HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Final! We have until Saturday night to close the census work within the city. Enumeration will continue in the rural districts indefinitely.

The supervisor, Mr. Beard, has shown a very commendable spirit in this matter. He declares he does not intend signing, as complete, the census returns from here, until the people of Big Spring are satisfied that a thorough count has been made.

The Chamber of Commerce is effectively aiding the regular enumerators and it appears the 1930 official census figure for this city will be very, very near 100 per cent of the actual population.

Unattached young men are asked to either call at the Chamber of Commerce offices and be enumerated or to ring CENSUS TELEPHONE 512 and inform the enumerators there when and where they may be found. These young bucks are part of the actual population whether they are counted or not; many of them are hard to catch and hold long enough to get them to answer the few simple questions.

One local woman, magnanimously offering her own time and the use of her car, Monday afternoon during the rain reported she quit the census taking business right off when a woman, at whose home she called kidded her, almost insulted her with "hey, you get a big egg on this don't you?" They fell on her feet, she said, and possibly etc." To which the faithful worker finally replied "Yes" and left. She was through with census helping. Another case where some folks can't comprehend others would do anything for the benefit of the whole community without having some selfish motive.

It is, perhaps selfish for one to want one's community to do well. If that be selfishness, make the most of it and may it multiply.

Went to an area Boy Scout council meeting in Colorado last night. And ashamed we were when it was announced Midland had subscribed its full budget quota of $1,800 while Big Spring, twice as large, lacks almost $600 of raising its quota of $2,500.

Appeals Court Affirms Cases

Sentences and trials of D. N. Harris and P. O. Rice, Howard county men, who were convicted in district court here, were affirmed by the court of criminal appeals, according to a report from Austin released Wednesday.

Harris was tried and sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary on a charge of liquor law violation. Rice was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary after a trial jury had found him guilty of operating a gambling house. Both men were at liberty under appeal bonds Wednesday.

Local Fishermen Start For Rivers

With the opening of fishing season May 1, a score or more of Big Spring sportsmen were planning to spend May Day along the banks of West Texas streams angling for the finny tribe.

Numerous parties were prepared to leave Big Spring Wednesday afternoon to drive to the Pecos river, Devils river and other popular fishing streams.

C. G. Glasscock, R. F. Scheig and possibly Charles Eberley had an expensive stock of fishing appliances stored in a small motor boat ready to start for Fort Stockton Wednesday afternoon. Others were seen with boats carried on trailers driving west on Highway No. 1 which left little doubt as to their ultimate destination.

BANDITS BOB GOODYEAR FAYMASTER AND GUARDS GADSDEN, Ala., April 30. (AP)—Two armed bandits held up a paymaster and two guards of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company here today and escaped with an $18,000 payroll.

LOCATION OF NEW SCHOOL DETERMINED

Location of the new ward school building in the eastern section of the city, made possible by recent passage of the $125,000 school bond issue, was announced definitely Wednesday. It will be built in the northwestern corner of the Mrs. A. Birdwell pasture, at South Seventh and Austin streets.

A deal was closed for the school board through Fox Striplin, whereby the school district will buy three acres from Mrs. Birdwell and also obtain a small parcel from Howard county.

W. C. Blankenship Takes Track Men To State Relays

For the dual purpose of investigating markets for Big Spring school bonds and to assure the local high school representation in the state interscholastic league track and field meet Saturday, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, Coach Bill Stevens, Buren Edwards and Henry Richbourg left this city for Austin Wednesday morning.

While Coach Stevens is directing his two star track and field athletes through the season's final and most important carnival, Superintendent Blankenship will be conferring with state education department heads and with other potential bond buyers.

