Control Of Road Expenditures Remains In The Hands Of Commissioners

(This is the fifth in a series of special articles dealing with the "Unit System" of road operation, as it pertains to Howard County).

A good part of criticism directed at the use of a county engineer under the "unit system" of road operations is that concerning cost.

Some incorrect information has been broadcast to the effect that the engineer has "spent the county's money."

This does not meet the facts. The facts are that every cent of the money spent by the engineer or anyone else in the road and bridge department, has been budgeted and approved by the county commissioners court. No one else has any authority to spend money, and the fiscal control of this department is vested definitely in the commissioners' hands. This would be true with any engineer, with any foreman, or with anyone else who might be on an operating job.

Road Fund Due To Have $100,000 Balance

So the budgeting for a road program, under the unit system, is completely the county's responsibility, as is the mapping of policy. This is true now, and has always been true.

Secondly, Howard County's road and bridge fund is due to end the year with a balance of around $100,000. This is an estimate of County Auditor Lee Porter, and he has checked the current books and tax-income prospects carefully to arrive at the figure. It means, certainly, that Howard County's road and bridge fund is not broke.

A check of road and bridge department expenditures for administrative and maintenance costs for a six-month period for 1955 (April-September) are up around $16,000 over the same period a year ago. The figures do not include items for right-of-way purchases and capital investment, since these might be large at some periods, and very little in others.

The months surveyed included those when the road department was being set up under a unified system for surveying, planning, and cost accounting. This would call for outlays that would not recur, and from a business standpoint, would be money well spent.

During this activity, the county got road maps it never had before. It got a consolidated system of work records and purchasing it never had before. The gains that could come from these alone could, in a very short time, far more than offset administrative costs. The auditor's opinion is in accord with this.

Business-Like Operations Save Money

Centralized purchasing alone can save the county immeasurably. A proper system of time cards on workers (apparently newly instituted) can mean a saving in wages or a gain in hours of work. These business methods alone should speak for the efficiency of a coordinated system under a competent department head.

But during the six months of this year the county gained some improved roads, too. Not many miles, but a start on an improvement program. Projects included the work on a road to the Forsan school, the renewing of the old San Angelo Highway and the road to the "big spring," and surfacing of roads in the airport area. No book value is carried on such capital improvements, but they would have to be counted as appreciable assets.

The gains, even within a few months, could be said to equal or even surpass the additional outlay of money.

And the unit program still is in low gear. Given approval by the voters Saturday, the retention of the "Optional County Road Law" ought to mean more and more permanently improved roads, with resulting lower and lower maintenance costs. It is this long-range view, for a more efficient road department, that calls for support of the unit system.

Coincidences Mark City Traffic Mishaps

Two coincidences were included in nine traffic accidents occurring in the city in the last 24 hours.

Arlene Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yates, 1001 E. 3rd, was struck by a car during the noon hour at East Ward School. Driver of the vehicle was Mrs. G. W. Robertson, 205 Wright. Mrs. Robertson carried Arlene to the Medical Arts Hospital. No information could be obtained regarding her condition.

Arlene's sister, Melba Pauline received scratches and bruises in an almost identical mishap, Oct. 5. The accident was at the same place and about the same time. Mrs. B. M. Slaughter was driving the car that struck Melba.

A husband and wife were involved in separate accidents, but in the same car and at the same intersection, about two hours apart. Betty S. Winton, 1316 Kentucky Way, was involved in a mishap about 2:30 p.m. at Fourth and Main. Two hours later, her husband, James Bruce Winton, had taken over the car and was involved in an accident at the same corner.

Other drivers involved were Ellis Lee, Duncan Hotel, who was in the first accident and David Leigh Maynard, 1400 Pickens, who was involved in the second.

Other accidents for the period involved John S. Kelly, Big Spring, and Victor Y. Garcia, 710 NW 7th, at Seury and Eighteenth about 7:30 a.m. Joe B. Hedleston, 201 Jefferson, and Jasper French Hinton, 310 Hummel, were drivers in a collision at Fourth and Gregg about 1 p.m.

About 3 p.m., Perry Nathaniel Burleson, 106 Lindberg, and Ethel Brown McGriff, 711 N. Bell, were in collision at Fourth and Main. Sixth and State was the scene of an accident involving Thelma Page Blasingame, 1307 E. 14th, and Bobby Lynn McAdams, 1227 E. 17th.

At Seventeenth and Main, drivers in a mishap about 7:50 p.m. were Johnny C. Petty, Rt. 1, and Cleane Nuckelson, 1308 Lamar. Dorothy Palk Windham, 418 Dallas, and Bette Fay Fulcher, 311 NE 11th, were drivers of cars in collision in the 700 block of Johnson about 8:35 a.m.

Grandstaff denies this, declaring that he completed a prison sentence before he was released from the Wisconsin State Prison. The pardoned "life-terminer" was arrested here on a Wisconsin warrant and was ordered returned to that state after a hearing on extradition proceedings. The Texas Supreme Court yesterday upheld the order, and its mandate will become final in 15 days.

At that time, Grandstaff will be subject to re-arrest here and his $1,000 bond will be subject to forfeiture unless he returns to Big Spring. District Attorney Guilford Jones said no decision had been reached as to whether Wisconsin will attempt to extradite Grandstaff from California or Texas.

AT C-C BANQUET

Dawson To Mark 50th Anniversary

LAMESA — Fifty years as a county will be celebrated here this evening by an organization which has been active for 35 years in development of Dawson County and Lamesa.

Theme of the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, at which Clyde Branon will take over as president from Jodie Vaughn, is the Golden Anniversary of the organization of Dawson County.

Melvin T. Munn, Dallas, group hospital public relations director and a civic leader in his own city, is to be the speaker. Munn is vice president of the Dallas Kiwanis Club and district chairman of the Texas-Oklahoma Key Clubs (a high school organization sponsored by the Kiwanians), chairman of the speakers bureau for the Dallas Community Chest, a director in the Dallas Heart Association and the Dallas County Association for the Blind.

Dinner at the high school cafeteria will be buffet style, and Stansell Clement will serve as master of ceremonies. Songs will be led by Owen C. Taylor, and Mrs. Jake Lippard, Lamesa, and Bernie Howell and his Orchestra from Lubbock, will furnish music for the occasion.

An invitation has gone out to all past presidents of the Chamber to take part in the gathering. New officers and directors will be recognized. General arrangements for the affair have been shaped by J. T. White, chairman of the Round Up Club, and his workers.

Father, Son Plead Innocent To Charge Of Airman Assault

AUSTIN (AP)—A father and son pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of assault with intent to murder in the mutilation shooting of a young Negro sergeant at Fort Davis Air Base.

Otto Ludwig Sr., 64, and Raymond Ludwig, 39, were accused after the shotgun shooting in March of Henry Roach, 21.

Roach was struck in the face by a shotgun blast from close range as he sat with a high school girl in his car on a lonely country road near the Ludwig's farm home. The blast tore out his eyes.

The girl said the shot was fired by one of two men who had ordered them off the road. She said Roach was trying to start the car.

Opposing factions in the rising controversy over oil imports are using sounding boards in Texas to argue their cases.

At Wichita Falls and Beaumont Wednesday arguments were heard, and a congressman promised restrictive legislation on imports if the matter is not cleared up soon.

Generally, the problem—at least within the oil industry—is this: Firms with only domestic oil production want the import of crude either stopped entirely or cut drastically. Companies with foreign oil, wells or with oil concessions in other oil producing countries, such

George Parr In For More Suits In Land Cases

HOUSTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd says all principals in the Veterans Land scandals have been indicted but he promises further action against South Texas political leader George Parr.

Shepperd told the South Texas Producers Assn. yesterday suits would be filed against Parr and his associates seeking recovery of three million dollars which the attorney general said was "misappropriated or stolen."

He reviewed the land scandals and the Duval County situation while speaking at the dairymen's meeting here.

Some suits already have been filed against Parr, he said, but the others would be filed within two months.

He said 21 persons were involved in 319 indictments returned in the Veterans Land scandals.

"We believe all the principals in all the illegal deals have been indicted, at least once," he said. "We have filed suits to recover $2,611,000 of the state's money illegally paid out, and so far we have won every suit that has come to trial, recovering $235,000."

Shepperd said some 300 felony indictments "against 59 of Parr's pals and relatives" had been returned. Most, he added, are present or past officials of Duval County or its school districts.

Shepperd said the statute of limitations had nullified forever some of the 104 indictments overturned recently by the State Court of Criminal Appeals. "But the rest of them will be resubmitted by my office and Dist. Atty. Sam Burris," he added, "and some day soon George Parr will get the same brand of justice that he meted out in Texas to the ordinary and habitual vicious criminal."

Shepperd defended the grand jury which the Appeals Court said was unqualified and illegally constituted. He said it replaced a panel that previously had been appointed "by Parr's own district judge before his removal from office."

"The original jury commission and grand jury," he said, were "thrown out by a completely impartial district judge imported from Bonham."

Buckingham Palace pipelines were clogged tight.

Townsend, arriving in London last night for a month's leave from his post of British air attaché at Brussels, had nothing to tell newsmen that he hadn't told them before—which in essence was that he isn't talking.

Margaret, boarding her train in Scotland for an overnight trip to the capital after a summer vacation, said only "It has been a grand holiday but I am looking forward to going home."

London's newspaper headlines this morning were strictly from desperation.

Opposing Oil Import Factions Use Texas Sounding Boards

As Venezuela, want to continue importing crude.

Those who wish to continue the imports at a brisk pace argue that domestic reserves are not enough to supply the nation in time of war and that the United States should get all the foreign oil possible while it can.

The anti-import faction argues that the oil imports will cut domestic production, force down the price of crude, and by lessening incentive to produce may actually be a threat to national security.

LET 'EM ITCH 50 Million Britons Can Be Frustrated

LONDON (AP)—Fifty million Britons positively itched with curiosity today over the next move (if any) in the romance (if there still is one) between Princess Margaret and Group Capt. Peter Townsend.

The principals let them go right ahead and itch.

It was the worst case of mass frustration hereabouts since the word got around in 1936 that King Edward VIII was making eyes at Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Poland's Bid For U.N. Post Faces Test

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia added her voice today to Communist warnings that improving East-West relations will turn for the worse if Poland doesn't get a seat on the U.N. Security Council.

Russian Delegate V. V. Kunetsov called a news conference in a determined effort to push Poland's bid for the seat sought also by the U. S.-backed Philippines.

The General Assembly will vote tomorrow to fill the seat on the 11-nation council now held by Turkey.

Poland's Julius Kat-suchy told newsmen yesterday that defeat of Poland would impair the Geneva spirit and touch off resentment in Eastern Europe.

Kat-Suchy said the United States, by backing an Asian country, was violating the London big power agreement of 1946 allocating one council seat to Eastern Europe.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. quickly retorted that Poland had done little toward helping international peace that would qualify her for a council seat. Lodge also contended "that the so-called London agreement was a commitment for the first election only."

Poland says she has enough backing to get the two-thirds majority needed for election, claiming support of the Asian-African bloc, some Latin-American countries and a scattering of European states. Philippines sources predicted victory on the first ballot.

The Philippines is a member of the 17-nation Asian-African bloc, but Egypt, Burma, India and Indonesia—all friendly with the Russians—are expected to vote for Poland.

