FARM BOARD COTTON PLAN HEARD

Ackerly Gathering Is Attended By Big Spring Delegation

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

The Chautauqua will open Saturday, for a five-day program.

This annual event is worth the time and money of any one. Chautauqua was a unique institution when founded. It remains so in smaller cities than this. Here it is of value as an opportunity for clean, fine entertainment, amusement and enlightenment. That is plenty.

We commend the Chautauqua to the public and urge your support of it, on the basis solely of its value as a medium for entertainment and not as a civic duty, for it is not.

You may obtain season tickets, for adults, young folks or school children, or you may buy "family" tickets, good for nine separate performances or as many as nine admissions to one performance at all downtown drug stores. Or you may call Miss Pauline Cantrell at 390.

The Chautauqua offers a program unlike any offered here at any time during the year. Music, drama, lectures of value, and plenty of each are one of the program. Go to Chautauqua!

The Oil Jubilee is developing very rapidly. It had plenty of aches and pains and aching about before it got under way. But things have been organized in such a way that maximum benefit to the city will be derived. This benefit will accrue by entertaining the public, particularly the men and women of the oil industry, in royal fashion. Visitors may enjoy themselves without spending much. But, there'll be plenty of things available if they wish to patronize them. And they will, for they believe in having a good time in good measure, filled, piled up and running over. No foolin'.

Every business man and farmer should read reports of the local conferences with an address of C. O. Moser of the American Cotton Cooperative Association. He is an outstanding authority on cotton marketing, knows whereof he speaks, is backed by a $30,000,000 cooperative corporation. Big Spring may become a branch office of the Texas Cooperative. Details of this matter are being worked out. If this is done the city will become a real cotton marketing center.

Candidate For Congress Will Be Here Tonight

E. E. (Pat) Murphy of San Angelo, candidate for the democratic nomination for congressman from the 16th district, will speak this evening at 8 o'clock in the district court room, according to announcement from his headquarters and by arrangements made by local friends of the candidate.

Mr. Murphy is making a very active campaign for the nomination. He is known as an energetic campaigner with a faculty of presenting his platform and the issues to his audiences in an interesting manner. The public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Murphy.

Ranch Foreman Fatally Hurt

MIDLAND, Texas, June 4 (AP)—Dave Traversie, about 45, foreman of the Holt ranch near here, was injured fatally when a wild horse reared and fell on him. Traversie's back was broken. He died in a hospital today.

The Weather

West Texas: Fair in southwest, unsettled with local showers probable in north and east portions tonight and Thursday.

SIX NAMED CHICKASHA MOB HEADS

Eleven Witnesses Are Heard At Formal Inquest

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 4 (AP)—Six men were named as alleged members of the mob which fatally wounded Henry Argo, negro, and wrecked the interior of the Grady county jail here where he was held last Friday night following his arrest as the attacked of a white woman earlier in the day, in testimony by the first 11 witnesses appearing at the inquest into the negro's death in justice court tonight.

The name of A. C. Walker, Chickasha lunch stand operator, was most frequently mentioned from the witness stand.

Others named in the testimony, most of them youths in their twenties were:

John Gooch, Tom Johnson, Harry Miller, Doc Davis and John Robinson.

All of the 11 witnesses testified that excitement which prevailed during the disorder clouded details of the mob action.

Most of those named were accused of wielding a large plank as a battering ram against the jail door. Identity of the person who shot the negro in the head while he was in his cell still remained a mystery, however, G. W. Skinner, husband of the woman who accused the negro, has admitted he stabbed the prisoner while he lay dying in the jail cell.

Family Tickets To Chautauqua Are Offered

Arrangements have been made for sale of "family" tickets to the Chautauqua, which will open Saturday in a tent on West Third Street.

These tickets will sell for $4.50 and entitle the bearer or bearers to admission to nine separate programs, or to nine admissions to one program or they may be used in any other manner as to time and division of separate admissions.

Sale of season tickets, being sponsored by a committee from the guarantors of the five-day program, who have underwritten $2,000, is lagging. These tickets are available at downtown drug stores.

'Event,' Rumored In Lindy Family

NEWARK, N. J., June 4 (AP)—Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow has curtailed temporarily her activities in behalf of her husband's candidacy for the republican nomination to the United States senate in order that she may remain near her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Her decision is assumed to have been reached in anticipation of an interesting event in the Lindbergh family.

Morrow headquarters has announced that Mrs. Morrow is making no engagements which will take her far from the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J., and that it may be necessary for her to be with her daughter Anne for a week or ten days.

Colonel Lindbergh and his wife have been at the Morrow residence for some weeks, and the colonel recently arranged for hangar space for his airplane at the Newark airport, within easy accessibility of Englewood.

Filling Station Permit Issued

A permit for the construction of a brick veneer filling station on North Gregg street, two blocks from the Gregg Street viaduct, has been issued at the office of the city secretary. The station is being constructed by J. A. Lee at an estimated cost of $2,700.

It is to be erected on Lot 6, Block 107, original.

To Speak Here

C. C. SMALL

Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington, Democratic candidate for governor will make a political address in the interest of his candidacy here Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in district courtroom of the Howard county courthouse.

At noon the senator will be the guest of the Lion's club at its weekly luncheon at the Crawford hotel.

The candidate will visit Big Spring on his way back to Fort Worth from El Paso. Several speaking engagements have been made for him enroute.

Political prognosticators of Big Spring are anticipating an unusually enlightening address on the part of Senator Small in view of the fact that he is taking the initiative in battling against what he terms the "reign of professional politicians."

Open House

Since he announced his candidacy May 2 the West Texas senator has been fighting all of the old time politicians who are running for the governor's office. He promises in one of his platform planks to clean house of political hangers on in Austin and operate state government on principles as sound as any successful banker would employ.

The senator is on a tour of Texas that will take him into practically every community of importance that it is possible to visit between now and election day. He already has made many speeches throughout the state and, reports from his headquarters indicate, his strength has been materially increased after every address made in his behalf.

In his address here Senator Small will discuss his gubernatorial plans and explain why he has adopted a platform free of all political "catchall" phrases and promises.

Business

"A sound business administration, without quarter for political demagogues who try to control important state affairs, is one thing that will bring Texas the profitable development to which it is entitled," he contends.

According to local supporters of Senator Small he is peculiarly fitted to serve the state as its governor, having an unusually valuable experience as state senator and nine years as county attorney, county judge and district judge. He is perhaps best remembered by land owners throughout the state for his activities in securing the passage of the now famous "Small Land Bill," which protects property owners in their rights to creek bed property. Since he started his campaign for governor, Senator Small has been voicing his plea for a cessation of political hostilities which have been raging among several candidates for governor. In his opening speech in Amarillo May 2 he called for a "political armistice" to protect the state from unfavorable reaction of the "word battles of professional politicians."

Unions Hear Talks On Central's Value

Value of the Central Labor council to individual local unions was stressed Tuesday evening before the typographical and metalcutters' local by President N. L. Miller, Jr., of the central body and A. A. Dean, recording secretary of the carpenters' union.

Both locals held regular meetings.

Lawrence Simpson was named political committee representative for the printers. Labor records of state, district and local candidates are to be reviewed by the various locals.

COMMUNITY PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Neighborly Meeting Is Enjoyed By Large Crowd

Ackerly, that thriving and progressive community that has grown so phenomenally during its 7-year history, and Big Spring, joined hands Tuesday evening at Ackerly's splendid school building. Citizens of the two communities had a real informal, neighborly program and, afterward plenty of ice cream and cake—the kind Ackerly women bake.

Thirty Big Spring people attended the meeting, which was for no purpose other than the laudable one of affording contact between the two communities.

