Pay Off Loan - -

Water Rate Increase Expected In Texico

Tuesday night, Texico City Council members discussed an emergency loan with the City Attorney for which the city had to apply from the state government after the city's well broke down recently.

The city will be getting $6,300 this week from Santa Fe to pay for the well's repairs. The city will be required to pay back the loan, interest free, beginning in September or October in 24 monthly installments.

Therefore, the council members think a water rate increase will be mandatory. It is, at present, the only known method of paying the loan back. The council is currently gathering facts and figures to determine how much of an increase will be necessary.

Because of the emergency caused by the well's breakdown, there was not time to take bids, so the funds were applied for by the city, represented by City Attorney Harry Patton.

In other business, bills were approved for payment. A building permit was issued to Kenneth A. Shaw to park a trailer house at 521 Turner. The police report for the month of June was approved in the amount of $500. The council also approved a six percent pay increase for city employees.

Scattered rains, accompanied by electrical storms, were reported in the Twin Cities area Saturday and Monday nights, with the greatest amount of rainfall received Monday night.

Saturday night's rain and a half inch in Monday night's rain. Lariat reported from .2 to a quarter inch for rains received Saturday and Monday nights. South of Texico, approximately a quarter inch was recorded in Saturday night's rain with lighter showers Monday night.

In an area around the Lonnie Tharp farm, west of Gerald Norton, who lives four and a half miles northeast of Farwell, amounts from .6 to 1 1/2 inches were recorded.

In an area northeast of Farwell, amounts of .3 to a half inch were recorded Saturday night with .1 to a quarter inch recorded Monday night.

In an area south of Farwell, amounts from .2 to almost a half inch were recorded. Texico and Farwell had from .4 to .8 inches of rain Saturday night. Lighter showers fell in the cities Monday night.

Blackburn, Defending champions are Vernon Scott and Bill Prince.

Championship and first flights are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. July 22, with second and third flights beginning that day at 2 p.m.

July 23, second and third flights will start at 9 a.m. with championship and first flights at 2 p.m. that day. There is a 48 team limit on the tournament.

Deadline for entering is noon July 21. There is an entry fee of $30 per team for the 36-hole, low ball tournament. All entry fees will be returned in merchandise certificates.

Prizes include $180 in gift certificates for first place team in each full flight, $100 in gift certificates for second place team in each full flight and $80 in gift certificates for third place team in each full flight.

To the surprise of many, we spent some time watching the Democratic Convention as it unfolded on our family "moom pitcher" machine. We believe that all citizens have a stake in the activities of all the political parties, and it is necessary for people to be aware of the thoughts and actions of those who may disagree with us as well as those with whom we personally would agree.

Today the actions of either major political party will have a very direct bearing on each person in the country. The actions of our political parties are rapidly changing in direction, and a person secure in his party label may find that he has been disposed of an ideological home and left adrift in the political oceans. It has been evident for some time that political party labels are becoming meaningless in terms of the principles associated with them in the past.

Our guess would be that within the next four to eight years, the terms "Liberal" and "Conservative" will be used much like the British system to denote political philosophies of the major parties and not Republican or Democrat.

While watching the antics of the various persons as they were given their moments on the tube we were struck with the thought that a person's individual bias dictated whether the remarks from the convention were great wisdom or sheer drivel.

We did witness one incident which we though never would come to pass. A TV commentator actually admitted that he could not make head or tail out of an interviewee's remarks. The persons responsible for this remarkable feat was the champion of Woman's Lib, Gloria Steinem. This gal talked to a floor commentator for at least five minutes and so confused the poor fellow that he threw up his hands and asked Walter Cronkite in the master booth for an interpretation of the remarks. Even Walter admitted that he was baffled by the contradictory discourse of Dear Gloria. That, people, was a very remarkable feat indeed.

At this writing, generous George McGovern is the shoe-in Presidential choice for the Democratic Party this year. The Veep selection has not been made, but like the mouse that ate the cheese, we are waiting with baited breath.

