

Area Bank Deposits Increase 5.5 Million

Muleshoe and area banks show an increase in deposits in the amount of $5,503,142.63 in their financial statements, over last year.

Both Muleshoe banks showed a decided increase over last year in both deposits and loans. Bill Loyd, president of the Muleshoe State Bank commented, "I feel inflation and a strong area economy as well as our not being affected as much by the recession as other places, a contributing factor."

The country will see some more inflation, but he hopes it is not going to be as rampant as it has been. "I feel that over the last year, inflation has come down to a more moderate rate, but we'll see more inflation in the future," he concluded.

Deposits at Muleshoe State Bank were up $1,512,787.39, while loans show an increase in the amount of $1,324,914.36. Deposits during 1974 were $15,220,043.60. Loans in 1974 were $8,281,410.91.

This year, 1975, deposits are $16,732,830.99 and loans, $9,606,325.26. First National Bank of Muleshoe shows an increase in the amount of $2,502,780.44 in deposits. Loans were up $409,374.92. 1974 deposits were $11,459,463.36 and loans were $5,514,097.24. This year's deposits are $13,962,243.80 and loans, $5,923,472.16.

Tri-County Savings and Loan of Muleshoe showed an increase in their deposits in the amount of $1,564,805.22 while they showed a decrease on loans, amounting to $25,744.68. Deposits for the year 1974 were $9,257,458.53 while loans totaled $10,165,397.59.

The 1975 deposits totaled $10,822,263.75 and the loans totaled, $10,191,142.27. Showing a decrease in deposits in the amount of $409,437.25, over last year, the First National Bank of Sudan has loaned more money this year than last. 1975 loans have increased $361,902.95. Deposits during 1974 were in the amount of $5,477,074.64, while 1974 loans amounted to $984,419.06.

This year, deposits amounted to $5,067,637.39 with loans amounting to $1,346,322.01. Ronald Gatewood, cashier, of the Sudan bank, said loans were up due mainly to the bad crops last year in their area. Earth Citizens State Bank deposits increased $140,858.32 as well as their loans in the amount of $1,539,537.83. Citizens State at Earth showed 1974 deposits amounting to $5,920,932.09, and loans were $3,012,920.10. During 1975, deposits amounted to $6,061,790.41, with their loans at $4,552,457.93.

Specialists Diagnose Plant Problems

Sunflower Head Moth Larvae Found Here

Dr. Robert Berry, area Plant Pathologist and Dr. Robert McIntyre, area Entomologist, from the Texas Agriculture Extension and Research Center in Lubbock, were in Muleshoe Friday, July 11 to conduct a clinic to cover insect and disease aspects of ornamentals and vegetables in this area.

The clinic was held from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Friday, and the specialists, along with Bailey County Extension Agent, Spencer Tanksley, met with local residents and farmers who brought in specimens of plants with insect and other problems.

The problems were diagnosed and remedies suggested. Dr. Berry said the number one problem on ornamental home plants, and a problem also found in field plants in Bailey County is iron deficiency.

An iron deficient plant will be decidedly yellow in color with green veins in the leaves. "This is a nutritional problem," said Dr. Berry, "caused by not enough iron being available in the alkaline soil found in this area."