Buren Edwards, captain of the track and field team, will probably enter the 100-yard dash, the high hurdles, the high jump and possibly the low hurdles. However, details will be arranged after the party arrives in Austin Wednesday night. Henry Richbourg will enter the 100-yard dash and possibly the other event. Edwards set a new district record in the high hurdles of 13.7 seconds at Abilene, won the 100-yard dash in 10.2, placed second in the high jump and finished third in the low hurdles after suffering the misfortune of stumbling over one of the barriers and breaking his stride. Coach Stevens expects Edwards to place in at least two events, if the long automobile ride to the state meet does not impair Edwards' physical condition.

Empire Corporation Envoy Visits Here

John W. Riley of Philadelphia, special representative of the Empire Fiscal Corporation, and its associated company, the Empire Public Service Corporation of which the Big Spring Public Service company is a part spent Wednesday in Big Spring.

"You don't hear so much of this 'grief' out here that is being heard in the east," Mr. Riley said, after a trip over the city and interviews with local bankers and business men. He was to go from here to Brady late Wednesday. While here he was a guest of Gil Cotton, district manager of the Big Spring Public Service company.

Carnera Suspended From New York

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—Primo Carnera and four members of his managerial staff today were suspended by the New York state athletic commission. The suspension followed disciplinary action by California boxing authorities growing out of the Italian's questionable bout with Leon Chevalier at Oakland. Three members of Chevalier's staff were declared ineligible as they did not hold New York licenses.

(Special To The Herald)
LUBBOCK, Texas, April 30 (Sp).—Last tributes to the memory of Mrs. B. C. Rix, 76, pioneer wife of one of West Texas' oldest citizens, were to be paid here this afternoon as sorrowing friends and relatives from over this entire section of the state gathered at her bier. ### BIG SPRING'S FIRST CROP OF "COLONELS" IS HONORED AT MEETING OF CLUB

Presley Wins Fight Against Extradition

J. D. Presley, Big Spring man, won his fight against extradition to Arizona Wednesday when the court of criminal appeals at Austin ordered him released from custody. The court held that Presley was not a resident of Arizona at the time of purported offense of non-support of minor children.

Writ of habeas corpus proceedings were held in Big Spring about six weeks ago before Fritz R. Smith, district judge, who came here from Snyder, to hear testimony. Defense counsel argued that Presley was not a resident of Arizona when the purported offense occurred, but the state argued that non-support was a continuous action.

When notice of appeal was given, Presley was released from custody on his own recognizance.

Committee For Jubilee Named

The Big Three of the Oil Men's Jubilee being planned for Big Spring July 3, 4 and 5 Tuesday accepted their appointments as members of the general committee in charge of the project. They are Bob Cook, Ray Wilcox and Gil Cotton.

It was declared that, contrary to reports in some circles, this celebration, which will be the most representative of all branches of the oil industry, will not be a promotion proposition. Aside from salary of one professional director, with years of experience in making such attractions pay, there will be no receipts outside the city, it was declared.

Erection of the 87-foot steel derrick, which when lighted with 200 bulbs will become a constant advertiser of the jubilee, was to be started Wednesday afternoon. Its construction had been delayed when the county commissioners demanded an insurance policy protecting the county's property on the block across the street from damage in case the steel derrick fell in that direction. A policy protecting the court house up to $50,000 was furnished it was declared.

Kentucky with its historic "Colonels" has nothing on West Texas and Big Spring where a fine crop of five "Colonels" was designated Wednesday noon and given the official token of a cane by the business men's luncheon club.

Colonel B. Reagan, Colonel Fox Striplin, Colonel W. R. Settles, Colonel Edwin A. Kelley and Colonel Will Fisher are charter members of an organization that will be continuous from now on in Big Spring. The movement was started in the Big Spring Luncheon club and provisions were made for continuing the practice from year to year.

A secret committee of five that operated so secretly that even one of its own members did not know he was to be honored, made appointments and provided for the ceremony each successive year. No more than three new "Colonels" will be named each year. Qualifications consist of 15 years in Howard county and unstinted service to the community of Big Spring.

