

Border Town Days Celebration Heralds Three Days Of Merriment

Thursday, Friday and Saturday are days of frivolity, fun, merriment and celebration as the annual edition of Farwell's and Texico's joint Border Town Days gets underway. Entertainment to satisfy every palate has been scheduled from rodeo performances, to a parade, barbecue, old settlers reunion, art show, beans and cornbread supper, high school reunion and queen's contest. The kick-off event of the three-day celebration is the parade which is scheduled to begin Thursday at 4 p.m. CDT. Parade participants will assemble on the south side of the highway in the west end of Texico. The parade will proceed down the highway, across the railroad tracks and terminate at the road to the Farwell Community Arena.

Leading the parade will be the fire trucks from the Farwell and Texico Fire Departments. Fred Chandler is parade marshal and Bill Thigpen, deputy marshal. Numerous organizations, social clubs, civic groups, businesses, riding clubs, 4-H clubs, etc., are expected to have entries in the parade. An art show will be held along the front area of the Holiday Store Thursday from 1-5 p.m. CDT. Displayed will be paintings of persons enrolled in art lessons at Art 'n Such in Farwell. While parade goers are awaiting the parade, they may browse and view the exhibit. Mrs. Clyde Magness in charge.

Immediately following the parade, the Farwell Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a barbecue in the Farwell City Park. Planners are estimating that approximately 400 pounds of beef will be prepared. The meal will include barbecue, potato salad, beans, onions, peaches and iced tea.

The meal will be served by volunteers from the Chamber of Commerce. Price will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. Everyone is welcome to refresh themselves with a good meal.

The opening performance of the Border Town Days AJRA rodeo will begin Thursday evening at 8 p.m. CDT. Gates will open at 6 p.m. Admission prices have been set at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Children under seven years of age will be admitted free. This week's big Border Town Days celebration in the Twin Cities climaxes many months of planning and work by the civic clubs in our community. All civic groups have been delegated areas of responsibility, and all have responded with a willing hand and many hours of hard work. The spirit of mutual helpfulness has prevailed throughout the long preparation period and hopefully into all phases of mutual concern to Texico and Farwell.

The economic growth and civic prosperity of these communities are inextricably bound together as one unit. While they may be separated by a state line, their destiny is as one. For permanent growth to take place, the total assets of each town must be accounted for as a whole.

In presenting the assets to a prospective industry or business, both sides of the line must be taken into account. It is only by a continued double harness pulling together, as exemplified by "Border Town Days", can our Twin Cities rightfully acquire the growth to which they are entitled in the great Golden Spread economy.

Both towns can and will grow along with our larger neighbor to the west, Clovis. All over the country, people are demonstrating a desire to pull away from the metropolitan areas and live in the smaller and quieter communities. Clovis can attract the industries, Texico and Farwell can provide the suburban way of life for many of their workers.

A joint long-range growth committee taking in the Clovis and Texico-Farwell area would be a good thing to have when it comes to persuading major industry to consider these crossroads of the southwest as a desirable location.

Another example of great community spirit and cooperation has been the growth of the Little League Ball Park under the guidance of the Texico-Farwell Lions Club. Last weekend was one of the Little League Area Tournaments that saw representative teams and fans from Friona, Bovina, Clovis and Texico-Farwell all coming to the Twin Cities to watch their team play ball and leave some money behind for the local economy. This week, on Thursday the 25th, two teams from Clovis will compete on the local field and they will bring a large following of fans to watch them play.

Certainly one of the most thrilling baseball games to be unreel locally was last Saturday night's contest between the Clovis Evening Lions team and the Texico-Farwell All-Stars sponsored by the local Lions Club. Clovis finally won the game by an 8-7 score but only after a frenzied six innings of play that wasn't decided until the last man was tagged out in the bottom of the last inning.

Texico-Farwell has the potential for great growth. Continued cooperation will guarantee that growth.

From time to time, a cry goes up that television is ruining motion pictures. Well in our opinion, as sorry as television is, it has to be the movies that are killing the movies. A "for instance" is a day's bill of fare of local movie viewing in Clovis.

At one time last week, the following nine movies were offered for public consumption at the four theaters in Clovis: "The Soul Hustler", "Chrome and Hot Leather", "The Werewolf vs. Vampire Woman", "Diabolic Wedding", "Legend of Horror", "The Bat People", "Frogs", "Blazing Saddles", and "Jeremiah Johnson". Also, a plug was thrown in for "The Exorcist".

The Clovis Ministerial Alliance did protest to the Clovis City Council about the forthcoming "The Exorcist" but evidently considered the other pot-boilers as standard fare for public viewing, as no protest about the general level of movies was entered.

To what level of entertainment values have we fallen when all of the above ordure is passed off on the public without so much as a raised eyebrow by moms and dads???

Local All-Stars Nab Second Place; Enter District Tournament Thursday

Nine Little League All-Star teams met in various battles Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 18, 19 and 20, to determine the two area leaders which will be in contention for the District Champion title Thursday, July 25.

Texico-Farwell All-Stars won the right to vie for the third place slot in district competition by downing Bovina 16-2 in their first game of Area Tour-namment competition Friday, July 19, and narrowly missing a win when they fell to Clovis Evening Lions in a squeaker, 8-7, Saturday for second place in the local phase of the area play-offs.

"The best ball game in all of the area tournament was played by our local All-Stars," said Little League Association President Jim Walker in reference to the Saturday night encounter. Texico-Farwell took an early 1-0 lead when Neil Haile belted a double up the middle to bring Herbert Bibbs across the plate from second base.

Clovis Evening bounced right back in the second inning to take the lead 2-1. The game changed hands in the third when Bibbs led off with a double. Mark Owens sent Bibbs to third on a single and Bibbs went in to score on an error that advanced Owens to third and put Haile on first. Steve Doolittle upped the score to a 5-2 Texico-Farwell lead by blasting a three-run homer over the left-center field fence.

No more runs were scored until the fourth when Clovis brought two in to close the locals lead to one point, 5-4. Texico-Farwell came right back and racked up two runs to go into the lead 7-4 with Bibbs scoring on a bad throw and Owens coming in on a triple by Haile.

Fifth inning play saw Clovis close the scoring gap to a point blank 7-7 tie and move ahead 8-7 on a bunt.

Texico-Farwell was unable to forge ahead and the final tally declared the Clovis Evening Lions All-Stars champs of the local Area Tournament.

During the one-game elimination tournament Clovis Evening Lions won over Clovis Southern in their first game and came right back to down Friona. Texico-Farwell dropped Bovina and were defeated by Clovis Evening Lions.

The same weekend, another area tournament was conducted in Tucumcari which saw Clovis National League defeat Cannon Air Force Base and the Clovis American League win over Tucumcari. In the play-offs Clovis National League slammed Clovis American League to win the right to face Clovis Evening Lions.

Texico-Farwell will kick off the District Tournament Thursday, July 25, at the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Ball Park at 6 p.m. MDT as they battle Clovis American League for the third place slot in district competition. The championship game, pitting Clovis Evening Lions and Clovis National League, will get underway at 8 p.m. MDT Thursday.

Winner of the half beef giveaway sponsored by the Texico-Farwell Little League Association was James Johnson. Johnson was one of over 500 persons who donated $1.00 for a chance to win the half beef which was cut, wrapped and delivered. Proceeds from the donations will be used by the association to purchase a pitching machine to aid the local baseballers in developing both batting and fielding techniques.

Border Town Days Queen To Be Crowned Saturday

The Border Town Days Rodeo queen will be crowned Saturday, July 27, prior to the final rodeo performance at 8 p.m. CDT. Crowning the new queen will be last year's queen Linda Autrey.

Competing for the title are Vicki Snodgrass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snodgrass of Texico; Lori Norton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Norton of Farwell; and Lee Ann Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams of Farwell.

The contest is being sponsored by Theta Rho Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. Mrs. Vernon Scott is chairman of the contest.

A junior at Texico High School, 15-year-old Vicki has participated in volleyball, basketball and track. She is a member of the high school rodeo team and belongs to the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association.

During the 1973-74 school year, Vicki was a cheerleader; also Student Council representative and member of the Pep Club. She is active in the Future Homemakers of America, the Texico 4-H Club and the New Mexico Junior Rodeo Association.

For the third year, Vicki plans to attend the national AJRA finals in Odessa, Aug. 13-17. Vicki is currently ranked seventh in AJRA barrels. She took All Around Cowgirl honors at Carlsbad in the 13-15 age group and won the goat tying competition at the Midland Downs AJRA.

Vicki placed third in goat tying in the 4-H Rodeo held July 13 in Clovis and won the poles event at the Tri-State Rodeo in Farwell earlier this year. Last year, she was the New Mexico State 4-H All Around Cowgirl.

Vicki's favorite competition is barrels, but she also participates in poles, flags and goat tying.

Lori is a 16-year-old junior at Farwell High School, where she has participated in basketball, track, band, the Pep Club and the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association. She has also been active in the Future Homemakers of America and the AJRA.

She is a member of the band, Pep Club, Future Homemakers of America and the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association.

Lee Ann recently purchased a new horse which she will ride in the queen contest.

When the work is complete, the Farwell tower will be taken down and the building and equipment which make up the headend will be removed, Doerr stated.

In addition, the old system will have to be rebuilt to carry the Clovis signals. This work will result in some inconvenience to cable viewers, according to George Doerr of Midwest Video, but the results should offset this inconvenience.

At present, the Clovis system carries the following: KFDA,

Extra-Territorial Zoning Discussion Set

The Extra-Territorial Zoning Commission of Texico will meet Tuesday, July 30, at 8 p.m. MDT in the Texico Community Building, with chairman Bill Stone presiding. Activities of the commission are still in the planning and discussion stages, and Stone encourages all land owners in the area to attend the meeting and express their ideas both pro and con.

The commission was organized a few months ago to protect the value of each individual's property through zoning procedures. The City of Texico, through extra-territorial zoning ordinances, may zone an area up to three miles from the Texico City limits.

Composing the commission membership are Bill Stone, chairman; Jim Pierce, secretary; and Joe Caywood, Keith Scott, Paul Skaggs and Truman Kittrell, members.

The Eastern Plains Planning Council is acting as consultant to the commission and will assist in preparing appropriate zoning ordinances.

Texico-Farwell Area To Receive Clovis Cable

Midwest Video Corporation of Clovis is bringing the Clovis TV cable to Texico-Farwell.

Agreement has been reached with Santa Fe Railroad for use of railroad property between Texico and Clovis. Work will start in the very near future on installing a supertrunk to carry the Clovis signals to the border cities.

When the work is complete, the Farwell tower will be taken down and the building and equipment which make up the headend will be removed, Doerr stated.

At present, the Clovis system carries the following: KFDA,

KGNC and KVII, all of Amarillo; KOAT, Albuquerque; KSWs and KBIM, both of Roswell; and a local time, weather, and radio channel. Additionally, KENW, educational channel from Portales will be added to the cable when it goes on the air approximately Sept. 1.

Sheriff's Report

Parmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace reported the arrest July 14 of four persons for petty theft on the Barrett farm in Lazbuddie. The four were picking up potatoes in a field without permission when their vehicle became stuck. The group borrowed a tractor without permission and were extricating their vehicle when they were caught.

The man who caught the group refused to file charges. Three of the men were released July 15. The fourth, an illegal alien, was detained for the Border Patrol. He was picked up July 17 by Border Patrol authorities.

July 16 an incident of vandalism was reported at a triplex being constructed on the corner of 9th Street and Avenue G. Vandals apparently entered a bathroom window of one of the apartments and smeared paint on the finished fronts of the kitchen cabinets.

Sheriff Lovelace reported minor damage. Bill Nance is owner of the apartments.

A burglary at Sherrill Lumber Company in Bovina occurred the night of July 19. Sheriff's investigators reported that a hole had been kicked in the back door and a small amount of change was taken.

Fire Calls

The Farwell Fire Department reported no fire calls for the past week. The ambulance was called Monday to the office of Dr. Jerry Don Gregory to transport Mike Deel, victim of a pick-up truck accident, to the hospital in Friona.

The Texico Fire Department reported no fire calls.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BREAK BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

BELIEVERS JUSTIFIED

Our Lord's appearance to Saul of Tarsus (later called Paul) on the road to Damascus, changed this pitiless persecutor in a moment into the docile, yes, the devoted follower of the Christ he had so bitterly hated.

This transformation took place not only because he had now seen the risen, ascended Christ; it was caused also by what he had learned from Christ. From heaven the Lord had revealed to Paul the glory of His finished work of redemption and had sent him forth to proclaim "the gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20:24).

