

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

I must be getting old

I'm a music buff, I enjoy all kinds of music, except, for heavy opera. I've always related different parts of my life to the music of the period. When I was a young'un, for example, these were some of the hits of the day (let's see if you can remember the lyrics): "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening," "How Much Is That Doggie in the Window," and "Tennessee Waltz."

I won't ask you to recall the lyrics of "The Blue Tango," though. That would be a toughie. But I bet the melody comes quickly to mind.

I got to know a lot about the hits of the day while watching "Your Hit Parade." Remember Giselle McKenzie, Dorothy Collins and "Snookie"? Watch it; you're dating yourself.

It was always interesting watching those singers try to do different sketches each week about the same songs, especially ones that were hits for a lengthy period. I mean, how many different ways can you do a scene about "da-yo, so-me-day, so-me-day, so-me-day-yo." Or about "jumbaleya and filet gumbo."

The advent of rock 'n roll sort of killed the show, unfortunately. A lot of rock hits just weren't attuned to television at that time. Can you imagine Dorothy singing "sha ba da ba, sha ba da ba da, bah doom"? (For you trivia buffs, that's from "Get a Job".)

Ah, yes, rock 'n roll. Elvis Presley. Bill Haley and the Comets. Jerry Lee Lewis. Screaming Jay Hawkins. Pat Boone.

"Blue Suede Shoes" helped change the landscape of the musical scene. The beat had quickened. Country and Western almost went down the tubes under the Elvis & Co. attack.

Then there was the Motown sound. Diana Ross and the Supremes. The Jackson 5. Ray Charles.

And don't forget the British Invasion. Here's a trip down Memory Lane: Herman and the Hermits, the Dave Clark Five, the Animals, the Rolling Stones and the Beatles.

As I've written, I consider Lennon and McCartney to be the true musical geniuses of the 20th Century. The different directions they moved music into were phenomenal.

Meanwhile, Hank Williams, Patsy Cline and others had launched C&W into the mainstream. I wish I knew more about country roots, but I don't. Up North, it wasn't very popular. It was only when I got to Virginia that I began listening to C&W daily. "You're The Reason God Made Oklahoma" is probably my favorite song of the past five years.

I also didn't get into the psychedelic music of that era. I was in the military a lot of that time and if you've been in the Armed Forces, you know you lose track of what's going on in the rest of the world.

But some music did filter through. I remember the most popular song in Germany at that time: Otis Redding's "Sitting On Top O' The Bay." It tugged at your heartstrings and made you think of home. When you are in the Armed Forces and away from home for a couple of years, a song like that becomes meaningful.

Today's music seems to be taking a back seat to the video versions. It's more important as to how the song is treated on MTV rather than what the lyrics and melody are like.

I find it funny to say that because I think back of the criticisms of adults back when rock 'n roll was in its infancy. Their criticism was that the "beat" was overwhelming the lyrics and melody of that era's songs.

Now, I find myself also complaining about lyrics and melody becoming less important.

I must be getting old.

The "oops" department: Last week, I noted the Tribune arrived late in Bovina and figured it was a postal snafu.

Well, what happened was that our folks at the paper left the label off by error, causing the delay. Sorry about that. We'll try to be more careful.

London hired

In a meeting that lasted into the wee hours of the morning, the Farwell School Board Monday night:

-Hired Vista Jo London, of Farwell, as a new computer assistant in the administration office. It's a part-time post.

-Received several bids for the house it owns on Eighth Street. The high bids were from Jimmy Meeks and Harlin Obenshain, both at $7,000. They will be given a chance to increase their bids, with the high bid getting the house.

-Nominated Mark Williams for re-election to the Parmer County Appraisal District Board.

-Decided to seek bids for a computer system for the administration office.

-Discussed the professional appraisal process for teachers and administrators. A job description for classroom teachers was approved. Supt. John Grigsby and the principals were named to a professional appraisal committee.

-Named Grigsby to devise a Discipline Management Plan, as required by state law.

-Heard Kim Norton, an interested citizen, speak on the need for a drug program in the schools. She gave a presentation from the Amarillo Alcohol and Drug Abuse Center. School officials will now survey some students toward the prospect of conducting a program.

-Agreed to work through the Gifted and Talented Cooperative, headquartered in Amarillo, on developing a plan to give instruction geared toward their skills. The state is giving school districts $50 per student who falls into the percentile which qualifies him as gifted.