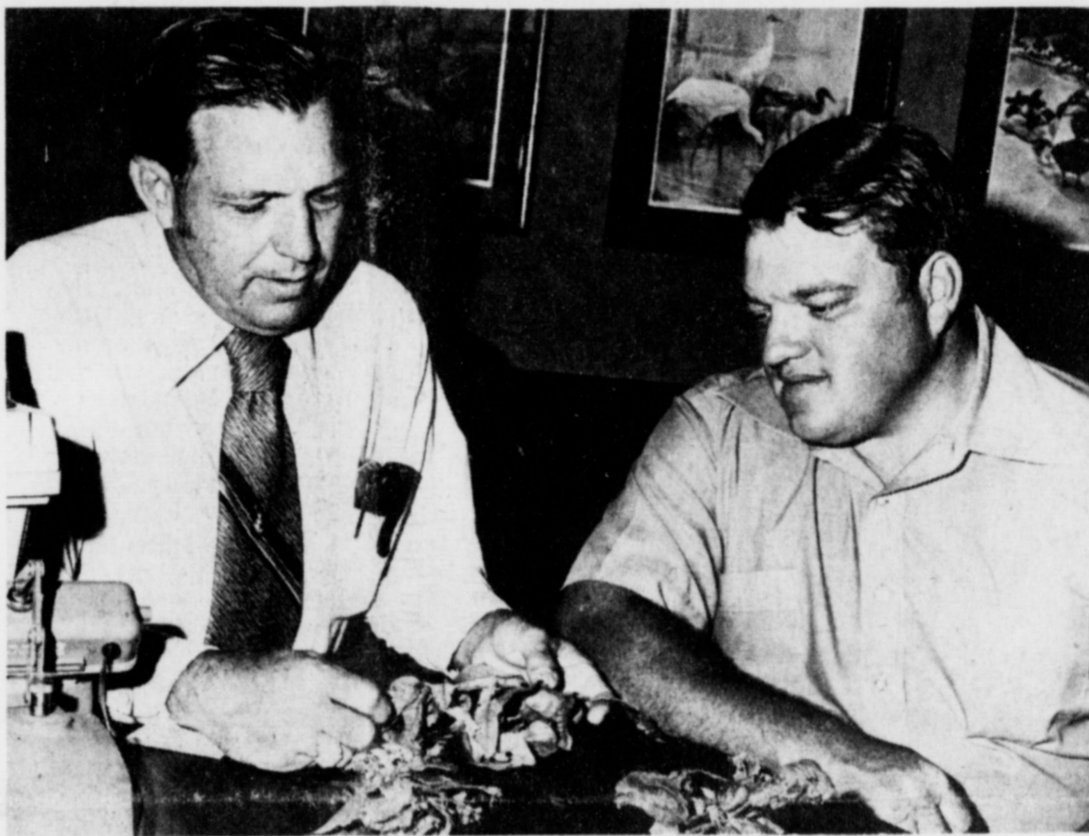

The most successful treatment has been through applying an iron solution to the foliage, such as Iron Sulfate or Chelated Iron materials," Berry pointed out.

"However, the treatment needs to be started in the early spring when the leaves are about one half grown, and must be repeated several times at three-four week intervals.

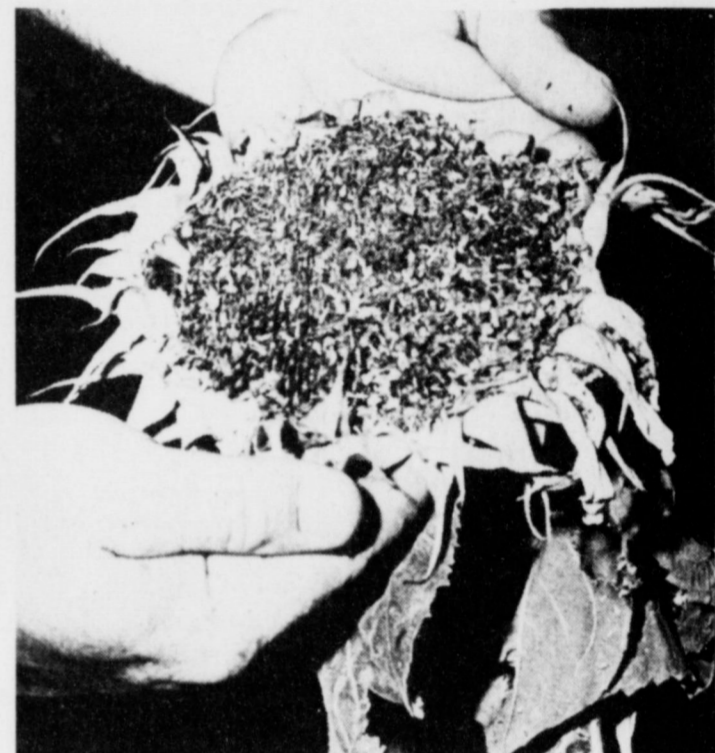

During the clinic, a large sunflower head infested with Sunflower Moths in the larvae stage, was brought in. County Extension Agent, Spencer Tanksley stated that area producers should be made aware of this type of damage which can be occurring in the county at this time.

