Texico-Farwell and the surrounding area is beginning to look like one of those snow scenes depicted in a plastic dome filled with liquid. Every time it is turned upside down, snow falls out of the sky. Temperatures at the first of the week were in the teens and not expected to go much higher with ice storm watches forecast and more snow, fog and freezing drizzle predicted.

Alvin Woodburn, observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau in Clovis, said he hadn't seen anything like this since the winter of 1959-60. He mentioned that an 18 degree reading on Monday was unusual because the high usually gets into the 20s.

With approximately four inches of snow on the ground and additional powder falling intermittently, it is hard for local and area residents to visualize an end.

The warmest it's been since the new year started was on Friday when it got to 44 degrees. Since then temperatures have been going down, down, down. The new year brought two and a half inches Tuesday, Jan. 2, and two additional inches on Jan. 3, but only half an inch remained as Saturday's snow dumped another three and a half inches. According to Woodburn, the only day it didn't snow, rain or sleet was Thursday. Four out of 10 days in the year the temperature has been in the 40s.

Woodburn recorded .55 inch of melted moisture for the first 10 days of January. In December, he recorded a total of .73 inch of moisture. Total moisture for 1972 was 16.08.

Continued snow and ice not only affected travelers and slowed down school buses, it caused several area residents to slip and fall or kept them at home.

The accumulation of snow and ice weighs heavy on utility and telephone wires and has caused some problems for communities in the Clovis area.

Cotton still stands in the fields and cattle are not faring well, but residents have begun to accept conditions and are adjusting accordingly.

Heating Problem, Weather Plague Farwell Schools

Thursday afternoon, Jan. 4, Farwell schools were dismissed early due to bad weather and a heating problem at Farwell Elementary School.

According to Elementary School Principal Vernon Scott, leaks in the line in the heating unit caused the school building to be cold. He said that the unit was repaired, but Farwell school children didn't go back to school Friday.

Farwell Schools were not open Friday because of the bad weather. Students were also out Monday. When school was out Friday, teachers had the workday they had originally planned Monday.

Since the weather was still bad Monday, the teachers decided to take another workday. The missed day of school will be made up on March 12, which was first scheduled as a teacher workday.

Council Approves WSPCA Meeting

Texico City Council met in regular session Tuesday night and approved the February 7 meeting of the Water Supply and Pollution Control Association. The meeting is set yearly in Texico.

The police report for the month of December in the amount of $125 was approved and bills were approved for payment. The quarterly finance report to Santa Fe was also approved.

The council passed a resolution in regard to revenue sharing which approves administrative and accounting policies in line with policies set up by state and federal governments.

The council agreed to have the city offices painted. According to Clara Wiehl, city clerk, the painting will probably be done this weekend.

Former Resident Buried In Lubbock On Monday

Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park under the direction of Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home.

Mr. Bagley, who passed away Saturday in Ray's Hospitality Home in Lubbock after a lengthy illness, came to Lubbock 14 years ago from Farwell.

He was a retired wholesale gasoline distributor. He lived in Farwell 20 years before he sold his business and moved to Lubbock. He was a native of Sylvia, Kan. Mr. Bagley was a member of the Oakwood United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Broma; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Bernstein of New York City, N. Y.; a sister, Mrs. Delia McCully of Clovis; two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Funeral Pending For High Infant

Randy High, infant son of Tech Sgt. and Mrs. Vernon High of Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, died Monday in a San Antonio hospital. The baby was born Sunday at Cannon Air Force Base Hospital.

Services were pending at Steed-Todd Funeral Home in Clovis Wednesday. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arnold of Texico and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie High of Overbrook, Kan. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Arnold of Texico.

The Highs are parents of another child, Rodney, two and a half years old.

THE SAME OLD DRAG - At first the snow that fell on the Twin Cities and surrounding area was a novelty, almost everybody enjoyed it. But it's beginning to get on some people's nerves. Another three and a half inches fell Saturday and Sunday morning making life miserable for those who fear slipping on the ice, those who were already sick with colds and flu, and those whose livelihood is hampered by the bad weather. From 40 to 45 percent of the cotton remains in the fields, but the cattle problem is worse, says Mack Heald, County Extension Agent. Death loss in cattle is especially high since many animals, brought in from the Southern States, Oklahoma or East Texas, were already sick, according to Heald.

Dr. Witty Will Conduct Five-Night Bible Study

Dr. Robert Gee Witty, president of Luther Rice Seminary in Jacksonville, Fla., will conduct a Bible Study in Galatians Wednesday, Jan. 17, through Sunday, Jan. 21, at First Baptist Church in Farwell.

Special emphasis will be given to the teachings concerning the Holy Spirit in the Book of Galatians, said Rev. Cliff Ennen, pastor of the local church.

Witty will be conducting the Bible study each night, Wednesday through Sunday, at 7 o'clock.

Witty was pastor of Central Baptist Church in Jacksonville from 1943, which was the church's organization date, until his resignation on Oct. 1, 1970.

He has earned A.B., B.D., Th. M., Th. D. and Ph. D. degrees and has attended Willamette University, Kimball School of Theology, Princeton Theological Seminary, Garrett Biblical Institute, Asbury Theological Seminary, Burton College and Seminary and University of Florida.

Deposits Continue Increase For '72

Bank deposits at Security State Bank in Farwell for the period ending Dec. 31, 1972, were $10,832,765.65. The amount is about $2 million over total deposits of 1971, said R. W. Anderson, president.

Six years ago, for the period ending Dec. 31, 1966, the total deposits amounted to $5,700,000. That figure is almost half of the amount of total deposits for 1972. Anderson also gave the figures for the period ending Dec. 31, 1967. That year total deposits amounted to $7,400,000. Ten years ago, at the end of 1962, total deposits amounted to $5,100,000.

"The reason for the sharp increase in deposits during the past five years has to do with the agricultural industry. The cattle industry has grown, milo intake has increased and milo prices have been up," Anderson concluded.

"Ten years ago we weren't making 8,000 lb. milo, and we sure weren't getting the good prices we got in 1972. The agricultural industry really made a difference," he said.

Parmer County Commissioner's Court met Monday at Parmer County Courthouse in regular session. According to County Judge Archie Tarter, the commissioners attended to routine business matters and paid bills.