Opheelia Billington, we have a Bargain ticket for you. It is a two for one ticket that was good at the Lyceum Theater on Nov. 2 and 3 of what year we are not sure. The movie that played was "The Crash" starring Ruth Chatterton and George Brent. How do we know it's your ticket? Well it has your name on it!

Foster Watkins, the custodian at Farwell schools has been keeping a sharp eye on the demolition crew working on the old school building, and he retrieved the ticket from its long slumbering hiding place and brought it to us for identification.

By dint of brilliant sleuthing and asking our High Sheriff if he remembered the name "Opheelia Osborne" neatly written on the aged ducat, we arrived at your ownership. We don't know if the present management of the Lyceum Theater would honor it at their next show but from the vintage of the picture, you are apt to see it on a Saturday night TV program.

In a recent fit - even for Congress - of financial irresponsibility, our esteemed lawmakers jacked the Social Security ante up again. This time people currently receiving benefits from the system received a substantial boost in benefits. Unfortunately, but in line with Congress' usual cowardly actions, the legislators failed to adequately fund the cost of their largesse.

They did raise future rates payable by the wage earners and the business community by an amount big enough to cast serious doubts on the public ultimately paying this ever looming tax burden.

Remember this about Social Security; it is not like insurance as it is known commercially. There are no vested rights or interest in the so-called Social Security trust fund. Your benefits are only what the then prevailing law as passed by the last Congress says that they are.

Therefore, it is entirely possible for a new group of Congressmen to cancel the whole thing and then all that a body might have put into the fund would be forfeited and lost.

Doesn't this give your trust in our sterling representatives a shot of cold water?

At Home In Parmer County

By Jana Pronger
 County HD Agent

Women living alone are often prey to trouble.

But keeping out of trouble isn't enough. You have to bar trouble from you.

If you live alone, list only your last name and initials in the phone directory and on the mailbox. And after moving into a new house or apartment, change door locks. Previous tenants or former employees may still have keys.

Pin tumbler or square bolt locks are best for replacement. Installing and using chain locks or a peephole is a good idea.

When alone, never open a door to strangers without having the chain in place. Police officers will show credentials whenever asked. Always demand that salesmen and repairmen show identification.

You can protect your neighbors as well as yourself. Never mention to strangers that a neighbor lives alone or is at home alone.

When a stranger asks to use the telephone, don't permit him inside. Offer to summon emergency assistance or make the call for him.

Should you receive a wrong-number call, never reveal your name or address nor admit that you're alone. Don't give your phone number but ask what number he's calling. Don't prolong the conversation; hang up and notify the police if the call is obscene.

Keep windows secured or install window locks if left open for ventilation. Window locks can limit openings enough to prevent entry. Draw window shades after dark and leave lights on in two or more rooms to camouflage your being alone.

Don't enter an apartment elevator with strange men; it's wiser to stay in the lobby for a few minutes. And never stay in a laundry alone.

