Santa Fe to Present Award to Grissom

L. J. Cassell, of the Santa Fe Railway offices in Amarillo will be a special visitor at the Oklahoma Lane school this (Wednesday) afternoon, at which time he will present the Santa Fe award to C. W. Grissom, Oklahoma Lane 4-H Club boy.

Grissom was recently announced as one of the 19 Santa Fe winners in the State, in 4-H club work, his award being a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, which convenes in Chicago on December 2nd, lasting four days.

At 3:30 this afternoon, Cassell will present to Grissom a certificate of award from the Santa Fe, before a general school assembly, according to plans announced here.

Parmer County holds a high batting average on Santa Fe winners, sending a club boy to the Congress virtually every year. The railroad pays all expenses of the clubbers to the national convention, and the boys make their trip on the Santa Fe in a group.

Supt. Clift Attends State Convention

Supt. H. A. Clift of the Farwell schools, returned home the latter part of the week from Austin, where he attended the annual meeting of the Texas Association of School Administrators.

The session lasted only one day, Nov. 14, but the program was packed with helpful addresses and talks by outstanding men of the state pertaining to school problems, Clift said on his return.

The meeting was held in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel in Austin. Clift was the only superintendent from this county in attendance at the meeting.

His wife accompanied him to Austin, as a delegate from the local Parent-Teacher group to the state convention. She reported over 1500 delegates and 500 members present for the PTA gathering.

Benefit Program Is Held For Hughes

A benefit program was given for the Jim Hughes family at the Texico school Tuesday night, with the proceeds amounting to $53.35.

Chaplain Stephen Galley, of the Clovis Army Air Base, entertained the audience with an hour's program of magical stunts. Sgt. Bob Bertram and Sgt. McCoy, also of CAAB, enlivened the program with several musical selections.

The program was sponsored by the Men's Club and the entire proceeds of the evening will go to the Hughes family.

Rain Would Benefit Local Wheat Fields

While not suffering from lack of moisture, the Parmer County wheat fields would benefit materially from a good rain, farmers are saying this week.

All of the early plantings are up to a good growth, and have been affording pasturage for stock, but additional moisture would cause the fields to grow faster, affording better grazing for livestock, it is said.

Late plantings are up to a good stand, and a good rain would soon put them in condition for grazing. Winds of the past few days have given wheat farmers some concern, but no reports of any damage have been heard here.

Men's Club Sponsors Hospital Meeting

At the regular meeting of the local Men's Club, held last Thursday evening, a motion was unanimously adopted pledging the Club to sponsor a meeting of the Community Hospital group, of Friona, to be held in Farwell in the near future.

The purpose of the forthcoming meeting, as explained by Sam Albridge, who presented the matter, is to get an explanation of the proposed hospital movement.

While as yet no definite date for the meeting has been set, it is considered likely that the evening of December 13th will be the date. The gathering will take place in the courthouse or high school auditorium, a matter yet to be decided.

At the meeting last week, Chaplain Stephen Galley of the Clovis Army Air Base was present and agreed to put on a magician's show at the Texico high school, Tuesday night, as a benefit program.

Addition To Business Building Started

Workmen began work this week on a 25x26 addition to the rear of the building housing the Davis Mercantile Co., in Farwell, which is expected to be ready for occupancy within the next few days.

Carl Davis, operator of the store, said today that as soon as the new addition was completed he expected to move the hardware stock recently purchased from David Harrison from its present location to the Farwell site, where all the business would be operated under one roof.

HAM RETURNS

R. V. Ham, local waterworks superintendent, returned the first of the week from Hot Springs, N. M., where he had been taking a course of the mineral water baths.

"Virtually all of the schools of the county are in dire need of funds on which to operate," County Tax Collector Earl Booth said today, in sending out an appeal to the taxpayers of the county to pay their taxes at the earliest possible date.

He called attention to the fact that taxpaying time opened October 1, and added that collections had been "mighty slow" since that time. Booth went on to say that as a general rule collections during October and November were sufficient to meet the demands of the schools for operating expenses, "but it's a different story this year," he added, going on to add that the common school districts of the county were being hardest hit by lack of funds.

"You can tell your readers that most of our schools are in dire need of funds," he said in stressing the need of early payment of current taxes.

Meeting at Okla. Lane To Explain Hospital

The people of the Oklahoma Lane community are urged to attend a meeting which will be held at the school Friday night, Nov. 23 at 8 o'clock. The first part of the program will be musical, with the Friona High School band giving a concert.