This is seen in the closing words of the apostle's first recorded sermon, delivered at the synagogue at Antioch in Pisidia. After mentioning the death and resurrection of Christ, the apostle said:

"Be it known therefore unto you, men and brethren, that

THROUGH THIS MAN IS PREACHED UNTO YOU THE FORGIVENESS OF SINS; "AND BY HIM ALL THAT BELIEVE ARE JUSTIFIED FROM ALL THINGS, FROM WHICH YE COULD NOT BE JUSTIFIED BY THE LAW OF MOSES" (Acts 13:38,39).

Paul never changed this message, but kept emphasizing it wherever he went as well as in all his writings. He saw in this revelation of truth the answer to man's condemnation for breaking God's holy law. Thus he wrote to the Romans:

"...By the law is the knowledge of sin.

"But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested."

"We declare...Christ's righteousness; that God might be just and the Justifier of him which believeth in Jesus" (Romans 3:20,21,26).

CRANE MISHAP -- The boom of this crane received "extensive damages" in a mishap Monday afternoon at Sherley-Anderson-Pitman in Farwell. According to Darrell Guinn of Houston, member of the crew working to lift a fan up to the fan house at the elevators, the left cable on the crane broke and the whole boom fell approximately 10 to 12 feet to the ground, narrowly missing the truck in the foreground by about two feet. Guinn stated that one section of the boom appeared to be all right; however, the remainder of the 130-foot boom was totaled. He also said there was extensive damage to the fan and that a new one will have to be ordered. The crane is leased to Dryco Systems of Houston from an Amarillo firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hargrove have had some interesting guests visiting in their home lately, too. Some long-time and dear friends of theirs, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Kaloyanides from Bangor, Me., are on a Gospel Concert Tour, and they stayed with the Hargroves for about five days while in this area. They held a concert in First Baptist Church of Clovis Sunday night, and their next one will be in Dallas next Sunday.

Gil Patschke, Donald Christian, and Terry Parr returned Sunday night from a weekend in the Sacramento Mountains near Cloudcroft, where they attended a Layman's Retreat, representing Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church. They left from Clovis at noon Friday with a group from Clovis and Portales.

Susan Patschke is in Dallas this week attending the Bill Gothard Seminar with some of her friends from the Dallas-Ft. Worth area.

Charles Christian visited in Abilene last week. When the time came to come home, he talked his sister, Trumi, into coming with him for the weekend, so she paid the old home-stead a surprise visit.

Mrs. Tom Paul McCuan and Mrs. Roy Snodgrass spent Sunday visiting in Ruidoso.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitesides were Bill's sister and brother-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Vandiver, Oklahoma City.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Brown and family were Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jackson, Portales.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hadley were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Larson, Lubbock.

Mrs. Aileen Teel visited with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Usrey of Shallowater last Wednesday.

Susan Symcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Symcox, is attending an Airline School in Kansas City, Mo., for several weeks. She's having fun, but says it sure is hot!

Canning and freezing season is here, and I got so busy that I almost forgot I had an early deadline this week. Our garden is really producing! How about yours?

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aycock and Chris went to the Santa Fe area this weekend. They attended an Arts and Crafts Fair Saturday, which was put on by the eight Northern Indian Pueblos at the San Ildefonso Pueblo. They returned to Farwell via Pecos. This was little Chris' first trip, and they discovered that he is quite a good traveler.

Mrs. J. E. Whatley, Amarillo, has been visiting in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helton.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Chandler, Roxie and Terri, char-coaled steaks Sunday for their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Chandler, Greg and Doug,

61 Silver Dollars Spell Happy Birthday For Vi

Mrs. Vi Crow was honored with a surprise birthday party Wednesday, July 17, at Clara's restaurant. The occasion was Mrs. Crow's 61st birthday. Attending the party were friends and customers of Mrs. Crow and members of the Rotary Club.

Walter Hughes, a Rotarian, presented Mrs. Crow with a huge birthday card of wood decorated with a border of silver dollars and with her name spelled in silver dollars and a daisy centered with a silver dollar. The card contained a total of 61 silver dollars.

Mrs. Joy Chadwick designed the unique birthday card spelling out "Happy Birthday Vi." The idea was instigated by Markam Chadwick, who began collecting donations from Mrs. Crow's friends, customers and the Rotarians.

The Rotarians sang happy birthday to Mrs. Crow as she received her birthday cake containing one candle in the center. The large sheet cake decorated with multi-colored flowers was covered with white icing. Mrs. Crow shared her cake with friends, customers and Rotarians.

A waitress for the past 25 years, Mrs. Crow has been employed at Clara's restaurant for the last 11 years. She has worked the Rotary Club luncheons for the last nine years. Mrs. Crow was also employed in Clovis as a waitress for 14 years.

A native of Clovis, Mrs. Crow returned to that city in 1954 from Memphis, Tenn. Her mother, Mrs. Mom Spurlin, resides in Farwell.

Commented Mrs. Crow, "I wish to thank all my friends and customers and the Rotarians for such a wonderful surprise and Clara for the beautiful birthday cake."

At that time the Board voted to change the assessed valuation of property from 39 per cent to 46 per cent on every $100; and to lower the tax rate from $2.00 to $1.90.

World-Wide Delegates Attend Lions Meet

Between 35,000 and 40,000 Lions from 156 countries attended the International Lions Club Convention in San Francisco, July 3-6. James Craig, district governor of 40-X, was the Texico-Farwell Lions Club delegate to the convention, with Lee Hutchins, serving as alternate.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig departed Friday, June 28, from Amarillo's airport for San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins left Wednesday, June 26, to drive to the West Coast.

The Craigs arrived in San Francisco at 4 p.m. June 28. That evening they met Mr. and Mrs. Ted Myers of Los Lunas, N.M. Myers is district governor of 40-N. The two couples enjoyed a walking tour of Fishermen's Wharf and had dinner at Alioto's No. 9.

Following dinner, the two couples rode a cable car from Fishermen's Wharf to the end of the terminal and back to Lombard Street. Craig reported that they marveled at Lombard Street, the most crooked street in the world, having 10 hairpin curves within one block.

The morning of Saturday, June 29, convention delegates reported to the Lions International Headquarters at the San Francisco Hilton to pick up registration packets and seminar booklets. While there, Craig met some of the key personnel of Lions International from the international office in Oak Brook, Ill.

That afternoon Craig met

Orville Oldham of Silver City, district governor of 40-M. The Craigs spent free time in the evening sightseeing with the Myerses and the Oldhams.

Sunday, June 30, the governor-elect seminar was held in the Fairmont Hotel, "one of the oldest hotels in San Francisco, but one of the most elite," commented Craig. The seminars were conducted from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., with a luncheon break at noon.

At this first meeting of governors-elect, all were present, with the exception of 17, from throughout the world. Craig stated that 426 attended.

From June 30 to July 2, Craig attended a school, consisting of numerous training sessions, for all governors-elect.

The governors-elect banquet was held the evening of July 2 at the San Francisco Hilton. Among the guests attending were international officers including Tris Coffin of Canada, president; Johnny Balbo of Illinois, first vice president; Harry Ashland of California, second vice president; Fernando Sobral of Brazil, third vice president; and all international directors. One of the international directors is Sid Bernard of Carlsbad.

Those attending the banquet were entertained by a group of bay area students between the ages of 14 and 21. The program included dance routines, chorus line, choir and orchestra.

Following the banquet, the governors-elect ball was held. The convention began Wednesday, July 3, with a parade at 6 p.m. On July 4 and 5 convention business sessions were conducted. Both afternoons the district governors-elect visited hospitality suites of various Lions Clubs.

The final session was conducted Saturday, July 6, at which time it was announced that New Mexico had won first place in the Multiple District Trading Pin Contest, with Brazil winning honorable mention.

Earlier that day, voting for third vice president and international directors took place. The polls were open between 6 and 10 a.m., with over 8,000 delegates and alternates registered to vote. At the end of the morning session, the governors-elect were installed as district governors for 1974-75.

Concluding the convention, Art Linkletter spoke to the group, giving an interesting talk on drugs.

Saturday Mrs. Craig's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Whitten, of Sacramento came to San Francisco for a visit with the Craigs. They toured the San Francisco area and had dinner in the Cornelian Room on the 52nd floor of the Bank of America Building. From this height Craig reported, they had a beautiful view of the bay area and could see the Golden Gate, Alcatraz, Treasure Island, Oakland Bay Bridge and other scenic areas.

Sunday, July 7 Mr. and Mrs. Craig flew to Denver, Colo. In Boulder, Colo., they visited with Mrs. Craig's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Whitten. Craig returned to Farwell July 9, with Mrs. Craig remaining in Boulder for a longer visit with her brother and family.

In Holland - -

Mary Mesman And Children Tip Toe Through The Tulips

Mrs. Ben (Mary) Mesman and her two youngest children, Berny and Johanna, of the Oklahoma Lane Community and a friend, Mrs. Edmund Kitten of Slaton, returned home June 7, following a three-week visit to Mrs. Mesman's homeland, Holland. The group departed from Amarillo on May 15, flew to Chicago and boarded a KLM flight to Amsterdam. This was Mrs. Mesman's first trip to Holland in 10 years, and the first trip for her children.

During their first two weeks, they stayed in the mobile home owned by Mr. Mesman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Mesman of Schalkwyk, and the last week was spent as guests of Mrs. Mesman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Van Ruiten of Zwaneburg.

Much of the Mesmans sojourn was spent visiting relatives and friends and in family gatherings. While the guests were visiting, Mrs. Mesman's parents celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary. Also on hand for the family celebration was Mrs. Mesman's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Van Ruiten and children of Dora, N.M.

Mrs. Mesman lived in Holland for 23 years before coming to the United States and she reported that she saw more on this three-week visit than she had in the 23 years she lived there. A particular delight to her was showing her homeland to her two youngest children.

Escorted by family members, the visitors toured Kuckenhof Gardens and Vogelzang Gardens. Mrs. Mesman says the tulips were still blooming and the hot houses were filled with flowers. She said they met many English speaking people at the gardens.

They also visited the open markets in Haarlem which had numerous displays of flowers, fruits, antiques, clothes, material etc. She says they bought "lots of postcards."

Mrs. Mesman's brother and family departed May 21 to return to New Mexico. The family took them to the airport in Amsterdam, and following their departure, took a ferry ride across the North Sea Canal.

Thursday, May 23 the group went to Madurodam, an exact replica of a city, built in miniature. There they saw a statue, in miniature, of the little Dutch boy with his finger in the dyke. Then they went to Rotterdam, a large seaport. The group took a trip to the top of the Space Tower from which, Mrs. Mesman says, they could see all of the Rotterdam Harbor.

An excursion that proved "very educational" was a round trip boat ride through the canals of Amsterdam. Since Amsterdam is built on top of water, canals are bountiful. They also went to Ryksmuseum in Amsterdam where they viewed many Dutch paintings by such artists as Frans Hals and Rembrandt. They also saw displays of clothes worn in olden times and a special display of clergymen's attire.

Sunday, May 26 the visitors went to Volendam where they had their pictures made in Dutch costumes. They bought wooden shoes, Dutch spoons and an old fashioned pipe for Mr. Mesman. They dined on smoked eel, and Mrs. Mesman says it was "very good."

Activities the following day included a trip to Zaanschaans where they went through a windmill where peanut oil was made. There they met a group of Japanese and a boy from Canada. They also enjoyed shopping at Beverwyk.

Two other days were spent attending a cattle market, dining on their very first hot dogs of the trip, touring an open market where they bought material and going through a very old cathedral.

Thursday, May 30 the visitors went to the ocean at Zandvoort, where Mrs. Mesman reports, the ships had spilled oil in the water and it had drifted into the beach area. While they were walking along the beach, their feet, encountered the oil.

They visited the cathedral Basiliek in Haarlem which was elaborately decorated for the bishop's 40th anniversary celebration.

A visit to the cheese market at Alkmaar proved to be quite enjoyable as several kinds of assorted cheeses of different flavors were displayed. They also enjoyed souvenir shopping.