Tanksley reminds local producers to spray sunflowers when they are 20 percent in bloom, in order to control the Sunflower Head Moth. He further stated that repeat applications of 5-6 days will be necessary until the sunflower field has reached 90 percent complete bloom.

Anyone who would like recommendations regarding the type of insecticide to use, should contact the Bailey County Extension Agent's office.

IRON DEFICIENT PLANTS OBSERVED. Dr. Robert Berry, Plant Pathologist from the Texas Agriculture Extension and Research Center of Lubbock and Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley (l-r) discuss iron deficient plants during the Insect and Disease Clinic held on Friday, July 11 at the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room. They are looking at leaves from peach and apricot trees and a bean plant.

SUNFLOWER HEAD MOTH LARVAE. A large sunflower head, infested with Sunflower Head Moths in the larvae stage, was brought in to the Insect and Disease Clinic Friday, July 11, for information as to how to control the pest. Advice was given as to the type of insecticide needed to control the insect.

SWCD Signs Sandyland Agreement

A special meeting of the Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District was held at 8:30 p.m. on July 10, 1975 for the purpose of approving and signing the Sandyland Resource Conservation and Development Project Application and Memorandum of Agreement with the South Plains Association of Government.

The Bailey County Commissioners Court and the Blackwater Valley SWCD, as sponsors of the project for Bailey County, have both approved and signed the formal application. When the six counties within the project area have signed the application, it will be sent to Washington for approval for federal assistance.

The Sandyland R&D Project is designed to help local people solve their resource and environmental problems cooperatively by conserving, developing, and improving all resources. The project is sponsored by the Soil and Water Conservation Districts and County Commissioners Courts in the six county area. It is also Cont. on Page 3, Col 1

Seedlings Available

Jerry Wenmohs, Soil Conservation Service, has announced that the Texas Forest Service will have Wildlife Seedling Packets available for the 1976 spring planting season. Each packet will consist of 50 Red cedar, 50 Russian olive and 50 American plum which are produced especially for the high plains and rolling plains. It is anticipated that each packet of 150 seedlings will cost around $7.50 per packet.

The Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District is considering making the packets available for persons who are interested. The District requests that prospective buyers contact the local SWCD Directors or the local Soil Conservation Service to get their name on the list. In order to determine whether to participate in the program, the SWCD requests that individuals get their name on the list prior to July 31, 1975.

Persons interested in planting seedlings should provide an area free of weed and grass competition and be able to provide supplemental water during the first growing season or until the plants become established," Wenmohs said.

Fuston Urges Certification

"August 1 is not far away and we have certified very few farms," said John Fuston, secretary of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of Muleshoe. He pointed out that farmers must certify their cotton in order to be eligible for any deficiency or disaster payment. He reminds the farmers that certifications must be correct, so it is wise to measure the crops and file the report as soon as possible. Penalties may be costly if the certified acreage is out of the five percent tolerance.

Fuston said that any failed acreage on cotton, grain sorghum, or corn must be measured and certified and a farm visit made by his office prior to making other use of the acreage, if you want to be eligible for any money.

He pointed out that some producers have cost themselves some good money by completely plowing a destroyed crop up prior to a visit by his office to their farm.

Bailey County had a large area of the northeast corner of the county completely hailed out on cotton and sunflowers. The corn and milo acres were damaged from 40 to 80 percent.