Also, there will be accordion numbers and readings by Miss Vera Ann Jones. Some piano solos will be given by girls from Oklahoma Lane.

Following the program, a discussion of the Parmer County Community Hospital, planned for Friona, will be led by the chairman of the board of directors, Joe Poindexter.

Says Hospital At Friona Assured

Joe Poindexter, of Friona, member of the board of directors of the proposed community hospital at Friona, was here attending business matters on Tuesday.

Poindexter gave it as his opinion that the hospital is an assured fact. "We already have 400 members and expect to get many more," he said, adding that definite plans for the actual construction were being held up until some idea of the size of the building can be determined.

He said that investigations have brought out the fact that a hospital operated on a community basis often accommodates as many non-members as actual members.

Thompsons Building New Residence Here

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thompson have started construction work on a four-room home in Farwell and expect to occupy it when completed.

It is located on Second Street, two blocks south of Sikes Motor Co.

Christmas Lighting Goes On Dec. 1st

Arrangements are being made to turn the Christmas street lighting on in Texico-Farwell on the evening of December 1st. The lights are to be strung on Saturday of this week. Christmas lighting here was discontinued during the war, and is being renewed after four years.

It may be a monologue when one woman is talking; but when two women converse it's a catalogue.

Parmer County is at the bottom of the list in E-bond sales in the Victory Loan Drive, it was revealed here today by County War Finance Chairman G. D. Anderson.

A report from the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, received this week by Anderson, places Parmer County third from the bottom of the list, with two counties showing no report at all in the cellar positions.

"Actually," Chairman Anderson explained, "we have sold a few more bonds than we have been credited with, but still we are miserably behind with our quota," he added.

Tabulations released by the County War Finance Chairman reveals that sales in this county have amounted to slightly more than 20% of the overall quota. To date, Parmer County purchases have amounted to $18,881.25 in E Bonds, with $25,000.00 in all other series.

The overall quota for the county is $165,000, with $85,000 of this amount set up in E bonds.

Only two counties in the entire state have subscribed their quotas, the Federal Reserve Bank figures show, and most of the counties have subscribed less than 30% of the askings.

Chairman Anderson blamed the "let-down attitude" of the people as being responsible for the poor showing made in Parmer County. "People just don't seem to be interested now that the fighting is over," he surmised. He still recommended the purchase of bonds as a good investment and as a means of avoiding an inflationary period.

Officially, the V-Bond effort will end on December 7, and it is hoped that the bond buyers will rally to the cause during the last days of the campaign.

Ration Office Gets Personnel Cut

In conjunction with a nation-wide move to cut down on ration board personnel, along with the slowing up of rationing, the Parmer County war price and rationing board has been cut to its chief clerk, Mrs. Nina Glasscock. Her assistant, Mrs. Anna Henry, who had been at the board the past year, was terminated last weekend.

Mrs. Glasscock will continue in charge of the local office until its absorption into a central-county office, or until rationing is discontinued.

At the present time, only applications for new tires are acted on locally. Other applications, for fur-rough rations, new books, sugar, etc., are accepted at Farwell and are then sent to Hereford, where a general office for several counties has been set up. Issuance of such rations is made from that office, Mrs. Glasscock reported.

Applications for new tires are still handled through the local tire panel, and issuance of approved certificates made in the Parmer office.

Canning Sugar Stamps Expire November 30

Sugar stamps which were issued housewives for canning will become invalid if not used before or on November 30, it has been announced by OPA.

A reminder was issued this week, as many stamps are believed to be still in possession of housewives, some of whom may can apples or late fruit during the next few weeks.

MORE AIR PASSENGERS

The average plane load on the domestic airlines during June this year was 18.22 passengers as against 17.74 passengers over June, 1944.

Glen Williams Home After Two Years

Sporting a fancy mustache and insisting that he had a 7-inch tickler when he hit the States in September, Ex-Sergeant Glen Williams was in Farwell the first of the week visiting with friends and relatives.

In service almost three years, two of which he spent overseas, Glen was discharged October 11th, and is making his home in Amarillo with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Williams, formerly of Farwell, until semester time at Texas A. & M., when he plans to re-enter to complete his interrupted college work.

Williams served with the 68th Infantry Division, in a battalion of engineers who "did dull things like laying mine fields, inactivating German mines, and building bridges under fire", in the battle for Italy.

Leaving the States, his outfit was first sent to Casablanca, North Africa, and from there to Oran. When questioned as to the "why" of the African jaunt, as the fighting there was already over, Glen shrugged and laughed, "They took us over to try to kill us off with some extra training, I think, from the way they went at it."