Of particular interest to Mrs. Mesman, was a trip to Bergenmeer where she was born and lived until she was 12 years old. They saw the bunkers still remaining from the war. They also visited Spaarndam to see the monument to the youth of (Continued On Next Page)

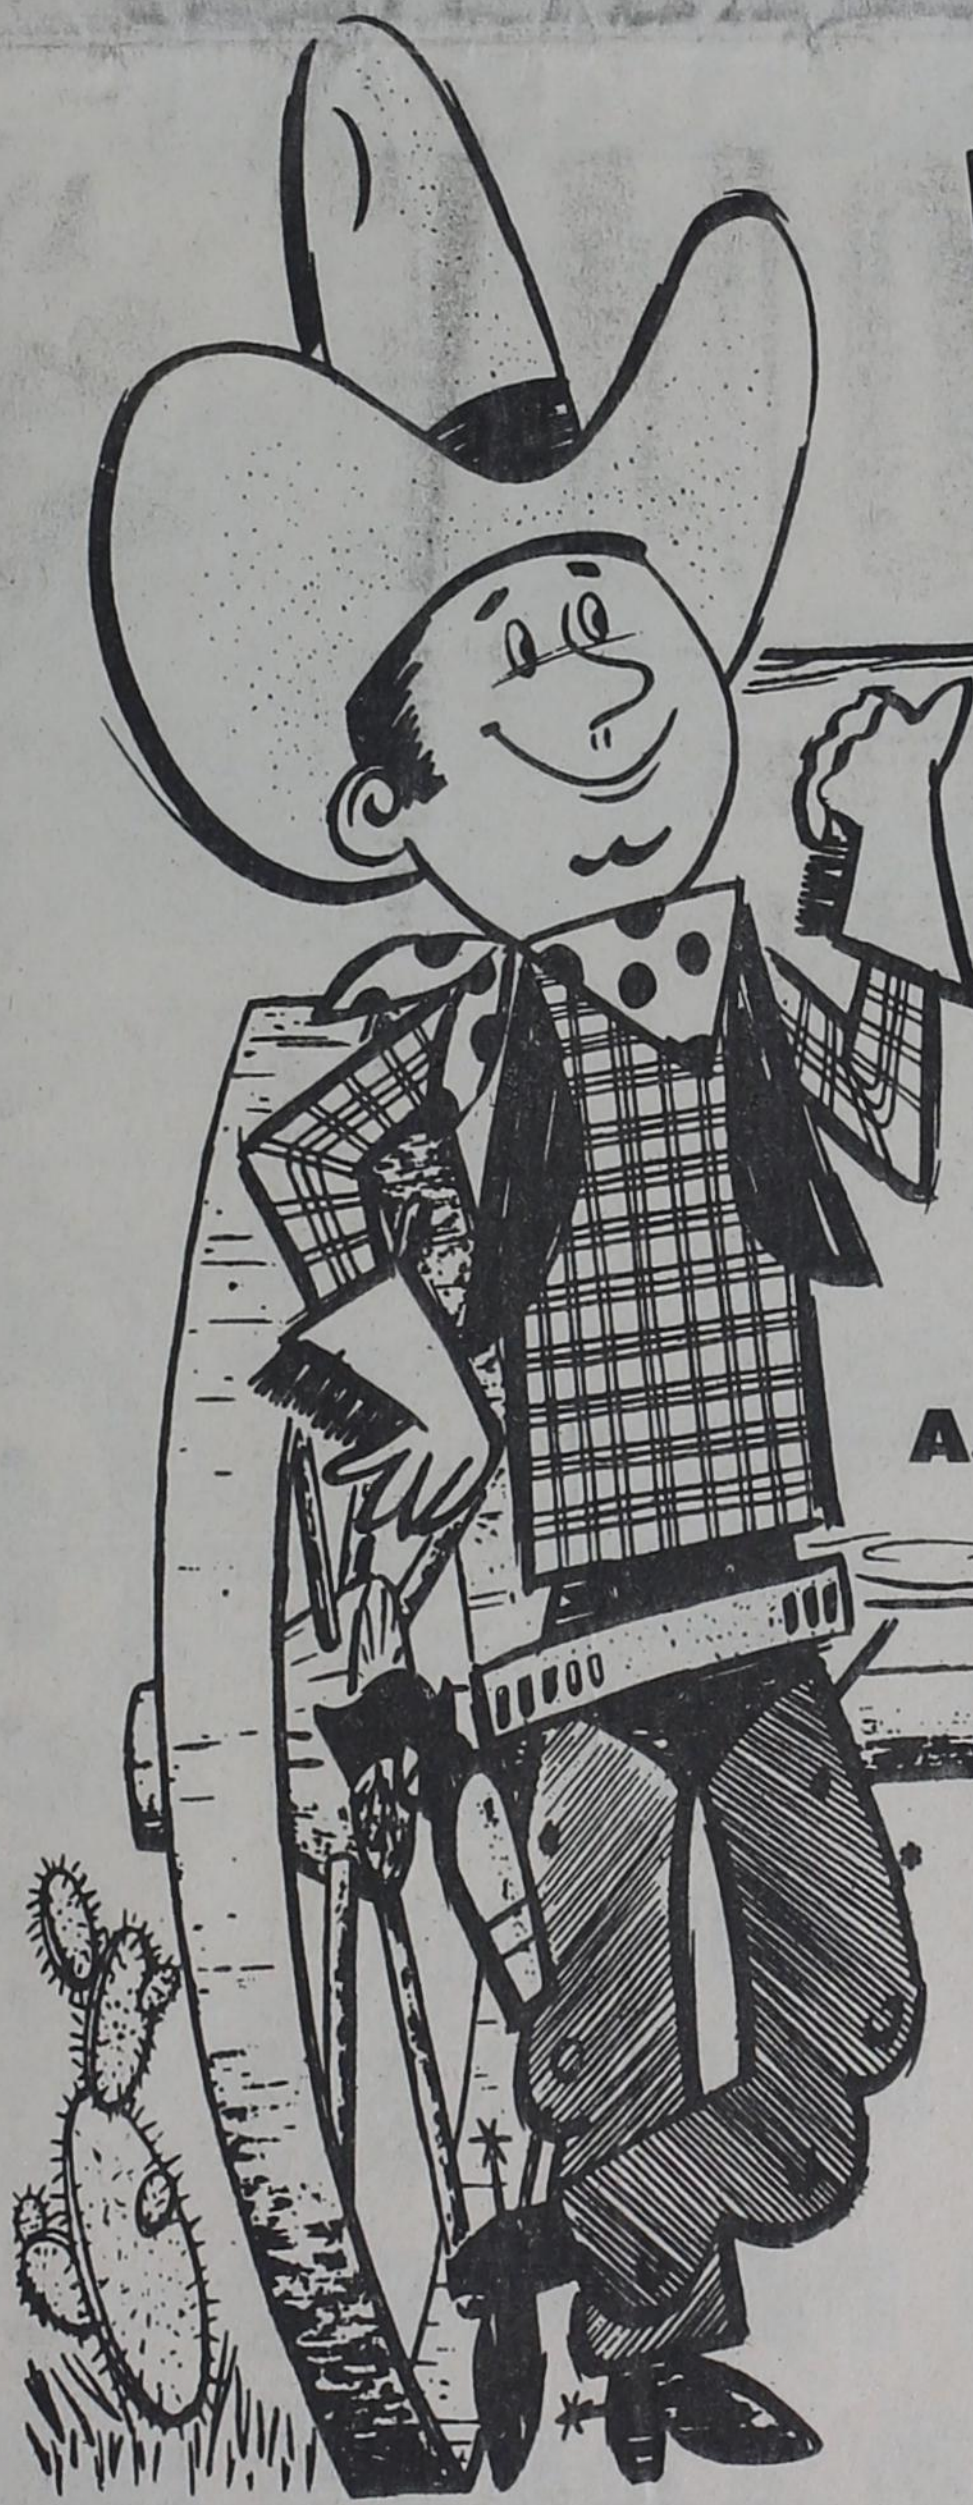

DUTCH COSTUMES - Mrs. Mary Mesman and her children, Berny and Johanna, are pictured in traditional Dutch costumes from Holland, complete with wooden shoes. The picture was made at Volendam, where the Mesmans purchased the shoes, some Dutch spoons and an old fashioned pipe for Mr. Mesman.

CANAL RIDE - Mrs. Mary Mesman enjoys a boat ride around the canals of Amsterdam during her three-week trip to Holland in May and June.

VOGELZANG GARDENS - Touring the flower gardens at Vogelzang were, left to right, Art Zwart and Tony Zwart, Mrs. Mesman's brother-in-law and sister; Berny Mesman, Mrs. Edmund Kitten of Slaton and Johanna Mesman. This was Mrs. Mesman's first trip to her homeland in 10 years, and the first for the children.

Howard-Dunbar Simmental Operation - -

Embryo Transplanting Produces Superior Characteristics

by Kay Williamson

The American cattleman is consistently trying to keep abreast of the latest techniques and new developments in cattle breeding, raising and marketing in order to provide the housewife with a good selection of beef at a reasonable price.

If a Farwell cattleman has his way, the latest and most innovative development in producing cattle will drive the high meat market prices down and provide a fair price and profit for everyone concerned in the beef industry.

Buttons Howard and John Dunbar are participating in a unique project involving Simmental donor cows, which underwent transplant surgery and produced several fertile embryos which were implanted into commercial cows.

These commercial cows will carry the embryos for nine months, then give natural birth and raise the calves as their own. Their genetics and appearance will be from the donor cow and a purebred bull.

er, their calves will be seven-eighths pure Simmental if bulls and purebred if heifers.

This is not an ordinary group of pregnant cows. This group is the first of Howard's Simmentals to produce embryo transplants at Codding Embryological Sciences, Inc., in Foraker, Okla.

A relatively new science, embryo transplanting began during the last two years when the Codding staff investigated transplant work conducted in all parts of the world. The staff, concluding that Alberta Transplants Ltd. of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, was the leader in embryo transplant work, joined in an exclusive arrangement with this company to provide transplant services to cattlemen in the United States.

What this means is that superior breeding stock may be produced with the highest quality genetic characteristics through the perfection of new techniques. Embryo transplanting is a dynamic new approach to the problem that cows are limited in their genetic influence to only a few offspring.

Through the reality of embryo technology, a single cow can now produce 10 or more calves each year, thus multiplying her genetic and economic influence by an order of magnitude.

Just as artificial insemination was the technology for propagating the blood lines of superior sires in the last decade, embryo transplants offer similar opportunities for increasing the number of offspring produced from outstanding cows in the 1970's.

Information released by Codding Embryological Sciences, Inc., describes the embryo transplant process. Almost every rancher or dairyman has one or two outstanding cows that have proved their genetic value by producing great bulls or heifers. This animal is the donor for an embryo transplant.

The donor cow is examined by a veterinarian for reproductive fitness and determined suitable for the transplant procedure. Intensive observation begins, continuing through two heat cycles, to determine the exact length and nature of her normal cycle.

Five days before the donor cow is due to exhibit her next heat, a drug to develop numerous eggs is given intramuscularly. On the day of heat a rectal palpation of the ovaries is performed to confirm that sufficient stimulation has occurred to warrant the transplant operation. A drug which releases the multiple eggs in the follicles is then injected intravenously to induce ovulation.

At this time a number of heat-synchronized prospective recipient cows are selected from a large herd maintained specifically for this purpose. The recipient cows are in exactly the same stage of heat as the donor cow. The pre-operative preparation for the donor and recipient begin 48 hours prior to the scheduled operation.

The transplant operations are scheduled at a nominal five days after insemination. At this stage the fertilized eggs have developed into the eight to 32 cell stage, but are still microscopic in size. The progression down the oviduct will place the embryo near the point of entry into the horn of the uterus.

The donor is brought into the preparation room and is given an intravenous shot to put her to sleep. Following preparation, tubes are inserted through the mouth, the sealing device is inflated and gas is administered. The donor is then wheeled to the surgical suite.

A six-inch incision is made just ahead of the udder. The surgeon lifts up the reproductive tract and makes a C.L. (corpus luteum) count. One egg has been released from each C.L. found on the ovaries. A plastic tube is inserted in the follicular end of one oviduct in preparation for flushing out the eggs.

This flushing is done with a hypodermic syringe using a few cc's of fluid which is injected into the oviduct beyond where the eggs are presumed to be; thus, they are flushed backwards up the oviduct and out the plastic tube. The fluid is caught in a small glass dish.

After flushing both oviducts, the fluid containing the embryo is examined under a microscope by an embryologist to identify those that are viable and transplantable. These are kept in an incubator until needed.

The donor cow's organs are replaced and the incision is closed. She is wheeled into the recovery room and is observed for any complications. On her feet within 20 to 30 minutes, this donor cow has, in effect, given birth to a potential litter of children.

The first of several recipient cows then undergoes the same procedure up through the incision. At this point, only the horn of the uterus on the ovulating side is brought to the surface and nicked with a small scalpel.

At that moment the embryologist brings an embryo in a glass pipette. This is inserted through the nick, and the transplant is made. The incision is closed and the recipient is wheeled to the recovery room. Other recipients follow the same procedure until all the eggs from this operation have been "planted." Nine months later the calves will be born totally unrelated to their foster mothers, since they carry the genetic make-up of the donor cow.

Sixty days later, the procedure can be repeated on the same donor and a new set of recipient cows. The recipients are pregnancy checked 90 days after implantation. After the normal gestation period, the recipient calves are delivered by Caesarean section to eliminate the possibility of any birth difficulties.

The major portion of all transplants are currently being done by the owners of "exotic" females, either one-half, three-quarters or purebreds, such as Howard's Simmentals. Some breeds with very few females in the United States are finding it profitable to put their one-half bloods through the program while others with larger numbers such as Simmental are only using their three-quarter bloods. The resulting calves will be one step higher in percentage since purebred semen is used.

