Clyde Sparks Loses Feet In Combine

Clyde Sparks, 40-year-old crippled farmer, living southwest of Texico, suffered the loss of the major portion of both feet late Monday afternoon in a combine accident.

He was rushed to a Clovis hospital, where he underwent a double operation in which both feet were amputated at the instep. His injuries, although serious, are not expected to prove fatal and his condition was described as satisfactory Wednesday morning.

Already a cripple from a broken leg sustained about three years ago when a horse fell on him, Sparks was working atop an A. C. power take-off combine, trying to start a small canvass which had become clogged and was not running. In an attempt to kick the canvass loose, Sparks slipped and fell, and at the same time the canvass began to revolve, carrying his feet into the cylinder, where they were badly mangled.

Last Call Made For New Car Sticker

Local postoffice employees reminded this week that Saturday is the deadline for securing the new Federal stamp, which must be shown on all vehicles operating on the highways by July 1.

The stamps, which are sold at all postoffices, cost $5, regardless of the type of vehicle on which they are to be used, it was added.

Stickers are slated to be displayed on the windshields, in order that they may be easily spotted.

Rev. Wright Resigns Pastorate Here

Rev. W. C. Wright announced to his congregation at the Baptist Church Sunday that he was resigning his pastorate, to become effective immediately.

Interviewed Monday, Rev. Wright said that he had no definite plans for the future. "I may go into the evangelistic work or I may accept another pastorate," he said.

He has been pastor of the Texico-Farwell Baptist Church for the past four years. Under his leadership, there has been a marked increase in the membership of the church, and extensive improvements have been made on the church property, including the addition of a two-floor 30x50 Sunday school annex. All improvements have been paid for, he said.

Discussing his plans for the immediate future, the retiring minister said that he had two revival campaigns to conduct during the month of July one at Causey, and one at Center.

"My years have been a rich experience for me," he said, "but there comes a time when a man feels that he has fulfilled his usefulness. There is a great future for this church and this community," he added.

Jack White, member of the Board of Deacons of the church, stated Tuesday that no plans had been made for Rev. Wright's successor. He said that a pulpit committee would likely be appointed at the next business session early in July to handle the matter of obtaining a new pastor.

Regular Sunday services will be conducted in the meantime, he said, with visiting ministers filling the pulpit.

Gets Discharge From Ft. George Wright

S/Sgt. Wilard R. Dykes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dykes of Farwell, Texas, has been given an honorable discharge from the Army at the AAF Regional and Convalescent Hospital, Fort George Wright, Washington, after 29 months in the service, including nine months combat duty as a gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber with the 8th Air Force in the European theatre.

Sgt. Dykes wears the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters, the European Theatre of Operations ribbon with two campaign stars, and the Good Conduct ribbon. He is a veteran of 35 combat missions over enemy objectives.

HURT BY COMBINE

Jim Stovall, of three miles east of Lariat, sustained a fractured right cheek bone Monday afternoon while combining. He was attempting to release a lever when it suddenly came free and slammed back and struck him. He was taken to a Clovis hospital, but released the following day.

FIRE DAMAGES CAR

An ignition fire caused damage to a car belonging to Eugene Kistler, while it was parked in front of the Thomas abstract office last Friday. The fire was extinguished with sand.

With three communities of the county already "over the top" in the sale of E War Bonds in the Seventh War Loan, G. D. Anderson, chairman of the War Finance Committee, asserted today he was confident Parmer's quota of $155,000 would be subscribed before the deadline on July 7.

Figures released by the War Finance Chairman revealed that Bovina, Farwell and Lazbuddy had exceeded their assigned quotas, and that Friona was within striking distance of her apportioned share of the county asking. Rhea was the only community in the county that seemed to be still lagging, but Anderson said he felt confident the people of Rhea "would come up with their part just as soon as they realize some returns from their wheat."

Bovina was the first community in the county to attain its quota, and reports from there show that sales are still being made there. Last week Bovina reported $25,668.75. Up to Tuesday afternoon, sales had reached $28,043.75. In Farwell, the total was reported at $51,281.25 as compared to $50,756.25 last week.