Muleshoe LL Allstars Go To District

The Muleshoe Little League all stars will play in the district tournament at Plainview this week. Muleshoe drew a bye in the first round, and will play their first game at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, July 15, against the winner of the Plainview-Olton game. This is a single elimination tournament.

Members of the Muleshoe Little League All Star team are: Lupe Rosales, William Orazco, Curby Brantley, Ariel Sanchez, Raymond Cabrera Jr., Ruben Reyna, Brad Poyner, Ramon Guillen, Russell Windham, Todd Gregory, Andy Rogers, Dennis Johns, David Lust and Philip Jesko. The team manager is Scotty Windham and the Coach is Raymond Cabrera.

The hail covered approximately 25,000 acres of land, Fuston said.

"We want to thank you producers for the cooperation in filing the ASCA-574's necessary to take care of the paper work and the patience shown by leaving the correct number of strips for the appraisals to be made," stated the ASCS secretary.

Producers who believe they may qualify for a disaster payment on wheat (producing 2.3 less than their established yield) must file a disaster report (ASC-574) not later than 15 days following completion of harvest, to be eligible for any payment.

Farmers may obtain loans on the 1975 wheat from harvest through March 31, 1976. Corn and grain sorghum loans may be obtained through May 31, 1976. All loans will mature 11 months following the end of the month in which the loans are made.

Loan rates for individual commodities are: Wheat, $1.38 per bushel; grain sorghum, $1.86, per cwt; corn, $1.17 a bushel and cotton, $34.15 per pound (1" white mid).

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Summer and vacations go together, but accidents can be an unwelcome vacation traveler unless precautions are taken, warns the Texas Department of Health Resources.

The Texas climate has something to offer for all who seek recreational pursuits--from seashores and lakes to forests and rugged mountains.

In most cases, summer recreation is associated with water for swimming, boating, water skiing and fishing. While great for recreation, water poses a serious threat to the safety of young and old alike.

Last year, for example 725 persons drowned in water-related accidents in Texas, according to Parks and Wildlife Department figures.

Swimming accidents took the largest toll--211 persons. Close behind were fishing accidents, accounting for 108 deaths. And boating, sailing, skiing and canoeing had a combined toll of 54 deaths.

Not all of these drownings involved swimmers and boaters.

In far too many cases individuals fell from a place of presumed safety--such as a dock or river bank--into the water and drowned.

Children are most susceptible to this type of accident. A good safety rule is to put a life jacket on every child playing near the water-- just in case of a sudden, unplanned dip. All boaters should wear life preservers for the same reason. A near-tragedy recently on a Central Texas lake dramatically emphasizes this necessity. A young woman in a ski boat lost her balance during an unexpected turn, fell against the side of the boat and tumbled overboard. The next thing she remembers was regaining consciousness back in the boat.

One hundred persons drowned last year in falls into the water. Deaths occurred in such things as lakes, creeks, drainage ditches, mop buckets and inflated plastic swimming pools. And 16 bathtub deaths were recorded.

How can you help make your vacation trip a happy, safe one?

First, make swimmers of yourself and your children. You can take lessons from such agencies as the Red Cross or private instructors.

Always swim in marked areas if possible, and never swim alone. If you get into trouble, your companion can toss you a life jacket or rope, or extend you a pole to help you reach safety. Never swim when chilled, overtired or overheated. Stay out of or off the water if a thunderstorm threatens. Rough water and lightning take their toll. Three East Texas duck hunters drowned last winter when a sudden norther caught them on a lake.

Always supervise small children constantly. They need your protection. It only takes seconds for a tragedy to occur.

If you're a boater, make certain your boat is in perfect shape and meets state and safety regulations--which includes having a Coast Guard approved flotation device on board for each person. It's a life-saving practice to be wearing a flotation device. If your boat should capsize, it's a good idea to stay with it--chances are that it will float, says the Department of Health Resources.

When pulling skiers, boat drivers should be aware of swimmers, other boats and obstacles above and below the water. Don't be a showoff on the water. Life is too precious to lose. All skiers should wear life preservers. Even good swimmers can be dazed by a hard fall while skiing--or be struck by a ski.

