If you feel that you can't buy War Bonds, take a few minutes off, and write your reasons on this piece of paper, then mail it to one of the 492 Parmer County boys, many of whom are at the fighting front. Your son, or your friend may be facing the hell-fire of modern war—your son or your friend may be lying, body torn, on a blood-stained battlefield far away from home. Tell him the facts; tell him that you just CAN'T buy War Bonds!

Two Men Held On Horse Thief Charge

Two young men, Clarence Dawson, 24, of the state of Washington, and Clyde Roland Barnes, 22, who gave his address as San Angelo, Texas, are being held in the Parmer County jail in default of bond amounting to $750 each, and will await the action of the grand jury in January. Sheriff Earl Booth has announced.

The pair were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Jess Newton Monday afternoon on a charge of horse-stealing, and entered pleas of guilty. They were ordered retained in jail in default of bonds.

Arrested near San Jon

The two men were arrested Saturday a short distance from San Jon, N. M., some 60 miles north of here, after they had abandoned their horses and were evidently attempting to board a freight train on the siding at San Jon. Their arrest followed a three-day chase on the part of a number of peace officers and ranchmen in the San Jon section.

According to their own confession, Sheriff Booth stated, the men took the horses from a small corral at the Henderson elevator in Farwell, and rode them across the country. Previous to taking the horses here, the pair are understood to have admitted stealing two saddles from Pete Engle of Hereford.

Came Here by Freight

They are understood to have boarded a freight train in Hereford and unloaded the saddles near the Farwell freight house late Wednesday evening. According to the pair's own story, as told by officers, they got the horses during the night, saddled them up and took off north.

The men were without money and unarmed when apprehended. They had also been without food for three days, except some wheat also stolen, and a couple of dry-land terrapins, which they cooked over camp fires. Both of them admitted that neither of the meals turned out very well and that they were thankful to get a real steak meal at San Jon after their capture.

STILL LEADING

Nelson C. Smith, local rural route carrier, is still leading all carriers in the state of Texas in the amount of sales during the 3rd War Bond drive, he was advised the first of the week. Smith's sales neared the $50,000 mark last week, and today finds him reaching out for the $60,000 notch, which he believes he will attain before the close of the campaign.

Snake Story That's Hard To Beat

Here's a snake story that is vouched for by the Jim Hughes family and Ollie Boss, who was called to administer the death blow to the sneaking reptile.

One day recently when Mrs. Hughes came home from a busy day at the Farwell school cafeteria, she heard a hissing sound in the kitchen. Investigation disclosed a large bull snake imprisoned in a bird cage after he had swallowed the occupant—a beautiful canary singer.

The cage was sitting on top the icebox, some four feet from the floor. How the snake got into the house and up and into the cage could not be explained.

Canned Fruits Up To New Point Highs

Home-canned fruits will have to bear the brunt of family eating this winter, it was obvious Tuesday, when OPA announced further hikes to the already nearly staggering number of points it takes to purchase commercially-canned fruits.

Like cherry pie? Well, here's how the new points will wallopp the family ration books: Red sour cherries, No. 2 can, up 14 points, to 25. All other types (except Marachino, still unrattioned), jumped nine points to values of 23 points per No. 2 can. Grapefruit also got on the bandwagon, soaring to 18 points. Apricots were hiked to 36 points for the No. 2 1/2 can; figs went up to 21; and plums or prunes, upped to 15.

Only two increases were noted in the canned vegetable department, with asparagus now set at 18 points for a No. 2 can; and mushrooms advanced to 5 points for a 4-ounce can.

A drop was announced for corn, covering all varieties except that on the cob. Whole-kernel in the 12-ounce can now takes 10 points, and other types went down from 16 to 13 points for No. 2 can. Green beans are also down, to 8 points, for the No. 2 size can.

ROBERTS TO BE ON AIR

M. C. Roberts, local grain dealer, and secretary of the Club for Constitutional Government of New Mexico, will make a 15-minute broadcast over KOB, Albuquerque, on Friday evening, Oct. 1, starting at 8:45, Mountain time. He will speak in the interest of the Club.

Bishop Preaches Here On Tuesday Evening

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of the Methodist Church, will preach at the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, Oct. 5, instead of Monday, as was stated through error last week.

Bishop Holt is making a brief tour over New Mexico before going to El Paso, where he will preside at the annual conference in October.

