Local Farmers Cashing Farm Program Payments

Approximately 300 farmers in Parmer County are scheduled to receive farm set-aside program payments totaling $2,300,000 during this first week of July, according to Prentice L. Mills, County Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

By the end of the month, the total will be about $9,000,000 to Parmer County farmers.

Nationwide, approximately 750,000 cotton, feed grain and wheat producers were mailed a total of $850 million in expedited preliminary payments in time for the checks to arrive in producers' hands on July 1. Payments under the set-aside programs are made to farmers who agree to set aside part of their land from production in order to meet a national objective of balancing supply and demand in certain commodities. These payments help to off-set the loss of returns from cropland that otherwise would be used for income-yielding production, and on which the farmer is obliged to continue to pay taxes and apply needed conservation steps, according to officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Payments to producers are limited to $5,000 per person for each of three crops - feed grain, wheat, and cotton - under the Agricultural Act of 1970.

Nationally total payments are expected to be about $3.7 billion. Total 1972 farm set-aside program payments in Parmer County are expected to be about $11,500,000.

Feed grain producers in the nation ultimately will receive about $1.9 billion, cotton producers about $825 million, and wheat producers about $1 billion. Preliminary payments to wheat producers are limited by law to 75 percent of final payments. Final wheat certificate payments will be made after December 1. Feed grain and cotton farmers may or may not get a final payment, depending on market conditions.

The expedited farm program payments are made possible by streamlined procedures inaugurated in 1970 by ASCS. The action enabled farmers to receive the entire payment due them in the 1970 and 1971 programs six to eight weeks earlier than ever before.

These early payments help many producers reduce their need for long-term credit and cut the amount of interest paid. The flow of cash at this time will again be of major significance to rural communities and the U. S. agricultural economy, USDA officials said.

Area Celebrations Staged As Planned

Despite dreary, cloudy, misty weather, Fourth of July celebrations at Texico-Farwell Lions Club Ballpark and Oklahoma Lane Community Center were staged as usual.

Texico Fourth of July celebration, sponsored by Texico Chamber of Commerce, Texico Woman's Club and Texico Volunteer Fire Department, kicked off in the afternoon Tuesday with two baseball games.

Kelly Green beat the Clovis Pintos 7 to 6 in an exciting game, while Worley Grain lost to Clovis Braves 7 to 2 in an equally thrilling game.

Approximately 225 persons partook of a barbecue meal served by members of Texico Woman's Club. It is estimated that close to 300 persons were on hand for the celebration which included a beautiful fireworks display.

Oklahoma Lane's Fourth of July celebration began with a series of volleyball games, instead of the usual baseball games. Approximately 50 Oklahoma Lane residents and exes registered. The low number was credited to the weather.

According to James Ensor who was in charge of the patriotic program, the group of people who braved the weather enjoyed themselves immensely.

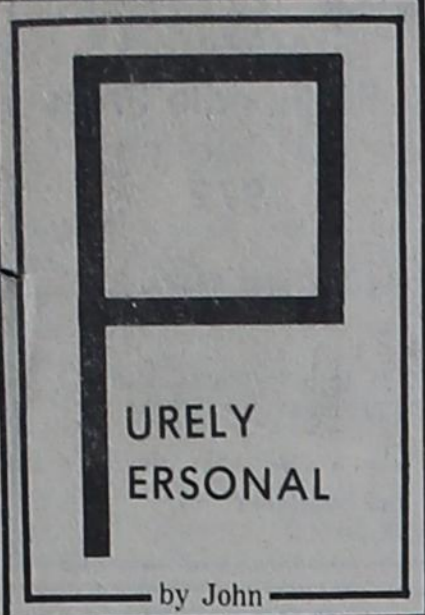

The patriotic program included singing of patriotic songs led by Ruth Boone of Clovis. Harold Carpenter accompanied on the piano. Jon Ensor led the pledge of allegiance and Mrs. Roz Blankenship gave a patriotic reading titled "A Tired American". Wendol Christian read the Gettysburg Address.

At a short business meeting, Floyd Coates was named new director of Oklahoma Lane Community Center. He will also be in charge of the annual Christmas celebration and July 4th celebration next year. Highlight of the celebration was a fireworks display.

