Celebration Brings Large Crowds To Town

The third annual Border Town Days celebration was held in the Twin Cities last Thursday, Friday and Saturday bringing large crowds of citizens to town. An AJRA Rodeo was held in conjunction with the celebration bringing more than 200 contestants ages 19 years and under to the celebration.

The celebration was kicked off with a gigantic parade Thursday at 4 p.m. Observers state that this year's parade was the best ever held in conjunction with the event with many business and civic organizations entering floats. The Clovis Shiner Drum and Bugle Corps was again present to provide an added attraction in the parade. Fred Chandler, parade marshal, extends thanks to this fine organization (Drum and Bugle Corps) for its participation each year since the annual celebration was begun.

Bobbie's float featuring the Moon Maids was judged the best float in the parade followed by Capital Food and the Brownie Scout troop. Farwell Riding Club was presented with the first place award for riding clubs followed by the Merton Riding Club and the Bovina Riding Club.

Each evening during the celebration, the queen contestants were introduced prior to the rodeo performance. Miss Carolyn Langford, 1968 Border Town Days queen, presided over the celebration until Saturday evening when Miss Celia Trimble was announced as the new Border Town Days queen. Championship saddles were presented to Joe Parsons of Silver City and Janet Hansen of North Hanson, (a small community near Abilene, Tex.), as Outstanding Cowboy and Cowgirl in the rodeo. The saddles were given courtesy of State Line Grain represented by Billy Dollar; and Farwell Fertilizer represented by Ed Hardage. Both of the winners in the all-around competition were in the 12 years and under age bracket. Each of the championship winners also won trophy buckles in their age group.

In order to be able to compete for the championship saddles contestants had to be entered in three or more events, thus eliminating Vicki Helker of Forrest, N.M. who had 469 points, more than any other contestant in the rodeo. She was entered in only two events. Buckles in the 13-15 year old group went to Vicki Helker and Ross Tippett. In the 16-19 age group, buckles went to Ross Chessar and Debra Whitehead. Trophy buckles were donated by McKillip Motor Company, Farwell Equipment, Watts Oil and Tire Co., Helton Oil Co., Jim Calbert and Rip's Western Wear. All entry fees were paid back to the contestants in prize money. Prizes were given in all events to the winners of the first four places. Speaking for the Roping Association, Frank Doshier, Jr., secretary, stated, "Thanks to all businessmen and people who made the rodeo so successful by their donations and attendance."

Area boys and girls participating in the rodeo included Derek Garner, Laura Doshier, Mac McFarland, Ray Norton, Terry Leatherwood, Rocky Garnett, Mike Pettigrew, Tommy Williams, Colynn White, Paula Smith, Diane Luce, Diane Riley, Janice Runyon, Bobby Lockmiller, Jerry Fulgham, Levi Dorris, and Milton Lee Walling. Saturday entertainment included the barbecue at city park, musical entertainment by a local group of musicians, queen interviews, and pony rides for the kiddies at city park.

Highlighting the Saturday evening rodeo was the coronation of Celia Trimble as Border Town Days queen. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Trimble and was sponsored by the Texico Woman's Club. First runner-up was Becky Lockmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Lockmiller. Second runner-up and "Miss Congeniality" was Becky Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor of Oklahoma Lane.

Judges for the queen contest were Mrs. Wilma Fulgham and Mrs. Kay Green Schell, both former New Mexico State Fair queens, and Lee Ross Hammond, all of Clovis. The contest is sponsored by Theta Rho chapter of ESA Sorority.

Next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday will be the big days for Bovina and the surrounding area. At that time the annual Bull Town Days celebration will be in full-swing.

Various events are scheduled for the three-day celebration which will be kicked off with a jack-pot calf roping at 1 p.m. Thursday. Also on Thursday, a cow calling contest is set for 6 p.m., a beard growing contest at 6:30 p.m., and the queen's contest at 7 p.m. In addition, a variety show will be held at the high school auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

Friday events include a chuck wagon breakfast at the Bovina Gin from 7-9 a.m. and the Old Timers Reunion in downtown Bovina from 10 a.m. until noon. At the roping arena from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. visitors to the celebration will be able to see various horsemanship activities including the 8-man pony express race. A parade will be held in downtown area at 4 p.m. Friday.