Other than Russia, there has been no Soviet bloc member on the council since the Ukraine served six years ago.

Two other nonpermanent seats are up for election this year, but no contest is seen. The Latin Americans have approved Cuba to succeed Peru, and the Commonwealth wealth countries have approved Australia to succeed New Zealand.

The atomic energy debate continued, meanwhile, in the Assembly Political Committee.

Flaming 'C' Spells Success To AF Rocket Experiment

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—A gigantic flame-colored "C" in southwestern skies—a letter estimated to be 30 miles long—has spelled success to latest Air Force probes of upper-atmosphere secrets.

Scientists described last night's test, a sodium emission project, as "something never before seen—a complete success scientifically."

The spectacular orange-red plume, shaped by winds from 40 to 70 miles above earth into the alphabetical symbol, was clearly visible more than 300 miles away shortly after its firing at dusk.

The vapor trail, foaming out of a special Aerobee rocket from two containers of metallic sodium, was visible according to the Air Force, for 27 minutes.

Complete technical results of the widely heralded test will not be known for "at least two weeks and perhaps longer," said John F. Bedinger of the Air Force Cambridge Research Center, whose officials worked with Holloman Air Development Center personnel in the test.

The Air Force, in the experiment, was seeking to determine the origin density, characteristics and altitude of natural sodium in the atmosphere—part of the stuff that makes dawn and dusk.

MONTGOMERY

General Urges Services Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Field Marshal Montgomery is heralding a return visit to the United States with a new commentary on the military future, directed this time at the need for eventual merger of army, navy and air forces into one service. A year ago, the outspoken British commander shook the United States Navy with some pithy observations about aircraft carriers not fitting into war's future. In a lecture yesterday before the Royal United Services Institution, a military club in England, Montgomery took note of his previous talk, saying it "created quite a stir in military circles in this country and even more so in the U.S.A."

He said he realized a true merger couldn't be brought about now but looking into the distant future the objective should be to bring land, sea and air forces more closely together—"even to the extent of combining them into one."

He contended that "until this is done we limit ourselves to approaching, but not achieving, an ultimate goal of economy of force in the real sense of the word."

Big Spring Elks Plan To Attend Ottine Homecoming

Representatives from the Big Spring Elks lodge are planning to take part Sunday in the second annual homecoming at their crippled children's hospital in Ottine. This institution was dedicated last year and more than 100 representatives from Texas lodges were on hand for the affair. At the state convention in El Paso in June it was voted unanimously that the homecoming for the hospital would be held the third Sunday in each October.

There will be open house during the morning with a program following the tour of the hospital. Speakers will include E. C. Hunch, Odessa, state Elks president, and retired Federal Judge William Hawley Atwell, Dallas, a past grand exalted ruler of the order of Elks. Humble Oil & Refining is to make pictures of the gathering for presentation over "Texas in Review." There will be a barbecue in the nearby Palmetto State Park.

The Elks hospital at Ottine is open to crippled children without regard to any affiliations, race, creed or color.

Inspection, Arms Plans Are Coupled

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a letter to Russia's Premier Bulganin, couples a formal U.S. offer to accept a Soviet military inspection plan with a new plug for the Eisenhower "predisarmament" program.

The controversial President's brief note, made public by the Denver White House late yesterday, underscored the administration's continuing hope the Soviet Union eventually will go along with his proposal that the United States and Russia exchange military blueprints and agree on reciprocal aerial inspection.

At the same time, apparently in a move to keep that hope alive, Eisenhower reiterated that this country is willing to combine his plan and the Soviet program with a view toward disarmament in the long run.

In a Sept. 19 message to Eisenhower, five days before the President was stricken with a heart attack, Bulganin found much fault with the Eisenhower plan first set forth at the Big Four summit conference in Geneva last July. So much fault, in fact, that administration officials reportedly concluded at the time that Bulganin had chosen either to miss or ignore the essence of the Eisenhower plan—that it would be a step toward disarmament and not disarmament itself.

But if the Kremlin leader did choose to miss or ignore that basic point, Eisenhower in his reply quite clearly chose to overlook the fact, presumably in the hope the Soviet Union eventually will come around to endorse his program.

Making no mention of Bulganin's blunt criticism of his proposal, the President took note of the Premier's assertion that the Eisenhower plan was getting careful study by the Soviet high command. "... I am encouraged," Eisenhower wrote, "that you are giving such full consideration to my Geneva proposal."

Then, in his concluding paragraph, the President formally renewed a bid to Russia to allay "fear and suspicion" by combining both his own and the Soviet plan for mutually checking on military installations and movements. Eisenhower said:

"I have not forgotten your proposal having to do with stationing inspection teams at key points in our countries, and if you feel this would help to create the better spirit I refer to, we could accept that too."

The "better spirit" to which Eisenhower alluded was dealt with in the preceding paragraph of the President's letter. After declaring he was encouraged to find that the Soviet Union is giving "full consideration" to his Geneva proposal, the President said:

"I hope that we can agree on it, not as a cure-all but, as I said at Geneva, to show a spirit of nonaggressiveness on both sides and so to create a fresh atmosphere which would dispel much of the present fear and suspicion. "This, of itself, would be worthwhile. It would, I believe, make it more possible to make progress in terms of comprehensive plans for inspection, controls and reduction of armaments, which will satisfy the high hopes of our peoples, and indeed of the world."

The President's first assertion of willingness to combine the Bulganin plan with his own came at an Aug. 4 Washington news conference.

At that time the President was told by a reporter that Bulganin, in remarks reported from Moscow, appeared to have "rejected your inspection and military blueprints plans on the grounds that they are unrealistic." Eisenhower replied: "I believe that his exact language was that he thought his proposal of May 10, with its provisions for inspection, were more realistic than the suggestions I made."

"Speaking informally at Geneva, I said that if they trusted that kind of an inspection system, it was all right with us; we would adopt both. And I proposed, I said let's take them both."

In his Sept. 19 note, Bulganin said Eisenhower's plan for swapping military blueprints "would become significant only if agreement is achieved on reduction of armaments and on taking measures for prohibition of atomic weapons."

The Premier was even more blunt in criticism of the President's plan for reciprocal aerial inspection of military establishments. He said it would not lead to effective progress toward insuring security of states and successful accomplishment of disarmament."

Bulganin's counterproposal amounted to reiteration of longstanding Soviet policy. He called for reduction of armed forces, agreement on dates for banning atomic weapons—and establishment of "control posts" to guard against the possibility of sudden attack by one country against the other.

It was that last proposal that Eisenhower, in his reply, offered to accept if it would help create "better spirit" of mutual trust.

Jury Tapping Law Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.) said today he and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) favor making it a felony to place recording devices in a jury room. He proposed that Congress enact such legislation next year.

Eastland is chairman and Jenner a member of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee which is inquiring into "sneaking and dropping" on jury deliberations as part of a University of Chicago research project last year.

Edward H. Levi, dean of the Law School, and Prof. Harry Kalven Jr., a faculty member who is supervising the project, testified yesterday that a microphone was concealed in a federal jury room in Wichita, Kan., in 1954 with the consent of the court.

They said recordings of jury deliberations were made in five or six civil cases in an effort to find out how juries operate and the extent to which they understand the instructions of judges and are able to deal with difficult problems of evidence.

Kalven said the recordings were only one phase of a project to collect "new basic data on how juries do their work." The overall project is being financed with grants totaling $1,400,000 from the Ford Foundation.

Peron Family Wealth Put On Public Display

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Some of Juan and Eva Peron's wealth—enough jewels, clothes and art treasures for a king-size rummage sale—was put on public display here today by the provisional government.

Valued at more than 6 1/2 million dollars by authorities, the former dictator's riches were shown to the public in a preview last night at his former residence in suburban Palermo. Most of them were in a strong room whose door could be opened only by pressing a secret button.

Officials said the treasures had been found in Peron's various homes locked in eight strongboxes which had to be opened with blow torches.

Also on display were some 400 dresses, 600 hats and a great number of purses and shoes said to have belonged to the former President's late wife Eva. The value of her evening dresses alone totaled "several million pesos," an official said.

Among the glittering jewels were a diamond necklace said to be worth $357,000, a group of emeralds valued at $428,000, another diamond necklace worth $214,000, and a collection of decorative ivory objects valued at $71,000.

Two pictures, said to be originals of the Flemish artist Rubens, were valued by authorities at $50,000 each.

It already had been disclosed that Peron possessed a miniature gold elephant with the world's second largest emerald glinting in the forehead. It was not known whether he purchased these objects outright or received them as gifts.

The show, open to the public beginning today, is part of the government's campaign to prove that Peron while calling himself a champion of the working man actually lived in lavish wealth.

Peron, meanwhile, continued in exile in Asuncion, capital of neighboring Paraguay.

Bernarr Macfadden Is Dead At Age 87

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Bernarr Macfadden, colorful exponent of rugged living who regarded old age as "just a bad habit," is dead at 87.

The onetime millionaire publisher died last night at Jersey City Medical Center after an attack of jaundice.

His physician said the attack, which brought him to the hospital last Friday, had been aggravated by a three-day fast. The death certificate listed the cause of death as "cerebral thrombosis."

From a sickly child, Macfadden built himself into a hardy physical specimen and amassed a fortune estimated at one time at 30 million dollars.

However, involved in recent court disputes with his second and third wives, he listed his income at $8,400 a year after taxes.

Macfadden once was publisher of such magazines as Physical Culture, Liberty and True Story, and his former newspaper holdings included the New York Evening Graphic, the Detroit Daily, the Philadelphia News, and the New Haven Times.

During his vigorous lifetime Macfadden was wed three times and had a total of nine children. A son was with him when he died.

He observed his 83rd birthday by parachuting 2,500 feet into the Hudson River.

While in his early 80s, still piloted his own plane and enjoyed fast games of tennis. He spurned medicines, whisky, tobacco and white bread, and avoided doctors.

It was his regular habit to go without food for one day a week, frequently fasting as long as two weeks but drinking a lot of water during these periods.

A native of Missouri, he launched his career by teaching physical culture at the age of 18.

He started publishing a health booklet on a regular basis, which grew into Physical Culture magazine. Then he branched out in the publishing field with other magazines far removed from physical culture.

Side By Side

Undisturbed by each other's presence, a CIO-UAW picket and a Guardsman stand side by side at the entrance to Perfect Circle Corp. plant at Hagerstown, Ind., as Indiana National Guardsmen arrived to enforce provisions of martial law proclaimed by Gov. George N. Craig. Martial law was also ordered for New Castle, Ind., and a section of Richmond.

Perfect Circle, CIO Dig In For Deadlock

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—The Perfect Circle foundry was in partial production today as the company, the striking CIO United Auto Workers and the National Guard dug in for what shaped up as an extended deadlock.

The plant had its doors open "to anyone who wants to work." The union had vowed that it "backs the strike all the way." Gov. George N. Craig had said that the Guard will stay as long as there appears to be a threat of renewed violence.

There wasn't any apparent hope for a break in the impasse before November. Petitions for elections to decertify the union at Perfect Circle's Hagerstown and Richmond plants are before the National Labor Relations Board, but the UAW has been granted until Oct. 24 to file additional briefs. NLRB action will follow that filing.

