Twice Yearly Bugaboo; Time Change To Strike Again

That twice yearly bugaboo officially known as a time change strikes again this Sunday when most of the United States converts to Daylight Savings Time.

Remember back in October when you set your clocks back one hour and tried to attune your body to living on Standard Time once again after having been on Daylight Time for five months?

Well, you're in for another adjustment starting this Sunday when you look out the window and see the sun riding high in the sky and notice that it's already 7 p.m.

Officially the time change goes into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 24, but to be on the safe side and to assure you get to the church on time, it's a good idea to move the clock forward one hour before retiring for the night Saturday.

A good way to remember which way the clocks should be set is the old idiom: spring forward, fall backward. Or just remind yourself that starting Sunday, things are going to be happening an hour earlier whether or not you've changed your clock!

Last week a Congressman from Massachusetts called the Administration on the carpet for what he perceived as a violation of the law. His beef was that the Administration was engaging in covert activities designed to overthrow the government of Nicaragua. The President denied that such was the case, but added that that law was certainly an ill-advised piece of Congressional legislation.

We heartily agree with the President that Congress was off base when it passed legislation that works against the welfare of this country. Sometimes we wonder if many of our representatives are not more sympathetic to the aims of Red Russia than the long term good of this country.

We wrote on this theme only several weeks ago, about the threat to the United States from a Communist Central America. We believe that this threat is both real and imminent. We do not think that it will develop tomorrow, but our thinking is in the area of less than ten more years.

One reason that we are looking at this time frame is the explosive situation in Mexico. This country has more than doubled in population in the 35 years since WWII. It is now a teeming nation of over 76 million people and growing at an alarming rate today. We, in this country, are reaping the problems caused by this unbridled population expansion.

The United States is being inundated by illegal aliens flooding across our southern border. Due to the liberal policies of the government, we are unable to take effective steps to protect ourselves from this illegal flood.

We have almost several thousand miles of open and undefended border. It is the "soft underbelly" of the United States. It could well turn out to be our Achilles heel if we do not do something radical and rapidly about the situation.

Instead of keeping an army in Europe to guard against a Russian invasion of that continent, we suggest that we use this army to guard against an invasion from the south by Russian surrogates some time in the future.

We do not believe that Russia will ever wage all out war with the United States unless we let our defenses get so weak that beating us would be a lead pipe cinch. Rather, as Lenin pointed out, we will fall to their system of government like an overripe plum.

Any comprehension of political thought in the United States leads to the dismal conclusion that we are going down the Russian primrose path, being piped along the way by an orchestra of TV commentators, liberal politicians, and fatted clergy.

The Russian strategy will be to eschew actual war with us but encourage and abet an invasion from the south by millions and millions of poor, destitute, illiterate refugees while letting our home grown politicians pass social legislation making the people dependent upon the government for everything.

Then they will have us, and not fired a shot nor destroyed a factory nor damaged an acre of crop land. We will be defeated in the mind and in the spirit. That's all it takes.

Business is looking up in the Twin Cities. Farwell has had one major business open up on Main Street, and now a manufacturing plant will begin production in town next week.

This opens the possibility of even more business expansion. Retail businesses will increase as the population grows, and population will increase as employment opportunities increase in the area.

The only limiting factor to a surge in people in both Texico and Farwell is the lack of adequate housing. Everyone in the Twin Cities has a direct

Farwell Development Corp. Tells Progress

Monday night, the officers and members of the Farwell Development Corporation met at Luce's restaurant to report on the efforts being made to improve the City of Farwell.

A large turnout of 34 members heard reports given by the Resources and Industry Committee, the Main Street Beautification Committee, and the Projects and Priorities Committee.

Maxine Williams, chairman of the Projects and Priorities Committee, reported that the upcoming Clean Up-Fix-Up Week was first on the committee's agenda. Mrs. Williams also listed the acquisition of a community building as next on the list. She also said that some form of housing development or subdivision was needed. The Committee also suggested that paving and guttering of all streets in town be studied.

Prentice Mills, chairman of the Resources and Industry Committee, reported that committee members had contacted several government agencies and discovered that numerous grants would be available for selected civic needs and improvements.

Joe Jones, chairman of the Main Street Beautification Committee, reported that the State of Texas has a program of this nature and that he expected a representative from Austin to be in the area soon to look at the city's needs and plans for improving the main street.

Don Williams, chairman of the Farwell Development Corporation, reported that the Parmer County Commissioners Court was forming the Parmer County Industrial Development Commission, and that the Commission would have the power to issue tax exempt revenue bonds for development purposes. These bonds would not, however, obligate any taxing entity, but would only be of use in obtaining a lower rate of interest from lending agencies.