Highlighting the Friday events is the free barbecue at 6 p.m. The barbecue will be held in downtown Bovina and all area residents are invited to attend. At 8:15 p.m., presentation of awards in various events will be made. The presentation will be followed by a square dance contest and a downtown square dance. A teenage dance will be held Friday night at the American Legion Hall from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Saturday, a quarterhorse show will be conducted at the roping arena. Judging will begin at 10 a.m. At 4 p.m. the Bovina Bull Statue on Highway 60 in Bovina will be dedicated and at 5 p.m. the annual fiddlers contest will be held. Three cash prizes will be given in the fiddlers contest. At 7 p.m. Saturday, a reunion of Bovina Ex-students will be held at the school cafeteria.

Final event of the affair is a western dance at the American Legion Hall from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Carnival rides will be in Bovina the following week, Aug. 18-23.

ESA Slates Rummage Sales

The annual summer ESA Sorority rummage sales are slated to begin this Saturday. The sales will be held from 3-5 p.m.

Anyone who has rummage to donate should call any member of the ESA organization and the items will be picked up immediately. Rummage may also be brought to the State Line Tribune office.

West Camp Baptists Have New Pastor

West Camp Baptist Church which has been without the services of a regular pastor for the past ten months, since the resignation of Rev. Dale Ward, now has a new pastor. Rev. David Owings arrived to assume his duties on Aug. 3.

Reverend Owings extends his thanks to Glen Harlan, a member of the West Camp congregation, who has served as interim pastor while the church has been without the services of a regular pastor.

The new West Camp minister holds a B.S. degree from Howard Payne College and a divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Ft. Worth. He has been in the ministry since 1962. Prior to coming to this area he held pastorates at the Walnut Street Chapel in Cherry Vale, Kan., and at the Poetry Baptist Church in Terrell, Tex.

Before entering the ministry he taught school and was also a traveling auditor for an Oklahoma Oil Refinery. His home was in Iowa. He is married and his wife, Sandra, is a native Iowan. The couple has two children; Kim, five years of age, and Kavin, three years old.

Reverend Owings stated that he is well pleased with the weather change from Fort Worth to this area and that the Sunday service at the church was good with attendance up and the spirit good. He plans no changes in the program of the church at this time. Sunday School will continue at 10 a.m.,

Sunday worship services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. and Training Union at 6 p.m. Wednesday night service will remain at 8:30 p.m. for the present.

Rev. David Owings

Texico School Has One Vacancy On Faculty

The Texico School is still in need of one teacher, an assistant basketball and assistant football coach. Any person who is interested in this position should contact A. D. McDonald, school superintendent.

Teaching positions which have recently been filled are first grade, Mrs. Jim Wiman; first grade, Mrs. Lillian Green; and Spanish-English, Miss Lanelle Spurgeon. Mrs. Wiman, who lives in Farwell, has 14 years teaching experience the last five of which have been in the Clovis school system. Mrs. Green has 14 years teaching experience, ten of which have been in Llano, Tex., and Bloomfield, N.M.

Pre-Enrollment Set August 18

Jack Williams, elementary principal in Farwell, announces that all parents who wish to discuss pre-enrollment of their children for any grade prior to the opening day of school, should come to his office between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon on Aug. 18. Enrollment for all students will be on Aug. 22.

DISCUSS PROGRESS --- Bill Thigpen, assistant fire chief in Texico, left, and Lewis Cooper, fire chief, pause in their busy schedule to discuss the progress Texico Fire Department has made in the past few years and to admire the new fire truck which was recently purchased by the department. This makes the Texico department one of the most modernly equipped volunteer departments in the area.

MOON MAIDS, the float entered by Bobbie's, was judged the best float in the parade by judges Jack Woltmon, Bovina, Bill Christian, Texico, Sam Aldridge, Farwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams. Clovis.

FARWELL STUDY CLUB float featured the theme, "Love, peace, harmony and happiness."

BORDER TOWN DAYS QUEEN Celia Trimble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Trimble, was presented with a bouquet of roses and a trophy after being crowned Saturday evening. First runner-up Becky Lockmiller, center, and second runner-up and also "Miss Congeniality", Becky Taylor, were presented with charms for their bracelets. ESA Sorority sponsored the queen's contest and made the presentations of gifts.

PERSONAL
By John

Texico and Farwell residents and visitors were treated to an excellent weekend of local activities. We were impressed by the huge parade that kicked off the annual Border Town Days celebration. Also gratifying was the large crowd in town for the event. We understand that Roping Club members were up until the wee hours giving all the AJRA'ers a chance to show their wares. Our celebration lags on Friday, but maybe we can remedy this next year.

