

And You Say MOD Isn't Needed Any More?

By JUNE HENSLEY

It still does rain in Texas, and we bring back eye-witness proof to our readers that such is the case. This past weekend the Graham family attended a meeting of the Texas Press Association in Austin, and we were delighted to drive hundreds of miles in Central and Southwest Texas while the rain and "soupy weather" swirled around us.

Some day—if we can get all our weather prognosticators pulling together—we are going to be able to lift this kind of weather up and over the Caprock onto the Plains where it is needed so badly.

At the convention, it was probably the remarks of Sen. Price Daniel that did the most to excite the newsmen gathered there. He definitely is eyeing the governorship, and even says that he would rather be governor of Texas than president of the United States.

Over 50 letters a day are coming to his desk urging that he announce his candidacy soon, he said, and the undertone of his entire speech is that he is definitely considering doing such a thing. At any rate, we will know by the end of February what Daniel intends to do. He said so.

At a dinner Saturday evening, we happened to sit down at a table alongside a young fellow named Kenneth Towery. It was this unassuming young man who rocked the nation last year by uncovering the state veteran's land scandals.

As editor of the Cuero Record, Towery's disclosure of the irregularities must certainly have taken courage. The Cuero Record is a weekly newspaper, not too different from the one which you are now reading.

Seldom do people fear the publicity of a weekly newspaper with limited circulation and influence as they would a regionally-circulated daily, which is capable of arousing public opinion on a grand scale.

But here was an honest reporter doing his regular job of reporting all the facts. He proved unmistakably the power of the press no matter how small or insignificant a paper might be.

If the Cuero editor made us feel good about being a small part of our nation's press, what Capt. Peter Davison told the Texico-Farwell Lions Club made us feel that much prouder.

Capt. Davison is an authority on communism and affairs of the Soviet Union, and he placed particular emphasis in his talk Monday evening on the fact that in the USSR, there is no such thing as a free and independent press.

In fact, there are only two "newspapers" in the whole country, one of these being Pravda, the organ of the central committee of the communist party; and Ivestia, the publication of the government.

Both are strictly controlled mediums, and have about as much resemblance to a good old American newspaper as the writer has to Liberace.

Capt. Davison had with him a copy of Pravda. It was a drab-looking four-page paper with no advertisements, only one "news picture," and no distinction whatever made between news reporting and editorial writing.

A sad, sad story, and a prime reason why the thinking of the Soviet people has been so suppressed.

Those in our party, which included the writer, his wife, his mother and young son Ronny, took a short side trip to San Antonio while gone, to visit some friends.

It was at the magnificent San Antonio zoo that we got the biggest laugh of the trip. The wife walked up to a cage in which were several very large birds.

Peering through the mesh wire, she looked closely at one particularly striking specimen and asked us, "What kind of a bird is that?"

We looked up, and noticing the name plate to one side, we announced solemnly, "That, dear, is a stork."

Tuesday, January 31 Is Poll Tax Deadline

Deadline for paying 1956 poll taxes is Tuesday, January 31. Tuesday of this week, 1,591 persons had paid their taxes and 22 exemptions had been made.

Last year a total of 1,664 paid poll taxes and in the last election year, 2,016 poll taxes were paid.

Mrs. Alvenia Cox, deputy, said Tuesday that they expected lots more people to pay their taxes before the deadline.

BABY IS ILL

Cindy, 7-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Foster, has been ill with a severe cold and sore throat. She is reported to be improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Beavers of Muleshoe were in Farwell visiting friends Tuesday night.

Some people have been prone to dismiss the idea of the need of the work of the polio foundation from their minds, since, in the past few months, so much emphasis has been put on the prevention of the disease rather than the cure.

But the fact remains that people still suffer with polio and the foundation still aids those who do.

The following story of Johnny McCuan and his struggle as a victim of infantile paralysis is only one instance where the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has given aid locally.

He still wears an uncomfortable looking cast from his waist to his neck, but Johnny McCuan thinks that he has almost conquered his foe of five long years—polio.

His battle is not yet won, but doctors feel that Johnny is on the "uphill grade" and although he doesn't count on it too strongly for fear of being disappointed, there is a possibility that around the first of March, Johnny will have the cast removed and will be required to wear only a brace.

Johnny has worn a cast of this type since having an operation performed on his back in August of 1955. The operation was made to help stiffen Johnny's back, and since that time, Johnny has worn eight or 10 different casts.

If his back continues to straighten and stiffen, physicians in charge believe that the brace will be sufficient and that another operation will not be necessary.

Johnny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCuan, was stricken with polio in October of 1950 and since then has spent a portion of each year in some hospital receiving all possible types of treatments, all very expensive.

He was hospitalized at Plainview for two months following his first encounter with the disease. At Hot Springs he wore a cast for eight months and has been hospitalized at Amarillo from time to time. Although Johnny has missed

Cotton Change Fought

By DOLPH MOTEN

Plans were made Monday night in the Bovina School Auditorium by members of the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association to attend a cotton council meeting in Lubbock yesterday (Tuesday, January 24.) The purpose of the Lubbock council is to protect the interest of the cotton grower.

