this week, would be taken up today.

The warrant discount argument and expenditure of several thousand dollars on the building more than the $60,000 combined bond issue would take care of, has been responsible for the hospital remaining closed to the public since its completion last June, according to the general opinion.

REV. S. D. COUCH TO PREACH AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. S. D. Couch arrived yesterday from Dallas and will occupy the pulpit in the Presbyterian church this morning at 11 o'clock and tonight at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Couch is field secretary for the West Texas field and has been a frequent visitor to Ranger in the past, but said he had not been here for several years. Many are yet here, however, who remember him well and he is certain to attract large congregations today.

Mr. Couch's home is in Waxahachie, but his duties are said to keep him in the field much of the time.

YOM KIPPER OBSERVED BY JEWS IN RANGER

Yom Kipper, the day of atonement, most sacred of Jewish holidays, was observed by persons of Jewish descent in this city Thursday. Places of business, owned by Jews, were closed. The day was given over to meditation, to prayer, and confession.

Among the more conservative Jews of the world, the observance took the form of total abstinence from eating or drinking from sundown Wednesday to sundown Thursday night.

TRIAL OF BARNES TO COME UP TOMORROW IN DISTRICT COURT

After being continued for a sixth time late Friday afternoon, the trial of Cleve Barnes of Ranger, charged with possessing liquor, will start in the 91st district court tomorrow morning before Judge G. L. Davenport. Continuance was granted Joe Burkett, representing the defendant, until Monday after a series of motions to quash the jury panel, on various grounds, were overruled by Judge Davenport.

The seizure of whiskey, wine and choc beer in the garage of Barnes in this city on May 22, 1922, by a committee of citizens and officers was probably the most spectacular and exciting in the county since national prohibition became a law.

The whiskey and wine, Barnes said at the time of the seizure, was worth about $18,000. The bottles were broken and the contents thrown into the gutter, with a fire department hose handy to wash it along. Hundreds of people quickly gathered when the news of the raid spread to see the seizure.

The raid was in conjunction with several others at the same time and followed an agitation in Ranger against the sale of whiskey in the city in defiance of the law.

Five committees were appointed by various clubs to visit suspected places of whiskey sales and the visits were timed simultaneously, so that one seller of illicit whiskey wouldn't notify the other. The committees visited several places, officers accompanying them, but only small amounts were found at any of the places.

At the Barnes garage 300 quarts of fine bonded whiskey were seized, also 20 gallons of barrel whiskey, two cases of imported champagne, 160 gallons of white mule, and 546 pints of choc beer. All of the liquor was officers making the raid said, poured into the gutter.

CITY ENGINEER SEWARD RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS

H. E. Seward, city engineer, is reported recovering from his recent illness at his former home in Waco, and according to word received by Mayor R. H. Hodges, he is expected to return to Ranger the first of this week. He left here about 10 days ago to consult his physician in Waco, who has treated him for the same affection in the past.

EL PASO WIRES TO HOLD AUTOMOBILE SEIZED HERE

El Paso police department today wired the local police authorities to hold an automobile taken away from Cecil Yates Thursday and an officer would be sent to identify the car. Yates was taken to Breckenridge Friday by a Stephens county deputy sheriff, who said he was wanted for alleged tire theft.

Yates was arrested by Officer Jim Ingram on information furnished Assistant Chief L. E. Davenport.

AUSTIN.—Five days of the Texas exposition which will be staged here next month have been designated in honor of Texas cities. They are: Dallas day, Houston day, San Antonio day, Waco day, and Fort Worth day. These cities will send official delegations to the exposition on the days designated in their honor. Another day probably will be set aside as Austin day.

TENNESSEE SENATOR APPEARS OUT OF FAVOR WITH WOODROW WILSON

By United Press

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 22.—A letter from former President Woodrow Wilson repudiating the candidacy of United States Senator J. K. Shields for renomination as the Democratic candidate, has been received by Furlow of Bristol, Tenn. Mr. Wilson writes:

"In reply to your letter, I do not feel at liberty to say more than this: that I regarded Mr. Shields during my administration as one of the least trustworthy of my supporters."

Shields referred to the former president in an interview recently, following which Furlow wrote to Mr. Wilson. Shields said:

"Woodrow Wilson is one of the greatest men the world has ever produced. He was a great president and has been and is now very popular in Tennessee. His high place in history is secure and the adulation and mouthing of weeklies and demagogues can add nothing to or detract anything from the record he has made."

Furlow replied to Shields that Wilson now needed no praise from him. All Wilson had needed was his vote for the League of Nations when that means ratification of the Versailles treaty and the triumph of the Democratic party.

AUSTIN, Sept. 22.—Hearing of Texas shippers for authority to designate routes on shipments will be held before the railroad commission on Nov. 13, it was announced today. The rates are subject to routing, promulgated by the commission. Under the proposed plans, the rates would be reduced.

STRAWN TO OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON HERE SATURDAY

Strawn High school will meet the Ranger Hi eleven in the opening game of the gridiron season next Saturday. Strawn is not a member of section three of the University of Texas Interscholastic league, but Ranger High officials were compelled to go outside of this section to get a team to come here.