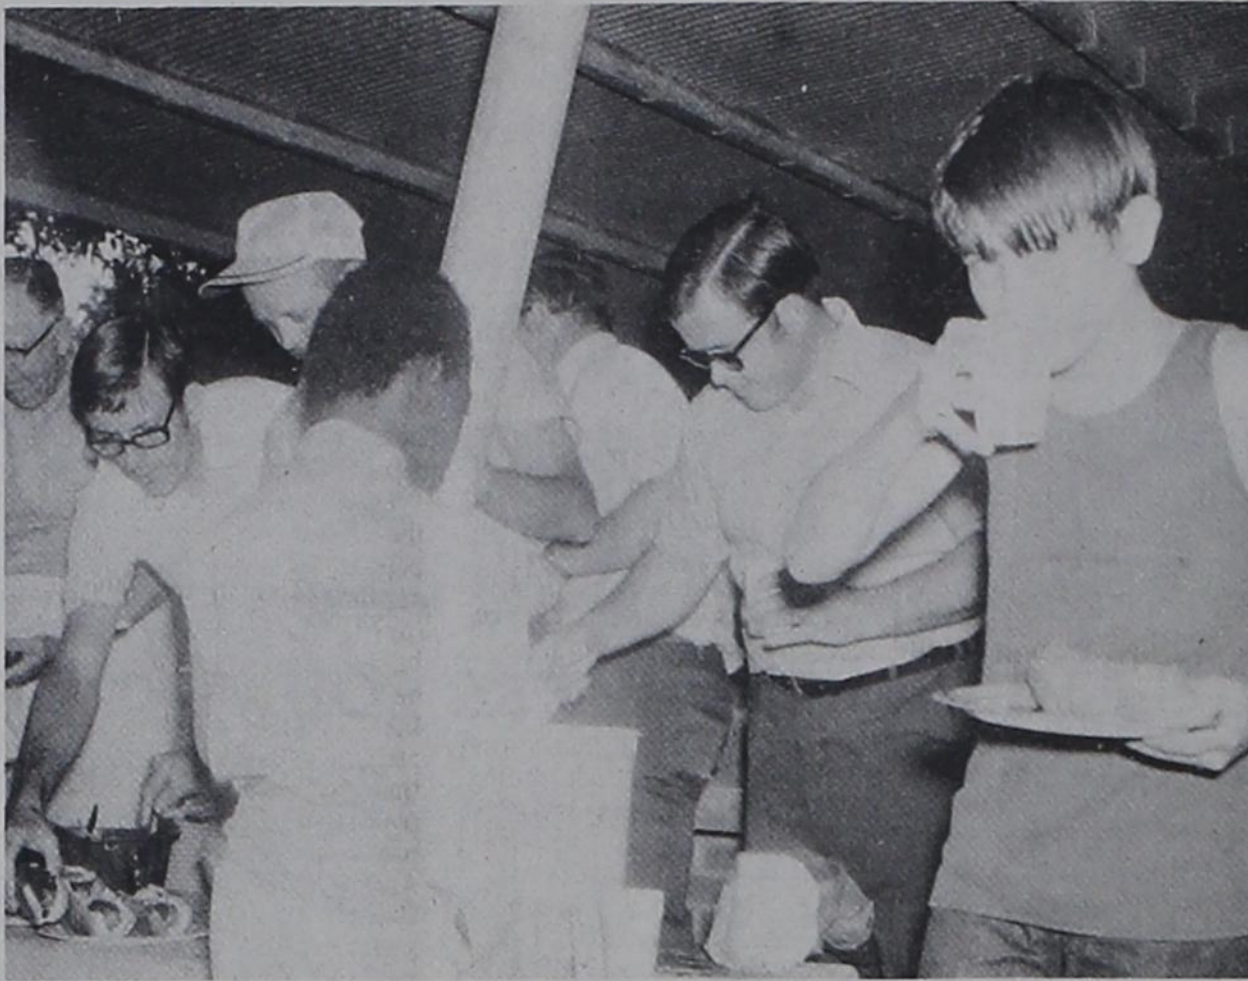

A gun for protection is hazardous. Discuss the details of possessing a gun with officers at your local station. Remember, if the criminal has a chance, he'll take the gun from you. Your best defense is prolonged loud screaming.

A good protective device is an electric buzzer which you can have installed to alert neighbors in case of an emergency.

If a door or window has been forced open or broken while you're gone, don't enter or call out; someone may still be inside. Instead use a neighbor's phone to call the police. Then wait outside until they arrive.

Never assume that suspicious persons, occurrences or vehicles have been reported to the police, but call them yourself at once. Post the police department's number by your telephone and call whenever danger threatens.

It's better to be embarrassed because of a false alarm than to risk being killed or injured.

By House Committee - -

Included In Bill Water Project

SUNDAY, JULY 2
Home-baked bread, contributed by our hosts, was added to this morning's breakfast menu. Troop 200 attended church services at Kenny Lake Nondenominational Church. Members of the troop were given the opportunity to suggest selections in the hymnal to sing and the troop received an extremely warm welcome from everyone.

