

Prisoners Headed for U. S.

German prisoners aboard a coast guard-manned transport—war weariness and homesickness alike seem evident in the faces of these German prisoners as they gather around on deck. They face a long period of internment in the United States before they return to the homeland which they are singing about here.

Invasion Details Are Recounted by Cranfill

Mansell Cranfill, who had been in England for some months with a Seabee unit, serving in headquarters supply, writes home giving a resume of the landing of his group and some of their subsequent experiences. Excerpts from his letter follow:

"Headquarters pulled into the beachhead on D plus 2 and German 88's were still firing down the beach. It was evening and we remained aboard overnight. Our ships were really pouring salvos into the Germans. All hell busted loose about 10 p. m. when the Jerrys came over. They were there practically all night. The sky was streaked with tracer shells and flares. It would have been a pretty night if I hadn't been too busy dodging the flak and bullets.

"We disembarked the next morning with about a 150-lb. pack. The water was plenty cold and wet but we hardly noticed it, as we were too busy trying to reach the beach safely, which was indescribably littered with debris. We weren't safe even after reaching the beach. The Germans had mines everywhere, which proved to be the most dangerous things to contend with besides the snipers. The thought of them was always in our minds. We walked up the beach in heavy gravel and up a hill to where we now have our camp, a distance of probably four miles. I married me a mate and we pitched our shelter halves (pup tent) together next to a mine field heavy with brush, a hedgerow with a ditch was in back of us. There were snipers in the field and for a few days until they were cleaned out, every time we heard a rifle shot we ducked.

"The first evening we were having a physical muster until Jerry dropped in on us from a cloud. Ha! The battalion broke their necks trying to get under cover—it ended the muster. There was no damage done as one of our planes met it and a running battle followed until Jerry ducked in the clouds again. Then at dusk the air raids started and we immediately crawled into the ditch next to the hedgerow. Curiosity couldn't keep our heads down and even if flak was whistling all around we had to look. We faced toward the channel and with the thousands of ships in the harbor with all their guns firing tracers and rockets directed into the sky at the German planes, it was a sight to see. Fourth of July fireworks is like a candle to the sun compared to it.

"Well, anyway, we have had air raids every night but two or three since we have been here. It's an old story now. We wake up when the guns start, yawn and just crawl down a little farther and go back to sleep.

"The dust, rain, mud and mines are the worst of all now. When it is

ON OFFICIAL BUSINESS

District Judge John Aldridge of this city, spent most of last week in the northern end of the district on official business. He will go to Stratford this week to preside over court there. He will make his first appearance in Parmer county on the bench next Tuesday when he will preside over the trial of three, charged with burglary in this county.

Farwell Soldier Has Close Call in France

Pfc. George H. Poteet, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Poteet of this city, has been seeing some real action in France, according to a letter received here the first of the week which was relayed to his parents by Mrs. Poteet, who is now in Louisiana.

According to Pvt. Poteet's letter, he and his buddies were manning an anti-aircraft gun and had just succeeded in downing a German plane. During the engagement, his buddy was shot through the leg. "And when I came to, the seat of my pants was missing," he adds.

ALREADY HOLDING the Presidential citation and other honors, Gwynne White, pictured above, has recently been made Master Sergeant with the 5th AAF. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. White of Farwell.

White Makes M-Sgt. With 5 AAF Group

FIFTH AIR FORCE, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC — Gwynne W. White, who wears a Presidential Unit Citation and four bronze stars for participation in the East Indies, Papanu, New Guinea and Kuon Peninsula campaigns, was recently promoted to the grade of Master Sergeant. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. White of Farwell, is serving a flight chief with "Satan's Angels", a P-38 Lightning fighter unit with the Fifth Air Force in New Guinea.

A graduate of Farwell High School, Sergeant White enlisted in the Air Force in November, 1940, and has been overseas the last 30 months. He was formerly associated with the Robert's Seed Company.