Officials of the church are urging that a large crowd be present to hear Bishop Holt. "It is a distinct honor to have a bishop visit our church, and we are hoping that a full house will be present to greet him," B. N. Graham, chairman of the official board, stressed.

Bishop Holt's appearance here will mark the second time that a Methodist bishop has preached in the local church since it was built about 16 years ago.

NEW FIRE PLUG

A new fire plug was installed Sunday in the alley at the rear of the Claude Rose residence. It replaces an old plug which has been in bad condition for the past several months.

IN ALBUQUERQUE

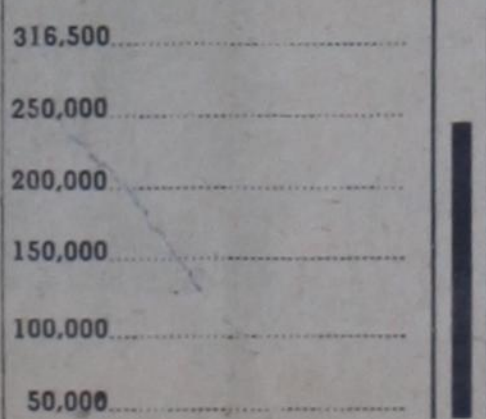

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Roberts of the Roberts Seed Company, left the first of the week for Albuquerque, where they will be during the week, attending business matters and also attending the New Mexico Cattle Growers convention in that city.

GASTS TO ILLINOIS

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Gast, of Karl's Auto Clinic, have announced that they will be away from their place of business from Oct. 1 to the 15th. They are going to Illinois for a two-weeks visit. The business will be in charge of J. B. Spears, assistant mechanic, during their absence.

How about making your purchase of that extra bond today?

Bond Quota Seems Certain

Lee Thompson Elected President Association

ELECTED PRESIDENT—County Judge Lee Thompson of this city, who was elected president of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association at Midland last Friday. Judge Thompson has been secretary of the association for the past year.

To Provide Market For Soy Bean Crop

"We will handle soy beans at the loan value set by the Commodity Credit Corporation, despite the fact that Texas actually is not in the loan district," Stanley Hillhouse, manager of the Farwell Bonded Warehouse, stated to The Tribune Monday.

Last week's article in The Tribune to the effect that local soy beans would have a loan value was challenged by the local AAA office on the grounds that Texas was definitely listed among the states where the beans had no loan value.

Hillhouse explained that since his firm was an approved and bonded warehouse, the beans would be graded here and the grower issued a receipt, which could then be taken to the AAA office and a check on the basis of grade would be issued.

"This would mean," Hillhouse pointed out, "that the farmer would have no further equity in the beans and the transaction would be the same as an outright sale to CCC."

Hillhouse said that many farmers in Bailey and adjoining counties were planning to turn their beans to the local firm on its method of handling the crop.

CALLED TO DALLAS

Mrs. Willis Magness left for Dallas Sunday morning, having received word that her brother, Ed Davis, was in a critical condition following a stroke and an illness of several days. No information as to his condition had been received here at the time The Tribune went to press.

County Judge Lee Thompson of this city was significantly honored during the closing hours of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association at Midland last Friday by being elected president of the association for the ensuing year.

Judge Thompson has been secretary of the association, which embraces more than 200 West Texas counties, for the past year.

Commenting upon being chosen as president of the association, Judge Thompson said on his return here, "While I am duly appreciative of the honor given me, I do not feel it is so much of a personal honor as it is a recognition to Parmer County, one of the outlying counties of the association."

In speaking of the association's convention, which terminated at Midland last Friday, Judge Thompson said it was his opinion that it was the most successful convention ever staged by the group. "We had some of the most prominent speakers of the state and nation on the program," he said. The attendance, despite war-time conditions, was above the average this year.

The time and place of the next convention was left up to the officers for selection, Judge Thompson reported.

Attendants from Parmer county included, Judge and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. David Moseley, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schlenker and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Levy.

Nine Are Accepted For Military Service

Nine Parmer County registrants who were sent to the induction station at Lubbock early last week were accepted for military service, it was announced here today through the office of the local board.

