

Isigny Cows Return to Fields

As if they knew that the bells of peace have rung in Europe, and it is time they had their grazing fields to themselves again, these cows wander idly into an ammunition dump on the road near Isigny, France. Thousands of head of cattle, driven away by Germans and battles, left to shift for themselves, are being divided among the farmers of France.

Young Feed Crops Appear Hopeful

Voters Decide Amendments Aug. 25th

The qualified voters of the State of Texas will decide the fate of four proposed amendments to the State Constitution in a special election to be held on Saturday, August 25th.

County Judge A. D. Smith announced today that the election supplies for the special election had been received here, and judges for the various voting boxes of Farmer county had been named. Judge Smith said the voting boxes will be opened at the school houses in all precincts of the county, except Farwell, where the voters will cast their ballots at the county court house.

In substance, the four proposed amendments are as follows:

1. Proposing an amendment to Article VI of the Constitution of Texas, providing that any person in the armed forces of the United States, or the armed force reserve, or of any branch or component part thereof, or of the United States Maritime Service, or the Merchant Marine, or who has been a member of same within eighteen months prior to the holding of any election in this state authorized by law, and who is otherwise a qualified voter, shall not be required to pay, or to hold a receipt for payment of, a poll tax, in order to vote, if election is held while the United States is at war, or within a certain stated time after.

2. Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Texas providing for continuous salary per diem of all members of Legislature during tenure of office.

3. Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Texas providing for a Supreme Court of nine members.

4. Proposing an amendment giving the Legislature the power to set up a system of payments of old age assistance to those above 65, provided that monthly payments from State funds to any one person be in valid amounts based on need, that the maximum payment per month per person from State funds shall not be more than $20; giving the Legislature power to set up a system of payments for needy blind persons over 21; giving the Legislature power to set up a system of payments to needy children under 16, providing for expenditure of funds from the Federal government, limiting the total amount which may be expended for such assistance out of state funds; and providing conditions as to residence within the state in order to become eligible.

Triple A Office Will Have 44-Hour Week

Announcement was made today that in the future, the local Triple A force would observe a 44-hour work week, with the office to close at noon on Saturday.

The new closing hour will become effective on Saturday of this week, July 28th, Mrs. Eva McDaniel, supervisor, added.

The local draft board and ration board offices have been observing the new setup for several weeks.

S-Sgt. Tony Ivy Gets Army Discharge

Staff Sergeant Tony L. Ivy, of the Lazbuddy community, has been discharged from the separation center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

His service record, on file at the local clerk's office, reveals that he has been serving with an MP detail. In June of 1941 he was sent to Puerto Rico, returning in July. He went back to Puerto Rico again in August of that same year, remaining there until February of 1944.

TO ATTEND COLLEGE

Rev. Lawrence M. Dumont, who has been pastor of the Baptist Church at Lazbuddy for the past five months, plans to leave soon for Denver, Colo., where he will enter the Denver Bible College for a course of study. He said today that he planned to attend the college for the next four years.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

The County Commissioners were in session here, Monday. The minutes reveal that only routine business was transacted during the session.

Red Cross Can't Do Impossible Tasks

D. K. Roberts, home service chairman for the Farmer County Chapter of the American Red Cross, stated today that "many people have the wrong idea of our work in connection with men in the armed services".

He clarified his statement by explaining, "We can't do the impossible. We're willing and able to help in the case of an emergency, by contacting Red Cross field directors in any particular area, pertaining to the obtaining of furloughs for boys in cases of sickness or death in the immediate family. In regard to obtaining extensions on furloughs for servicemen currently on leave, however," Roberts went on, "we have been specifically asked not to handle such cases, unless it is an extreme emergency."

In other words, he pointed out, if a boy is at home and wishes to ask for an extension on his furlough in order that he may help with farm work, etc., the serviceman himself must contact his commanding officer to request the extension. The Red Cross here can ask the Field director at the boy's camp to furnish data if required by the military, but cannot go directly to Army officials requesting additional time at home.