Sales that have been coming slow in the Lazbuddy section took a sudden spurt over the past week and today's tabulations showed that the figure there had mounted to $11,325.

Friona with a quota of $50,000, reported sales of $44,037.50 on Tuesday, putting that community within reaching distance of its goal.

As reported last week, this county has been given credit for $4600 in E Bonds purchased by men in the service, and these purchases have been proportioned to the five communities of the county as apportioning on their quotas.

Prairie Fire Sweeps Into Farwell

Excitement ran at a high pitch late Tuesday afternoon when a prairie fire, supposedly started by lightning, swept into Farwell from the southwest, threatening property along the edge of town.

Fanned by a strong wind the flames came billowing across the prairie from the southwest at a speed estimated by some observers at not less than 20 miles per hour. Volunteer fire fighters, armed with shovels, garden hoes, wet sacks and blankets, met the onrushing flames, but were driven back repeatedly by the blaze that at times leaped four feet into the air.

The Texico fire truck was called out and joined in the fight, remaining on the scene until all danger was past.

No property damage resulted, but for a time it appeared that the H. Y. Overstreet, Lloyd Cain and John Aldridge homes might be ignited.

Hall Gets Discharge From Army Service

As proud of "that little gold button" as could be, Freddie Hall is back home to take up the civilian life this week, having received his discharge from the separation center at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Hall has done a sizeable hitch in the Army. He served one enlisted period shortly after graduation from the local high school and prior to the war, enlisted again, being stationed for several years at Fort Bliss.

He went overseas then with a cavalry unit, and was returned to the States early in the year having sustained a leg injury while on the Philippines.

Hall held a total of 89 points at the time of his discharge.

CAPT. JERSIG CALLED BACK TO MARINES

Capt. S. J. (Shelby) Jersig, of the U. S. Marines, who has been on inactive duty the past year, looking after his ranching business north of Bovina, has been recalled for active duty and left over the past weekend for his new assignment.

He is reporting at Denver, Colo., for assignment to Pearl Harbor, where he will be reassigned for overseas duty.

Capt. Jersig, before being placed on the temporary inactive list, spent several months in the southwest Pacific.

Tractor Accident Is Fatal To Treider

HIT AT IWO—R. L. Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Houston, who is home for a short leave. He was a member of an LST crew and his craft was hit during the Iwo invasion.

Houston Comes Home When LST Is Hit In Iwo Jima Invasion

Coming in home a little prematurely, according to the schedule of action laid out, R. L. Houston, Motor Machinist 2-c, arrived June 14 for a visit in the G. C. Houston home in Texico.

"We got a hit at Iwo Jima," he said when interviewed on Tuesday, "that's why we came in just now." He went on to add that that was the only time his boat had ever received a hit from the Japs, although they had participated in four major invasion moves—on the Marshalls, the Gilberts, the Marianas, New Guinea and Iwo Jima.

Quiet-spoken about life aboard a LST (landing ship, tanks), Houston grinned and said "it isn't dull . . . the Japs don't care much for us." The LST carries a crew of some 100 men, he added, and is used in landing heavy amphibious forces when the Army hops from one Pacific island to another.

Houston has been in naval service for four years, having visited here with his family last September before starting on his recent trek of the Pacific. He is to report to Brooklyn, New York, upon completion of a 20-day furlough at home.

In addition to the single star denoting participation in five battles, Houston wears the Presidential Citation ribbon, which was awarded his crew for their action in the Iwo Jima landing operation.

Mother Nature can't jump from summer to winter without a fall, or winter to summer without a spring.

Parmer County lost one of its most worthy citizens last Friday in a tractor accident that took the life of Otto Treider, age 61, a resident of the Lazbuddy community for almost 40 years.

Funeral services were conducted at the Lazbuddy school house Wednesday morning by the Lutheran minister of Clovis and burial was made in the Lazbuddy cemetery.

Treider died in a Lubbock hospital about one o'clock Friday afternoon, after being removed there for treatment following the accident. He was operating a tractor in the field, engaged in one-waying some land when the bolt that holds the tractor seat broke, letting him fall from the machine directly in the path of the plow.