Five of the men were accepted for service in the army, and four will see service with the navy. Those taken for the army include Dan Junior Brannon, Leslie Homer Weis, Pat Sullivan, Howard R. Looney, Walter Cleburn Blalock. Going to the navy were Everett Arlander Piland, Reaford Shirley, John Monroe Finley, Ross Everett Ward.

Got Better Results Than Expected

C. M. Henderson is another advertiser that is convinced of the pulling power of Tribune want ads.

Last week he advertised saddle horses. The paper came out Wednesday afternoon, and the next morning before breakfast he discovered that two of his prized animals were gone—stolen.

Higher and higher the cost of living goes and where we will end we fear we know.

Parmer County moved within striking distance of its quota for the 3rd War Bond sales Tuesday night with a rip-roaring rally at Bovina that netted cash sales in the amount of $23,048.75, and brought forth the enthusiastic prediction from G. D. Anderson, chairman of the bond drive, that "we are bound to reach our quota."

Following the Bovina rally that was attended by some 300 persons, Chairman Anderson announced that sales to date amounted to $207,383.25, leaving approximately $71,000 yet to be sold before the campaign closes. In this connection Anderson stated that the closing date of the drive had been extended to midnight Saturday, Oct. 2.

Enthusiasm High

Sparked by the performances of a natural comedian from the Clovis Army Air Base, Pvt. "Kelly" Glazier, who stole the show from Avatorner Bill Venable, everything from plain pies to kisses from two attractive Bovina girls went under

TEXICO NEARS QUOTA

Prediction that the Texico precinct would subscribe its quota in the 3rd War Bond drive was expressed by Mrs. Lucy Brown, Texico postmaster, late Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Brown said that sales up to that time lacked little more than $1200 of reaching the goal for the precinct, which has been set at $15,000. "I feel certain that we will reach our quota," Mrs. Brown stated.

the auction hammer at prices ranging from a $50 to $1,000 bonds.

Capt. Sweet was in charge of a group of musicians and actors from the Clovis base, who put on a splendid program, after musical numbers had been given by Bovina talent. Capt. Sweet talked in the interest of the bond sales as did County Judge Lee Thompson Supt. W. O. Cherry acted as master of ceremonies.

Meanwhile, Lazbuddy prepared for a bond rally to be held at the school house this (Wednesday) evening in the hope of boosting the county's sales.

Merchandise Given

A number of attractive pieces of merchandise was awarded at the conclusion of the Bovina rally, which was sponsored by the Bovina Chamber of Commerce. The merchandise was awarded to holders of $25 bonds, which had corresponding numbers with the prizes.

O. W. Rhinehart gave a 5-gallon can of anti-freeze; the Kimbrow Drug contributed a world globe map; a 5-gallon can of lubricating oil was put up by the Consumers Fuel Association; the Williams Mercantile Co. donated a hand bag; Gaines & Elliott offered a hassock; and the prize premium of the evening came from the Bovina Chamber of Commerce, in the form of a brand new tire and tube, which was drawn by Jack Wines, one of the heavy bond buyers of the rally.

Feels Confident

Chairman Anderson expressed his confidence, following the Bovina rally, that the county's quota of $316,500 would be reached. "If every community in the county would do as well as Bovina, our task would be an easy one," he said.

Soil Conservation Questions Aired

Organization of a Soil Conservation District in Parmer county is receiving serious thought of far-seeing men nowadays, and in view of this fact, the following question and answer series has been prepared by County Agent Garlon A. Harper.

Q.—Who may take the first step toward creation of a district?

A.—Any individual or group of individuals who feel that a district is needed for the benefit of land surrounding their homes.

Q.—How may an individual or group signify this interest to the State Board?

A.—By requesting a blank petition form from the Texas State Board.

Q.—What is necessary other than filling out the blank petition form?

A.—The petition must be signed by at least 50 (or a majority where there are less than 50) landowners of the proposed district. The petition, filled in and signed, and an outline map of the proposed district, must then be filed with the State Board.

Q.—What does the Board do after it receives the petition?

A.—Within 30 days the Board must set a date, place, and give due notice of a public hearing to be held for an open discussion of the questions of desirability and necessity for creation of the proposed district.

Q.—Who may take part in this hearing?

A.—Any interested party may present spoken or written opinions or testimony.

Q.—If the general opinion of the hearing is unfavorable, what does the Board do with the petition for organization of the district?

A.—The petition is denied.

