

Football Contest Kicks Off Today

This is the week, and today is the day for all area armchair quarterbacks and gridiron prognosticators to sharpen their pencils and wits and get set to enter the 14th annual Merchants Football Contest which begins its 12-week run in this issue of the Tribune. The contest is sponsored by local and area merchants.

Grand prize winner will be awarded two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas on New Year's Day, plus $50 expense money. Two tickets to the Sun Bowl game in El Paso, plus $25 expense money will go to the second place winner.

Winners of the first three places each week will be awarded prizes of $5, $3 and $1, respectively.

The yearly guessing game attracts entries from almost every home in the area with many families having their own contest among family members. First time guessers are as apt to win the top prize as an old "pro" if past performances are any indication.

Each week, beginning today, ten high school, college or professional football games will be published on the contest entry blank. A winner must be circled or otherwise indicated for each game. A Game of the Week, which will be a Steer game during Farwell football season, will be listed at the top of the entry blank.

The Game of the Week will be used only in the event a tie results in the amount of other games called correctly. This score will also be used in breaking a tie at the conclusion of the 12-week contest. The point-spread method will be used.

It is possible for the entrant to predict the winner of the Game of the Week incorrectly, but still win the weekly money by being closer in the point spread. Should a tie occur at the end of the contest, the point spread will be figured for the entire 12 weeks, and the entrant with the smallest point spread will be the winner.

In order to participate in the game one must be 12 years of age or older. Entries must be brought to the Tribune office by 5 p.m. each Friday during the contest. If mailed, the entries must bear a Friday postmark. Tribune employees and their families will not be eligible. There are no other rules.

Everyone not only "can" but is urged to get into the game early. Plan now to enter each week. Tabulation of individual entrants will be kept all season and will be available for public inspection.

Winners of the contest in previous years include Bunk Phillips, Maxine Williams, Jerry Dee Owen, A. D. Kirk, Thelma Alexander, Dodie Actkinson, Doris Herington, Dee Owen, C. L. Mahaney, Mrs. Roy Everett, Greg Hargrove, T. J. Kittrell and Terry Craft.

This might be your year to win... so get out the pencil and limber up your writing arm, and enter the contest each week.

Almost without exception during the last 13 years, the grand prize winner for the year had entered the contest each week throughout the season, proving that consistency counts.

Merchants who are sponsoring the contest this year include Farwell Equipment, Security State Bank, Piggly Wiggly, Worley Grain, Sherley-Anderson-Pitman of Texico and Farwell, Sherley Anderson Grain of Lariat, Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply and Gin, Farwell Builders Supply, Nance Construction Co., Farwell Fertilizer, Williams Fertilizer, Watts Oil and Tire Co., Texico Feed Lots, Castor Farms, Far-Tex Feed yards, West Texas Pump Co., Rose Drug and Gift Shop, Nickels Gin, Bobbie's, Capitol Foods, Hughes Insurance Agency, Texaco Inc., Kelly Green Seeds, Clara's Spur Restaurant, Watts Machine and Pump Co., Farwell Hardware, Holiday Store and Allsup's 7-11.

A BIG "DEEL" - The Merchant Madness Football Contest is a big deal this year for the Richard Deel family of Farwell. Dot and Richard, standing, and son, Mike, left, have been entering the contest for the past few years, but David is going at it for the first time. Although David has been keeping up with the contest, this is the first year he is eligible to enter as he has reached the age of 12 years. Both his parents and his brother are making sure he knows how to fill out his entry blank. They even have a football book on hand, so he can study up on area teams. Competition is keen with family members and they usually have a separate contest among themselves.

Steers Battle Chieftains In First Season Game

Farwell Steers take on the Friona Chieftains tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock in Steer Stadium. Coach Toby Booth said that winning this game would take a tremendous effort on the part of the team. "We will need to play mid-season ball in the first game," the coach stated. "Friona has as good a team as they have had in the past three or four years. Their strongest asset is their defense. They are quick and have good size," said Booth.