FOOTBALL OR BASEBALL? -- No one looking at this scene could be quite sure whether these people were out watching a fall football game or a Fourth of July baseball game. Only those persons who attended the Fourth of July celebration at Texico-Farwell Lions Club Ballpark Tuesday in the cold, drizzly weather know for sure. An estimated 300 persons watched two baseball games during the afternoon, while approximately 225 persons ate a barbecue meal served by Texico Woman's Club members. Highlight of the evening's events was a huge fireworks display set off by members of Texico Volunteer Fire Department.

Patriotism runs deep on the High Plains. The list of communities that sponsored patriotic celebrations is quite impressive. Of course locally we had the Texico celebration and the Oklahoma Lane affair. Also in our area we had Muleshoe, Friona, Clovis and Melrose, just to name our close neighbors, who recognized the 196th anniversary of the signing of our Declaration of Independence.

This is a pretty good track record for a part of the country that still reckons its population by the hundreds and thousands instead of by the hundreds of thousands. It is good to breathe the free air of the Golden Spread, both literally and figuratively.

Around the turn of the century, the term "yellow sheet" was used to designate a sensational and unreliable newspaper. The responsible segment of the newspaper fraternity recognized this threat to the confidence of the public and reacted to expose the untrustworthy journalists for the hucksters they were. Following this era, the public enjoyed several decades of objective and professional journalistic reporting and to see it in print was almost tantamount to the truth.

This trust in the news media has been shaken if not shattered by the advent of the electronic dissemination of the day's happenings. As proof of this gathering distrust of the news media, we cite a survey taken by the Texas Tech Institute of Mass Communications. This survey showed that almost half -- 49.2 per cent -- of the establishment of an independent council to keep check on the objectivity of the news media.

Our message to the syrup-sounding soothsayers of the boob tube is the same as Abe Lincoln's, "you can't fool all the people all the time."

It would be a blow to freedom of the press if the government were forced by public outrage to check on the validity of all the media's spoken or printed word. We cannot think of a bigger stride toward the advent of "Big Brother" government.

The planning activities for the Border Town Days scheduled for July 27, 28 and 29 are picking up steam. The Farwell Arena Association met this week to plan the rodeo activities and the Farwell Chamber of Commerce Civic Affairs Committee also gathered to plan the participation of the Chamber in the celebration.

Basically, it looks like the format will be similar to that used in the past years. The opening parade will be staged on Thursday afternoon, the 27th. Following the parade will be the annual Chamber of Commerce Bar-B-Que at Farwell city park south of the Court House. The AJRA Rodeo will begin that evening for a three-day run, ending Saturday night, the 29th.

There will be a Queen's Contest with the winner to reign as "Miss Border Town Days" for the ensuing year. Girls between the ages of 14-18 are urged to compete for this title and should contact Mrs. Darrell Norton to enter.

Any suggestions in regard to the Thursday parade will be appreciated by the parade committee headed by Joe Hughes. Let's make this the best parade yet in the line of excellent parades marking the beginning of Border Town Days festivities; and we can have everybody's participation and help.

In the weekly newspaper field, a Monday holiday is bad, but a Tuesday holiday is worse. Especially if it makes the "well digger" feel at home in July. For a "Fourth" this one was as cool as anyone, including Dutch, must remember. At least the weather recorders seem to think that it was of the all-time variety. Personally we think we ought to have summer in the summertime.

Mrs. Crume Retires As Postal Employee

Mrs. Eunice Crume performed her duties last Friday for the last time as postal clerk at the Texico Post Office. Mrs. Crume has been working as a postal employee over 27 years. In fact, it was 27 years last March. "I have seen lots of changes since I started," she says.

Queen Contestants Are Being Sought

Contestants for Border Town Days Queen Contest are being sought, says Mrs. Darrell Norton, contest chairman. Girls 14 through 18 (if still in high school) are urged to enter the competition. Contestants will be judged on personality, appearance and riding ability.