From Oran the 88th moved to Sicily and then into Naples, Italy, landing there just in time for the big push that started past Naples on May 11, 1944, Williams said. "That was the darndest thing, just like you'd see in a picture show... the guns flashing from the German side and our side, including flashes from our big ships in the harbor... and the artillery was firing some tracer stuff to keep everybody lined up... We were on top of a hill with a bunch of explosives and had no idea what was about to happen... that was quite a deal."

Williams recounted how the Americans found row after row of German trucks and other heavy equipment lined up along the Po River, which they had been forced to abandon because of transportation... "practically every guy in the outfit had a German motorcycle."

"We got into all sorts of mines," he said, explaining that no matter how many mine schools he attended, the next mine he had to put out of operation was a little different. "You just had to figure out how to take the igniter out without getting blown to bits... We had a rough thing happen one day. Bunch of men were going to lay a mine field that night, and were putting the igniters in the mines. They actually weren't supposed to be doing that, but were trying to get everything ready. The mines had snow and ice in the places where the igniters go, and I guess somebody must have beat one of them too hard... anyway, a whole truckload went off, killed 15 of our men, injured others, blew down buildings and killed livestock."

Asked about his return to the States, Williams said, "We were just lucky, because we were loaded on ship ready to sail for Manila when the news came that the war was over."

TELLS OF WIFE'S INJURIES

Will Haynes, former local Santa Fe freight agent, was here the latter part of last week from Canadian, Tex., attending business matters. While here he told of his wife's injuries, sustained about a year ago, when she fell and fractured her hip. For many months she was confined to a wheel chair, and now gets about with the aid of crutches.

Another misfortune reported by the former Farwell resident was a serious gunshot wound, sustained by one of his grandchildren, when the 6-year-old lad shot himself through the stomach with a .22 rifle. The lad is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hoover, also formerly of this place. The injuries did not prove fatal and the child is said to be recovering nicely.

While we're ridding the country of radicalism, socialism, Bolshevism and Fascism, why not include rheumatism?

Only 16 Days Left To Pay Debt

Parmer County has sixteen days—until Dec. 7—to square an obligation to a gang of guys with guts.

They are the county's own returning veterans, the men who left their homes, their jobs and their families to fight a relentless, horrible war, so we could continue to thrive in peace and prosperity.

Their contribution was one which can never be amply repaid. But the massed citizenry of Parmer County can salute them with head and heart by pledging an all-out over-the-top subscription of its $85.00 E-bond quota in the current Victory Loan drive.

If anything can help, perhaps this public tribute will ease a bit the pain of the many whose stalwart young heroes will not return.

The Parmer County War Finance Committee has endorsed the dedication of this eighth and last war financing campaign to the men and women who gave a bit or all of their lives to win a war.

The committee chose Dec. 7, a fateful day for America, as V-day in this tribute. On that date it wants to tell the world "Mission accomplished".

Chairman G. D. Anderson urges that the Victory Loan be made a community display of gratitude by every citizen of Parmer County.

If, on Dec. 7, 1944, you had been assured that the bonds you purchased would bring victory within twelve months, how many bonds would you have bought? he asks.

And then: "How grateful are you?"

Health Notes

By Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—The first Thanksgiving Day in this country was proclaimed for the purpose of expressing thanks not only for the bountiful harvest which the colonists had reaped but for the sturdy health and endurance that had permitted them to survive the hardships and exposure of that first rigorous year in America. On the occasion of this Thanksgiving Day, the State Health Officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, is appealing to every citizen of Texas to give serious thought to the preservation of his own health and that of his community.

"We have much to be thankful for in that our national health level has remained high despite the nervous tension, the sacrifices, the deprivations of war," Dr. Cox stated. "Our people have maintained a remarkably high health level and even under existing war conditions, Texas has shown a continued decline in maternal and infant deaths.

"The people of Texas have reason to be thankful for the steadily increasing interest and cooperation being shown in matters pertaining to general sanitation and the control of communicable diseases," Dr. Cox asserted. "Responsibility for the success and advancement of the public health program lies not with the State Health Department primarily but with the people who support and encourage the local community efforts exerted and who apply in their own individual lives the health rules with which they become acquainted through public health education."

Dr. Cox pointed out that one direct result of public health efforts in this nation has been the lengthening of the normal life span by more than 15 years.

"Certainly this is something to be thankful for and it should lend incentive for further efforts to promote and maintain community as well as statewide public health programs."

Hog Killing Time Is Here Again

COLLEGE STATION — Comes now hog killing time.

