Yugoslav Minister Attacks Hungarian Government

Serb Troops Retire After Border Clash

Yugoslav Minister Says Hungary Responsible For Assassination

GENEVA, (AP)—Bogolub, Yevitch, foreign minister of Yugoslavia, denounced the Hungarian government in the League of Nations Council as responsible for the assassination of King Alexander.

Yevitch characterized the crime as a grave menace to peace.

He charged the assassination expressed a conspiracy organized and nourished in Hungary.

He said the assistance Hungary granted the terrorists was direct protection.

Yevitch said twenty cases of terrorist crimes were perpetrated in the Yugoslav territory the last six years and all occurred near Hungary.

HUNGARY, (AP)—Serbian troops which attacked the Yugoslav army retired Friday after intermittent forays across the Hungarian frontier and temporarily relieved the dangerous situation.

Forces remain close to the frontier is source of great anxiety to Hungary.

An official news agency said armed men made midnight raids in evacuated Hungarian homes in Yugoslavia. The agency stated Yugoslav spared none in the wholesale deportations.

WASHINGTON By GEORGE DURNO

Deficit— Betting is strong here that for the immediate future at least Chairman Henry P. Fletcher, aided by such Old Guard stalwarts as Rep. Bert Snell of N. Y. and Charles D. Hilles, will be able to withstand the onslaughts of Borah, Nye, Steiwer, et al.

"What do they have as a substitute?" asks Snell. And no one answers.

That is, unless you count Borah's suggestion for calling the young Republicans into convention or Vandenberg's proposal for a coalition government.

Borah is well known in Washington for his habit of voicing resonant generalities. He senses a trend or movement and rides it without trying to give it actual direction.

Vandenberg's "coalition" proposition could hardly get far. Last month the Republicans took a bad licking for the second time running. Victors seldom coalesce with their victims.

And Chairman Fletcher, exp-diplomat that he is, delivered the unkindest cut of all when he slyly suggested it was okay with him to be reorganized out of office. His successors could have the Republican deficit with his best wishes. Everybody knows that next to

Thompson Ends Career Of Crime

AMARILLO, (AP)—Irvin (Blackie) Thompson, condemned fugitive criminal who escaped electrocution in a spectacular break from the Texas penitentiary's death row last July with Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer, was shot to death by a posse of nine officers in a gun fight on a highway 12 miles east of here early Thursday night.

Thompson blazed away at the officers, stationed at strategic angles, but machine gun, rifle and pistol fire perforated his body. None of the officers were injured but bullets splattered against their automobiles.

The desperado's right leg was smashed by bullets and his left arm was dangling at the wrist. A bullet bore through his head over the left eye.

Two shotguns, a pistol, rifle, a pinch bar, cold chisel, steel punches, a syphon hose, cotton picker's sack, pair of overalls, an alarm clock and a cap were found in the fugitive's car. Under his right arm was a satchel, filled with various kinds of ammunition.

AMARILLO, (AP)—W. A. Thompson and wife, parents of Blackie Thompson, and two sisters and a brother of the slain outlaw came from Wheeler Friday and refused the public view of the outlaw's body.

The family lives in Wheeler. The funeral will likely be at Wheeler. Officers said Thompson visited the Wheeler section often recently.

Teachers Will Have Money For Xmas

Two Dollar Apportionment Payment Received Here Friday

School teachers in rural Howard county schools will have Christmas money to spend this year.

A two dollar per capita apportionment payment was received here Friday by County Superintendent Pauline O. Brigham.

It is the second payment received on the current per capita apportionment. Last year the final payment in the previous apportionment came in December.

A norther hit Texas today. The year's lowest temperature was reported in many places.

Borger had 18 degrees; Abilene 26; Lubbock 22; Plainview 19; Corsicana 28; Fort Worth 21; Wichita Falls 24. Cold was felt throughout the state.

Offer Made To W. P. Edwards For Park Land

Offers to buy land which would insure maintenance of a CCC camp here on the scenic Mountain project have been made by the city to W. P. Edwards, owner of the property.

Edwards was offered $8,000 for a twenty acre plot on top of the mountain and for land south to the section line and a strip of right of way to highway No. 1 west.

Friday it was understood that Edwards had made a counter proposition for more money and less acreage.

The offer was extended to Edwards by City Manager E. V. Spence after the city commission had voted a resolution authorizing the $8,000 offer.

Reports that the camp would be moved from here shortly unless more land is provided were given substantiation in high quarters. A Lamesa delegation passed through here Thursday enroute to Austin to ask location of the camp there if it is moved from here.

W. A. Wilson, Lamesa chamber manager, asked for Big Spring support in event the camp were moved. He was told by many that every effort was being made to retain the camp here, but if it were moved, this city would support Lamesa.

An excerpt from the offer letter to Edwards follows:

"City of Big Spring will pay you the sum of $8,000.00 in cash for that portion of the Section upon which the present State park is located lying south of the extreme north line of the present state park tract extending to the section line on the west and to the strip owned by the Texas and Pacific railway company on the east. This will include the 20 acres inside the present state park tract and all lands in the section owned by you lying south of the line above named, thus squaring off the present park tract as well as acquiring the 20 acres inside the present park tract. In addition to this you will be required to include a strip 100 feet wide off the west side of the remaining portion of the section not included in the deed to the city; this 100 foot strip being asked for purposes of a roadway and will be of benefit to your lands as well as to the park site.

