WEST TEXAS GATHERED IN CONVENTION

REPUBLICANS PRESENT VERY SORRY FIGURE

Majority in Congress Does Little and President Fails to Mend Matters.

By WALLACE BASSFORD, WASHINGTON, May 13.—This republican congress is going into its sixth month of unlimited forensic oratory, the voluminous copies of the Congressional Record have used up approximately 10,000 acres of pulpwood for the manufacture of paper alone, while scores of extra printers edge-up the type every night at the big government printing office, yet no legislation has reached the president which has met with his approval excepting the little bill allowing the franking privilege to the widow of President Wilson. Two large bills have reached him; one of these, the Bursum bill, providing additional relief for soldiers and widows of the Spanish and other wars, has been vetoed, and as this is written there is every prospect that the soldiers' bonus bill will share the same fate.

In nothing has the president shown so clearly how deep and absolute is the influence which the great New York financial district has at the white house. Among the general run of taxpayers all over the country there exists the feeling that the bonus bill would make it more difficult to secure occasional reductions in taxes, which would be desired, but the average man is willing to contribute a little more for such a cause. Not so, however, in Wall Street. There is among the big financial houses a deep-seated and violent opposition to the bonus in any form. Practically all the letters which members receive in opposition come from the great Wall street district of New York, and in many cases contain open threats at the political life of any man who dares vote for the soldiers' relief.

The fact that the present bonus bill is merely a life insurance measure with the burden distributed over many years has not in the least abated their fury. Nothing could be more certain than that the president's approval of the bill would mean no campaign contributions from the group which regularly finances the republican organization. It looks now like the president, caught between the horns of the dilemma of losing the big campaign fund this summer or losing a big soldier vote next November, will choose the lesser of two evils. To sign the bill would mean absolutely no sinews of war; to veto it means to win the approval of Big Business and have a plenary campaign chest, with which thousands of spellbinders can be employed at good salary to go about and whip and wheedle into line the aggrieved voters. It was Omar Kayyam who advised us "to take the cash and let the credit go." This seems to be the view of the republican big wigs.

Tax Reduction May Fail.

Five Entombed Men Get Food, Water and Air Through Tube

GILMAN, Colo., May 13.—A sunken tube, 90 feet long, today carried food, water and air to five men entombed by a cave-in at the 1900-foot level of the Empire Zinc company's black iron mine here. Tons of solid rock and debris are between the men and their liberty. Rescue crews contrived the food and air conduit after a second avalanche of stone and earth and effectively blocked entrance to the chamber.

PREPAREDNESS FOR THE NEXT WAR THE MOST EXTENSIVE EVER MADE BY THE UNITED STATES

Secretary Weeks Outlines Plan as Greatest Bulwark Against Conflict; Test Mobilization Probably Will be Made Next September.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Next time the United States is forced into a war, it will find its industrial and civilian population organized to make the conflict shorter, more humane and less of a drain on the economic structure of the country. How this is to be done is explained in a most interesting article written by the Hon. John W. Weeks, secretary of war, in the current issue of American Industries, the magazine of the National Association of Manufacturers.

The war department is now completing comprehensive plans devised to prevent a repetition of the costly experiences of the World war, in men and money, and a national test mobilization of all the co-ordinated agencies will probably be made under the auspices of the war department next September.

In his article, Secretary Weeks holds that populations being equal, the greatest military power lies with the country most thoroughly organized industrially. "War," he says, "can say to industry 'You made me what I am today.'"

The taking of testimony in the case of the State of Texas vs. Dave Stevens of Cisco, who is charged with a statutory offense, was begun this morning at 8:30 o'clock and concluded at 11. Arguments before the jury were begun at 2 o'clock. All day yesterday was consumed in getting a jury and disposing of the preliminaries in the case.

RAILWAY MEN'S RESERVE

"In the World war railroad men were taken for all kinds of soldiers and in great numbers at a time, as well as for the particular jobs for which they were best qualified. A plan for the railway reserve regiments needed in the event of a major emergency has been worked out by a prominent railroad officer who served in France. These regiments are being organized according to railroad systems, that is the Pennsylvania will officer and man one of the Central another, and the Southern Pacific another. This means an equitable distribution among all railroads and advance provision for each for their loss. Other similar solutions will undoubtedly follow.