J. W. Overall, principal of the high school and schedule maker for the local team sent contracts to the Sweetwater and Stephenville High teams Saturday. In telephone conversations with the principals of these two city schools, he was promised that every effort would be made to come to Ranger. Sweetwater was offered the Oct. 6 date and Stephenville the Oct. 12 date, which comes on a Friday. As favorable terms that could be offered were contained in the contracts. Both high schools are in the Ranger section.

Football Coaching Has Much To Do In Winning Victories

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Writer.) NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Football this fall will offer more interesting feature than can be found in the efforts of Percy Houghton to develop a winning team at Columbia University.

Houghton is generally regarded as the best football coach in the country. He established a system at Harvard that has been one of the most productive systems in any line of athletics in the whole country. The ideas that he outlined and put into effect at Harvard have been retained by succeeding coaches with such great results that Harvard ranks as the outstanding football institution of the nation.

It has been argued year after year that the best of coaching will not get the results without the material and that where the material is available, no master mind is needed to get the play out of it. It may be pointed out that Houghton had the material at Harvard, and it may be pointed back that Yale has had the finest material in the east for three years and failed to get any place in particular with it.

Less brilliant Harvard teams have beaten more powerful and classier Yale team three years in a row and unless Yale gets going, the same thing will happen this year.

The argument that coaching is the factor in football does not hold in the case of Johnny Heisman and the University of Pennsylvania. Heisman became nationally famous when he was producing spectacular teams at Georgia Tech. He didn't have the material at his command that is given to the big eastern coaches, but he delivered. Pennsylvania had been just going along with ordinary teams when Heisman was brought to Philadelphia in the hope that he might develop one of his tornado teams for Penn. He had fine materials there, but he failed badly and was relieved.

Bob Folwell, who was replaced at Penn by Heisman, went to the Naval Academy where he became successful immediately. He had a good football brain, knew the game and had the faculty of teaching it. He found the material at Annapolis and he also found himself in a position to demand discipline and act with a free hand. Athletic coaches at Annapolis and West Point have the authority of officers and their word is law. They have no fraternity influence to overcome and if they have any ability, they should deliver, because the youngsters they have to work with represent the finest type of manhood in the nation.