Program

The program followed Ackerly's school graduation exercises on Monday evening, when thirteen boys and girls were awarded diplomas.

Dr. E. O. Ellington, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, acted as chairman.

The program was very materially improved by efforts of the Big Spring band, more than a dozen of its members having been on hand. They played a concert preceding the program proper, and punctuated it with more music.

The Misses Springfield, Madeline and Opal, with Miss Fairy Harris of Sweetwater's famous Gypsy Girls, at the piano opened the program with a duet, and they were promptly called back for a second song. These young ladies possess remarkable voices and before the evening had gone they were recipients of an invitation to sing in Big Spring.

Miss Amoretta Belt favored the audience with a reading.

Mr. Reagan

B. Reagan, introduced by Dr. Ellington as one of Big Spring's "war horses," spoke briefly. He stressed prime importance of developing, fostering and supporting public educational facilities in the community, the value of harmony and teamwork in the community, and closed by declaring that Big Spring business men wish to see the farmers of the Ackerly community support their local merchants first, and so long as they can furnish their needs. "If your local merchant, who would be the chief supporter of any movement to improve your town, cannot furnish something you are in the market for, then we want you to come to Big Spring for your produce. Our merchants offer a wide variety of merchandise."

Miss Handley

Following a selection by the band Miss Melva Gene Handley, Big Spring entrant in the "Hy Home Town" speaking contest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Abilene last week, delivered the address she gave at that time. She was vigorously applauded.

Mrs. McCall and Miss Harris, sisters of Sweetwater, who were visiting their sister, Mrs. Ingram, at Ackerly, sang two selections, a popular air, and as an encore "La Paloma," in its "native" tongue, Spanish. Mrs. Preston was at the piano.

C. T. Watson, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, well-known in the community, which is in the edge of Dawson county, where he was formerly county farm agent and secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly. He urged cooperation between rural and urban people, declaring they were all trying to do the same thing, only by different courses. He announced the Big Spring chautauqua, opening Saturday, and the address here Wednesday of C. O. Moser of the American Cotton Cooperative Association.

Among the Big Spring people attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Watson and son, Mrs. Clarence Wear, Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Mrs. Malinda Chesnut, Fred Keating.

Cotton Marketing Authority Here

C. O. MOSER

The vice president of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, a part of the federal farm board's organization, was here Wednesday, talking with farmers and business men relative to establishing a branch office in Big Spring for concentration and primary marketing of the 1930 crop.

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK AT MEETING HERE FRIDAY OF INDEPENDENT OIL ASSOCIATION

Business men, royalty and land owners are urged to call at the Chamber of Commerce for tickets to a banquet to be given here Friday evening at 8 o'clock, Crawford hotel dining room, as the first district meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas.

Frank Killough, assistant to the executive vice president, Claud Wild, arrived Wednesday to assist in preparations for the meeting. Mr. Wild, Charles Morgan of Dallas, the secretary treasurer, Tom Cranfill of Dallas, state president, and E. G. Bedford of Midland, are among those who will appear on the program.

Entertainment, supplied locally, will be presented by the banqueters. "Foreign Oil and Howard County," will be the topic of Mr. Cranfill, prominent independent producer. "Why The Independent?" will be Mr. Wild's subject. "The Relation of the Land and Royalty Owner to the Independent Movement," is the theme for Mr. Bedford. Mr. Morgan will discuss oil transportation. He was very instrumental in having the new state pipeline law, which will become effective June 19, passed by the last called session of the legislature.

This will be the first meeting in West Texas to present the plans and ideals of the independent oil men's organization, which is affiliated with the American Independent's association, headed by Wirt Franklin of Oklahoma.

KOBE, JAPAN JUBILEE IS MAN HEARD SUPPORTED

Farm Board Plans Special Committee Adds $500 To Fund

J. G. Simms, Kobe, Japan, representative of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Business Men's Luncheon Club, held Wednesday noon.

Mr. Simms divided his discussion into two parts—the organization he represents in Japan, and a short sketch of the country, its conditions at the present in every line.

Mr. Simms has been a resident of Japan for 15 and one-half years, going there as a professor in economics and finance in a university at Tokyo, later entering the cotton business for an American firm, and eight years ago joining an American cotton cooperative association as its Japan representative.

He discussed the importance of

Pipe Line Rules Committee Named

DALLAS, June 4 (AP)—A committee of six, composed of two representatives each from the Oil Purchasers Association, the Independent Producers Association, and the Mid Continent Oil and Gas Association, was authorized today to recommend a method of enforcement of the new state pipe line law.

Robert R. Penn of Dallas presided over the meeting of oil interests at which the committee was authorized. Members of the group will be called to meet in the near future to draft recommendations to the railroad commission, Penn said.

Charles I. Morgan of Fort Worth, member of the Independent Oil Producers' Association, said that the new law protected the individual operator from discrimination and prevented discrimination among fields.

Penn said that if the producers would work in harmony they would not only save themselves but benefit the state. "On the other hand, if we are divided and do not take advantage of the opportunity presented by the new pipe line law, the commission may decide to make us a political football, he added.

A resolution was passed calling upon crude oil importers to decrease imports in proportion to the curtailment of domestic production. This proposal was introduced by Tom Cranfill, president of the Texas Independent Oil Producers' Association. The committee of six was advised to employ a group of engineers and economists to make an expert survey of oil conditions in Texas.

GUNS USED IN HOLD-UP

Filling Station On West Third Scene Of Robbery

Two unmasked youths, each with a pistol in his hand, robbed the Gulf Filling Station, 401 West Third Street, between 9:30 and 10 o'clock last night.

The youths entered the station just as H. S. Shockey, manager, had turned out the lights, preparatory to closing for the night. Shockey and his companion Lawrence Wheeler, were commanded to lay upon the floor. The youthful hi-jackers looted the safe of $40 and made their escape.

Wheeler was waiting in the station to take Shockey to his home after the business was closed.

City policemen were notified after the robbery.

Shockey described the robbers as between the ages of 20 and 25. One of them held a pistol on the two victims while the other obtained the cash out of the register.

MARKETING MACHINERY IS DETAILED

C. O. Moser Delivers Addresses In Big Spring

History, machinery, resources and aims of the Federal Farm Board toward the cotton industry, which is represented in the board's plan by the American Cotton Cooperative Association, of which he is vice president, were reviewed here Wednesday morning before directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and a few interested citizens by C. O. Moser.

Little Progress

He was joined here by Director E. G. Simms of the Kobe, Japan, office of the Texas Farm Bureau Association, which has been designated the Texas cooperative subsidiary of the American Cotton Cooperative.

"Unlike other industries, there has been little progress in the agriculture industry within the past century," he declared. "Part of their problems are beyond the control of farmers. A considerable por-

WILLIAMS IN TEXAS CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex.

JUNE 4 (AP)—Carl Williams, cotton member of the Federal Farm Board, declared here yesterday it's foolishness, downright foolishness. This overproduction of cotton is the item which can defeat the purpose of the farm board act.

He had been for an airplane ride over Nueces county and viewed farms which last year produced 135,000 bales of cotton. Returning here to address several hundred farmers and business men from 41 South Texas counties, comprising District 5 of the new Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, he declared he "never knew there was so much cotton in the world."

Stabilization boards can acquire surpluses and cooperatives can aid in marketing,

he said, "but acreage in those crops must be reduced."

Stabilization boards have been created out of legislation. You cannot make new wealth by legislation but you may transfer wealth from one group to another by legislation.

Mr. Moser declared the federal marketing act under which the farm board operates, is not a farm relief but a farm aid measure. The board is charged with minimizing speculation, eliminating waste, improving efficiency of distribution through farmer owned and controlled organizations and prevention and control of surpluses.