Q.—Does this denial make it impossible for interested persons to go any further toward organizing a district?

A.—No. Another petition may be presented after six months.

are favorable to the creation of a district, does the Board grant the right of organization?

A.—No. The Board only accepts, or affirms the petition. State law specifies that the qualified landowners must vote by secret, unnumbered ballot, on whether they themselves will create a district.

Q.—Who is eligible to vote in an election to create a district?

A.—All landowners, their wives, and others holding an equitable interest in the land, who are qualified to vote in local and state elections and who reside in the district.

Q.—When is this election held?

A.—The State Board, after accepting the petition for a district and fixing its boundaries, sets the date and places for the election and gives due notice of it.

Q.—What margin of votes is required to carry the election?

A.—A two-thirds majority of the landowners who vote.

The concluding series will be published in the next issue of The Tribune.

Navy Asks Safeguard Of Allotment Checks

If you are a dependent of naval personnel—if you receive allotment and family allowance checks from the government—your government urges you to exercise maximum care in safeguarding the checks after their delivery by postmen. Despite repeated warnings, the records of the Bureau of Naval Personnel show a steady increase in the number of checks stolen or lost after delivery at designated addresses. Mailboxes have been rifled and checks stolen. Checks have been misdirected because of payee's failure to give notification of change of address, have fallen into the hands of dishonest persons and been presented for collection. Checks have been left lying around, presenting an opportunity for theft.

The following suggestions are offered to minimize possibilities of loss:

1. Be sure your name is plainly visible on your mailbox or outside your door.

2. Know when your check is due. Watch for it and when it arrives, deposit it or cash it promptly, preferably in a place where you are known and where you are accustomed to cash it.

3. If you move, notify the postmaster of the city or town in which you previously resided; or, if you move to another address in the same city or town, notify your present postmaster, showing, in either case, the old and new address and requesting that the check be forwarded. If you move, you should also immediately notify either the Allotment Division or the Family Allowance Division of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Cleveland, Ohio, or both if you receive an allotment and a family allowance.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

The Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending Sept. 25, 1943 were 23,347 compared with 25,432 for the same week in 1942. Cars received from connections totaled 14,542 compared with 13,059 for same week in 1942. Total cars moved were 38,889 compared with 38,482 for same week in 1942. Santa Fe handled a total of 37,760 cars in preceding week this year.

Troop Moving Equals 106 World Trips For All County Residents

Taking all of Parmer County's 6,000 people around the world in sleeping cars more than 106 times would be a tremendous undertaking, yet that is actually about the size of the troop movement job reported today by the Pullman Company.

Since Pearl Harbor, Pullman has carried about 14,000,000 troops a distance of more than 15 billion passenger miles in its sleeping cars. These figures cover mass military movements alone, and do not include heavy travel of furloughed men and others.

Many of the boys from Parmer County, like servicemen from all parts of the country, are getting their first Pullman rides, according to George A. Kelly, vice president of the company. Now most of them are making six or seven trips by Pullman as the intense training program of the armed service necessitates that many moves or more prior to embarkation, he said. About two thirds of all military movements by rail are by Pullman sleepers.

"The military and civilian passenger burden of Pullman and the railroads today is so heavy," Kelly said, "that there is unfortunately little margin left for some of the conveniences travelers enjoyed in peacetime. Service today is wartime service, and by their understanding and tolerance of this fact, travelers can help us greatly in the performance of our vital job."

A combat soldier's daily food weighs about 5½ pounds, while a civilian's averages three pounds.

RIDING THE RANGE

We have chosen a "big cow-boy" from the Senior Class and are going to give you a few facts of his life without revealing his name.

Born in Farwell, July 22, 1926. Started to school at Farwell in 1933. He has brown hair and hazel eyes, and a cheerful disposition; is sometimes sarcastic, but seldom means it.

Some of his favorites are:
Food—Baked ham.
Sport—Basketball.
Hobby—Picture collecting.
Book—Any.

Song—Put Your Arms Around Me.
Pastime—Pestering and talking.

We have some very cute cow-girls here in Farwell High. This week we'll give you the description of a popular sophomore girl—you guess her identity.

Born at Muleshoe, June 20, 1930, started to school at YL in 1936, transferred to Muleshoe in 1937, moved to California in 1938 where she attended school for six months, then returned to Muleshoe to remain to 1942 when she again packed up her duds, this time to make her home in Farwell where she is a member of our high school. Quite a life.