Johnson Grass Threatening Farm Land

Local Pilot Relaxes After 30 Missions

First Lieutenant Wilbert White, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. White of Farwell, is home for a breather after completing thirty missions as pilot of "Incendiary Sue", a Liberator bomber, in the Southwest Pacific Theatre.

Unreturbed by his 10 months overseas, Lt. White is chatting with friends and relatives here while on his 30-day furlough, and admits casually that the ribbons he wears include the Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Air Medal with three clusters, and the Asiatic theatre, with two stars signifying participation in two campaigns.

A member of the Seventh Air Force, the particular squadron to which Lt. White belongs is named "The Pathfinders", having six "first" bomb runs over enemy territory in the Pacific. "The only one we had missed being first on until I came home was the bombing of the Gilberts," he said.

Thirty times Incendiary Sue took her same crew out—over Truk, the Marianas, the Carolines, the Marshalls, Wake, and Saipan—and thirty times the group came back intact. Nearest casualty was a slight scratch on one cheek; while during one raid over the Marshalls, a shell went squarely between Lt. White and his co-pilot "and from then on in we had air-conditioning," the flyer reported, adding, "It felt pretty good—things were pretty hot about then."

The plane bears on her side four flags, signifying Zeros sent to their death, and likewise wears the stripes of 52 missions. The last 22 have been added since Lt. White completed his 30 trips, as he has served as operations officer for the past three months.

"That 45 seconds level flying over the target is the longest you ever live," Lt. White said, going on to state that the squadron to which he belongs holds a record for longest flights, most of them averaging 13 or 14 hours—and all made without fighter escort.

The food situation, on the average, was "better than we expected," the Farwell pilot related, going on to say, "one time we got a little ahead of our supply lines and had C rations for three weeks." He praised the Seabees and Army engineers for quick repair made on landing strips to put them in use for American planes after the Japs had been driven out.

Lt. White received his wings at Waco, Texas, and received his promotion to First Lieutenant while overseas. He is to report to San Francisco at the end of his visit, and will rejoin his squadron as operations officer. "I left them in the Marshalls," he grinned, "but I expect to go farther than that when I go back."

Crops Showing Effect Of Continued Drouth

From present indications, Parmer county will produce one of the shortest feed crops in recent years, due to the continued dry, hot weather that has prevailed here for the past several weeks.

Hot winds, rarely ever known in this area, have parched growing crops to such an extent that it is feared they will not be revived even if abundant rains come at an early date. Range conditions are also bad and stockmen fear that there will be a shortage of grass for winter pasturage.

Cotton seems to be the only crop in the county that is standing up under unprecedented heat and dry weather. The acreage of this crop is low, however, and predictions are that only one of the five gins in the county will be in operation this fall. E. M. Deaton is making plans to operate the Lariat gin, and gave it as his opinion that this would be the only gin to turn a wheel this fall. He estimated that ginnings at Lariat would not exceed 1,000 bales for the season.

COMING TO PARMER

Miss Graham Hard, emergency war food administration assistant, will be in the office of the county agent in Parmer county from August 21 to 26, it was announced here today.

Alleged Ration Coupon Thieves To Face Trial

A petit jury has been called in the district court of Parmer county on Tuesday, August 22, to try L. A. Crawford, Dibbs Crawford and E. C. Brookshire for burglary in connection with allegedly entering the Parmer county rationing office and obtaining a quantity of gas stamps. They are charged with having entered the local ration office on the night of Feb. 16th this year.

This will be the first time a petit jury has been called in district court here during the present year.

Methodist Meeting Will Close Sunday

The revival meeting now in progress at the Methodist Church in this city, will close with the services on Sunday evening, it has been announced.

Rev. Orion W. Carter, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Childress, who is here doing the preaching, will deliver his final sermon on Friday night and will depart for his home the next day, leaving the concluding sermons of the meeting to Rev. Paul H. Tripp, local pastor.

Eleven additions, four of them by baptism, were received into the church last Sunday. Plans are being laid for church membership day next Sunday, when it is expected that an additional class will be received into the church.