James T. Brooks, in command of a squad of four men composed of Dr. C. W. Dent, C. T. Watson, John Reeves and Day Cornelison, presented the canes. Mr. Brooks preceded presentation of each cane with a short talk telling something of each man's service to Big Spring and why the committee had appointed him to be a "Colonel" in this city.

The humorous remarks made by Mr. Brooks such as "In Kentucky where the corn is full of kernels and the 'Colonels' are full of corn, and his reference to Colonel Kelley as a water witch, kept the entire luncheon club membership in a continuous roar. The remarks were more laughable than Mr. Brooks' remarks was various expressions registered by honored Colonels when their names were called.

Mrs. W. R. Settles, a guest of the club, was presented with a bouquet of flowers in honor of her birthday, April 30.

On motion of W. G. Bailey, pastor of the First Methodist church, the club gave Shine Phillips, president, a rising vote of thanks for the program.

C. T. Watson, manager of the chamber of commerce, reported that the time limit for census enumeration in Big Spring has been extended until Saturday night. He reported that nearly 1,000 people have been enumerated since volunteer workers started last Saturday and expressed the belief that nearly 1,000 more people can be counted by hard work before the final deadline next Saturday. Those willing to assist in the work of counting Big Spring residents are urged to call the Chamber of Commerce for further instruction.

Market Demand May Become Only Basis Of Proration Orders As New Statute Takes Effect

AUSTIN, April 30.—"Market demand" likely will become the basis of oil proration in Texas after June 19, as a substitute for present proration blanket orders of the railroad commission and of at least one voluntary field-wide proration agreement.

The railroad commission abandoned the plan of putting a proration order over Panhandle fields, deciding that the new pipeline law, providing for rateable taking and common purchase of oil will obviate its need.

The commission will hold a hearing at Fort Worth next Saturday on the proposed continuation of the 150,000-barrel daily proration rate for the Winkler county field. This may be the last separate proration order before the pipeline law puts the entire situation under a new and pioneering form of administration. The Winkler field's proration now is approximately at its potential, according to unofficial reports, so that if the order were lifted the production perhaps would not be increased.

The present 110,000 proration order for the Yates Pecos pool will expire May 17.

The Howard-Glasscock field is under a 37,500-barrel proration blanket.

The Darst creek field of Guadalupe county is under a voluntary proration agreement by which only 10,000 to 15,000 of its 200,000 daily potential is produced.

The Van field of Van Zandt county is under a unified operation arrangement by which practical proration is in effect there.

PTA HEADS CIRCULATE PETITIONS

Mrs. Ira Driver Chosen Campaign Chairman At Meeting

Plans for the organization of the county library campaign were well under way last evening, after a second visit of Miss Helen Clutter, state library organizer, to Big Spring.

Mrs. Ira Driver, president of the P-T. A. Council, was made chairman of the campaign. All P-T. A. presidents and council representatives will serve with her on the committee to canvas the town with petitions for the library.

Mrs. L. L. Freeman, Mrs. J. C. Douglass, Mrs. J. A. Rodgers, Mrs. J. H. Kanneberg of Coahoma, and Miss Pauline Cantrell, who is the county supervisor of rural schools, will serve together on a committee to circulate the petitions in rural districts.

Mrs. Seth Parsons and Mrs. C. K. Bivings were chosen chairmen of the committee to provide petitions to the canvassers and attend to the mechanical details of keeping them in circulation.

Women present at the meeting of P-T. A. officials, and others interested in the organization, which was held at Mrs. J. C. Douglass' apartment at the Douglass hotel yesterday afternoon, were: Meadames Della Agnell, E. O. Ellington, Seth Parsons, C. K. Bivings, Cecil Wasson, B. Reagan, C. W. Cunningham, J. A. Rodgers, A. M. Rippe, J. A. Adams, L. L. Freeman, J. C. Douglass, James Campbell, Ira Driver, E. E. Eddy, J. Wade Johnson, R. M. Ruffner, Misses Pauline Cantrell and Ada Lingo.