The heavy 8-foot one-way plow passed over his body, crushing him from his chest to his feet. His son, Jewell, who was servicing a combine preparatory to cutting wheat, about a quarter of a mile away, noticed the driverless tractor circling the field and sensed that something had happened to his father, and rushed to his aid. Treider was still conscious when his son arrived and suggested that he not be removed until an ambulance could be called.

A Steed ambulance from Clovis answered the call an hour later and rushed the injured man to Lubbock, where he died about eight hours after the accident.

At the time of his death, Treider was operating his farm two miles west and one north of Lazbuddy. He came to that section from Iowa in 1906 and for a number of years operated a small merchandise store there, where he also served as postmaster.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Laura Treider; three sons, Jewell, and Ramond of Lazbuddy, and Melvin, who is reported as a prisoner of the Japanese; three daughters, Mrs. Ray Cheyne of Clovis; Mrs. Leonard Marhesky of Warren, Ohio; and Miss Laura Treider of Lazbuddy. Other than his immediate family, survivors include his mother, "Grandma" Treider of Cresco, Iowa; two brothers, Christian Treider of Cresco, Iowa and George Treider of Friona; two sisters, Mrs. John Matvig and Mrs. Carl Matvig, Iowa.

The Steed Mortuary of Clovis was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

DROUTH CONTINUES

The drouth continues over this section of the Texas and New Mexico plains country, with no indications of moisture in the offing. Records kept by R. V. Ham show that 1.97 inches of rain has fallen here this year. The "wettest" month was April, with .79 of an inch.

With no rainfall recorded during the month of June, other readings for the year are: January, .47; February, .13; March, .37; April, .79; May, .22.

Worley Finds Many Texans In Germany

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles.)

By Congressman Eugene Worley
I think everyone is interested in the daily lives and welfare of our forces overseas. I had a chance to see how they lived behind the lines and also in the forward areas. We were in Germany shortly behind Patton's Third Army. And by the way, the Nazis never did know where Patton and his amazing Army would strike next.

Taken by and large, I am firmly convinced the American forces were better fed, better clothed had better weapons and equipment and better spirits and morale than any others of the Allied forces. In the more active areas, of course, there was hardly time for anyone to carry field kitchens and serve three hot meals a day. In those cases packaged, waterproofed rations were provided. Each package contained all of the vitamins and other forms of nutrition it is possible to pack into them. I cannot say that I would have enjoyed them as a steady diet for months—and neither would anyone else—and certainly they don't compare to a good steak or country fried chicken with all the trimmings, but they were good and they were healthful.

You know, morale is a series of little things. The Army tried to provide everything, such as cigarettes, cokes, reading material and a thousand and one other things in the various post exchanges which the boys could buy at very low prices. In addition, the Red Cross worked valiantly to provide recreation and entertainment. The camp shows provided by the United Service Organization in which various famous movie stars appeared seemed to be a great boost to the morale of the boys. However, the thing they enjoyed most was—and you guessed it—mail from home. And the next best thing was the hometown newspaper from which they could secure all the news of everything going on back home.

I talked with GIs from Frankfurt, Germany, to Casablanca, and no troops anywhere ever showed finer spirit than the American soldiers.

Parmer County is to have 18 miles of blacktopped farm-to-market roads as the result of orders passed by the Commissioners Court in session here Monday.

At that time the Commissioners signed the proper papers, delivering to the Texas Highway Department three different projects in the county, the three having a total mileage of 18. Two of the projects lead into Friona and the third will lead to Farwell.

The roads designated for construction are: (1) Farwell to Oklahoma Lane school house, starting at the Santa Fe underpass, two miles west of this city. Total mileage, .5. (2) From Friona four miles north, and (3) from Friona to the Hub, a distance of eight miles.

County Clerk D. K. Roberts gave it as his opinion that the farm-to-market roads in this county, which are a part of a state-wide program calling for the expenditure of several million dollars, would be handled as a post-war program to give jobs to the unemployed. County Judge A. D. Smith said that his understanding was that the program called for a three-year schedule, and might not await the end of the war.

County officials explained that the money for building the roads in the county was to come from state and federal funds, with each of the agencies sharing the cost on a 50-50 basis. It has been estimated that the program will call for an expenditure of not less than $125,000 in Parmer County.