Four File For School Board

Four Texico men have filed for two Texico School Board positions, according to Superintendent A. D. McDonald. Deadline for filing was Jan. 2 for the Feb. 6 state school board election.

Donald Leatherwood will be facing incumbent Roy Richardson for position 2 and D. Smith Day and Howard Whitener are running for position 1.

DRESS SHOP CAPER - Parmer County Sheriff's officers are investigating a burglary at Bobbie's, a dress shop owned by Bobbie McFarland in Farwell. Mrs. McFarland shows where the front door of the shop was forced and entrance was gained. Racks of spring coats and pantsuits, several dresses, mostly in small sizes, some blouses and lingerie were taken in the burglary, she said. About a week ago, Mrs. McFarland said several items were taken from the shop during store hours.

Rex Miller Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mr. Rex Doyle Miller, 34, of the West Camp community, were Monday morning at West Camp Baptist Church with Rev. Glenn Harlin, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Miller, who was born May 8, 1938, in Farwell, was killed Monday, Jan. 1, when he and his family were involved in an automobile collision near Ontario, Ore.

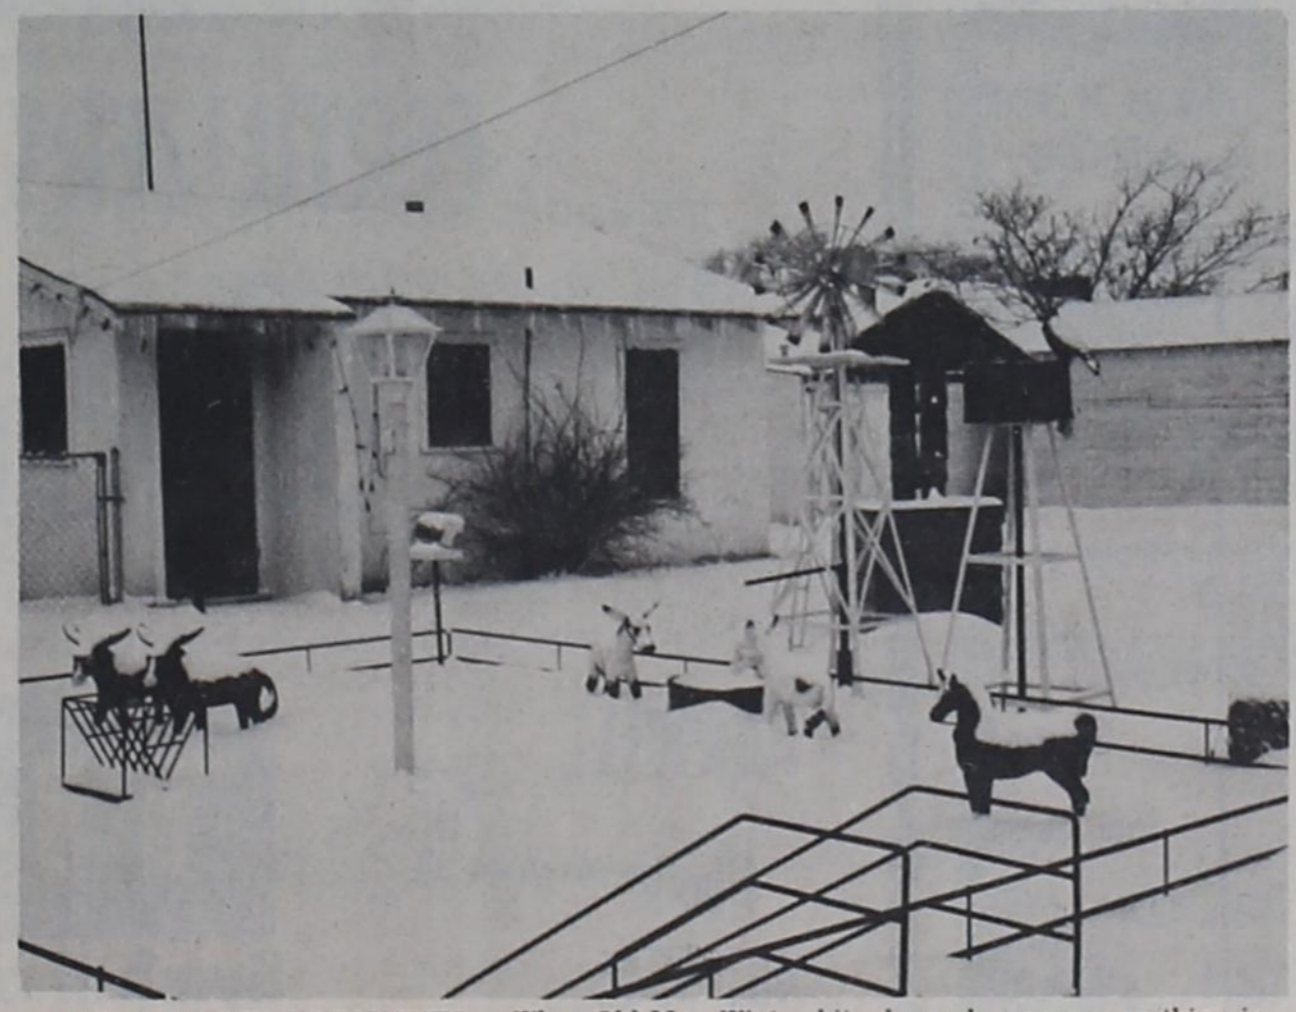

Burial was in Sunset Terrace Memorial Cemetery in Farwell under the direction of Steed-Todd Funeral Home of Clovis. Pallbearers were Bobby Blair, Buck Yell, Bob Edens, Jake Saylor, Pike Jordan, Charlie Nix and Dusty Rhodes. Honorary pallbearers were Bobby Pendergrass, Harlin Obenshain, Buil Dollar, Bert Williams, Myron Hillock, Corky Baker, Dan Holland and Jimmy Doshier.

Mr. Miller finished Texico High School in 1958. He had lived for a few years in Washington, but most of his life was spent in this area. At the time of his death he was employed by Bert Williams.