"The city will, of course, require you to furnish an abstract showing good and merchantable title to the lands in question and will want a reasonable time in which to have the title examined, and if you accept this proposition, we will pay all taxes on the land in cash just as soon as it is found that the title is good and the proper deed is furnished, as is usual in deals of this kind.

"Since the recent bond election, the city has very carefully considered the question of buying additional lands so that the park program can be carried out, and feels that $8,000.00 is the maximum amount which the city will consider paying for these additional lands. It is of course realized there is often a difference of opinion between the purchaser and seller of lands as to the fair value of such lands, and the city has made due allowance for such difference in opinion, and is making this offer based upon the maximum amount it feels that it should pay and you will please consider this as the city's final effort to purchase from you, on terms mutually satisfactory, these lands.

"We will hold this offer for a period of ten days and shall expect a reply from you within that time."

Edwards is seriously ill in a local hospital.

Bone Of Prehistoric Monster Is Unearthed On Wild Horse Creek

E. O. McCullough has unearthed a huge bone, probably from a prehistoric monster.

He discovered the bone in the wash of Wild Horse creek on the D. W. Christian ranch northeast of here.

The bone was buried under many feet of dirt and was in a blue clay formation. The knuckle of the bone, more than 25 inches in circumference, had become dislodged from the remaining portion. Much of the bone still remains in the bluff, McCullough said.

School Shutdown Threatened ZANESVILLE, O. (UP)—Union teachers of this city of 30,000 agree to serve without pay the remainder of the year. Zanesville schools will close until Jan. 1 for lack of operating funds.

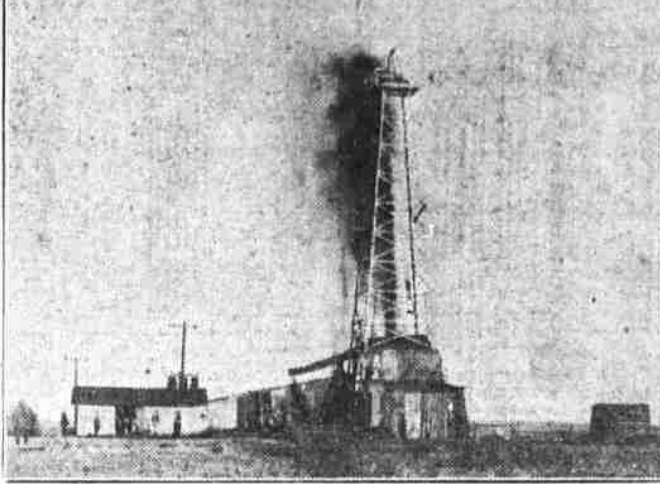

Rural-Urban committee of the Rotary club has arranged a program to be given at the Moore school January 4.

The committee Thursday made a trip to Moore and conferred with Miss Sarah Phillips, principal of the school.

Big Spring high school band will be expected to furnish music for the occasion. Another feature will be a basketball game between Moore and some rival community.

The program is being arranged by Miss Phillips. Big Spring will be expected to furnish parts on the program.

As Read Well Was Shot

Iron Mountain No. 1 C. D. Read, located half a mile north of nearest production in the Brennan pool, is seen going over the top after being shot with 800 quarts from 2837-2832 feet. It bridged at about 2832 feet. When operators knocked the bridge down 58 feet with tools Thursday morning it flowed 105 barrels in 5 hours. The production is considered all the more encouraging due to the fact that tools could not be got below 2862 feet and some of the best pay is between the bridge and the total depth of 2827 feet.

Texas Waterway Is Recommended

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Acting Chief Engineer Pillsbury recommended improvements of the Sabine-Neches waterway to the house river and harbor committee.

Estimated cost of the new work is $1,950,000 and $600,000 for annual maintenance. He recommended a channel 600 feet wide, 36 feet deep through the outer Sabine pass bar, and 30 feet deep, 600 feet wide between jetties at the outer end.

Vienna Choir Ticket Sales Open Saturday

Tickets for the world-renowned Vienna Choir Boys, world's oldest musical organization now on a two months' tour of the United States, will go on sale here Saturday at Cunningham-Phillips No. 1 drug store.

The Big Spring appearance is under the auspices of the high school girls' pep squad. Special low prices for any seat in the house have been made available for all school children. All seats are reserved.

The Choir Boys launched their American tour three weeks ago, playing in most instances only the larger cities. Booked on the Hardin-Simmons University Artists' course at Abilene, the choir boys are playing Big Spring to break the long trip from Abilene to El Paso. The engagement here will be in the municipal auditorium.

Wallace Says Freight Rate Increase Bad

AGRICULTURE SECRETARY TELLS I.C.C. IT WOULD RETARD RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Wallace told the interstate commerce commission that freight rate increases on agricultural and other products now might delay recovery without giving railroads revenue increases.

He said existing rates caused farmers to turn from railroads to other transportation and reduced the volume of agricultural freight.

Boy Hurt In Fall From High Swing

Allan Wheeler, 6 son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wheeler of Coahoma, is recovering from injuries sustained Wednesday when he fell from a swing.

He sustained a broken thigh and back injuries when he tumbled from the high swing. He is resting at the Big Spring hospital.

More than 300 fans are expected to leave here this evening on the special train. Many other are going to make the trip by automobile.

Big Spring is rated an excellent chance of winning the game over the Tigers. The El Paso team swept easily through its district this season.