She is a tiny brownette with brown eyes, sweet personality and lots of her friends. Here are some of her favorites:

Food—Fried chicken.
Sport—Skating.
Hobby—Collecting miniature dolls.

Class—English.
Books—All of them.
Pastime—Reading.

F. H. T. MEMBERS INITIATED

The initiation of the new members of the F. H. T. club proved to be great fun. At least for the new members. Of course they all howled when they stepped off the chairs into mud and then had an egg burst on their head. That was only a small part but I think they enjoyed it despite having their faces painted and eating bananas in castor oil and raw egg whites.

The group was treated with cake and a note telling them what they were to do, including not speaking to anyone all the next day; coughing and sneezing in class; sharpening pencils several times; crawling around on hands and knees looking for a four-leaf clover; and bowing and saying praise Allah every time they met an upper classman.

JUNIOR NEWS

The first class meeting of the year was held last week to elect new officers, including: President, Billy Martin; vice president, Glenn Phillips; secretary-treasurer, Norma Jean Thomas; reporter, Peggy Schleuter.

In English class we have been studying debates and forum discussion. A forum was held in class Monday on "How to Promote School Spirit". Speakers included Peggy Schleuter, Bob Sudderth and Elbert Noack, with Jean Ann Hart acting as chairman.

Having studied a chapter on newspaper work the class prepared a small paper, the Junior Journal, to be placed in the school library. Duane Sprawls was elected editor-in-chief, with four assistants.

We have chosen and ordered our senior class rings, available in October, next year.

We have one new student, Natoma Hodges, from Waco.

We are happy that Margaret Big-ham has placed her enrollment with us again. Charline Alexander has also joined us again.

POW-WOW

Henry the 8th can't make up his mind about which girl he prefers, since he has such a wide range. Can't you guess who we mean—it's Glen.

Just whose name IS on the back of Theda's identification bracelet?

What's this we hear about a petition for school dances? Um—sounds pretty good to us!

A quick view of the campus (?) reveals that Joan and Bob are our only old "steadies" back in school.

We wonder why the people at the carnival thought some of the Farwell students were from the "country". Couldn't be the remains of the hay ride, could it? Could be! Jean Ann's "old faithful" heart-throb is back in town. It's still "Gus and Jeanie".

SCHOOL DAYS . . .

September 1943, and what does it bring? Just another crop of "greenies", or another class of freshmen. We who are juniors now, two years past such "infancy", can look back to our days of initiation with regret, because we are leaving them behind. Those were the good ole days!

Days of patched pants and ragged dresses, all-day suckers and plaited tresses! What fun! We older students can make plans for initiation services with a clear conscience, knowing we've had our share!

We welcome these, our young friends, into the realm of Farwell High, under the rule of King Tillman of the House of Carter, with the aid of the faculty as the special court. Incidentally, they aren't half bad. Downright good—sometimes! But don't let us influence you in any way, we aren't responsible for what we say!

Again we say, from the upper classmen to the Freshmen:
"GREETINGS, GREEN HORNS."

FLUFF AND FEATHERS

We like neatness in boys, too, for instance—Bert Williams.

Our Miss Neal, 6th and 7th grade teacher, is quite popular with the student body—and does she have cute clothes! ! !

Have you noticed Verna Lee's long hair? Wish we had her prescription.

Bob and Glen have something in common, besides being inseparable—plaid shirts.

No Sox—cold feet—poor girls! Did you know that Natoma makes all those cute print dresses she's been wearing? Some people are just naturally smart.

Those birdnest hair-dos—cute? No! ! !

ON PREPARING DRIED FOODS

COLLEGE STATION—Many Texas rural families dried foods this for the first time and have had little experience in the preparation of dehydrated fruits and vegetables.

While they will not equal in flavor, texture, or appearance the quality of cooked fresh vegetables, they are quite satisfactory if properly prepared and seasoned. The yield of prepared dried products varies, but usually one cup of dried vegetables will serve from four to six people, according to Hozel Phipps, specialists in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

In preparing dehydrated vegetables, here are some principals to follow: Soak the dried vegetables in hot water just long enough to plump them, and cook them in water in which they are soaked. Thirty minutes to one hour usually is sufficient for the "refreshing" period.