The most recent worry that Plains cotton farmers have concerns the proposed shift of staple length used to figure basic price supports from 7/8 inch to 1 inch. The local association voted to work with the larger group against this possible change, and in addition, voted to work for 90 percent or more of parity price for cotton.

A third item acted upon by the group was to request the Lubbock organization to alter its name (it is the South Plains Cotton Council), so that Parmer County could be included.

In regard to the staple length question, County Agent Joe Jones told the group that 96.4 per cent of Parmer County cotton had had a staple length shorter than one inch in the past three years. In other words, the county has had only

Mustangs Do It to Steers Again, Threaten District Championship

If it was excitement that hundreds of basketball fans wanted when they flocked to Farwell gym to see Farwell and Bovina play Tuesday night, they went home satisfied.

The contest between two well-matched teams, both of which sorely wanted the conference win, produced all the thrills that could have been expected.

Thrills probably weren't enough for Farwell fans, however, who saw their home team nipped again by a vengeance-hungry pack of Mustangs.

Monday night marked the third time that the Bovina team has floored the Steers this season, and the second time by the narrow margin of one field goal.

Farwell has won one game.

This week's win was a vital one for Bovina, however, because it virtually assures them of one-half of the district championship. No other district team is expected to challenge them in regular season play.

Farwell's only hope now lies in the district tournament, which will be played here in three weeks. If the Steers manage to upset the Mustangs, it would throw the conference race into a deadlock and a playoff would be necessary.

However, lots of things can happen between now and that date.

Monday night, Bovina demonstrated its ability to play in the clutch, and icy nerves and steady basket eyes undoubtedly were the factors which sunk the Steers in the fading minutes of the contest.

For a few minutes after the opening tipoff, the Steers appeared that they might break away with a big

Chamber of Commerce Candidates Listed By Committee

Candidates for the new board of directors to be elected by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce were announced this week. They are the selection of the nominating committee.

The nine men are R. W. Anderson Jr., Johnie Williams, Otis Huggins, Jim Terrell, Clay Henson, Sam Aldridge, W. W. Vinyard, Ernest Kube, and Dewey Bagley.

Voting on directors will take place at the next C-C meeting, which is Monday night, January 30. It is possible that additional nominations will be made from the floor at that time.

Chamber President Bob Brooks said this week that final plans will be made on the coming annual banquet at the next meeting, also.

Telethon Saturday

Once again, members of Texico-Farwell ESA will march against polio, when they conduct the annual Mothers March for the March of Dimes campaign, Mrs. Joe Helton, president of the group says. The house-to-house canvass of the Twin Cities is planned Tuesday evening, January 31, between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening.

Those who wish to make contributions are asked to turn on their porch lights during these hours.

Moms Slate March

Talent from Parmer County will be featured on the annual March of Dimes "telethon" show all Saturday night over KPDA-TV, Amarillo.

To go on the air Sunday morning at 9 o'clock will be Dal Hartsel and Betty Hawkins of Bovina; and Gwen Green and Bobby Shirley of Friona.

Parmer County viewers who want to help make the benefit performance a financial success will be able to do so with a minimum of trouble.

Those who wish to contribute to the telethon is in progress should telephone White Auto Store in Friona. The local call will then be relayed to the telethon in Amarillo and the donation made known.

The phone number of the Friona business is 4231.

DID YOU SAY HE CAN'T READ?

The drawing for door prizes at the "Purina Day" promotion of Cummings Farm Store didn't turn out as its sponsors expected, but they made good on their offer of $15 in merchandise.

Doyle Cummings, owner of the store said this week that Danny Kendrick was selected to draw the names. It was thought that he would be a safe choice.

But the 4-year-old reached into the cage and drew his daddy's name for first prize. This was bad enough, but to make matters worse, Kendrick and Cummings are competitors in the fertilizer business.

Cummings was a good sport and announced the prize would be awarded anyway.

CARD OF THANKS

Just to say thanks to everyone for every act of kindness shown me during my recent hospitalization and recovery. I truly appreciated all thoughts, prayers, cards, gifts, flowers and visits, and most of all, I cherish your friendship.

Contests Announced For Cotton, Grain

Parmer County 4-H Club and FFA boys will have cash incentives to spur them into more efficient farming practices as a result of contests announced this week.

The Parmer County Grain Sorghum Association and the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association are cooperating in the sponsorship of the event, the first of its kind in many years.

Arlin Hartzog, who farms near Bovina, is president of both associations.

A $50 prize and a plaque will be awarded to the winner of the production contest for both cotton and grain sorghums. Second prize will be worth $35, third prize will be $25, fourth will be $15 and fifth will be $10.

The idea behind the contest is "to encourage and reward 4-H club boys in their work and to encourage the use of applicable and efficient practices that will result in higher yields per acre of good quality and grain sorghum on the farms in Parmer County."

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Uncle Sam Is Everybody's "Sugar Daddy"

What has become of the independence of our forefathers?

Somewhat we, as Americans, have almost succeeded in destroying the pride our fathers once had in providing for their own. And in so doing, we have about torn down the incentives to get ahead which were the foundations of progress when this great country was being carved from a wilderness.