Not as much as formerly, because with the widespread use of the quick freezer locker, hog killing is now a year 'round deal on many Texas farms. But most Texas farm peopel still wait for winter to butcher hogs for home use.

Even at that, according to Roy W. Snyder, meat specialist of the Extension Service, if the weather gets much above 50 degrees for any length of time while the meat is in cure, it should be taken to a cold storage plant and let it cure under refrigeration.

With sugar scarce, many people will not have enough to cure meat. Salt, Snyder explains, is what actually cures the meat. Sugar improves the flavor and saltpeter makes for a rich red color.

The standard recipe is eight pounds of salt, two pounds of sugar, and two ounces of saltpeter. Mix, divide into three equal parts, and rub one part of the mix into the meat every three days. Pack meat into a meat box or barrel after each rubbing. After the third and last treatment, pack the meat into the container skin side down. Leave ham and shoulders in the mix for from two to three days per pound. A day and a half per pound is enough for bacon.

The longer the meat is kept in cure the saltier it becomes. If there is not enough salt that penetrates the pieces to properly cure the meat, it will spoil unless kept in cold storage. With pork as scarce as it is, farm families will do well to have their meat a little saltier than usual, rather than take a chance on spoilage.

Cane syrup or honey may be substituted for sugar, pound for pound. Sugar is still better than syrup or honey if it is available, and granulated sugar will do just as well as brown.

And Now, Hybrid Onion Seed Is Available

COLLEGE STATION—After ten years of work, scientists of the USDA have announced the production of hybrid onion seed on a commercial scale.

The increased yields obtained by use of hybrid corn has focused the attention of seed breeders everywhere on new uses for the hybrid principle, and announcements of new hybrids may be expected soon.

Hybrid onion seed, however, came as a surprise, J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Extension Service, said the nearness of the male and female parts made the job seem almost impossible. The discovery of a sterile male onion was what allowed hybridization with a male fertile onion on a field scale, he said.

The first hybrid onion is known as California Hybrid Red No. 1, and is adapted to parts of California, Utah and Nevada. The new variety has yielded from 460 to 768 100-pound bags per acre and in general is producing at the rate of 50 per cent above other varieties for these areas.

With the discovery of the male sterile onion, Rosborough said, the field is now open for the breeding of hybrid strains of various varieties for different regions, seasons and conditions.

NO MORE "BUMPING"

WASHINGTON—Removal of War Department priorities on air travel and reduced fares by commercial airlines have resulted in a heavy increase in demand for plane seats. The airlines are putting more planes into service and will meet the public demand as rapidly as possible. Travelers are protected against "bumping" under the new regulations.

Social Security Cards Should Be Guarded

A social security account number shows that the worker has an insurance account with the United States government, Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Insurance policies must be protected, and that is why they are kept in safe places. The social security account card is evidence of an insurance policy. Give it the same care as any insurance policy, advises James L. Farmer, manager of the board's office, located at 324 new PO building, Amarillo.

For every account number it gives out, the board sets up a separate account. The number on the card is the same as the number on the account. With the worker's name it identifies the account.

Old age is not the only risk the account insures against. The purpose of this insurance is to pay not only a regular monthly income when workers are 65 and stop work, but to pay benefits to the family if the worker dies.

These monthly insurance payments are based on wages in the jobs that come under the system. Every day's pay on such a job helps to build up this family insurance protection. Be sure that these records are kept under one account number.

Families need this protection. When a worker or his family makes an insurance claim, his account should contain the complete record of all his pay in work that comes under the social security system. Even if he works only part time in such jobs, his wages should be recorded under his account. For further information, inquire at the Social Security office in Amarillo.

Half Turkey Popular For Thanksgiving

COLLEGE STATION—Many of the small families are going to have a "half turkey" Thanksgiving.

Although market reports for the Thanksgiving season show there will be plenty of turkeys, many small families find a whole bird more than can be eaten with economy. For this reason, many butchers are prepared to sell half turkeys on request. The bird is simply split down the back and along the breast.

The half bird, says Miss Edith Lawrence, food preparation specialist of the Extension Service, is prepared for cooking in the usual way. The skin is skewered over the breast to keep it from pulling away, the leg is tied down and the bird brushed with melted fat. A good trick to keep the meat from becoming dry is to cover with a clean cloth saturated with fat.

Place the half bird, cavity side down, on a flat rack about the size of the cavity. Cook in a shallow, uncovered pan at 325 degrees.

Make the usual dressing. Build a mound of it on a well greased, doubled piece of oil paper. When the turkey is about half done, remove the rack and substitute the mound of dressing.