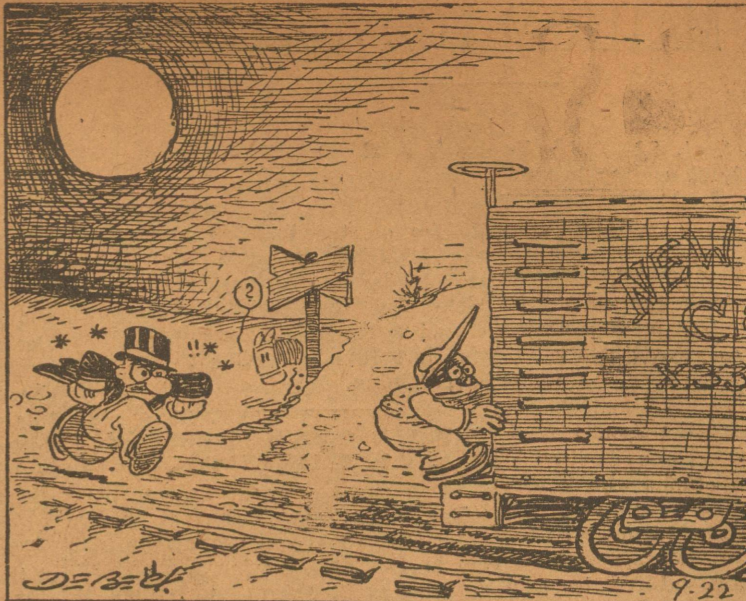

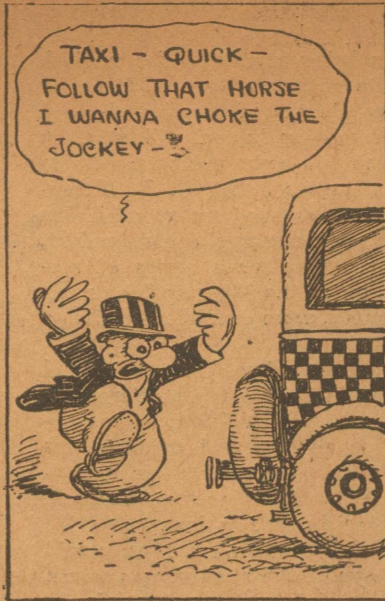

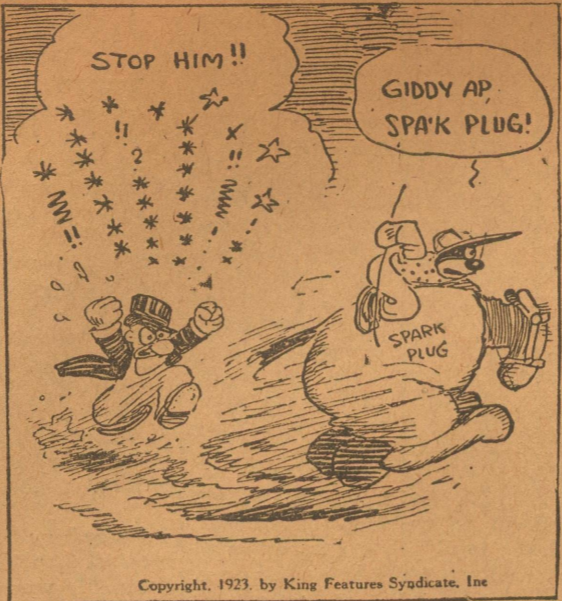

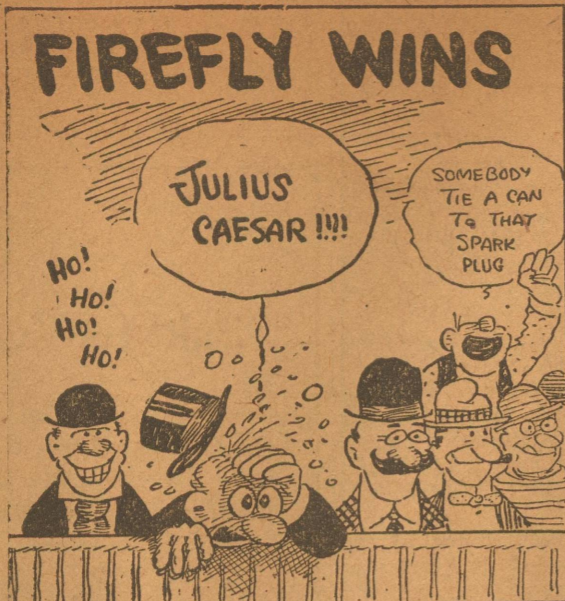

LAST GOLF MATCH OF SEASON TODAY

Secretary Ralston of the Ranger Country club golf team issued a call for the following men to go to Strawn today for the final match of the Oil Belt Golf association tournament:

- Clegg, Craig, Milliken, Holmsley, Pond, Rector, Terrell, Harrigan, Conley, Harkrider, Dreby, Burden, Phillips, Logsdon, Shaw, Crawford and Galloway.

PLAINVIEW.—A flat tire did not prevent M. L. Turner of Halfway, from winning the prize for marketing the first bale of cotton in Hale county. When Turner started to Plainview with his bale, a neighbor farmed had several miles head start. The neighbor, however, was driving a team of mules. Turner came into town with a flat tire and won the $120 cash prize offered by local merchants.

MINERS WIN, 5 TO 2 SATURDAY, CISCO PLAYS SNAPPERS TODAY

Frank and Roy Hudspeth, brothers of Stephenville, made a fine battery Saturday afternoon for their club, the Thurber Miners. Roy held his bigger brother Frank down in nice shape and Frank, although wild as a march hare, passing five men and hitting four, didn't let the Snappers connect up with his curves and his club won easily, 5 to 2. Cisco will play here this afternoon.

The Eighth Was Awful. Up until the eighth it was anybody's game. The Miners averaged about one hit to an inning up to this time and "Peaches" Ridings saw to it that they were scattered. But that awful eighth. Sam Knight led off by striking out. King and Hale singled. O'Keefe whipped the ball to head off King and the latter wisely wheeled around and started for second. Bill Huber shot the ball in McKay's direction but it went wide and rolled out to O'Keefe. This gave King ample time to score. Roy Hudspeth bunted and Ridings threw the ball to first and in the meantime Hale raced home, Adams whipped it to Lory but too late.

Ranger took the lead by making the first score in the third frame. McKay singled through second, Dinsmore got hit. O'Keefe sacrificed both runners. Huber scored McKay with a liner to third, although himself thrown out at first. Scoggins ended by flying out to Josefsen.

Score Again in Fourth. The second tally came in the fourth inning. Adams walked, McElreath singled. Lory struck out and Ridings flew to King. McKay walked and Dinsmore got hit for the second time, forcing in Adams.

The Miners got a pair of runs in the fourth. Knight out, Ridings to Adams. King and Hale bingled. Roy Hudspeth was walked. Adkins scored King on his roller. Hale also scored when the ball got away from Adams.

Thurber made another tally in the final frame. Leedy tripled and scored when a low ball went through Lory's legs, who was played under difficulty Saturday, because of injuries.

McElreath, Scoggins and O'Keefe made some catches that brought the cheers of the fans.

NOTES OF THE GAME. Manager Adams celebrated his first day back with the team following his wedding by taking 18 chances. In the fourth inning he picked the ball up nicely from Adkins' bat but it got away from him when in the act of tagging the Thurber outfielder. He also got a nice single to right in the fifth.

 The game was late starting due to some differences on the matter of umpire duty.