The time for the setting up of our national budget is at hand, and the halls of congress are filled with pleas for huge appropriations of money for this or that "noble" purpose.

More and more, each of us are dependent on our federal government if we are to survive, seemingly. Whenever anything is to be done, our first thought is how we may get the money from Uncle Sam, who is everybody's "sugar daddy."

Very likely you believe that you have no part in such shenanigans, but in truth, where do all these cries for federal aid originate if they do not come from the people?

We want good roads on which to drive our cars. So we ask Uncle Sam to give them to us. Or at least a large part of them. We want flood control, or help when it won't rain. Guess who gets tabbed? Everybody endorses a good hot lunch program at the schools. Where does much of the food come from? When we need money to build a house, we always consider Uncle's offer, too.

We even are beginning to expect "sugar daddy" to build the schools for our own children. Just last month, the school patrons of this very community refused to endorse a request by the school board that they provide buildings for their children.

The story was circulated that if we would but wait a little while, Uncle Sam would step in with a building program in his new federal aid to education project. That story was instrumental in causing the failure of the bond election to provide for the needed buildings.

Any thinking person knows that "the fiddler calls the tune," and that whenever we accept money from Uncle Sam, the day is not far away when we will accept orders on how we shall spend that money. If we don't believe that statement, talk with the farmers of the nation, who have lost the freedom to run their farms as they see fit.

The local women couldn't remember the name of the town or place but she remembered their idea.

On the wall was the map of the United States with a pint container attached to each state except one. That of course, was Texas—and a quart holder was there.

The inscription above the map read something like this: "Put your coins in the container over your state—but if you can't find your state, just put your money in Texas." Mae says the idea really was popular and practically every tourist who stopped put some money in one of the jars. No one wanted his state to be the one that was lagging.

Weather took the spotlight on our quick jaunt to Austin last weekend, to attend the Texas Press mid-winter meeting.

We drove through fog and rain, and actually got our feet muddy. We are saving those shoes, just to look at some time.

And too, we saw lovely banks of snow—not much, but enough to get the general idea. Remarking about the white covering on the shrubs, lawns and countryside, Ronny the nearly-three year-old, remarked, "Mommy, I better get my snowsuit." He has had a snowsuit to keep him warm for two years, but it is the first time he had realized that the name of the garment could be associated with real snow.

Our recipe this week is one that gets around on its own. That is the reason we want to include it here. We first tasted the "muncher" at the home of Mrs. Don Williams, and she had eaten it at a family party somewhere. Then we heard Mrs. Grayson Roberts talking about how delicious it is, at the shower for her sister, the former Hettye Randol. When we attended Nell Walling's March of Dimes coffee, sure enough, there it was again.

As for the name, Nell calls it "nuts and bolts." The Williamses call the delicacy, "druthers." They feel that this munch is rather like "druthers" in the Lil' Abner comic strip. After the first bite, you keep going back for more.

So here it is—maybe you will have another name for it. But whatever it is, it's delicious.

NUTS AND BOLTS

Mrs. Nell Walling

- 1 package Wheat Checks
 - 1 package Rice Checks
 - 1 box thin pretzels
 - 1 cup mixed nuts
 - ¾ pound butter
 - 3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
 - 2 tablespoons Tobasco sauce
 - 3 teaspoons celery salt
 - 3 teaspoons onion salt
 - 3 teaspoons garlic salt
- Melt butter, mix with sauces, pour over dry ingredients and mix well. Cook for two hours in oven at 250 degrees, stirring often.

We are beginning to understand why there is such a thing as a psychiatrist's couch, although we hope we never get to examine one. But all these deadlines are enough to place anyone there. Have you ever realized how close we Americans must live by the calendar? Of course, being in the newspaper business, deadlines are even more common to us. But what about the immediate deadlines for Picture taking at The Tribune was fun Wednesday. Robert Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis, is in a sense celebrating his birthday by having his picture made. He will be five Saturday.

And Barry Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, performed for his auntie, Jo Ann Williams, when he was finished posing. He gladly sang the ABC's for the crew, but in the same breath with Z, he said "now I want an ice cream cone."

The three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bell, came in the shop, sporting a junior size Davy Crockett hat. He seemed to be aware of the fact that he was creating lots of interest because he happily grinned at all his admirers.

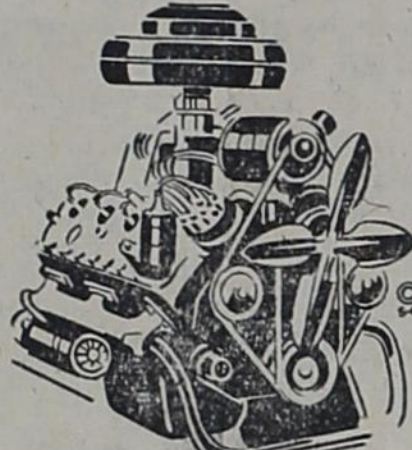

And Tim Crume and Louie Bradshaw discussed this picture taking deal before they arrived at The Tribune. Timmy had told Louie that he was going to have his picture made at the newspaper office. Louie was awed and questioned his tiny friend "but Timmy, what did YOU DO to get your picture in the paper?"

