to start it with. He is mad. He is independent and he is vocal. However, we would guess that he has two chances; slim and none. This usually applies to a citizen trying to buck the organized political pooh bahs -- but, wouldn't it be nice if he did win?
Oh yes, here is a little side light on Preston Smith's pledge of no new taxes. He expects the Federal Government to pick up the tab in several areas of heretofore state spending.
For example, this release before me reads, "Based on information we have received from the House Ways and Means Committee, (U. S. House of Representatives), the revenue-sharing bill approved by the Committee earlier this week will provide a total $202 million during the first year for the cities and counties of Texas."

Even on short trips it's a good idea to carry travelers checks. They're refundable if lost or stolen and command much wider acceptance than do personal checks. Around the world and in the U.S., it's hard to beat the safety and easy spendability of First National City Travelers Checks. They are sold by most banks in convenient denominations and can be redeemed or refunded in more places than any other travelers check.

Before you set out on your next trip, ask your insurance man about a "floater" policy that will protect your baggage against loss or theft. The cost is often very low compared to the risk of loss.

Well now, money is not picked off of trees; it is usually picked out of pockets. We wonder how much dinero Texans will send to Foggy Bottom to get back that $202 million???

Farwell Annual Is Dedicated To Amos Tatum

Consumers Want to Know

Recently, I read that it's not safe to put thawed food back in the freezer. I've done it for years with no harmful effect, so I'd like to know if it's really unsafe?

You may safely refreeze frozen foods that have thawed if they still contain ice crystals or if they are still very cold. These foods should be used as soon as possible as the eating quality will be affected by thawing. It is best not to refreeze partially thawed ground meats, fish or poultry.
How long does it take for an oven to clean itself?
Some self-cleaning ovens work on one preset time; others give you a time choice for light, medium or heavy soil. Total cleaning time, including the cool-down period is generally around two to three hours.

Class favorites in Mrs. Betty Kimbell's first grade. Kindergarten class favorites in Mrs. Kathy Weems' class are John Ensor and Stephanie Morris. Donna Hill and Randy Sierra are class favorites in Mrs. Nelle Craig's special education.

You can make air 20 degrees cooler with a wet gunny sack and a fan.

You won't be able to control the temperature. Then why spend the extra money it costs to install a gas central air conditioning system?
You won't be able to control humidity. Because you just might want the things an evaporative system doesn't offer:
You won't clean the air of grit and pollens. A unit that's designed to last as long as your house.
You won't have adequate ventilation. A command of temperature and humidity.
You won't have a permanent system by any means. A climate that's good for your health and disposition.
You won't necessarily feel more comfortable. A system that's engineered, installed and serviced by Southern Union specialists.
But you will have the pleasure of seeing the temperature drop. Find out how little extra it costs to do the job right.
That, essentially, is the reward an evaporative cooling system offers. Southern Union Gas Company
And for some people, that's enough.

If you want the job done right do it with gas.

Trim. Cut. Clip. Snip. Women who sew need proper cutting tools. Sharpness is the most important quality of good cutting equipment.

An ideal kit of tools might contain eight-inch shears, six-inch snipping scissors and three-inch embroidery scissors. Though you could get by with less, a minimum set should include at least a pair of bent handle dressmaker shears and a pair of scissors.

Shears are usually larger than scissors and are used for heavy cutting jobs. The handle's bent to let the blade rest flat against the cutting surface.

The openings in the handle of shears are of unequal size so that two or three fingers can be inserted in the opening of one handle and the thumb in another.

Use scissors for lighter cutting tasks. The handle features smaller openings of equal size.

Later, when you want to add some luxury items to your minimum kit of sewing tools, consider embroidery scissors, pinking scissors, buttonhole scissors and thread clips.

Buttonhole scissors, designed to cut buttonholes of uniform size, provide adjustable cutting edges.

Thread clips are a modified form of scissors that have only one finger opening. They fit snugly in the hand and provide maximum flexibility of movement.

For the homemaker who likes to carry her needlework with her, folding scissors offer the perfect solution. These tiny scissors fit into their case which is the size of a match box.

Buy good quality cutting tools and have them re-sharpened when necessary. Select shears and scissors with blades connected by a screw that can be adjusted.

Avoid buying cutting tools that have blades riveted together or a rivet made to look like a screw.

Keep the blades in proper adjustment. Blades connected too tightly are tiring to use. Those too loosely connected cut sloppily.

Since shears and scissors are expensive, keep all cutting equipment for sewing only. Keep them in a safe place away from children who need to cut paper, husbands who need to cut a piece of wire and little brothers who need to trim fingernails.

With good sharp shears, you can cut out a garment easily. And sharp, well-kept tools make your work more accurate than dull ones do.

