No Ease-Up Seen on Men Under 26 Years

There is no ease-up in classification procedure in prospect for young men under 26 years of age in the opinion of T. N. Caswell from the State Selective Service Headquarters office, who visited the local board on Monday.

Caswell gave it as his opinion that already the local board had overstepped its authority in view of present regulations in granting farm deferments to some 40 single registrants who are under 26, and recommended that they be placed in class 1-A and made available for military use.

Under present regulations, single men under 26, regardless of their farming operations, are to be made available for service in the armed forces before any other groups are invaded. Mrs. Bessie Lee Henneman, clerk of the local board, stated today that only one single registrant under 26 is in 1-A at present and she added that enough men to fill the October calls must be moved into 1-A when the local board meets next Saturday.

Present indications are that these men will come from young men now classified in 2-C, whose deferments have already expired or will expire at an early date.

Red Cross Bandage Room Open Friday

The Red Cross room for Texico and Farwell in the homemaking department of the Farwell school, will re-open on Friday, Sept. 22, the hours being from 4 until 10 in the evening.

Bandages arrived in Curry County on Monday, and Texico-Farwell received its allotment the following day.

A regular schedule of work will be maintained each Monday and Friday at the stated hours, until all bandages are completed.

Suffers Broken Ribs When 2 Cars Collide

Mrs. D. K. Roberts, wife of County Clerk Roberts, was knocked from her car and suffered four broken ribs shortly after dark Sunday night, when the car in which she was sitting was hit from the rear by a car driven by W. H. Graham, publisher of The Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were returning from Friona during the severe rainstorm, when their car became "drowned out" and was left standing on the pavement, directly in the path of southbound traffic, near Wilsey Switch.

The Graham car, approaching from the north, rammed the Roberts car, slightly injuring all occupants of the Graham machine. Graham suffered badly bruised knees, his son, Sonny, received lacerations about the right arm when the door handle jabbed into the fleshy part of his forearm. A. C. Henneman, son of Mrs. Bessie Lee Henneman, sustained a sprained ankle, and Cpl. Verne Wellman, a soldier from the Clovis base, picked up at Hereford, also received a sprained ankle.

Mr. Roberts escaped injury except for slight bruises about the body. Mrs. Roberts was taken to a Clovis hospital for treatment and was able to be removed to her home here Monday night.

The Graham machine, a Chevrolet sedan, was badly damaged about the front including the radiator, grill, fenders, lights, bumper and hood. The Roberts car, a Ford coupe, escaped with only the "turtle back", fenders and bumper showing evidence of the jolt.

DOG BITES LAD

Wallace Haynes, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Haynes, has been under treatment the past few days from lacerations and bone fractures of the left thumb, which he received while trying to separate two fighting dogs. One of the dogs grabbed the lad's hand and inflicted the injury.

Capt. Bradshaw Home From European Front

Capt. Lee Bradshaw returned to Farwell the first of the week after serving about a year as an engineer in the Army, during which time he saw service in the European theatre.

Capt. Bradshaw was with the American forces when the invasion hit France on D-Day, and was at the front on three different occasions, one of which carried him "where we could smell powder". A member of the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I, Capt. Bradshaw observes that the present conflict is "a young man's war" and being waged on an entirely different scale than the other war.

He is home on a short furlough and is scheduled to return to his base in Chicago soon. He expressed the opinion that he would be given a medical discharge at an early date.

At present, he is visiting his wife, the former Miss Evelyn Kyker, and will go from here to visit his mother, who lives at Slaton, Texas.

Local Men Asked to Speak on Dairy Forum

Two Parmer County dairymen, Sterling Donaldson and Levi Johnson, have been invited to participate in a dairy forum conducted at Plainview on October 2, and sponsored by the Farmer-Stockman magazine.

Donaldson has a herd of Jerseys, while the Johnson herd is composed of Milking Shorthorn animals.