The New Castle foundry is not involved in the decertification move, but the UAW has refused to bargain for it separately from the Hagerstown and Richmond plants in adjoining Wayne County. The company has declined to sign an agreement for these plants while the decertification actions are pending.

Six hundred guardsmen moved into New Castle a week ago after a demonstration by an estimated 5,000 strike sympathizers in which shots were fired by both demonstrators and non-strikers and eight persons were wounded.

This week Gov. Craig declared full martial law in New Castle, all of Henry County, the town of Hagerstown and the Richmond plant area. Additional guardsmen moved into Hagerstown and Richmond, bringing to about 1,000 the total on duty.

Plant Manager Chesley Judy said 32 workers of a normal production force of 260 reported for work yesterday, along with 93 office workers. The foundry makes rough castings for the other plants, which produce piston rings.

The other plants have been operating at reduced levels throughout the strike, which began July 25.

More Showers Bring Hope To Pastures

AUSTIN (AP)—More light showers to flooding rains last week brought renewed hope for some Texas pastures hard hit by drought, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Winter grazing prospects from wheat and oats pastures in the Low Rolling Plains were materially boosted. Dusted-in wheat made excellent growth in the High Plains. All stock were picking up on the improved range feed. Many were delaying fall marketing to pick up increased poundage from improving feed.

In most of the Northern High Plains, only scattered showers were received and wheat planting passed the peak. The volunteer crop was being destroyed as wheat was seeded in some fields. Crops dusted in before the September rains were up to uniform stands and making good growth.

Marines Seek Missing Boy, Kidnap Feared

CRANE, Ind. (AP)—Marines today searched the last areas where 3-year-old Ronnie Weltkamp might have wandered, but officials said kidnaping appeared to be the likely explanation of his disappearance.

A 30-hour search ending Wednesday night covered a five-square-mile area without turning up a good clue. The search started within 45 minutes after the boy was missed Tuesday.

"It's obvious he has gotten away from the area by means other than his own legs," said Cmdr. Richard Turner, executive of Crane Naval Ammunition Depot.

The little boy's father, Lawrence Weltkamp, who works at the depot, said, "I think somebody has just driven by and taken him away."

Cmdr. Turner said nearly 1,000 volunteers "covered the area with a fine-tooth comb."

The blond, brown-eyed boy was last seen playing with two other children his own age across the street from his parents' neat, white three-bedroom cottage. The Weltkamps have two other children.

Crane is 15 miles west of Bedford in southern Indiana.

White House Power Sales Meetings Under House Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators probed for information today about "several White House conferences" involving disputed government efforts to sell federal hydroelectric power to a Georgia private utility for resale to cooperatives.

The conferences were brought to light before a House Government Operations subcommittee last night by Asst. Secretary of the Interior Fred G. Aandahl, who at the same time refused to give any details about the meetings.

Chairman Chudoff (D-Pa.) told newsmen the committee would try to learn what was discussed and who was present.

But he agreed the committee might run into trouble because of a presidential order stating inter-departmental executive discussions may be withheld from congressional committees.

Aandahl indicated the conferences were held prior to preparation of a 20-page ruling by Atty. Gen. Brownell on the power question last summer.

This opinion, dated July 15, was delivered to Secretary of the Interior McKay with an accompanying note from Brownell referring to "our conference at the White House."

Asked what conference Brownell referred to, Aandahl said there were "several White House conferences" dealing with the Georgia contract and with "over-all policy" involved.

He said the policy discussion had to do with efforts of the Interior Department to sell to Georgia Power Co. power generated at the Clark Hill hydroelectric project on the Savannah River in Georgia for resale to some 17 Georgia electric cooperatives.

In his opinion, Brownell held that the government must give preference to cooperatives and other public agencies competing for the power with private utility groups, even though the cooperatives had no immediate facilities or transmission lines to take it.

Sale to the utility would "flout the congressional purpose" of public power laws, he said.

In refusing to answer questions about the White House meetings, Aandahl said that "any information on a conference at the White House should come from the White House."

To this, however, he added that "as far as I am concerned, I would have no objection to giving any information I have about it."

Chudoff inquired if one of the White House conferees was Harlee Branch Jr., president of Georgia Power Co. Aandahl said that was also up to the White House to supply an answer.

Chudoff declared, "I can only come to the conclusion that somebody is trying to hide something."

The dispute has centered over ways of "wheeling"—or transmitting—the power to co-ops and public agencies given preference to public power by law.

Aandahl said the Interior Department did not feel it was "economically feasible" to contract directly with the Georgia co-ops because they had no transmission lines to take the power.

Georgia Power Co., on the other hand, was unwilling to deliver it unless it could take title to the power.

But since the attorney general prepared his opinion, Aandahl said, the department and Georgia Power have reached a tentative agreement for the utility to contract for transmitting the power over its own lines to the co-ops.

He told the committee he thought matters might be settled by the first of the year.

In Atlanta, Branch said Georgia Power Co. had started trying to work out some means of delivering the power to the cooperatives as early as 1950 and "long before the project was completed." He denied the company was responsible for any delay.

"Our company has not only offered to buy the power at Clark Hill and resell it to the co-ops without profit, transmitting it over our facilities, but we have also agreed to 'wheel' the power to them for the account of the government."

"This was what the rural electric cooperatives insisted upon, and we yielded to the Interior Department on this point in a further effort to end the controversy."

Paper Reports Ramsey Choice 3-Man Affair

WACO, Tex. — The Waco News-Tribune reported today that the selection of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey as National Democratic Committeeman was a three-way decision between Gov. Shivers, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Shivers and Rayburn have been on different sides of the political fence frequently. Johnson, although sticking with the national party, has sought to be a mediator.

Ramsey was named by the state committee last week.

The newspaper said Ramsey was the only man considered who fit the formula set out by National Committee Chairman Paul Butler.

This required that the committeeman have voted for Adlai Stevenson in 1952, be personally acceptable to Shivers and acceptable to Johnson and Rayburn.

The account said:

Ramsey, on a visit to Kerrville, dropped by Johnson's ranch one Sunday to say "hello."

Shivers arrived the next day on his first call on Johnson since the senator arrived to recuperate from a heart attack.

During the visit, Johnson is said to have suggested to Shivers that Ramsey would make a good committeeman.

The governor told Ramsey of the conversation. Ramsey phoned Johnson and then went back to Johnson's ranch. He said he didn't want the job, but he would go along with the idea if it meant sending a harmonious middle-of-the-road delegation to the 1956 Democratic National Convention.

Johnson suggested that Ramsey phone Rayburn, who was in the Deep South speaking. Rayburn urged Ramsey to take the post.

Johnson denied published stories that anyone other than the three had suggested Ramsey or for any other future political position. There had been speculation that Ramsey's appointment might thrust him into the limelight as a candidate for governor who could attract support of both conservative and loyalist Democrats.

California Demo Chiefs Schedule DeSapio Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — Carmine DeSapio, New York Tammany Hall chief, was scheduled today to meet with top California Democratic leaders to learn Western "grass roots" preferences for a 1956 presidential candidate.

DeSapio, who arrived here last night with an all but open avowal in favor of New York's Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman, found the local party leaders maneuvering along Stevenson-Kefauver lines of cleavage with the Stevenson backers taking the initiative.

Atty. Gen. Edmund (Pat) Brown, titular head of the party in California, last night scheduled a press conference today, "on a matter of importance in national politics."

There was speculation that sponsors of the conference — all known to be strong advocates of another campaign by Adlai Stevenson — would announce results of a telegram Brown sent to California Democratic leaders inviting them to join in a campaign urging Stevenson to run again.

One possible move by the Stevenson camp may be to prepare the way for entering his name on the June primary election ticket.

Tom Carrell, a Los Angeles businessman who long has backed Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) for president, was in town yesterday talking of doing the same thing for his preferred candidate.

DeSapio, arriving here by air last night, said cautiously that "it's too early to anticipate who will be the strongest Democratic candidate in 1956." But he left no doubt he preferred Harriman, the man for whose election as New York governor he is given as much credit as anyone else.

At the airport, DeSapio remarked that Stevenson "is one of the outstanding leaders of our party," but added: "As are many other qualified candidates in the Democratic party."

Braceros Flow Into Area At Steady Rate; 3,000 Thus Far

By JESS BLAIR

As cotton picking gains momentum, the flow of braceros into this area remains constant. To date around 3,000 have been trucked into Big Spring from the Mexican border, and the big trucks are still running regularly.

The Farm Growers Association has brought in 1,000 to be distributed in a four-county area, according to Cecil Leatherwood, president.

He expects the demand to continue for another two or three weeks. Several communities to the north are just now starting the harvest, and they will need hundreds of workers. Leatherwood said the demand for laborers slowed down temporarily when the wet weather came but was picking up again.

At the Howard County Farm Association, braceros are being brought in two and three times a week from Eagle Pass. A load of 153 workers was brought in Tuesday, and another 121 are due to arrive either tonight or tomorrow.

The association supplies workers for farmers in Nolan, Mitchell, Howard and Glasscock counties, said Benny Pena, manager. They have a few calls from Sterling County, though there is little cotton grown down there. Pena thinks there will be plenty of Mexican Nationals to finish the cotton picking, though occasionally transportation trucks have to wait a day or so at the border for a full load.

He said the present wage was $1.55 for pulling bolls and $2.05 for picking. Not many workers want to pick cotton, he said, if they can pull it, and for this reason the irrigation farmers in Martin County are in immediate need of cotton pickers.

To date the association has brought in around 1,500 braceros.

Besides these two associations and the Texas Harvesting Association which supplies cotton pickers to a 42-county area, a few farmers are beginning to contract their own labor. According to Leon McKinney of the Texas Employment Commission, hardly any grower did this last year. Now there are seven or eight farmers who contract their own laborers and haul them from the border towns.

The supply of native laborers is rather small in this area compared to the increasing number of braceros. Only a few truckloads of natives are coming through Big Spring now, and they usually keep right on going to Lamesa, Lubbock or Muleshoe. Cotton is somewhat better up that way in the irrigation belt, and pickers usually prefer to work in the counties farther north.

One noticeable thing about native laborers this year is that local Big Spring people are picking more cotton than ever before. Bill Williams, the farm labor representative of the TEC, says many families who didn't pick cotton at all last year are now leaving out early every morning for the nearby cotton fields. Also, several crews from farther south have rented houses in North Big Spring and are working in this area.

Williams doubts that there will be much more increase in native laborers, however, as most of those who intend to work are already working.

"It looks like most farmers will have to depend mainly upon the Nationals to get the cotton out," Williams said.

Preacher Denies Raping Girl At Childrens Home

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky. (AP)—John Vogel yesterday took the stand to deny charges of raping a former ward of the children's home he founded in the hills near Corbin, Ky.

Vogel, 45-year-old mountain preacher, testified that he had never forced Ruby Powell, now 19, to have sexual relations with him.

Miss Powell told the Whitley Circuit Court jury Vogel, from the time she was 15 until she left the home last year, had forced her to have intercourse with him against her consent. She said he had warned her not to say anything and threatened to send her to jail for five years if she did.

Vogel, founder and director of the Galilean Children's Home, said Miss Powell had come to the home at the age of 4 and he frequently had to discipline her for violating home regulations. He said this "made hard feelings toward me."