The district highway engineer has estimated that the cost of construction in this county will vary from six to eight thousand dollars per mile, depending upon the length of the haul for materials to be used.

Other efforts have been made to get paved farm-to-market roads in this county during the past several years but these projects mark the beginning of the first road work of this nature to be assured the county.

Local opinion seemed to be that no actual work would begin for several months yet, and not likely until the close of the war. No definite authentic promise has been given as to when the work might start, it was pointed out by officials. "The Highway Department is just getting preliminary details worked out now, well in advance of the actual construction work," Clerk Roberts believes.

John Martinez Receives Bronze Star on Luzon

WITH SIXTH INFANTRY DIVISION ON LUZON, P. I.—Private First Class John M. Martinez, son of Julianita Martinez of Friona, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal by the commanding general of the 6th Infantry Division for "meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against the Japanese" on Luzon, P. I., on February 13th.

Martinez is a member of the quartermaster company of the 6th Infantry Division, holder of the continuous combat record for the Pacific. The company was recently awarded the Meritorious Service Unit Plaque.

They had some rugged going from D-Day until the Nazis finally gave up the fight. And it took the finest courage, skill, and bravery to beat the Nazi Army. The American doughboy had more ingenuity and initiative than any of the enemy. If he were thrown suddenly on his own he had the knack of taking full advantage of any possibilities provided—which wasn't true of the German Army because it had been regimented so thoroughly and so long they no longer possessed the initiative and versatility the American GI had in abundance.

I saw a sign somewhere over in Germany which read as follows: "Buy Bonds and Help Texas Win the War". Perhaps it sounds strange, but no matter where I was, somewhere in the neighborhood was anywhere from one to a dozen or more Texans. I honestly don't see how anybody is still left back in the Lone Star State. And I say in all candor the Texans rated Number One as fighting men.

All of us are acquainted with these

Lt. Roberts Arrives Home Thursday

Lt. Bill Roberts, liberated prisoner of the Germans, finally made it in home last weekend, after an anxious wait of almost two years on the part of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Roberts.

He was a prisoner of war for 20 months, during which time he lost "about 50 pounds". He arrived in New York some ten days ago and came home as soon as released by plane.

Lt. Roberts departed Friday morning for Corpus Christi to visit for a few days, and is expected back here the latter part of the week.

Walter Hardage Takes Over Phillips 66

Walter Hardage has leased the Phillips retail station in Farwell and will assume charge on July 1, Lee Kline, present operator of the station, announced today.

Kline & Roberts have operated the business since early this year, and Kline said he was letting the station go in order that he might be able to devote more time to the tire business he and Roberts launched in Farwell a few weeks ago.

Stove Certificates Become Invalid

All old stove purchase certificates Forms R-901 or R-901 (Rev. 12-43) previously issued by local War Price and Rationing Boards will become invalid for consumer use after July 31, 1945, according to OPA Rationing Executive William G. Williams.

It is necessary to invalidate these certificates because many outstanding certificates are held by persons who no longer need stoves because their circumstances have changed since their certificate was received. Those persons who have the old certificates and do need stoves will have ample time to spend them before August, at which time the certificates will be taken out of circulation to protect stove supplies from current needs. Stove Dealers will have through August 15, 1945, to surrender their old certificates to their suppliers or exchange them at their local boards. Distributors have through August 22 to dispose of their old certificates in the same manner.

FSA Families Help In Vital Fat Salvage

The 80 families of Parmer county cooperating with the Farm Security program this week are lending their support to War Food Administration and OPA in a vigorous fat salvage campaign, according to Geo. F. L. Bishop, FSA Supervisor at Farwell.

Recent reduction in raw materials for civilian supplies of margarine, shortening, and other cooking oils intensifies the seriousness of the fats and oils situation. Needs for high explosives in fighting the Japs and for other essential war items are greater today than ever before.

FSA families in this county have set individual goals to turn in as much waste fat as possible during the next three months. Also Mr. Bishop is requesting that any breakdown in the salvage campaign be reported to the County Agent or FSA office. Merchants who are unable to get containers for the waste fat may contact these officers, and families should encourage their merchants to participate by serving as depositories.