Speculation, he pointed out, is the object of considerable difference of opinion. Until marketing processes are changed only so much of speculation may be stopped. However, he said, wide fluctuations due to speculation may be prevented.

Cooperative marketing is agreed

HAS NEW ROLE

MAURICE CHEVALIER, who, with the Statue of Liberty, is one of France's greatest gifts to America, will be seen and heard in an entirely new type of characterization (for him) when "The Big Pond" came today to the Ritz theater for a two run.

In this production, based on a famous play by George Middleton and A. E. Thomas, the M. Chevalier (M. stands for Magnifique) is cast as a young Frenchman who meets a group of Americans while serving as a guide in Venice. Through their influence he is brought back to America where he is given a position in a chewing gum factory. The job is a very minor and menial one, but the indomitable Maurice sticks to his arduous tasks and by dint of ambition and inventive genius climbs the ladder of success until he becomes "the whole works" in the chic factory.

Of course there is a heavy romance—with Claudette Colbert furnishing the feminine half of it. She is a French-born actress who has made a rapid success on the Broadway stage. She was featured recently with Walter Huston in "The Lady Lies."

In "The Big Pond" Chevalier sings a number of songs in a manner that is delightfully Chevalieresque.

Hobart Henley directed "The Big Pond." He was the director of "The Lady Lies" and "Roadhouse Nights."

Chevalier's first appearance in talking pictures was in "Innocents of Paris"—a film which created box office panics in many United States and Canadian theaters. His second opus was "The Love Parade"—a musical extravaganza which definitely clinched his claim to fame as one of screendom's foremost personalities.

Mrs. Harvey Williamson plans to spend the day in Lubbock tomorrow.

proved Tone In Retail Trade, Expansion Of Public Construction, Hopeful Signs In April Business

WASHINGTON, June 4. (AP)—An improved tone in retail trade and a steady expansion of public construction work are two bright spots which have developed in the business situation in the last few weeks, says Frank Greene in his monthly business review in National Business, published by the Federal Reserve Board of the United States.

Warmer buying and high temperatures in the Eastern States the resumption of activity in the re- field in April and the earlier start of May. The warm weather, especially, gave a decided impetus to the distribution of Summer handies.

The resumption of road work and other public improvements needed during the winter months aided needed employment for thousands of workers, he observes. In construction, he adds, is stimulated at this time by easy conditions which enable cities and municipalities to float issues on favorable terms. Another item on the constructive note by Mr. Green, is the resumption of navigation on the Great Lakes, thus taking up a slack in unemployment.

Less Cheerful
The industrial side of the picture was cheerier, "it is doubtful," Greene says, "if the volume of dry or other indoor work gain much. The cotton and other manufacturing lines seemed to move tardily, curtailment of their cotton manufacturing inaugurated, shoe and furniture other factory productions was down, the copper mines faced large stocks, reduce work and as the three successive recessions in price were posted and iron and steel and coal industries eased off with notable price cut-downs in the former industrial products.

The commodity price situation led to show the hoped for hardening in quotations of staples, the especially easing off as April advanced. Wheat returned to the prices of early March. The security markets fulfilled cautionary predictions of those who asserted that easy money was facilitating stock speculation not sufficient to start a wave new buying, of production and consumption—hence the second-recession of late April and early May.

Despite the drawbacks, real and ficial, however, the trend in and outdoor industry was of enlargement of earning power and expenditure for necessities of the ordinary person, which would go some distance to mitigate the fact, now more generally recognized, that inventories were heavy at the end of 1929 than was generally recognized.

Less Decrease
Among the monthly indexes of all operations there was ased already, a further sag in the index numbers. Failures fell in number from recently preceding months but showed rather pronounced increases over a year ago than earlier periods this year, whereas liabilities were of record size for a spring month.

Bank clearings and debit; to showed smaller decreases than earlier months but these indicators still betrayed evidences of a spring due to the renewed activity in stock speculation. In retail chain stores, as a whole, showed gains over a year ago, in cases sufficient to offset the decline, noted in March, the latter to the later date of Easter. A somewhat similar result will, no doubt, be shown by department stores, due regard being had to the fact that neither in trade or industry taken as a whole, is the volume done for the year to date equal to the like period a year ago.

Another feature, this of a sober nature, has been the gradual with of the public knowledge of other things than the stock market break last fall have to be considered in assaying the present of the future of trade and industry. One of these is that the reaction in prices of commodities has in world-wide and that this has necessarily been reflected in our own trade. An example of this afforded in the April returns which showed recessions in all types of exports and imports. A comforting reflection is that present month will probably show the final settlement of the long run out tariff muddle.

Chain Store Sales
Special interest attaches to the results of chain store sales in April, they are to be compared with less favorable showing for March. The stores so far reporting in April, only twenty, show a gain of 7.5 per cent as against a decrease of 1.9 per cent for the month of chains reporting in March. The probability that the stores to come will do as well or better for April than for March, a gain of 4.2 per cent, for the four months is easily predictable, whereas the first quarter's sales showed gain of only 3.7 per cent for all three reporting over a year ago. When it is recalled that chain store sales in April and the four months of 1929 gained 23.5 per cent and 23.7 per cent respectively over the like periods of 1928, it will be seen that the chains this year have not only held all of last year's gains but bettered them. Furthermore the prospect is that the gain in April, over a year ago will exceed the loss in March, leaving a comfortable increase, say 5 per cent for those two crucial months over the like period a year ago.

Department Stores
Department store sales for April gained 5 per cent over the like month a year ago as against a decrease in March of 13 per cent, but for the four months the decrease in department store sales is about 60 per cent.

The trend of other monthly measures of movement, so far made up for April, has been sketched above but a few further words in regard to these may not be amiss. Failures in April were the fewest since December, smaller in number indeed than in February, a short month, although they were a record for April exceeding 1922, by a small margin. April liabilities were double those of April a year ago and a new high record for that month, though slightly, 9 per cent, below January. For the four months failures were 16 per cent in number and 61 per cent in liabilities above a year ago but 5 per cent below 1922 in number and 7.7 per cent below 1924 in liabilities, these two earlier years being peak periods.

"A disappointing element in April was the further weakening in commodity prices which showed a decline for the seventh consecutive month and fell to the lowest point in nearly nine years. The index number for May 1 fell 2.2 per cent below April 1 and 12.9 per cent below May 1, a year ago, while only 3 per cent above the post-war low point of June 1, 1921. Compared with the peak price for all time of February 1, 1920, a decline is shown of 47.6 per cent.

Mrs. Foust Of Sweetwater Says, "It Did The Work"

TOOK ARGOTANE FOR SEVEN YEARS TROUBLE—IS NOW IN BETTER HEALTH THAN FOR YEARS.

"After I had gotten so much relief by taking Argotane I began telling my friends and acquaintances about it and have been surprised at the number of them that tell me they also have benefited by using it," said Mrs. J. D. Foust of Sweetwater, Texas, who lives on Star Route while in conversation while in Bowers Drug store recently.

"I was in a bad fix from stomach and nervous indigestion," continued Mrs. Foust. "And this trouble had been with me for seven years I didn't have any appetite to speak of and what little I did eat just seemed to sour on my stomach and form gas and I would suffer terribly afterwards. Sometimes it looked like everything I would eat would just lodge in my stomach in a hard lump and feel heavy like lead and I was awfully nervous and didn't seem ever to have a particle of energy about me. I was troubled a lot with constipation too and had to be taking something all the time for this trouble and at times I would suffer with terrible headaches and have dizzy spells. I used to have such awful spells I used to have stomach trouble until I just couldn't rest at night and finally got to where I felt all fagged out and no account that it just seemed like a drag for me to try to do my work."