Four-year-old Steve Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blair, consented to pose for the cameraman, only after his mother promised that he wouldn't receive a shot. Seems the young man has been to the doctor before.

The twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Walker, were duplicate elves and sat quietly to have their picture made, then toddled all over the shop visiting with the front office employees.

PERFORMANCE

made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

	Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742
Car C-V-8	634,376607,366
Car P-V-8	262,870978,872
Car C-Six	845,153396,589
Car P-Six	334,540907,202

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package! And to a world record extent! Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than the two other low-priced competitive eights combined! Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that. And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet... by a country mile!

Smother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up!

Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end. So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby. Come in... try it today!

Iron Curtain Masses America's Salvation, Asserts AFB Speaker

It's a rare occasion when a Lions Club meeting lasts for four hours, but that's what happened Monday night when Capt. Peter Davison of the Clovis AFB spoke to the Texico-Farwell Club.

His topic was "Communism," and he gave to the 20 men present some things to think about during his address. Informality was the keynote of the evening, and many questions were asked him by club members.

Probably the most important observation made by Capt. Davison was the admonition that the Western nations' strongest allies are the masses behind the Iron Curtain. "They are our salvation," said the speaker.

Capt. Davison's mother was Russian, and from childhood, the man has come in contact with first-hand reports of how things have been ordered in the Soviet Union.

During the past war, the officer cooperated in underground movements, and is still working with the intelligence branch of the Air Force.

"I should make it clear that there is nothing new about communism today," he said. "It hasn't changed a bit since the original movement after the Russian revolution.

"Today we hear much talk about our country having been at the 'brink of war' with the Soviets in recent months. This is nothing new. This has been going on for forty years."

The speaker attempted to clear up general American confusion on terms given citizens of the USSR and even the country itself. "There is no such place as Russia," he said. "Russia was dead and buried in 1917. Today, USSR stands for the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

He also pointed out that what is generally termed a "Russian" is a person from a certain area of the USSR, and that Russians actually number only about five percent of the total population of the nation.

Capt. Davison explained to the group the many different racial or ethnic groups that comprise the bulk of the population, and also brought out the system under which the government operates.

A question from one of the Lions asked the speaker to define the difference between socialism and communism.

"Socialism," answered the speaker, "is voluntary acceptance of government domination. Communism, on the other hand, is a form of government that is imposed upon the people, where human dignity means nothing."

That being true, he said, socialism could be adopted in a "free" country such as the United States by popular vote of the people. But, the important difference would be that the people would still retain the machinery to throw off or change their government if they desired. This would not be true in the case of communism, whose rule is based on force.

"Beware of 'experts' in this or that field who tell you that war will come between the communists and the free world at such-and-such a date," Davison warned. "There aren't any people who know enough factors to be able to give accurate forecasts on what the Soviet Union will do next."

With another reference to the "masses behind the Iron Curtain," the AAF officer cited the high desertion ratio in World War II of communists into the ranks of the German army.

Hitler's march into the USSR was hailed as a liberation by these people, said Davison. There are still thousands who monthly manage to escape into Western Germany from behind communist-dominated territories.

On slave labor camps, Capt. Davison said, "Slave labor is essential to the communist system." The number of persons in slave labor camps fluctuates with the amount of work of this kind that needs to be done.

Persons who work in factories can be removed to slave labor installations on trumped up reasons and without trial of any kind. Being late for work is as good a reason as any, says Capt. Davison.

Turning to newspapers as an agent of free expression and thinking, Davison said that no such thing as a true newspaper exists in the Soviet Union today.

Instead, there are two publications, Pravda and Isvestia (one the organ of the central committee of the communist party, and the other of the government), and both of these are jokes as "news-papers."

They are nothing more than propaganda sheets, having no advertisements, no regular editorial comment departments, or any of the other things that most Americans are used to in their daily papers. Instead, all of the writing is strictly "communist line" and highly tainted stories glorifying the system.

The communists' idea of war is entirely different from our own, pointed out the speaker, and they do not always think of the battlefield when looking for ways to conquer.

"Stop and think for a moment," said Capt. Davison. "Little or no territory now under the Kremlin was acquired on the battlefield." Instead, it has been a war of minds.

Asked what the resolution between communism and free government will ultimately be, Davison prophesied, "Sooner or later our public opinion will become aroused to the danger and we eventually will come to the point where we will have to fight fire with fire."

Get Polio Shots Urges Commissioner

State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle today appealed to Texas parents to have their children vaccinated now as protection against polio this spring and summer.

"The polio season starts early in Texas," the commissioner warned. "This year, for the first time in history, we have a vaccine against the disease on hand before the Texas season opens in earnest in mid-April."

Dr. Holle said the vaccine's effectiveness to date has been "gratifying." "Official records show paralytic polio during 1955 struck six times more frequently among unvaccinated children than among those who received prescribed amounts of the vaccine at the proper intervals."

Three shots are said to give a high level of protection against polio: the second shot given one month after the first shot, and the third shot following seven months later.