Frances Kube, chairman of the West District, reported that her committee was in favor of instituting the Neighborhood Watch program in Farwell. Such a program in other towns has significantly reduced theft and vandalism where it has been properly carried out, she said. The Development Corporation voted to purchase house decals and roadside signs to identify the city as a Neighborhood Watch program community.

Saturday, April 30, has been designated as Clean Up the Trash Day, and the City dump will be open to receive trash free of charge. Anybody wishing to donate the use of a pickup for that day may get in touch with Neil Stewart at Farwell Hardware, and he will notify the proper block captain for the job.

It was reported that Lunsford Wrecking Yard would haul off junk cars free of charge, and if the car had a motor in it they would pay something for it as well as haul free. Anybody who wants an old junk car removed from their premises can call Lunsford's Auto Parts and make arrangements.

The churches in town have refurbished their signs and they issued a challenge to all businesses to upgrade their business signs.

As a final order of business, Chairman Don Williams appointed Tom Nichols, Charles Aycock, R.W. Anderson, and himself as a committee to investigate ways and means of obtaining the old bowling alley building as a community center.

Those persons present at the meeting were Don Williams, Maxine Williams, Joe Jones, Tom Nichols, Jerry Monk, Ralph Franse, Jim Coleman, Joe Hughes, James and Velma McDorman, Laura Jacobs, Joyce Coffman, Lennie Engram, Willie and Lorene Dannheim;

Also, J.B. Sudderth, Bob Anderson, Martin and Frances Kube, Ralph Gates, Pat Riley, Prentice Mills, Claude and Hattie Coffey, LaMoin Williams, Seth Ralston, Neil Stewart, Frank Ancira, Terry Travis, Charles and Margaret Aycock, Mazie Benefiel, and John Getz.

New Window Company In Farwell

Richard Guy and his wife, Georgia, are the owners of General Window Company, a new business in Farwell. The company opened in the old State Line Food Mill building on Avenue A in Farwell in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy came to Farwell from Orlando, Fla., by the way of Clovis. Guy has been in the sales business for some time, learning the trade from his father and working in the window construction trade for several years.

He attended Draughn's Business College for some time, studying accounting and other aspects of business. Mrs. Guy says she is practically at home in Farwell, having been reared in the Causey, N.M., area, but her husband is originally from Kentucky.

The couple has completely remodeled the old grocery building, using the west half for offices and the construction business. The west end has been divided into a front area, main office, a private office, and an employee's area. The back of the building houses the actual window construction facilities.

In the east side of the building, the Guys, along with their two children, Toni 13, and Ronald 12, have made a three-bedroom home. The living quarters are still under construction, but will include a basement recreation area, and eventually a second story, according to Mrs. Guy.

Among the future plans for the business, Guy intends to build a warehouse section adjoining the west side of the building, and extending it behind the old building.

Guy plans to join the Rotary Club and get involved with a few of the other area civic organizations.

A New Look

The General Window Company, a new business for Farwell, has remodeled the front of the old Porter grocery building on Main Street. The Main Street Beautification Committee expressed pleasure over this improvement on Ave.

A [Main Street] in town and asks other businesses to help improve Farwell's face to the traveling public.

Maurer New Pastor At Calvary Baptist

Rev. Mike Maurer is the new pastor of the Calvary Missionary Baptist Church of Farwell.

Rev. Maurer came to Farwell for the first time last year to preach in view at the Calvary church, then returned on February 27 of this year, for the second time to preach in view of the call at the church, and accepted the position in his first pastorate on that day.

He and his family moved into the parsonage on March 3. Included in his family are wife, Glenda, and four children, Gayla 12, Tammy 10, Michael 7, and Jennifer 5.

Rev. Maurer was born in Idaho in 1949, but was reared in Oregon. After graduation from high school, he joined the United States Navy in 1968, where he served as a bosun's mate on a ship until 1972, spending 18 months in Vietnam.

While in the Navy, he met his wife, and they were married at Virginia Beach in 1971.

After leaving the service, the couple spent three years in Artesia where Glenda was reared. Maurer worked in construction during that time, entering the seminary at Arlington Baptist College in 1975.

Before graduating from the seminary in 1979, he preached in a nursing home and filled other positions within the church.

Following graduation, the couple returned to Artesia where he worked in the carpet cleaning business as well as serving in approximately seven different churches in several capacities, including that of bus captain, pastor of the junior church, and working with a group that set up and built new churches.

When he took the pastorate in Farwell the membership of the church was three, and it has now increased to nine members.

"I have a personal goal of 75 members in the first year," says Rev. Maurer.

"The first time I preached in view of call here, I felt very drawn, but I knew the Lord would have me here because I am a country boy at heart and from the time I surrendered to preach, the Lord has given me a small community. I have a real desire to serve the community and I am looking forward to many happy years of service here," says Rev. Maurer.