A SUNDAY IN ALASKA—Texico-Farwell Troop 200 enjoyed "pioneer family" hospitality July 1-2 near Copper Center, Alaska. Our Scouts stayed with the Swisher family, who "started from scratch" when they came to Alaska, building their own log cabins and clearing their own land. Sunday services at nearby Kenny Lake were attended by the boys, following the Swisher family's invitation to them. The minister, from England, ended his sermon with a comparison of a young person's life and the questions hailed to shippers coming into foggy harbors of England: "Where are you going?", "What is your cargo?", and "Who is your Master?"

MONDAY, JULY 3
Would you believe two mosquito pancakes for breakfast? Yes, they were made especially for Senior Patrol Leader Randy Stovall, prepared with left-over batter and a dish of mosquitoes!

On the more serious and constructive side, Scout Donnie Garner wrote his "letter for home" on two thin pieces of bark, taken from an Aspen tree. This original idea was mailed, along with the other letters, at the United States Customs Office, as the troop started to retrace a section of its earlier journey across Yukon Territory.

Lunch was served at Klune Lake, in the same campsite used by the Texico-Farwell boys going northward a week earlier. Travel between Haines Junction and Haines, Alaska, was something special, as Scouts saw abundant wildlife along the route. The official count was four bears, three moose, two porcupine and one beaver. Also, this route went above the timberline, crossing Chilkat Pass.

All along this route were tall poles on the road edges, used to mark the road during winter's deep snow. At Haines, the troop rolled-out sleeping bags in an Alaska State Park. Troop 200 could now say it had "been to Alaska two times" after entering this giant state again from Canada.

TUESDAY, JULY 4
While members of the troop were "just looking around" downtown Haines, Alaska, tickets were purchased for 21 boys, two adults, and one slightly tired Dodge bus — on the Alaska State Ferry System. Without advance reservations, Troop 200 endured a long wait to learn if it could or could not get aboard the "M. V. Taku" which arrived in port around 8 p.m.

Finally the word came, that our group would indeed be allowed to board the ship, but that we would be on "stand-by" basis at each port along the way. In other words, we could possibly be delayed at each port, if there were too many advance reservations. Our Scouts found the "Taku" crowded, but interesting. Showers aboard the ship were quickly located and some of the dirt and grime vanished into the Pacific waters.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 5
It was hard to sleep in such a new environment — there were several chair areas, but many people slept on one of the three decks, in halls, or any other place which could accommodate a human body! First meal on ship was a midnight snack at the hamburger counter. These, incidentally, ran $85 each, or $1.00 with cheese. "Fries" were $.60 and donut-sized sweet rolls were $.50 each!

One great experience this day was the approach to Juneau in the night's darkness. Lights of the city seemed to come closer and closer, as the "Taku" closed in at 34 knots. An expected "unboarding" was not necessary after all, and the troop was then free to watch the departure process, and view the city of Juneau, strung along the sides of mountains near the bay.

Our troop was taken on a special tour of the ship, which first visited the "bridge" and saw the operation of controlling the "Taku". Next the tour progressed below decks to see the two massive engines which were then operating at near their top r.p.m. Also seen were the electricity-generating rooms and the engine shop. Inspecting valves from the engine, the boys found them to be about one yard long and the size of a plate on the combustion surface.

Ports seen today included Petersburg, Wrangell and Ketchikan.

THURSDAY, JULY 6
Troop 200's last possible chance of having to leave the ship, because of the stand-by status, passed without incident at the port of Ketchikan, Alaska. From there to the ferry destination of Prince Rupert, there was time for some last-minute activities, including watching a movie aboard ship. Then there were a few final runs to the snack-bar and more visits.

The last hours of sleep were shaken somewhat as the "Taku" crossed some open sea and allowed the first cases of sea-sickness during the voyage. Docking at Prince Rupert was at 4:30 this morning, and progressed extremely well, considering the hour.

The troop then drove to Seeley Lake Provential Park, just east of Terrace, British Columbia. There the boys had a chance to swim in the lake, take hikes, and spend the night among the tall Aspen and other trees in the area.

Steamed rice, for example, will cook better if you put it into high-boil water and turn the heat way down low instantly after covering it. Otherwise the rice will dry out, and the texture won't be right.

Did you know that gas is the only burner that can do it?

Turn an electric burner down to low and it goes down to low slowly.