T. & P. RAILROAD IS SUED FOR $2,250 DAMAGES

Suit for damages in the sum of $2,250 was filed this morning against the Texas & Pacific railroad company by George H. Boone of Tarrant county. Boone alleges in substance that in October of last year he was driving an automobile across the defendant's tracks at a regular crossing in the city of Weatherford and while doing so was struck by one of the defendant's trains, damaging his car to the amount of $750 and causing permanent injuries to himself for which he is asking $500.

GROCCERS WILL OPPOSE PUSSY FOOT PACKERS

Wholesale Dealers Declare "Big Five" Trying to Control Food Distribution.

DALLAS, May 13.—Wholesale grocers opened their national convention here today by declaring war on the packing industry, which they claim is seeking to control the distribution of food products.

J. H. McLaurin, president of the American Grocers association, in his opening address to the 2,500 delegates, charged that the five big packers were moving to destroy the "business of the wholesale grocers by controlling the distribution of food products."

"Your association has decided to wage a determined fight on such a movement and will fight it through to the end," he declared.

McLaurin also outlined the legislative program for the wholesalers. This included further demand for immediate revision of the tax laws, reduction of the income tax, the removal of the so-called "nuisance" taxes, and making the burden of taxation generally more equitable.

PRESIDENT IS SUSTAINED IN VETO OF BILL

Democratic Senators in Senate Prove His Friend in Killing Bursum Measure.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—President Coolidge today won the first skirmish in his fight to prevent congress from appropriating money "outside the budget." The senate by the narrow margin of one vote sustained Mr. Coolidge in his veto of the Bursum pension increase bill.

The vote was 53 in favor of overriding the veto and 28 in favor of sustaining it. As 81 senators voted, it would have required 54 votes to nullify the veto. Today's action kills the bill definitely.

Mr. Coolidge's stand against the appropriation which he said was one of "those measures that threatened to convert the treasury surplus into a deficit and make tax reduction impossible," was sustained with the aid of democratic senators. Of the 28 votes sustaining Mr. Coolidge, 16 were democrats and 12 were republicans.

SEVEN BOLD OHIO BANDITS ROB TWO BANK MESSAGERS

Poincare Announces He Will Resign His Office June First

PARIS, May 13.—Premier Poincare today decided to cancel his proposed conference with Premier MacDonald in London. The guidance of France's foreign policy will be assumed by his successor, a leader of the left, who will have a more moderate attitude towards the reparations settlement. Poincare and his cabinet will resign definitely June 1, it is stated.

On leaving the Elysee, after a conference this morning with President Millerand, Poincare said: "We have announced to President Millerand our resignations, effective June 1. After that we will carry on until the formation of a new government. I do not think I will go to England under these conditions."

THE GERMAN ELECTIONS. The result of the election in Germany indicates a decided drift toward socialism at one end and nationalism at the other with the balance of power in doubt.

Widely different political directives were clashing, the "fulfillment" policy of the present government, as dictated by dire necessity, and the "pay nothing" cry of the nationalists.

Whether the result of the election insures acceptance of the Dawes reparations report is still in doubt, depending largely on political combinations that may be effected.

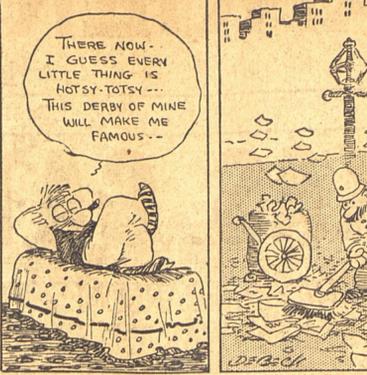

OLD THEORIES UPSET. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat has recently completed an interesting house-to-house survey of 110,000 homes in and around St. Louis, covering several questions as to the type of news demanded, the results of advertising and the effect among automobile owners.

The great and increasing popularity of the motion picture, evening entertainments, and the automobile has come as a natural phase of social progress, but it has demonstrated that the average family now takes less time than ever for evening reading.

AUTO CLAIMS 45 LIVES PER DAY The national bureau of casualty and survey underwriters in its recent analysis of the past year's accidents says that approximately 15,700 lives were lost in motor vehicle accidents, exclusive of grade crossing collisions, throughout the United States in 1923, representing an increase of nearly 2,000 over 1922.

DYNAMOS PLAY RANGER NITROS NEXT SATURDAY

Teams Also Matched for Sunday. Both Games at Ranger; Breck Playing Strong.