Vogel indicted for rape last April and again in June, pleaded innocent. Miss Powell testified Vogel told her: "Ordinarily this would be wrong for the rest of the world, but not for us, because I have had an unhappy married life."

Vogel and his wife Marguerite separated last February. The former ward said she told Mrs. Vogel and two former employees of the home about the incidents last September and that she left the home Oct. 11, 1954.

The Vogels came to Corbin in the 1930s after Vogel attended the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago and rented a one-room log cabin for $2.50 a month.

They began caring for unwanted and orphaned boys and girls and, in 1939, the Galilean Children's Home was incorporated. The home cared for 82 children last year.

Chinese Claim Americans Told They May Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai was reported today to have told the British at Peiping that all Americans inside China have been notified they have a right to leave.

That goes beyond a Peiping radio broadcast which said yesterday that 47 Americans were free to leave but 19 others had criminal accusations against them.

The broadcast said the cases of the 19 were being examined "one by one according to Chinese legal procedure," and the results would be reported to Con O'Neill, the British charge d'affaires acting as U.S. representative in Peiping in the absence of U.S. recognition of Red China.

Some U.S. officials professed to see in that announcement the possibility the Chinese Communists still may be trying to use the 19 jailed Americans as pawns in the repatriation talks under way since Aug. 1 at Geneva.

If so, that would put the Red Chinese in the position of appearing to back out on their Sept. 10 agreement that Peiping will "adopt appropriate measures so that (the Americans in China) can expeditiously exercise their right to return." The same agreement pledged Red China to give it "wide publicity" so the detained Americans would know their rights.

O'Neill was blocked in his attempt to check with the 18 Americans in jail and one under house arrest. His inquiries to the Peiping regime got no response.

Then after press disclosures last week of this failure to follow through, Chou En-lai met with O'Neill this week and, he reported, told him all of the jailed Americans had been shown copies of the Sept. 10 agreement.

Ike Plans To Meet With Another Cabinet Member Next Saturday

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower will confer Saturday with another Cabinet member — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. Doctors have given their approval.

The session presumably will touch on fading chances of balancing the budget. Administration officials have reluctantly concluded the chances have just about evaporated for this year.

It will be Eisenhower's second meeting with a Cabinet officer since his heart attack Sept. 24. He conferred with Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said physicians found the get-together with Dulles was a morale booster and had no harmful effects.

Atty. Gen. Brownell and "quite a few other people" probably will be arriving at Fitzsimons Army Hospital in the next two or three weeks for conferences with the President, Hagerty said.

Although the doctors have decreed that Eisenhower will remain in the hospital until about Nov. 5 or possibly Nov. 12, they also have agreed that barring complications — he can handle more and more government business.

Hagerty said the meeting with Humphrey will be a business and not a social conference. So it seemed quite likely that budget matters would come up.

On Sept. 29, Secretary of Defense Wilson announced that his department would be unable to save the one billion dollars which Humphrey had hoped for to balance the budget this fiscal year, ending June 30.

Wilson estimates defense spending would total $4 1/2 billion dollars. The administration's original goal was $4 billion.

Shortly after Wilson's announcement, Humphrey said, "a reduction on expenditures which would require alteration of that (basic military) program never was in contemplation."

The prospective deficit for this fiscal year thus remains at about $1,750,000,000.

Indications were the President would spend a quiet day today and quite likely tomorrow in advance of the conference with Humphrey. His top aide, Sherman Adams, was leaving Denver today for a Cabinet meeting in Washington tomorrow—and it is Adams who presents official papers to the Chief Executive for action.

The presidential deputy is scheduled to fly back to Denver Saturday with Humphrey.

The President's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University and sometimes mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate, flew here from the East yesterday and had lunch and still another brief visit with the Chief Executive.

The general feeling here still is that the President, in view of his heart attack, won't consider running for re-election. Hagerty said, however, that the luncheon get-together of the brothers was strictly social with "no politics at all" discussed.

After lunch and then a late afternoon visit with the President, Milton had dinner at the hospital last night with the First Lady, her sister Mrs. Gordon Moore of Washington and their mother Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver. Then the four took in a movie at the hospital auditorium.

The three medical bulletins yesterday said, "The President's condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

3 New Field Locations Staked In Area; Sterling Wildcat Set

A wildcat location in Sterling County will be 11 miles northwest of Sterling City and will try for the Ellenburger at 8,500 feet. The project is Southern Union Gas Company No. 1 Reed.

Three new field locations were staked in the area this morning. Projects were spotted in the Westbrook field of Mitchell County, the Spraberry (Clear Fork) field in Glasscock County, and the Jo Mill pool of Borden County.

Howard County completed three completions this morning. One project was completed in each of the Varel (San Andres), Iatan-East Howard, and Snyder pools. Completions in Mitchell County were reported from the Coleman Ranch and Westbrook fields and a Sterling County completion is in the Parochial Bado (Queen Sand) field.

Borden Midwest No. 1 Miller is in sand and shale at 6,700 feet. This wildcat is nine miles north of Vealmore and is 660 from north and west lines, 24-32-1n, T&P survey.

Dawson Shell No. 1 Clay has total depth of 12,480 feet. A core from the 12,477-80 foot interval recovered four feet of dolomite with some porosity and good shows of four-corners and striae. Operator is preparing another core. This wildcat is 705 from north and 605 from west lines, labor 4, league 267, Moore CSL survey.

Glasscock Texas No. 1-A Hilliger is in lime at 7,200 feet. This wildcat is 660 from north and east lines, 15-36-3a, T&P survey and is 8 1/2 miles north-west of Garden City.

Others in the series include the Dublin Players in "Pygmalion," the Virtuoso di Roma string ensemble, and Mia Slavenska ballet.

Approximately 35 members compose the company of Mexican performers. The singers and dancers were chosen from Mexico's leading artists by means of auditions recently in Mexico City.

Charles Clarks Establish Residence In Big Spring

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Clark, who were married in the First Baptist Church in Big Spring Oct. 8 are now at home at 411 Edwards Boulevard.

The bride is the former Claudette Marie Moore, daughter of Mrs. L. E. Rosser, Rt. 2, and A. B. Moore, Gall Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Clark of Sterling City Route are the parents of the bridegroom.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the church, read the informal double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a basket of pink gladioli flanked with potted palms and fern with white satin streamers.

L. E. Rosser, stepfather of the bride, gave her in marriage. The bride wore a street length dress of sea blue taffeta with three-quarter length sleeves and tiny self-covered buttons down the front of the fitted bodice. The collar and cuffs were of rolled lace. The full skirt was over a tiered underskirt. Her hat was white lace sprinkled with rhinestones.

She carried a white Bible topped with a white gardenia surrounded by feathered carnations.

Mrs. Donnie W. Rowland of Denver City was matron of honor. Her street length dress was of rose velvet with princess lines and a full skirt. Her accessories were black and she carried a colon-fal bouquet of white feathered carnations.

Brother of the groom, George Clark, served as best man.

Following the wedding ceremony, the reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tucker, 1104 Sycamore.

The bride's bouquet was the centerpiece for the refreshment table where Becca Sewell and Mrs. Donald Lester served the three-tiered wedding cake and punch.

Mrs. Don Reed registered the guests.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hawkins of Hart; Mrs. D. W. Griffin, Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Tarter, Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rowland, Denver City.

The bride is attending Forsan High School where she is a senior. Mr. Clark is attending Howard County Junior College and employed with Clark Motor Company.

Catholic Delegates Named For Meeting

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY Lick Weight Problem By Changing Eating Habits

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Kathleen Crowley of the "Waterfront" television series, began her professional career when she was a "Miss America" contest finalist.

"I had a deep desire to be an actress," Kathleen told me when I visited her during a rehearsal, and it came as a wonderful surprise to me when I was chosen to represent "Miss New Jersey" in the "Miss America" contest. I was only a bookkeeper in a small town but I never lost sight of my ambition because I believe that "God helps those who help themselves."

"One should never underestimate the power of mind over matter," she continued. "You can make it work for you in your everyday life. For example, I used to think I couldn't eat anything early in the morning, so I just skipped breakfast. Then when I began working in pictures I discovered I couldn't do a good job on an empty stomach. I had to force myself to start eating breakfast but before long I was enjoying it and now I couldn't do without it."

"I had quite a problem with my weight when I first came to Hollywood — not because I was very much overweight but because I looked heavier on the screen. I diet when I was working, then when it was over I'd relax completely. This meant there was a constant weight battle going on. For a few months my weight would be down — then for the next month or so it would be up."

"It took me a while to learn that the only way to really lick a weight problem is to change your eating habits — not for just a month or two but permanently. Once again I used 'mind over matter' until I was really enjoying healthy foods like eggs, yogurt, salads, meat, vegetables and fruit. I hardly miss sweets and starches at all now," she said.

Kathleen spends a great deal of time in or on the water. She admitted that this was hard on her skin.

"But your complexion is very good," I remarked.

"That's because I take very good care of it," she said. "I make sure I'm covered with lotion when I'm out in the sun, and I'm very strict about my cleansing routine. I used to have bumps under my skin but they've all cleared away since I steam my face every night and use a medicated cream."

"Even though my skin is dry I like to use soap and water. There's a difference if it's a mild soap and the water is soft," she concluded.

Elbow HD Ladies Study Hair Care; See 4-H Style Show

A demonstration on hair styling and a style show by the 4-H Girls were featured on the program for the Elbow Home Demonstration Club Wednesday afternoon.

Hostess for the day was Mrs. Gene Stevens. Roll call was answered with "What's New in Medicine."

The hair care demonstration was by Mrs. Jack McKinnon. The 4-H girls who modeled skirts were Sue Dunagan, Gienna Ruth Box, Jean Yates, Glenda Rutherford and Kathleen Morton. Five other 4-Hers visited the meeting. Mrs. E. B. Low was in charge of the show.

A council report was given by the council delegate, Mrs. J. C. Ray.

Mrs. B. J. Petty, committee chairman, announced the chairman for the year. They are Mrs. Denver Yates, civil defense; Mrs. Ray Shortes, yearbook; Mrs. Ross Hill, finance; Mrs. Morton, exhibits; Mrs. Pearl Cauble, education; Mrs. T. M. Dunagan, citizenship; Mrs. C. P. Sherman, recreation; Mrs. Low, 4-H; Mable Dunagan, health and safety; Mrs. McKinnon, personal service.

Ten members were present. Mrs. Yates will be hostess at the next meeting Oct. 26 at the school.

Child Study Club Hears Wilder Roe

Wilder Roe, vocational guidance counselor of Big Spring High School, spoke on "Criteria For Feeling Successful" Wednesday for members of the Child Study Club.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Akin Simpson, 3707 W. Highway 80, with Mrs. F. D. Williams as co-hostess.

The speaker pointed out that success is what we all are striving for and that while one person feels successful if he accumulates financial wealth, another is dissatisfied with his life if he does not accomplish certain goals set by himself. Success depends on four factors, according to Mr. Roe. These factors are (1) social and economic background of the individual (2) competition (3) habit of success, (4) teaching success.

The speaker stressed the importance of parents teaching success to their children and also of parents realizing the limitations of their child as far as learning ability is concerned.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Roy Barnes was elected to membership and Mrs. Simpson will be parliamentary.