Turn a gas burner down to low and it goes down to low right now. And to the exact heat level you want (the level that's best for preparing that food), not a rough approximation. Gas ovens clean themselves as they cook. Without the intense heat that turns your kitchen into an oven.

There's no way around it. Gas not only costs a third as much to use as electricity, it cooks better.

That's all there is to it.

A DAB OF THIS and a dab of that describes the various hobbies which Mrs. Phill (Connie) Elliott of Texico has taken up at home at one time or another. Our homemaker this week likes to do a variety of things including beading necklaces, making feather flowers and throw pillows, all shown in the picture. Mrs. Elliott has been a cheerleader sponsor for five years and has scored ballgames for junior girls softball league the past two years.

pany breaks the everyday routine," she says. She likes to fix Mexican food for company because she has a routine which makes it fun and easy. "I enjoy baking with yeast, and I like to bake bread," she admits. "Phill loves bread fresh from the oven. The children enjoy homemade bread, too," she adds. Recipes from the kitchen of Connie Elliott, which are enjoyed by both her family and friends, include German Meat Balls, French Bread and Pecan Pie.

GERMAN MEAT BALLS

Mixture #1
3 stalks celery
2 garlic buttons
2 medium onions
1 large bell pepper
Mixture #2
1 large can tomato juice
1 cup water
2/3 bottle soy sauce
2/3 bottle worcestershire sauce
Mixture #3
1 T. chili powder
2 T. beaded molasses
Brown meat balls, made from one to two pounds hamburger meat. Use amount of meat to make the amount of meatballs needed. Drain meat balls; salt and set aside. Leave enough grease to fry Mixture #1 which has been chopped. When this is brown, add about 3 T. flour to thicken and then add Mixture #2 which has been mixed together. Let this cook long enough to be very hot and add Mixture #3 which has also been mixed. Add meat balls and simmer for 45 minutes (or can be simmered for several hours). "I find that this does taste better if I cook it all afternoon and then serve for supper," she says. This also freezes well. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and serve on spaghetti.

Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about one hour.

Turn dough out onto lightly floured board. Divide into two equal portions. Roll each into an oblong 15 by 10 inches. Beginning at wide side, roll up tightly towards you; seal edges by pinching together. Taper ends by rolling gently back and forth. Place loaves on greased baking sheets sprinkled with cornmeal. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about one hour. With razor, make four diagonal cuts on top of each loaf. Bake in hot oven (450 F.) 25 minutes. Remove from oven and brush with egg white mixed with cold water. Return to oven, bake five minutes longer. This is good served with spaghetti and German

TRIVIA from across the desk of Joann Getz

YOUR BREAKABLE DIAMOND: Diamond is the hardest substance known. Nothing can scratch it. A scratch test is used to measure relative hardness.

On the Mohs Scale of Hardness, diamond is on top because it scratches anything lower. Sapphire is next. It can scratch topaz, the next hardest. At the bottom, Mohs placed talc, which won't even scratch a baby's skin.

Does this legendary hardness mean that diamond is impervious to harm? Regrettable, no! A famous scene in a romantic movie of the forties had the newlyweds etch their initials on the window of their honeymoon cottage. Their etching tool was the lady's engagement ring. Knowing jewelers gasped.

Yes, diamond will scratch glass, but subjecting the stone to this abuse could easily cause it to chip or crack.

Your diamond should be treated with some degree of caution. It may be exceedingly hard (resistance to scratching) but it isn't exceedingly tough (resistance to blows). Jade is softer, but it is tougher. A jade ring would probably survive a hard knock against a brass, faceted doorknob with only a scratch. Given the same treatment, a diamond wouldn't scratch, but it could chip or fracture.

In old age, Queen Elizabeth I had to have her coronation ring filed from her finger. Some newlywed and newly-engaged women feel as strongly about their diamond rings. But, diamonds should not be exposed to the same abuse as working hands.

A diamond will survive constant wear on the finger of the normal, American woman without a scratch. But that same diamond would probably not survive without being chipped.

