School Carnival Is Attended by Crowd

"One of the largest and noisiest crowds we ever had in the auditorium," officials of the Texico school said this week, in commenting on the school carnival held the past Thursday night.

Undoubtedly a noisy crowd enjoys itself, which fact was proved by the patronage given the different booths arranged for the evening's entertainment, sponsors went on to say, with every booth in the house doing a land-slide business.

Probably the most attractive entertainment of the evening was the negro minstrel, which played both times to a packed room, while the home ec girls were literally run ragged providing sufficient hamburgers for the hungry crowd, and the bingo tables were crowded during the evening.

Mary Francis Selman, representative of the grade school, was acclaimed as Queen of the Carnival, and with her king, Bill Knox, at her side, received the honor in an elaborate coronation ceremony.

The senior class was in charge of the coronation, decorating the stage in an appropriate manner, complete with the throne. The various other candidates for queen acted as princesses of the royal court, with their escorts as princes.

After the crowning of the queen, a short program was given the royal family, consisting of "Prayer Perfect," sung by the trio, Mary Jo North, Freida Martin and Margaret Martin; piano solo, Mary Jo North; and "I Love You Truly, Nellie Mae Summers.

Those in charge report that over $100 was cleared from the carnival, all of which will go into the athletic fund of the school.

COTTON MARKETING VOTE UP SATURDAY

COLLEGE STATION—The outcome of the cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 7, will have a direct effect on every cotton farmer in Texas and the rest of the South.

For the votes of the hundreds of thousands of cotton producers in 19 states will determine whether quotas will be in effect in 1941, whether the farmers who cooperate with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program will be protected from those who refuse to comply, and whether non-cooperators will be penalized for their failure to plant within their acreage allotments.

That's what the Texas AAA committee, meeting in College Station, pointed out to the cotton producers of Texas, all of whom are eligible to vote in the referendum, in a final statement before the voting begins at 9 a. m. Saturday.

"It is not necessary at this late date to point out again that we have on hand a two-year supply of cotton, or that the war has deprived us of nearly all of our export market, but every cotton farmer should bear these important facts in mind when he goes to vote," the committee said. "Ample information has been supplied all farmers in regard to these factors. All farmers already are familiar with quotas and know how they operate. Understanding these matters, they will realize why it is so important that all who are eligible to vote do so."

The committee reminded farmers that everyone who shared in the proceeds of a cotton crop in 1940 is eligible to vote, regardless of whether he is complying with the AAA program. Two exceptions to this rule were mentioned: (1) those producing cotton 1½ inches or more in staple length, which is not subject to quotas, and who are not producing other cotton, and (2) those, such as husband, wife and children, who participated in the production of cotton under a single rental or cropping agreement or lease. In the latter case, the person who entered into the agreement or lease is eligible, but the others are not.

No absentee voting by mail, proxy or agent will be permitted, but the voter who is outside his own district on referendum day may deposit his ballot in any authorized marketing quota ballot box.

No farmer, whether an individual, partnership, corporation, association or other legal entity, shall be entitled to more than one vote, even though he may have been engaged in the production of cotton in 1940 on two or more farms, or in two or more communities, counties, or states. In case two or more persons were engaged in producing cotton in 1940 not as members of a partnership but as tenants in common or joint tenants or as owners of community property, each such person is entitled to one vote, the committee declared. No poll tax is necessary.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Superintendent Hartley is offering scholarship awards, or achievement medals, for the four high school classes, and also medals for the best all-around boy and all-around girl in high school. Mr. Hartley donated similar medals last year at the commencement exercises. The awarding of medals produced a surprise on the part of some of the students who received them. The scholarship awards are being announced early this year. Texico students appreciate this wonderful gift by Mr. Hartley. From all indications, there are a number of students working for the medals to be awarded at the close of school.

MY MEMORY

When I think of days gone by,
And recall memories so dear;
I cannot help but sit and sigh;
Only yesterday, has been a year.

Those childhood joys, so many and sweet,
Have vanished quite hastily;
The precious hours spent at mother's feet,
Listening to stories she told,
With glee.

The schooldays dear, I'll never forget,
As I travel on life's highway;
I'll think of friends that I have met,
And trust I'll meet them again
Some day.