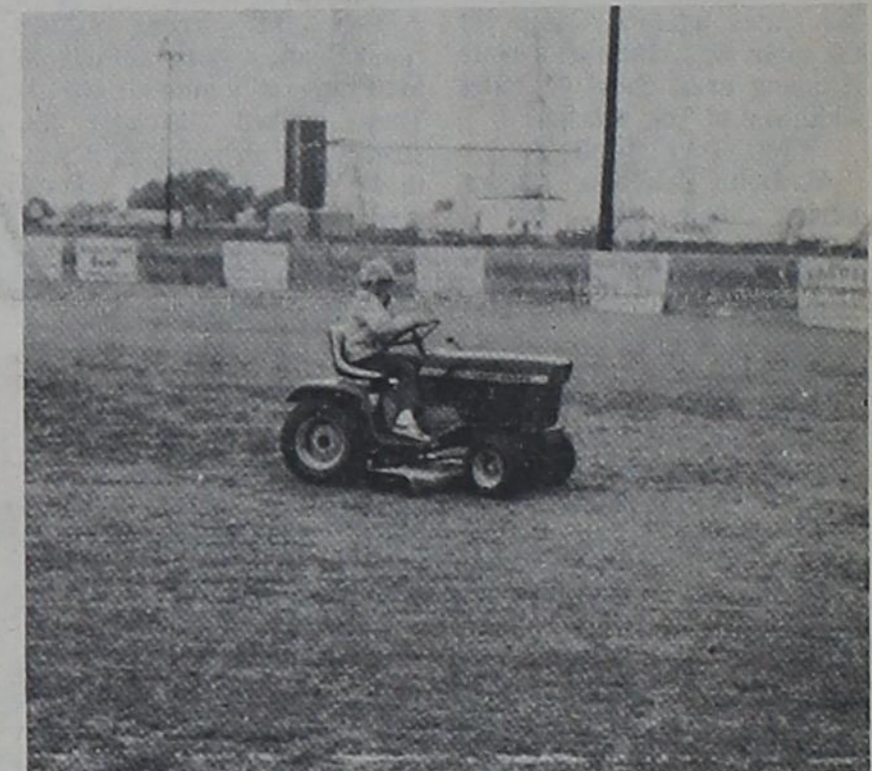

Entry deadline is Sunday, July 23. Girls interested in entering should contact Mrs. Norton at 825-3438.

Contestants will appear and be introduced before each performance of the AJRA Rodeo. Performances are scheduled July 27, 28 and 29. Each night performances begin at 8 p.m. Girls competing for the title of Miss Border Town Days will ride in the Border Town Days parade. Saturday, July 29, riding competition will be staged.

The new Border Town Days Queen will be crowned Saturday prior to the final performance of the AJRA Rodeo by Diane Luce of Texico, 1972 Border Town Days Queen.

BRRR, IT'S CHILLY -- An unidentified worker prepared Texico-Farwell Lions Club Ballpark Tuesday afternoon for scheduled baseball games by mowing the grass. He wore a stocking cap and a heavy coat to keep from freezing to death!

WHAT A MEAL! -- Members of the Ted Horner and Lee Hutchins families found barbecue and the trimmings just the thing for a cold, damp, dreary Fourth of July. They were among an estimated 300 persons who donned their coats and caps for the Fourth of July celebration sponsored by Texico Chamber of Commerce, Texico Woman's Club and Texico Volunteer Fire Department. Mrs. Murray White, president of Texico Woman's Club, said last year they (club members serving) had trouble keeping something cold for everyone to drink. This year, she said, we had trouble keeping something warm for everyone.

Hot Dog Feed Is Saturday

Texico-Farwell Rotary Club will honor boys from all 10 teams in Little League Baseball Saturday, July 8, at 6:30 p.m. in Farwell City Park with the annual Hot Dog Feed.

Major, minor and senior league team members and their fathers, along with umpires, coaches, sponsors and anyone else involved in Little League baseball this summer are invited to attend.

Adventure To Alaska . . . . . . With Troop 200

SATURDAY, JUNE 24
After another swim in the mineral hot springs pool, the troop drove into Whitehorse to wash clothes and to shop the local stores. Prices have increased greatly here—all food and drink is about twice or three times the price at home; gasoline in Whitehorse was 66.9 cents and we have paid as high as 74.9 cents; and it cost about $15.00 for the troop to wash in Whitehorse, as compared with $9.00 in Red Deer, Alberta.

From White horse, the troop left (again in rain) and progressed Mile 1064, and camped on Klauane Lake. This is a glacier lake, beautiful and clear, but very, very cold! The campsite was furnished by the Yukon Government, and featured enclosed kitchens with wood stoves.