He is in the process of planning a three-day revival for his church to be scheduled for sometime next month.

"We want to be known as the loveliest church in the country," explains Rev. Maurer.

ly attending ENMU and competed in track in high school and college.

This was her 11th race in the past three years, and she has won something in each race. Included in her wins are several first and second places in the age group divisions, according to Mrs. Jones, and one fourth place for a race with no age group divisions.

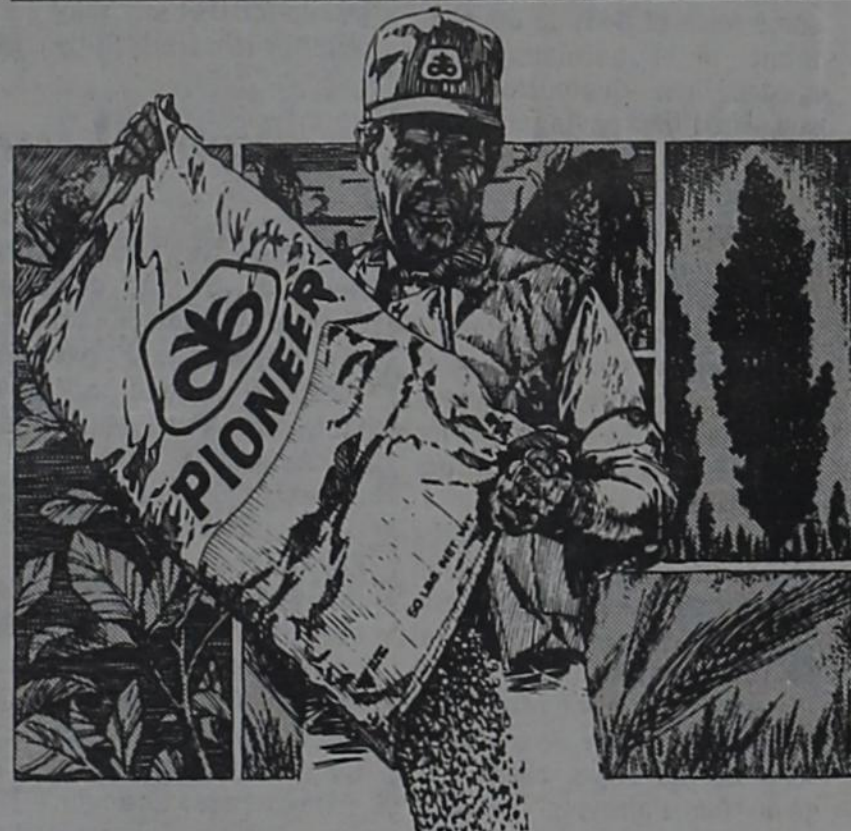

Among other local residents running in the race on Saturday were Manuel Ortiz and Johnnie Rucker of Texico, Everado Arce, David Kube, and Don Holladay, all of Farwell.

Prevention Of Wind Erosion A "Must"

by Henry E. Skala, Jr.
Soil Conservationist, SCS

During February, March, April, and May the prevention of wind erosion is a "must" to maintain soil productivity.

Most of the tillage, used for the incorporation of fertilizer and herbicides, is done during these months leaving the ground flat and exposed to blowing winds. Previous crop residues are turned under.

Wind erosion transports the finer, more fertile soil, removing expensive and essential nutrients such as nitrogen and phosphorus.

Wind erosion is started by a process called saltation in which fine grains of soil are moved along the surface by a series of short bounces caused by the direct pressure of the wind. These bouncing grains of soil collide with other soil particles disturbing them which causes them to be picked up by the blowing wind and transported for long distances or until the wind velocity is reduced.

Due to 90 percent of the soil being transported by wind is below a height of one foot and 50 percent is below a height of two inches, much of the blowing soil can be stopped and even prevented by leaving crop residues on the soil surface. Burning corn stubble and other crop residues increases the chances of wind erosion due to leaving the ground bare. Also by burning crop residues, the organic matter content in the soil is reduced causing less aggregation (combining together) of soil particles, increasing the possibility of wind erosion.

Emergency tillage with sand fighters or chisels will prevent wind erosion when moisture is below the surface. Ridges produced by listing or sweeping reduce wind erosion tremendously compared to a flat, smooth field. Leaving your crop residues on the soil surface by reduced tillage can help prevent wind erosion and save fuel, thus increasing your profits.

Finishing Touch

The newly-constructed water tower in Texico was getting a coat of white paint early this week as workmen applied the finishing touches to the tower which was begun in September when contracts were let. Located just north of K.K.