Alpha Rho Lambda baked cookies which they sold at the Farwell School Cafeteria. They also made trays which were placed in some businesses in town along with a request for donations. The project has been so successful that members voted to continue it.

In other business, members voted to use the Farwell Community Center for the Pheasant Hunter's Breakfast this year instead of the Farwell school cafeteria.

Upcoming social events such as the Visit by the Great Pumpkin and the Pilgrim's Progress Progressive Dinner were also discussed.

Roberta Johnson, chairman of the Child Welfare Board, showed a slide presentation about child abuse and discussed the situation in Parmer County. Presently, there are three social workers to cover a three county area. Each month there are 30 to 40 reported cases of suspected abuse or neglect. Of those, 20 to 25 cases are serious enough to warrant inspection.

Mrs. Johnson felt that the problems were worse in other places, but that we would be kidding ourselves to think that problems do not exist here.

"Case workers here are often inexperienced, underpaid, and overworked. We have quite a turnover in caseworkers because the job is so demanding -- emotionally and physically," she said.

co-op·er·a·tive/ la: it's an adjective b: it's a noun 2: it's something special for 60,000,000 people from coast to coast

That something special means 40,000 member-owned cooperatives throughout the United States devoted to serving their members and communities in every way imaginable.

For example, there are cooperatives for electric and telephone service, housing, food, furniture, insurance, farm marketing and farm supply, credit unions and farm credit, health and day care.

The cooperative way of conducting business has proven over and over again to be both a highly efficient and extremely economical way to provide services and goods. That's why co-ops come in every size and kind and are found in the city, the suburbs and rural America.

No matter whether you think of cooperative as a noun or an adjective, it means the same thing — people working together to meet common needs to benefit their entire communities. And co-op people are proud of their track record because better communities mean a better America for everyone.

Dotson, Redus wed

Miss Amy Elizabeth Dotson became the bride of Michael Wayne Redus in a double ring ceremony August 31, in the Farwell First Baptist Church. The wedding ceremony was performed by Bro. Pat Riley of Farwell.

The bride is the daughter of E.L. and Linda Myers of Texico. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Lois Redus of Riviera, Texas and Alvin Redus of Albion, Ill.

Wedgewood blue and lemon yellow gladiolas mixed with light blue carnations and varied greens decorated the 15 branch votive candelabra. Two areca palms also graced the front of the sanctuary. The unity candle was trimmed with the same assortment of flowers. The pews were decorated with large blue bows.

The wedding music was presented by John Lowry, music director of the church, who sang, "Wherever You Go." Mrs. Marjorie Watkins, the organist, played the traditional wedding march as the processional and recessional.

As the mother of the groom was escorted in by George De Nys, she lighted their family candle. Chris Tichenor escorted the bride's mother as she lighted their family candle.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her dad and was given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a gown designed and created by a family friend, Mrs. Ruth Berggren. The fitted bodice of fine tiered lace ruffles featured a round neckline edged in scalloped lace with an underlay of bridal illusion accentuating the scallops and terminating at the neckline with a delicate lace stand up collar. The long full sleeves, with a lace insertion from the shoulder to the wrists, ended in double rows of illusion and was underlined with two rows of lace. Tier on tier of gathered illusion cascaded to the floor. Her fingertip veil of illusion, edged with lace, continued to chapel length in the back, and was held by a lace covered Juliet-crown headpiece which was highlighted by rows of seed and teardrop pearls.

The bridal bouquet was in a cascading design of miniature blue tiger lilies and yellow forsythia.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Monica Manning of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Michele Stover and Cherie Welch of Farwell were her bridesmaids. Angela Dotson, served her sister as junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore dresses of semi-sheer cotton in delicate shades of blue with miniature floral bouquets. The off the shoulder neckline featured a wide ruffle of self material. Angela's dress was of the same material with a capelet collar. They all carried a single blue silk rose with babies breath and greenery. The attendants dresses were fashioned by Mrs. Jere Herington, a friend of the bride.

For something old the bride wore a gold watch; something new was a delicate chain necklace and bracelet, a gift from the groom; something borrowed was diamond earrings from Michele; and something blue was her garter.

The mother of the bride wore a gray linen dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a beige linen dress with black accessories. Each had a corsage of light blue carnations and yellow forsythia.

Guests were registered by Shamra Lovelady of Texico, sister of the bride. The table was covered with a yellow ruffle overlay. The bride's book, a white feathered pen, and a brass bud vase with three blue silk roses graced the table.