Some dehydrated vegetables, such as leafy ones or those powdered or shredded, may be cooked without soaking. Drop these into hot water, seasoned with salt and simmer-until tender.

Use a small amount of water—not quite enough to cover the ve-

Simmer rather than boil vegetables. Cook them only until tender—not until they are mushy. Use any left over cooking water.

Increase the taste of dehydrated vegetables with interesting seasonings such as strips of ham or bacon, garlic, basil, sliced onion and tomato sauce as well as more familiar seasonings—butter and milk.

The University of Texas will open the 1943 United War Chest Drive with a 30 minute broadcast over a Texas Quality Network the night of October 10, Mrs. Elithe Hamilton Beal, acting director of Radio House, has announced.

INVENTORY ON FOOD

COLLEGE STATION—That four letter word "food" means a lot more to the average person than it did two years ago. Food specialists of the A. and M. College Extension Service cite numerous instances to prove that the masses of people have changed their attitudes and actions because of war-time conditions.

These conditions include increased demands for food, effects of the national nutrition program, rationing of many foods and scarcity and poor distribution of others, unfavorable relationships between production costs and market prices, relatively high retail prices of food, along with educational programs.

These factors have combined to increase substantially the families planting Victory gardens, the food specialists say. About 90 per cent of the farms and ranches and 50 per cent of the village, town and city homes in Texas benefited from gardening this year.

Another result has been the increase in poultry numbers by about one-third. Many village, town, and city families now have small backyard poultry flocks. Further expansion seems inadvisable in view of the current feed shortage.

A short fruit crop created a strong demand for fruits this year, with an accompanying increase in the cooperative buying of fruits. County home demonstration agents in 42 counties have reported that 6,292 families canned about 136,000 $37,000 pints of pineapple products worth $27,000 in money and more than two and one-half million blue ration points. A gigantic promotional and educational program on safe methods of food preservation is expected to result in the conservation of more than 100 million containers of food in Texas during 1943.

VEGETABLES PROCESSED IN RIO GRANDE VALLEY

AUSTIN—Many carloads of vegetables for the nation's fighting forces have already been processed by the University of Texas-built flash-freeze and dehydration machines in the lower Rio Grande Valley, Dr. Luis Bartlett, inventor of the machines, has revealed.

A dehydration unit installed at Miller Bros. Food Co. at San Carlos is currently turning out Irish potatoes, and to date has processed some 15 carloads. In the spring, the flash-freeze machine processed approximately 15,000 pounds of green beans and 20,000 pounds of black-eyed peas.

MORE TERRACES FOR TEXAS.

COLLEGE STATION—Because farmers need to use every practice that has been proved to conserve soil fertility and increase farm production, B. F. Vance, state AAA administrative officer, is asking county AAA forces to cooperate with county agents, soil conservation service technicians, and local vocational teachers, in organizing terracing programs in all of the hill counties of the State.

Under the 1943 AAA form program farmers can earn 80 cents per 100 linear feet of standard terrace established. Last year Texas farmers built 109,927,000 feet of approved terraces to conserve soil and moisture and earned 824,407 in payments for carrying out this practice Mr. Vance said. The goal for 1943 is 150,000,000 feet.

Soil conservationists say the correct construction of terraces with proper outlets is one of the first and most important steps to take to prevent erosion and to conserve and moisture on cultivated rolling lands.

Terraces serve to collect and retard the flow of water off the land. The grade of the terrace causes the water to move more slowly, giving it more time to soak into the soil.

The state AAA Committee can make terracing available to farmers of any county as conservation assistance upon proper application to the county AAA committee for this service, Mr. Vance said.

In counties where terracing has been approved as conservation service, local farmers can get terrace lines run and terraces constructed and have the cost deducted from the soil-building payments they earn, Vance said.

CORRESPONDENCE WORK UP

AUSTIN—Though war and travel restrictions may have kept many Texans from attending school in person, they didn't hamper education by correspondence, the annual report of the University of Texas Extension Teaching Bureau reveals.

During 1942-43, 2,630 persons registered for correspondence courses, the same number of registrants accepted by the Bureau the previous year. Most frequently called-for courses were American government, mathematics and education.

COTTON PRICES ARE UNPREDICTABLE, COX SAYS

AUSTIN—The exact future of cotton price movements is unpredictable but it does seem certain that prices will not follow the pattern set during World War I, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas professor and world authority on cotton marketing, has declared.