His wife, Betty, and two sons, Terry and Tom, are still hospitalized in Oregon, but they are much improved, according to Mrs. Bobby Blair, a relative of Miller. Another son, Mark, returned home and is staying with the Bob Dollar family.

Mr. Miller was also survived by his parents, Carl Miller of Farwell and Eula Tipton of Amarillo; two brothers, Eddie Miller of Abilene and Joe P. Miller of San Antonio.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT -- WINTER IS HERE!

NOTHING LEFT UNTOUCHED - When Old Man Winter hits, he makes sure everything in sight is covered in white. The animals stabled at the Willie Steinbock home in Farwell are no exception. Their backs are covered with cold, wet snow. It's not as bad as it seems, though, since the animals are only clay statuettes.

TWIN CITIES SKI BASIN - Who knows? Farwell and Texico may be able to qualify as one of the new winter tourist attractions before the winter is over. Snowmobiling has already become a popular sport. At least that's how Steve and Joe Blair see it. Blair and his family have put the snowmobile to good use this week.

Well, as the natives say, "most unusual" - the weather, that is. Unless an old timer can come up with a tale of the winter of '93 or '03, we suspect that the winter of '73 will be as disagreeable as they come.

We certainly have had more snow and colder temperatures in the past, but our present siege of these persisting conditions makes this about the most "winter" we have experienced in our 24 seasons on these High Plains.

It never fails to amaze me on these extremely cold and very slippery days at the great numbers of people who are out and about. We wonder if the risk is worth the satisfaction of getting out of doors?

Last week in the Amarillo paper we came across the item about six persons who were admitted to North West Texas Hospital for injuries due to falls on the ice. Four of the six listed were over 69 years of age. We also read where Amarillo experienced over 100 minor auto accidents in one day. Again we wonder if getting outside was worth an accident.

Today, to humans or to their automobiles, there is no such thing as a "cheap" accident. In this weather, saving a buck could mean losing several hundreds of dollars in expenses. Sort of poor exchange.

At Farwell Baptist Church - -

Fire Chief Lee Hutchins of the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department this week furnished us with some facts about the activities of the department and the operation of the emergency vehicle during 1972. This information certainly points up the increasing activity of the department. We thought that the local fire siren had been sounding rather frequently and these statistics confirm our suspicions.

In 1972, Farwell fire department responded to seven structural fires involving an estimated loss of $197,750. Two of these fires accounted for $195,000 of this figure, so the department did a good job of limiting loss in the other five calls.

The department also answered 18 grass and hay fires at an estimated $4,000 loss; five gin fires, no estimate of loss; five car fires at $250 estimated loss; three trash fires, no loss; one dust explosion, rendered first aid; one gas spill wash down; and three false alarms.

The emergency vehicle was used 28 times in the following manner: Five calls for first aid, 14 calls for aid and transportation to hospital, four transportation DOA, and five calls not needed.

This is a very impressive record of service to the community and one that is worthy of everybody's respect.

The department is asking for everyone's help during emergencies. In order to show that you want to help, you are asked to refrain from immediately calling the station as this ties up the phone and prevents members from being promptly informed.

Also, there is the constant problem of spectators and curiosity seekers preventing members and equipment from properly and promptly rendering aid. These two things would make our department even more effective. Please, do not follow the equipment and do not call right away to the station.

We are sure that the Texico Fire Department has comparable figures on its year of service and that it also suffers from too many people at the scene of an emergency.

Remember that all this service is rendered by a relative few dedicated individuals, and that this service is often in direct conflict with their jobs and livelihoods.

In bad weather and in the dead of night, Texico and Farwell are protected by these unselfish men and their organizations. For this we are all grateful.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS -- The State Board of Insurance had good news for homeowners as the new year turned.

Insurance rate cuts which will total an estimated $25 million a year in savings for coverage on dwellings were ordered effective January 1.

Gov. Preston Smith commended the Board and claimed that debate on insurance rating issues during the special legislative session he called last fall figured in reductions.

Board members first announced these reductions for extended coverage and homeowners' package policies.

North-northwest territory -- 30 per cent for extended coverage and 20 per cent homeowners' policies.

Central inland area -- eight per cent and seven per cent.

Seacoast "first tier" counties -- 18 per cent and 10 per cent less.

Announcement of the first reductions were followed three days later by fire rate cuts for dwellings.

The statewide fire rate slashes amount to 12 per cent for brick veneer, asbestos and stucco houses and nine per cent for frame dwellings. A three per cent increase was directed for all brick dwellings, but the Board noted this category accounts for only two per cent of Texas housing.

BUDGET REFORM URGED -- Legislators returning to work in regular session Tuesday found five budget reform proposals designed to save at least $50 million a year.

Texas Manufacturers Association unveiled the recommendations and announced a statewide campaign to win support for them.

These proposals are expected to be introduced by prominent legislators, TMA said.

Authority for the governor, as chief state executive officer, to review state spending on a quarterly basis.

Authority for the legislative budget board to conduct biennial performance audits of agency and program operational efficiency.

Limiting compromise powers of free conference committees on appropriations to adjusting reasonable differences between House and Senate spending recommendations, rather than permitting addition of new items or deletion of others previously agreed on by both houses.

Establishing a "pricetagging" system, under which the legislative budget must project cost estimates for a five-year period on all spending legislation before committee hearings.

Creating a two-year study by a 15-member gubernatorial commission of the practice of earmarking 80 per cent of total state revenues, free of direct legislative control.

PENAL CODE REWRITE TRIED AGAIN -- Lawmakers also found the 1973 version of Texas penal code revision as proposed by the State Bar on their desks at the capitol.

The new code, first proposed overall revision since 1857, was rejected by the legislature in 1971, but sponsors feel it may pass this year. Changes have been made in controversial sections and provisions on drug laws and abortion left out.

The new code would retain the death penalty for eight classifications of murder.

Sixteen hundred sections of the old penal code have been boiled down to 246. It contains four felony punishment classifications and three classes of misdemeanors, with penalties specified for each.

AG OPINIONS -- A San Antonio school teacher is ineligible to serve as a member of the State Board of Education, the attorney general's office held.

In other recent opinions, the attorney general concluded: County commissioners must be petitioned by one per cent of county voters before they can call a countywide road bond election.