Groups Hear Mrs. Clutter

Mrs. Clutter made talks to the Rotary club, the Coahoma schools and the Big Spring high school yesterday afternoon. In each talk she stressed the good that a county library would do for the city and the community.

To the county people she made the point that eighty per cent of the amount that it will take to run the county library will come from the city. "In case, said Mrs. Clutter, that the county commissioners pass the library, the funds for running it will come from the general fund set aside at the beginning of every year for miscellaneous county expenses.

"The library will cost the people of Howard county approximately $4,000 a year.

One Cent on $100

"If the general fund will not cover the extra expense of the library the necessary assessment will be only one cent on every $100 worth of property.

"For instance a citizen with $10,000 worth of property will pay only one dollar a year toward providing good books for his children to read. This is less than the cost of a magazine subscription."

Mayor Makes Statement

Mrs. Clutter went on to say that Howard county is located to be in the best condition of any county in Texas except Potter county. In an interview with Mayor J. B. Pickle yesterday the Mayor stated that the county was well able to support the library. The Mayor pledged his assistance in securing the library.

Will Cost $4,000

Mrs. Clutter proposed at the meeting of the P-T. A. officials to run the library on a budget of $4,000. One half of this would be used for books and at least $1,500 of it would have to go toward paying an experienced librarian.

An experienced librarian, according to Mrs. Clutter, is worth as much if not more than the books to a library. She would be a college trained woman, capable of making suggestions about everything from writing a paper to making a speech.

LUBBOCK RETIRED FARMER DECLARES HE FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN SINCE TAKING ARGOTANE

"A few weeks of Argotane treatment actually put an end to my indigestion and made me feel like a new man," said H. D. Owens, a well known retired farmer residing at 311 Ave. T, Lubbock, Texas, in relating his experience with Argotane.

"One day after eating," he continued, "I had an awful attack of indigestion and from that time on I commenced to get in a general run down condition. My stomach would bloat up with gas so at times I could hardly breathe, and I would have sick dizzy headaches until I could hardly stand the pain. I started doctoring myself, but in spite of the medicine I took I became much worse, and suffered such agony that it looked like nothing could ever do me any good."

"One of my friends advised me to try Argotane and I began to improve right from the start and in a week I felt much better. A few more weeks treatment fixed me up all right and I have gotten entirely over my indigestion and can eat anything I want. I believe everybody in my neighborhood is taking Argotane and praising it for the good it is doing them."

Dallas Man Dies In Gun Battle

DALLAS, Texas, April 30 (AP)—Choosing to shoot it out with 50 policemen who charged his home, rather than accept arrest, B. G. Perdichi, 35, was dead today.

He was killed last night in the apartment where he had barricaded himself, after shooting and seriously wounding John Techias, 35, cafe operator, and wounding W. R. Greenlee, policeman who sought to arrest him.

Techias was shot in the head as he sat with his wife and child in a park.

When Officer Greenlee sought to enter the Perdichi apartment, after the shooting of Techias, he was answered by shots, one bullet striking him in the arm.

A general riot call was turned in, and 30 detectives and uniformed policemen answered, bringing machine guns and surrounding the house. The machine guns jammed, so the policemen whipped out pistols and kept up a fusillade of shots through the window until Perdichi was dead.

His wife, in a hospital with a newborn baby, was not told of his death. Police seized a quantity of liquor at the Perdichi apartment. He had lived here 25 years, coming to Dallas from Greece.

Friends of Perdichi said he had suffered from mental trouble for two years.

CORSICANA, April 30 (AP)—T. W. Davidson of Dallas, former lieutenant governor, intimated in an address before Corsicana Prætorians Monday night that he might become a candidate for governor.

