SEOUL (AP)—Now that his secret is out, Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, 49-year-old commander of the U. S. Fifth Air Force, has grounded himself after 13 missions over North Korea in his swift Sabre jet, Barcus' Carcus.

The greying general had been flying Sabre strikes with his pilots the past month. The last was a smashing 30-plane May Day attack against Radio Pyongyang in the North Korean capital. On that one Barcus taunted the Reds on a radio circuit they frequently monitor.

"This is Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, commander of the Fifth Air Force. I don't like the way you are talking about the Fifth Air Force. How did you like the way we were doing today?"

"We'll be back. . . . We will smash anything we want up here."

This was disclosed last night by American war correspondents who were at Fifth Air Force headquarters when an officer reported by radio results of the Pyongyang strike.

An Air Force spokesman said Barcus, who will leave on routine rotation June 1, had wanted to fly at least one more mission.

"But now that the news is out he has decided to pass it up," he said.

The spokesman said Barcus wanted to keep his combat flying a secret for fear superiors would ground him.

South Baptists Set To Meet As WMU Gathers

HOUSTON (AP)—An expanded missions program, at home and abroad, has been predicted for the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. J. D. Grey, New Orleans, convention president, said last night a "rising tide" of missions interests is being shown by seminary students.

He told the Women's Missionary Union many of the students are preparing to answer calls for missions service. He said continuation of such a trend could lead to expanding the convention's program "many times." The convention now has 900 missionary workers abroad, 1,800 at home.

Grey spoke at the first session of a three-day WMU meeting being held preliminary to Wednesday's opening of the 96th meeting of the convention.

Nearly 30,000 messengers from over 26,000 churches are expected here for the convention program that will continue through Sunday.

About 8,000 women are here for the WMU meeting. A two-day pastors' conference which opens tonight is expected to draw 4,000.

All hotel and tourist court space in the Houston area has been reserved for weeks. Local officials yesterday appealed to Houston residents to make additional space in private homes available to the convention messengers.

Grey spoke following a two-hour pageant, "A Story to Tell," commemorating the fortieth anniversary of WMU's girls auxiliary.

WMU officials were to present their annual reports this morning. Reports on missionary work in Argentina, Korea and Honduras were to be made this afternoon.

Grey will present his president's report Wednesday morning. The convention sermon will be given by Dr. J. H. Landes, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Wichita Falls, Tex.

CG Search For Missing Sloop Is On

CAPE MAY, N. J. (AP)—Coast Guard boats patrolled nearby waters today in a search for a scientist and his wife, reported missing aboard a sloop.

In question was whether the sloop was the same craft sunk as a derelict by the Coast Guard a week ago.

Dr. Wilton Steinfeld, about 35, and his wife Peggy, about 25, were last seen April 26 as they were sailing through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal on a trip from Baltimore to Long Island, N. Y.

Steinfeld, engaged in cancer research at the Brookhaven (N.Y.) National Laboratories, lived at Yaphank, N. Y.

After officials of the laboratory reported the Steinfields missing, the local Coast Guard recalled "had sunk a derelict boat off Cape May April 27."

"We are almost sure that it is the same boat," a spokesman for the local Coast Guard said.

The sunk boat had been declared a menace to navigation. Efforts to tow the boat in had failed, and the Coast Guard spokesman said the only alternative was to sink it.

A Brookhaven spokesman said Steinfeld had purchased the sloop in Baltimore and went there to bring it to Cape May.

Coast Guardsmen Assure Reds Their Box 'Unfriendly'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A social organization of Coast Guardsmen, it develops, holds the post office box to which Korean Communists urged that peace appeals be addressed.

"Tell the folks back home to write Postoffice Box 574, Washington, D. C.," were the things Red loudspeakers blasted across the Korean fighting front Saturday.

But Daniel Ring, attorney for the Chief Warrant and Warrant Officers Association, U. S. Coast Guard, said yesterday:

"If they had gone all over the country to find a post office box the owner of which was more unfriendly to the Reds, they couldn't have done a better job."

No one seemed to know why the Reds picked that particular box. At any rate, Ring said, no peace appeals have yet turned up in it.

Farm Real Estate Values Drop 2 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm real estate values dropped 2 per cent between last Nov. 1 and March 1, the Department of Agriculture reported today.