So, as the time flies by so fast,
And we march on to a higher degree;
The costly hours that have past,
Still linger in my memory.

SANTA LETTERS

Dear Santa Claus:

I like Christmas better than any other holiday because we always have lots of fun opening our gifts, and are always surprised at what we get.

Last year I got a doll, bracelet and necklace, a bottle of perfume and a little Bible. This year I want a pair of skates, a doll and bicycle.

Mother is going to buy a Christmas tree and decorate it with tinsel, lights and Christmas rope, some little bells, and put a big star at the top. I am sure I will have lots of fun on Christmas morning.

Love,
Luvonne Nichols, 5th Grade

—THS—

Dear Santa Claus,

How are you? I am just fine. I am sure you have a lot of toys. I know a little girl and boy whose folks cannot buy them toys, and I hope you will give them toys, and I hope you will give them toys on Christmas morning.

I want a necklace and a doctor and nurse kit. That is the only box I want. I would like to have a five-pound box of candy. That is all I want.

Santa Claus, please do not forget that little girl and boy I mentioned.

I thank you very much if you will see the little boy and girl on Christmas morning.

Love,
Kathryn Ann Stewart, 5th Grade.

—THS—

Dear Santa Claus,

I imagine you are getting ready to go to all the houses. I hope you come to my house first. I hope you leave me a lot of nuts and candy. But I would like to have different kinds of games also, how are you going to come? I would like to know so I can find your tracks. I imagine you will be black when you get through all the chimneys.

Your pal,
Jerry Paul.

—THS—

SIXTH GRADE

We had a good time at the carnival. Our room sold noise makers and balloons. We hope everyone had as much fun as we.

The Christmas program has an important place on our program now. We hope that the public will enjoy hearing it as much as we are enjoying preparing it.

Mr. McDonald has given us a very difficult arithmetic problem to work in our spare time. We like that kind of challenge.

We can hardly wait to learn the rest of the parts of speech in English. We know more than half of them now.

Mildred Murphy and Donald Ray Summers each had straight A report cards this time. James Paul and Fidel Ortega are the other two in our room who are on the Honor Roll.

—THS—

EIGHTH GRADE

The eighth grade had three on the honor roll this six weeks. They are: Leonard Lewis, Billy White and Mary Lee Moss.

Thursday night at the carnival the eighth grade sponsored the 42 games. Bill Knox was the queen's escort, and Bette Lou Flye and Billy White were princess and prince of the queen's court.

We have been studying about harmful substances in health. We find it very interesting.

—THS—

SEVENTH GRADE

We were very proud of one of our members, Mary Francis Selman, who was elected Queen of the Carnival.

At the carnival the seventh grade had a penny-a-pitch and get a balloon or buy one for a nickel. We also had a popcorn stand and sold peanuts. We made $8.13 on popcorn, peanuts and balloons.

NOTED VIOLINIST WILL BE PRESENTED HERE, 7TH

Under the auspices of the Texico-Farwell Woman's Club, Jeannette Ysaye, American violinist, will be presented in a special recital at the Farwell school-auditorium, Saturday evening of this week, December 7th.

Madam Ysaye started public recitals at the age of six, and since then has studied extensively both in America and abroad. For a year she studied under Eugene Ysaye in Cincinnati, while he was conducting the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, and later became his wife.

The violinist has been presented in concert to the European public by her husband, as the true exponent of his own violinistic ideals, as well as being an artist with true individualism in her own musical message. She has had several European tours, playing recitals and appearing as soloists with orchestras.

Her American debut was made in Town Hall, New York, under the direct sponsorship of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, to whom she was professor for several years while living in Belgium.

In addition to the numbers by Madam Ysaye, the "Rhapsody in Blue," will be played by Beckie Reeder, Arnold and Lucille P. Ballard. Ardath Johnson will play accompaniments for the selections of the evening.

Madame Ysaye comes here as a representative of the Musical Arts Conservatory of West Texas, Amarillo, which has been responsible for securing a number of noted musicians for concerts in this area. Admission prices for the violin concert will be 50c for adults and 25c for children. The hour 8:30 p. m. December 7th.

Wallace, Capitol Spanish Club, Improve Pan-American Relations

Work to Remove Language Barrier Between Countries; Continued Aid to England May Soon Require Large U. S. War Loans.