More Used Fats Are Needed, USDA Says

More used fats from every kitchen is needed now to speed the return of many essential items which were scarce during the war, E. A. McBryde, district officer for Marketing, of PMA, said today.

Soaps and soap powders, electrical appliances and dozens of other household items require the use of fats and oils at some stage in their manufacture.

The speed with which they return to peacetime homes depend on fats and oils. Since our supply of industrial fats and oils still is not sufficient to meet consumer demand, used kitchen fats are needed to replenish the national stockpile, he said.

For every pound of used fat turned in at collection points, housewives receive four ration points and up to four cents in cash.

Sure, we've won the War BUT THE COST GOES ON!

IT WILL COST MILLIONS TO BRING OUR ARMIES BACK and it's just as expensive as it was taking them over. Meanwhile, thousands of our men who stay behind in occupied territory must receive their pay, be clothed, housed and fed at Uncle Sam's expense.

WE OWE THEM A RETURN TRIP TICKET TO HEALTH. Today, the rehabilitation and care of over 300,000 wounded are among America's gravest peacetime problems. This obligation is one which every American can now share in—by investing in the Great Victory Loan.

America Must Take Care of Her Own In the Great Victory Loan!

IT'S too much to expect that the cost of a war which lasted many years can just stop overnight. Although the fighting is over the paying has to go on for some time to come.

So once more it's ALL TOGETHER in America's Great Victory Loan. Start off your own peace and prosperity—and your country's—right by investing in the biggest quota of bonds you've ever bought.

UNCLE SAM MUST STILL PAY FOR THESE. Although America had already started to cut down on production of various kinds of war materials, the swift ending of the war left many planes, tanks, battleships, guns, made at the last minute, still to be paid for.

OKLAHOMA LANE-BOVINA METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Rev. Roscoe Trostle, the Oklahoma Lane and Bovina pastor, was returned for another year. Since some had asked for his return, the district superintendent assured Rev. Trostle before conference that he could continue his plans in that direction.

Added joy was brought to the hearts of Rev. and Mrs. Trostle on last Tuesday evening, when the people of Oklahoma Lane gave them a nice pounding. This surprise came as the climax of a very interesting and appropriate church social directed by L. M. Grissom and others.

Rev. and Mrs. Trostle are happy to labor in a community with such fine and unselfish people.

There is much sickness in our communities. Mrs. Lee Sudderth is in the Clovis hospital, following a very serious operation.

Mrms. T. L. Kent and Mrms. Clyde Perkins attended the Methodist annual conference at Abilene and visited their daughters, Bobby Lou Kent and Dora Dean Perkins, who are attending McMurry.

Rev. Trostle took Mrs. Trostle and Mary Dean for a general check at the hospital at Lubbock, Tuesday, and went on to Abilene, to attend Special Crusade Service until Wednesday at noon. He brought the following young people home for the Thanksgiving holy day: Jean Hart, Willie Ellen Williams, Patty Ann Wilson, Bobby Lou Kent, Dora Dean Perkins, and Ray Hart.

It is reported that Jim Wilson will be home from Alva, Okla.

Superior Styling Marks New 1946 Buicks

Graceful new streamlining of the hood and fenders and a distinctive new grille advance styling of the 1946 Buick to the highest peak yet in beauty and hug-the-road stability.

New Buick models on display at Meadors Chevrolet Co., in Clovis, are eloquent testimony to Buick's leadership in perfection of airflow. From the massive front end with its wide, solid-looking chrome-plated bumpers on back in smoothly flowing lines to the spacious trunk, the 1946 Buick is a picture of speed and sure-footedness.

The new cars are characterized by long, low appearance accentuated through the use of sweeping airfoil finders in combination with wide bodies, massive front end treatment, smoothly fitting rear wheel shields and substantially simplified chrome trim. An entirely new grille, with external surfaces of chrome-plated stainless steel, not only adds massiveness to the front but also provides improved airflow.

The hood, decorated with the distinctive shield-like Buick crest and "aiming ring" radiator ornament, flows smoothly into the fenders giving a unified, solidly powerful appearance. Fender sidecreases have been eliminated to give a true airfoil contour, which is carried to the highest degree in the front fenders. These are extended along the door panel on all models, giving such a sweeping effect that even a parked car seems to be in perpetual motion.

The newly-designed bumpers are of the "wrap-around" type, originated by Buick in 1941 to provide full fender protection. The lower front of the rear fender is protected by a stainless steel gravel deflector. Fender shields mold the rear fenders into graceful units, contributing to the overall rear-end contour that continues the streamlining throughout. The wide, low-set trunk back distinguishes the rear of the bodies, eliminating entirely the hump-back effect of the usual trunk-back models.