The dairy forum will seek to bring out problems of the dairy industry, and ways and means of making improvements, according to County Agent Garlon A. Harper. He urged that a number of dairymen in the county make plans now to attend. T. C. Richardson, associate editor of the magazine, will conduct the forum.

BUYS INSURANCE AGENCY

LeRoy Faville, of the Red Cross Pharmacy, has purchased the general insurance business of S. C. Hunter, and will operate it in connection with his drug business in Texico. Hunter is retiring from the active insurance business after years in that connection.

Since the first of the year, the business has been operated in his own name. Prior to that time, Hunter was associated with W. J. Matthews.

Anyone who saves money nowadays isn't a miser, he's a wizard. Woman's wish is to be weighed and found wanting.

While the City of Clovis, ten miles to the west, was being lashed by a small tornado that did considerable damage to business and residence property Sunday night, this region and all of Parmer county was drenched with a violent rainstorm and considerable hail.

More than an inch of rain fell here in a comparatively short time, and the precipitation over the entire county seems to have been about the same. Considerable hail, some pellets being about the size of a golf ball, accompanied the storm that lashed the entire area. Some crop damage has been reported, the heaviest estimate being in matured fields where the damage is estimated as high as one-third.

Roofs of buildings, especially composition roofs, suffered some damage, but the loss is not expected to be excessive. B. N. Graham, local insurance agent, says that "several clients" have reported roof damages to him since the storm struck, adding, "there probably will be more".

In Clovis, the wind damage to property and electrical and telephone lines will likely reach thousands of dollars. At least one residence was completely demolished, another unroofed and lesser damages inflicted on other property, including the smashing of a number of plate glass windows in the downtown section.

Only two people are reported to have been injured. One lady suffered major injuries and a small lad received a broken arm.

While the storm did damage to Parmer county row crops, the moisture from the rain will be of benefit to lately planted wheat fields, and will improve range conditions for the coming winter.

Sam Aldridge Back At Practicing Law

Sam Aldridge, junior member of the law firm of Aldridge & Aldridge of this city, has returned to Farwell after spending two years, and four months in the service of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and has announced that he will renew his general law practice here.

Aldridge was released from the FBI by J. Edgar Hoover at his own request in order that he might return to his duties here, following the appointment of John Aldridge senior member of the local law firm to the office of district judge, barring him from law practice in this judicial district.

Attorney Aldridge volunteered his services to the FBI when an appeal was made for young lawyers shortly after the outbreak of the war. For several months he saw service in the Great Lakes region, but for the past few months has been stationed at El Paso, Texas.

His family returned to Farwell with him and they have resumed their residence in their home on Second Street in south Farwell.

Sears Pig Show Will Be Held In Farwell

A special show by seven Parmer County 4-H club boys of registered Chester White pigs, given the participating club members in a contest sponsored by Sears Foundation, is to be held at the Farwell ag building on Saturday of this week.

J. T. Gee, vocational agriculture instructor of the Friona school, has accepted the responsibility of judging the animals, and the show will begin at 2 o'clock.

Contestants are W. M. Donaldson, Merrill Glenn Rundell, A. V. Warren, Scottie Göber, Leonard Watkins, and Donald and Wendol Christian. The boys were selected early in the spring by a special committee, and have been feeding out the pigs during the summer.

Judging will be on the development of the pigs shown at the time of the judging, County Agent Garlon A. Harper said today. First place winner in the county will then enter his animal at the Amarillo district exhibit, to be held in that city on September 29th. The county winner is to receive a registered dairy heifer, and will select his animal by the placement he makes at the Amarillo show.

The boar issued by Sears has been handled by W. M. Donaldson, and will likewise be shown at Farwell and entered for competition at the Amarillo exhibit. First and second place winners in the district will be awarded registered heifers.

Second, third, fourth and fifth place county winners, as listed by Judge Gee, will receive their choice in various assortments of baby chicks, poulters or turkey eggs.