A good procedure is to have at least two persons in the ski boat--one to drive and the other to watch the skier. Learn the arm signals prepared specifically for skiers--and use them. It's hard to hear above the noise of a motor, but a hand signal can get the message across. For instance, a skier who falls should raise an arm to signal he's okay. Raising a ski will make you visible to other boats in the area.

When a person is entering the water from a boat, being picked up or having a tow rope moved into position to grab, the motor should be in neutral. Whirling propeller blades can kill or maim.

If you're out in the sun for extended periods, be cautious about sunburn. Get a little sun each day--and don't overdo it. Large doses can make you quite ill. Babies may sunburn in just a few minutes if their tender skins are exposed to direct sun rays or reflected rays. Cover them as much as possible.

Summer is a time for fun, so plan in safety with each of your recreational pursuits. A little thought pays dividends--in lives and lack of accidents.

THE SCIENTISTS TELL ME ...

By Robert L. Maney, Science Writer
The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

Exotic game herds in Texas have grown from a few odd animals kept as a curiosity to dozens of herds involving thousands of animals.

At a time when world population pressures and the demand for protein has resulted in thinning of many wild herds, Texas has begun a serious expansion of big game numbers.

Some of the big ranches of Texas, working with the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Sciences of the Agricultural Experiment Station and some of the big zoos in the state, have imported and multiplied more than two dozen kinds of big game animals.

At present, the eight most important (together with their estimated numbers) are: axis deer, 6,450 on 69 ranches; 4,125 blackbuck antelope on 56 ranches; 1,300 aoudad sheep on 40 ranches; 10,000 mouflon sheep on 121 ranches; 10,000 European wild boar on over 100 ranches; 4,000 nilgai antelope on 7 ranches; 875 sika deer on 22 ranches; and 445 fallow deer on 43 ranches.

Dr. James Teer, head of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Sciences for the Experiment Station, is project leader of the Caesar Kleberg Research Program in Wildlife Ecology. This privately-funded program has assisted in the rapid expansion of this important new source of income to many Texas ranches.

More and more ranchers are realizing that wildlife can be an income producer that rivals their domestic livestock. In many places in North America, wildlife resources on private lands are being recognized as an economic asset that needs to be encouraged, guarded and harvested.

Present trends in many of the 50 states where there is little public land suggest that we are adopting the traditional European system of producing and harvesting game animals. This not only involves the big game species but smaller mammals, upland game birds and migratory birds.

Commercialization of hunting takes many forms, but the basic point is that money is paid for hunting recreation. The displeasure that many Americans feel toward commercialization of hunting and fishing is well known to sociologists and wildlife ecologists," Teer says. "Our society feels that hunting and fishing is an expression of their heritage and that to pay for something that has been their right takes the purity and pleasure from the sport.

"However, the ethics and morality of rewarding those who produce is also deeply ingrained into American culture. Therefore, it seems appropriate that those who own and manage the land should be rewarded for their protection and management of wildlife in whatever form it occurs.

"This need not imply that production of wildlife should be directed toward economic gain alone, but for those who do allocate resources of range forage and the like, some reward system is merited.

"Such an allocation of resources is a basic decision in any land use program, and wildlife production must compete economically with other uses of the land.

"One especially interesting development from the sale of season leases has been the development of family-oriented week-end and holiday recreation centers. Landowners are beginning to attract more of the recreation market by improving facilities and offering additional activities for all members of the family.

Mrs. Michael Layne Jester

Combs, Jester Exchange Vows

The chapel of the First Baptist Church of Morton was the scene of a ceremony uniting Miss La Nita Gaye Combs and Michael Layne Jester in marriage, July 2 at 3 p.m. Rev. Paul McClung, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Woodie Combs of 705 West Hayes, Morton, and the late Woodie S. Combs. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Jester of 2011 S. College, Levelland.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Larry Combs, of Muleshoe. She wore a formal length gown of sheer organza over bridal peau-de-soie fashioned with a Victorian neckline. The empire bodice was decorated with Venice lace embroidered with pearls. Long sheer, full bishop sleeves that gathered onto a lace cuff were also decorated with lace appliques. Scattered lace appliques enhanced the front of the A-line skirt which extended into a bouffant back that swept into a chapel length train. A matching Juliet headpiece held a fingertip length veil of imported illusion.