Furthermore, the local director said, in cases where a discharge is being sought, unless it pertains to an extreme emergency, the Red Cross has been asked not to intervene. Such discharges must come direct from the commanding officer who may ask the Red Cross to furnish information regarding the case.

Roberts concluded by stating that he was glad to help and furnish information on any service available through the Red Cross, but urged that the restrictions placed upon the service by the military be observed.

Only One Vacancy In Farwell Faculty

Barring unexpected resignations, the Farwell school faculty for the coming school year is virtually complete, Supt. H. A. Clift announced today.

He said that the only place remaining to be filled was that of a homemaking instructor, which position has been occupied by Mrs. C. J. Dooze the past two years. Mrs. Dooze was not an applicant for the position this year.

Supt. Clift expressed the opinion that the remaining vacancy might be filled within the next few weeks. "As a general rule," he said, "unsettled teachers begin to select their year's work by August 1st."

County Agent Lee McElroy was in Lubbock, Monday and Tuesday, attending a special short course at Texas Tech College. Mrs. McElroy and the twins accompanied him to visit relatives and friends.

CONDUCTS REVIVAL—Minister P. D. Wilmet of San Antonio, who will do the preaching at the Farwell Church of Christ during a revival to begin on Friday, August 3.

Revival Scheduled To Begin August 3rd

Officials of the Farwell Church of Christ today announced a revival meeting to begin on Friday, August 3rd, and conclude Sunday, August 12th.

Minister P. D. Wilmet of San Antonio, has been engaged to do the preaching during the series of services, which will be held twice daily at 11 a. m. and 9 p. m.

The public is invited to attend.

Drives Escapes When Freight Hits Car

C. L. Marlow of Muleshoe, escaped injury at 10:25 last Saturday night, when a west-bound freight train plowed into his car and trailer on the Main Street railroad crossing in Texico-Farwell.

He explained that his machine became stalled on the crossing, and that he attempted to flag the approaching train when his efforts to remove the car and trailer failed. The train hit the loaded trailer and practically demolished it. The car, a 1930 model A Ford, sustained less damage when it was jerked into the side of the locomotive.

OUR APOLOGIES

The Tribune apologizes this week to Rev. Fred Stumpp, Bovina Baptist pastor, and Rev. Roscoe Trostle, Methodist pastor in that city. Unintentionally, in making announcement of the Bovina Baptist revival, last week, the pastor was listed as Rev. Trostle. We trust that all parties concerned will accept our apologies and overlook the error.

Practically all of the young crops planted last week, following refreshing showers of ten days ago, are up to a good stand and give promise of making satisfactory growth, farmers who were fortunate enough to be in the rain belt were reporting this week.

Some early plantings, most of which were made last May before the early spring moisture had disappeared, miraculously held out until the recent moisture and are reported to be looking good.

Farmers generally agree that there is slight hope for any grain to be produced over a wide section of the Texas and New Mexico Plains country this year, including Farmer and Curry counties. Many of the best farms in Farmer are still dry and no plantings of any kind have been made this year.

Observers predict that only an abundance of rain and growing weather during August can produce roughage for livestock for winter use.

Feeling that it is too late to produce a feed crop this fall, most of the farmers of the county are making plans to sow their lands to wheat this fall, but even that cannot be done until an abundance of rain comes. Some claim that it will require at least four to six inches to put the ground in condition for wheat sowing. It has remained dry for so long there is no underground water, they say.

Despite the continued dry weather, there has been very little hot weather this summer. Most of the days have been only moderately hot and the nights continue to be refreshingly cool and pleasant.

Western National Is Leading In State

D. P. Bates, secretary-treasurer of the Western National Farm Loan Association, at Muleshoe, announced today that the local association led the entire state of Texas for the first six months of 1945, in the number of loans made farmers of Farmer and Bailey counties.