Breckenridge Dynamos will play the Ranger Nitros at Ranger next Saturday and Sunday. The Dynamos are now reported to be playing better ball than ever.

The groundsman for the Stars pitched a good game of ball, allowing only a half dozen safe blows and struck out eight men, three of them in the seventh; but his teammates lost the game, as four errors were chalked up against them.

Blankenship got in a hole in the eighth when two errors, one single and a wild pitch allowed two men to cross the home plate placing the visitors in the lead by a single run.

Ruth doubled to deep center field, an error by Hellman, McCasland hit by Sealy, home base stolen by Ruth, and a single by Shaw, who was hitting for Schmidt, produced two more runs, winning the game in the ninth with only one man out. Saturday's thriller was also won by the home club in the ninth. O'Keefe, "Spark Plug," led the home club in hits for the afternoon getting a triple to center field in the first inning and a double to left field in the sixth and was credited with four times at bat. Ruth, Pittman and Sisk also obtained doubles.

Greb-Delaney Bout Expected To Be Battle

NEW YORK, May 13.—When Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, meets Jack Delaney, the slim Bridgeport challenger, at the Yankee stadium in June, many of the experts believe the title holder will be in for the warmest time of his career. Some think he will be stopped. Greb has been scheduled for the warmest time in his career so many times that he should have been burnt to a crisp by this time, if there were good reasons for believing that he had have a hot time of it.

The champion is, without a doubt, one of the most individual types that has ever held a title. With the possible exception of Johnny Dundee, the greatest freak of the ring, Greb has fought more, and in more classes, than any fighter of the present day.

He has been given little credit for a record that is really remarkable. The critics say that he can't hit, that he is a slapper, that he doesn't know how to box, that he has to use rough tactics and that he hasn't a single attribute of a ring fighter. In spite of this, Greb goes out and beats any fighter that he really wants to beat. He was the light heavyweight champion twice, and he lost the title twice to Gene Tunney on two peculiar decisions. He then turned around and won the middleweight championship, and announced, with all sincerity, that he was willing to fight Dempsey.

It is told about ring circles that Greb once made Jack Dempsey look not so good when he boxed him several years ago while Dempsey was in training for the Brennan fight, and it is more or less known that Dempsey declined to accept the services of Greb when the Pittsburgh volunteer offered to help him get in shape for Carpenter.

Eastland Golfers Win Match Contest From Mineral Wells

Mineral Wells and Eastland golf players played the third match of the Oil Belt Golf association on the Eastland golf links Sunday afternoon at 1:30, with the following results: Guinn of Mineral Wells was defeated by Nicholson of Eastland 1 up on the nineteenth hole. Dr. Crutcher of Mineral Wells defeated Carl Angstadt of Eastland, 7 to 5. Whitley of Mineral Wells was defeated by Baughan of Eastland, 8 to 6. Belcher of Mineral Wells lost to Weaver of Eastland, 4 to 3. Sweatt of Mineral Wells defeated Moore of Eastland, 1 up. Dr. Singleton was defeated by Hrdlicka, 3 to 2. Bragg of Mineral Wells was defeated by Swanson of Eastland, 5 to 4. Hubbard was defeated by Reynolds, 4 to 3. Total score, Mineral Wells 2, Eastland 6.

The feature of the contest for the afternoon was the match between Guinn and Nicholson, both left-handed players. It being necessary to play an extra hole in order to determine the winner.

The Eastland club will go to Weatherford May 25 to play the club there. The officials of the local club are very anxious that the players begin now practicing for the match and that at least 30 of them attend the Weatherford match.

EASTLAND COUNTY POULTRY BREEDERS MEET IN RISING STAR

The board of directors of the Eastland County Poultry association met at Rising Star last Saturday, decided to change the date of the barbecue to July 12, to be held at Eastland. It was also decided to invite the Stephens County Poultry association to join with the Eastland County Poultry association in this barbecue.

If this invitation is accepted, a joint meeting of the two boards of directors will be held June 14, either at Cisco or Breckenridge, to discuss plans and program for the barbecue. Every effort will be made for a big attendance and a big time on that date. Messrs. Dudley, Poe and Johnson were appointed as a committee on program for the barbecue, with a similar committee to be appointed by the Stephens county association.