Mrs. McCleskey Gets To Visit Former Home

Mrs. Loyce McCleskey of Farwell and Mrs. Ernest Kube of the Oklahoma Lane community were among a group of adults who went with band students from Hereford who were to play for International Lions Convention in Mexico. The women joined four chartered buses early Saturday morning, June 24, when they passed through Farwell on their way to El Paso. The group then transferred to five Mexican buses for the rest of the trip.

First night was spent in Torreon and the second night in Leon. The next afternoon the group arrived at Hotel Jurica in Queretaro where they spent the rest of the afternoon and night relaxing. Mrs. McCleskey said the hotel had formerly been a hacienda. There were several things which had been unchanged when it was remodeled into a hotel including the library, kitchen and dining room which are still preserved, a chapel, beautiful patios and some rooms which contained valuable antiques.

That night there was a Mexican dinner served buffet-style around the patio by the swimming pool. A mariachi band played for the entertainment of the group. The next day, the group went to Mexico City to go sight seeing. They traveled out to the University of Puebla where they were to stay in dorms. Mrs. McCleskey, along with a friend of hers from Hereford who had invited her to come on the trip, left the group and caught a bus to Tezuatlan, Puebla, which is a town about a day's drive southeast of Mexico City.

At this point, Mrs. McCleskey did a bit of reminiscing. She spent a total of five and a half years living in Mexico with her family. She and her husband and two sons had lived in Tezuatlan and another son, Dale, was born there 20 years ago. When the women arrived at a hotel there this trip, they stayed in the same room Mrs. McCleskey stayed in when she first came there in 1949. "It was just wonderful - like turning back time 23 years. After finding all the places we had lived there, we took a taxi and the driver took us around Tezuatlan (out to the beautiful hospital where Dale was born), then about a five minute drive out to Chignautla, a very small village where we had lived," she said. "We drove around and found the two houses we had lived in there. The townspeople remembered me and we had a good time visiting. I was surprised at how much Spanish I remembered and to find I could communicate with the people so well. It was great," she added. After driving to Libres, the women returned to the group at the University. They left Mexico City Thursday and spent the night in Leon. They arrived home in Farwell early Sunday morning, July 1, after traveling straight through.

Snider Reunion Was In City Park

A reunion of the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Snider of Hollis, Okla., was Saturday, July 1, in Farwell City Park. The reunion has been held for the last 18 years. Children of the Snider couple and their families attending were Roscoe Snider of San Gabriel, Calif., his children, Loice Jones of Jamestown, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Jones of San Gabriel; Ethel Husband of Hollis, Okla., and her children, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Husband and son, Mark, of Elk City, Okla., and Edith Scott of Lawton, Okla.

Darden of Lawton and son, Leon, of Lawton, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Porter and Alice of Cisco, ex.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Williams of Farwell and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and Greg, Brett and Kevin of Farwell and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Norton and Amy of Artesia, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams, Deanna and Clay of Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Snider, Sr. of Farwell and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Snider, Jr., John, Kim and David, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moseley and David, all of Farwell.

Also attending the reunion were two nephews and one niece who were raised by the Snider couple. They were Raymond Snider of Houston, Mildred Snider of Bellaire, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Snider and Natalie of Seguin; their son, Richard and his girlfriend of Albuquerque and another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Koen of Lubbock. Jessie Winn of Hollis, Okla., another "adopted" family member also attended.

Femininity Today

by Thompson

WOW! That's what admiring men everywhere are saying and thinking about their modern distaff contemporaries. Why? Because today's gals are more alluring and feminine than ever before.

One reason is that the "eyes" have it. Equipped with beauty enhancers that range from store-bought eyelashes to contact lenses, the space-age femme is sending her men into orbit with more frequency than any of her predecessors.

Hair freedom is another hallmark of femininity today. While mamma had to scurry frantically to the beauty parlor for a "permanent" hoping it would be done in time for the party, or evening out on the town—all daughter has to do is don her wig.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"GOOD FRIDAY"

There has been much debate among theologians as to whether the Lord Jesus Christ was actually crucified on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday. Traditionally, of course, it is supposed to have taken place on Friday, but this writer has never been able to get very excited about such details. What matters is that Christ, the Creator, God in flesh, died in shame and disgrace and agony for sins He had never committed—for your sins and mine.