Charges for the surgical fee range from $2,500 for each successful embryo transplant to no cash charge where the embryo is shared between the owner and the company, with two other plans in between. There are also charges for feed and care of the donor cow as well as embryo delivery charges.

Howard reports that several cattlemen are becoming interested in up-grading their cattle through this process. And, of course, the advantages are numerous.

Howard first became interested in Simmental cows when he was rodeoing throughout the United States and Canada. During the family's trips to Canada on the rodeo circuit each year, he observed the Simmental cattle breeding operation of a friend of his. Following his return home, he decided to try the Simmental operation. He went to several cattle sales last summer and began purchasing one-half blood cows with three-quarters heifers.

Traits of the Simmentals, Howard notes, are higher production of milk, larger bones, bigger calves raised faster on the same amount of feed and higher maturity weight. The Simmentals originate in Switzerland.

Four or five years ago, Howard says, importation of Simmentals began; however, with the extensive quarantine, the cost of obtaining bulls became prohibitive. Artificial insemination was the solution, with semen banks being set up to provide for breeding purposes.

The American Breeders Service and Curtis Breeding Service both provide semen for breeding Simmentals. Their bulls are registered purebred and cattlemen may select which bull they want for breeding. The semen is kept in nitrogen containers and is shipped to cattlemen across the United States.

Howard says he keeps a supply on hand for artificially inseminating his Simmentals. The bulls in the breeding program, states Howard, have to be of the best stock. One bull, Parisien, is syndicated at one million dollars, and is a Golden Certified Meat Sire, one of three such bulls in the United States.

"From a genetic standpoint" Howard says, "we are breeding the very best. The cattle grow faster and result in bigger cattle when they are full grown."

The Simmentals, prominent in European breeding stock, are a dual purpose breed. In the United States they are used to "upgrade American native stock," states Howard, "to the extent that more beef can be produced for the same amount of expense."

"The bull calves will mainly go to commercial men to enable them to upgrade their (Continued On Next Page)

Holland. Bery and Johanna spent June 1 taking a boat ride in one of the canals and riding a tractor. Sunday June 2, Mrs. Mesman's relatives had a reunion and the following day Mr. Mesman's family had a gathering.

The Mesmans and Mrs. Kitten left Holland June 6 for the trip home. They were supposed to fly to Chicago, but because of the weather they were diverted to Detroit. Much later, Mrs. Mesman says, they were permitted to land in Chicago. Following stops in Kansas City, Wichita, Oklahoma City and Dallas, the group arrived in Amarillo on Friday, June 7, concluding a "wonderful vacation."

MINIATURE CITY -- Bery and Johanna Mesman are pictured at Madurodam, a miniature city, with the monument of the little Dutch boy with his finger in the dyke.

DONOR HEIFERS -- Pictured are some of the three-fourth Simmental donor transplant heifers which have been returned from the Codding Embryological Sciences, Inc. in Foraker Okla., to the Buttons Howard-John Dunbar Simmental cattle operation near Farwell. stock through natural service rather than artificial insemination," Howard commented. The Howard-Dunbar operation has four weaned calves ready for sale now, and by the fall should have several weaned seven-eighths Simmentals for sale. Female seed stock is available at all times at the Howard-Dunbar operation at Farwell.

Sale of the cattle is continuing strong, and Howard reports that he sold 10 one-half bloods to H.H. Brinson's Stonewall Ranch of Aspermont, Tex., recently. Bill Hagler of Farwell has also purchased two one-half bloods. With his partner, John Dunbar, Howard recently sold three three-fourths cows with pure bred heifers at side for $55,000.

This month Rander Brook Spade Ranch in Colorado City, Tex., and Chappel Spade

Ranch in Tucumcari purchased a total of 32 Simmental cows and calves. Rander Brook Spade Ranch has been under one continuous ownership since 1889. Howard states, and has been doing selective breeding of cattle since that time. They have been seriously breeding Simmentals for the past four years.

"It pleases us," said Howard, "that they purchased part of our breeding stock to go with their herd."

Artificial insemination exclusively is done at the Howard cattle operation. Howard attended a five-day course last summer in Portales, sponsored by the American Breeders Service, to learn the procedure. He began the artificial insemination program at his place a year ago last June.

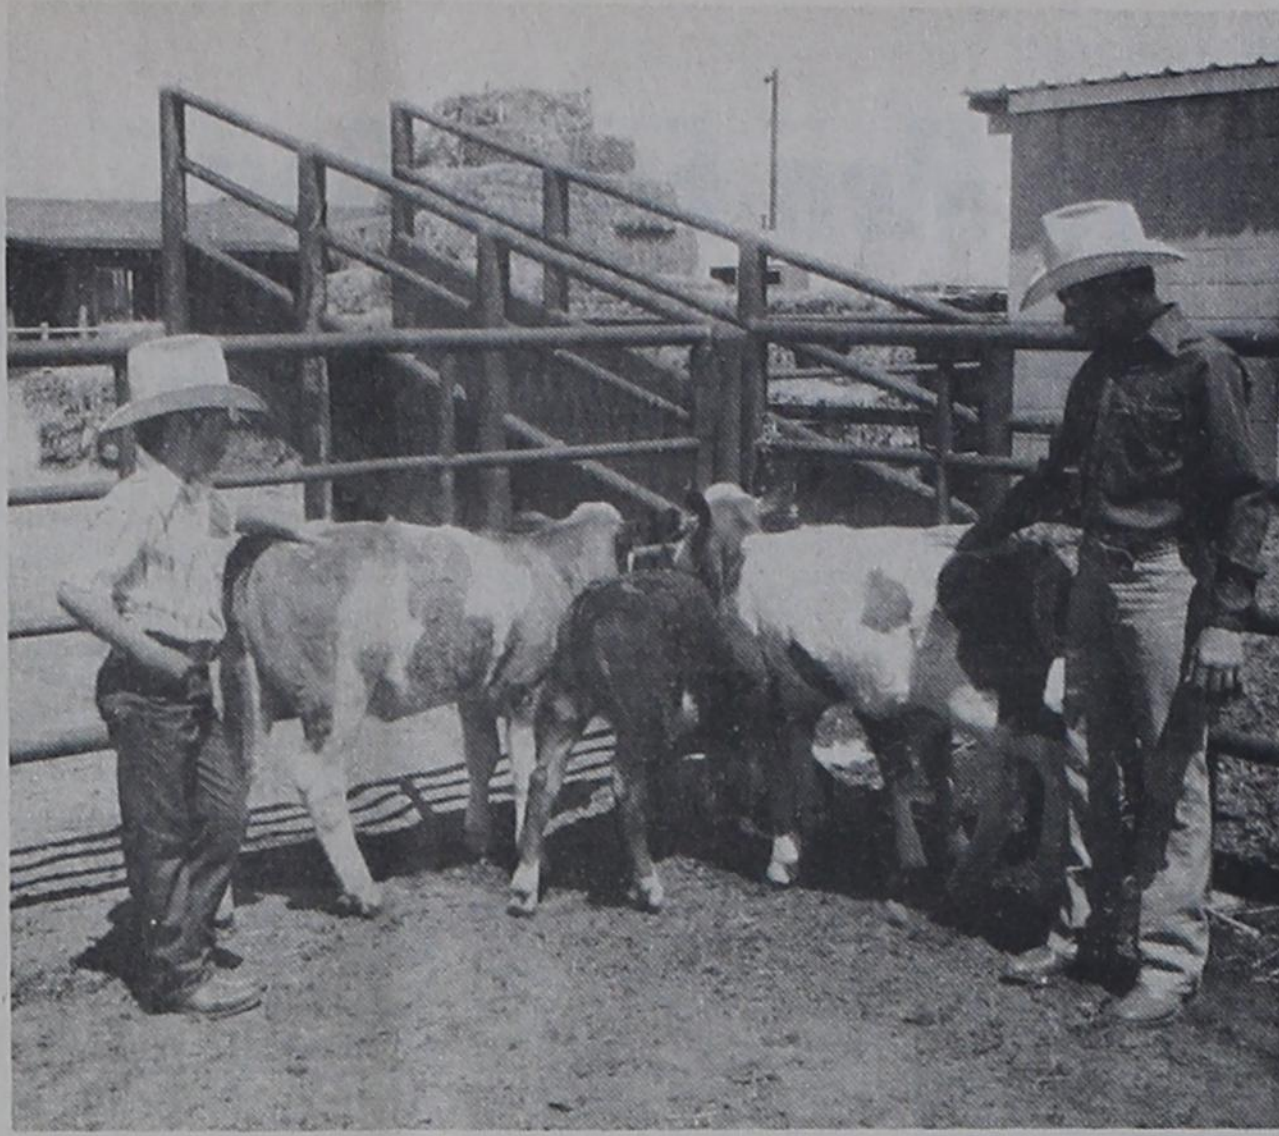

Visitors are always welcome at the Howard-Dunbar cattle operation, and anyone desiring information on Simmentals, artificial insemination, or the embryo transplants may visit with Howard.

To interest and help the younger people, Howard has a money-back-if-you-win program to enable boys and girls in 4-H and FFA to obtain calves. He expects to have ample calves available by September or October.

Commenting on his Simmentals, Howard says, "I believe the Simmentals are far ahead of the other five or six different 'exotic' breeds." The cattle look similar to native stock in color; however, two-year-old Simmental cows are larger than mature full grown native stock, says Howard. Purebred Simmental bulls weigh on the average of from 2,400 to 2,800 pounds when mature.

Howard is assisted in the cattle operation by his five children and wife, Judy. The Howard children are Becky, 17, senior; Ber, 16, sophomore; Suzanne, 12, seventh grader; Lisa, 11, seventh grader; and Bowie, 9, fifth grader. All the children attend Farwell schools.

YOUNGSTERS AND CALVES -- Bowie Howard, left and Ber Howard show an example of two Simmental calves and a Hereford calf, all three two and one-half-months old. The three-fourth Simmental calves will weight 230 pounds and the Hereford 180. Simmentals are noted for their rapid growth.

Separates Men From Boys And Machinery From Junk

SALESMAN -- Bill Hagler is pictured at his desk at Doc Stewart Chevrolet in Clovis, where he is a full-time salesman. Additionally, he farms and has recently entered the cattle business.

by Kay Williamson

"We drive 70 to 100 miles an hour where most people won't even walk," says Bill Hagler of Farwell, an advocate of off road racing, a sport that is continuing its momentum as an exciting sport. "It's a sport that separates the men from the boys and the machinery from the junk," Hagler continues.

Off road racing got its impetus during World War II, as the returning military men wanted to continue riding in and working with jeeps. In the service, men maintained their proficiency by driving obstacle courses, and this continued as they returned to private life.

The year 1950 marked the first off road race that offered prize money. It was held at Truth or Consequences, N.M. Prior to that time, as jeep racing first got started as a sport, no one recorded prizes.

Hagler has participated in numerous off road races, both as a driver and announcer. Hagler, Tommy Magelletto and Herman Denny, both of Pueblo, Colo., formed an off road racing partnership, and between 1962 and 1967 one of the three partners won first, second or third in 77 percent of the races in which they competed.

Hagler, Magelletto and Denny were partners in "three vehicles, time and money," says Hagler. Magelletto is a mechanic and Denny is a sheet metal worker, so the three formed a complete team for off road racing. The three men have raced in California, Nevada, Mexico, Colorado and New Mexico.

Hagler counts as the four major off road races in terms of money Del Webb's Mint 400 in Las Vegas, Nev., the Mexican (Baja) 1,000, National Jeep-O-Rama in Colorado and the Truth or Consequences Fiesta race. Hagler has participated in all four races in times past.

During the years 1962 to 1968, off road racing was the fastest growing sport in the world, according to Hagler. Competition has attracted well-known racers, movie stars, professional drivers and other interested persons. Cars in competition are sponsored by an array of motor companies and related automotive products.

"You have to be good enough to get at least five good sponsors," says Hagler. It's definitely a professional sport. Racing vehicles are brought to racing sites on covered trailers or in van trucks, never driven or towed long distances.

When Ford Motor Co. decided to enter the off road racing field with their Broncos, Hagler was one of five men chosen to race a Bronco in the National Jeep-O-Rama in 1965. He finished in ninth place, and two out of the five Broncos finished the race.

Off road racing has a regular circuit beginning February in Colorado and Mexico and winding up in October or November in Colorado. Terminating in Colorado in the fall offers another aspect of off road racing—ice racing.

Along about December or

January, off road vehicles exchange the rough terrain of mountains and desert for frozen lakes in Colorado. "We race in Colorado for fun and sport," says Hagler. In order to insure safety, the lakes must be frozen to a depth of 16 inches. A relatively safe sport, Hagler says he has never seen a vehicle turn over on ice racing, and of course, "driving ability is what counts on ice."