Bovina Church Begins Revival on Thursday

With Minister Willis Kreager, pastor of Gainesville, Texas, doing the preaching, the Church of Christ at Bovina begins a ten-day revival meeting on Thursday night of this week.

Services will be conducted each evening, starting at 9 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Supt. Ray Lofton of Melrose, N. M., was here on a business mission Tuesday.

THREE ITALIANS ESCAPE

Peace officers in this region were notified to be on the lookout for three Italian prisoners, who escaped from a prison camp at Hereford on Monday night. All three were described as dark, short, and of stocky build. None of them can speak English, the report said.

Final Figures Boost County Bond Sales

War Bond sales in Parmer County during the Fifth War Loan were considerably heightened with receipt of the final report, as compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, received here this week by G. D. Anderson, War Fund chairman. Against an overall quota of $265,000, the Parmer county purchases actual amount to a grand total of $303,306.50, which is approximately 13% in excess of the county quota. Over the entire state of Texas, the quota was exceeded by slightly less than 11%.

The sale of series E bonds in the county accounted for more than half the amount sold during the drive, while other sales were also well above the quotas.

Figures released by the Federal Reserve Bank credit the following sales to this county:

Series E bonds	$165,637.50
Series F bonds	16,169.00
Series G bonds	52,000.00
Series C tax notes	16,000.00
2 1/2% Treasury bonds	500.00
1 1/4% Treasury notes	41,000.00
3/8% Certificates	7,000.00
Total	303,306.50

COMMISSIONERS MEET

The Parmer County Commissioners Court was in session here Monday. Aside from the regular routine of business, the Commissioners approved the expense account of Sheriff Earl Booth for the period of April to July, inclusive, in the amount of $1672.50.

The Court also set Monday, August 28th, as the date for conducting a public hearing on the county budget for the year of 1945.

TO ATTEND REUNION

The M. H. Poteet family will leave here Saturday for Ralls, where they will attend a family reunion of the Poteet group on Sunday. The parents and ten children are all living, and all plan to be present except two sons who are overseas.

Mrs. Poteet announced that her cafe would be closed Saturday afternoon and all Sunday during her absence.

SMALL SHED BURNS

A small shed, used primarily for a storage room at the "Shorty" Jacks home in north Texico, burned to the ground Sunday afternoon. Mr. Jacks said he sustained no loss except some chicken feed in the building. No one was at home at the time of the fire and its origin is unknown.

Miss Theda White spent the week end with relatives in Farwell, returning to her work with the Santa Fe in Hereford the first of the week.

The choice farm lands of Parmer county are being seriously threatened with inroads of Johnson grass, which, if allowed to go unchecked, presents a real menace to farmers of this county.

This is an observation well known to every operator in the county, but it was emphasized this week by local grain men, who are finding difficulty in disposing of grains grown in this county, due to Johnson grass content.

A number of formerly good fields have almost been completely "taken" by Johnson grass, and each year the threat to other lands becomes more acute.

"We are going to wake up some of these days to discover that our farms have been rendered unfit for crops," W. Bart Osborne of the Farwell elevator, observed. And C. M. Henderson pointed out that sale of Parmer county grains, particularly sudan, was being penalized by the presence of Johnson grass seed in the threshed crops.

Henderson suggested a movement should be started at once to rid the county of this threat to the land, starting first along the right-of-ways on county and state roads. "There is no use for the farmers to rid their fields of the grass unless it is killed along the high-ways," he said.

Priorities Present Problem

Wartime priorities, Henderson said, have made it almost impossible to obtain chemical weed killers in sufficient quantities to accomplish much results on a county-wide basis, but he expressed the opinion that a carload of such chemicals could be secured for this county, "if we get together and bring enough pressure to bear."

Local farmers claim that Johnson grass can be killed with repeated plowings in dry weather, which brought forth the suggestion that now was a mighty good time to start such a program. "Surely, there never was a more ideal time to kill it out if dry weather is all we are waiting for," one farmer offered.