By BAUKHAGE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)
WASHINGTON.—It was midday in the Department of Agriculture building.

The goldfish in the marble basin in the patio were wiggling hopeful tails in the prospect of a few crumbs that might be dropped by clerks hurrying back to their desks from the cafeteria. At a table in a little luncheon room upstairs a man with tousled hair, a somewhat self-conscious smile on his face, pulled some manuscript from his pocket and began to read:

"Me es sumamente grato y honoroso . . ."

It was not a visiting Spanish dignitary saying in his native tongue, "it is indeed a great honor to be asked to make introductory remarks on the occasion of this distinguished gathering." It was the then secretary of agriculture, Henry Wallace, rehearsing before his fellow executives, the speech in Spanish that he was to deliver before the Pan American Republics, which studied the financial needs for activity in cultivating relations with South America.

Now money makes the mare go and this interdepartment committee's efforts helped secure the appropriation which put the teeth into the secretary's own practical efforts. Last July he saw one practical achievement of a step which he had been fighting for for years. It will make possible actual experimentation in the development of rubber in South America which may some day make us independent of the foreign rubber markets and bolster one of the greatest defense needs.

I mention rubber because it is typical of the practical work which Mr. Wallace has done. This step has won the gratitude of Latin America. But what is more important to the American farmer is that it stimulates growth of a product which complements but does not compete with his product.

Valuable Products Grown In Latin America

There are many other similar fields in which his efforts are bearing fruit. The department of agriculture, through study, through experimentation, through co-operation of representatives of the department attached to our diplomatic missions in Colombia and Argentina and our traveling representatives in South America, has made valuable studies which will aid the production of products the United States needs from South America which we can't raise here.

Here are some of them: First, rubber, which I mentioned; second, hemp; third, insecticidal roots (rotenone) so valuable to farmers who grow products like vegetables, for while this poison kills the bugs it is non-poisonous to man. Then there are the various hard woods we can't grow in our latitudes. A soil book, the result of Puerto Rican experiments, printed in Spanish has proved a gold mine to the folks of the Caribbean.

That rotenone is a story in itself. The secretary had read about how certain South American natives used these roots to kill fish. He followed it up. Had the department investigate it. Found how it could be processed in South America. Today seven million pounds are imported into the United States and when you realize that for use the solution is diluted five to one, you can see what a quantity our market can absorb.

And for every dollar of these complementary products sold here, the Latin American has just that many more dollars to spend in this country.

Britain's Resources Dwindling Rapidly

Washington is beginning to feel the weight of pressure groups which are demanding short cuts in our efforts to aid Britain.

There are a number of committees like the one headed by William Allen White to defend America by aiding the allies—formed when France was still an ally—which keep hammering on the White House door. They have various specific aims but the general purpose is help for Great Britain, with which most people agree heartily in principle.

The administration has taken no official recognition of these various propaganda movements. Of some it approves. Of others it disapproves. But it is becoming clear that some leaders in congress will not oppose certain specific demands when they become more pressing.

One is an amendment to the Johnson act which prohibits loans to foreign nations which haven't paid their war debts. There is no official confirmation of this step but it is taken for granted by those who are supposed to know, that administration support will not be lacking if and when such an amendment is proposed as it probably will be by the time the new congress has settled down early in the new year.

Earlier it was said that Britain had enough gold and securities in this country to cover her purchase of war supplies here for some time but latest figures indicate that she has placed orders for four and a half billion dollars worth of supplies already. This leaves only a billion and a half on credits, according to the estimates of experts, and it is believed that will soon be exhausted at the present rate of purchasing in this country.

United States navy medical experts are working out tests to discover whether a man is cool-headed. The purpose is to determine whether a person will keep his presence of mind in the face of danger. This is important in time of war.

Some men, no braver than the average, go right on doing what they are supposed to do in the presence of great danger whether they are frightened or not. Some become petrified. The navy wants to find out which are which and assign the men's duties accordingly.

Kathleen Norris Says:

The Quick Way to Peace

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

Do your share by establishing one small unit of perfection. A home in which man and woman love each other and their children. It is only when we get many such tiny solved individual problems that we can hope to solve the bigger ones.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

IN THESE exciting times try to live one day at a time, and do your best by that day.