The young people of FSA families are cooperating through the 4H Club and the Future Farmers of America to do their part in the drive. "Many youngsters, now that school is out, are using the time they are not needed in farm work in salvaging fat for war needs," Mr. Bishop said.

But that truck also represents one of the biggest headaches tire men—and oil men—have had to face in this war!

You see, our synthetic rubber program has had to overcome more than the lack of raw rubber from the Jap-held East Indies. It has had to cope with a fantastic demand for tires for Army trucks and other vehicles.

Why is that demand fantastic? Just imagine speeding along roads pitted by shellfire and sprinkled with shrapnel... hub-deep in mud, or rutted in frozen ridges. Under those terrible conditions, tires have become frayed and useless at an appalling rate.

That American industry has been able to meet this terrific demand for all-important truck tires is due, to a great extent, to companies like Phillips.

For long before Pearl Harbor, Phillips scientists foresaw the possibilities of butadiene in producing synthetic rubber. As a result, when the blow fell at Pearl Harbor, Phillips great research and production facilities were ready to step into the breach.

Today, the Phillips 66 Shield stands for one of America's leading producers of butadiene for synthetic rubber... as well as a great producer of 100-Octane Aviation Fuel, and an almost endless list of newer and better products from petroleum gases and petroleum.

Mulch, Save Garden In Summer Heat

COLLEGE STATION—With the coming of hot, dry weather, comes the time also when vegetables growing in our gardens, almost at maturing point, are in danger of withering away and drying, for the long, hot, dry spells of the summer months often spell doom for some of our favorite plants. We can fight drought to a certain extent, however, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension service.

Mulch will help much in this problem. It will not only help to keep our plants from drying up, but it will save us from having to water them so often, and will also serve to aid the weeding situation. When you do water your plants, however, do a through job of it—so the water will penetrate from six to eight inches, thereby supplying the plants adequately.

Mulch is straw, dried lawn clippings, or dried leaves. It is spread between rows and around plants early in the season before the soil dries out. It should be only about two inches thick, for if it is spread on in too deep a coating, it may defeat its purpose by absorbing water from any light rain and keeping it from the soil.

Besides conserving moisture and holding down weeds, it keeps the soil cool and under 90 degrees, thus promoting growth of feeder roots. Mulch is also valuable around tomato plants that aren't staked, around cucumbers and bush squash plants. It holds the fruit off the ground, keeps it clean and free of certain rots carried in the soil.

Sometime before your garden dries out take the advice of the specialist and mulch save.

WFA Offers Canned Tomatoes For Sale

War Food Administration is offering for sale to processors who canned them 2,280 cases of tomatoes for civilian use, according to E. C. Munro, acting district representative, WFA's office of supply.

The new offering is in addition to 4,958 cases offered several days ago. With the exception of 44 cases graded off-condition, the tomatoes are reported in good condition by recent inspection certificates, and all but 377 cases are from the 1942 pack, he said. Original processors have until 4 p. m., CWT, July 2, to submit offers for the tomatoes to WFA's Sales Branch, Washington, D. C.

Conchas Dam; Arch Hurley for whom the conservancy district was named by congress; U. S. Devor, chairman of the Dedication Fiesta; and Earl George, Tucumcari. These prominent workers for the dam will be joined by Federal and State officials of the Southwest for the ceremonies. Thousands are expected to attend.

Dedication Fiesta At Tucumcari, Aug. 9th

TUCUMCARI, N. M.—Facilities of the Sunshine State will be utilized here August 9, when formal dedication of Conchas Dam and the Arch Hurley Conservancy District is made by leading dignitaries of Washington and celebrities from Hollywood. Such promise was made to dedication officials in Santa Fe last week by Gov. John J. Dempsey and State Police Chief Frank Young.

Governor Dempsey declared he would personally issue invitations to governors of Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas, the basin states of the Arkansas River, to attend and help him play host for the occasion. "This project," Governor Dempsey said, "is but one of many planned by the Bureau of Reclamation, Army Corps of Engineers, and the Interior Department. All communities interested in such projects should plan to be in Tucumcari August 9 to demonstrate to the proper officials such desires of the region." He predicted one of the largest crowds in Eastern New Mexico history would attend the 24 hours of free entertainment.