Booth mentioned Johnny Bandy, returning quarterback, for the Chieftains. "He is a fine quarterback and is real good at running the wishbone," he commented.

Booth also mentioned Mario Perea, fullback, who has good size and is quick. Perea is the middle member of a football family. His younger brother, James, is slated to open at tackle.

According to Booth, everyone on the Steer squad will be expected to play if the opportunity presents itself. "We're still in the learning process. It may be district before we have our starting positions set," he added.

Bovina has been picked to win the district this year, according to pre-season predictions.

At the scrimmage Friday night with Hereford B team, Booth said offensively the Steers were erratic. "We moved well at times, but we made several mental mistakes. Our receivers were running good, but were in too tight and a bit sluggish," he added.

Farwell scored once and Hereford scored once during the scrimmage. "Our defense did exceptionally well Friday night. They had a tremendous running attack. Our secondary was better than the week before," he said.

Council Business Is Again Routine

Farwell City Council met Friday, Aug. 25, in regular session. According to Janie Bowers, city clerk, routine business matters were conducted and bills approved for payment.

Farwell School Board has decided to sell reserved parking spaces for all varsity, junior varsity and junior high football games this football season.

These spaces were to be sold at the school superintendent's office Thursday morning at 10 o'clock (yesterday). After this time, any spaces which remain may be purchased either at the office or at the gate tonight (Friday) at the Friona-Farwell games.

Numbered tickets will be issued and this number will correspond to numbers on the fences designating the parking spaces. Consideration will be given to those people who, because of health conditions, need a place to park, according to Superintendent W. M. Roberts.

All varsity football games are to begin at 8 p.m. CDT and 7:30

Enrollment Boosted Upward

Farwell Schools enrollment climbed upward during the first two weeks of school. A total of 645 students were reported Monday to be attending Farwell schools.

Survey Completed At Parmerton

Parmer County Soil Survey, a joint project of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District and Texas A&M Extension Service, was completed Tuesday at Parmerton during the Final Acre Celebration.

Edward E. Thomas, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, was on hand to address some 50 people who attended the ceremony.

The ceremony heralded the completion of the four-year project which was handled by Herbert Bruns, SCS soil scientist from Hereford. The end of the project means that there are now maps on hand which yield valuable soil information on every acre of land in the county, according to officials.

The survey will enable the Soil Conservation Service to work with farm operators and land owners on a farm-by-farm basis in planning programs. But the survey is also important to a variety of other Lions Club members will also be canvassing the town Friday and Saturday selling mops, brooms and other household items made by blind persons from over the state of Texas and stored at the Lighthouse of the Blind. Dean Avara is chairman and Curtis and Huggins are members of the committee handling details for the sale.

PURELY PERSONAL

by John

Well men, it's here again - the annual football contest in which the women usually prove that they are better fans and seers than the men. Last year only a chosen few men successfully rose to the challenge and came out ahead of the ladies.

The leading male game guessers were Terry Craft, who won the contest, Albert Johnson who won second place and barely eked out his wife in the process by the point spread, Ray Ford, Champ Porter and E. A. Walker. This is about the extent of the list wherein the men prevailed over the women.

Willie Roberts has promised to buckle down and show Mrs. Roberts his prowess this season. Dutch Quickel will regularly consult his Ouija board in his effort to outscore Dorothy. It is unreliably reported that Jim Walker has resorted to a professional scouting service this year. Reportedly Billy Brigham said, "This is my year!"

We also understand that Fern Christian agreed to give Everette a handicap. It is also surmised that Willie Dannheim asked David for the inside dope so he could keep sorta close to Lorine for the season.

Well so much for the masculine strategy. It's an odds on bet that the distaffers will wind up the season with a better batting average than the hairy-chested breadwinner. That's the track record.

Speaking of football, and who isn't? A week ago we went to Bovina to take pictures of the Lazbuddie Longhorns as they scrimmaged the Mustangs. What impressed us was the sorry state of the Bovina stadium area.