Take it hour by hour and minute by minute, and polish those fragments of time as if each one was priceless—which indeed it is.

Stop worrying along vague and general lines, and take firmly into your hands those lines God has given you to hold. Ask yourself how much serenity and cheerfulness and courage you impart to the family circle; whether its members like to get home to you—look to you for inspiration and comfort and reassurance.

You may be very sure that in the great first war that gave us America, that gave us our new world of independence, there were women who were frightened, sneering, despairing, doubtful, helpless.

There were other women who held firmly to hope and courage through the darkest hours, who knew that the ideals for which their men were fighting were the true ideals, who never lost heart or faith.

They had mighty little to go on, those early colonial women who saw the shabbiness, the poverty, the lack of training, the six-week enlistments, the treachery of congress when Washington's ragged army was marching. But that didn't matter. They knew that issues in this life aren't decided by anything you can write on a blackboard or prove by a chart. They knew that the final and deciding factor is what is in men's hearts and souls, and of that they were sure.

Be Brave—It's Contagious.

Solve YOUR problem today, with charity and energy and cheerfulness, and never doubt that that bravery will unite itself to a thousand—a million more scraps of bravery and hope everywhere in the world, and bring us all out to a freer and happier future.

Keep the house clean and peaceful. Keep your own soul and mind the same. Keep out of agitating arguments and contentions; don't let anyone scare or depress you with glib predictions of dismay and ruin, and if you must think of the madhouse that is Europe today think of it with prayer.

These are the days in which to see life as an adventure, not a flowery stroll through the Garden of Eden. Sometimes a scary adventure, sometimes a breath-taking adventure, but of nothing of which to be afraid—except fear. Don't let children hear discouraged talk; don't let the man of the house come to discouragement.

An Optimistic Spirit Marches On.

You've of course had the experience of sometimes meeting a friend in the market or at the club—a friend who is irrepressibly optimistic and heartening. She doesn't know any more about world conditions than anyone else, but at that she probably knows as much as the smartest politician, statesman or press agent does.

She says that things are better everywhere. People's spirit is wonderful. The nations we love are showing wonderful courage, and the nations we dislike are merely mis-

HAPPINESS

Kathleen Norris says there is no need to worry about the rest of the world, or what will happen to us at some distant time in the future. She advises everyone to live one day at a time, and to make the best of that day. Stop worrying about the trouble elsewhere in the world, Miss Norris says, and concentrate on your own home and family—make them as happy and perfect as you can.

led and will come back to their senses one of these days. Dictators will die and peace will be re-established on firmer ground and after the darkness of this temporary fury, we will see the dim beauty that means a new dawn.

Well, you may not fully believe her but what a tonic she is! In spite of yourself you find yourself more hopeful; and when you quote her at home everyone else partakes of the same hope.

Civilization Will Survive.

And why not? She is at least as reasonable as the fearful and dismal prophets who see nothing but gloom ahead. For all wars HAVE ended, and although Napoleon and Cromwell and many others were all supposed to destroy civilization in their day, and wipe great nations from the face of the earth, somehow they never did. Sanity crept back again, schools reopened, fields were sown; mourning and poverty held sway for awhile, and then the spring came back, and with it lovers and lilacs and new plans.

After the war the world is going to need everything that we can give it of help and service. They are going to need food, over there, clothes, bedding, medicine, tools. We have to be ready with all that, and the only way we can give it is to get our own house in order. Solve America's problems; lessen the need for relief; lessen unemployment; replace un-American plots and "isms" with a good healthy revival of the spirit that created the Declaration of Independence.

And that has to begin with individual homes like yours and mine. Homes free of debt and disorder, of complaining and discontent. One million such homes, scattered all over the continent, would be the beginnings of a new America. Ten million would make us the strongest, happiest, richest, most independent nation on the earth.

Put Own House in Order.

So do your share by establishing one small unit of perfection. A home in which a man and woman love each other and their children. A home with a clean, warm kitchen, and a little garden, and a telephone and a radio and a gas stove and an electric refrigerator. A home to which outsiders look with admiration and envy. A home with books in it, and winter fires, and laughter, and a flag, and pleasant voices. One small oasis of perfection in a turbulent and troubled world. For it is only when we get many such tiny solved individual problems that we can hope to solve the bigger ones.