According to that schedule, all Texas children who received second shots summer or fall are now ready to have their third shot.

The success of the vaccine was announced April 12, 1955, after exhaustive nationwide studies. But by then countless numbers of children had already been exposed in a rising seasonal incidence. Result: 1955 was pretty much an ordinary year for polio for the nation as a whole, despite the fact that Texas' 1955 season was below the 5-year median.

Too, vaccine was in short supply during those early days, and production difficulties unsettled public confidence in the product.

Both these problems have since been overcome, Dr. Holle pointed out. Supplies are increasing daily, and, concerning production safeguard, "health and medical men agree that the vaccine is as safe as human hands can make it."

FFA Youths Hit TV With Hog Program

An educational program on producing pork has resulted in wide publicity for Tom Hudson and the Texico FFA chapter which he advises, and Saturday, January 28, the group will appear on TV to tell of their formula for making hog raising profitable.

They will be guests of Garland "Cotton John" Smith of KGNC-TV, Amarillo, on his farm hour program at 6 p. m. Seven boys and the two most recently elected chapter sweethearts will make the trip, in addition to Hudson.

Going will be Jimmie Don Moss, Allan Kelley, and Bob Spears who will make the presentation showing how they have produced pork. They will use charts in connection with this explanation, not to mention two sows from the chapter farm.

One of these swine is Lela, the sole survivor of a big shipment of tough razorbacks straight from the hills of Arkansas. She is living proof of what good feeding and management can do for even very poor breeding.

The boys will tell their experiences with the eight razorback sows they got last March 5. The average weight of these sows was 74 pounds when brought to Texico. Five and one-half months later the average weight had increased to 294 pounds.

The razorbacks in farrowing have saved 6 2/3 pigs each. Two of the sows have farrowed twice since coming to Texico—the first time they saved a total of five pigs. The second time 20 were saved.

Hudson says interest in hog feeding program has really been strong since boys got razorbacks. Boys now have 50 gilts which will farrow this spring. They have all been kept together on alfalfa pasture on Earl Hartley's farm. Boys are now building another farrowing barn at the school where gilts will be brought. Each boy buys his own hog and pays for all the feed. A different group of students are selected each day to go to the farm to feed.

Hudson says "They are right in keeping with other pork raisers" according to booklets he receives from larger universities and colleges throughout the nation which state that pork can be raised from $8 to $10 per 100 pounds.

In spite of the present depressed condition of the hog market, programs of this type are managing to maintain interest among young farmers who are still "learning the ropes."

New Clothes Dryers Have Own Weather

Come rain or shine, the gas clothes dryer creates perfect weather conditions to allow the homemaker to choose her own laundry time—day or night. It not only frees her from weather worries, but, since it dries fifteen times faster than the clothesline method, it saves twenty complete working days a year!

Hours of ironing time are eliminated, too, by use of an automatic clothes dryer. The dryer tumbles wrinkles out of towels, cotton knits, flannels and corduroys so they are ready to be folded and put away the minute they are dry. The damp-dry action of the dryer also cuts work by eliminating the need for sprinkling clothes before ironing.

This modern wife-saver lops off forty miles of walking for the homemaker. She is relieved of the burden of lifting and carrying baskets of laundry, which would add up to the weight of a two and a half ton truck in the course of a year's laundering!

In addition, the gas clothes dryer protects the homemaker from sniffles and sneezes that go with the task of hanging out three miles of laundry every year. While the dryer protects the homemaker's health, it also protects her laundry. Colored fabrics won't fade in the dryer and there is no wear and tear on clothes. Because the laundry can be done easier and more frequently, a family does not need nearly as many clothes and linens. Because of its many conveniences and economy features, the automatic clothes dryer is fast becoming one of the most popular modern home appliances.

Local Anglers Snare Fish on Long Trip

A 10-day fishing trip into Mexico which ended last week proved very successful for several local line-writers. Participating in the excursion were A. T. Watts, Merrell Turner, Edd and Gene Hardage, and C. W. Brown of Muleshoe.

The group left Saturday, January 7, and crossed the Rio Grande at Roma-Los Saenz into Mexico. Between 400 and 500 pounds of fish were caught by the fishermen, who did their fishing by trotline methods exclusively.

The five returned home Tuesday of last week.

Texico Whirlwinds Win Own Tourney

With only three seconds left to play in the final game of the Texico invitational basketball tournament Saturday night, Sue Reid, free shot artist for the local team, came through with two free tosses to give the Whirlwinds a 39-38 victory over Rosedale.

It was a tense moment as Sue, having been fouled by a Rosedale guard, stepped to the free throw line with Texico needing two points necessary to win the game.

The Whirlwinds had previously beaten Rogers 52-31 and had won over Fields by a score of 42-39 which placed them in the championship game with Rosedale. Rosedale Cowgirls won over Causey and Ranchvale to gain the privilege of playing in the final game.

While the local girls were winning their own tournament here at home, the Wolverines traveled to Maxwell and Logan for two non-conference games.

"It was the best basketball the Wolverines have played this year," Coach Miller stated in assembly Monday morning.