The Chamber of Commerce Bar-B-Que is always a high spot with that GOOD Haseloff and Company-produced barbecued beef. And lastly, a pretty and talented local beauty was chosen to reign as the new Miss Border Town Days for the next year. If you didn't find something to enjoy last week, it must have been your fault.

Recently, we read a letter written by one of our local young men currently serving in Vietnam. Tom Lindop was kind enough to share a letter with us from his son, Dan. We enjoyed Dan's letter and agreed with many of his observations. We would like to pass along parts of this thoughtful letter.

In talking about several of his friends who have been killed recently, Dan says, "Sometimes I almost hate the people of America that will allow such a thing to drag on for years without either much support or dissent. There is no way this war can be won by the fence-sitting attitude of the general populace of America. Without taking a positive step one way or another, young men will be dying when the millennium comes. . . . God knows that I am as patriotic and patriotic as they come, but there is a limit to everything."

This is something we have said for a long time; the attitude of indifference displayed by the average citizen is the sorriest blot on the honor of the United States. That we can complacently let this political war drag on and on without demanding swift military victory or withdrawal speaks volumes for the moral decline of this once great country.

We are very pleased though that our men in Vietnam recognize the injustice we are inflicting upon them but are determined to do their best in the job with which we have saddled them. We must look to our young men in the military to restore our national pride and love of country.

In our "Letters to the Editor" this week we are printing a short note we received from Charles Bowery. This illustrates the patriotic indoctrination that a tour in the armed services gives to our young men. Thank the Lord for these young men.

A note to the Texas history buffs. If you are interested in the history and homesteads of the hill country, we have some material you will want to read. This month's issue of the Texas Architect contains several interesting pages of the log and limestone homes built in that section of Texas around the 1880's.

The Texas Architect is one professional magazine that always carries a dollop of the past to compare with the present. This magazine has a good editor.

The latest politician to stick his foot in his mouth, as far as we are concerned, is that aging senator from Montana, Mike Mansfield. His remark that turned us off is taken from the wire services. When Senator Ted Kennedy returned to the senate following his brilliant performance on Cape Cod, Mansfield is quoted as saying, "Come in Ted. . . You're right back where you belong." This we feel is one man's opinion; it isn't ours.

Mrs. Reeves Services Held

Funeral services were conducted from Wheeler Mortuary in Portales for Mrs. Henrietta Reeves, 87, mother-in-law of Mrs. Doris Reeves and a former Portales resident.

Mrs. Reeves died in a San Angelo nursing home last Thursday, where she had been living since last October. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

County Voters Favor Water Amendment

Parmer County voters gave overwhelming approval to the proposed state water plan in Tuesday voting.

The water plan amendment was one of nine proposed changes for the state constitution which voters decided on in the statewide election. It would allow the state to issue $3.5 million in bonds for water development.

The voter turnout was light --- about half the number to be expected in a regular election --- but the ballot total was considered good in view of the fact that only proposed amendments to the state constitution were voted on.

Given credit for attracting most of the voters was the water amendment which is considered of prime importance to the people of the High Plains where sufficient irrigation water is considered a must for continued growth and development.

Parmer voters expressed their approval of the water amendment to the tune of 1005 votes for and 75 against. That is possibly as nearly united as one county can be on any one particular subject.

In the absentee vote count, for instance, the water amendment was favored 100 per cent --- 15 for and none against. At Oklahoma Lane, Rhea and

Mrs. Joe Helton was the 1968-69 philanthropic chairman and has also been named to head the 1969-70 philanthropic work for the chapter. The award was made at the International convention in California.

This is the second time the chapter has received the first place International award and the fourth time it has received the first place state award.

Sorority Wins First

Mrs. JoAnn Liethen, president of Theta Rho chapter of ESA Sorority, states that there was an error in the information received by the local group last week. At that time, a story was given to the paper to the effect that the organization had received third place International Award for its philanthropic work for hours spent.

However, this was incorrect as Mrs. Liethen has received the official information on the award since that time and the local chapter is recipient of the first place International Phil-

GSPA Meet Last Week In Friona

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association held its annual meeting in Friona, last Thursday.