Autumnal Equinox Due At 9:04 Sunday Night; Winter Near

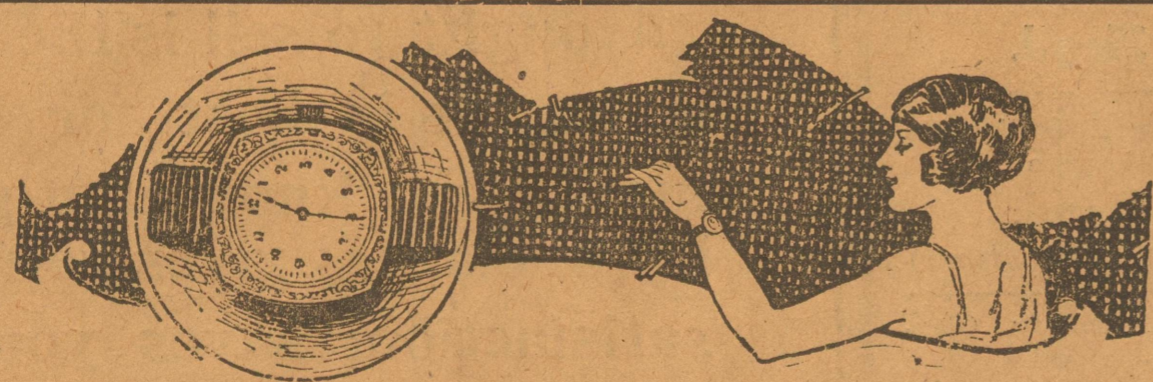

By WM. L. LOSH, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—At 9:04 o'clock tomorrow night the earth will reach and pass that point in space in its journey around the sun when days and night are exactly equal. It is the autumnal equinox. At only one other moment during the year are the same conditions reproduced, on March 21, when the vernal equinox occurs.

A strange series of changes in earthly conditions will commence in various portions of the globe at 9:04. At the north pole the sun will dip beneath the horizon, to be visible no more until March 21, next, when it will again appear on the rim of the polar disk. From today until Dec. 21, its plunge into gloom will be deeper and deeper; from Dec. 21 to March 21 it will commence its return toward the light of day.

Exactly opposite conditions prevail at the South Pole. At 9:04 tonight a person at the pole would see the sun for the first time in six months, low on the rim of the horizon, to be visible without break for a half-year. Day by day the sun will creep higher and higher into the skies, shedding a warmth little felt because of the influence of the eternal ice fields south of the Antarctic circle, which prevent the temperature ever from rising above freezing. The sun will continue to rise until Dec. 21, when it will stand 23 1-2 degrees above the horizon, its maximum height there, but lower than that at which it is ever seen in American latitudes. Beginning Dec. 21, it will commence to retrace toward the horizon and another six months of darkness.

WE FIND THE CAUSE

Many persons have asked how the spine can press the nerves and shut off the life-giving energy which causes weaknesses and diseases in certain parts of the body. The spine protects the spinal cord through which energy passes from the brain to the net-work of nerves that supply every part of the body. The spine is made up of separate, moveable parts that are easily displaced and are sensitive to every strain and jar.

There are many contributory causes that lead to defective spines, and they are present in every-day life. Before, during and after birth the weak and tender spine is very easily affected. The manner in which a child sits at the school desk, or the position of the man or woman while at work is likely to cause defect and curvature. Strenuous games, active play, falls, sudden twists or strains from carrying or lifting heavyweights are all likely to throw the spine out of plumb. This brings about the fatal pressure upon the nerves and throbbles or obstructs the life-giving currents, thus leading to disease.

By lifting this pressure from the nerves, permitting them to again nourish the famished, worn-out and diseased tissues and organs, Chiropractic is able to correct these spinal defects. With normal nerve function restored, NATURE brings about Healthy conditions in the organs affected.

Out of Style! And the New Model Not Out Yet.

—The ice man is already relegated to the "relics of 1923" in some homes.

—But such is the command of fashion; for fur coats were on sale in August, which indicates that some things can be sold out of season, if it is fashionable for them to be bought.

—It is becoming more chic every year for people to use ice all winter long, and in a few years you will not be able to retain your standing in your social "set" unless you have ice in your refrigerator.

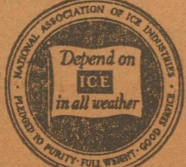

—Be a Social leader—take ice all winter.

—You'll find it worth ten times its cost in the valuable food saved.

NEW TRAFFIC OFFICER FROM PARKER COUNTY PRAISED BY BENNETT

When Eastland county auto drivers heard that a traffic officer from Parker county had been employed as a traffic officer along the Bankhead highway between Ranger and Eastland, their thoughts at once turned to the reputation attained by Parker county of excessive activity in making arrests for alleged violations of the traffic law.

As it was not desired that Eastland county should acquire a similar reputation, B. F. Bennett, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, made an investigation and learned that Frank Robason, the Parker county man recently appointed a traffic officer in Eastland county, is not one of those against whom complaints were made in Parker county.

"Mr. Robason is a vigilant officer and will insist upon observance of the law along the highway he patrols," said Mr. Bennett, "but he is not one of those complained of in Parker county. He came here recommended by the Weatherford Chamber of Commerce as an officer who, while vigilant and firm, is always fair and courteous. He seeks to prevent violations of the law rather than to make arrests, but those who insist upon violating the traffic regulations will find him ready to do his duty. After careful inquiry, I have every confidence that Mr. Robason will prove a worthy and satisfactory traffic officer in every way."

GRAND JURY RECESSES.
EASTLAND, Sept. 22.—Several indictments were returned by the Eighty-eighth court grand jury, it was reported at the courthouse Saturday morning, before the jury recessed Friday evening. The jury reconvenes Monday. The capias were being served Saturday by the sheriff's department.

Kellogg Factories Greatest Cereal Plant In World

The immense Kellogg factories, where the Kellogg Corn Flakes and Bran are made, form the world's greatest cereal plant. Not only is every care taken to make this the best and cleanest food in the world, but the many employees are also given the best of care, and every thought for their comfort is carried out in a practical way. On the top floor of the immense factory is located one of the finest and largest amusement halls to be found between New York and Chicago.