He recalled, also, that the Western National led the state for the entire year of 1944 with 159 loans.

According to Bates, the local association made 91 loans during the first six months of 1945, for a total of $184,400.00. Most of the loans, he said, were made in Farmer county, on what he estimated at "about a 60-40 ratio". He said that refinancing represented about half of the loans made, with the other half going to new loans.

The Western National Farm Loan Association, while the office is located in Muleshoe, serves Farmer and Bailey counties, with the board of directors being composed of farmers living in the two communities.

GAS COOKING STOVES GO OFF RATIONING

Although the local ration board has not received information here, announcement by Associated Press over the weekend was to the effect that gas cook stoves would be removed from rationing the last of this month.

Oil-burning stoves, or combination oil and gas stoves, will remain under rationing, it was revealed.

Fats, Oils, Soap Now Harrass Housewives

Shortages of cooking fats and oils as well as shortages of laundry or 'dish-washing' soap, are plaguing housewives for a change, adding to the hair-tearing over the meat situation.

Happy indeed is the housewife who has on hand a supply of home-made lard or lye soap, since a check up of grocery stores both here and in neighboring towns reveals a complete lack of these items on dealers' shelves.

Toilet soaps show no evidence of becoming short, but it is a rare thing when a grocer has a few bars of laundry soap, or a few boxes of precious granulated soap—of any kind—to distribute to his customers.

An occasional shipment of cooking fats and oils have come to the Twin Cities, but purchasers are becoming accustomed to "Sorry, no grease", when they make inquiries.

The Commodity Credit Corporation reports that factory and warehouse stocks of fats and oils on May 1 totaled 1,823 million pounds, compared with 2,709 million pounds last year, which undoubtedly has a bearing on the shortages noticed locally.

The meat situation continues to be a pain in the neck, with butcher stores feeling exceptionally fortunate if they can offer anything other than weiners and bologna, more than once a week.

To offset this shortage, backyard chicken pens are fast becoming the vogue. Cliff Henderson, local dealer, received 1,000 baby chicks Monday, and reported today "they went like hot cakes".

All in all, so far as meals are concerned, the theme these days seems to be "Let's go to the garden, Maude".

Johnson Grass Is Highly Prized

A group was discussing the dry weather in a local barber shop. Finally, one observer put in the suggestion that this ought to be a good year to kill out Johnson grass, which is infesting a large part of the best farm lands of the county.

"I'd shoot anybody I caught killing my Johnson grass," Jim Perkins, Oklahoma Lane farmer, protested. "It's the only thing my old cows have to eat this year—and I sure don't want it killed now," he added.

Terry, pastor at Oklahoma Lane, has announced that the services will continue through Sunday, August 5. Preaching services are being held twice daily, at 10:30 a. m. and 9:15 p. m.

School Transfers Slow, Checkup Here Shows

Up to Tuesday noon, only 15 school transfers had been filed with County Judge A. D. Smith, and he emphasized the importance of getting these transfers in before the deadline of July 31st.

Students who plan to attend a school outside their home district must make application for transfer, before they can be received in another district school during the coming term.

This applies to all students who expect to transfer to another system, regardless of the fact that the same students have transferred in past years. Most of the transfers, Judge Smith said, affect high school students located in districts where only grammar schools are maintained.

TYPEWRITER REPAIRMAN INJURED IN CAR FLOP

Charley Steigler, crippled typewriter repairman, who is well known here, was able to return to his home in Plainview the latter part of last week, after being "laid up" here for a few days, suffering from injuries sustained when his car left the highway and turned over, west of Clovis.

Steigler received several broken ribs when his car, being driven by a Clovis negro, turned over after leaving the pavement. The vehicle was able to run again after minor repairs.

Veterans Referred To Hereford Job Office

"An office of the United States Employment Service has been opened in Hereford, with J. E. Bruce, a veteran of World War II, in charge, the office being located in the City Hall," stated F. A. Wells, area manpower director, of Amarillo, who was in Farwell Monday afternoon.