The department said declines were sharpest in the Western states, but that decreases were more widespread than any four-month period since July-November, 1949.

The index of average value per acre for the country as a whole dropped to 209 as of March 1. This was 2 per cent below last November and 1 per cent below a year earlier. The years 1928-44 represent 100 in the index.

Opponents Present Views In Tidelands Oil Problem

By HARRISON B. HUMPHRIES
WASHINGTON (AP)—State ownership of offshore submerged lands is defended by advocates as "equity and justice" and denounced by opponents as a "giveaway" of an area extremely rich in oil.

Advocates say the states should have the underwater coastal lands because they held them and developed them in good faith for a century. Opponents say the Supreme Court has upheld the federal claim of "paramount rights" three times and to go against that ruling is contrary to the national interest.

These are the main themes of the controversy debated since April 1 in the Senate. By agreement, the Senate will vote tomorrow. Passage is as certain as any legislative question can be. In preliminary tests, the highest voting strength opponents of the administration-backed measure racked up was 35.

Major arguments for the state-ownership bill have been:

1. That the doctrine of paramount rights applied by the Supreme Court to offshore lands is a threat to state ownership of the beds of rivers, lakes, harbors, bays and filled land reclaimed from the sea.
2. That the law of state ownership of lands under inland waters grew from the common law rule of state ownership of lands under the marginal sea.
3. That all states possess their submerged lands, both inland and offshore, under the "same rule of law" recognized by the Supreme Court for more than 100 years—state ownership of offshore property was questioned only after oil was discovered in them.
4. That the court decisions in the California, Texas and Louisiana cases constitute a reversal of prior Supreme Court decisions.
5. That the special claims of Texas and Florida to lands within 10 1/2 miles offshore in the Gulf of Mexico are justified by the special circumstances under which they entered the Union. Texas, as an independent republic, had a 10 1/2-mile offshore boundary.
6. That it would discriminate against the coastal states if Congress surrendered any federal claim to submerged lands of inland states and refused to establish state ownership of offshore lands within state boundaries.

Opponents of state ownership have used as principal arguments:

1. That offshore oil property worth billions should be devoted to the service of peoples of all 48 states. The Supreme Court has ruled that the area belongs to all the people.
2. That title to lands beneath inland waters has never been claimed by the federal government and state ownership of inland waters has been confirmed repeatedly by Supreme Court decisions.

3. That the states have internal sovereignty; the federal government external sovereignty and paramount rights of the U. S. to offshore lands are a party of external sovereignty.

4. That a "giveaway" of offshore properties of the federal government would set a precedent for giving inland states the rights to revenues from federal mineral and forest lands within their boundaries.

5. That the recognition of state boundaries beyond three miles at sea would run contrary to the international three-mile limit advocated by the U. S. in international affairs since the term of Thomas Jefferson as secretary of state.

6. That it would encourage extended boundary claims of Russia, Mexico and other nations and rob U. S. fishermen of fruitful fishing grounds near Newfoundland and South American shores.

TOKYO (AP)—The Army said today Cpl. Mendell Williams, 23, Harrison, Ark., is being held on suspicion of killing a U. S. Army counter-intelligence corps agent last night. The Army accused Williams of firing two fatal shots at Richard S. Yoshinaga, 29, in an argument outside a cabaret in Otaru, Hokkaido.

Easier Life Is Asked For Working Woman

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 400 electrical workers, most of them women, say unions and state and federal governments should make things easier for the working woman.

A conference sponsored by the Independent United Electrical Workers and attended by representatives of union locals throughout the country, passed resolutions yesterday proposing:

That the federal government provide child care facilities for working mothers and make more adequate tax reductions for child care expenses.

That federal luxury taxes be repealed on the ground they really hit women's necessities, like purses and cosmetics.

Rioting Is Reported

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist news agency said today, 1,000 laborers rioted for two days at Fushun coal mines east of Mukden in Communist Manchuria, killing 500 guards and destroying installations. The interior ministry's Ta Tao Agency, which claims mainland news sources, said about half the laborers died at the huge open-cut mines.

A Bible Thought For Today -

Liberty is a heritage of those who live where the Bible is honored and followed. Where it is dishonored there is no liberty. "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." - Lev. 25:10.