Industrial Fats, Oils Continue Scarce

Lower allocation of industrial fats and oils to consumers for the September-December period compared with the same period last year re-emphasizes to housewives the need of collecting used kitchen fats. "We just don't have a national stockpile large enough for all uses now and it must be supplemented by used kitchen fats from all homes until supply and demand come into balance," E. A. McBryde, Texas PMA, said.

The amount of industrial fats and oils civilians will get during the next three months is more than was allocated for the July-September period, but the moderate increase comes mainly from reduced military requirements and smaller foreign shipments.

Some increase also comes from somewhat seasonally larger supplies made possible by higher livestock marketing, he pointed out.

Christmas Seal Sale Opens Nov. 19th

AUSTIN—Calling attention to the fact that tuberculosis is communicable, Governor Coke Stevenson has issued a proclamation officially designating November 19 to Christmas for the sale of Christmas seals. Governor Stevenson pointed out that the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations which conduct the seal sale use seal funds for a health program which should be supported by all residents of Texas.

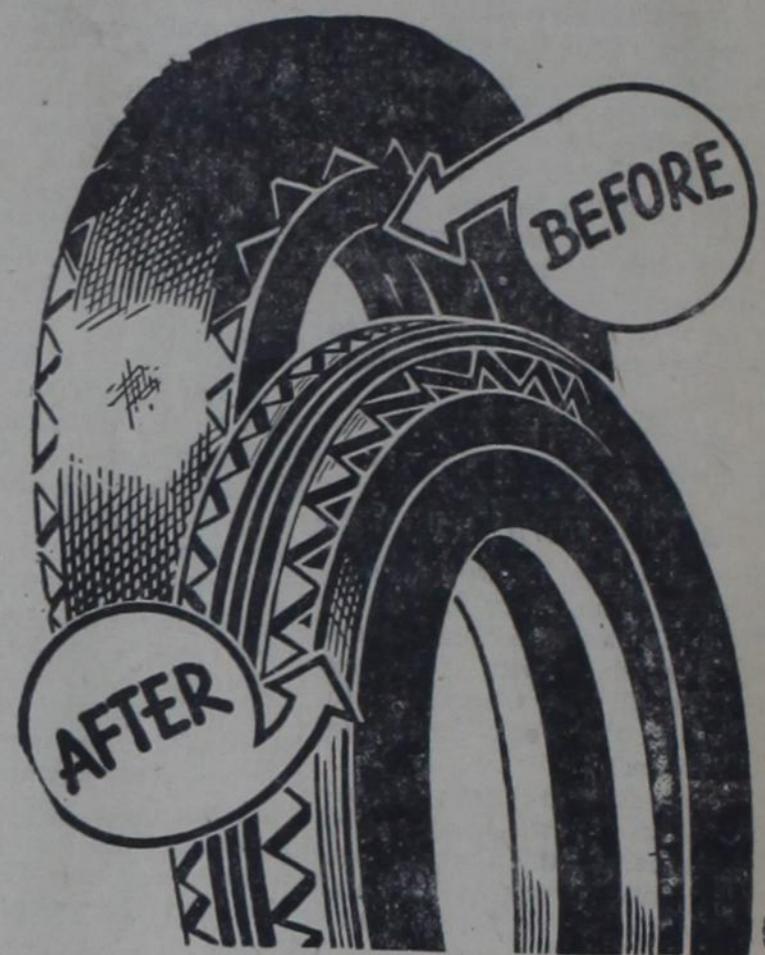

Last year, Governor Stevenson said in his proclamation, tuberculosis took 3,006 lives in Texas, and a rise in the incidence of the disease in several states last year may portend a general post-war increase, as has already occurred in Europe.

Through the sale of Christmas seals, the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations supports a health program designed to protect the citizens of the State from the disease, and all residents of Texas are urged to give the campaign their generous support, Stevenson concluded.

The facade is the principal front of a building.

Examines Tojo's Fan

Lovely Frances Rushmore, a John Powers model, is shown examining the fan stained with his lifeblood which was found on former Premier Hideki Tojo, Japanese warlord, after his abortive suicide attempt in his home as he was about to be arrested as a war criminal. The fan and the bullet with which Tojo tried to end his life were brought back to the United States by Harry T. Brundidge, associate editor of Cosmopolitan magazine, shown above, who was at Tojo's home when the suicide attempt was made.