Too few women—honestly eager to do their part in great national crises, forget that those crises are caused and brought on by the inefficiency and ignorance and discontent of millions of apparently unimportant citizens who won't live the day for the day, and the hour for the hour, and make perfect those things they do control and so lift from the world just one more fraction of its age-old pain.

A Few Little Smiles

ALL ALIKE

In the gray light of early morning, the traveler faced the night clerk of the country hotel.

"You gave me the worst bed in the place," he began. "If you don't change my bed before tonight, I shall go to another hotel."

"There's no difference in the beds, sir," replied the clerk, respectfully.

The traveler smiled ironically.

"If that's so," he said, "perhaps you wouldn't mind giving me the room on the left of mine?"

"It's occupied, sir."

"I know it is—by a man who has been snoring all night, and who was at it ten minutes ago. His bed must be better than mine, or he couldn't sleep for six solid hours at a stretch."

"The beds are all alike," repeated the clerk, firmly. "That man has been here before, sir, and he always sleeps on the floor!"

SIMPLE GAME

"Does it take very long to learn to play this game of golf?"

"Why, no. Not if you eliminate the time you spend in looking for lost golf balls."

Just in Case

A farmer was driving a spirited horse through a village when he overtook the local doctor and offered him a lift. A few minutes later the horse bolted and upset the carriage, throwing the two into the road. The doctor scrambled to his feet and turned angrily to the farmer.

"What do you mean by inviting me to drive behind such an animal?"

"Well," replied the farmer, "I always like to have a doctor with me when I drive that horse."

Not So Stupid

Father was losing his temper with his son, who, it appeared, was quite incapable of learning anything.

One day, when the lad was even more than usually stupid, his father gave him 25 cents and sent him around to the local druggist for a quarter's worth of common sense.

The boy took the 25 cents and, just as he got to the door, turned to his father:

"Shall I say it's for you, dad?" he asked quietly.

Blank Verse

Roberta's older sister often composed verses and one evening made the statement: "I can make up poetry if I want to." Sister responded: "Well, Roberta, make up some for me now," to which she replied:

"The little bird sat on the nest,

Waiting patiently for the rest."

"Well, go on, what's the rest of it?" sister asked.

"Oh," said Roberta, "the rest of it's blank verse."

Lucky

A workman on some scaffolding had dropped a load of bricks.

"Confound you!" shouted a passer-by. "One of those bricks hit me on the head!"

"Lumme! You ought to consider yourself lucky. Look at all their what didn't!"

GOOD ANSWER

"I am afraid she is going to turn me down."

"I can tell you how to prevent that."

"By Jove, old chap; can you?"

"Sure. Don't propose."

Money Saved

Goofus—Well, I beat Borrowley out of 50 cents.

Rufus—How did you manage to do that?

Goofus—He asked me for a dollar and I only gave him a half dollar.

LIVING COSTS

On every hand you hear the prediction that prices are going up as a result of the defense program. So far there is no marked increase in the cost of living.

The bureau of labor statistics in Washington is paying particular attention to retail prices in towns where there are defense industries. But if they do see prices going up what will they do about it? Nobody knows.

West Camp 4-H Club

The 4-H club of West Camp was called to order Thursday, Nov. 28, by the president. Games were played and songs sung. Due to the absence of the secretary and reporter, the minutes and roll call were not checked. The business session was a discussion of a Christmas party, to be held at the school house on December 19. Each girl is to invite her mother and bring a gift. Refreshments to be served are pop corn and candy, home-made and bought.

Members present were: Vera Lee Morgan, Wilda Jean Green, Catherine Cranmer, President Maxine Hughes and sponsor, Mrs. Dickerson.

Farwell Cagers Meet Bovina Teams, 10th

The Farwell cage teams will open hostilities on the home court, Tuesday evening of next week, December 10th, when the Bovina squads will visit here. Coaches M. D. Conger and Iris Thornton reported today.

With the season now actually under way, sports fans have tossed their football views out the window and are now settling down for a series of lively cage games to be staged here, with the Bovina teams listed as the first visitors of the '40-41 schedule.