During the latter part of the first World War cotton prices were high but went into a decline immediately after the Armistice, then picked up again during the post-war boom. But they dropped precipitously in the first depression year, Dr. Cox pointed out.

Despite many similar conditions now, it seems improbable that such a pattern will be followed when this war ends, Dr. Cox said. European nations will be eager for cotton, since they have produced none of their own and their mills have been idle since war began.

Furthermore, the United States no longer produces more than half the world's cotton supply, American prices are high in comparison to the world price, and the federal policy of supporting farm commodity prices with loans seems likely to be continued, Dr. Cox explained. All these factors will affect future cotton prices.

NEW RANGE LIFE BOOK TO BE PUBLISHED SOON

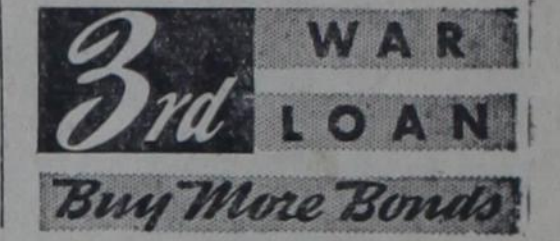

AUSTIN—Observations of a tenderfoot on his first chuck-wagon foray are recounted in a book soon to come from the press under Texas Folklore Society sponsorship.

The new volume, "A Tenderfoot Kid on Gyp Water", will be the fourth in the range life series edited by J. Frank Dobie, University of Texas professor.

The author, Carl Benedict, feared to publish the manuscript long ago, Dobie says, because it "might embarrass his distinguished brother," the late Dr. Harry Yandell Benedict, former University president.

Benedict recounts tales of chuck wagons, stampedes, outlaw steers, dance halls, and of many of the colorful characters he knew among the wranglers, bronc riders, bosses and cooks.

The Army maintains a music school to train band leaders.

Health Notes

By Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—Scarlet fever, now considerably above normal incidence in Texas, is one of the more disabling and dangerous diseases usually associated with childhood, although actually it is confined to no age limit, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Scarlet fever is an acute infectious disease, the onset of which is sudden. First symptoms include sore throat, vomiting, fever and headache. These are followed by the red rash which gives the disease its name," Dr. Cox stated.

"Three to five days after exposure to disease the first symptoms—fever, sore throat, and headache—appear, and a day or two later the rash appears. Complications may cause prolonged disability or death. Children suffering with scarlet fever may have sinusitis and middle-ear infections which can lead to mastoiditis. As the germs spread through the child's system the joints, kidneys and heart may become involved, causing life-long invalidism.

"A child with any kind of a sore throat should be seen by the family physician promptly. If scarlet fever is present, the treatment recommended will do much to alleviate discomfort and reduce the possibility of complications," Dr. Cox asserted.

The child with scarlet fever or scarlatina, a common name for mild scarlet fever, really is a sick child, Dr. Cox declared. In fact, he is likely to be far more ill than he appears to be. To be safe the child under 15 years of age should remain in bed during the acute stage of the disease.

SOLDIERS KILL PRAIRIE DOGS

SOUTH PLAINS ARMY AIR FIELD, Lubbock—For the first time in this war American soldiers have used gas against an "enemy".

Soldiers at the field used cyanide gas to destroy hundreds of prairie dogs at SPAAF's widespread acres. The barking little pests' "towns" are ghost towns today. The move was a part of a widespread rodent control program in the country. Prairie dogs are known carriers of the dreaded typhus fever.

Many Requests For Extra Ammunition

Ellis M. Mills, at the local AAA office, stated today that a large majority of Parmer county farmers were filling out certificates to enable them to secure extra ammunition to be used in ridding their property of predatory birds, swift fox and rabbits.

Mills went on to state that it was quite probable dealers would not have sufficient ammunition to handle all requests at present, but that under a new setup, they would receive supplies in quantities to equal the demand.

No approval of such certificates is necessary, he stated, but such forms must be put on file with the dealer when the purchase is made.

Fall, Winter Styles To Be Sleek, Smooth

COLLEGE STATION — Key words to describe new clothes for the fall and winter are "sleek, wearable, durable, and versatile," in the opinion of those who have been studying clothing styles for a long time.