The groom and his attendants wore their dress Air Force Blue uniforms. Serving as best man was Craig Manning of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Ken Taylor of Dayton, Ohio and Greg Blue of Fayetteville, N.C. were the groomsmen. Chris Tichenor of Centertown, Tenn., was the candlelighter. The ushers were Chris Tichenor and George DeNys, of Deposit, N.Y. They are currently stationed at Cannon Air Force Base in Clovis, N.M.

Following the ceremony a reception, hosted by the bride's parents was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The table was covered with a white cloth with a yellow gathered overlay caught at the corners with light blue bows. The centerpiece was a miniature bride's bouquet. A three tier heartshaped blue and yellow cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The appointments were white milk glass. Yellow punch, blue and yellow wedding bell mints and mixed nuts were served.

Serving at the reception table were Mrs. Vicki Haseloff and Mrs. Linda Moss with April Haseloff assisting.

Members of the house party were Linda Gerles, Mary Lou Hillock and Anna McDonald.

During the reception, wedding bell rice bags of blue and yellow were distributed by Angela Dotson.

Out of town guests were J.R. Harcrow, grandfather of the bride. Mark and Brenda Hanson, Daniel, Amanda and Anthony from Mission, Texas.

The brides going away attire was a yellow and white pinstriped sundress with ruffles of self material on the bodice and skirt.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Texico High School.

The groom is a 1981 graduate from Kaufer High School, Riviera, Texas. He is stationed at Cannon Air Force Base.

The couple will make their home in Clovis at 314 W. 14 #17.

Mrs. Lois Redus, mother of the groom, hosted an informal rehearsal dinner at First Baptist Church at the Fellowship Hall on Aug. 30.

Cooperatives explained

This message is given by Hubert Kidd, Manager of Five Area Telephone Cooperative.

A cooperative is a business voluntarily owned and controlled by the people who use it. It is organized and incorporated to engage in economic activities.

A cooperative provides services and benefits for its members in proportion to the use they make of their organization, rather than earning profits for investors.

The primary goal of a cooperative is to meet its members' needs in an economical and efficient manner. Six basic principles set cooperatives apart from other types of businesses:

- Operation at cost, with any profits allocated to patrons
- Member control
- Membership ownership
- Limited returns to equity capital
- Duty to educate the membership
- Cooperation among cooperatives

Sixty million Americans are members of the nation's more than 40,000 cooperatives.

Anyone who's ever made a phone call to Wall, South Dakota; Bula, Texas, or any number of locations throughout small-town and rural America owes a big thank-you to the nation's rural telephone cooperatives. Without them, our country's universal telephone network could not exist.

For the past thirty years, subscriber owned and controlled telephone cooperatives have been providing quality telecommunications services to the isolated and sparsely populated rural areas of the country. It wasn't always so.

In 1949, much of rural America was without telephone service. Long distances and often punishing terrain separated rural people and towns, making it infeasible to provide reasonably priced service. In that year, however, Congress passed an amendment to the Rural Electrification Act that provided low-interest loans for construction of rural telephone systems. At that point, groups of citizens throughout rural America banded together to organize and build an efficient telephone system.

By serving as a vital link in the nationwide telephone network, telephone cooperatives serve all Americans—urban and rural alike—and play an integral part in achieving the national goal of universal telephone service at reasonable rates.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank Eva Dean Stephens and the Student Council for the hard work and time they put into planning the Homecoming events last week. They spent several hours decorating and cleaning the Gymnasium for the event. Students involved were: DeAnn Curtis, Amy Johnson, Leonard Hillock, Twila Donaldson, Melinda McMillan, Dana White, Shonda Foster, Tonya Price, Dee Anne Ray, Michele Stover, Terri Hillock, Kendra Stephens, Jaime Mendoza. I would also like to thank Darrell Stephens for his help and the time he lost his wife to this project.

I would like to thank Richard Montgomery and the Freshman Class for the hard work and time they put into building and planning the Thursday night Bonfire for Homecoming. Mr. Montgomery has been the Freshman Sponsor for several years and we cannot thank him enough for his time and effort put into planning and building the bonfire each year.

I would like to thank the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department for their time and effort they put forth in helping control the Bonfire last Thursday night. I was told that Joel White went back to check on the Bonfire sometime that night when the wind front blew in. The school cannot thank him and the Fire Department enough for their time and effort they give to us.