Davidson discussed briefly phases of the penitentiary system, referring to the fertile farms, and how under proper management and with canning and other factories millions could be saved in making products for state wards.

is true. Who's Who, which does not mention Doctor Payne, shows more sons of ministers on its roll than of any other classification; it shows that ministers' sons, in proportion to their estimated number in the country, are five times as numerous on its list as the sons of any other type of professional men.

On the other hand the children of ministers are virtually unknown among delinquency workers, and their presence in prison is such a rarity as to excite wonder. In Harris county, for instance, no child of a minister has ever figured in a delinquency case, so far as J. W. Mills, probation officer, can recall, and the records show no criminal conviction of the adult offspring of ministers.

Yet, we have it from Doctor Payne that the upbringing of such children, just naturally results in degeneracy and crime. The simple fact is that Doctor Payne is one of those persons furiously determined to break down moral standards of the youth in America, and determined likewise to set psychology as a new religion, above question by the common rabble.

Unless the real psychologists of the country can free their ranks of the sensation seekers, including these men who are violently afflicted with a messiah complex, they are very likely to see their whole science the target of popular attack.

HOW'S your HEALTH

How About The Boys WITH OTHER TOWNS in this area Big Spring's Boy Scout council last autumn agreed upon a budget, and apportioned the raising of it among the various towns, according to their respective.

Heart Disease Heart disease tops all other causes of death in the United States. Any facts, therefore, that render our knowledge of this complicated cause of death and disability more precise are valuable and welcome.

In the study of the medical histories of one hundred thousand adult males, native-born and white, recently completed by the Research Division of the Milbank Memorial Fund, it was found that a little over three percent of those examined in the twenty-year-old age group had organic (structural) heart disease.

One of the chief items in the budget provided for employing a field executive for the Buffalo Trail Council. His time will be spent in the western section of the area, Midland, Big Spring, Odessa, and in organizing new scout troops in the towns further west, Pecos, Wink, Ptoke.

This is one of the most laudable efforts before the community. This investment in the character of boys will pay dividends beyond computation.

Big Spring is falling down on the job. Its neighbor, Midland, the other city most directly interested in obtaining a field executive, has come up with its part in fine style. Why can't we?

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Fake Psychology

Houston Chronicle: IN CONNECTION with the slaying of an aged man in New York, allegedly by the son of a Tennessee bishop, one news report informs us that a framed psychologist by the name of Dr. Arthur Payne, tells us all about the causes.

For instance, Dr. Payne, who doesn't happen to be mentioned in Who's Who, asserts:

"Young Maxon (the alleged slayer) is the familiar product of a childhood of stern repression, bound to a moral standard impossible to attain."

Now let us consider this statement a little carefully. Doctor Payne doesn't know this boy personally; of course, knowing nothing about his childhood life, therefore he can only be generalizing that the youth, solely because he is the son of a minister, was "bound to a moral standard impossible to attain," and on that basis asserts that his slaying is "the familiar product" of childhood repression resulting from such a situation.

There can be but one conclusion to draw from this statement—that "the familiar product" of a child's upbringing in a ministerial family is some kind of a crime later in life.

Our so-called psychologists like to deal in charges like this, but usually they guard themselves against counter-attacks a little better than Doctor Payne has done. For in this instance we are not restricted to arguments over theories; for once a so-called psychologist has approached us with a proposition where we do not have to bow down before his alleged knowledge of science, he happens to have stumbled on ground where proof is available.

According to Doctor Payne's theories the sons and daughters of ministers must show a large percentage of delinquents and criminals, and a low percentage of successful men and women.

Fortunately we have proof in this case that exactly the contrary

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

by Oscar Hitt

Hollywood Sights

BY ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — Another "collegiate invasion" of the movies is in progress, resembling that of 1927 only in that publicity-bent studios were responsible for both.

This time it is a mythical "football" team, culled from available players on the various all-star team selections of sporting authorities, that has come for a work in a college picture.