The primary purpose of the Hereford office will be to facilitate needed employment of veterans; however, Wells stated that all persons, regardless of veteran status, in need of employment should file applications. Likewise, all employers in Deaf Smith, Castro and Farmer counties needing workers should place their orders with the Hereford office.

Wells emphasized that the opening of this office and the services to be rendered by it will not conflict with any other agencies or community activities already established to provide service to the veterans, but will facilitate such services.

Bruce indicated that he is anxious to meet the community leaders and employers, as well as job seekers, and to get acquainted with all others who care to visit the office.

STORE AIR DELIVERY

WASHINGTON—Six department stores have filed applications with the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to operate airplane delivery service. All six propose to use helicopters and their area of proposed operations are within a 100-mile radius of Richmond, Washington, Boston, Pittsburgh, Milwaukee and Chicago. Three want to transport passengers and property and three confine their operations to property and express.

Have you bought that bond?

BILLION GALLONS OF GAS

NEW YORK—In 1954 the air transport operators will be spending more than $70,000,000 annually for fuel and lubricants, according to a recent symposium held by the Society of Automotive Engineers. This would mean a consumption of gasoline at the rate of 2,000 gallons per minute, or more than one billion gallons annually for civil aircraft.

Today's style trend seems to be to swap the wedding dress for a divorce suit.

Now and Hereafter In The Garden

COLLEGE STATION — Tomorrow's garden is made better by the work the gardener puts into it today, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the Extension Service. Accordingly, he suggests some things which may be done at once to assure larger production on growing plots.

Tomatoes, peas, okra, pole and bush limas and peppers should be given a fertilizing, mulching and soil stirring right now. Then when cool fall days come along, production should be good.

Rosborough suggests that it is timely to protect tomatoes, especially those which have been staked and pruned, against damage from sun blister. Instead of allowing the fruit to remain on the vine to ripen, harvest it when a small area of pink shows on the blossom end. If placed in a cool, shady place the tomatoes will ripen in two to four days into a deep pink or red, ready for the table or canning. The fruit so handled seems to ripen better on the inside than if left on the vine to mature, he adds.

The time is right to plant collards and late watermelons. Collards may be put in wherever a row of spring or summer vegetables have been taken out. A 10-cent package of seed will plant 100 feet of row. The Georgia or Louisiana cabbage collard varieties are both good. Rosborough recommends planting the seed

We've Had Some Interesting Experiences, Too!

Whether you fly 'em ... or make the fuel that flies 'em ... you learn something!

The boys who have been filling Tojo's fleet as full of holes as an old tin can will have some interesting stories to tell when they get home.

And Phillips is going to have some interesting things to tell you (and show you) too!

Because a big part of our job the last five years has been to produce the 100-octane Aviation Fuel that has kept the big boys over Berlin and Tokio. And it hasn't always been an easy job.