At 10 o'clock every Saturday morning a free motion picture show is given here for the children of the Kellogg employees, and although they are supposed to gather at 10, I am told they are so eager some of them come as early as 7 o'clock. At any rate the show is good, pictures carefully chosen, and there are two evening shows a week for the adults and two matinees, also dances, parties, and all sorts of social gatherings are enjoyed here. There is no charge to the employees, the amusements being provided for the benefit of those who live near the factory and find it difficult to go and come to town.

On the next floor is the cafeteria, serving delicious, well cooked foods at cost prices for the workers. Or a man may bring his lunch and obtain good hot coffee if he chooses. Some 2,000 meals per day are served as there are three shifts working eight hours each. Thus the factory is kept in constant operation.

There are separate rest rooms for men and women, shower baths in the separate apartments, a laundry wherein all the factory clothes are washed and ironed, and as the employees are required to be absolutely clean, bathed and dressed every morning, the bathing facilities and laundry department are maintained by the Kellogg company free of charge to employees.

CLOSED CAR DEMAND IS BIGGER, E. E. DREBY, HUDSON DEALER, SAYS

"Never before has the demand for enclosed cars been so great. Never before have so many of our buyers asked for the Hudson and Essex coaches, said E. E. Dreby, of the Hub City Garage, Hudson-Essex distributor.

"There are now about 70,000 coaches in service the country over, and when you consider that coaches are produced in quantity by only one manufacturer and that this type of vehicle has been in existence less than two years, I think that all will agree that the coach has been an enormous popular success.

"Our information is that the Hudson-Essex factory is now producing at least 80 per cent of its entire output in coaches, and that all plans are that Hudson and Essex coaches will continue to be the outstanding feature of the Hudson-Essex line. Inasmuch as most 1924 models have now been announced, and without including the coach type of car being adopted by any other leading manufacturer, it is clear that Hudson-Essex will continue to have an exclusive appeal to the thousands of discriminating motorists who are planning on an enclosed car.

"Most every one knows that the Essex coach is one of the most moderately priced enclosed cars in the world. It is equally true that the Hudson coach—despite the splendid Hudson chassis—can be had at a surprisingly low figure. When a buyer wants a large motor car with a large car performance, and yet is looking for an enclosed car at a reasonable price, we find the Hudson coach always satisfies him.

"Now that autumn is here, the demand for enclosed cars will naturally quicken, and I believe that our Hudson-Essex business will develop into the brisk volume we have had this year.

"Just a nip of this autumn weather and most motorists realize that what they want first of all is an enclosed car."

Studebaker Won Event Three In Pikes Peak Race

Studebaker big six won event three in the Pikes Peak national hill climbing contest in Colorado, according to information received here by the Oilbelt Motor company. The car was equipped with Champion spark plugs as were all of the winning cars in the three events and the president of the Champion Spark Plug company of Toledo, O., happy at the result of the climb sent letters to all of the Studebaker dealers in which he pointed out that Studebaker has consistently used Champion equipment.

His letter follows:
Oilbelt Motor Co., Inc., Ranger, Texas. Gentlemen: Champion joins with you in a feeling of pride for the wonderful performance of the Studebaker Big Six which won the third event in the Pikes Peak hill climb on Labor day.

That dependable Champion spark plugs contributed their share in this remarkable exhibition of speed, power and endurance, is we believe, a tribute to the better way in which Champions are made. That Champions give such outstanding performance under the tremendous stress of such a contest is important to everyone in the automotive industry.

It was not in your Studebaker alone that Champions demonstrated their superiority. They were in every winning car in all three events as shown by copy of telegram we enclose from H. J. Dennis. These contests are but few among the many in which Champions are completely demonstrated that they are better spark plugs.

Champions have been in the cylinders of the winners in practically every big race in Europe this year, the most notable recent event being the "Coppa Delle Alpi Italy," a race of 3,000 kilos through the Alps which was won by Enzo Ferrari, in a Champion equipped Alfa Romeo. The entire course is a succession of climbs and turns, closely paralleling the Pikes Peak climb in the way it tests a motor car.

In the A. C. F. races at Tours, all events were won by six Champion-equipped Peugeot cars. Champion is regular factory equipment on Peugeot cars.

Studebaker long ago recognized the superiority of Champion spark plugs. That is why they have used them consistently for years as regular equipment. It is a further reason why every Studebaker dealer should be a Champion booster.
Yours very truly,
CHAMPION SPARK PLUG CO.

SHIP EXHIBIT TO BE FEATURE AT STATE FAIR

Maritime Display From Galveston Will Interest Plains Citizens.

DALLAS, Sept. 22.—Landlubbers from the broad prairies of north and west Texas will have a treat in the maritime exhibit at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 13-28, to be installed by the Galveston Commercial association.

The Galveston exhibit will be maritime in the fullest sense—pertaining entirely to the sea and tidewater transportation. The exhibit will be housed in the big Educational building, and occupies a commanding space that will attract the eyes of visitors the moment they enter the structure.

Unusual and of the highest educational value, the Galveston exhibit will include more than twenty miniature models of steamships, battleships, sailing vessels, schooners, etc. There will also be models of ship-side warehouses, grain elevators, dry docks and similar construction.