The bridal bouquet of feathered white carnations and stephanotis cascaded from atop a white Bible belonging to Mrs. Roger Posey—"something borrowed." Folded in the Bible was a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother—"something old". She wore the traditional blue garter—"something blue", and wore pennies in her shoes, which were minted in the years of her and the groom's births, plus one minted in 1975. Her gown constituted her "something new".

The bride was attended by Mary Cadenhead of Lubbock whose blue gown carried out the chosen colors of white and blue. The groom and his attendant, Bruce Woods of Levelland, were attired in white tuxedos.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Johnny Waltrip from Oklahoma. Music was provided by Miss Karen Rozell of Lubbock, pianist, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Posey of Morton sang, "We've Only Just Begun", "The Wedding Song", and "The Lord's Prayer" for the benediction.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the church.

Following a trip to Dallas, the couple will reside at 406-B West Avenue F, in Muleshoe. The groom is employed at Tri-County Savings and Loan Co. and the bride is employed at J and J Insurance. Both attended South Plains College in Levelland.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED. . . Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gatlin of Dumas, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Carol Jean Gatlin to Rickey DeWayne Harage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hardage of Muleshoe. The couple plan an August 23 wedding in the First Baptist Church of Dumas at 7:30 p.m. The bride-elect is a graduate of Dumas high school. Her fiancé is a graduate of Muleshoe high school. Both are presently attending West Texas State University at Canyon.

Methodist Women Have Meeting

The United Methodist Women met Tuesday, July 8, in the chapel of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Oscar Allison, president, presided over the meeting.

Some 30 women attended the program presented by Mrs. James Wedel, Mrs. Lou Dell Wilhite from Fort Collins, Colo. presented slides and gave a talk on her two months trip to nine Southeast Asian countries last summer.

Mrs. Wilhite taught missionaries' children, including some of the native pastors children. Mrs. Wilhite went as a Baptist missionary, but she said all denominations work together in the foreign field. She had several pictures of Methodist churches along with pictures of Baptist churches and buildings.

She felt there is a great need for people to go as the Asian people are so anxious to hear the Christian message. When the church bus arrives, the people gather from everywhere to hear the missionaries.

Mrs. Byron Gwyn gave Mrs. Wilhite a gift and expressed the groups appreciation for the wonderful program.

Hog Cholera Found In Panhandle

An outbreak of hog cholera--the first in the United States in more than a year--has been confirmed in the Texas panhandle, the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reported July 4.

USDA Animal health officials warned hog farmers throughout the nation--but particularly in the southwest--to remain alert for signs of this costly and often fatal virus disease of swine only; it does not affect other animals or humans.

Hog cholera has been the object of a highly successful state-federal eradication campaign that began in late 1962. The last previous cases of the disease were reported in Puerto Rico on May 4, 1974, and in Mississippi on February 7, 1974. Prior to the start of the eradication program, the disease affected an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 swine herd annually and cost hog producers around $50 million a year.

The current outbreak was found in a herd of about 170 hogs owned by Louis Woodford and located near Woodford, Tex., in Deaf Smith county, according to officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS).

The diagnosis was confirmed at the APHIS Veterinary Services Laboratories in Ames, Ia., from tests on specimens which had been flown by courier from both the hog farm and from the Texas A & M University veterinary diagnostic laboratory, where earlier tests had indicated the presence of hog cholera.

"Of course we are deeply disappointed at finding hog cholera when we are this close to eradication," said Dr. F. J. Mulhern, APHIS administrator. "But this does illustrate the difficulty in eliminating the last trace of a disease and the importance of remaining alert until the task of eradication is complete."