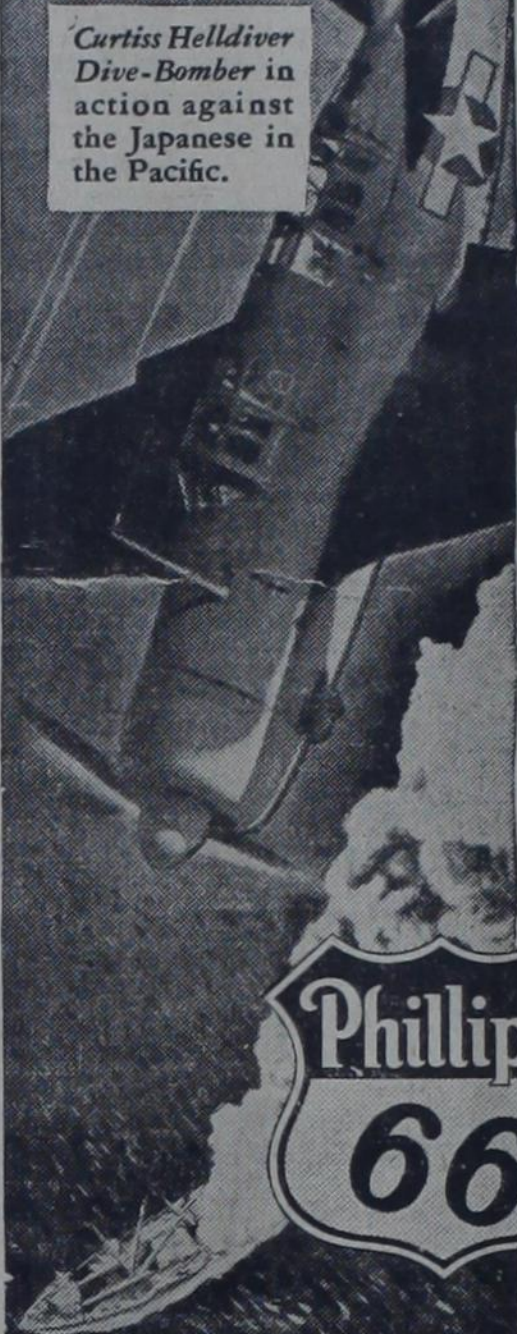

In some ways it has involved almost as many trials and tribulations as a pilot goes through before he wins his wings. We've built vast new laboratories and staffed them with the wisest and most experienced scientists we could find. We've built new plants and introduced new processes. In short, we've gone "all out"—with every bit of brains and brawn we have—to give our fliers every ounce of precious 100-octane fuel that could be produced!

The result—today Phillips is one of the very biggest producers of 100-octane Aviation Fuel in the country! That's a mighty important fact—and one of which we're very proud.

And it's a significant fact, too—for every man and woman who plans to drive a car after the war. Because you can bet your bottom dollar that all the experience, all the know-how, all the scientific knowledge we've gained in becoming one of the largest producers of 100-octane gasoline—will be packed into the Phillips 66 Gasoline which powers your post-war car!

When you see the Phillips 66 Shield, remember—it stands for fuels for Victory today, and fuels for better driving tomorrow.

where they can be worked throughout the summer and when the first frosty days come along in October or November the collards will be at their best as fall greens.

As the early planted watermelon crop will be out of the way in early August, he recommends a second planting now. The Black Diamond variety is heat resistant and a tul patch on deep soil will put watermelons on the back porch when fall approaches.

Looking farther into the future, Rosborough suggests plowing the fall garden plot now. This preliminary step, he explains would keep down weeds and prevent the soil drying out in late summer. Garden plots prepared now can be harrowed from time to time and when planting times comes adding the fertilizer and sowing the seeds would be the only jobs left.

Freeze and Store Surplus Fryers

COLLEGE STATION — Fried chicken is always a favorite American delicacy, and with modern freezing methods, it is a dish we can now enjoy all the year round. Too, with meat shortages an ever-present problem, and costs of chicken feed high, freezing the surplus fryers for family use is a good way to add to the meat supply and insure your family fried chicken later in the season.

There are a few points to remember in preparing your fryers for quick freezing, suggests Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. The first of these is proper dressing, with emphasis on getting a good bleed. Care in dressing the fryer will go a long way in preventing any off-flavor, and will keep the frozen fowl fresh. A quick chill is also important in this process as bacterial changes can take place rapidly in moist, warm body cavity. Cut the chicken into pieces ready for frying before freezing.

Proper packaging is the next important step in freezing your fryers. Of course cellophane bags, sealed with a hot iron are best, but cellophane paper may be used as a second best. In case neither of these is available, a heavy waxed carton may be used. The chickens cut and chilled, may also be packed tightly in tin cans and sealed. Glass jars are not recommended as they are easily broken and hard to pack into the storage locker.