Recovery, While Not Easy, Still Possible In Wake Of Sandstorms

Our land is sick and bruised. It has suffered a grievous blow; one from which it will not easily or quickly recover. If we had thought punishment had been meted out to our basic resource the past two years, we learned something new in the way of soil destruction last week. While there have been storms of greater intensity in the past, they were of relatively short duration. Those of the past week, and particularly on Wednesday - April 22 is the date you may well remember - probably exceeded anything within the memory of our oldest natives for sustained force and destruction.

Fields which had been left barren with wisps of sand moving like a restless epithet over the surface - these fields are some or they are beds of sand. Great drifts, once part of rich topsoil, lay astride our roads, highways and sometime our railroads. Mounds of sand, inundations on scarred landscapes, mark where fences are buried in many places. This is not a few story, but it is a chapter of such severity and gaunt abuse as nature has seldom dealt us. Respite will come only when wind currents settle into the summer pattern, a pattern which normally has been set in motion before this time of the year.

Washington Calling - Marquis Childs Future Of The Republican Party Is Viewed As Rosy In Every Way

WASHINGTON - The rash of appraisals of the first hundred days of the Eisenhower administration weigh what has been done and left undone in the beginning phase. But they largely ignore the standing in practical politics of the Republican party and the new administration in the initial trial of power and responsibility.

When Taft has made plain in the inner circle is that he really meant it when he said last year that if he failed to get the Presidential nomination, he would never again try for the Presidency. What might interest him as a cast-iron to his career in politics and the law is a place on the Supreme Court. His friends believe that should a vacancy occur in the next two or three years, the President will offer Taft the appointment.

Lime Plays Part In Building Wall

In past years the laying of bricks seemed easy enough to me, but I did a bit of work on a brick wall last month, and changed my opinion. I laid about 20 of the 300 over-sized bricks which went into the wall.

Each brick measured three by four by 16 inches, and was three times as heavy as a standard brick, but the weight had little to do with the trouble I met. A level had to be used on every brick, to keep it from going in, at a slant; also it was necessary, to see that the bricks made an exactly upright wall, which sounds more simple than it is. At first I laid several bricks with a special effort for speed. A few minutes later, I looked at the wall and found that I had put a curve in it! That meant knocking out three or four bricks, and putting them back again - in exactly the right position.

Little Man Is Reconciled To Fact That Russia And Reds Here For Long Time

WASHINGTON - The little man was beginning to feel a little more at ease. For a while there after Stalin's death he had been excited.

That was the time of the grand guessing game, when everyone seemed sure the new mob in the Kremlin would be at one another's throat in no time.

Everybody had a theory. Malenkov was on shaky ground. Beria was on shaky ground. Molotov was low man on the totem pole.

Steinways Set Tradition; Never Seek Mass Market

NEW YORK - The Steinway never made a big play for the mass market. In 1853 they sold about 200 pianos. This year they expect to sell only 3,500. That is only a little over 2 per cent of the 150,000 pianos Americans buy each year, but it is about 10 per cent of the dollar volume.

Old Theodore says proudly: "We aren't selling soap or hot dogs, you know. We are selling something that has to do with the spirit, the soul."

Some Decline In Output Possible With Shorter Weeks, Few Layoffs

Stanley Kavalecki, a metal finisher on a Detroit assembly line, is puzzled by gloom warnings. Why should Secretary of Commerce Weeks say we won't have an old-fashioned depression? Why should Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey say we don't have to fear peace?

will be shorter work weeks at best and perhaps layoffs. All through the postwar period, the automobile industry just wouldn't go down. Sales fatigue was evident in 1952, but defense cut output to demand. Nevertheless, automobile manufacturers are producing like mechanical rabbits running away from dogtrack greynobles.

So it goes. Yet you can find things to worry about. Television production is off from about 200,000 weekly in November to 180,000 now. But TV output customarily sloughs off at this time of the year. Fall - just before Christmas - is the big season.

In the first 16 weeks of this year, auto companies produced more than 2,000,000 passenger cars. They've been turning out 140,000 a week lately. At this rate, they'll have produced 3,400,000 cars by the end of June. Yet the full-year market is estimated at 5,500,000, maybe 6,000,000.