Members were asked to bring stamped pieces of embroidery for the use of patients at the State Hospital to the next meeting. The club will furnish hoops, needles and the thread for the project.

"Developing a More Mature Home Life" will be the subject of the November meeting when Mrs. Clyde Thomas Sr. will be the speaker.

Garden Club Names Committeemen

Four were named on a committee to work on the decorations for the annual flower show when members of the Planters Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. S. P. Jones Wednesday afternoon.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Ennis Cochran, Mrs. U. E. Dickens and Mrs. R. O. Carothers. They will meet and fashion the club's part of the "powder puffs" that each garden club will make for the flower show to be held in the near future.

Plans were made for a rummage sale and announcement was made of an executive meeting slated for Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. W. Dickens.

Mrs. M. T. Kuykendall gave a demonstration on making corsages and the finished products were presented to Mrs. Sonnie Rose, Mrs. Lyndell Ashley, Mrs. J. W. Thayer, Mrs. Elton Arnold, Mrs. Fortson and Mrs. King, all of whom were guests.

78 Members Join Tri Y In Ceremony

Seventy-eight new members were inducted into the Junior Tri-Y in a candlelight ceremony Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist Church.

There was also a rededication service for the old members to resolve to extend throughout the home, school and community a high standard of Christian character.

A total of 118 participated in the ceremony. There were 34 parents and five adult advisors present.

Ninth Grade officers presided at the service. They are Tom Thomas, president; Mary Oliphant, vice president; Sharon Creighton, secretary; Peggy Isaac, treasurer; Carolyn Duckett, chaplain. Mrs. E. B. Cauble is sponsor of the group, and acted in the role of advisor for the ceremony.

A challenging address was given by Bobo Hardy, Grover Good led the closing prayer.

Music for the occasion was by Kay McGibbon. The climax of the ceremony was the girls forming a friendship circle and holding their lighted candles, they sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Scouts Make Projects

Girl Scouts of Troop Six worked on service projects for a conference in January when they met Wednesday afternoon in the Girl Scout Little House.

As they worked, they discussed plans for their camp next spring. The next meeting will be Wednesday yet the same place.

SW/C Gridders Taper Off In Workouts

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference football squads—some behind locked gates—polished trick plays Thursday as they tapered training for their weekend contests.
The trick plays were for the mystification of opponents, edification of the fans, and possible victory. The boys worked hard at it.
With their contest rated the top game of the week for the circuit, Texas A&M's Cadets and Texas Christian's Horned Frogs put a little more hustle in their practice.
TCU was one of the teams working behind locked gates. With everybody reported in good shape by Christian trainer Elmer Brown, Coach Abe Martin's powerhouse, undefeated and little bothered, polished his new offensive and defensive assignments.
And at College Station, the Aggie bosses expressed concern over the Saturday game in Fort Worth. Asst. Coach Phil Cutchin told the Cadets about the sparkling play of Jim Swink, the great TCU back, and added that no Aggie lineman could make the Christian team.

TOP RECEIVER Big 7 Foes Must Watch Burdine

By The Associated Press
Warning to Oklahoma's Sooners: Some of your Big Seven opponents are beginning to come up with players who can give you trouble.
Hank Burnine, the 6-foot-2, 181-pound Missouri end is one. He grabbed eight passes against Southern Methodist last Saturday and became the nation's leading pass receiver. Another is Ted Rhode of Kansas, the No. 1 punter in major college statistics.
NCAA Service Bureau statisticians had to go back 13 years to find another Missouri player holding the lead in any of the individual rankings. That was Bob Strubler, who won the major college scoring championship back in 1920.
Burnine barely got to the top through his splendid performance against SMU. He has caught 17 passes in four games for total gains of 245 yards and two touchdowns. Bill Barnes of Wake Forest is just one behind him with 16 receptions. Then come Roger Ramseler of California and John Breddie of Boston U. with 15 each and Menan Schriever of Texas and John Stewart of Stanford with 14 and Jim Orr of Georgia and Monte Pascoe of Dartmouth with 13.
Orr has the most yardage on pass receptions, 274, and he and six others have caught three touchdowns apiece. Ramseler registered the season's one-game high by catching nine passes against Washington State last Saturday.
Rhode reached the top in punting with four kicks that averaged more than 33 yards against Iowa State last week. His season average is 48.9 yards on nine punts.

Tornadoes Hard Hit By Injuries

LAMESA—Despite the crippled condition of the Golden Tornadoes, their spirit remains high as they prepared to meet Palo Duro here Friday evening at Tornado Stadium. The Tornadoes remain slight favorites in the game.
It was reported that Jerry Jones, who was operated on for a ruptured spleen, would be able to return have been dispelled. He will be out for the remainder of the season. Carl Phelan, fullback, is out with an injured knee. He underwent surgery at Midland, and he will be out for more than a month. Don Beck, guard, is out with a small broken bone in his leg.
Quarterback Doyle Chapman, had a nail ripped from his big toe in the Sweetwater game, but a special protector has been placed on it and coaches hope he will be able to play.

Jones Is Fined In Osorio Case

CARLSBAD, N. M., (AP)—William J. Jones, Carlsbad, today entered a plea of guilty to a reduced charge of assault and battery in the shooting of a Carlsbad baseball player.
Pedro Osorio of the Carlsbad Potashers, Class C Longhorn League member, was shot in the shoulder during a saloon fracas.
Jones, at first charged with assault with a deadly weapon, paid $25 and court costs after the more serious charge was dismissed on a motion by Dist. Atty. Pat Hanagan.

Abilene Double Bill Booked

ABILENE (SC)—Football fans in this Key City of West Texas have one of their richest local grid menus of the year coming up this weekend. The Abilene Eagle-Odesa Bronco clash is slated for Friday night, and the annual Abilene Christian-McMurry battle for Saturday night.
Both games will be played at Abilene's Municipal Stadium, with 8 p.m. kickoffs. Two capacity crowds totaling some 20,000 fans are expected to witness the two grid shows.

That year Rowland and Smith, who both won Little All-American honors, staged a personal offensive duel. Smith outgained Rowland 127 yards to 107, but the McMurrays wound up with a 13-9 victory.
Last year's ACC-McMurry game was almost as close, with the Indians taking a 13-6 decision over the Christians. The two top ground gainers of that encounter were ACC's Paul Goad and McMurry's Elroy Payne. Both of the 185-pound fullbacks are back for their final appearances in the ACC-McMurry rivalry, which dates back to 1930. Abilene Christian has triumphed 13 times and McMurry 9.
McMurry will have a weight advantage of six pounds per man in the backfield, but ACC has the identical advantage in the line. Overall weight averages of the two probable starting lineups are even at 194. McMurry is expected to start six seniors, four juniors and one sophomore. ACC's probable three starters include six seniors, three juniors and two sophomores.

Coach Doug Cox's McMurry starters will likely be ends Tommy Watkins Odesa, and Ezra Corley, Stanton; tackles Charles Mote, Dublin, and Grant Teaff, Snyder; guards Bob Harden, Fort Worth, and David Sullivan, Woodson; center Bill Houston, Herleigh; quarterback Joe Bill Fox, Fort Worth; fullback Elroy Payne, Ballinger; and halfbacks Weldon Brevard, Ballinger, and Buddy Fornes, Winters.

Big State's Gate In Slight Drop

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Big State League showed an attendance drop of only 47,656 although it had to finish the last half with only six clubs, league President Howard Green said today.

Aggies Get Greatest Test In Fort Worth Saturday

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Aggies, on the comeback trail under the expert guidance of Paul (Bear) Bryant, get their greatest test here Saturday when they lash at mighty Texas Christian in the feature of Southwest Conference football.
This is it—the chips are down and the youthful and sophomore Aggies will know by sunset Saturday if they are a year early.
Texas Christian rides high, wide, undefeated and united and is rated seventh nationally to nineteenth for the Aggies. The Horned Frogs will be heavily favored, but this is a conference game and anything can happen and usually does when the boys start playing for keeps in this tight little league.
TCU wishes it had a larger stadium. The biggest crowd ever to see a football game in Fort Worth already is assured—there will be a 35,000 sellout.

Floyd Patterson Heavily Favored At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Brooklyn's Floyd Patterson, at 20 the nation's No. 1 challenger for the world light-heavyweight title, is heavily favored to make his local debut a winning one tonight in a bout with Cal Ford of Los Angeles at the Olympic Auditorium.
The fighters are expected to weigh in at around 175 pounds. The match is billed for 18 rounds but Patterson is expected to stretch his unbeaten 1935 knockout string to eight.
Patterson has a 20-0 record and few expect him to give the 1932 Olympic games champion much more than a workout. Patterson's pilot, Constantino D'Amato, makes it plain that he is bringing the tall, well-built fighter along slowly and carefully.

This is Floyd's first appearance here but he has shown twice in San Francisco, knocking out Eazo Ferdinand and Dave Whitlock.
Patterson has lost but one bout to 27. This was a decision to Joey Maxim in Floyd's 14th pro fight.

Hutchinson Is Cardinal Boss

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Frank Lane says he picked Fred Hutchinson as 1936 field leader of the St. Louis Cardinals because "he did a helluva job with kids in Detroit and our future is based on youngsters."
Lane said the big, square-jawed former pitcher, signed to a two-year contract yesterday, was "in my book" the American League Manager of the Year in 1934 because of the fine job he did with young players.
Coach George Sauer talked like the Bears might be in top shape physically for the Washington game.
Southern Methodist's Mustangs, also working behind locked gates, went through their third day of stiff scrimmaging Wednesday and took it easier Thursday. They play Rice in Dallas Saturday.
SMU Coach Woody Woodard seemed concerned over the Ponies' lack of hustle and said, "I've told them a thousand times that extra bit of effort makes the difference."
At Houston, Coach Jess Neely announced a change in the Rice lineup and indicated there may be more Thursday. He put the Owls through their roughest practice session Wednesday in preparation for the Mustangs and Tommy Strassus held right guard over Lew Harpold a second straight day.
Texas, despite a doleful day in the air last week against Oklahoma, clung to pass attack as its chief weapon against Arkansas' Razorbacks in Little Rock Saturday.
Joe Clements, the nation's leading passer, and two underdogs—Dick Miller and Charley Brewer—passed most of the day Wednesday to five receivers who rank with the best in the circuit. The Longhorns suffered five interceptions in the game with the Razorbacks a year ago—and lost the ball the same number of times last week against the Sooners.

Forsan Grid Game Is Moved Back

FORSAN (SC)—This week's District 7-B six-man football clash in Forsan between the resident Buffs and Water Valley has been moved back to Saturday night due to Homecoming festivities.
All ex-students of the school have been invited to take part in the program, which will open with a barbecue at 4 p.m.
Tickets for the barbecue will be available at the School Cafeteria door at $1 each. The ducaats also admit the holder to the game itself.