Squad Enroute To Game Site Rally Planned

Sam Flowers Slightly Ill, Three Hundred Expected On Train

A brisk parade starting from the courthouse at 8:15 p. m., a terse pep rally at the Texas and Pacific depot, and hundreds of Big Spring football fans will be off for El Paso to witness the bi-district game between Big Spring and El Paso high school Saturday afternoon.

Ticket sales for the special train continued through Friday and were accelerating with the approach of train time.

The football squad left Friday morning aboard a special car for the border city. All members went in fine physical condition with the exception of Sam Flowers, who doctors feared might be contracting a case of chicken pox. Sam made the trip and was expecting to play in the game.

ABOARD STEER SPECIAL, (Pecos)—Big Spring Steers are confident of victory in Saturday game with El Paso. Brains Trust of Dr. M. H. Bennett and Stacy Dorn predicts victory. Players seem confident. Cor-dill says Big Spring will win and others join in making the special train 100 percent.

One tourist-Pullman car carrying fans will remain in El Paso through Sunday. The remainder of the special train will start its return at 9 p. m. Saturday night.

The high school band and pep squad will go in full force to the border city to cheer for the Steers who have won the first district championship in the history of this high school.

More than 300 fans are expected to leave here this evening on the special train. Many other are going to make the trip by automobile.

Big Spring is rated an excellent chance of winning the game over the Tigers. The El Paso team swept easily through its district this season.

Raymond Hamilton Named As Hold Up Man Near Dallas

DALLAS, (AP)—Raymond Hamilton, fugitive bank robber and condemned killer, was identified as one of three gunmen who Thursday robbed the Continental Oil company's refinery office of $200.

Armed with a sawed-off shotgun, the Southwest's most widely hunted outlaw, walked into the refinery office, located on the Eagle Ford road six miles west of Dallas, and forced H. P. Forest, cashier, to open the safe. Hamilton was accompanied by a man carrying a pistol and a third robber waited in a car outside.

TEXAS HAS 72 PARKS
 Texas today owns 72 parks aggregating 258,405 acres and the Federal government is expending more than $6,000,000 in their improvement while the State is spending nothing in this work, it was brought out at the meeting of the Texas Editorial Association at Harlingen recently.
 These parks have not cost the taxpayers of Texas one cent for lands as all acreage has been donated, President Frank Cates of Bartlett, pointed out. Neither has the State ever appropriated any funds for improvement work.
 Following the organization of the State Parks Association and the appointment of the parks board by Governor Pat M. Neff, upon authorization of the legislature eleven years ago, these officers have served without salary and have paid their own expenses in carrying on the work.
 Taking cognizance of this situation the Texas Editorial Association adopted a resolution expressing approval of the unselfish service of the parks board and of the association, and also offered their sympathetic cooperation toward carrying out the slogan of the board for "A State park every 100 miles in Texas."
 The resolution also commended the board and the association for their efforts toward locating and marking the historic spots of inter-

STANFORD PLOTS COME BACK IN ROSE BOWL CLASSIC

Acknowledged to be two of the nation's markedly outstanding football machines this season, Stanford and Alabama will have an old score to settle—a 7-7 tie in their 1927 Tournament of Roses meeting—when they clash in Pasadena's Rose Bowl (background) on New Year's day. Besides, the Indians will be seeking to avenge for the humiliating 7-0 upset licking they absorbed last January from Columbia. Above, are shown the rival coaches and some of the stalwarts who have played major roles in fashioning the defeatless season records of the Pale Altars and the Crimson Tide. Alabama won all its nine games while Stanford also won nine, a 7-7 tie with Santa Clara early in the season being the closest thing to a demerit on its long schedule. (Associated Press Photos)

Rev. Wilson Brings Message On "The Rock That Is Higher Than I"

Rev. Gilbert Wilson revivalist at the Fundamental Baptist church, took his text from Psalm 61:2 and Corinthians 10:1-4 Thursday evening in speaking on "The Rock That Is Higher Than I."
 "This Psalm begins with sorrow and prayer, but ends with praise and thanksgiving," said Rev. Wilson. "Believers must pass through much tribulation because man was born into trouble. We, as Christians, cannot expect to be carried to heaven on flowery beds of ease or on cushioned chairs."
 "We must put on the whole armor of God so that we may be able to withstand flesh and blood, but against the rulers of the Dark Ages and the powers of the air," he said. "The rock that is higher than I is Jesus Christ. Just before he left Mt. Olive to go back to God, he said his followers: 'Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto my self; that where I am you may be also.'"
 "Hell is a definite locality where souls and bodies of those who die without Christ shall dwell in everlasting torments throughout the endless ages of eternity. Seek refuge and shelter behind the Rock of Ages in order to escape the battle between God and the Devil will continue until Jesus comes again to destroy the wicked and reign in eternal peace."
 "The heart which we will not be tempted more than we are able to bear. Though the heart is overwhelmed by providential affliction, Jesus will take care of you."
 "The heart may have inward fears; we may fear about our safety, salvation, death and the grave, but Jesus conquered each of these. We have nothing to fear if we are anchored safe in Him."
 "Jesus is the rock of all our supplies. Jesus is also our sheltering rock. In Him we are sheltered from present condemnation and from the future wrath of God."
 "There is nothing half so important as being right with God. We never know when the silver cord of this life will break and we will be called face to face with God. Thus, where will you stand?"
 "Jesus is our only hope. He is our foundation stone, the Rock of our salvation. Jesus is God."