As readers of this column know, we are not overly thrilled with going to Mustang Field to play every other year. Fortune smiles on the Farwell fans' collective rear ends this year, as we play the Ponies at Farwell.

Bovina as a community has always impressed us with its civic pride, its progressive town attitude and its ability to get a lot done for its community. We guess this is why we cannot reconcile the perennial sorry football facilities at Bovina with the rest of the town. It just looks incongruous.

It isn't often that there is even the faintest public hint that there just might be too much water around. This is one of those rare times. A cessation of the rainfall for several weeks would be welcomed by the majority of folks in these normally dry parts. Some crops such as cotton, silage and vegetables on the ground are not helped by constant dampness or when the fields are too soft to support harvesting machinery. A local resident's Dan True rain gauge shows almost 6 1/2 inches of water for this last wet spell. For this country, this is a good fall of water.

We note where Editor Izzard of the Globe-News is already mentioning the fall foliage tour. We might suggest a fall foliage tour in the Twin Cities. We who pass this way every day tend to take our local horticultural beauty as a matter of course. There are, of course, many established yards that are quite striking at this time of the year. There are also several outstanding trees which always catch our eye as we do the daily stint.

We admire the blue spruce in Sallie Chandler's yard, the maple in the G. D. Anderson front, as well as the sweeping weeping willow which graces the Patrick home. Farwell City Park is also developing a very pretty southwest corner. Have you stopped to notice? It will be worthwhile.

Now that we have noted a few of the garden spots in town, we will also mention that some of the town's weeds are a disgrace and need personal or municipal attention. There can be no real excuse for weed patches in a community as well kept as the Twin Cities.

Longhorns Face Hart In Season Opener

LAZBUDDIE COACHES Bob Evans, left, and Allan Harman have spent many hours already in pre-season workouts preparing for the Longhorns' first game of the season tonight at 8 p.m. in Hart. Harman said, "We expect Hart to be tough. They have a real good fullback in Stan Dyer. He is also equally impressive as a linebacker. They have a real good running back in Jimmy Brown, too. Brown ran the 100 in 9.7 last spring." Harman said Hart was stable in each position.

Lazbuddie came out ahead last year in their season opener against Hart, winning by a lone touchdown, 6-0.

Harman said there weren't going to be any pushovers during the season. "We're just going to take it a game at a time," he said. Wilson has been picked to win district, according to Harman.

Lazbuddie scored seven times to Ropesville's one Friday night during a scrimmage. "We have improved quite a bit since our first scrimmage," Coach Harman said.

Vegetables Corn - -

Harvest Slowed By Rainfall

Continuous rains in the past two weeks have proved beneficial to most farmers in this area, although it has slowed down harvest of corn ensilage and vegetable crops - potatoes, cantaloupes, cucumbers and peppers.

Harvest should be back in full swing as soon as machines are able to get back into the fields, which have been continually muddy for days, according to Parmer County Agricultural Agent Mack Heald. The harvest was at its height two weeks ago when the rains began.

Heald says that too much moisture is not good for the cotton. Those who had already watered when the rains began were not very happy, but for those who waited, the rain was a welcome sight.

Only a small part of the wheat acreage in the county has been sown, says Heald. "The rains should be beneficial for planting," he added.

Other crops, including castor and soybeans and sugar beets are looking good at this time, he said. Heald says prospects look good for high yields on corn and milo, adding that some cotton acreage looks good, also.

Christian Named Outstanding

Troy Christian has been chosen for inclusion in the 1972 edition of Outstanding Young Men Of America, according to the Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church. Christian's name was added to a previous list of local men who received the honor.

Sponsored by leading men's civic and service organizations, Outstanding Young Men Of America honors men between the ages of 21 and 35 whose demonstrated excellence has marked them for future leadership in the nation.

"These young men," according to Doug Blankenship, chairman of the Board of Advisors, Outstanding Young Men Of America, "are truly outstanding because they have distinguished themselves in one or more aspects of community and professional life."