While the new collegiates are here, it is timely to record that only one of the 10 college men selected in a "nation-wide search" of the universities for potential screen material remains in pictures.

First National in 1927 brought the 10 out west as part of the ballyhoo for Richard Barthelmess' "The Drop Kick." All were given bits to play, and a few hung on a while longer, but eventually drifted into other occupations.

A few weeks ago John Stambaugh (from the University of Chicago), forsook movieland although, with parts in such recent pictures as "She Goes to War" and "The Black Watch" he seemed to have made more screen progress than any.

That left only Leland Wilcox (Michigan) to carry on and he, by coincidence, again is playing in a Barthelmess movie, not collegiate, however.

INFINITESIMAL The casting director met the newly arrived young Broadway actress on the lot.

"Got your script?" he asked. "Yes." "Find your part?" "Yes, witheringly. 'I brushed off the pea—and there it was!'"

Margaret Mann scored tremendously as the aged mother in "Four Sons,"—then seemed to have been forgotten by the producers. A few bits and parts came her way from time to time, but at least once she has done extra work.

Rock Island To Build Line Into New Mexico Area

FORT WORTH, April 30 (AP)—Construction of a 76-mile line from Vega, Oldham county, Texas, to Forrest, Quay county, New Mexico, will be started by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway within sixty days, the office of T. H. Wilhelm, general freight agent for the road has announced.

JACQUELINE ON HER OWN

She stammered and blushed. Dell was quick enough to understand her difficulty. "Would a week's money in advance be of any help to you?"

"You are very kind, Mr. Dell, and in that case I would prefer to live out if I may, at least for a time."

"Certainly you may. You were always my dearest and most charming model, and I am glad to get you back at any price. Some of our styles have never been shown to advantage since you left."

Chapter 36 MR. DELL'S DAY Before she had time to change her mind, Jacqueline went straight to Byrams.

Through the showrooms under the inquisitive eyes of the girls who recognized her despite the changes wrought by three months of struggle, illness and semi-starvation, straight, to the ground-glass door with "Office" inscribed upon it.

Within sat Keswick Dell. He had done a lot of thinking since Jacqueline had walked out of his office after she had rejected his proposal and had been discharged. He was desperately in love with her, in his way, and realized that he had used the wrong methods to win her.

So he trod carefully and concealed the song in his heart as he stood before him. He stood up as she entered, a mack of courtesy he had never shown an employee before, and held out his hand to Jacqueline.

"Very glad to see you again, Miss Grey," he said, briskly. "Like old times. Always pleased to see an old friend. I hope things are well with you. Can I have the pleasure of showing you some of our latest things?"

He knew well enough what she had come for, but considered it best to play a waiting game. "I haven't come to buy anything, Mr. Dell, but to ask if you will be good enough to give me some work."

"Work! Of course I will!" replied Dell, with a bluff good humor. "There is always a job waiting for you here, Miss Grey. I was sorry enough to lose you. Can you start straight away?"

"Yes, if you please, Mr. Dell." "Good. What do you want—models?" "If you think I am fit for it."

He looked at her appraisingly. "You have got a bit thinner, but present-day models have to be slim. The slimmer the better. So you'll do quite well. Will you live in as before, or would you prefer to live out?"

definite answer just immediately," she asked quietly. The soul of Keswick Dell was thrilling with a great joy. Generosity had served him well with Jacqueline, so he played the same card again.

"I don't want to press you," he said gently. "I want you to know that my feelings are just the same. That is all."

"Will you give me a week to think it over, please? Will you promise not to speak of the matter again for a week? I want to think a little while."

"Yes, and I'll give you a month," replied Dell. "I only want a week, Mr. Dell. Then I will give you your answer."

"I hope it will be a favorable one, Jacqueline."

"I hope it will, Mr. Dell, because you have been kind to me."

Lady Montrose found her son Teddy moping in the lounge. But all his old cheerfulness and debonaire ways had forsaken him.