But have you ever considered that this in itself is not necessarily good news? Many an innocent person has died in the place of some guilty criminal who has gone free through some miscarriage of justice. We didn't see anything good about this. When St. Peter addressed his kinsmen he blamed them for the crucifixion of Christ, saying: "Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you...as ye yourselves also know...ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain" (Acts 2:22,23), and later he faced the Supreme Court of his nation and charged them with his death (Acts 4:5-11).

What then, was "good" about the death of Christ? Well, we come to this when we reach the Epistles of Paul in our Bibles. There the chief of sinners, saved by grace (I Tim. 1:15), exclaims: "He gave Himself for me" (Gal. 2:20). He says: "God hath made Him to be sin for us...that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him" (II Cor. 5:21). He does not blame us for Christ's death—though our sins helped to nail Him to that cross—but proclaims the glad news that "We have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7). And why did He do this for us? "That in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus" (Eph. 2:7).

So, for us who have trusted Christ as our Savior, the death of Christ at Calvary is indeed good news. We rejoice in it, sing about it, preach about it, and all it has accomplished for a lost humanity. Little wonder Paul declared: "God forbid that I should boast," except in one thing: "the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ" (Gal. 6:14).

On The Farm In Parmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

How damaging is hail to grain sorghum, and what can be done to offset certain losses following a hailstorm? Fortunately, the grain sorghum plant is a hearty individual, and so replanting after hail damage is generally unnecessary and unprofitable. From emergence to the 7-to-10-leaf stage the plant's terminal bud is located at or near the soil surface and is seldom injured during a hailstorm. Damaged plants tend to recover quickly, and replanting is unnecessary unless a substantial number of plants die.

A field check after a hailstorm should determine whether replanting is necessary. If about 75 percent of the plants survive, replanting is unnecessary as tillering will compensate for the reduced stand. If replanting is necessary, producers should select a medium-early or early maturing hybrid due to the reduced growing season.

If damage is heavy at the 7-to-10-leaf stage, yields may be reduced as much as 25 percent, according to one study. In addition, the plant's susceptibility to disease and insects (especially the sorghum midge) is increased due to its delayed maturity. Replanting will not necessarily alleviate these pitfalls since faster maturing hybrids generally have lesser yield potentials and are also susceptible to midge damage if planted late in the season.

Following the 7-to-10-leaf stage, the sorghum plant enters the reproductive growth stage and hail damage becomes a more serious problem. A severe storm can not only destroy leaves but may also damage or destroy the head in its formative stages. Still, recovery tends to be rapid. Plants with injury to the growing point or forming heads develop tillers from auxiliary buds at the uppermost non-damaged nodes or joints and these will eventually form heads. On the other hand, some plants will escape injury to developing heads; although these plants may also tiller, the original heads will still emerge, bloom and mature.

Now the producer faces several alternatives: (1) leave things as they are and settle for a crop that may mature unevenly, (2) shred the stalks to a height of about six inches and force all plants to tiller uniformly, (3) destroy the grain crop and plant millet or some other forage, or (4) overseed the stubble with a small grain for grazing. The decision rests largely on when the hail damage occurred and its severity. Research has shown that up to 95 percent of the grain yield may be lost when all leaves are removed during the boot stage. The crop should be left if any leaves remain on the plant, even though they appear to be severely mutilated.

Grain sorghum is most vulnerable to hail injury during the bloom and early milk stage, since the heads are fully exposed to the hail. However, this damage may be minor compared to the reduced photosynthesis caused by defoliation. This condition will adversely affect seed development and cause shrunken seed and low test weights. Side branching may also create difficulties at harvest time.

Alternatives are limited in this situation. Unless the crop is a fast-maturing hybrid that was planted early, it will generally be too late in the season to shred to make a uniform second crop. If the damage was so severe that the crop has little or no yield potential, a grower might consider overseeding the stubble with small grain for early grazing, or he might destroy the crop and prepare the land for wheat.