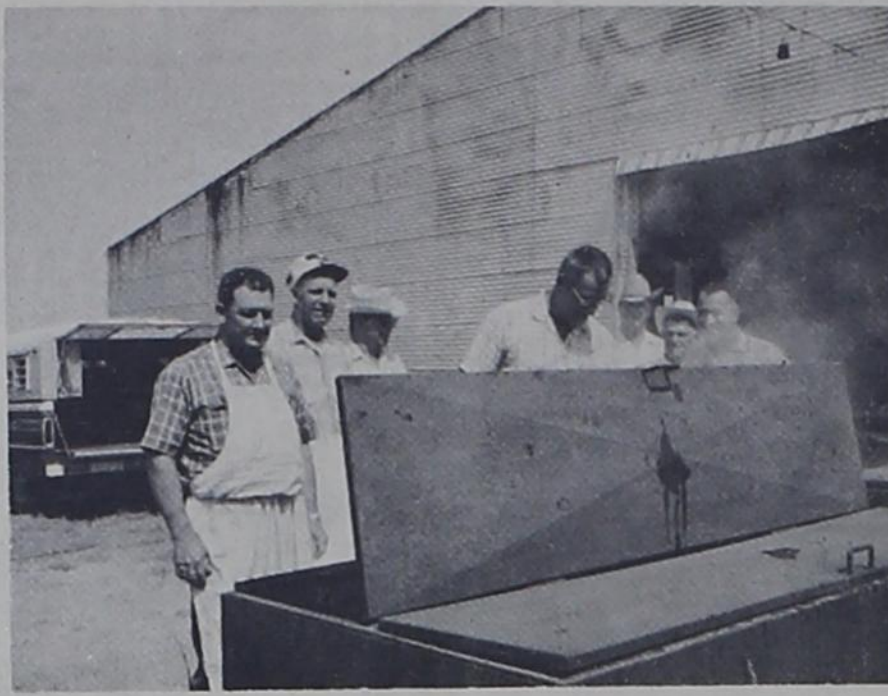

The meeting started with a tour through the Missouri Beef Packing Plant at 10 a.m., and the business session convened at a local restaurant afterwards.

The agenda included election of GSPA executive committee for 1969-70 fiscal year, consideration of GSPA conducting a referendum where farmers would vote on a program of insect and disease research and grain market promotion, and a review of present legislative situation as it applies to future farm programs and GSPA policy review.

The meeting was open to all interested persons.

Local men teamed up to prepare beef for persons attending the Border Town Days celebration. Barbecue was prepared and served by this group including Herb Potts, Smokey Gast, Red Prather, Henry Haseloff, Adolph Haseloff, Henry Janke and Mark Liethen. Chief cooks were Henry and Adolph Haseloff.

TACKLE BOXES

A well-stocked and well-kept tackle box is every bit as important to the angler as a nicely-appointed home is to his wife. Both keep the individual happy and more successful in doing what they set out to do.

A good tackle box is the angler's suitcase, say the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards, and although he will replace small items from time to time there are essentials that he will need wherever he is fishing.

A well-stocked box will carry many items other than plugs and extra hooks. It should have a place for a pair of sunglasses, a real eye-saver on days when the sun is glinting off the water.

An unbreakable tube of sun-tan oil should be included, for those days when no shade can be found and yet the fisherman wants to stay out and keep catching fish. Also an unbreakable container of mosquito repellent can be invaluable when the little pesky ones get rough.

Another small item that we hope never to use but still carry for insurance is a snake bite kit. A bite from a poisonous snake is almost as rare as elephantiasis, but it pays to be prepared.

A small pocket compass is an item that will take up little space in the tackle box, but can be a life saver when it is needed. If possible get one with a lid on it, the lid will protect the compass cover and dial from injury.

Most anglers include a pair of long-nosed pliers in their box, as handy as a pocket in a shirt when it comes to getting a hook out of a fish's mouth. Choose a pair with side cutters on them, so if the occasion arises you could cut off a hook, were one imbedded in someone's epidermis. A light plastic raincoat will fit in most boxes, and can save a day ruined by rain.

Oh, yes, carry some lures, too. You just might get to do some fishing.

Report From The Sheriff's Office

Melborn Jones of the Oklahoma Lane Community reported the theft of 10-15 cases of oil from his farm early Monday morning. Sheriff's officials are investigating the matter.

Wednesday in district court, Judge Pat Boone granted a plea for a change of venue in the case of the State of Texas vs Glen D. Phillips. The trial has been moved to Littlefield with no date set as yet for trial. All other jury cases were postponed.