An advertising scheme whereby merchants award prizes by drawings and punchcards is a lottery in violation of the law.

A requirement of persons applying for a marriage license appearing together or separately before the county clerk may be waived, and ceremonial marriages may be performed by proxy where there is a valid marriage license issued.

Refinery units constructed on land owned by gas companies are determined to be real property.

A vehicle designed primarily for application of fertilizer and herbicides is an "implement of husbandry" (used for agricultural purposes) and is not required to be registered for highway usage.

APPOINTMENTS -- Governor Smith designated V. Larry Teaver Jr. of Austin, a longtime friend and aid, as secretary of state to serve until January 16 when Gov. Dolph Briscoe takes office. Teaver succeeds Bob Bullock who resigned after January 1.

Other Smith appointments include: Judge Edward D. Coulson of Houston as associate justice of the 14th court of civil appeals; Sam Lane of Austin to Texas Employment Commission; Bob Lilly of San Antonio as chairman of Texas Animal Health Commission; David McAngus of Austin as 201st district judge; Judge Jackson B. Smith Jr. of Houston as 189th district judge; Mrs. Ruby Kless Sondock of Houston to domestic relations court no. 5 in Harris County; Murray L. McWhorter (reappointment) to the Veterans Land Board; and Bill Tippen of Abilene and Richard C. Ingram of Dallas to the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

Brad O'Leary of Austin was designated executive director of the Texas Republican Party and Harrison Vickers of Houston executive director of the State Democratic Party.

SHORTSNORTS
The new Homer Garrison Jr. Law Enforcement Academy of the Texas Department of Public Safety, named for the late DPS director from 1938-1968, was officially dedicated here January 4 and hailed among the best equipped in the United States.

Gross agricultural income for Texas during 1972 may exceed $4 billion, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Court of Criminal Appeals declared unconstitutional a law (since amended) providing that 17 year old males could be tried for felonies, while females must be 18 to face trial.

Revenue from cigarette taxes dropped $2.5 million -- to $17.4 million -- from December 1971 to last month.

Animal Health Commission announced quarantines in portions of Nueces and Webb counties for fever tick infestation and exposure.

Governor Smith said state government will have a $300 million "nestegg" of unexpended fund balances when he leaves office.

Texas Education Agency received a national leadership award for developing performance-based teacher education programs.

Rep. Frances (Sissy) Farenthold, unsuccessful candidate for governor last year, announced she will maintain a permanent Austin office and monitor the legislature.

In Home -- Combine Accessories To Achieve New Look

New looks can be achieved through combining different accessories--even if they're not of the same era, setting or style.

Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University, pointed out that modern society has broken with many of the traditional ideas of home decorating.

"The eclectic look--composed of elements drawn from various sources--is gaining in popularity.

"As a result, selection and placement of accessories is becoming simply a matter of selection, combination and arrangement in a way that's pleasing to the eye.

"For example, we see modern accessories prominently displayed in traditional settings and Oriental or traditional accessories at home in the most contemporary settings. Home decorators shouldn't shun adventure," she challenged.

"Even though we may select and assemble a variety of different accessories, they will have certain similarities--due to our personality and interests --and will live well together. We live with things we like to look at.

"When choosing accessories, a person shouldn't limit himself to the standard vari-

Mementos such as shells, rocks or dried flowers; collections such as antiques; or a wall of trophies, awards, newspaper clippings, prints and photographs can be decorative assets when displayed properly.

In addition, the home decorator should try to display the unusual in a pleasing manner, she advised.

However, she stressed the importance of being discriminate. "An indiscriminate use of accessories can result in a hodge-podge of design."

"We must now get ready for our showdown this Friday (tonight) at Vega. We will end up in a three-way tie for first for this half if we win. The secret to this game is our defense. It must improve," he added.

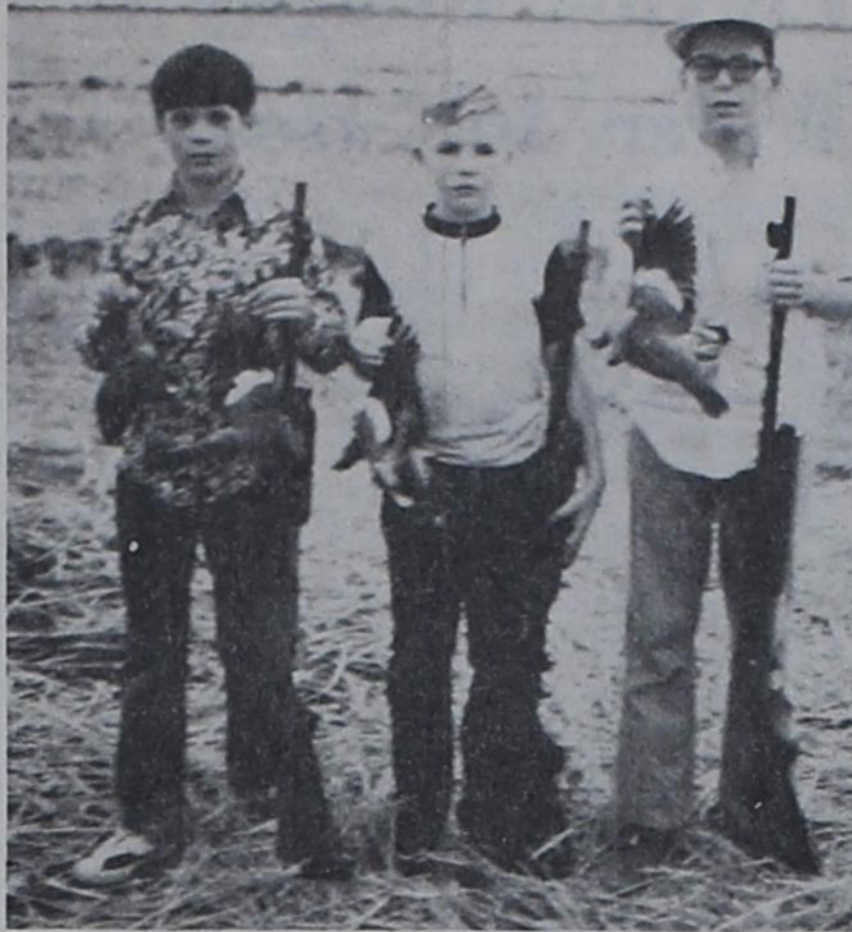

Farwell Steerettes downed Kress 71-20. LaShawn Sheets was high with 29 points. Others in double figures were Booth, 15, and Winegeart, 12. Teresa Blackaby made six for Kress.