Yearlings Try Lamesans In 7:30 Game Tonight

Steer Stadium will be the scene of action tonight of a football clash between the Ninth Grade Yearlings of Big Spring and Jack Wetzel's Lamesa Junior High club. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Eagles Poised For Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles, the big disappointment in the National Football League's Eastern Division race, clash here Saturday night with the division's biggest surprise, the Pittsburgh Steelers, in what shapes up as a "make-or-break" game for both.
At stake is a real chance as a contender for the division title.
Gruff Walt Kiesling, Steeler coach, flatly refused to predict a win to add to his gridders' 2-1 record.
The Eagles' Jim Trimble said his team must win every game from here on and he plans to start with Pittsburgh. The Eagles have three so far.
Big Kies, perhaps a mite wary of overconfidence on the part of his Steelers, had high praise for the Eagles.
"Pete Pinos, Bobby Walston and Skippy Giancaneli, they're all excellent receivers," he said, "and Adrian Burk and Bob Thomason are two quarterbacks who equal in ability anyone we've got. If one of them has an off-day, there's always the other."
Noting that the Eagles have only five rookies, compared to the Steelers' 15, Kiesling said: "We needed a lot of help over last year's club. The rookies might be the answer. Some of them are real good, and some still need a lot of experience."

Harry Todd Winner At Preston Hollow

DALLAS (AP)—A 36-hole score of 133 by Harry Todd, Dallas, won the $5,000 Preston Hollow Open Golf Tourney here yesterday. He led second-place Bill Trombley, another Dallas man, by one stroke to take the $1,000 first prize.
The top scores and winnings are: Harry Todd, Dallas, 69-66-135, $1,000.
Bill Trombley, Dallas, 65-71-136, $700.
Frank Wharton, Dallas, 69-65-137.
Byron Nelson, Roanoke, 71-69-139.
Bobby Cupit, Dallas, 68-72-140, $300.
Elroy Marti, Houston, 71-69-140, $300.
Jack Mann, Brownfield, 71-69-140, $300.

The Yearlings are regarded as one of the finest teams ever to represent the Junior High School here. Lamesa defeated Plainview and lost to Snyder in its only starts to date.
Big Spring will again lean heavily upon such boys as Wayne Fields, Benny McCrary, Buddy Barnes and J. B. Davis to supply its offensive power. Roger Flowers and Bill French will again be at the controls.
Lamesa has built its attack around Larry Marshall, a 126-pounder; and the 143-pound Eddie Peterson.
Lamesa can field a fairly heavy line, with such boys as the 175-pound Grant Holladay and the 170-pound Kenneth Goolbsy to man positions.
The two teams play a return game in Lamesa Nov. 17.

Farquhar To Play In Cup Matches

LUBBOCK (SC)—Texas Tech sophomore John Farquhar, one of 16 Texas amateur golfers chosen, will enter the Texas Cup matches at Northwood Country Club in Dallas this week.
Farquhar will play in a program Friday night, doubles competition Saturday, and singles Sunday. An Amarillo High School graduate, Farquhar last year paced an all-freshman Red Raider golf team to the Border Conference championship.

Teachers Unit Sets Two-Day Meet Here

Annual convention of West Texas Business Teachers Association is to be held here Oct. 21-22 at the Settes, Harold Vail, Big Spring, announced Thursday.

The association is composed of business teachers from the high schools and colleges within the West Texas area. All business teachers are invited to attend the convention, and all that is required is that they send in a request for reservations for the two meals to Vail.

Program for the meeting is built around the theme of meeting the demands of the modern business world. A dinner is scheduled for 7:15 p.m. on Oct. 21 with Robert E. Slaughter, vice president of Gregg Publishing Company, New York, as speaker. Slaughter will talk on "The Employer's Measure of Our Graduates." Dr. Ruth I. Anderson, professor at North Texas State College, will speak on "What's Wrong with Business Education in Texas," when she addresses the Oct. 22 luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Three meetings are scheduled for the morning of Oct. 22, and they include:

Accounting at 8:30 a.m., Dr. Ike Harrison, dean School of Business, Texas Christian University, speaker. His topic will be "The Basics Needed by Students to Enable Them to Reach Top Level Positions."

Machines at 10:15 a.m., L. Millard Collins, educational consultant IBM, Dallas, speaker. His topic is to be "Machines—A Necessity in Modern Business."

Secretarial at 11 a.m. with Robert E. Slaughter as speaker. His topic is to be "Those Business Subjects—A Must."

Numbers of machine companies from the West Texas area will have exhibits of their latest machines and supplies.

Officers of the association are Harold Vail, Howard County Junior College, president; Mrs. Dean S. Box, HCJC, vice president; Mrs. Betty L. Ratliff, Big Spring High School, secretary; Mrs. Marjorie Hendrie, Phillips High School, chairman secretarial division; G. A. Murphey, Wayland College of Plainview, chairman of accounting; Mrs. Angie C. Vail, HCJC, chairman of machines section.

INTEGRATION 'SMOOTH' AT NORTH WARD

Racial integration is being accomplished in the Big Spring school system without a single problem having arisen.

Seven Negro students are enrolled at the formerly all-white North Ward School. No disturbance of any kind has been reported. W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of city schools, told trustees.

Three Negro youths are members of the North Ward football team and have played against boys from other elementary schools. No static has resulted. Athletic Director Carl Coleman said.

The North Ward P-TA also has both white and Negro members and is pushing its program without incident. A committee of the P-TA unit meeting with the school board Tuesday included members of both races.

Bob Mead Attends Baking Exposition

Bob Mead, manager of Mead's Bakeries in Big Spring, has been attending the 1955 Baking Industry Exposition in Atlantic City, N. J.

The exposition, staged in the world's largest convention building, permits visitors to observe newly developed equipment for baking and packaging. Other sessions dealt with baking and packaging techniques.

Approximately 20,000 bakery officials and representatives took part in the exposition which was sponsored by the American Bakers Association and the Baker Equipment Mfg. Association. Among speakers were Ezra T. Benson, secretary of agriculture, Sen. John T. Bricker, and Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, noted pastor and lecturer.

Board Says Tax Inequities Found On City, School Rolls

The city-school tax equalization board has told school and municipal officials it found some taxing inequities on both city and school rolls.

The board was unable to correct the inequities, due to the short period in which it had to work, members said in letters to city and school officials.

A revaluation is order on some buildings in the business district, as well as on some land in the city and school district. This is because of the rapid growth of the area in recent years, the equalization board said.

In addition to a revaluation of properties in the city limits, the board suggested that the school district make a new survey of all property in its boundaries outside the city. There probably is some taxable property that is not on the school's rolls, the letter said. Board members—Lawrence Robinson, George O'Brien and Worth Peeler—said their suggestions were not intended as criticism of city or school tax officials.

School officials agreed to again contact city authorities on a proposal for joint revaluation of taxable properties. The two groups decided tentatively on such a course last winter after a meeting with county officials concerning a county-wide revaluation. County commissioners declined to participate.

Pat Murphy, school business manager, suggested that a representative of the school tax office might also make a survey of properties during the spring when other tax department work isn't as pressing as at present.

Lakeview School 'Open House' Set

Big Springers will have an opportunity to inspect the new Lakeview High School Sunday, Oct. 23.

An open house will be held at the Negro high school from 2 to 5 p.m. on that date, the Big Spring School Board decided this week.

The new school went into operation for the first time this fall. School board members who have inspected the structure said it is one of the finest school buildings they have ever seen. A brief program will be presented in the auditorium of the $300,000 school at 2 p.m. Oct. 23. The open house will follow. Professor Robert J. Walker, Lakeview principal, will be in charge of the program. Tours will be conducted throughout the plant.

Ike-Dulles Talk Shows U. S. Set For Big 4 Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomats today viewed President Eisenhower's sickbed talk with Secretary of State Dulles as a dramatic bid to emphasize the absence of any U.S. foreign policy lag on the eve of the Big Four conference.

Dulles flew back to Washington Tuesday night after a 25-minute discussion of eight key points with Eisenhower at Denver. The secretary described Eisenhower's suggestions as "extremely helpful."

More tangibly, the conference produced Eisenhower's interim reply to a letter from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin which had criticized Eisenhower's proposal to swap U.S. and Russian military data as a step toward disarmament.

But an underlying purpose of the trip was described by diplomatic sources as an effort to:

1. Allay Western fears that Dulles will be in a weakened position at the Oct. 27 foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva on account of Eisenhower's relaxed hold on the reins of leadership as he recovers from his Sept. 24 heart attack.

2. Head off any Russian attempt to blame Eisenhower's illness and consequent loss of close contact with foreign affairs as the reason for any East-West disagreements at Geneva.

Dulles appeared anxious at a news conference he held in Denver Tuesday to underscore Eisenhower's role in their bedside chat. It was just like any other foreign policy talk with the President, he said.

Aside from the Bulganin letter, Dulles said he talked with Eisenhower about preparations for the Big Four meeting. But he would not say anything about the six other points he said had been taken up with the President.

It was reported, however, six other potentially critical problems of primary concern to Dulles at this time include:

1. Asst. Secretary George V. Allen's report on the troubled Middle East. Allen came back

Double Service

Governor Allan Shivers Thursday not only proclaimed September, October and November as United Community campaign months, but he set a pattern for all Texans when he made his pledge to the Austin United Fund at the time he signed the proclamation. Standing behind Gov. Shivers is George Boyd, president of the Texas Association of Chests, Funds, and Councils, and accepting the governor's pledge is Fred Catterall Jr., president of the Austin United Fund.

Friday from a rush trip to Cairo where he talked with Egyptian leaders who contracted to buy arms from Communist Czechoslovakia.

2. Dep. Asst. Secretary Robert D. Murphy's report on his talks with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Tito has complained that U.S. officials are too bossy in administering U.S. military aid inside Yugoslavia.

3. Communist progress in identifying communism with Asian-African opposition to colonialism.

4. France's North African difficulties.

5. U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson's efforts, in negotiations with the Red Chinese at Geneva, to win freedom for 19 Americans still imprisoned inside China.

6. Greek-Turkish quarrels over independence of the island of Cyprus from Britain.

Iran Lines Up Officially With Middle East Defense Alliance

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran lined up officially today with the Western-backed Middle East defense alliance, closing a major gap in the anti-Communist world's defense chain south of the Soviet Union.

The Iranian government announced its adherence to the Baghdad Pact, which already unites Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan and Britain in a mutual defense agreement.

With Iran, the Middle Eastern group forms a solid land belt from the Mediterranean to the Himalayas. The North Atlantic Alliance extends the chain on across southern and western Europe, the Atlantic and North America.

Premier Hussein Ala announced he had sent a Foreign Ministry official to the Baghdad headquarters of the Middle East pact with a note advising that the Iranian government would submit its adherence to the treaty to Parliament for ratification.

Approval of both houses of Parliament is necessary, but the Shah's strong support of the treaty was believed to assure its ratification.

Opening the Senate Oct. 8, the ruler said: "It is fitting that my government take the necessary steps and precautions for the defense of our frontiers as well as for safeguarding the rights of our country."

One informed source said Iran would formally announce its joining the alliance "before the Geneva conference" of the Big Four foreign ministers, scheduled to open Oct. 27. The timing, said the source, stemmed from an "obvious" reason—presumably a desire to strengthen the hands of the Western Big Three at the parley.

Iranian adherence to the pact is certain to arouse the ire of her Soviet neighbors on the north.

They Take Time—But They're Pretty

Mrs. Jo Clark is shown holding a tray of canapés that take hours to make but make a definite hit at teas. With just a few basic tricks and much ingenuity several different designs can be fashioned.