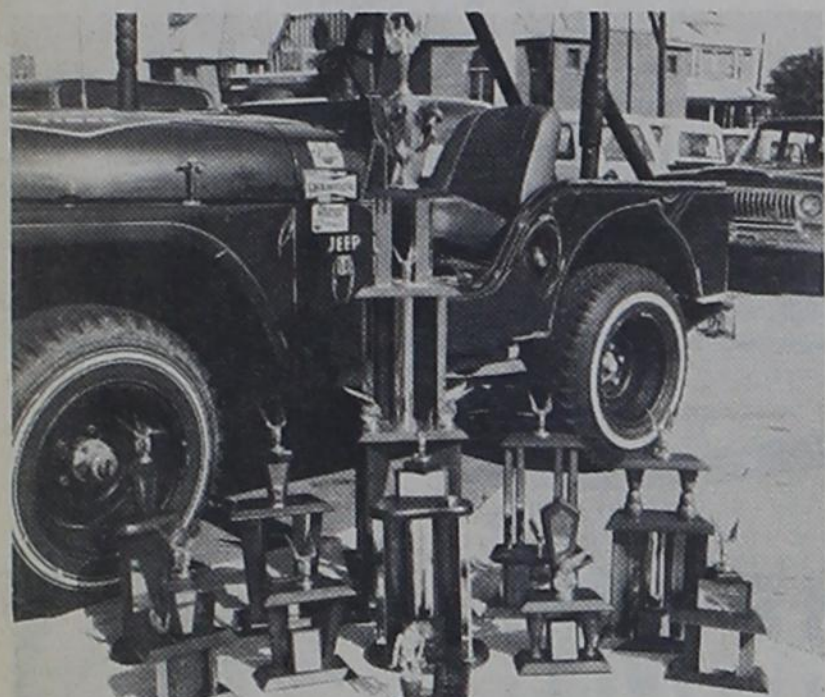

Hagler's wife, Kay, has competed in ice racing and in powder puff off road racing, and has several trophies to her credit. It's a sport in which all members of the Hagler family participate, either as drivers or as spectators.

Describing an off road race, Hagler says competitors start in five minute intervals. On the average it takes about 15 minutes for an opponent to catch up to you; then, Hagler says, you know you are driving too slow. The courses run from 28 miles to 1,000 according to where you are racing, Hagler says.

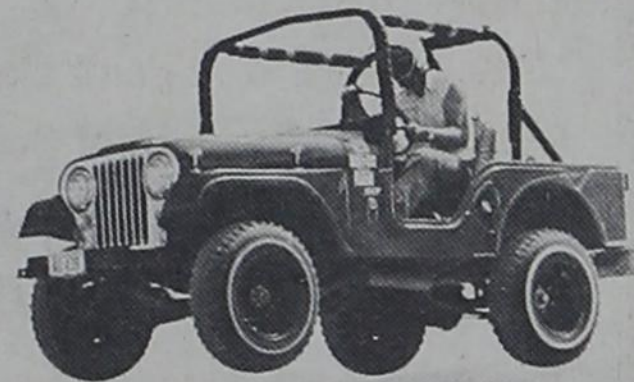

The glamour and excitement of road racing attached to every event, is sometimes lost in heartbreak. Hagler says he has traveled 600 miles to compete and has blown a clutch on the starting line. On the other hand, he points out, he has traveled 20 miles to a race and won.

Hagler's active participation as a driver in off road racing came to an end on Labor Day 1966, when he was seriously injured in an accident.

NUMEROUS TROPHIES -- Bill Hagler has won numerous trophies in off road races, along with his two partners, Tommy Magelletto and Herman Denny, both of Pueblo, Colo. The three men have raced in California, Nevada, Mexico, Colorado and New Mexico. Between the years 1962 and 1967 one of the partners won first, second or third in 77 percent of the races in which they competed.

SOARING HIGH -- In his 4-wheel drive vehicle, Farwell's Bill Hagler tops a small hill at the Nation Jeep-O-Rama course in Pueblo, Colo., in September 1967. His speed is estimated at approximately 100 miles per hour and he is about three and one-half feet off the ground. Hagler has participated in and won numerous off road races, and is currently announcing at off road races in several areas.

SAD END -- Hagler is pictured with his 4-wheel drive vehicle that was wrecked on Labor Day 1966 in the fifth annual Pikes Peak Khana in Colorado Springs. His active participation as a driver ended with this accident, which resulted in Hagler spending 27 weeks in a cast.

injured at the fifth annual Pikes Peak Khana in Colorado Springs. As a result of this accident, he spent 27 weeks in a cast. This still did not conclude Hagler's interest in the sport, as he has gone into the field of announcing off road races. For the last five years he has announced the Fiesta race in Truth or Consequences and last year he and his wife were made honorary members of the Fiesta Racing Committee in T. or C., N.M. Both are life time members in the Timberline 4-Wheelers of Denver, Colo., and the Pueblo Jeep and 4-Wheel Drive Club. Hagler also announced the National Jeep-O-Rama in 1967, the Pueblo 4-Wheel Drive race in 1967 and the Colorado Springs Khana in the same year. This coming Labor Day, he will travel to Las Cruces to announce the first off road race ever held in that city. Since 1967, Hagler has announced, at one time or another, all off road racing events held in Colorado. During the years 1967 to 1969 he announced all over Colorado and New Mexico and has also announced at events held in Sanford, Ariz. Hagler feels his job as an announcer puts him in touch with competitors since he has been a competitor before. "I know the feelings of the drivers," he says. "I enjoy announcing because I know what they are going through." Presently Hagler is overseeing the building of a rear engine 4-wheel drive off road racing vehicle. The machine, which is Buick powered, is being constructed at Lee Sharp's 4-Wheel Drive Center in Albuquerque. Hagler expects it to be ready for competition in the Mexican 1,000 in 1975. In describing the construction of this 4-wheel racer, Hagler says the engine is turned around backwards and placed in the rear. The transmission and transfer case are hooked up backwards. This is done to get more weight on the main drive train. Hagler has many stories to relate regarding his competition in past racing events. During one race when the headlights on his vehicle malfunctioned, he had to use flashlights to guide the way. During the 1965 National Jeep-O-Rama when he was racing a Ford Bronco, Hagler recalled the course. One hill was called Geronimo and was as "smooth as the desert floor." Another hill was called Apache and it was "full of gullies, trees and rocks."

Hagler traveled the 600 miles to race a 4-cylinder vehicle on ice in competition with V/8 machines. He was within 3/10 of a second of the Colorado state champion and won the second place trophy, plus the Sportsmanship trophy. The Hagler family lives in Farwell where all four Hagler children attend Farwell schools. Mike, 15, will be a junior; twins Sherri and Terri, 14, will be sophomores and Phillip, 12, will be a sixth grader. Kay Hagler is a native of Forrest, N.M., and her husband is a native of the Texico area. Hagler is a full-time salesman for Doc Stewart Chevrolet in Clovis; he farms five miles south and three miles west of Farwell and has recently entered the cattle business with the purchase of two Simmental cows. One heifer calf has been born. He holds membership in the Masonic Lodge in Pueblo, Colo., and the Shrine in Santa Fe.

Second Annual International Cowboy Campfire Cook-Off Set

Plans for the Second Annual International Cowboy Campfire Cook-Off are beginning to firm up. Max Polen, chairman of the Abilene Convention & Visitors Bureau Cook-Off committee, has announced. All three judges have definitely been secured for the annual event, scheduled for Labor Day weekend, Aug. 31 through Sept. 2, at Old Abilene Town on Interstate 20. Gary Luskey, president of Luskey's Western stores; Acey Lockhart, president of Hydro-Tex Oil Co., based in Fort Worth; and Mrs. Ruth M. Malone the food editor for Holiday Inns of America, have been confirmed as Cook-Off judges. The Cowboy Campfire Cook-Off was conceived to preserve the historic tradition and color surrounding the cattle era of the old west. Polen said, "While trail drives are a thing of the past, ranch cooks and a few remaining trail cooks continue to feed the cowboys that bring beef to the world's tables. We are trying to perpetuate the tradition of the hearty, wholesome, outdoor meal in this cooking competition."

The committee is planning a multitude of events around the actual competition which this year will include three categories: Pro-Trail Cook, Campfire Cook, and Maverick Cook. Pro Cooks are persons who make the major portion of their living by cooking, such as ranch cooks, restaurant chefs and caterers. Campfire Cooks are those who have entered the competition at least once, but do not wish or cannot qualify to compete in the Pro division. Mavericks are amateurs, persons who cook primarily for their own pleasure and who receive no major income from their cooking. Entry fees will be $10 for the Pro-Trail Cooks; $5 for Campfire Cooks and $3 for the Mavericks. Richard Marcantel, ACVB manager, said the committee is also looking into the possibility of a concert at the Taylor County Coliseum in conjunction with the affair. There will be Barber Shop Quartet entertainment daily. Also a western shootout at Old Abilene Town, Double Decker Shuttle Bus service between Old Abilene Town and Zoo World, square dance demonstrations, a mock up Indian village, pony express throughout the weekend and a Texas Travel Fair open to the public. Polen emphasized that all of this is open to the public free of charge and said, "We want this to be an Abilene function and not just a Chamber or Bureau activity. We are encouraging the entire community to be involved in this event so that the visitors to our town will really enjoy their visit to this year's Cook-Off." Additional information, rules and entry blanks are available at the Abilene Convention & Visitors Bureau Office, 341 Hickory in Abilene or may be obtained by writing Cowboy Campfire Cook-Off, P.O. Risner Family Shares Wide Array Of Activities

Family has a very special meaning to Brigadier General Robinson Risner, 832nd Air Division Commander at Cannon Air Force Base, because for some seven and one-half years, he was involuntarily separated from his wife and five sons. General Risner spent from September 1965 until he was repatriated in February 1973 as a prisoner of war in North Vietnam.

He has written a chilling account of what really went on in the prison camps of North Vietnam and of the suffering endured by the American Prisoners. General Risner presented a copy of his book entitled "The Passing of the Night" to President Nixon at the White House in April of this year.

During the time General Risner was incarcerated in North Vietnam, his five sons continued to grow up and now are young gentlemen. Robinson Jr., 25, is married and lives in Oklahoma City. He is a graduate of Oklahoma State and recently received his master's degree in Criminology from Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Tex. He is presently serving an internship with the State of Oklahoma and eventually wants to counsel young people. Jeff, 19, is a 1974 graduate of Clovis High School and, along with his brother, Paul, 17, is spending the summer working in Oklahoma City. Paul has one more semester of high school in Clovis.

The two youngest Risner sons are spending the summer at home at Cannon Air Force Base. Tim, 15, is a graduate of Marshall Junior High School and will enter Clovis High School this fall. During the month of June he was enrolled in a driver's education course. Danny, 13, will be in the eighth grade at Marshall Junior High this fall.

The two younger Risners have a summer-full of activities, with General and Mrs. Risner (the former Kathleen Shaw of Ware Shoals, S.C.), participating as much as possible. High on the list of summer pastimes is working with the family's two horses, Peyton's Jed, a registered quarterhorse out of 3 Bar, and April, a quarterhorse, boarded at Curry's Corrals.

Tim and Danny are learning rodeo competition and practice barrel riding, poles, flags, rescue and relay races, goat tying and keyhole races. Tim won two first places in competition, one at Curry's Corrals and one at Spriggs Stables. Danny captured a second place in keyhole racing at Spriggs Stables recently.

General and Mrs. Risner and Danny also enjoy attending Little League games at Cannon Air Force Base and watching Tim, who is a member of the Road Runners Little League, play center and right field. Both boys have membership in the swimming pool at Cannon, and are spending some leisure summer hours in this activity also.

A favorite family pastime is paddle ball and many hours are expended in this pursuit. Last Christmas all the Risner sons received paddle balls, so they are well fit for competition. The Risners, in another family endeavor, recently went to Lake Conchas and spent the weekend fishing, camping out and boat riding. While they were at MacDill Air Force Base in Florida, they enjoyed going to the beach together.

During the July 4th holidays, General and Mrs. Risner and Tim and Danny made a trip to Oklahoma City to visit with the other three Risners and to renew family friendships.

The Risners came to Clovis and Cannon Air Force Base on Feb. 24, 1974, when he was reassigned to Cannon as 832nd Air Division Commander. Of this new assignment, Mrs. Risner says, "I knew I liked Clovis after 24 hours and I'd like to stay here for a while." General and Mrs. Risner have discussed the possibility of retiring here when that time comes. Says General Risner, "The people here are so very friendly. I also like the dry climate and the fact that I can have horses."

General Risner is frequently called to speak before groups in the surrounding areas and is a popular guest speaker. Just prior to my interview with the family, he had been in Lubbock speaking to the Lubbock Press Club and at Reese Air Force Base. He frequently speaks to groups at Cannon and in Clovis and at dining-outs at different Air Force bases.