Entry List of Stock Show Closes Friday

All stock which is to be entered in the Parmer County Dairy Show must be listed with officials of the affair by or on Friday of this week, August 18th, County Agent Garlon A. Harper announced today, in order that stall lists may be complete.

The dairy show, second in the history of Parmer county, opens its doors on Thursday, August 24, at Bovina, beginning with a milk production contest. Judging of the two breeds of registered animals—Milking Shorthorn and Jersey—will be held on Friday, followed by a dairy program that night. The show will close on Saturday afternoon.

Those in charge were of the belief that a large number of entries can be expected for the show, with an attractive prize list arranged.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mrs. Raymond Ross of Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Graham of Farwell, underwent a major operation in a Lubbock hospital the past week. Her parents and brother, Muggins, visited her over the weekend, and reported on Tuesday that she was convalescing.

And So, You're Too Busy . . .

This is a story about the women and girls of Texico-Farwell who have been "too busy" to help out with Red Cross bandage making. We don't think you'll like it, because it isn't a very pretty story.

It's not a love story, unless you want to consider the love of those who are willing to give some of their time and energy to the making of these all-important bandages, so badly needed at the many front lines.

Now, these people lived in Texico and Farwell and enjoyed the things which Americans have always enjoyed—the things, incidentally, for which millions of American boys are fighting. But, still, they just "didn't have time", when it came to making bandages. Nobody could MAKE them go help out at the Red Cross room, because in America we don't do things that way. We ASK our people to do the things at home that they can do, and expect them to find the time to do it.

So, these people went on living their smug little lives—too busy to help out. Sometimes they actually had a reason, illness, or such, but too many of them were listed in the category of those who just didn't have the ambition or the desire to help out.

It's a funny thing, but we've never heard of a guy who was wearing a uniform telling somebody that he was "too tired" or "didn't have time" to go that extra piece which might mean the saving of lives. Maybe when this all came up they felt that they would rather stay home, too, and live the kind of life they wanted, but they're gone, right now tied up in the business of getting for us the kind of life we want.

It's a little thing, this rolling of Red Cross bandages—but, did you ever stop to think that somebody else may have already made bandages which might be used on your husband, your boy, your sweetheart, your father, your best friend? It doesn't really take a lot of that precious time you are hoarding, just a couple of hours on Monday or Friday, afternoon or night.

We haven't read the end of the story yet—maybe it's a good thing because a community needs to think highly of all its people.

You "don't have time"? Tell it to the Marines, sister!

NEW PUBLICATION ISSUED

COLLEGE STATION—A guide to Texas farm families on the production, care and utilization of clean milk has been published by Texas A&M Extension Service and is available for free distribution from the offices of county demonstration agents.

The publication is entitled "Better Milk for Better Meals" and its authors are Hazel Phipps, former specialist in food preparation and now assistant state demonstration agent, and Gladys Martin, home dairy specialist.

An explanation of the nutritional values of milk is given in the introduction followed by eight points to follow in production and care of clean milk. The bulletin concludes with seven recommended recipes which help assure an adequate amount of milk in the diet. The Texas Food Standard recommends three-fourths to one quart of milk daily for children under 16 and one pint daily for adults.

TWO BOTTLES OF QUININE

NEW GUINEA—While completing her Christmas inventories, putting her merchandise in shape, and dusting off the shelves of her general store in Carlsbad, Lida M. Duncan discovered two bottles of quinine tablets. They had gathered dust on the shelves for months. There she read of the great need for quinine in Pacific combat areas. And on April 12, into a Red Cross field director's office here, came a small package addressed to "American Red Cross, New Guinea, Pacific Ocean". The quinine it contained was a welcome addition to the base dispensary.

Victory is Everybody's Job,

Gasoline Delivery Big Factor In Jap Defeats

Aviation gasoline and other petroleum products are being delivered so successfully in the New Guinea campaign that Far East Air Forces' planes never lack fuel to go up against the Japanese. Lieutenant Colonel Lawrence E. Brown reported to the War Department today.