For the duration, women can still be well dressed in simple clothing, but they needn't expect any extra frills, says Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A&M College Extension Service. There are other changes to be expected besides the reduced amount of material in a dress.

Fabrics will be lighter in weight and less tightly woven. For instance, percale and other cottons which weigh four ounces to the yard with a thread count of 80 in the warp and 80 in the filling no longer are available for civilian use. These materials which are especially suitable for children's play clothes and house dresses now are being used by the armed forces. Culottes are gone for the duration, as are reversible, lined and quilted skirts.

New clothes also are showing military trends as well as the influence of the United Nations. Straight-cut jackets and pencil-slim skirts come from China, while trim, well-tailored suits show a British influence.

Coat dresses or button-down-the-front styles are favorites again this season, and "boat necks" are back again. So are high round necks, which provide a good background for costume jewelry. Because they save quantities of materials, short length evening dresses will be worn a great deal, Mrs. Barnes says.

Bonds Will Not be Sold at Farwell School

"We will continue to sell war stamps to teachers and students, but we are being forced to discontinue the sale of war bonds," Supt. J. T. Carter said at the Farwell school today.

Explaining that it was not through lack of desire to cooperate, "but simply because we do not have enough time," the school head said further, "The past two weeks one of the teachers has had to neglect classes on stamp day—Thursday—in order to handle the sale of bonds. We cannot continue this work and maintain our educational levels."

The school observes each Thursday as stamp day, and during the current drive around $3700 has been issued, Carter said.

"We are glad to cooperate in this or any other drives which will be held," Carter concluded, "but in the future we will confine our sales to stamps alone."

Registration for Book 4 At Texico School

Teachers at the Texico school were informed the first of the week by the New Mexico Education Association that they would conduct registration for Ration Book 4 on October 27-28-29, Supt. B. A. Rogers said today.

Information from OPA, according to the letter received here, is to the effect that "registration will be short and simple, with no declaration of goods on hand, and will be the last registration for two years."

The final phrase at least answers more or less—one question which has been going the round, as to the length of time new books would be expected to last, although the articles the book will affect is yet known only by the powers-that-be.

On the other hand, Mrs. Roy Bobst, at the Parmer county ration office, stated her crew was "still in the dark" as to where or when registration would be conducted.

It was presumed that registration would be held at the school, although the idea had no verification—and the dates were also unknown.

Mrs. Bobst was of the opinion that the local office would receive the necessary information in the near future.

Clubbers Will Meet With Commissioners

Officials of the Parmer County Home Demonstration Council, joined by Kate Adele Hill, district agent, this week issued an appeal to all club women to meet with the County Commissioners Court, Oct. 11 at 2 p. m.

Since Miss Elsie Cunningham resigned as county demonstrator, Parmer county has been without the services of such a worker, and club members are asked to attend the meeting "in order that the Parmer County Commissioners may know that we need and want a demonstration agent at once".

REPORTED DELINQUENT

The Selective Service office in Farwell today issued an announcement to the effect that Genz Buford Williams, registrant of the local board, had been reported delinquent for failure to report for induction. The State office of Selective Service has been advised of his delinquency and his case will be turned over to the U. S. District Attorney.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of this man should report it to the local board in Farwell, or advise the registrant to get in touch with his local board by wire or in person at the earliest possible moment.

Failure to comply with any Selective Service order is punishable by a heavy fine or imprisonment, or both, officials pointed out.

THANKS...

I wish by this means to express my appreciation to the many people in this area for the fine cooperation accorded me during the past few weeks in the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. Particularly I wish to thank the Security State Bank, Charles Bieler, station KICA in Clovis, and the local newspaper for their efforts in my behalf during this drive. As a member of the Texas Rural Carriers Association, I feel justly proud of the sales made through me in the 3rd War Loan campaign.

Our Third War Bond Sale

Thursday, Sept. 9, was the opening date of OUR Great National Sale of WAR BONDS! Let each of us buy ALL that we feel that we can JUSTLY and HONESTLY afford to buy. Let us NOT buy them as an INVESTMENT, nor to make a SHOW of our financial ability, nor to cause chagrin and envy of our NEIGHBORS, nor merely as a show of PATRIOTISM... But to SAVE THE PRECIOUS LIVES of our fine young men now on distant shores or the broad expanse of the OCEANS!