The board of directors urged poultry shows in every town in Eastland county previous to the county meet, which will be held early in December. Messrs. Bush, Richardson and Briggs were appointed to co-operate with the various organizations in the county for that purpose. The board also adopted a plan to make the shows more educational than heretofore and a score card will be adopted which will give the poultrymen some idea as to the show value of their poultry exhibits.

STREET CAR TICKETS TELL STORY OF MANY YEARS OF TRAFFIC

BERLIN (By mail to United Press).—With a collection of 13,000 different tickets of street cars, motor and horse-buses from all countries, a Berlin doctor boasts of having the best set of these rarities in the world. His collection, comprising eight albums, gives the most impressive picture imaginable of world street traffic.

This multitude of tickets is unique in its variety of colors, shape and size. The gayest colors are represented by those from Latin countries, and leading are those of Italian street cars, which are at least bi-colored. The duller colored tickets are those of the Berlin street cars and buses.

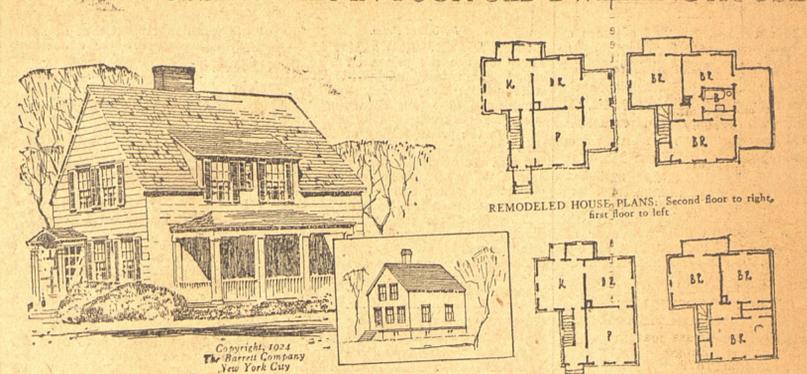

The sizes are inclined to vary with the value of the country's money. Thus, the German and the Polish tickets, issued during the time of inflation, are almost gigantic compared to their earlier counterparts.

In shape, every imaginable variety is represented. The majority are of oblong shape, but there are also round, square, hexagonal and octagonal shapes. The British have clung to the oblong shape throughout the decades of street car and bus traffic.

Political tales are told by the collection. The Warsaw street car tickets from before the war bear print in Russian and Polish. During the war and the German occupation this was replaced by German and Polish, until it finally was replaced by Polish only after the war.

The collection covers a period of more than 70 years; that is to say, the entire period of organized street car traffic. It took the collector 25 years to bring together his eight albums and it is his greatest grief that he cannot also give a comprehensive picture of American tickets in his show, since over there, he says, you just pay your nickel and get nothing out of it.

HAVE YOU DISCOVERED THE ARCHITECTURAL POSSIBILITIES IN YOUR OLD DWELLING HOUSE?

Many a plain, uninteresting old house, apparently not even worth a second glance, has the makings of an artistic and attractive home. More and more, people are beginning to see the possibilities hidden in the stiff and uncompromising lines of these old dwellings. The amazing part of it all is how much a few well planned little changes will accomplish. As an example, take the plain little cottage in the smaller illustration accompanying his article. It is hard to imagine a less promising interior. Yet there are possibilities in its very simplicity—in its honest, four-square construction. As a matter of fact, there is no better starting point for improvements than one of these unpretentious, straight-forward looking old cottages.

Note the transformation effected by a few alterations as shown by the larger picture. A long dormer at the right side of the house increases the usefulness of the two main bedrooms and provides space for a bathroom. A small entrance porch and a sitting porch opening from the living room and dining room add comfort to the first floor. Here is a house the value of which has been greatly increased.

A very timely book on the ways and means of remodeling old houses has recently been published. A staff of leading architects has selected six types of old houses, which represents the dwelling built most generally in the past 50 years. For each of these types, a series of alterations is outlined and explained. The costs of the suggested changes range from two hundred dollars up. These books can be secured through building supply, lumber and hardware merchants. For further information, write the editor of our building page.

LONDON, May 13.—What is home without a cellar. And what, indeed, is a model British cellar without its barleycorn department! That was the line of reasoning which caused the tiny Queen's Doll House at the Membley exposition grounds to be fitted up with cellars containing miniature cases of champagne, whisky, and other wet goods. But the designers reckoned without their prohibitionist competitors, and now the dregs are attacking the whole idea of having the midgeat dwelling as a model of what Britons "with a taste and means" live in nowadays.