Pieces Quilts - -

Tedious Handwork Not Chore For Local Woman

When most women face several hours of handwork, done with a needle and thread, they cringe in utter distaste. Mrs. Elsie Tarr of Farwell is not one of those women.

She excels in piecing quilts together in a variety of patterns. Her favorite pattern is nine-square which gives a checkerboard effect. She has also started a sunburst or diamond quilt and has made quilts in another pattern which includes squares and half squares.

"All my life I have made them (quilts) out of print, but these last few have been made from knit scraps. I buy remnants or get scraps from different people. I have gotten them at the dress factory here," she said.

Prior to 1950, Mrs. Tarr quilted the tops she pieced together. That year she quilted four tops. Since then she has tacked the quilts.

"I was probably 10 years old when I started sewing. The first thing I remember sewing on was a string quilt. Then I took home economics in high school and started making my own clothes," she recalls.

"I remember the first dress I made. It was lavender. I still like lavender," she added. She continued sewing for her two daughters after she married. She still sews for her daughter, Jean, who lives with her. Another daughter, who is married, lives in Michigan.

Elsie and her late husband, Ivan, who passed away June 24, 1971, were married April 2, 1938. Tarr had moved to the West Camp community in 1930 and she came here in 1936. Until August 1971, the Tarrs had lived on a farm south of town.

"I have to keep my hands busy. I do most of my quilts by hand because I like to watch TV," she says. Watching television surely doesn't slow this woman down - if anything, it speeds her up.

Besides the painstaking job she does on the quilts, she also makes yarn pompon pillows, smocked aprons, chicken pin cushions and yo-yo bedspreads.

Yo-yo bedspreads are made of circles of material which are tacked together to form a square. Before tacking the circles together, Mrs. Tarr turns under the edges of each circle and draws them together with a piece of thread. They look like small ditty bags, but when they are pieced together they flatten out.

"I was my Momma's seamstress. The rest of the girls would rather ride horses," she said. As a young girl, Mrs. Tarr found an activity which would keep her hands busy and give her pleasure throughout her life.

She also makes yo-yo bedspreads (bottom left) and smocked aprons and chicken pin cushions, which she is holding. Mrs. Tarr has been sewing since she was 10 years old.

First article in a three-part series on small electrical appliances:

Save those papers! I am referring to important "papers" in the box with a small electrical appliance.

You should read every word before using the appliance. Read and heed registration cards first. Complete them and mail to the manufacturer. These cards let him know where the appliance was purchased and where the product is in case a safety defect makes it necessary for him to notify the owner. Sending the registration card also may speed servicing.

Guarantee or warranty papers are second on the reading list, and they mean about the same thing. Learn what they promise in writing on product performance, such as "guaranteed not to tarnish" or "guaranteed to be free of defects in material or workmanship". Some promise specific action, such as repair, refund or replacement if the product fails to meet standards of quality or performance stated in the guarantee.

Read until you find the following six points:

1. What it guarantees. It should list parts covered.
2. How long it is guaranteed. The entire appliance or different parts may be guaranteed for different time lengths.
3. Manufacturer or seller promises. If product is defective, they may furnish parts and labor or parts only, and they may replace the entire product or refund purchase price.
4. Steps owner must take to receive benefits the guarantee promises.

5. Limitations or conditions of the guarantee. It may tell the owner to complete and mail the registration card.

6. Name of firm offering the guarantee and name or title of party responsible for keeping its promises.

Another "paper" to read is the use and care booklet. Instructions aim at helping owners get the most satisfaction and use from the product. Read the booklet carefully, and follow directions to the letter. Keep the booklet in a safe place.

Appliance life usually depends on the care it receives.

Clayton Resigns As Water, Inc. Head

State Rep. Bill Clayton, executive director of Water, Inc., since early 1969, has resigned the post with the regional water development promotion organization effective Dec. 31. His letter of resignation was handed to members of the Water, Inc., executive committee and board of directors at a meeting in Lubbock recently.

"It is with regrets that we accept Mr. Clayton's resignation," Gaston Wells of Dumas, president of Water, Inc., said. "He has done an outstanding job in the almost four years with our organization. He is a recognized leader, both state-wide and nationally, in the field of water resource development and through his leadership, Water, Inc., has become a respected and effective influence. His efforts in our behalf have been instrumental in moving us toward our ultimate goal - adequate future water for all," Wells said, and added, "we wish him every success in his new pursuits."

Clayton, who resides at Springlake in Lamb County where he has extensive farming interests, has served in the Texas House of Representatives since 1962. In his letter of resignation he said that "there are other areas of endeavor he must now attempt," but declined to enumerate his future plans at this time other than to say that they are in the political realm.

During his tenure at the executive post of the regional water promotional organization, conflicting views within Water, Inc., have been reconciled into a united effort for a water development program to assure future water for all of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, membership in the non-profit corporation has almost doubled and the operating budget has more than doubled. Clayton predicted Water, Inc., would continue to grow as it looks to what he called "the challenge ahead."

Clayton has been a leading exponent of sensible and systematic development of water resources. He has either sponsored or co-sponsored every major water bill that has come before the Texas Legislature during his ten years in the House of Representatives. Among these are measures leading to a comprehensive water development program to assure adequate future water supplies for all Texas citizens, and the Texas Water Code, a massive recodification of the state's water laws in a single act. He has served on virtually all legislative water study committees during his tenure.

LIKE COTTON CANDY - An almost featherlike, wispy quality has descended upon the trees in the area. After seeing naked limbs for the past few months, it is refreshing to find this "cotton candy" transformation. Not only does the snow brighten up the daylight hours, it radiates a light at night that is stunning.

When you are outside on a cold, windy day and you think it is colder than the thermometer indicates, you are right.