ON MATANUSKA GLACIER — Troop 200 Scouts visited their first glacier June 30, at a location about 100 miles east of Anchorage. The glacier was named in 1898, and is thought by scientists to have been formed approximately 18,000 years ago. Exploring this section of the ice were (l. to r.) Mike McCully, Terri McCully, Kevin Ford, Scott Watkins, Wayne Martin and Phillip Hagler.

SUNDAY, JUNE 25
The troop held its own church services this morning, just a few feet from the water of Klauane Lake. Songs were led by Scouts Terry Williams, Terri McCully, Clay Roberts, Max Verner and Guy Whitesides. Opening prayer was given by Scout Alan McCleskey, and the message was brought by Rev. Bob Roberts.

While stopped to help some fellow travelers get their van unstuck, it was noticed that the "shakes" of the "highway" had dismembered part of a front spring on the bus. A temporary lashing saved the day, however, and repairs were made just a few miles down the line.

Going through American Customs at Mile 1221.8 was simple and friendly, but there were more questions asked coming back into the U. S. than there were leaving it. Although no one actually kissed the pavement at the Alaska border, there were several very loud cheers! The boys loved Canadians, but someone was heard to say at the first Alaska store—"It's great to hear someone from the states again!" Camp for the night was made at a state camping area about 30 miles southeast of Tok, Alaska.

MONDAY, JUNE 26
At Delta Junction, Alaska, during their stop for a noontime snack, the boys were welcomed at the nearby Visitor's Center. They were presented officially stamped certificates, attesting to the fact that they had endured the "trials and tribulations" of the Alaska Highway, and had safely arrived in Alaska. There were several original signatures on each paper, including that of the Delta Junction mayor!

Shortly after the troop arrived at Fairbanks First Methodist Church, the troop had its first major accident on the trip—Guy Whitesides lost half a front tooth, against a sick tile basement floor, while rolling on his sleeping bag. A dentist, who drove in ten miles to his office (after hours) charged only $13.00 for the office call, extraction of a nerve, and dental x-ray!

Thomas Byrnes, Scoutmaster of Fairbanks Troop 10, escorted the boys to Cleary's Summit. At around 12:30 a.m. the sun dropped below the horizon. When the troop returned to the summit about two hours later, the sun was rising again, this was the troop's special chance to see "The Midnight Sun"!

During the time interval, the troop was taken on a tour of the Fairbanks NASA Station, largest satellite tracking station in the world. They watched as the men followed their "birds" across the sky with giant antennas and complicated electronic equipment. Scouts were also given souvenir photographs of the moon landings. The night's remainder was spent in the basement of the church in Fairbanks.

TUESDAY, JUNE 27
Breakfast was a breeze this morning, through the use of the Fairbanks First Methodist Church kitchen. In the afternoon, two of the Troop 10 Scouts from Fairbanks acted as guides as the bus drove to various points of interest in the city. First there was a trip to the nearby University of Alaska Museum, which featured expansive displays of animals, including the gigantic Alaskan Brown Bear.

Then the troop visited Alakaland, a park similar to Six Flags (on a smaller scale). They walked through the streets of Fairbanks as it was in the gold rush days; saw all kinds of gold mining equipment; and, in general, spent almost three hours looking over the buildings, museums, exhibits and even a riverboat which was open for their inspection.

In the evening Troop 200 had a meeting with Troop 10 and exchanged stories, skits, patches and neckerchiefs. The night was again spent in the church basement.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28
Fairbanks Troop 10 Boy Scouts had been by their Scouting supplies distributor early in the morning to purchase patches for our Texico-Farwell boys, and to buy a few extra neckerchiefs for last-minute swaps. They came into the church basement with them just as the troop was getting ready for breakfast.

Before leaving Fairbanks, Troop 200 paid a visit to the Midnight Sun Council Scouting offices — then a quick trip to the Penney's store which serves as supplies distributor in Fairbanks.

For those interested in statistics, Troop 200 rolled into Fairbanks at 4,208 miles traveled from home, on 659 gallons of gas which was purchased at a cost of $346.16. Coming this distance, including the Alaska Highway — without a single flat — has been classified by those who know the route as "fantastic." And to think they were the cheapest tires our friend Billy Watts could find!