Nominations for the awards volume are submitted each year by civic organizations, Jaycee chapters, college alumni associations and military commandants.

In complimenting those in the awards volume, U. S. Sen Adlai Stevenson III (D-Ill.) has said that for all their diversity,

Wolverines Lose Opener To Hagerman

ALAN HAILE

GERALD WHITENER

RAYMOND CANTU

DEFENSE played the whole game Friday night when the Wolverines battled the Hagerman Bobcats and lost 18-7, according to Coach Bucky Walters. Alan Haile, middle linebacker; Raymond Cantu, noseguard; and Gerald Whitener, cornerback; were noted by Walters for their outstanding defensive performance. "Cantu, who has never played football before, played a great game," he said. "Haile did a good job, also," he added. "Whitener did us a fine job as cornerback," he commented.

by Max Winkles

Texico Wolverines were a little slow getting started Friday night at Wolverine Stadium against the Hagerman Bobcats, pre-season class-A favorites for the New Mexico state championship. Hagerman came out on top with the score 18-7.

Texico's defense was strong throughout the game. Two of Hagerman's touchdowns were set up on blocked punts and one on a long pass. Texico's only score came on a two-yard plunge by Curtis Lindley in the third quarter.

Penalties and good defensive play by Texico held Hagerman to two first downs in the first quarter. The Wolverines, a little cold at the start, could not sustain a drive into Hagerman territory.

In the second quarter, Hagerman blocked two punts by Randy Harrison and handed to their most prominent running back, Joe Flores, for touchdowns from the three-yard line and 15-yard line. Texico, still a little cold and inexperienced, could not score.

The third quarter started with Hagerman kicking to Texico. Penalties killed the Wolverine attack and Texico was forced to punt. Hagerman received the punt and the Wolverines forced a fumble. Raymond Cantu, a first year player for Texico, recovered the fumble.

The Wolverines came alive. James Steward ran around the end for what looked to be a touchdown, but it was called back on a holding penalty. On the next play, Randy Harrison kept the ball and got to the two-yard line. Curtis Lindley put the finishing touch to a series of plays for six points on the scoreboard. Lindley kicked the point after touchdown and Texico was in the running again.

Texico kicked to Hagerman, but the Bobcats couldn't move the ball.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, Archie Regaldo of Hagerman threw a pass with Harold Green receiving for another Hagerman TD. Again the Bobcats failed their extra conversion point. After the kick off, the Wolverine attack bogged down and Hagerman forced a punt. Hagerman started to move again but Lindley intercepted a pass to stop the Bobcats. Texico was on the move toward the goal line but time ran out before they could score again.

"At no time last year were the Bobcats hit as hard as we were hit tonight by the Wolverines," said Coach Army Salinas, Hagerman coach.

Coach Bucky Walters' Wolverines will meet Portales Rams B-team in Portales Saturday at 7:30 p.m. C.D.T.

According to Coach Walters, Hagerman had four players out Friday night. "One of them was an All-State quarterback," he said. "They were not up to their full strength, and they will still be state contenders," he added.

"We had several injuries, but most everybody will be ready to go again this week. Curtis Lindley suffered from leg cramps during the game, but he will be in the game this week," said the coach.

"Our worst injury is a sprained knee. Eugene Wallace may be ready to play this week, but we just don't know yet," he added. Sammy West is doubtful. He has a bad pulled thigh. "Our mistakes gave them every touchdown. Two blocked punts helped them, and a mental error in our secondary helped them on a 70-yard pass," he commented.

"But, all in all, I'm real pleased with the way we played. We're just inexperienced, and it showed on errors. We had a good average on both offense and defense. We outscored them the last half," he said.

Walters mentioned a great game by Raymond Cantu, who had never played before. He also mentioned a fine job, offensively and defensively, by Fulgencio Ortiz. "We use him wherever he's needed," he added.

"Alan Haile did a good job as middle linebacker on defense, and Randy Harrison played a good game as quarterback. James Steward ran well with the ball in the second half of the game," said Walters.