Maxwell beat the Wolverines by a score 59-57 and Logan came out on top with 54 points to Texico's 48.

Making 27 points against Maxwell was Joe Glaze with Allan Kelley making 22. In the game with Logan, Glaze was again high point man with 13 to his credit.

Win Consolation
Texico Junior High girls rolled over Causey with a 21-12 count, to make them consolation winners of the tourney. Janel Seal was high pointer with 14 points while Anita Moss and Christy Bowers tied with six points each.

Ranchvale ran over Forrest with a 48-29 count while Texico lost to Rogers 14-30 in the first game. Causey lost to Rosedale 11-25 and Grady won with a 20-14 count over Fields.

Causey came back to win over Forrest with a 26-14 count which put them in the finals for consolation. Fields lost to Texico 21-12 which put Texico in for a try at consolation.

Rosedale won over Ranchvale 35-24 while Rogers beat Grady 30-8. Rosedale barely slid by Rogers 18-16, to give Rosedale the first play trophy and Rogers second, while Ranchvale took Grady by an easy 22-12 for third place honors.

Fire Insurance Rates Lowered in Texico

Texico residents will benefit from "the best rating you can get in the state with a volunteer fire department," as a result of their city being graded upward effective January 20.

A savings of approximately 25 percent on fire insurance will accrue to policy holders because of the moving of the town's classification from a "class 10 unprotected town" to a "class 8 protected town."

This is major benefit to the city as a result of their having installed a modern water system the past year. The new tower and well, plus an improved distribution system, has been the main factor affecting the raising of the town's rating.

Adoption of a building code in the fire protected zone, plus the fact that the local department keeps one fire truck within the city limits at all times also played a part in helping make the change possible.

No figures were immediately available on the amount of fire insurance now in force in the city, and it will be difficult to determine the cash savings to policy holders. But the difference will be substantial.

Leroy Faville, a Texico insurance agent cautioned, however, that the savings may not be immediately available to all policy holders. The type of policy and the amount of insurance may require that the change be delayed until expiration of the policy.

In his own case, he said, policies will not be affected unless a rebate of $2 or more is earned under the new rates.

Throughout the years there has been but one focus of Red Cross activity—service to humanity. The organization is celebrating its 75th Anniversary this year with pride in a long record of outstanding achievements.

5-Year Polio Fight For Johnny McCuan

much school during his five year siege with polio, help from his teachers and his inner determination have kept good grades on his report cards and he has not fallen behind in his classification.

A junior, Johnny had three A's and one B on his semester report this term.

Polio insurance covered the medical and hospitalization expenses for Johnny when he was first stricken. And after the policy expiration, the McCuans bore the extreme expense of his treatments themselves.

Then, this year, when doctors started making arrangements for the operation on Johnny's back, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis came to their aid and paid for the very costly operation and his hospitalization afterwards.

Johnny's courage and will to live along with the knowledge and skilled hands of surgeons and other physicians have kept polio from being fatal in this instance.

Playing a vital part in this battle, as in that of any polio victim, was the help from the polio foundation.

This should be proof enough that every dime and every dollar is still needed. Join the MARCH OF DIMES campaign now!

Contests Announced For Cotton, Milo Production By Boys

the rules and regulations of the contest is composed of W. H. Long of Friona; John Renner of Friona; Woodrow Fleming of Hub; James Mabry of Hub; W. L. Edleman of Friona; and G. D. Anderson Jr., of Bovina. This committee, the agriculture teachers of the county and Jones will work out the details of the contest.

Some two months ago, the directors of the two associations voted to sponsor the contest.

Directors of the cotton group are Hartzog, Long, T. L. Kent, Joe Blair, J. D. Mabry, Edelman, L. E. Noland, and Jack Smith.

Heading the grain sorghum group are Hartzog, Pete Braxton, John Gammon, Renner, Bert Williams, Kent and Bob Wilson.

Details on only the 4-H Club contests have been worked out. There may be some changes for FFA competition. The rules:

1. All boys who are members of one of the 4-H clubs in Parmer County are eligible to compete. Members are encouraged to enter both grain sorghum and cotton contest. To be eligible, a member must have at least two acres and not more than 10 acres in each contest entered. Boy must rent, share-crop, or own the crop entered.

2. Contestant must designate, on entry form and return to the county agent, by July 15 the plot to be entered in the contest. Entry forms and suggested record sheets will be furnished for all contestants desiring to enter, and may be obtained by writing County Agent Joe Jones at Farwell.

3. It will be the contestants responsibility to contact his adult leaders or his county agent and make arrangements for proper supervision when harvesting his crop. The leaders supervising the harvest of these crops must be present and certify to their accuracy.

4. Row spacing in each must not be more than 42 inches. The 70 yards of row harvested in each contest must have rows with good stands on each side.

5. Awards will be made on the basis of pounds of production per acre and records. Pounds of production per acre will count 60 per cent and records will count 40 per cent. Records in both contests must be completed and turned in to the county agent or 4-H leader by January 6, 1957.

6. All varieties of grain sorghum qualify except hybrids, which will be ruled out in 1956 because all entrants will not be able to obtain planting seed.