THURSDAY, JUNE 29
Today in Anchorage was a day for rest and relaxation. Staying at the First Baptist Church, there were again kitchen facilities for easier meal preparation. By popular demand, downtown Anchorage was the first area to be visited, in order that the boys could shop the stores for souvenirs and other items.

Although prices were still higher than back home, they were considerably lower than in Fairbanks and other portions of the interior. Gasoline, for instance, was 43.9 cents per gallon, compared with 54.9 in Fairbanks.

After lunch there was more "free-time" and the Scouts were again allowed to rest, shop, or explore the community. In the evening, the entire troop traveled to "Earthquake Park" to survey part of the damage done by the 1964 quake which destroyed much of Alaska.

While in Anchorage, Scout Alan McCleskey stayed with his brother, Jerry, who is stationed at Elmendorf AFB. Scouts Mike McCully, Terri

McCully and Phillip Hagler stayed with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown. Scouts noticed a marked difference in Anchorage, which offered warmer temperatures and "almost darkness" at night, contrasting with the all night light in Fairbanks.

FRIDAY, JUNE 30
Following breakfast in the church basement, the troop began loading operations for their departure from Anchorage. Just as this was almost completed, the majority of the entire building flooded. The Scouts bailed water for three hours while the city investigated with two pickups and a pumper truck. Church officials said if it had not been for the Scouts' help, they could not have handled it.

Next stop after leaving Anchorage was Long Lake State Wayside, where the noon meal was served. Highlight of the day was a visit to Glacier Park of Alaska. There the boys climbed over Matanuska Glacier, which is about 27 miles long and five miles wide. Camp for the night was made at the Glacier Park Campground, which also provided showers and souvenir shopping.

SATURDAY, JULY 1
Today's adventure was to a homestead, located just south of Copper Center, Alaska. The Swisher family moved to Alaska in 1968, then lived in their pickups while they

PAVEMENT, AT LAST! — At 10 p.m. Yukon Time, June 25, Troop 200 crossed over into Alaska for the first time, following 1,221 miles of Alaska Highway. Only about a hundred miles of this had a paved surface, being improved in sections around Dawson Creek, Fort St. John and Whitehorse. It may be noted that the sun was still brightly shining in the picture, just two hours from midnight.

constructed their log cabins and cleared the land. Troop 200's contact with them was made through their son, Michael, another amateur radio operator who had discussed the trip with Scoutmaster Gene Bitner's "ham" station.

Many families in the Copper River Valley were expecting the arrival of our troop. The Swishers were ready with a big bundle of home-baked bread, popcorn, and plenty of water, which has to be hauled into the area. Two campsites had been set-up for the troop, and they had even secured a special permit for a troop fire in the area.

Shortly after arrival and establishment of camp, the boys were taken on a hike to a bluff which overlooks the river valley, several tall snow-capped mountains, and one active volcano. There was a 400-foot drop straight down. Later, the Swishers' American Flag was retired by Scouts Billy Roberts and Randy Stovall, while other members of the troop stood at attention.

That night there was a visit with the family in their cabin, pictures of the "Northern Lights" and a short hike to an area where another brother in the family had started his new cabin. Mrs. Swisher was presented one of Troop 200's Alaska Expedition neckerchiefs, signed by each member of the troop. She immediately hung it on her cabin wall.

The family also gladly received several sacks of the Farwell grain which had been brought along on the trip. They made plans to plant some right away, and also save some for the beginning of next year's growing season.

Area Church Youths Teach At Navajo VBS

Several youths and adults from Farwell and Lariat Churches of Christ packed their camping gear and traveled through New Mexico to near Farmington to teach Vacation Bible School (Dine Bible School translated The People's Bible School) at the Upper Fruitland Chapter on the Navajo Indian Reservation June 26-30.

Two years ago, representatives from Farwell, Lariat, Dora and Portales Churches of Christ met to plan a young people's project. They decided to start a mission vacation Bible school and contacted the proper authorities.

This year was the second year of the school's existence. Plans next year are to have two Bible Schools - one in the same place as the past two and another in a nearby area.