Yours sincerely,
Lynn Burton
High School Principal

State wants landfill covered

The Texico City Council Tuesday night discussed a letter from the New Mexico EID demanding that the city landfill be covered and closed.

The landfill is no longer being used. Waste Control, the city's new private garbage collector, uses a transfer station for its collections. Then the garbage is taken to the Clovis landfill.

After discussing the letter, the council agreed to check with Curry County officials about closing it properly. It was also suggested that Waste Control might want to buy the property for possible use some day.

In other business, it was noted that a Texas man wanted to buy the old street broom (cleaning machine). They will discuss a price with him; it also was suggested that a city auction be held.

From Tribune to Morning News

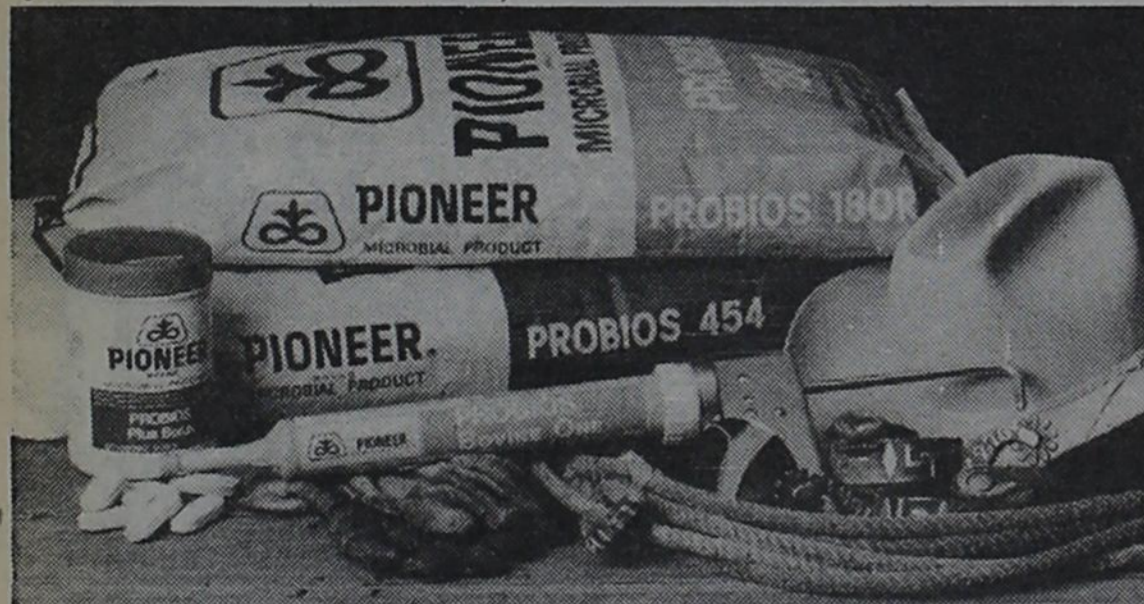

W.T. Perry of Farwell stopped by the State Line Tribune office last Friday with a copy of the Sept. 29 issue of the Dallas Morning News.

A half-page article in that issue featured the late Paul Crume, "a man of durable wit."

Crume died in 1975, was a long-time Morning columnist. The article noted Crume's early beginnings in journalism: "When I was 8 or 9, I walked into this little newspaper and became fascinated with the Linotype displayed in the window. I loved printing and the discipline of it."

"By the time he was 13, Crume was a printer's devil for the State Line Tribune in Farwell, down the road from Lariat, where he grew up."

Texico opens district with win

The Texico Wolverines opened their district season with a 20-12 victory over Springer last Friday at Springer.

Texico is now 1-0 in district and 3-3 on the season. Texico has Homecoming tonight (Friday) and faces Hagerman at 7:30 p.m. MDT.

Texico began the scoring against Springer at 2:01 of the first quarter when Charlie Bibbs raced over from the 7 yard line. It was the first of his three touchdowns. The point-after kick failed.

In the second quarter, Springer tied the game on a 30-yard pass play from Jeff Gillespie to John Caldwell at the 1:02 mark. The point-after run failed and the half ended in a 6-6 tie.

Springer moved ahead in the third quarter on a 6-yard run by Kurt Eppler. The point-after pass failed.

Then in the fourth quarter, Texico scored two TD's to clinch the win. The first was scored by Charlie Bibbs on a 5-yard run at the 10:30 mark. Two points were added on the point-after pass from John Thomas to Eric Harding.