By special arrangement with the secretary of the navy the Galveston Commercial association has been able to secure the use of seventeen models from 16 inches to 9 feet in length, outlining the development of vessels of the United States navy from the time of the "Don Homme Richard," to the present day super-dreadnaught.

Invitations have been extended to schools in all towns within a radius of 200 miles of Dallas, urging that the children be permitted to see this interesting exhibit of the sea and those who go down to the sea in ships, and it is expected that thousands of youngsters will learn more of maritime matters on Children's Day, Friday, Oct. 19, than they would in months of book study. Invitations have also been extended to the foreign trade classes of various state universities, normals, etc.

The monetary value of the Galveston exhibit is no small consideration, as it runs considerably over $100,000.

Four Years Ago In Ranger

Taken from the files of the Ranger Daily Times, Sept. 22, and Sept. 23, 1919:

JAKEHAMON, Sept. 22.—Pioneers of Jakehamon who waited for dawn of the day set for the opening of the townsite on the Hamon-Kell railroad found the sale six hours old and the townsite map looking like a small pox patient in the second week.

By 8 a. m., $148,000 worth of lots were sold. When day broke the rush had shoved the total past the $200,000 mark.

Men who had followed the histories of other Hamon towns—Wilson Ringling and Healdton—were on the ground eager to follow the oil man, railroad man and town builder in another venture.

Already a bank is operating. It is the First Bank of Jakehamon, with building site at Sixth and "G" streets. Use of the city park property west of Ranger has been offered to the Ranger Athletic club for the erection of a ball park, through Secretary G. T. Hemmingson of the Chamber of Commerce.

OLDEN, Sept. 23.—A big brass band with 16 pieces has been organized here and first practice meeting will be held Tuesday night. The sixteen instruments, which were purchased last Friday at a cost of more than $1,500, are to be here today, according to Director Harper of the band, who is also in the drug business.

DESDEMONA MAN GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

More Grip on the Road! Buick Four-wheel Brakes

Buick four-wheel brakes give all 1924 Buick cars twice the amount of grip on the road, thereby doubling their braking efficiency. It is the friction or grip of the tire on the road surface that brakes or slows down the car.

Buick four-wheel brakes not only provide a greater power to stop in case of emergency but, because of this four-wheel road grip, reduce skidding dangers to a minimum.

In turning, Buick four-wheel brake construction automatically releases whichever is the outside or guiding front wheel so it is instantly responsive to the steering mechanism.

Buick four-wheel brake construction distributes braking friction over four drums and four wheels. This reduces wear on brake linings and tires, thereby assuring their longer life and greater efficiency with fewer adjustments.

Buick four-wheel brakes (on all models) together with countless other distinctive features of the 1924 cars further establish Buick as the Standard of Comparison.

ARMY SIGNAL CORPS ACCOMPLISHES UNUSUAL FEAT IN TELEGRAPHY

EL PASO, Sept. 22.—Members of the 13th signal troop of the first cavalry division, stationed at Fort Bliss, have accomplished an unusual undertaking. Telegraph lines four and one-half miles long were strung in the vicinity of Fort Bliss, and an instrument put in operation at each end. While the line was in use, 700 feet of the wire was cut from the middle without interfering with the sending or receiving of messages.

The experiment originated with the men of the troop. A report of the achievement has been forwarded in detail to the war department.

The unit that undertook successfully the experiment collects radio, telegraph, and telephone communications for headquarters of the first cavalry division and is composed of mounted and motorized departments.

Many radio experiments have been made. A standard radio set, issued by the signal corps, which has a transmission range of 165 miles, was raised to a radius of 225 miles by means of innovations perfected by men of the troop.

In the wire picture a method has been devised whereby Morse and Continental codes may be sent over the wire by a service buzzer and at the same time the line may be used for the transmission of telephone messages. Officers of the organization are authority for the foregoing statement. A line was attached to a railroad track and messages received over the rails for a distance of 25 miles.

SHRINERS OF AMERICA DEDICATE THEIR SERIOUS EFFORTS TO THE CARE OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN

View of the Famous Moslah Temple Mosque on Lake Worth Insert, H. T. Pangburn, Potentate

One of the most beautiful scenic spots in America is the site on which stands the famous mosque of the Moslah Shrine. Like a gigantic guard on a high bluff overlooking beautiful Lake Worth, this proud edifice rears its head to the skies as a signal to Shriners throughout the entire Southland to come to the Moslah playground and enjoy a day or other Shrine feature in the whole United States that affords as much real enjoyment to Shriners and their friends as the mosque at Lake Worth and the continued and rapid increase of its popularity shows that visitors are passing the word along of the royal entertainment afforded by nobles of the Moslah Shrine to Fort Worth visitors.

An Imposing Structure.
The mosque itself is a most imposing and beautiful structure, designed along semi-Arabic lines; massive, yet graceful in contour; commodious and luxurious in interior fittings and decorations it is truly "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." Ample sleeping and dining accommodations are afforded for 100 guests at a time. Large open air sleeping porches; cool cafe where good home-like service is given; a great homelike living room in which comfort is maintained; a large music room and a ball room in which the largest dance floor in the Southwest affords ample room for 1,000 couples are some of the features of this ideal Shriners' weekend retreat. To those who know the Moslah mosque the vacation problem possesses no difficulties; for a day, a week or a month may be most enjoyably spent among these delightful environs.