Since the Bible School was designed primarily with young people in mind, the youth and some adults attending teach the school. Teaching is done outside under tents. On the last day this year, 128 Navajos attended. The teaching age ranges from junior high to high school to adults.

Each morning, Navajo children are picked up by the workers. The school lasts from two to three hours. Then, the children are taken back home.

While they are at the school, they are served refreshments of cookies and soft drinks. This year, cookies from members of the congregations of all participating churches had been made for the school.

Because teachers and workers participating in the school camp out on Chapter grounds, they have to bring everything they need, including water. That sometimes proves to be a chore because it has been estimated that the children drink 15 gallons of soft drinks, made with water, every day!

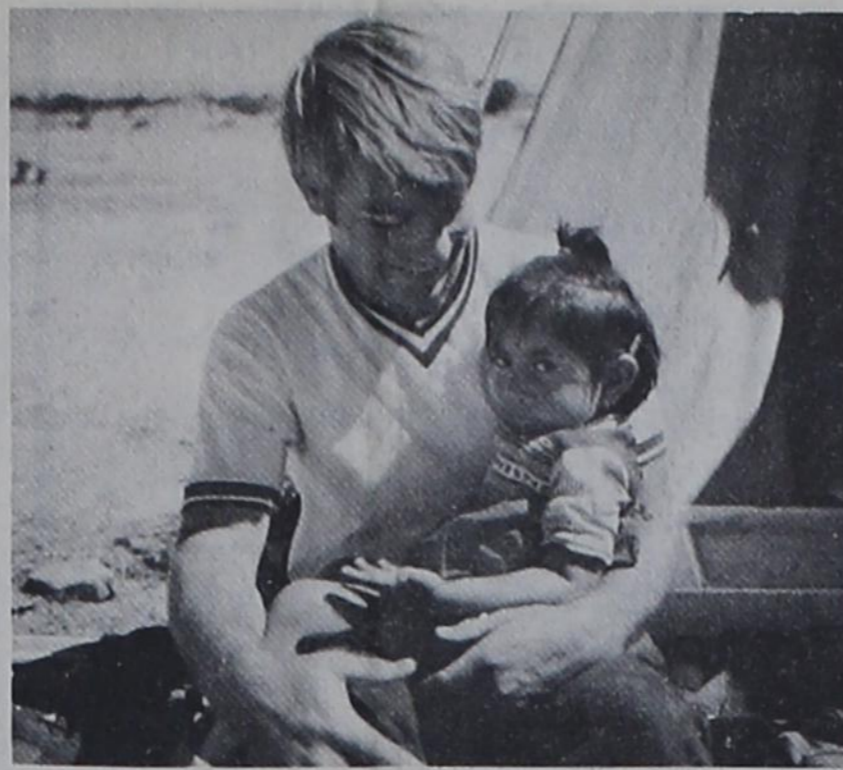

During their free time this year, teachers and workers made several side trips to the Axtex Ruins, Four Corners Power Plant where they viewed coal-mining operations, and Durango, Colo.

Several times during the school, they were treated to fry bread and stew by Navajo women. The women also presented them with beads and necklaces.

Attending from Farwell were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fogerson, Paul and Jennifer, Gail and Jo Meeks, Kirt and Paula Martin, Eddie Meeks, Beverly, Melody, Sheri, Robin and Lynn Roberts, Kyle and Gene Sheets, Camille Hobbs, Dona Gerles, Calvin Stroud and Mrs. W. M. Fogerson.

Attending from Lariat were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burch, David and Sheryl, Debbie Stancell, Sandra, Jace and Josh Ensor, Becky Ritchie, Geraldine Gray, and Paula, Pat and Pam Mayfield.

WE MADE FRIENDS-Kyle Sheets, one of the young people from Farwell Church of Christ who participated in a mission vacation Bible school project with persons from Lariat, Dora and Portales at the Upper Fruitland Chapter on the Navajo Indian Reservation near Farmington, finds Navajo children very friendly. Apparently, it didn't take him long to make friends with this little Navajo girl. This year was the second in the school's existence. Next year plans call for two schools - one at the same place as in the past two years and another in an area close by.

At Home In Parmer County

By Jana Pronger
County HD Agent

Things have really been hopping the last few weeks for Parmer County 4-H and will be going full steam for the next month or so.