Soil Erosion Work Started

Harold Ickes May Visit Project In Near Future
 DALHART, (UP)—H. H. Finnell, director of the Dalhart Wind Erosion project, 14 miles east of Dalhart, believes H. H. Egan, head of the U. S. Soil Erosion Service, and Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior, may visit the work within the next few months.
 The project is carried forward under the interior department but directly in charge of the erosion service, Finnell explained. It is the only wind erosion control project in the United States.
 Preliminary work on the 35,000 acres in the project indicates that by diversification in crops, moisture conservation through terracing and contour planting and careful husbanding of the soil to guard against wind erosion, the production efficiency of average farm can be increased at least 60 per cent, Finnell said. This means a similar gain in net revenue.
 Each field is being terraced so that rain soaks into the ground where it falls. In its original state the average 160 acres in the project has only 30 acres that benefit from rainfall. The rest of the acreage loses all benefit through runoff, surveys by Finnell's staff show.
 By cropping diversification the farmer would be prepared to plant rows crops instead of wheat or corn, which require conditions that prevent sowing time gave no prospects for a crop. Under such a plan he would not lose seed and he would not remove the stubble, exposing the land to erosion, until the soil had stored sufficient moisture to put a vegetative cover back on the soil in the form of a growing crop, Finnell pointed out.

Yes, Stews Have Much Individuality

No doubt the preparation of a savory stew is as great an accomplishment as the baking of a fluffy angel food cake. In fact, there is a chance to express individuality in a stew while an angel food, to be right, is always the same.

One famous chef once said that all stews should be good, but no two alike. According to Inez S. Wilson, home economist, this is true, for there are as many different kinds of stews as there are people who make them. There are brown stews, light stews, stews with vegetables, stews with dumplings, oven stews, and so on ad infinitum. The combination of vegetables and the different seasonings make a large part of the variety.

The following recipes for stews make use of unusual seasonings:

Splendid Stew
2 pounds of beef chuck, cut in pieces
Flour for dredging
Lard for browning
3 onions
1/2 cup vinegar
4 tablespoons Imperial sugar
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 bay-leaf
Salt
Pepper
Cut the meat into cubes, dredge with flour, and brown in hot lard. Slice the onions over it, and add enough water to nearly cover. To this add the seasonings after mixing the cinnamon and sugar with the vinegar, cover and bring slowly to the boiling point and then let simmer until the meat is tender, about two hours.

Lamb Stew with Vegetables
2 pounds lamb shoulder
Flour for dredging
Lard for browning
3 or 4 carrots
2 cups green or wax beans
2 cups tomatoes, or
1 1/2 cups green peas
1 clove garlic
Salt and pepper
Have lamb shoulder cut into pieces for stew. Dredge with flour and brown in hot lard. Add 1 cup boiling water, and let simmer for one hour. Then add carrots cut in quarters, green peas, green or wax beans and... Add more water if needed. Cover and let simmer until... about one hour longer. Add the cut clove of garlic to the stew just long enough for a little of its flavor to permeate the stew.

Miss Ruth Keever Hostess To Club

Miss Ruth Keever was hostess to the members of the Wednesday-Dinner Club at the Settles Hotel Wednesday. After a delicious turkey dinner the club spent the evening at bridge in the card room.

Mrs. B. C. Summerlin and Miss Marie Faubus were guests. High score went to the hostess. Members attending were Mrs. W. J. Donnelly, Elmer Cravens, R. F. Harris, Jr., Angelina Sikes, R. E. McEntire, H. C. Stipp, Mrs. Emily Brady, Mary Alice Wilke and Altha Coleman.

Mrs. McEntire will be the next hostess.

mixture cooked until the eggs are set.

Hot ham sandwiches may be prepared ahead of time, all except frying; then after the game, they can be prepared in only a little longer time than it takes the deep lard to heat.

If a large group is present, a simple buffet supper is often the choice. The table should be set before going to the game, and as much of the actual food preparation done as possible. A buffet supper should always include at least one hot dish, and after a game, more than one hot dish is appreciated.

Corned beef en casserole is a popular after-the-game dish. It may be prepared beforehand, ready to be heated and served.

Have you found the SUNNY PACKAGE on your grocer's shelf?

It's a delicious ready-to-eat cereal. Millions of Americans have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, effective means of correcting common constipation—the kind caused by lack of "bulk" in the menu.

Laboratory measurements show that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in this tempting cereal is more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables—because it resists digestion better. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this cleans out the intestinal waste.

Isn't this natural food better than taking patent medicines? Two table-spoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal. If this fails to give relief, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EL PASO TEAM IN PEAK OF CONDITION; STEERS LEAVE

Tigers Ready For Bovine Invaders

One of the world's most optimistic fellows is H. Hoti, manager of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce. Hoti has written to Bristolow (and probably coaches of the other fifteen district winners), requesting that he play his state final game at T. C. U. stadium. The publicist went on to cite gate receipt figures on the Tyler-Amarillo game played in the Horned Frog park in 1933 and the Beaumont-Athens final played there in 1931. He stated that the T. C. U. stadium could seat more than twenty thousand people and that the Big Spring team would have the advantage of a great amount of publicity as well as radio broadcasting, etc. Bristolow smiled broadly and laid the letter aside.

Time for the parade at El Paso Saturday morning has been changed from 9:30 a. m. to 10 o'clock, according to word received from the Border City. Courtesy cars will be available for the Big Spring fans, it was said.