Recreation Features.
Fishing, bathing, boating, tennis-motoring, hiking and dancing are sports the mosque affords outdoor enthusiasts, while beautiful broad piazzas and great comfortable living room offer quiet and rest to those of more sedentary habits; but while popular idea exists and to a great extent justly so, that the Shrine is the playground of Masonry still those who have trekked across the burning sands and donned the emblematic fez wisely mix the serious problems of life with their fun, and while enjoying the many pleasures afforded by this branch of Masonry the Shriners are thinking of those unfortunates in the world whose outlook on life gives them little to hope for.

Care for Crippled Children.
One of the grandest philanthropic and humanitarian works ever attempted has been inaugurated by the Shriners throughout the jurisdiction in North America. This work consists of the caring for crippled children and it is to the great credit of the nobles of North America that such a splendid work has been undertaken. The plan has not only been inaugurated, but is well under way and already two of these hospitals have been completed and are performing their works of mercy. The results already accomplished and being accomplished in the two hospitals now in operation will furnish a foretaste of the tremendous benefits which are to flow from this movement when its dozen or more hospitals are in full operation and the trustees state that they believe results will surpass the most sanguine expectations of the most enthusiastic nobles as the benefit to the nation in the way of rescued wrecks of humanity converted into health producing instrumentalities, dawns upon the realization of those who see beyond the immediate effect upon the individual.

Hospitals are being allocated to points where the largest practical service can be rendered and the work of completion is being rushed with all possible speed.

Building Twelve Additions.
All told, 12 hospitals have been decided upon and the points at which these official Shrine hospitals for crippled children, which are being built and are to be supported through the assessment of every Shriner in North America at the rate of $2 per man; are to be located are: St. Louis, Montreal, Portland, San Francisco, Shreveport, Minneapolis, St. Paul (twin cities), Chicago, Rocky Mountain district, Virginia, Pennsylvania and the New England states, while one mobile unit is maintained which is now operating in Hawaii. Some of these hospitals are now under construction, some are yet to be started, but the Shreveport completed. The Twin Cities' hospital having been dedicated April 14, 1923, and up to May 1, 1923, reports that 35 boys and 28 girls have been received as hospital patients; 33 operations performed, 16 with casts and one a major operation. This hospital was completed at a cost of over $320,000. The Shreveport hospital at a cost of $295,000 was dedicated April 20, 1923, and up to this time there have been more than 300 patients examined and about 150 accepted for treatment while more than 60 have been discharged as cured or permanently improved.

It is such great works as these that endear the heart to the wonderful systems of fraternal organizations of the country and prove that "brotherly love" is still the rule that rules the world.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS BOWS TO MUSSOLINI'S DICTATES

By United Press
GENEVA, Sept. 21.—The victory of Premier Mussolini of Italy over the League of Nations was made complete today when the assembly approved the action of the council of ambassadors relative to the Greco-Italian dispute. It is understood that Italy had threatened to quit the league in the event of any unfavorable discussion on the question. Some opposition to the action was expressed, but was overruled, and so far as the league is concerned the question is now a closed incident.

TRIBE OF 6,000 WHITE NOMADS IN CENTRAL AFRICA TRACES ITS ORIGIN BACK FOR MANY AGES

By JOHN O'BRIEN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS (By mail to United Press).—While women in Turkey, the center of the world of Islam, are just beginning to give signs of independence, striving to win a place in the social structure above that of slavery, there exists in the remote Sahara, in the mountain fastness of the Hoggar, an Arab tribe in which the women have from time immemorial enjoyed privileges equal to those of their men folk.

Much fiction has been written about this tribe, called the Touareg, by romancers who have invented a "matriarchal" state, resuscitated Atlantis and told wondrous tales of the "White Queen," who lives forever and enslaves handsome foreign explorers, dooming them to death when her fancy wanes. But Professor Olufsen, secretary of the Danish Geographical society, who has just returned to Europe after conducting an expedition across the Sahara, has a different story.

Dr. Olufsen scouted the idea of the women of the Touareg ruling the tribe, but he confirmed the reports of a kind of civilization radically different from that of all other regions where the tenets of Mohammed, with subjugation of women as a vital clause, held sway.

In the Hoggar the women, who are very beautiful, enjoy absolute independence. The Touareg, by the way, are entirely white, with not a trace of negro blood. The women marry according to the dictates of their heart and their authority as mistress of the household, in this case a tent, is uncontested. The Touaregs have never accepted the Islamic ruling on polygamy. They are monogamic. They hold their women in profound respect. The women are not veiled. They are on perfect equality with the men.

Inscriptions discovered by the explorers and deciphered show that the Touareg civilization dates from ages ago, but the tribe has always been of the nomadic type and nothing was found to credit the legend that it once founded cities. The population consists of about 6,000 souls. The tribesmen are splendidly formed, artistic, much more vigorous and intelligent than the Khakyles and Berbers, who inhabit the surrounding territories. They devote themselves chiefly to marital exercises, leaving the labor of cultivating the fields and guarding the flocks to negro Huratins, who have been conquered and reduced to slavery.