"For this sad reason," say the anti-wetgets, "it cannot be regarded as a model home for self respecting dolls." The prospective "inhabitants" of the ideal home cannot be consulted, as they are not the talking variety of dolls. And it is understood no alterations are to be made without their consent.

FAMOUS CARTOONIST EVOLVES ELECTRIC LIGHTING FIXTURE Rube Goldberg, the comic cartoonist, has designed a novel electric lighting fixture for his own library. Into the fixture have been introduced all of the nationally famous Goldbergian figures. There is Boob McNutt, Steve himself—"Mike and Ico, who look alike"—and many others all busy playing some sort of instrument. From cello, piano and French horn issue sockets and incandescent lamps.

This chandelier is suspended from the ceiling and looks like a combination of Paul Whiteman's orchestra in a merry go around setting. It is made of wrought iron and bronze and is said to be a constant source of amusement and pride to its designer and his two small sons.

MAN WITH TWO BULLET WOUNDS IN HEAD LIVES

SAN ANTONIO, May 13.—After having lain on his bed in a local hotel all night with two bullet wounds in his head, a man with letters in his pockets addressed to W. R. Craig and Hugh Craig, was found this morning still living. Several guests at the hotel heard a shot Monday night about 9:30 and again about 11:30, but when a knock at the door of the wounded man's room brought the response, "What do you want?" it was assumed the shots were not fired there.

Letters found in the room from Galveston were signed "Your sister Nellie." The man was still alive at noon today, but unconscious.

SIX PRISONERS IN OKLAHOMA JAIL ESCAPE THREE ARE RETAKEN

MALESTER, Okla., May 13.—Three of the six prisoners who escaped from the brickyard of the state penitentiary today had been recaptured at noon, according to a meagre report received by the warden from the posse telling of the capture of three men, two of them in for life and the other for five years. The names were not given. Authorities expect the other three fugitives will be arrested in a few hours.

The prisoners broke for liberty shortly after they had been marched into the workings. They escaped by crawling down a ravine that extends across the prison yard and running across a wheat field.

PREPAREDNESS FOR NEXT WAR MOST EXTENSIVE EVER MADE BY U. S.

plans are rapidly becoming not those of the war department, but of all industries through the war department for the protection of their country by their co-ordinated and organized might.

Each Step Anticipated

"The organization and mobilization plans prepared by the general staff give the number and kind of soldiers—infantry, cavalry, artillery, air service, engineers, etc., that will be called to the colors each month. From this fifty officers have evolved as the result of a year's work what supplies and munitions will be needed at the outbreak of hostilities, and at intervals thereafter. In all, more than 30,000 articles, divided into more than 700,000 parts must be supplied in varying amounts at varying times. If this survey had existed, our entrance into the World War, millions of dollars would have been saved directly and indirectly.

The problem is not solved by saying to a factory that it is to produce such an article in such amounts.

Transportation, labor, fuel, and power are involved. It is important to know the source of raw materials, to find out if they are available in sufficient quantities in this country where they can be procured if they are not, what steps should be taken to obtain them, and what steps should be taken to obtain them. This explains the war department's interest and support of the dye and nitrate industries. One reason for fortifying the Panama Canal is because it is the key of the shortest and most direct route from the Chile nitrate fields to American industrial centers. It explains the war department's interest in sheep, for every soldier needs 60 yards of wool, and in cattle, for soldiers wear shoes and eat meat.

Country Districted.

"For procurement purposes the United States has been divided into 14 districts, just as it has been divided into nine corps areas according to military population for manpower mobilization. The headquarters of these districts are: Boston, Bridgeport, New York, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Birmingham, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco. Prominent business men are acting as chiefs and are familiar with the capabilities and limitations of each territory. Regular army officers are assigned to each headquarters to survey the manufacturing facilities, study local and individual problems and work out other details for obtaining increased production when necessary.

"Each supply branch has indicated to these district chiefs its estimated needs. In some cases these have been distributed. As a result of this activity, six thousand plants have been allocated. Most of them have been approached and know what they will be expected to manufacture in event of war.

"The final goal is that on receipt of a telegram from the war department, each manufacturer will step to his safe, take out his contract, plans specifications, schedules, and begin production.

"In the event that the necessary reserves are secured and our mobilization plans for man-power and in industry fulfill expectations, our country will be able to wage war with the maximum results and the minimum losses in lives, money and disturbances. Other countries, knowing this, will avoid rather than sell war with us.