On July 23, Benger Airport at Friona reported the loss of some $2,000 of equipment from private planes at the airport. The equipment was the property of Carl Schlenker, Bruce Parr and Elvie Jennings. Officials from Parmer County Sheriff's department are still investigating.

Texas, according to the Texas Forestry Association, has been one of the top lumber-producing states for the past 80 years, with a production of 970,000,000 board feet in 1967.

Letters To The Editor

August 3, 1969

Dear John,
The Navy is great. People that protest war, and protest at all, are down grading the U. S. Flag's and customs. This is my idea of the U. S. today. Let's have more love of country and more respect of armed services and our National Flag.
Thanks,

Dear Chris, Joann and John,
We are having a ball and seeing so much. We are in Venice, Italy, today and have a few hours of free time. We stay so busy it is even hard to find time to write. Yesterday afternoon we relaxed a few hours at a beautiful beach. Enjoyed a gondola ride, and saw glass blowing and a beautiful Cathedral. The kids like Venice, but we are starving for some cold water. Ha.

We have toured Belgium, Germany and Austria. The countries are very different and it is easy to see each country has its own culture. We are buying things when we have time, but we are so busy most of the time it is hard to crowd in.

We have been so anxious for news of the moon walk, but it is hard to find televisions and English newspapers. Our wonderful Belgium bus driver translated some for us, but he speaks very little English; however, it is amazing how we can communicate. The kids all love him.

The day of the "blast off" for the moon were we in England and heard the "take off" standing in the room where Shakespeare was born. We were quite impressed!

Laundry is a problem while we are traveling, but we don't really mind. It is a good joke we all enjoy. The report of the students from all parts of the U.S.A. is really wonderful, and there are very few problems.

The heat is terrific. So far our umbrellas have not been opened! I think this is an unusual summer in Europe.

Of course we are teased about our Texas accents, but we enjoy it. In our group of 37 students we are known as "Tex Tatum and his gang."

Well our bus is waiting. Think of us when you drink a cold glass of water or iced tea.
Love to all,
Amos and Lenora

The Shriners Drum and Bugle Corps from Clovis was an added attraction in the parade. They have appeared in all of the Border Town Days parades since the celebration was first begun three years ago.

HIGHLIGHT of the Border Town Days celebration for most of the small fry was the pony ride at the city park. Ponies for the ride were furnished by Clyde McDaniel of Texico.

The Marvels of God's Creations

WHY DO FISH LIVE IN WATER? We can answer this question partially by saying: that their lungs were created to draw oxygen from the water. However, to know how and why, we must look to God's word.

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." ... "And God said, let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life..."

Attend Church and worship the one who created these marvels.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

SOYBEAN IRRIGATION CRITICAL FOR TOP YIELDS

How does moisture stress limit soybean yields? The answer to this question is a valuable guide in managing irrigation water.

Moisture stress during any part of the growing season will slow soybean plant development and thus limit yields, explains Leon New, area irrigation specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, bloom, pod set and pod filling are peak water requirement periods. Inadequate soil moisture during these growth stages limit yields significantly, but in different ways.

According to New, lack of sufficient moisture during the bloom stage results in fewer pods per plant, thus limiting yields. Severe moisture stress during pod filling limits yields by seed size and weight. Inadequate soil moisture during both of these stages may cut yields in half.

Soybean irrigation research at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland shows the influence of irrigation at different growth stages. Soybean plants under moisture stress prior to and during bloom averaged 11.6 pods while those with adequate soil moisture during this critical stage averaged 16.8 pods -- a 45 per cent increase. Plants that had adequate moisture during both the bloom and pod filling stages averaged 17.5 pods.

Plants averaging 11.6 pods that experienced moisture stress during bloom contained 29 seed and yielded 23 bushels. Those that averaged 16.8 pods and experienced moisture stress at pod filling contained 42 seed but yielded only 19 bushels -- 17 per cent less. Plants that had adequate soil moisture at both bloom and pod filling averaged 17.5 pods containing 45 seed per plant and yielding 41 bushels.

This shows the importance of adequate soil moisture during the pod filling stage in obtaining high soybean yields, emphasizes New. Moisture at this growth stage is necessary for maximum seed size and weight.