General Risner, a native of Mammoth Spring, Ark., graduated from Central High School in Tulsa, Okla., in 1942. Following his enlistment in the Army Air Corps in April 1943 and advanced flight training at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., he was awarded his wings and a commission as a second lieutenant in 1944.

He subsequently flew P-38 and P-39 airplanes in Panama until 1946, when he separated from the service. During the years 1946 until February 1951 the F-51 as a member of the Oklahoma Air National Guard. General Risner was recalled to active duty in February 1951 and was assigned to the 85th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Will Rogers Field in Oklahoma City. His upgrade training with the 85th Tactical Fighter Squadron in RF-80's was at Shaw Air Force Base, S.C., and in May 1952, he was assigned to the 336th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, 4th Fighter Wing at Kimpoo, Korea.

While there he flew more than 100 combat missions in the F-86 over North Korea. General Risner was credited with eight enemy kills and became the 20th jet ace during the Korean War.

In March 1953, General Risner was reassigned to the 50th Fighter Bomber Wing at Clovis. Flying F-86's, he flew with the Wing to activate Hahn Air Base, Germany. After serving as Squadron Operations Officer of the 81st Fighter Bomber Squadron, 50th FBW, General Risner became the Squadron Commander in November 1954.

His reassignment to George Air Force Base, Calif., as Wing Operations Officer, 413th Fighter Wing came in July 1956. Subsequently he served as Commander of the 34th Fighter Squadron, also at George AFB until 1960.

While at George AFB, General Risner was selected to fly the Charles A. Lindbergh Commemorative Flight from New York to Paris in 1956. During the solo flight in an F-100 he set a trans-Atlantic speed record, covering the distance in six hours and 38 minutes.

During 1960 and 1961 General Risner attended the Air War College at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama and for the next three years he served on the Joint Staff of the Commander in Chief, Pacific.

In 1964, General Risner was assigned as Squadron Commander of the 67th Tactical Fighter Squadron, Kadena Air Force Base, Okinawa, where he flew the F-105 Thunderchief. While on temporary duty with the 67th TFS to Korat Air Base, Thailand, he was shot down over North Vietnam in April 1965 and was rescued. General Risner was returned to duty and in September 1965 was shot down again over North Vietnam and captured.

While a prisoner of war in Hanoi, General Risner served first as the Senior Ranking Officer and later as Vice Commander of the 4th Allied POW Wing. He was repatriated in February 1973 and five months later was assigned to the 1st Tactical Fighter Wing at MacDill Air Force Base, where he became combat ready in the F-4.

General Risner, a command pilot, has numerous decorations to his credit. He has received the Air Force Cross, the Silver Star with one oak leaf cluster, the Distinguished Flying Cross with two oak leaf clusters, the Air Medal with seven oak leaf clusters, and the Purple Heart with three oak leaf clusters.

General Risner was promoted to his current grade of Brigadier General on May 8, 1974.

FAMILY ACTIVITIES -- Brigadier General Robinson Risner and his sons, Timothy, left, and Danny, enjoy spending many leisure hours working out their horses at Curry's Stables. The horses are Peyton's Jed, a registered quarterhorse out of 3 Bar, and April, a quarterhorse. Gen. Risner is Commander of the 832nd Air Division at Cannon Air Force Base.

Enough Water
1 Pot

(Note: a pot is somewhat similar to a cup in shape, but larger and usually made of some sort of metal. It frequently has a long handle as well.)

Put water into pot. (Pot must be large enough to hold all the water you wish to boil.) Light flame under pot. Cook until bubbles appear. Keep your eyes closed during the latter part of this process, as a watched pot never boils.

When using a kettle, follow same directions. When the water boils, the kettle will whistle. It will be hot, so do not slap its face.

Save Gasoline While Driving

AUSTIN--"With hot weather now upon us, we are all tempted to reach over and turn on the air conditioner while driving, but we need to consider what comfort means in terms of fuel consumption," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Use of air conditioners has often been pointed to as one of the culprits in gasoline-powered highway vehicles. In a study conducted by the USDA, it was found that test cars moving at 30 mph with the air conditioning turned on traveled an average of 18.14 miles per gallon while 20.25 miles per gallon was the average with the air conditioning off.

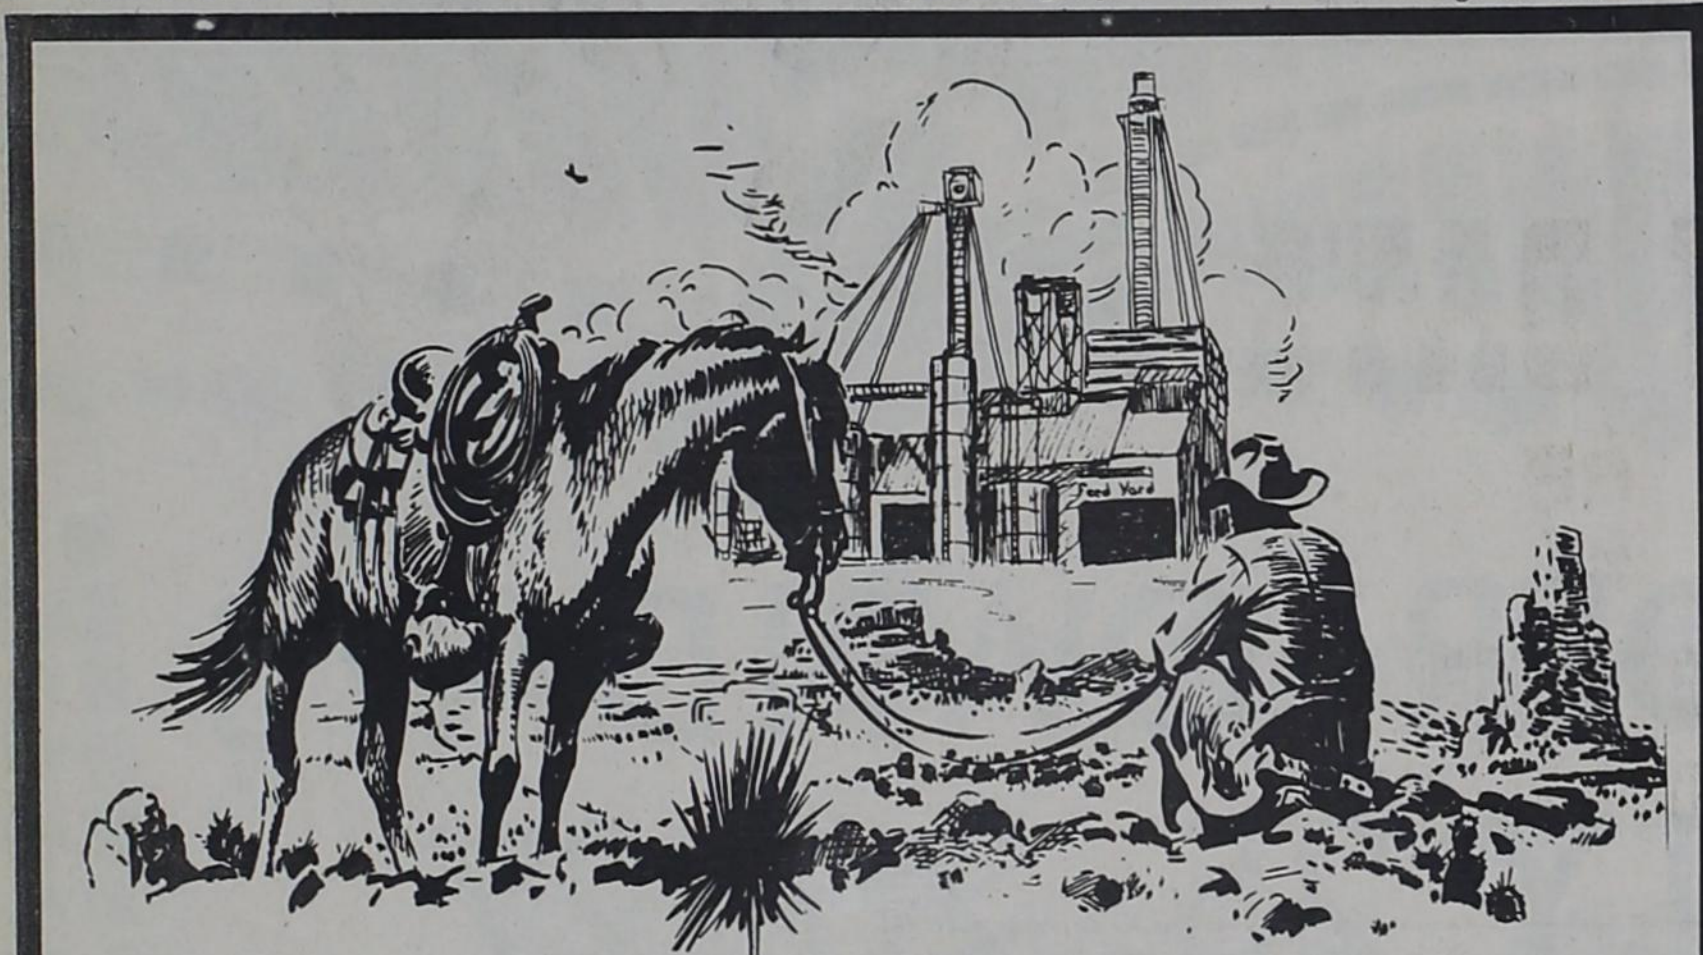

At faster rates, consumption was only slightly more with air conditioning than without. At 60 mph, the test cars averaged 1.1 miles per gallon with air conditioning and 16.25 without. The reason for the slighter difference from consumption at slower speeds is that the power required to operate air conditioning remains nearly constant, regardless of speed and other motor changes.

"The difference of 1.25 miles per gallon doesn't seem like much when considering each unit, but with a 20 gallon tank, driving without air conditioning could mean 25 more miles traveled," Commissioner White emphasized.

White commented, however, that the greatest savings in fuel consumption can be made if motorists do without air conditioning while driving in the city since rates of fuel usage are most affected at lower rates of speed.

"We must all develop driving habits that help conserve energy in every possible if we are to continue to have the fuel we need," White concluded.

Rodeo Enthusiasm Permeates Leatherwood Family

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leatherwood of Farwell are rodeo enthusiasts from way back and are continuing to maintain their interest as each of their children widens his particular rodeoing talents and skills and participation.

Their children are Terry, 20, a graduate of Texico High School, who will finish his sophomore year at Eastern New Mexico University this fall, where he is majoring in agricultural business; Dusty, 18, who is married and is in business with his father; Mike, 15, who will be a junior at Farwell High School in August; and Kandis, seven, who will be in the second grade at Farwell Elementary School.

The Leatherwoods have also reared a niece and nephew, Diane Riley, 18, a graduate of Texico High School, who will enter her sophomore year at ENMU in the fall, where she is majoring in business, and Limey Riley, 17, who will be a senior at Farwell High School in August.

Terry entered his first rodeo when he was five years old and has been participating in competitions ever since. During the last week of June, he was in Greeley, Colo., to compete in an RCA rodeo, participating in tie-down calf roping and team roping. Terry is just beginning RCA competition and the Colorado event marks his fourth RCA entry.

Terry has won six saddles for All Around Cowboy and has numerous belt buckles. He won a pair of boots as All Around Cowboy at Roswell during the first part of June. And in mid-June he won second in team roping at Ruidoso.

Home and horse trailer accompany Terry as he makes the rodeo rounds. His pick-up truck is equipped with a camper and he has his own horse trailer to accommodate his two horses.

A graduate of Texico High School, Terry was active in the FFA during his school years there. For two years he has been runner-up for Best All Around Cowboy in NMJRA competition. A competitor in past Border Town Days rodeos, Terry won the calf roping in 1972 and was second in calf roping in 1973. Terry will not be participating in this Border Town Days rodeo, as he is over the age limit.

Another Leatherwood son, Dusty, is in business with his father. Dusty was seven years old when he began rodeoing and he participated in all junior rodeos prior to his marriage.

In 1972 he was named Best All Around Cowboy of the NMJRA. Like his brother, Dusty is a graduate of Texico High School, where he also was active in the FFA. His plans for next year include participating in RCA rodeos.

When he was 12, Dusty set a pole bending record in NMJRA competition. He has won several buckles for bull riding, and was runner up for Best All Around Cowboy at Melrose two years ago.

The youngest Leatherwood son, Mike, began his rodeoing at the age of 10. In the 12 and under age group, he has won many barrel races. During the last two years, he has concentrated on roping and has participated in NMJRA finals for two years.

Mike was a member of the Rodeo Club at Texico. He has plans to enter the Border Town Days rodeo competing in tie-down and ribbon roping. Mike rides his father's horse.

Kandis, the only Leatherwood girl, is seven years old and is wanting to start competition soon. She rides a roping horse and has her eyes set to the future when she can enter her first rodeo. In the meantime, one of her favorite pastimes is playing in the water.