Easy Exercise To Stay Young

Songbird Jeanette MacDonald, one of Hollywood's favorite citizens, keeps her figure in shape by a few minutes of daily exercise. Jeanette also passes on a skin-care tip.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY
By Lydia Lane

HOLLYWOOD — Although Jeanette MacDonald has not made a picture for a long time, she has kept her many fans happy by a recent coast to coast concert tour. She plans to return to the screen soon.

When I visited Jeanette yesterday in her beautiful Bel-Air home, she was very enthusiastic about several night club engagements.

"Working hard must agree with you, because I've never seen you looking better," I commented.

"I'm happy," Jeanette confessed, "and I feel that our state of mind dictates our state of health. There is nothing so important to well-being as happiness in your work and in your home."

I noticed that Jeanette was wearing no make-up but lipstick and mascara, but her skin was perfect. I asked her how she cared for it.

"Ever since I was in show business I've taken my make-up off with olive oil," she explained. "It's an old family trick. My mother's skin was exquisite, even when she was no longer young."

"Don't you use anything else?"

"Oh, yes," Jeanette explained. "In the evening I use a lubricating cream in order to keep my skin from being dry. But olive oil is the main secret."

"Do you diet and exercise?" I asked, wanting to know how she kept her lovely figure.

"I've never had a weight problem because I have always eaten simply. My stomach rebels every time I try rich foods, so I've learned to like the things which are good for me."

"But I wouldn't miss a day without exercise," she added quickly. "The first thing every morning I enjoy limbering and stretching."

"What type of exercises do you do?"

"Here is one of them," Jeanette said, jumping up with the greatest of ease. She easily touched the floor with the palms of her hands, keeping her knees straight.

"This is one of the best exercises in the world," she said. "It's simple, too, once you train yourself. And just a few minutes a day will pay off with better health and a more perfect figure."

I had to agree that Jeanette's simple routine was a good one.

Amnesty Proclaimed By Czechoslovakians

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A second Communist satellite — Czechoslovakia — proclaimed an amnesty in the Soviet pattern today for lesser offenders, both civilian and military.

Radio Prague said the clemency decree, signed by President Antonin Zapotocky, went into effect today.

The broadcast made no mention of AP Correspondent William N. Oatis, arrested two years ago in Prague on charges of spying and now serving a 10-year jail sentence.

It seemed unlikely that Oatis would benefit from the decree. The Czech amnesty, like those proclaimed for the Soviet Union and Communist Romania, specifically excluded all persons convicted of treason, espionage, sabotage or "crimes against the peace."

Such a provision will leave thousands still in Czech jails. Since the Communists seized power in 1948, most persons jailed have been convicted on one of those counts.

The new Soviet regime proclaimed the first sweeping clemency March 27 after Stalin's death. Romania followed suit April 4.

The Czech decree said immediate freedom would be given all youths serving sentences of less than a year, all pregnant women or women serving two-year sentences and with children under 10 years, all persons with serious or incurable diseases, all women over 50 and all men over 60.

Sentences of more than one year were reduced by two-thirds. Life terms were cut to 20 years and all fines up to 20,000 crowns ($400) imposed in addition to prison sentences were lifted. Many pending cases were ordered dropped.

Military offenders serving terms of less than one year will be freed after four months. Fines of 30,000 crowns were cut two-thirds.

The decree said the clemency was being ordered because "in the unhappy days in which President Klement Gottwald died, the Czech people demonstrated their unity and now have gathered firmly around President Zapotocky."

Observers here, however, believed the decree was designed to alleviate popular discontent resulting from a critical food shortage and extreme production demands being made on workers.

2 Planes With US Repatriates Leave For Home

TOKYO (AP)—Two military transport planes left tonight bearing 38 repatriated American war prisoners to the United States.

The first plane left at 6:21 p.m. (4:21 a.m. EST) and the second at 4:35 p.m.

Original plans called for all the former captives of the Communists to fly in a single big C-97 Stratocruiser, but it developed mechanical trouble and two four-engine C-54 transports were called into service.

The passenger list for separate planes was not given. However, the total list was announced by the Far East Command earlier today.

Previous transports have made a 17-hour flight to Honolulu, rested briefly there, and continued to Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco.

Only 14 of the 148 U. S. servicemen freed in the sick and wounded prisoner exchange remain here. Ninety-seven men have already been flown home—96 to the mainland and one to Hawaii.