Irrigation applications keyed upon the bloom provide high water use efficiency, contends New. Timing these irrigations with these important growth stages is even more critical for early maturing varieties due to rapid fruiting. This management practice can lead to top yields at harvest time.

DONATE CHAMPIONSHIP SADDLES --- Billy Dollar, left, representing State Line Grain and Ed Hardage of Farwell Fertilizer were donors of the championship saddles which were presented to the Outstanding Cowgirl and Cowboy participating in the AJRA Rodeo in Farwell over the weekend.

Fight the price/cost squeeze on your wheat with NITROMITE, Shamrock's fine brand of anhydrous ammonia. A preplant application of NITROMITE speeds early growth, producing lush, high-quality forage (and plenty of it!)—an important factor if you plan to graze cattle this winter. And the cash crop? NITROMITE delivers the most usable nitrogen per dollar to help increase yields without increasing cost appreciably. So come harvest, even if prices are low, you make out. If they're good, you'll be the big winner. Put down NITROMITE now. It'll give you a fighting chance in the marketplace.

A Vacation I Would Recommend

by Dardenella Helton
Our primary purpose in making this trip to the Orient was to attend the International Lions Convention in Tokyo, Japan, from July 1-July 6. The convention was held in the Budoken and the science museum. The Nippon Budoken was built for the Olympics; they were huge to accommodate the crowds and are used like we use our civic centers.

This was the largest international convention ever held. Lions from all of the free world countries and provinces were present. It gave one a tremendous feeling to be a small part in such a great crowd and to know that all had one purpose, "serving mankind."

We joined our group in El Paso and flew to Honolulu. During our two-day stay we toured the Oahu Island, saw pineapple fields, and the beautiful Waikiki Beach. Then we flew to Tokyo for the convention.

In Tokyo we found it to be a thriving metropolis with more than 11-million population. We were amazed at the cleanliness of the city and the general well-being of the people. All the men were dressed in dark suits, white shirts and black ties; all school children in blue shirts and pants and white blouses; and many of the office girls also were dressed in blue shirts or white blouses.

Transportation in a city the size of Tokyo would be a problem for the most enterprising traffic expert; however, the trains, busses, and taxicabs did a tremendous job in moving people from place to place. The taxi drivers were well trained and displayed a great deal of pride in their driving. Generally they were the least educated as far as schooling, but were experts in handling the small Toyotas-what an experience!!

We were privileged to see the Emperor and Empress in their appearance at the Lions convention. During our tour of the city we saw the swimming pool and gym used for the Olympics. One evening the James Craigs and we went to the Imperial Theatre Restaurant for the Fumiko Miura show and dinner. It was great to spend an evening with someone from home.

After the convention we drove by bus to Komshura and had lunch at a fishing center and summer resort. We continued on to Hokone National Park to the Kowaki En Hotel; this hotel is nicknamed the "Honeymooners Hotel," and this was our first experience with a Japanese accommodation. By the door were two pair of slides-a hint for us to remove our shoes. The floor was covered with a straw mat and in the center of the room was a table and two chairs without any legs. Shortly after we arrived we were welcomed with hot tea and sweet-breads. Later we returned to our room to find the furniture had been moved and our bedding was on the floor. It was very comfortable after one got accustomed to lying on the floor.

We traveled over Ten Province Pass to the seaside resort of Atami where we boarded the Kodma Express Train to go to Koyoto. This was an enjoyable experience. The train is all-electric and travels 130-150 miles per hour; it only stops for two minutes at each station. The countryside was beautiful. We saw many rice fields, hot houses where they grew tomatoes and water-melons, and tea growing on the side of the hills - not one foot of land lay idle.

While in Koyoto we ate at the Ashiya Steak House where they served the world famous Omi beef from the best in beef-fed, hand-massaged stock. The steak was cooked over a grill and cut into bite-size pieces right before our eyes. In true Japanese tradition we sat around a recessed hearth on the tatami-matted floor and ate with chop sticks.

The next day we drove to Osaka where we saw much construction for the Exposition '70 that will open next April. The airport was of special interest to Joe. After the end of World War II, he flew one of the first planes to land in Osaka; the same location is now the international airport. Nothing looked familiar to him, because there was just a landing strip when he landed there. From Japan we flew to Taipei, Taiwan, where we saw the National palace and the beautiful Yongming Park before leaving for Hong Kong.