As to what the teams may expect when they clash with Bovina, sportscasters were in the dark. Bovina tangled with the Texico boys and girls recently, and lost both games, all of which may or may not mean something to the Farwell teams.

Game time has been set at 7:30, with regular admission prices prevailing at the door. Sponsors are asking that the public turn out in full force for this, the first home game of the season.

Texas oilmen spent over $60,000,000 last year in drilling dry holes in Texas in an effort to find new oil reserves.

Exhibits Are Being Listed for Quilt and Bedspread Display

Miss Ruth Boyd, county demonstrator, stated this week that the home demonstration and FSA women were receiving a gratifying response to their request for articles to be exhibited at the quilt, bedspread and table cloth show, to be held Saturday of this week in the gymnasium of the Friona school.

All women of the county who are interested in showing their handiwork are urged to enter exhibits in the various lines of the show, officials said, as the show is not restricted to club women or clients of the FSA group, who are cooperating in staging the show.

Miss Lida Cooper, district supervisor of the home demonstration groups, and Miss Lillie Gentry, Bailey county agent, have accepted the invitation to act as judges, and Mrs. Ruby Mathews, FSA supervisor, has been invited to assist in the judging.

The official ranking will open around 10:30 in the morning, Miss Boyd has announced, with all rating being concluded by the noon hour, in order that visitors may see the placements when they visit the show. First, second and third places will be noted, with ribbons denoting the rank.

All entries are to be on hand by 10 o'clock the morning of the 7th, Miss Boyd said. Hand-made table cloths, bedspreads, and quilts will feature the show, and the entries are sure to attract a good deal of attention, Miss Boyd opined.

Two educational exhibits will be set up by the home demonstration council, one being a "bedroom window" exhibit, which was displayed at the Lubbock Fair in the fall, and the other being an exhibit of home-made gifts for Christmas.

No fees are charged for entries at the show, and the sponsors are anxious that all women of the county exhibit their work at this time. Those wishing to enter articles may contact Miss Boyd or Miss Wynona Swepston, at the courthouse in Farwell.

Floyd Gets Two-Point Win In Tie Play-off

The Floyd seniors took a close two-point victory over the defending Texico boys, last Friday night, in a tied game play-off on the Texico court. Combs, of Floyd, won the game for his team when he sank a one-handed shot in the early part of the extra period, to place the score at 28-26.

The game throughout was one of the tightest ever staged on this court early in the season, with the Texico team, rated as underdogs in the match, going into do battle against a more experienced Floyd team in a manner that upset the dope bucket.

Time and time again the count was tied, with neither team ever being in the lead more than two or three points, after the first quarter, when Texico was trailing 5-10. Butler, Combs and Townsend did the heavy work for the winners, while Thompson led their scoring with 12 points.

For the Texico lads, Blaine was by far the outstanding defense player, with J. Flye doing good work under the basket and Baldock turning in one of the best games of his career, along with White, who did exceptional work.

For that matter, the whole Texico team clicked in a manner that was not an agreeable surprise to the visiting Floyd squad, which boasted the return of a majority of senior players. Baldock led the Texico scoring, making four long shots from center and adding an extra point. J. Flye was second high with a total of 8.

Texico Juniors Win
The junior game was definitely no slouch, either, as the Texico cagers took a last-second victory over Floyd, 24-26, when Summers tossed in a basket a split second before the horn ended the game.

Running on the tag end of the score most of the game, the locals came from behind in a spectacular manner during the closing minutes of play, with Summers knotting the score, and then sinking the basket that gave the game to Texico.

Taylor and Payne, of the visitors, led the defense until removed from the game on fouls, while Turner was high for Floyd, turning in a total of 9 points.
Summers had the high tally for the Texico-ites, with a count of 7, while Drace and Knox were tied with 6 each.

Three Texico Teams To Ranchvale Friday

Three teams representing the cage department of the Texico school will visit on the Ranchvale court, Friday evening of this week, with the junior high and senior boys' teams, and the girls' squad, all staging matches. After the close defeat taken at the hands of the visiting Floyd team the past Friday, the Texico-ites are hoped to be out in front of the Ranchvale cagers, providing all members of the senior team are on hand when the game begins.