Preventing Disease Is Only Safe Plan

Good Production Possible Only When Fowls Are Healthy and Contented.

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER
(Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence School, Scranton, Pa.)

The only profitable flock for any purpose is one that is lively and healthy. It may be useful to know how to cure fowls after they become sick, but it is far more important to prevent them from getting sick.

Under modern conditions, especially where fowls are kept in cramped quarters, there is no doubt that they have more ills than fowls did years ago when they roamed the fields almost wild. Farmers allowing chickens the free run of their farms usually have less trouble than poultrymen who are compelled to keep a large number on a small area.

Inbreeding, forcing, crowding, etc., have been responsible for many of these ills. But still, in spite of these difficulties, there are few that would be willing to go back to wild conditions, or to fowls that laid eggs in the late spring and early summer and often not more than 60 in a year.

Confined Fowls Need Care
When poultry are kept in confined quarters, the principles that underlie the methods of keeping them healthy and vigorous must be understood. Diseases are due to germs which develop and flourish when conditions are right. The only way to keep fowls healthy is to keep them away from a super-abundance of these disease germs. They may be able to throw off the effects of a few, but will usually succumb if the number of these germs gets too large.

As these germs breed and thrive in filth and dampness, cleanliness and dryness are the two main essentials to keeping fowls free from disease. Wherever dirt is present, germs are present also, and wherever things are damp, they have a good chance to develop.

Preventative measures should be constantly practiced and the houses and runways of chickens kept as clean and free from dampness as possible. The coop should be sprayed inside at least once a month with some good insecticide, such as creosote, diluted with two parts of kerosene, or some equally effective preparation. Sanitary measures of this kind alone are not sufficient. The poultryman should start with good healthy stock and should not admit any new fowl to the flock until it has been kept in quarantine for a sufficient length of time to determine whether or not it has any disease that can be given to the other chickens.

Remove Diseased Chickens
If any fowls develop diseases they should immediately be removed from the balance of the flock and treated and should not be returned until all traces of the trouble have passed. Fowls that are badly infected should be killed and buried or burned. Close confinement in small houses with insufficient ventilation is very favorable to disease. Lack of ventilation means an accumulation of dampness. For this reason the house should be light and should have as much sunshine as possible.

Houses and coops should be cleaned and disinfected to keep them free from red mites and lice, both of which are serious enemies of fowls. The signs of these vermin should be waited for. The houses should be systematically disinfected to forestall troubles.

Care must also be taken in feeding. Nothing but the finest and soundest foodstuffs should be used. Musty and mouldy grain will make fowls ill. This may even make them so sick that they will never regain their health again. One great preventative of disease is found in the use of epsom salts given about once in two weeks during the hot months and about twice a month during the remainder of the year. This may be administered in a number of ways, but a common way is to dissolve it in water and make a wet mash with the water, feeding this preferably in the morning. The salts should be given in a proportion of about one teaspoonful to three fowls.

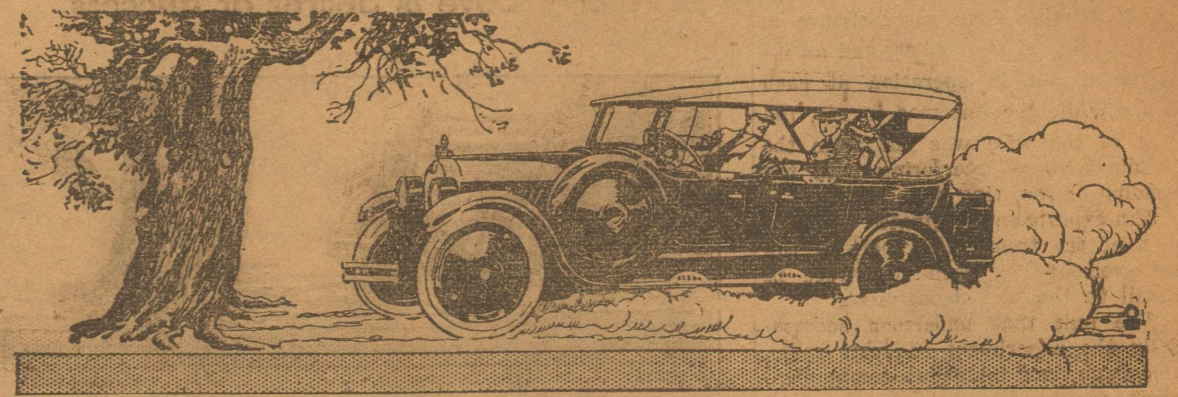

At the first sign of any epidemic present in a flock, permanganate potash added to the drinking water in sufficient quantity to turn it a good red should be used. This will ordinarily be as much as can be spread on a ten-cent piece to a gallon of water.

PARENTS TO BLAME WHEN THEIR CHILDREN GO WRONG

LAMPASAS, Texas, Sept. 19.—Blame for a great deal of the immorality now prevalent should be laid at the door of parents of wayward children, the Lampasas county grand jury declared in its final report.

"The grand jury can investigate and report on law violations, but it cannot heal broken hearts and injured loves," the report stated.

"We earnestly urge the parents to keep in touch with the whereabouts of their children and in this way they will not be led into temptation."