Attractive Canapés Require Steady Hand

If you have a lot of patience, a steady hand, plenty of time and a sharp knife, Mrs. Jo Clark says anyone can make the attractive canapés she turns out.

Our cook for today learned how to make these dainties from magazines and by practicing. She says the coloring in the cheese helps to bring out the color in the breads that are used for the checkerboards.

For a recent entertainment at the Elks Club here Mrs. Clark and several helpers made an attractive assortment of the open faced sandwiches for the tea. The women worked from 10 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. spreading, cutting, rolling and slicing the bread for the refreshments. This, however, was a short time compared to two years ago when she and one other worked ten hours making the little sandwiches for the district convention of the BPOE.

Many attractive variations can be made by cutting the breads with novel shaped cookie cutters, spreading with the different mixes and garnishing with pickles, olives, both stuffed and ripe. The more difficult ones are the checkerboards and pinwheels.

Checkerboards
Spread 2 slices of white bread and 2 of whole wheat with butter or margarine. Spread the 2 white and one whole wheat with softened creamed cheese and pile alternately. Trim crusts, wrap in waxed paper and place in the refrigerator. When thoroughly chilled, cut in 1/4-inch slices and spread with butter or margarine and stack the slices 4 high. Alternate when stacking so the white stripe is on top of the dark to give the checkerboard effect when cut. Wrap tightly in waxed paper and chill again. Slice the bread into 1/4 inch sandwiches with a very sharp knife so that layers do not separate while being cut.

hold while cutting. Cut lengthwise into 1/4 inch strips. Spread slices with butter or margarine. Spread slices with deviled ham, tuna or other mixtures. Just in from the end, place sweet pickles or olives. Roll tightly and chill for about 2 hours.

Cut each roll into 1/4 inch slices and arrange them on the tray so the pickles and olive centers show. Mr. and Mrs. Clark have three children, Richard, Stephanie, and Mike. The two older ones are in school at Washington Elementary and their mother finds time to work as room mother. This year she is president of the BPOE which has curtailed her other activities.

To make the family complete are King, the dog, and Peanuts, the parakeet, who doesn't say a word regardless of how hard the other members of the family try to teach him.

After School Snacks Need Party Spirit

When the neighborhood crowd gathers after school, the treat needs a party spirit.

ICE CREAM CHARIOTS
To make the family complete are block of pre-packaged ice cream on serving platter. Decorate top with shredded coconut and small candies. For wheels, stick chocolate mint patties on the sides of the block; put one, two or three pairs of animal cookies in front. The animals will be placed in pairs before the ice cream chariot, to look as though they were pulling it. The cookies are placed upright in a small mound of confectioners' sugar frosting.

Oftentimes the party spirit can be extended into a supper-time dessert.

PEACH MELBA
1 No. 2½ can peaches
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1-3 cup raspberry or strawberry syrup

Divide drained peach slices among six dessert dishes, reserving syrup for fruit punch or gelatin. At dessert-time top peaches with scoop of vanilla ice cream. Drizzle raspberry or strawberry syrup over top of rack. (Note: One or two tablespoons white cream de menthe or cointreau stirred into the raspberry syrup adds a different flavor.)

PINK MINT ICE CREAM SURPRISE
1 6 oz. package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
3 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1-3 cup soda cracker crumbs
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 quart peppermint stick ice cream

Melt chocolate pieces in top of double boiler over hot water. Remove from heat; cool for 10 minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, and beat until egg whites are stiff and glossy. Fold in chocolate, crumbs and flavorings. Drop by small spoonfuls in a circle on brown paper on baking sheet or heap into high mound and hollow out top with back of spoon. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Remove immediately; cool. Fill with peppermint stick ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

Filling Casseroles Make Entire Meal

With filling casseroles, big enough for second servings, a homemaker needs little else aside from a tossed or fruit salad, bread, beverage and dessert. The following recipes have been adapted to two-people eating, but the helpings will be large.

QUICK BACON NOODLE CASSEROLE
1 cup noodles
4 slices bacon, halved
One-eighth cup bacon drippings
1/2 clove garlic
1/2 cup minced onions
1 cup canned tomatoes
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
One-eighth cup grated Parmesan cheese

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Cook noodles as package directs; drain. Meanwhile, in skillet, cook bacon until crisp; remove. Pour off drippings into cup; then measure one-eighth cup back into skillet, add garlic; cook 2 or 3 minutes; remove. Add onion; cook until tender. Then add tomatoes and next 4 ingredients; cook 8 to 10 minutes. Pour into casserole. Add noodles with bacon; toss well. Bake 30 minutes, covered.

Mince Meat Is Favorite Of Father

Mince meat, which once was the most laborious food to prepare and seemingly defied hasty cooks, today holds a distinctive place as a modern convenience food, thanks to food processing techniques.

A time-honored food of English origin brought to our shores in early Colonial days it took not hours, but days to prepare. Today it is one of the most popular instant preparation foods in the American home.

Mince meat is instantly ready for use at the flip of the container lid—or, within one minute when purchased in condensed form. Either way, its ingredients are skillfully blended and it remains for the consumer to choose the preferred type.

Home economists used the ready-to-use mince meat to simplify preparation of Father's Favorite Mince Meat Filling, and simplicity is particularly appealing to male cooks. The man at your house, or his bachelor brother will be pleased with the compliments they receive when guests taste this gourmet like treat. Watercress, orange halves (plain, or broiled) topped with canned spicy red crabapples make an edible and colorful garnish.

FATHER'S FAVORITE-MINCE FILLING
(Makes filling for a 6 pound duck)
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup minced parsley
1 small clove garlic, finely minced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3/2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 1-3 cups mince meat
1/2 cup orange juice or cranberry juice cocktail

Melt butter in small skillet. Add onions; sauté until tender. Add parsley, garlic, salt, pepper and onion to bread crumbs. Add mince meat and fruit juice; mix lightly to combine ingredients. Stuff duck with filling. Roast according to favorite method.

SAUERKRAUT AND FRANKFURTER PASTRIES
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
Two-thirds cup shortening
One-third cup grated processed American cheese
One-third cup cold water
8 frankfurters (about 1 pound)
1 cup drained sauerkraut, cut fine
Sift flour and salt into a bowl; add shortening and cut in with pastry blender or knives until pieces are the size of small peas. Stir in grated cheese; mix

American Hot Dog Lends Itself To Many Dishes

Be it circus, beach, backyard or supper table, the hot dog is traditionally American.

They originate perhaps in Germany but the uses and popularity of the frankfurter, wiener or hot dog, depending on which term you use, belong strictly to this country.

They lend themselves to various cooking methods. Since they are a ready cooked meat, they may be served either cold or hot. If you buy a pound, you usually will get 7 to 8 hot dogs. They may be heated by broiling, boiling or dipped in corn meal batter and fried. Cold, they are sliced crosswise into bite size portions for the hearty addition to tossed vegetable or kidney bean salads. They also can be stuffed or served with rich, spicy sauces.

BOILED FRANKFURTERS
12 frankfurters
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
12 slices bacon
24 toothpicks

Slit frankfurters in half, lengthwise, but not so completely as to flatten them. Mix together mayonnaise and mustard; blend well. Fill the slit frankfurters with mixture. Wrap each filled one with 1 slice bacon; hold on broiler rack in broiler pan under unit so frankfurters are about 3 to 4 inches from unit. Broil 4 to 5 minutes, turn and broil 2 minutes longer. Remove toothpicks and serve in frankfurter buns. Makes 6 servings.

BARBECUED HOT DOGS
8 hot dogs
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
One-third cup catsup
3 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Few drops Tabasco sauce
Place hot dogs in a greased 11 x 7 x 1 1/2-inch baking pan. Combine onion, sugar, paprika, salt, pepper, catsup, water, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco sauce. Pour over frankfurters. Bake in 400 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

TOMATO-FRANKFURTER RAREBIT
8 frankfurters
6 tablespoons margarine
1/4 cup flour
1 cup milk
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1/2 cup shredded cheese
One-third teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
6 frankfurter rolls
Margarine for spreading
Slice frankfurters 1/4-inch thick. Melt margarine in saucepan. Add flour, stirring smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring until thickened. Add tomatoes, stirring, then cheese. Stir until sauce is thickened and cheese is melted. Add salt and pepper. Fold in frankfurter slices. Heat thoroughly, then keep hot over gentle heat while toasting rolls. Split frankfurter rolls and spread with margarine. Toast under broiler until golden brown. Pour rarebit over rolls and serve at once. Crisp radishes and celery and extra rolls are good with this. Makes 6 servings.

SAUERKRAUT AND FRANKFURTER PASTRIES
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
Two-thirds cup shortening
One-third cup grated processed American cheese
One-third cup cold water
8 frankfurters (about 1 pound)
1 cup drained sauerkraut, cut fine
Sift flour and salt into a bowl; add shortening and cut in with pastry blender or knives until pieces are the size of small peas. Stir in grated cheese; mix

Jiffy Frostings

Cake frostings can be made quickly and without any trouble with these simple recipes.

Easy-To-Make Frostings Take Only Four Minutes

As any cake-eater will testify, frosting makes the cake. But suppose making the frosting seems a troublesome task. Then help yourself to these quick and easy recipes for homemade frostings. Takes only four minutes and there is no cooking.

These frostings are ready in a jiffy, yet you have that wonderful, true flavor that only homemade frosting can contribute to a cake. There are only five ingredients in the basic recipe, so easily combined that directions are almost unnecessary.

The velvety-smooth, creamy texture of the frosting transforms "just cake" into a mouth-watering vision of beauty; and beauty follows through with delicious homemade flavor.

QUICK 'N EASY' 4-MINUTE BUTTER FROSTING
1-3 cup soft butter
Pinch of salt
3 cups sifted Imperial Confectioners Powdered Sugar
1/4 cup milk or cream
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Cream thoroughly butter, salt and 1 cup sugar until light and fluffy. Add remaining sugar and milk, alternately, blending until smooth and of spreading consistency. Add vanilla. Fill and frost top and sides of two 9-inch layers. To bring out the cake's finest flavor, choose the frosting variation that is most flattering to the cake.

CHOCOLATE BUTTER FROSTING
Add 3 squares melted unsweetened chocolate to butter.
LEMON BUTTER FROSTING
Use lemon juice for milk. Omit vanilla.
COFFEE BUTTER FROSTING
Add 1/4 teaspoon instant coffee powder.
ORANGE BUTTER FROSTING

easy, simplified recipe:
7-MINUTE WHITE FROSTING
3 tablespoons hot water
1 cup sifted Imperial Confectioners Powdered Sugar
1 unbeaten egg white
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
Blend sugar and water; boil in covered pan until sugar dissolves. In small mixing bowl, place remaining ingredients. Add hot syrup; beat at high speed until frosting is of spreading consistency (3 to 4 minutes). Beat in vanilla. Frost tops of two 9-inch layers. For large cake, double above ingredients except cream of tartar and vanilla.

Spice Discovery

Columbus was in search of a shorter route to the oriental sources of precious spices when he found the New World.