And with 4:10 left in the game, Charlie Bibbs again raced over from the 5-yard line. The point-after pass failed.

Individual statistics for Texico were:

Rushing: Charlie Bibbs, 20 for 122 yards; Stanley Cross, 17 for 104; John Thomas, 6 for 10; and Larry Dudley, 5 for 17.

Passing: John Thomas, 7 of 13 for 44 yards, and Stanley Cross, 0 for 2. Receiving: Eric Harding, 3 for 31 yards, and Stanley Cross, 4 for 13 yards.

Here's what Coach David Lynn had to say:

"We played real poorly. I was disappointed in our kids' efforts. Springer was ready to play and they almost took advantage of us."

"We had a good practice today (Tuesday) and we expect to play our best game of the year against Hagerman, which has been picked to win district."

Big Lick Award

The recipients of the Big Lick Award for this week are Texico's Kyle Snipes, left, and Jody McDonald. Snipes is the most consistent and efficient player, said Coach David Lynn. McDonald played well offensively against Springer, said Lynn.

Melrose tops

Sudan spoils Farwell Homecoming

By DeAnn Curtis

Sudan's Hornets defeated the Farwell Steers at the Steers' Homecoming last Friday night, 28-8. Sudan took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards for its first touchdown with 8:19 left in the first quarter. The point-after kick was good and the lead was 7-0. Both teams had short possessions, then a Farwell fumble set up Sudan's second touchdown. The kick failed and the quarter ended with the Hornets leading, 13-0. The second quarter began with fumbles by both teams. Then Sudan intercepted a Farwell pass and scored again. The two-point conversion was good and the lead was 21-0. Farwell was stopped again, then recovered a Sudan fumble but was soon forced to punt. Eric Williams intercepted two Hornet passes but the score was 21-0 at the half. Farwell had the first possession in the third quarter but lost the ball on a fumble. Sudan scored again, and the kick made it 28-0. In the final period, Farwell stopped Sudan, with Kevin Owen and Bobby Ford recording quarterback sacks. Then Farwell got the ball back and David Woods ran for a 21-yard touchdown. Woods also ran in for the two-point conversion. The rest of the game consisted of a couple of pass completions from Woods to Owen and Williams, and several penalties on both teams. Neither team was able to score and Sudan ran out the clock at the end of the game. Individual statistics were: Rushing -- Blake Kelley, 64 yards; Kevin Owen, 13 yards; Bobby Ford, 33 yards, and David Woods, 27 yards. Williams caught two passes for 38 yards, and Owen one for three yards. Farwell had 8 first downs to Sudan's 18. Farwell had 121 yards rushing, Sudan 109. And Farwell gained 41 yards in the air while Sudan had 153. Farwell had four fumbles and two interceptions. Here's what Coach Monte Barnes had to say: "We played poorly. The Sudan quarterback threw the ball well but we didn't play well in the secondary. The turnovers just killed us; it gave them momentum and less for us. "Hopefully, we are looking forward to this week's district opener against Vega. They have a good football team." The Steers play Vega in an away game at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Friday). Vega ranks 10th in the state in its division, said Barnes. "We will come back and play well this week," he said. Out with injuries are Steers' Steve Jaime, Carey Stancell and David Rubio.

Steer of the Week

The Steer of the Week goes to Kevin Owen, with 19 tackles on defense. "He played a good defensive game," said Coach Monte Barnes.

Bus chartered for Vega game

The Farwell Booster Club has chartered a bus for the Farwell-Vega football game tonight (Friday). Fans should be ready to board the buses at 5 p.m. at the gym. Fans should bring a sack lunch or be prepared to eat at the game. The cost is $3 per person. To reserve seats, call Cynthia Thigpen at 481-3619 (days) or 481-9355 (evenings).

Parmer traffic fatalities listed

Last year, 107 persons were killed in the 17-county Lubbock District, according to Mel Pope, District Engineer, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, of Lubbock.

"Alcohol, speeding and not wearing seat belts continue to be our greatest problems," said Pope. "Here in the Lubbock district, which includes 17 counties surrounding Lubbock, we had 10,669 traffic accidents."

There were 162 accidents in Parmer County alone, 4 of which were fatal, with 4 people being killed in 1984.

MONDAY, OCT. 14 Texico Chamber of Commerce will meet at 6:30 p.m. (MDT) at the Citizen's Bank.