"I was feeling in just this shape when I got to reading where some of the people around here had gotten relief by taking Argotane so I decided to try it myself. I didn't have much faith in it to start with but I certainly changed my mind in no time because I hadn't taken more than about four doses of the medicine till I could notice a difference. My appetite picked up and the first thing I commenced to relish what I would eat and didn't suffer so much with gas on my stomach and now my system is in fine shape and I can eat just anything and everything I want and am never troubled a bit with my stomach afterwards, and as for my appetite well it hasn't been so good in seven years. I have been relieved of constipation, entirely. My nerves have been straightened out in fine shape and I can sleep like a log at night and don't get up in the mornings feeling all worn out like I used to be in fact, I am in better general health right now than I have been in years. Argotane surely did the work for me and I'm glad to speak a good word for it."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Collins Bros. Drugs.—adv.

BUTTE ONE OF TEXAS G. O. P. CANDIDATES

DALLAS, Texas, June 4. (AP)—Texas republicans Saturday drafted a list of 35 candidates for state offices for the July primaries, at a state-wide rally held here in connection with a called meeting of the state executive committee.

The "drafting" was accomplished by a committee of 25 headed by C. K. McDowell of Del Rio. Discussion of possible candidates throughout the conference was marred only by an insistence upon two things: To have Dr. George C. Butte leave his duties as assistant solicitor general at Washington and return to Texas as a candidate for governor and to draft more than one candidate for each office in the primaries.

Heading the list were the candidates for governor, including John F. Grant, Houston; John E. Elgin, San Antonio; Dr. George C. Butte, Austin, and H. E. Exum, Amarillo. Although candidates have until midnight Monday legally to file applications with the committee, it was not expected that there would be any addition to the list compiled today and given a vote of endorsement by the conference. The conference voted to inform Dr. Butte by telegraph at Washington of the desire that he be a candidate.

National Committeeman Rene B. Creager of Brownsville, unable to attend the session because of being delayed in Washington at a hearing, was believed endeavoring to persuade Dr. Butte to make the race.

McDowell paid tribute to Exum, one of the four candidates for governor, in an address in which he condemned successive democratic administrations in Texas for the last 50 years. He said the situation this year was hopeful because of the "sixteen or twenty" democratic candidates and added that, therefore, "two or three republicans ought to make a stir." Exum was not at the meeting, instead attending his daughter's graduation.

The Butte sentiment arose after a telegram had been read from Butte, the man who polled the largest republican vote ever accorded a republican candidate in Texas, when he ran against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor in 1926. Butte in his telegram declared that the future welfare of Texas was "bound up in the republican party" and pledged his support.

H. H. Haines of Port Arthur was drafted as a candidate for United States senator and C. O. Harris of San Angelo and Mrs. Lena Moore of Wichita Falls also were announced as candidates for that office.

The list of other candidates drafted follows: Lieutenant governor: Mike H. Thomas, Dallas; Dr. H. B. Tanner, Eastland; R. J. McMillan, San Antonio.

Attorney general: George S. Atkinson, Dallas; Litten Taylor, El Paso; Clarence A. Miller, Houston; W. H. Sanford, Wichita Falls.

Railroad commissioner: Charles D. Turner, Dallas; L. J. Beckenstein, Beaumont; Howard Stacey, Austin.

Chief justice: C. K. McDowell, Del Rio; Walter Napier, San Antonio. Commissioner of agriculture: W. H. Yates, Forney; E. W. Thurman, Algo; A. F. Brock, Ballinger.

Justices of court of criminal appeals: W. S. West, Brownsville; W. D. Girard, Lubbock. Land commissioner: P. C. Beard, San Angelo; W. J. Harris, Sulphur Springs; C. C. Cocking, Palestine.

"MA" PREFERRED HOME BREW TO FLOWERS

CHICAGO, June 3. (INS)—"Say it with home brew" is the latest Mothers' Day slogan here.

Miss Mary Dowby, 35, a dressmaker, brought into court on a charge of having 200 bottles of home brew and five gallons of alcohol in her establishment, said she was going to present the brew to her mother for Mothers' Day.

"Why, I never heard of such a thing," Judge Samuel Heller said. "Home brew for a Mothers' Day present? I thought they always got flowers or candy."

"You don't know my mother," replied Miss Dowby. "She prefers home brew. She's here now, and will tell you so."

Mrs. Dowby, gray haired, rose and stated that she did "prefer the home brew."

Judge Heller turned to Assistant State's Attorney William R. Crowe. "Well, what do you think about that?" he inquired.

"Inasmuch as the police had no search warrant, there isn't much we can do about it but discharge the defendant," responded Crowe. The judge agreed, but admonished the defendant to remember her mother with flowers in the future. Mother and daughter left the court room arm in arm.

GRAND TOUR OF THE NATIONAL PARKS

Many of our readers have inquired about a tour of the larger National Parks. The HEAVIEST LINE on the above map indicates the route to follow in order not to have to retrace any road. The DOTTED LINES indicate the side trips to the big dams of the Southwest. The NARROW LINES indicate the principal inter-sectional routes.

These roads are not always the shortest between points. They may not be the best but are selected after a compilation of reports from our correspondents—some seven thousand seven hundred in number—as those which had the least portion of their length unsurfaced on May 25th.

Beginning at some central point, The ROCKY MOUNTAIN Park (El. 7540) for instance, the distances are, via Longmont, Denver, Colorado Springs—(here you turn for Pikes Peak El. 14, 110)—Wakenberg, La Vita Pass (El. 9380) Wolf Creek Pass (El. 10,850) to MESA VERDE Park (El. 5700) some 521 miles.

From Mesa Verde we go down to Gallup and Williams, then up to GRAND CANYON (El. 7450) just over 450 miles. Returning to Williams and thus Sitgraves and Cajon Passes, Los Angeles, The Grapevine, and Visalia to SEQUOIA (El. from 4200) nearly 821 miles.

Then back down the canyon and up through Madera and the Mariposa Grove of Big Trees to YOSEMITE, just over 230 miles.

You feed the deer—then on through Merred, the Pacheco Pass,

San Francisco, the Redwood Park Highway, Grants Pass and Klamath National Park, to CRATER LAKE, about 872 miles.

From here we go north along the East side of the Cascade Mountains to Bend and through McKenzie Pass (El. 3800) Eugene, Portland (turn east on the Columbia Highway to Cascade Locks and back over the North Bank Highway) and Tacoma to RAINIER, which is 592 miles without the side trip. (Along the road you have seen Mt. Shasta, Sisters, Jefferson, Hood, Adams, St. Helens and Rainier all snow clad).

We drive up through Camp Lewis to turn east from Seattle through Snoqualmie and Blewett Passes, Spokane and Kallispel 756 miles to Glacier Park (El. from 5000). If the road between Belton and Glacier Park is not open, ship over the G. N. (car charge $14.00, passengers $2.00 each).

We go through Great Falls, Helena, Butte and Livingston, just over 500 miles to Yellowstone (El. from 4300). Here we feed the bears and turn through the East Gates via Worland and Buffalo to WIND CAVE Park some 338 miles away. The Black Hills country is wonderfully interesting but we must turn south through Cheyenne and Loveland to our point of beginning, the ROCKY MOUNTAIN Park, 419 miles away.

If you've had time you turned East from GALLUP through Los Lunas to ELEPHANT BUTTE DAM, 312 miles; and via Claypool over the Apache Trail 64 miles to ROOSEVELT DAM and by Phoenix and Williams 340 miles to

GRAND CANYON.