All boys in the contest, regardless of their placing in the county, are invited to the Amarillo show, where they will be guests of Sears and enjoy a special luncheon for clubbers and sponsors.

Agent Harper, in announcing the local show, said that it was open to the public and urged that a good attendance be on hand Saturday.

Motorist Get New Gas Coupons

CANDIDATE — Manuel Lujon, Mayor of Santa Fe, N. M., who is a candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket in New Mexico.

Mrs. Nine Glascock, head of the local ration office force, announced the first of the week that new "A" gasoline coupon books went into the mail on Monday, for all applicants who had their forms in prior to that time.

She estimated that "around 800" went into the mail on Monday, adding that the board expected to issue around 1100 to 1200 before all operators in the county were equipped. The new books go into use on Friday, September 22.

There still remains some question concerning the amount of gasoline which the coupons will draw. Mrs. Glascock said she had received no word as to this question, adding, however, that "there are fewer coupons in the new books" which lead to the belief that coupons might draw 4 gallons, as was publicized some weeks ago in news releases from Washington.

"This does not mean," she stressed,

"that the gasoline ration will be hiked." Some observers pointed out that the smaller number of coupons in the new books could even mean that A rations were to be cut, although it was generally believed that the ration would remain the same, with the coupons being proportionately raised in value to compensate for less coupons.

The new coupons will have serial numbers useful in spotting stolen books. Another safety feature is that the coupons are printed on a special kind of paper which responds to secret government identification tests. Counterfeit coupons on imitation paper may look the same to the untrained eye, but will show up when the test is applied.

Gas book holders are urged to endorse each coupon properly upon receipt of their new book, with OPA officials pointing out, "coupons are invalid if not endorsed and may be revoked".

Can Foodstuffs For Overseas Shipment

COLLEGE STATION—Canning in tin cans seems the most practical solution to the shipment of homemade goodies for the man overseas.

That applies to fruit cake, which GI's give top priority among delicacies which families are now preparing for shipment prior to the deadline date of October 15, according to Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation for the Extension Service.

Fortunately, a homemaker can use her own favorite recipe for fruit cake, plum pudding or Boston Brown bread. After the ingredients have been mixed well, the batter can be packed into greased or waxed paper-line R-enamel or plain tin cans. No 1 or No 2 cans are more satisfactory than larger ones. One to one and one-half inch head space should be left. Mrs. Leverenz says the first roll on the can should be sealed before steaming the fruit cake. Then the second roll should be processed in a pressure cooker.

If a pressure cooker is used for steaming, the petcock should be left open during the steaming time. If a water bath is used, the hot water level should be about 2 inches below the can. No. 1 cans should be steamed for 60 minutes, No. 2 for 75 minutes. After steaming seal is completed, cans should be placed in a pressure cooker and processed at 10 lbs. pressure for 30 minutes.

Odd as it seems, Mrs. Leverenz also recommends canning cookies for better shipment. Honey cookies, butterscotch, or those made with dried fruit usually keep well. Candies may be packed in a can easily with layers of waxed paper between each piece of the layers and the extra space filled with popped corn or nuts.

Canned chicken is especially a favorite with men overseas. Texans usually are delighted with barbecue meat, chili or tamales. Preserves packed in tin are usually very acceptable. Relishes and pickles are fine for a short period of time provided they are canned in R-enamel cans.

PRAISES RR WORKERS

Gov. Edward Martin, of Pennsylvania, in a recent address before the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors at Harrisburg, lauded the activity of railroad men and management as one of the "major achievements of the war". He said, "The job that is being done by both railroad men and railroad management is one of the major achievements of this war. Their work is one of the most powerful arguments in favor of the free enterprise plan under which work is voluntarily done by labor and management."

Way back when choker collars were the latest gasp, electric light really cost money. For example, around 1910 that 100-watt bulb, which our friend holds so proudly, set the purchaser back $1.45. Today, the 100-watt bulb costs 15c. Furthermore, it gave only half as much light then as your present-day 100-watt lamp.