Hong Kong is truly the crossroads of the world. Most everyone spoke some English and many of their signs were written in English. We were surprised to find so many store operators from India and Australia. Textiles is the number one industry and tourism is the second. Here the women don't work, but there were mobs for every job. Every time you turned around there was someone to wait on your needs and we found it is easy to spend all your money saving money. There are so many things to buy and the storekeepers bargain with you until he makes a sale.

We met Mr. W. D. Chung, a manufacturer and wholesale retailer. He took us to a furniture factory, here we saw all the furniture being handmade from beautiful teakwood and rosewood. Later Mr. Chung took us to dinner at his favorite restaurant. We were escorted upstairs and our table was enclosed with four screens-complete privacy. I think Mr. Chung ordered some of everything the cook knew how to prepare. The food was delicious, but my favorite dish was sweet and sour fish.

We toured Honk Kong Island, rode the cable car, saw all the fishing boats at Aberdeen, toured the Tiger Balm Gardens, had a sunset cruise of the harbor and dinner at the famous floating restaurant. It is unbelievable to see all the people living on junks, sampans and in the refugee camps. Hong Kong is a "must" to visit.

We left Hong Kong and flew back to Honolulu, this time we toured Pearl Harbor and attended a luau.

The thing that most impressed us was the construction at every place we visited. The airport was being enlarged, more hotels and industry erected and expressways being built. The people were busy, busy everywhere. Everywhere there were 17 to 20 story apartments being built for low-income families. In Hong Kong the refugees have to live in the "rabbit hutch" camps for about a year before there is room available in a new apartment building. Not one inch of ground is wasted and the food was delicious; however we enjoyed the food in Japan the most. The Japanese serve their food in several courses, and the desserts are beautifully decorated with artificial flowers.

Joe played golf at Kyoto and Taple-both times he had a girl caddy. The courses were beautifully laid out and not a bit crowded, he found that it was quite expensive.

This trip was an experience we shall never forget, but it also made us proud and happy to be Americans and glad that we live in the United States.

JUST IN TIME --- The Lewis Cooper family, who had been to Minneapolis to pick up this new fire truck for the Texico Fire Department, arrived in Texico last Wednesday, just in time for the weekly fire practice by the department. Family members are Lewis Cooper, Mrs. Cooper, Linda and Terry. Cooper is Texico Fire Chief.

Coopers Visit, Bring Back Fire Truck

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cooper and daughters, Linda and Terry, of Texico left by plane for Minneapolis and North Branch, Minn., on July 25. Purpose of the trip was to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Emery and also to pick up the new Texico fire truck which has been recently purchased by the department.

While in Minnesota, in the Twin Cities area, they visited many interesting places including Taylors Falls on the St. Croix and Minnehaha Falls in downtown Minneapolis.

On Monday, July 28, they left for home in the new fire truck, which was manufactured in North Branch, Minn. They returned to Texico on Wednesday evening. By coincidence they arrived in Texico just as the siren sounded calling members to the weekly fire practice.

TROOP 200 Boy Scouts depicted many of their activities on their float which was preceded by the U. S. Flag, the Texas and New Mexico State Flags.

SMOKE MAKES THE CHILDREN SMART is one of the beliefs in Buddhist Japan. The Joe Heltons were constantly amazed to see parents bring their children to the public area where incense was burning and rub the smoke on their foreheads to make them smarter. This is such a scene in front of a Buddhist temple.

RIPS WESTERN WEAR float featured tiny Karen Snodgrass attired in typical western wear riding astride a cowboy saddle.

TEXICO CHEERLEADERS were in the parade "whooping it up" for their team and also for the celebration.

HIGHLIGHTING THE TRIP to Taiwan was a tour of the National Palace Museum. Dardenella Helton is standing in front of the sign at the entrance.

Milton Lee Walling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitz Walling, observes all the rules as he makes his ride atop the spinning bull known as "7-11" at the AJRA Rodeo last weekend.

AS USUAL the Farwell First Baptist Church float told an inspiring story.

LEIS FOR ALL VISITORS --- Dardenella and Joe Helton, like all visitors to Hawaii, were greeted with leis of lovely flowers upon their arrival in the Hawaiian Islands.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Bride-Elect

The home of Mrs. J. B. Sudderth was scene for a miscellaneous shower honoring Rita Howard of Quanah, bride-elect of Rip Walser, Monday afternoon. Hostesses for the social were Mmes. Sudderth, Gil Patschke, Clarence Johnson, Bill Brigham, Charlie Hromas, Claude Coffer, James W. Patrick, Edith Blair, Beulah McWilliams and Asa Smith.