7. Grain sorghum yields will be computed by heading and weighing from 70 yards of measured row. Stem length on heads cannot be more than one inch, two moisture tests must be run on grain from heads weighed in the contest, and certified to by persons running moisture test. All grain will be converted to 14 per cent moisture. Moisture tests must accompany records.

8. All varieties of cotton, grades, and staples qualify.

9. Cotton will be computed by pulling and weighing burr cotton from 70 yards of measured row after December 1 on a dry afternoon. No bolls will be pulled unless they are open enough to be hand picked without the use of force to open the burr.

Boys interested in the contest can get more information from Jones.

Mustangs Do It Again To Farwell Steers

win. They pumped to a 14-point lead at one point in the first quarter.

Bovina's defense had a telling effect on the Steers' scoring ability as the game wore on, however, and bit by bit, the Mustangs crept ever closer to their hosts' lead.

The Mustangs finished playing "catch-up ball" only five minutes before the game ended when they pulled ahead for the first time of the night. A pressing defense effort by Farwell could not stem the tide of field goals by the visitors and the Mustangs finished with a 2-point lead.

Bert Williams of Farwell again proved his ability to score against stiff competition by making 30 points. Darrell Read of Bovina crammed in 22.

300 Take Advantage Of TB Chest X-Rays

Chest x-rays were given to approximately 300 persons during the New Mexico mobile unit's two day stay in Texico, according to Mrs. Marjorie Dixon, county health nurse of Curry County.

All Texico students from the ninth through 12th grades were given x-rays as were 100 students from Farwell High School.

X-rays were also given to Texico students in the first eight grades who had reactions to the tuberculin patch tests given there recently.

Mrs. Dixon says that reports of the x-rays will not be available for about three weeks and that all persons receiving the x-rays will be notified of the results.

The county nurse wished to express her appreciation for the co-operation of all those in the community for helping make the project a success. She stated that general response to the program this year was only fair in comparison to that of other years.

Two Escape Uninjured In Car-Pickup Smash

Vane Doshier, Farwell, and Arnold Russ, Texico, both escaped serious injury early Monday morning in a car-pickup crash at the intersection of Avenue B and 5th Street. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock.

Doshier was traveling west on Avenue B in a pickup owned by Watts Machine and Pump Co. and Russ was driving south on 5th Street in a 41 model car.

The car hit the pickup near the rear fender spinning the pickup around and throwing a full gas tank mounted on the back of the pickup, into a yard nearby. The pickup overturned as it hit the curb on the opposite side of the street.

The car was considered completely demolished and estimated damage to the pickup was about $400.

Doshier is employed at Watts Machine & Pump Company and Russ works at Blain and Son Blacksmith.

Jim's Cafe in Texico sponsored "coffee day" there on Saturday, January 14, and netted $10 for the drive. On Tuesday the Texico Cafe made $27 for the fund.

Members of Theta Rho chapter of ESA also donated their time and effort to the project.

The members of the Lazbuddie Methodist Church have ample reason for being proud of their new and modern brick building, which will be dedicated at homecoming ceremonies Sunday. Rev. Bruce Matthews is pastor.

Lazbuddie Methodists Slate Big Homecoming on Sunday

It will be a big day Sunday, when the Lazbuddie Methodist Church plays host to an anticipated crowd of 250 people who will attend homecoming and get a look at the church's brand new building.

Dedication services will be performed during the special day, and Dr. Luther Kirk, district superintendent, Plainview, will be on hand to bring the morning message and participate in other activities, also.

For the 94 members of the community church, the dedication Sunday will mean the realization of a dream for which they have long worked.

Rev. Bruce Matthews, pastor of the church, reports that actual construction began as recently as June of last year, but that planning has gone on for a much longer time.

The building will cost the church about $40,000 by time all details have been finished, and of this, $15,000 has been raised in cash. The building is 140x80 feet, and will seat 240 persons in the sanctuary.

It features a central heating system, has adequate and modern lighting, and an asphalt floor. The exterior is brick veneer. The fellowship hall on the west of the sanctuary is 30x44 feet, and in addition, there is a kitchen, rest rooms, nursery and cry rooms, and the pastor's office.

The old church was converted into an educational building.

Bill Garrett of Farwell was general contractor for the job, and the work was nearly completed by the middle of November.

Rev. Matthews is a graduate of West Texas State College and Southern Methodist University, came to Lazbuddie from his first pastorate in Midland about a year ago. He is unmarried.

The youthful minister is justifiably proud of the new building which was completed under his charge.

Invited to the homecoming and dedication are former pastors, former members, and friends of the church. About 100 invitations have been sent out.

In connection with Dr. Kirk's message, a special presentation of the offering for the building program will be made. Following the morning service will be a barbecue dinner in the fellowship hall. W. C. Williams Jr. is to do the cooking, and the beef is being furnished by C. D. Gustin.

At 2:30 will be a recognition service for former pastors of the church. Also at this time will be a short program of formal opening of the church and the recognition of memorials to the building.