"Curtis Lindley played good ball. He was handicapped by injuries, but he intercepted two passes," Walters stated.

CONFERENCE TIME - Coach Bucky Walters discusses the action on the field with fullback Kent Armstrong during the Wolverines' opener with Hagerman at Wolverine Stadium Friday night.

LONE TOUCHDOWN - Halfback Curtis Lindley provided Wolverine fans an exciting moment last Friday night at Wolverine Stadium as he plunged across the goal line for Texico's only score of the night against the Hagerman Bobcats. Lindley was also credited with booting the extra point. A Wolverine with upraised arms enjoys the moment of success - maybe more so than usual, since Hagerman was heavily favored. Hagerman did win the game, 18-7, but not without a fight.

Play Rams 'B' - -

Texico Travels To Portales

Texico Wolverines are on the road tonight (Friday). They will be in Portales to play the Rams "B" team at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Bucky Walters says he has not had a chance to scout the team, so he has little information on what they will be like. "We will be in better shape to play them, after playing Hagerman. We hope to make less big mistakes. We plan to iron them out this week," he said.

Offensively, probable starters for the Wolverines are Randy Harrison, quarterback; Curtis Lindley, halfback; Kent Armstrong, fullback; James Steward, slot back; Craig

At Home In Parmer County

By Jana Pronger

It's back to cool weather and football games with a plaid parade.

Giant-sized down to mini-sized plaid variations appear in all fabrics and colorations. They dominate the fashion scene.

Other directions include florals, flocking, tweeds and clips.

While plaids dominate, an Oriental influence is felt in refined prints often expressed in lacquer bright colors.

In addition, primary colors get a big play in fabrics for fall with reds and greens emerging as favorites. On the other hand, the monotone trend makes the whole family of camel, beiges and browns important, with gray coming through as a major no-color neutral.

The boldness of plaids this fall is mostly softened with fabrics which are lush, plush, brushed, napped, sueded, fuzzed and fleeced.

High on the list of these fabrics are brushed flannel, cotton denim and brushed chino. Corduroy - which lends itself to so many different treatments - ranks as an important chapter in the plush touch story. Also, knits, high on the popularity chart, take a new plaid turn.

But watch for other entries. Winter seersucker and stretch wovens vie for attention. Also in the search for softness, blends see polyesters combining with worsteds and wools to provide easy-care features and a touch of natural fibers.

In addition, polyester in spun/filament combinations give polyester performance with a special luxury feel formerly not found in 100 per cent polyester.

In general, with its special emphasis on plaids for fall, the election year fashion forecast favors an all-American look.

The '72 version is defined by straight forward fabrics in styles with something for everyone and a washability for all.

And why not? The parade of home sewing tips and hereof Tuesday, Sept. 12, at the Sew Fair, a panorama of exhibits and presentations, will be sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with home sewing industries.

Located at Hereford Bull Barn, Sew Fair will feature representatives from six major home sewing industries. These representatives will demonstrate a host of sewing topics, from installing a zipper to the latest pressing techniques. They will present continuous 30-minute talks from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 2 to 5 p.m., open to all and free of charge.

Representatives will also be available to answer individual consumers' questions. Six companies will give demonstrations in the morning and these will be repeated in the afternoon.

Extension clothing specialists and Deaf Smith County home demonstration agents will assist at the fair to register interested consumers and assist participants.

Toni Ashley, R. Autrey Exchange Vows

Toni Lyn Ashley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Ashley of Clovis, and Ronnie Glenn Autrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Autrey of Texico, were married August 12, at Parkland Baptist Church in Clovis.

Dr. Herbert Bergstrom, minister, officiated at the double ring ceremony which was performed before a golden arch holding fifteen hot pink cathedral tapers flanked by two brass spiral candelabra. Interspersed among the candelabra were numerous emerald palms. A matching pair of starburst bouquets of pink mallow gladioli, pink carnations, soft pink asters, and clouds of baby's breath were arranged in two large urns that stood on antique-finished colonades. On the lower level, a matching colonade held the unity candle and from it fell cascades of English ivy.