Runnels park, the tower is to be completed by the end of April. When the white paint job is completed, the words "Texico" and "Wolverines" will be painted in green on the new tower.

Foreign Language Addition

Urged By Farwell Teachers

A matter has come to the attention of some members of the Farwell School faculty about which they believe the parents of every high school student planning to attend college in the near future should be aware. In the December, 1982, issue of "Campus to Counselor," a publication from the Office of Admissions of the University of Texas at Austin, the following information was stated:

"All of the following high school requirements for admission to the University of Texas at Austin will be implemented Summer of 1984 except the foreign language requirement which will take effect Summer 1985."

"Required: Four units of English (one unit of which may be writing, world literature, speech, or journalism); two units of foreign language (beginning Summer session 1985); three units of math at the level of algebra I or higher; two units of science; three units of social studies; one and one-half units of electives; and strongly recommended, one-half unit of fine arts and electives."

It has been the practice of most of the universities and colleges in our state to make their requirements similar to those of the University of Texas, explain the teachers. Since this is likely to be the case again this time, those college-bound students graduating in May, 1985, will have to have had two years of a foreign language to be admitted to a college in Texas.

All of the requirements stated for admission to the University of Texas are now being met by our curriculum except for the foreign language requirement, the faculty members said.

At the present time, no foreign language is being offered to the students of the Farwell school system.

In order for the students not to be deficient in requirements for college in 1985, a foreign language would need to be offered next fall semester, August 1983, so that next year's juniors could begin to meet that requirement.

Anyone concerned should let the school administrators and the school board know about their concern, urge the Farwell teachers.

Tribune Wins

Press Award

The State Line Tribune was awarded third place among newspapers in the panhandle of Texas for its Purely Personal column written by John Getz, publisher, at the annual meeting of the Panhandle Press Association in Amarillo, April 7-9.

The award was given in the category of "Serious Column." There are no divisions in this category, and weeklies, semi-weeklies, and dailies compete together for this award. Winning first place was the Perryton Herald, and the second place winner was the Lipscomb County Lighthouse.

The presentations were made at the Saturday morning awards breakfast at the Holiday Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Getz were in attendance for the three-day meeting.

On-The-Job-Training Offered In Parmer

Part of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, (CETA), deals with the On-The-Job-Training (OJT), Program. This program is designed to place unemployed persons in training positions with the goal of permanent employment. These training periods range from 4 weeks to 3 1/2 months depending on the skill level desired.

Qualified applicants will be provided the employer for interview for the open position. The employer is not required to hire anyone in the program. When an applicant is selected to fill the position, he or she is placed on the employer's payroll. The participant will be treated as any other employee of the employer. The employer will be reimbursed for 50 percent of the participant's wages, not to include fringe benefits, for the training period. This reimbursement will be paid at the end of each month requiring only a short reimbursement form.

The participant may be terminated by the employer anytime during the training period. The position may then be refilled by another participant or left unfilled for the duration of the training period.

This decision will be left to the employer.

Details concerning the OJT program may be obtained by calling Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation, Employment and Training Department, (806) 364-5722, Hereford, Texas or (806) 647-2322, Dimmitt, Texas.

Counties covered by the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation are Parmer, Castro, Deaf Smith, and Swisher.

Soil Stewardship Week

Theme: 'Living Waters'

The Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District will join the nationwide celebration of Soil Stewardship Week May 8-15, 1983, according to an announcement by Troy Christian, SWCD director.

Theme of this year's celebration is "Living Waters." The National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week since 1955, in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts.

"If our water management practices in the past have been adequate, we may ignore the rising population, the increased industrialization, and expanded irrigation, all of which require more water from our reservoirs," cites NACD in the 16-page Soil Stewardship Week booklet. "One of our more compelling social and economic needs is for a full appreciation of the true value of our abundant supply of water. It is time to think seriously about conservation, pollution, priority usage and our dependence upon it."

Informative material on the Soil Stewardship Week theme is distributed each year through local conservation districts to clergymen, lay leaders, churches, civic and educational organizations and to individuals participating in the observance.

"If we are to make certain that supplies will be adequate for present and future needs, we are obligated to abide by the universal laws and to help, rather than hinder, the process by which the constant supply of water is recycled and repurified," according to NACD. Information and materials for the 1983 observance of Soil Stewardship Week are available in this area from Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District at 1306 W. 9th, Friona, or call 247-2220.

Floyd, Betty Embry Sell Book Of Poems, Paintings

A Farwell couple has combined their talents to put together a handsome booklet of thoughtful religious poems and colorful illustrations. "Think On These Things," Philipians 4:8, is the booklet's title.

The artistic duo, Floyd and Betty Embry, had the booklet published several weeks ago, and it is now on sale in various local and area businesses for $1.25 per copy.