The official board of the church is composed of Finis Jennings, chairman; Joe Bates, treasurer; Al Ewing Jennings, secretary; and H. L. Ivy, John L. Seaton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hinkson, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Teague, E. T. Ford, V. H. Bewley, W. C. McLeod, Calvin Embrey, H. W. Carpenter, J. D. Carpenter, Kenneth Precure and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gustin.

The following committees have carried out the church's plans for the big day:

Food committee—E. T. Ford, chairman; Mrs. H. L. Ivy, Al Ewing Jennings, Mrs. Virgil Teague, and Janice Gallman.

Program and invitation committee—Mrs. Finis Jennings, Mrs. Joe Bates Jennings, John L. Seaton, in & around FRIONA With June

The stacks of doors, windows, pipes and other building materials on the building site of the new hospital have not looked much like a hospital, but the tricklayers have gone to work and the north wall has reached a height of several feet. Several persons have asked, "Where is that new hospital building we have heard so much about?" Now, we can point with pride and tell them, "There is the north wall."

In the future, we may have to date everything as B. I., which stands for "before irrigation." Some fellow, who had not planned for irrigation, selected the building site for the house we now occupy. For some unknown reason, he decided upon the lowest spot on the place. Last spring, when we started pumping water on top of the hill and it started running down, everything around the house was water bound most of the time. All summer we lived on an island. Consequently, a lot of things have been moved to higher ground. Today the clothesline changed places and the brooder house is next in line for a move. Before long everything moveable will have a new location. Some fellow predicts that in the not too distant future helicopters will be popular as house.

Local Farmers Plan Natural Gas Line

A total of 36 irrigation wells belonging to local farmers who farm east and west of the Farm-to-Market road that runs north of Bovina were signed to get a natural gas line run to them at a meeting Monday night in the American Legion Hall in Bovina.

The farmers formed an association—the Parmer County Gas Association—and Floyd Dunavant has been named chairman.

Forty-three irrigation motors can be tied onto the line. However, only the 36 have been signed.

The contract for the line will be let in about 10 days. Ten contractors met with the farmers at the Monday night meeting.

The interested farmers will share expenses for putting in 17 and one-eighth miles of two inch line and two miles of three inch line. Pioneer Natural Gas Company will pay the cost of four and one-half miles of line.

playing time remaining. The game was nip and tuck the rest of the way.

With 17 seconds left and the score tied 65-65, Neil Smith was fouled. He made the first free throw to make the score 66-65, missed the second, but Larry Ezell tipped the ball in the basket to give the Mustangs a 68-65 lead and the ball game.

In the remaining time, a player from each team was ejected from the floor for fighting and several Bovina fans rushed onto the floor. However, the near-rubbarb was quickly halted by Mustang players and Coach Bob Wills.

movers. Maybe we can have one fly down, hook onto the house, and move it up on top of the hill. Having a house break loose from a 'copter and fall on a person might be even worse than having a tractor break loose from its furrow guide and get out of the field.

Someone once remarked, "Excuses are just lies dressed up to look like the truth." Since we heard that, back in our high school days, it has been very difficult for us to make excuses for failing to do the things we should have done. The two most overworked excuses we hear are "I just can't" and "I don't have time." To users of the first one, we would like to reply, "Have you ever tried?" Solomon said, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." Maybe we need to change our thinking from "I can't" to "I can." Here is a little poem we have had for several years and would like to pass on for you to read and think about. It is anonymous and the title is

THINK

If you think you are beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you don't.
If you like to win but think you can't
It's almost a cinch you won't.
If you think you'll lose, you're lost;
For out in the world we find Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in the state of mind.
If you think you are outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise,
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can win a prize.
Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the man who thinks he can.
To those who offer "I just don't have time," we suggest that you read "How to Live on Twenty-four Hours a Day."

We noticed that at last one Parmer County resident showed an animal at the Amarillo fat stock show this week. Weldon Tatum's name has been mentioned several times near the top in the list of winners.

Cadillac

He's Looking for a Mountain!

You see, he knows what he has down under that beautiful hood—a great, powerful V-8 engine that's pulsing with life—and he's simply itching to give it the word!

But he is a sane and sensible driver, who stays within the regulations and observes the laws of common sense—and he knows he can't unleash that engine on a normal stretch of highway.

So he's looking for a big, long, steep hill. Maybe he can get the throttle down there for a short thrust—just to see what it's like!

Well, maybe so—but even on a mountain, he won't use full throttle for long. For this car is powered far beyond all normal requirements.

Why, you might ask, is this so?

Well, in the judgment of Cadillac engineers, it's done for a number of vital and important reasons.

First of these is safety. A great reserve of power for the quick escape from an emergency is of the essence of highway safety.

Then there's economy. A big, powerful engine that loafs at normal speeds permits the use of an axle ratio that makes for gasoline economy.

There is long life, too—for the absence of strain adds years and years to the life of any mechanism.

And finally, there is the great riding and driving luxury that comes with extra power . . . the whisper-silent engine, the instant response to the throttle, the sense of safety and security.

Why not come in soon and see for yourself? We will be most happy to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

The car is waiting for you—and any time you find the time would be a good time for a date!