Teddy had suddenly turned into a gloom hound. Even the further triumphs of his great horse, Prinkipo, failed to arouse any enthusiasm.

Lady Montrose went up softly behind him and laid her pudgy hands gently on his shoulders. "My poor darling, it makes me sad to see you unhappy. You are still grieving about that sweet girl you told me of? I can never think of the name. French, isn't she?"

"English, mother. A London shop girl. How she got hold of a French name, beats me. But it seemed to suit her somehow. Yes, I am still thinking of her. I suppose I always shall be until I find her again."

"You have heard nothing?" "Not a thing."

Teddy had told his mother all about Jacqueline Grey, and even showed her the sad little letter which she had left behind, and had gained her sympathy.

Teddy had never ceased looking for Jacqueline. He had even employed detectives, but their efforts had proven futile.

Her pathetic little letter had only had the effect of adding an all-embracing pity to his fervent love. Her escapade was so exactly the sort of wild freak which he could appreciate, and it only endeared her to him all the more.

But both mother and son had agreed that it would be wiser not to mention the incident of Jacqueline, with its future possibilities, to Sir Franklin Montrose.

Sir Franklin was happy enough to know that the affair of the lady of the Alamo chorus was at an end. But he had views of his own with regard to the matrimonial aspirations of his son-in-laws in which a certain Miranda Gosling, the none too-well-favored daughter of a petroleum king, was intimately concerned.

"Look here, mater," said Teddy, "if the Old Top keeps chawing over the virtues of Miranda Gosling I shall explode with a loud report."

"My darling boy," began Lady Montrose. "I tell you I can't stand it. If he gives me much more of Miranda Gosling I shall break away and marry Mademoiselle Lolotte of the Alamo chorus."

Lady Montrose threw up her hands in horror. "Oh, that terrible woman!" "I am not suggesting that there is any danger of my marrying Lolotte. I am going to marry Jacqueline Grey when I find her; and if I can't find her I'll marry no body. But the Lolotte story will do to put the breeze up the Old Top with. We've got to get him into the frame of mind to receive Jacqueline and make a fuss of her when we've found her. That's your part of the business, mater. My part is to marry her."

It seemed like almost unbelievable good fortune to Jacqueline—but read about it tomorrow.

Gas Import Practice To Be Given Test

AUSTIN, April 30. (AP) - The right of private corporations to import gasoline from another state in order to avoid payment of the four-cent gasoline tax levied by Texas will be tested in the suit brought by the state against the Wichita Traction Company of Wichita Falls, assistant Attorney General Rice M. Tilley said today.

It was alleged that the company shipped gasoline from Oklahoma to Wichita Falls for use in its motor-propelled buses and street cars not running on tracks.

The suit is for occupation taxes and penalties aggregating $33,000.

Cosden And Laundry Mix Today Unless Rain Sets In

Had city league moguls known a week ago what they do today, there would have been at least one change in the opening game selection made last Monday.

Richco and T & P battled through seven lightning fast innings Tuesday afternoon in their debut before a handful of fans and when the game had ended Richco held the long end of a 2 to 1 score.

It was a pitchers battle from start to finish between W. Wood, T&P port side, and Dickinson, Richco hurler. Both men whiffed seven opponents, but Dickinson manage to keep the T&P hits more scattered than did Wood. Then too, Wood got a tough break when Roten's long drive to center field took a bad hop over Curtis Driver's head and rolled for a home run. It was the first circuit blow of the season and consequently, Roten wins the pound of chewing tobacco and the carton of cigarettes offered by Allen's grocery for the first four ply swat of the season.

Barring inclement weather this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, the Laundrymen, managed by Bruce Nesbitt, and the Cosden Oilers, who have already tasted one defeat, will stage the third city league battle of the season. It will be the initial appearance of the Laundrymen in championship play.