We hope all who attended the Suit Fair in Hereford did enjoy and benefit from it. And we hope you will consider coming back next fall as a Sew Fair is being planned for Sept. 12

Boy Scouts Receive Red Cross Instruction

Texico-Farwell Boy Scouts Texas Highway Department, James W. Moody, maintenance foreman at Bovina, is serving

"HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE!" -- James W. Moody, maintenance foreman for the Texas Highway Department at Bovina, explains the important points concerning a head bandage Kevin Ford has just applied to Scott Watkins. Moody has been giving the instruction to Troop 200 Scouts on his own time, with equipment furnished by District Five Headquarters in Lubbock. Scoutmaster Gene Bitner recently received the training with his fellow highway employees when it was given at Muleshoe.

What can be done to save foods in the food freezer during a prolonged power failure?

Try to find out how long before the power will come on. If normal operation cannot be resumed before the food starts to thaw, use dry ice or move the food to a locker plant. Twenty-five pounds of dry ice should keep the temperature below freezing for two or three days in a 10-cubic foot cabinet with half a load, and three to four days in a loaded cabinet.

How can you tell if frozen foods are safe to use after a power failure?

If the foods did not thaw completely, chances are they may be used. However, it would be a good idea to use them as soon as possible. A fully loaded freezer will usually stay cold for two days if the door is not opened.

as instructor for the American National Red Cross Multimedia System of instruction.

Ten members of the troop received instruction in two 4-hour sessions held April 24 in the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, and April 26 in the Maintenance Warehouse at Bovina. Another ten members of the troop are expected to receive the course sometime in May.

The eight hours of instruction has included sound-film presentations, practical skills practiced by the boys, open-book classwork and subject matter examinations. During the course the Scouts had 17 "on-the-blanket" practice sessions, working with various pressure points, splints, bandages, victim transportation procedures and artificial respiration. Each Scout had a "buddy" throughout the course with whom to share these practical experiences.

Scoutmaster Gene Bitner took the course as a part of his employment with the Texas Highway Department. Instructor Moody has given the course to highway employees in several counties and volunteered to provide the instruction to the Troop 200 Scouts. Bitner expressed the belief that this course would be extremely helpful for the troop's upcoming Alaskan Expedition June 10-July 13. This instruction will also qualify the boys for their First Aid Merit Badges, in addition to Red Cross certification.

FIRST AID INSTRUCTION -- Scouts Kevin Ford, Tim Bradshaw and Guy Whitesides administer First Aid for suspected leg injuries on their "victims" during their American National Red Cross course given recently at their sponsoring church and the Texas Highway Department Maintenance Warehouse in Bovina. Ten Scouts have taken the course and another ten are to take the instruction sometime in May.

Food dollars are precious and sometimes scarce. Three basic rules of sound food shopping are: 1. Plan to serve foods that are in season and plentiful; they frequently cost less. 2. Shop from a list which you prepared at home and avoid "impulse buying." 3. Spend money in stores stocking a wide variety of foods; they generally have the best prices.

To Area Women --

Braille Workshop Gives Fellowship, Compassion

Approximately 30 area women belonging to Lutheran Women's Missionary League at St. John Lutheran Church in Lariat have been given a chance for Christian fellowship while showing compassion for others in a Braille Workshop.

A workshop held recently day led by Mrs. Helene Loewe, Executive Director of Lutheran Braille Workers, of Whittier, Calif., and Rev. and Mrs. Harold Finkle of Malone, Tex., provided the women with an opportunity to produce Braille Bible lessons in Korean.

This past November, the women were introduced to the techniques used by Lutheran Braille Workers in producing Braille books for countries around the world. Rev. Finkle, as head of Texas Lutheran Braille Work, came to add his experiences in producing Braille.

Presently the women will be involved in producing 1500 copies of Lesson Four of a 10-lesson Bible study in the Korean language. Later on, they will be making copies of a Korean handbook which is designed to help blind Koreans use the Bible studies.

The process by which the women are producing the books include pressing a specially-designed paper between metal Braille plates. The plates are printed on both sides, so the finished product reads like an ordinary book except for its raised dots.

After the page is printed, it is studied for wrinkles and straight margins. As soon as it has been okayed, it is sent to another machine which punches holes for binding. The book is bound by another machine which connects plastic loops that are strung through the binding holes.

CONSIDER CONSERVATION during Soil Stewardship Week, May 8-14, and all year round. A fight against ignorance, waste and greed long with the will and skill of responsible man will be able to save the resources that all men need. "Creative Conservation" is the theme of this year's observance. It underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the realm.

May 7-14 --

Observe Soil Stewardship Week

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water and other resources, will be observed next week, according to Leon Grissom, chairman of Parmer County Conservation District.

"Creative Conservation," the theme of this year's observance, underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the realm. The Parmer County Conservation District and some 3,000 companion districts throughout the nation along with their State and National Association are sponsoring the event for the 18th consecutive year.

The Parmer County Conservation District will distribute upon request to churches of all faiths, attractive program blanks, bulletin inserts, posters, and booklets created particularly for this year's observance.