The altar was centered with a brass kneeling bench and the couple knelt on crushed velvet as Carola Sue Moore sang "Our Wedding Song", accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Bergstrom on the organ. Before the ceremony, Miss Moore sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "One Hand, One Heart".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Angelmist peau de soie and Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta designed with a high rounded neckline, empire waist, long tapered sleeves and soft full skirt. The neckline, bodice, sleeves, and bow on the waistline were of Chantilly lace. A wide ruffle of matching Chantilly lace enhanced the hemline of the skirt. Applique of Venise lace, complimented with a tiny seed pearl, enhanced the skirt. The full back of the gown ended in a sweeping chapel length train.

Her veil of imported illusion fell from a coil, and she carried an Edwardian cluster of white phalaenopsis orchids and white stephanotis accented with baby's breath and eunymus foliage caught up by a cluster of streamers ending in love knots which were borrowed from her mother's wedding bouquet. Carrying out wedding tradition, the bride wore a locket she received as a gift on her first Christmas as something old. In her shoes she wore pennies dated in the birth years of the couple. Something borrowed was a wedding band belonging to the groom's great-grandmother. Something blue was her garter and something new was her wedding gown.

Mrs. Jay Burran III was matron of honor and Robin Ingle of Clovis was maid of honor. They were attired in formal hot pink voile gowns designed with scooped necks, long ruffled sleeves and tiered skirts. They wore hot pink garden hats, with streamers of pink velvet ribbons falling from the side. They carried white garden baskets filled with assorted garden flowers. Long garlands of ivy fell from the baskets.

Howard Duncan of Texico served as best man, and Keith Morris of Texico was groomsmen. Tim Ashley of Clovis, brother of the bride, was ringbearer. He carried a heart-shaped satin pillow designed by Mrs. Gene Harvey. Ushers were Steve Chancy of Texico and Johnny Autrey, cousin of the groom, from Texico. Candelights were Randy Ashley, brother of the bride, and Bill Howell, both of Clovis. All of the men attendants were attired in white tuxedos with black lapels, and each wore boutonnières of white stephanotis.

Dee Ann Terry presided at the guest table where a crystal candelabrum holding hot pink tapers was caught with a cluster of hot pink pixie carnations and picot ribbon streamers on a soft pink and white lace cloth.

The bride's mother chose a formal length hot pink and white gown of peau de soie with silver accents and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. The mother of the groom wore a navy and white dress with white accents and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony, Donna Lambert of Muleshoe, Connie Autrey of Texico, Mary Lyn McKinney and Dixie Ford, both of Clovis, served at the reception in the church annex. The serving table was covered with a soft pink and white lace cloth and was centered with a silver epergne holding an arrangement of pink elegance carnations and baby's breath with hot pink tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake of soft pink color with white roses was supported by cupids. The punch was also soft pink in color.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, the couple is now at home in Clovis.

Surprise Party Honors R. E. Blankenships

A surprise party honoring Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blankenship of the Oklahoma Lane community in observance of their Silver Wedding Anniversary was given Saturday evening, Sept. 2, at Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church in the Fellowship Hall.

Hosting the reception were the couple's children, Lynn Blankenship and Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Bennett; and Messrs. and Mmes. Leon Billingsley, Harold Carpenter, Wendol Christian and Kenneth Johnson.

A "This Is Your Life" theme was carried out by a short resume, in conversation and song, of what their friends knew of their life. Taped messages were presented from Dr. Paul Spring, George Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, all close friends of the couple who could not be present for the celebration.

A highlight of the evening was a special dedication by the Blankenships' son and daughter, Lynn and Ruth Anne, who sang "O Promise Me", the song which was sung at the wedding of their parents 25 years ago.

Refreshments of tea and coffee and cake, baked by Lois Billingsley, were served to 60 persons present for the occasion. Louise Christian registered the guests.