Floyd wrote the poems included in the book, and wife Betty, a well-known area artist, painted appropriate illustrations for Floyd's poetic writings.

"This booklet is dedicated to our wonderful children and lovely grandchildren. The purpose in formulating this booklet is to cause those who read it to think of their eternal fate," is the inscription at the beginning of the publication.

Twelve poems are included in the booklet, most of them having to do with eternal life, but the opening poem, called "God's Creation," was written by Embry for his wife on their 25th wedding anniversary. Betty's beautifully colored illustrations of landscapes and still lifes add to the meaning of each poem as an appropriate scene is pictured opposite each of the poems.

The booklets may be purchased at several local businesses, or by calling the Embrys at 825-2795.

Moss, Michelle Foster, and Amy Murray. The group discussed badges to be obtained and future projects for the troop, and made kites from newspapers and paper sacks.

Jr. Girl Scout Troop Organized

A new Junior Girl Scout Troop has been formed in Farwell under the direction of Sudie Foster and Anita Ralston.

Included in the discussion during their first meeting Tuesday, April 12, were the activities planned for the remainder of the school year.

The Scouts also made kites, and talked about plans to make gifts for their mothers to be presented at a tea before Mother's Day. One day before school is out for the summer, the troop plans to have a cookout, complete with campfires and singing.

Some of the girls will be working on a Bridge to Juniors Patch, and the entire troop will meet with a Junior Troop from Friona, say the local sponsors.

"We are looking forward to a fun year and invite all 9, 10, and 11-year-old girls to come join in our fun and learn the Girl Scout way," says Sudie

Foster.

For further information about the Girl Scouts, call Anita Ralston at 481-9446, or Sudie Foster at 825-3707.

by the Academy.

Brownies Work On Outdoor Activities

Farwell Girl Scout Brownie Troop 328, with leaders Tina Galvan and Debbie Galvan, have been working on patches in preparation for Girl Scout Week as well as working on several other activities.

Included in those activities are "Be a Discoverer in the World of the Out-of-Doors," which is an activity that will take the girls to the park where they will make drawings of what they think that the unseen, underground world looks like; and "Be a Ready Helper in the World of Out-of-Doors," an activity in which members will visit a flower shop in Clovis to better understand how to take care of plants.

Troop members have to do 12 activities in order for them to get their patches.

Brownie Scouts

Members of Farwell Brownie Girl Scout Troop 328 will be busy with several activities they have planned in conjunction with Girl Scout Leader's Day, April 22. The girls will be working on their patches during the remainder of the school year. Troop members are from left, front row, Veronica Galvan, and Angela Cenicerros; second row, Joni Hernandez, Virginia Terraza, Suanne Malone, Monica Lovato, and Dani Palady; third row, Tonia Harrison, Kayla Glatton, Priscilla Galvan, Michelle Garza, Ruth Terraza, Elizabeth Galvan, and Tina Galvan, troop leader.

Girl Scout Leader's Day Set April 22 Nationwide

April 22 is Girl Scout Leader's Day, when thousands of leaders nationwide will be recognized for their voluntary contributions to Girl Scouting.

These women and men play an important role in our society by encouraging girls to develop their talents, pursue their interests, and serve their local communities. More than 46 million American girls, women, and men have been members of Girl Scouting since its founding in 1912, and have benefited from the caring guidance of Girl Scout leaders.

Being a Girl Scout leader means being committed to girls, and to the idea that every girl can be made aware of her potential and can be helped to develop that potential in productive, satisfying ways. Being a Girl Scout leader also means having opportunities to make friends, develop civic and professional contacts, and try different kinds of volunteer work.

Girl Scouting is good for everyone: the adult volunteers, the community, and, of course, the girls themselves. Girl Scout Leader's Day provides a welcome opportunity to honor these important leaders.

Leaders of Girl Scout troops in Farwell include Tina Galvan, Debbie Galvan, Sudie Foster, and Anita Ralston.

Legislators Meet With Educational Committee

Juanita Hadley, Texico Education Association President, and other members of the Clovis Education Association Legislative Commission recently met with area state legislators for an informal dinner forum.

Following the meal, the group heard comments by Representatives Hoyt Pattison (Clovis) and John Dickson (Portales), and Senator Caleb Chandler (Clovis) on the newly-ended New Mexico Legislative session.

All three speakers expressed concern over some of the bills passed concerning education and their immediate ramifications. Finances for local school districts have been sharply curtailed for the 1983-84 school year as a result of a reduction in state revenues. The three stated that such cutbacks will probably be widespread for several years to come.

The area legislators expressed gratitude for the work of the Legislative Commission, which met a minimum of once per week during the legislative session to discuss those bills concerning public education which had been introduced in either the House or the Senate.