American ingenuity and willingness and cooperation between the various services have made possible this achievement, in the opinion of Colonel Brown, chief of the petroleum section, supply division of the Far East Air Command, who is in Washington on temporary duty.

"Aviation gasoline, greases and oil were put in the same class by the fliers as a bottle of milk to the average American," he said. "They always expected to find it there in the morning, because that was a job that had to be done before the operation could start."

"When the landing was made on the Admiralty Islands, the battle moved so fast that airplanes landed on the strip there to find that ships carrying refueling vehicles hadn't arrived."

"The men at a New Guinea base, over 300 miles away, took 20 refueling trailers apart, fitted each one in a C-47 and sent them on to the Admiralty Islands. There they were reassembled, the gas and oil pumped into them and hauled to the airport. The whole job was accomplished in 24 hours. The idea was executed by an Air Service Command Technical Sergeant.

"On Wadke Island there was a problem of getting gas and oil from the ships anchored out from shore to the airfield in a hurry so our planes could keep hitting the Japs."

"One man, a private first class, in the Army Engineers, supervised the rigging up of a pipeline from the big oil barges to the shore. The oil flowed by gravity from storage tanks to refueling vehicles. This job was done in 10 hours and saved the use of at least a battalion of men handling the chore of bringing gasoline ashore in drums and then loading them on trucks."

A pipeline was run from a bay to Hollandia airfield over 13 miles of hills and swamps by the engineers, who worked night and day to finish the project and get the supplies moving in for the planes.

Another job the engineers did was to install a pipeline in the Lea area through 30 miles of jungle. An officer, eight enlisted men and 60 natives did this in a month. A jetty and tanks at either end also were erected in that time.

Illustrating how well the Army and Navy worked together in the New Guinea Huon campaign, Col. Brown told how an Army engineer worked with Seabees, who in 30 days erected a petroleum jetty capable of accommodating a Liberty tanker, and also a series of storage tanks. The men also strung a pipeline four miles to an airfield and another line from the storage tanks to the harbor where Navy P-T boats could refuel.

Texas farmers in May took in $83,000,000 in cash for their crops—or 175 per cent more than during the average May of the five-year period 1928-32, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, University of Texas business statistician.

RURAL TEACHERS WOULD BENEFIT IN TENURE LAW

AUSTIN—Rural school teachers are the ones who most need and would benefit most from a state tenure law, a speaker declared at a one-day Institute for Professional Relations of Teachers, called by the University of Texas.

The speaker was Prof. George B. Wilcox, director of student personnel at Texas A & M, who outlined past, present and proposed legislation affecting teachers' welfare.

A tenure law, according to Wilcox, would (1) offer protection to competent teachers against unjust discharges, thereby enabling them to devote their full attention to their duties; (2) encourage efficient, public-spirited teachers to remain in teaching profession; (3) provide reasonable personal and academic freedom to the individual teacher and prevent commercial or political domination.

"At present, without tenure, the individual teachers who most needs protection—the teacher in the rural, isolated areas—is the one least able to protect himself or herself from whims or prejudices," Wilcox declared.

"In the larger cities, the teachers have been able to make their needs known to the public and to school officials, so they have fairly adequate tenure. But the great majority who serve in the rural communities are not organized, and they do not make their voices heard."

Wilcox also insisted that the present equalization law is "a patchwork of expedients," rather than a well-rounded program to afford equal educational opportunities to all the youth of the state.

He urged that a sound equalization law "must be based on some adequate minimum program of educational service" so that districts in need of state aid would know what service they are expected to supply and be able to ask for sufficient aid in supplement of local funds to permit them to furnish that adequate service.

"There must also be a tax program to go along with the equalization law," he declared, in order to provide adequate funds actually to equalize the educational program offered in all parts of the state.