Sarpalius: State attracts businesses

We have discussed before Texas' economic situation, one that is good, shakey or spiraling downward, depending on who is doing the talking. The opinion here is that the state is still doing just fine, thank you. Certainly, we've had some setbacks. The declining oil and gas production has led to a budget crunch in Austin, unemployment has crept upward without matching national levels and we certainly don't enjoy the immunity we had in the 1970's from national economic problems.

first with 335 and New York second with 273. When it comes to housing the biggest firms (1,000 employees or more), New York was first with 571, California second with 463, and Texas had 342. That Texas ranks so highly in the number of large businesses is not that surprising. Being the nation's third-most populous state, it ought to be in the top three. All these people wouldn't be living here if there wasn't someone to give them jobs.

Still, we have it pretty good. We recently pointed to a report from the Advisory Council on Intergovernmental Relations that indicated Texas state and local taxes are the second-lowest in the nation. Not bad plaudit, considering our revenue problems of the last few years.

What is significant is Texas' leadership over New York in all but the two largest categories. It wasn't all that long ago that New York was our most populous state and an undisputed national leader in businesses of all size.

Now comes another indicator of our relative good fortune. Dun & Bradstreet, a renowned investment firm, recently conducted a poll of the 50,000 largest corporations in the United States. Of those, 4,684 were located in Texas. Only California, with 5,748 such corporations, had more.

The Empire State still is the financial center of the free world, but that's where the boasting ends. Businesses obviously found other aspects of the tax-high, spend-big state less than attractive, and those businesses have begun migrating west -- to Texas and California, in particular.

A large number of corporations translates into jobs -- and lots of them. Each of the 50,000 firms surveyed by Dun & Bradstreet had a net worth of at least $1.85 million, and many employed more than 1,000 people.

Only the very largest companies, those that would have to spend the most to move, remain rooted in New York. Others have moved this direction or our healthy business climate has led to the creation of new, vibrant firms.

According to a breakdown of the firms, Texas ranked in the top three nationally in all categories. Among those firms that employed between 1 and 99 people, Texas had the second-largest number with 2,658. California ranked first with 3,255 such firms.

Reports such as the one by Dun & Bradstreet, of course, do not serve as a crystal ball through which we can predict the future with absolute certainty. It does, however, serve as a fairly accurate measure of our recent past and of current trends.

Texas also was second in the number of firms employing between 100 and 499 people. The Lone Star State had 1,172 firms in that range while California had 1,462.

Let us reflect on the economic policy that has led to Texas' outstanding recent past and its positive current image as a strong business state. We have no corporate or personal income tax, which is attractive to companies and their employees. We have the second-lowest taxes in the nation, which pleases all parties. And, our labor laws neither give undue power to or hinders the activity of labor unions, a policy which treats management

Revive tired soil

Gardeners whose sweet corn looked pale or whose green beans turned brown this year may have experienced the "tired soil blashs."

ganic matter, Dickerson says, but their destination in the soil profile is limited by incorporation technique.

To beat the bahs, these gardeners can act now to have better results next season. It's time to plant a green manure crop.

"A green manure crop is not only an excellent source of organic matter that can be mechanically incorporated, the roots of the crops can also open up the soil to deeper depths than can be done through mechanical incorporation," the Extension specialist says.

A green manure crop is a plant grown specifically to produce forage that can be turned under to improve the soil structure.

"Drilled into a field or raked into the home garden, cereal crops serve not only as a source of organic matter for next year's garden, they also keep the soil from blowing and add a touch of green to otherwise bleak winter days."

"Tired soil" generally has a low organic matter content. It may be compacted from shallow watering and continued cultivation of row crops. Compact soil retards the development of many crops.

The green manure crop should be turned under in the spring at least a month before planting any vegetable or fruit crop. Some nitrogen fertilizer may be added to assist soil bacteria in breaking down cellulose in the plant, the specialists suggest.

Green manure crops can improve soil tilth and increase water penetration, says George Dickerson, farm demonstration specialist at Albuquerque for the New Mexico State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Winter cereal crops planted around fruit trees or grapes in the fall also may help these crops resist winter injury. Late summer and fall rains in New Mexico often prevent fruit crops from hardening off properly. Winter cereal crops will help to remove moisture from the soil and help plants in the hardening off process.