During each meeting, committee members heard discussion and attempted to understand the causes and possible effects of each piece of proposed legislation. Each bill was voted on separately and the results were forwarded to the area representatives and senators.

The trio also expressed appreciation for letters, telephone calls, and telegrams from area people stating their feelings toward legislation under consideration.

One disconcerting fact that surfaced during the discussion among the members of the commission and the legislators was that the educational organization, National Education Association-New Mexico, has recently lost much of its influence with the legislators due to a credibility problem.

Study Club Women Write Winning Poems

Linnie Mae Crook and Eunice Crume, members of Farwell Study Club, both won awards for their poetry writing at the recent Caprock District Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The two women have consented for their winning poems to be printed in the Tribune. Mrs. Crook's poem, "I Saw a Frog," won first place in "Poems For a Child" division; her writing of "Mama," won second in the narrative division; and her "Evening Breeze" entry earned third place in the free verse.

Mrs. Crume's poem, "Prairie Winds" won first prize in the free verse category, and she also won second place in the "Poem For a Child" division.

I SAW A FROG by Linnie Mae Crook

I saw a frog sitting on a log,
And I wondered, "Does that frog think?"
Then I saw that frog sitting on that log,
Sort of giving me a wink.
He seemed to say, "I am no fool,
For I keep cool swimming in my pool.
And I have a lily pad for my foot stool.
I have plenty of bugs to eat,
Even though I am no sheik.
I feel fine and have plenty of time,
To enjoy the great outdoors.
And when it rains I can really sing.
Need I tell you more?
Really, people are such bores."

MAMA by Linnie Mae Crook

Over the hills and far away,
My thoughts go back to yesterday.
I can see my Mama as she sits there,
Rocking in her old rocking chair.
Feeding the chickens, milking the cows,

Going to the garden with the old garden plow,
Then when evening comes
She would be right back there,
Rocking in her old rocking chair.

For Sunday dinner she would bake a hen,
Friends and relatives would all gather in.
With the dishes washed
She would be back there,
Rocking in her old rocking chair.

Monday morning she would put clothes on the line,
Call her neighbors to see if they were fine,
Wash her face, comb her hair,
And back she would be,
In her old rocking chair.

EVENING BREEZE by Linnie Mae Crook

Feel that soft evening breeze.
Softly it whispers to the leaves
As it moves among the trees.
Softly, softly, evening breeze.

Where do you go, what do you say,
Evening breeze along your way?
Are you whispering an evening prayer,
Telling of God's tender care?
Or are you sharing His great love
There among the trees?
Softly, softly, evening breeze.

PRAIRIE WINDS by Eunice Crume

Oh blow Prairie Winds, softly ripple the tall grass
Like waves upon the ocean.
Playfully chase the tumbleweed that hops
And skips along as if it were a living thing.
You seem so gentle as you softly caress my cheeks
And playfully tousele my hair.
Tell me Prairie Wind - are you the same wind
That angrily blows the soil into a sand storm
And in a rage forms into the killer tornado?

Texico Baptist Women Meet For Bible Study

The "Baptist Women" of the First Baptist Church of Texico met at the church on Wednesday afternoon, April 13, for their regular Bible Study program with the chairman, Velma Kelley, in charge.

The meeting opened with Lois Hudnall playing on the piano, "The Way of the Cross Leads Home."

Bobbie Gilliam read the scripture, Joshua 21:41-45, Mrs. Hudnall, mission support chairman, read the names of missionaries having birthdays on that date, and Mary Dell Brown led in prayer.

Mrs. Kelley taught an interesting lesson on "Life Changers in the Bible: Paul," with sub-topics being The Persecuting Pharisee, A Turbulent Conversion, A Revolutionary Life Change, Obedient Missionary Service, and Reminders From Paul.

Other ladies present took part scripture reading from Acts, Galatians, Second Corinthians, and Romans.

Mrs. Kelley dismissed the meeting with prayer, and a short business meeting followed.

Present were Mesdames Mary Dell Brown, Bobbie Gilliam, Lois Hudnall, Velma Kelley, and Gracie Dane.

Study Club Hears Boy, Girl Staters

Farwell High School's delegates to the 1982 Boys and Girls State sessions, Gary Haseloff and Kelly Davis, were guest speakers at the Monday night meeting of Farwell Study Club at the home of Elma Hart.

Ellen Wurster opened the meeting with prayer, and Frances Kube led the group in pledging allegiance to the United States and Texas flags. Julia Symcox led the singing of "Texas our Texas."

Mrs. Symcox presided at a business session, and members were reminded that the club's rummage sale would be in the club room joining the city hall Friday and Saturday, April 22 and 23. She also said that plans for the Border Town Days float should be completed soon.