The packages should then be stored at zero degrees temperature, and the temperature should not be allowed to fluctuate more than 3 degrees. Some locker plants are allowed to run at higher temperatures, even up to 10 or 15 degrees, and this practice cuts down the length of time the food will keep without getting rancid. Under the best conditions—proper preparation, packaging and temperature, food may keep from 8 months to a year, but the temperature in the locker should be carefully checked at intervals.

If conditions are not such that you can be assured of air-tight packaging and zero degrees temperature, some people prefer to place the chicken in a leak-proof container and cover with a brine solution made with 1 teaspoon salt dissolved in 1 cup water.

Since the chickens are thoroughly cleaned, and already cut before freezing, the only preparation necessary when you get ready to cook them is to let the thaw slightly, salt, flour and fry.

People did not discover that the potato was edible until about 1850. Before that time it was the general belief that they were poisonous.

Count Sugar Crystals To Avoid Mixup

COLLEGE STATION—Long before the next sugar stamp comes due you will likely be doing a little backyard wishful thinking—wishing you had counted your sugar crystals a little more carefully.

And a little plain arithmetic even now may help. If you're really systematic you'll add the amount of sugar you have available from stamps not cashed and that amount of sugar on hand and divide by the number of days lacking until September the first, and you'll see how much sugar you will have to spread over the remaining time. And chances are, if you hadn't taken time to think about it, you'll be unpleasantly surprised.

You've probably already tried using corn syrup an honey to sweeten a few foods. Have you ever tried using jellies and preserves for anything except breads? You'll be pleasantly surprised when you experiment a little.

A few spoonfuls of marmalade or jam mixed with custards or bread pudding gives them a different flavor that's very pleasing and is a sugar saver too.

Open-faced pies are a summer favorite in many homes, and you won't need to forego pies of that kind entirely if you use a little jam in place of some sugar. Either jam or fruit butter will whip easily into a pie filling to give it a special taste.

Sweet muffins can serve well for dessert, and are made by sandwiching a small spoonful of preserves into the batter as you pour it into the muffin tins.

Fresh fruits, either with cream or just out of hand are always a welcome addition to any meal. And right now, peaches are tops in the fresh fruit line.

Conoco Gasoline Is Helping Win War

PONCA CITY, OKLAHOMA—Continental Oil Company has received commendatory telegrams from General of the army, I. H. Arnold and Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum administrator, upon the manufacture of more than two million barrels of 100 octane aviation gasoline during the past year and ten million barrels of all petroleum products for military purposes since Pearl Harbor.

"The Army Air Forces heartily congratulate your company and your workers on the production of your tenth million barrels of petroleum products since Pearl Harbor," stated General Arnold's message. "The importance of this production, which includes vital quantities of aviation gasoline, cannot be over-emphasized. Such industrial performance is essential to our increasing and highly effective aerial attacks against the enemy."

"The Petroleum Administration for War extends heartiest congratulations to Continental's organization upon their fine record of war production," stated Davies' message. "2 million barrels of aviation gasoline and ten million barrels of petroleum products since Pearl Harbor represents a mighty contribution to the nation's war program, and is a further demonstration of Dr. Walter Miller, vice president of the oil industry in support of fighting forces. With no margin to spare anywhere in meeting the demands upon us today, it is a great satisfaction to know that we can count on you for a continuance of such splendid performance."

Both messages were addressed to Dr. Walter Miller, vice president of Continental Oil Company in charge of manufacturing, who said the ten million barrels since Pearl Harbor included more than 300,000 barrels of toluene or TNT and as a blend or 100 octane gasoline—in addition to better than two million barrels of 100 octane components—and nearly three-quarters of a million barrels of lubricating oils, substantially all of which was high-quality aircraft engines oil.

Continental Oil Company manufactured the first 100 octane gasoline to be completely processed in one plant at Oklahoma.