To see ZION PARK we can cross over an excellent dirt road from Needles to Las Vegas, then the Arrowhead and Zion Trails, which is 290 miles. An additional 316 miles would bring you to Salt Lake City, or you could return to Los Angeles and north to Sequoia.

The distance adds up to 5690 miles and about 26 days will be required on the road, but two months will allow sufficient time for seeing all the sights and enabling you to determine in which Park you want to spend all your next year's vacation.

Several Passes with very formidable names are given above, but you'll be surprised to find they are really very nice mountain boulevards with "surprisingly light

Shell's Hobbs Well Shut In
The Shell Petroleum Corporation's Number 1-A state in Lea county, New Mexico, was shut in yesterday with 1,400 pounds back pressure, after flowing wild for several hours at a rate estimated by operators at 2,500 barrels of oil daily and 30,000,000 daily cubic feet of gas. The well blew in Monday night at 4:04 p. m.

Only 4,000 barrels of storage was available and it was thought likely the Shell company would extend its pipe line from Wink, Winkler county, Texas, to the Hobbs area, a distance of 80 miles.

TULSA, Okla., June 4. (AP)—Oil men were attracted to Muskogee Wednesday by the regular monthly auction of the five civilized tribes, at which 140 tracts, totaling 10,742.38 acres were offered for oil and gas leasing. Seventy three of the tracts were in Seminole county, many in or near present oil areas. Fifteen were in Creek county, 11 in Hughes county, 10 in Okfuskee county, four in Pontotoc county, four in Carter county and scattered others in Garvin, Grady, Stephens, Jefferson, Coal, Haskell, Nowata, Wagoner, Okmulgee, Pittsburg, Bryan, Marshall, Murray and Love counties.

DALLAS, June 4. (AP)—The Kimball ranch well of the Grayboy Oil company and Fisher & Wiggins cored a rich oil sand from 3,553 to 3,563 feet, developing 650 feet of oil in five minutes. The new well indicated a new field in Bee county.

18 To 1 Shot Is Derby Winner

EPSON DOWNS, England, June 4. (AP)—Blenheim, an 18 to 1 shot, won the 181st running of the English Derby before a million watchers here today. Dillite, the favorite, finished third and third second. Seventeen ran. The winner is owned by the Aga Khan. The Scout II, American owned and bred entry, was unplaced.

Blenheim, by Blandford from Malva, won by a length. There were two lengths between second and third.

The odds were 18 to 1 against on Blenheim, and 25 to 1 and 11 to 4 respectively on second and third.

Blenheim, ridden by H. Wragg, had been well regarded in the betting although not one of the first three favorites.

Homerville Tattersall's Illud, runner-up, was considered one of the better horses entered, but its brilliant showings came as a surprise. Sir Hugo Hirst's Dillite proved a disappointment to the many who had believed the favorite would romp away with the honors.

Blenheim had been well beaten by Dillite in previous races this season.

EPSON, England, June 4. (AP)—Millionaires were made in the DALHART—Packing plant proposed for here.

Revival Draws Larger Crowd

A considerable increase in attendance was shown last night at the revival meeting conducted by Evangelist S. A. Ribbie at the Church of Christ.

The subject of the sermon was "Christ As Savior." The speaker showed first Christ's relationship to salvation. He is the author and designer of the plan of salvation and His names indicate such relation. It was declared. The fact was brought out that he had a personal salvation for his own people, the Jews, that was not the Great Salvation for all people.

"He healed them of their physical maladies and forgave them of their sins as he saw fit: without any set rule or law. This was only a temporary arrangement to supply a need until the Great Salvation could be given to the world through the Law of the Spirit of life," said the speaker.

"A man uses his property, as he sees fit so long as he lives, but when he dies and leaves a will, his goods must be disposed of in compliance with the will. Jesus came to make a will, and he fulfilled the law of Moses and took it out of the way on the cross thereby abrogating it, and at the same time established His universal Law. Today, Jew and Gentile can be saved with an everlasting Salvation according to the Law of Christ. This is the great Salvation, spoken of in Heb. 2: 14, and is the covenant referred to by Jeremiah in Jer. 31. Under it our sins are removed to be remembered no more. We therefore should rejoice because of Christ as our personal Savior." Services are to be held at 10:00 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. each day through the week. Subject for this evening, "The Way of Salvation."

upon by all the government boards and commission as being the only way to solve the farmer's problem. Farmers have little or no capital but they can assemble their products and market through co-operatives, which are as sound as capital stock corporations, he continued.

No Politics

"Farmers have been opposed to employing men in competition with other industries. The most successful cotton man in the world recently told me he had three men in his organization whom he paid $100,000 annually. The farm board has received 10,000 applications for jobs and has hired two of them. They're not looking for men out of jobs. They have hired one man to handle the cotton part of the board's operations and, on a per bale basis, he will receive a maximum of $75,000 annually. Politics has no place in the employment of men for this work.

"The government has determined that the average farmer's annual income is $409. He needs, according to American living standards, to make $1,600 a year.

"The board has divided its activities according to principal commodities. For cotton $30,000,000 has been set aside. The state is divided into districts. This section likely will be in District Seven with some point out here as headquarters, determined by the members themselves at the proper time.

J. M. Williams, city sanitation inspector, urges merchants to comply with the city ordinance prohibiting sweeping of trash from stores on the sidewalks and streets.

educating the farmer as to the advantages offered by the organization. He predicted the collapse of the middleman in the cotton business, pointing out it was one of the duties of the organization to grade and staple the farmer's cotton for twenty-five cents a bale, and inform the farmer as to its worth.

"We can't help the farmer," he declared, "without interfering with someone's livelihood. The middleman is in a serious position if the plans of this organization are successful. We expect to be fought, but not because we are offering aid to every farmer in the state.

He declared the organization is on a sounder basis now than ever before, and predicted a greater success in the future. He spoke of new policies adopted which were framed with the future of the farmer in view.

"But the farmer," he said, "has to be educated. He must be told of the advantages offered him by the cotton association. He must learn to rely upon it as a marketing body."

According to Mr. Simms 45,000 bales of Texas cotton were marketed in Japan this season.

In his talk on Japan he told of the condition of various industries, especially the rayon and cotton mills, discussed the government, education, religion, habits, and customs of the Japanese race.

Miss Hortense Reed, representative of the Chautauqua, spoke briefly on the five day program to be given here June 7 to 12, inclusive, and urged members of the luncheon club to purchase season tickets. Cecil Collins was program chairman for the day.

(AP)—Distribution of copies of the Rotunda, yearbook of Southern Methodist University, was delayed today after the board of trustees announced that the degree of Kenneth Mahoney of Huntington, Ind., editor of the publication, would be held up because of objectionable matter printed in the Rotunda.

The yearbooks were recalled after more than 1,000 had been given to students. Mahoney said the objectionable matter would be torn out of the remaining books.

Prof. A. F. Henning of the journalism department said he warned Mahoney to leave out certain pictures and reading matter which he considered would be objectionable to officials of the university.

Charges Follow Beer Discovery

Charges of possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale were filed in Justice of the Peace Cecil Collins' court Tuesday night against C. F. Washington.

The charge followed a raid on a residence in the Lakeview addition. A quantity of beer was found, it is alleged. The complaint was signed by A. J. Merrick, deputy sheriff, who with D. Dunn, deputy, conducted the raid.

Washington waived preliminary hearing and was released on $1,000 bond.

Cracks In the Dome

By The Political Analyst

AUSTIN, June 4. — Feminine vigilantes are on the road at work in the cause of helping Thomas E. Love's race for governor.

Many women have pledged themselves to secure signatures of pledges of 100 other women to support him.