Mrs. Wurster, delegate to the Caprock District GFWC Convention, gave a report on that meeting, and two members, Eunice Crume and Linnie Mae Crook, read the poems they wrote that won honors at the district convention.

Special guests at the meeting in addition to the Boy and Girl State delegates were their mothers, Mrs. Jerry Davis and Mrs. Adolph Haseloff.

In Gary's talk about his trip to Boys State, he listed the six main objectives of the session: to promote 100 percent Americanism; develop a pride in American citizenship; arouse a keen interest in our government at all levels; understand and believe in the American traditions; inculcate a sense of individual obligation to community, state, and nation; and finally, instruct on the rights, privileges, and responsibilities of American citizenship.

Gary said that the delegates worked hard during the week-long session to fulfill the objectives of Boys State while learning much about the government and how it is operated.

Kelly told of her stay at Girls State as being full of many activities, the highlight of which was traveling to the state capitol to hear Governor Bill Clements speak. They toured the capitol area and recorded an album of Girls State songs. They also held house and senate committee meetings in the capitol building, and Kelly said this was where they learned the most about the government.

Both delegates expressed appreciation to the Study Club for helping make their trips possible.

Study Club members present were Hattie Cofer, Linnie Mae Crook, Frances Kube, Eunice Crume, Ellen Wurster, Sal Vincent, Carrie Christian, Gladys Hardage, Ophell McDonald, hostess Elma Hart and co-hostess Julia Symcox.

Kenneth Adams Award Winner Named

Kenneth Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adams of Farwell, has been named a 1983 United States National Award Winner in band.

Kenneth is a student at Farwell Junior High School and was nominated for the National Award by Lynn Burton, band director at the school.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain, as it is presented to less than 10 percent of all American high school students, according to the Academy.

Kenneth's biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA

winner upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors, and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher

Building in floodplain causes flooding

COLLEGE STATION — Texas cities will continue to flood during times of heavy rains, storms or hurricanes as long as they continue to develop in the state's floodplains, says the director of the Texas Water Resources Institute.

"Floods aren't disastrous at all unless man moves into the path of a flood-swollen river," says Dr. Jack Runkles of Texas A&M University. "The land adjacent to river channels is the natural, proper conveyance for transmitting floodwaters. Unfortunately, this same land has been the most attractive for man to develop."

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60633

"THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH"

"Howbeit when He, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth" (John 16:13).

How blessed to know that the Author of the blessed Book which has changed so many hearts and lives and homes is "the Spirit of truth."

The Spirit did not, of course, reveal all truth at one time. "The Law was given by Moses," later the prophecies were penned by men of God as they were "moved by the Holy Spirit" and still later our Lord uttered truth "kept secret since the world began."

But even our blessed Lord, while on earth, did not lead His followers into all the truth which God would have His people know. "I have yet many things to say unto you", He said, "but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit, when He, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth" (John 16:12, 13).

But when the Spirit came at Pentecost, did He immediately lead the disciples into all truth? Not yet. They still proclaimed the prophetic program, the message which our Lord had taught them and committed to them (Luke 24:45; Acts 1:2, 3).

It was not until some time later that the glorified Lord revealed "God's purpose and grace" to and through the Apostle Paul, and the Spirit in turn caused others to understand it (Gal. 2:2, 7, 9; Eph. 3:1-5; II Tim. 1:9).

The glorious message revealed to Paul is the capstone of divine revelation, thus he says that it was given to him to "fulfill [complete] the Word of God" (Col. 1:25).

St. Paul wrote more books of the Bible than any other writer and in them we have the fullness of divine truth as God would now have us know and understand it!

Commissioners Meet For Regular Session

Farmer County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday, April 11, to conduct routine business for the county.

Commissioners approved the Articles of Incorporation of the newly-formed Farmer County Industrial Development Corporation.

Further discussion was held concerning the Lazbuddie dump ground and the Court is to compare estimates of different ways of handling the situation to meet the requirements of the Texas Department of Health.

Bills approved for payment, in addition to routine expenditures, included $469.15 for testing of a prisoner to determine his fitness to stand trial; boarding care bills for county foster children in the amount of $2,142.10 (this will be reimbursed to the county); $188 to Richard Collard as attorney ad litem for a juvenile hearing; and $2,150 to Energas of Littlefield for moving of gas lines of proposed FM 3333.

The Court approved the building of additional storage shelves in the jail storeroom at a cost of $465, and approved the treasurer's quarterly report as presented by Benna Fells, county treasurer.

Commissioners rejected the two bids received on the truck advertised for sale from Precinct 4, feeling that the bids were too low. Bidding on the dump truck were David Padilla of Friona and Langer Trucking of Muleshoe.