Found stuck in the typewriter: "Dear Mr. Sport Writer: Please answer this. For flies and their extermination we have swatting, for mosquitoes we have flitting, for bugs we have arsenic, for cats we have traps, is there then any known method of being as good as their intelligence? Will you yet permanently and completely exterminate that human if may so be called, the sport writer?"

Yours very truly,
Humility League."

Only a coach could have been dumb as to have written that, and it smells a lot like Obie's hat.

El Paso fans have been raising a squawk about the $1 and 50 cent admission prices set on the bi-district tilt. Paxton Dent of the El Paso Times defends the higher charge.

"If an ordinary football game is worth 50 cents, then Saturday's game certainly is worth a dollar. It is an extraordinary game. It comes but once each year. The team winning a championship is entitled to make some money out of that championship to replenish depleted athletic funds. John Doe and General Public get their money's worth from the price of admission. The boys out there put on their show. They get nothing, except decent equipment, good shoes, good pants, shoulder pads and the like. Only through taking in money at the gate can athletic programs be maintained. There is no provision made for tax money to go to athletic funds.

We doubt seriously that the $1 admission will keep any real fans out of the stadium. Such admission is not at all uncommon.

Wilson—Master Matman

Benny Wilson, clean scrapper, and popular with wrestling fans here, will meet Low Kodrick tonight in the main event at the Big Spring Athletic club. Kodrick holds the title of being the world's strongest welterweight wrestler.

"Last year, San Angelo and Bowie made $600 each out of the game. When Big Spring officials were here making arrangements for the contest, Big Spring offered to guarantee El Paso $1500 to go to Big Spring and play. That would have been far more than El Paso would have made out of the game with admissions at 25 and 50 cents. Big Spring would have charged 50 cents and $1, just as do all schools playing host in a bi-district tilt. If the admission hadn't been set at 50 cents and $1 here, the game, no doubt, would have gone to Big Spring and would never have been played in El Paso.

Wilson To Wrestle King Kong Kodrick

Benny Wilson, known all over the country as a master ringman, will match his wrestling knowledge tonight against the strength of the clever Low Kodrick, King Kong of the mat.

Both grapplers are top notchers.

A light, snappy drill yesterday in continuing work on their own plays and also dealing with methods figured to halt the strong running and passing game of the Steers.

The game promises to furnish enthusiastic football fans with everything—including the razzle-dazzle passing of Kenneth Heineman, Tiger field general, and little George Neel, 125-pound aerial tumbler of the Bovines—the running ability of Armando Cisneros, Tiger backfield star who has scored over 100 points this season, pitted against the Steers' gaudy triple-threat ace, little Cordill—the defensive play between two evenly matched forward walls and the pass snatching of George "Judy" Fryer and Bob Flowers, six-foot backfield star and captain of the Big Spring team.

Four Schoolboy Teams In Action

(By the CP)

Four class A district winners face elimination today from the Texas Interscholastic League bi-district championship football race. The schedule follows:

Dallas Highland Park at Vernon, Lonview at Greenville, Athens at Corsicana, Corpus Christi vs. Thomas Jefferson at San Antonio.

The first round eliminations will be completed Saturday when the following schedule will be played: Ranger at Amarillo, Fort Worth Masonic Home vs. Dallas Tech at Dallas, Big Spring at El Paso, Beaumont vs. Jeff Davis at Houston.

Vernon's strong running attack will vie with Highland Park's Notre Dame shift in what promises to be the hardest fought of today's four games.

The undefeated Greenville Lions 1933 champions, are established favorites over a Lonview team that suffered a loss before winning the district 10 crown.

The Corsicana Tigers, 1932 champions, are sure of getting a stiff battle from Athens but Corsicana is favored because of more and better reserves, and because of an unmarked 1934 record.

With Charlie Haas who led the district 16 scoring race with 156 points, Corpus Christi rules a slight favorite over Thomas Jefferson. Haas boasts 26 touchdowns. Thomas Jefferson has planned a stout wing to wing defense for Haas.

Mrs. W. M. Deidinger has gone to El Paso to visit friends and attend the football game.

Wrestling Referee

Wrestling Referee
Herman Fuhrer, N. B. A. boxing and wrestling referee, will officiate the matches at the Big Spring Athletic club tonight. Fuhrer has refereed several matches in West Texas and is well liked here.

Brief Work-Out Scheduled Today

Coaches Obie Bristolow, George Brown and "Red" Moffatt departed for El Paso early this morning aboard a T. & W. tourist Pullman with the entire Steer squad, bound for a bi-district clash with the El Paso Tigers tomorrow afternoon.

The herd was scheduled to arrive in the Border town late this afternoon and go direct to the field for a short but stiff workout. The team was in fine condition and for a bi-district tilt tomorrow it will be the third El Paso team they have defeated this season. They won over Coach "Bud" Steele's Austin Panthers and Guy Davidson's Euless Bears.

Davidson and Steele both have expressed opinion that Big Spring holds a slight edge over the Bovines. They believe the Steer names and end screens will be too much for the district 4 champions.

Aggies Leave For Santone

To Meet Michigan In Inter-sectional Struggle Saturday

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.)—Answering the call to the football wars for the last time this season, the embattled Texas Aggies departed Friday and moved to San Antonio to meet the Michigan State Spartans. A squad of about twenty-nine players made the trip.