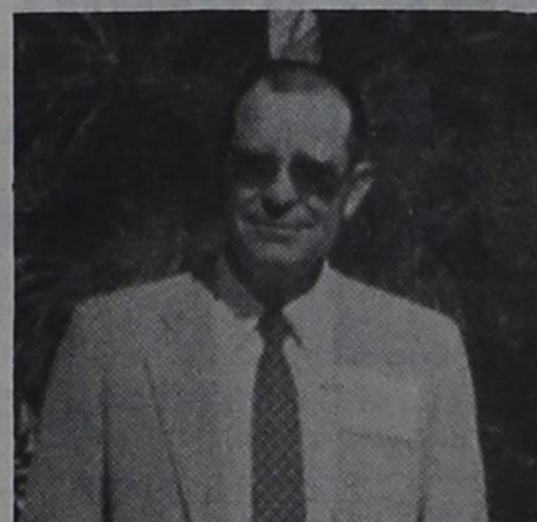

Clover, buckwheat or any of the winter annual cereal crops such as rye, wheat, barley or oats make good green manure crops, Dickerson says.

Winter annual cereal crops should be planted three to six weeks before frost.

Some gardeners and small growers return organic matter to the soil by applying compost or manure. Both are excellent sources of or-and labor interests fairly. The mix seems to be working, and we think most Texans approve. If we continue to follow the same basic path of low taxes and limited government involvement in the private sector, there is no reason Texas' economy can't remain among the healthiest in the nation for years to come.

Course completed

Jerry Roberts, a farmer and rancher of the Simms Community and secretary of the board of directors of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, received his certificate of completion of the "Basic Modern Management Course for Rural Electric System Directors." This course is presented by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, and is designed to help electric cooperative directors better understand their role as electric cooperative directors.

Chisom scores 70-yard TD

The Farwell Junior Varsity lost to Sudan 20-6, Oct. 3.

It was a hard-fought football game. The Farwell Steers drew first blood on a 70-yard TD sweep by Curtis Chisom.

"As usual the Steers scored first, but were unable to keep momentum throughout the game and finally succumbed to brute force from a more determined team and lost," said Coach George Langon.

"The junior varsity played its best defensive game of the year. The defense caused eight fumbles, two pass interceptions and blocked one kick. It seems like everyone made at least one good defensive play in the game," Langon said.

The outstanding defensive players were Paul Longley, Curtis Chisom, Rueben Ortega, Ralph Galvan, Greg Bearns, Tony Nicolas, Jaime Mendoza, Brian Haseloff, Todd Thigpen, David Price, Isi Ortega, Abel Lopez and David Rubio.

"We need to get our offense together," said Langon.

The JV will not play this week due to varsity injuries. Jaime Mendoza and Donald Rubio will play on the varsity team.

Farwell loses to Sudan

The Farwell Junior High football team lost to Sudan 36-6 Oct. 3.

"We had poor field position and turnovers. We mishandled a punt on fourth down, which gave them the ball on our 10 yard line and a touchdown," said Coach Gary Cates.

"We had our backs to the wall because of the turnovers," said Cates.

"Defensively we looked fairly good. We held them scoreless in the second half," he said.

In rushing, Shawn Stewart had 45 yards; Sammy Herrera, 25 yards and Bruce White, 50 yards.

In the fourth quarter, Shawn Stewart ran 8 yards for a touchdown on a pitchout from Clint Kelley.

Farwell will play Vega at 5 p.m. Oct. 10.

A bit late

Although the Celebrity Auction to raise funds for the Farwell Community Center was held in July, a postcard arrived in Farwell last Friday from the Detroit Tigers.

The card said that the Tigers were unable to donate an item because it was their policy to just give donations to local groups.

The letter seeking a donation from the Tigers was mailed to that baseball organization May 1. The Tigers' response came Oct. 4 -- more than five months later.

Regrets from the Farwell Seniors... due to the large crowd served during our BBQ Supper last Friday night we ran out of beans, potato salad and dessert before everyone was served. We are extremely sorry about this and if anyone feels that they did not get their money's worth, please contact a Senior parent and we will take care of it. (Cynthia Thigpen 481-9355, Gloria Hutchins 481-3215, Carolyn George 825-2988). Everyone is always so great to support our kids when they put on these suppers, and we certainly don't want anyone to be upset.

Lady Spikers improve district record to 3-2

Texico's Lady Spikers defeated Floyd in straight sets Tuesday to improve its district record to 3-2 and season record to 8-3.

The scores were 15-2, 15-9 and 15-12.

According to Coach Michael Littlejohn, "We played probably our best match of the year. Everyone was intense. We played well physically because everyone was prepared mentally."