Most electrical dealers now have enough lamp bulbs in all common home sizes. With fall evenings here, lighting becomes doubly important in the home. Studying, sewing and other seeing tasks will require longer hours of eyework indoors. NOW is the time to fill those empty sockets with the right-size bulbs.

Light up for safety, too. Falls due to poorly lighted halls and stairways take an alarming toll each year. One accident may cost you more than many bulbs.

No matter how you look at it, good home lighting is cheap. So, be sure you have enough for every seeing need.

Announcement

I use this method of announcing to the people of Texico-Farwell and trade area that I have purchased the insurance agency formerly operated by S. C. Hunter.

The agency will be operated in conjunction with the Red Cross Pharmacy, and I will continue to represent the same line of reliable companies handled by Mr. Hunter.

I will be pleased to continue the patronage of all regular customers, and solicit new business from those desiring Fire, Lightning and Windstorm protection.

LeROY FAVILLE

THANKS, FRIENDS

In retiring from the insurance business, I wish to pause long enough to extend a hearty "THANK YOU" for the valued business the people of this community have extended me in the general insurance I have operated, both while associated with W. J. Matthews and while operating the business under my own name. It has been a pleasure to serve you and I trust you shall see fit to extend LeRoy Faville the same courteous consideration you have given me.

Gadgets? I love 'em.

A periscope on cars, instead of the little old mirror?...Doors that slide?...Or a sunshine top? Bring 'em on! Till then, however, my one main idea is to keep this car rolling. I need to. You can start naming motor oils or anything else that you think's helpful. First though, I want to warn you not to let engine acids do their worst damage, when you can easily outsmart them by getting your engine's insides OIL-PLATED. Listen, right on a can of Conoco Nth motor oil you'll read about Nth oil's modern synthetic. It works something like magnetism. That's how it makes metal surfaces keep hold of OIL-PLATING. Then what if the engine explosions produce deadly corrosive acids, as every expert and his brother will tell you? Those acids still wouldn't gnaw direct at fine steel that's shielded by OIL-PLATING—a real acid-fighter! It fights for your car. While waiting for new ones—who knows how long?—don't delay switching to Conoco Nth oil.

Weather Interferes With Softball Games

Inclement weather brought an early end to a softball game between the Texico and Pleasant Hill boys, the past Friday afternoon, when the locals were entertained on the Pleasant Hill diamond.

The game was called at the middle of the fifth inning, at which time the Pleasant Hill team held a 26-15 lead, Coach C. E. Sanders, of Texico, said today.

Numerous errors on the part of both teams allowed the heavy scoring, he added.

Girls Win Game

The Texico girls, playing first in the afternoon, took their initial win of the season by downing the Pleasant Hill players, 30-23, in a game which was called on time in order that the second game might be held.

Both teams are slated to meet the Field aggregations on the local court Friday, Sept. 22, with stiff opposition expected in both games. The first match will begin around 12 Texas time.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

The Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending Sept. 16 were 25,783 compared with 24,533 for same week in 1943. Cars received from connections totaled 14,850 compared with 12,597 for same week in 1943. Total cars moved were 40,633 compared with 37,130 for same week in 1943. Santa Fe handled a total of 36,460 cars in the preceding week of this year.

Ceiling Wages Set for Prisoner of War Labor

Ceiling wages which will be paid prisoners of war from the Hereford internment camp who are used in this county for farm harvest work were recommended by a group who met in Farwell the past Saturday.

For "regular" farm labor, which includes hoeing, shocking, feed stacking, etc., the ceiling was set at 25c per hour. Cotton picking is slated to draw $1.50 per hundred-weight while for cotton pulling the proposed ceiling is 80c per hundred-weight.