FBI Seeks Information On Randel Throneberry

J. Edgar Hoover, director, FBI, today released to all law enforcement agencies wanted notices reflecting the fingerprint impressions and photograph of Randel Odell Throneberry, with aliases J. C. Kirby, Randel Odell Thornberry, Randel Thorneburg, R. O. Thornberry, Randall Throneberry and "Brown", wanted for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder and for violation of the national motor vehicle theft act.

He was born Oct. 20, 1917, at Cleburne, Texas. Since 1934, he has been arrested on numerous occasions in Texas, Missouri, Arkansas, Wyoming and Colorado on charge including robbery with firearms, and murder.

Throneberry is married to Reba Hurt Throneberry and has two sons, aged two and five. Investigation has indicated the probability that his wife and sons are with him. He is believed to be armed and is considered a dangerous fugitive.

Throneberry is described as being 26 years of age, 5 feet 1 inches in height, weighing 140. His eyes and hair are brown, his complexion is "medium" and his build is slender. The initials "RT" are tattooed on his left forearm; there is an one-half inch scar over his right eye, a scar above the little finger of his left hand, and a four-point scar on the inside of his left forearm. His wife is 23, described as being approximately 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 130, with blonde hair and blue eyes.

Anyone having information is requested to communicate with the FBI division office, 1318 Mercantile Bank Building, telephone Riverside 6101, Dallas, Texas, or with any local law enforcement agency.

Two business men were riding on the subway, sitting side by side, looking harassed and worried, but saying nothing.

... says Reddy Kilowatt YOUR ELECTRICAL SERVANT

Factories, homes, farms, stores—all depend on me for a convenient, continuous, ample supply of electric power. And think what I mean to them! Without me most of the factories doing essential war work in this region would have to stop operating. As for your home as well as countless others—can you imagine them without electric lights and appliances? Farms have been depending on me more and more since so many of the boys went into service. On many farms I'm just about the only "hired hand" left! Very few stores could get along without me.

Even though I'm helping you win the war in the factories, I have always been right on hand when you wanted me anywhere else. Electric power in our territory has never been rationed, has never been too little or too late.

(Reddy Kilowatt, your electrical servant, is the symbol and spokesman of the electricity furnished by your electric service company.)

H. J. R. NO. 8

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Sections 51-e and 51-f; Section 51-e providing that cities and towns in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for its employees, provided, however, that no pension system shall be set up in any city until it has been approved at an election by qualified voters entitled to vote at an election on the question of the issuance of tax supported bonds; Section 51-f providing that the Legislature shall have authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of cities and towns to operate Statewide or by districts under such plan or program as the Legislature shall direct and shall provide that participation therein by cities and towns shall be voluntary; provided that the Legislature shall never make an appropriation to pay any of the cost of any system authorized by this Section; providing for an election on the question of the adoption or rejection of such an amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof and prescribing the form of ballot.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Sections 51-e and 51-f, which shall read as follows:

"Section 51-e. Each incorporated city and town in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for its appointive officers and employees who have become disabled as a direct and proximate result of the performance of their duties, or have passed their sixty-fifth birthday, or have been employed by such city or town for more than twenty-five (25) years and have passed their sixtieth birthday, when and if, but only when and if, such system has been approved at an election by the qualified voters of such city or town entitled to vote on the question of issuance of tax supported bonds; provided that no city or town shall contribute more than the equivalent or seven and one half (7½) per centum of salaries and wages of the officers and employees entitled to participate in its pension system, and that said officers and employees shall contribute a like amount; and this Amendment shall not reduce the authority nor duty of any city or town otherwise existing."