These workers are busy over the state. In Dallas several hundred women are circulating the pledge lists.

This evidently shows that Mr. Love still believes in the pledge, though he is willing to take it himself for as long as his conscience may dictate its obedience; since a considerable part of his race apparently will depend on the pledge of these women workers to hunt votes for him, and the pledge of the signers to cast their ballots for him.

These women workers, as would seem probable, largely are those devoted to the efforts of prohibition and temperance organizations, and those who were hostile to the election of Alfred E. Smith. The workers, in general, are those who helped defeat the democratic party in Texas two years ago.

A picturesque campaigner, who could even turn a hole in his sock to political advantage, has arisen in the Valley country to contest with the veteran Archie Parr as senator from the big block of counties extending from Corpus Christi around by Brownsville all the way up to Laredo. He is James E. Neal, successful cattleman of Webb county, former county attorney of Williamson county.

James E. Neal's remarkable campaign, afoot, shortly after he graduated from the university law school, that made him county attorney of Williamson county, is still a political tradition of this section.

Neal is more than six and a half feet high. He proved an excellent county attorney, and retired from office only when he moved to the Rio Grande country to engage in the cattle business.

Neal once weathered his herds of Williamson county cattle 40 days without a drop of water on his ranch, according to his old-time friends. He did this in a drought year when the only green stuff on the land was cactus. He made innumerable brush torches, and with smoke in his eyes, he burned the thorns from the cactus plants, thus making it possible for the cattle to eat the green, moist, bulbous leaves and survive.

Once when a seasoned lawyer opposed him in joint debate for county attorney, the lawyer ridiculed Neal for wearing fancy socks. Unobtrusively the giant candidate punched a big hole in one sock; and when his time came to speak he pulled up his trouser leg and displayed the hole. "If my opponent," he said, "doesn't know the difference between a hole in a sock and a drop-stitch sock, he hasn't got sense enough to be your county attorney." Neal answered.

Friends of Neal announce that he is going to make a vigorous campaign, with many of the business people of his district, and the great number of his personal friends in the cattle industry ready to get in the fight to the last ditch for his election.

Interviewing Gov. Dan Moody at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, when he first learned of R. B. Sterling's candidacy for governor, was not difficult; but understanding his cryptic, guarded words, was another matter. Gov. Moody got off a train at Mexico, to go to Teague and Fairfield to make speeches. A delegation waited for him. The newspaper correspondent that landed up in Teague at the same hour cornered him; and sitting at the counter of an all-night cafe, secured from him a "statement." That statement said that he "had intended to announce Sunday and file Monday for governor," etc., and closed with "Mr. Sterling has been my staunch political friend and I would not like to run against him.

"Does that mean you are going to run or not?" the writer asked.

"It means just what it says," Gov. Moody replied.

"Yes, but will your friends understand you have withdrawn your statement to them you would run?" was the next question.

"Let them understand whatever they want; this is all I am saying now," Gov. Moody answered.

And John F. Wallace, Mr. Woods and the county judge and others drove away with him to Teague with the newspaper correspondent in possession of an interview whose meaning he did not know.

The correspondent got back to Austin a day after Moody returned, and found that not merely all the rest of the news writers, but Moody's close political friends as well were puzzling over whether he had said "yes" or "no" as to his new campaign.

But, as compensation, the writer learned, while on the trip that Moody's friends were to file his name themselves, and chronicled this fact just 24 hours before those friends did put Mr. Moody on the ballot.

Story In Jail For Fowl Theft

DENTON, Texas, June 4. (AP)—Yancy Story was back in his home town today—in jail beginning a 170-day jail term for turkey theft.

Story, who was denied admittance to the state penitentiary after he had been reported a fugitive from justice for some time, repeated his story that he had seen both Sheriff Ted Lewis and County Attorney Earl Street during the time he was reported missing. The officers reiterated an indignant denial.

Still in a talkative mood, the convicted robber of the Krum bank sentenced to five years for that offense, denied he had been hiding out. He said he had been to Denton during the past few weeks a number of times. "Of course, I didn't have any business at the sheriff's office so I didn't call there," he said.

Story said he still could not see why "they" did not permit him to begin serving his bank robbery sentence at Huntsville but instead brought him back to Denton.

"Bullet" Smith Hurls Cosden To Victory Over Richco

The long and the short of it was that Smith outpitched Garcia and Cosden dashed out of the Dusty D. turnstiles with a ball, game, and Richco went back to refine something at the refinery. That Smith fellow, who looks as old as we feel when we look at the railbirds viewing the baseball panoramas, didn't waver. He stuck his brooms in tepid water the first inning, and, not caring for the same, didn't do it any more. Smith's the first hurler we ever saw that guffaws at an umpire's decision every once in a while, and then turns around and tells the ump not to pay any attention to him. Most of 'em don't turn around. Smith reminds us a lot of Slim Harris, who used to hurl 'em fast and furious in the Texas loop, went up, and came back to St. Paul.

around. We spied one Harry Hurt puit-putting around the West Texas course last evening, and declared he would be playing on a free ducal some of these days. He didn't know whether his crutches would injure the greens or not, and wouldn't state whether he meant this year or 1943.

Burns, the hard clouting youngster of Cosden, has been released outright. And Ben Anthony, another husky about Burns' size, has been on the receiving end of his contract.

One of the most faithful fans in Big Spring is the ebony hued porter of Cosden Refinery. The portah has a choice seat on the left field fence, and lends his moral support to the cerise capped lads. We believe that any fan that will sit on that left field fence for more than one game ought to be allowed to drop inside. If the porter will hunt us up at the next game we'll let him drop on over to the inside and sit on the grass cushion. Cosden may need him for a little head rubbing, anyway.

Cook, Richco third sacker, made a desperate effort for one Tuesday. As a high fly soared over the Cosden dugout, Cook tried to do a little second story work and catch it before it landed on the hardwood. He didn't attain his ambition, but he made a desperate try. He also skinned his forearm in the bargain.

We lost a ball yesterday, and we would just as soon lose one of our shoes as lose a ball. One of the kids that is supposed to watch those orbits that fall over the Dusty D. clubhouse came back and reported he thought a dog grabbed it and vanished in the underbrush. We tersely inquired if that canine had on a baseball uniform.

WHIFF! WHIFF!

Table with columns for player names and statistics (ABR H PO A E). Includes Cosden, Richco, and other players.

Today Cosden and the Laundry are grappling evenly for second place in this league. In the morning things may be different. Should the Barbers wham the Laundry this afternoon, Cosden will advance to second place. On the other five fingers, should the Laundry take the Barbers for a trimming, (and no pun is intended, but no offense taken if one is found) Cosden will be back in third place, with the Laundry a step behind the league leading scissor wielders.

EXPORTERS LOSE TO SPUDS

All Southern Teams Drop Games To Northern

BY GAYLE TALBOT JR., Associated Press Sports Writer Running into a combination of tight pitching and lusty hitting at every turn, the four delegates from the south end of the Texas League suffered a complete rout in their first engagements on northern soil. That is to say, that Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Shreveport and Dallas ganged up to blank the visitors yesterday.

On the assumption that unexpected comes first in reader interest, it is well to chronicle without further preamble that the Dallas Steers broke their latest reverse streak of eight straight by licking the Houston Buffs, 5 to 3, in their opener. The Mavericks took a lead off Allyn Stout in the very first inning, and, what is more remarkable, held it to the bitter end.

The defeat cost the Buffs, as the Spudders were busy knocking off the Beaumont Shippers, 10 to 5, and stretching their advantage over the Junior Cards to three and one-half games. As it is only a matter of 16 days until Texas League magnates must make up their minds about splitting the season, the Spudders' present lead looms large. June 19 is the deadline for announcement of a split, which would take effect five days later.