The Leatherwood niece, Diane Riley, was in Bozeman, Montana, the last week of June to participate in the intercollegiate finals of NIRA. Diane's specialty is barrels and poles.

She was runner-up last year in Tucumcari for Best All Around Cowgirl.

Diane will be an entrant in the Border Town Days Rodeo where she will compete in barrels and poles. She was six years old when she entered her first rodeo.

Limey Riley, the Leatherwood nephew, is the bull rider of the family; he began bull riding last year. Limey has gone to the high school finals in Albuquerque where he finished in the top 12 out of 85 in bull riding.

Although he is now learning to rope, he plans to enter the bull riding events at the Border Town Days Rodeo. Limey and Mike went to Boys Ranch, near Belen, N.M., July 13 for an NMJRA rodeo. Both are working toward the finals of NMJRA Sept. 29-30 in Albuquerque.

In a family of rodeo enthusiasts, Mrs. Leatherwood says her main jobs are to "feed and water" the horses and to keep the scrapbooks current. In earlier days, Mrs. Leatherwood also tried her skills at riding.

Her primary job now is bookkeeper-secretary for the Leatherwood family business. In her spare time, Mrs. Leatherwood makes shirts and sport coats for the men in her family. Her mother, Mrs. John Burchett of Clovis, sews for Mrs. Leatherwood and Kandis.

The Leatherwood family has resided in Farwell since the latter part of April. Prior to that time, they lived in Texico for three years. Mrs. Leatherwood is originally from Clovis, attended school at Ranchvale, and was reared on a dairy at Grier. Mr. Leatherwood, who showed and trained horses for the public for 15 years in Clovis, is from McAlister.

The family goes to as many of the rodeo events as possible when a Leatherwood or a Riley is competing. Recently, Mr. Leatherwood accompanied the boys to Elida where they participated in team roping.

A FAMILY OF RODEOERS - Mrs. Donald Leatherwood is a member of a family of rodeoers and rodeoing enthusiasts. The Leatherwood family is kept busy attending many rodeo events throughout the area. Mrs. Leatherwood serves as bookkeeper-secretary for the family business, and is pictured in front of their welding shop.

Sticks And Stones, Nails And Driftwood Make Fascinating Hobby For Bud Pearce

What started out as a Christmas venture two years ago has turned into a lucrative and stimulating hobby for Buddy Pearce who, with his family, lives near the Clovis Municipal Airport.

Pearce's hobby is making figurines and art objects from nails. Two years ago he began making small figurines of his family members for Christmas presents.

Mrs. Pearce (Aileen) is portrayed in the figurine of a woman holding a skillet, typifying her role as a homemaker. Daughter Kim is symbolized as a basketball player holding a basketball, illustrating her athletic ability as a team member when she attended Texico High School. Both figurines are mounted on wooden bases.

Pearce first visualized his hobby through ideas he got from browsing in stores. He quickly developed his own style using his own techniques and modifications.

In the process, Pearce takes cement and nails and braises them together using an acetylene welder to form unique metal craft creations which grace several rooms of the Pearce home.

Gracing a coffee table in the living room are three figurines of road runners of varying sizes. These are uniquely formed from nails to represent the New Mexico state bird. Centering the coffee table is an unusual floral creation complete with its own box frame made from steel rods.

Pearce says he takes an idea using nails and, with his welding torch, follows through "to see what develops." What develops is a beautiful flower on a stem with its own rod frame that decks the stereo in the living room.

Among the first projects that Pearce tried were crosses of nails mounted on wooden bases. One of these creations centers a wall in the den. It depicts the road to Calvary and is centered with three crosses of steel rods. A larger version of the road to Calvary hangs in the chapel of the Texico First Baptist Church.

Across the room, a spectacular sunburst is the focal point of one wall. The large sunburst, another of his first projects, is made from rods with bronze. Birds of copper are also featured on the sunburst.

Hanging over the fireplace in the den is an unusual combination of driftwood and metal craft. An owl made from steel washers with tin for its ears and tail is caught to a branch and mounted on a large piece of driftwood.

Inspiration for this idea came from a woman in Clovis who wanted Pearce to create an unusual art object for a mantel. Using driftwood from Conchas Lake as a base, he created a windmill of nails with a surrounding fence, also of nails.

At first Pearce made flat windmills mounted on a base. Now he has gone into three dimensional free standing windmills made of steel rods, complete with turning tail and water receptacle. His next project is to mount his free standing windmills on rocks.

Using the garage as his workroom, Pearce has equipped the area with an ample supply of driftwood, rocks, nails, washers and other items necessary to his hobby, as well as a welder.

Pearce's hobby does not occupy all of his time, as he is a full-time farmer. He grows milo and wheat and, in the winter, runs calves.

Another activity in which the entire Pearce family is involved is participation in church activities. They are members of the Texico First Baptist Church.

Pearce serves as a deacon and Sunday School superintendent, and holds membership in the Brotherhood of the church. Both Pearce and his wife are active in youth groups of the church, serving as youth directors. They also serve as sponsors for outings of church groups and have worked with the Vacation Bible School programs.

Buddy Pearce was born in Mexia, Tex., and came to New Mexico in 1936 with his family. Mrs. Pearce is a native of Wheeler, Tex. The Pearces are graduates of Texico High School. They were married in 1949, and on Christmas Day will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. Mrs. Pearce is a member of the Texico Woman's Club.

Nutrition Notes

"Enriched" bread contains added nutrients otherwise lost during milling—mainly B-vitamins and iron, notes Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist.

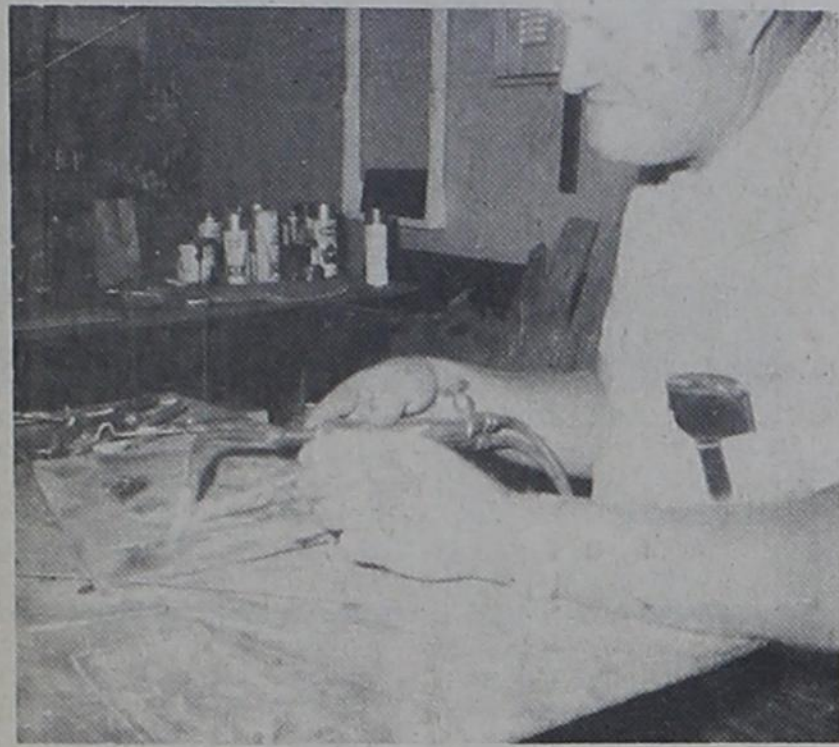

All four Pearce children are also graduates of Texico High School. Roddy is associated in business with his father and is married to the former Ann McLeod of Plainview. Danny is a student at Harden Simmons University in Abilene and is married to the former Miriam Womack of Lubbock.

The two Pearce daughters are twins. Kim attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, and is employed at the State Line Tribune. Jo is a student at Wayland Baptist College now.

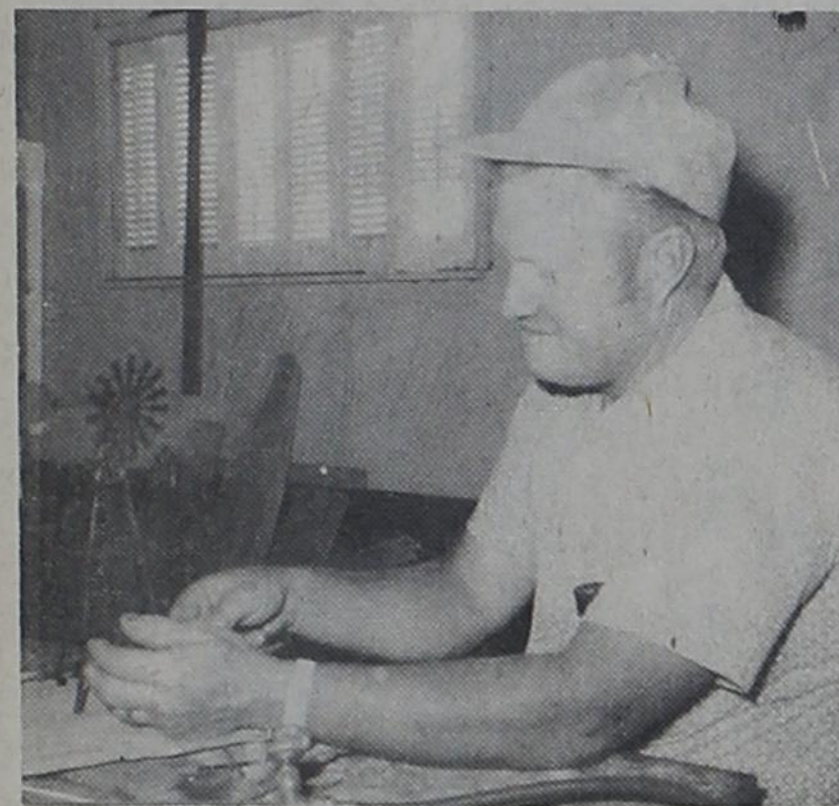

All members of the family take an interest in Bud Pearce's hobby, with his wife giving much encouragement and son Roddy assisting in some projects. Just step into the Pearce home, and you will see the charm and warmth that Bud Pearce's creations add to the decor.

WORKS OF ART - Bud Pearce and his wife, Aileen, display some of the works of art which Pearce has created from nails, iron rods, driftwood, etc. Pearce is holding a piece of driftwood featuring a windmill, water receptacle and fence. To the left on the table are figurines of roadrunners made of nails. In the center is an unusual floral creation complete with its own box frame made from steel rods. At right is a figurine of his daughter Kim depicting her as a basketball player in high school. Mrs. Pearce is holding a figurine complete with skillet typifying her as a homemaker.

INTERESTING HOBBY - Bud Pearce, using the garage as his workroom, welds an assortment of unrelated items together to finish with a beautiful work of art. Many of his creations are displayed throughout the Pearce home, near the Clovis Municipal Airport.

FINISHING TOUCHES - Bud Pearce adds the finishing touches to a three dimensional free standing windmill made of steel rods. The windmill is complete with turning tail and water receptacle. His next project is to mount the free standing windmills on rocks.

Students Complete Projects

Quality of workmanship in all endeavors and safety in use of equipment is stressed to students participating in the elective industrial arts class in the Farwell school.

"If the students make something, they should make it right," says James Craig, teacher of Shop I and II in the high school. Jerry Dee Owen is the eighth grade industrial arts-woodshop instructor.

Prior to actually participating in their chosen projects, students spend about five weeks in instruction learning the tools and proper use of them. As the pupil progresses, he goes into individualized instruction.

Projects completed by the students this year run the gamut from cedar chest to book cases, coffee tables, end tables, bedside stands, what-not shelves, ecology boxes, an amplifier, stereo cabinet and stereo hutch.

During this second year of the program, enrollment included seven second-year boys in Shop II and 12 boys in Shop I. Most of the work on the various projects is done in the old gymnasium building. Although this year's class was composed of all male students, Craig expects to have a girl enroll for the class next year.

Eighth grade student, Terry Miller, son of Mrs. Betty Sue Miller, completed an ecology box for his project this year. The box is made from 3/4 inch boards and masonite with 1/2 inch dividers. The glass front protects the memoirs from the past. All eighth graders made ecology boxes as their first project this year.

Another eighth grader, Clay Roberts, son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Roberts, completed a jewelry box as the second project done during the second semester. Clay made the box from 1/2 inch pine and installed the music box and tray that lifts out. The box is lined with velvet and Clay did all the handwork himself.

For his first year in shop, Jesse Cantu selected as his projects two jewelry boxes and an amplifier for his guitar. Jesse, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cantu. The jewelry box constructed by Jesse is unique in that the top is inlaid and made from six different types of wood. Jesse created the flower design himself. Complete with a music box and lock, the jewelry box was presented by Jesse to his mother for Mother's Day. The amplifier, made and covered by Jesse, was his first project the first semester.