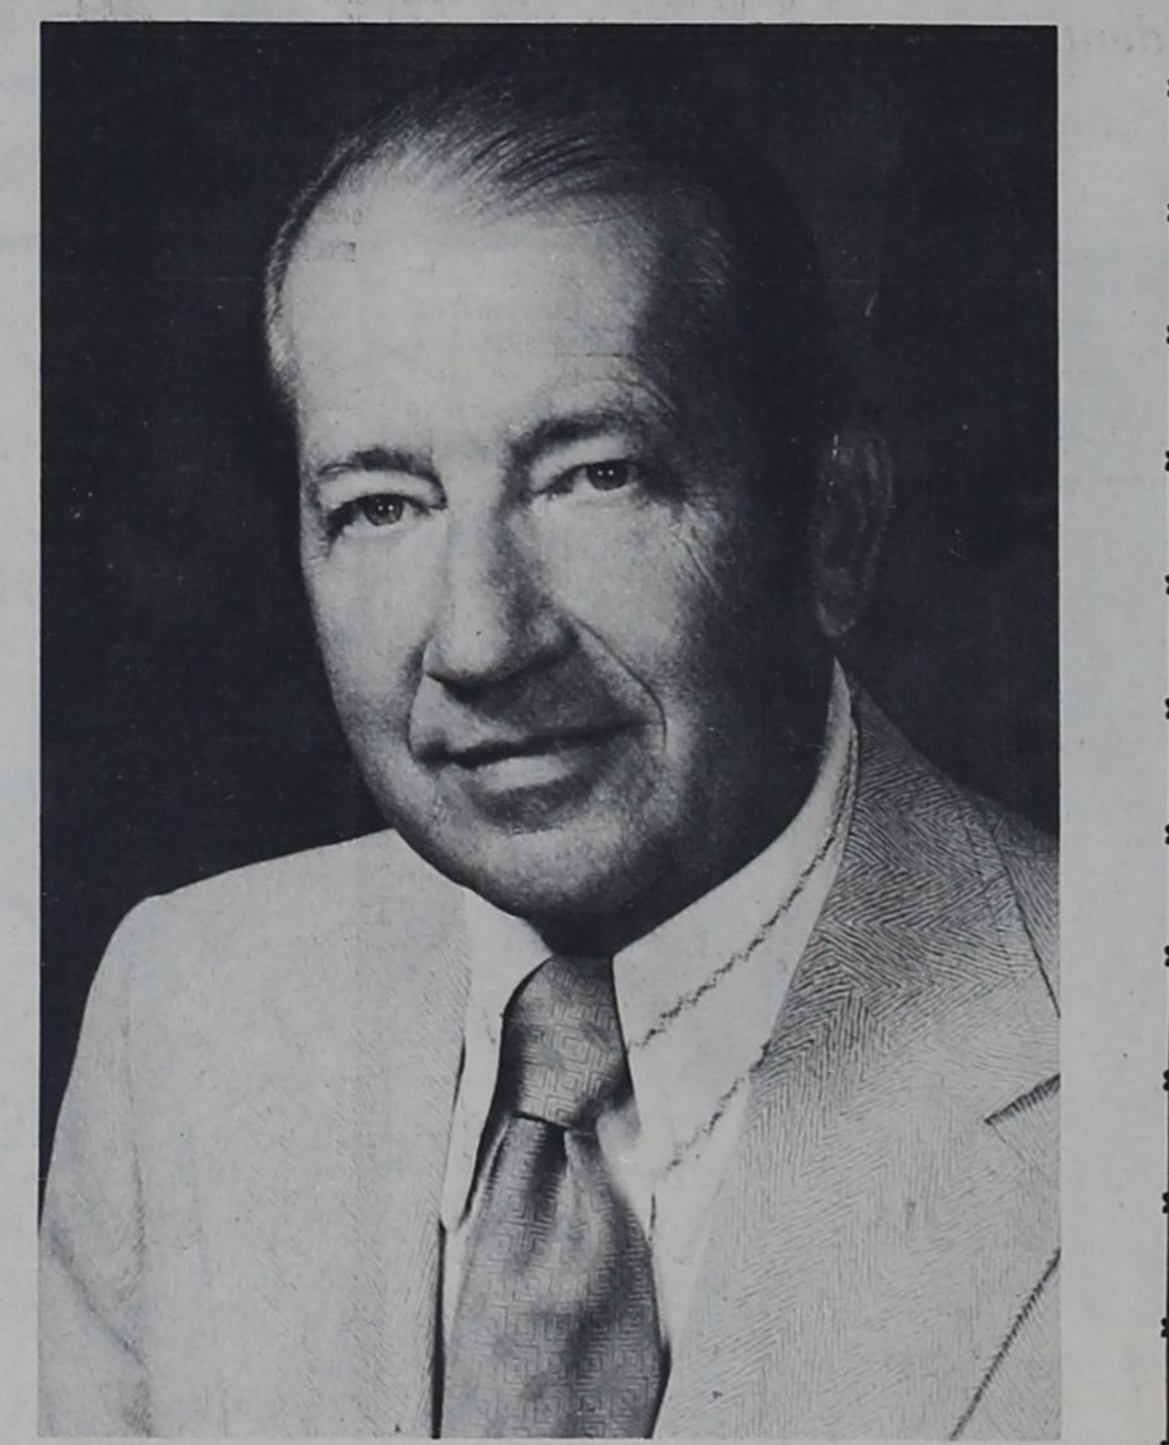

Nearly every winter some people in the U. S. are severely frost bitten or even frozen to death because they dress according to the thermometer and not according to the chill index temperature.

The chill index is a combination of wind velocity and temperature reading. For example, at 10 degrees above zero with a 10-mile-an-hour wind, the chill temperature to exposed skin is 9 degrees below zero.

The "chill temperature chart" below can be quick reference for estimating the actual temperature on cold days during the winter.

Debra Garner, B. Redwine Pledge Vows At Okla. Lane

Debra Kay Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Garner of Lariat, became the bride of Bobby Dean Redwine, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Redwine of Lazbuddie, Dec. 30 at Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church.