County Agent Garlon A. Harper, in giving the details of the meeting, stated that these proposed wage ceilings must first be approved by the state director of Extension Service, before they can be definite.

Asked as to the amount of requests received for prisoner of war labor Harper stated they had been "light", but indicated that some farmers on the far eastern side of the county might use such help.

Arrangements for this labor must be made through the Extension Service, Harper said, advising that such requests be made not less than 10 days before the men are actually needed.

Farmers who use this type labor are required to furnish transportation to and from the Hereford camp and are allowed to have the men out only a specified number of hours per day. In addition, workers may not be transported more than 30 miles from camp, which definitely cuts down the area in which they might be employed in Parmer county.

Truck Operation Must Meet ODT Standards

Prospective purchasers of used trucks today were urged by J. C. Hilton, of Lubbock, ODT acting district manager, to make certain before acquiring the vehicles that their proposed operation meets all ODT requirements.

Since October 25, 1943, persons who were not designated motor carriers as of that date have been required to show that the operation of the truck is necessary to the war effort or to the maintenance of civilian economy.

Application for a certificate of war necessity must be made and the certificate granted before gasoline allotments are made, the ODT official reminded, or, in the case of a new service, application for authority to inaugurate it. Application blanks may be obtained at the ODT district office in the Lubbock National Building.

Grain Bins Moving Out of Parmer Co.

Such grain bins as the Commodity Credit Corporation had on hand in this county a week ago are now sold, Ellis M. Mills, local AAA representative, announced today, adding that principally, sales had been to out-of-county buyers.

The rush for bins, Mills believed, was due to the fact that the current loan price on grain sorghums is far above the prevailing market price, with the result that a large majority of farmers are storing the grain. In counties where harvesting comes earlier than in Parmer, a distinct shortage of storage space was evidenced, and bins from this county sold rapidly.

The bins that remain in the county, he added, are leased for storage.

Some In Kansas
Mills stated on Tuesday morning that he had been informed some 2,000 bins were on hand in Kansas and could be sent here if required.

The bins, unerected and of the 1600 bushel capacity, will sell at $185 each, delivered to Friona, Bovina or Farwell. They will not be shipped until a carload, five in number, is ordered, he stressed.

Persons wishing to place orders for such bins may make the necessary arrangements at the AAA office in Farwell.

Changes Announced In Food Rationing

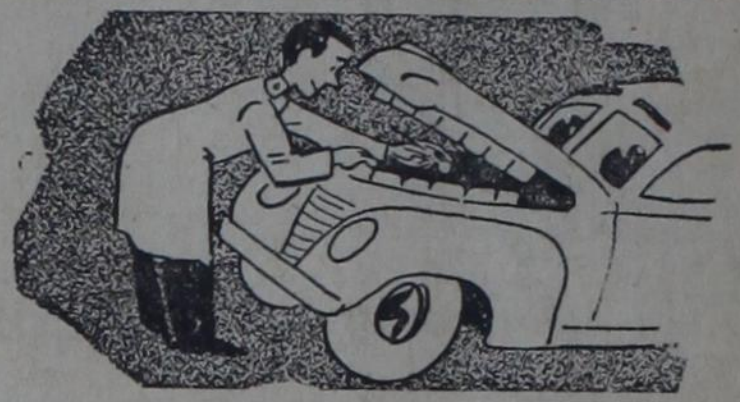

Two important changes in the food rationing program were announced today by Opal L. Wood, acting food rationing officer for the OPA, Lubbock district.

Effective September 17, all processed vegetables, except tomatoes, all fruit spreads and all special products, except tomato catsup, were taken off rationing.

Use of blue tokens will be discontinued after October 1, as a result of removal of these foods from rationing. Since Sept. 17, retailers are not issuing blue tokens to consumers for change.

From September 17 through Sept. 30, shoppers will be able to spend their blue tokens only in groups of 10. If necessary they may pool tokens to make up units of 10. Fewer than 10 may not be used.