Market Tip

Don't let anyone tell you that fresh mushrooms are always supposed to be cooked only a few minutes and that they should be kept white looking. The longer the cooking the more flavor they seem to have. And if your food market offers a bargain because a basket of mushrooms look darkened and a bit wrinkled, grab it. Flavorwise, those withered-looking blackened mushrooms are all to the good. We've often been thanked by cooks whom we advised to seek them out!

Oklahoma Territory

Oklahoma's Governor Raymond Gary prepares to stake out a claim in New York's theatrical district with the help of Manhattan Borough President Hulan Jack. Governor Gary led a delegation of his state's bigwigs to town for ballyhoo highjinks in connection with the film, "Oklahoma," adapted from the highly successful Broadway musical.

New 8-Engine B52 Passes All Tests Thus Far

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. — The new B52 eight-engine bomber, star of an Air Force demonstration of might, has passed all its tests thus far, officials said. The swept-wing bomber was shown to 6,000 persons at this northwest Florida base yesterday as part of a presentation of the Air Force's best planes. It is being delivered to Strategic Air Command forces on a full production basis by the Boeing Aircraft Corp., the Air Force said. An F85F and the B57, American (Martin) counterpart of the British Canberra, both demonstrated "loss bombing." In this hit-and-run technique, 500-pound bombs are lobbed into the air above and ahead of the plane, which scoots away before the explosion.

Diary Testifies To Unsuccessful Fight For Survival

EL CENTRO, Calif. — A diary, twisted plane wreckage and the undrinkable waters of the Gulf of California testified today to the unsuccessful fight for survival of a 21-year-old pilot who crashed in Mexico last Sept. 18. The Civil Aeronautics Administration said that Clifford Shinn, of Los Angeles, reported that he found the body of Aviation Machinist's Mate 3-C William E. Falls, 21, near his smashed small plane. D. W. Crisp, a CAA official here, said Shinn found a diary at the scene that indicated Falls was unhurt in the crash about 35 miles south of San Felipe.

Uncle Ray: Settlers Complained About Columbus

By RAMON COFFMAN

History textbooks often end the story of Columbus too quickly. After telling about his discovery of the Bahama Islands, they speak little of his later life — except to relate that he was taken back to Spain in chains, and died in poverty at Valladolid, Spain.

Q. Where is Valladolid? A. In north-central Spain. The present population is about 125 thousand. This city was the Spanish capital during the time of Columbus. The royal family moved the court to Madrid 54 years after the death of Columbus. Q. Why was Columbus taken back to Spain in chains? A. As a seaman, Columbus was one of the best of his time, ranking with Vasco da Gama and Magellan. As a director of government, he was far from skillful. For a time he served as governor of Hispaniola (pronounced "HIS-pan-YO-juh"). There were many complaints from the settlers. Some of them foolishly grew angry because they were getting rich too slowly, despite their Indian slaves. Complaints of various types were carried to the royal court in Spain. King Ferdinand cared little for Columbus, and seemed glad to have an excuse to punish him. Queen Isabella was fond of the great admiral, but she was troubled because he had allowed Indian slavery on Haiti.

A new governor, Bobadilla, was sent to the island. Quickly he placed Columbus and his brother under arrest, and ordered them to be put in chains and taken aboard a vessel. In disgrace they were transported to Spain. The royal couple released the brothers, after they were brought ashore in Spain, but never again was Christopher Columbus given control of any part of the Spanish Empire.

Q. Did Columbus ever see South America? A. The evidence seems clear that he saw the coast of what is now Venezuela. It is doubtful, however, that he made an actual landing on that coast.

Clergyman Hits $8,000 Mark On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — A jazz-loving clergyman shared the spotlight on The $64,000 Question CBS television and radio show Tuesday as time limitations nudged out a baseball expert for another week.

The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, rector of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Oxford, Ohio, won $8,000 in his chosen category of jazz, which he has been studying for a number of years.

He had advanced through $128 last week when time ran out. Last night he advanced through a number of questions, some of which required the playing of records and consumed considerable time. On the $8,000 question he identified a 1925 recording as "St. Louis Blues" composed by W. C. Handy, sung by Bessie Smith, with Louis Armstrong as trumpet accompanist.

The Rev. Mr. Kershaw, 35, will appear on the program next Tuesday night to announce whether he will take his $8,000 or try the $16,000 question.

Appearing after the clergyman, Patrick Keough, 65-year-old St. Louis businessman, announced he would try the $32,000 question in his baseball category.

Master of ceremonies Hal March started to read a question—five minutes before the end of the program. An aide interrupted to say that time was up. Keough said he would return next Tuesday night to try the $32,000 question. Then came the windup commercial for the cosmetic firm which sponsors the show.

Don E. Self Jr., 24-year-old physician from El Paso, Tex., was kept off the program by time limitations. He is scheduled to be announced next week whether he will try the $18,000 question in his mythology category.

450 Die In Floods

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Official sources said today some 450 persons died during the devastating floods last week in the north Indian states of Punjab and the Patiala Princely Union.

The Truth Hurts

CLEVELAND (AP)—Today's housewife works much harder than her grandma did. Mrs. Davis Whitfield, Ohio director of home economics said yesterday. She gave this example: "It was easier for Grandma to make an iron kettleful of soap than for us to do the thinking required in making decisions about which of the many kinds of soap we should buy."

Ex-Mental Patient Held In Shooting Of Prosecutor

ASHDOWN, Ark. —Prosecutor R. Corker Thomas, 40, was shot to death in front of the Little River County Jail here last night, and a former mental patient whom Thomas was sending to jail was arrested on an open charge.

Sheriff Aubrey Thrash said a murder charge would be filed against 67-year-old Spence Furlow, who lived alone on a small farm three miles outside this small southwest Arkansas town.

Thomas was shot in the heart with a .22-caliber revolver. Thrash said Furlow fired two other shots into a group of men standing nearby, but no one else was injured.

The sheriff said Furlow was committed to the state hospital for the mentally ill at Little Rock from 1936 to 1940.

Thomas had ordered Furlow jailed on grounds that he had threatened several townspeople with a shotgun. The sheriff said that when he took Furlow's arm to lead him to jail, Furlow pulled a pistol and fired at the prosecutor.

A Bible Thought For Today

And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men. (Matt. 4:19)

Editorial

Make Our Levelland Friends Welcome

On Friday evening Big Spring will entertain many visitors from Levelland who will have come here for the meeting of the high school football teams of the two cities.

this game. This, as always, resulted from misunderstanding and from fans flocking on the field before the game had been terminated.

Some Great Things Are Ahead

The turbo car is on the way. In ten years, say the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, a jet-powered turbine will make the wheels go round.

We keep all those left-overs? Long-term weather forecasting will be more reliable, says Changing Times. "On a Monday you'll be told what the weather will be like on Saturday and be able to count on it."

Political Amity

Former President Harry Truman, about as staunch a Democrat as they come, greets Republican Senator Homer E. Capehart, of Indiana, right, after a chance meeting aboard the liner United States in New York. Truman was on hand to greet his daughter, Margaret, who returned from a European trip. Senator Capehart returned from Europe aboard the same liner. A newsman is at the center rear.

France Facing One Of Toughest Years

PARIS (AP)—France faces one of the toughest years of its postwar history—its house politically divided, strikes spreading, its soldiers sometimes mutinous, its budget balanced by foreign aid, and a small war on its hands. It would seem enough to discourage even a country long used to discouraging situations. But if there is any public evidence of discouragement it is hard to see. France's annual automobile show is perhaps the most eagerly attended ever, with special emphasis on French cars. The Paris theater season is booming, having started off with "L'Amour Fou" (Mad With Love), the comic story of a high-level man falling for a second-level dame.

Paris is so full of automobiles—for the most part of French make—that traffic movement has become well nigh impossible. French production is increasing and the export position improving. All these showy things point to an economy which is normally rich enough to survive long periods of bad times.

France had one of her most severe rebuffs when the United Nations overrode her protests and inscribed the Algerian problem on the list of subjects for debate this session. It came at a time when many Frenchmen thought they were doing not too badly on the North African front. They had this year given a large degree of home rule to Tunisia. After many a fumble, they had indicated a disposition to do the same for Morocco.

These two countries are "protectorates," where France technically is only a protective foreign power, although in fact she has run both countries.

Algeria is a different kettle of fish, and it is for this reason the French are so bitter. Algeria was taken away from the Turks in 1830 and there was no local government there to be "protected." Algeria was annexed. It became to France somewhat like the Louisiana Purchase to the United States. Her soldiers subdued it, her explorers traced out every stream and gully, and finally her farmers and investors went in.

Some of France's correspondents, particularly those writing in New York, thought perhaps France went a little too far in pulling its delegation out of the U.N. Assembly. But there was no similar reaction in the home offices of French papers. With the exception of the Communist papers, they approved the walkout.

Moreover, there was some criticism of the role played by the United States in the U.N. France's Soin's correspondent wrote, "The French delegation walked away from Cabot Lodge, for having made a speech too soft" in opposing the vote on Algeria.

While North Africa is France's most dramatic problem—what with a small-scale war going on in the dangerous Riff country—there are other problems.

Pierre Pujade, leader of a tax strike by small merchants, has a following troublesome to any government, even though he is being sued for inciting nonpayment of taxes.

Two groups of reserves, called up for North African duty, mutinied briefly. Prices are climbing with consequent labor unhappiness reflected in strikes, especially in heavy industry.

On top of that, France's age-old trouble of an unstable central government continues to plague the country. Only by the most skillful maneuvering did Premier Edgar Faure avoid being thrown out of office last weekend. And he faced immediately a new and tough battle—debate over Algeria. Surviving that will only bring him face to face with economic problems, any one of which could be used as a device for unseating him.

Bootblacks Rarity In Industrial Poland
WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The hardest-thing to find today in Communist Poland is a shoeshine. There are no bootblacks. It's not because everyone is too proud to shine shoes. The answer is the tipoff to Poland's economy. Now an industrial state for the first time in its history, Poland simply has too few workers for the ambitious goal ahead. One doesn't hunt for work here; it hunts for him. Having taken the German industrial plants of Silesia, the Poles have gradually shifted from a purely agricultural country to one producing 100 million tons of coal a year. Steel plants are springing up. The shipyards at Danzig and Gdynia are turning out freighters up to 10,000 tons. Cars, tanks, even jet planes are rolling off assembly lines. There are 27 million Poles now. Before the war, there were 34 million. No matter how strenuous the effort, the nation must struggle with a tremendous manpower shortage. The appeal to Poles abroad to return contains something more than propaganda. The good worker can call his shot and so the shoeshine boy has faded from the scene. If he doesn't particularly like his job, he can go into the armed forces, now numbering 22 divisions. Traditional pride in old culture and worship of the ancient kings is taking a back seat. Now the man on the street is proud of his steel mill or his new apartment with bath. The new Lenin steel mills at Nowa Huta, stretching along six miles with a spanking new housing development occupied by 75,000 workers, has transformed the entire character of the region around historic Krakow. Nowa Tycha, once the German town of Tichau, has grown from 8,000 to 20,000. Throughout the coal and steel area, huge housing developments are rising. The farms are starting to feel the pinch. The peasant's son today wants to go to the big city. It is a serious situation because the Pole, above all, likes to eat a lot. The party and the government are reluctant to regiment the youth and order the individual Pole to be either a farmer or a steelworker. They coax and hold out special benefits.