Rev. Bob Roberts led the couple in their double ring vows before a kneeling bench draped with bows and roping of two shades of pink at the altar. Church windows were decorated with flocked branches and bows. A solid piece of flocked greenery decorated the choir railing. Candle trees decorated with greenery flocked and twined with two shades of pink completed the setting.

Mrs. Julia Symcox sang "The Wedding Prayer" and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Treider sang "There Is Love". Mrs. Peggy Sudderth presented traditional wedding selections on the organ.

Escorted down a white cloth-covered aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight peau de soie gown featuring an empire fitted bodice covered with reemboroided lace, a ruffled V-neckline and long, tapered sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses flanked by white roses and baby's breath with streamers entwined with white roses and baby's breath.

Carrying out wedding tradition, the bride wore earrings from her maternal great-grandmother as something old and borrowed. Something new was her dress and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Karen Leslie of Wichita Falls, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Susan Symcox of Farwell was bridesmaid.

Flowers girls were Susan and Sharon Glover, nieces of the groom from Lazbuddie.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore long red velvet dresses. They carried colonial bouquets of red and pink roses. The flower girls were attired in long red velvet skirts and candlelight satin blouses. They carried baskets of red and pink love knots.

Jerry Don Redwine of Houston, cousin of the groom, was best man. Gail Morris of Lazbuddie was groomsman. David Garner and Donnie Garner of Lariat, brothers of the bride, served as candle-lighters and ushers.

Mrs. Garner chose a pink floor length dress for her daughter's wedding. She wore a red rose corsage. Mrs. Redwine chose a salmon pink floor length dress and wore a red rose corsage.

After the wedding, a reception was in the church basement. The bride's table was draped in white with red bows. The groom's table was draped in red with white doves.

Lois Smith and Donna Glover presided at the groom's table. Deborah Cole, Brenda Bershirs and Nancy Blair presided at the bride's table. Cindy Carthel served as floating hostess.

After a trip to Mexico City, the couple will reside at 4702 4th, Sp. 59, Lubbock.

A 1970 graduate of Farwell, the bride plans to graduate in December from Texas Tech with an English Education degree. A 1968 graduate of Lazbuddie, the groom plans to graduate in May from Tech with an Animal Science major and a Feedlot minor.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"I HAVE SET THEE A WATCHMAN"
The Prophet Ezekiel was appointed by God as a "watchman" over the house of Israel (Ezek. 33:7). He was held responsible to warn the wicked from their way, for while God must deal justly with sin, He had declared: "I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live" (Ver. 11).
If Ezekiel failed to warn the wicked, they would die in their sins, but their blood would be required at his hand. If he faithfully warned them, however, and they refused to heed the warning, they would die in their sins, but he would be absolved of all responsibility (See Ver. 8,9).
Would some Christian reader remind us that we are living under another dispensation and that our message is one of grace? True enough, but this does not diminish, it increases our responsibility toward the lost.
If we believers carelessly allow the lost to go to Christless graves, are we not morally responsible for their doom? Will we not be held accountable at the Judgement seat of Christ? (See II Cor. 5:10,11). This is why we find Paul reminding the Ephesian elders that he had not ceased to "warn" men "night and day with tears" (Acts 20:31).
As the apostle looked back over his ministry among the Ephesians he could say: "I take you to record this day that I am pure from the blood of all men" (Ver. 26). And this had been so of his ministry in general. Indeed, it was now his desire that whatever the cost, he might finish his course with joy, and the ministry which he had received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God (Ver. 24).
May God give us who are believers in the Lord Jesus Christ, a greater sense of our responsibility toward the lost!

SCS Accomplishments Reviewed For Past Year

Soil Conservation Service (SCS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture recently took an end-of-the-year look at its work and came up with facts and figures on conservation activity and environmental changes across the nation during 1972, say local SCS officials.

The figures showed that more than a million farmers or other landowners received technical help from SCS on their conservation and land-use problems. More than 26,600 units of state and local governments also received assistance.

Environmental improvement work popular among farmers during the year included better conservation cropping systems (more than 20 million acres added during 1972), land and water improvements to benefit wildlife (7.5 million acres), and tree windbreaks on the farm (more than 43,000 acres planted).

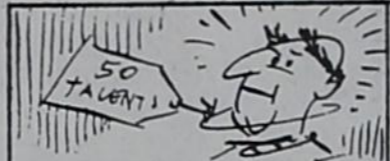

State and local governments asked for SCS assistance on more than 15,500 natural resource inventories and evaluations - a 42 percent increase over similar assistance given in 1971.

In 1972, 29 SCS-assisted small watershed flood prevention projects were completed, and engineering work was finished on 11 more. During the year, 41 other projects reached the construction stage and 28 projects reached the planning stage, for a total of 1,029 projects in some stage of construction or planning.

In addition to flood prevention, projects completed in 1972 provided water supply reservoirs for nine small town and rural areas, and recreation lakes for 16 areas. During hurricane Agnes, which hit the East Coast in June, 1972, small watershed project dams and channels in the area prevented $22.2 million in direct damages from the storm. During the 1972 fiscal year, all completed small watershed projects:

- 1. prevented an estimated $48 million in flood damages, 2. trapped 1.9 million tons of sediment, and 3. provided benefits totalling $56 million in erosion control and grassland improvements.

When Julius Caesar was captured by pirates on the Mediterranean, he was told he must give them 20 talents for ransom. He laughingly said: "What, only 20 talents? I will give you 50 talents for my life!"

Army Life Gives Family Unlimited Experiences

by Janie Crane

Col. Je Don Porter, his wife, Bunkie, and their five children, May, 15, Melinda, 14, Timothy, 12, Theresa, eight, and Tracie, three, returned to this country Friday, Dec. 29, from a 20-month stay in the Philippines.

The family has been visiting Porter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Porter of Farwell. Porter will attend the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Penn., this summer, so the family will be living there this fall and spring.

Porter, who was reared in Farwell and attended Farwell Schools for several years before attending New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, has made the Army a career since 1950.

After transferring and attending school at NMMI in 1944, Porter spent approximately two years in the U.S. Marines. He went back to NMMI to do some college work and was recalled to the Army in 1950.