Eat Cabbage When First Cooked

COLLEGE STATION—If cooked cabbage is on the menu, the family should answer the dinner call promptly, says Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation for the Extension Service. Otherwise, the cabbage, kept over hot water to keep it warm for serving, loses a very large per cent of the vitamin C. Shredded cabbage cooks in five minutes so it may be cooked while the family washes and gathers for dinner. Freshly cooked cabbage at best contains only about half the vitamin C of raw cabbage.

Strange as it may seem, cooked cabbage held in the refrigerator for two or three days and then reheated does not lose as much Vitamin C as that kept standing on the stove an hour or so. When warmed up after refrigeration it contains 24 to 32 per cent of the vitamin C it had when fresh and raw, she states.

STATION FLOWN TO JAPAN

MANILA—Using 12 cargo planes for equipment and 12 for personnel the army flew a highpowered radio station and the men to operate it, to Japan. The station, capable of furnishing ground-to-plane communication, weather information, approach and communication with Okinawa, was in use 45 minutes after planes landed at Atsugi airfield outside Tokyo.

Cook Sweet Potatoes In Skin For More "C"

COLLEGE STATION—Housewives who plan to include sweet potatoes in their Thanksgiving menu not only will save time but also save vitamins if they put the sweet potatoes in the oven or kettle without peeling, says Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation of the Extension Service. Tests conducted by several experiment stations in southern states show that sweet potatoes, boiled or baked in their skins, hold their naturally rich content of carotene (for vitamin A) and vitamin C very well.

In fact, some tests show they retain from 69 to 83 per cent of their vitamin C. Potatoes cooked in a pressure saucapan held the most vitamin C while those peeled and then boiled lost the most.

Here's a tip on how to help save even more vitamin C: Add a little sugar to the boiling water. This also gives the potatoes a sweeter flavor.

No shaking at the grate

WHEN YOU USE Natural Gas

THE TIME is November. You get up on a cold gray morning and the house is cold as a tomb. You tackle the cold gray furnace or stove and shiver and shake while you shake down the ashes to start a fire. The ashes fly through the air and you cough and sneeze. You coax the fire into burning, and shiver and shake until the house gets warm. The appliance has an enormous appetite and you keep adding fuel all day long. The more fuel burns, the more ashes you have to shake down.

It's a different story when you use Natural Gas — whether with a gas-fired furnace, space heaters, floor furnaces or gas-fired radiators. With Natural Gas you get instant heat. You don't have to keep adding fuel to the fire. There's no shaking the grate and emptying ashes. There's no cleaner fuel than Natural Gas. Your house is not filled with smokey odors. With Natural Gas you get a consistently even room temperature. There are no extremes from too hot one minute to too cold the next.

Luck Varies As Hunters Return From the Hills

Hunters luck was both good and bad—depending on which group the individual hunter happened to be in—as reports of their success and failure began to unfold here the latter part of last week with the return of local nimrods.

One party, composed of six local men and hunters from Clovis, brings back (as usual) the best accounting with every one bringing home the evidence of success. The group was composed of Jack White, Claude Thomas, Lester Norton, Mack Johnson, Arch Green and Grady Pierce. Their kill consisted of one 4-pointer, one 7-pointer, two 8-pointers, one 9-pointer and one 10-point buck, taken from the Black Range north of Silver City.

Another successful party was made up of Chester Thompson of Clovis, and his two sons, Chester and Charles, Farwell high school boys. Each brought back a buck to account for their efforts.

In contrast, Ralph Humble, E. G. Blair and Joe Blair came home meatless.

Harold Hillock came in with a deer on Tuesday, and John Porter said that a total of 17 bucks taken in New Mexico had been placed on storage in his zero locker plant.

Another party, composed of seven hunters from Texico-Farwell and Friona, had to be content with only two deer, the honors going to Seth Rollins and Buddy Jones. Others of the group, LeRoy Faville, G. D. Anderson, Lee McElroy, Bert Shackelford and son, Gordon, came back empty-handed.

The best story coming out of the hunt is the one McElroy tells on himself. "Mc" got lost, and after deciding that his task of finding camp was hopeless, he fired a signal alarm of three rapid-fire shots.

In firing the agreed signal, he emptied his gun. And lo! four large bucks jumped up "right in front of me". He then relates how he attempted to extricate ammunition from his pants pocket, only to find he could not get his hand out of his pocket with it clutched full of ammo. In the meantime, as could be expected, the deer eyed him quizzically and vanished.