The State's chief executive also said he would call out the State Guard of Eastern New Mexico to add to the color of the Fiesta and to aid in controlling traffic for the day.

State Police Chief Frank Young is also issuing invitations to State officers of neighboring states to attend the Tucumcari Fiesta and has promised "every available officer in New Mexico will be there not for arrests, but to assist in making every visitor's day a pleasant one." In the meantime, local committees are formulating details of the Fiesta, which include parades, band concerts, basket lunches, thrill shows, stage shows, Fiesta Queens, banquets, rodeo events, dancing horses, street dances, and a score of other free entertainment menus. Cities and towns of West Texas, Western Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico are urged to arrange delegations, bands and street stunts to present here at the Dedication and add their petition to the Washington officials for more reclamation projects in the Southwest, Fiesta Chairman U. S. Devor has declared.

VETERANS GET PREFERENCE

COLLEGE STATION—Veterans of the present war will be given some preference among persons who are seeking to operate trucks on a commercial basis, the Office of Defense Transportation has advised the A. & M. College Extension Service. Veterans applying for "certificates of war necessity" for truck operation will not have to show, as do non-veterans, that the proposed business is necessary to the war program or to the maintenance of essential civilian economy.

Texas Cowboy Reunion Comes on July 2, 3, 4

STAMFORD—Minds of the old-timers are turning these warm days to the approaching reunion of their buddies during the Texas Cowboy Reunion, which will hold its 15th annual showing on the 2, 3, and 4 of July. On these dates the veteran cowhands of the old Southwest will gather to swap yarns of happenings on the range in their younger days. Bowed legs will waggle and creaky knees will be slapped as the wizened faces breaks into a happy smile as tales are told reminiscent of days long past.

Each year the old-time cow-punchers assemble here during the Reunion, elect officers for their association, renew acquaintances, dance the old square dances which were in vogue in those days and even yet are considered the folk music of the old West. Membership is limited to men who were actively engaged and employed in ranch work at least 35 years ago. The roster now includes almost 2,000 from 16 states of the Southwest. Members who have paid their dues are entitled to chuck wagon dinner each day and free admission to each performance of the rodeo.

The Will Rogers Memorial Bunkhouse, on the grounds of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, is a fitting memorial to the celebrated cowboy philosopher. This building is the property, even the home of the old-timer while here. It is constructed of natural stone, having many of the most famous brands of Texas ranches on its walls. Another building, the Coombles Round-up Hall, is used for the square dances and the old-timer fiddlers contests. It, too, is constructed of native stone and has been added to this year.

Each year the old-timers fiddling contest attracts huge crowds. The event is held in the Round-up Hall and is free to the public. There is no lack of zest among the contestants, who put everything they have into the performance, hoping to win one of the cash prizes.

Other interesting attractions of the rodeo this year will be the three day rodeo performances, the chuck wagons, the sponsors dances, the American Quarter Horse Show, the sponsors contest, and the big opening day parade.

WEIGHT LIMITATION LIFTED

COLLEGE STATION—Prices on all good and choice barrow and gilt butcher hogs will be supported at $13 per hundred, Chicago basis, until September 1, 1946, the War Food Administration has announced. The previous ton weight limitation of 300 pounds has been lifted and the support price raised 50 cents from $12.50 per hundred as a way to encourage increased hog production. The nation's goal this year is 37 million fall pigs.

Fish Adds To Diet As Meat Is Short

COLLEGE STATION—Fish news this season has been good news, and with ration points and meat shortages providing a daily problem to the homemaker, a good supply of fresh fish on the market will form a welcome addition to the weekly menu. Don't deny your family the delight of frequent fish dinners, for wherever you live, the chances are that fresh fish of several types is available.

Aside from the pleasure of eating good fish, you may have the added satisfaction of serving a "highly" nutritious food and whether you buy fresh water or salt water fish you are getting an excellent source of protein. Fish is rich in minerals and vitamins, too, and some fish have considerable fat.

There are twelve types of fish which have always been most popular on the market—salmon, sardines, herring, haddock, oysters, mackerel, cod, shrimp, crabs, tuna, flounders and halibut, but there are many varieties new on the market which make good eating.