June 6 through June 8, Cheryl Gohlke and Billy Roberts of Oklahoma Lane attended Texas 4-H Roundup where they presented their poultry demonstration.

June 14, Parmer County hosted at Tri-County Seminar in Friona to provide training for 4-H'ers who will be participating in County Dress Revue in Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties during July. Approximately 140 4-H parents and leaders attended.

June 19, District 4-H Specialist, Ed Garnett, provided training to interested parents and leaders in the county on compiling 4-H record books. These are an important part of 4-H work.

The record book is one of the most important ways for a 4-H'er to receive recognition for his accomplishments. We had a nice turn-out, but we do wish more parents realized the benefits 4-H work can provide and the importance of record books.

To California

Mrs. Harold Stovall of Farwell, her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Garland Warren and Shelly of Corsicana, Tex., returned Saturday after spending several days in Turlock, Calif., visiting with Mrs. Stovall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Spurlin.

Children Home

Fourth of July weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray White of Pleasant Hill were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Devine of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Turner and Kevin of Amarillo and Susan White of New York City.

The White's son, Martin, is also home for the summer from college.

To Ruidoso

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Christian and Charles of Farwell and Mrs. Christian's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Foster of Knox City, Tex., spent the weekend in Ruidoso.

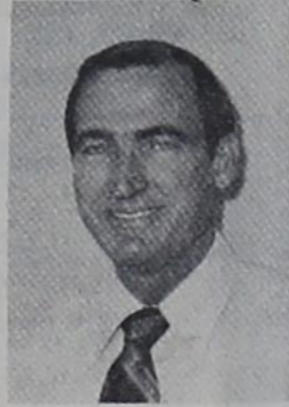

The parents' meeting was followed, the next few days, with meetings in each club for specialized help on record books for 4-H members and their parents who were able to attend. Last week we had the County 4-H Horse Show, with Lee Ann Williams of Farwell carrying away most of the honors. Also participating were Ross Middleton, Friona; Angela Matthews and Teri Clark, Lazbuddie; Patti and Gay London and Brenda Jones of Farwell.

It has come to my attention lately that there are some of our 4-H'ers who have been neglected because of a shortage of leaders, especially those who would rather take projects other than the clothing, foods and livestock projects you hear about all the time.

4-H has more projects to offer than most people realize. All that we need is a few leaders who would be willing to devote an hour to an hour and a half of their time once a week for six weeks, which is the way most projects are set up. Leaders are the backbone of our program.

Parmer County can boast some of the best leaders in the district, but they are being sadly overworked because there are only a few. If you would be willing to devote a little time, even if you couldn't take a project group, we could use help in many other ways for shorter periods of time. Please contact the extension office or any 4-H member or leader you know.

WATFORD

The couple hadn't really wanted to stop at the rather run-down motel, but they were tired and it was late. An hour after they checked in, the irate customer yelled into the phone: "Are you the dingy desk clerk of this dilapidated den?" "Why, yes," said the clerk, a bit perturbed. "What in the world is eating you?" "That," said Johnny, "is exactly what I'd like to know."

THE SPIRIT OF SONSHIP

"For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the spirit of adoption (Lit., sonship), whereby we cry, Abba, Father" (Rom. 8:15).

The position of the believer in the family of God is amply illustrated for us in the epistles of Paul. In Gal. 4:1-5 the apostle alludes to the fact that in the life of every Hebrew boy there came a time, appointed by the father, when the lad was formally declared to be a full-grown son, with all the rights and privileges of sonship.

It was now assumed that the young man would no longer need overseers to keep him in check. There would be natural understanding and co-operation between father and son. And so the "adoption" (Gr. son-placing) proceedings took place, indicating that the child, now a full-grown son, was no longer under law, but under grace.

"And because ye are sons," says the apostle, "God hath sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a (full-grown) son" (Gal. 4:6,7).

This is the position of every believer in Christ. He may, like the Corinthians, still be a babe in his spiritual experience (1 Cor. 3:1), but in Christ he occupies the position of a full-grown son, and to grow spiritually it will do him no good to go back under the law; he must rather recognize his standing before God in grace. This is why the apostle says in Rom. 8:15:

"Ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the spirit of son-ship, whereby we cry, Abba, Father."