The Cadets have spent most of their practice time this week in offensive scrimmage, both dummy and real, in a last effort to counteract lack of both speed and weight with precision. Many of their remaining practice minutes have been used in working on pass defense, probably the weakest link to their defensive chain. Passes were both directly and indirectly responsible for the University of Texas Longhorns' 13 to 0 victory Thanksgiving as well as for a number of other opponents' touchdowns costly to the Cadets this year.

Charley Bachman, Spartan coach, is known as one of the strongest adherents of forward passing in the Mid-West, and this year he has combined a lightning pass attack with a fleet coterie of light but deceptive backs. The Spartans' 6 to 0 victory over the Kansas Jayhawkers, for instance, was scored on a play which started as a fast, wide and sweep but which ended in a 20-yard flat pass.

The Spartans have lost only one of eight games, and the Aggies have won two and tied two out of ten. The Spartans defeated Grinnell 33 to 20, Michigan 16 to 0, Carnegie Tech 13 to 0, Manhattan 59 to 0, Marquette 13 to 7, Detroit 7 to 6 and Kansas 6 to 0. They lost to Syracuse by a 10 to 9 count. The Aggies have defeated Sam Houston 28 to 0 and Baylor 10 to 7. They tied A&I 14-14 and Arkansas 7-7 but lost to Temple 40 to 6, Centenary 13 to 0, Texas Christian with a fleet coterie of light but deceptive backs. The Spartans' 6 to 0 victory over the Kansas Jayhawkers, for instance, was scored on a play which started as a fast, wide and sweep but which ended in a 20-yard flat pass.

I did not kill Osborne

Chapter five
SIR SEYMOUR

Paper in hand, I edged my way to a vacant front seat on top of my bus.

To judge by the amount of space allotted to me on the first page it was evident at a glance that I was the principal sensation of the hour.

There was a three-quarter column description of the scene in which I, with photographs of myself and Sir Charles Barrett, followed by a verbatim report of old Earle's summing up, which occupied the best part of one of the centre sheets.

It was, without question, a masterpiece of detached reasoning, but ed along up Fleet Street. It was queer to think of all that those few words meant to me—the shattering bombshell which Fate, for some inscrutable reason, had seen fit to drop into my life.

Only six weeks ago the world had seemed a singularly agreeable place. I had been in the best of health and enjoying existence wholeheartedly. My work had already begun to attract an encouraging amount of attention, commissions were coming in with increasing frequency, while the design I had submitted for a new national memorial, which had been thrown open to competition, was, as I knew, being very favorably having been already acquainted with a Lordship's views, I felt no particular temptation to repeat the experience. I turned instead to the last minute bulletins, where was blazoned the following announcement:

"You realize this business will affect your future."

TRENCH CASE VERDICT: NOT GUILTY.

I sat staring at it as the bus rolled considered. Suddenly, and without the small cut warning, this incredible thing had happened. Arrested on a charge of murder, of which I was completely innocent, I had been dragged from the peaceful atmosphere of my Hampstead studio into the glaring notoriety of the Central Criminal Court.

My pleasant world had narrowed to the four walls of a prison cell. The work on which I was engaged had come to an abrupt stop.

More than half my small capital had vanished, my private affairs had been exposed to the gawping curiosity of every newspaper reader in England, and finally, after narrowly escaping the gallows, I had been thrust out unceremoniously into a back street to make whatever use of my freedom as society would be gracious enough to permit.

Was it any wonder that, in spite of the fate that had overtaken him, I cursed Osborne from the bottom of my heart? Why should he have handed me in this infernal mess?

We had been friendly enough after a fashion at Cambridge, but what right had he got to come thrusting his way back into my life, devastating and wrecking it for his own selfish ends?

I had been a fool, of course. I have nothing to do with him. It had been clear enough from the start that he had got himself mixed up in some shady and probably criminal business, and if I had had a grain of sense I should have left him to stew in his own juice.

My only reason for the time for trying to help him was because I had felt sorry for him. Our old friendship, coupled with the obvious state of funk which he was in, had persuaded me into acting against my better judgment.

VIEWING THEIR NEW RUSSIA

Here is a study of the leaders of the U. S. S. R. in the reviewing stand at Red Square, Moscow, as they watched the gigantic military parade, commemorating the 17th anniversary of the October revolution in Russia. Left to right, they are K. E. Voroshilov, leader of the Soviet military forces; M. I. Kalinin, president; and Joseph Stalin, Soviet dictator. (Associated Press Photo)

"Ah! So it's you, Nicholas," he exclaimed with a perceptible air of relief. "You—you got my letter, then?"

"I did," I replied. "It was handed to me as soon as I left the dock."

"Come along in," he said hastily. He moved aside to allow me to pass, and tossing my coat and hat on to a table in the hall, I followed him into his comfortably furnished sitting-room.

"Where's that dignified valet of yours?" I inquired. "Have you given him the sack?"

"I have had to send him out with a note." He closed the door carefully behind us. "Let me say at once how glad and relieved I was to get your message. Thank God, things are no worse than they are."

"I was sure you'd be pleased," Seymour, I said. "I've felt all along that you must have been distressing yourself terribly."

"Sit down," he observed, pulling forward a chair. "There is a great deal we have got to discuss, and after what you have just been through . . ." he paused. "By the way, would you like a drink?"

"I could do with one," I admitted. "A good stiff one."