The Richco club, composed of employees of the Richardson refinery and of Coahoma ball players, presented a snappy well balanced club, but the T&P boys were just a shade inferior. With a little concentrated work among outfielders, the railroaders will be at least an equal match for any club in the loop.

Richco broke the scoring ice with one run in the fifth scored by Clark who had a long lead and came all the way home on a single by Cook. It was a close play at home, but McPeak failed to tag Cook. T&P scored its lone tally in the first of the seventh when A. Butler hit safely and then scored on a passed ball. T&P threatened a rally, but Dickinson settled down and finished in a breeze.

Big Brothers To Stage Boxing And Wrestling Show In Gym Wednesday

Eight matched bouts and two battle royals will be staged by the Big Brothers Club in the high school gymnasium Wednesday evening for entertainment of those who enjoy the manly art of self defense.

Women will be admitted free and a donation admission will be charged men wishing to attend. Sponsors assert that all receipts are to be applied to purchase of boxing gloves and wrestling mats for the club's activities.

The feature match of the evening will be a one fall wrestling match between Tiny Reid and Marvin Watson. The men have met two times in matched wrestling bouts and each claims one victory. There will be only one fall, but the bout will go to a finish.

Some of the scrappiest youngsters in Big Spring and some older heads too will mix in the other matches.

George Neel and Fred Townend, a couple of fly weights will stage the curtain raiser and Gordon Meeks and Chalmers York will swap punches in the first preliminary. Next comes Homer Eddie and Orvil Hildreth.

Bill Flowers, high school athlete and Ody Jordan, a husky youngster that is attempting to land a line position on next year's football squad will tug and pull in the first wrestling engagement of the evening.

Jack Soleman and Buster Conway are booked for a preliminary with the leather mittens. R. E. McCain and Ox Johnson will stage a duel before Albert Slusher and William Gray crawl through the ropes for the semi-final. Dr. Worford Hardy has been named official timekeeper for all Big Brothers Club shows.

NEW YORK—Douglas Fairbanks, who is fairly proficient with driver, masher, nibbler and the like, may be expected to improve his game. For the next few days he will watch Bobby Jones and his game. For the next few days he will watch Bobby Jones and Walker cup teammates hitting golf balls into the Atlantic ocean and perhaps assist them. He's going abroad on the same boat as the team. He played a pre-voyage practice round with George Von Elm and Leo Diegel.

Odd Fellows Open Pampa Convention

PAMPA, Tex., April 30 (AP)—More than 400 delegates here for the convention of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of the Panhandle district this morning toured ampa oil fields and surrounding wheat country.

At noon the visitors were guests at a luncheon planned by the Pampa Rebekah lodge.

This afternoon a business session was planned for the Odd Fellows. C. E. McPherson, of Amarillo, president was slated to preside.

Tonight Judge W. A. McIntosh of Memphis will be honored for service he has rendered the lodge at a chivalry ceremony.

In degree contests last night Pampa won the cup offered subordinate lodges, and Shamrock the Rebekah cup.

Borger is seeking the next convention.

Market—

Market demand proration is expected to become the central factor under the pipe line law because the law requires the rateable purchase of oil from all producers. It prohibits discrimination against different producers, and against different fields in the same sections, operated under comparable conditions. Difficulties of finding a "common denominator" for different fields are said to be great.

Hearing was held by the state commission on the proposed Panhandle proration; but the case was held in abeyance until the pipe line law is tested out. If this law fails to cover the needs, then such an order can still be considered.

The theory of present proration is said to be to assure the ultimate recovery of more oil from a field than through unrestricted production. It has nothing to do with market conditions or "economic waste," under theory of the railroad commission's orders.

The state commission will still have nothing to do with market demand under the pipeline law, but the control of production is expected to be placed in the hands of the buying agencies that are directly concerned with the question. The function of the state then will be to prevent discrimination as against one producer in a field, or against one field in favor of another.