Lefty Jimmie Walkup realized every pitcher's dream as the Cats greeted Waco with an 8 to 5 thumping. His pitching was not exactly an epic, but his batting was. He bounced a homer off Stein in the fourth inning with two runners aboard and drove in two more with a single in the sixth, accounting for five runs. Also, he had a sacrifice and struck out five Cubs to round out his day. Gene Rye, with a homer and single, was the only Cub to break into the hit column twice.

Oscar Estrada, the eccentric Cuban, gave his best performance of the year in pitching the Sports to an 8 to 1 triumph over San Antonio in their inaugural. The Indians managed only four hits, two of them by Bailew, and were scoreless after the first inning, when they bunched a pair. The Sports found old Tom Estell easy after three innings and pled up twelve hits, including a homer by Cashion.

Crippled Cubs May Save Wrigley Cash

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—Owner William Wrigley, Jr., is ready to do some more big spending for player talent, but his crippled Cubs may change his mind.

When pitcher Hal Carlson died and Rogers Hornsby broke his ankle last week, the Cub owner immediately began to canvass the major and minor league field for help. But since then the crippled champions have been unstopable, winning all their games, and the contemplated deals have been postponed.

WHITLOW WYATT ONE OF BEST MOUND FINISHERS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer Whitlow Wyatt, a big Georgian whom Detroit acquired from the Evansville club of the Three Eye League, has turned out to be one of the season's best finishers in the box.

Such was the case yesterday as the Tigers dropped an 8 to 4 decision to Washington. The Senators had attacked Whitehill and Sullivan for seven runs in the second inning before Wyatt appeared, but he stopped them with three hits and a single counter in the next seven innings.

Ray Kolp of Cincinnati turned in almost the duplicate of Wyatt's performance to join him on the short list of outstanding pitchers on a day of hard hitting. Kolp came to rescue Larry Benton from the brutal assaults of his former teammates, the New York Giants, and stopped them, as Wyatt did the Senators, with two hits.

Another rookie, Art Teagout of the Chicago Cubs, led the way among the few pitchers who completed the games they started. He held the Boston Braves to seven hits while his mates attacked Grimes and Cooney for 17 clouts and a 15 to 2 victory. Bill Clark had to hit as well as pitch to keep the Brooklyn Robins three games ahead of the Cubs. Brooklyn errors offset his holding theirates to eight hits, and Clark finally took matters in his own hands by hitting a double in the ninth inning and scoring the run that brought Brooklyn a 6 to 5 victory.

For sheer slugging, the 11 to 10 triumph of the St. Louis Cardinals over the Phillies took the prize for a day that saw 196 hits made in eight games. The Phillies got the biggest total of them all, 23 safe hits, but St. Louis inserted seven doubles and a triple in its total of 16 to get the decision.

The New York Yankees, featuring Babe Ruth's 17th home run of the year, led the American League slugging parade by getting 18 hits and a 13 to 7 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The Cleveland Indians had the benefit of Wes Ferrell's good pitching as well as 17 hits and had no trouble beating the Boston Red Sox 8 to 3. Ferrell held the Sox to eight hits.

The Philadelphia Athletics, clinging to a one game lead over Washington, engaged in the only real mound duel of the day with the St. Louis Browns as their opponents. Lefty Grove and Dick Coffman battled for six innings before the game suddenly blew up under them. With St. Louis leading 1 to 0 in the seventh, Jimmy Foss and Bing Miller hit successive home runs and th Athletics moved on to a 4 to 1 triumph.

BROWN RELEASED DALLAS, Tex., June 4 (AP)—The Steers have unconditionally released Ed Brown, outfielder, and Paul Wachtel, spit ball artist, with the possibility that a third man will be turned loose before the week ends.

MEXICAN FLOWERS INVADED N. Y. MARKET

MEXICO CITY, June 4. (INS)—With the development of direct air transport service between Mexico City and New York a battle of flowers from Mexico and California seems imminent on the New York flower markets. During recent months California flower growers have made use of aviation to deliver flowers to the New York market. Inasmuch as the flowers arrived in New York in condition, Mexican horticulturists feel that Mexican flowers can be shipped with equal success to New York.

Because of this abundance, fresh cut flowers sell cheaply in Mexico City. The attractive prices in New York will more than offset the cost of shipping by air, local horticulturists believe. RUNGE—Local poultrymen sold st. cars of eggs in 90 days.

DOZEN HITS GIVEN BY GARCIA

Elongated Pitcher Enables Cosden To Cop 6 To 1

Nicking little Garcia, Mexican twirler for the Richco aggregation for 12 hits, while Smith, elongated moundsman, was turning Richco batsmen back, Cosden Refinery defeated Richardson Refinery-Coahama Tuesday afternoon 6 to 1.

Smith hurled wonderful ball for the Cosden unit, allowing only three hits. The run made off him was earned however with a triple and a single. After the third inning, he used the blanket, although he did hand out one pass and hit one batsman.

BARBERS VS LAUNDRY

What is expected to be one of the best games seen this year is scheduled for this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock when the Barbers and the Laundry clash. The Barbers are leading the city league, while the Laundry is only a few notches behind, being in a tie with Cosden for second place.

Tally In First

Cosden tallied in the first inning on a single by Adams, a sacrifice by Martin, walks handed out Harris and Morton, and a clean single by Potter to tally Adams. Harris was called out at the plate after Walker's heave from left went to Roten at home.

As Smith stemmed the tide of Richco in the initial, Cosden again scored in the second. Baker got to first with the assistance of Clark's error. Gillham singled, Smith struck out, and Adams got his second single of the day to drive the two across. Adams went out at third, Garcia to Cio.

Trio In Row

Smith whiffed Cramer, Woods and Garcia in a row to retire Richco in the second. Although they gathered two singles off Garcia in the third, Cosden went scoreless when Baker hit into a double play. Richco scored its lone marker in the third inning when Clark found Smith for a triple and sent across when Potter attempted to cut him off at the plate rather than catch Hoehn at first.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4 (AP)—Wade Killifer, manager of the San Francisco Mission baseball team, said today that he will seek to acquire Grover Cleveland Alexander, big league pitcher, who was released by the Philadelphia National League team.

treatment at the hands of the authorities. But of course we could never agree to lifting the Jim Crow ban, even on a patriotic mission, for whites are whites and blacks are blacks and, it is hoped, will always be regarded as such.

The North doesn't understand the South's negro problem—and probably never will. It has been our observation that both sections of the county are satisfied with their individual methods of handling the situation.

When peoples of the two sections unite in any program we feel that Northern whites should consider the feelings of their Southern neighbors and segregate the negro with his fellows.

Insistence upon the part of negroes and negro publications will never be tolerated by Southerners—and the North may just as well accept the situation as an axiom.

HOW'S your HEALTH? A number of serious and debilitating diseases in man are caused by worms. Trichinosis is one.

Trichinosis: A number of serious and debilitating diseases in man are caused by worms. Trichinosis is one. The disease is caused by a minute round worm which gains entrance into the human body through the eating of infected raw or insufficiently cooked meat.

The incapsulated young of the worm are located in the muscles of the infected hog. When the improperly cooked or treated meat of such an animal is eaten by man, the stomach juices act on the meat and capsules set the young worms free.

Each female produces on an average of more than five hundred young worms. These enter the blood stream and are distributed throughout the body. Most of them locate in the muscles, and there curl up and become covered with a capsule.

When the worms begin to invade the muscles, intense pain is suffered. A prominent feature of the disease is swelling and puffiness of the face, particularly about the eyes.