I followed him with my eyes as he crossed over to the sideboard. There was something about his sleekly brushed hair and his well-cut morning coat that filled me with an unreasoning irritation.

"That will pull you together," he said, placing the glass on the table beside me. "I suggested that you should come and see me at once, because I was extremely anxious that before you committed yourself to any definite step you should—er—you should have the opportunity of listening to certain proposals which I wish to put before you."

"Quite so," I replied patiently. "You've already explained that in your letter."

He sat down opposite to me. "We have got to look facts in the face. You realize, of course, that although you have been acquitted of murder, this—this deplorable business is bound to have a very unfortunate effect upon your future prospects."

triumphs in the past week. Neither has attracted much public attention but open-shop industrialists are jittery. The unwelcome writing on the wall looks much plainer to them now.

First was the decision of New York Supreme Court Justice Wilentz in the case of the Dept. of Industry and Commerce versus the Toy Makers Union and the Rubber Manufacturers Association. The importance of this test was forecast here when it began.

It was a cockeyed sort of case. The Freundlich firm had voluntarily entered into an agreement with the union before NRA became controversial. Later it moved its factory from New York to Massachusetts—taking a few skilled workers along—with the avowed purpose of cutting labor costs. When the union protested this as a violation of contract the employer ingeniously retorted that the agreement was no longer binding because it was based on the closed shop and the closed shop was debarred—by that professor of hard-bitten capitalism—Section 7A.

What lifted the contest out of the class of routine labor squabbles was its value as a precedent. Both contestants got the strongest sort of backing because of this. The National Association of Manufacturers quietly moved up in support of Freundlich. You can see what it would have meant to them to have the company's arguments upheld by the courts. The Federation of Labor was very much among those present in the union's corner.

Alas for the open-shoppers, Justice Black ruled in favor of the union. The court's decision was not re-electing McNary Republican floor leader.

McNary comes from that school of thought which accepts the inevitable. He decided long ago the Republican party was having its lean years and there wasn't much to do but starve—and hope for a little manna from heaven.

The eager Oregonian believes in sitting tight and waiting for a break. His history tells him that sooner or later the opposition stumbles or pulls a major boner. When the Senate Republicans caucus he'll be retained as minority leader, so they say.

Change—
 Men who study international affairs closely are predicting that about next spring Germany will be seeking another Ambassador here in place of Herr Hans Luther. They think the former head of the Reichsbank will last the winter out in Washington, and that's about all.

Ambassador Luther is not particularly strong at home. Dr. Schacht, ruthlessly aggressive Economy Minister forced him out of the Reichsbank. Here, while he wets all the deference and cooperation due his position, he is not especially esteemed by the German Embassy staff.

So far as the State Department is concerned Luther has been put in a tough spot. Every time someone denounces Hitler and his methods in print or a Jewish organization holds an anti-Nazi mass meeting, Berlin instructs the Ambassador to make representations to the state department. Obviously Secretary Hull can't control the opinions of the American citizenry, but Luther comes from that old school which believes table-pounding and arm-waving is two-thirds of an argument.

Blast—
 This isn't the story of another rift in President Roosevelt's official family but you can tell your friends Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau thinks he was done wrong by Attorney General Cummings.

It is an outgrowth of the case of those 900 employees of the Alcohol Tax Unit, now dubbed the "Lost Battalion" because they are working a month without pay and hoping Congress will nullify the legislation which otherwise tosses them from their jobs.

When Senator McKellar, (D) of Tenn., pushed through the rider requiring all these people to take another Civil Service examination he thought he was ridding the woods of some "Hoover prohibition agents." As he wrote the bill it turned out to be a death threat to hundreds of long-service employees with Civil Service status.

Youth—
 Many of New York's women leaders warmly approve of Mrs. Roosevelt's current radio talks—and especially of her references to the problems of youth. They feel she's saying many things which have needed to be said for a long time.

Outstanding New Yorkers—both men and women—are privately giving a lot of thought to the generation which has been leaving high school and college the past few years. There's a deep concern—among conservatives and left wingers alike—about the hopelessness of their outlook under existing economic conditions. "When the time comes for them to take over from their elders they won't be ready for their responsibilities. Meanwhile they are plastic material for any demagogue who offers them hope of betterment—however illusory." This last angle troubles many conservatives in connection with Father Coughlin's appeal to youth.

The first half of a two year survey being made for New York University by three college presidents pointedly raises the question—doesn't attempt a reply—of what good is a higher education when college graduates are a drug on the market? With all the discussion of what to do about youth nobody in a position of responsibility claims to know the answer. The only point of general agreement is that somehow one must be found.

Smart—
 Backstage Wall Street Republicans aren't nearly as keen as you'd think for Charles D. Hilles' effort to make the G. O. P. safe for

Ministers, W.M.S. Leaders Assemble For Annual Report-Giving

The annual Harvest Day program of the Sweetwater district of the Women's Missionary Society was held in Big Spring Thursday with the First Methodist church as hostess.

About 200 ministers, lay leaders and members of the W. M. S. gathered at the church for the program of the day and for a covered dish luncheon at noon. Two new missionary societies who had joined the conference, representing the districts, were Midland and Garden City.

The men and women had their devotional together, with Rev. Mr. Deavers of Sweetwater giving the devotional. Their meetings were then separate for the rest of the day, aside from the luncheon hour.

At the W. M. S. session, Mrs. Booth of Sweetwater, district secretary, president, Mrs. Nat G. Rollins, president of the women's work of the Northwest Texas conference, was the main speaker. Her address was "Working as a Unit with Other Church Organizations."