Fish steaks, which are cross sections of large fish, and fish filets, which are the boneless, eaty sides of fish are the easiest cuts to prepare. They may be fried, broiled or baked.

You can also buy whole fish and dress them yourself, or you can get drawn fish or dressed fish whole. Since the bones in a fish weigh little, the waste is low compared to many other foods you buy.

You can vary your meals in many ways by serving fish often, and you'll always know you are serving the catch of the season, for they are simple to prepare, delicious to taste and easy to digest.

A lot of people are late for church because they have to change attire, and a lot of others because they have to change a dollar.

METHODIT CHURCH NEWS
Bovina and Oklahoma Lane The Methodist Church has a full schedule of events that are interesting and educational for better Christian service.

Last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Genevieve Ezell and Mrs. Dorothy Blalock of Bovina, with Mrs. Ernestine Lovell and Mrs. Obreta Sudderth of Oklahoma Lane, were accompanied by Miss Lillie Hester to the Methodist Camp on the Cita Canyon. There they were joined by many other young adults for this part of the state on a two-day retreat.

The two principal speakers were Dr. Leo Rippy of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. E. D. Landreth, district superintendent of the Clarendon district. Many inspiring messages and helpful discussions were brought to enable our young adults to better carry on Christian service. Incidentally, all four of these young ladies have husbands in service, with three of the men overseas.

It is wonderful that the church continues to guide and train for Christian service while war goes on. Realizing that the spread of Christianity over the world in principle and in practice is the only sure way to prevent war, may we all rally to the freedom to worship, go to church somewhere every Sunday, and do our part to spread the gospel of Christ.

Rev. Roscoe Trostle, Pastor.
Pete Booth, who has been attending the University of Texas, arrived home last week to spend the vacation period with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Booth.

Servicemen Discuss Overseas Duties

Happy to be able to return home, five local servicemen, appearing before the local Men's Club as special guests last Thursday evening, highlighted their experiences on foreign fields, but finally concluded by agreeing that "it wasn't so bad after all, since we got to come home."

Capt. Gabe Anderson, Lts. Wm. R. Roberts, Thomas Caldwell and Carthon Phillips, and Cpl. Earl DeOliveria contributed to the program, which was presided over by J. T. Carter.

Two of the young soldiers—Capt. Anderson and Lt. Phillips—saw more actual combat than all others. Lts. Roberts and Caldwell spent most of their time in German prison camps, after being shot down from their ships, while Cpl. DeOliveria, although circling the globe in his travels, escaped combat entirely while serving in supply.

Visiting flyers from the Clovis air base who were present, agreed with the position of Sgt. Don Gieckman, when he declared, "I hope to be starting some fires over Tokio before long."

Despite all the horrors of war, there was always the amusing side of it, Capt. Anderson recalled, and at this point he told a number of laughable incidents that happened while he was in Italy. "Lots of funny things happened up there," he grinned, and told of capturing a whole Mongolian regiment when he made the commanding officer believe the American tanks had them surrounded. "Actually," Anderson said, "our troops consisted of a gun crew and myself."

Observing that "it is impossible to paint a picture with words," Lt. Philips recounted some of his experiences in the early part of the war, revealing that he was aboard a ship "headed for the Philippines" when they received the news of the Pearl Harbor attack. Caught on Java, Lt. Philips said, "It was all for the Japs there, we were so outnumbered it was terrifying."

Combat Experience Short

Lt. Roberts said that his combat experience was of short duration, revealing that he was shot down on his first mission enroute to Antwerp, Belgium. From that point he took up some of the experiences he went through while a prisoner of the German government. He said that the German Intelligence Service has "a complete record of you from the day you entered grade school." He praised the Red Cross by saying, "If it had not been for them I don't know what we would have done."

Lt. Caldwell said that since Lt. Roberts had told of the prison camp life he would skip that phase of his experiences. Shot down on his fifth mission, Lt. Caldwell said that he might have evaded capture "If I had not pulled my rip-cord too soon." He said that he had been cautioned to make a delayed opening of his parachute to escape detection but added, "I was wearing a chest-type chute and they had not been opening very satisfactorily back in England—I was anxious to know if mine was going to open... I haven't figured out yet what I would have done if it had failed."