The outcome of the disease mainly depends upon the number of living worms that enter the stomach and the number of young worms produced. In a number of fatal cases, it was estimated that the bodies of the victims contained as many as one hundred million encysted worms.

Andrews county's second producing oil well was nearing completion with the Deep Rock Oil Company and others' No. 1 A. R. Murder at High Tide

CHARLES G. BOOTH: SYNOPSIS: Dan Parados and his hired man, Grainger, have been shot to death in the Parados island home within 24 hours of each other.

"It'll turn out all right, Mr. Samuels doesn't understand." "It's about—Parados—again?" "Yes, dear, Miss Jahries has told them. I suppose it had to come out."

BROKEN ALIBIS: "Have you the nerve to tell me that two guns equipped with silencers figured in the killing?" Samuels inquired.

"You won't believe me, if I tell you." "Let's hear it anyhow." "My flat was broken into one night last year. I came home just as a man was getting away through the window. I managed to grab a revolver I had in my desk before he saw me. He lifted his own gun—that gun on the table—but I fired first and he dropped outside the window. Later I found his gun in the shrubbery and I concluded I had winged him. The gun was fitted with that silencer and I decided to keep it. The crook didn't get much."

"Thought it might come in handy." "You would say that," Annersley retorted bitterly. "It never occurred to me to do anything with it until a couple of weeks ago when Parados' attitude towards Miss Ferris became unendurable. I wondered if I could threaten him. It was a crazy notion—Parados was afraid of nothing on earth—but I had to do something!"

"When I came here Saturday afternoon—ostensibly to see Celia—I had the gun with me." "Hunt was right. The gun was under that newspaper. I had thought Parados was alone. It shook me, finding Hunt there. I guess I was crazy. Anyhow, I went back again and this time I found Parados dead on the floor. He got what he deserved, whoever did it. The safe stood open and I got the papers I wanted about the Fleetwood deal. Miss Jahries' check, too. I had a pretty good idea what the check meant. Miss Jahries came in then. That's all."

"Where are those papers?" Samuels demanded. "I destroyed them. Miss Jahries' check, too," Annersley looked at Miss Jahries, who had not moved from her chair. "You may be interested to know that I should never have used it against you."

A LITTLE at a time: HILLS Bros. Coffee tastes better—has a matchless flavor—because it is roasted a few pounds at a time, never in bulk. This continuous method—Controlled Roasting—is exclusive to Hills Bros.

I had been sure of this for a good while. It would not be necessary to explain that difference to Caroline.

"Kirk, you turned Lum We loose?" Samuels demanded. "Last night," the big man answered.

"Take Annersley over there and lock him up. And tell Gridley to hop over with that gun and have Geddes look at it. Geddes has the bullet that rubbed out Parados and Grainger. Tell Gridley to bring his report back with him."

"If the marks on the bullets match the rifling of the pistol I am guilty—is that it?" Annersley suddenly inquired.

"That's it," Samuels grunted. "They'll match," he added grimly. "Get along with him, Kirk."

"Another question, M. Annersley," he said brightly. "I thought they'd all been asked," Annersley retorted.

"Never mind M. le Deputy," I interrupted irritably. "Can't you answer a straight question?" "Mon ami, it will not do, the simple yes or no, when I cannot prove what I know. You see? Life is — um — the word, M. l'Antiquaire?"

"Complex." "Precisement!" he bowed. "Quite," I answered dryly. "You mean you won't tell until you are ready. All right. But after you infer that Annersley is innocent. How can you believe that in the face of such evidence to the contrary? Everybody else in the house has at least one alibi—"

"Mlle. Brent," Fliques interposed. "You know very well that Miss Brent had nothing to do with it." "Monsieur's tenderness ripens in the sun of mademoiselle's regard," Fliques remarked oracularly, beaming. "Also, there is Mlle. Ferris."

"But she is Grainger's daughter!" I exclaimed. "Surely you don't accuse her of killing her father?" "I have accused no one," Fliques retorted, spreading his hands. "You tell me that everybody in the house has an alibi and I correct you. What are these alibis, I ask you again? Have we not broken two of them? May we not break another?"

"Monsieur," he continued, "the human spirit is an eagle that soars toward the—how you say?—unattainable. Perhaps it is the true philosophy, a wine of the gods, the machine of perpetual motion, a perfect crime."

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

New York City. I have been tormented for the greater part of my life by a habit which sometimes makes my life so miserable that I think death will be the only release from it. I have fought against it and implored the aid of God, but it dominates me, and so far I have failed. How can I strengthen my purpose and master this horrible sex instinct that deprives me of all happiness?

putes between scientists and churchmen? Did they wrangle as much in former times as they do today, or is it because each group delights to quarrel? It seems an unhappy business.

The sex instinct is not horrible in itself. Normally conceived and slated it is a God given function which invests His creatures with a degree of His creative force. But any man or woman can make a horrible use of it and it then becomes a source of degradation and misery and even a terrible scourge. Like the ancient Garden of Eden, it is fenced about with a flaming sword.

Not necessarily, although members of both groups could be named who smell the battle afar off. We live in an area of conflict between the old learning and the new. Their struggle began with the collapse of medievalism, the dawn of the Renaissance and man's marvelous advance in knowledge during the last five hundred years.

Unfortunately you have proved this by experience and since the habit you mentioned is firmly established, it cannot be easily conquered. Begin your self recovery by placing the main facts of sex in their correct perspective. If it could be abolished, as you desire, race extinction would soon follow. Hence it is extremely powerful because it is absolutely essential.

Then came amazing discoveries which demanded fresh theories to account for them. Theologians, philosophers and scientists multiplied and contended for their different viewpoints. All alike were servants of truth, but not a few forgot that truth cannot be self-contradictory.

You have allowed it to rob you of your manhood, to debase your honor and jeopardize your physical being. If you sincerely crave self mastery you can attain it, provided you search for it aright. The surest way to exterminate a bad habit is to crowd it out with a good one. They never agree, as you know, and if you persistently practice the good habit, it will ultimately stifle the evil one.

The poets were frequently the conciliatory force. They understood that the world within and without was one universe, and that what was needed for all was an

Study sex in motherhood and in its fruition in childhood. Keep their grace and loveliness before you, and remember that strict fidelity to the laws that govern personal hygiene and marriage may induct you into legitimate fatherhood.

So make it incompatible with your individual value and dignity to be the slave of degrading conduct. Until you thus raise your fight a losing battle and repeat whole standard of being you will your catastrophes. For though you consciously seek clean, wholesome manhood, you unconsciously long for the unclean and unwholesome type. Once you resolve to be free of this shameful serfdom to sheer animalism, prayer to God will purify and strengthen your will and enable you once more to look the world in the face.

WE WANT YOU TO MEET

After riding across New York City in a taxicab one day, Dr. Cadman attempted to pay the driver, who refused to take the fare.

"You are Dr. Cadman, aren't you?" the driver said. "I have four sons. We all listen to you every Sunday on the radio. You are doing more to help me make good citizens of my boys than anything else in the world. You can't pay me for any ride in my cab."

"Is happiness the end of life?" "What is your conception of hell?" "My wife wants to bob her hair—how can I stop her?" "Should people about to marry confess to each other?" "What is the soul?"

These are representative of the questions which thousands of perplexed readers ask the man whom critics have called the greatest figure to fill a pulpit since Henry Ward Beecher died. He will counsel and comfort you if you write him, in care of this paper. Your letter will be forwarded, unopened, and held in confidence by this great-hearted man. Some of the questions which readers ask him and his human, understanding answer appear daily under the heading Everyday Questions. Read this inspiring feature in The Herald every day.