He received a degree from the University of Nebraska in the Army's bootstrap program. For the past 20 months, while his family was in the Philippines, Porter was serving as a Vietnamese province chief at Cantho. Province senior advisor is comparable to governor, he said.

Since his career started, Porter has been stationed in Ft. Ord, Calif., Ft. Rucker, Ala., Ft. Knox, Ky., Germany, back to Alabama, Vietnam - the family went to California, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., Ft. Wolters, Mineral Wells, Tex., Ft. Hood, Tex., Washington, D. C., and back to Vietnam. Porter even found time during his career to attend the University of Omaha.

Je Don and Bunkie married Jan. 12, 1957, when he was stationed at Ft. Ord. Her father was a military man stationed in Korea at the time. Her mother was living in California. The Porter family spent three years in Germany.

Each of the children was born in a different location. Timothy was born in Germany.

MONDAY - Hot dogs, chili, onions, pickles, potato salad, cherry cobbler, milk.

TUESDAY - Meat loaf, catsup, creamed potatoes, celery stick, hot rolls, chocolate cake, milk.

WEDNESDAY - Pinto beans, beef and cheese tacos, lettuce and tomato salad, cornbread, fruit cup, milk.

THURSDAY - Chicken pot pie, green beans, carrot sticks, hot biscuits, apple butter, milk.

FRIDAY - Corny dogs, lima beans, pineapple-orange gelatin, cookies, chocolate milk.

the others were born in the States. That fact, by itself, gives the children something unusual to talk about with their off-base friends.

There were so many activities planned for children at the base in the Philippines that each of the Porter children found something different to do.

"I liked the swimming pool," said Theresa. Her mother said she was hoping to be part of a swimming team and be able to compete against others.

Melinda commented on the pretty beaches. Timothy and Mary had tales about their cross-country track team. Each day after school they ran several miles. On Saturdays, marathons were staged with teams trying to break records.

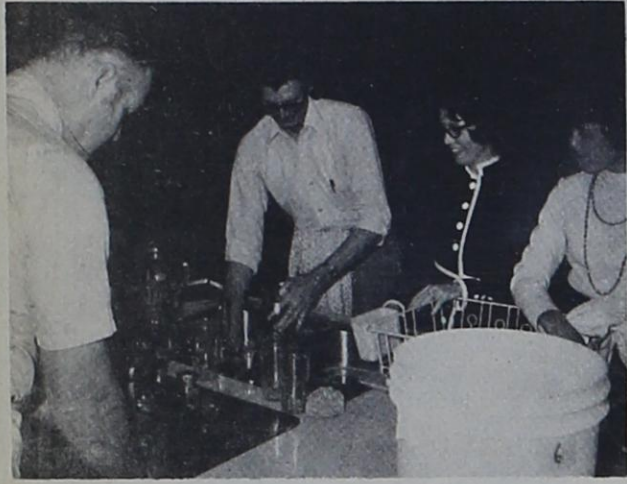

The physical fitness program was a part of the youth activity program set up by the base. Mrs. Porter said many of these activities were set up because dependents were not allowed to work, not even to babysit.

May served as girl captain of her team and had run a total of 1235 miles. Tim was a flight captain and he had run 1050 miles. After a youngster had run 1000 miles, he was presented a gold jacket by the American Legion.

Melinda was also excited about the riding stables. She was a member of a riding club that made trips to different areas of the Philippines. Besides training horses at the riding stables, the youngsters started a program for the negritos (native Philippines) by raising sheep and goats which they gave to them for food and clothing. The young-

ENERGETIC PORTER FAMILY - Col. Je Don Porter and his family, wife, Bunkie, left, holding Tracie, son, Timothy, and daughters, Melinda, Theresa and Mary, from left to right, are enjoying Army life which has given them a variety of experiences, both at home and abroad. The family just returned from 20 months in the Philippines where youth activities kept the youngsters busy every day. Their father was stationed in Vietnam as a province senior advisor. He noted that he got to come home about once a month.

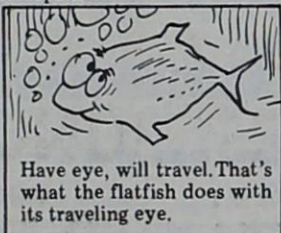

K. P. DUTIES - Joe Jones, left, and Gil Patschke found their hands in dish water Sunday after a church luncheon following the dedication of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church. Sarah Marsh and Dot Christian are enjoying seeing the men take some responsibility of cleaning up in the kitchen. Several out-of-town guests joined the congregation at the church for the dedication service and the meal afterwards.

Healthy Hearts Seminar Planned In Amarillo

The Family Living Youth Task Force of the Panhandle Economic Program is sponsoring a seminar Feb. 8 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Quality Motel in Amarillo. The seminar is open to the public.

Others participating on the program include a "Mended Heart Patient", a physical therapist, a nurse, an internal medicine specialist and an osteopath.

Some of the participants on the program will be: Dr. R. E. Guide, M.D., cardiologist; Dr. Mina Lamb, professor of nutrition, Texas Tech University; Dr. Don Gholston, M.D., cardiologist; and Dr. Robert D. Southerland, M.D., cardiovascular surgeon.

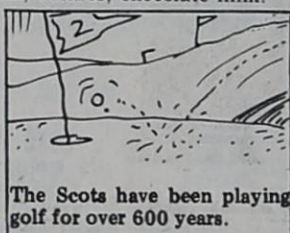

Report From The Sheriff's Office

Sheriff Charles Lovelace said officers are investigating several break-ins which have occurred during the past week. He said Riley Goodnough, two miles west of Lazbuddie, reported several items missing from his home. He said a color television set, radios, and food from a freezer were missing. The burglary probably occurred between Dec. 26 and Jan. 6 while Goodnough was away from home, said Lovelace.

The Taco Burger Drive-Inn in Farwell reported that their business was broken into Wednesday night, Jan. 3. Several coin machines had been damaged and change taken. Damage was also done to the juke box.

Officers were also investigating a burglary at Bobbie's, a Farwell dress shop, Wednesday morning. Entrance was apparently gained to the shop Tuesday night through the front door. A large amount of spring merchandise was missing from the shop, according to Mrs. Bobbie McFarland, owner.