Thanksgiving Day Observed Locally

The coming of Thanksgiving Day brought forth the annual scramble—considerably quietened during war days—of figuring out who was going to eat where, and when, and how, according to a brief look over town the first of the week.

Most local families were making plans to hold "get-togethers" with distant members during the holiday, and the decision of who was going to do the traveling caused much rushing around.

All local stores will be closed during the day, as will be the bank, courthouses offices, and postoffices. Cooks were delighted to find turkey plentiful—and expensive—again but racked their brains to think up suitable substitutes for cranberries, which seem to be non-existent; and recipes for making candied yams or pumpkin pies sans sugar were swapped over many a back fence.

It's truly Thanksgiving this year. Principally because the war is over, but having the holiday definitely decided upon by the whole nation eases the situation, too. Many families will be "complete" for the first time in several years, and while others are not so fortunate, they can be thankful that their boys, still overseas, are not dodging bullets and crouching in foxholes this year, while they nibble on a war-weary drumstick—but will have real honest-to-goodness turkey dinners, plus "round" pies.

It might be well to remember the meaning of the word: Thanksgiving, and take advantage of the day to say a little word of thanks.

Contour Wheat Seeding Reported To Triple A

Approximately 175 farmers had reported seeding of wheat on the contour to the local Agricultural Adjustment Administration office the first of the week, supervisor John Martin said, in response to queries mailed out the last of the week.

Such practice, Martin said, is included for payment under the soil conservation program, and contrary to previous custom, the current fall seeding will be paid for in 1945, rather than in the year the crop is harvested.

Martin explained that no deadline for reporting such practice had been set at the local office, except the usual final deadline of January 15, when all conservation practices carried out during 1945 must be reported, if farmers wish to make application for AAA payment.

Conservation work which was completed prior to August 1 was reported this year by August 15, and all conservation work completed between that time and December 31 must be reported by January 15, 1946, he pointed out.

This county had a high average of performances reported at the conclusion of the first call (by August 15), Martin said today, running about the best in the state, with around 98% reported. However, contour wheat seeding and leaving of grain stubble in the fields to prevent erosion could not be carried out until after August 1, which means that such practices will be reported during the next few weeks.

Texico Opens Season At Pleasant Hill

The Texico boys' and girls' basketball teams officially open their 1945-46 season tonight (Wednesday) when they play the Pleasant Hill squads at Pleasant Hill.

Coach C. E. Sanders, contacted early this week, reported that the Pleasant Hill boys had shown little stuff this year, in their first engagement last weekend which they lost disastrously to Melrose, but went on to say "they always play us a better game than any other team" and the rivalry between the two schools has not decreased this year.

Tentatively, Sanders lined his team up as follows: Baker and Fought, forwards; Johnson, center; Freeman and Baldock, guards. Doolittle and May, however, are both threatening for center play, he added. Fought, a newcomer here, is showing decided promise, Coach Sanders said, having played two years before coming to Texico.

The Texico girls are apt to run into stiff competition when they take the court against Pleasant Hill, as reports here are to the effect that the 1944-45 team from that school is practically intact and rearing for action.

Probable local lineup will put Flye, Baker and B. Brown at forward; with E. Brown, A. May, and Huber at guard.

Coach Tom Hudson is grilling his girls this week, in hopes of bringing home a victory for their opening game of the season.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending November 17 were 23,769 compared with 26,093 for same week in 1944. Cars received from connections totaled 10,418 compared with 15,766 for same week in 1944. Total cars moved were 34,187 compared with 41,859 for same week in 1944. Santa Fe handled a total of 36,653 cars in the preceding week of this year.

Scrimmage Sessions Held By Cagesters

Two scrimmage sessions between the Texico and Farwell boys' cage teams were held the past weekend, Coach Jack Williams said today, adding that his blue-and-white teamsters would hold warm-up games on November 7th and November 29th.

Oklahoma Lane teams will play hosts to both the Farwell boys and girls, next Tuesday night, when the squads meet in that gym, and on Thursday night of the same week, the locals go to Bovina for similar pre-season workouts.

Actually, little dope can be offered on the outcome of next week's clashes, as this will be the openers for the locals, coaches said today. Bovina and Oklahoma Lane mixed it up in a pre-season contest last weekend, which gives them a slight advantage of game experience over the Farwell boys and girls.

The official season, which determines the ratings of the teams in conference play, will open on December 7th, according to the schedule released last week.

Francisco, Jr., of Houston, State chairman for the fund. The drive, now underway, will end on Dec. 8. Chairman Francisco has announced the state executive committee as follows: J. S.