Mrs. Charles Randall of Seymour, vice president of the conference, gave the afternoon devotional.

Mrs. J. J. Merritt of Colorado, a conference officer, was also present.

Two musical numbers were given during the day. Mrs. Ned Beardman gave a violin solo in the morning. Mrs. V. H. Flewelling sang in the afternoon as a solo, "I'm a Pilgrim." Mrs. G. H. Wood was their accompanist and pianist for the meeting.

During the afternoon each zone gave its annual report; all of them were excellent, showing a good financial condition with all obligations met.

Mrs. Fox Stripling was appointed silver jubilee chairman to have charge of the jubilee celebration program in commemoration of the meeting at Childress 25 years ago.

The meeting closed with an effective program by the Sweetwater delegation called "Fruits of Our Harvest." This was beautifully presented in the auditorium against a Christmas background of evergreens, baregrass and cedars with which the church was decorated for the occasion. The closing song was "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Rev. C. A. Long, presiding elder of the Sweetwater district, convoked all the pastors of the district and the chairmen of the board of stewards in each church to meet here in connection with Harvest Day.

Plans for the ensuing year were outlined. The pastors honored Rev. Long with a rounding shower while they were here.

Deputy State Superintendent
To Visit Schools

J. T. H. Bickley, deputy state superintendent, will visit schools in Howard county next week.

He will spend Monday and Tuesday inspecting the city schools.

Wednesday he will be at Soanh at 6:30 a. m., Vealmoor at 11 a. m., Fairview at 12:30 p. m., and Moore at 2 p. m.

Thursday he will visit R-Bar at 9:30 a. m. and Center Point at 11 a. m. Other schools not contacted will be visited at a later date.

High school teachers at Elbow and Highway will probably want to have an interview with Bickley, it was learned. This will probably be arranged at the convenience of the teachers at any time between Wednesday and Friday evening.

Friday Bickley will be in the office of County Superintendent Pauline C. Brigham inspecting all reports of schools applying for school aid.

In his visits, Bickley will stop briefly at Fairview. That school's application for state aid is being handled through the Highway school since a grouping arrangement effective this year. Bickley has previously visited the Highway school.

Belief That Transubstantiation Is Church Invention Hit By Ledwig

Treating the subject of transubstantiation as taught and believed by the Catholic Church in his lecture at St. Thomas Catholic Church last evening, Father Francis Ledwig exploded the claim that this doctrine was an invention of the Council of Trent.

"The Council of Trent," said Father Ledwig, "thus defines the way that Christ is present in the Holy Eucharist: 'by the consecration of the bread and wine a conversion is made of the whole substance of the bread into the substance of the body of Christ Our Lord, and of the whole substance of His Blood; which conversion by the Catholic Church is suitably and properly called transubstantiation.'"

"The words of Christ, 'This is My Body,' plainly imply that what Christ held in His hands must have ceased to be bread and must have become His body. And there is no change in the accidents of the bread and wine, the change must have been what the church fittingly calls transubstantiation.

"St. Ambrose plainly teaches transubstantiation when he asks: 'Cannot, therefore, the words of Christ who was able to make something out of nothing, change that which already exists into something which it was not before? ... What we effect by consecration is the body taken from the Virgin' (De Myst. ix, 51)."

"St. Augustine writes: 'That which is seen on the table of the Lord is bread and wine; but this bread and wine when the word is added, becomes the body and blood of the Lord.'

"All of the ancient liturgies," explained Dr. Ledwig, "eastern and western, teach the doctrine of transubstantiation as taught by St. Cyril in his writings: 'As a life giving sacrament, we possess the sacred flesh of Christ and his precious blood under the appearances of bread and wine. What seems to be bread is not bread, but Christ's body; what seems to be wine is not wine but Christ's blood (Cath. iv, 9)'. This, in brief is the teaching of the Catholic Church which has come down to us from the early Fathers of the Christian Church."

Father Ledwig's subject for tonight will be "The Sacramental System of the Catholic Church" and his subject on Saturday evening will be, "Which is the True Church."

Special services will be held in St. Thomas church on Saturday. The first Mass will be said at 6:45 with meditation while the second Mass will be said at eight o'clock. The Catholic people will spend an hour in prayer before the Blessed Sacrament as an act of reparation and thanksgiving from 2 to 3 p. m. Special sermons for the children of the parish will be at nine and eleven in the morning and at one and three in the afternoon. The solemn exposition and holy hour from two to three in the afternoon will be conducted by the missionary aided by the pastor of the church, Reverend Father T. Francis, O.M.I. The evening lecture on Saturday will be at 7:30.

The lecture on Saturday evening will close the series of explanatory lectures on the teachings and practices of the Catholic Church by Father Ledwig. The mission for the Catholic people will close on Sunday morning with Mass and Holy Communion at eight o'clock. The closing sermon will be preached by Father Ledwig at the conclusion of which he will give the Papal Blessing.

TOPEKA, Kan. (UP)—The population of Kansas is aging and the center of population is moving westward, the state planning board announced recently after a survey.

The report also said that future population increases were doubtful because the birth rate was declining while the death rate held steady. Immigration, a source of population increase until the last decade, no longer figures. By 1950, when it is estimated the population of the United States will be 150,000,000, there will be only about 2,000,000 people in Kansas, the report predicted.