Cpl. DeOliveria, the only dischargee in the group, recounted with amazing accuracy the locations and dates on his journeys that took him around the world. His high point was his trip to the Holy Land, where he spent three days visiting scenes of early Biblical history. "Back at Fort Bliss, they told me I could have a discharge on my points... I told 'em I'd take it," he said, to the amusement of all present.

Scouts Take Honors At Annual Encampment

Bearing two of the highest honors awarded, members of the local Scout troop and their leaders returned home the past Friday night, after spending a week at the Sacramento Scout encampment, high in the mountains of New Mexico near Clouderoft.

The local troop was rated first in the presentation of antics on "stunt night", and in addition, had the honor of having the cleanest, neatest cabin at the camp Scoutmaster Charles S. Walker, said when reporting the event.

Ernest Lokey was elected to the Order of the Arrow, and his father, F. F. Lokey, who accompanied the Scouts, was made an honorary member of the Order. This particular division of scouting, it was explained, includes only the highest 10 percent of the boys at the camp.

During the encampment, the Farwell troop made an 18-mile hike to the Weed lookout stationed maintained by the Rangers, and with the Jal. N. M., Scouts, presented the Indian dance one night around the council fire.

Some 100 boys and their Scoutmasters were in attendance at the affair. With the exception of the locals, the groups came from troops in Southeastern New Mexico. Scouts from here included A. C. Henneman, Ernest Lokey, Carey Joe Magness, D. C. Haynes, Bobby Poteet, Jerry Pool, Don Ford, Glennis Hughes and Leon Meeks.

Mills Leaves Sunday For Washington Job

Ellis M. Mills, who for the past several years has been head of the local Agricultural Adjustment Administration offices in Farmer County, departed Sunday for Washington, D. C., where he will continue in government work.

Mills is to serve with the loan department of the Commodity Credit Corporation, it is understood here. He spent three weeks in Washington recently considering the appointment. His family will move to the Eastern city the latter part of the summer.

No announcement as to his successor in the Farwell office was forthcoming on Monday, but it was expected that a new administrator would be assigned in the near future.

NEW SCHOOL HEAD NAMED

Fred Kopley, secretary of the Oklahoma Lane school board, said this week that W. M. Roberts of Bellevue, Texas, had been selected as superintendent of the Oklahoma Lane school for the coming year and would be here at an early date to assume his duties.

Roberts has had 13 years of teaching experience and has been superintendent of the Bellevue school for the past three years. He is married and has two small children.

CARTERS TO LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carter will leave the latter part of this week, possibly Friday, for Lubbock, where they will make their home. Mr. Carter, who has been superintendent of the Farwell school the past five years, resigned recently to accept full-time church work and is going to be connected with the First Methodist Church in Lubbock.

way from North Africa through to the heart of Germany and every step was a tough and bloody one. No division stands higher in the respect of the fighting men than does the 36th.

I landed at an airfield outside Frankfurt, Germany, and the first thing I saw was a Lone Star flag flying over the field. I immediately inquired from a GI driving a crash wagon where those Texans were. He quickly responded: "I'm one." He took me off to one side and said, "We've got a few damn Yankees here but we're trying to convert them." I learned later from the Commanding Officer, a Texan and a Colonel at the ripe old age of 27, some German civilians. I asked one that the Lone Star flag had been made out of a blackout curtain representing the blue; a bleached mat-ress cover for the white, and a red Russian flag had been used to fashion a mighty prett Lone Star flag, which looked awfully good when you're so far away from home. These boys who flew the P-47 fighter planes (Thunderbolts) had flown this flag all over Germany.

Co-workers

Farmers of the Texico-Farwell area are co-workers with their government in helping to win the war against the Nips.

They have given up their sons—and in some cases, their daughters—for duty to places of service all over the world. At the same time they are carrying on at home trying their utmost to save our wheat crop and produce more food for our fighting men. Too, they are investing in War Bonds to help win the war at the earliest possible moment.

Do we need to remind you that we, too, and lending our co-operation to our farmers. If at any time we may be of service to you, do not hesitate to on us.