Approximately $85.00 was spent on Gene Christian's project, a stereo cabinet which he built for his stereo system. The ECOLOGY - Terry Miller's project is an ecology box containing memoirs from the past.

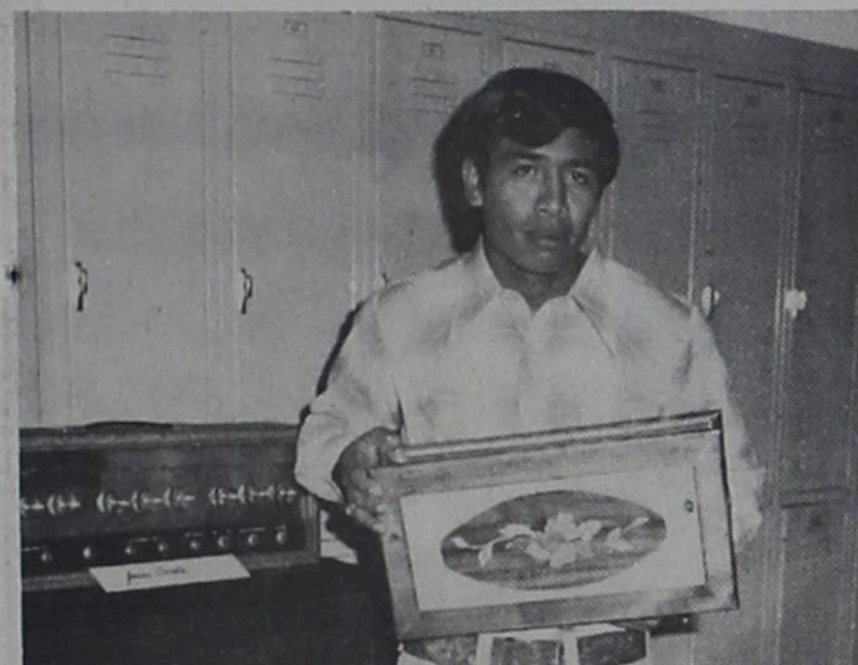

STEREO CABINET - Gene Christian worked on a cabinet for his stereo system and a wooden bowl, pictured on top of the cabinet, utilizing walnut, maple, ash, oak and cedar.

MAHOGANY HUTCH - Truitt Smith spent his class year completing a large stereo hutch. The hutch, made in two pieces, was constructed from mahogany, mahogany plywood and stained Danish walnut.

MUSICAL - A jewelry box, containing a music box and a tray that lifts out, was made by Clay Roberts.

SENIOR PROJECT - Senior Jesse Cantu created an amplifier for his guitar and a jewelry box that is unique because it is made from six different types of wood.

Mrs. Edwards And Daughter Take Tour To Scandinavia, Russia

Mrs. Marilyn Edwards and daughter, Terri, returned home June 26 from a two-week "dream tour" of Sweden, Finland, Denmark and Russia. They were part of a group numbering 219 from Texas who participated in the Texas

Bankers Association tour. Departing June 12 from Dallas, the group first landed in Stockholm, Sweden, where they spent four days touring the countryside. A highlight of their Stockholm stay was a boat cruise on Lake Maleran. From Sweden, the tour group proceeded to Helsinki, Finland, where they enjoyed the city sites and a cruise around the islands.

Accompanied by their guide from Helsinki, the group flew to Leningrad, Russia, via the Russian airline Aeroflot. Their two-day stay in Russia was "quite interesting," according to Mrs. Edwards. The group had no free time to shop in Russia, as their itinerary was completely arranged to allow for no spare time.

The tourists' Russian guide spoke English; however, Mrs. Edwards reports, the Russian people did not speak to them or smile. One particular item of interest, Mrs. Edwards comments, was the fact that tour members were not allowed to take pictures at the Russian airport in Leningrad.

The group toured the city of Leningrad, taking in many places of historical interest including the Hermitage Museum, the former Winter Palace of the Tsars. Mrs. Edwards stated that the museum was full of beautiful works of art including paintings and sculpture. She also said that there were long lines of Russians waiting to tour the museum.

Another particularly beautiful place that the group toured was St. Isaac's Cathedral in Leningrad. Mrs. Edwards also reported long waiting lines for admittance to the cathedral, which has been converted into a museum.

The group enjoyed shopping in Berioska and visited several stores and souvenir shops that accept only foreign currency. Mrs. Edwards said she exchanged only a small amount of money into rubles for purchasing postcards.

"Part of the fun of the trip was eating in so many different places," stated Mrs. Edwards. In Russia the tour members were entertained with a six-course Russian banquet at their hotel. On the menu was caviar on crepes, raw fish, chicken stuffed with shrimp and pastry.

Perhaps the most amusing part of the trip to Russia came when the group took a ride on a Russian subway. Mrs. Edwards said everyone was packed aboard the subway and that "it was hysterical." They made several stops, getting off and on the subway, and everyone was afraid of being separated from the group. On one particular stop, the group viewed a statue of Pushkin.

Following their two days in Russia, the group returned to Helsinki via Finnair. Next stop on their itinerary was Copenhagen, Denmark, where they spent four days. Two of the most enjoyable events were a castle tour and a trip up the coast to the little village of Elsinore for lunch, after which the group toured another castle in the country.

The tourists took a tour of the Tivoli Gardens in Copenhagen, where everyone was impressed with the flower gardens. Several open air shows, carnival rides and restaurants were mingled throughout the gardens.

"Copenhagen," Mrs. Edwards reports, "has something for everybody to do and the shopping is excellent." Of the three Scandinavian countries visited, Mrs. Edwards says Denmark seems to be the most prosperous.

Tour members were particularly impressed with the lush greenery, the beautiful flowers and the friendliness of the Scandinavian people.

In the Scandinavian countries, Mrs. Edwards says, they dined on scrambled eggs, rolls, coffee and orange juice for breakfast. Other meals included such unique delicacies as raw fish. At a smorgasbord the group had raw fish as the first course, cold cuts for the second course, salads for the third course and hot foods for the fourth course, and desert. Mrs. Edwards said with each course, they were furnished a clean plate.

The group returned to the United States via Bangor, Maine, which was their port of entry.

DROTTHINGHOLM CASTLE -- Marilyn and Terri Edwards boarded a boat in Stockholm and rode to Drottningholm Castle, a short distance away. The front of the castle steps was laid with a red carpet in preparation for the wedding reception of the Swedish princess. Mrs. Edwards and Terri saw the princess and her new husband leave the palace and board a boat for their reception at Drottningholm.

KING'S PALACE -- Terri Edwards and her mother, Marilyn Edwards of Farwell, pose on the balcony at the King's Palace in Stockholm, Sweden, during their recently concluded tour. The group toured the courtyard of the Palace, but were not permitted inside because of preparations for the princess' wedding. In the background is the Baltic Sea and the city of Stockholm.

RUSSIAN CHURCH -- During their visit to Leningrad, Russia, Terri and her mother viewed the Church of the Fallen Blood. Terri reported that the church has been abandoned and windows are broken. The group did not go inside the church.

SWEDISH VILLAGE -- Mrs. Edwards and Terri enjoyed a tour of Sigtuna, Sweden, a picturesque village of about 1,000 persons. The scene pictured is an array of shops along a narrow cobblestone street. Cars are not allowed to use these narrow streets.

cabinet is complete with record storage; individual slots lined with velvet in the drawer provide tape storage. The cabinet is approximately six feet long, 24 inches deep and 28 inches high. Gene made the cabinet from mahogany and plywood during his first year in Shop.

The bowl pictured on the stereo cabinet in accompanying picture is another of Gene's projects, completed during the last few weeks of school. Construction of the bowl is unusual in that several kinds of wood were utilized -- walnut, maple, ash, oak, cedar -- scraps were laminated together and turned out on a lathe. Gene is the son of Charlie Christian.

Truitt Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Smith, devoted the past year of Shop classes to completing a large stereo hutch in two pieces. The impressive hutch is made from solid mahogany, mahogany plywood and stained Danish walnut. The doors are gold plexi-glass. Truitt has put approximately $100.00 worth of materials into his project.

Students who desire to participate in the Shop classes pay for the materials for their projects. In high school Shop classes, students are allowed to select their own projects.

Named To 'Who's Who'

Jeffrey David Brown, Route 2, Texico, has been named to "Who's Who Among American High School Students" for the academic year 1973-74. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee J. Brown, Brown is a 1974 graduate of Texico High School.

Nominees are chosen by the Merit Selection Committee of "Who's Who Among American High School Students" to receive honorary award recognition and to have their biographies published in the 8th annual edition of the publication for 1973-74.

Students selected for this award were members of the junior or senior class during the 1973-74 academic year, who have demonstrated leadership in either academics, athletics, extra-curricular activities, achievement examinations or community service.

Recommendations are received from every category of organization involved with students including high schools, churches, scholarship agencies, civic and service clubs and youth program sponsors at the national and local levels.

While attending Texico High School, Brown was on the honor roll and was active in the band, choir, chorus, concert band, marching band, pep band, the 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America. He was a star chapter farmer in FFA and received star crop production in FFA. Brown received letters in basketball and foot-

Sandwiches Sublime
Here's a sandwich idea that's really top dog, even though it's full of bologna. It should cut the mustard with the whole family, especially for taking along on picnics or sandwiching in between innings or TV shows.

GIANT "HOT DOG"

- 1 whole bologna, about 3/4 pound
- 1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut, drained
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- Dash of pepper
- 1/4 cup gin
- 1 long loaf French or Italian bread
- Mustard

Place bologna in a skillet and cook over medium heat, turning occasionally, until browned and heated through. Meanwhile, rinse sauerkraut in cold water; drain well. Combine in a saucepan with chopped onion, pepper and gin. Heat through. Slice bread lengthwise and place whole bologna in bottom half. Make a lengthwise slit, about 1 inch deep along top of bologna and fill with hot sauerkraut mixture. Cut into sections to serve, with remaining sauerkraut on the side. Serve with mustard. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

ball and also participated in track.

A member of the Texico Baptist Church, Brown is an active church worker and is a member of the Youth Fellowship.

Brown farms 160 acres of irrigated cropland eight and one-half miles south of Texico on which he raises milo. He also raises 20 head of cattle each year. He has received the United States Civil Service Commission Certificate of Proficiency in typing.

Farwell Group Attends Music Camp At WTSU

Junior and senior high school musicians, numbering 1,185 are attending the 22nd West Texas Instrumental Music Camp at West Texas State University. The camp began July 14 and will conclude Friday (July 26).

Students from Arizona, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas are on the WTSU campus for the 13-day music camp. Campers from Farwell are Gary Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blair; Brenda Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Jones; Karen London, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon London; Charla Norton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Norton; Vicki Vinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Vinton; and Sheryl Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carliss Woods.

The camp is "regarded as one of the largest of its kind in the United States," says Dr. George Umberson, head of the WTSU Music Department and camp director. The camp is of value to the students both "musically and personally."

Nine bands, a symphony orchestra and twirling and drum majoring techniques are features of the summer workshop. Dr. Ralph Laycock of Brigham Young University is conducting the Honors Band and J.R. McEntyre of Odessa the Symphonic Band.

The Honors and Symphonic Bands are made up of the most advanced instrumental players in camp and are selected by audition. Eighty-five string players make up the nucleus of the Symphony Orchestra. The most advanced wind and percussion players use orchestra as an elective class. Harry Lantz of the Peabody Conservatory, Nashville, Tenn., leads the orchestra.

Campers spend from "five to six hours a day in work," says Umberson. In addition to required membership in one of the bands or orchestra, students may take instruction in choir, music theory, baton twirling, drum majoring, conducting, solo preparation, improvisation and beginning piano.

Other elective organizations are stage band, reading band, brass choir, marching band and various ensembles.

The finale concert is scheduled for Friday, July 26.

GSPA Requests Mowing Highway Rights-Of-Way

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association sent a request to the Texas Highway Department to mow highway rights-of-way because of an insect and disease build-up in Johnson grass and other weeds.

The response was that due to the energy crisis and budget, the Highway Department had not been able to do a better job. Texas Grain Sorghum Producers answered that "it is false economy when the Highway Department allows the highway rights-of-way to be an insect and disease breeding area, thereby necessitating more spraying and causing greater economic loss to the farmers and ranchers."

Joe B. Burford, director of GSPA from Curry County, emphasized the necessity for the same practices in this area.

"Green bugs continue to be a great concern to us because of their apparent resistance to chemicals," Burford stated. Jack King is currently devoting almost full-time to this problem, commented Burford.

The "Grain Sorghum News" welcomed a new staff member recently, Karen Jester, who filled the position left vacant when Sherry Horton moved. Karen previously was employed at a Lubbock television station as news director.

In news of other GSPA members, K. B. Parrish of Earth continues to make improvements in his recovery from an automobile accident, and C. C. (Pap) Reed of Lubbock is in Houston for a medical check-up.