Make Every Egg Count, Dr. Parnell Advises

COLLEGE STATION—Eggs are perishable food and should be handled as such, says E. D. Parnell, poultry husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, in a plea to "make every egg count this summer." The demand for eggs currently is abnormally high and maintenance of high quality is equivalent to conserving the largest number possible to supply consumer needs. Eggs lose quality and even edibility very quickly unless they are properly handled.

For example, fertile eggs exposed for two days to July heat may develop blood rings and thus be lost as food, Parnell says. On the other hand, infertile eggs exposed to heat remain edible much longer. If electric refrigeration is not available to producers he recommends that they obtain plans for the Extension Service iceless refrigerator from the county agricultural agent.

Parnell suggests the following practices as efficient means of holding egg quality on Texas farms this summer:

- (1) — Sell off the male birds and produce infertile eggs;
- (2) — Gather eggs two to three times a day in wire baskets and cool them before placing them in cases;
- (3) — Provide one nest for each four or five hens and renew nest litter frequently;
- (4) — Place broody hens in special broody coops as soon as they are discovered. Feed and water them well, and in 10 days they should be laying again;
- (5) — Keep houses well ventilated and clean;
- (6) — Green feed, good mash, and free-choice oyster shell insures strong shells and good egg quality.

FOOD AROUND THE WORLD

NEW YORK—Meals cooked and frozen in New York or San Francisco, with vitamins and appearance intact will be placed before post-war American air travelers in Calcutta, Singapore or wherever U. S. flag lines have the foreign ports of call. This plan has been worked out so that hungry passengers, dubious of strange foods served by natives, will not have to adapt themselves to such conditions. A specimen dinner may include fresh pineapple cup, lobster newburg, Dutchess potatoes, light rolls and meringue topped strawberry tarts.

School Lunch Program Is Extended For Year

The community school lunch agreement between the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Department of Education has been extended through the next school year, Dr. L. A. Woods, Superintendent of Public Instruction, announced.

Lotham White, Acting regional director, Commodity Credit Corporation's southwest regional office of supply, USDA, co-signed the Texas agreement with Woods.

Local sponsors can now proceed the next fiscal year ending June 30, 1946, Woods said, explaining additional information may be received from any of the four CCC-USDA district offices of supply in the state. They are located in Dallas, Austin, Amarillo and Houston.

Under a similar agreement last year 2,168 Texas schools served noon-day lunches and according to present trends the figure for the coming year will go over the 2,459 mark, he said. The year before 1,770 schools operated with USDA assistance. Up to June, 1945, USDA reimbursements to cooperating schools under last year's program totaled $2,918,000.

KWIKI BLUETIP IS PLANNING WINTER MENUS Now . . .

Right now there is an abundant supply of fresh fruits and vegetables—but we don't know what the food situation will be a few months hence. Here is the outlook for the immediate future: the sugar supply is the lowest since the beginning of the war; the shortage of meat is expected to continue into next year; transportation difficulties do not permit wide scale shipment of food; food production in Europe is at an all-time low. This means that each family must preserve as much food as possible now to insure a balanced diet. A well-filled pantry means a well-fed family. Home-canned foods mean meal planning made easy without worry over ration points and shortages.

Youth Services End At ME Churches

Climaxing with a final worship service on Friday night, the Youth Caravan Week held in the Bovina and Okalahoma Lane came to an end with an inspirational service centered on the story of the cross, following which many young people dedicated their lives at the altar.

Rev. Roscoe Trostle, in reviewing the work of the caravan, summed it up in the state, "It was as rich and fine as almost any revival. It made a definite contribution to the upbuilding of spiritual life and was inspiring as to the future accomplishments of our youth."

Total enrollment for both churches reached 105, with an average attendance of 54, the pastor said.

In the workshop period, all types of recreational equipment were made, as well as special worship materials, including crosses, candleholders and the Methodist Youth Fellowship Emblem.

Services on Thursday evening were held at the home of Mrs. F. P. Wilson, under the direction of Jim and Wanda Wilson. The evening opened with a fellowship dinner, a recreation period was held and the evening concluded with a worship service.