"Tracey McDonald had her best match of the year. Loretta Gonzales had another super match setting the ball to our hitters. She had a super night because our passers did an excellent job of getting the ball to her."

Individual statistics showed: Kelly Lynn, 4 aces, 12 kills and 1 blocked shot; Loretta Gonzales, 2 aces, and 60 sets; Coy Jo Burk, 4 aces, 2 kills and 1 blocked shot; Helen Jo Boarman, 4 kills; Tracey McDonald, 1 ace, 2 kills and 3 blocked shots; Twilla Longo, 5 aces and 5 kills, and Robin Pierce, 2 aces. The Texico Lady Spikers won over Dora 15-4, 15-1, and 15-7 Oct. 1.

The individual statistics were: Kelly Lynn with six kills; Loretta Gonzales, with 14 assists and 96% set; Coy Jo Burk with five aces; Twilla Longo, with nine aces, six kills and three blocks; Geneva Garcia with two aces and two kills; Robin Pierce with four assists.

"We played real well. Great play at the net. Twilla Longo played her best varsity match," said Coach Michael Littlejohn.

The Lady Spikers played Elida Oct. 3. Texico lost 9-15, 15-7, 2-15 and 14-16.

The individual statistics were: Lynn, with two aces, 11 kills and one assist; Gonzales with one kill and 16 assists; Burk with eight aces, two kills and two blocks; Boarman with four kills and one assists; Longo with three aces and five kills.

"We played hard and served well. Our passing and attacking game was not where it should have been. We made too many mental mistakes. We had individual breakdowns in all aspects of the game," said Littlejohn.

Letter To The Editor

"Lovelace Gym" suggested

Dear Sir:

I have been taking the State Line Tribune for sometime and have enjoyed your Border Banter write-up -- the one where you spoke of giving the gym a better name and name it after some outstanding person who had lived there.

I would like to make this suggestion: Name it "The Lovelace Gym." Tom Lovelace, my father, had 10 children who graduated from Farwell High School and many grandchildren. And his daughter Mary taught there. Also, his son, Charlie Lovelace, was sheriff of Parmer County for over 35 years and had three sons who graduated from there and received scholarships to Texas Tech. They finished college and one is coaching now.

Tom Lovelace was on the school board for years. I don't know any of the school board members and would appreciate it if this letter was passed on to them.

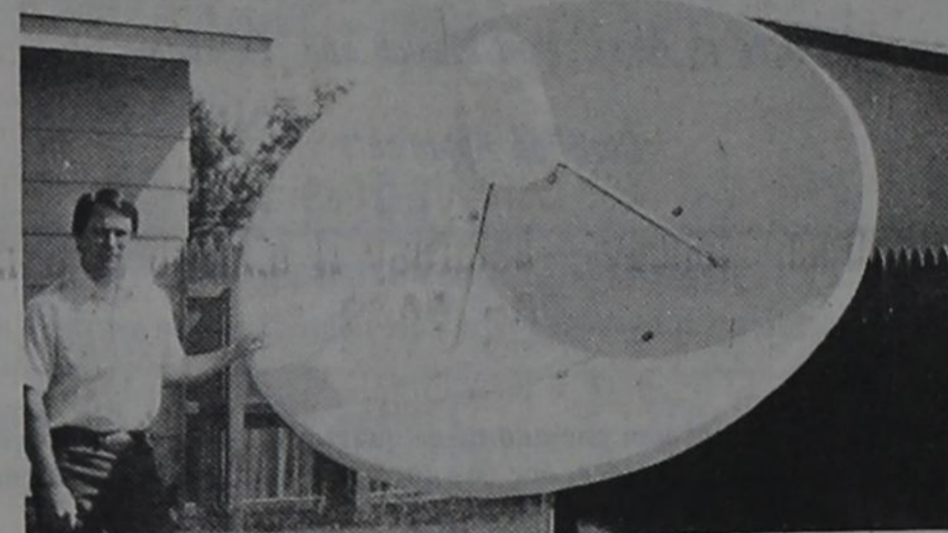

Sincerely,
Iona Hamilton

Just a reminder, if your old furnace is about to give up, you might want to consider a new, high-efficiency heat pump. If your air conditioner needs replacement but your gas furnace is still in good working order, an add-on heat pump may be the answer. The most efficient system is the geothermal heat pump. It may be used in the conversion of an existing system or a new installation. Call [806] 364-1166.