"The business men of America can perform a far-reaching and patriotic service if they grasp the opportunity offered by this position to promulgate the doctrine of preparedness."

ELECTRIC CLEANER CHANGES COLOR OF MISSOURI MULE

A new use for the electric cleaner was discovered on Governors Island polo field the other day when a Missouri mule, greyish black one moment with the accurate dust, one minute later in his natural shade of buff.

The electric cleaner was the cause of this sudden and pleasant transformation and was accomplished by Sergeant Atkinson of the service company, Sixteenth infantry, U. S. A., as a part of the work of transporting every day the material for the refurbishing of automobiles, electric trucks, motorcycles, escort wagons, field kitchens, horses, police dogs, carrier pigeons and mules.

The mule kicked off twice while the nozzle of the cleaner was whirling and gurgling through his coat. But Sergeant Atkinson said it was all he had time to do. By the time he was taking his stance for a third lunge the sergeant's helper was carrying away the cleaner with its dust bag full to the bursting point.

It is rumored about that the cleaner is a very welcome implement in the handling of mules because one can stand at a safe distance while the work is in process.

BRITISH PLAN WIRELESS CONNECTION WITH ARCTIC LONDON

(By mail to United Press).—Nine thousand feet of wire have been used in making a "wireless" aerial 100 feet long, with which a British inventor hopes shortly to get into two-way communication with icebound regions of the Arctic. The apparatus has been installed on a Fleetwood trawler bound for Iceland. An attempt will be made from that point to communicate with the crew of the expeditionary steamer Bowdoin, which has been frozen off the Greenland coast since last fall. Preliminary tests will be made, however, from Aberdeen while the trawler is en route. It is said that the Aberdeen broadcasting station's programs occasionally are heard by the Bowdoin's crew.

Ernest Makinson, a Preston gold-thread manufacturer, is the inventor of the new aerial and claims it improves radio reception 50 per cent. It consists of 84 strands of delicate spiralled wire spun into a single thread not more than a quarter of an inch thick. Its length was restricted to 100 feet because no lengthier receiving aerial is allowed under the present British postoffice regulations.

Texas Eleventh In Wealth Among U. S. Commonwealths

Texas ranks eleventh among the 48 states in the matter of wealth, according to the Liberty Central Trust company, in an analysis of data recently made public by the United States census bureau, covering the year 1923.

New York leads in total wealth, as well in the value of real property, motor vehicles and street railways, canals and waterworks. Pennsylvania ranks first in the value of manufacturing machinery, and railroads and railroad equipment. Iowa leads in live stock and farm implements. Texas is shown to rank second in the value of live stock, seventh in farm implements and motor vehicles, eighth in real property, and railroad equipment, tenth in street railways, canals and waterways, and seventeenth in manufacturing machinery. The figures give evidence of the state's high standing in both agriculture and manufacturing.

The total wealth in the United States increased 72.2 per cent between 1912 and 1922; Texas' gain was 54.4 per cent. Fourteen states, scattered over various sections of the country, showed increases of 100 per cent or more. Arizona shows the highest rate of gain, 188 per cent; next come Wyoming, North Carolina, Idaho, Florida, Tennessee and Connecticut.

The gain in wealth per capita was 48.6 per cent for the United States, and 28.9 per cent for Texas. The per capita wealth is $2,610, compared with 2,918 for the whole country. In this respect, Nevada leads, followed by Wyoming, South Dakota, Iowa, Oregon and California. Connecticut and New Jersey have the greatest wealth per unit of population among the eastern states, ranking tenth and twelfth respectively.

COUNTERFEITERS IN RUSSIA USUALLY PUT TO DEATH

MOSCOW.—Counterfeiting is on the increase in Russia, in spite of the fact that most counterfeiters captured are being sentenced to death and executed.

One band was recently arrested near Odessa, where it had operated for seven years. They had counterfeited every currency known in that section. The band had a complete staff, painters, artists, chemical experts and printers. When new money was issued, the band was able to bring out counterfeit currency almost the same day. Seven of the band was sentenced to death, of whom three have already been executed.

Another group operated at Shitomir. The leader of the gang was the financial manager of the committee of public supplies. The gang specialized in the manufacture of dollars and chervonets, which were exported exclusively into Poland. All have been arrested.