The Ranchvale seniors lost to Floyd by a count of 39-10, while Texico tied Floyd at the end of the fourth quarter, and then lost by two points in the final period, all of which seems to give the locals an edge on their coming opponents.

As for the girls, the Texico team has shown considerable strength in downing the Bovina and Oklahoma Lane teams, and are slated for a repeat over the Ranchvale team, although the local sports followers have not seen the Ranchvale girls in action to date.

The junior high boys who took a close game from Floyd last Friday, will also compete with the Ranchvale team, and this game is strictly dark horse, with little information of any kind being received here as to the calibre of the Ranchvale team.

Murder Mystery Slated For Farwell Juniors

"Three Taps Before Midnight," a murder mystery in three acts, has been slated for the Farwell junior class play, with presentation to be held in the auditorium of the school on Friday, December 13th, an appropriate date for a mystery.

The plot revolves around the murder of invalid Jamieson Edwards, who invites his worst enemies to dinner in order to gloat over them, and is killed during the playing of the game "murder."

When Edwards' nephew, Dick, and his sweetheart, Cassandra, arrive on the scene, they accuse all members of the dinner party, knowing their intense hatred of the old man, with the murderer being revealed just as the play closes.

In the cast are: Jamieson Edwards, A. G. Acker; Dick Edwards, Lyndell Ritchie; Cassandra Dahlbeck, Johnny Hillhouse; Dr. J. Frank Hull, the typical quack, Jack Dunn; Harmon Gage, hen-pecked husband, Scott Billingsley; Martha Gage, his wife, Lenora Birchford; Mrs. Jane Baker, husband-hunting widow, Merle Lovelace; Edwin Dahlbeck, confirmed drunkard, Charles Holland; Catfish Carruthers, football husky and roommate of Dick Edwards, James Martin.

The play will begin at 7:30, with admission prices of 15 and 25 cents prevailing at the door. Play attendants who like a dash of mystery and a spice of humor in their diet will enjoy the presentation.

Council Officers Are Named for Demos

Officers for the home demonstration council of Parmer county were named at a recent meeting of the clubbers, Miss Ruth Boyd, home demonstration agent, said today.

Mrs. A. H. Boatman of Hub, who served as chairman of the group the past year, was re-elected to that position. Mrs. Travis Golloway, of the Midway club, was named as vice chairman; Mrs. Will Nittler, of Bovina, re-elected secretary; and Mrs. Guy Bennett, of Friona, named to succeed herself as treasurer.

Miss Boyd stated that these officials were named for the 1941 club year.

SPLIT GAMES WITH FRIONA

Last minute information as The Tribune went to press, was to the effect that the Farwell boys downed the Friona cagers, Tuesday night, by a count of 28-24, while the girls lost to Friona, 32-8. The matches were played at Friona.

The Farwell boys showed up well in the game, Coach M. D. Conger reported. Acker and Phillips were tied for high for the locals, having 9 each, while Beaver was the outstanding Friona player, tallying 10 points and running the local defense ragged.

Nine popes have taken the name Boniface.

Vacation Dates Are Set for Local Schools

Christmas vacation will be observed in both the Texico and Farwell schools from December 20th to December 30th, Supts. L. A. Hartley and J. T. Carter said this week, following recent action by the official boards of the schools.

Since Christmas Day falls on Wednesday, school officials are dismissing classes on the Friday before. Classes will remain adjourned until the Monday after Christmas, by which time probably all the youngsters will have worn their parents into frazzles with demonstrations of new toys.

This is the first time in a number of years that only one week has been given for the Yuletide holidays, but with Christmas coming as it does, it was considered that the vacation period would be sufficient.

LOSE TO OKLA. LANE

The Texico cage teams took defeats from the Oklahoma Lane players, Tuesday night, at Oklahoma, when the boys dropped their match by a close score of 24-26, and the girls went under by a three-point tally, 16-19. Previously, Texico had defeated both teams on the local court.

GINNING REPORT

A total of 3081 bales of cotton had been ginned in Parmer county up to November 14, it was announced here today by the Department of Census. Up to the same period last year 4332 bales had been ginned in the county.

The same report gives Bailey county 22,003 for the 1940 crop as compared to 8672 for last year.