Bonds for dispatchers and deputies and a bond for reserve deputy in the county sheriff's office were received and approved, and it was voted to purchase a typewriter from the IBM Company for the county clerk's office. This item was budgeted for this office.

The following soil conservation work was approved and ratified and will be performed when the machines are in that area and not required for use on the county roads:

Pct. 1, David Carthel; Pct. 2, Donald Christian; and Pct. 4, Franse Irrigation, Inc., Kirby Burch, Jimmy Dale Seaton, Marvin Mimms, Wayne Clark, and Bart Burnett.

Ah, Go Fly A Kite

Members of the Farwell First Baptist Church youth group, as well as other church members, took advantage of the good weather Sunday to fly kites. The kites came in a variety of colors, sizes, and styles, with at least one being homemade, and the kite flyers also came in a variety of sizes and ages. Young and not-so-young enjoyed the afternoon of warm breezy weather and kite flying as did many Farwell residents who watched the spectacle from their homes and cars.

Check Soil Temperatures Before Planting

In many cases the early bird does get the worm. But when it comes to spring planting, farmers may want to use a little restraint and take a look at soil temperatures before cranking up their planters.

One of the keys to getting spring crops off to a good start is to heed soil temperatures.

Soil temperatures have been shown to have an important effect on how well seed germinate. Planting in cool soils often leads to poor seed germination and poor crop stands. Plants that do come up often lack vigor for early growth. And this opens the door to early season disease and insect attacks.

Farmers are advised to begin planting only after the danger of a late frost is past and the soil has warmed to temperatures favorable to the intended crop.

Farmers also need to keep attuned to weather forecasts prior to planting. A sudden change in weather conditions following planting can be detrimental to the crop, particularly a cool, wet spell that can lower soil temperatures drastically.

Just when is it safe to plant what crop?

Average minimum temperatures (at the four-inch depth) for planting are as follows: corn, 50 degrees; sorghum, 55 degrees; cotton, 65 degrees; and soybeans, 70 degrees.

Hardy vegetables such as onions, cabbage and potatoes can be planted once soil temperatures range between 45 and 50 degrees while warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, melons, beans and peppers need soil that has warmed into the 60's.

With early season planting, particularly when soil temperatures are still marginal, farmers need to pay particular attention to using high quality seed, fungicides and other seed protectants, and adjusting seeding rates.

How do farmers keep abreast of changing soil temperatures?

Farmers are reminded that daily readings are taken at various locations throughout Texas in cooperation with the Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and individual cooperators.

As temperatures are collected, they are included in daily agricultural advisories issued by the Agricultural Weather Service Center for each of the regions. The advisories are fed into the NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) weather wire by teletype to be received by the AWSC radio network as well as commercial radio and television stations.

Specific temperature readings for about 50 locations also are distributed daily through regular weather service channels.

Keeping tabs on the weather and soil conditions can help farmers get off to a good start with spring planting, and with the high cost of farm inputs, it's information that should be put to good use.

A&M tops nation in recruiting scholars

COLLEGE STATION — Texas A&M University gained more National Merit Scholars this year than any other institution in the nation, confirmed officials at the organization which bestows the coveted designation on the brightest of the bright high school students.

The freshman class at Texas A&M this fall includes 148 National Merit Scholars, up more than 100 percent over the number of high-achieving students who entered there last year for an increase unmatched by any of the country's some 3,000 other colleges and universities, according to records at the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Texas A&M now has a total of 325 National Merit Scholars enrolled.

Although the first trains were not built till the 1800s, tracks were laid in the 1500s. They helped horses draw heavier loads than they could on ordinary roads.

Texas Aggie Muster Set Thursday Eve.

Former students of Texas A&M University will assemble in Clovis Thursday, April 21, for the annual Texas Aggie Muster, announces chairman Max Crittenden.

The Muster activities will begin at 7:30 p.m. CST at Cannon Air Force Base in Clovis, according to the chairman.

Crittenden said the Muster is open to all former students and their families, parents of students, and friends of Texas A&M.

Texas A&M is in its "Second Century of Greatness." During the last 100 years, Texas A&M has grown from a small Land Grant college to one of the leading research and educational institutions in the nation, Crittenden reports.

The Aggie Muster dates back to the mid-1880's and has been held annually since. More than 500 Musters will be held around the world this year. Crittenden said, "wherever Texas A&M former students live or work."

During wars, the Aggies mustered in foxholes, on the battlefield, aboard ships, in airplanes, and in medical hospitals. In World War II, a Muster was held on Corregidor shortly before the Japanese captured the island.

Every Muster ceremony is the same, Crittenden reported.

The Texas Aggies pay their respects to all those who are absent, because of death, since the last Muster. When the names of the honored dead are called from the Muster Roll, a friend of the deceased answers, "Here."