"Section 51-f. The Legislature of this State shall have the authority to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of cities and towns to operate Statewide or by districts under such a plan and program as the Legislature shall direct and shall provide that participation therein by cities and towns shall be voluntary; provided that the Legislature shall never make an appropriation to pay any of the cost of any system authorized by this Section."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State in November, 1944, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon, "For the Constitutional Amendment providing that the cities and towns in this State Treasury of the State, not otherwise shall have the power and authority to provide a system of pensions for their appointive officers and employees," and "Against the Constitutional Amendment providing that all cities and towns in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of pensions for their appointive officers and employees." All ballots at such election shall also have printed thereon, "For the Constitutional Amendment giving authority to the Legislature to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of the cities and towns" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment giving authority to the Legislature to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of cities and towns." Each voters shall scratch out two (2) of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the two (2) expressing his vote on the proposed Amendments.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

VOCATIONAL COURSES BEING SET UP AT ENMC

PORTALES—To train returning servicemen and displaced war workers in various trades is the purpose of vocational courses being set up at Eastern New Mexico College, announces O. M. Williamson, chairman of the school of vocations. Courses will be designed to qualify individuals for employment opportunities offered in this section of the country.

Machine tool operations, sheet metal work, operation and repair of farm machinery will be among courses offered in this field, while fundamental carpentry, cabinet making, blueprint reading will be given in the building trades with other construction trades offered on demand. Poultry, dairy, hog, beef cattle and crop production will be presented in the agricultural field.

Although anyone is eligible to take this work, it is especially designed for the person who cannot meet college requirements. Courses will be of three months duration and most classes may be entered at any time. There are no age limits and enrollment may be for half or full time.

Agricultural courses will be taught by Williamson and industrial training groups will be under the direction of Earl Prater, well-known Eastern New Mexico teacher, who has re-joined the faculty. From 1934-47 Prater taught shop mechanics at ENMC, from 1937-41 he was employed in industrial shops, from 1941-43 he headed the war-training program at ENMC, and for the past year has been vocational instructor at Clovis high school.

4-H BOYS REPORT ON COTTON INSECTS

COLLEGE STATION—Texas 4-H club boys are never too busy to do a little more. A selection of club members in the cotton growing areas of the state have been asked to repeat their service of last year in making weekly surveys of insect infestation.

Notwithstanding that the majority of the boys are engaged in full time farm work, about 220 in 45 counties already are taking part in this program, according to Dr. H. G. Johnston, entomologist. They have been making weekly reports on the insect population in one or more fields on their own or neighboring farms. As was true last year, the reports are accurate and in general compare favorably with similar reports being made by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Dr. Johnston says. In the near future club boys in several north Texas counties also will begin making reports from the area.

The cooperation of the club boys plays a prominent part in the control of destructive cotton insects. Dr. Johnston says that the supply of calcium arsenate and other insecticides is rather limited this year as in 1943. For this reason it is essential that a close check of the cotton insect populations be made throughout the belt in order to assure the distribution and most advantageous use of the supply of poisons available.

Due to high temperatures and dry weather the cotton insect population is beginning to decline and many of the fields which the club boys have been reporting on are rapidly reaching maturity. For this reason it is expected that the number of reports will decrease shortly. "The results obtained from this survey and the training and experience for the club boys active in it are excellent," Dr. Johnston says. "It is believed that the continuation of the program will do more toward the solution of our cotton insect control problem in Texas than any other method which has been tried."

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by changing said Section 9 so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that, before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which same shall be approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; providing that this section shall not be construed as a limitation on powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution; fixing the time for the election for the adoption or rejection of said proposed Constitutional Amendment; making certain provisions for said election and ballots thereof and the method thereof; directing the issuance of proclamation therefor; prescribing of certain duties of the Governor of the State of Texas; and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of said election.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five (35) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five (25) cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen (15) cents for roads and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen (15) cents to pay jurors, on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the Amendment September 25, 1883; and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, waterworks and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five (25) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided; provided, however, that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the foregoing county taxes by changing the rates provided for any of the foregoing purposes by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of said foregoing county taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year; provided further, that before the said Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in said county taxes that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election, and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; and, provided further, that if and when such re-allocations and changes in the aforesaid county taxes have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county, as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which the same shall be approved unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen (15) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws. This section shall not be construed as a limitation of powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a general election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the seventh day of November, 1944, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"FOR the Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which same shall be approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; and providing that this Amendment shall not be construed as a limitation on powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of the Constitution."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of election at which same shall be approved."