The white cake iced with blue flowers and white wedding bells was centered with a silver horseshoe and the numerals "25" attached. The serving table was covered with a French lace cloth over blue underlay, and milkglass and silver appointments were used. A kissing tree floral arrangement with fresh lavender flowers and miniature bride and groom figurines graced the table. White napkins with "25th Anniversary" and "Ginny and Ros, 1947-August 30-1972" in silver completed table decorations.

Daughter Here

Visiting recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rogers in Texico were their daughter and family, Col. and Mrs. Belvin S. Freeman and Mike. The Freemans returned to their home Wednesday, Aug. 30, in Washington, D. C., where Freeman is stationed at the Pentagon. They were in Texico for a week, coming through Norman, Okla., where they enrolled their son, Belvin, Jr., in the University of Oklahoma.

Seventy-six families contributed to the joint gifts to the couple which were stainless flatware service for eight, blue floral sheets and pillowcases, bath set and photo album.

The honored couple was lured to the party on the pretext of their children taking them out to dinner that evening since their daughter could not be at home on August 30, the night of their anniversary. The celebration was a well kept secret and a complete surprise.

Ros and Ginny were married in Louisville, Ky., on August 30, 1947. They met while both were serving in the United States Navy. Shortly after their marriage, they moved to California, but returned to Wichita Falls, Tex., later the same year. They moved to the Oklahoma Lane community in 1950 "and stayed," said Ginny. Her added comment was, "Just to think, if we hadn't made that move, we wouldn't have met all these wonderful people."

On The Farm In Palmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

A fully automatic drip irrigation system designed to conserve moisture while providing crops with sufficient water for maximum production is in operation at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. The system will be one of the featured attractions at the annual field day and open house at the Center on Sept. 12, beginning at 1 p.m.

Field day visitors will have an opportunity to see cotton, grain sorghum, soybeans and watermelons growing on plots irrigated by drip system. Of particular interest should be the total automatic features of the systems. Each system is automatically activated when moisture meters located in various locations indicate the need for additional moisture.

With this type of irrigation system, optimum moisture conditions can be maintained at all times. Thus maximum production should be achieved if all other plant requirements are met. For a drip irrigation system with a life of three to seven years, the cost is about $1,000 per acre for equipment and labor. A system with only a year's durability can be installed for $400 to $600 per acre.

One major advantage of a drip system is that small acreages can be irrigated efficiently with small wells. Also, overall irrigation efficiency should increase once we know the moisture requirements of specific crops.

In tests at the Center, drip-irrigated squash and beans yielded 19 and 5.2 tons, respectively. Drip-irrigated potatoes and okra yielded 13.2 and 2.2 tons, respectively. Potato blight and Verticillium wilt reduced the yields of potatoes and okra. The researchers believe that such yield increases are possible for other crops and must be accomplished for a drip irrigation system to be a sound economic investment.

In addition to irrigation research, other studies underway at the Center that will be featured during the field day are oilseed crops, cotton diseases and varieties, narrow-row cotton, grain sorghum insect control, soil fertility and vegetable crops. Special discussions on weed control and the weather will be conducted at the Center headquarters.

"The one thing you can get for a quarter is a protest from your youngsters that it isn't enough."

Field day visitors with special interests will have an opportunity to consult with staff members at any field location on the tour. Equipment and machinery displays will also be featured and exhibits will be located throughout the headquarters building.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

"... if ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which is given me to you-ward..." (Eph. 3:2).

Could it be that those to whom Paul addressed his Ephesian letter had not yet heard that God had committed to him "the dispensation of grace"?

Next to the death and resurrection of Christ, the conversion of Paul and his commission to proclaim "the gospel of the grace of God" was the greatest event in history.

The apostles at Jerusalem had recognized the importance of Paul's part in the divine program. They themselves had at first been sent by Christ into "all the world," yet in Gal. 2:9 we find James, Peter and John publicly shaking hands with Paul in a solemn agreement that he should henceforth be the apostle to the nations.