Hail injury after the milk stage is usually less damaging. Complete defoliation during the soft dough stage cuts yields in half in research studies, whereas removal of 75 percent of the leaves reduced yields by only 15 to 20 percent. Although hail damage in later stages can be expensive, it is not nearly as devastating as during the bloom stage.

MISSION - Last week was the worst in the history in the 10-year-old Screwworm Program, Mission Lab official gloomily announced Tuesday.

Texas was hit with a soaring 3,879 cases, nearly 900 more than the previous record of 3,023 established the first week of July, 1962.

The biggest day was Monday with 1,019 cases, the smallest was Wednesday with 416.

Texas' 1972 total is now 16,196, second only to the 49,484 cases of 1962.

The voracious fly struck in seven new counties to raise that count to 162. The newcomers were Childress, Crane, McLennan, Oldham, Palo Pinto, Swisher and Wichita.

Arizona's worsening situation continued to become just that as 50 more cases there raised the 1972 figure to 166. New Mexico had six more outbreaks and now has 24 cases for the year.

Two more cases from Oklahoma were the first there since May 10 when the first case in nine years was confirmed in Jefferson County. The new cases were in Cotton and Comanche Counties in Southcentral Oklahoma.

California's modest outbreak remained at two cases where it has stood for several weeks.

The five-state figure through Friday, June 23, rests at 16,391 cases, the Lab reported.

HPRF Offers Tips For Cotton Crops

look for squares to be set within the next two weeks. "Research data for the past four years indicates that maximum cotton yields were obtained when cotton was irrigated at the pre-square stage rather than waiting until first bloom," he said. He explained that an irrigation at bud initiation or when first buds are sighted is moisture sustaining and helps prevent stress throughout the squaring stage.

This irrigation should be light and applied every other row to help cotton plants set a "full load" of squares without developing unnecessary vegetative growth. "Our results show that an irrigation during bud initiation period produces maximum cotton yield potential," he said.

Long range forecasts maintain the first three weeks of July will be hot and dry. A pre-square irrigation will carry the cotton through the hot, dry period until time for the next irrigation at late first bloom.

A third and last irrigation, still every other row, is recommended to be completed between August 10-15, Valliant said. "This should provide the maximum cotton yields with maximum benefit from irrigation water," he said.

Since cotton blooms set in the first four weeks of blooming produce 90 percent of the total lint yield, it makes sense to try to set as many blooms as possible, Jim Valliant, research director of the High Plains Research Foundation, said today.

Valliant said farmers with cotton planted after May 10 can

Republican Women Organize Group

A group of ten women from Parmer County met Friday, July 7, at Bovina in the community room of the Bovina bank for purpose of forming an organization to be known as Republican Women of Parmer County. The four county towns, Friona, Bovina, Farwell and Lazbuddie, were represented at the meeting.

Meeting with the women to help organize was Ila Jo Hart of Gruver, District Committee Woman from the 31st Senatorial District, of which Parmer County is a part.

Peggy Hammil of Friona was elected temporary chairman and Sue Naegle of Bovina was named temporary secretary. The group adopted a set of by-laws and set dates for future meetings.

The first meeting is planned for August 28 at 8 p.m. at the Bovina bank, at which time it is hoped that more women throughout the county will have been contacted and will be in attendance at this first meeting. Plans will be made at this meeting for the Annual Meeting tentatively set for September 25, which will probably be in Friona. Election of officers of the Republican women's group will take place at the Annual Meeting.

Meeting dates were set monthly, with the exception of the months of June, July, August and December, to take place alternately in the four county towns. It is hoped that the group will become affiliated with the state organization, Texas Federation of Republican Women.

Women attending the organizational meeting were Peggy Hammil, Zora Gaeda and Sue White, Friona; Sue Naegle and Eloise Dixon, Bovina; Joann

Getz and Ogetha Langford, Farwell; and Barbara Lust, Virgie Mason and Sylvia Nelson, Lazbuddie. Anyone interested in joining the Republican Women of Parmer County organization, is urged to contact any of these women, and plan to attend the first meeting of the group.