EMERGENCY OPERATION.

Sam, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Porter of Amarillo, sustained an emergency appendix operation at a Clovis hospital, Friday night, and was reported as doing fine on Tuesday. Sam was here visiting his grandfather, J. W. Haynes, who has been confined to his bed for several weeks. A report Tuesday morning was to the effect that Mr. Haynes was "about the same".

Wheat Loans Continue To Be Made in Parmer

Applications for wheat loans continue to be made and the papers executed at the Triple A office in Farwell, supervisor Ellis M. Mills said on Monday, adding that it was expected that such loans would be made for several days.

Up to Monday afternoon, more than 270 loans had been executed, a tabulation of figures at the AAA office revealed. Of these, the majority are for warehouse-stored stored wheat, although, Mills added, a number are being made on wheat stored on individual farms.

The supervisor went on to say that in farm-stored loans, where a protein test is required before the loan can be completed, a good one-half of the wheat checked was listed in the "premium protein" rating.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Z. W. (Daddy Pete) Petree was dismissed from a Lubbock hospital Thursday of last week, where he had sustained an operation, and returned to his home here. He is able to be up and about the place again.

PUNCTURES EAR DRUM

Mrs. LeRoy Faville sustained a painful injury Monday morning, when a low-hanging twig on a tree at her home stabbed her in the ear, puncturing the eardrum.

NEW SECRETARY

Mrs. Hillard Witten this week took over the duties of secretary in the office of County Agent Garlon A. Harper, succeeding Mrs. Boyd Votaw, resigned. Mrs. Witten has had two years previous experience in a county agent's office.

NEW SCHOOL BUS HERE

A new school bus with a Chevrolet chassis and a Wayne body was delivered to the Farwell school the latter part of last week by Supt. J. T. Carter, who went to Oklahoma City and drove the bus through.

JACK DUNN ILL

Jack Dunn, prominent stock farmer and wheat operator living three miles north of this city, has been quite ill since the latter part of last week. His illness is said to be due to a partial sun stroke.

ADDING NEW ROOM

A new room is being added to the Farwell teacherage this week to relieve the overcrowded condition of Supt. and Mrs. Carter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Vinyard returned the past Friday from Dallas, where they had visited briefly with relatives.

Mrs. Clyde Corey, of Amarillo, was a weekend visitor in the home of her sister, Mrs. Bess Henneman.

Performance Sheets Are Being Completed

ACP performance sheets for the current year are now being made at the AAA office in Farwell, and Ellis M. Mills urged the first of the week that all farmers complete these records before the rush of fall harvesting begins.

"Right at this time," Mills said, "we have a slight ease-up of work. Wheat harvest is over, and lack of rain prevents fall seeding and crop working, so this is an excellent time for all participants in the conservation program to come in and fill out these sheets."

The compilation of performance reports has been greatly simplified this year, and requires only a few minutes' work. For instance, except in the case where a portion of a field is devoted to some conservation practice, the farmers can list "this field as contoured, etc", and the measurements are already on hand at the office.

Sudan Payment Big

The biggest thing in the conservation program this year, insofar as Parmer county farmers are concerned, is the payment which will be made on sudan—with an unlimited practice allowed.

For all sudan that is harvested, testing 90% purity and threshing 200 lbs. to the acre, a payment of $3.50 per acre will be made, Mills said, adding, "With many of our farmers having from 50 acres up to 500 in sudan, this is a big thing in the ACP."

(Continued from page 1) dry (which is damn seldom) the dust is six inches deep and every car, truck or tank that passes sends up clouds of it. Then if it happens to rain a few days we have mud up to our knees and it seems our clothing is wet for days at a time and won't dry out. If it rains still more and floods our foxholes we really are in for it then.

"My job has been going out and getting supplies and materials. When we need some material that we don't have, I go to some captured German camp at the front lines for it.