The affected swine herd had been placed under quarantine by the Texas Animal Health Commission. Additional state and federal quarantines will be placed as necessary to control the disease. Contact with infected or exposed swine is one of the primary ways hog cholera is spread to healthy hogs.

A state-federal task force has been established in the area to eliminate the disease and investigate the source of the outbreak and any possible spread. The infected herd has been destroyed and the owner will be indemnified for the loss of his hogs.

Signs of hog cholera include loss of appetite, fever and hogs that are just "sick all over." Other signs include abortions and abnormal death losses among young pigs. Hog farmers are urged to contact their local veterinarian or state or federal animal health officials immediately if they suspect hog cholera.

There were many wise men in earlier days but who reads what they wrote?

TOWER TALKS
by U.S. Senator for Texas
JOHN TOWER

WASHINGTON--A partisan power play may deprive the citizens of a sovereign state of the right to choose who will represent them in the U.S. Senate.

The Democratic majority in the Senate is practicing the "old politics" in the dispute over who won the election for the U.S. Senate in New Hampshire last year.

The election last November between Republican Louis Wyman and Democrat John Durkin plainly is too close to call, even though the New Hampshire Ballot Law Commission, whose authority has been upheld by the federal courts, has awarded the victory to Republican Wyman by a margin of two votes.

Clearly, the dispute should be sent back to New Hampshire for another election. This is what the people of New Hampshire want. This is what the duly certified winner of the election, Sen. Wyman, has advocated. But the Democratic majority intends to force the Senate to turn its back on pressing national business for the rest of the month to itself to decide the outcome of the Wyman-Durkin race.

The majority is setting a precedent that could haunt the Senate for many years. Never before has the Senate interfered in an election in which there has been no allegation of fraud.

Democrat Durkin has not alleged that the election was stolen from him; he has merely asked the Senate, with its top-heavy Democratic majority, to overturn the judgment of the voters and seat him instead of the duly certified winner.

The actions of the Senate Rules Committee in the Wyman-Durkin dispute raise many questions about the intentions of the majority.

The kindest description of the Rules Committee behavior is that it has not been even-handed. It has frequently made judgments contrary to New Hampshire law. It has ruled one way on some disputed ballots, and the exact opposite way on similar ballots. It has examined virtually all of the ballots protested by one candidate, and hardly any of the ballots protested by the other. The only consistency in the committee's actions is that they have all tended to favor Democrat Durkin.

A flagrant example of the all-too-common partisanship of the Rules Committee was the acceptance of two straight Democratic ballots cast by the same woman. She'd cast the other for her dying sister, she said.

This partisanship has changed the issue from the narrow question of whether Wyman or Durkin will be seated to a matter of grave concern for all Americans. Are we to establish a precedent whereby the loser of a close election, if his party is in a majority in the Senate, will go to the Senate to have the verdict of the voters overturned? I fear for democracy if this is so.

Parasite Takes Annual Trip

AUSTIN--Screw worms, parasites which eat the flesh of live, warm-blooded animals, took advantage of moist warm weather to extend their annual northward migration into 26 additional Texas counties during May.

The 398 laboratory-confirmed Texas cases in May compared to 590 during the same period last year, according to a representative of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program.

The state's 580 cases during the first five months of the year were 62 percent of the 872 tallied between January and May, 1974.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has urged livestock owners, veterinarians and livestock inspectors to submit samples of suspected larvae to the USDA laboratory in Mission.

Man's triumph over a Menace to Life . . .

Sharks have always been man's enemies in the sea. They are a danger to the shipwrecked, and occasionally threaten the lives of swimmers along our coastal waters. Sharks are only one of the many dangers that man faces every day. The world, today, is in a turmoil and we must be alert and on guard for the enemies' moves. Now is the time to trust in the Lord and to seek His help.

"Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. O my God, I trust in thee; let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me."
Psalm 25, 1-2

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