Dane Premier Withdraws Resignation

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Premier Erik Eriksen has withdrawn his resignation and ended a 10-day political crisis during which all leading political parties had refused to form a government.

The Agrarian party leader, who quit April 22, told King Frederik IX Saturday night that his coalition Cabinet of agrarians and conservatives would stay in office.

Eriksen resigned after the opposition Socialists won two more seats than his right-wing coalition in special elections for Parliament's lower house. The Socialists, however, refused to take over.

The Socialists held that the Eriksen government should stay in office until after a referendum later this month decides whether a proposed new constitution is to go into effect. If the Danes approve it—which appears likely—a new single house Parliament will be chosen in elections in October to replace the present upper and lower houses.

Before he agreed to stay at the government helm, Eriksen got assurances from the Liberals and Single Tax party that he could count on their 22 seats to support his coalition's aggregate of 59 places in the 131-member house.

This guaranteed the Premier a fairly stable majority over the 61 seats of the Socialists. The Socialists could not have mustered such support from small independent factions.

Trumans Leave For Independence Home

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman and his wife departed for their home in Independence, Mo., last night aboard Southern Pacific's Gold Coast Limited.

Their daughter Margaret left an hour earlier on the City of San Francisco, bound for New York via Chicago.

Widespread Labor Unrest Is Forecast

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP)—A high level of labor unrest is forecast for the coming year by David L. Cole, just retired as head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Testifying before a House Appropriations Subcommittee on his agency's money request, Cole said, "The outlook is not good; as we see it, in the industrial relations field."

He said he could foresee no diminishing of the number of strikes in the near future, but instead possibilities of a step-up in labor-management disputes as the time arrives for negotiation of new work contracts.

"I see some bad situations in the offing, and any one or several of them could be bad cases," he told the committee. "We have the maritime situation coming along shortly. We have rubber. We have steel coming in June. They are some of the principal ones."

Cole testified before the committee March 24. The transcript of the hearings was made public today.

Cole's resignation took effect Friday, and President Eisenhower designated Clyde M. Mills as acting chief.

Cole told the committee it was "quite evident from our talks at the White House" that Eisenhower expects the mediation and conciliation service to deal with labor-management disputes without coming to him.

"He is apparently determined—and I think properly so—that these major disputes should be kept out of the White House," Cole stated.

Strikes have become more "obstinate," he said, and he added: "I think there are some parts of American industry that feel a little triumphant over the change in administration. There are parts of the labor movement that are defiant, have a chip on their shoulder—'Let's see what you can do to us now.'"

McCarthy Prober Claims Smear Attack
WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy Cohn, Sen. McCarthy's chief investigator, says he was the object of an attempted smear on a recent fact-gathering trip to Europe.

Cohn told NBC television interviewers last night that "certain elements within the State Department over in Germany" had him and Gerard D. Schine trailed. Schine is chief consultant for the Senate Investigations Subcommittee which McCarthy heads.

The object, Cohn said, apparently "was to feed all sorts of information and stories to the hostile press so they could smear us up a little bit." He did not say who he thought was involved.

50 Pct. Decline In Death Rate From TB Noted

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—The U. N. World Health Organization (WHO) reports a 50 per cent drop since the war in the death rate from tuberculosis of the respiratory system—one of the major killers of mankind.

A report issued last night said the disease, which ranks with cancer and heart disease in its deadliness, "no longer represents the aspect of a social scourge."

The report said the "extraordinary" cut in the tuberculosis death rate—"one of the most sensational developments ever recorded in the field of public health"—was due to:

1. Energetic mass action for the early detection of the disease, through X-rays and other tests.
2. Prevention through BCG vaccination.
3. Control of such foodstuffs as milk.
4. Improved medical facilities due to the development of collective insurance.
5. Recent progress in treatment methods.

By 1950, the report said, the death rate from the disease had dropped to 32 per cent of the pre-war level in Sweden, 40 per cent in Norway, 44 per cent in Denmark, 49 per cent in Switzerland, 52 per cent in France, 53 per cent in United States and 59 per cent in Britain.

It added that in the 21 countries publishing reliable statistics, more than 430,000 persons alive today would have died of tuberculosis if the average pre-war death rate had remained unchanged.