Could it be that some twelve years later, when he wrote the Ephesian letter, there were any who professed the name of Christ who had not heard of Paul's special place in the program of God as the apostle of grace? Little wonder his words "if ye have heard" carry with them a touch of sarcasm and reproach.

It is possible, of course, that there were some among them, but recently brought into the Church, who had not heard, but what seems almost impossible is that there should be even one believer at this late date who has not heard that after Christ and His kingdom were rejected and the world was ripe for prophesied judgment to fall, God intervened, saving Saul, His chief enemy on earth, and sent him forth with "the good news of the grace of God."

This good news is based, of course, upon the fact that since Christ was the spotless Lamb of God, His death is accepted by God as full satisfaction for the sinner. Thus Paul, by divine inspiration, declares that believers are "justified freely by His (God's) grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus." (Rom. 3:24).

Vacation Paradise Found On Farm

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Landrum of Farwell returned recently from Iowa where they visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Coglon and children.

Their oldest daughter, Betty, was living in Farwell when she met D. C., who was stationed at Cannon Air Force Base. According to Landrum, Coglon went from a farm laborer to owner of a 140 acre dairy farm with 34 milking cows and 15 head of breed sows in 10 years.

The Coglon's farm is located between Omaha, Neb., and Des Moines, Iowa, five miles from Exira, Iowa. Coglon runs the farm by means of a family operation which includes help from their five children, four girls and a boy.

While on vacation, the Landrums enjoyed fishing at Lake Anita and Swan Lakes, which are located about 20 miles from the farm.

Landrum remarked on the quietness and serenity of the farm. "You couldn't hardly beat it for a vacation," he said. He also mentioned the abundance of game, including squirrels and pheasants.

According to Landrum, Coglon has approximately 60 acres planted in corn which is used to feed the cattle and hogs. The cattle get most of their feed from near knee-high grasslands.

Landrum said it had been estimated that Iowa farmers would produce 103 bushels of corn per acre this year. And that's dryland farming!

Local Churches Lose Pastors

Three local churches are losing pastors this month.

Rev. Claude Walker and his family have already moved. Rev. Grady Goff of Bayard, N.M., will preach at the Assembly of God Church this Sunday. He and his wife and three sons will be moving here soon.

Rev. Lewis Mowery and his family will be leaving soon. No one has been named to replace him as pastor of Calvary Baptist Church.

Father Chrysostom Partee has been named as priest for St. Joseph's Catholic Church. He took the place of Father Joel Byrne.

IOWA DAIRY FARM - Near knee-high pasture land in the foreground, a stand of corn to the left and a clump of trees provide a peaceful setting for a dairy farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Coglon near Exira, Iowa. The Coglon's and their five children form a family operation in taking care of 140 acres of land, 34 milking cows and 15 head of breed sows. The cattle are fed from the grassland with the help of some supplemental feed and corn, which is ground, shucks and all. Mr. and Mrs. Doug Landrum of Farwell, Mrs. Coglon's parents, recently returned from a week's vacation in this "ideal" location.

Gas heat could make your marriage happier.

Seriously. What makes marriages less happy? Arguments, right?

Well, a gas central heating system can eliminate an argument. The argument on cold winter nights about whether the bedroom window should be left open or closed.

One of you wants it open for fresh air. The other freezes when it's left open.

Open, closed. Closed, open. And bang the fireworks have begun.

Gas helps keep the marital peace because with gas heat you don't have to open the window to get fresh air.

A gas system continually pushes fresh warm air in and cold air out through ducts. About every twenty minutes, a complete change of air. Filtered, too.

So you don't get that stale, stuffy feeling. Even with the window closed.

Electric heating systems such as baseboard or radiant just heat the air like a toaster. The air doesn't move around much, so it goes stale.

And because the other system is so expensive to use (about twice as much as gas) they have to put in a lot of expensive extra insulation to help keep their expensive heat in. Which also keeps fresh outside air out.

It's like this. The less you argue, the better your marriage is going to be.

See your marriage counselor or your heating contractor, or Southern Union Gas Company.

If you want the job done right, do it with gas.