The materials were prepared by the National Association of Conservation Districts, in consultation with a Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee composed of leading church men in the nation. The committee consists of the Rt. Rev. John George Weber, National Catholic Rural Life Conference; the Rev. Harold S. Huff, Board of Missions of the Methodist Church; the Rev. Henry A. McCanna, National Council of Churches; Ray W. Owen, Southern Baptist Convention; Daniel O. Parker, United Church Board for Homeland Ministries; and Mr. Osgood Magnuson, Lutheran Council in the U.S.A.

If breakfast is unpopular in your house, changing the menu may do wonders in winning over reluctant eaters. There's nothing wrong with codfish cakes or hamburgers so long as the meal contains sufficient calories, protein, and other nutrients. Don't overlook the important Vitamin C you get in fruit or juice.

One of the favorite pastimes for approximately 97% of Americans today is snacking. Snacks should augment the total daily food intake so what you eat is important. Fresh vegetables, fruit, and cheese are good, and for something unique try deep-fried liver strips. Liver is an especially important source of all nutrients except calcium.

RUNNING THE PRESS for the printing of lesson four of a Bible study in the Korean language are Mrs. Mary Alice Ramm, left, and Mrs. Mary Helen Gohlke. Both women are members of Lutheran Women's Missionary League of St. John Lutheran Church in Lariat. The group participated in a Braille workshop recently that will enable them to produce books in Braille for blind Koreans. According to Mrs. Helene Loewe, Executive Director of Lutheran Braille Workers, the Braille project gives the women a chance to have Christian fellowship while sharing the Word of God with the blind.

BRILLE WORKSHOP -- Mrs. Minnie Ramm, left, and Mrs. Roy Zieschang, right, are placing paper between metal Braille plates so it can be run through the press. They number the paper first placing it in the plate with the same page number so that the finished pages can be placed in the book correctly. The technique of producing Braille from printed metal plates was shown to Lutheran Women's Missionary League members recently. They will be doing number four of a Bible study in Korea. Later on, they will produce a Braille Korean handbook for use in studying the Bible study lessons.

In Farwell Schools --

Drug Abuse Program Is Being Taught

A drug abuse program has been initiated into the Farwell school system this year in compliance with a state law requiring five hours of education each year in drug abuse.

Students from fifth grade to seniors have received instruction from their teachers on drug abuse. Most of the material is furnished by TANE (Texas Alcohol-Narcotics Education).

Recently, fifth graders from Farwell Elementary and sixth, seventh and eighth graders from Farwell Junior High received drug abuse education during one-hour periods each day for five days.

Farwell High School students have been receiving instruction on the new program during their regular classes in health education. According to Mrs. John Lockhart, school nurse, the way in which the program is taught, is up to each department.

During the recent program for the fifth graders, Dean Smith of Pleasant Hill spoke on the dangers involved in taking drugs. He is a narcotics agent for the New Mexico State Police Department.

Upon conclusion of the five-hour education program, the following four letters, picked at random, were written by fifth grade students expressing their views on what they had learned.

"In this week about drugs, I've really learned the danger of drugs. Before I never really thought about anything like this happening to me, but it could, I think this is a good thing because before this, I thought if you just took a little it wouldn't hurt, but it will. And this is a good thing, I think that we could have had more discussion and it might help us more. I think we could have had more time for the speaker also. This thing about marijuana is no good to me because all it does is causes wrecks. It does no good. I don't think it should be all right to pass the law. I would not accept an offer for drugs because I like myself better than that."

"Well I think that marijuana should not be legal. But I did learn a lot about drugs and I think that if we keep on this that when I get old enough that when some one offers it to me that I will be old enough and smart enough not to take it. I did like the program and the films to know enough about them."

"I don't think that marijuana should be used because you would go on and try some harmful drug. I think the program was worthwhile, but for younger kids I think that it should be longer. I really learned a lot from the program and I am glad he brought some of the drugs so that I would know what they looked like. If someone asked me if I wanted to try some I would tell them, 'No thanks. I can live without it.'"

"I learned a lot from our drug study last week. It taught me more about drugs than what I knew. Last year and this year, I thought I might like to try drugs but not now.

"As far as marijuana goes, I don't think they should pass a law for you to smoke it because there's no telling what it might lead to.

"If someone would ask me for some heroin or something I would say yes and take and show the police or someone but that's all."

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN

... by VERN SANFORD

Texas outdoor writer Roy Swann has authored a book, "FISHING FOR FUN", that merits reading by every man and woman deeply or remotely interested in the finny tribe of underwater animals.

It is a "how to" for the beginner and a "where to" for the seasoned angler.

One would think that the personable little newspaperman from the Corpus Christi Caller-Times would, due to his almost lifetime Gulf Coast residence, devote all his space to salt water subjects. But the talented angler shows his versatility by presenting tips on many phases of the art of fishing both coastal and inland waters.

Another nice feature of Roy's compilation of helpful, factual and practical information for the angler, in addition to the abundant illustrations, is the price . . . $1 per copy.

The 43-year-old Victorian-born writer, 26 years of it with the Corpus daily, teaches an adult education class at Del Mar College during the spring semester. Subject? The same—"Fishing for Fun".

Here's hoping the students enjoy his lectures as much as we enjoy his book.