The young people met Friday evening with the building committee of the church, asking that the old church building be left for a recreational center for the young people of both communities, open to all churches.

The Caravan team went from Bovina to Amherst, where they are spending this week. Next week they will be at Hereford. Since all members are from other parts of the country, they plan to make a swing down to the Carlsbad Caverns, El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, before returning to their homes.

Bovina Baptists Begin Revival On Sunday

The First Baptist Church of Bovina will begin a two-weeks revival Sunday morning, July 29, it was announced today by Rev. Fred Stumpp, the pastor. Services will be conducted twice daily through August 12, morning services at 10:30 a. m., and evening services at 9:15 p. m.

He was recently discharged from the Army after some two years overseas service as a chaplain.

The music will be under the direction of Mrs. Vernon Ward and O. A. Nowell, the pastor added, urging all friends who will assist in the singing to be on hand.

In making the announcement, Rev. Stumpp said, "Bring your friends with you to this old-time revival. Follow the crowd to the services every day."

FSA Offers Loans To Returning Vets

Servicemen of Palmer County returning from military duty and interested in establishing themselves on family-type farms may apply at the Farm Security Administration office for a government loan covering full cost of land improvements according to F. L. Bishop, FSA Supervisor. A limited number of such loans may be made in this County as a result of a new $25,000,000 appropriation Congress has voted FSA or farm ownership program for veterans.

For 1945-46 Congress voted FSA more than three times as much money as it did in the last fiscal year for loans to farmers under provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Purchase Act. The agency will have $50,000,000 as against $15,000,000 for last year. One-half of this has been set up as a program specifically for ex-soldiers.

Veterans will have the same terms as farmers. Loans may run for 40 years and bear three per cent interest. Only those who are unable to obtain adequate financing through other sources are eligible in the FSA loan.

Applicants are invited to visit the FSA office at Farwell, after locating the farms they want to buy. Each farm is appraised in line with its actual value based on its long-time earning capacity. The FSA committee of local farmers determines the eligibility of applicants. William H. Gammon, Sam H. Sides, Ralph G. Wilson, and W. E. Williams, comprise the committee in this county.

"Many veterans will find it desirable to work several years as tenants before becoming landowners," Mr. Bishop declared. "Under its rural rehabilitation program, FSA is able to make operating loans for purchase of equipment, livestock, feed, fertilizer, seed, and minor improvements."

Bullock Discharged On July 18th

Word was received here the first of the week of the fact that Master Sergeant Carl Bullock, formerly of Texico, was discharged from the Army, via the point system, on July 18th.

Bullock, who served in a tank destroyer battalion, spent more than two years overseas before returning to the States last year, seeing action in many of the hot spots in North Africa and Italy.

He and his wife are currently visiting in Santa Fe with her parents, but expect to be in Farwell in the near future to see old friends.

Beef Subsidy Payments Are Increasing Here

Payments of beef subsidies to herd owners in Palmer County have shown a decided upswing during the past few days, Mrs. Eva McDaniel, supervisor of the county AAA office, said today.

Much confusion had resulted in the early applications, due to the fact that operators did not know just what records they had to present for the subsidy payment, Mrs. McDaniel explained, adding, "I think they all have it straight now."

Applications for subsidy payment on cattle sold from May 19th through June 30th of this year will be accepted at the Triple A office through August.

Deadline Given For Used Car Dealers

The deadline for registration and authorization of all sellers of used vehicles who wish to sell on a warranted basis is August 1, according to Earl Kerr, district OPA director.

"In order to protect buyers from illegal charges we must be sure that sellers who charge warranted prices have repair and service facilities to enable them to fulfill the conditions of the warranty," Kerr said.

Each seller who wishes to charge warranted prices on or after August 1 will receive an application for an authorization to sell at warranted price from his local board. In the application, dealers must record information about their repair and service facilities. This must be mailed to the district OPA office immediately in order that the dealer may receive authorization by August 1.