The gift table was also covered by a cutwork cloth. Hostesses alternated at the serving table and guest register.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Wilbert Howard; the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. Odus Walser; and his sister, Rene' Walser; were presented with corsages made from minute kitchen gadgets tied with yellow and white ribbon bows. Rene' Walser assisted the honoree in opening gifts. Hostess gift was an avocado colored electric serving dish.

Out of town guests attending the shower included Mrs. Wilbert Howard from Quanah, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Lottie Hunter, Ft. Worth, aunt of the groom-elect. Approximately 75 persons attended the shower or sent gifts.

Guests called at the come and go social between the hours of 3-5 p.m.

Wedding Invitation

Friends and relatives are reminded that they are invited to attend the wedding of Miss Marilyn McWilliams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. McWilliams of Clovis, and Jimmie Ray Mace, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mace, at First Baptist Church in Clovis, Saturday evening, August 9 at 7:30 o'clock (MDT).

No invitations have been sent locally, but all friends are invited to the wedding and reception.

Guest Daughters Visit

Mrs. Buster Gast, who had spent several days in Denver with her daughter and family, the Robert Vashaws, returned home last Wednesday accompanied by Mrs. Vashaw and sons. Vashaw left for an overseas assignment in Vietnam last Sunday.

Later in the week Mrs. John Abernathy of Amarillo, another daughter, joined the Buster Gasts for a reunion in Farwell.

Mrs. Gast accompanied Mrs. Vashaw and sons to Denver last Saturday for a visit. She expects to return home this Saturday.

Laurie McCuan Arrives July 30

Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon McCuan announce the arrival of their first child, a daughter, July 30 in Falls Church, Va.

The little girl, who weighed 8 lb. 11 oz., has been named Laurie Machele.

Not only is this the first child for the John Gordon McCuans, but the little girl is also the first grandchild for the Dale McCuans of Farwell and also Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Egolf of Annadale, Va.

BORDER TOWN OR BUST was the slogan used by Isabel (Flea) Garza, who works for Mitz Walling as he packed up his "mule" and headed for the Twin Cities for the big celebration. He arrived in time for the parade and provided many a laugh as he tugged and pulled away at this stubborn animal who seemed to have a mind of its own.

Cool Season Grasses Utilized In County

There are over 6,000 different grasses in the world but only a small number produce the major part of food for man and animals. There are about 75 to 100 different grasses in a given locality. Of these, 12 to 15 usually produce 80 to 90 per cent of the forage.

Among these 12 to 15 more important grasses is a group referred to as cool season grasses. Cool season grasses are those which begin growing when cool weather begins, continue growing through the colder months of the year, reach maturity as warm weather sets in, and eventually become dormant during the hotter months of the year.

Examples of some cool season grasses suitable for pasture planting in this area are Western Wheat, Tall Fescue, and Smooth Brome. These grasses should be planted from September 1 to March 15. Drilling or broadcasting are acceptable methods of planting. Plantings in a dead litter crop have proven to be much more successful. They should not be grazed during the first growing season in order that the grass may establish a complete and adequate system.

After the grass has been well established, normal grazing should begin around September 15 and continue until about June 1. Preferably the grass should be deferred during months of dormancy. Western Wheat grass should reach a height of at least eight inches before grazing and should not be grazed closer than four inches. Tall Fescue and Smooth Brome should reach a height of eight inches before grazing and should not be grazed closer than five inches.

Weed control can be accomplished by shredding or mowing about one inch above average height of the growing grasses. Chemicals such as 2,4-D can be used on weeds such as ragweed, bitterweed, sneezeweed, pigweed, and dandelion. 2,4-5-T may be used for woody plants such as wild gastic and curled dock.

Fertilizer may be applied as needed according to a soil analysis. Most cool season grasses respond to irrigation, but Tall Fescue has shown the most promise for this area.

Cool season grasses are being utilized successfully in pasture operations in Farmer County. If you desire further information or assistance concerning the development or operation of a pasture, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Friona.

Laura Doshier, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doshier, Jr., "clucks" softly to her horse, Salty Red, as she rounds the barrel in the barrel race at the AJRA Rodeo last weekend. Laura finished fifth in the event, just a little short of getting into the money. However, she did win money prizes in the other events in which she entered.
